On hostage standoff

Christopher may give next response

WASHINGTON (AP) — As Islamic militants deny reports that they have turned the American hostages over to the Iranian government, the State Department says its No. 2 man may return to Algeria soon with the next U.S. response to Iran's demands for ending the 13-month standoff. Spokesman John H. Trattner held out the possibility of a return trip by Deputy Secretary of State Warren Christopher after two days of talks with Algerian intermediaries ended Thursday apparently without bringing the 52 hostages any closer to freedom. Christopher flew to Algeria earlier this month to deliver the first U.S. response to Iran's four conditions for releasing the Americans. Meanwhile, one of the Islamic militants occupying the U.S. Embassy in Tehran denied today news reports that the 49 hostages held in the embassy had been delivered to the Iranian government.

"We have not delivered the hostages to the government yet, and when we do we will issue a statement announcing it," said the militant, who was reached by telephone from Beirut, Lebanon.

Both CBS and NBC quoted foreign sources Thursday night as saying the Iranian government has taken custody of the hostages from the militants who seized them Nov. 4, 1979. Three of the hostages are being held in the Foreign Ministry.

CBS, quoting "usually reliable sources," said most of the hostages have been moved from the U.S. Embassy to Tehran's Evin Prison, which once held some of the late Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi's foes.

NBC said the militants at the embassy claim they no longer are involved in the hostage matter.

Iranian government sources denied that a hostage transfer had taken place, and State Department duty officer Sondra McCarty said U.S. officials had "nothing to confirm that the (Iranian) government has taken over responsibility for them."

Trattner said such a move "would be helpful," but he emphasized that there is no sign the hostages will be released in the near future and said he is neither optimistic nor pessimistic at this point.

"We're just beginning a process that we hope will result in the release of the hostages, and at the beginning of a process like that it's not advisable to project any kind of feelings of up or down," he said.

Trattner said the clarification requested by the Iranians was at least more than a demand for a yes-or-no answer to their conditions.

"I would like to steer you away from assuming there is a yes-or-no situation existing here," he said. "All the signs indicate that it is rather the other way."

Trattner said the next step is for the United States to respond to the Iranian demands for clarifications.

Those responses presumably would be contained in any message Christopher might take to Algeria for delivery to the Iranians.

The conditions set by the Iranian Parliament on Nov. 2 were return of the wealth of the late shah, dismissal of U.S. legal claims against Iran, a pledge of U.S. non-interference in Iranian affairs and release of more than $8 billion in frozen Iranian assets in this country.

SNOW LINGERS IN AREA — The bright sunshine which was visited upon the Big Spring area Wednesday and Thursday failed to make much of a dent in some of the snowbanks created by a snow storm which hit the area Tuesday. This is a scene taken on a country road south of Big Spring.

Union halts strike in Poland

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Poland's largest independent trade union called off a strike readiness alert at Warsaw-area plants today after workers at a steel mill heeded an appeal by union leader Lech Walesa and ended their strike.

Walesa, clearly upset over the labor movement's frequent use of strikes and their use in support of political demands, told a rally of 10,000 workers that "rockets and tanks" could be the response to a serious confrontation in this Soviet bloc nation.

The end of the half-day strike at Huta Warszawa and cancellation of the strike alert appeared to have ended a labor crisis that erupted over the arrest of a union worker and once threatened to trigger a general strike around Warsaw.

Workers at Huta Warszawa began returning to their jobs at 6 a.m., some three hours after they agreed to end the strike during a series of meetings at the plant and deliberations with senior government officials.

Walesa, who led the August strikes along the Polish coast in which the independent labor movement was born, flew to Warsaw from Gdansk to take part in deliberations at the plant.

Walesa reminded workers that the government could send in troops or police to operate factories and rail service in an emergency.

He said the response to a serious confrontation might be "rockets and tanks... If we have some power, let's not risk it. This is a step toward confrontation."

He pledged to support the workers at Huta Warszawa if they decided to continue their strike.

Solidarity strikes at six other Warsaw plants and plans for walkouts in other factories were called off Thursday when the government released two men arrested in connection with a classified government document found by police in the union's Warsaw office.

The union called off the general strike an hour before it was to have begun after police freed the two. But charges against them were not dropped, and they still face prosecution.

The strike had continued at the Huta Warszawa steel plant to back up the union's demands for an investigation of police actions during labor unrest in 1970 and 1976, limits on the budgets of the police and the state prosecutor and the release of four men charged with "anti-socialist" crimes.

Deputy Premier Mieczyslaw Jagielski told the president of Solidarity's Warsaw chapter, Zbigniew Bujak, he would meet union officials next week.

Reno woman held for murder after car kills 5, hurts 27

RENO, Nev. (AP) — A Reno woman was being held on $500,000 bond today for investigation of murder after a blue Lincoln sped down a crowded sidewalk on the city's gambling strip, sending holiday strollers diving for cover and leaving behind five mangled bodies, police said.

Police said 27 people were injured, some of them apparently seriously, in the Thanksgiving Day incident on South Virginia Street.

"She came right at us; she came right at us with a body still on the hood of the car, and she looked like she was looking for somebody else to hit," said a weeping Marty Edmundson of Reno.

The car hit a cab in front of Harold's Club with such force that its windows shattered. The car twisted street signs, crushed newspaper vending boxes and knocked over a fire call box as it careened down an entire city block, according to authorities.

The car carried one woman on its hood the length of the next block, police said.

The dead and injured littered the bloody sidewalk along the glittering strip as rescue workers frantically administered aid.

Casinos along the strip stayed open.

Booked on five counts of open murder and 21 counts of attempted murder was Priscilla J. Ford, 51, of Reno, said police Lt. Richard Kirkland. He said she was arrested without incident after the car she was driving halted at a traffic jam at an intersection.

Police estimated the sidewalk had been crowded by 1,000 people, some of whom dove for cover behind cars and into casinos during the incident.

"She must have been going 80... right smack through everybody," said Patty McClain of Hayward, Calif.

Kirkland said the car was traveling at a "very high rate of speed."

"We're not calling it an accident," said Kirkland, declining to discuss a possible motive. He called the incident "a major criminal case."

"We may never know why," said police Capt. Don McKillip of a possible motive.

Killed were Jolene Cranmer, 20, of Horseheads, N.Y.; Paul A. Nitzel, 73, Sunnyvale, Calif.; Josephine A. Starkey, 50, Sparks; Iva Brittan, 80, Reno; and John Koschella, 60, Reno, authorities said.

Nine people were admitted to Washoe Medical Center for treatment, and 11 were admitted to St. Mary's Hospital, officials said. Condition reports were not immediately available, but some of those injured were said to be seriously hurt.

Four people taken to hospitals were treated and released.

Ms. Ford was taken to Washoe Medical Center for a blood test, booked at the city jail, then taken back to the hospital for additional tests, police said.

There were no reports that she was injured.

Police said Ms. Ford was a gift wrapper at Macy's department store in Reno.

A co-worker said Ms. Ford lived in Reno seven years ago, but left after her 11-year-old daughter was "kidnapped." The co-worker, who declined to be identified, said Ms. Ford did not believe she was getting enough help from authorities in finding her daughter and returned to Reno from Maine about three weeks ago.

Another Macy's employee said the daughter was in a juvenile detention facility. A spokesman for the facility declined comment and there was no immediate comment from police.

Local Salvation Army post starting Christmas Fund

The local Salvation Army post, following a custom of many years, is starting a Christmas Fund to insure that needy families will not go hungry at Christmas time and underprivileged children will get toys.

Checks in any amount will be accepted for the fund. They can be forwarded either to Lt. Bill Thrasher of the Salvation Army or to the Herald, which will help coordinate the drive.

The food baskets paid for out of the fund will be delivered a few days before Christmas.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, Texas Democrat, recently introduced a joint resolution into the Congressional Record which, in effect, recognized the efforts of the Salvation Army to pitch in and help during any kind of an emergency.

Sen. Bentsen's resolution drew attention to the fact that the Salvation Army is starting its 100th year of service in America and he asked President Carter to thank the agency "for a job well done."

The Salvation Army assisted 30 million people last year, using more than 414,000 members and 580,000 volunteers.

Bentsen said that if these people were on the government pay roll at an average of $10,000 a year, tax payers would see the budget jump by nearly $10 billion per year. "Add to this the cost of these goods and service and we can see just how valuable the Salvation Army is," Bentsen's resolution continued.

Today was officially proclaimed Salvation Army Day by Mr. Carter, in responding to Bentsen's request.

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Bacteria in food

Q. At what temperatures does bacteria in food multiply the fastest?
A. Between 45 and 140 degrees Fahrenheit. For that reason, food should be kept colder than 45 degrees or hotter than 140 degrees. Keeping food just barely cool or warm doesn't help at all. For safety's sake, foods should be served soon after cooking and then refrigerated promptly.

Health researchers help

ATLANTA (AP) — Health researchers are stepping in where detectives have failed in an effort to solve the deaths and disappearances of 15 black children in Atlanta.

The researchers, from the Fulton County Health Department and the national Center for Disease Control, will meet Monday with police to try to find a common thread among the cases of the 11 slain children and the four missing ones, officials said.

Officials did not elaborate on the techniques the medical sleuths might use. Police have been stumped by the case.

Heavy rains hinder earthquake survivors

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — "We don't need food or medicine... We need coffins. There isn't anybody left alive," said a volunteer relief worker as heavy rainstorms and the threat of snow added to the misery of an estimated 300,000 homeless survivors of the earthquake in the Naples-Salerno area.

There were reports a "coffin racket" was thriving in the town of Lioni, east of Naples, and the head of rescue operations, Giuseppe Zamberletti, said people from other regions were trying to sell coffins for as much as $1,800 apiece.

Government tallies of the casualties in Europe's worst quake in 65 years ranged from 3,496 dead and missing to 4,468, with 7,751 injured reported. The state radio said 27 survivors were pulled from the rubble Thursday, four days after the quake Sunday. Among them were three doctors buried in the ruins of the hospital at San Angelo dei Lombardi.

Zamberletti asked the government to provide 3,500 railroad cars to house quake survivors sleeping in tents or in the open. The government asked owners of campers to lend them for use in the quake zone.

Column after column of relief supplies and personnel poured down the autostrada from northern Italy. But narrow roads, mud and debris from the quake slowed them down when they set out for the isolated villages in the mountainous quake zone.

About 150 villagers demanding food, tents and other supplies sat on the railroad tracks at the station in Angri, south of Naples, and blocked all trains to and from Sicily.

"We have a thousand people without roofs. We're sleeping in the open air. We haven't eaten in two days," said the mayor of Friguento, in Avellino, the hardest hit province.

An elementary school in Salerno was crowded by survivors seeking shelter from the rain. Some families were camped in three unused trains on a siding in Naples. Others huddled in cars.

U.S. paratroopers spent Thanksgiving teaching Italian soldiers how to put up 1,000 U.S. Army tents flown down from West Germany. Another shipment of 1,000 was on the way.

Criticism of Premier Arnaldo Forlani's government increased. It fired its representative in Avellino, but Forlani refused to accept the resignation of Interior Minister Virginio Rognoni, who offered to quit Wednesday to appease the critics.

CISCO — Members of the Cisco city council have voted to close the office of Mayor Roy Cartee.

Cartee declined the chance to comment on the council's decision but a spokesman for Cisco's newly organized Citizens for Better Government said council members claimed that Cartee was interfering with city workers.

Councilman Bill Eddy said that the City Charter does not authorize an office in City Hall for the mayor. Cartee was elected to the office last April.

Eddy said that Cartee was "trying to be the top dog" by attempting to do the city manager's job.

DPS trooper accidentally shot Ector County deputy

ODESSA, Texas (AP) — A Department of Public Safety trooper accidentally wounded an Ector County sheriff's deputy during a high-speed chase Thursday night, a DPS spokesman said.

DPS Maj. Ira Dees confirmed Friday that a trooper hit Deputy Cliff Davis at least once with a shotgun blast during the hour-long chase.

Davis remained hospitalized in stable condition today with wounds in the chest, buttocks, knee and calf.

Davis and other officers began pursuing the vehicle on U.S. Highway 385 about 11:20 p.m., after receiving a report of a drunken driver, a sheriff's spokesman said.

The car turned around several times at speeds up to 80 mph and led officers back and forth on the highway, said DPS Sgt. Keith Morris.

"We're not sure exactly how it (the shooting) happened," he added.

A deputy said he saw a woman passenger in the car trying to climb out a window and "it was believed to be a rape or kidnap situation."

Man arrested on pot charge

Morris said. The woman was unharmed, and Morris said her statement later convinced authorities she had not been raped or kidnaped.

The 18-year-old driver of the car was arrested, but has not been charged.

A man was arrested and charged Thursday for being intoxicated and possessing under two ounces of marijuana Thursday. Members of the Howard County Sheriff's department arrested the man in a blue van seven miles north of highway 87.

In other activities in the county, deputies corralled horses loose on the intersection of FM 700 and FM 350 Thursday evening. Loose livestock was also reported to the department on north FM 700 near Corbell Electrical Co.

Two dogs running loose were reported by Felipe Ramirez, county road 28. Ramirez told sheriff's deputies that the dogs were killing his livestock.

'Devil winds' subside; fires being brought under control

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — While capricious "devil winds" subsided, firefighters took to the air with water tankers and battled flames on doorsteps as they began to turn the tide in the fight against blazes that have scorched 80,000 acres.

"Overall, it is looking pretty optimistic," Joanna Guttman of the U.S. Forest Service said Thursday.

Four people have been killed and 319 buildings damaged or destroyed since the rash of fires, one of the worst in Southern California history, began Monday.

Howling Santa Ana winds up to 100 mph had sent flames leaping over highways and surging through neighborhoods.

But the winds declined as the week wore on, and the 30 mph gusts Thursday enabled firefighters to make their first widespread use of air tankers to drop water and fire retardant on the seven blazes still burning. Three have been extinguished.

Firefighters raced from house to house Thursday to save buildings in the small community of Devore northwest of San Bernardino as the Panorama fire, the most destructive of the blazes, swept out of the hills.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr., meanwhile, joined several hundred firefighters for a Thanksgiving feast at the Sycamore fire camp north of San Bernardino.

Special meals were prepared for all of the more than 6,000 firefighters, some of whom came from as far away as New York and Texas.

Brown also toured the fire-ravaged Northpark sector of San Bernardino — where 253 homes were destroyed or damaged on Monday — and said the area looked "like some kind of a war zone."

He said he hoped President Carter would make low-interest loans available to people who lost their homes. The state has asked that the federal government declare an official disaster in all six counties where the fires have been burning.

Residents of several endangered San Bernardino mountain communities were permitted to return to their homes on Thanksgiving Day as firefighters grew more hopeful they were gaining the upper hand in the fight.

The 19,950-acre Panorama fire, which has damaged or destroyed 271 structures, was 30 percent contained, and officials could not predict when they would have it under control.

A fire is contained when a fire line has been formed around it to prevent it from spreading. It is controlled when it has essentially been extinguished.

Starting next year, zip codes will be increased to nine numbers

Next year, add a few more digits to your life

WASHINGTON (AP) — Your nine-digit Social Security number, 10-digit telephone number, 13-digit credit card numbers and 10-digit bank account numbers are about to get company. Starting next year, you will have a nine-digit ZIP code.

The Postal Service says this newest compromise with the computerized age will hold down the cost of sorting mail and thus reduce the need for future postal rate increases.

"All of us would prefer not to have so many numbers in our lives," Postmaster General William F. Bolger said. But he said extending the current five-digit ZIP codes to nine numbers is essential for more modern and more efficient mail sorting.

Some 600 government employees using banks of computer terminals are almost finished dividing every ZIP code into many smaller areas. Next fall all Americans will be told their new numbers in a huge mass mailing.

Before then, in February, the major business mailers who send most of the 100 billion pieces of mail per year will be given the expanded codes, and Bolger has promised businesses incentives to use them — probably a half-cent to one-cent reduction in postage charges per letter.

Conversion to longer ZIP codes, the subject of elaborate planning since being announced more than two years ago, is the keystone of a Postal Service effort to save money by sorting more mail with fewer workers.

Postal officials do not promise any reduction in mail rates or faster service.

But they say that current service levels will be maintained with fewer rate increases in the future.

The five-digit code, in use since 1963, will remain, followed by a hyphen and the four new numbers. Thus, 20004 could become 20004-6789.

The 19.8 million different ZIP codes will allow separate ZIP codes for every residential block and often for each side of the street. Most business buildings will have a separate code and some floors in office buildings will have their own codes.

Objections to longer ZIP codes have been voiced in Congress, by the postal workers union and by some business mailers who will have to spend money to change their computerized mailing lists.

One of the more vocal critics is Ray Geiger, editor of Farmers' Almanac. Geiger predicts the longer code "will drive people crazy. It's preposterous and ridiculous."

Bolger says these arguments are similar to those voiced when the five-digit code was introduced. Despite some opposition then, the code now is used on 98 percent of first-class mail, he said.

The Postal Service will establish toll-free telephone numbers for people wanting to know a ZIP code and plans to print local directories of ZIP codes. A national ZIP code directory will not be feasible because it would be at least 30,000 pages.

By 1986, after a long phase-in period for the $900 million worth of new machines, the Postal Service expects mail sorting costs to be $600 million a year less than they would be under current methods.

Percy, Gromyko hold talks on Persian oil

MOSCOW (AP) — Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and Sen. Charles Percy held nearly four hours of talks today that the Illinois Republican had said would include stern U.S. warnings against any interruption in the flow of Persian Gulf oil. Details of the talks were not immediately available.

Percy told reporters he warned Brezhnev a Soviet military intervention in Poland would have a "catastrophic effect" and destroy any hope of U.S.-Soviet cooperation "in our lifetime."

Percy is to leave Moscow for Brussels on Saturday.

Percy, who is likely to become the new chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, also had said he planned to raise the more general problem of the Iran-Iraq war during today's talks.

On Thursday, Percy told reporters: "Any effort by anyone to jeopardize the secure flow of oil from that region would cause us to react decisively — and there should be no misunderstanding or ambiguity about this."

Earlier, he met with Defense Minister Dimitri Ustinov and with President Leonid I. Brezhnev, who had not conferred with a top U.S. leader since five months before the Soviet intervention in Afghanistan last December.

Percy says he is not on an official mission for Ronald Reagan, although he is coordinating his trip closely with the president-elect.

Postal officials do not promise any reduction in mail rates or faster service.

Tranquilizers too popular with Americans

Americans are prone to take pills for everything because they believe they should not have to put up with inconvenience, whether it is a stuffy nose or heartburn. So says James O. Allen Jr., a pharmacist with the Food and Drug Division of the Texas Department of Public Health.

"I think we have grown to take drugs too much for granted," Allen said recently. "Even television bombards us daily about products that are supposed to eliminate every conceivable kind of pain and suffering."

IN 1977, AMERICANS spent the astonishing sum of $8.5 billion for prescription drugs, for an average of six prescriptions for each individual. We used another $3.8 billion on over-the-counter medications to alleviate our health problems, according to the National Center for Health Statistics.

Allen recalls that when he was a practicing pharmacist, the most widely prescribed drug was propoxyphene, a pain killing drug better known as Darvon or Darvocet. The drug's widespread availability led to overuse and abuse. When taken with alcohol, this drug has a synergistic effect as a depressant. The Federal Food and Drug Administration felt compelled to come out and warn patients not to take the drug with alcohol — a warning that fell on deaf ears with a lot of people.

Joseph Califano, Secretary of Health and Human Services, considered banning Darvon entirely as an "imminent hazard" but instead asked the FDA to increase the restrictions on its usage.

Allen says the most widely prescribed types of medication now are the tranquilizers. According to Allen, tranquilizers are taken for everything from a bad day at the office to shooting a high golf score.

RECENTLY, THE FDA required drug manufacturers to forward physicians a written warning about Valium and other tranquilizers of its class. The warnings state that these drugs are not supposed to help people cope with everyday stress.

Knowledgeable people say that such drugs as Valium and Librium should be used only in psychotherapy or to help the anxiety caused by cancer, heart disease, ulcers and other serious health problems.

Tranquilizers were blamed for 1,550 deaths and suicides in 1978. Such drugs are not only habit forming but become very dangerous when mixed with alcohol.

Some people apparently feel that such warnings are frightening enough to send anyone to the medicine chest.

Looking good

Carol Hart

They say you can't go home again, but I decided to try it anyway.

No place stays the same after three and a half years, and Big Spring is certainly no exception. When I left here in 1977 to attend Texas Tech University, Big Spring was undergoing some rough times. Webb Air Force Base was pulling out, and there were predictions of doom and gloom for the local economy.

But, Big Spring is obviously an area of achievers, and the city looks better than ever to me.

ALTHOUGH I WAS aware of changes in the city while going to school and working in Lubbock, I didn't pay as much attention as I should have as to what was going on here. When I moved back, it was almost like a new city.

The land at the old air base has been put to good use. An exciting addition to Big Spring is the Southwest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf, headquartered at the old base hospital. Doug Burke, executive director of SWCID, has high hopes for the institute, and spoke highly of Big Spring when I had the chance to meet him several weeks ago.

SWCID is one of only three such organizations for the deaf in the world. Gallaudet College in Washington, D.C., and the National Technical Institute for the Deaf in Rochester, N.Y., are the only others, making the Big Spring school the only one in this region. The school is something Big Spring can be proud of, and the people involved with it and students attending it seem to be dedicated and sincere to the purpose behind the organization.

A new coliseum at Howard College campus also stands out as a big plus for Big Spring. Dr. Charles Hays, president of HC, and the HC board of directors, instructors and staff are running a quality junior college here, something else the community can refer to with pride.

THERE ARE also lots of new restaurants that weren't here when I went to Lubbock. Plenty of fast-foods places came into town, which is good since I have to admit I love that stuff. And there are places for people preferring to sit down and eat a slower pace. I was also glad to see that many of my old favorite places were still here.

Another big group new to Big Spring is Oilfield Industrial Lines, Inc. (O.I.L.). This group comes to mind because I have been reading about a $250,000 party they had out there, complete with Farrah Fawcett. A representative for this group said the organization may be bringing more industry to Big Spring.

Shopping centers here have also expanded. The College Park Shopping Center has taken on a whole new look, and added several new stores. The Highland Center Mall also added new stores, and downtown Big Spring has replaced the stores that left with new ones. Several smaller specialty stores have popped up all over the place. Those are all good signs.

Camille Patterson, who works at the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, said that there are new businesses and organizations showing interest in Big Spring every day. That's terrific, because in times like these, what every community needs is a good economy to base itself on.

If this area has so much to show for the past three years, just think what the next three may bring. It is good to know the old hometown is facing up to nationwide hard times very well.

Vesco case

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — Senate investigators and a federal judge in Denver suspect that the Justice Department's manipulation of witnesses who could give details of Robert Vesco's offshore buying schemes reflects a determination to protect President Carter, top White House aides and his brother Billy from embarrassment.

In fact, the silencing of one key witness was described by U.S. District Judge Fred Winner as "the worst naked use of raw power I have ever seen."

STRANGE THINGS have happened to witnesses who were about to tell their stories in various forums — to Senate investigators or grand juries, or in one instance, to me. The fact that these potential whistle blowers are shady operators already in trouble with the law gave the Justice Department a powerful club over them and the department has not been reluctant to use it.

Senate investigators told my associates Indy Badhwar and Bob Sherman that the handling of three key participants who have offered to spill the beans suggests a disturbing pattern of official cover-up. Here are the facts:

First Witness: The most important whistle-blower — and potentially the most damaging — is, of course, Vesco himself. In July 1979, the fugitive financier offered to leave his refuge in the Bahamas to tell a Washington grand jury what he knew about his attempt to buy White House favor through Georgia cronies of Carter aides Hamilton Jordan and Richard Halden. In return for this testimony on a criminal conspiracy, Vesco asked for temporary immunity from arrest. The Justice Department refused the request, thereby preventing his appearance before the grand jury.

Instead, the FBI cooked up a plot, known as Operation Kingfish, to kidnap Vesco from the Bahamas — where he had been living for a year to escape extradition — and take him into U.S. jurisdiction. This would have had the effect of stripping a dangerous witness of his bargaining power and, therefore, shutting him up.

A more recent offer from Vesco to testify before the Senate Judiciary Committee — if he were given temporary immunity — was also scotched by the department.

The Bahamian government recently ordered Vesco to leave the country by December 11. As I reported earlier, his banishment from the Bahamas was probably due to the transmittal of raw rumors by the FBI to the Bahamian government, in an apparent attempt to link Vesco to the Caribbean drug trade.

SECOND WITNESS: Another key insider who has been officially muzzled is R.L. Herring, a Georgia businessman, who teamed up with Spencer Lee IV, a hometown buddy of Jordan and Halden, in a scheme to get $12 million in stolen securities from Vesco in exchange for an attempt to influence the White House to end Vesco's legal troubles in this country.

Lee approached Harden in February 1977 and Harden later told the president of Vesco's hopes for assistance. Incidentally, the new president not only failed to refer the bribery attempt to the Justice Department for investigation, but wrote a note to his then-attorney, general asking him to "please see" Lee when asked for an appointment.

In July 1978, Herring was on his way to see me with a briefcase full of incriminating documents when he was nabbed at the Moultrie, Ga., airport and jailed on a loan fraud charge. The Justice Department may have overheard the phone conversation in which I arranged a secret rendezvous with Herring.

Although bail of only $50,000 was set for Herring's accomplice in the loan fraud, Herring's was put at $500,000, which he could not raise. At first, the government tried to prevent me from seeing Herring in jail, but relented under pressure.

Herring subsequently began cooperating with Senate investigators about Vesco's White House dealings and a grand jury was convened to look into the charges. The Justice Department tried to discredit Herring's testimony by telling the grand jury that he had refused a lie detector test. Actually, Herring agreed to take such a test, but rewrote the questions so they would reflect the direct involvement of White House officials. Justice refused to administer the revised test. Meanwhile, the pro-White House witness, Spencer Lee, failed two lie detector tests.

Finally, last month, a week before Herring was to appear before the Judiciary Committee, he was indicted for murder in a dubious three-year-old Virginia case. He was later transferred — in the middle of the night — from a jail cell in Miami to a federal facility in Memphis. According to an eyewitness, the guards took custody of the documents Herring was going to offer the Senate committee.

Third Witness: The third potential embarrassment to the Carter administration is James Feeney, a convicted con artist who had wormed his way into another Vesco bribery scheme. That one was a plan to spread $30 million of Libyan money among a coterie of con men who attempted to influence administration bigshots to lift an embargo on transport planes bought by the Libyan government.

Hoping to gain leniency on an unrelated fraud conviction, Feeney had worked undercover for the U.S. attorney's office in New York and had passed on detailed information about the Libyans' contacts with Democratic Party bigshots and the president's brother Billy. Senate investigators learned about Feeney's role and asked him to testify. One week before Feeney was to sing to the Judiciary Committee, the Justice Department indicted him on 56 new counts of fraud. Since anything he might say to the committee could be used against him in court, he could not testify.

It was this heavy-handed action that Judge Winner called the worst display of "raw power" he has ever seen.

Good feeling

Joseph Kraft

WASHINGTON — "Fair moment linger on," says Goethe's Faust as the moment flees. So it is with the euphoria Ronald Reagan brought here to Washington last week.

For five days a new era of good feeling had arrived. Flinty Scrooges exulted in the Reagan boom. Nuclear doomsday sayers discerned the rebirth of American power. Narrow partisans proclaimed a round table administration reaching out to all comers. Folks off the farm rejoiced that a touch of class was being brought to the White House instead of blue jeans.

SHEER RELIEF explained some of the glow. The welcome extended by the Capital to the Reagans shows the other side of feelings long suppressed about the Carter period. In the first, symbolic steps toward the building of a new administration, furthermore, the incoming president has not put a foot wrong.

Harder choices lie ahead. Getting the right people in the right places in the cabinet engages a large fraction of the future of the next administration. Of central importance also are two major issues which tend to work in conflict with each other.

Inflation is the first. The core rate — which is the rate businessmen have to raise prices from year to year just to stay even — now approaches 10 percent. Bad harvests and uncertainty about oil supplies in the wake of the Iran-Iraq war threaten new bursts in the costs of food and energy.

One obvious way to scotch the increases is direct government pressure on wages and prices. But that approach runs counter to the national folklore, and has already been forewarned by the incoming administration.

Balanced federal budgets present another possibility. But the president-elect is pledged to a big tax cut next year, and international conditions require higher defense outlays. Deep cuts in social spending require legislation, and the chances are that the Republicans heading the Senate committees are going to be just as chicken as Democrats when it comes to paring Social Security and Medicare.

A tight money policy remains an option. But that would surely nip the present recovery in the bud. With plants idle, businessmen will be loathe to invest, thus causing productivity to lag. So a serious fight on inflation promises a long, long period of slow growth and relatively high unemployment.

Rebuilding American strength abroad, the second big problem, hardly presents a more fetching picture. The vortex of world politics now lies in the oil producing states fringing the Persian Gulf. The Iran-Iraq war only provides new evidence that the local states cannot work out a stable balance among themselves. In the absence of such a balance the Russians, already active in Afghanistan, Iran and Iraq, cannot be expected to sit on their hands.

AMERICAN POWER is thus drawn inexorably on the scene. But this country does not now enjoy invulnerability in the matter of nuclear weapons. Neither does it have ready the conventional forces required for a stand in the area. In the absence of overwhelming American force, weak local regimes — especially the one in Saudi Arabia — show reluctance to commit themselves unreservedly to this country. The European Allies, heavily dependent on oil from the area, find themselves sorely tempted to go into business for themselves with both the oil producing Arab states and the Russians.

A slow, steady buildup promises the only way to arrest the decline of American power. Immediate attention needs to be paid to improving equipment and raising pay of forces already mustered.

Shaving tips help for ingrown hairs

Paul G. Donohue, M.D.

Dear Dr. Donohue: When are you going to offer some help for us men who suffer from ingrown hairs and who have a devil of a time trying to shave? — C.F.

Pseudofolliculitis barbae can be a trial for some men. Shaving is the cause. The sharpened shaved stubble curves back into adjacent skin and pierces it. This causes skin irritation, just as would any foreign body. Since the hairs of the chin and neck grow out in helter-skelter directions, these are the most common sites for ingrown hair. Small pimples may form where the hair has penetrated. These may enlarge and fill with pus. What to do?

If a person does not shave it will not happen, so some men have found the answer in a beard. But that's not possible for all men.

Too, immediate treatment may be required. If the face is inflamed and infected, antibiotics may be needed and the doctor may have to release each ingrown hair with a sterile needle. If a person has to shave he should do it in two stages, first using an electric razor that leaves a short stubble. Then he should wash with a rough washcloth, then rinse with warm water for several minutes. Next, after applying shaving cream, he should shave lightly with a sharp blade in the direction of beard growth — not across the grain.

Don't pull on the skin with the free hand while shaving. That can cause hair to retract into the skin. Do not use pressure against the face with the razor. The idea is to get a neat shave, but not one that is as close as possible.

Many men may first have to consult a dermatologist if their faces are already inflamed from ingrown hairs. I might add that there are other methods of shaving available, too. I am thinking of the chemical hair removers, for example. Of course, when possible, the beard is the ultimate solution.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I am 50 years old and have had much allergic-type nose discomfort, including drip and difficulty breathing. Prescriptions, allergy shots, nothing has helped. With antibiotics I do improve, but when I stop, the problem recurs. The doctor now recommends surgery. He referred to the Caldwell-Luc surgery to correct the lining in my sinus. Can you endorse such surgery? — W.T.B.

The Caldwell-Luc procedure is not new. Many people have had it and have benefited from it. I can't try to explain what it is all about.

One way to eliminate the problem of chronic sinus infection and irritation is to remove the entire diseased lining of the sinus. At the end of the operation a new passage is made from the sinus into the nose. This is to assure that the sinus will not become blocked again. Your problem probably is that the natural communication between the nose and the sinus has been lost because of the chronic infection. A blocked sinus sets the scene for further infection.

After the operation the sinus heals in one of two ways: either a new lining is formed from nearby healthy lining of the nose or the entire sinus becomes filled with scar tissue. Either development is satisfactory. The important result is that the diseased sinus lining has been removed and a new drainage channel provided.

Dear Dr. Donohue: How much should I weigh? I am 17 and many of my friends say I am underweight, but how can I be sure? I am in good health and stand 5 feet, 6½ inches and weigh 113 pounds. — Miss M.O.

The acceptable weight range for you, depending on your frame, is between 110 and 140 pounds, quite a range. A better way to determine proper body weight is to find how much of that weight is fat. This can be done by measuring skinfolds at certain locations of the body — the back of the arm, over the abdomen, at the thigh. Perhaps your school nurse can do that for you. A female should have about 20 percent of her body weight as fat.

Dear Dr. Donohue: My doctor has informed me I have pericarditis. I would appreciate your discussing the cause and treatment. — K.P.D.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: How can I know God's power in my life to change me into a better person? — B.M.N.

DEAR B.M.N.: One of the most important truths in the New Testament is the fact that we do not have, in ourselves, the strength to live as we ought to live. But God knows this, and he has sent His Holy Spirit to help us in our struggles. You see, when you came to Christ, the Holy Spirit came to dwell within you. At one time you were controlled by your old sinful nature. Now you have been given a new nature by God. The old nature is still there, but the Holy Spirit now is there, too. This means there is often a struggle in our lives between the old and new natures, but we are called to "Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh" (Galatians 5:16).

I believe there are several important steps to take before God's power begins to be real in our lives. First, we need to ask ourselves why

This may be far from the most appropriate comparison, but the heart sits inside a covering like a cigarette package in its cellophane wrapper. Pericarditis is an inflammation of that wrapper, caused by viruses and bacteria. Sometimes it is seen after a heart attack, and it may occur with kidney failure. There are many other possible causes.

Often enough, virus inflammation subsides with time and simple anti-inflammatory agents, like aspirin, are all that are needed. If inflammation is due to a bacterial infection, then antibiotics are used. Most cases of pericarditis heal without great problems.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of Dr. Donohue's booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is and what can be done about it. For a copy write to Dr. Donohue in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

Dear Editor: I want to thank every citizen of Big Spring who participated in this year's annual Big Spring Police Association Turkey Shoot. This year's turkey shoot was a total success with over two hundred participants. Never in the history of our turkey shoot have we had such a large turnout.

The success of the turkey shoot only goes to prove to me once more that the citizens of Big Spring support our Police Association and Police Department. Troy M. Hogue Big Spring Police Association we want God's power in our lives. Do we want it just so we will be better persons, conquering some of our bad habits? Or do we really want our lives to glorify Christ? God does not give us his power just for our own enjoyment or adornment. He gives it to us to make us more like Christ. "Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples" (John 15:8).

Also we need to examine our lives to see if there is any sin in our lives which will hinder God's power. If there is, it must be repented of and confessed. It may be something very private, or it may be something wrong in our relationship with others, or a wrong attitude. Whatever it is, it can hinder God's work in us.

Then you need to yield yourself to Christ as fully and completely as you know how — telling him you want his will for every area of your life. Then move out in faith and obedience. When we do, we find God's power is helping us every step of the way.

Dear Abby

Kissin' Cousins Want To Make It Legal

DEAR ABBY: Bobby and I grew up together on the same block. My mother and his father are brother and sister — that makes us first cousins.

Bobby is four months older than I am. We are both 17 and will be 18 when we graduate from high school next spring. Our closeness over the years grew into a real love affair by the time we were 13. We had discovered early the difference between boys and girls and freely experimented with that discovery until we finally went all the way. Our relationship was a well-guarded secret until about a month ago when my mother came home early and caught us.

Now we are trying to convince our parents that we want to marry after graduation next June. We have been planning it for almost a year. They say cousins shouldn't marry—that any children from such a marriage may not be normal.

Is this true? Bobby and I are sure that this is what we really want.

LOVERS FOR SURE

DEAR LOVERS: Perhaps you are mistaking the excitement of your first sexual awakening for "love." Don't rush into marriage. Date others, and later, when you are more mature and experienced, if you do decide to marry, consult a lawyer to learn in which states first-cousin marriages are permissible. Then see a genetic counselor to determine your chances for having healthy, normal children.

Getting married? Whether you want a formal church wedding or a simple, "do-your-own-thing" ceremony, get Abby's new booklet. Send $1 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped (28 cents) envelope to: Abby's Wedding Booklet, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

New member welcomed

The 1953 Hyperion Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Harry Middleton. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Bill Estes and Mrs. T.L. Griffin.

Mrs. Spencer Wold introduced guest speaker Mrs. Nita Tarbet who presented a program on deaf awareness.

Mrs. Tarbet explained that a hearing child enters school with a vocabulary of 3,000 words. However, a deaf child will have a vocabulary of only a few words upon entering school.

"When a deaf person learns to speak, use sign language or read lips, he has to be able to use three different language concepts," Mrs. Tarbet revealed.

"Each mode of communication requires a different language pattern," she said.

Mrs. Joann Guitart was welcomed as a new member. The next meeting will be Dec. 3 at the Big Spring Country Club.

What is forever?

Last week there was all the tenderness of young love. Today they broke up. And there is hurt in the wake of love — disillusion and bitterness.

What about you? Did you marry your high school sweetheart? Few of us do. Most of us have been through experiences like this, yet we survived.

And some of us who did marry our high school sweethearts lived on to find that it didn't work out. We had the trauma of divorce, which inflicts much deeper wounds.

Where did we turn? What did we do? It depends on how long ago it was. Because there was a time when you didn't turn to the church about divorce and other problems which, like it or not, are a part of life.

No longer. Today's church is with you in all things. Try it and see!

WARM WELCOMING — Pope John Paul II is warmly welcomed by servicemen of the West German catholic church when the Pontiff enters Fulda cathedral Tuesday morning to celebrate a morning prayer at fourth day of his visit to West Germany.

Criswell claims debts 'kill, slaughter, murder'

DALLAS (AP) — Dr. W. A. Criswell admits for the first time that his First Baptist Church is in financial hot water and he has appealed to his 21,000-member congregation to bail out the world's largest Southern Baptist Church.

In two appeals to his flock, Criswell says the congregation must pay off a $7.5 million parking garage or face selling one of the church's buildings. First Baptist carries a $10.3 million debt on four of the more than a dozen buildings it owns in a lucrative 6-block area in the heart of downtown.

"We can carry the debt on other properties if we pay for the parking building," the dynamic white-haired preacher said in a tearful "liberation appeal" from the pulpit Sunday.

He asked members to pay $7,000 each for 1,100 parking spaces in the new garage to "liberate the church from the blood-draining $1.4 million a year we pay in interest."

Interest payments are taken from the weekly offering.

The parking garage is open to the public during the week, but the church must pay taxes on the revenue it earns from public parking. Although Criswell said the garage should pay for itself, he warned that financial burdens are pressing.

"Parking is increasingly needed," he said. "This building is a blessing of God. Take a parking space for $7,000 and pay for it. Some will take several, others just a part. Give anything, just so it is a sacrifice."

First Baptist also is $600,000 behind in expenses, said Criswell, who took over a drying downtown church 36 years ago and promoted it to one of the largest and most powerful in the denomination.

The vast church complex includes several educational buildings, a gymnasium and a bowling alley. Thousands in the congregation sing in one of the church's many

ERA' proponents face jail in Mormon church protest

BELLEVUE, Wash. (AP) — Undaunted by the prospects of arrests and fines, advocates of the proposed Equal Rights Amendment pledged to continue anti-church demonstrations during the week-long dedication of a new $12 million Mormon temple here.

Led by excommunicated Mormon Sonia Johnson, the protestors Monday chained themselves to the church gates and picketed as Spencer W. Kimball, president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, conducted formal dedication ceremonies inside.

The demonstrators carried signs that read, "Down With Mormon Oppression" and "Mormons Have No Right To Stop ERA." The church is opposed to the proposed constitutional amendment, which it believes would be destructive to family life.

Twenty-one people were arrested on charges of civil disobedience. Using bolt-cutters to snap wires and chains that held more than a dozen demonstrators to three gates at the temple, police carried several people into waiting vans.

"We wanted to be arrested to make the statement that women's rights are worth making sacrifices for," said Ms. Johnson, who was excommunicated after criticizing Mormon teachings on women.

"I'm visited by Mormon missionaries every month at my rural Washington home," said Dixie Lee Johnson of Cheney, state president of the National Organization for Women. "It's simple justice that I came to visit them."

Most of those arrested pleaded innocent to misdemeanor trespass charges and were released without bond pending trial Jan. 16.

Several defendants, including Ms. Johnson, admitted certain facts without pleading guilty and were sentenced without trial.

Ms. Johnson was fined $250 and sentenced to 90 days in jail. But District Judge Melvin Love said she would have to pay $100 and deferred the jail term on condition she stay away from the temple and break no more law.

At a news conference Monday afternoon, Brent Nash, president of the Washington stake of the Mormon church, said it was "absolutely incorrect" that church funds had been used to fight ERA.

Reagan church service not exactly like Plains, Ga.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Rev. Donn D. Moomaw, microphones in hand, descended upon the sanctuary of the Bel Air Presbyterian Church as if it were a stage.

"Are you happy this morning," he shouted in the style of an entertainer warming up his audience, which included the president-elect of the United States.

The members of the congregation, many in casual clothes, replied with a long chorus of "Yeah's."

From that moment, it was clear: Going to church with Ronald Reagan is nothing like the Sunday morning ritual of Jimmy Carter.

Carter's churches are filled with often-solemn Baptists. The service Reagan attended Sunday featured applause for the choir, giggles at the minister's jokes and the general style of casualness for which California is famous. Someone likened it to a Broadway production.

From their seats near the rear, Reagan's wife, Nancy; and several Secret Service agents watched as Moomaw, a husky ex-All America football center for UCLA, paced in his gray robe.

"We just had a marvelous weekend — some of us — I know," he said into his microphone, his sardonic tone drawing laughs and giggles. Then he promised: "We have a wonderful worship service. We are so glad you came."

The audience suitably warmed up, Moomaw began with a prayer. A blue-robed choir filed in, singing hymns arranged with a pop flair.

Then, in unison, the congregation recited the Lord's Prayer, and went on to the "Prayer of Thanksgiving," the words to which were printed in their programs.

"Thank you for the wet leaves," it began, "which touch me with your constant care. Thank you for wet cheeks, thank you for death, which sets a limit to pride of nation, religion, position, thank you for life, which offers me days never lived before."

In the soaring modernistic church overlooking the San Fernando Valley, Moomaw began his sermon with what appeared to be an explanation of his informal style. Four years ago, he said, a couple complained to him that the service was too pessimistic, too down-beat. He became defensive, thought of "popping them in the nose," but later decided they had a point.

And his message Sunday — four days before Thanksgiving — was to give thanks for everything that happens, good and bad, and to "develop a style of life that we live on the positive side." He called it, "thanksgiving."

"We have all heard of the moral majority," Moomaw said. "Well, there is a magnificent minority who lead thankful lives." He asked the audience to "be thankful in all circumstances — and that's difficult, people."

Outside the church, as Reagan shook hands with the waiting crowd, his press spokesman, Lyn Nofziger, explained that the president-elect isn't actually a Presbyterian, but a disciple of the Church of Christ.

Calvary Revival scheduled

Calvary Baptist Church will hold Sunday School revival Sunday through Wednesday. The speaker will be Bryan Ross, director of missions.

The times are Sunday 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. Weekdays services will start at 7:30 p.m.

Congregational and special music will be included with preaching in the four days of special services.

"The stated purpose and goal of the Sunday School Revival is to learn how to promote church growth through the Sunday schools. Ross will present Biblical principles that will aid church growth and outreach in practical and applicable ways. Churches must either grow or perish. Church growth is the goal," said Pastor Rev. Herb McPherson.

Lockout ires Jews

NEW YORK, N.Y. — The lockout, November 19, of religious pilgrims and tourists from Islam's two holiest places — Mecca and Medina — was denounced today as a "blatant violation of religious rights" by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

In a letter to United Nations Secretary General Kurt Waldheim, Maxwell E. Greenberg, ADL's national chairman, contrasted this "little noticed, but important development" with "the reality of a united Jerusalem" where there has been, despite a state of war, "an unbroken guarantee of access to holy places for Jews, Christians and Moslems" for 13 years.

Asking why the Jewish State is unjustly attacked in the United Nations "while Saudi Arabian repression of human rights goes unscathed," Mr. Greenberg called upon the Secretary-General to place the Saudi Arabian border shutdown on the agenda of the appropriate U.N. organization.

The letter noted that Israel is subject to "vilification and propaganda" even though "more than 80,000 Moslem pilgrims, mostly Arabs, visited their holy places in Jerusalem last year."

"One wonders," Mr. Greenberg said, "whether the international community will speak out against his blatant violation of human rights."

Church council plans to strike 'sexist' terminology

NEW YORK (AP) — In a move that officials said could be a first step toward revising the Bible, the National Council of Churches has decided to strike sexist passages from a biblical guide used by 32 churches during worship.

The council's Division of Education and Ministry on Tuesday adopted a plan to revise the lectionary, which is a guide to worship that quotes the Old and New Testaments extensively.

The council's 32 Protestant and Orthodox member churches use the lectionary so services at the various denominations are on the same subject at about the same time.

The goal, according to council spokesman Dave Osborne, will be to adopt "a style of language which expresses inclusiveness with regard to human beings and brothers' something to indicate that you're not excluding half the human race," said Osborne.

The lectionary is prepared by member churches in three-year cycles. The churches have 40 million members in the United States and Puerto Rico.

Osborne said the council may consider making changes in the Bible to eliminate sex discrimination within the decade.

"Also you try to substitute phrases for 'men' and 'brethren' — say 'human beings' or 'sisters' and

Iraq building 57 mile-long protection wall

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Iraq has almost completed building a 57-mile-long wall in Iran's oil-rich Khuzistan Province to protect Iraqi forces against winter floods and possible attempts by Iran to "drown" the invaders by letting loose irrigation dams, an Iraqi newspaper said today.

The government-controlled, English-language Baghdad Observer also quoted Iraqi engineering corps officers as saying other embankments were under construction to protect the roads and communication routes of the Iraqi forces from being inundated by flooding from the Karun and Karkheh Rivers.

The Karun runs by the port of Khorramshahr, which the Iraqis seized last month, and the Karkheh by Susangerd, about 75 miles to the north, which both sides have been fighting for the last two weeks. The report of the wall construction indicated Iraq plans a long siege in Khuzistan.

Both Iran and Iraq reported attacking each other's positions Thursday near Susangerd, which is 35 miles northwest of Ahwaz, the Khuzistan capital, and near Abadan, the refinery city 10 miles south of Khorramshahr.

Iran claimed it killed 440 Iraqis near Susangerd and Abadan and that its jets destroyed an ammunition dump, power stations, a radar antenna and a factory in raids on northern Iraq.

Iran also said its forces killed 30 Iraqis in the Gilan Gharb area, at the northern end of the invasion front in the foothills of the Zagros Mountains overlooking high-way routes west to the Iraqi capital of Baghdad.

Iraq reported killing 76 Iraqis and suffering 16 dead along its 300-mile invasion front, but said nothing of Iran's claims, which military observers believe have been exaggerated since the war began nearly 10 weeks ago.

Iraq invaded Sept. 22 aiming to gain sovereignty over the Iranian east side of the Shatt al-Arab estuary, which divides the two nations at the southern end of the front and is Iraq's only waterway to the Persian Gulf.

Thanksgiving vigil held for slain Moscone, Milk

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Marchers commemorating the second anniversary of the slayings of Mayor George Moscone and Supervisor Harvey Milk rallied peacefully at City Hall, where 18 months earlier a riot broke out after the verdict in the case was announced.

The 2,000 people, many of them homosexuals, gathered at City Hall on Thursday night after a candlelight march from the predominantly gay Castro District to hear speakers denounce what they said was rising violence against homosexuals.

Wayne Friday, president of the gay San Francisco Tavern Guild, told the crowd, "We will not be driven from the streets." He said that if police don't deal with the situation, "we'll handle it ourselves."

The mayor said earlier in the week in a meeting with homosexual leaders that violent crime was a problem confronting all citizens, with rapes up 20 percent, assaults up 17 percent and robberies up 16 percent from a year ago. But she told the homosexuals, "We're going to protect you," and pledged increased police patrols in gay neighborhoods.

"Conditions in San Francisco...have not gotten better since George Moscone and Harvey Milk gave their lives," state Assemblyman Willie Brown told the crowd. Milk, an avowed homosexual, and Moscone were shot in their offices on Nov. 27, 1978, by Dan White, a former supervisor. A jury convicted White of manslaughter, prompting the City Hall riot on May 21, 1979, by people who felt the verdict should have been on a more serious charge.

FRESH WATER FROM AN OLD WELL TO BUSY FISHING

One day Hudson Taylor was traveling on a Chinese Junk (boat) in China from Shanghai to Ningpo. He had been witnessing to a man called Peter who rejected the message but was under deep conviction.

In the course of events, Peter fell overboard. Hudson Taylor observed that no one made any effort to save the man. Instinctively, he sprang to the mast, let down the sail, and jumped overboard in hopes of finding his friend.

A fishing boat was close by and Hudson Taylor made numerous attempts to solicit their help. Only after bartering attempts to solicit their help, only after bartering to receive every penny he had, did they agree to help. In less than a minute after dragging with the fishing net, they found Peter, but it was too late. He was already dead. They were too busy fishing to worry about a drowning man.

AP ALL-SWC OFFENSE

Nine Bears named to First Team

Baylor dominates All-SWC team

DALLAS (AP) — To the conqueror belongs all the booty, and the Baylor Bears captured most of The Associated Press 1980 All-Southwest Conference football honors just like they sacked the football championship.

Coach Grant Teaff was named Coach of the Year by his fellow coaches and All-American linebacker Mike Singletary earned Defensive Player of the Year laurels while junior halfback Walter Abercrombie was tabbed Offensive Player of the Year.

Never in Baylor's history has it had so many players on the AP first and second teams.

It's an All-Baylor backfield with the exception of SMU sophomore Craig James Abercrombie and Dennis Gentry posted the green-and-gold colors on the first team although Gentry and James tied in the balloting.

Offensive guard Frank Ditta was the other Baptist on the first team offense.

Defensively, Singletary, the awesome middle linebacker, tackle Joe Campbell, linebacker Doak Field, fiery sophomore end Charles Benson, and ballhawking defensive back Vann McElroy were the Baylor representatives on tee mythical squad.

Second team superlatives went to wide receiver Robert Holt, tackle Eddy Gregory, and defensive end Max McGeary.

That gives Baylor 11 players on the SWC top 44. Other first teamers included Texas guard Lee Studdard, tackle Lee Spivey off SMU and Terry Tausch of Texas, center Lance Pederson of SMU, wide receivers Bobby Stewart and Stanley Washington of TCU and tight end Robert Hubble of Rice.

On defense, first teamers were Leonard Mitchell of Houston, Kenneth Sims of Texas, Harvey Armstrong of SMU in the line besides Benson and Campbell.

Rice's Robert Williams earned a first team linebacker spot while SMU's sensational John Simmons, Texas Tech's hard-hitting Ted Watts, and Kevin Evans of Arkansas rounded out the secondary with McElroy.

The punter was Steve Cox of Arkansas and the placekicker was Eddie Garcia of SMU.

Baylor quarterback Jay Jeffrey and Texas Tech's Rennie Baker, a second-team wide receiver, were voted the Offensive Newcomers of the Year while Texas A&M freshman Jerry Bullitt was the Defensive Newcomer.

Rice's Ray Albarn was second in the Coach of the Year balloting and SMU's Ron Meyer a close third as the private schools had their first winning year against the state schools since 1963.

Teaff's Bears were generally picked for a second division finish but they swept all eight league foes without a blemish to take the host spot in the Cotton Bowl against Alabama New Year's Day.

In the latest AP Poll, the Bears were No. 8 in the land.

As playoff berth looks like sure bet

Cowboys demolish Seattle

IRVING, Texas (AP) — After the pounding they took from the Dallas Cowboys, no one would have blamed the Seattle Seahawks if they had come up with some excuse. The final was 51-7, and it as bad, or worse than the score indicated. The Cowboys, virtually assuring themselves of their 15th trip to the National Football League playoffs in 16 years, delivered a quick knockout to the Seahawks, who self-destructed with four fumbles and three interceptions. "You've got to be pleased," Cowboys Coach Tom Landry said. "It's hard to score that many points in a dummy scrimmage. I felt for Seattle."

Besides the fumbles and interceptions, the Seahawks quarterbacks were sacked five times.

Even trick plays turned into embarrassment. Quarterback Jim Zorn gave Dallas a safety when he was flagged for intentional grounding while trying to pass from his own end zone in the first quarter.

Landry gave one of his former players, Coach Jack Patera, quite a lesson.

"As I've said before, it's nice to be in the playoff position, but what we really want to do is to play well," Landry said. "If we can play well the next three weeks, I think we will be ready for a playoff shot."

The 10-3 Cowboys, who trail Philadelphia by 1 1/2 games in the NFC East, play Oakland, Los Angeles and the Eagles to close out their schedule.

"We'll have a test," Landry said.

Dallas built a 30-0 halftime lead and cruised to victory.

"It was my impression that the Cowboys were always getting the ball on our 10-yard line," Patera said. "I can't give any reason — a tipped ball, a fumble. There's really nothing you can do about a score when it starts building like that."

Dallas quarterback Danny White threw touchdown passes of 18 yards to Tony Hill and 14 yards to tight end Billy Joe DuPree, who also caught a 12-yard scoring pass from backup Glenn Carano, his first NFL completion.

Tony Dorsett scored twice on runs of 1 yard and gained 107 yards on 24 carries. It was Dorsett's 18th 100-yard day, surpassing Calvin Hill's club record.

The Seahawks avoided a shutout when Zorn flipped a 2-yard pass to Ron Essink on a tackle-eligible play late in the game.

Amazing ending gives Bears new life in wild NFC Central PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Vince Evans has plenty of reasons for giving thanks, but the Chicago quarterback must be especially thankful for the Detroit Lions.

Evans received his first National Football League start of the season six weeks ago against Detroit, led his team to an easy victory, and has become the Bears' offensive leader.

On Thursday he did in the Lions once again, rallying the Bears from a 14-point deficit in the fourth quarter to set up an overtime period which lasted exactly 12 seconds.

Chicago won the coin toss and return specialist Dave Williams raced 95 yards with the kickoff to give the Bears a heart-stopping 23-17 triumph.

"I felt, and I could see everyone else on our team felt, we could still win the ball game," Evans said. "We needed this win in a big way."

The fourth quarter was less than three minutes old when Evans concluded an 86-yard, nine-play drive by hitting tight end Bob Fisher with a 20-yard touchdown pass to narrow the score to 17-10.

With 3:37 left, the Bears began a drive on their own 6-yard line. Evans drove them to the Detroit 4 where — with time running out — he dropped back, found his receivers covered, then darted straight up the middle and dove over the goal line with no time left on the clock to force the overtime.

Evans, a fourth-year pro from Southern California, completed 11 of 22 passes for 167 yards in the nationally televised Thanksgiving Day game before 75,397 fans at the Silverdome.

"I've been in football a long time, but I just don't ever remember seeing a game like this," Bears Coach Neill Armstrong said. "A touchdown scored with no time left, we win the toss and run the kickoff back for a TD."

"You know, that was the only real coaching I did today. I told them to go out and win the toss."

Williams, a speedster who ran the 100-yard dash in 9.7 during his college days at Colorado, said he felt he could break it all the way after he crossed his own 35-yard line.

"After I caught the ball, I was trying to get to the best field position possible," Williams said. "I felt I had a chance to go all the way after I cut left and could see the goal line."

Detroit Coach Monte Clark, whose club wanted desperately to win the game in order to expand its first-place lead over the Minnesota Vikings in the Central Division of the National Football Conference, called the defeat "the bitterest loss I can remember as a coach."

Detroit quarterback Gary Danielson completed nine of 21 passes for 157 yards, including a 47-yard touchdown pass play to Billy Sims, and Danielson also scored on a 1-yard sneak.

Steers host Lubbock Coronado at 4

The Big Spring Steers and Lubbock Coronado tangle in a boys non-district basketball game this afternoon in Steer Gym at four.

The contest was originally scheduled for the past Tuesday night, but was reset for today due to the rain in the earlier part of the week.

It will be the second game of the young season for Coach Ed Haller's Steers. They won their opener against Sweetwater by a 66-54 score.

The game will match two contrasting styles. The Steers, a small team, will put on a full court press, while Coronado, a much taller squad, will likely play a slow, ball control type of game.

LEASE — WHY???

If You are business or professional, the question is WHY NOT!!

- I. Its a good way to fight inflation-with fixed rates and you may pay with cheaper dollars. Leasing may increase your cash flow.
- II. Leasing may preserve your credit lines and help you keep them "liquid".
- III. Leasing conserves your "cash" without depleting your capitol.
- IV. Accounting is much easier. You don't have to figure interest or depreciation-just expense the entire amount.
- V. 100% financing -no down payment. Only' the first and last payment in advance.
- VI. What to do at the end? Exercise your options: renew the lease; buy the vehicle; return it; or turn it in on a newer model!

Alborn excited about Rice TV appearance

By The Associated Press
For the first time in more than six years, the Rice Owls will be on regional television at 11:30 a.m. Saturday.

against Navy, is an 18-point favorite.
The Cougars have two losses and can clinch second place in the Southwest Conference standings behind unbeaten champion Baylor.

the recruiting trail. It's been an exciting, upbeat season for us.
In other games, the Bluebonnet Bowl-bound Texas Longhorns are 12-point favorites to run over the Texas Aggies in Memorial Stadium and Arkansas is a touchdown pick over the Texas Tech Red Raiders in Little Rock.

The Rice-Houston game was originally scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the Astrodome.
The A&M-Texas game is a big one for Aggie Coach Tom Wilson, who is under fire for the Cadets' sagging season.

Asked if he is worried about his players getting too high, Wilson said, "That's no problem for my team. I'd just as soon have the players real high emotionally."
The Aggies junked the 1-formation last week and went to a split-back offense last week to defeat Texas Christian. Wilson said his team will stay with the new offense.

"We're still busy learning and polishing it," Wilson said. "No matter what the record of either team is, it will be a game where the two teams will compete."
Arkansas, which will play Tulane in the Hall of Fame Bowl, hopes to end their regular season at 6-5.

The Penn-Excellence affair matches the top 40 players in the state in each age group from 18 years and under. Each player in the field was scheduled to play five matches, but due to inclement weather, the round robin type competition was moved indoors and the schedule decreased.
McLaughlin lost both of his decisions in three sets to David Meyers of Abilene and Peter Dixon of La Porte, but recorded victories over Robert Uriz and Paul Till, both of Houston.

McLaughlin felt that the competition was by far the toughest that he has faced this year. But it was good, because I made some big improvement in my serve and volley," the BSHS member stated. "With more practice and work, I think this will be a contender for the 5-AAAA singles title this year."

Klondike again underdog

in Class A regional tonight
LUBBOCK — Two powerhouse football units meet tonight with the Class A regional title on the line when the Klondike Cougars face the Valley Patriots at Lowery Field here at 7:30 p.m.

in Class AA tonight.
Klondike will have the obvious size advantage in the interior line tonight, outweighing Valley by some 40 pounds per man.

While Klondike is coming off a 20-12 win in bi-district over Knox City, Valley rolled to a 34-7 win over Booker.
But despite that fact, Klondike Coach Mickey Finley feels his team has the obvious advantage going into tonight's bout. "We're going to be big underdogs again this week, but we like it that way," he said. "It makes it easier to get ready, and it fires up the team more. We take it as an insult."

Jabbar takes up slack for Lakers
OAKLAND (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers re-discovered a winning formula from the days before the arrival of Magic Johnson, now missing from action.
It involves 7-foot-2 Kareem Abdul-Jabbar — as much as possible.
"We have to mix things well on offense. Of course, that means one play for Kareem, then one play for the rest of the team," Coach Paul Westhead joked after Jabbar scored 40 points in Thursday night's 128-119 victory over the Golden State Warriors.

Forward Jamaal Wilkes contributed 24 points for the NBA champions and said, "We've still got a lot of talent. We're not going to fall apart."
Jabbar went 10 points over his previous single-game high this season and he did it against a team which had the NBA's best homecourt record, 10-0. He made 15 of 22 shots from the floor, 10 of 14 free throws, and grabbed 11 rebounds in 38 minutes.
"My hook shot was good, but what helped most was the fouls. I've got to go to the line to have big scoring nights," he said. "If they don't call fouls, it makes my job a lot harder."
He came back from a 5-for-15 shooting performance in last Sunday's 110-94 loss to Milwaukee. The Lakers shot .385 from the floor in that game compared to .573 against the Warriors.

Joe Barry Carroll, the Warriors' 7-foot rookie center, had his best scoring game as a pro with 32 points, with 14 coming in the final period. In the third quarter, when Jabbar had 14 points, Carroll and backup center Clifford Ray both got into foul trouble and went to the bench.

Official advises census

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A recent letter from the government division of the U.S. Census Bureau has convinced Maricopa County Recorder Bill Henry that the agency ought to stick with numbers and stay away from words.

The letter to Henry and some 3,500 other officials was attached to a report entitled "Need For a Multi-Purpose Cadastre," released by a "Committee on Geodesy" and referring to studies published "quinquennially."

"As the most comprehensive source of timely statistics emanating from local assessing and recording offices, the Bureau of Census has an operational interest in the progress affecting these offices," the letter said. "Consequently, the bureau endorses all reasonable efforts to simplify and thus modernize parcel identification systems, in a sequence of expeditious evolution for multi-purpose land data systems."

A cadastre, by the way, is a public record of property for tax purposes. Geodesy is a branch of mathematics dealing with geography, and quinquennially means every five years.

Cat comes home

LONDON (AP) — A ginger tomcat named Samson has turned up at his home in London after being lost 250 miles away in Pembrokeshire, South Wales, two years ago.

Owner Margaret Adams of London's East End said Thursday she advertised in newspapers for Samson without success after he disappeared during a vacation.

"He was sitting on the garden wall, very bedraggled and very hungry," she said.

"He's Samson all right, the same markings, the same short, fat legs, the same walk and all the same little mannerisms which any cat owner would recognize in her own animal. I think he is a supercat."

State Senator injured in Junction car crash

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Hospital officials say State Sen. Bill Meier escaped spinal cord damage in a one-vehicle accident near Junction early Thursday that killed his brother-in-law.

"He is alert and can move everything," said a spokesman at Methodist Hospital in San Antonio, where the 40-year-old Democrat from Euless was transferred after he was first taken to a Fredericksburg hospital.

Meier, who has been considering a race for lieutenant governor, suffered two broken vertebrae in his neck, a concussion, a broken rib and two broken fingers.

John Donald Burkett, 34, of Bedford was killed in the crash. Burkett's wife is a sister to Meier's wife.

Burkett was driving a new vehicle that went out of control on U.S. 290 about 30 miles east of Junction about 12:15 a.m. Thursday. Relatives said the two men left Bedford about 2 p.m. Wednesday to hunt deer near Marfa, near the Big Bend in far West Texas.

A spokesman for the Texas Department of Public Safety said the westbound vehicle and a travel trailer it was towing overturned and flipped over the guard rail of a bridge, then struck a dirt embankment about 20 feet below the road.

Meier bought the vehicle earlier this week, and he and Burkett stopped at Meier's ranch near Austin to pick up the travel trailer, according to Larry Robison of Fort Worth, the father of both men's wives.

"They were very close. They were like brothers," Robison said.

Kimball County Justice of the Peace M.C. Blackburn pronounced Burkett dead at the scene. Meier was taken to Methodist Hospital about 5:45 a.m., officials added.

Meier, a civil lawyer, was elected to the Texas Legislature in 1972 from northern Tarrant County. He Traditional turkey went creole for Haitian newcomers in Miami while time-honored celebrations marked Thanksgiving Day across the nation — family dinners, Macy's parade, football games and at nightfall, a blaze of Christmas lights to usher in another holiday season.

Turkey seasoned with onions, garlic, cloves and cayenne pepper was dished out for 57 Haitian youngsters Thursday at a refugee camp near Miami. They said grace in their native Creole, and then chanted, "Happy Thanksgiving!"

At the Fort Chaffee, Ark., relocation camp, 6,600 Cuban refugees feasted on a ton of turkey with hundreds of gallons of trimmings. Some also paraded with signs that read: "Thanks To The

Volkswagen Beetle reaches new heights on campus

VANCOUVER, British Columbia (AP) — Students at the University of British Columbia apparently take their pranks seriously. This year, they set new heights.

As dawn broke Monday, a Volkswagen Beetle could be seen perched atop the 142-foot high clock tower in the center of the campus.

The culprits weren't spotted, but suspicion fell on the university's engineering students, who are famed for applying their technological expertise to practical jokes.

In addition, the vehicle in question was last known to grace the grounds of the Engineering Undergraduate Society's campus hangout. And a band of engineering

There was even turkey in China — imported from Hong Kong — for 550 Americans who are exhibitors at a U.S. trade fair in Peking. But their Chinese guests may have been a little puzzled about the origins of the holiday because one of the bilingual Americans was unable to come up with the Chinese word for "Pilgrim."

A giant, helium-filled Superman flew to Herald Square along with seven other balloons in Macy's 54th annual Thanksgiving Day parade.

Thousands of Philadelphians lined city streets for the 61st annual Gimbel's Thanksgiving Day Parade. The colorful procession of floats — depicting "Alice in Wonderland" characters — was followed by Santa Claus in a sleigh pulled by reindeer on a 55-foot float.

Meanwhile, a Bronx, N.Y. couple died in a blaze that started in their kitchen where a turkey was cooking, officials said.

Joseph Hardy, 66, and his 57-year-old wife, Lillian, were found on the second floor of the two-family house and were pronounced dead Thursday morning. The family living below escaped safely.

There was no Thanksgiving at Plymouth Plantation, a reproduction of the Pilgrim village in Massachusetts where it all began in 1621.

The mock Pilgrims priding themselves on historical accuracy, instead were salting meat, drying fish and putting up vegetables in preparation for winter.

"To have a harvest festival, you have to have something to harvest," said information officer Judy Ingram. "At this time of year there's not a lot left. We do have a harvest celebration, but it's at the end of September, beginning of October."

Cooks at a mountain command post dished up holiday meals for 2,000 firefighters battling devastating fires in southern California.

In Phoenix, Ariz., civic and religious organizations prepared thousands of free meals for area residents. And some 1,000 Chicagoans also enjoyed a free Thanksgiving dinner at the French Post restaurant in the fashionable Lincoln Park area.

students was caught red-handed trying to perform the same feat last year.
