'Are these things really needed?'

City to buy new equipment

By JAMES WERRELL
The entire revenue sharing budget for the city will be used for the purchase of new equipment, decided Big Spring Councilmen at their regular meeting Tuesday night.

A public hearing to discuss what to do with the $305,558 in federal funds was held on Aug. 18, but no one showed. The same lack of interest was shown Tuesday night when the council called a public hearing to discuss the uses proposed by city officials.

The city's proposal called for the purchase of equipment and supplies for the Municipal Court; police department; fire department; major crime task force; traffic signals; street department; sanitation department; animal control department; and maintenance equipment for the golf course, the cemetery and local parks.

"Are these things really needed?" asked Councilman Jack Y. Smith of City Manager Don Davis. "There are so many areas where money is needed in the city, and I wonder whether these are really necessary."

"I think they are," replied Davis. "You will recall the budget work papers we drew up. This represents a third to a half of the equipment requested by department heads. We have fallen behind in the replacement of our capital equipment, and this is a continuation of the philosophy to stay on top of the situation," he added.

The council also okayed the city's budget for the 1980-81 fiscal year on final reading during the meeting. As in the first reading, Councilman Larry Miller abstained from voting.

He had said during the last meeting that he approved of parts of the budget, but could not support the entire package.

Some councilmen argued with city officials about the procedure of having traffic signals installed on local streets. The Big Spring Traffic Commission had requested approval by the council for six different traffic regulation measures during Tuesday's meeting.

A memo from Assistant City Manager Paul Feazelle, however, expressed concern that the commission was "deviating significantly from guidelines established by the Uniform Manual on Traffic Control Devices and the Traffic Engineering Survey prepared for the city in 1978."

Davis echoed this concern, saying that the city needed to stick to the guidelines in order to insure a uniform traffic flow throughout the city.

But when Davis and Feazelle recommended not following the wishes of the traffic commission in installing four-way stop signs at 10th and Douglas, four of the councilmen balked.

"I don't care what the survey says. The people who made that survey don't have to live here. That's a blind corner, and we need stop signs," said Councilman Smith.

Four of the council members agreed, and they authorized the signs with only Hal Boyd voting nay.

Councilmen unanimously agreed on the necessity of two-way stop signs on Dartmouth at the Tulane intersection, and four-way stop signs at Fifth and Scurry. But requests for signals at Sixth and Circle and at 15th and Goliad were tabled.

The council approved the disposition of several buildings at the Big Spring Industrial Park. Building 64, the office area previously occupied by Schick-Sunn Pictures, Inc., will be rented to the new business, Dynamic Derricks, Inc.

One of the two-story barracks will be sold to Dave Nelson of Westbrook. He will relocate the barracks in Westbrook for use in a baseball camp. Cost was $2,500.

Building 1002 will be leased to the Fibertex Company for the storage of chemicals. Building 14 will be leased to Allen Bailey for electrical contracting work.

Building Nine, an airplane storage facility, will be rented to the Colorado River Municipal Water District at $1,500 a month.

In other business, council members:

— Approved payment of $281.34 to the Howard County Insurance Agency to cover damages that occurred in an accident involving a city vehicle.

— Tabled requests for payment of money for damages incurred by rainfall and backed-up sewers at stores owned by Sally Rodriguez, and at Big Spring Cash Wholesale, Inc.

— Accepted a bid of $250 from Trans-Regional Airlines, Inc. for the purchase of a used "tug" at the industrial park.

— Approved a bid for $1,800 by Mike Robinson for used washateria equipment at the industrial park.

— Approved the installation of two-hour parking signs on the 2200 block of South Lancaster near the Big Spring Veterans Administration Medical Center.

— Appointed Jeff Brown, Realtor; Louis Dunham, builder; John Huffman, banker; Shirley Shroyer, lay person; and Bill Hall, city employee, to the local Housing Finance Corporation.

Power struggles in Iran may delay hostage issue

By the Associated Press

The power struggle between Iran's president and Parliament got hotter, promising further delays in action on a host of problems including the 52 U.S. hostages spending their 313th day in captivity today.

The Parliament, or Majlis, gave Prime Minister Mohammad Ali Rajai an overwhelming vote of confidence Wednesday after he attacked President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr for the second time this week for refusing seven of the prime minister's 21 nominees for his Cabinet.

The vote was 169-14 with 10 abstentions. It emphasized once again the hardline Islamic Republican Party's solid control of the legislature.

Rajai told the deputies who forced Bani-Sadr to accept him as prime minister that he discussed the rejection of the nominees with the president "but I see no possibility of reaching agreement with him in the near future because he has come to certain conclusions in an environment where certain sources were available to him."

"I have reached some conclusions after living among certain people in Iran for 20 years," Rajai added.

"When I talk, a villager understands what it means to be a follower of the imam," meaning Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, the leader of the Iranian revolution.

The Majlis agreed to a discussion Sunday of its reply to a letter from nearly 200 members of the U.S. Congress urging the speedy release of the hostages. It is expected to repeat the revolutionary regime's earlier demands that the United States admit complicity in the crimes charged to the late Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi, apologize, pledge never to interfere in Iran again and promise to turn over the royal family's holdings in the United States.

The militants who occupied the U.S. Embassy last Oct. 4 and are still holding 49 members of its staff also attacked Bani-Sadr for his contention that the hostage crisis is hurting Iran in the world community and should be resolved so the government can turn to the country's economic crisis and other problems.

Bani-Sadr was elected president last January by an overwhelming popular vote, but the Islamic Republican Party's clerical leaders and allies dominated the parliamentary elections in late spring and Bani-Sadr's supporters were virtually shut out.

The president was forced last month to accept Rajai as prime minister because the IRP would not confirm anyone he wanted to name. But on Sunday Bani-Sadr rejected a third of Rajai's Cabinet choices and said they were representatives of a "despotic" minority, an allusion to the fundamentalist IRP.

Mobile home severely damaged

Local man catches fire

A local man is in the intensive care unit of Malone-Hogan Hospital after catching on fire at 10:36 p.m. Wednesday.

Charles Dale Jr., Route 2, is listed in stable condition at Malone-Hogan Hospital with third degree burns on various parts of his body.

According to Fire Department officials, two firefighting units responded to a call on the 100 block of Owens near the Benton Street overpass. When they arrived, they found a mobile home belonging to Charles Dale Sr., Paris, Tenn., ablaze.

Gold rush in Australia

PERTH, Australia (AP) — A gold rush has been touched off by two aborigines who dug up nuggets ranging from the size of marbles to cigarette packs in a rabbit warren at Leonora, about 510 miles northeast of here.

So far 300 ounces of gold nuggets have been recovered from the site and a Perth mining entrepreneur, Peter Engelbrecht, announced he had bought rights to the area from the aborigines for an undisclosed sum.

The biggest nuggets, at 12, 10 and eight ounces and about the size of an orange or lemon, were found Wednesday by one of the many prospectors who rushed to the rabbit warren after news of the discovery.

Poaching scouts losing

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — Tanzania's 220 anti-poaching game scouts are losing the fight against poachers largely because they're short of ammunition, says game director F. Lwezaula.

The past year had been the "worst ever" for wildlife preservation with a record increase in poaching activities, he told a meeting Wednesday in the central Tanzanian town of Tanga.

Lwezaula said the anti-poaching squad needs more personnel, vehicles and arms. In the 12-month period ending in June the squad arrested 723 suspected poachers of which 200 were convicted, he said.

Brazilian students out

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Hundreds of thousands of Brazilian university students were in the second day of a three-day strike today in support of some 25,000 professors who walked out demanding higher pay and to press for more government money for education.

Student groups representing most of Brazil's 1.3 million university students said the strike would continue through Friday, when teachers plan to end their walkout. The professors want 48 percent pay raises, retroactive to March, to offset Brazil's current 109 percent annual inflation rate.

Education and Culture Minister Eduardo Portella called the demands "more than fair" but said the government has no more funds available for universities.

Niece pleads innocent

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton's 23-year-old niece and her former attorney pleaded innocent to charges that they attempted to extort $200,000 from the Missouri Democrat's family business.

Elizabeth Eagleton Weigand and Stephen Poludniak, 29, surrendered to U.S. Magistrate William S. Bahn on Wednesday. If convicted, they face up to seven years in prison and fines totaling $10,500.

The two were charged with threatening to harm the reputations of Eagleton and J.J. Thyson, managing director of Missouri Pipe Fittings Co., unless Eagleton and the company bought stock Mrs. Weigand held in the firm. Trial is set for Oct. 14.

Jury indicts four men

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A federal grand jury has indicted four men identified as Cuban spies on charges stemming from an attempted hijack of a Miami-bound Eastern Airlines jet last month.

Antolin Aquilar Avevedo, Nelson Alvarino Gonzalez, Eugenio Areu Del Campo and Aurelio Aquilar Acevedo were charged Wednesday in the four-count indictment. If convicted, they face penalties ranging from five years to life in prison.

Baldwin says SWCID 'long overdue dream'

Stephen Baldwin, 36, has been appointed instructor in social sciences at the Southwest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf at Howard College, according to executive director Doug Burke.

Baldwin, who comes to Big Spring from Bridgewater, Mass., is teaching economics, government, current events, deaf heritage, world history and American history in the preparatory curriculum.

"SWCID is realistically no Camelot, but it is a long overdue dream that humanistically serves the immediate and relevant needs of the hearing impaired," he said of the new college.

Baldwin mentioned the coincidence of the opening of the SWCID with the 100th anniversary of the National Association of the Deaf this year. He said the founding of SWCID is an indication of advancement for the deaf he expects during the next 100 years.

In addition to his love of history, Baldwin is a published playwright and author. His extensive research concerning the deaf has been published in several newspapers and magazines during the past five years and he has written, directed and produced two plays during the past two years. He is currently working on another play.

Baldwin has worked as an educator of the deaf since receiving his bachelor's degree in early American history from Gallaudet College in 1968. He studied special education at the University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee and received his master's degree in education of the deaf and rehabilitation from California State University at Northridge in 1974.

Before coming to Big Spring, Baldwin taught deaf students at Bristol-Plymouth Regional Vocational Technical School in Taunton, Mass.

His experience also includes a position as curriculum coordinator and vice principal at the Utah School for the Deaf.

Baldwin said working at SWCID is a dream come true, because he has always wanted to teach history to the deaf and most deaf programs do not emphasize history.

"I grew up loving history, but I've never been able to use it. I came to SWCID because they believe in history," he explained.

His enthusiasm for his new job also extends to his new home. "I judge a place from two standpoints; as a jogger and on the basis of the local drama group," he said.

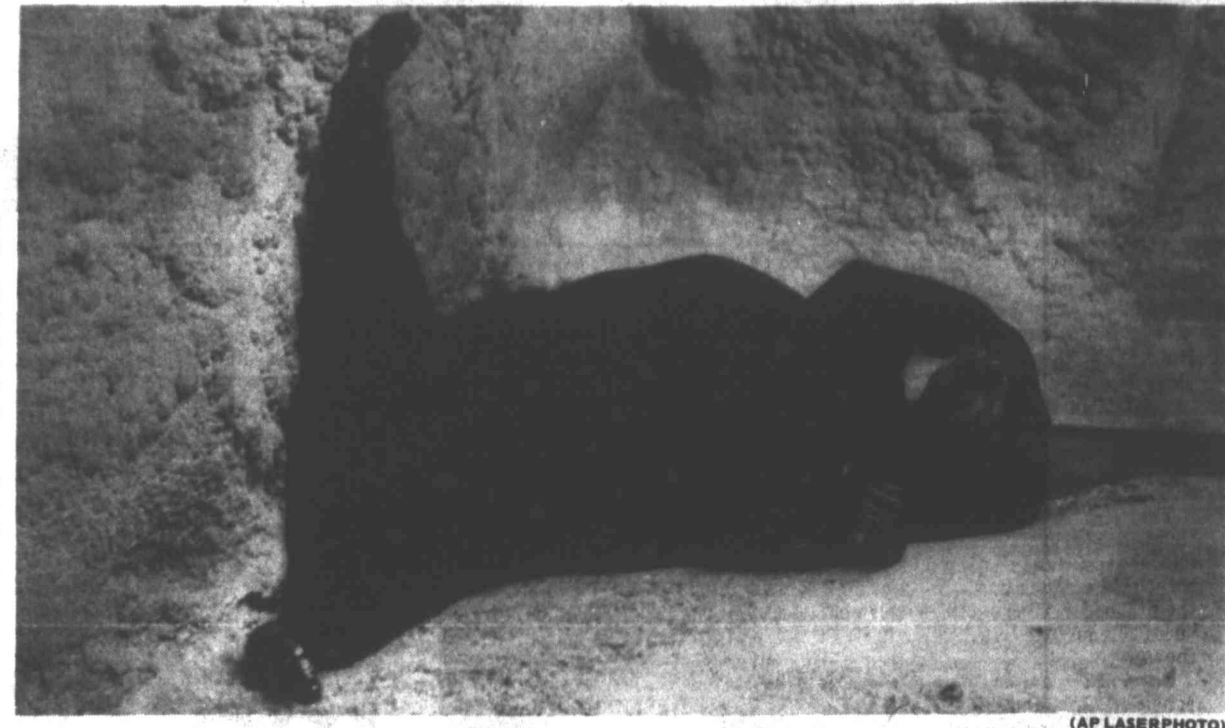

"As a jogger, I see a more friendly disposition here than in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Washington, D.C., Milwaukee or Boston. More people wave to me as I jog."

"The community theater group here has impressed me, because of their unusual attitude. They do things with enthusiasm," he said.

Baldwin also expressed his pleasure with Howard College and the historical aspects of West Texas.

"I consider the Howard College staff and administration very friendly and very cooperative," he said.

He added that the rich history of the area has already suggested several ideas for future plays.

'Little Dragons': Family movie

"Little Dragons" is a motion picture which all members of the family should enjoy," Curtis Hanson of Los Angeles said in a telephone conversation with a Herald newsmen Wednesday.

"Little Dragons" is an Aurora Film Corporation film which opens at the Ritz in Big Spring Friday.

Hanson should be an authority on the movie. He directed and co-produced it, along with Tony Bill.

The movie tells a story about two brothers, Zack and Woody (Chris and Pat Peterson), who are picked up from their karate class one afternoon by their grandfather J.J. (Charles Lane).

In J.J.'s antique camper, they take off for a weekend at the lake. While at the campground, Zack and Woody befriend a young girl, Carol (Sally Boyden) and her dog Rufus (Jigs). Sally's father (Rick Lenz), a business man, has taken the family to the lake in their motorhome in hopes of renewing a strained relationship with his wife (Sharon Weber) and daughter.

One evening during a camp party, Carol returns to the motor home. There she finds two characters named Nancy and Carl (Joe Spinell and John Chandler) robbing the trailer. They kidnap Carol and surprise their mother (Ann Southern) with their hairbrain scheme.

Zack and Woody go looking for Carol. The law agencies send in people but they prove inept. The boys, together with the father, take matters into their own hands. They enlist the help of a motorcycle gang and their karate class and are off to the rescue. In the end, the karate kids conquer all.

Hanson, whose film career embraces about ten years, says Chris and Pat Peterson were especially picked for their roles because they are proficient at karate, as are members of the team which rallies to Carol's cause.

Ann Southern may be the only recognizable name in the cast. She plays a sort of Ma Barker type role, mainly for laughs. She was one of television's first TV serial stars, with her hit-com, "Daisy" and "The Girl in the Red Velvet Swing."

Other actors who worked on "Little Dragons" include "Sweet Kill" and "Silent Partner," which starred Elliott Gould. At the present time, he is helping finish up a new film called "Never Cry Wolf," a story about the Yukon.

Tony Bill, the co-producer of "Little Dragons," had a brief acting career before he discovered he liked working behind the cameras better. As an actor, he took the role of Frank Sinatra's son in "Come Blow Your Horn." Incidentally, Bill takes a walk-on role in "Little Dragons." (He plays "Niles").

Pat Peterson, who is 12, and Chris, 14, were trained extensively for the roles by a world karate champion, Pat Johnson. Chris currently is in the television series, "The Baxters.' Hanson, a prolific writer, once did the screenplay for "The Dunwich Horror," which starred Sandra Dee and Dean Stockwell. Tab Hunter was the star of "Sweet Kill," which Hanson directed.

Thomas named managing ed of Corpus Christi Caller

John Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Thomas of Big Spring, has been named managing editor of the Corpus Christi Caller, according to Robert Rhodes, executive editor of the Caller-Times.

John Anderson, the morning paper's managing editor since 1977, was elevated to managing editor in charge of administration and training.

Thomas, 33, who grew up in Big Spring, has been city editor of the afternoon Times for more than two years. He was managing editor of the Paris News for 5 1/2 years before joining the Caller-Times staff in May 1978.

Thomas graduated from Big Spring High School and the University of Texas at Austin before entering the Harte-Hanks Communication Inc., editorial program at Corpus Christi.

He then became a reporter for the Abilene Reporter-News and later was named city editor of that paper's morning edition.

The Caller-Times, Reporter-News and Paris News are all members of the Harte-Hanks organization.

Anderson will serve as special assistant to the executive editor and will concentrate on product improvement, newsroom electronics and newsroom training. He has worked for the Caller-Times for 32 years in various reporting and management positions and will become a member of the Caller-Times editorial board, Rhodes said.

Nick Jimenez, currently assistant city editor, will serve as acting city editor of the afternoon paper until a new city editor is named, Rhodes stated.

Anderson, at one time, was employed by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

Key and his wife reside in Hillside Trailer Park.

Key back home

V.A. (Red) Key, who has been undergoing treatment in a Lubbock hospital the past two weeks, has returned home.

Key and his wife reside in Hillside Trailer Park.

Man killed in mishap

MIDLAND — A truck driver died Wednesday when his tractor-trailer rig careened over an embankment and burst into flames at the Interstate 20-U.S. 90 interchange east of here, according to the Department of Public Safety.

The truck driver, whose body was badly burned in the accident, has been tentatively identified as a 30-year-old Dallas man. He was pronounced dead at the scene of the 2:40 p.m. accident by Midland Justice of the Peace John Biggs.

Authorities are withholding the victim's name until the man's identity is confirmed and his next of kin notified. Any form of identification the driver was carrying apparently was destroyed in the fire, a DPS spokesman said.

DPS reports indicate the tractor-trailer was east-bound on IS 20 about four miles east of Midland when the trailer jackknifed.

Colorado City confirms Campos as secretary

COLORADO CITY — The city council here has confirmed the appointment of Rita Campos as city secretary. She succeeds Brenda Tarter, who has been elevated to the position of city manager.

Ms. Campos' salary will be $970 a month. In addition, she will get $75 a month in car allowance.

The council has also approved a contract which would terminate the city's lease on the city-county airport east of Colorado City.

The existing contract calls for the restoration of land to farming conditions by Dec. 21, but owner O.B. Trulock Jr., has indicated that he would prefer the airstrip left as is, with a cash payment in lieu of restoration.

The council approved a $6,000 payment to Trulock, which will be made in two payments.

Police Beat

Food stealers nabbed

Two thieves were caught trying to bring home the bacon illegally, Wednesday night.

An employee at Furr's Supermarket, 900 11th, spotted a suspicious looking man and woman walking out of the store with a cart-load of groceries. While the couple loaded the goods into their car, the employee called police, and Officer Troy Hogue arrested the food stealers. When tallied, the groceries totaled nearly $100 in value.

When Mary Henderson, Floydada, jumped out of her 1979 Mack truck at the Rip Griffin Truck Stop, a man jumped in and drove it north on Highway 87. This was at 2:10 p.m., Wednesday, and at 3:30 p.m. the Dawson County Sheriff's Department had recovered the truck in Ackerly.

The driver was arrested and returned to the Big Spring State Hospital where he is a patient.

Thieves also lifted a 1980 Pontiac Firebird belonging to William H. Dorsey, Euless, while it was parked at the Holiday Inn, Wednesday night. Value of the car has not been estimated.

While Pam Carey, 3234 Drexel, was at the local McDonald's Restaurant from 1 to 3 p.m. Wednesday, a thief stole $70 cash from her purse. Police will continue to investigate today.

Six mishaps were reported Wednesday.

A parked vehicle belonging to Harley L. Bradley, 2618 Charute, was struck by a vehicle that left the scene in the lot of the First Baptist Church, 10:15 p.m.

Vehicles driven by Gaynell Weaver, Valley Mills, and John Dibrell, 803 Dallas, collided at 400 W. 4th, 10:38 a.m.

A vehicle driven by Garrett Burgess, Sterling City Route, struck a road sign at North Highway 87 and IS 20, 12:14 a.m.

A parked vehicle belonging to George B. Cavnar, Sterling City Route, rolled into another parked car belonging to James T. Stuteville, 1006 E. 15th, in the lot of the Montgomery Wards Store, 1:56 p.m.

Vehicles driven by Tony Hodnett, IS-20 Trailer Court, and Susanna Alvarez, 1214 Lindbergh, collided at Fourth and Rannels, 4:32 p.m.

Vehicles driven by James Phillips, 1309 Lincoln, and Billye Rogers, 1816 S. Benton, collided on the 1200 block of North Benton, 8:19 a.m.

Heavy rainfall ends over West Texas

By the Associated Press
Heavy rainfall triggered by the remains of Tropical Storm Danielle ended over West Texas early today, prompting the National Weather Service to cancel flash flood watches issued for the area.

The end of the flash flood producing rainfall came only hours after forecasters issued new flash flood watches for several counties west of the Pecos.

Forecasters called for considerable cloudiness with some widely scattered afternoon thunderstorms over West Texas today. The remainder of the state was to have partly cloudy skies.

Before the rainfall ended, up to five inches of rain sent floodwaters swirling into about 40 homes at Odessa. Low-lying areas were flooded and livestock swept away.

"The south part of town flooded, just from the heavy rains," Gary Mitchell, a Texas state game warden, said Wednesday night after West Texas caught extensive rainfall for the third day in a row.

Mitchell said the downpour, which dropped as much as 5 inches of rain early Wednesday on Ector County, forced some families from their homes, "but most folks elected just to stay in the house."

The flash flood watch issued Wednesday night covered the portion of the state West of the Pecos River after heavy rains closed roads in Tom Green, Menard, Kimbell, Concho, Coleman, McCulloch and Uvalde counties.

A few light scattered showers were reported in the Panhandle before dawn today, but there were no reports of significant rainfall.

Mabry new owner

Terry Neill sells Stanton Reporter

STANTON — Terry Neill has sold the Stanton Reporter to Grant Mabry, a native of Seminole, and has announced he is buying the Van Horn Advocate, a weekly publication with a job printing business.

Neill, former Stanton city councilman, has served as publisher of the Stanton paper for seven years.

Neill has been especially active in youth work. He managed and coached several boys' baseball and basketball teams.

Lonnie Browning, a merchant in Canton, Tex., was Neill's original partner here but later sold his 50 percent interest in the newspaper to Terry.

During Neill's stay here, the Reporter has won more awards than any other weekly newspaper in Texas, including the General Excellence plaque presented by the Texas Press Association and the West Texas Press Association's General Excellence award on three occasions.

Neill served for six years on the Martin County Industrial Foundation. In 1978, he was president of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce. He is credited with establishing the Pony Baseball League program here.

He recently resigned from the Martin County Hospital District board of directors, which he served as secretary.

Then only 21, Neill became the youngest newspaper publisher in the state at the time he acquired the Stanton paper. He later was the youngest man ever named to the board of directors of the West Texas Press Association. He served as president of that organization in 1978.

He was also a director of the Texas Press Association and served on the board of directors of the Stanton Noon Lions Club.

Mabry is scheduled to take over operations of the Stanton newspaper no later than Oct. 1.

Joining Neill in the move to Van Horn will be his wife, Cindy, and their two children. Neill is a native of Fort Stockton. He worked for the Longview paper briefly before moving back to West Texas.

Indoor air pollution woes mount

By sealing their homes tighter, conservation-minded people are cutting energy demands and costs. And trapping indoor air pollutants.

Insulation and other energy-efficient techniques cut energy use by 20-35 percent by preventing outside air from seeping in and inside air from leaking out. As a result, indoor air pollutants can accumulate to hazardous levels.

In a study of homes in six cities, researchers at the Harvard School of Public Health found that in five cities, indoor levels of smoke and dust particles in the homes were twice as high as those outside. The Clean Air Act focused solely on the outside air, and most people spend 70 percent of their lives indoors. What people breathe indoors is critically important, says the American Lung Association of Texas.

Some communities and a few states have passed laws restricting the levels of tobacco smoking allowed indoors. Although tobacco smoke can be a major source of indoor pollution, there are others. Nitrogen dioxide and carbon monoxide accumulate when gas stoves and heaters are burning. Formaldehyde, used in foam insulation and in furniture made of plywood, can escape into the air. Radioactive radon from brick, concrete, stone, and soil can pervade a home. In one experiment, 13 organic chemicals were detected in a room after a scented oven cleaner had been used.

What's to be done? Some experts suggest that gas ovens should be ventilated to the outside, that materials emitting radon and formaldehyde should be painted over with sealants. Though it would increase energy use somewhat, a daily airing of the house could help — if the outside air is clean.

To find out more about cleaning up the indoor and outside air, contact the American Lung Association of Texas — the Christmas Seal people. Write ALAT, 7701 N. Lamar, Suite 104, Austin, Texas 78752, or phone (512) 458-2206. The Lung Association fights air pollution and other lung disease through programs made possible by contributions to this non-profit, voluntary health agency. It's a matter of life and breath.

Physician's assistant gains Employee of the Month award

William J. (Bill) Musser, physician's assistant, has been selected as Employee of the Month at the Federal Prison Camp here.

The Employee of the Month Award is presented to an employee who has demonstrated above average or outstanding performance or who has provided a special service or contribution to a special program.

Recently an inmate had the tip of his thumb amputated in an industrial accident. Bill reacted quickly and professionally by inserting the amputated flesh and applying a dressing until a surgeon could re-attach the tissue to the thumb. The surgeon confirmed that it was Bill's quick action that allowed the surgical success. Bill's consistent high performance of normal work duties during the month combined with the above noted incident has qualified him as Employee of the Month.

Other staff members of the Federal Prison Camp recently receiving awards were included:

award — suggestion; Brad Ludwigson, correctional officer, cash award — suggestion; Brad Ludwigson, correctional officer, letter of commendation — special act; Charles Johnson, correctional officer, letter of commendation — special act; John Pavolich, superintendent of industries, 15 year service pin; Frank Fullmer, correctional supervisor, 10 year service pin; and Larry Bryan, business manager, 10 year service pin.

County Court docket grows

Docket in Howard County Court grew by 27 in August from 883 to 910. New cases totaled 36 with 27 appealed to county court from lower courts.

Dispositions totaled 36. A total of two DWI cases, one theft of worthless check, two drug offenses, one assault and 19 traffic cases were disposed and 11 under "other criminal."

The largest number of cases on the docket are DWI or driving under the influence of drugs with 283. Theft of worthless checks cases totaled 36, drug offenses totaled 30, assault cases totaled 51, traffic cases totaled 345, and under "other criminal" cases totaled 165.

Jerome jailed on theft count

Ronald Eugene Jerome, Bridgeport, Conn., is in custody of Howard County Sheriff's Office after his arrest Monday on a charge of felony theft.

He is accused of theft of a radio and charger from R.L. Savage on Saturday. The charge was filed by Detective David Spillman Monday in the office of Justice of the Peace Bobby West.

Jerome, 34, is in custody in lieu of $10,000 bond set by West. Jerome was transferred to county jail Tuesday.

White collar crime can pay well

Betrayers of the public trust are people who are into white collar crime. According to the Insurance Crime Prevention Institute, there are a lot of them, and the rewards they reap make the take of the common bank robber or second story man pale in comparison.

The insurance companies, of course, get deeply involved in policing this sort of activity because, in the end, they must absorb the loss in most cases where employee theft occurs.

OVER THE PAST eight years, according to the ICPI, almost 400 doctors, lawyers and other white collar professionals have been arrested for alleged outrages against society. During the first six months of 1980, 45 such white collar professionals have been indicted, some of whom have already been tried and convicted.

Consider the case of a former Washington attorney named Harry Barnett, who liked the sporting life of Florida and the Caribbean. Barnett, 42, was charged with submitting up to $600,000 in false and inflated medical insurance claims. He was working in league, the government claimed, with Dr. Marshall D. Nickerson Jr., 39, a Washington physician.

A government probe led recently to the conviction on mail fraud charges against the two. Information revealing that Nickerson was the attending physician in almost all of the accident claims filed by Barnett since late 1975 was collected by the ICPI and turned over to the government. Then there was the case of the dentist in Prairie Village, Kansas, named Dr. Arthur F. Lindquist. Owner of three airplanes, the doctor needed money to support his life style. He was convicted on two counts of defrauding the Kansas Crippled Children's Fund and drew a sentence of two to ten years in prison. What did he do? The state charged him with alleging treatments that were never made.

A SUCCESSFUL SCOTTSDALE, Arizona, man discovered recently how greedy is too greedy. He initiated a phony burglary claim, collecting $12,000 in insurance claims on jewelry he said was taken from his home. To compound the felony, he submitted an insurance claim to a second company in which he reported stolen some of the same jewelry he claimed had been lost in the earlier burglary. He ultimately was sentenced to five years supervised probation and was ordered to pay restitution in the amount of $17,440 to an insurance company he defrauded.

Small time crime invariably draws most of the public's attention but the big leaguers operate in far more sophisticated ways, often highly respected in their own community and often undetected.

The insurance companies have to hire claims investigators to try and discourage such crimes, and they don't come cheap. Without their services, however, the temptation to cheat the government and business would be far greater among the unscrupulous.

Good and mad

Around the rim

Don Woods

(Caution: This Rim could be hazardous to our tendency to look the other way at outrage and gripe about social conditions without doing anything about them.)

On May 8, 1979, the account of an inequity that occurred Aug. 18, 1977 at Lovejoy Specialty Clinic, Portland, Ore., was given to the Oregon State Legislature supporting a proposed senate bill that would require that parents of minor girls be informed before the girl receives an abortion.

Thomas and Catherine Yassu, 8537 N.E. Pacific St., Portland, told the senate that their daughter had made an appointment for an abortion at Lovejoy Specialty Clinic.

WHEN THEY ARRIVED at 10 a.m. "We were taken to the office of the manager. We asked to see our daughter. We were told that we could visit only during visiting hours. We were also informed that Samantha had requested not to see us; therefore, we would not be allowed to see her."

"My husband then asked if anything had yet been done to Samantha. The manager called Lovejoy counselor Tom Shuck. Mr. Shuck said, and I quote, 'You are too late. The procedure has already begun. It began about ten minutes ago.' We both assumed that the abortion itself had begun, and that we were indeed too late."

Shuck told them all the alternatives had been discussed with Samantha. "Samantha later told us that this was completely untrue. The only counseling she received was about the abortion itself. The fact that she was carrying a baby was never mentioned."

"After much discussion, at approximately 11:30 a.m. we asked once again if we might see our daughter. Both men looked casually at their watches and said, 'I'm sorry, visiting hours are over.'"

"Samantha told us later that during the entire time that we were in the office, her boyfriend, his parents, and another friend from school were all in her room and they all remained there until 12 noon."

She also told Shuck that she wanted to see her mother. "She wondered the whole time she was in her room why I never came."

The parents were then told that it would be 2 p.m. before she could be released because of a necessary recuperation period. They returned at 2 p.m. Clinic

Director Ariene Klass told them in the course of their conversation that she was to determine if they were fit parents to take Samantha back into their home. The girl would be placed in a foster home if Klass determined they were not, she said.

Ms. Klass later told them that they were indeed "loving" parents and that her staff should not have refused them a visit with their daughter. Even then the abortion had not been performed.

"...we were to remain in her office until everything was taken care of. The recuperation period they had earlier referred to never existed."

"As we were talking to Ariene Klass, Tom Shuck came into the office and began telling my husband and me that Samantha was a very adult young woman, that he was present during her first examination, and that her vagina was very relaxed. My husband asked if he was a licensed medical doctor. He said no, that he was a psychologist and as such he stayed with most of the girls during their examinations in order to give them support and comfort. I told him I felt that was my responsibility. My husband and I were both appalled at his reference to our daughter's vagina and at his presence during her examinations, which we feel was a violation of her personal and bodily privacy. I do not believe that the presence of a non-medical person, a non-member of the family, would be allowed during an intimate examination in any major medical facility in this country. Not only was this man present, he witnessed the functioning of our daughter's vagina."

MRS. YASSU ASKED her daughter later if she would have had the abortion if she could have told by her mother that the baby would have been cared for in her parents' home. Samantha said absolutely not. The Yassus wrote down their account of these events immediately after so that their emotions would never confuse their remembrance of what took place. They had been deliberately lied to so that the clinic would be able to do the abortion and collect its $158. They were told that the clinic was completely justified in its actions by the state of Oregon. "Be angry and sin not," was Paul's admonition in Ephesians 4:26. In other words, there are situations where we should be "good and mad."

Byrd vs tax cuts

Evans, Novak

WASHINGTON — Senate Majority Leader Robert Byrd, though increasingly unfriendly to President Carter in recent months, is relied on by the White House to prevent the Senate from passing its big tax cut before the election.

Presidential aides, in private, do not deny putting all their eggs in the Byrd basket. If the tax reduction reaches the Senate floor, it will assuredly pass — an embarrassment for the president, who has vowed to veto it. Democratic senators are tired of voting against the Republican Kemp-Roth tax cut and are more than willing to vote for the Senate Finance Committee's version crafted by Chairman Russell B. Long.

Long has promised he will bring the bill to the Senate floor before the election. The White House hopes his interest in tax reduction will cool after his Sept. 13 Senate election in Louisiana. If that guess is wrong and Long is serious, not even Byrd's efforts may save Carter from this re-election setback.

CAMPAIGN DIPLOMACY The beating that diplomacy takes on the campaign trail was shown again at President Carter's Independence, Mo., "town meeting" when he ignored the State Department's careful formulations and instead called for "complete democracy" in South Korea.

OFFICIAL POLICY bans the use of the word "democratic" in dealing with President Chun Doo Hwan's new regime, seeking precise and attainable goals in Korea rather than dealing in sweeping absolutes. But when a questioner at Independence asked about Chum's authoritarian regime, Carter replied: "They should move more rapidly toward complete democracy in their form of government than the Koreans so far have been able to do."

Korean diplomats have been dealing with the Americans too long to get upset, however. They know that what a candidate — even if he is an incumbent president — says in September of an election year should not be taken too seriously.

RUMSFELD AGAIN? Complaints about William Casey as Ronald Reagan's campaign manager have generated talk about calling for a rescue operation by abrasive but competent Donald Rumsfeld to bring order out of chaos in the Reagan campaign just as he did at the White House following Richard Nixon's resignation in 1974.

That scenario has two glaring defects, however: First, Rumsfeld's critics as White House chief of staff and later secretary of defense earned him a legion of enemies who will fight hard to keep him out of the Reagan campaign; second, there is no sign Rumsfeld is willing to give up the megabucks he is earning as chief executive officer of G.D. Searle in Chicago.

ACTUALLY, IT IS entirely possible that Casey will survive the campaign. Although Reagan supporters in Congress predict Casey's imminent fall, his critics inside the campaign are pessimistic that they can get Reagan to wield the axe against Casey as he did against John Sears Feb. 26.

CARTER'S MY FRIEND The probability that the New York Liberal Party on Sept. 13 will give its nomination to Rep. John Anderson instead of President Carter proves again that whatever danger Gov. Hugh Casey poses as an enemy, he is often more lethal as a friend.

Her night numbness a nerve disturbance

Paul G. Donohue, M.D.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I am a 17-year-old girl. For a year I have had this problem of my hand, the left, going to sleep at night. I'll wake up and half of my hand, from my ring finger to the little finger, is numb. I know this has to do with circulation. I was to the doctor's recently, but was afraid to mention this. I am an artist and I need my hands, so I'm hoping you can help me. — J.C.W.

A circulation problem in one year age should be unusual. While it is next to impossible to diagnose with any certainty from this distance, your excellent description prompts me to suggest entrapment of a nerve.

Nerve cables stretch long distances in the body and pass many areas of potential pressure. The part of the hand you describe is under control of the ulnar nerve. If you hit the nerve at your funny bone at the back of your elbow you get an unpleasant feeling in the little and ring finger of the hand. This nerve lies very close to the surface at the elbow. The ulnar can become imbedded in scar tissue and cause the same sensation. The same nerve can also be entrapped at the wrist, with the same symptoms. People who ride bikes a lot may develop this numbness. The answer is to relieve the pressure on the nerve.

Sometimes, sleeping with the elbow bent can cause the problem. Try sleeping with your arms straight, not bent. If you still have trouble, see that doctor again and tell him about it.

I would suspect a circulation problem were your entire hand numb. That can result from sleeping on the arm and cutting off blood supply. In your case, nerve entrapment seems the more logical answer.

Dear Dr. Donohue: My husband has gout. Recently, it has been bothering him more and more. I believe he is drinking excessively and he claims it helps to ease the pain. He does not think it is wrong to drink. I am really concerned. — B.E.

Alcoholic beverages should be avoided by a person with gout. It can precipitate an attack. An occasional cocktail is OK. "Gout — The Modern Way to Stop It" explains the dos and don'ts of the disease. Should you want a copy, write me care of the Big Spring Herald and enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents. Your husband should be getting adequate fluid intake (of the non-alcoholic variety) to be sure he is riding himself of excess uric acid, the gout crystal substance.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I have swelling of my ankles (both). After a night's sleep this disappears, but comes back shortly after I am up. I am 78 years old and in pretty good health, according to my doctor. He said my blood pressure was 140 over 70 at last visit. — E.P.

Such swelling emanates from blood vessels and indicates too much fluid in them. After a night of being off your feet, the swelling goes away because the fluid has been distributed to other parts of your body. When you stand, the force of gravity causes the fluid to reaccumulate in your ankles and feet. When you lie down, gravity is no longer a factor.

You can help things by getting off your feet occasionally during the day. Simple leg elevation on a foot stool while resting in an easy chair can help. Your blood pressure seems good, and the doctor has probably ruled out heart or kidney disturbances, which can be factors in swelling.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Define erythromelalgia, please. — J.

It is a burning, tingling sensation in the feet, often at night when the feet are put under covers. The feet get bright red. This can be triggered by increased temperature from the blankets, so many sufferers sleep with the feet uncovered. Aspirin is the first line of treatment.

FOR MRS. T.L. — A mole that changes in size or appearance merits investigation. Have this done.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple — write to Dr. Donohue, in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of the booklet, "How to Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Big Spring Herald

Dear Editor: Why is it we can get no cooperation from the people who are in charge of the animal shelter?

After I finally got in contact with someone there, the person said "no, we have no traps available." The individual also said that was no way knowing when they would have one.

Asked if the persons to whom they loaned them would not return them in a few days, the answer was "no, sometimes they keep them as long as two weeks."

They did not ask me to leave a note, so they could call when a trap would be available. It seems to me they just did not want to be bothered.

We have skunks come to our place. While I do not wish to catch the skunks there are stray cats around, and I would like to get rid of them.

This is the second time I've tried to borrow the traps from the shelter. Jocia Singleton 1312 Ridgeroad Drive

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Why do you think there seem to be so many problems with child abuse today? Do you think it's worse today than it has been in previous generations? — J.B.

DEAR J.B.: I'm not sure there is any way of knowing whether this problem is significantly worse today than in previous generations. However, there has been more attention to the problem, and it is a very serious matter in our society.

Child abuse is wrong (I am not talking about normal discipline, which the Bible sees as necessary to help our children learn the difference between right and wrong). In child abuse, a youngster may be physically or emotionally harmed — even scarred for life. A child who has been abused will often find it difficult to trust or love other people, and may grow up feeling that he is worthless and unloved. He may also find it hard to love God, because he has never really known human love. The Bible says, "Fathers, do not exasperate your children; instead bring them up in the training and instruction of the Lord" (Ephesians 6:4). Or again it tells us, "Fathers, do not embitter your children, or they will become discouraged" (Colossians 3:21). There are many ways a child can become embittered, but the most fundamental way is when he feels that he is unloved.

The Bible teaches that God is the one who gives us children, and we are to love them. One of the ways we show our love for them is in disciplining them — but harsh, angry discipline suggests to them that they are not loved.

There may be many reasons why an individual will abuse a child. Sometimes a parent has had difficult experiences in childhood. For example, and reacts violently with his children. But whatever the reason, the first step in dealing with this problem is to commit oneself without reserve to Jesus Christ, admitting the need of strength and love which only Christ can bring.

Play like sit-com

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — Those who have been dismayed at the sordidness of the Abscam bribery revelations will be pleased to learn that some comic relief is on the way with the trial of Joseph Silvestri later this month.

Silvestri is a New Jersey building contractor who was used by the FBI to recruit corruptible congressmen. He, like the politicians he contacted, was fooled by the undercover G-men posing as bagmen for a favor-seeking Arab sheik.

BUT THE FBI agents were themselves hopelessly gulled by Silvestri. Unable to produce a genuine Philadelphia Mafia leader to dicker with the bogus sheik's representatives, the resourceful Silvestri enlisted the not inconsiderable acting talents of an unemployed electrician named Tony DeLuca.

DeLuca, a craggy-faced, gray-haired man in a black pinstriped suit, looked like Central Casting's choice for a role in "The Godfather" — or possibly "The Bowery Boys Meet the Godfather." The script was amateurish; the dialogue was a howl. But it suckered the FBI completely.

Informed sources told my associate Gary Cohn that the FBI assigned four agents to check out the mysterious mobster Silvestri had produced. The investigation took several weeks and cost the beauro some $70,000 and $100,000.

DELUCA'S DRAMATIC debut occurred on Dec. 11, 1979. Silvestri was the co-star and director. The audience consisted of FBI agent Anthony Amoroso, convicted con man and Abscam scenarist Mel Weinberg and, of course, the government officials monitoring the performance from an adjoining room. Silvestri had been pressed by the undercover agents to introduce them to mob boss Angelo Bruno from Philadelphia, who would tell the "sheik's" men how to get Mob cooperation for an Atlantic City casino. Camera. Action:

Silvestri: "The guy you wanted to meet from Philadelphia — that's not necessary."

Weinberg: "The big money is in controlling the (concessions). That means, if we give them the financing, we tell them the construction company to use, we tell them you gotta use our linen guy, our bakery guy, our liquor guy. All right?"

DeLuca, gruffly: "Let me explain something to you. The linen, cigarette machines, and a few other things — you don't tell them. They'll tell you. Let me put it this way. If you think you can go down to Atlantic City and tell them that you're going to be using the guy you want for the linen and the guy you want for the cigarette machines, you're not thinking. Don't attempt it. You want to do the financing, that's fine. But as far as the linens, the silverware, the rest of the stuff, that's ours."

Weinberg: "You in the construction business?"

DeLuca, stumped, looked to Silvestri for help and said: "Uh, how do I answer that?"

Silvestri: "Mel, the unions in the United States belong to — Tony's friends."

Amoroso, not to be one-upped in name-dropping: "We're with a guy right now who's going to take us to Bruno."

DeLuca: "Just give me one thing. Just give me his first name, and I'll tell you if you got the right guy."

Amoroso: "Frank."

DeLuca: "From New Jersey?"

Amoroso: "The guy is from New Jersey. Yeah."

DeLuca: "You got the wrong guy. You don't know who the hell you're dealing with, because I can tell you, if the guy's name is Frank and he's from New Jersey, I don't know him."

Amoroso: "OK."

DeLuca: "He's a name-dropper. I can tell you something right now. Bruno is not (involved) in Atlantic City."

Amoroso: "All right, you could be right."

DeLuca: "I know I'm right."

Warning to his role, DeLuca assured the "sheik's" men they would have no union troubles in Atlantic City if they dealt through him. "I walk right in the (expensive deleted) door to who the head guy is. I'm right there, see? So that cuts out a lot of B.S. I'll take care of who has to be taken care of..."

Certain. The unemployed electrician had come the FBI agent — and the FBI's own con man, Weinberg.

UNDER THE DOME: The lame ducks are off and flying again, at taxpayers' expense. Though they won't be returning to Congress next year, Reps. John Wyder, R-N.Y., and Robert Duncan, D-Ore., junketed off on a 10-day "fact-finding" trip to Italy, Egypt and Israel. Rep. Marty Russo, D-Ill., recently championed legislation that would prohibit the trapping of furbearing animals for their pelts. Then he showed up at a club on Capitol Hill modeling fur coats. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee regularly circulates a list of its staff employees' names, addresses, phone numbers — and marital status. Some staffers are amused; some are not. Former Rep. Dan Flood, D-Pa., resigned in disgrace after copping a plea on corruption charges, but his pet provision in the Defense Appropriations Bill still sticks. It forbids Army installations to convert to oil from coal — much of which comes from Flood's district.

Ma Bell gets competition for long distance calls

NEW YORK (AP)—If you live in one of more than 100 metropolitan areas, the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. is no longer the only game in town for long distance calls. And Ma Bell, the nation's top telephone company, isn't happy about the competition.

International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. on Wednesday became the third major company to announce a cut-rate, long-distance service for residential customers.

"Anyone now spending over $20 a month on interstate long-distance calls can save substantially with this service," said Patrick J. Ryan, executive vice president and general manager of U.S. Transmission Systems, the ITT subsidiary handling the service.

The burgeoning service has so far made only a small dent in AT&T's long-distance revenues, which last year were $18.23 billion. But MCI Communications and Southern Pacific Communications are latching on to many customers since they began promoting the services that had been available to businesses for several years.

In June, a federal judge ordered AT&T to pay $1.8 billion in damages to MCI after a jury found the communications giant violated federal antitrust laws in denying intracity phone collections to MCI.

MCI says 60,000 residential customers have signed on since it entered the market in March, and SCP estimates it has about 8,000 since beginning residential service last October.

"It's obviously a potentially serious drain on revenues," said AT&T spokesman Jay Gross. AT&T doesn't object to the competition, he said, but contends the rules should be changed to force the other companies to charge higher rates.

The three competing residential services cover calls only among the major metropolitan areas and only after the regular business day.

All charge a monthly fee, either $5 or $10, plus a per-call charge that they say is much less than Ma Bell's. ITT says its discounts range from 15 percent to 80 percent for each call.

Customers dial a local number, paying a local charge, if there is any, and are then connected to the microwave system that hooks them into the distant city, where local lines again are used. An identification number is dialed by the customer.

AT&T says its fees are higher because long-distance charges subsidize local service and because its competitors serve only lucrative markets, ignoring small towns.

KITCHEN SYNCOS — Members of the Kitchen Syncs Senior Citizen's Kazoo band in the West Moreland County community of New Alexandria, Pa., play their instruments and twirl American flags during a rendition of "You're a Grand Old Flag." The group formed months ago and members are from 75 to 96 years old. The band has set its sights performance at the National Conference on Aging to be held at the White House in 1981.

Trustees to eye gym repairs

Big Spring School Board trustees' regular meeting tonight will address budget amendments to include repairs to the Steer Gym and provide contracts for Blankenship Stadium.

Also on the agenda is an interdistrict transfer request, and employment and resignation of personnel.

The meeting will be at 5:15 p.m. at the board room at the high school.

Fair roping, barrel race entries data

Entries for the Howard County Fair's County Roping and Barrel Race will be taken at Driver Insurance Agency, 215 Rannels, starting Monday from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Entries will close at 5 p.m. Thursday. Entry fees are $20 in the calf roping, $15 per man in the team roping, and $25 in the Barrel Race.

Both the roping and barrel race are open to anyone living in Howard County. The events will start at 4 p.m. Saturday in the Rodeo Bowl at the Fair grounds.

Hereford plant will not close

HEREFORD — Contrary to an announcement made the past spring, Armour and Company will not be closing its meat packing plant here in October, a company spokesman has announced.

Armour officials said the decision to keep the plant open came after discussions between plant representatives and officials of the United Food and Commerce Workers Union concerning the productivity of the facility.

The plant employs an estimated 450 persons and has an annual payroll of between $8 and $9 million.

The Hereford plant buys an average of 400,000 cattle annually, most of which come from the Texas Panhandle.

Stop hot checks meeting called

Operation Stop Hot Checks in Howard County, sponsored by Justice of the Peace Bobby West will get under way today at 7:30 p.m. in the county courtroom.

The meeting, which will be attended by area merchants, will provide information from a recent state attorney general's ruling. The ruling says that justices of the peace can not collect reimbursements on hot checks.

"However," West said this morning, "the justice can act as prosecutor." West will outline steps his office will take in dealing with the problem.

He said of area residents who have hot checks written at local establishments, "I strongly suggest that they get this taken care of by Friday morning."

At 10th annual Jamboree

Black-eyed pea honored

ATHENS, Tex. — Over 30,000 festival fans spent three fun-filled, exciting days recently honoring the Black-Eyed Pea in Athens — the city known as the "Black-Eyed Pea Capital of the World."

Since the first jamboree was held in 1971, the festival has grown to where it now includes a country and western concert, pea shellin' contest, arts and crafts show, cook-off and a beauty pageant among its 19 events.

The voice and enthusiasm of Ronnie Milsap thrilled nearly 11,000 delighted jamboree fans that attended the festival's star-studded country and western show.

The concert, staged on a moon-lit night at Bruce Field on the campus at Henderson County Junior College, also featured the popular "Fiddling Cates," a duo of beautiful sisters that play fiddles and sing in a most sensational way.

The Black-Eyed Pea Beauty Pageant was won this year by 17-year-old Colleen Renee Landers of Quitman. The pageant, staged for the public in the Henderson County Junior College auditorium, was moderated by 1977 Miss Teenage America, Rebecca Reid, and judged by a blue-ribbon panel including modeling agency, newspaper and television personalities from Dallas and Shreveport. The triumph was the second time this year that Miss Landers has won an East Texas beauty crown, as the dark-eyed beauty was also chosen queen of the Dogwood Fiesta in Quitman earlier this year.

The 1980 jamboree was a big year for NATO, the National Association of Terrapin Owners as over 100 of the fresh water turtles were entered in a 500-inch Grand Prix.

The trophy winner, Fireball, owned by a 9-year-old Athens girl, hot-footed it across the finish line to take the championship. NATO, a state-chartered organization, was created to protect an endangered specie whose extinction is threatened by traffic because of the turtle's inherent curiosity to see what's on the other side of our highways.

Betty Harris came down from Huntsville and outshined everybody in the Black-Eyed Pea Shellin' Contest just as she has done for the last several years. She also brought along her sister, who won second place for the second time and her mother who was one of the top ten finalists.

Jeff Stelter of Athens popped the most peas into a bowl to win first place in the Black-Eyed Pea Poppin' Contest. And 13-year-old Angela Waller came all the way from Virginia Beach, Va. to pop her way into third place.

First place in the Black-Eyed Pea Pet Show was won by a beautiful mixed-breed collie dog, but it barely edged out a grasshopper which was one of 121 entries that included all manners of animal and critters entered as pets.

Slurpin' and slippin' was the action for the Black-Eyed Pea Watermelon Eating Contest as more than 100 entrants tried for ribbons in the mid-afternoon heat. The spectators had about as much fun as the contestants as they cheered for their favorites which included a few 2-year-old children who were attempting to eat pieces of watermelon that nearly outweighed them.

Other events at this year's festival included a BMX bicycle race, a 10-kilometer run, carnival, arts and crafts show and a square dance.

But the highlight event of the jamboree was the cook-off that featured $1,800 in prize money awarded to the best cooks in four categories. Mrs. Linda Martin was voted grand champion cook by a majority of celebrity judges.

She won for her Pea Festival Crepes — a pea crepe filled with a mixture of meat and black-eyed peas. The event was aired live over Dallas radio station WFAA by David Wade, well-known gourmet cook, judge and radio personality. Wade was joined in the judging by such notables as Julie Benell, Dallas Morning News contributing Food Editor and cookbook author; Frank X. Tolbert, notable Dallas Morning News columnist and chili restaurateur; Joe Holsted and Dick Wheeler of WFAA radio and TV, Dallas; Mary Faulk Cook, author of several cookbooks; Dallas radio personalities Dick Hitt (KAAM) and Alex Burton (KRLD); Dallas-Fort Worth Home & Garden Food Editor, Marilyn Ingram; KXAS-TV's Carolyn Raiser; newspaper editor Roy Eaton and past Terlingua Chili Cook-Off champ, Albert Agnor.

Mrs. Martin's recipe, called a reci-pea in jamboree jargon, received comments such as "it has public appeal ... a real black-eyed pea taste" from the judges as they conferred before their vote for grand champion.

Recipes

PEA FESTIVAL CREPES

Crepes:
 3/4 cup black-eyed peas, drained and mashed
 3 tablespoons cornmeal
 1 cup flour
 2 eggs
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1 1/2 cups milk
 1/2 cup water

2 teaspoons margarine, melted
 Filling:
 4 cups black-eyed peas, drained and mashed, reserving juice
 1/2 pound ground meat
 1 large onion, chopped
 1 large green chili, chopped

1 teaspoon seasoned salt
 1 teaspoon sage
 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
 1/2 cup black-eyed pea juice
 Salt to taste

Crepes: Combine corn meal, flour, salt and eggs; mix well. Add remaining ingredients and beat well until smooth.

batter at least two hours. Brush the bottom of a six-inch crepe pan or skillet with oil; place pan over medium heat and heat until hot. Pour four teaspoons of batter in pan and tilt, covering bottom of pan. Cook about one minute, until brown and flip crepe and cook about one minute.

Fill with ground meat and onion, then add all other ingredients, mixing well. Spoon into crepes and fold over and place in casserole dish, seam side up. Service with cheese sauce, top with sliced black olives.

Cheese Sauce: Melt 1/2 cup milk, 1 can Rotel tomatoes. Add juice if needed. Serves 16.

Visitors to the Black-Eyed Pea Jamboree in Athens also were treated to a traditional favorite called "Jamboree Ham Bone Soup" while they watched and participated in some of the proceedings.

JAMBOREE HAM BONE SOUP

1 ham bone with meat or 1/2 pound ham steak, cut in narrow 2" strips
 2 quarts water
 1 cup onion, diced
 1 cup celery, diced
 1 1/2 cup green beans, ends removed and cut in 2" lengths
 1 cup turnip, diced
 1 cup black-eyed peas
 2 cups potatoes, diced
 1 1/2 cups tomatoes, peeled and diced
 1/2 cup fresh or frozen green peas
 1 cup fresh or frozen corn kernels
 1 teaspoon Imperial Granulated Sugar
 1/2 teaspoon black pepper
 1 teaspoon salt

Add ham bone or ham strips to water and bring to boil. Simmer for 15 minutes. Add onion, celery, green beans, turnip, black-eyed peas and potatoes. Simmer until vegetables are barely tender. Add remaining ingredients. Simmer 5 minutes. Adjust seasonings to taste. Serves 8 to 10.

"Jamboree Ham Bone Soup" is one of several black-eyed pea recipes in Imperial Sugar's newest cookbook called "Texas Recipes from Texas Places," Volume III. The cookbook, featuring recipes highlighted at the many festivals, jamborees, cook-offs and events held throughout Texas is free. To get a copy send your name, address, zip code and a "Pure Cane" block cut from an Imperial package to Imperial Sugar Company, P.O. Box 530, Sugar Land, Texas 77428. The cookbooks are sent with all handling and postage charges prepaid by Imperial.

For additional free black-eyed pea recipes, write to Athens Chamber of Commerce, Box 608-L, Athens, Texas 75751.

JAMBOREE HAM BONE SOUP — A favorite recipe served up every year during the Black-Eyed Pea Jamboree in Athens is "Jamboree Ham Bone Soup." The soup is one of several black-eyed pea recipes in Imperial Sugar's newest cookbook, "Texas Recipes from Texas Places," Volume III. The recipe for "Jamboree Ham Bone Soup" and instructions to order the free cookbook are in the adjoining story.

Faddists recommend wrong foods for balanced diet

Good nutrition and milk go hand in hand. Without milk a nutritionally balanced diet becomes much more difficult to obtain.

One of the key reasons for the importance of milk is the amount of calcium it contains. This essential mineral makes dairy products the leading suppliers of this essential nutrient in the American diet.

Nutrition faddists often recommend other calcium sources such as almonds, bell peppers or mustard greens. What they don't recognize is the added calories and lack of variety in such a diet. To get the same amount of calcium (300 mg.) in one glass of whole milk (150 calories) you would have to eat:

- 1 cup of roasted almonds (904 calories)
- 12 raw eggs (904 calories)
- 5 1/2 pounds fried chicken (6,209 calories)
- 23 baked potatoes (3,335 calories)

- 30 cups of watermelon (1,260 calories)
- 2 1/2 ounces of sardines with bones (145 calories)
- 2 cups of cooked mustard greens (60 calories)
- 2 1/2 cups cooked broccoli (100 calories)
- 14 slices of white bread (1,064 calories)
- 94 cups corn flakes (9,118 calories)
- 16 cups of cooked rice (3,568 calories)

Calcium is vital for health and it is the most abundant mineral in the body.

Approximately 99 percent of it is found in the bones and teeth where it lends rigidity to these tissues and is stored for future needs. The remaining one percent serves several important functions including the clotting of blood, the activation of enzymes and the transmission of nerve impulses to the heart and other organs.

The body's store of calcium is constantly cycled and slowly lost. With a diet low in this nutrient, the body will rob calcium from the bones to meet its needs. In the long run, a calcium-low diet can result in Dowager's hump, brittle bones and a decrease in height as a person ages.

The easiest way to get the many benefits milk offers is to drink the recommended amount daily. The United States Department of Agriculture, in their new Daily Food Guide, recommends the following amounts of milk each day: children 3 or more cups; teenagers 4 or more cups; adults, 2 or more; and expectant mothers, 3 or more cups.

Check the amount of milk or dairy products you are getting daily. If it does not meet the requirements, it will certainly be worth the added effort to bring your servings from the milk group up to par.

FACIAL STRETCH — Nurse Mary Lou Peterie follows directions for a facial stretching exercise at a stop along Wesley Medical Center's basement fitness course. The "Magic Walk," as it is called, is part of a new "wellness" program designed to keep the hospital staff healthy. A growing number of hospitals are adopting such programs.

Keep hospital workers out of hospital beds

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Betty Snyder scurries from floor to floor at Wichita's Wesley Medical Center, going about the business of making people well again.

But each noon, the 57-year-old nurse spends a few minutes in the hospital's labyrinthine basement, tending to her own health with a brisk walk along a half-mile fitness course.

The course is part of a new "wellness" program designed to help the hospital's 3,000 workers relieve stress, lose weight and feel better.

"I feel different now in the afternoons," Mrs. Snyder said. "It relaxes me and gives me a lift."

A growing number of hospitals across the land are looking for ways to improve the health of the doctors, nurses, secretaries and bookkeepers who make up the teams who heal the sick.

In addition, some 400 companies have hired fitness directors in recent years, noting the balance-sheet benefits of a healthy workforce as well as the growing national interest in preventive health care.

The intended results: Lower health insurance costs, longer life, better job performance and renewed company spirit.

About 100 hospitals have adopted some form of employee or community fitness programs in the past two years, according to the American Hospital Association.

"The hospital already is recognized as a center for health information, and this is a natural extension of what the hospital's goals always have been," said Lynn Jones, staff specialist in employee health for the AHA in Chicago.

At Baptist Hospital in Pensacola, Fla., a Light Fitness Center for employees and the community had more than 1,000 participants in its first 18 months. Center director Don McDaniel sees it as a good sign.

"I hope this is the wave of the future," he said. "It'll be a question of cost-effectiveness and it may be our only alternative to the rising cost of health care."

Wesley's wellness program for employees is typical of many. It includes physical examinations, lifestyle questionnaires, a dozen free self-help classes and physical fitness areas.

It was launched, ironically, with money the hospital had overpaid for employee health insurance last year. The insurer reimbursed the hospital and some $50,000 was set aside to start the program.

Jerry Kerschen, a 35-year-old former college basketball player, was hired as fitness coordinator. He promptly created the "Magic Walk" fitness course that runs past the laundry and pharmacy in the basement corridors.

"I figure if you walk this course every day for a year, and give up that doughnut, you can lose 30 pounds," Kerschen said. "Of course, giving up that doughnut is a good part of it."

Mrs. Snyder said the course, which includes stops for stretching exercises, already has helped her lose 10 pounds.

"I had become so involved and busy every day at work that I had lost time to get out and be active," she said. "This makes me better able to cope with the pressures of the rest of the day."

The program now has an $80,000 Wellness Club under construction, a computer to analyze health data and classes in everything from stress management and physical fitness to weight control and quitting smoking.

More than 140 workers recently underwent "risk intervention" tests to gauge their lung capacities, body fat, muscular strength, flexibility and other fitness characteristics. Another

Three main risk factors of heart disease revealed

The scenic Chapter of the American Business Women's Association held its monthly meeting on Sept. 2, in the Tumbleweed Room at Howard College with Deloris Albert, president, presiding.

Fourteen members and four guests including Dr. David N. Rickey, Ada Breen and Audrey Wilson, were present.

Dr. Rickey, guest speaker for the evening, is the past president of the Howard County Heart Association and is currently serving as Regional Representative to the Board of the Texas Heart Association.

He is a graduate of Ohio State University College of Dentistry and has been in the private practice of dentistry in Big Spring for the past five years.

Dr. Rickey spoke on the purpose and functions of the American Heart Association, a volunteer organization whose mission is to prevent premature heart diseases.

The American Heart Association trains instructors for Cardio Pulmonary Resuscitation (CPR). These instructors are available to train people in business or organizations in CPR. The association also provides information in the form of films and booklets on cardiovascular diseases.

Dr. Rickey said that the Heart Association does not pay for heart surgery or transportation to hospitals. The funds are spent on research to try to find a cure for heart disease.

There are 3 main risk factors associated with heart disease, including elevated serum cholesterol, hypertension or high blood pressure and smoking. People who smoke statistically have a 2 to 3 times greater chance of heart disease or stroke.

The secondary Risk Factors, says Dr. Rickey, are diabetes, diet (obesity), exercise, personality type and stress, alcohol, sex and heredity.

Dr. Rickey closed with the following recommendations to reduce the risk factors: have a well balanced diet; control of diabetes; if overweight, lose down to ideal weight; no smoking and if you do smoke, cut down.

Vocational speaker for the evening was Peggy Rogers. She explained how to take care of skin from cleansing to applying makeup.

"Always use a warm, wet cloth to remove cleanser," she explained, "and always apply cleanser with gentle, upward strokes — never rub face hard. This prevents the breakage of the structures of the face."

The Enrollment Tea will be held Sept. 28 at Opal Wooten's home. A bazaar will be on Dec. 13.

Billie Barron was installed as vice president.

The next meeting is scheduled for Oct. 7.

Son is born to Newtons

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Newton, 2605 Apache, announce the birth of a second son, John Marion, born at Malone-Hogan Hospital.

The infant made his debut Aug. 19 at 10:07 a.m. weighing 8 pounds 12 ounces. He measured 21 inches in length.

Maternal grandmother of John is Helene Langley, Big Spring. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Newton, Big Spring, are the paternal grandparents.

Great-grandmother of the new arrival is Mrs. Mary Stuteville, Big Spring.

Welcoming his little brother home was the couple's 4 1/2-year-old son, Brian.

Dear Abby

A Tisket, a Tasket
A Pink and Yellow Casket...

DEAR ABBY: REPULSED IN COLORADO SPRINGS was appalled at the surprise party her sister-in-law had planned for her father-in-law's 50th birthday. It was to be a fake "wake," to symbolize the death of his youth. She had rented a coffin, and the house was to be transformed into a "funeral parlor." REPULSED failed to see the humor of it, and you agreed with her.

Well, here's one 54-year-old crazy lady who is having the time of her life renting out real caskets to fun-loving folks who want to give unusual parties. Our caskets come in buttercup yellow, passionate pink and luscious lavender — and we deliver them in a powder blue Cadillac hearse, which we also rent out. (On Halloween, our phone rings off the hook!)

I am also an ordained minister, and as such I married a couple in a double-casket ceremony. How's that for burying their single-blessedness?

It's a shame so many folks have morbid hangups about death and dying. Once they've been to a casket party and have had a few beers while actually sitting in a casket, their fears are greatly diminished.

In case you think I'm putting you on, you can easily check this out. I've been written up in the local press, appeared on local talk shows, and I've also been on "Real People." I'm a minor celebrity around Alamitos, Calif. They call me ...

CASSANDRA, THE CASSETTE QUEEN

DEAR CASSANDRA: Well, now I've heard every-thing! And if you think this is the kookiest career I've ever encountered, you're dead right.

DEAR ABBY: In response to the person complaining about mowing the lawn so early in the morning: Here in Washington County, Ore., we have to mow early while the dew is still on the grass to keep down the ash dust from Mt. St. Helens.

TODD IN CORNELIUS

DEAR TODD: Considering what you folks have had to contend with, a little lawn mower noise at any hour would sound like the "Moonlight Sonata."

...

DEAR ABBY: My husband's sister, a twice-married, twice-divorced 47-year-old grandmother, is the problem. She's been living with her 36-year-old "boyfriend," whom she plans to marry as soon as his divorce is final. Abby, this prospective "bride" wants her brother (my husband) to give her away when she gets married for the third time. And that's not all — she wants my husband to foot the bill for a big church wedding and reception! She says it is his "duty" to do this for her because their father is dead.

I thought at first she was kidding, but it turns out that she is dead serious, so my husband asked me to write to you and find out if he is obligated to do this.

For years this wacky sister has used my husband to get her out of the crazy messes she's gotten herself into, and now this ridiculous request.

Does he have to give her away and pay for her wedding? I hope you say he doesn't.

BURNED UP IN BOSTON

DEAR BURNED: He doesn't.

DAR finalizes plans for Constitution Week

The Captain Elisha Mack Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met at the Martin County Museum in Stanton, Monday at 7:30 p.m. for a regular meeting. Mrs. C.G. Barnett, regent presided.

Mrs. Jack Alexander gave a report on national defense. Mrs. Bill Early, Veteran Service representative, gave a report on the recent VAVS meeting at the Veterans Administration Medical Center.

Mrs. Stanley Reid outlined plans to present a flag program to one of the area schools. Helen Ewing, American History chairman discussed plans to promote the American History Essay Contest in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades of the local schools. Plans were made to observe American History Week in February.

Mrs. Alexander presented the 1980-1981 yearbooks to the group. Plans were finalized for the DAR and Genealogical Society booth at the Howard County Fair to be sponsored by the Big Spring Hardware Company.

Mrs. Reid gave a program on the Constitution of the United States. She reviewed the Constitution and amendments to date and suggested that everyone re-read the constitution occasionally.

Plans for Constitution Week (Sept. 17-23) were made and Stanton's mayor, Danny Fryar, was present to sign the proclamation.

Visitors were mayor Fryar and Mrs. Glenn Brown of Stanton.

Hostess were Mrs. Reid and Mrs. John Cobean.

Next meeting will be Oct. 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Miss Ewing. The speaker will be Larry Don Shaw.

GOVERNOR'S REPORT

by William F. Clements Jr.

A bill to provide for tightly restricted electronic surveillance — wiretapping — in felony narcotics cases will be a fundamental part of the complete law enforcement package that I will submit to the Legislature next January.

I respect and fully support the right of individual privacy, and the legislation I will offer will protect that basic right of law-abiding citizens.

An effective wiretap law is essential to the success of state and law enforcement officers, however, in detecting, apprehending and prosecuting the criminals who mastermind and finance the narcotics traffic.

Texas, with 644 miles of coastline and 1200 miles of border with Mexico, is a major trans-shipment state in the drug traffic. Drug use in the United States generates $50 billion to $60 billion a year, and drug operations in Texas alone constitute a $3 billion annual business.

Two thirds of the heroin which comes into the United States moves through Texas. Drugs generate a major amount of other crime, and take a terrible toll in human lives. We are long overdue in providing our law enforcement officers with tools to stop this traffic.

The U.S. Supreme Court has upheld constitutionality of the federal wiretap law which was passed by Congress 12 years ago. Twenty-four states and the District of Columbia have adopted wiretap legislation since 1968, and none have repealed them.

I propose a state law patterned after the federal act but with even more stringent limitations. Under my proposal, wiretaps would be permitted only in felony narcotics cases. These safeguards against invasion of privacy would be written into the act.

The Texas Department of Public Safety alone could install, operate and monitor wiretaps.

Only nine judges in Texas — one in each of the nine administrative judicial districts named by the presiding judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals — could authorize the taps on finding they are necessary to get information in cases where there is probably cause to suspect felony narcotics involvement.

Just 30 days of surveillance would be permitted by initial court orders, with additional 30-day extensions possible after judges review progress reports on the taps.

Those whose communications were interrupted would have to be notified within 90 days after surveillance is terminated. Notifications also would be required where a wiretap is denied.

Information obtained from an illegal wiretap would not be admissible in court.

Illegal wiretapping would be punishable by two to 10 years imprisonment and fines up to $5,000. Civil damages could be recovered in event of illegal taps.

I am convinced that this legislation would give law officers an important new weapon which could be used after other investigative techniques have been tried unsuccessfully.

There is plenty of support for such a measure. Polls indicate more than two-thirds of Texans favor this added enforcement tool to combat the drug traffic. Eighty-one percent of Republican primary voters this year endorsed it. My proposal also has backing of the Texas District and County Attorneys Association, the Sheriffs' Association of Texas, Texas Police Association, Texas Chiefs of Police Association, Texas Association of Police Attorneys, Organized Crime Prevention Council, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, Ross Perot's War on Drugs Committee, and the Mayors' Advisory Committee of Texas Municipal League. Some of our outstanding newspapers also have endorsed a Texas wiretap bill.

I cannot argue that wiretapping will solve the drug problem. But without it, our efforts to detect and prosecute the top financiers and traffickers of narcotics will continue to be hampered. It's time for Texans to start using all the tools we have available to combat a growing menace to our society.

The darker side of fraternities

BOSTON (AP) — Fraternity hazing, a rite of passage for generations of college pledges, is coming back into vogue after a brush with extinction during the student activist days of the early 1970s.

This fall's initiations do not approach the sometimes brutal rituals common 15 or 20 years ago, officials say, but hazing has become enough of a problem again for virtually all of the national fraternities to forbid it.

However, fraternity executives concede that the insults, browbeating, silly tasks, forced exercises and other lessons in humility will probably continue despite their efforts.

"If there is one single thing that is a black mark against fraternities, it is hazing," said Stephen Siders, executive director of Alpha Tau Omega. "The loss of life because of some stupid fraternity ritual is unforgivable."

But deaths occasionally do occur during hazing, the period of physical and mental intimidation that leads to full membership in a fraternity.

The latest was Aug. 31 at the University of Lowell in Massachusetts. Stephen Call, 19, a pledge at Delta Kappa Phi, collapsed during calisthenics and died of hyperthermia, overheating the body.

The state university ordered initiation rites stopped at its seven fraternities and named a committee to investigate the organizations.

Call's death was the 15th hazing fatality in the past 2½ years, according to Eileen Stevens.

Mrs. Stevens of Sayville, N.Y., has made the abolition of hazing a personal crusade — her own son died during an initiation prank in 1978.

"Very often they are called isolated incidents or unfortunate accidents," she said. "They are neither. Accidents are spontaneous, and these hazings are premeditated and planned and perpetuated in the name of tradition. It's happening far more often than people realize."

Leaders of national fraternities say the rebirth of hazing is an unfortunate byproduct of the organizations' returning popularity.

In 1971, the total active membership of the nation's fraternities had fallen to about 139,000, according to the National Interfraternity Conference. This year, it is expected to reach 245,000 members.

"I think there has been an increase in the number of incidents in the last couple of years," conceded Ken Tracey, executive director of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, the nation's largest fraternity. "People wouldn't put up with it in the early '70s. The fraternities were worried about survival in those days, and they couldn't concern themselves with hazing."

Added Fred Yoder of Sigma Chi: "It's a problem that is more potentially prevalent now than it was 10 years ago. There is more competition to get into fraternities, and today's student tends not to be as questioning, as critical, as many were in the early '70s."

Most national fraternities punish local chapters that violate their anti-hazing rules.

Last year, SAE suspended its chapters at the University of Arizona and Gettysburg (Pa.) College for hazing.

Some fraternities have diminished hazing by substituting "Help Week" for "Hell Week." Pledges organize charity fundraising events, blood drives and work with retarded children.

Not everyone even agrees what constitutes hazing.

"If you make a kid learn the names of 50 prominent fraternity members when he should be doing his political science, I consider that hazing," said Geoff Fitzgerald, executive director of Theta Delta Chi. "We simply have a blanket policy that encourages houses to do nothing that in any way demeans or embarrasses or physically or emotionally strains any kid who wants to join the fraternity."

Some of the incidents are far more serious than emotional strain, however.

At Ithaca College in New York last April, a boy died of hyperthermia during strenuous exercises that were part of fraternity hazing. Another was killed at Louisiana State last year when he was struck by a car as a group of pledges walked blindfolded across a road at night.

"In over 90 percent of the incidents, alcohol is involved," said Mrs. Stevens. "So when you are dealing with peer pressure, secrecy and alcohol abuse, you've got a very dangerous combination."

Mrs. Stevens formed an anti-hazing organization, called Committee to Halt Useless College Killings, or CHUCK, after her son, Chuck, died during pledge training at Alfred University in Alfred, N.Y.

She said her son and two other pledges were locked in the trunk of a car and told they could not get out until they drank a pint of bourbon, a six-pack of beer and a fifth of wine. Chuck died of alcohol poisoning and fluid in the lungs.

This year, New York and New Jersey passed anti-hazing laws. Similar rules are on the books in Texas, California, Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming and North Carolina.

Free trip to Dallas at Steers halftime

The BSBS Booster Club and Skipper Travel Agency are continuing to sell the tickets for the free trip to the Dallas Cowboys-Tampa Bay Buccaneers football game through tomorrow night's drawing during halftime of the Steer-Sweetwater grid tilt.

Tickets for the drawing are one dollar each. They may be brought from any booster club member, as well as at the Lions Club supper at the BSBS cafeteria tomorrow afternoon, and at Memorial Stadium tomorrow night.

All donations go toward funding banquets and other events which benefit the athletic program at Big Spring High School.

The drawing for the free trip includes air fare to and from Dallas, motel accommodations and tickets for two to the contest.

CGA sets Sunday tourney

The Chicago Golf Association will be hosting an A-B-C Louisiana Draw Tournament Sunday morning at the Comanche Trail Golf Course.

Entry fee for the tourney, which begins at 10:00 a.m., will be five dollars. Linksters are reminded that they should be there by 9:30 in order to enter.

Shorthorn-Sweetwater reset

SWEETWATER — The junior varsity contest slated tonight for 7:30 p.m. between Sweetwater and Big Spring has been cancelled due to the condition of the Mustang Bowl, which is flooded with rain.

The contest has been reset for Saturday morning at 9:30 a.m. The varsity units of the two schools meet tomorrow night in Big Spring.

Veterans cause worries for LA

Disgruntled Rams visit Tampa

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams — hoping their considerable problems of the young season are behind them — meet the Tampa Bay Buccaneers tonight in a nationally televised rematch of last season's National Football Conference title game.

The Rams won the conference crown last January in a tough defensive battle that saw the Bucs blanked 9-0 and sent Los Angeles to the Super Bowl.

Los Angeles has been in a revolving door situation with injured and unhappy players since training camp began. On Monday, quarterback Vince Ferragamo became the seventh dissident to leave the team.

He came back Tuesday after a one-day boycott over wages, and by then all veterans were back and accounted for. Coach Ray Malavasi saw the toll it took in last week's season opener, a 41-20 loss to Detroit.

"It did hurt us," he said, referring to late holdouts by Jack Youngblood, a defensive end, linebacker Jim Youngblood and defensive tackle Larry Brooks.

"I didn't feel we could waste the time and let them go without playing another game. I felt the sooner we got our veteran players in the ball game the better off we would be for the whole season. They had to get in there and start playing."

But when they came back, the Rams had to make room for them. Halfback Elvis Peacock said that hurt.

"It affected us by the guys coming in the week before the game. We had to cut some people who were good to make room for those guys.

Those things hurt us. If we get those things behind us, then we'll be all right," Peacock said.

Besides the dissatisfaction, the morale situation and the cuts, there's also the problem of the top veterans getting back their timing.

Malavasi is keeping his fingers crossed that his veterans will fall in quickly. "I hope they make a bigger contribution against the Bucs than they made last week. We had just gotten them back, and it's very hard to get their timing."

"We have only two full days of practice this week. How much better they'll be is hard to say. You don't just come in and do it overnight."

He's not concerned that Ferragamo's brief walkout will fuel the situation. "I really don't think he intended to stay out," the coach said. "I think he just wanted to make a point for that one day. He's not that type of guy. He knows this is his opportunity to show what he can do."

Ferragamo, filling in for injured starter Pat Haden, guided the Rams to the victory over the Buccaneers in the NFC playoff game last year and led Los Angeles to the Super Bowl, where they lost to Pittsburgh.

Haden took his place in the starting lineup against the Lions last week but went out with a broken finger. Ferragamo finished the game.

It will be Ferragamo leading the Rams against the Bucs, led by third-year quarterback Doug Williams.

In 1976, Williams' rookie year, he was sidelined during the Rams' clash with a broken jaw.

Cruz's 12th inning homer puts Astros back in NL West lead

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston leftfielder Jose Cruz found what he was looking for Wednesday night and the Astros got what they wanted — a tie with Los Angeles in the National League West race.

Cruz blasted his 10th home run of the season in the 12th inning to rally Houston to a 6-5 victory and a sweep of the brief two-game series with the Dodgers, who came to town with a two-game lead.

"The big thing about this game is that it tied us for the lead," Astros third baseman

Enos Cabell said. "Now we can start looking at the scoreboard again. It's neck and neck now. The games are getting bigger, but the biggest one is yet to come."

Cruz said he was looking for a home run ball when he came to the plate in the 12th with the score tied 5-5.

"I always look for it and he gave me a fast ball inside," Cruz explained. "I knew it was gone the minute I hit it, that's why you didn't see me running. I just took it easy."

But the Astros had been running uphill all night. They fell behind 3-0 after three innings on Dusty Baker's solo home run, Joe Morgan's fielding error and a single by Steve Garvey.

The Astros tied it on Alan Ashby's two-run double in the fifth inning and a single by Cesar Cedeno in the seventh inning.

Los Angeles pinch hitter Gary Thomasson was prepared to accept hero's accolades in the 11th inning when he hit a two-run single, his second in as many nights.

But Houston battled back in the 11th with a run-scoring double by Danny Heep and a game-tying single by Gary Woods. That cleared the way for Cruz' game winner and served notice to the Dodgers.

"These two games show that we're as good as the Dodgers," relief pitcher Joe Sambito said. "We showed them that we're a force to be reckoned with."

Los Angeles manager Tommy Lasorda however was not conceding the division race on the basis of two losses.

"I don't feel any pressure. They (the team) don't feel it and we're still in first place, aren't we? We played a hell of a game."

Houston manager Bill Virdon repeated his dream of taking a four-game lead into the season ending three-game series at Los Angeles.

"But I can't see that happening," Virdon said. "I still think it's going to come down to those three games in Los Angeles."

Astros encouraged with look of JR

HOUSTON (AP) — Strikeout artist J.R. Richard, felled by a stroke July 30, has a healthy appetite and is back to "his funny self again," according to teammate Joe Morgan.

Dr. Harold Breisford, the team physician, said a meeting later this week might determine when Richard will be released from the hospital.

Richard, still hospitalized after the stroke partially paralyzed his left side, was given permission to leave the hospital and meet at a Mexican banquet with his teammates.

Joe Morgan, the second baseman, said Richard, after the dinner, stopped by his house before returning to the hospital.

"He laughed, he joked," Morgan said. "He was his funny self again."

Manager Bill Virdon said he joked with Richard, asking him to suit up for the Tuesday night game with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Pitcher Nolan Ryan said he thought Richard was in good spirits and looked good.

"We talked about how he was feeling and when he'd be discharged, but we didn't discuss baseball," Ryan said.

"We talked a little about hunting and I got the feeling he plans on resuming activities this winter. Another thing, he had a good appetite."

"We talked a little about hunting and I got the feeling he plans on resuming activities this winter. Another thing, he had a good appetite."

AL Roundup Orioles, Yankees maintain paces

Baltimore's Pat Kelly firmly believes there's no substitute for experience.

The veteran pinch hit a grand slam homer and walked with the bases loaded Wednesday night to help the Orioles beat the Detroit Tigers 8-4. The triumph also kept his team within three games of the New York Yankees in the American League East.

The Yankees came from behind to beat Toronto 7-6 and, in other AL action, California beat Kansas City 8-3; Oakland stopped Texas 3-1; Cleveland dumped Boston 7-4; Milwaukee socked Minnesota 3-1, and Chicago slipped past Seattle 4-3.

"I'm no power hitter, but I'm no rookie any more, and I think my experience has been a big help for me," said Kelly, an 11-year veteran who led all AL pinch hitters a year ago with 12 runs batted in. "You've got to make contact. If you don't make contact, you're in trouble."

Kelly's grand slam was the fourth of his career and his third since coming to the Orioles in 1977.

Terry Crowley added a three-run homer for the Orioles, who handed Detroit its sixth straight loss.

The Yankees got the benefit of some exceptional relief pitching from Ron Davis and Rich "Goose" Gossage.

The pair shut the Blue Jays down on two hits over the final 6 & 1-3 innings and, coupled with a five-run rally in the seventh, the Yankees managed to overcome a 6-2 deficit.

Davis, 6-3, retired 12 of the 13 batters he faced, while Gossage retired the first six batters he went after.

making it 28 hitters in a row he'd sent back to the dugout over a seven-game stretch. The string was snapped when he issued a two-out walk to Bob Bailor in the ninth.

Angels 8, Royals 3
California scored three runs in the seventh and four in the eighth to hand the slumping Royals their seventh loss in nine games.

The seventh-inning rally started with a routine fly to center field that Amos Otis, the AL's top percentage outfielder the last two seasons, allowed to bounce out of his glove for an error. Bobby Grich's two-run single was the key blow in the eighth.

The Royals still saw their magic number in the AL West cut to six over Texas and Oakland, who were tied for second after the A's victory over the Rangers Wednesday.

George Brett, still chasing the elusive 400 mark, sat out his fourth straight game with a sore right hand, which was to be re-examined today.

A's 3, Rangers 1
Tony Armas drove in all three Oakland runs with a homer, his 31st, and a two-run single, and Mike Norris, 19-8, pitched a five-hitter and turned in his 30th complete game of the season. Norris struck out five and walked four in lowering his earned run average to 2.27.

Indians 7, Red Sox 4
Rick Waits scattered nine hits and Bo Diaz and Dave Rosello each drove in a pair of runs to pace the Indians. Waits, 11-13, struck out eight and walked five as he threw his seventh complete game of the season. The victory boosted the Indians past the Tigers into fifth place in the AL East.

NL Roundup

Gullickson fans 18 Cubs

By The Associated Press

Bill Gullickson may turn out to be a master of understatement as well as strikeouts.

"I'm actually more excited about getting the win than I am the strikeouts. It was an important victory for us," said the rookie right-hander, who came within one of the major league strikeout mark for nine innings Wednesday night when he fanned 18 Chicago Cubs to pace the Montreal Expos to a 4-2 victory.

"I had good control of the fastball, both inside and out, and I was staying ahead of the hitters," said Gullickson, who has struck out 68 batters in his last 65 innings.

Expos catcher Gary Carter said the performance put Gullickson "up there with the Koufaxes and the Drysdales, and any other strikeout pitcher... He's just a rookie. Look how many years he has ahead of him."

Montreal Manager Dick Williams said it was "the best pitching performance I've seen this year."

Seaver shuts out Braves

Tom Seaver wondered if his injured arm would mean a maimed career.

But Seaver, who leads active National League pitchers with 53 career shutouts, was back on track with his first shutout of the season.

"It was the first time in 14 years I ever had a sore arm. I didn't know what it would do to my career," said Seaver, 27, who suffered the arm miseries early in the season.

George Foster's three-run homer in the first inning provided Seaver with all the runs he needed, and Seaver protected the lead, scattering eight hits and allowing two in only one inning.

Bucs break losing streak

Manager Chuck Tanner was brimming with optimism after the Pittsburgh Pirates snapped their losing streak at five games.

"We're going to win it, because we're playing each other in the division," Tanner said at the game in the National League East.

Offsetting a three-run homer by St. Louis' Keith Hernandez, third place Pittsburgh stayed 3½ games behind Montreal and three games behind Philadelphia with 22 games remaining.

SPENCE FINDS HOLE — Big Spring quarterback Tracy Spence (14) finds a hole in the Snyder front wall on an option last week during the Steers 14-13 win over the Tigers in the season opener. Snyder's Ronnie Rossa (28) makes a futile grab at the Steer QB, while the Tigers star 235-pound defensive tackle Tony Degrate (68) pursues the play. Big Spring returns to action tomorrow night when they host Sweetwater in their home opener.

Area "Player of the Week" honorees

SCOTT BARNES
Big Spring lineman

Most of the area teams got off to good starts in the 1980 decade, and while there were indeed many productive games by the high school griders, there were numerous performances worth special mention.

This year, the Herald will continue its weekly "Player of the Week" award for each school, as the coaching staffs decide who played the most integral part in their respective teams' performances.

The Big Spring Steers rallied from a 13-point deficit to take a 14-13 win over Snyder to snap an eight-game losing streak against the Tigers and give Ralph Harris a win in his varsity debut.

There were many stars for the Steers, but two that rose to the top were offensive center-defensive end SCOTT BARNES and running back-cornerback BOBBY EARL WILLIAMS.

Barnes did an excellent job blocking on the Snyder interior line, but his defensive play was his finest thus far in a Steer uniform. The 180-pound senior "did a good job of making things happen, and helped us take control of the game physically," according to Coach Harris. "He played an excellent defensive game."

Williams fumbled numerous times early, but recovered and wreaked havoc on the Tigers in the last two-and-a-half quarters. He blocked a Snyder punt after attempt that proved to be very big as well as rushing for 83 yards, having a 49-yard pass reception for a touchdown, and intercepting a Tiger aerial on his own 25-yard line with four seconds remaining to preserve the win.

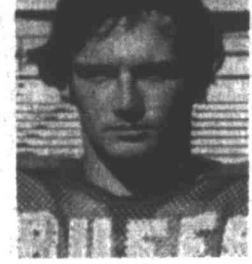

Coahoma started things the right way with a 22-0 whitewash of Wall, and two seniors led the Big Red Machine in the form of tight end RANDY CLANTON

BOBBY EARL WILLIAMS
Big Spring back

JOHNNY CHRISTON
Stanton linebacker

GREG DOUGLASS
Stanton linebacker

ERNIE STRICKLAND

and defensive end DERRELL DOUGLASS. Clanton had three catches for 43 yards despite double coverage, and also helped create some holes for Bulldog backs to run through.

Douglass was full of big plays from his defensive position, leading the Coahoma defense that limited Wall to 170 yards and no points. Douglass had three sacks of the Wall quarterback behind the line that stalled drives, too.

The Stanton Buffaloes pulled the biggest upset in the area, moving up to Class AAA competition and knocking off Tahoka, which was previously ranked 13th in the state in their classification. The score was 12-7, and Buff Coach Steve Park felt that his top two defensive performers, JOHNNY CHRISTON and GREG DOUGLASS, were deserving of this week's award.

Both are linebackers, and both had a big key tackle to their credit. Christon also threw three key blocks on Stanton's 90-yard kickoff return for a score following Tahoka's only touchdown, while Douglass also played an excellent game offensively from his tackle post.

The Sands Mustangs looked much improved in their 12-6 loss to Water Valley, with special praise of the defense being offered by Coach Jim White. White picked his top two defenders for this week in the form of tackle DAVID CALVIO and end PERRY WIGINGTON.

"Both were consistently good throughout the game," said White, "and were key in our ability to stop Robert Lee." Wigington also blocked a Robert Lee punt which led to the only Sands score. Both Mustangs also played offensively, Wigington from a fullback position and Calvio at tackle. The Forsan Buffaloes came very close at upsetting favored Bronte, and four big reasons were the play of the only senior on the team — BRENT NICHOLS, ERNIE STRICKLAND, JAMES BRISTO and D.F. STANLEY.

"They really played above their heads and inspired the younger guys to play better," said Forsan mentor Ron Taylor. "We've improved, and their leadership has a lot to do with it."

The Klondike Cougars scored twice in the fourth quarter to take a 14-0 win over Wink in a defensive struggle, and it is only fitting that Coach Mickey Finley would name one of his rugged defenders for this week's award.

RANDY HOLCOMBE, a 220-pound tackle both offensively and defensively, played "an outstanding game both ways," according to Finley. Holcombe had numerous tackles and helped lead the Klondike defense that allowed a negative 14 yards rushing.

The Grady Wildcats opened up with a convincing 45-12 win over Loop, and LARRY KEY was one member of the winning squad that was all over the field. The senior rushed six times for 62 yards, and a touchdown, completed three of seven passes for 78 yards and converted four PAT boots offensively. Defensively, Key recovered three fumbles, one in the end zone for a touchdown, and had many tackles.

Garden City will not have a representative today, but hopefully tomorrow. The telephone at their school has been busy every time the Herald has tried to call in the past two days.

Father-son continue grid coaching feud Friday

FARMERSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Lawrence "Ace" Parker, 56, has been waiting a year to get revenge on the football field against his son, and the chance comes Friday night.

The elder Parker will be sending his Bells High School team against son, John, the head man at Farmersville.

Two years ago the younger Parker, then coach at Whitecourt, led his team to a 42-15 rout of Pa Parker and Bells.

"I'm not going to cut him any slack, and I don't want him cutting me any slack," said the elder Parker.

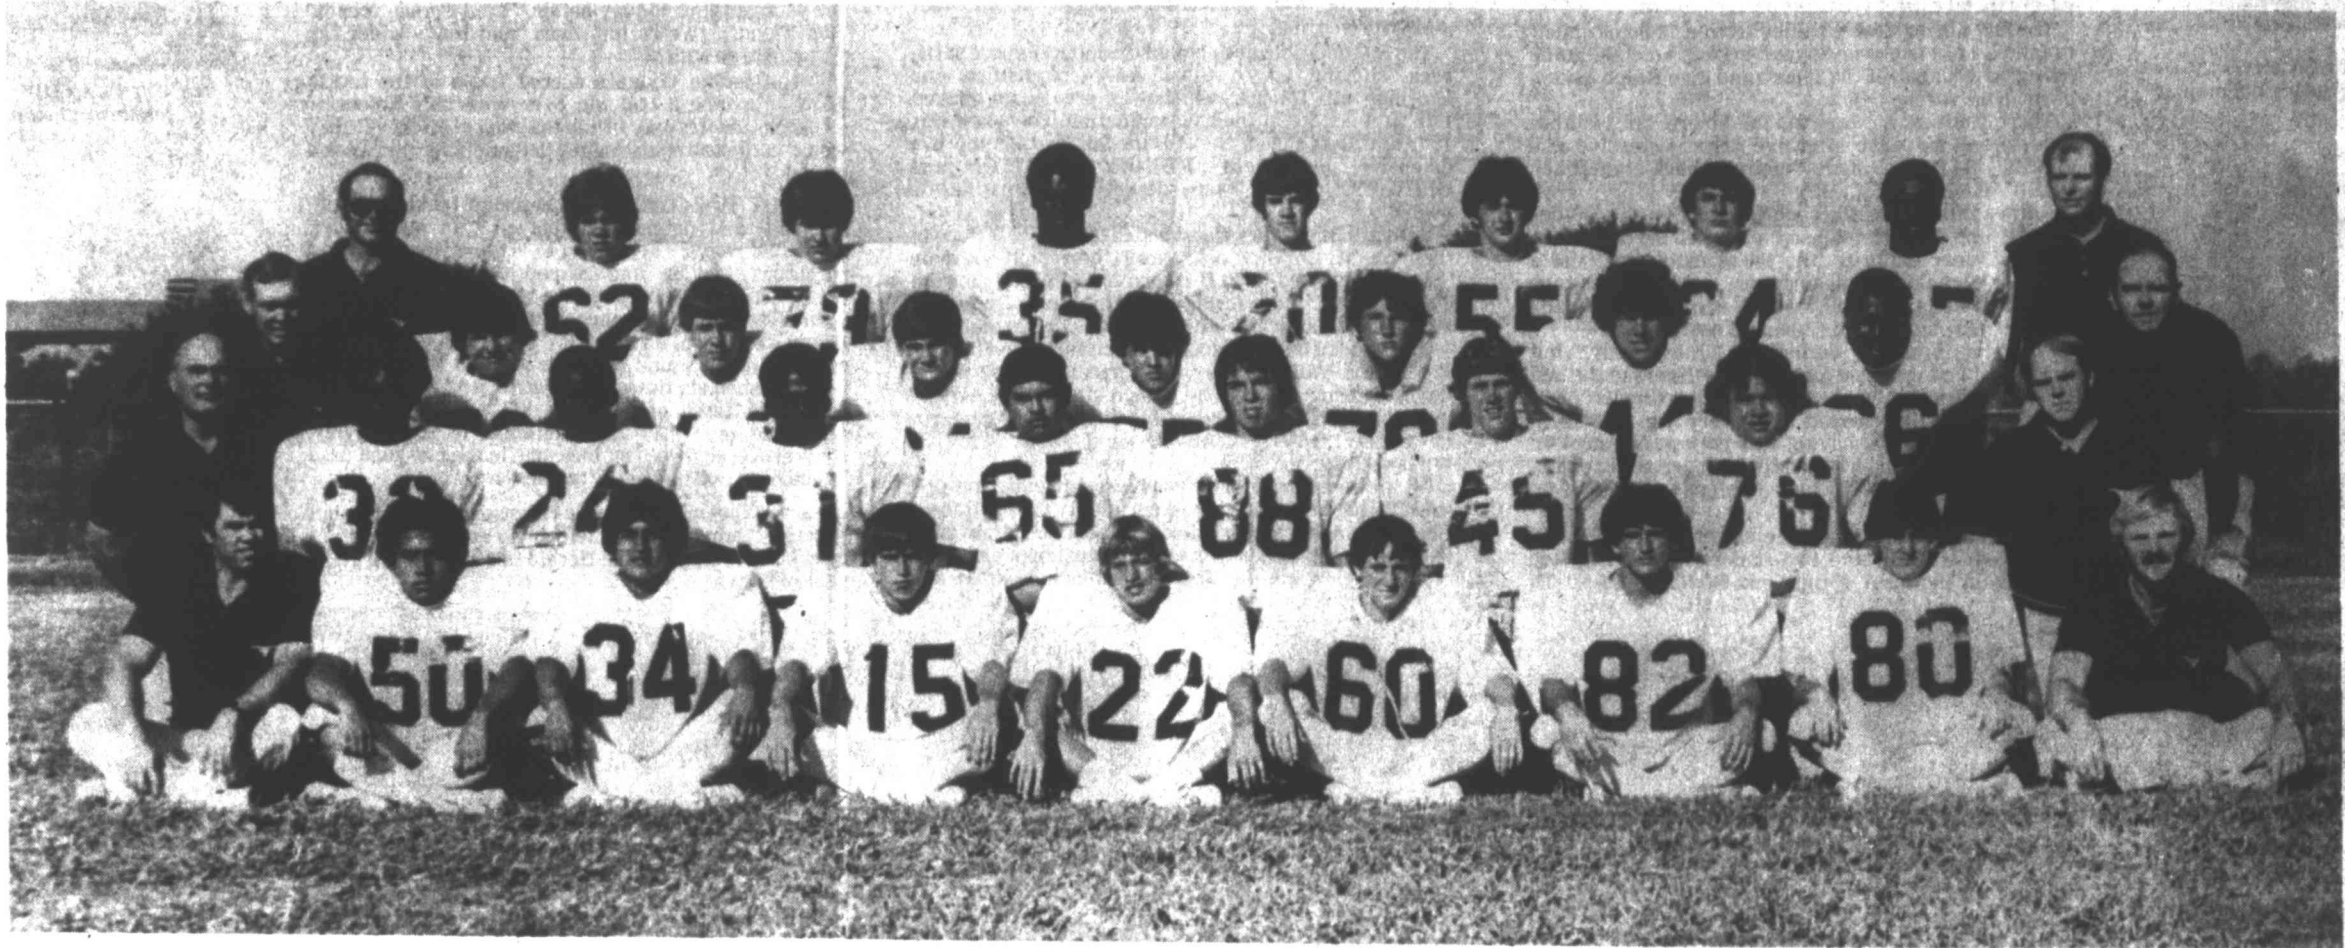

"When it comes down to it, even if it's a softball game, I am going to try to beat him. And I know he's going to try to beat me."

To which the younger Parker replied, "He knows I will do everything I can to beat him. I don't take any special pleasure in beating him. I can't say it's just another game, either. The last time I beat him it was hard to go over there and shake hands with

Murder conviction reversed for improper juror exclusion

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals today reversed a Fort Worth death penalty conviction because a prospective juror was excluded for her qualms about capital punishment.

The court ordered a new trial for David Grijalva, who was assessed death by injection in the Jan. 11, 1977, slaying of Jeanette Powers, who was stabbed and beaten. It was the first case in which the court applied a U.S. Supreme Court decision imposing new restrictions on Texas capital murder trials. The Supreme Court ordered the restrictions on June 25, when it reversed the death penalty conviction of Randall Dale Adams of Dallas.

Under lengthy questioning, the juror in the Grijalva case said that although imposing the death penalty would not be easy for her, she could do so in the proper case. She was excluded anyway.

"The same error as occurred in Adams ... is evident in the record of this case," the appeals court said. In Adams, the high court said it was unconstitutional to disqualify jurors "whose only fault was to take their responsibilities with special seriousness or to acknowledge honestly that they might or might not be affected" by the death penalty.

The state contended no error was committed because it had not used all its peremptory challenges. A peremptory challenge is one in which either side rejects a juror without giving a reason.

But the court said it was clear from the state's death penalty statute that "in capital cases each party must exercise any peremptory challenge at the time the particular prospective juror has been qualified" and not wait until everybody on the panel has been questioned.

Texas colleges have increase in registration

By The Associated Press
Students are flocking to Texas colleges and university campuses in higher numbers this fall and registrars credit lower attrition, stepped-up recruiting, transfers and the increased value of a diploma in a sagging economy for the influx.

"We had significant increase in the number of transfers and freshmen, an improved rate of retention and a large number of students returning to school," said a Texas Christian University spokesman in Fort Worth.

"It's going to astound people who said the decreased birth rate was going to affect colleges and universities."

The enrollment figures, gathered in a random survey Wednesday, are preliminary.

Texas A&M, at College Station, increased enrollment by about seven percent, bringing its total number of students to approximately 35,500. Women now number about 12,000, or one third of the student population.

"We've been growing quite a bit since the late 1960s," a spokesman in the registrar's office said, "and we just keep growing. In 1970, we had 14,000 students — it's up 139 percent since then."

TCU reported a healthy gain of about 5.9 percent in overall enrollment. There is an eight percent increase in undergraduate students, the highest for a fall semester since 1973, despite a seven percent tuition increase.

The University of Texas at Dallas and the University of Houston credited students returning to school and transfers for their five percent increases.

Registration begins Sept. 20 for horse show competition

Registration will begin at 9 a.m., Saturday, Sept. 20, for the Howard County Fair All Breeds Adult and Youth Horse Show, with competition due to begin in the Rodeo Bowl an hour later.

Trophies will be awarded to all first place winners while those placing sixth or higher will earn ribbons.

The competition will include halter classes, including weanling through aged, for adults.

Youth halter classes will include ponies, four-year olds and aged geldings and mares.

Included will be adult performance classes Western Pleasure (horses four years and younger and those five years and older); also reining poles and barrels.

Youth performance will include Western Pleasure, 13 years and under; 14-18 reining; reining 13 and under; and 14-18; also poles and barrels, 8 and under, 9-13 and 14-18 classes.

Entry fee is $3 per class. Those desiring additional information can call 263-6528.

Mo-Pac will spend $148 million in '81

ST. LOUIS — The Missouri Pacific Railroad has announced it will spend $148 million in 1981 for an additional 100 diesel locomotives and 2,200 units of freight equipment.

The orders include: 500 covered hopper cars of 100-ton capacity; 500 gondola cars of 100-ton capacity; 300 open-top hopper cars of 100-ton capacity; 100 coil steel cars of 100-ton capacity; 200 cars to be ordered during the year to meet special needs; 500 40-foot trailers for use in piggyback and over-the-highway service; 50 air dump cars, and 50 cabooses.

Mo-Pac will acquire 45 locomotives of 2000 horsepower; 20, of 3500 horsepower; 20, of 1500 horsepower, and 15, of 2500 horsepower.

In announcing the orders, Mo-Pac President J.W. Gessner noted that the new equipment will benefit shippers of a wide variety of products throughout the railroad's 12-state, 12,000-mile service area.

Realtors to emphasize energy efficiency factors of homes

As homebuyers try to manage the shrinkage of their pocketbooks, Realtors in Texas generally are expected to add new emphasis to the energy efficiency factors of homes.

Pat Medley, president of the Big Spring Board of Realtors, said here this week that a "recent national survey showed that ninety-five percent of 'appreciate energy-efficient homes' owners interviewed ranked energy-saving features as more important than popular extras like fireplaces or family rooms.

Results indicated that 83 percent believed that energy-efficient additions added to the resale value of a home. In fact, the report said that those interviewed would be willing to pay $1,300 extra for a comprehensive insulation package that would cut 25 percent of their heating and cooling bills.

"Interest in learning more about using the energy-efficient facts in marketing homes in the state seems to be increasing. The Texas Association of Realtors, for example, will have, for the first time, a Total Energy Committee next year. Sarah Wiltsee of Austin, who has already increased her knowledge in the field by attending a National Association of Realtors energy seminar and study on her own, will be the TAR Energy Committee chairman."

TAR president, David L. Storton, of Houston, has indicated that he "expects many of our members to participate in the NAR energy seminars being scheduled in the fall and early next year. Here we are in this condition of high housing costs, high interest rates and continuing inflationary spiral. If the Realtor can prove to be of assistance to the homebuyer by learning more about energy-efficient advantages, then I know our members will do so."

"It may be even possible that some financial institutions will take energy-saving factors into consideration in determining the credit-worthiness of the loan application. Some might even have a practice of lower interest rates for energy-efficient properties. It will be the Realtor's responsibility to bring the loan officer's attention to any especially energy-efficient factors."

Homebuilders, too, are adding more stress to energy-saving measures available to buyers. Earth-sheltered housing can work in any climate, but reports show that possible energy saving is the greatest in regions with wide temperature differentials between summer and winter. Although builders and architects believe that these earth-sheltered houses actually cut heating needs by 70 percent and cooling by 30 percent, homebuyers interested in these designs find mortgage financing tough to secure. Bankers are said to be having difficulty in getting an accurate idea on market and resale values.

Storton, in reviewing the current status of Texas Realtors' working with the energy-saving home factors, was especially pleased to mention a Lubbock Board of Realtors Energy Seminar held in March this year. "The Lubbock Board has shown the way more boards can help disseminate information on this new facet of our profession. Their seminar covered such topics as heat pumps, recommended R factors, alternate energy sources, energy-saving tips, storm windows, insulations, and the new home insulation rule issued by the Federal Trade Commission."

PUC staff urges less for Bell rate request

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. is entitled to less than half the $326.3 million per year rate increase it wants, Texas Public Utility Commission staff members said Tuesday.

The staff filed written testimony in the Bell case, which goes before the PUC Monday for what are expected to be several weeks of hearings.

It is the biggest rate request ever filed by the telephone company, which received increases totaling $138.7 million last November.

In his pre-filed testimony, the PUC's chief accountant, Chester Sullivan, recommended a $139.5 million increase in Bell's yearly revenue, or 42.7 percent of what Bell requested.

The Texas Municipal League, a party to the case, says Bell should be held to a $68.2 million increase. Abilene City Attorney Harvey Cargill is one of a three-man legal team representing TML in the case.

Bell wants $120 million of the increase to come from various business telephone specialty services, $95 million from higher monthly charges for basic service, $11 million from directory assistance, $8 million from higher service connection charges and $74 million from private line customers, such as burglar alarm companies. Residential customers would pay $1.75 a month more for a plain dial telephone, while those with touchtone telephones would see their monthly bills rise by $2.05.

The PUC staff will not submit its rate design recommendations — which allocate rate increases to various kinds of customers and services — until Monday.

The TML steering committee, however, has recommended that there be no increase in local exchange rates (business or residential).

Bell wants a 16.8 percent return on its stockholders' investment, while the staff said the company is entitled to only 14.6 percent.

TMU recommends a 13.8 percent return.

Examiner recommends half of TESCO's rate request

By JACK CALMES
Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Texas Electric Service Co. should be allowed to raise its rates enough to bring in $66.8 million more annually, a Texas Public Utility Commission examiner recommended here.

That's just half the $123 million TESCO asked for in its request for a revenue increase filed last May.

Mark Zeppa, the examiner who presided over a public hearing in late July, also recommends a 15.225 percent rate of return for TESCO stockholders, and inclusion in TESCO's rate base of 50 percent of its financing costs for power plants under construction.

"I would imagine everybody involved in the case will have some protest to make," Zeppa said Tuesday.

The company and its challengers who intervened in the case have until Sept. 30 to file exceptions to Zeppa's recommendations. On that date, the three utility commissioners will issue a final order after hearing oral arguments.

In May, TESCO officials estimated their request for $123 million, a 17.7 percent system-wide increase if approved, would add 20 percent to a standard residential bill. Although Zeppa's recommendation is half the company's request, a simple halving of that 20 percent estimate will not accurately reflect what residential ratepayers can expect to pay.

Other than TESCO, parties to the case include the Texas Municipal League, representing customer cities, the consumer group Texas ACORN, and organizations of electric cooperatives that buy power from TESCO, retail merchants and large industries.

Big Country cities represented by the Municipal League include Big Spring, Breckenridge, Eastland and Gorman.

Zeppa's recommended $66.8 million is slightly more than the $64.1 million figure TESCO had indicated it would accept during pre-hearing negotiations last July with the other parties.

But the 15.225 percent rate of return he suggests is a bit less than the 15.4 percent figure negotiators had worked with.

That pre-hearing settlement was scuttled because of opposition by ACORN, which complained of being left out of the private talks, and of several cities in the municipal league.

In addition to its original filing for $123 million more in revenues, TESCO had asked for a 17.5 percent return on investment and inclusion of 100 percent of its construction costs in the rate base.

The rate base includes a utility's costs for providing service and is used, as the name suggests, to set rates. ACORN particularly opposed including construction costs, which primarily finance nuclear and coal-fired plants, arguing that the incomplete facilities do not provide service.

Zeppa's recommendations are slightly less than those presented by his co-workers on the commission staff. The staff recommended $69.4 million in added revenues, and a 15.5 percent return.

The municipal league, which regularly employs the consulting firm Touche-Ross and Co. of Dallas, recommended just $23.7 million in added revenues and a 14.8 percent return.

Zeppa predicted Tuesday that TESCO would object to his finding on rate of return and construction work in progress.

Victims of oil spill get shot at fed funds

States News Service
WASHINGTON — Victims of the Ixtoc I oil spill will get at least one more chance at federal money to help pay for damages and losses from the Campeche Bay disaster of more than a year ago.

Aides to Rep. Joe Wyatt, D-Bloomington, said Tuesday the congressmen were to move today to include compensation for South Texans in the so-called "superfund" bill pending in the House of Representatives. That bill sets up a $75 million annual fund for cleanup of oil spills and a system of payments for their victims.

Like the bill itself, the Wyatt amendment would help cover losses to natural resources, personal property and business profit losses. Unlike the bill as it stands now on the crowded House calendar, the amendment would allow the superfund to be applied retroactively to the Ixtoc disaster.

The House last spring passed an Ixtoc com-penation bill, which promptly went to the Senate for consideration, where it has sat awaiting action in the Environment and Public Works committee.

"We felt like Ixtoc compensation deserved another shot in the Congress and since the House already passed it, we think it can be included in the superfund," said Wyatt aide Jon Fisher. "The Carter administration (which has opposed Ixtoc legislation) isn't saying yet whether they'll support this."

House members will be told damages from the 126 million gallon crude oil gush are approximately $20 million in the categories provided for in the amendment.

That compares with the $80 million called for in the bill mired in the Senate committee and the $355 million in claims before Texas courts filed by the state, the fishing industry, and hotel and resort owners.

Dallasite convicted of stabbing wife to death wins acquittal

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A Dallas man convicted of stabbing his wife to death won acquittal today in his second plea to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

The appeals court said when Eddie Lee Wright first appealed in the 1975 death of his wife, Patsy Ruth Arnold, that circumstantial evidence was sufficient to sustain the conviction.

The court today reversed its judgment and remanded the case to the trial court with instructions to enter a judgment of acquittal.

The court noted police had found Ms. Arnold in the hallway of the home with a knife in her hand. The Dallas County medical examiner testified it was possible the 3 1/4-inch deep wound between the ribs was self-inflicted.

The appeals court said the evidence in the case "was not rendered sufficient by the trial judge's apparent disbelief" of Wright's testimony. "In this case, there is nothing other than appellant's presence at the scene which would tend to show his involvement in the stabbing."

Citizens want money's worth

Hike in trash collection rates proposed by city dads

By JAMES WERRELL
The citizens who spoke at Tuesday night's regular meeting of the Big Spring City Council didn't necessarily mind paying more to have their trash picked up. But they wanted their money's worth.
City officials estimated that if rates for local trash pickup were not raised, the city would lose $32,150 on residential pickup and $102,550 on commercial pickup. In order to combat this, the city proposed raising residential rates from $3 to $3.50 a month, and commercial minimum rates from $4 to $4.50.
"I'd like to know what we are going to get for that extra 50 cents. Right now my alley looks like the city dump," said Denise Love. "We are getting very poor service, and I don't think we should pay more for poor service," she added.

Nelda Reagan, 4206 Hamilton, complained that city workers refused to pick up her trash whenever it snowed or rained.
"Isn't there some number we could call to complain?" asked Mary Thomas, 100 Lincoln. "We could get the number of the truck, and report that, too," she added.
City Manager Don Davis said that this would be possible if the complainant also got the street and exact time that the truck had passed through.
"If we have that information, we can do something. Call the city and ask for Paul Feazelle, (assistant city manager) the sanitation engineer or me," he said.

Council members were sympathetic to the citizens' pleas.
"There is no excuse for bending up cans and the other things you have talked about. It's something we ought to crack down on," said Councilman Jack Y. Smith.
"I agree completely with what you people are saying, and something should be done about it," said Councilman Larry Miller. "but the main reason we are asking for a rate increase is not to improve service. The cost of gas has at least quadrupled since the last rate hike (November of 1975) and just about every other cost has increased, too," he added.

The council concurred and voted unanimously to increase the rates as proposed.
Council members also decided to raise rates at the city-owned Mount Olive Memorial Park Cemetery.
"We learned that the percentage of money we put into the permanent care fund is more than what is customary in a private enterprise. We had been putting in 40 percent, and I recommend that this be dropped to 25 percent," said Davis.
The council agreed to this as well as a proposal to raise lot rates. Lots with monument privileges will rise from $230 to $300; without monument privileges from $200 to $250; and infant lots from $60 to $75.
Services for opening and closing adult plots will rise from $175 to $200. Services for infant plots will rise from $100 to $125.

Council members reversed themselves in their intention to grant Gary Shaffer a temporary mobile home permit at 1500 E. 4th. The mobile home was to have been used as sleeping quarters for Shaffer Ambulance Service employees.
The city notified ten nearby residents of its plan to allow the mobile home, and, of seven responses, five were negative. Residents cited a number of reasons for not wanting the structure there, including one that claimed that it would violate the city's own protective covenants as drawn up in 1954.

The council went along with the residents' wishes, and denied the permit.
City Attorney Elliott Mitchell recently noticed that a number of ordinances in the city codes either conflicted with each other, or were outright unconstitutional. The council voted, Tuesday night, to change or eliminate several of the faulty ordinances.
City officials felt that loopholes and irregularities in the Sunday-beer-sales ordinance made it virtually unenforceable. First, establishments with on-premise sale licenses were forbidden to sell beer for on-premise consumption on Sunday.

MARCUS MYERS MARILYN MYERS

Marcus, Marilyn Myers join staff of SWCID

Marcus and Marilyn Myers have been appointed to the staff of the Southwest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf at Howard College in Big Spring, Texas, according to Executive Director, Doug Burke.

Myers is occupational orientation director and his wife is student life specialist.

The Myers moved to Big Spring in late August from Baton Rouge, Louisiana, just a month after they were married. "It feels great to be a part of an outstanding group of individuals with backgrounds and authority in the field of deafness," Myers said.

"I am honored to be part of the challenge of getting this college off the ground," Mrs. Myers added.

Myers explained his job as exposing students to the work world through techniques such as field trips and to help students learn to use mass media for finding jobs and to develop technical knowledge which will help them secure work.

Mrs. Myers plans and directs activities and recreation for the students at SWCID and in the evening she and her husband serve as dormitory counselors.

Mrs. Myers worked as a recreation teacher at the Catholic Deaf Center Summer Academic Camp in Baton Rouge this summer and was recreation supervisor at the Louisiana School for the Deaf before coming to SWCID. She graduated from Gallaudet College in Washington, D.C. in 1979 with a bachelor's degree in physical education. While at Gallaudet, she was a member of the field hockey team, a member of Phi Kappa Zeta Sorority, auditor of the yearbook and a student assembly representative.

She also worked as assistant coach of the Gallaudet field hockey team, activity sponsor for the Model Secondary School for the Deaf in Washington and a teacher's aide in the New Student Summer Program at Gallaudet.

Marcus Myers graduated with a bachelor's degree in psychology from Gallaudet in 1979. While at Gallaudet, he was president of the Kappa Gamma fraternity, student body government director of student welfare, president of his freshman class, and a member of the track and cross country team.

Before coming to SWCID, he worked with the Regional Education Program for the Deaf in El Paso as a teacher and assisted in developing an occupational orientation program for deaf high school students in the program.

During his last year at Gallaudet, Myers served as a resident assistant in the dormitories. He has also worked as a recreational specialist with the South Carolina Vocational Rehabilitation Department and a tutor-interpreter for the Georgia Department of Human Resources.

Mrs. Myers, who grew up in Santa Fe, New Mexico, said living in Big Spring has brought back memories of her childhood because of the West Texas climate.

"Being a 'city slicker', my reaction to Big Spring was one of culture shock," Myers said. "But I have become accustomed to this size town to some degree," he added.

Together, the Myers form a team to help students with a full range of their activities. Marcus helps the students learn about and succeed in the work world, and Marilyn helps students "understand recreation as an outlet from their daily activities."

Local Altrusans celebrate World Literacy Day Sept. 6

The Big Spring Altrusa Club met for a special breakfast in honor of Literacy Day at the Holiday Inn at 7:45 a.m. Sept. 6.

The room was decorated with a special poster prepared by students from Bauer Elementary School depicting World Literacy.

A Continental Breakfast was served and a program followed.

Carla Warrington, Southwest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf, explained how the institute evolved.

Before the establishment of specialized schools, only 13 percent of deaf students graduated or received a certificate because no one knew how to teach them. From 1962 through 1992 there are 44,000 new deaf students to be graduated from high schools due to the 1962 major epidemic of Rubella.

Even as it begins, SWCID has students from California, Iran, Oklahoma, Bermuda, Alabama and Arkansas.

Nita Tarbet spoke from the personal experience of a deaf student and explained that the difficulty for a deaf child lay in the fact that they could not comprehend what they were being told.

Before schools were established for the deaf, a high school graduate had the reading ability of a 3rd grade — possibly an 8th grade level.

She signed a song and closed by asking for help, understanding and prayers for the deaf.

Credit Women's Club nominates new officers

Twelve members were present for the Sept. 4 luncheon of the Big Spring Credit Women's Club when they met at Alberto's Crystal Cafe.

New officers nominated for the 1981 year were Dolores Hull, president; Helen Mahoney, vice president; Helen Draper, secretary; Marguerite Wooten, treasurer; and Mary Lynn Welch, Johnnie Weeks and Eva Nail, directors.

Installation will be held at the October meeting. Mrs. Hull won the capsule Fund.

For the record

The picture in Sunday's Herald captioned "Young reporter covers raid on still" incorrectly stated that Jess Slaughter was the deputy sheriff and Andrew Merrick was the sheriff. "That picture," said Joe Pickle, the young reporter pictured, "was taken the summer of 1931 and Jess Slaughter was sheriff and Andrew Merrick was deputy." The Herald regrets the error.

Ride for Terry in 1980 Bike-a-thon at Coahoma

Coahoma's 1980 bike-a-thon chairman, Wanda Turner, is encouraging Coahoma and Sand Springs residents to participate in the Oct. 4 St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Wheels For Life Bike-A-Thon.

Volunteer workers and riders are needed for the event to raise funds for the world-famous research center and its battle against childhood cancer and other catastrophic childhood diseases.

This year's ride is being dedicated to Terry, a leukemia patient at St. Jude. "By riding for Terry, we'll really be helping all stricken children since research is the only way these illnesses can be conquered," the chairman stated.

"We're looking for people who will contribute some of their time and energy to help children live. We really need bike riders of all ages, since they are the ones who can make this bike-a-thon successful," she continued.

Those participating will enlist sponsors who donate a sum for each mile completed. Riders who raise $25 will receive a St. Jude T-shirt. Those raising $75 will receive a back pack and a T-shirt.

Sponsor forms are available at various locations throughout Coahoma and Sand Springs. Interested persons can contact Mrs. Turner at 304 Wood St., Coahoma, or call 394-4731.

St. Jude Hospital was founded by entertainer Danny Thomas and operates primarily from public contributions.

NARFE to meet Thursday

The National Association of Retired Federal Employees (NARFE), Chapter 1095, will meet Thursday at 9:30 a.m. at the Kentwood Older Adults Activities Center on Lynn Drive.

Following fellowship and the business meeting, there will be a talk by Randy Huey, Assistant Coordinator, Volunteer Services of Big Spring State Hospital, on the subject of "Volunteer Activities plus Nutrition for the Older Person."

All members and interested guests are invited to come to this meeting.

Members reminded of fair

The home of Mrs. Vernon Kent was the site of a Planters Garden Club meeting held Sept. 3. Hostessing the event was Mrs. Cass Hill.

Mrs. Hill, president, reminded members to enter their plants in the Howard County Fair Flower Show Sept. 15-20.

It was announced that the Council of Big Spring Garden Clubs will hold its annual salad luncheon Saturday in Garrett Hall of First United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Clyde Angel will present a book review and Mrs. J. I. Balch will conduct a style show as entertainment for the luncheon.

Tickets may be purchased from any garden club member for $3.50 each.

Cowbells sponsor program

There are many ways to stretch your food dollar. Some of those will be demonstrated by Kathrine Tewari, consumer advisor for Furr's Incorporated at the "You Can Make It Happen With Beef" program.

The program will be sponsored by the Tejas Cowbells Sept. 20 at 10 a.m. in conjunction with the Howard County Fair. The program will be held in the Dora Roberts Fair Building.

Mrs. Tewari will have tips on buying, storing and cooking the least expensive cuts of beef to serve a gourmet meal. The program is open to the public.

The Tejas Cowbells is a chapter of a national association of women interested in the future of the beef cattle industry. Visit their booth at the County Fair and plan to attend the "You Can Make It Happen With Beef" program on Saturday.

First son's birth is announced

Mr. and Mrs. David D. Smith, Knott, announce the birth of their first son, Jeremy Blake, born Sept. 3 at 4:06 a.m. in Midland Memorial Hospital.

The infant made his debut weighing 8 pounds 5 ounces and measuring 21 inches in length.

Grandparents of the new arrival are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hopper and Mr. and Mrs. Doug Smith.

Record demand for water reflects growth of cities

The 1980 summer season (June, July and August) produced a 38.4 percent increase over that of 1979 for deliveries to cities by the Colorado River Municipal Water District. The long range implication of this, however, was that the demand stepped up the rate of increase over the past half dozen years.

During the three months period this summer, the district delivered 5,507,000,000 gallons to its municipal customers, an increase of 1,138,000,000 gallons over the same time in 1979.

Admittedly, the past summer was unusually hot and dry, but the record demand for water also reflected an accelerated growth by cities served by the district, in the opinion of O.H. Ivie, general manager of CRMWD.

For the five years prior to this summer, there has been an average annual growth of 5 percent in municipal demands. This summer's all-time peak accelerated this to a rate of 6 percent over the past six years. Even if the 5 percent rate were maintained over the next five years, the district in 1985 will be facing a normal summer demand of 5,872,000,000 gallons as compared with the average of 4,600,000,000 gallons for the past six years.

"Regardless of how much of this year's 38.4 percent summer gain over the same period in 1979 is due to drought and heat," said Ivie, "it is clear that the water needs of cities are rising steadily, and some areas dramatically. We must look to expanded supplies if we are to deliver water as our cities expect."

"The Stacy reservoir, now hung up on an appeal in the courts, becomes all the more imperative. But even when Stacy is built, water pumped 1,500 feet uphill over a distance of 150 miles is expensive and limited to pipeline capacity. Therefore, from the point of protecting the western part of the system during periods of peak summer demand and at the same time modifying over-all costs with cheaper pumping costs nearer to point of delivery.

Demo meet lures 50

An estimated 50 persons attended a meeting of Democrats in the Howard County Courthouse Tuesday night despite a Houston Astros-Los Angeles baseball game on TV and a city council meeting staged at the same time.

Emily Elrod, Forsan, was appointed secretary of the Howard County Democratic Executive Committee. She replaces State Democratic Committeewoman Jane Ray.

Lounge machines looted

Burglars broke into the Water Hole Number Three Lounge, 3204 W. Highway 80, and rifled all the machines inside, early this morning.

Intruders pried open the rear window to gain access to the lounge. Once inside, they broke into two coin-operated pool tables, a pinball machine, a jukebox, a shuffleboard table and a cigarette machine. All the coins from each machine were stolen, as well as two cases of beer, bringing total loss to an estimated $86.

Ricky Clark, 207 E. 2nd, lent his 1975 Pontiac to someone he knows, and it hadn't been returned as of late Tuesday night. The car was valued at $1,600.

Sometime during the past month, thieves stole an evaporative cooler from the home of James Small, 4003 Dixon. It was valued at $400.

Vandals slashed the vinyl top on a car belonging to Grady Cunningham, 10 Glenwick Cove, while the auto was parked at the Highland Park Shopping Center, Tuesday. Damage was estimated at $400.

Thieves cut the cable and stole a 24-volt battery from a truck at the Clyde McMahon Concrete Company, 605 N. Benton, sometime Tuesday night. The battery was valued at $112.

Three mishaps were reported Tuesday. Vehicles driven by Willard

Lawson, 410 Owens, Ernesto Gonzales, Route 2, and Shirley Callison, Gail Route, collided at 10th and Main, 10:56 a.m.

Vehicles driven by Sandra Stamper, 1307 Stanford, and Jose Hilario, 511 N.W. 7th, collided at Fourth and Owens, 1:57 p.m.

At sundown, Jewish People begin observance of High Holy Days

At sundown today, the Jewish People begin an observance of the High Holy Days. This begins the New Year 5741.

Rosh Hashonah is observed on the first day of the Hebrew month of Tishri and may fall in either September or October of the secular year, due to the differences between the solar and lunar calendars. Conservative, Orthodox and Israeli Jews observe two days of Rosh Hashonah while most Reform Jews observe on the first day.

On this holy day, Jews take stock of the past year — the successes and failures — not only in their personal lives but also in their communities. Failures are looked upon as experiences, and attempts will be made to "do better next time."

Selichot, a Hebrew word meaning "forgiveness" refers to the special penitential prayer recited at this time.

Big Spring Jewery is divided in worship attendance. Some will observe at the synagogue in Odessa and some in Abilene, Fort Worth, Dallas, others will have a private home observation.

Search waged for 'lost' man

There still has been no word as to the whereabouts of Daniel Fogg, who disappeared from a facility for the mentally handicapped more than six weeks ago and who could be in this area.

Fogg, a 24-year-old who thinks like a seven-year-old, was last seen July 17, when he left the Marbridge Ranch near Manchaca, saying he wanted to get some pizza.

A search that was concentrated south of Austin, where Fogg had lived for seven years, was expanded statewide.

John Crowe, a deputy sheriff in Austin, said his office had received a number of reported sightings of the man, but nothing more.

Daniel's father resides in New Mexico.

HC offers GED course

A course in G.E.D., ABE, and ESL will be offered by the Adult and Continuing Education Department of Howard College, announced Martha Fierro, director. Classes will meet from 8 a.m. until noon on Monday-Friday and 1-3 p.m. on Monday-Thursday, and on Sept. 16, night classes will be offered on Tuesday and Thursdays 6-9 p.m.

Howard College Learning Center offers a tutorial service to those adults wishing to obtain their GED's, to those wishing to learn conversational English (ESL), to those wishing to improve their reading skills, and to those who would just like to learn more.

Cost of the course is free. Cost of all materials are free.

Interested persons must pre-register in the Continuing Education Office located in the Horace Garrett Building. For further information, call the Adult and Continuing Education Department at 267-6311, ext. 70.

Gifts enrich Bible Fund

The Bible Fund has been enriched by another $215.

Of that amount, $200 came in the form of a check sent by Mr. and Mrs. George McAlister from their ranch near Blanco.

The other $15 came from the Ruth Sunday School Class. The latest brings the total committed to the campaign to $10,928.

The goal was $10,000. The drive, sponsored by the Howard County Ministerial Alliance, officially closed ten days ago.

Center's booth at fair discussed by directors

The West Side Community Center Board of Directors met Monday at 5:30 p.m. at the West Side Community Center. Among the topics discussed at the meeting were the center's booth in the upcoming county fair, a recent trip to Carlsbad, the Boy Scout troop and their equipment, repairs to the center, and future programs at the center.

The 17 board members attending the meeting heard about plans for the center's booth in the Howard County Fair to be held in Big Spring next week. Viola Salgado, newly appointed director of the center, said that youths at the center had been actively engaged in making arts and crafts items for the booth and that orders would be taken on some of the dolls being made by the center. Revenue from the sales will be used to help replenish the supplies.

Hiram Garcia, head of the center's Boy Scout troop, said the troop would be working the booth on Tuesday and Thursday. On Tuesday they will be demonstrating first aid procedures. On Thursday they will be showing people how to use primitive cooking utensils. Members of the board will help man the booth on the other nights of the fair.

Viola Salgado and her husband reported on their recent trip to Carlsbad Caverns, New Mexico. Fifteen children from the center were taken on a trip to the Caverns during the summer programs. Another thirty youths from the center participated in the summer YMCA program this year.

Hiram Garcia reported on the Boy Scout's summer program. On July 8, the local scout troop went to summer camp in Christoval. In August, the Boy Scouts went on an overnight trip to Moss Creek in Howard County, and on a one-day trip to Colorado City to look over the new Boy Scout Camp that was recently completed at the Colorado City State Park. Garcia continued his report by saying that a trailer for the van had been located and was being used by the troop on their outings.

During the meeting, Mrs. Jane Thomas, president of the board, reported that Speight Grimes, son of Col. and Mrs. Jerry Grimes, USAF, retired, of Big Spring, had supervised the painting of the Well Baby Clinic. She said Speight Grimes had coordinated the program as a community project to meet his Eagle requirements. Thomas went on to say that the Well Baby Clinic, which is open to all community residents on an "ability to pay" basis, is being well attended and eleven babies were treated at the clinic this month. Two of the infants were referred to the Rehab Center for minor corrective measures.

A report was given by Thomas on the center and items that needed to be repaired. A motion was made by Mrs. Billie Smith and seconded by Mrs. Delores Hull to make repairs to the floor in the kitchen in the director's quarters. Thomas also reported that the air hockey game had been repaired and that the pin ball machine would soon be functional again after the glass top is installed. Bids will also be taken from local merchants on the cost to replace the pool table at the center.

Viola Salgado said that programs that are currently under way at the center were going smoothly. She said the cooking classes, who prepared the meal for the board of directors, were being well attended, as well as the other programs at the center.

Madeline Boodle said that the bilingual driver's education class would get under way next week. She said that the maximum class size of 45 pupils had been met and that another 45 people had signed up for the next class. The classes will be held at the center for four nights, with the tests being given on the last night of classes. An officer from Midland, as well as a bilingual officer from Del Rio, will be in Big Spring to conduct the classes. All expenses for the program are being handled by the Department of Public Safety.

Boadle also said that the Howard County Nutrition Committee would be having three nutritional programs at the center next month. These programs deal with a program for making baby food from regular food to special nutritional requirements for elderly people. The exercise program will also be resumed once an arrangement can be made with a qualified instructor.

Salgado reported that a volunteer was teaching piano at the center at this time, as well as classes on songs in both English and Spanish. Another volunteer offered to teach the youths the art of quilting and a representative on the board asked if elderly residents of the city could utilize the facilities at the center. The board said there was no need to request the use of the center since the center was for all residents of the community, regardless of their age.

Western dance tips available

A course in Country and Western Dancing, will be offered by the Adult and Continuing Education Department of Howard College, announced Martha Fierro, director. Classes will meet from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. Thursdays, Sept. 18 through Oct. 23 in the Coliseum East Room.

Instructors for the course will be Kathy and Ben Daugherty two well-known dance enthusiasts.

Cost of the course is $24.

Record demand for water reflects growth of cities

The 1980 summer season (June, July and August) produced a 38.4 percent increase over that of 1979 for deliveries to cities by the Colorado River Municipal Water District. The long range implication of this, however, was that the demand stepped up the rate of increase over the past half dozen years.

During the three months period this summer, the district delivered 5,507,000,000 gallons to its municipal customers, an increase of 1,138,000,000 gallons over the same time in 1979.

Admittedly, the past summer was unusually hot and dry, but the record demand for water also reflected an accelerated growth by cities served by the district, in the opinion of O.H. Ivie, general manager of CRMWD.

For the five years prior to this summer, there has been an average annual growth of 5 percent in municipal demands. This summer's all-time peak accelerated this to a rate of 6 percent over the past six years. Even if the 5 percent rate were maintained over the next five years, the district in 1985 will be facing a normal summer demand of 5,872,000,000 gallons as compared with the average of 4,600,000,000 gallons for the past six years.

"Regardless of how much of this year's 38.4 percent summer gain over the same period in 1979 is due to drought and heat," said Ivie, "it is clear that the water needs of cities are rising steadily, and some areas dramatically. We must look to expanded supplies if we are to deliver water as our cities expect."

"The Stacy reservoir, now hung up on an appeal in the courts, becomes all the more imperative. But even when Stacy is built, water pumped 1,500 feet uphill over a distance of 150 miles is expensive and limited to pipeline capacity. Therefore, from the point of protecting the western part of the system during periods of peak summer demand and at the same time modifying over-all costs with cheaper pumping costs nearer to point of delivery.

Demo meet lures 50

An estimated 50 persons attended a meeting of Democrats in the Howard County Courthouse Tuesday night despite a Houston Astros-Los Angeles baseball game on TV and a city council meeting staged at the same time.

Emily Elrod, Forsan, was appointed secretary of the Howard County Democratic Executive Committee. She replaces State Democratic Committeewoman Jane Ray.

Lounge machines looted

Burglars broke into the Water Hole Number Three Lounge, 3204 W. Highway 80, and rifled all the machines inside, early this morning.

Intruders pried open the rear window to gain access to the lounge. Once inside, they broke into two coin-operated pool tables, a pinball machine, a jukebox, a shuffleboard table and a cigarette machine. All the coins from each machine were stolen, as well as two cases of beer, bringing total loss to an estimated $86.

Ricky Clark, 207 E. 2nd, lent his 1975 Pontiac to someone he knows, and it hadn't been returned as of late Tuesday night. The car was valued at $1,600.

Sometime during the past month, thieves stole an evaporative cooler from the home of James Small, 4003 Dixon. It was valued at $400.

Vandals slashed the vinyl top on a car belonging to Grady Cunningham, 10 Glenwick Cove, while the auto was parked at the Highland Park Shopping Center, Tuesday. Damage was estimated at $400.

Thieves cut the cable and stole a 24-volt battery from a truck at the Clyde McMahon Concrete Company, 605 N. Benton, sometime Tuesday night. The battery was valued at $112.

Three mishaps were reported Tuesday.

Vehicles driven by Willard

Lawson, 410 Owens, Ernesto Gonzales, Route 2, and Shirley Callison, Gail Route, collided at 10th and Main, 10:56 a.m.

Vehicles driven by Sandra Stamper, 1207 Stanford, and Jose Hilario, 511 N.W. 7th, collided at Fourth and Owens, 1:57 p.m.

At sundown, Jewish People begin observance of High Holy Days

At sundown today, the Jewish People begin an observance of the High Holy Days. This begins the New Year 5741.

Rosh Hashonah is observed on the first day of the Hebrew month of Tishri and may fall in either September or October of the secular year, due to the differences between the solar and lunar calendars. Conservative, Orthodox and Israeli Jews observe two days of Rosh Hashonah while most Reform Jews observe on the first day.

On this holy day, Jews take stock of the past year — the successes and failures — not only in their personal lives but also in their communities. Failures are looked upon as experiences, and attempts will be made to "do better next time."

Selichot, a Hebrew word meaning "forgiveness" refers to the special penitential prayer recited at this time.

Big Spring Jewery is divided in worship attendance. Some will observe at the synagogue in Odessa and some in Abilene, Fort Worth, Dallas, others will have a private home observation.

DANIEL FOGG

Search waged for 'lost' man

There still has been no word as to the whereabouts of Daniel Fogg, who disappeared from a facility for the mentally handicapped more than six weeks ago and who could be in this area.

Fogg, a 24-year-old who thinks like a seven-year-old, was last seen July 17, when he left the Marbridge Ranch near Manchaca, saying he wanted to get some pizza.

A search that was concentrated south of Austin, where Fogg had lived for seven years, was expanded statewide.

John Crowe, a deputy sheriff in Austin, said his office had received a number of reported sightings of the man, but nothing more.

Daniel's father resides in New Mexico.

HC offers

GED course

A course in G.E.D., ABE, and ESL will be offered by the Adult and Continuing Education Department of Howard College, announced Martha Fierro, director. Classes will meet from 8 a.m. until noon on Monday-Friday and 1-3 p.m. on Monday-Thursday, and on Sept. 16, night classes will be offered on Tuesday and Thursdays 6-9 p.m.

Howard College Learning Center offers a tutorial service to those adults wishing to obtain their GED's, to those wishing to learn conversational English (ESL), to those wishing to improve their reading skills, and to those who would just like to learn more.

Cost of the course is free. Cost of all materials are free.

Interested persons must pre-register in the Continuing Education Office located in the Horace Garrett Building. For further information, call the Adult and Continuing Education Department at 267-6311, ext. 70.

Gifts enrich Bible Fund

The Bible Fund has been enriched by another $215.

Of that amount, $200 came in the form of a check sent by Mr. and Mrs. George McAlister from their ranch near Blanco.

The other $15 came from the Ruth Sunday School Class. The latest brings the total committed to the campaign to $10,928.

The goal was $10,000. The drive, sponsored by the Howard County Ministerial Alliance, officially closed ten days ago.

Center's booth at fair discussed by directors

The West Side Community Center Board of Directors met Monday at 5:30 p.m. at the West Side Community Center. Among the topics discussed at the meeting were the center's booth in the upcoming county fair, a recent trip to Carlsbad, the Boy Scout troop and their equipment, repairs to the center, and future programs at the center.

The 17 board members attending the meeting heard about plans for the center's booth in the Howard County Fair to be held in Big Spring next week. Viola Salgado, newly appointed director of the center, said that youths at the center had been actively engaged in making arts and crafts items for the booth and that orders would be taken on some of the dolls being made by the center. Revenue from the sales will be used to help replenish the supplies.

Hiram Garcia, head of the center's Boy Scout troop, said the troop would be working the booth on Tuesday and Thursday. On Tuesday they will be demonstrating first aid procedures. On Thursday they will be showing people how to use primitive cooking utensils. Members of the board will help man the booth on the other nights of the fair.

Viola Salgado and her husband reported on their recent trip to Carlsbad Caverns, New Mexico. Fifteen children from the center were taken on a trip to the Caverns during the summer programs. Another thirty youths from the center participated in the summer YMCA program this year.

Viola Salgado reported on their recent trip to Carlsbad Caverns, New Mexico. Fifteen children from the center were taken on a trip to the Caverns during the summer programs. Another thirty youths from the center participated in the summer YMCA program this year.

Hiram Garcia reported on the Boy Scout's summer program. On July 8, the local scout troop went to summer camp in Christoval. In August, the Boy Scouts went on an overnight trip to Moss Creek in Howard County, and on a one-day trip to Colorado City to look over the new Boy Scout Camp that was recently completed at the Colorado City State

Park. Garcia continued his report by saying that a trailer for the van had been located and was being used by the troop on their outings. During the meeting, Mrs. Jane Thomas, president of the board, reported that Speight Grimes, son of Col. and Mrs. Jerry Grimes, USAF, retired, of Big Spring, had supervised the painting of the Well Baby Clinic. She said Speight Grimes had coordinated the program as a community project to meet his Eagle requirements. Thomas went on to say that the Well Baby Clinic, which is open to all community residents on an "ability to pay" basis, is being well attended and eleven babies were treated at the clinic this month. Two of the infants were referred to the Rehab Center for minor corrective measures.

A report was given by Thomas on the center and items that needed to be repaired. A motion was made by Mrs. Billie Smith and seconded by Mrs. Delores Hull to make repairs

Madeline Boodle said that the bilingual driver's education class would get under way next week. She said that the maximum class size of 45 pupils had been met and that another 45 people had signed up for the next class. The classes will be held at the center for four nights, with the tests being given on the last night of classes. An officer from Midland, as well as a bilingual officer from Del Rio, will be in Big Spring to conduct the classes. All expenses for the program are being handled by the Department of Public Safety.

Boadle also said that the Howard County Nutrition Committee would be having three nutritional programs at the center next month. These programs deal with a program for making baby food from regular food to special nutritional requirements for elderly people. The exercise program will also be resumed once an arrangement can be made with a qualified instructor.

Salgado reported that a volunteer was teaching piano at the center at this time, as well as classes on songs in both English and Spanish. Another volunteer offered to teach the youths the art of quilting and a representative on the board asked if elderly residents of the city could utilize the facilities at the center. The board said there was no need to request the use of the center since the center was for all residents of the community, regardless of their age.

Western dance tips available

A course in Country and Western Dancing, will be offered by the Adult and Continuing Education Department of Howard College, announced Martha Fierro, director. Classes will meet from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. Thursdays, Sept. 18 through Oct. 23 in the Coliseum East Room.

Instructors for the course will be Kathy and Ben Daugherty two well-known dance enthusiasts.

Cost of the course is $24.
