Food prices continue to spiral

Wholesale prices, unemployment up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices jumped 0.8 percent in October, equal to a 10.6 percent compound annual rate, and the nation's unemployment figure edged up one notch to 7.6 percent, the government reported today.

October's jump in the Producer Price Index contrasted markedly with September's 0.2 percent dip. The increase was fueled by rising automobile prices and significant boosts in the cost of sugar, meat and other foods, the Labor Department said.

For the first 10 months of 1980, wholesale, or producer, prices have accelerated at a 12.4 percent annual pace, a rate very similar to the double digit mark of 1979 and further evidence of inflation's persistent nature despite the recent recession. Wholesale prices had risen 1.5

percent in both July and August.

Unemployment, meanwhile, inched up 0.1 of a percentage point from 7.5 percent in September, the department said. But behind the nearly stable figure, there was significant movement. The unemployment rate for adult men declined over the month to 6.4 percent, while the rate for women rose sharply to 6.8 percent.

Unemployment among teen-agers rose to 18.4 percent last month following a decline in September.

The number of unemployed workers, at about 8 million, returned to its August level following a September dip. Joblessness was up 1.7 million from October 1979, with adult men accounting for about 1 million of the over-the-year increase, the department said.

The factory work week rose, reflecting the nation's apparent emergence from the sharp but short recession that began late last winter.

On the inflation front, the Labor Department reported that wholesale prices at the finished goods level rose 0.8 percent, with half the jump caused by higher prices for cars and trucks. Sharply rising food prices accounted for most of the rest of the advance.

The introduction of 1981 model vehicles in October followed large price decreases in September, when Detroit closed out its 1980 model year with across-the-board discount to dealers.

That dip in September became an instant campaign issue in the presidential campaign, with Republican nominee Ronald Reagan accusing the Carter administration of "jimmying" the figures. The claim was strongly denied by government officials.

The Producer Price Index includes three categories: finished goods, which are ready for sale to consumers; intermediate items, which are semi-processed; and raw or crude materials, such as iron ore or grain.

In October, intermediate goods rose 0.9 percent, compared with 0.6 percent the month before. Raw material costs climbed a steep 1.9 percent after rising 1.3 percent in September and about 6 percent in both months before that, the department said.

All of the figures are adjusted for seasonal variations.

When the effect of car prices is subtracted from other finished goods, wholesale prices rose only about 0.4 percent last month, about a 5 percent annual rate.

"That's sort of encouraging," said Craig Howell, a Labor Department economist. However, he had a more pessimistic message for the months ahead because of the sharp advance in sugar and other food prices as well as costs for such intermediate goods as steel, scrap metal, textiles and papers.

"This will put pressure on consumer goods in coming months," Howell said. "On the food front, rising sugar prices (which climbed 23 percent) will have a big impact. Sugar pops up in 100 other places."

Price changes at the producer level often are reflected at the consumer level within a few weeks or months.

The department said prices for all consumer foods moved up 0.5 percent over the month. After declining in September, wholesale prices for beef, veal and pork rose moderately. Prices also jumped for dairy products, bakery goods, processed poultry, eggs, flour and milled rice.

However, fresh fruit and vegetable prices were sharply lower, as were the cost of fish and roasted coffee.

Energy goods at the finished level declined 0.4 percent, the same as in September. From April through October, these prices have edged down at an annual 2 percent clip, in dramatic contrast to the 72 percent increase during the preceding six months. Gasoline prices in October moved down a modest 0.2 percent, marking the fifth consecutive monthly decline.

Before seasonal adjustment, the Producer Price Index stood at 252.2 in October. That means that a market basket of items that cost $100 in the 1967 base period cost $252.20 last month.

Reagan vows no intrusion in Carter's foreign policy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President-elect Ronald Reagan says he will not "intrude" in President Carter's foreign policy but will make a change in the way the United States deals with the Soviet Union once he takes office.

And, he said, Iran should not expect to benefit by continuing to hold its American hostages until Reagan becomes president on Jan. 20.

"I hope the Iranians will not have any idea there will be any profit to them in waiting," Reagan said.

At a news conference Thursday, his first such meeting with reporters following his landslide election victory on Tuesday, Reagan also said the people who engineered his successful election campaign will be in charge of planning his take-over of power.

The Republican president-elect went directly from the news conference to a private meeting in downtown Los Angeles with the leaders of his transition team and some of the men who served in his "kitchen cabinet" while he was governor of California.

Much of the news conference was devoted to foreign policy questions, and Reagan made clear that while he hopes to maintain the traditional nonpartisan nature of American foreign policy, he expects to make some immediate changes.

For instance, he rejected Carter's contention that strategic arms limitation talks between the United States and the Soviet Union are too important to await resolution of such international crises as the Soviet's occupation of Afghanistan.

"I don't think you simply sit down at the table with the Soviet Union to discuss military arms, for example," Reagan said. "You discuss the whole attitude, world attitude, as to whether we're going to have a world at peace or whether we're simply going to talk about weaponry and not bring up these other subjects."

"In other words," he said, "I believe in linkage."

Carter, recently asked whether he would ask for Senate approval of the SALT II treaty while the Soviets kept troops in Afghanistan, said the treaty was so important it should be ratified "under any circumstances."

Reagan has vowed to throw out the current arms treaty with the Soviets and begin anew to gain a tougher treaty. He was asked if he would communicate with the Soviets during his transition to power to begin such negotiations.

He said that he and Vice President-elect George Bush do not "want to do anything that indicates that we are not a unified country and that we are in any way trying to speak with a different voice than the administration." "The president is still the president," he said. "We are not going to intrude and we are going to recognize the fact that this administration is still in office and that foreign leaders must be aware that the president is still the president."

Reagan also announced that William Casey, Sen. Paul Laxalt, R-Nev., and former Ambassador Anne Armstrong, the three people who headed his election campaign, would now be in charge of the transition.

Edwin Meese, Reagan's chief of staff, will be transition director and will work with the president-elect's other top campaign aides, Reagan said.

He also said many of the same people who advised him on policy matters during the campaign will continue to serve in a similar capacity in the coming 2½ months before he takes office.

In population percentages

City shows biggest decrease

Big Spring showed the biggest population decrease of any city in the area between 1970 and 1980, if preliminary figures released by the U.S. Census Bureau are correct. The official count will not be made public until 1981.

Big Spring's population skidded from 28,735 to 24,888 during the decade, a 13.39 percentage loss.

The closing of Webb AFB, and the removal of Cosden Oil and Chemical Company's business offices to Dallas were among the major factors in the loss.

Howard County, as a whole, dropped from 37,796 to 33,285 from 1970 to 1980, according to the Census Bureau. That represents a percentage loss of 11.90.

Coochona showed a drop from 1,158 in 1970 to 1,117 this year, or 3.54 percent.

On the other hand, Forsan's figures reflected a 3.38 percent gain, from 237 to 245.

Stanton can point with pride to a 9.68 percentage gain, having gone from 2,117 to 2,322 during the ten-year period. Martin County's population as a whole, however, slumped from 4,774 to 4,695 or 1.65 percent.

Colorado City gained 3.85 percent between censuses, going from 5,227 to 5,428. Mitchell County, as a whole, picked up an additional one percent, from 9,073 to 9,082.

Ackerly, located 23 miles northwest of Big Spring, dropped from 348 to 324 or 6.89 percent. Andrews experienced one of the bigger growths among cities in this area, advancing from 8,625 in 1970 to 11,110 this year — 38.81 percent.

Lamesa gained from 11,559 in 1970 to 11,788 this year, an improvement by 1.98 percent. Westbrook lost just one person during the decade, showing 297 this year whereas in 1970 the count was 298.

As expected, Odessa's head count gain was the most impressive in the area. Odessa's population this year is listed at 89,797 whereas in 1970 it was 78,380. The city's percentage gain was 14.57 percent.

Midland, where officials are still complaining about a short count, has 69,659 this year whereas in 1970 the official tally was 59,463 — a gain of 17.15 percent.

The biggest city in the Lubbock census district is, of course, Lubbock, where the preliminary population figure is 174,157. In 1970, Lubbock's population was 149,101. That represents a gain of 16.80 percent. The bureau says Lubbock County now has 211,846, compared to 179,295 in 1970.

Loraine, located in Mitchell County, checks in with a 928 population figure this year, compared to 700 in 1970. That represents a whopping gain of 32.57 percent.

Lamesa's preliminary tally is 11,788, up from 11,559 in 1970.

Plainview's growth has been steady if not sensational. That Hale County city is up to 22,098 now, whereas in 1970 it was 19,096. That is over 15 percent. Sweetwater has advanced from 12,020 to 12,328 and Snyder from 11,171 to 12,671.

Taboka is obviously benefitting from the Lubbock growth. It went from 2,956 in 1970 to 3,265 this year.

In Seniority game

Jake Pickle will move up

By PHIL SWANN

Special News Service

WASHINGTON — In the political game called Seniority, the influence of the Texas delegation in House standing committees will not increase significantly in the 97th Congress.

Committee ranking is based on the seniority system. Freshmen congressmen start at the bottom of the ladder and climb with each year in office. The rise to the top is accelerated when senior members lose or retire.

But for Texas congressmen, the wrong people are leaving.

For example, Rep. Charles Stenholm, D-Stamford, was 27th in seniority on the Agriculture Committee before Tuesday's election. He will be 25th in the next session. Dawson Mathis, D-Ga. was the only Agriculture member to lose.

In contrast, James Scheuer, D-NY was 8th on the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee in the 95th Congress. Next January he will be second — thanks to several upsets Tuesday.

Reps. J.J. Pickle, D-Austin and Henry Gonzalez, D-San Antonio, are two Texas members who will benefit from the election.

Pickle, an eight-term congressman, moves from sixth to third on the powerful Ways and Means Committee. Only Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill. and Congressman Dan Gibbons, D-Fla. are ahead in seniority. Ways and Means Chairman Al Ullman D-Oregon was defeated.

"We will obviously be more in the limelight now," Sandy Dochen, Pickle's press secretary, said Thursday. "It's hard to say what will happen. But we will be a little more moderate than (Rostenkowski and Gibbons) and more in time with the moderate majority of the new Congress."

Gonzalez, a 10-year veteran of the House, shifts from fifth to third at Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs and eighth to sixth on the Small Business Committee.

While some members will be able to reshuffle their committee assignments when the 97th Congress convenes, the rest of the delegation appears to have won even less in the 1980 version of the Seniority Game.

Here is a list of the delegation and their committee standing in the 97th Congress:

Sam Hall, D-Marshall, Judiciary (10th, up two) Veterans Affairs (8th, up three).

Charles Wilson, D-Lufkin, Appropriations (17th, up eight).

James Collins, R-Dallas, Interstate and Foreign Commerce (3rd, up two).

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Story in depth

Q. Why was a locally-owned business mentioned in a recent Herald story about the fence on the runway of the old Howard County Airport? The employer of one of the principals was not mentioned. And why was the wife of one of the parties identified as a one-time school board candidate?

A. The Herald, and other newspapers, often use business associations to identify sources. One man who was identified was mentioned as an Industrial Foundation member, not an employee of any firm. It sometimes takes details such as these to give a story depth and perspective.

Tops on TV: 'Dallas' premieres

You may not find out who did it, but the season premiere of "Dallas" airs tonight at 9 o'clock. J.R. lies close to death as the Ewing family reassembles to await news and the police search for his assailant. This competes with the chiller "Coma," airing at 8 o'clock on ABC. A female intern at a Boston hospital becomes concerned when a few too many "accidents" occur in the operating room.

Inside: Decision to keep funds

PAN AMERICAN UNIVERSITY regents ignore advice from the governor's office and choose to keep $58,324 which an audit report says should be returned to the state general fund. The board decides instead to act on information from the state auditor's office and use the money for faculty salaries. See page 7-A.

TEXTBOOK CRITICS have urged deletion of material they claim makes fun of the American moon landing, dwells excessively on death and demonstrations and presents evolution as fact rather than theory. The State Board of Education takes the criticism under advisement before adopting textbooks for several subjects at a weekend meeting. See page 3-A.

Outside: Warm

Mostly fair through Saturday with warm afternoons. High today and Saturday in the mid 80s, low tonight near 40. Winds will be from the southwest at 15 to 20 mph this morning and gusty, changing to northwesterly this afternoon, 5 to 10 mph tonight and west to southwest 15 to 20 mph Saturday.

Iran charges torture of captured oil minister

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Iraqi doctors are fighting to save the life of Iran's captured oil minister who suffered a "massive hemorrhage caused by serious wounds" at the Abadan battlefield, the Iraqi press said. Iran charged today that the minister was tortured.

The Iraqi report that 30-year-old Mohammad Jawad Baguir Tonguyan was wounded when he was captured a week ago was surprising since he seemed to be in good health when European TV networks filmed him in captivity.

Tehran Radio broadcast a statement by Iran's Foreign Ministry charging the Iraqis had tortured Tonguyan to the "extent that his life is in danger." It called for international intervention to secure his release.

But Iraq has refused on grounds he and others captured with him are "prisoners of war."

Iraq said its tank-led infantry, backed by rocket-firing helicopter gunships, killed 60 Iraqis and suffered 21 dead in "noose-tightening" operations around Abadan as the war entered its 47th day today.

Tehran Radio conceded heavy fighting raged in the eastern districts of Abadan after Iraqi troops crossed the Bahmanshir River into Iran's besieged refinery city on the northern fringes of the Persian Gulf.

But the broadcast said Iranian forces were holding out and that they retaliated Thursday in a fierce battle along the Abadan-Mahshahr highway about two miles east of Abadan, killing 90 Iraqis. It said Iranian Phantoms attacked Iraqi positions along the Bahmanshir River, leaving the ground "littered with Iraqi dead."

Iranian Prime Minister Mohammad Ali Rajai visited the war front and declared, "We will fight to our last breath. We will show (Iraqi President) Saddam Hussein that he can never become the region's gendarme." Iran's official Pars news agency said.

It said Iranian warplanes also bombed Iraqi positions near Ahwaz, the capital of Iran's oil-rich Khuzestan Province 70 miles north of Abadan, and outside Dezful, the garrison city 80 miles further north and midpoint of Iraq's 300-mile invasion front.

The agency claimed 160 Iraqis were killed in fighting in Susangerd, 25 miles north of Abadan, Iran's last stronghold on the Shatt al-Arab whose capture would give Iraq complete control of the estuary that constitutes its only outlet to the Persian Gulf.

The Tehran command said Iran's snipers and gunners near Khorramshahr, the oil port 10 miles north of Abadan that the Iraqis seized two weeks ago, were still keeping the invaders from seizing the bridge over the Karun River that leads to the highway south to Abadan.

But Associated Press correspondent Alex Efty and other journalists brought to Khorramshahr by the Iraqis said only one incoming Iranian shell exploded during the five hours they spent on the north side of the river by the bridge, and that it caused no damage.

"We can cross the river over Abadan island immediately if we are ordered to do so and capture Abadan city and its refinery without any difficulty," Ahmed Hashim, a paratroop colonel and Iraq's commander in the region, told Efty and the others in an interview in a shell-pocked house in Khorramshahr.

"But since we have surrounded the whole Abadan island completely, our political leadership prefers a policy of weakening the enemy down until they are forced to surrender," he said.

Hashim said an appeal by Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, Iran's revolutionary leader, to Iran's forces to break the Abadan siege "has had no response whatever so far. They tried to launch counter-attacks a couple of times ... but they were unable to achieve anything. We have them in an iron grip."

Digest

Five miners trapped

ROBINSON, W. Va. (AP) — Five miners were trapped more than two miles into a Boone County coal mine today following an apparent explosion that sent smoke pouring from the mine shaft, authorities said.

Rescue workers wearing gas masks and carrying stretchers fought their way into the shaft of the Westmoreland Coal Co.'s Ferrell Mine. Ambulance crews waited outside.

The mine is near Robinson, a small unincorporated community near the Logan County border in southern West Virginia. Company officials did not release names of the trapped miners.

Hundreds of people, including anxious relatives, stood behind police cordons along state Route 85 awaiting word of the miners' fate.

Richard McClure, the mine's warehouse manager, said an explosion ripped through the mine in the early morning.

United Mine Workers President Sam Church flew from Washington this morning to go to the mine. State Mines Director Walter Miller also left for the mine, as did workers from the state Office of Emergency Services.

Mine fatalities have been an issue recently in West Virginia. Twenty-four miners died in accidents earlier this year, according to the state Department of Mines.

Surprises amid Saturn's rings

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The Voyager I spaceship, just days from a close encounter with Saturn, is tantalizing earthbound scientists with photographs revealing dozens of previously undetected ringlets within the giant planet's shimmering rings.

The latest photographs from the robot laboratory — a billion miles from home and still 4 1/2 million miles from the sixth planet — show rings within rings, ringlets of particles in what were thought to be empty spaces between rings and more bands of colored planetary clouds than current theories anticipated.

They never received permission to marry, despite two months of applications and entreaties to both their governments. Last Monday, Adam, 25, and Mao Mao, 22, drank DDT in his bedroom at Qinghua University.

Knapp named posse's prexy

J. Frank Knapp was elected president of the Howard County Sheriff's Posse at the November meeting held recently.

Other officers seated include Tommy Scott, vice president; Frances Cherry, treasurer; Mildred Owens, secretary; and Ruby Allred, reporter.

Two board members, L.B. Murphy and Ed Cherry, were returned for another term in office.

It was decided that Sheri

Graham will be the new Sheriff's Posse Queen. Linda Graham will be show secretary and Bud Graham the parade marshal.

During 1980, the posse won several trophies, the result of appearances in parades in surrounding towns. They have become known as the "Ambassadors on Horseback."

Several families of members recently spent a long weekend in the Fort Davis State Park, stopping at the McDonald Observatory and the old frontier fort. Among other things, the posse sponsored a circus and a horse show this year. Plans were made for a Christmas party at the new Bonanza Restaurant in Big Spring. Members will also participate in an overnight trail ride Nov. 8.

Two injured in accident

COLORADO CITY — Ronnie and Darlene Deese, driver and co-driver of a tractor-trailer rig loaded with tomatoes, were injured in an accident at about 8 p.m. on the Colorado River bridge two miles northwest of Colorado City on Interstate 20. The truck was headed for Dallas.

The two were taken to Root Memorial Hospital in Colorado City. Deese, 37, was treated for abrasions, bruises and lacerations, according to Tom Johnson, Department of Public Safety trooper. Mrs. Deese had a broken pelvis and vertebra, Johnson added.

Johnson said Deese pulled into the passing lane to pass an automobile and slipped into the median. As he attempted to regain the roadway, he was unable to keep from striking a bridge abutment, Johnson added.

The tractor part of the rig fell into the river but the cab skidded along the bridge and overturned on the bridge railing, Johnson said. Both of the injured had to be cut out of the wreckage, Johnson said.

Of Community Center

Steve Smith chairman

The board of directors of the West Side Community Center met Monday night at the center to discuss recent developments and ongoing programs, as well as elect a new slate of officers for 1981.

Board president Jane Thomas called the meeting to order and reported on the continuing improvement and repairs to the center. Mrs. Thomas said that many needed repairs to the main building had been completed, that improvements at the Well-Baby Clinic were completed, and that the center director had made new drapes for the main facility. She also said that the youth at the center were working on an exercise room.

Talking about programs at the center, Thomas said that all 35 students who had registered for the drivers education class had passed their tests and that the first of the monthly blood screening programs for elderly citizens would be held that evening at the center and would be repeated the first Monday of each month.

Thomas also said that instructions in quilting would continue thru Nov. 18, guitar lessons would be held until Nov. 18, cooking lessons would run thru Nov. 17, croquet classes would be conducted thru Nov. 19, and that the exercise program at the center would run thru Nov. 19.

The recent Halloween Carnival at the center was also discussed, with Church Women United serving the refreshments to the youths participating in the various events held during the evening. The kings and queens of each grade were

Clayton claims enough votes to win fourth term as Speaker

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Bill Clayton, acquitted Oct. 22 of corruption charges arising from the FBI's Briab "sting" investigation, says he has clinched a fourth term as House speaker.

Clayton issued a list of 98 House members and representatives-elect pledged to his candidacy for the 1981 speaker's race. He needs 76 votes to win.

"Today you are seeing a miracle become a reality. I know there were some who questioned statements I made in February that I would prove my innocence of false charges by fall and maintain my posture as a speaker candidate," he said.

House members will elect the speaker — regarded as one of the three most powerful officials in state government — when the Legislature convenes Jan. 13.

Only Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas, opposes Clayton, and Clayton said at a news conference Thursday that his list of 98 supporters "should effectively end any speculation about a speaker's race."

Clayton dismissed a question about whether he is thinking of running for governor — a move he was considering before the Briab accusations were made public in February.

they would receive no special consideration.

"Redistricting will be a thing I don't feel will be given any weight because of any particular group," Clayton said.

Among the well-wishers attending Clayton's news conference were his Briab lawyer, Roy Minton, and acquitted co-defendant, Randall "Buck" Wood of Austin.

Dallas parents name baby 'Reagan Bush'

DALLAS (AP) — He may never be president. He may not even get elected to the student council.

But four-day-old Reagan Bush will have one of those names that's hard to forget.

"We felt it was a unique opportunity to name him after two great Americans," Scott Bush said.

Born 15 minutes before election day at a Dallas hospital, little Reagan kept his mother from voting, but not his dad.

The proud father made it to the polls and said he voted, of course, for Reagan and Bush.

VICTOR SEDINGER
MINISTER

DALLAS (AP) — Tax incentives to stimulate the lagging economy and increased military appropriations loom on the horizon as a GOP-controlled Senate and a Republican president-elect begin planning next January's takeover, says U.S. Sen. John Tower.

Tower will be the second-ranking Republican when the new Senate convenes in January and is in line to assume the chairmanship of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

A Texan has not chaired a major Senate committee in more than three decades. Tower told a news conference Thursday that normal Senate procedures call for Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., to be bumped from the chairmanship when the present Democrat-controlled Senate is reorganized with a GOP majority.

Tower rejected seeking the post of Senate majority leader, saying that Sen. Howard Baker, R-Tenn., would probably be chosen without any opposition.

Asked if he was under consideration as Ronald Reagan's defense secretary, Tower said, "We'll cross that bridge when we come to it."

Tower admitted he was "pleasantly surprised" by the size of the Republican win in Tuesday's election and cited the unexpected blitz to "maximum turnout" efforts by GOP campaigners, as well as shifting voter opinion.

"A lot of those (senators) who lost had lost touch with public sentiment," he said. Tower said the top domestic priority will be "to stimulate the economy" and predicted a coalition of "the Republican majority and conservative Democrats" will be able to enact some form of tax relief.

Asked about Republican plans for minority-oriented social programs, Tower said "an evaluation" can be expected.

Asked about the best programs you can provide include job opportunity, job training and minority opportunity programs," he said. "The thrust will be to reduce the dependence on government many minorities have... make them financially independent."

Immediate military problems, such as increased pay and benefits for servicemen and inflated operating costs, will be attacked in the upcoming supplemental military budget, Tower said.

But a new penetrating bomber, such as the B-1 scuttled by President Carter early in his administration, will be included in the 1982 fiscal year budget, Tower said.

"It will not be the B-1, but it will be something like it — a new generation bomber," he said.

Tower also said the neutron bomb "should be produced and deployed" and the republicans also will push for new strength in conventional military forces.

But Tower rejected the idea of an immediate draft, saying the military is "meeting, even exceeding" its personnel quotas now.

Tower said he expects further arms limitation talks with the Soviet Union on terms more favorable to the U.S.

$29.7 million price tag Textbook critics rap stories on terrorism

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Textbook critics have urged deletion of material they claim makes fun of the American moon landing, dwells excessively on death and demonstrations and presents evolution as fact rather than theory.

The adoption of new textbooks is expected to cost $29.7 million. Kester scoffed at the phrase "mysteriously transformed" in one of the texts. "This is a not a scientific term," he said.

The Kesters said the proposed science books "violate the rights of theistic students" by presenting a "secular, humanistic theory" of the earth's origin and ignoring "the theory of creation."

Dr. and Mrs. Monty Kester of Baytown criticized all seven proposed science books, including two alternates recommended by the State Textbook Committee.

On Saturday the State Board of Education board will approve as many as five textbooks each for several subjects, including basic reading, bilingual readers, science, psychology, sociology, graphic arts and business and trade.

"The teacher's guide never brings up the word 'irony,'" said Mrs. Haralson. "We had no intent to show disrespect for the American flag or the people who explored the moon," said Bill Ferguson of MacMillan Publishing Co.

FRESH WATER FROM AN OLD WELL GOD'S UNLIMITED GRACE

The seminary students had looked forward to this day with joy and anticipation. A man of wondrous knowledge, and Bible insight was to speak to them in Chapel. The students set on the edge of their seats as the man walked into the room. He placed his Bible on the stand in front of him, placed his hand on the opened page, looked up with steady determination in his eyes, and said "Jesus loves me this I know, for the Bible tells me so!"

Elections are things that are held to see if the poles are right.
The Lone Star State has never been known to produce politicians guilty of understatement. One Texas orator climaxed his speech by saying, "No planet in the universe has contributed as many notable figures to history as Texas. Looks like Jimmy Carter is gonna get to go back to the farm and raise peanuts for "peanuts," like us cotton farmers have been raising cotton for "peanuts."

Men of rare qualities still being born

Every four years, the chant of many voters is the same: "Is this the best our country can produce?" Then a prominent part of that group of Americans sit on their hands at election time and, by refusing to cast ballots, think they have registered their protest against the system.

The cry of dismay went up when Jimmy Carter and Ronald Reagan were nominated by their parties to be the presidential standard-bearers in this year's election.

George Washington was the unanimous choice to be the country's first chief executive. Those who succeeded Washington have been displeasing some of the electorate ever since he completed his second term.

HAD ABRAHAM LINCOLN early on been suggested as a likely heir to the highest office in the land, he probably wouldn't even have been supported by his own Illinois delegation. After all, Mr. Lincoln had been regarded as a perpetual loser up until someone with a great deal of foresight and a deep understanding of character determined that Lincoln had a great future in politics.

Thomas Jefferson likely would have been written off because of his inability to manage his personal affairs. Look at the way the public and some members of the press roughed up Andrew Jackson. William Howard Taft likely wouldn't have made it in this enlightened age, because a candidate is supposed to look good on television.

Franklin Roosevelt had enough critics because of his physical infirmities but when he introduced some of his social programs most of the right wing press was ready to drum him out of the oval office.

HARRY TRUMAN expressed self doubts that he was up to the challenge and his critics heartily agreed. Ike Eisenhower had his anvil chorus. Lyndon Johnson was never accepted by the members of the eastern brain factories — he was looked upon as too crude, too political, too Texan.

Candidates live in a gold fish bowl from the day they announce they will seek the office. They are psychoanalyzed every day by a jury of inquisitive souls, very few of whom have any leadership capabilities themselves.

If you are convinced all the real leaders of the world have already been born and have gone to their reward, you are one of little faith. Every generation produces men and women of great and rare talents, who stare down adversity and emerge as champions. They often surprise themselves by coming through in critical situations.

You can bet the second guessers will grow in numbers and we will have our share of people who insist "it will never work," but why not give the newly elected a chance to see what they can do before we try to shout them into the wings? They may possess the exact talents we need to lead us through difficult times.

Little known world

Around the rim

James Werrell

Sarah Higgins, the Herald's promotional sage, was telling me the other day how she had received a telegraph informing her that she was the winner of the Miss Understood Pageant.

"You must be mistaken," she telegraphed back in her finest morse. "No, that pageant is a month off. You are definitely Miss Understood!" came the reply.

"Apparently so," she countered, whereupon she was sent the trophy for Miss Understood, a bronze replica of a shoulder to cry on.

"I JUST COULDN'T seem to get through to them," Sarah explained later.

But the whole experience got me thinking: Everyone has heard of the Miss America and the Miss Universe Pageants; could there be a whole slew of pageants going on across the country unbeknownst to the general populace?

Sure enough, a week later the announcement of the winner of the Miss Pronounce Pageant appeared on the AP Wires. Her acceptance speech was printed verbatim near the end of the story. "I would like to thank Bart Peaks and all the other organ grinders and the orgasms they work for, for making this pigeon passable."

A few weeks later, the wires carried a tale about an incredible coincidence in the world of little-known pageants. A pretty young thing hoping to enter the Miss Guided Pageant in Pittsburgh ended up instead in Los Angeles.

As she stumbled off the plane, however, she happened to wander into the ballroom where the Miss Oriented Pageant was being held. She entered and won easily.

Climbing into the brand new sports car she had just been awarded, she was heard to mutter: "I guess I'll just drive west toward the rising sun, and go where the roads lead me."

The Miss Diagnosis Pageant ended on a tragic note. One of the contestants fell ill the night before the competition and called her doctor, who told her to take two aspirins and call him the next day.

Unfortunately she had scarlet fever, and everyone at the pageant was quarantined together. To make matters worse, another contestant was rushed to the hospital for an emergency appendectomy, and delivered a healthy, seven-pound boy.

A DISTILLERY noted for its fine, sourmash bourbon whiskey sponsored a contest in the hills of Tennessee. The announcer, however, had sampled too much of the company's product, and began his speech. "This yr's Mish Mash..."

Some of the finest women track stars in the country flocked to the World Famous Miss Sprint Pageant, only to find that the sponsors had messed up the lettering on the announcement brochures.

"Riches beyond your wildest dreams" were promised to the winner of the Miss Fortune Pageant. Regrettably, a few days before the event a plane carrying all the contestants went down in the Amazon rain forest, where the girls were taken hostage by a tribe of headhunters.

In a real Cinderella story, though, after reforming the headhunters one of the contestants came back to win the Miss Lonely Pageant. What really put her over the top was the demonstration of her favorite position for the audience.

I guess I could go on and describe other pageants (such as the Miss Carriage Of Justice affair sponsored by the F.B.I.) but that would be mischievous, and I have misgivings, and readers might misconstrue it as misanthropic.

Shop talk necessary

WASHINGTON — The Internal Revenue Service is everywhere. An item in the newspaper the other day revealed that IRS agents had their field glasses focused on the VIP boxes in Philadelphia Veterans Stadium for the World Series. The boxes are, for the most part, owned by corporations who use them to entertain their customers.

The reason the IRS was watching so carefully was that in order to make the boxes a deductible business expense "Businessmen entertaining clients must engage in the active conduct of business during the entertainment with the person being entertained. The active conduct of the business must be the principal aspect of the combined business and entertainment."

This has made many businessmen who take their customers to sports events very nervous.

I WAS AT THE Meadowlands watching a New York Giant football game a week after the IRS ruling was publicized, and I happened to be sitting in a box next to two men who apparently were in the dress business. I overheard their conversation.

"Now Sam, the reason I brought you here today is I wanted you to see my new spring line."

"I'd like to watch the game, Irving, if it's all the same to you."

"You see the green jerseys the Giants are wearing? That's the green we're using in our pullover sequin disco dresses. The jerseys will be cut at the neck and the sleeves will be cut at the cuffs. The sleeves will be the same length and you can roll them up like the guards have done."

"Irving, it's third down and inches to go. Will you please shut up?"

"You're probably wondering what I've done with my pantsuits. Would you believe we've designed a knicker just like the center is wearing? You can wear them with bright wool socks. The women will go crazy for them. We're offering them in Redskin Maroon, Oiler Blue, Steeler black, or Cleveland Brown."

"They missed the first down! They're going to have to kick."

"You won't have any kick coming, Sam, if you take the whole line. I guarantee you you'll be sorry you didn't order more. We also have a teen-age look this year with leather belts in goal-line stripes."

"I'm glad you mentioned that. We have a lace-of-the-shoulder gown that Dior couldn't duplicate for $1,000."

"The trainer is taking off the end's shoulder pads."

"Sam, this model doesn't have shoulder pads. We put a feather where the trainer is wrapping a bandage on the end's arm. You want an organdy flower there, we'll make it with organdy."

"Irving, for heaven's sake, I want to watch the game. Will you shut up?"

"OF COURSE, that's why I brought you here today. You see the cheerleaders with the pompons? I'll tell you a secret, Sam. Pompons are going to be very, very big this spring. We're putting them on all our jump suits, and we're backing them with full-page ads in all the newspapers."

"What a runback! Oh, oh, there's a clipping penalty."

"If you don't breathe a word to our competitors we're clipping two inches off our culottes. And we're adding ruffles. It's going to be a big year for ruffles. We're making them in cotton-acrylic so all a woman has to do is put them in the washer and hang them up."

"This is turning into a tightknit game."

"Now, just gimme time... gotta walk before you can run."

Gall bladder test not simple

Dear Dr. Donohue: Recently, I had X-rays for the purpose of checking on my gall bladder. The gall bladder did not show up on the X-rays. Does this mean that the gall bladder is diseased? Is it likely that I will have to have it removed? — E.B.

I'd have to know a lot more, and here's why:

To take the gall bladder X-ray the person swallows tablets containing dye. But the dye does not go directly to the gall bladder. As with any food you eat, the dye must go through the same digestive organs first. The dye passes through the stomach and small intestines, where it is picked up by the blood and taken to the liver. From there it passes into the gall bladder, where it is stored. Because it is a dye, its presence in the gall bladder should be clearly visible on an X-ray.

You can see that there are a few ifs, ands and buts involved when X-rays do not show the "dyed" gall bladder. First of all, everything has to be working well all along that digestive route I spoke of above. If something is preventing absorption into the blood from the intestines, for example, or if something is amiss in the liver, the dye won't get through, and, of course, won't show up on the gall bladder X-ray.

Now, suppose that everything is fine up to and including the liver. Then if the organ does not show up on the X-ray, a gall bladder disease can be suspected. But even then, the doctor tries the whole thing all over again, using a double dose of the dye. If the gall bladder still does not show, it can be safely said that it is diseased. Perhaps stones are preventing dye's passage from the liver.

Does this mean it has to be removed? Not in every case, but it usually does indicate some gall bladder disorder. The judgment is the doctor's. He is interpreting the X-rays firsthand and knows the symptoms. You should have a talk with him about his interpretation and what the next step is to be.

Dear Dr. Donohue: How old do you have to be to get a nose job? — Mrs. O.T.

You have to be physically old enough so that the bones have stopped growing. That's about 16 for girls and 18 for boys. You have to be psychologically old enough to be able to cope with your new body image produced by the cosmetic changes. You also have to be financially mature enough to afford it, since most health plans do not absorb cost of cosmetic surgery, although some do.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I am 11 years old and very interested in medical terms. This year I went for my physical and my doctor told me I had a halgas valgus on my foot. (A bump on the inside of the foot.) He said it was only a mild case, but sometimes it could be serious enough to conflict with the fitting of shoes. Of course, then you would have to have surgery. Could you explain this term? If you publish an answer could you please spell halgas valgus right? — S.A.

Here it is: hallux valgus. Hallux is the big toe. A hallux valgus is a toe whose tip is turned toward the other toes. This produces a great deal of stress at the base of the toe where it joins the foot, and that can make a bunion form.

Hallux valgus seems to be a modern problem related to shoe-wearing. The condition does not occur in societies where shoes are not worn. So a tight-fitting shoe seems to be the cause of hallux valgus. You should make sure that your shoes fit properly. Don't cramp them into a shoe just to be stylish. Most people with hallux valgus will not have trouble from it. If a bunion forms or if the toe is painful surgery can be considered.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I read your column with great interest. Over the years I have been experiencing leg cramps at night. If they are not too severe I endure them, as they do not last too long. When they get too bothersome I take a quinine capsule. That usually brings relief, and I'm dying to know why — L.K.

Quinine has many effects. The reason it is used for leg cramps is that it soothes irritable muscles that are on the verge of going into a cramp. You can think of it as an internal chemical massage.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple — write to Dr. Donohue, in care of the Big Spring Herald, for a copy of the booklet, "How to Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

Dear Dr. Donohue: When I was in the hospital, they started an I.V. in my right arm. Why in the right arm? It was there for three days straight, and on the third day they took it out and tried to draw blood from the same arm. But every time they tried my arm puffed up. Could you tell me why the arm swelled up when they tried to draw blood? — D.W.

Your right arm was chosen for the I.V. infusion most likely because the vein there was the easiest one to put the needle into. Arms puff up after an attempt at drawing blood because blood has leaked out of the punctured vein.

It is not all that easy to draw blood. There are times when the needle will not stay in the vein long enough to get a sample. The vein can roll away from the needle, or a slight movement can cause the tip of the needle to pass completely through the vein. Blood oozes out, the skin becomes puffy and discolored and a bruise results. The puffiness and bruising will eventually go away. Warm soaks will speed up that process.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Little success

WASHINGTON — When President Carter was casting about for a way to punish Iran for seizing the hostages a year ago, he ordered the Immigration and Naturalization Service to go after Iranian students who were staying illegally in this country. It was an unfortunate choice of weapons.

The INS, for years a budgetary stepchild of the Justice Department, had enough problems already. The Great Iranian Student Chase was an assignment it didn't need.

THE CONFIDENTIAL findings of Rep. Elizabeth Holtzman, D-N.Y., chairman of a House immigration subcommittee, make it apparent that the attempted crackdown on illegal Iranians has hurt the INS more than it has Iran. A special "management review" by a team of experts from the President's Management Improvement Council confirmed that the immigration agency is — to put it bluntly — a bureaucratic nightmare.

From the files of the various investigations, my associate Lucette Lagnado has compiled these disturbing facts:

—INS has spent more than $3.3 million so far in its will-o'-the-wisp search for Iranian students who have no legal right to remain in the United States. Yet after nearly a year, the supposed crackdown is still lumbering along.

—Even though crisis situations are a predictable part of its official workload, INS seems to be institutionally incapable of handling the periodic crises that arise. The agency has not even had simple contingency plans available, and has greeted every special circumstance as if it were a bolt from the blue.

—The recent Cuban refugee influx brought a typically panic-stricken response from INS. Some 800 employees — a substantial proportion of the agency's staff — were thrown willy-nilly into the breach. Because advance contingency plans were lacking, many of these personnel were taken off important assignments.

MOUNTAINS OF PAPERWORK continue to pile up at INS, because it lacks a proper computer system. Instead, it must rely — among other things — on "mini-computers" left over from a botched attempt to automate the agency's files. Each of 39 INS regional offices keeps its own files, with few ways to coordinate information in Washington.

—What information the INS does have is often unreliable. For instance, in the search for deportable Iranian students, it turned out that many of the schools which enroll foreign students had either changed their locations or had gone out of existence. In the Washington, D.C., area alone, 40 percent of the schools were either nonexistent or out of reach.

—Even Iranian diplomats proved difficult to track down. The State Department advised INS that 226 Iranians were no longer entitled to diplomatic status, but to this day, nearly 40 of these bogus diplomats have still not been found. Much of the blame for this lies with Foggy Bottom, which gave the immigration service unreliable information.

Some of INS' problems are its own doing. The investigators concluded, for example, that "inbreeding" — promoting its own employees instead of hiring outside talent — had grown to unhealthy proportions at INS.

Footnote: An INS spokesman admitted that his agency is fraught with problems. He pointed out, however, that INS has always managed to overcome its crises, including the Iranian student search and the influx of Cuban refugees.

TROUBLESOME TWOSOME: Deanne Siemer, the infamous "Dragon Lady" who wreaked havoc with her subordinates at the Defense and Energy Departments, recently resigned after being charged with nepotism. Now her protegee for the past two years, Rick Stone, is in trouble.

On a government-paid trip for DOE, he made a remark critical of Ronald Reagan — a no-no for non-political appointees. The Republicans entered a vehement complaint.

And at the Pentagon — where Siemer brought him in as a consultant when she worked there — investigators found that Stone had made a personal trip at government expense, charged the government for a visit to his fiancée while on official business and occasionally accepted consultant fees for no work.

The case was referred to the FBI, but the Justice Department declined to prosecute. Instead, the Pentagon is trying to recover the money.

MAIL CALL STIFIED: There's a disgraceful footnote to the recent release of 30 Americans held in Cuban jails. U.S. diplomats in Havana refused to let the imprisoned Americans get mail from their families through the diplomatic pouch.

One disgrusted State Department employee noted in a confidential memo that "the pouch may be used to forward shipments from Sears and Montgomery Ward mail order houses to foreign service posts," and added: "I wonder what the reaction of Congress would be if it knew that we were shipping trinkets for the personal use of the (foreign service) officers through the pouch, but denying its use to families of prisoners to forward mail to them."

GOVERNMENT GUN-TOTERS: Some 50,000 employees in 43 federal agencies are authorized to carry guns. The total inventory is 90,000 small arms, and in some agencies there are as many as six guns for each employee authorized to carry them. The wide variety of these personal weapons — 180 different makes and models, compared to only 25 in the entire U.S. military — forces Uncle Sam to employ the equivalent of 24 full-time gunsmiths to service this bureaucratic militia.

Dear Abby

He's Happy and Gay — And Will Stay That Way

DEAR ABBY: I've never seen a problem like mine in your column, but I hope you can advise me. I am in love with a man who by his own admission is a homosexual. He is a very fine person, and we think the world of each other. Abby, I have been in love with him for several years — I don't care if he is a homosexual. He would make a wonderful husband and companion.

Do you think he could ever change and forget about men if he really tried? Maybe I should tell you that he has never encouraged me in a romantic way — never kissed me or even held my hand. He has friends galore, but isn't interested in any particular man.

What are a homosexual's chances for changing? I won't give up unless I am certain it is absolutely hopeless. I can't stop thinking about him. I've never been in love like this before. Please help me.

IN LOVE IN JERSEY

DEAR IN LOVE: A homosexual's chances for changing his sexual preference are zero — unless he is very strongly motivated to change. From what you say, he appears to be perfectly satisfied the way he is. Do yourself (and him) a favor and give up.

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman barber who styles and cuts men's hair in one of the better barber shops.

Abby, you wouldn't believe the number of men who come into this shop with wax in their ears. I've seen wax buildup so thick it's a wonder they can hear. I'm not talking about poor, ignorant people. My clients are intelligent, well-dressed and well-to-do or they couldn't pay the kind of money I charge for a haircut.

I don't have the nerve to tell them. If I did, I'd probably never see them again, and I don't want to lose any clients.

If you have a solution, please print it. I can't be the only barber with this problem.

ANONYMOUS, PLEASE

DEAR ANONYMOUS: Try this on those with the wax buildup: "I once had a client who thought he was going deaf. He went to an ear doctor who examined his ears, then performed a simple ear irrigation to flush out the wax. The painless procedure took less than 10 minutes, after which the patient's hearing was restored immediately." They'll get the hint.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has always been turned off by fat women, so I have kept myself fairly slender and attractive for him. However, he has not returned the favor. Over the last three years he has become grossly overweight. He looks terrible in his clothes, and worse in nothing!

I have tried to tell him in a kind way that he needs to diet and exercise for his health as well as for his appearance, but he couldn't care less.

I love him very much and hate to see what he's doing to himself. He eats constantly — like a pig! He has also lost all his desire for sex, which is just as well, as I'm not exactly yearning for a 250-pound lover.

How do I let this otherwise wonderful man know how I feel without being a nag or hurting our marriage?

WIFE OF FLUBBER

DEAR WIFE: It appears that your husband has already hurt your marriage by neglecting his appearance and losing all desire for sex. You can help him by urging him to get professional help. He needs to find out what's eating him before he can stop eating like a pig.

Regents decide not to return money

EDINBURG, Texas (AP) — Pan American University regents, ignoring advice from the governor's office, have chosen to keep $58,324 which an audit report said should be returned to the state general fund.

The board of regents voted Thursday to use the money for faculty salaries. The governor's office in September said the funds should be returned because the university improperly juggled state and private funds to supplement resident Ralph Schilling's salary.

"My feeling is we've got it behind us now," chairman John Lloyd Bluntzer of Robstown said of the controversy after the meeting.

The board rejected the recommendation from the special audit group of the governor's office in favor of different advice from state auditor George McNeil's office.

"It is our opinion that the board is not under legal obligation to reinstate amounts" to the state, Tim Weaver of the state auditors office wrote Bluntzer.

Neither the governor's office nor the state auditor found evidence of illegality in handling of the funds, they said.

Regent Billie Pickard of Raymondville, who sparked an investigation into the money, said after the meeting that the real issue was the failure of university officials to use private donations for purposes intended by contributors.

"I feel the money should be returned," Mrs. Pickard said. "It's crucial to the university and for the raising of funds for donations that we assure that the money they give will be going for purposes for which it was given."

Mrs. Pickard and two other regents appointed by Republican Gov. Bill Clements voted against keeping the money. The other six board members were appointed by former Gov. Dolph Briscoe, a Democrat, implying that partisan politics were involved in the vote, Mrs. Pickard said.

"I guess it appears that way," she said.

The governor's audit group said in its Sept. 2 report that funds solicited for upgrading the university's business school instead were used to pay supplements to Schilling's salary and for a regents' meeting in Dallas.

"These funds were intended to pay certain business school salaries which were consequently paid by general revenue funds," the audit group said.

However, Bluntzer said he requested a letter from the state auditor on advice from Walter O'Dell, manager of the audit group that issued the critical report.

"The fact that certain faculty salaries were originally budgeted to be paid from the general revenue fund faculty salary appropriation does not constitute a violation of the law, nor does such an action exceed the legitimate scope of the board's authority," the state auditor's office told Bluntzer and the board.

The board meeting in Dallas cost $5,661, including 24 Dallas Cowboy football travel packages at $90 each.

Schilling said that the money was taken from the business school fund because the university account usually used for board expenses and his salary supplement was overdrawn. University presidents frequently receive salary supplements from private sources.

He said $9,000 remains to be repaid to the business school fund as a result of the transfers.

Dallas TV station to feature Texas water problems next week

During the week of Nov. 10 through 14, Channel 8 News at 6 p.m. each evening will feature a segment on water problems, especially this summer's drought. Included in this news feature are the following communities:

Monday — Dallas;
Tuesday — Ft. Worth;
Wednesday — Midland and Big Spring; Thursday — the High Plains; Friday — El Paso.

With communities rationing water and seeking additional supplies, and the water companies such as Ozarka and Arias having a record business in sales, Channel 8 officials felt the water problems which affect the state, both in major cities and small communities, would be of benefit. The problems of future water supplies, especially with such rapid growth in the state, pose a major question.

Hosting these nightly features will be Byron Harris of the Channel 8 News investigative reporters. Channel 8 is based in Dallas as a part of the Communications Center and is owned by the Dallas Morning News. Locally it is viewed on Channel 8. Big Spring is the farthest point west to receive its communications via Cable TV.

Sen. Bentsen tells his staff

Being in minority might be fun

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen sees the stunning Republican victories that will put him in the Senate minority as part of a long-term trend to conservatism. "I think it's a further move to conservatism which was under way and was interrupted because of the (former President Richard) Nixon problems," the Texas Democrat said Thursday in an interview with The Associated Press.

He said he saw polls late last week that indicated Texans would vote for President-elect Ronald Reagan, but he was surprised by the depth of the Republican's victory.

The other cause of President Carter's loss, Bentsen said, was the deep concern about the economy that could be detected across the nation.

"I see Texas as a microcosm of the United States," he said. "It reflects pretty well what the United States did. I don't see that Texas is that much different from the rest of the United States."

Bentsen acknowledged that he is now a member of "the nation's newest minority" — Senate Democrats — but he said the new role might prove to be enjoyable.

He said he told some of his staff members who appeared downcast the day after the election to cheer up because being in the minority might be "kind of fun."

The fun comes from the chance to direct verbal darts and criticism at the party in power instead of defending the program of the moment.

Bentsen added, however, that the nation's problems are of such magnitude that he expects only a serious bipartisan effort will be able to produce solutions.

The senator noted that some Republican candidates had adopted the recommendations of the Joint Economic Committee he chairs.

As head of the JEC for the past two years, Bentsen became a leading spokesman for raising productivity and reindustrializing America.

The chairmanship

alternates every two years between the House and Senate. Bentsen would have become vice chairman in January if Democrats had retained control of the Senate; he now becomes the ranking Senate Democrat on the economic panel.

Bentsen said he expected to remain active on the JEC, and his seat on the Senate Finance Committee would allow him to keep a high profile on economic issues.

visitors to jump back into the contest.

The Hawks eased out to an early advantage in the contest, leading 20-16 at the halfway point of the opening half. From that time on the McMurry team would never regain the lead, although they did threaten on occasion.

Big Randy Corker, a 6'5" forward from Trenton, New Jersey, led the Howard College team from the four point lead midway in the first half to a 46-37 halftime lead, as he pumped in 14 points in the final 10 minutes of the opening en route to his game high 29.

The Howard College team continued to pour it on the opening moments of the second half, scoring the first eight points to increase their advantage to 54-37. At this time, it had the resemblance of being a laugher, but the McMurry team refused to fold.

They gradually narrowed the Howard College margin to 62-57, but Corker and Jones, who had 28 points in the contest, quickly hit back-to-back field goals to move the Hawk lead back to nine.

The lead stayed around this difference for the next few minutes, with McMurry finally rallying to within two at 75-73 on a slam dunk by James Hughes with seven minutes remaining.

But Jones and Walter Hall sank field goals in the next minute to once again give the Hawks a six-point lead, and the teams began trading buckets throughout the remainder of the game.

Defense and rebounding proved to be the key in the final minutes, as Jones tipped in an offensive rebound for a big bucket, with Corker then exciting the home crowd with a gorilla dunk just seconds later with four minutes left to give Wilder's crew a comfortable 87-77 lead.

Other than the scoring of Corker and Jones, sophomores Jeff Faubion and Ron Akins also scored in double figures for the Hawks. Faubion connected for 14 points, most on long range shots while Akins connected for 10 and had numerous rebounds.

Wilder was happy with the first game performance. "We played well in some spurts," he said. "I was encouraged by our rebounding and our overall performance, although we do need to improve. But for an opener, we played well, and McMurry was well organized and gave us a good test."

"The thing that we did best," Wilder continued, "throughout the game was play with intensity on defense. We forced them out of their offense many times."

The Hawks return to action next Tuesday, at which time they will play host along with the Hawk Queens to Cisco Junior College. Cisco is coached by the popular former Big Spring Steer mentor, Tommy Collins.

That has been designated at Big Spring Independent School District night. All students and members of the faculty in Big Spring schools will be admitted to the game free, courtesy of KBST.

3rd, 4th grade All-Stars battle at Bulldog Stadium

Bulldog Stadium in Coahoma will be the site of a Pee-Wee Football League All-Star game Saturday night at 7:30 p.m.

Outstanding members of this year's Pee-Wee League will compete against each other in the affair.

The National League team will be comprised of members of the Coahoma Elementary and Kentwood Elementary, while the American League will consist of members of the Washington and Moss Elementary Schools.

There will be no admission charge to the contest, but donations will be accepted, and will go toward paying for the equipment used to sponsor the football league, which consists of third and fourth graders.

Garden City at Wilson in finale

WILSON — The surprising Garden City Bearkats try to finish off their 1980 football campaign with a big win tonight when they travel to face the Wilson Mustangs in the final District 3-A West Zone game for both schools.

Garden City, after going winless in 1979, comes into tonight's season finale with a district mark of 2-2, and a season record of 3-4-1. Wilson, meanwhile, is 1-3 in district play, and 3-4-1 on the year.

The two appear to match up pretty evenly, although the Bearkats are the younger of the two. "They have a lot of experience," said Bearkat Coach Stu Cooper, "but are not an exceptional team."

OHS must win to set up district title bout with Mojo

Pressure's on Odessa Bronchos in Saturday game with Steers

By NATHAN POSS
Sports Editor

ODESSA — Although neither team currently leads the District 5-AAAAA race, and one hasn't even won a league game, the title could be on the line tomorrow night in Barrett Stadium when the Odessa High Bronchos play host to the Big Spring Steers in an 8:00 p.m. battle.

The Bronchos go into the sixth week of the 5-AAAAA football wars only one game behind league leader Odessa Permian, and a win over the Steers would set up next week's showdown with the mighty Mojo to decide the representative in the state playoffs.

The Bronchos are currently 4-1 in district play and 7-1 on the year, but their wins in 5-AAAAA play haven't win easy.

They opened with a come from behind last second win over Midland Lee by 28-21 before being annihilated by Abilene Cooper 35-7. The OHS crew rebounded to decision San Angelo 22-14, and since then have topped Abilene 20-12 and Midland 25-21.

And even though their league wins haven't been easy, most aren't expecting a Big Spring triumph tomorrow night, especially one of the people that would love a Steer win the most, Permian Coach John Wilkins.

"It's all going to come down to our game with Odessa High," the Permian mentor noted after his team won their eighth straight game last week against Midland Lee. "They're not going to lose to Big Spring, and then it doesn't matter whether we win or not against San Angelo." The Bronchos basic strength is a high powered offense, and that is something that beat up Big Spring team hasn't had much success with in recent weeks.

After starting out the year in very successful fashion, the very young Big Spring team of Coach Ralph Harris has seen their defense regress in recent weeks.

"We have not been fundamentally sound on defense in the past few weeks," Harris said. "And we better get back to where we need to, too, or Odessa will blow us out the same way that Cooper and Permian did."

But Harris takes much of the blame for the Big Spring defensive showing in the 42-13 loss to Cooper last week. "We set out defense up to stop their passing game," he explained, "but the point of the matter is that they had come out running against everyone, although they do have an excellent passing game. We just didn't take care of first things first."

And although Odessa has shown some ability to pass the ball deep, it is the Bronchos running game that scares Harris.

"They have the best running game statistic wise in the district," Harris said. "And they do it with the big plays. They don't do it with one person either, but four or five. They just peck away, then explode."

"That's much like us," the Steer mentor continued, "except that they've been more consistent with their offense."

It is obvious that the OHS team hasn't overpowered anyone in 5-AAAAA play, but that's what makes their record even more impressive.

"They are very comparable to most of the rest of the teams," Harris stated. "The only difference is that they do what they have to in order to win. And that's what makes them in the district race at this point of the season."

Heading the Broncho backfield is quarterback Johnny Subia, but he has plenty of help in the form of fullback Greg Adams and halfbacks Dwayne Conklin and Junior Cobos.

"Adams is a real good inside runner," Harris noted, "and Subia is just an outstanding athlete. He presents a real threat on the rollout either running or passing, and he does a great job of ad-libbing."

The Odessa defense is not statistically one of the better teams around 5-AAAAA, but they have played well enough to win seven games in eight outings thus far.

"They've given up a lot of yardage," Harris explained, "but not many points. They have succeeded so far because the other teams have been impatient."

Heading that OHS defense is nose guard Ruben Acosta, a 185-pound senior who utilizes his quickness to create havoc on the opposition.

"He is just a fine, fine player," Harris said of Acosta. "We've got to block him in order to have some success against their defense."

In order for the Steers to have a chance at upsetting the Bronchos and salvaging some respect around the 5-AAAAA circles, the Steer defense must improve as much as the offense has in the last few weeks.

Big Spring's running game, with the junior backfield of quarterback Tracy Spence and running backs Bobby Earl Williams and Richard Evans, moved for 266 yards against Abilene Cooper last week. But their must be more point production.

"Tracy Spence is finally coming into his own as far as making the proper decisions on running the option attack," the Steer mentor noted. "All of our backs are running hard, and there is no question that Williams and Evans have the ability to break a long one on any time."

Many see the Bronchos as approaching this game in two ways.

The first is that they will be playing extra tough in order that their match with Permian next week is for all of the marbles.

The second is that they will already be looking past Big Spring to Permian, and in the process forget about corraling Williams, Evans, and the rest of the young Big Spring team.

But one thing's for sure about the scrappy Broncho team. Even though they have won by the slimmest of margins thus far, they are good, as Harris explained.

"It can be luck once, but not when it happens four or five times."

Runnels explodes by Pecos

After Tommy Gartman ran the kickoff back 30 yards to the 41, the Yearlings marched 59 yards in 10 plays to tie the game on a one-yard run by Arthur Jackson with 3:30 left in the third quarter. Gartman then ran for the two-point conversion and an 8-6 Runnels lead.

The final quarter was a wild one, but it was all positive for the Yearlings. Things started happening when the Yearlings recovered a fumble on the Pecos 16.

On the next play, Jackson raced in from the 16, and the Runnels team had a 14-6 lead with just over four minutes left in the game.

In the final minute, a Runnels rush partially blocked a Pecos kick, with the ball rolling out of bounds only 25 yards from paydirt for the Yearlings.

Erhardt says New England must force Oiler passes

FOXBORO, Mass. (AP) — New England Coach Ron Erhardt figures a good thing to do when facing the top rushing team in the American Football Conference is get it to pass.

He's hoping the Patriots can put the Houston Oilers in throwing situations early and often when the division leaders meet in Monday night's National Football League game in Houston.

That might make NFL rushing leader Earl Campbell, who has rolled up 740 yards in his last four games, less of a factor.

"People who have stopped him have scored early and made them do what they don't want to do," Erhardt said Thursday. "You try to get them where it's second (down) and seven (yards to go) and maybe they have to put it up a little."

But even that is no guarantee of success against Houston, since Ken Stabler, a consistent short-yardage passer, is the quarterback. He has completed 64.7 percent of his passes this season.

First down crucial for Pats

"He's nipping you when he has to," Erhardt said. New England, a slight underdog, will go into the game in sole possession of first place in the AFC East with a 7-2 record. Houston and Cleveland are tied for the AFC Central lead at 6-3.

With veterans Dave Casper, Leon Gray and Bob Young anchoring the left side of Houston's offensive line, Erhardt figures 75 percent of the Oilers' running plays have gone that way.

"You're going to work hard on that side (to stop the runs)," said Erhardt. "but you can't be lulled to sleep. They can just turn around and throw it the other way."

"The thing that is very disturbing that you have to take a real good look at is third (down) and short (yardage). The guy (Campbell) has really broken big plays on that."

New England's defense, rated third in the AFC, will try to prevent that. Houston's defense has done even better, having given up fewer yards than any other AFC team with the help of the conference's stingiest rushing defense.

Baylor, Hogs try rebound route

Goliad ends year with win over Sweetwater

SWEETWATER — Goliad Junior High ended the football season on a successful note, as the Black (A) team scored a 12-8 win over Sweetwater, while the White (B) team rallied for an exciting 6-6 tie.

The Black team used scoring runs of 27 and 67 yards by Robert Garcia to score their touchdowns in the contest.

Opening holes for Garcia and running back David Shortes were linemen Collin Carroll, Ricky Porras, Randy Ramirez, Luis Puga, Henry Yzanganie and Scott McKinney.

The Goliad Black team defense played a most integral part in the win, limiting Sweetwater to only three first downs and 60 yards total offense. The defense was spearheaded by Mike Dodd, Shortes, Brian Reid, Stacey Kilgore and Kim Anding.

The Goliad White team saved all of their excitement for the final seconds in their tie with Sweetwater.

After a scoreless game for over three quarters, Sweetwater broke the ice with only 1:25 remaining on a six-yard run.

Goliad couldn't move on their ensuing possession, and Sweetwater took over. But a vicious hit by defender Pete Baeza was recovered by Goliad's John Ramirez, and the rally was on.

On Goliad's first offensive play following the turnover, Ramirez found daylight and ran 21 yards to paydirt to tie the game. But the PAT run fell just inches short, leaving the two teams tied in the contest.

Ramirez's run was his second long one of the day, but the only one that counted. He had run 75 yards for an apparent touchdown which was called back.

Defenders drawing the praise of Coach John Velazquez were Baeza, Ramirez, Todd Badgett, Ray Marguez, Jose Hilario, Jason Jiles, Shannon Turnbow, Bobby Madigan, Hugo Hernandez, Miguel Arenivaz, Brian Averette, Travis Riley, Mike Lang and Manuel Dominguez.

Ramirez had 95 yards rushing for the Mavericks, while Hernandez was the reception leader with two for 45 yards. Excellent blocking was exhibited by Robert Smiley, Alex Franco, Billy Earnest, Marquez and Frankie Pennington.

disappointment of losing the dream of an unbeaten season at the hands of the Spartans on homecoming?

Can the crippled Razorbacks, their team decimated by injuries and still in deep shock from a fourth quarter blitz last weekend by Rice, somehow maintain a jinx that has seen them win every other year since 1963 in waco?

It's daytime. It's on television. It has paths. Move over soap operas.

Baylor was rated a six-point favorite over the Razorbacks for the 11:30 a.m. regionally televised meeting. The Baptists scheduled their annual homecoming parade for 8 a.m. after the game was moved to the morning hours from the regular 2 p.m. kickoff.

Arkansas Coach Lou Holtz is worried whether his Hogs can bounce back from the loss to Rice where they were bombed silly in the fourth period by Randy Hertel.

"It'll be a while before we get over the loss to Rice," said Holtz. "The loss has to take a lot out of us."

He added "When Baylor sees the films of our fourth quarter against Rice, they'll probably have the quarterback's arm in hot water to get him ready for us."

The body the arm will rest upon is of some question in the Baylor camp. Quarterbacks Jay Jeffrey and Mike Brannan had subpar days against San Jose State in the 31-22 loss that knocked the Bears out of the unbeaten ranks. Jeffrey was expected to start.

"We will reevaluate everything," said Baylor Coach Grant Teaff.

"But you can't pin our loss on just one area. In fact, I thought I did a poor job of coaching. It's the most disappointing loss I've had since I've been at Baylor."

Baylor can move within one game of clinching an SWC co-championship and a Cotton Bowl berth with a victory.

A Baylor win coupled with a Texas victory over Houston in their game at Austin would give the Bears a two-game lead over the SWC field with two games to play. Baylor plays Rice and Texas to closeout the season.

In other games this weekend, Texas was a two-point pick over Houston, Southern Methodist was a seven point nod over Rice in Houston, and Texas Tech was an eight point favorite over Texas Christian in Fort Worth.

The Bowls will be out in full force scouting SWC teams. The Holiday Bowl in San Diego will scout SMU for the second consecutive week.

Texas will be trying to snap a two-game conference losing streak, something that has never happened before to Coach Fred Akers.

Their (the Cougars) defensive unit is the most solid I've seen in four years here," said Akers.

Houston has lost its only conference game to Baylor.

Tex Cobb faces slim Norton tonight

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Former World Boxing Council heavyweight champion Ken Norton trimmed off 35 pounds for tonight's bout with undefeated Randall "Tex" Cobb at HemisFair Arena.

Norton, 35, tipped the scales at 218 pounds and Cobb was at 226 1/4 at Thursday's weigh-in.

Norton lost one pound for each year of his age that he had gained during a 16-month retirement and Cobb had gained slightly over a pound since his last fight.

Norton brings a 41-6-1 professional record, including 33 knockouts, into the fight with Cobb, 23, the 9th ranked WBC heavyweight who boasts 16 knockouts in 17 victories.

The 8 p.m. fight card at HemisFair Arena was assembled by Muhammad Ali Professional Sports and is being carried live by the Cox Cable paid television network in about 50 cities.

Klondike warms up for district championship in game vs. Sands

KLONDIKE — It will be a season ending game for the Sands Mustangs tonight, but only a warm-up for next week's district championship game for the Klondike

Cougars when the two nearby communities square off tonight at 8:00 p.m.

The contest will be the final one for both teams in District 3-A West zone action. Klondike comes into the game with a zone mark of 4-0, and sports a season record of 8-1. They have already clinched a spot in the district title game next week against the East Zone champion Roby. That contest will probably be played in Sweetwater.

Sands has proven to be one of the most unpredictable high school teams around. They come into the game with a record of 3-5-1, and a district mark of 2-2. It is the best football record that Sands has had in recent years.

Forsan, Morton meet in pride game

MORTON — The Forsan Buffaloes will be trying to win a year of frustration tonight when they visit the Morton Indians in a District 5-A contest.

Neither team has a shot at the district title, so tonight's game will be for the old pride. Morton comes into the game with a league mark of 2-3 and a season record of 3-6, while the Forsan squad has not won in four league outings, and has a season record of 1-7.

Forsan should be well rested for the game, as they had their open date last Friday night. Morton, meanwhile, suffered a 45-7 loss.

BORN TO RUN FARTHER ON A GALLON OF GAS THAN ANY OTHER CAR.

THE VERY NEW TOYOTA STARLET.

The 1981 Toyota Starlet just may be the first small wonder of the world. Because Starlet represents the culmination of years and years of planning, honing and refining. Born small, Starlet is an automobile capable of solving tomorrow's big problems.

THE HIGHEST GAS MILEAGE CAR IN AMERICA

EPA EST. MPG. EPA EST. HWY. MPG.

Performance proven in races and rallies around the world. With millions of passenger-driven miles, the Starlet's proven power plant could be the most reliable, most dependable Toyota engine ever.

The 1981 Toyota Starlet. The newest, smallest, most wondrous Toyota of all. And maybe, the first small wonder of the world.

Starlet... a small wonder. According to the latest EPA mileage figures, Starlet goes farther on a gallon of gas than any other car you can buy. Rated at 39 EPA Estimated MPG., 54 EPA Estimated Highway MPG.*

Helping to squeeze all those miles out of every single gallon are such standard features as a miserly 1.3 liter engine, an ultra smooth 5-speed manual over-drive transmission, incredibly efficient gear ratios, electronic ignition system and steel-belted radial tires.

Born small and designed to help beat tomorrow's higher maintenance costs.

The new Starlet is designed and built from Toyota's most proven parts and technology.

OH WHAT A FEELING TOYOTA

STARLET

*Remember: Compare this EPA estimate to the EPA Estimated MPG of other gasoline-powered cars with manual transmissions. You may get different mileage depending on how fast you drive, weather conditions and trip length. Actual highway mileage will probably be less than the EPA Highway Estimate.

The Background Of Integrity

There are millions of men in this world whose word is trusted—whose handshake is a binding contract—whose integrity others accept without question.

We've come a long way from the days when a strong man and a stout club were the social graces.

And this growth in man's capacity for integrity has paralleled his growth in religious expression.

Of course, the cynics will point to men and nations who still live by the code of the cave man. Must we believe that the clock of progress has turned... is running backward?

The sound, the sensible, the sincere still feel the strength of God's Bible in every handshake. With their children they are finding new spiritual opportunity and hope in the churches they cherish.

Are you with them? Are you, too, pushing forward the frontiers of faith?

According to California attorney general Government's power to supervise religion limited

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The state attorney general's decision to withdraw suits alleging misuse of church funds is a signal to other states that there are limits to a government's power to supervise religion, say those who count California's decision as a victory.

"We may have to live with what a great majority of citizens might consider bizarre religious activities, but in our opinion, that's a lesser evil than opening in the least the road to regulation of religious activity by the state," said William Ellis of Seattle, an executive member of the Center for Law and Religious Freedom.

The Oak Park, Ill.-based organization, the American Civil Liberties Union, and a dozen other religious and civil liberties groups had joined forces opposing the attorney general in the suit he had brought against the Worldwide Church of God, based in Pasadena.

Of three active cases and eight pending cases California Attorney General

George Deukmejian said he was dropping, the best known was that of the Worldwide Church of God. To find out if church leaders misused funds for their personal gain, the state asked a court to appoint a receiver, who moved into the church offices with the aid of sheriff's deputies, changed locks, fired ministers and ordered donations to be sent to him.

Such actions coalesced "a strange mixture of bed-fellows on the side of the church and against the state," said Ellis, even though many of the organizations disavowed any affection for the Worldwide Church of God's theology and practices.

The attorney general's suits were based on an interpretation of the state's corporations code, which gives the attorney general the right to supervise non-profit corporations, including charitable trusts. The dispute came over whether churches are charitable trusts.

The Faith Center Church in Glendale refused to honor the state's subpoena of its records. The attorney general kept winning court decisions and the California Supreme Court was scheduled to make a decision within weeks on whether it would hear the case.

While the cases went 'Crimson Bridge' concert

Women's Aglow Fellowship sponsors the "Crimson Bridge" concert Nov. 14 at the Howard College Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

The group is composed of the Glen Patton Family and has been singing in and around the West Texas area for almost seven years.

The family consists of Glenn, his wife, Gloria, their daughters, Millie, 14, and Melinda, 9, and their son, Dale.

New luxury in Sullivan County

FORESTBURG, N.Y. (AP) — An era has come to an end in Sullivan County.

At the turn of the century, residents of this town who attended meetings at their old town hall had to use an outhouse at the back of the building when discussions dragged on too long.

through the courts, and the churches claimed that the attorney general's interpretation of the law was in error, the law changed. Last Jan. 1, a new law went into effect that clearly put religious groups under the supervision of the attorney general.

State Sen. Nicholas Petris, D-Oakland, sponsored a bill repealing that section of the code and Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. signed it.

Deukmejian said he was bowing to legislative intent by pulling out of the Worldwide Church of God.

Prophecy seminar set

Modern day events cause many to question, what will happen next? Bible Prophecy reveals many answers and beginning Sunday through Thursday, Rev. Hobart Casteel of Montclair, Ca. will be conducting a prophetic seminar at Evangel Temple Assembly of God where the Rev. Terry Wilson is pastor. The church is located at 2205 Goliad.

Rev. Casteel will be sharing with the people of Evangel Temple some of the amazing prophecies of the Word of God, which are being fulfilled now, and other prophecies which will soon take place.

Rev. Casteel teaches from a 5 1/2 feet by 30 feet artistic chart which depicts the dispensational truths of the Bible. Every service, time will be allotted for asking of questions. Everyone is invited to attend. There is no registration or tuition fee for this seminar.

Rev. Casteel is an ordained minister of the Assemblies of God. He received his Bible training at the Shiloh Bible Institute in Zion, Illinois. He is well known in several Pentecostal organizations. He has ministered throughout the United States. His teaching is simple yet profound. The ardent student of the Bible and the youngster equally receives instruction and edification from his teaching.

Service time is 8:30 p.m. Sunday and 7:00 p.m. week nights.

Faith Center and Synanon cases, and dropping probes of nine other churches, including Van Nuys Baptist Church, Lincoln Avenue Church of Christ in Pasadena, Fresno Church of the Living Word and Church of our Savior-Lutheran in Bakersfield.

The Synanon case involved charges that the drug rehabilitation center solicited money for charity and used it for weapons. Synanon leaders declared last year that Synanon's principle function is now religious.

It is these questions of what is a church and what isn't, and how much bizarre behavior by religious groups can be tolerated in a society committed to religious freedom that indicate the conflict between church and state is not over. The urge to regulate religious groups arose after the Jonestown, Guyana, murder-suicide of 940 followers of the Rev. Jim Jones, says Lyn Buzzard, executive director of the Christian Legal Society.

"People said there ought to be some way of stopping things like that. But the Peoples Temple was one of the most registered and checked-out groups there are," said Buzzard. He acknowledged the state has a duty to determine if a group is a religion for tax-exempt status, and he predicted the next battle will be over Internal Revenue Service decisions. As for fraud and misuse of funds, Buzzard said there are remedies for that in criminal codes.

CHURCH SANCTION AGAINST GALILEO MAY BE LIFTED — The Vatican announced Wednesday it will reopen the case of Galileo Galilei, the 16th century Italian scientist condemned by the Roman Catholic Church for defending his theory that the sun — not the earth as believed at the time — was "at the center of the universe and does not move." The action being taken is the "precise wish" of Pope John Paul II and comes a year after the pope said the scientist was "wrongly" condemned by the church.

Altar Society convenes

The Immaculate Heart of Mary Altar Society met at the school cafeteria following a 7 p.m. mass conducted by Father Bernard Guiley. There were 13 members present and three guests. The guests were, Sister Lucy Keane, principal of Immaculate Heart of Mary School, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fendrich. Mr. Fendrich is a Tutorial Instructor with the South West Collegiate Institute for the Deaf. He talked to the group on ways of communication with the deaf people and the careers deaf people can and cannot attain. He told them about use of the telephone, door bells, driving cars and how they are awoken in the morning. During the business meeting it was decided to amend the by-laws to include the immediate past president as a member of the executive committee. The

WCG meets to hear legend

The WCG met Monday, Nov. 3 at the church for its regular meeting.

Rev. Bob McCray, pastor, was guest speaker and brought a scriptural story of Thanksgiving for the group. As the legend goes, two angels carrying baskets which were marked "Petitions" and "Thanksgiving" ascended to heaven where they were met by God. The petition's basket was filled, while the Thanksgiving basket was very skippy. It was difficult to answer God's question — "Where is the gratitude of my people?" Scriptures used by Kathryn Thomas during the worship were Psalms 103:2, 92:1. The speaker encouraged each one to re-read Psalms and be mindful of all our blessings of Thanksgiving.

Susan Wood played a melody of Thanksgiving hymns preceding a time of Thanksgiving expressions from the group.

The following committees were appointed by Hettie Minix during the business session. Nominating Committee: Jean McCray, Betty Reagan, and Susan Wood. Budget Committee: Arah Phillips, Cordelia Castle, and Nelda Reagan.

The group approved a motion to send $100.00 to the Church Extension and Home Missions of the Church of God, Inc. towards the Hawaiian Parsonage Fund.

Plans were finalized for a carport sale on Nov. 6, and a bake sale for Nov. 20-21. Both will be held at the Jack & Jill School, 1708 Nolan.

The next meeting will be Dec. 1 at the church where plans will be finalized for the Christmas dinner and program, and for the receiving of Christ's Birthday Offering for Missions on Sunday, Dec. 21.

He is known as an evangelist who is interestingly different, unique in his presentation of the claims of the Gospel. He has conducted successful revivals in almost every state of the Union. His services are requested for summer camp meetings, youth institutes, and holiness conventions. Each evening, Mr. Smith features the reading of several of his poems preceding his message. His sermons are spiced with native humor, yet present an urgent plea for men to turn to Christ.

Smith has been a commissioned evangelist in the Church of the Nazarene since 1940. He now lives in Bethany, Okla., but was born and reared in the state of Arkansas. He attended Bethany Nazarene College,

Ma Bell to hike rates

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Southwestern Bell will impose an interim telephone rate hike next week, but the temporary charges will amount to less than half the permanent increase the company has requested, a company official said.

The company has indicated it will exercise its option to institute interim rates because prolonged hearings have delayed a Public Utility Commission decision on its proposed $326.3 million increase past statutory deadlines.

Under the law, Bell can impose the interim rates as long as it assures it will make refunds to its customers should the temporary rates exceed the charges ultimately approved by the commission.

IN WITH THE NEW — A wax model of President-elect Ronald Reagan is put into position in the Great Hall at the Madame Tussaud wax works in London Wednesday, displacing the President Carter model, right, which will now be stored in the Tussaud storeroom at Wokey Hole in Somerset. The Reagan model was made from photographs by sculptor John Robinson. A sitting with Reagan will be requested by Tussaud's.

Carter will get pension

WASHINGTON (AP) — When President Carter leaves office next Jan. 20, he will receive a $69,630 annual pension, a share in $1 million for administrative help in winding up his affairs, $150,000 a year for office staff, and Secret Service protection for life.

The president's annual pension, which is the same as a Cabinet officer's salary, will increase as Cabinet salaries rise.

Bill Nichols, general counsel of the Office of Management and Budget, said Carter and Vice President Walter F. Mondale will share up to $1 million for six months for expenses in finishing their official business. The money has been authorized by Congress and probably will be appropriated when the House and Senate return next week for their post-election session, he said.

In addition, for the first 30 months after his presidency ends, Carter is entitled to $150,000 a year for staff help. After 30 months, that decreases to $96,000 a year.
