Cold front pushes into West Texas

By The Associated Press

A cold front pushed its way into West Texas early today, scattering thunderstorms across the Panhandle, the South Plains and the Permian Basin.

Forecasts called for widely scattered thunderstorms, some possibly locally heavy, over most of the state today.

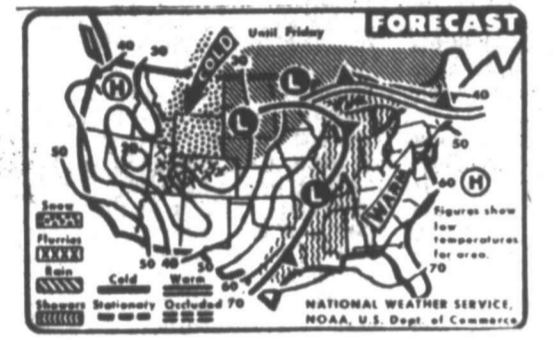

Highs were to be mostly in the 80s, ranging from the mid 60s in the Panhandle to the 90s in extreme South Texas.

Other thunderstorms during the night dumped as much as three to five inches of rain in Kerr and Kendall Counties in Central Texas. The heavy rains there flooded some low water crossings and prompted the National Weather Service to warn of possible flash flooding.

Early morning temperatures were mostly in the 60s and 70s. Extremes ranged from 81 in Brownsville to 48 at Dalhart.

Carter-Reagan debate surfaces again

WASHINGTON (AP) - The prospect for a Carter-Reagan presidential debate is being brought out of cold storage again, or at least the door to the freezer has opened ever so slightly.

President Carter is pushing anew for a two-man debate with Ronald Reagan, and though the Republican's camp says it still wants a three-man contest including independent John Anderson, there are hints that position could change.

At the same time, a League of Women spokeswoman said the organization was considering dropping its invitation to Anderson for its next debate, opening the way for the head-to-head contest Carter has demanded with Reagan all along.

The debate issue has been revived in part because the latest public opinion polls show Anderson falling below the 15 percent standing that the league had set for inviting him to its first debate last month in Baltimore.

A Gallup poll released Wednesday showed Anderson at 8 percent, down from 15 percent in a mid-September survey. After the poll came out, Carter campaign chairman Robert S. Strauss sent a telegram challenging Reagan to debate the president on "the critical issues" of the campaign.

Reagan's campaign manager, William J. Casey, replied by saying Reagan has accepted an invitation to a three-man debate and Carter should do the same and "having made the commitment... hold to it."

But Reagan campaign chief of staff Edwin Meese III said in an interview earlier in the day that the GOP high command was considering either a debate or a 30-minute television broadcast to counter a growing concern among voters that Reagan might involve the nation in a war if he were elected.

And an internal Reagan assessment of the campaign warned that "Carter may be on the verge of staging a major surge in certain traditional Democratic industrial states."

Strauss, in announcing the new debate challenge, said Carter had already made such a surge and suggested Reagan and his aides may soon be looking for a debate to boost the Republican's campaign.

Carter's press secretary, Jody Powell, also said he was willing to bet Reagan and the president would debate. He said the latest challenge was intended as a "sort of fish or cut bait" move, adding that time for a debate was growing short.

Lyn Nofziger, Reagan's spokesman, also noted that one factor in deciding to debate would be that it would take two or three days out of a campaign that is only 11 days away from the election.

The latest debate over debate occurred as all three candidates were on the road, and the Reagan and the Carter camps were displaying fresh optimism about their election prospects.

For his part, Anderson conceded in Miami since he has failed to arrange the $10 million in bank loans he was hoping for to bankroll a big television.

Strauss said recent polling data shows Carter gaining throughout the key industrial states, with the two men even in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut and Wisconsin. He conceded that Reagan now has an edge in California and Florida, but said the polls are leads in Illinois, New York, Michigan and Texas.

But the Reagan internal assessment ranked the GOP candidate's lead ahead in 23 states and leading in 12. It also noted a total of 372 electoral votes, 102 more than needed to win.

The assessment also warned that Carter may be on the verge of staging a major surge in certain traditional Democratic industrial states.

Grand jury investigates Oil pricing fraud alleged

DALLAS (AP) - A special grand jury is looking into allegations of a multi-billion dollar fraudulent oil pricing scheme in the mammoth East Texas oil field, a Dallas newspaper has reported.

The Dallas Morning News, in a copyright article in its Thursday edition, reported that a special grand jury was impaneled in Longview in mid-August to investigate alleged price fixing schemes in which "old oil" was sold at "new oil" prices.

One unidentified source told the newspaper that the alleged fraud involves "a multi-billion dollar operation - not millions, but billions - over the periods of years."

However, the newspaper said another source said authorities have been unable to determine the amount of money involved.

The News said witnesses from Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma have testified before the grand jurors.

Investigators from four agencies - including the Gregg county district attorney's office, the Texas attorney general's office, the Texas Railroad Commission and a Texas Ranger - uncovered the alleged scheme, the newspaper said.

Old oil generally is defined as crude from wells drilled before the 1973 oil embargo. Under federal price restrictions, old oil must be sold at prices far below the level for oil produced much later.

The Railroad Commission estimates the East Texas oil field, once the largest in the world and the field that supplied fuel for United States troops in World War II, produces about 200,000 barrels of crude a day.

The field is located in Gregg, Upshur, Rusk, Smith and Cherokee counties.

The newspaper reported one railroad commission source said the alleged scheme apparently involved oil moved between Texas and Louisiana.

The source told the newspaper that in some incidences oil produced in Texas is trucked to a Louisiana refinery and sold as new oil for a higher price.

The newspaper said another source said the investigation is aimed at oil companies and trucking firms that transport the oil. However, the newspaper reported that sources said they were unaware of any involvement by the nation's seven major oil companies.

Mary Hardesty, press secretary for Texas Attorney General Mark White, told the newspaper that White's office is assisting in the grand jury inquiry, "but I can't say how."

Federal jury awards damages to DPS official

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - An Austin federal jury has awarded $989,887 in damages to a Department of Public Safety captain who claims he was a victim of a department conspiracy.

After seven hours of deliberation Wednesday night, jurors awarded DPS Capt. Bill Bessent the $514,000 he had asked for, plus an additional $475,887 in punitive damages.

U.S. District Judge Lucius Burnton said he will enter judgment the first week of November. The judge may adjust the amount of the award at his own discretion.

An attorney for Bessent says the officer's lawsuit gives a glimpse of "the seamy side" of the state police force.

"Something's been happening out there (at DPS) for years... Now the cover's been peeled back," said Broadus Spivey. "We have seen the seamy side that never should have existed in a department in this state."

Assistant Attorney General Greg Wilson, representing the defendants, said damages ordered by the jury will come out of the defendants' pockets. He said there is no insurance or state funds to cover officials whom a jury decides acted in bad faith.

Bessent, fired in 1975 but later re-hired for another job, filed a civil rights suit against 11 current and former DPS officials and employees.

Bessent had a top-level narcotics investigation job when he was fired after DPS officials decided he covered up a 1972 Dallas incident. A Dallas man allegedly was harassed, beaten and robbed by four drunken undercover agents who worked under Bessent's supervision.

In his closing argument Wednesday, Spivey asked the jurors to order the defendants to pay Bessent $514,000 for damage to his "good name" and career.

Former DPS Director Wilson Speir, a defendant in the suit, re-hired Bessent about 10 months after he was fired. However, Bessent testified he was assigned to a job for which he was untrained.

The defendants claimed Bessent was fired for covering up the 1972 Dallas incident. The assistant attorney general said Bessent "really was a bad guy" and had a drinking problem.

Bessent claimed he did not cover up the incident. He also alleged he was denied a proper hearing before his dismissal. Spivey argued Bessent's career as a narcotics investigator was ruined by the "rivalry, jealousy and individual pettiness" within the DPS power structure.

"I've never seen such misuse of authority and power," Spivey said.

Wilson, however, said Bessent "covered up the incident and now he's suing the people who found out and got rid of him because he was a bad apple." Wilson said. He said Bessent met with the four agents involved in the alleged beating and helped them work up a "lover story."

Others said he spent much of his time drinking and could not control his agents.

Bessent has denied he had a drinking problem.

Stamford plant is dedicated

WASHINGTON, D.C. - One of the first agricultural alcohol plants in Texas was dedicated by Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland and Congressman Charles W. Stenholm Tuesday.

The plant, Agri-Fuels of Stamford, is a cooperative effort of some 40-45 area farmers formed about a year ago. Using grain sorghum as a feedstock, the experimental plant will produce its first agriculturally-derived alcohol on the day of the dedication.

Carter is 'women's candidate,' Weddington says

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Marking the first major pitch to women voters in this key state, a White House assistant says President Carter is the "women's candidate" this year because of his long-standing commitment to equal rights.

Sarah Weddington, a Texan who now serves as assistant to the president, called Republican Ronald Reagan a "Johnny Come Lately" on women's issues during an interview here Wednesday.

Reagan, who says he favors equal rights for women but opposes the ERA, said earlier this week he would appoint a woman to the U.S. Supreme Court if elected president.

In their campaign swings through Texas this year, both candidates have emphasized the importance of the minority vote — particularly the Mexican-American faction — but Mrs. Weddington's trip is the first to focus on women voters.

"...Texas is a critical state for us to win," said Weddington, the highest-ranking woman and Texan in the Carter administration. "We have to win Texas for us to really win the presidency. Texas is vital to us and it's in the balance."

She said neither candidate has a strong grip on Texas' 26 electoral votes, and the Carter forces will be blitzing the state in the three weeks before Nov. 4.

"It's clear it could go either way," she said. Mrs. Weddington will campaign in Irving, Dallas, Garland, Odessa, Lubbock and her hometown of Pecos this week.

She accused Reagan of trying to play catch-up by announcing he would appoint a woman to the Supreme Court, noting that Carter said a year ago he would consider such an appointment.

But Carter's statement was not in the form of a promise, she said.

"I don't think it's appropriate for any president to commit to appoint any person to the court, but I think the president is very aware that the court should be representative of the people of this country," said Mrs. Weddington, who is responsible for women's issues at the White House.

"That includes women who are excellent attorneys, many of whom are now on the bench, (who) would be excellent people to consider."

She said she considered Reagan's promise an "appeal to the women's vote which he realizes he lost when he opposed the Equal Rights Amendment."

"I don't think it will be successful," said Mrs. Weddington, an attorney who successfully argued for the landmark Supreme Court decision that women have the right to choose abortion.

She said women in both parties will not support Reagan

"because of his stand on the ERA," and polls show Carter gaining the support of women in the final weeks of the campaign.

Continuing to downplay Reagan's pledge, she called it "so much more limited than the commitment that the president has to the ERA..."

"Whether it's campaign rhetoric or not, I would not count on him (Reagan) to fulfill that pledge if he were president, although I don't think he will be," she said.

She said Carter is sensitive to problems for women in all walks of life, "to appointments of women in the broadest sense, the women who are displaced homemakers, to women who are victims of domestic violence, to women in the work force."

"I simply think the president is the women's candidate this year."

Absentee ballot requests up, Texas officials say

By the Associated Press

Election officials across the state say the deluge of mail-in requests for absentee ballots is only beginning to increase voter interest in the upcoming presidential election.

"There's more absentee interest in this election than I've ever seen in my 16 years with the county," said Lorena White, supervisor of absentee voting for Bexar County.

Officials in more than a dozen counties across Texas say more voters are requesting absentee ballots this year than in 1976. In addition, they say voter registration is up.

To many election officials and county agents, that only means one thing.

"People in Texas are really going to turn out for this election," said Evelyn Ramsey, Smith County elections administrator in Tyler.

"We've had about 500 (mailed in absentee ballot requests) so far, and we're getting a good many more in every day," she said.

Mrs. Ramsey said the East Texas county had more than 65,000 registered voters, with another 2,000 late applications that were still being processed.

Many officials feared that the large influx of late registrations not processed by the Oct. 4 deadline would leave the tardy voters out in the cold.

However, Secretary of State George Strake said voters who registered, but have not been processed, can make a sworn statement to the polling judge that they had their application in before the deadline, and may vote.

In El Paso County, election officials say they are worried that they won't be able to handle all the mail-in requests for absentee ballots.

"We've already received 5,000 requests by mail for absentee ballots," said Helen Jamison, county elections chairman. "In 1976, we had a total of 8,845 persons vote absentee."

Six temporary workers have been added to help with the mountain of requests, she said.

County Clerk Robert Green predicts about 33,000 absentee ballots will be cast out of a total 300,000 people he expects will go to the polls.

In Harris County, election officials are expecting about 16,000 mail-out ballots this year, and about 42,000 to 50,000 total absentee voters, said elections department spokesman Tony Sirvello.

"Certainly, it is up over the last election year. We had a 68 percent turnout in 1976," Sirvello said. "It could go over that this year. Everyone is interested in the presidential race."

Nueces County clerk Marion Uehlinger said her office has received the largest number of absentee ballot requests that she has ever seen.

She estimates as many as 5,000 absentee ballots will be cast out of 125,000 registered voters.

"Our absentee requests are up over the past election year, but voter registration is up too," said Nancy Saunders, Taylor County elections administrator in Abilene.

"I think there is a lot of interest in this election."

In the Panhandle, Potter County officials said they received an estimated 400-500 requests for absentee ballots out of some 38,000 registered voters.

"People here are very concerned with being able to vote," said county clerk Sue Daniel. "This presidential campaign has sparked a lot of interest."

Victoria County clerk Val Huvar said about 300 requests had come in, so far.

"That's considerably more than for the last election."

Jefferson County reported 900 absentee ballot requests by mail out of approximately 125,000 voters registered in the Longview area.

New York sting operation ends despite comic quirks

VALHALLA, N.Y. (AP) — Undercover cops ran a successful "sting" here despite operation. They had to dispose of a truck of hijacked bananas, evade fellow policemen as they drove stolen cars and turn down an invitation to join the Chamber of Commerce. "Operation Yellowjacket" netted $1.25 million in stolen goods that the agents fought for a mere $83,000 while posing as fences at a Pelham storefront. Dozens of people were arrested in pre-dawn raids Wednesday. As suspects were being processed at Westchester County police headquarters, Inspector Salvatore D'Iorio described the hazards and hilarity his men encountered in the streets.

Once, an officer bought a stolen car, slid into the driver's seat and casually shook a folded towel lying next to him, D'Iorio said. A grenade rolled out on to the floor. The startled agent dove out of the car, which rolled down the street without a driver. The grenade did not explode.

Most of the fenced items were stolen cars, checks, jewelry and furs, but police also were offered 11 women from a pimp's stable and the services of a group of women whose specialty was pilfering meat from supermarkets. "We could have bought anything," said Police Commissioner Thomas Delaney. The sting, funded by $300,000 in federal money, also required the acting talents of the officers. The agents had no trouble finding suspects willing to sell them stolen property, and news of the fencing spread "by word of mouth," D'Iorio said. But the agents ran into trouble from other cops who didn't know about the operation, he said.

When they purchased a hijacked truck with a load of bananas, the agents wanted to return the fruit but couldn't tell local police without blowing their cover. So they settled for an anonymous call reporting that the bananas had been found.

The agents also were chased by other policemen and by people who had their cars stolen and later spotted the agents driving them, D'Iorio said.

Once, while visiting a suspect in a local hospital, two undercover agents were chased out of the intensive care unit by a burly nurse.

And "D.A.N.'s Distributing Co.," the storefront where the illegal transactions were videotaped, was even asked to join the local Chamber of Commerce.

In all, 43 people were indicted on charges of criminal possession of stolen property. Most of them had prior criminal records, and all but two were from Westchester County, just north of New York City, police said.

Among the recovered stolen items were 78 cars, two tractor-trailer trucks, two computer terminals, assorted government checks, credit cards, television sets, guns, coins and jewelry.

"We could have opened up a major department store," D'Iorio said.

The operation was dubbed "Yellowjacket," D'Iorio said because "it's a good name for a 'sting.'"

PRE-DAWN ARREST — Westchester County Police lead John E. Mason, second from right, from his Yonkers, N.Y. apartment after his arrest early Wednesday morning in connection with a stolen property operation. The Federally funded anti-fencing and stolen property recovery operation resulted in more than 40 warrants being issued in the lower Westchester area.

More to cheerleading than what meets the ear

OLD TAPPAN, N.J. (AP) — When the living room is carpeted with freshly painted posters in the reverent colors of blue and gold, in various stages of drying... When the den is seized and occupied by a dozen giggling female persons in short skirts feasting on doughnuts and loud music in front of an October morning fire... When you are asked to construct a laurel wreath (spruce boughs will do) in order that victory may be celebrated in properly classic stye, at a toga party... It then begin to strike home; there is more to cheerleading than meets the ear.

In America's 30,000 or so high schools, there must exist about 360,000 cheerleaders. Standing still, which they rarely do, saddle shoe to saddle shoe, megaphone to megaphone, they could easily fill 20 football fields. So the species is hardly endangered. It is, however, rare. Ask any father of one. He will tell you that a high school cheerleader is a creature of tender years who has not quite decided to give up girlhood for young womanhood. She is leaning in that direction, but there is too much fun to be had for now. She is also one who has learned that loyalty is precious and that disappointment can be overcome and that success is often so joyous it brings tears. The cheerleaders at Old Tappan High School have learned more things in a special way. They have had to. They have had to because the subjects of their cheering, the Golden Knights, whom they adore ("adore" is an often-used word, especially in reference to certain specific Knights; "cute" is another), have won only two football games in four seasons. You would think that would be discouraging enough to wilt a pompon. I mean, give us a break. Wrong. These cheerleaders want their Knights to win, all right, and once this fall they did, hence "It was the very best time I ever had in my whole entire life," the resident cheerleader reported. But cheerleading, it seems, has less to do with a won-lost record than with, simply, cheerleading. Win or lose, to Jeanmarie, Maura, Bridget, Donna, Janet, Wendy, Kathy, Lynn, Claudia, Toni, Kay and Carolyn, each golden adventure, friendship its own reward. There are cookies to be baked (for the Knights to munch while they watch a training film), posters to be painted, horns to be honked, confetti to be cut, a pre-game breakfast to be cooked and enjoyed cross-legged on the floor with girl talk and laughter and tales of Knights and ladies.

Finally, the game. Band music. Blue and gold streamers. "Come on, Golden Knights, get up and go!" Noise. Jubilation. Heartbreak. The eternal promise of youth. Last Saturday the score was 33-6.

Officials sent to probe radioactive barrels

Company misses deadline for removing waste

GALVESTON, Texas (AP) — A hazardous waste facility did not remove radioactive wastes from a facility near here to meet a state deadline and the state health department says an investigator has been sent to the coastal dump site.

Meanwhile, he said, the New-York based company will continue to move waste drums off its property. The company collects what it calls low-level radioactive wastes, largely from hospitals and medical labs, and processes and concentrates the wastes for a permanent burial ground somewhere else.

Schmidt breaks slump with gamer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mike Schmidt stood at home plate, his bat over his shoulder and his body twisting. A little English might have kept that ball in fair territory, he thought. It curved, maybe five or 10 feet foul, arching high over the foul pole down the left-field line, and instead of a home run, Schmidt had a meaningless foul ball. They call it a long strike.

"I thought it might have a chance, but it hooked just like my golf drives," Schmidt said of his fifth-inning drive. "I know it doesn't mean anything, but I think that foul ball might have helped me get going." When Schmidt, the Philadelphia Phillies slugging third baseman, got going, he sent the Kansas City Royals home with a handful of woes. Schmidt's eighth-inning double drove in the winning run, and the Phillies downed the Royals 6-4 Wednesday night for a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven World Series.

The Series moves to Kansas City for games on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, if necessary. The Royals face the unenviable task of rebounding against a team that has scored 13 runs in the first two games of the Series, having won 7-6 on Tuesday, and they may have to face it without All-Star third baseman George Brett.

Brett had to be removed from the game in the sixth inning when an inflammation of his hemorrhoids, a problem that began only about a week ago, started to bother him too severely. Royals Manager Jim Frey said he was not certain of Brett's status for Friday.

"We'll have to wait," Frey said. "He has two days and it's a day-to-day thing. We hope he's better." The Phillies started left-hander Steve Carlton in Game 2. A 24-game winner during the regular season, "Lefty" had struggled in the playoffs against Houston.

In the fourth game, his second start, he went only 5 1-3 innings, his shortest stint of the season. He couldn't keep his pitches around the plate. Wednesday night, the silent left-hander was in trouble again. In eight innings, he gave up 10 hits, six walks and three earned runs with 10 strikeouts.

"He's done a lot of pitching in the last six months," Schmidt said. "But that shows you that Steve, even at his worst, can keep us in any game." The Phillies got off to a 2-0 lead in the fifth on a sacrifice fly by Manny Trillo and a run-scoring single by Larry Bowa.

Kansas City got one run back in the sixth when Amos Otis singled, advanced to second when John Wathan walked and scored on a throwing error by Trillo on a high chopper by Willie Aikens.

The Royals scored three times in the seventh. Carlton walked the bases full, and Otis slugged a two-run double, followed by a sacrifice fly by Wathan. The score was 4-2 and Philadelphia's "Comeback Gang" went to work again.

They had to come back from a 4-0 deficit to win the World Series opener. They trailed at one time or another in all five of their National League Championship Series games with Houston.

"It seems like we're waiting for the other team to score first," Phils first baseman Pete Rose said. "We know we're going to have a big inning, but you can't keep waiting for that."

Philadelphia's big inning came in the eighth. Royals' lefty Larry Gura, 18-10 during the season, had retired the first 13 Phillies he faced, but Frey had to yank him after six innings when he complained that he had run out of gas.

Royals ready for home crowd

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A dispirited, wounded band of Kansas City Royals were never so glad to leave one town in their lives. Blowing a two-run lead Wednesday night when Dan Quisenberry, the American League's top relief pitcher, got bombed, the American League champions now find themselves trailing the Philadelphia Phillies 0-2 in their first World Series.

The Royals have not been home since last Thursday, after staying in New York upon completion of their three-game sweep of the Yankees last Friday night. "We've won a championship and we haven't heard one cheer yet," said catcher Darrell Porter, who pinch-hit in the ninth and struck out.

"I got in plenty of jams and got myself out before," said Quisenberry. "So there was no reason to think I wouldn't get out of this one." But he didn't. The Phillies scored four runs on four hits in the eighth to take a 6-4 victory.

"What we need more than anything is a good, well-pitched game from start to finish," said second baseman Frank White. "We've been taking the lead, but we haven't been closing the game up."

NBA Roundup

Collins back in 76er win

Doug Collins isn't playing with reckless abandon, but he is playing. And that is something of a minor medical miracle. The veteran Philadelphia guard popped in 18 points Wednesday night to help the 76ers to a 119-111 National Basketball Association victory over the New Jersey Nets.

In other NBA games Wednesday night, Los Angeles tipped Kansas City 112-107 in overtime; Houston slipped past Seattle 103-110; Denver demolished Dallas 133-96; Phoenix ripped Utah 107-93; Chicago stopped Indiana 108-97; and Golden State nipped Portland 96-92.

Collins, who tore ligaments in his left knee just before the 1979-80 playoffs, got back into the Philadelphia lineup about half a season sooner than the doctors who diagnosed his injury and operated on him had predicted.

The 76ers, coming back from a 20-point loss to the New York Knicks a night earlier, got 27 points from Julius Erving. The Nets got a game-high 28 points from Cliff Robinson.

Dallas Green upset with slick baseballs

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The first controversy of the 1980 World Series boiled to the surface after the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Kansas City Royals and took a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven game series.

The Phillies won 6-4, with an eighth-inning four-run rally, but Manager Dallas Green was steaming after the game. Green complained bitterly about the condition of the baseballs.

"I'm going to complain to the commissioner (Bowie Kuhn) and the umpires," said Green. Green's disenchantment surfaced when he was asked why he went so long with a struggling Steve Carlton. Carlton gave up 10 hits and walked six, an unusual number of free passes for the pitcher who is recognized for his excellent control.

"Lefty (Carlton) wasn't struggling," said Green, his anger obvious in his tone. "Lefty was struggling because of the baseballs," insisted the Phillies manager. "They (the balls) were as slick as I've ever seen them. We have to do something. The first batch that came out were rubbed up decently. But after that they were very slick."

Green said catcher Bob Boone told him that Carlton couldn't grip the balls. "Boone said they were as slick as ice. To be effective, Lefty has to have the feel of the baseball and he did not have it," Green reported.

Baseball return looks bright

JR surgery successful

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — After a successful 18-hour operation to replace an artery in his right shoulder, doctors say there's a good chance that right-handed pitcher J.R. Richard will be able to return to the Houston Astros.

"The operation appears to have been successful, and the outlook for his return to baseball appears to be good," Jane Ginsburg, a spokeswoman for the University of California Medical Center, said Wednesday.

Richard, who underwent surgery in Houston in July to remove a clot from his neck, checked into the medical center Sunday for tests on the shoulder. The 30-year-old pitcher had been on the Astros disabled list since July 16 because of complaints about a "dead arm." He collapsed during a workout at the Astrodome.

But his agent, Tom Reich, said the tests were not prompted by any complications following his life-threatening stroke on July 30 that resulted in the removal of the clot.

Richard was the major league slugger, king in 1978 and 1979, compiling a 10-4 record during the first half of this season with a 1.89 earned-run average. He started July 8 in the All-Star game for the National League.

Chinese crowds unusual to Jimbo

CANTON, China (AP) — American star Jimmy Connors is having no problem with his tennis game, but he's finding it hard to get used to the sedate crowds in China.

"They don't yell or clap like in New York," the powerful left-hander said after winning his second-round match Wednesday in the $50,000 Canton Tennis Classic. "I'm sure that as they come to understand the game better, they will get worked up."

Connors, the top seed, whipped fellow American Jim Delaney 6-4, 6-2 after falling behind 4-2 in the first set. In other second-round matches, Harton Ismail of Zimbabwe, beat Jan Norback of Sweden, 7-6, 6-2, and Cliff Letcher of Australia, defeated Emilio Montano of Mexico, 6-4, 6-4.

No one says you have to love your job

New Oiler tight end Casper hates football

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oilers have traded their first two 1981 draft choices for an All-Pro tight end who says he hates football, worries the scorching Texas heat might kill him and doesn't "give a damn about the Super Bowl and the playoffs."

What did he think of his new teammates? "It looks like they run and jump and do everything football players do," Casper said. "I walked in, like a wet puppy. I spoke to the guys I knew — Kenny and Jack — but I didn't know a lot of the names. It'll take me a while. But, to be quite honest, I felt good right off the bat."

Sayers says NFL dull through specialization

When Gale Sayers lets his fingers run through the statistical pages of the National Football League record book, he can muster up only one word to describe his admiration for the great Jim Brown.

But he said he is not concerned about the long-range impact of the trade. "I don't give a damn about the Super Bowl or the playoffs," he said. "All I'm concerned about right now is finding a helmet that fits, learning some plays and learning how to play Oiler football. All that other stuff is meaningless until the time comes to do it."

Hill Bros. ready for Walt Disney

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. (AP) — Brothers Dave and Mike Hill have a special incentive this week in the Walt Disney World National Team Championship Program, a complicated event that completes the 10-month PGA Tour schedule.

At any rate, Casper said he has four or five good years left in football and intends to stick around, even though he dislikes the game. "I hate football," he said. "But I play it because it's what I do best and I find it satisfying. No one says you have to love your job. If I want fun, I go out and have a couple of beers. But I don't get any satisfaction from drinking beer."

SWC Roundup

DALLAS (AP) — The Southwest Conference football season is at the halfway point Saturday with three conference games and one nonconference battle on the schedule.

SMU and Houston meet in a regionally televised game at Texas Stadium, Baylor goes to College Station to try for its third straight win over Texas A&M, TCU hosts Tulsa in an afternoon nonconference game in Fort Worth, and Texas Tech is at Rice in the only night game.

Texas and Arkansas both are idle, since their game was rescheduled to Sept. 1 to accommodate national television.

Saturday's schedule in order of CDT starting times (full-season and SWC won-lost-tied records in parentheses):

TULSA (3-2) at TCU (0-5), 2 p.m. CDT — TCU leads the series 10-3. Injured Frog linebackers Joe Vail and Mike Dry are questionable. TCU quarterback Steve Stamp is hitting better than half his pass attempts (31-58 for 375 yards). The Frogs are averaging 234.8 yards per game total offense and allowing 420.4. The Hurricane is averaging 314.4 and yielding 295.2.

BAYLOR (5-0, 3-0 in SWC) at TEXAS A&M (2-3, 1-1 in SWC), 2 p.m. CDT — Bears seek 6-0 record for first time since 1953 and third straight victory over A&M. Baylor leads all SWC team offense categories and total defense with 460-yard total offense (3rd nationally), 268-yard rushing average (11th), 250-yard total defense average (13th). Aggie offense has averaged 343 yards a game but now hit by injuries to quarterbacks David Beal and Mike Mosley. Baylor quarterback Jay Jeffrey is second in SWC total offense, (24th nationally) at 179 yards per game and is averaging six yards a play. A&M holds 44-25-7 series edge.

HOUSTON (2-3, 1-1 in SWC) at SMU (4-1, 1-1 in SWC), 2:50 p.m. CDT (ABC-TV) — Cougars will start freshman quarterback Audrey McMillan for injured Brent Chinn. Mustang quarterback Mike Ford is recovering slowly from a knee operation last year. Mustangs are among the SWC offensive leaders with sophomore tailbacks Craig James and Eric Dickerson combining for more than 154 rushing yards per game and ranking among the top five in SWC tandem offense. Terald Clark, Houston's top offensive gun, is recovering from early injury to rank ninth among SWC rushers at 65 yards a game. The Cougars hold a 3-1 SWC series edge, 3-2 overall.

TEXAS TECH (2-3, 0-2 in SWC) at RICE (2-3, 1-1 in SWC), 7:30 p.m. CDT — Owls trying to win three out of four for the first time since 1973. Tech is trying to keep from losing four of five for the first time since 1971. Tech is third in SWC defense at 290 yards yielded per game to Rice's 394, while Owls are gaining 337 yards a game to Raiders 311. In passing, Rice is hitting 55 percent for 154 yards a game and the Raiders 51 percent for 157. Owls are splitting quarterback chores between Randy Hertel (53 percent) and Robert Hoffman (64 percent), while Ron Reeves (52 percent) directs Tech's attack.

Million $$ golf game set by big Texas Dolly

By The Associated Press

Texas Dolly and a couple of other "good ol' boys" from Albuquerque were downing a few beers in their favorite Las Vegas saloon late this summer while watching the windup of a pro tour golf tournament on TV.

Tom Watson, Curtis Strange or maybe it was Lee Trevino lining up a 10-foot putt on the 72nd hole.

"Pressure? What's the big deal?" growled Doyle (Texas Dolly) Brunson, the world poker king. "If he makes it, he wins 50 grand. If he blows it, he grabs 30 grand. What if he was putting for his own dough?"

"You mean what if it was like poker?" said Jamie Thompson, a former basketball star at Wichita State.

"Or Red Dog or any kind of pot game where you get your own money on the line," replied Texas Dolly, a bespectacled, mammoth man of 290 pounds, just down from 326.

"A different ball game altogether," interposed Rolland (Buddy) Othick, who used to coach at Wichita State. "Hey, that's a great idea for a golf tournament."

"You ain't just whistling Dixie," said Texas Dolly, a wild gleam coming into his eye.

A few weeks later flyers — 9,000 of them — were flooding country clubs and municipal courses all around the country and intriguing ads were popping up in the golf publications, which read:

"Doyle 'Texas Dolly' Brunson's $1 Million World Match Play Golf Championship. Dunes Hotel, Las Vegas, Nov. 11-16, 1980. Entry Fee $5,000. First 256 Entries Accepted."

Brunson, Thompson and Othick set themselves up as the corporate sponsors. Then Texas Dolly reached out and got his old hometown buddy from Sweetwater, Texas, Don Cherry, to serve as tournament director.

"The response has been fantastic," said Cherry, calling from Las Vegas. "A lot of guys on the pro tour — like Miller Barber, Grier Jones, Gay Brewer, Jeff Mitchell and Bobby Clampett — are interested. Some are seeking sponsors, others say they'll play their own way."

"I called Jack Nicklaus and he said he'd love to play but Jack Jr. is in some kind of tournament in Florida at that time. Besides, this is aimed at appealing to the obscure, little guy who has dreamed of the big time but never got a shot."

Texas Dolly has become a legend. A former basketball player at Hardin-Simmons, he moved from hardwood court to the green velvet tables and became — along with Amarillo Slim Preston — one of the most celebrated poker players in the world.

Competing in the World Poker Championships at Binion's Horseshoe in Las Vegas, he won the $222,000 first prize in 1976, the $340,000 top purse in 1977 and was runnerup in 1978 to Stu Unger of New York. "The guy hit an inside straight," Dolly complains.

The format of the tournament is 18 holes match play with single rounds the first three days, double rounds the last three. The prize money ranges from $250,000 first prize to $5,000 for the top 64 losers. Win two matches and you break even.

Area Grid Honor Roll

Winners of this week's area schoolboy football Honor Roll were equally divided between backs and linemen, as most of the teams are now in the midst of their district title chases.

The Big Spring Steers continued to show improvement in the first three quarters of their contest with Midland, only to fall apart in the final 12 minutes and absorb a 25-12 loss. One key performer in the Steers outplaying the much bigger Midland team in the opening three stanzas was the hitting of sophomore DANNY STEPHENS.

The 180-pounder carried one time offensively for 41 yards, but really distinguished himself on defense at his outside linebacker position and on the specialty teams.

"He really dished out some good shots," said Big Spring Coach Ralph Harris. "Our kids played real physical football, and Danny led them in hitting, as well as playing alertly."

The Coahoma Bulldogs, like the Steers, outplayed their opponents in three of the four stanzas, but a 21-point second period by Post spelled a 21-8 loss. Still, Bulldog Coach Roy Winters awarded this week's plauidits to defensive tackle TOMMY JOE SHIRLEY and offensive guard REAGAN

Williams still heads 5-5A rushing stats

Big Spring junior running back Bobby Earl Williams continues to lead the District 5-A AAAA rushing statistics in figures released after the fifth game.

Williams has amassed 491 yards rushing in five games on just 68 carries. That averages out to a healthy 7.2 gain per rushing attempt.

The 185-pound Steer has rushed for 245 yards in two district contests on 25 carries, with three of those runs resulting in touchdowns.

"Despite this, Midland Lee's Calvin Riggs has the most yardage rushing of any 5-A AAAA performer in league play, as he has accumulated 265 yards on 42 carries.

Riggs and teammate Rodney Hemphill are combining with Rebel quarterback Barry Corley to give the Lee team of Coach Spike Dykes the second best rushing outfit in 5-A AAAA.

The Odessa Bronchos, with a per game rushing average of 234 yards, lead 5-A AAAA in that department.

Abilene Cooper, behind 5-A AAAA passing leader Lanny Dycus, leads the district in that team department. The Cougar senior has thrown for all of his team's 708 aerial yards in five games. Big Spring's Tracy Spence ranks sixth in that department with 15 completions for 155 yards.

The leading receiver in 5-A AAAA is Cooper wide receiver Brad Morrison, who has hauled in 13 passes for 262 yards. Richard Evans is the Steers leading receiver with seven catches for 72 yards, good for 16th place in the district. Evans is ranked number eight in rushing with 322 yards on 54 carries and a healthy 5.9 average gain.

The punters are led by Permian's Mike Williams, who has boomed his kicks an average of 43.8 yards per attempt. Abilene's Loyl Proffitt is a close second at 43.3.

Permian also has the leading scorer by kicking in Roy Dunn. The 245-pounder who also plays a mean tackle position has kicked four field goals and 13 extra points for a total of 25.

The league leader in scoring is Odessa High's Johnny Subia, who has 38 points.

Norman Roberts earns grid Hall of Fame

At ETSU Saturday

Norman Roberts, former football coach at Coahoma High School, will be inducted into the East Texas State University Hall of Fame during Homecoming ceremonies Oct. 18.

Roberts, a native of Robert Lee, attended San Angelo Junior College where he was an All-American. He later was named Little All-American at East Texas, where he played end.

East Texas twice played in the Tangerine Bowl while Roberts was active at the Commerce school. He was named the Most Valuable Player in his first Tangerine Bowl appearance.

A hand injury, suffered in the oil fields, robbed him of the chance to play professional football. He was drafted by the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Others to be inducted during Saturday's ceremonies during the Homecoming weekend include multi-sports star Gene Hodges (1936-39), football player Clinton White (1938-40) and basketball player Jeff Fitch (1963-67).

TRESA HOHERTZ

MELINDA PORRAS

Two lovelies vie for Miss Howard College title in local pageant

Among the 19 Howard College coeds vying for the Miss Howard College title is Big Spring's Tresa Hohertz, a blue-eyed blonde freshman at HC.

Miss Hohertz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daryle Hohertz, is majoring in business administration and plans to attend Texas Tech University after graduating from HC.

Tresa was involved in band, the Key Club, cheerleading and on the staff of the Big Spring High School newspaper. She is a Presidential Classic at Howard College this year.

When not busy with the duties of serving as hostess for Howard College as a Presidential Classic, she is busy with her hobbies, sewing and dancing.

The Miss Howard College Pageant will be held at 8 p.m., Oct. 28, in the Howard College Auditorium.

Also making a bid for Miss Howard College this year is perky 5' Melinda Porrás, an 18-year-old freshman from Big Spring. She is among 20 contestants vying for the title.

Miss Porrás, daughter of Alicia Porrás, is majoring in physical therapy with a minor in education. After graduating from Howard College, she plans to attend the University of Texas at Austin to finish out her studies as a physical therapist.

Miss Porrás was very active in high school, as she was a cheerleader during her freshman and sophomore years, a varsity cheerleader during her junior year, and served as room representative for the FHA, Shorthand Club president, and Spanish Club president during her senior year at Big Spring High School. As a freshman at Howard College, Melinda is a Howard College cheerleader.

Her hobbies are swimming, playing tennis, traveling and being involved in all different types of sports with her main interest in dancing.

"I plan to get a degree in physical therapy and help the handicapped," said Melinda. "I want to work in a rehab center with the age group of 13-19 year-olds. To know that I helped someone would make me very happy."

'First-Class Brat' Needs First-Class Love

DEAR ABBY: Our 22-year-old son recently married a girl who was previously married and has a 4-year-old girl. Abby, the little girl is a first-class brat!

We realize that part of the reason for the child's behavior stems from the fact that she has been dumped here, there and everywhere and has had no consistent discipline. Since she is only 4, we hope that with some effort this can be remedied.

Now comes the problem: Our son has asked us what we want this little girl to call us. To be honest with you, because of her actions we are embarrassed to have her call us "Grandma and Grandpa."

Meanwhile we are trying to think of something she can call us for the present. Our son suggested we consult Dear Abby.

LOOKING FOR A NAME

DEAR LOOKING: Please have her call you "Grandma and Grandpa." A child who has been dumped here, there and everywhere must be starved for love, acceptance, kindness and understanding.

You have a perfect opportunity to make her feel loved and wanted. Please don't blow it by labeling her a "brat" and conditioning your love on her behavior. Smother her with love and kindness, and you will never have to worry about being "embarrassed."

CONFIDENTIAL TO DOUBTING THOMAS IN SEATTLE: According to the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta, Ga., in 1979 there were 136 cases of syphilis reported in children between the ages of 10 to 14 in the U.S. And 9,104 cases of gonorrhea reported in that age group.

There were 3,344 cases of syphilis reported in children between the ages of 15-19. And 249,887 cases of gonorrhea reported in that age group. (Note: These are only the reported cases. The actual number of cases is estimated to be much higher.)

'Desairologist' reveals tricks of her trade

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — Dead women tell no tales. They don't complain about their hairdos either, which is why hairstylist Noella Papagno enjoys working in funeral homes instead of beauty parlors.

Mrs. Papagno has been making a living for 30 years fixing the hair on corpses — mostly women — so that they will look as natural and attractive as possible for their funerals.

Now she has written a book, "Desairology," in which she reveals the tricks of her trade — from giving Afros that buoyant look to covering up brain-surgery scars. There's even a section on what to do with "limp, lifeless hair."

She's worked in beauty parlors as well, but finds desairology — a term she has coined to describe her trade — far more relaxing.

"It's a relief from the complaints," she said. "You know, 'Oh, my hair didn't stay last week. Could you cut a little higher?'"

Mrs. Papagno said in a recent interview that working with the dead is not gruesome or even a little scary. The living are far more terrifying, she says.

She said she was putting around the funeral home once, alone, she thought when suddenly, she felt a hand resting firmly on her hip.

"Who's that?" she asked. No answer. She looked down at the floor, trying to glimpse another pair of feet. There were none.

"Who's that?" she said again, her throat constricted with fear.

She whirled around — and found that the hand belonged to a corpse on the table next to her.

"The hand had just slipped off the table. I said 'Excuse me, madam,' and went on about my business," Mrs. Papagno recalled.

"I wasn't scared of her. I'm scared of the living — I was afraid it was someone coming in, a rapist or something," she said.

Mrs. Papagno's book lays to rest some myths about dead people. For example, hair doesn't grow after death, she says, a tightening of the scalp just gives that appearance.

The word desairologist is a combination of "des" for "deceased," "air" for "hair," and "ology" for "science of." She had written to G&C Merriam Co., the dictionary publisher, asking for a word to describe what she does, but thought the answer that came back — necrocosmetologist — sounded too ghoulish.

Mrs. Papagno began her cosmetology career at age 18 in a Woonsocket, R.I., beauty salon. A funeral parlor across the street gave the salon regular business.

"I remember I had done the hair of one of the (salon) customers' mother, and the next day, the daughter grabbed me and cried, 'Noella, you have made her so beautiful.' I realized that during her grief, I had done something to make her happy."

TweEN 12 and 20 — Tell boyfriend 'Aloha'

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Dr. Wallace: I have a boyfriend and I care for him very much. I have a chance to go to Hawaii over the Christmas school vacation and I want to go but my boyfriend says that if I go he will break up with me.

We are both 16. What should I do? If I go to Hawaii, I've got to start making plans now. — Michelle, Galesburg, Ill.

Michelle: Don't allow this boy to threaten you. Tell him that you are going to Hawaii. Go and I'll wager a dime that you still have a boyfriend when you return.

Dr. Wallace: I'm a 16-year-old girl and my boyfriend is 19. About seven months ago we started having sex. I got pregnant but I lost the baby. My boyfriend would have married me. In other words, he didn't run. We are deeply in love but one thing really bothers me. One night I asked him if we should stay with me if he stopped having sex and he said that he would leave me.

Now I'm really confused. Please tell me what I should do. — Karen, Lodi, Calif.

Karen: I think your boyfriend is using you by saying he is in love, so he can make love. Get wise! You have had a most unfortunate experience because of your sexual habits. The best way to see that it doesn't happen again is to stop having sex.

Dr. Wallace: I didn't get the suntan this summer that I planned to but my best friend has turned me on to tanning booths where I can get a tan in a short period of time.

My mom says that tanning booths are not safe. My best friend says that my mother

Plane crash kills two in suburb of Dallas

CEDAR HILL, Texas (AP) — The impact of the single-engine plane crash here threw the two passengers from the plane and "scattered and mangled" the bodies making identification difficult, officials say.

The two men were finally identified by driver's licenses found on the bodies, said Sgt. Randy Coffey of the Cedar Hill Police Department Wednesday.

Killed in the crash were Ed Templeton Jr., a prominent Abilene pharmacist, and Raymond Wray, of Seagoville, a former Abilene Christian University basketball star.

The single-engine Bonanza went down sometime Wednesday morning, and Cedar Hill police found the wreckage 20 feet from a house in this suburb, about 15 miles southwest of Dallas.

The light plane, co-owned by Templeton, veered too close to a television tower, clipped a wire and crashed, a Federal Aviation Administration spokesman said.

One witness said the plane hit the KTVT-TV tower, but two people inside the station when the plane crashed said they did not hear anything, said Nick Melton, an FAA spokesman at Redbird Airport.

Other witnesses, including a group of construction workers and several schoolchildren, told authorities the plane hit a wire and lost a wing.

A wing was found on the opposite side of U.S. 69 from the body of the plane. Melton said 10 to 20 knot winds probably blew the plane into the tower wire.

He said the small plane was never in contact with the Redbird tower.

"As far as we know, he (the pilot) was not on an instrument flight plan. He was not receiving air traffic control service," he said.

VSC meets at hospital

The Volunteer Services Council for Big Spring State Hospital hosted a luncheon and orientation for volunteers and prospective volunteers today in the Allred Building on the hospital campus.

The orientation session began at 9 a.m. in Staff Development Room C and featured programs concerning areas of interest in the hospital.

Wallace C. Hunter, M.D., acting superintendent, opened the session with a welcome and then volunteers heard from Dr. John Goldston, assistant chief psychologist in a discussion of abnormal behavior. Other topics included "Nutrition and Mental Health" by Teresa Moore, BSSH dietitian and "Drugs: Overview" by Bob Abbott, R.Ph., director of Pharmacy.

The luncheon held in the Auditorium of the Allred Building, featured Johnny Lou Avery as guest speaker. Business to be conducted includes revision of policies and procedures, recognition of special volunteers and election of officers for the coming biennium. The meeting was to be conducted by W.A. Moore, Jr., chairman. Immediately following the luncheon, a walking tour of the campus was led by the Chaplaincy Department.

Retirees can get counseling

Individual retirement counseling for Abilene area members of Teacher Retirement System who plan to retire in 1981 will be conducted Nov. 19 and 20 at the Kiva Inn in Abilene.

Deadline for scheduling an appointment is Oct. 22.

Counselors will have a complete retirement estimate for each member at the meeting and will be able to discuss the retirement options available and application procedures.

The area counseling program, scheduled for 26 locations across the state this year, brings professional retirement counseling close to each TRS member. Also, members may visit TRS offices in Austin for retirement counseling during weekdays throughout the year.

By local theater group

Auditorium's use sought on regular basis

By JAMES WERRELL

As soon as a few details can be worked out, Big Spring will have a city theater group operating out of the Municipal Auditorium.

During Tuesday night's regular meeting of the city council, Cecilia McKenzie, managing director of the Spring City Theater, asked councilmen if the group could occupy the auditorium on a regular basis. In return for the stage privileges, Spring City Theater will be responsible for all maintenance, utilities and operational costs of the auditorium.

In addition, said Ms. McKenzie, capital improvement funding will be sought by the group, and money raised by SCT productions will be rechanneled into improving the building.

"We are a chartered, non-profit organization, and with a base of operations we can apply for funding that would benefit both us and the community," she stated. "We would manage the booking of any other acts that want to appear at the auditorium, and our productions wouldn't interfere with any other activities held there," she added.

The council was openly enthusiastic about the proposal, but because the auditorium's utilities are tied in with those of the Central Fire Station, special arrangements will have to be made. The council instructed city staff members to work out a solution and present it at the next regular meeting.

The council also was confronted with a set of complaints stemming from water running over city streets; water running under city streets; and broken water mains all around city streets.

The first of three claims for damages was submitted by Mrs. Ruben D. Figueroa Jr., 4203 Muir. Representing Mrs. Figueroa, Attorney Bob Miller explained that on Sept. 22 she had driven her car onto the top of a hill near the intersection of Alamesa and Parkway.

Due to heavy rains, the car was washed down the hill and into nearly four feet of water in the intersection.

Her car was ruined and Mrs. Figueroa contracted strep throat during the incident.

Miller asked the council for $1,500 to cover the damages.

Dissenting, City Attorney Elliott Mitchell offered the opinion that the city was not responsible because, in essence, the flowing water was an act of God.

"The city is not liable for damages resulting from a failure to drain surface water so long as it does not negligently increase or divert the flow of the surface water to the injury of others," he said.

"I feel sorry that the lady lost her car, but I fail to see how we're reliable," said Councilman Robert Fuller. "There are a lot of legal questions here that may need to be handled by someone else, but for now, I make a motion that we deny the claim."

The council then voted unanimously to do so.

In the second claim, Nancy Fulgham, 1402 E. 18th, submitted a memo saying that on Sept. 8, while driving south on Birdwell and turning the corner onto Phillips, the city street caved in beneath her car. She wanted $463 from the city to pay for damage to the auto.

Again Mitchell denied the city's culpability. "The street caved in, he said, because natural water flowed under it and eroded its base.

"The municipality is not liable in damages for an injury caused by the defective or unsafe condition of its streets unless the condition was caused by the city or under its authority," he said.

The council voted to deny the request, with Councilman Larry Miller abstaining "for personal reasons."

In the third claim, W.A. Allen Jr., 1515 Hilltop, stated that his son, Kelly, had during a blinding rainstorm on Sept. 28, driven his car into a five-foot hole dug by the city on the 200 block of East 19th. Allen admitted that a barricade had been erected, but added that it consisted only of a painted white board supported by a pair of iron supports.

He stated that the barricade was too difficult to spot in the storm, and that the city should pay him $435.68 in damages. Larry Miller spoke out in favor of Allen.

"In defense of Mr. Allen, we can't use the excuse that people are stealing the light or smudge pots or whatever around these barricades," said the councilman. "There's no way you can see two pieces of metal pole with a board across them at night."

Mitchell advised that although the city may be partially responsible, driving error was also involved. He recommended a compromise payment of $100.

The council voted three-to-two in favor of that suggestion, with Miller and Hal Boyd dissenting.

W.D. Berry, who has devoted 30 years to Civil Defense in Howard County, offered a 275-page disaster preparedness plan to the city for future efforts. The office of Civil Defense will be phased out during the coming fiscal year, and absorbed by another department in either the county or the city.

Although Berry offered his help in continuing the program, he was bitter about the phase-out of funding for his department.

"I feel sorry for the people of Big Spring. I have done my job for 30 years and have received two presidential citations. Whether you (the council) like it or not, you will have to face some unpleasant things," he said. "I have asked the city manager to consult with me on the need for this department, and he hasn't. I have asked the mayor to call me and meet with me and he has not. I just hope nothing serious happens."

Following his presentation, the council thanked Berry for his service to the city, and accepted the multi-paged plan.

Members gave final approval to a revised ordinance governing beer and wine sales in the city on Sunday. Under the new plan, dealers with an on-premises license to sell beer and wine will not be allowed to do so at all on Sunday.

"This does not really change the existing ordinance in purpose or effect. It is just a clarification that will allow clearer enforcement," said City Manager Don Davis.

The council passed on first reading an ordinance updating the Texas Municipal Retirement System for city employees. The new plan calls for a five-percent participation by employees with matching payments by the city on a two-to-one basis.

Retirement payments would be based on an average of the employees last three year's salary instead of his whole salary history, as in the present plan. The new plan will also provide retroactive benefits for long-time employees and even some who have already retired.

Sheriffs claim they have been libeled; may sue

By DON WOODS

Sheriff's Association of Texas is planning legal action against an article appearing in the Dallas Morning News in September. The article quoted a veteran FBI agent, Bill Hinshaw, saying half of the sheriff's in Texas are on the take.

The sheriff's association has hired Richard "Racehorse" Haynes on retainer to prosecute the case.

"Well, it's pretty clear they have been libeled by an article printed. They are saying that half the sheriffs are on the take. When you accuse someone of being a criminal you have to have proof," said Haynes in a telephone interview Tuesday.

"Reputations are very valuable," he said, in commenting on the amount of the settlement.

Haynes said the FBI is contending that Hinshaw was not an agent at the time he made the comment.

"Somebody is not telling it like it is. Somebody needs to get it together," he said.

Special Agent-in-charge James Abbot said Sept. 23, the day after the article ran in the Herald, that Hinshaw had not been assigned as an agent in Texas and is not the official spokesman for the Dallas division of the FBI.

Hinshaw denied saying that half of Texas' sheriffs are on the take. Hinshaw was active at one time in investigating sheriff corruption in East Texas.

Haynes and his associates are working on the petition and will probably file it in Tyler, the East Texas town where Hinshaw allegedly made the comments.

A letter to Texas sheriffs written by Sheriff Association President Gordon Johnson said the association wrote letters to President Jimmy Carter, Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti and Robert Walsh, Dallas Morning News editor.

The letter "requested that such irresponsible actions on the part of the principals involved should be cause for termination," according to the letter sent to Texas sheriffs. The letter was sent Sept. 24 but Johnson has not received a reply to the letter or from numerous phone calls.

Johnson called the remarks "ridiculous, irrational and irresponsible allegations."

Johnson said the association met Oct. 7 to decide to retain Haynes after lengthy discussion.

...this is not a department you can phase out in 24 hours and that is all the notice I got. If I had known about this a month ago it could've saved me a lot of work," he said.

Over a 20 year period, Howard County has amassed $1.5 million from the federal government, including thousands of dollars worth of communication equipment, said Berry.

Berry said he was attempting to persuade the federal government to allow as much of the equipment as possible to stay here for city and county use.

Radiation detection equipment valued at $90-$95,000 is being shipped out this afternoon. Utility companies in possession of some of the equipment are being allowed to take over responsibility for the equipment they have.

Blind couple planning move here; seeks work

By ANDREA COHEN

Because the Tulsa weather is not good for Elbert Spence's back injuries, he and his wife, Pat, want to move to Big Spring. Both are looking for jobs here. Both Mr. and Mrs. Spence are blind.

The dry climate and the ease of a blind person being able to function in this city are the two biggest reasons they want to move here.

"I like Big Spring because it's small and easy for a blind person to get around," Mrs. Spence explained. "A big city is too hard."

Mrs. Spence was a resident of Big Spring in the mid-70s when her stepfather was employed at the air base. The family moved when the air base closed in 1977.

Elbert Spence calls himself a jack-of-all-trades. He was employed at St. Francis Hospital, Tulsa, as a darkroom technician in the x-ray laboratory. About a year ago, he fell down an elevator shaft and has since been on workmen's compensation.

Besides darkroom work, Mr. Spence said he would like to do dispatch work, some type of restaurant work or almost anything else. Mrs. Spence is a transcriptionist.

She knows medical terminology but cannot do legal work.

"I had to give it up because a typing eraser had to be used on the onion skin paper and a blind person can't use it," she said. "I can use eraser tape, but they don't use it in legal work."

Both Oklahoma natives, they have been married almost four years. Pat Spence has had eye problems all her life and became totally blind approximately eight years ago. Her husband has been blind since birth.

They were both in the city last week looking for employment.

"If something would come up, we would make arrangements to come down to Big Spring," Mr. Spence said.

SPECIAL COUPLE — Elbert and Pat Spence were in Big Spring last week looking for work. Both blind, they want to move to Big Spring because the dry climate is better for his back injuries which he sustained last year.

Clean up property, residents are told

COAHOMA — The City of Coahoma is again asking that any person owning a vacant lot within the city clear such property of unsightly objectionable or unsanitary matter or face prosecution under Ordinance 29.

The city council, which met Tuesday night, said such steps were needed to reduce the threat of health, fire and traffic hazards during the upcoming winter months.

Ordinance 29, approved April 13, 1976, makes it unlawful for the owner of any lot, building, house, establishment or premises in the city to allow or permit any carrion, filth or any other impure, of unwholesome matter of any kind to accumulate or remain thereon, or to allow or permit weeds, tall grass, rubbish, brush or any other unsightly, objectionable or unsanitary matter to accumulate or remain on such lots or premises.

Violators can be fined up to $200 a day for failure to comply with the ordinance, according to city councilmen.

The city hall staff is prepared to register complaints filed by people who know of such violations.

Berry displeased over CD cutback

Big Spring, Texas (Special to Window Shopper)—Comptroller of Public Accounts Berry said he was displeased with the City of Big Spring's decision to cut back on the purchase of communication equipment.

"This is not a department you can phase out in 24 hours and that is all the notice I got. If I had known about this a month ago it could've saved me a lot of work," he said.

Berry said he was attempting to persuade the federal government to allow as much of the equipment as possible to stay here for city and county use.

Radiation detection equipment valued at $90-$95,000 is being shipped out this afternoon. Utility companies in possession of some of the equipment are being allowed to take over responsibility for the equipment they have.

VAC to meet on Oct. 23

SPECIAL COUPLE — Elbert and Pat Spence were in Big Spring last week looking for work. Both blind, they want to move to Big Spring because the dry climate is better for his back injuries which he sustained last year.

Blind couple planning move here; seeks work

By ANDREA COHEN
Because the Tulsa weather is not good for Elbert Spence's back injuries, he and his wife, Pat, want to move to Big Spring. Both are looking for jobs here. Both Mr. and Mrs. Spence are blind.

Mrs. Spence said he would like to do dispatch work, some type of restaurant work or almost anything else. Mrs. Spence is a transcriptionist.

The dry climate and the ease of a blind person being able to function in this city are the two biggest reasons they want to move here.

Both Oklahoma natives, they have been married almost four years. Pat Spence has had eye problems all her life and became totally blind approximately eight years ago. Her husband has been blind since birth.

Dear Abby

'Manly' Traits Don't Exclude Neatness

DEAR ABBY: I've been reading your column for many years and agree with your advice about 99 percent of the time, but your comment to PROUD GRANNY didn't sound like you. Granny wrote that she let her grandson and five of his boyfriends use her beach home for a weekend high school graduation celebration and the boys had left the place immaculate! The floor had been scrubbed, the bed linen and towels were laundered, and they even left her a thank you note, signed by all the boys, plus a box of candy and a $10 bill to cover the cost of their long-distance calls.

You agreed that they were wonderful young men, then you spoiled it all by tagging on the P.S.: "Sounds like they may have had a little help from some chicks."

Abby, I'm disappointed and amazed that you, a vocal proponent of the ERA, would make such a sexist comment. Courtesy, neatness and housekeeping skills are not strictly feminine traits. I think you owe the young men an apology.

LET DOWN

DEAR LET: I agree, and I hereby apologize. My "P.S." was intended as a little joke, but a surprising number of readers took me seriously.

Fund-Raising Handbook is available to clubs

A newly-revised handbook to help clubs and organizations improve their fund raising techniques is now available from the Consumer Affairs Department of The Sperry and Hutchinson Company.

Club hears of Festival

The Potpourri Club met in the home of Judy Smith on Monday. Sara Tipton, president, presided at the business meeting.

Mel Prather, co chairman of the Arts & Crafts Festival to be held Oct. 18-9 at the Dorothy Garrett Coiseum, outlined the history of the festival and explained the logistics of coordinating the many varied media into a successful show. The Big Spring Arts and Crafts Festival rates high corporate, foundation and government grants with tips on personal fund raising and direct mail solicitation.

The Fund Raising Handbook describes events and projects for clubs and organizations of all sizes including house and garden tours, bike-a-thons, auctions, concerts, gala entertainment events and invitational sporting tournaments, to list just a few.

nationally and is expected to draw a large crowd from Big Spring and surrounding areas again this year. All booths will be filled with original arts and crafts displayed by their creators. New crafts are sought each year to add interest.

Doris Lowry was welcomed as a new member and Wanda Owens attended as a guest at the meeting.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Gloria Coffee on Nov. 10.

Nearly every club, association and organization needs money from sources beyond its membership. The handbook is designed to simplify this task for all groups.

The Fund Raising Handbook is one of a series provided by S&H for the use of organizations. Other titles include: Publicity Handbook, Membership Handbook and the Public Affairs Handbook.

The Sperry and Hutchinson Company, a diversified corporation engaged in promotional services, furnishings, and insurance services, has had a formal program of aid to consumers and educators since 1959.

EXHIBITING POSE—The 1980 light-heavyweight Mr. USA, Don Peterson, exhibits a striking pose during a short exhibition here the past weekend at the YMCA. Peterson was in town to help draw the plans and promote the health club of Doug and Annette Beams, which is scheduled to open some time next year and offer the health freaks of Big Spring an excellent facility.

Local couple plans health spa here

When Big Springers Doug and Annette Beams open up their mammoth co-ed sports facility here next year, they will have no doubt planned their project estimated in the plus $300,000 range with a person experienced in the art of maintaining a healthful looking body.

The Beams' flew in the recent winner of the 1980 Mr. USA competition in the light-heavyweight division, Don Peterson of New Orleans.

Peterson, who also has won such titles as Mr. Southern America, Mr.

Louisiana and Mr. New Orleans, as well as recently placing second in the overall competition (all weight classes) of Mr. USA, was in Big Spring to help promote the Beams' new project, as well as to help the local couple suit their facility most properly for those that will use the equipment.

The facility is planning on beginning with a very large room (in comparison to anything currently in the city) which both sexes will use, as well as two racquetball courts, saunas, whirlpool steam room, and an aerobics area. Judo and karate classes are also on the agenda.

"We hope to expand in the future to include more," Beams explained. "But right now the facility will allow the person to go to the extremes they want to."

Peterson's ideas will be very valuable to the Beams, as he is helping them find the best possible equipment for each exercise concerning weights that a person will need.

"Different companies make different equipment that is better than others," explained Peterson. "Some brand might have a type of equipment that isolates the chest better, while another might be better for the biceps, thighs, etc."

"What I'm helping Doug do is find the best for each exercise. I'm looking over the plans Doug has made," explained this year's Mr. USA in his weight class, "and making sure that they are as thorough as possible."

He's familiar to a certain extent, but not as much as I am. I'm making sure he gets the best equipment for the lowest amount of money."

Peterson, who has lived in New Orleans all of his life, trains at that famed city at one of the top health clubs in the United States, Body Masters. He has also trained at some of the posh and modern facilities on the West Coast.

The Beams' hope to also have a swimming pool at their club in the future.

Beams hopes that Peterson's help in mapping the plans for his club in Big Spring can give local physical fitness buffs the chance for improving their bodies in whatever fashion they choose.

"Big Spring is really lacking right now for a good place to work out," said Doug. "There just isn't anywhere that a person that takes his working out seriously can accomplish everything he wants in a good atmosphere."
