Or hostages will be tried

U.S. must find a counter-proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration, vowing not to pay a penny before all 52 hostages are freed, sounded out Algerian intermediaries today on "new methods" for reaching an agreement with Iran.

The approach would be to put Iranian assets in an escrow account under the control of a neutral country, a U.S. official said. Iran would receive the deposits at the same time it freed the hostages.

The Algerian diplomats, who have been shuttling between Washington and Tehran for eight weeks in a so-far unsuccessful effort to break the negotiating impasse, called again at the State Department today.

Officials said the fourth day of talks probably would produce a formal response to Iran's demand for $24 billion in U.S. government guarantees and that the Algerians would take the message to Tehran. U.S. officials said Monday they will not accede to the demand.

There was no indication that an agreement could be concluded in the closing weeks of the Carter administration.

A key stumbling block is Iran's demand for guarantees. One U.S. official, who asked not to be named, said the negotiations were centered on trying "to define the concept of guarantees in a way that would be legally feasible."

Another official, who is close to the talks, confirmed that ways are being explored to set up an escrow account. However, he said, determining how much Iran had in assets was a major problem.

In Iran, Behzad Nabavi, head of Iran's hostage negotiations team, said today that his government is willing to listen to any U.S. counterproposal which would be acceptable to the Algerian government and meet the four conditions Iran set for release of the hostages.

"As I said before, as far as we have concluded there is no other way for guaranteeing the undertakings of Americans," Nabavi said. He said if no solution were found the hostages would be tried.

Nabavi also said he does not take seriously President-elect Ronald Reagan's description of the hostage-taking as a form of kidnapping.

"I personally consider these threats as bluffs especially on the part of the new U.S. administration which wants to gain prestige by frightening revolutionaries of the world," Nabavi said. "We consider the statements of Mr. Reagan as those of one who still thinks he is playing in a Western film."

Reagan said Monday he had no regrets about his characterization of the Iranian captors a day earlier as "barbarians." This was denounced by the speaker of Iran's Parliament, Hashemi Rafsanjani.

"What have they got to be angry about?" Reagan asked reporters in Los Angeles. "They're the ones who did the kidnapping."

Former Attorney General Ramsey Clark, who defied a presidential ban on travel to Iran when he went to Tehran last June, said today that the president-elect's comments were immature and saber-rattling.

"You rarely make it easier to deal with people when you call them 'criminals' and 'barbarians'. We ought to try to get together," Clark said in an interview on NBC-TV's "Today" show from New York.

The head of Iran's hostage negotiation team said today his government would listen to any U.S. counterproposal that was acceptable to the Algerian government concerning Iran's demand for $24 billion, but that the hostages would be tried if no solution was found.

Behzad Nabavi told a news conference in Tehran that if the U.S. government comes up with another form of guarantee that met Iran's four conditions for release of the 52 American hostages seized 423 days ago "it would be acceptable in our view."

"As I said before, as far as we have concluded there is no other way for guaranteeing the undertakings of Americans," he told reporters. "I said we are ready to listen to everything but it's natural the U.S. is looking for excuses and has nothing to say."

Nabavi confirmed Prime Minister Mohammad Ali Rajavi's proposal over the weekend offering to drop the demand for financial guarantees in favor of immediate cash payments followed by arbitration on unresolved issues while Iran continued to hold the hostages.

He claimed the United States and Iran were in agreement over the immediate return of about $13 billion in Iranian wealth, and said Iran would be willing to await the outcome of arbitration proceedings concerning the other $11 billion demanded from the United States prior to release of the hostages.

Detective Eggleston resigns

By ANDREA COHEN

Big Spring Police Detective Mike Eggleston of the Major Crimes Task Force submitted his resignation today, effective Jan. 8. His last official day of work is today, with the remaining days his accumulated vacation time.

According to Eggleston, the resignation came because he feels the task force needs someone new to the assignment.

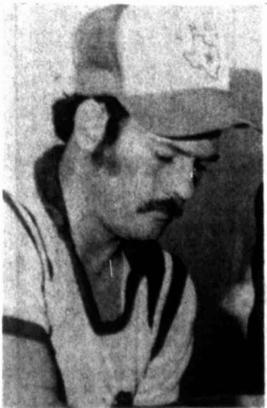

"This is a good place to work, with a new chief and all," he said. "It in no way reflects upon the new administration."

Eggleston has served on the Task Force since July, 1979, first with Dave Spillman, who is now in the investigations department and who has been reassigned as a patrol sergeant beginning Sunday, and Jimmy Lockhart, who recently resigned from the department.

"I think we made about 98 felony cases we hunted up ourselves that weren't assigned," he added.

Eggleston will be taking a job as a diesel mechanic. "I'll make double what I do now," he said.

A new officer has been assigned to the Task Force beginning Sunday. He will take Lockhart's old position. An officer has not been assigned at the present time to take Eggleston's place.

Colorado City Chief resigns

COLORADO CITY — Robert Bailey, Colorado City Chief of Police, resigned his position Monday, according to City Manager Brenda Tarter.

Mrs. Tarter said Assistant Police Chief Jimmy Roundtree, 29, will assume charge of the department until a replacement is found for Bailey.

Bailey, 45, formerly was chief of police in Clifton. He was serving on a probationary appointment, according to Mrs. Tarter. The decision for Bailey to step down was mutually reached, according to the city manager.

Bailey officially began his duties last Aug. 18, at which time his starting salary was set at $1,200 a month. In addition, he was paid $125 for automobile expenses.

Bailey indicated he had made no plans for the future. He indicated he likely would remain in police work.

Flames damage house

Boy first thought victim of fire was riding bike

By CAROL HART

Brad Williams gave his family quite a scare Monday afternoon.

Alerted that their home, located on the Sterling City Route, was on fire, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Williams, and Brad's grandmother, Mrs. Milton Lewis, thought that the six-year-old was inside the house. But Brad was out riding his bike in the neighborhood, and pedaled up about the time area firemen were making a desperate but futile effort at saving the structure.

The house was owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, who were renting it to their daughter. The Lewis' live adjacent to the home. The fire was first reported via a CB radio by an unidentified man who was passing by and saw the flames.

Brad's mother, Janell, had gone to meet his father, Howard, for lunch at 11:30 a.m. His sister, Candy Sue, 13, was babysitting for neighbors.

Brad had entered the house after lunch to check the lock on the door, and then had gotten on his bike. When the fire was reported to Mrs. Lewis, she ran to the home, and became frightened when Brad was no where to be found.

Two Big Spring fire units and two county units were called to the scene, according to Carl Dorton, fire marshal. Dorton said that an ambulance was requested because Brad was missing.

The fire did extensive damage to the home. Officials at the scene said the inside of the house was a total loss.

The concern at the scene lifted considerably when Brad came riding up the street on his bike, shocked by the fire which had already destroyed the inside of the home.

Brad's first thought was of his Christmas toys, which had been inside the home. He tearfully told his mother that his new toy truck and holster set must have been burned. When firemen had put out the blaze, Brad's mother went inside and returned with a slightly smoky but fully intact toy truck, and handed it to her grateful son. The family's other belongings didn't fare so well. All furniture and clothing, as well as mattresses and bedding, were destroyed.

Dorton and Jim Ryals, fire chief, who were both at the scene, said the fire may have started in the attic, but added that further investigation would be needed to find the cause.

Lewis said the home had just been remodeled, but added that he was thankful that his grandson was not hurt and said the damage to the home diminished in importance to him because everyone got out safely.

Detective squad pays off

MIAMI (AP) — Airport thefts by a well-trained corps of pickpockets have been cut 60 percent since a new Dade County police detective squad began making the rounds two months ago, police say. The thieves had been stealing thousands of dollars a day from visitors to Miami International Airport. Police have made 20 arrests and believe they're battling an international ring from Colombia that also operates in Los Angeles and New York. "We've heard of a school for pickpockets they have in Bogota," Detective Bill Savers said. "We don't know how true it is, but the story goes that the school even has graduations where they give out class rings."

Gas reservoir found

DENVER (AP) — A new natural gas reservoir has been discovered by Chevron USA Inc. in south-west Wyoming's portion of the Overthrust Belt — one of the most active oil and gas development regions in the contiguous United States. An industry expert said the gas from the well is "sweet" — meaning it does not contain sulfur that must be taken out before the gas can be sold. The Overthrust Belt, which has produced primarily sulfur-bearing gas in the past, is a mineral-bearing region some geologists believe extends from Alaska to Central America. Officials of Chevron, a division of Standard Oil Co. of California, said the new find extends the boundaries of the East Painter Reservoir Field farther to the east.

Slaying investigated

RUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Police are trying to determine whether the stabbing death of a 31-year-old black man in front of a department store is connected to the unsolved slayings of six blacks this fall. Roger Adams, a National Fuel Gas Corp. employee who recently moved here from California, was slain Monday. Erie County District Attorney Edward C. Cosgrove said the same task force investigating six slayings in September and October was investigating Monday's case. He declined to link the case with the earlier six, but he noted some similarities. "Mr. Adams was black, and the attack was apparently unprovoked and motiveless," he said.

Globe to be kept dim

NEW YORK (AP) — The globe atop No. 1 Times Square which is dropped to mark the start of a new year will not be lit during its one-minute flagpole descent this New Year's Eve in remembrance of the American hostages in Iran. It will be the first time since 1964 that the Times Square tradition will be unlit during the final countdown to a new year. The plan to black out the globe was announced Monday by television host Dick Clark, who will interrupt a New Year's Eve program on ABC television to cover the scene at Times Square.

Polish court adjourns on farmers' union application

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The Polish Supreme Court today adjourned deliberations on the application of private farmers to form an independent union, temporarily defusing the threat of a new strike. Presiding Judge Antoni Fiełek said the date for the next session would be announced later. A ruling on the farmers' appeal of a lower court rejection of their application had been expected today. Court sources said the decision to adjourn was partly to give the panel time to obtain official Polish translations of several international labor conventions. But they gave no further details. Despite the adjournment, lawyers for the farmers said they were optimistic the court would eventually rule in their favor. Between 800 and 1,000 farmers were on hand outside the downtown Warsaw court building when the high court began its session. Many of those in the crowd carried small placards from the independent trade union.

Solidarity, pledging support for the farmers. The crowd before the court building was smaller than expected. About 10 traffic policemen were on duty in the area, along with several others checking court access permits. Thousands of farmers from Poland's 49 provinces converged on the capital Monday as 80 leaders of their would-be Independent Trade Union of Farmers met in secret to map strategy in the event their application is rejected. Sources said that among the options is a farm strike that could lead to withholding of meat, eggs, milk and other food from state-run markets, a move that would further aggravate the nation's food shortage. The threat of a farm strike comes at a time when meat and other food items are already in short supply, prompting the government to impose meat rationing for the first time since the end of World War II and to announce further rationing beginning in February. In addition, it would heighten tensions in Poland, beset by labor unrest that spawned Solidarity, the nation's largest independent trade union organization, and a government-union confrontation that has raised fears of possible Soviet military intervention. The Supreme Court is deliberating the farmers' appeal of a lower court ruling in October that they could not organize their own union because they are self-employed.

CLEAN-UP EFFORTS — An area fireman shovels out debris from the inside of the Howard Williams home on the Sterling City Route. The inside of the home and the family's belongings were completely destroyed in the Monday fire.

Police Beat Officer hurt at fire

Officer Barry Smith was temporarily blinded Monday night by a fire truck spotlight at 1208 Nolan, causing him to miss a step as he was exiting a house fire. Smith is now nursing a sprained foot. A 17-year-old man was arrested and charged with possession of marijuana under two ounces at the Burger Chef parking lot Monday morning. Arrested on other charges, the man was searched. A substance believed to be marijuana was found in his left front coat pocket. A 63-year-old man who was being held in the police department holding cell was robbed of his wedding ring by a second prisoner Monday night. The man was told if he did not remove the ring from his finger, he would be killed. The 17-year-old culprit had robbery charges added to his arrest sheet. Two six-packs of beer were stolen from Seven-Eleven, 18th and Gregg Monday night. Value, $5.10. A man drove into the Seven-Eleven, 11th and Johnson, pumped $20 in gasoline into his vehicle and left without paying. Two hubcaps and a tail gate were stolen from a vehicle owned by T. William Neel, Garden City Route, while it was parked at Winn Dixie on Dec. 10. Value, $275. A vehicle owned by Agapito Cerda, 1414 Wood, was vandalized while it was parked at Gibson's parking lot Monday night. A man's diamond ring valued at $1,075 was stolen from Zale's Jewelry Monday afternoon. A net was stolen from the tennis courts at Howard College Monday afternoon. Value, $100. A bullet hole was found in window at Rita's Flowers, 809 S. Lancaster Monday morning. Value, $200. Two mishaps were reported Monday. A parked vehicle owned by Frank Tuttle, Amarillo, was struck by a vehicle driven by Narrell Sheppard, 1411 E. 18th at 1100 E. 15th, 2:20 p.m. Vehicles driven by Sheryll Manley, Lufkin and Vigaichand Sand, Clovis, N.M. collided at the Seven-Eleven parking lot, 2301 Wasson Rd., 12:23 p.m.

ASSISTANT MANAGER — Mark D. Sheedy has been hired as assistant manager of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce, with primary responsibility for Tourist and Convention Development. He is a graduate of Big Spring High School, Howard College and Angelo State University, and has spent the last year working as events coordinator at the Chapparral Center on the Midland College campus. Sheedy will be working with the planning and organization of conventions, and tourist related activity in Big Spring. Mayor of Roscoe miffed at Uncle Sam

ROS COE, Texas (AP) — Mayor B.P. "Beep" Cain says when his West Texas townlet was ravaged by floods, Uncle Sam became a penny-pinching Scrooge. "There is no Santa Claus here or in Washington, D.C., when it comes to cold, hard cash for people in trouble," Cain said. Twenty inches of rain knocked out the city sewer system, which backed up and flooded the area even more. Cain says he has yet to see "a red cent" of aid promised by the Federal Emergency Management Agency in Washington. The agency has "supposedly approved" $300,000 in federal aid and another $120,000 of state money to help Roscoe rebuild, he said. City Hall has been forced to borrow $50,000 for "partial, token payments to the small business people who responded in our time of need because they are in a position to carry us on their backs," Cain said. "The people who saved our town during our great emergency have been left holding the bag thus far by bureaucrats who appear to have no understanding nor sympathy for suffering citizens," he added. Some of the past-due bills are for trucks, crews and fuel used to haul raw sewage, others for the pumps that drained a rain-produced, multi-million-gallon lake near downtown. Cain said when the announcement came earlier this month that the government agency had approved aid for Roscoe, "the public probably got the impression our needs had been met. But that isn't the case."

Texas electric customers to receive higher bills

During January, Texas Electric customers will begin receiving higher bills brought on by the expiration Jan. 1 of the company's largest long-term contract for low-cost natural gas. The first bills reflecting the higher cost of new gas TESCO has had to buy for use in making electricity will be sent Jan. 6. The higher-priced gas which has to be used to replace the amount of fuel supplied by the expiring Old Ocean gas contract, will increase customers' electric bills by about $8 for each 1,000 kilowatt-hours used. "For much of this year, we have been publicizing this upcoming bill increase in an effort to encourage our customers to take steps to conserve on their use of electricity," said TESCO President Bill Marquardt. By taking conservation steps in homes and businesses, he said, customers can do a lot to lessen the effect of higher-priced gas on their bills in the future. "We hope customers will call us for information on how to conserve or for the times and places of our free neighborhood Operation Tighten-Up workshops. There are a number of effective measures that can be done for little or no cost," Marquardt said. More than one-fourth of the fuel TESCO used in 1980 to produce electricity came from the Old Ocean gas contract. "We have had to acquire new natural gas to replace the fuel supplied by this contract, and new gas supplies are much more expensive than that we've paid for the Old Ocean gas," Marquardt said. The Old Ocean contract was negotiated 20 years ago, when gas was cheap. Recently, TESCO has paid an average of 41 cents per thousand cubic feet (mcf) for gas supplied by the contract. During the 1970s, however, the market price of gas went over $2 per mcf, and that price continues to climb. Gas being acquired under new contracts today ranges in price from about $2.25 to more than $5 per mcf. "Our customers saved about $700 million on their bills during the '70s because we were able to make much of their electricity with Old Ocean gas, instead of higher-priced gas," Marquardt said. Although the higher cost of new gas will cause bills to increase, bills will not be as high as they would have been if the company had not built new generating plants fueled by lignite coal. Today, he noted, TESCO is making almost half its customers' electricity with lignite, and also is building the Comanche Peak nuclear plant near Glen Rose. "We still will have to use a great deal of natural gas and some oil to make electricity, and as gas and oil prices continue to increase, so will the price of electricity." "But lignite and uranium now are much cheaper than gas, and our use of those two fuels will continue to help hold down the amount of those increases," Marquardt said. TESCO's only remaining long-term contract for low-cost gas, the Odessa Natural contract, will expire in one year, at the end of 1981. That contract supplies a much smaller percentage of the company's fuel. But because gas under that contract is lower in price than the Old Ocean gas, its expiration also will cause significant increases in customers' bills, beginning in 1982.

Speech, language pathologist

Marianne Norris resigns Dora Roberts Rehab post

By CAROL HART A transfer and a return to school are the reasons Marianne Norris, a speech and language pathologist, is leaving the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center. Mrs. Norris will complete her duties at the Rehabilitation Center Wednesday. She said that her husband, Ralph H. Norris Jr., is being transferred to Denton. He has been working as the assistant personnel director at the Big Spring State Hospital, and will take the position of management specialist with the Denton State School. Mrs. Norris plans to return to school when the couple moves to Denton, she said. She received her bachelor's degree in 1978 from Texas Christian University in Fort Worth, and her master's degree from the same school in 1979. She plans to attend North Texas State in Denton and hopes to attain a master's degree and a certification in audiology. She will also be working for the Fort Worth School District as a speech pathologist. Mrs. Norris has been serving in a variety of capacities in her job as speech and language pathologist at the Rehabilitation Center. She explained that she has been

MARIANNE NORRIS

Mrs. Norris came to Big Spring in July of 1979. She recently presented a paper which was part of her master's thesis, titled "Voice Initiation and Termination Time in Stuttering and Non-Stuttering Children," at the American Speech, Hearing and Language Association in Atlanta. The paper has been sent off for publication in a professional journal, Mrs. Norris said. While in Big Spring, Mrs. Norris was active in the First United Methodist Church, and served on the March of Dimes advisory board. She and her husband were also active in the Civitan Club. She also worked with stutters, learning disabled children, and language delayed children, and people with articulation difficulties and voice impairments. She also did contract work with the Veteran's Administration Hospital two mornings a week, she said. At the Rehabilitation Center, Mrs. Norris worked with all ages. She said her youngest patient was 21 months, and her oldest was 83 years old.

Police rescue 18 Italian prison guards from rebelling inmates

ROME (AP) — A daring police raid rescued 18 prison guards held hostage by rebelling inmates and struck a firm blow at an apparent left-wing terrorist plan to cause trouble in Italy's prisons, government and police officials said.

"The state has won a battle with the key help of the carabinieri (paramilitary police)," said Francesco Mazzola, deputy secretary for security forces for Premier Arnaldo Forlani. "The victory demonstrated the state's capacity to act with decisive firmness."

Thirty carabinieri commandos in two helicopters landed on the roof of Trani prison in southeast Italy on Monday while local police blasted their way into the ground floor with plastic explosives.

About 70 rebel inmates were captured. Four prisoners and 23 hostages and police were hospitalized with injuries after the rescue but nobody was hurt seriously, hospital officials said.

The prisoners, reported to include some of Italy's most notorious urban guerrillas, seized the unarmed guards Sunday to press demands to close Trani and nine other maximum-security prisons where terrorist suspects are held.

The rebels had homemade bombs, some rigged from coffee pots, and sharp instruments similar to screwdrivers, police said.

Spokesmen for the rebel convicts said that their uprising was linked to the kidnapping of Judge Giovanni D'Urso by the Red Brigades on Dec. 12. The leftist terrorist gang is still holding D'Urso, a top official in the national prison system, and threatened reprisals if any of the prisoners at Trani were injured.

"The government should know that anything it's plotting to repress the struggles of the proletarian prisoners at Trani will produce an immediate response from the Red Brigades," said a typewritten note delivered to two Rome newspapers before the assault at Trani.

Police believe that the Red Brigades, responsible for the kidnap-murder of former Premier Aldo Moro in 1978, decided to disrupt Italy's prison system this fall after police arrested hundreds of left-wing terrorist suspects in the spring.

The urban guerrillas wanted to maintain links with their imprisoned comrades and try to convince common criminals to join the left-wing cause, police say. Prison sources at Trani said about half of the rebelling inmates were not linked to political crimes.

Premier Forlani presided over a meeting of the cabinet committee on public security that decided to go ahead with the Trani rescue raid, government sources said. Forlani praised the operation afterward, saying it was "brilliant."

Political observers said that the rescue was likely to ease political pressure on the government, which was drawing fire for apparently yielding to the Red Brigades by announcing Saturday that it was shutting down L'Asinara maximum-security prison on an island off Sardinia. The Red Brigades had demanded L'Asinara's closure in every message after the D'Urso kidnapping.

Extends 'arm of friendship and trust'

Bush meets with LULAC leaders

HOUSTON (AP) — Vice President-elect George Bush extended "the arm of friendship and trust" to the League of Latin American Citizens but apparently stopped short of giving Hispanic leaders the support they sought.

Five LULAC representatives huddled Monday with Bush to outline problems facing the Hispanic community and seek the vice president-elect's help to renew voting rights legislation.

However, the group was reluctant to directly acknowledge whether they gained the support they sought for renewal of the 1965 Voting Rights Act, which expires in 1982.

"This is the critical issue of the 1980s... We are certain he will assist in its extension but it is clear he will have to review it and get information from his staff," Ruben Bonilla, a Corpus Christi attorney and national LULAC president, said at an impromptu news conference after the 45-minute briefing.

Bush, then as a congressman from Texas, supported enactment of the bill, Bonilla noted.

Bonilla's brother, Tony, "a long-time friend of Bush's" and national executive director of LULAC, arranged Monday's visit with the vice president-elect.

It was the second time in a week Bush has met with minority leaders. On Dec. 22, he spoke to a largely black audience at Texas Southern University, promising sensitive dialogue between the Reagan administration and minorities.

Bush said he hoped to be "a catalyst for being sure that our administration keeps the commitment that President-elect Reagan feels in the area of fair play and in areas of enhancing the economic conditions for those who have been most severely hurt by unemployment or inflation or whatever."

Bonilla told Bush he recognized "sacrifices would be required of all citizens and we are prepared to make some sacrifices." However, he added, the sole burden should not be placed on the Hispanic community.

Bush said he re-emphasized the Reagan administration's desire to work with LULAC, the nation's largest and oldest Hispanic organization. However, he added, the goals that got them elected would not be compromised.

"That doesn't mean that Ruben isn't going to sit down with me or other members of the Reagan administration and not be fighting for programs that we may say, 'Well, look, we just can't continue to fund them at this level,'" Bush said.

Weather

Clear skies, mild temps in forecast

By The Associated Press
Clear skies and mild temperatures were forecast for all of Texas today.

The pleasant weather was expected to continue through at least the first part of the upcoming New Year's Day holiday period.

Highs today were to be mostly in the 60s.

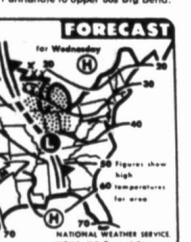

The state remained under the influence of a large high pressure system.

A few clouds were noted early today over South Texas and Southwest Texas, but most of the state had clear skies and cool temperatures.

Early morning temperatures were mostly in the 30s and 40s, ranging from the 20s across the High Plains to the 50s in South Texas. Extremes ranged from 28 at both Amarillo and Lubbock to 59 at McAllen.

EXTENDED FORECAST
WEST TEXAS: Fair with a gradual cooling trend through the weekend. Lows near 30 north to near 40 south cooling to mid 20s north and mid 30s south by Saturday. Highs near 40 north to low 70s south cooling to low 50s.

WEATHER FORECAST — The National Weather Service forecasts for Wednesday rain in a small section of Washington and Oregon. Snow and flurries are expected in portions of the Great Lakes Region.

Irish gunmen kill officer

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Gunmen killed an off-duty prison officer and wounded another in separate attacks today, police said.

The attacks clearly signaled the end to an unofficial Christmas truce observed by the Irish Republican Army, police sources said.

Witnesses said one guard had just gotten into his car outside his home in a predominantly Protestant residential area, when one of two men waiting in another car walked across the street and pumped four or five shots into him.

United States will never again dominate

In a speech made before graduates of Texas A&M University at College Station, wherein he advanced the concept of a free trade zone that would extend 300 miles on either side of the United States-Mexico border, Ambassador Abelardo L. Valdez also talked of nationalism.

Until 1945, he said, a handful of nations guided the destinies of all the people on earth and they did so in every important way. Those nations held sway strategically, politically, culturally and economically.

THE UNITED STATES, of course, was among that handful of strong dominant nations and has been since the promulgation of the Monroe Doctrine in 1823.

That day, Valdez says, is gone forever. We may continue to lead, Valdez added, if our leadership is appropriate to the progress of others, but we will never again dominate.

"We began quite a process back in 1776 when Thomas Jefferson wrote and we proclaimed that people had the right to 'assume among the powers of the Earth a separate and equal station.' It took another 12 generations for that concept to explode on the world's scene and to become today's reality," Valdez told his listeners. "But it is there, and it is our challenge. We must respond to the movements of our time and with the same wisdom and vision which moved those men in Philadelphia."

In 1945, there were 57 embassies in Washington. As this nation's Chief of Protocol, Valdez today acts as liaison on behalf of our government to 142 foreign ambassadors and chiefs of mission. As head of protocol, he has grown to know a lot of the embassy people personally and has heard them speak of their priorities. Development, he says, is the single over-riding objective of most nations on earth. Nationalism, therefore, and the efforts of nations to building institutions to improve the quality of life for their people, is one harbinger of this new Age of Development, Valdez said.

Another is population. At the beginning of this century, there were 1.5 billion people on this planet—a billion and a half generated from a million years of human evolution, a modest and manageable expansion. Today, reminded Valdez, we have 4.5 billion and unless present trends are reversed, by the time your children graduate from college there will be 6.5 billion inhabitants on planet earth—a sixfold expansion of the globe's population in a single century.

While it is true that the population is growing fastest in the poorest countries, the U.S. and other developed nations are now experiencing the impact of the spiraling population growth in the form of undocumented migration of large numbers of persons who are seeking work. Several million of such people cross our borders every year, coming from Africa, Asia, the Caribbean and Latin America.

THEIR ONE thought is survival. They are here to find work—no force on earth can restrain man or woman from trying to support a family. No fence can be built high enough to hold back that drive for survival.

Valdez says the real solution to his problem can be found not in the town in which the worker is employed but in the development of economic opportunity in the town he left.

The lynchpin of the Age of Development, Valdez said, is mankind's recognition that, for the first time in history, technology had given us the tools to solve the problems of human need. Because of that mastery, we can grow more food and raise more buildings and extend education to many more people than ever before.

If we are to succeed as a nation in addressing the challenges and opportunities posed by the Age of Development, we must understand that our economy is inter-related to the economy of the developing nations of the world, as well as to that of developed countries, said the ambassador. We must also understand that military might, alone, will not assure our national security. Economic development, Valdez insists, can be just as important as defense policy in meeting our nation's security needs. We need to strengthen and improve economic cooperation with the rest of the international community through trade, private investment and international development assistance.

New Curseword

Around the rim

Richard Horn

In recent years, a new curse word has found its way into the English language. That word is bureaucracy. With the proper emphasis it becomes BUREAUCRAT, and it is probably one of the worst things you can call somebody.

"What we've gotta do is get government back to the people and out of the hands of the BUREAUCRATS." "The problem with this country is that we've got too many BUREAUCRATS." "I'm tired of all my tax dollars going to pay BUREAUCRATS." "There must have been a BUREAUCRAT in the woodpile on that one." "Why, you're nothing but a no good son of a BUREAUCRAT!"

WHO ARE these luckless people? I don't think I've ever met one. Do they have horns? Are they small and green? Could you imagine some guy coming up to you at a dinner party and saying, "Hi! I'm John Doe and I work in Washington. I'm a bureaucrat?" He would probably eat alone.

Whoever they are, everyone wants to get rid of them. They give us needless regulations, take our money, and accomplish little or nothing. Getting rid of them is supposed to lower taxes and prices and make life a lot easier.

There is a lot of truth to that. Not only is the government too big, it is unmanaged, or rather unmanageable. But reducing it is going to be very difficult. One of the reasons is that red tape and hopeless bureaucracy is not a disease that afflicts only government, and it is not the result of one political or economic philosophy. Anybody who has had anything to do with a large corporation knows that there is a ridiculous amount of red tape and confusion involved with trying to get anything done. And corporations are among the most anti-BUREAUCRATIC.

During the last two summers I worked for a large oil company in the computer department. So much of what we did was never looked at, or it was thrown away that there seemed little reason for doing it in the first place. The people at the company's management level admitted that it was a problem and one of them said that 3/4ths of the employees were there to fill out forms for the 1/4th that actually did something. Not government forms, oil company forms. There were memos and plans drawn up to cut down on waste, but they led nowhere and ended up adding to the mess. It is the same way in government. The definition of bureaucracy refers to government, but it exists everywhere in every large business, no matter how conservative.

PRESIDENT-ELECT Reagan has begun making plans about cutting the red-tape, and he has hired successful businessmen to get the job done. That would seem to be a good idea, but many men have spun their wheels before. I believe President Carter wanted to cut down on government agencies, but somehow he got lost and ended up creating a few more. Bureaucracy has been growing in this country for 30 years and it is not going to go away over night.

Reagan has already come under attack, from some of his most ardent campaigners, and the attacks are likely to get stronger as he starts his term in office. There is a good chance that bureaucracy will get worse before it gets better simply because it is such an awesome task. It sounds silly, but one practically has to create an agency to get rid of all the agencies. There is a long road ahead, and we're going to have to be patient. All this cursing has got to stop.

No Joking Matter

"Is this Mr. Erik Gerende?"
"Speaking."
"This is Mr. Barkle of the Visa card company."
"Happy New Year."
"That is not what I'm calling about. We notice that you have $2,340 in charges and we haven't heard from you."
"I didn't know I was supposed to call."

"YOU WEREN'T supposed to call. You were supposed to send us a check."
"I would have, but it would only bounce and then you people would have gotten mad at me."
"You mean you don't have $2,340?"
"Who does, except the Hunt brothers?"

"I'm not in a joking mood, Mr. Gerende. We need the $2,340."
"Well, you better call somebody else because I don't have it."

"Why did you use our Visa card if you didn't have the funds?"
"I didn't intend to. But every time I went into a store before Christmas, the person behind the counter said, 'We'll take either Visa, MasterCard or American Express.' I figured you people needed the business so I gave everyone my Visa card."

"We sent you that Visa card on the understanding that you would pay us back for the things you charged on it."
"Well, if that's the way you feel about it, I'll send the card back to you. I don't want to do business with any company where I'm not welcome."
"You don't have to do that. We've canceled your Visa card already. If you pay us back the $2,340 we will be happy to reinstate you."
"For $2,340 I could join the Burning Tree Country Club. Look, if I had the money I'd send it to you. But I'm a little strapped now, what with Christmas and everything."
"What did you buy with the card?"
"A lot of stuff for the kids and two airline tickets for my parents to visit us over the holidays."
"Have they used the tickets both ways?"
"YEH, THEY went home last night. They had a great time."
"Mr. Gerende, this is going to look very bad to the computer. The computer gets very angry when one of our members fails to pay his bills."
"What does it do?"
"It tells other computers all over America that you refused to pay your Visa obligations."
"That's a rotten thing to do."
"Do you know what you are now, Mr. Gerende, in the memory of every computer in this country?"
"No, what am I?"
"A deadbeat."
"Nobody's perfect."
"We want our money, Mr. Gerende, and we want it now."

How aspirin helps in arthritis

Paul G. Donohue, M.D.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I take large amounts of aspirin for my arthritis, four every four hours, which helps a lot with the pain. But the terrible ear ringing is unbearable. I never had ringing up to now. Do I have to abide this in order to control my arthritis pain?—R.G.

Aspirin, even small doses, can cause ear ringing. In fact, it is one of the most common causes.

There is an important point for people using aspirin for arthritis to keep in mind. The chief effect of aspirin is control of joint inflammation. The long-range goal is to raise the aspirin level in the blood to a point where this can be achieved. The ear ringing implies that the aspirin level in the blood is high enough.

There are three approaches to your problem. (1) If ear ringing is the only side effect, and if only your present dosage schedule can control your pain, then you accept the ringing as a relatively small price to pay. (2) You can ask the doctor to alter your dosage schedule, spreading it out in lesser amounts. (3) You can try some of the other newer anti-inflammation drugs on the market, which do not have this side effect. Aspirin is not the only cause of ear ringing. High blood pressure can be involved, and that might be investigated.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Can stomach troubles cause a person to get low blood sugar? I have the symptoms of nervousness, etc., and it comes on usually after I have eaten, maybe two hours after. My book on low blood sugar does not mention this idea.—Mrs. B.C.

One form of functional hypoglycemia involves the small bowel. In this, there is a rapid passage of carbohydrates from the stomach into the small intestine. This causes speeded up absorption of the carbohydrate (now sugar) into the blood.

This turns on a sudden overproduction of insulin in the pancreas. Insulin, as you know, "burns" blood sugar, so low blood sugar results.

I don't know whether this is your problem. Tests would tell. Such problems frequently occur in people who have had stomach surgery. I am thinking of the dumping syndrome, as an example. The many questions I get on hypoglycemia are discussed in the booklet "Help for Hypoglycemia." You can order a copy by writing to me care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents to cover mailing and handling.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I have a friend who had her fallopian tubes burned electrically to close them. I would like to know if this operation is permanent or if there is some method to restore the tubes to their original state. We would like to have a child later on if at all possible. I believe the name of the operation is a bilateral salpingectomy. Who would I see to get this done?—V.M.C.

Salpingectomy is the closing or cutting of the tubes, bilateral referring to both tubes. The reversal procedure is called salpingoplasty. Many gynecologists now perform the surgery to attempt to reopen the fallopian tubes to allow the egg to once again get from the ovaries to the uterus. The surgery is delicate, and the success rate is far from 100 percent, but has been improving. Your county medical society can put you in touch with a gynecologist doing this operation.

Note: In a recent response to a reader on this subject, I wrote that I had not heard of reversal procedures being done simultaneously and successfully on both marriage partners—the woman to reopen her fallopian tubes, and the male to reopen his sperm ducts. I was called to task by one reader who knew of such a case. I stand corrected. It would, of course, have involved a second marriage.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Can you suggest something to stop my husband's snoring? It is ruining my sleep, my life, my happiness, my marriage.—G.G.

First, encourage him to go to sleep on his side. That helps keep the airways open and reduces the physical forces causing the snoring. One colleague suggests using a soft cervical collar, the kind people wear when they have a sprained neck. The theory is that this altered neck position helps reduce the same pressures on the airways.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I watched you on television the other night. I guess I have lived a pretty sorry life, and now I want Jesus Christ to come into my life. How can I make a new start?—M.W.

DEAR M.W.: You can make a new start by giving your life to Jesus Christ. You cannot make a new start just by making a new set of resolutions or by determining in your mind that you will be a better person. That is not enough. But by turning to Christ and inviting him into your life you can start again. You can be born again—spiritually reborn—as the Bible tells us in John 3:3.

What must you do? First, realize that you are a sinner in the eyes of God. You have sinned against him and have turned your back on him, and you only deserve his judgment because he is perfect and holy. The Bible tells us, "For all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God" (Romans 3:23). Furthermore, your sins are such that you can never make yourself righteous in the eyes of God. His standard is perfection. Second, realize what Jesus Christ has done for you. He has done for you what you would never do for yourself. He was the perfect Son of God, wholly without sin. And yet in his love for you he willingly took upon himself the punishment for your sins. He died on the cross in your place. You deserved to die for your sins, but Christ died for you. Furthermore, he rose from the dead to demonstrate beyond doubt that he had broken the bonds of sin and death. He did all this so you and I could be saved. It is sin which separates us from God—and Christ came to take away our sins. "For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Romans 6:23).

Finally, realize what God asks you to do—and do it. Salvation is a free gift of God. But like any gift, it must be accepted. I invite you right now to accept Jesus Christ into your life. By faith, confess your sins to him and invite him into your life. Trust him as your Savior and follow him as your Lord. You can do this by a simple prayer of faith. And if you will, you too can know what it means to be a child of God.

'Family' involved

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON—One of the most violent crime families in the country had a major role in the illegal dumping of poisonous wastes that could have endangered the health of millions of New Jersey and New York City residents.

When state health officials raided the dump site—on a peninsula in the industrial area of Elizabeth, N.J., only a few miles from Manhattan and Staten Island—they discovered nearly 50,000 barrels of toxic materials, solvents and explosives.

"Health officials reported that enough poisons and pesticides had been noted on the premises to provide a minimum lethal dose to all of Staten Island and lower Manhattan in the event of a fire," declared an internal report of the U.S. Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms.

AND, IN FACT, a fire of suspicious origin destroyed the dump earlier this year. But by that time officials had removed much of the dangerous waste material and a major disaster was prevented though schools in the area had to be closed.

"The crime family principally involved in this case is the (Frank) Tieri family," according to a confidential memo prepared by the New Jersey Division of Criminal Justice.

Ironically, one of the organized crime figures linked to the illegal dumping was the owner of a wholesale fish company in the Fulton Fish Market on the Lower East Side of Manhattan—well within the area endangered by the illicit dump across the Hudson River in Jersey. He is Joseph Lapi, described by lawmen as an "elder statesman" of the Tieri crime family.

Lapi, described by lawmen as an "elder statesman" of the Tieri crime family, "has been seen often at Chemical Control Corporation," the now bankrupt firm that owned the dump site, according to the official memo, which explained: "Lapi supposedly loaned money to Chemical Control and made frequent trips to the site to pick up the money for organized crime."

According to the memo, Lapi was often seen talking at the dump site with John Albert, and owner of Chemical Control who has been indicted in two states on charges of illegal dumping. Albert is one of 15 "soldiers" of the Tieri crime family who is listed in the memo as being involved with Chemical Control. He is identified specifically as the one "who is reported to have brought organized crime in to take over Chemical Control."

ANOTHER OF the alleged "soldiers" was Frank Vispisano, who "is reputed to be a hit man," the document states. Vispisano's name "was endorsed on three Chemical Control Corp. checks and cashed at the fish market owned by Joseph Lapi," the memo alleged.

The two other top men in the case with Lapi are listed by the New Jersey investigators as Peter Laplaca and Nicholas Rattenni. All three are "Caporegins" in the Tieri family, according to the memo. The document gives a brief rundown on the Tieri family. Formerly known as the Vito Genovese crime family, its acting head is identified as Philip Lombardo.

The Tieri family has a strength of about 650 members and "is heavily involved in the carting industry through its control of unions as well as loan sharking," the investigators report. A federal organized crime expert told my associate Tony Capaccio that the Tieri family "is particularly active in contract killings."

Although the dump was destroyed in a fire last April, it left a potentially lethal legacy. Unknown quantities of toxic chemicals have seeped into the ground and into an adjacent stream called the Arthur Kill, which leads into the Hudson River.

Meanwhile, of course, the Mob has made its money out of the illicit dumping operation. A former owner of Chemical Control estimated that the mobster-backed company probably made about $7 million in profits by dumping the dangerous chemicals instead of destroying them as required by law.

DO-IT-YOURSELF TRIBUTES: Jimmy Carter is making sure that his top-level appointees get job recommendations that couldn't be better if they wrote them themselves—which is exactly what they are doing.

In a private memo to department and agency heads, White House Chief of Staff Jack Watson told the outgoing brasshats how to do it. The tributes should accompany their formal letters of resignation.

"Attached to each resignation letter," Watson advised the bigwigs, "should be a draft Presidential letter of appreciation to the appointee, which accepts the resignation and briefly cites the appointee's major accomplishments and contributions."

Once approved by the president, he will sign the self-serving encomiums and return them to their authors, who can then have them framed for their rec-room walls or make copies for distribution to prospective employers.

HOMEWORK: The General Services Administration appears to be toying with the idea of making the federal bureaucracy a cottage industry.

GSA recently conducted an experiment to see if employees could do their government jobs properly in their own homes. An agency engineer spent two months working at home and was rated for his performance, motivation and productivity.

The official who conceived the idea termed the experiment a success and is now preparing a report that will suggest it be repeated. Sources say they are hoping to expand the technique, having perhaps an entire GSA unit work at home for as long as a year.

One hitch the officials see, though, is that the Internal Revenue Service may not approve the employees' use of their homes as a tax-deductible office.

Dear Abby

The Truth Hurts; Sometimes It's Fatal

DEAR ABBY: I'm glad someone finally said what I've been thinking. If my husband were having an affair, you'd better believe I'd want to be told. Why should I go around believing that I'm loved and satisfying his needs? If he's fooling around, I'd want to know about it so I could either get the matter straightened out or get out while I was still young and desirable.

At any rate, Abby, I don't go along with the outdated philosophy of protecting the wife from the truth because she'd be "hurt" if she found out. If she waits for her husband to tell her, she might waste half her life living in a fool's paradise.

MIFFED IN MONTANA

DEAR MIFFED: You make a valid point, but the mail has been running 3 to 1 against informing the spouse. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: Thanks for advising against telling a wife that her husband is having an affair.

My marriage was beautiful. I was married to a man who treated me like a queen. We had two terrific teen-aged children. Everything was perfect until my "best friend" told me that my husband was having an affair with a young divorcee who was working for him. I never would have suspected a thing if my friend hadn't opened her big mouth!

I changed from a happy, loving wife and mother to a miserable, nagging shrew. Our home, once filled with love, was filled with hostility and noisy fights.

My husband went to an early grave, a sick and sorry man, begging me to forgive him. I'm now 65 and alone, and regret being such a fool over something that would probably have blown over in time.

My best friend may have thought she was doing me a favor, but she ruined my life.

WITHHOLD MY NAME

DEAR ABBY: For whatever this is worth, concerning informing the wife that her husband is having an affair: I got a telephone call from an unidentified stranger (a woman) who told me she thought I should know that my husband was having an affair with a young woman named Sheila.

It's a long story, but here are the facts: My husband had indeed become infatuated with a young woman named Sheila. The affair lasted exactly four months. Then Sheila started to pressure him to divorce me and marry her. My husband then regained his senses and told her it was all over between them because he loved his family too much to break up his home.

That's when this unidentified stranger called to "tip me off." She was hoping I'd be hurt and angry and kick my husband out. Then she could move in for the kill. Of course it didn't work.

STILL MARRIED

DEAR ABBY: This is for TOO LATE IN CLEVELAND, who blamed her friends for not telling her that her husband was having an affair. She said had she known about it, she might have been able to save her marriage.

I had the same experience, but I didn't blame my friends. Had they told me, I never would have believed them. Abby, a man who cheats will also lie, and if I had confronted my husband, I'm sure he'd have lied, and I would have believed him. Then my friends would no longer be my friends.

As it turned out, I found out about it myself. There was nothing to "save," and now that I am rid of my husband, I still have my friends, whose friendship is worth much more to me than a cheating husband.

I'm with you, Abby. Friends should not tell!

Put the freeze on frostbite

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Frostbite can strike whether you're skiing, ice skating, or just enjoying a snowy winter walk, says the December issue of Seventeen.

"Frostbite occurs when the skin and underlying tissue freeze," explains Anthony J. Acerrano, author of the Outdoorsman's Emergency Manual, and survival consultant to the American Institute for Exploration. "Toes, fingers, ears, nose, and cheeks are the commonly affected areas," says Mr. Acerrano, "because the extremities have the poorest circulation. If untreated, frostbite can cause tissue damage and may lead to gangrene."

Frostbite can occur whenever the air temperature drops below freezing. But even when the temperature is higher, strong winds can cause frostbite. The best protection is to dress in warm clothes and always wear a hat. You can lose up to 50 percent of your body heat if your head is uncovered.

Be on the watch for frostbite symptoms. Your skin may flush just prior to frostbite. As freezing begins, the affected area will turn white or grayish yellow. You might feel some pain. As frostbite progresses, your skin will become numb and turn pale and glossy. In severe cases, blisters will appear.

When you have frostbite symptoms, here's how to treat them: —Gently wrap the frozen area in extra clothing or a blanket. Never rub the affected area or warm the skin by standing near a stove or fire. You may unknowingly burn the skin tissue.

—Seek shelter as soon as possible, and drink warm, non-alcoholic fluids. —Immerse the affected area in warm — not hot — water. Soak until circulation is restored and the skin becomes flushed.

—Once the skin is warm, exercise frostbitten areas to restore circulation. If tissue damage has occurred — as evidenced by blisters or white spots on the skin — see a doctor immediately.

The new arrival is welcomed home by her sister, Juanita, 6.

1905 Hyperion Club observes Guest Day

The 1905 Hyperion Club observed Annual Guest Day in the First Baptist Church parlor Dec. 18. Approximately 60 people attended.

Imported embroidered linen cloth covered the tea table which was enhanced with an arrangement of red candles, greenery and silk poinsettias. Silver appointments were used.

A memorial silence was observed in the chapel in honor of the late Mrs. Earl Ezzell.

A select group of the church's youth, "His Children," presented a program of Christmas music. Participants included Matt Warren, Joe Hicks, Scott Underwood, David Hamilton, Melody Holmes, Veronda Boothe, Terri Miller and Felecia Ford.

Others were Elise Wheat, Debbie Cowan, Misty Sink, Lisa Bumgarner, Dawn Estes, Kim Dorland and Beverly Wheeler.

Mothers of the performers attended as special guests.

Sylvia, 15, from Pottstown, Pa., is not allowed to ride on her boyfriend's motorcycle and wants to hear what her peers have to say about it. Janet Jablonski, 16, from Weirton, W.Va., and Philip Weiss, 16, who resides in Rock Island, Ill., will do the honors.

Dr. Wallace: My 17-year-old boyfriend owns a motorcycle and is a very safe driver who obeys all the rules of the road. For about the last two weeks he has been giving me a ride home from school on his bike. One of our nosy neighbors happened to tell my mother and now I'm not allowed to ride on his bike anymore.

I promised to wear a helmet but my parents still say, "no way." I feel my parents are being very narrow-minded. I'd also like to hear what my peers have to say. — Sylvia, Pottstown, Pa.

Sylvia: I know that my answer will offend bikers, but I do not want my son or daughter to be riding on a motorcycle on public streets or highways.

Parents ban motorcycle

Regardless of how safe the biker is, when bike goes down, there are usually injuries to the riders. — Dr. Wallace Hello Sylvia: Your parents sound like mine. Someone told them that my boyfriend was racing his car on the street where I live. Now they won't let me ride with him. And now I'm glad they made the rule.

Last week, he was involved in an accident and the person riding with him wound up with a "bonk" on the head and 10 stitches above his eye.

So — what else can I say than listen to your parents. Once in a while they are right. — Janet, Weirton, W.Va.

Hello Sylvia: Since I own a motorbike, I'm going to disagree with your parents. I'd allow you to ride on the bike, but only if you wore the proper bike gear.

I've never been to Pottstown, but Rock Island is a busy city and auto traffic is very congested at times. I practice safe riding rules and never take unnecessary risks. If your boyfriend ever started to show-off, speed, or drive unsafely, I'd ground you. — Philip, Rock Island, Ill.

Hoover was incensed over insinuations of JFK murder cover-up

FBI vendetta against Dallas police alleged

DALLAS (AP) — Former FBI director J. Edgar Hoover, incensed over insinuations of an agency cover-up, directed a vendetta against the Dallas Police Department after President John F. Kennedy was assassinated here, a Dallas newspaper said today.

The Dallas Morning News quoted FBI documents obtained under the Freedom of Information Act as saying Hoover ordered his agents to stop teaching at the Dallas Police Academy and refused to invite Dallas officers to the FBI National Academy in Washington for more than two years after the assassination.

But only months after Police Chief Jesse Curry resigned in 1966, the newspaper said, FBI agents returned to the Dallas academy and a Dallas officer was invited to the FBI school.

Curry said his blood pressure increased as a result of "the continued pressures and tensions of the office" when he resigned. He died of heart problems last June 22.

In 1964 and 1965 Hoover instructed Dallas FBI agent Shanklin to tell Curry his agents "just don't have the manpower to take on additional training commitments at this time," the News quoted FBI documents as saying.

The boycott was triggered by a statement attributed to FBI agent James P. Hosty Jr. by Dallas police Lt. Jack Revill the day of the assassination, FBI memos show.

Revill, now assistant chief, said at the time that Hosty told him the FBI knew before the assassination that Lee Harvey Oswald was "capable of committing the assassination of President Kennedy." Hosty, however, denied making the statement.

The next day, Curry said on television the FBI wanted to cover up information that it was aware of Oswald's presence in Dallas and had not notified police. He retracted the statement after Shanklin challenged him to prove it.

Later in 1964, Curry wrote Shanklin a letter stating that no FBI source "ever asked me to 'cover up' the fact that the FBI knew Lee Harvey Oswald was in Dallas" before the assassination.

On April 28, however, Hoover wrote Shanklin that he "and personnel of your office are to deal at arm's length with Dallas Police Department personnel. We will not extend training assistance, nor will we accept candidates from that department to the (FBI) National Academy."

On Jan. 19, 1966, Hoover wrote Shanklin, Dallas Mayor Erik Jonsson visited his office and "asked to discuss the serious breach between this bureau and the Dallas Police Department, if one exists."

"I informed Mayor Jonsson that a breach in relations with Chief of Police Curry and his department does exist," Hoover wrote. "I made it perfectly clear actions and statements by Chief Curry and some of his personnel with respect to the bureau clearly indicated they are incompetent, blabbermouths and, in some instances, liars."

Hoover said Jonsson assured him he would "lay down certain guidelines under which Curry will be expected to operate," including "orders that Curry shall be certain of his facts in any statements made, establish tight discipline in his department and be circumspect in his remarks to the press."

He said training assistance would resume if the demands were met within two weeks.

Jonsson said recently he recalls meeting with Hoover, but he did not remember "any comment about Curry or the Dallas Police Department."

When it was announced that Charles Batchelor would replace Curry, Shanklin wrote Hoover that Batchelor "has been very cooperative with the bureau and he was not involved in any of the controversy arising over the assassination."

Hoover responded that if

Batchelor "runs the Dallas Police Department with a firm hand, you may resume normal cooperative relations with that department. This includes the extending of training assistance locally, and the nomination of qualified candidates to future sessions of the FBI National Academy."

Later in 1966, the FBI forced Batchelor to take action against Revill, the other Hoover nemesis from the assassination.

Shanklin told Batchelor and Jonsson that Revill and another officer copied an FBI report listing the names of suspected Mafia members in key U.S. cities, including Dallas, and forwarded it to Los Angeles Police Department intelligence officers.

Batchelor then transferred Revill from intelligence to a "less critical" area in the personnel division, Batchelor wrote Hoover. Batchelor apologized and said "such unethical and unauthorized use of information obtained from another police agency does not have the approval of this department."

Howard County Courthouse to close Thursday, Friday

The Howard County Courthouse will close at 5 p.m. Wednesday, and will remain closed Thursday and Friday, according to Margaret Ray, county clerk.

Swearing-in ceremonies for newly-elected county officials have not been formally scheduled, said Mrs. Ray, but are planned either Wednesday or Thursday.

87 bulls to be paraded before buyers Jan. 10

A joint production sale, featuring over 100 years in combined cattle breeding, will be held in a heated barn at the Patterson Brothers Ranch six miles southwest of Big Spring starting at 12:30 p.m., Saturday, Jan. 10.

A total of 87 bulls from the herds of Charlie Creighton, Malcolm and Morris Patterson, Roy Henderson and Guy and Richard Stoker will be paraded before the buyers.

The bulls are big and rugged, bred for practical performance with time-tested bloodlines.

Walter Britten, one of the state's best known craftsmen in his trade, will be the auctioneer. All animals in the auction are guaranteed to be breeders. Any animal failing to breed after a period of six months can be returned to the seller.

The seller reserves the right of trying said animal for a period of six months. If, at that time, it proves to be a non-breeder, the seller will refund the purchase price or substitute an animal of equal value.

The animals range in age from 21 to 27 months.

Those interested in the sale can reach the Patterson Ranch by traveling out Wasson Road from Big Spring and turning right on Rockhouse Road.

Lunch will be served to those attending at 11:30 a.m.

Carter signs revenue sharing measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter has signed legislation extending for three years the federal revenue-sharing program for local governments and providing the funds for state governments for two years.

The measure, which Carter signed without comment Monday, will provide $4.6 billion in annual aid to local governments through the 1983 fiscal year. It also authorizes, subject to later appropriations, $2.3 billion a year for state governments in fiscal 1982 and 1983. The states will get no money in the current fiscal year, which began on Oct. 1.

The revenue-sharing program expired on Sept. 30.

Dobbs arrested on theft charge

Judge Lewis Heflin Monday set a $2,500 bond on Larry Wayne Dobbs, who was arrested at the Big Spring Federal Camp on a warrant stemming from a theft charge out of Houston.

Raul Flores was also arrested Monday on a parole violation charge. Flores was on probation on a burglary charge. No bond was set in the case.

Vesco to seek asylum

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — Faced with becoming a man without a country, former U.S. citizen and financier Robert Vesco is appealing to the Bahamian government not to expel him from this island nation and to grant him political asylum.

Breaking a two-year public silence at a press conference he called Monday in a Nassau restaurant, Vesco said he fears being "clandestinely spirited away or even kidnapped to the United States to be punished for political motives."

The 45-year-old Vesco has been wanted by U.S. authorities since 1974. He is charged with plundering $224 million from the international investment firm Investors Overseas Services.

STRATEGY SESSION — Big Spring Steers boys basketball Coach Ed Haller gives some pre-game instructions to his team before a December win over Lamesa. The Steer roundballers, after more than a week off for Christmas, return to action tonight when they face Snyder, the defending state finalist in Class AAAA.

Here at 8:00

Steers, Snyder try to work off rust in battle tonight

It will be scrape off the rust time for a pair of high school boys basketball teams tonight when the Big Spring Steers play host to the Snyder Tigers at eight o'clock in Steer Gym.

Both teams have had over a week off during the Christmas holidays, and Steer Coach Ed Haller said that it showed on his players during their practice yesterday.

"Yesterday was the first practice since we played in that Lubbock Tournament (a week ago Saturday)," Haller stated, "and it really showed. We were very rusty. I'm just hoping that everybody else is in the same boat."

The Steers placed third in the Reese Tournament in Lubbock in their last competition, defeating Midland Lee for that position. They are 6-8 on the year.

Snyder, always a tough team, went to the championship finals in the state Class AAAA tournament last year. The Tigers are only 4-7 this season, but that record is somewhat deceiving.

"They've been missing Kelly Arnold thus far," Haller explained. "He was All-District for them a year ago, but hasn't been playing due to an injury this year. But he's supposed to be back for us tonight. He no doubt will make an outstanding difference in their attack."

"I fully expect Snyder to be back to where they should be," the Steer mentor continued.

Haller is expected to start a lineup of guards Dickie Wrightsil and James Doss, with Fletcher Johnson and Bobby Earl Williams inside. The fifth starting position will either be manned by junior Robert Rubio or sophomore Jerald Wrightsil.

The Steers looked somewhat out of shape yesterday and this is Haller's main concern. "The biggest thing I'm worried about is our conditioning," he explained. "It will no doubt affect the sharpness of our passing and shooting."

In a preliminary contest, the Big Spring JV basketball team of Coach Mike Randle will tangle with the Snyder JVs at 6:15 p.m.

DePaul still No. 1

Nothing new in basketball poll

By The Associated Press

DePaul's Blue Demons easily held onto the top spot in The Associated Press college basketball poll released today, while Oregon State moved from fourth to second with three convincing victories in the Far West Classic.

DePaul, 10-0 including a 93-77 victory over UCLA last Saturday, received 50 of the 51 first-place votes cast by a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters. The Blue Demons wound up with 1,019 points to 916 for the 8-0 Beavers, who received the other first-place vote.

Oregon State beat Northwestern, 90-70, Rhode Island, 103-55, and Oregon, 67-57, to win the Far West Classic at Portland, Ore., this week.

Last week, DePaul barely edged Kentucky for the top spot, 1,110-1,097, but Kentucky lost 67-61 to Notre Dame on Saturday in Louisville and dropped to fifth this week.

Notre Dame, 6-1, moved up to fourth from eighth, and Virginia, 6-0, moved into the third spot, vacated by UCLA. Virginia was fifth the week before, but the Cavaliers beat Baltimore 103-62 to move up two spots. Virginia garnered 885 points in the poll, and Notre Dame drew 804. Kentucky, 6-1, had 787 points.

Following Kentucky were North Carolina, 8-1, with 694 points, UCLA, 6-1, 691; Wake Forest, 8-0, 653; Maryland, 7-1, 567, and Louisiana State, 7-1, 515.

North Carolina, 9-1, held down the No. 6 spot for the second straight week after a 71-64 victory over Rutgers and an 86-64 decision over Louisville Monday night. Wake Forest, 8-0, was idle last week and dropped one spot to eighth to make room for Notre Dame in the top five.

Maryland and LSU, both 8-1, remained in the same spot. Maryland scored a 114-89 victory over Marshall in its last game, and LSU downed North Carolina-Wilmington 100-68.

The Second Ten consisted of Texas A&M, 7-1, 485 points; Michigan, 7-0, 441; Arizona State, 8-1, 434; Iowa, 6-1, 393; Indiana, 7-4, 265; Illinois, 7-1, 224; South Alabama, 8-1, 221; Tennessee, 8-1, 189; Brigham Young, 8-2, 154, and Utah, 9-1, 77.

Ali's Nevada license nixed

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The Nevada State Athletic Commission allowed former heavyweight boxing champion Muhammad Ali to surrender his Nevada boxing license, ending the threat of his forced retirement in the state.

The action prevents the three-time champion from ever fighting in the state again. But the Nevada action will have no effect on other states or other countries.

The commission had said Ali should be retired "for his own safety and for the integrity of boxing in the state of Nevada." It said his ability to perform was in question "as a result of his performance" in the Oct. 2 title fight with Larry Holmes in Las Vegas.

Longhorn fans show class, or lack of it in 7-4 year

HOUSTON (AP) — The Texas Longhorns are smiling through clinched teeth as they prepare for Wednesday night's Bluebonnet Bowl game against 13th ranked North Carolina.

It's obvious they'd rather be in Dallas representing the Southwest Conference in the Cotton Bowl and playing for the national championship instead of playing the underdog role to the Tar Heels, 10-1 and eager to enhance their national reputation.

A 7-4 finish in the rugged SWC and a bowl invitation would be considered a successful season for many programs but to UT fans it was apparently a yawner.

Longhorn officials returned 1,500 of their ticket allotment for the game, leaving Bluebonnet Bowl Executive Director Tex Thornton shocked.

"I can't understand why Longhorn fans don't want to come see their team," Thornton said. "They purchased only 7,000 and that's not much when you consider there are more than 100,000 Texas exes in Harris County alone."

Texas Coach Fred Akers admits Longhorn fans are demanding but not unfaithful.

Thornton said. "They purchased only 7,000 and that's not much when you consider there are more than 100,000 Texas exes in Harris County alone."

Vikings not scared of Philadelphia rout

NFL Playoffs

By The Associated Press

The Philadelphia Eagles probably played their best game of the 1980 National Football League season on Sept. 14 when they routed the Minnesota Vikings 42-7. The NFC East champions wouldn't mind a repeat showing this Saturday when they play the Vikings in Philadelphia.

Minnesota won the NFC Central title with a 9-7 record, the worst of any playoff qualifier. The Eagles, 12-4, tied for the best record in the league and will be solid favorites to defeat the Vikes.

Yet, the Vikings seem unworried.

"We've got everything to gain and nothing to lose," said Minnesota linebacker Jeff Siemon. "We were a team not picked to do anything this year. All of a sudden, here we are. They may fear us more than we fear them."

That seems unlikely since the Eagles outgained Minnesota 529 yards to 207 in their regular season meeting.

"I'm not sure they were quite as dominant during the second half of the season as they were early," added Siemon, a nine-year veteran who is in the playoffs for the seventh time. "We respect them but their whole season could go down the drain with this one game."

Still, the memory of that 42-7 pasting will be on the Minnesota players' minds.

"We've got everything to gain and nothing to lose," said Minnesota linebacker Jeff Siemon. "We were a team not picked to do

"You can't help but be affected by the outcome of the previous time we played them," added Siemon. "They looked very good in that game but we're a better team now than we were then."

The other NFC playoff contest will pit the Atlanta Falcons, winners of the Western Division, against the Dallas Cowboys, who beat Los Angeles 34-13 in the conference wild-card game last Sunday.

The Falcons, in only their second season of playoff competition, were eliminated by the Cowboys from the 1978 postseason action. If Dallas plays as well this Sunday as it did against the Rams, the Falcons, 12-4, might make another quick exit.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Third-ranked Pittsburgh will need a lot of help to win the national championship, but quarterback Rick Trocano says the Panthers can rest easy knowing that they've done everything in their power to lay claim to No. 1.

"We don't control our own destiny, so we just have to sit back and hope for the best," Trocano said Monday night after Pitt destroyed 18th-ranked South Carolina 37-9 in the 36th annual Gator Bowl.

PITT JUBILATES — Pittsburgh defensive end Hugh Green (99) jubilates after U.S. South Carolina's running back George Rogers fumbled the ball and it was recovered by defensive end Ricky Jackson (87) during the fourth quarter of the Gator Bowl Monday night in Jacksonville. The Panthers defeated the Gamecocks, 37-9.

George Rogers' collegiate finale for the 8-4 Gamecocks. It was the Panthers' seventh victory in a row since the team dropped a 36-22 decision to No. 2 Florida State. But it still doesn't put them in the driver's seat for the national crown, which many of the experts predicted Pitt would win in preseason polls.

Top-ranked Georgia must fall to Notre Dame in the Sugar Bowl on Thursday and Florida State would have to stumble against 4th-ranked Oklahoma later that night for the Panthers to have a shot.

"It's frustrating not having the final say. But on the other hand, you've got to give credit to Georgia for being undefeated and Florida State credit for beating us," said Trocano. "I can't predict the future, but if they both lose, I don't see how we can be denied."

South Carolina Coach Jim Carlen agreed. "I said going in that Pitt was the best around and nothing has changed. They're certainly one of the three best and right now, I'd have to give my vote," he said.

Trocano and his backup, sophomore Dan Marino, both tossed touchdown passes, fullback Randy McMillan scored twice and Dan Trout booted three field goals to key the victory.

Rogers, who was slowed by a pulled leg muscle, carried 27 times for 113 yards against a stingy Pitt defense anchored by All-American defensive end Hugh Green, who finished second in the Heisman balloting.

The game was billed as the first time the top two vote getters in the Heisman balloting had met in a bowl game.

"I didn't look at it as a personal confrontation," said Green. "We felt going in that we could beat them up front, and if we did that, that we could contain him (Rogers)."

Rogers, a 6-2, 220-pound senior from Duluth, Ga., fumbled three times and lost two of them and was obviously disappointed with his performance.

"I played my worst game. I'm afraid I let the team down," he said. "But maybe Pittsburgh had something to do with that."

Following loss to Oakland in playoffs

Bum finds good and bad

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oilers Coach Bum Phillips, although it's six days past Christmas, is making a list and checking it twice on what's been naughty and nice about the Oilers in 1980.

Phillips was much more willing to talk about the "nice" Monday as he reviewed Sunday's 27-7 loss to Oakland that sent the Oilers abruptly to the sidelines in the National Football League playoffs.

"I don't think we had that bad of a year," Phillips said.

"Everybody just expected a little more and so did we. I don't feel the coaches or the players did a bad job, we just didn't get the job done."

Phillips' "naughty" list already is headed by the penalties the Oilers made during the season.

"The thing that has hurt us all year has been penalties," Phillips said. "I don't mean it's the officials, obviously the penalties are there or they wouldn't call them."

"But that one thing cost us more points than any other factor this season. So many times we'd be in a position to score and then we'd get a penalty. We've got to find out now what went wrong."

"I still feel we're a better team than we were last year," Phillips said. "Just because we didn't make it to the Super Bowl doesn't mean we don't have the people to do it. We've just got to make a list of why we had breakdowns and how to correct them."

The Oilers seldom won a game by more than a touchdown en route to their 11-5 regular season record. They finally ran out of thrilling comebacks against the Raiders.

During the regular season, the Oilers outscored the opposition by an average of less than a field goal.

Phillips didn't put the Oilers offense on his naughty list however.

"I'm not dissatisfied with our offense," Phillips said. "We just had some breakdowns and we've got to figure out why. We did better than most teams. We made it to the playoffs."

Making Phillips' nice list were quarterback Ken Stabler and the Oilers' triple offensive coordinator setup.

"I am pleased with Ken Stabler but I'm not proud of the job I did," Phillips said. "I guess we as coaches felt he'd adjust faster to our system because he's such a great quarterback. But we shouldn't have expected that."

"Obviously, there's an adjustment going to a new football team and a new system but by next year you'll see a world of difference."

Villanova edges UTEP in Sun Carnival finals

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Villanova center John Pinone says the reason he can be so accurate from the free throw line in clutch situations while more than 12,000 fans hoping he'll miss scream at him is simple. "I'm not a big believer in all that pressure stuff," said Pinone, who went to the free throw line five times in the last two minutes Monday night. He sank all of them to give Villanova a 43-41 victory over host Texas-El Paso and the championship of the 20th annual collegiate Sun

Carnival Basketball Tournament. "I just blocked everything out of my mind and concentrated on making those shots," said the 6-foot-8 center, who was the leading scorer with 15 points.

UTEP, 8-3 for the season, has won 13 of the 20 tournaments.

Bama not rated high, but pride not gone

DALLAS (AP) — Alabama's preparation for the Cotton Bowl battle with sixth-ranked Baylor, 10-1, Thursday isn't all that different from the past two years when the Crimson Tide played in the Sugar Bowl with the national title on the line, running back Major Ogilvie says.

"It is a disappointment not to play for the national championship, but to talk about whether we're as high mentally as we were before the last two bowl games is not the way to characterize our team, really," Ogilvie said.

"We're a team that believes in poise and confidence. We're not an emotional team. We're not a rah-rah-rah team. The term 'get ready' would be more appropriate, because we're not emotional and we just try to go out each week and do the same thing the same way."

Alabama won its first seven games and held the No. 1 ranking until Mississippi State upset the Crimson Tide 6-3. Two weeks later, Alabama lost to Notre Dame 7-0 and finished the regular season 9-2 and ranked ninth, its chances for a national title erased.

Ogilvie said he respects Alabama coach Paul "Bear" Bryant for the concern he has for his players, not just as football players but as people. In that regard, he said, their pride may be just as important if not more important to the Alabama players than playing for the national championship.

JOHN LENNON'S CAR FOR SALE — The 1956 Bentley S-1, once owned by slain rock star John Lennon, is shown Tuesday by auctioneer Rick Cole, who predicts that it will bring between $50,000 and $100,000 when auctioned next month. Cole, who said the car was placed on consignment Nov. 5, one month before the former Beatle was murdered, says he will donate his commission to Lennon's Spirit Foundation. "I don't want to be accused of exploiting the tragedy," he said. "I'm 26, and I grew up with the Beatles."

Specialist at UT says spleen may be key to eye cancer treatment

DALLAS (AP) — A unique link between the eye and the spleen has given researchers new perspective into the body's defense against cancer and could alter methods of combating the dread disease.

Dr. Jerry Niederhorn, a University of Texas Health Science Center immunologist, said two recent studies indicated removing a cancerous eye could foster the disease's spread throughout the body while removing the spleen could kill the disease entirely.

"It's too early to say, 'Let's change our treatments,' but it's an important step in research," said Niederhorn.

Eye cancer, which claims about 500 victims a year in the United States, generally

Four charged in Amarillo policeman's slaying

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — Four Dumas men remained in Potter County Jail today after they were charged in the Christmas slaying of a city policeman who was shot with his own revolver.

Ernesto Gutierrez, 17, his brothers Victor, 23, and Guadalupe, 19, along with Urbano Flores, 18, were charged with capital murder Monday in the shooting of patrolman Berry McGuire, Justice of the Peace L.B. Bartlett denied bond for all four men.

McGuire's funeral, with full police honors, followed the formal charges by less than three hours.

The Gutierrez' attorney said he would request an examining trial after the first of the year, and Bartlett indicated an attorney would be appointed to represent Flores, identified in court as an illegal alien.

Police reports say the 21-year police veteran had radioed for backup assistance after stopping an automobile Christmas night for allegedly running a red light. When additional police units arrived, however, they found McGuire dead.

He had been kicked and beaten, then shot three times with his service pistol, officers said. Bullets struck him once in the head, chest and stomach.

Witnesses said McGuire arrested one of the four men in the car, put him in handcuffs in the patrol car, radioed for assistance, then went to take the other three into custody, police said. The witnesses said the three men overpowered the officer when he returned to their car, took his .357 Magnum pistol and shot him.

Child, 7, claims she was beaten, burned by father

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — A 7-year-old girl has told authorities her father stabbed her in the head with a table fork and then locked her inside a hot electric oven, according to police.

Detective G.H. Westbrook said the child, Dontressa Taylor, told officers Monday she beat on the oven door with her hands and head in a vain attempt to escape.

Westbrook, who said the child also was hit over the head with a soft drink bottle, reported the girl had stab wounds on her head and cuts and third-degree burns over most of her body. She was in fair condition at Wake Medical Center.

The child's father, Donald Joseph Holmes, 30, was charged with child abuse and held in lieu of $100,000 bond, the detective said.

Westbrook said the child's mother, Jessie Mae Taylor, told police the girl was beaten during a domestic dispute. The mother identified Holmes as the child's father, Westbrook said.

Westbrook said Ms. Taylor told him that she was beaten soon after the domestic dispute began so she locked herself in a bedroom with a second child.

Ms. Taylor later heard Dontressa screaming and from the animals, the disease did not spread.

Niederhorn thinks the reason for that is the unique link between the spleen and the eye.

"There is a direct pipeline from the spleen to the eye," he said.

The theory is that the eye, unlike the rest of the body, adapts to foreign matter — even cancer — instead of rejecting it.

For example, Niederhorn said, a skin graft first put on the eye, then transplanted to any other part of the body, will not be rejected by the body's immune system because the spleen somehow "recognizes" it as part of the body after its acceptance by the eye.

But once the spleen is removed, he believes, the immune system "recognizes" the eye cancer as foreign matter and works to block its spread.

"It makes sense immunologically, but it's still exciting to see it work on the animals," Niederhorn said.

His research, funded by the National Society for Prevention of Blindness, is "the tip of the iceberg," he said.

Fishermen not worried about Mexican edict

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Mexico's decision to halt fishing treaties with the United States may have some effect in other states, but not in Texas, state fishermen and shrimpers say.

The Mexican government terminated two treaties with the United States Monday night, saying it was unhappy with talks between the two countries on the rights of Mexican fishermen to catch squid off New England.

"I can't see we're going to be damaged that much, but other parts of the Gulf (fishing industry) have put a lot of stock into fishing off Mexico," said Ralph Rayburn, executive director of the Texas Shrimpers Association in Austin.

Although Mexican waters have been off limits to American shrimp boats for a year, Rayburn said American boats are allotted 52 permits a year to catch red snapper and grouper in Mexican waters.

The 13 shrimpers who have obtained the permits "were primarily seeking out other fishing as an alternative during off seasons so they could keep their crews and boats active," he said.

Rayburn said there will be some increased competition among American fishermen in the Gulf of Mexico but not much.

"People don't realize the current situation, that Mexico has basically phased out all foreign fishermen from its waters," he said.

Julius Collins, a long-time Brownsville shrimper, said few Texas boats rely heavily on Mexican snapper.

"I don't believe it will cause that much hardship," he said.

High diesel cost, bad weather and lost access to Mexican shrimp grounds will mean many of the 700 boats in the Brownsville-Port Isabel fleet will dock soon for the winter, he added.
