People arrested after 5 p.m., face jail

New procedure draws fire

By ANDREA COHEN

Several local attorneys are in disagreement with a new procedure being started Monday by Big Spring Police Chief Elwood Hohertz which says persons arrested between 5:01 p.m. and 6:59 a.m. will not be bonded until the following day.

In a memo which was hand-delivered to the sheriff, judges and attorneys, Hohertz said the purpose of the procedure is "to establish the integrity of police records and to obtain fingerprint cards and photographs for the Federal Bureau of Investigation—as required by Uniform Crime Reporting Standards."

The memo continued to say "the only exceptions will be subjects suspected of having a mental condition needing instance (sic) evaluation, writs of habeas corpus and corporation court cases where a standard bond is set and no magistrate, fingerprints or photographs are required."

Hohertz told the Herald the procedure is being changed to "get rid of standby and overtime. It's a utilization of manpower."

"The Supreme Court says the next morning is as soon as possible. I've checked the legality of it. I stand by my letter. I've checked into the consequences. And other cities are doing this," he added.

"I do not think it's going to work," said an attorney who asked not to be named Wednesday night. "We got a letter on it for the first time this morning. I had heard about it. I think the reasons are total utter trash. It may be done somewhere else, but it's stupid. It's more an accommodation to the police department."

"I never heard the sheriff's office complaining. This ID bit is trash. I've never gotten a prisoner out at night where there was any problem. I'll be interested to see in the next six months if it works. I know damn right well they'll start executing warrants after five. I think it's a stupid policy. I don't like it and they'll live to regret it. Experience shows it's not going to work. It's great if you presuppose everyone arrested is guilty. Luckily, you can't do that."

Another attorney, who also requested anonymity, said, "I feel that it's a violation of the traditional due process for the police to arrest someone without a bond and keep them in jail even if they're not guilty. Everywhere I've been, prisoners can call lawyers in the middle of the night and make bond. It's a violation of the rights to citizens. If they arrest someone at 5:05, they'll be held in jail until 7 a.m. the next morning. They may not be guilty and they'll have to spend all night in jail. It gives the police the power to sentence someone to a night in jail even if they're not guilty."

Jesse Delos Santos, 21, was pronounced dead at Baptist Hospital of a gunshot wound to the back after the fight, which occurred about 5 p.m. Wednesday, according to homicide investigator Robert Urban.

A passenger on the bus, Fred Aguilar, 18, was in fair condition Wednesday night in Santa Rosa Medical Center. He had been shot in "An exception in the memo," the attorney continued, "is habeas corpus and I don't know how they'll get that in the middle of the night."

"The probability is low that a lawyer would go down there if he can't make bond, and if the person is arrested on DWI (driving while intoxicated), he'll be deprived of a witness. It makes the police the sole judge of the matter."

"They're arresting, holding them in jail and preventing them from making bond," he added. "They're giving a mandatory night sentence for a man who may not be guilty of anything more than getting a police officer mad. I'm not saying an officer will do that, but it's possible an officer can arrest someone at 5:05 knowing he'll be held in jail all night. I think the citizens should be warned." I don't like," said John Burgess, an attorney.

"I think there are other methods to accomplish the same thing than incarcerating them for that long a time. They're saying the reason is for proper photographing and fingerprinting. They can set bond and then say 'You have to be back at 10 a.m. for identification purposes.' Like it or not, if they're arrested at eight at night and don't get out till 12 hours later, is isn't fair."

"You're treating the one-time offender the same way you're treating the hardened offenders and putting them together in a lock-up all night long. I think there's an alternative method to accomplish what they're trying to accomplish with their identification records. I'm not questioning the legality of it, but I'm questioning the fairness to the people."

"I feel that it's a sound procedure," said City Attorney Elliot Mitchell, because obviously we can't have an ID person 24 hours a day. This is a similar procedure in other towns. It's necessary. I stand behind it all the way. I feel that except maybe for DWI, they can be held."

Asked if the attorneys' complaints of more warrants being executed after closing hours are warranted, Mitchell replied, "It's not true. It could happen in any case. If it's a class C misdemeanor, they don't have to be bonded anyway."

"Anytime you have police, you'll have potential police abuse. This procedure is being followed in other towns the size of Big Spring."

Mitchell was also asked about Burgess' suggestion that the identification procedure could be executed the morning after the person has been bonded.

"We're considering that," he replied. "It's a possibility with more standard abuses like misdemeanor DWI's. But with felony offenses such as robbery, the situations vary too much to have a standard procedure."

District Attorney Rick Hamby said, "It's strictly in the jurisdiction of the chief of police. I don't have any comment one way or another, though the integrity of police records are very, very important and I am concerned about that."

However, attorneys disagree. "I don't think it's going to be good," said an attorney who asked not to be identified. "There are fine people, outstanding citizens who might drink too much who'll have to stay there all night in that cold, hard cell. It's just an excuse to hold for other cases like drugs or burglaries to get statements for the police. It's to help the detectives into coercing statements. I read of a case where police had a void warrant, arrested a man, held him and he gave a forced confession. I can see more bad than good," he continued. "The good is it'll help the detectives. The bad is that in some cases, a night in jail is too severe a punishment."

Community makes calendar change

WEST ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — Thirty days hath September, April, June and November. Right? Not in West Orange. They all have 31 — and so does February. But August ends on the 29th.

The official 1981 municipal calendar for this affluent suburb was printed by a local firm and is distributed free.

But it shows only 30 days in May. It has February ending on a Tuesday, but March doesn't begin until the next Sunday. Likewise, May ends on Saturday the 30th and June begins, says the calendar, one following Monday.

About 15,000 copies of the calendar were printed, said Mayor Samuel Spina. He withdrew the document on Tuesday.

"The printer will redesign the entire calendar at no cost," said Spina. "It's terribly embarrassing. It probably wasn't the printer's fault. We still haven't pinpointed the cause of the problem."

Spina said the calendar cost $5,000 to print, and distribution to West Orange residents will cost an additional $1,200. The printing cost was paid by a handful of advertisers listed in the publication, he said.

The mistakes were spotted by Spina's secretary, Lucille Behar.

"Just imagine what we could do with all those extra days in February," she said. "Some people might like to go skiing, some could go ice skating."

Action/reaction: Changes in address

Q. How can a person get in touch with someone and find out their address if they have moved and left no forwarding address?

A. If the person sought has filed a change of address form with the post office, the post office will forward their mail for a period of one year, said local postmaster Frank Hardesty. If you know the old address, one way to send a letter is to mail it to the old address so that the post office can forward the letter for you. If you want a copy of the new address, and the post office has it on file, you must send $1 to the postmaster for a copy of the change of address. The $1 is not returned if the address is unavailable, Hardesty explained, because it is used as a "search" fee.

New U.S. proposal given to Algerians

A new American proposal for release of 52 American hostages spending their second New Year's Eve in captivity was handed to Algerian mediators Wednesday for relay to Iran.

Iran's chief negotiator in the hostage crisis, Behzad Nabavi, has indicated the Iranian government would accept a U.S. counterproposal to Iran's demand for $24 billion if it "contains a kind of guarantee acceptable to the Algerian government."

After four days of consultations in Washington, three Algerian intermediaries left for Algiers with the U.S. answer. One U.S. official said the new American proposal could end the hostage crisis, in its 424th day Wednesday, "if the Iranians are willing and able to do so."

Informed Washington sources said the Carter administration is offering to deposit perhaps as much as $12 billion of Iranian assets in an escrow account in a neutral country, presumably Algeria. Under the proposal, Iran could claim the funds once the hostages are released.

Nine days ago, Iran demanded $24 billion in financial guarantees before it would release the hostages. The Algerians want $10 billion deposited in Algeria's Central Bank to cover frozen Iranian assets and gold, $4 billion more for the return of other, unidentified assets and $10 billion as a guarantee for recovery of the wealth of the late Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi.

The Carter administration called the demand excessive and legally impossible to meet and worked out a new proposal. U.S. Deputy Secretary of State Warren Christopher said the American plan would enable Iran and the United States to resolve the hostage deadlock if Iran "is willing and able to do so."

Although Nabavi suggested that Iran might be willing to compromise, reports from Tehran indicated the hostage crisis was unlikely to be settled before President Carter leaves office on Jan. 20.

CBS news correspondent Tom Fenton reported from Tehran that Iran's internal political situation was making it increasingly difficult for Iranian negotiators to find a compromise acceptable to both the United States and Iran's leadership.

Carole Jerome of the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. reported from Tehran that knowledgeable Iranian authorities said whoever set the demand of $24 billion "was fully aware that it would be impossible for the United States to accept it. In other words, there was a deliberate intention to prevent resolution of the crisis."

Exams of parents may cut cystic fibrosis births

By DANIEL Q. HANEY
Associated Press Writer

BOSTON (AP) — For the first time, doctors have found a way to identify parents who are likely to produce children with cystic fibrosis, the most common inherited fatal disease among whites in the United States.

Use of the test at first will be limited to people whose relatives already have the disease. But even in this restricted form, the exam could greatly reduce the number of babies born with the illness, its developers say.

The test, they say, tells parents whether they carry a genetic defect so they will know whether or not it is safe to have children.

Cystic fibrosis attacks the pancreas, respiratory system and sweat glands. About 1,200 children are born with the illness each year, and the average life expectancy of victims is 19 years.

Symptoms include respiratory infection, failure to grow, excessive sweating and obstruction of the small intestine. Usually the disease goes undetected until sometime during childhood when the youngster suffers breathing problems or a failure of his intestinal tract to absorb food. Although there is no cure, doctors prolong the victims' lives by treating their respiratory problems.

The new test was developed at Children's Hospital Medical Center in Boston, and a report on the work was published in Thursday's issue of the New England Journal of Medicine.

The doctors say the test is highly accurate in showing which adults are likely to produce children who will have cystic fibrosis. About 4 percent to 5 percent of the population carries the defective gene but shows no symptoms of the disease.

If a mother and father each have a gene that causes cystic fibrosis, there is a one in four chance that their children will have the disease. However, if only one parent carries the gene, there is no chance that the baby will have it.

No pre-natal test exists to determine whether an unborn child has the disease.

Dr. James Epstein, one of the researchers, said the test takes about five minutes to administer, and doctors must obtain a tiny skin sample. Over the next year or two, the test will be limited to people who seem most likely to carry the disease.

"The magnitude of lining everybody up and spending five minutes with them to take a skin sample is really enormous," Epstein said in an interview. "What we are doing at the moment is limiting this test to individuals who are in the high-risk categories — people who have a brother or sister or other close family member with this disease."

Epstein said the research team hopes to develop a simple blood test within the next year that could replace the skin test and be more widely used. But even the skin test could be conducted in doctors' offices and analyzed in existing laboratories.

Gun battle on bus leaves one man dead, one injured

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A gun battle between black and Hispanic youths that erupted Wednesday on a crowded downtown bus killed one of the gang members and injured a passenger, police said.

Jesse Delos Santos, 21, was pronounced dead at Baptist Hospital of a gunshot wound to the back after the fight, which occurred about 5 p.m. Wednesday, according to homicide investigator Robert Urban.

A passenger on the bus, Fred Aguilar, 18, was in fair condition Wednesday night in Santa Rosa Medical Center. He had been shot in the back.

Police said the fight started when two gangs of youths, one black and the other Hispanic, began fighting about a block and a half away from the downtown bus stop.

Urban said the Hispanic group apparently ran onto the bus as it stopped to take on passengers and the black youths followed. Witnesses said at least four shots were fired during the fight.

Police said six youths were arrested shortly after the shooting.

Officials said they did not think the fight had racial overtones.

Tops on TV: Abundance of football

If you're not a football fanatic, you're going to be searching a long time on the dial for something else. The Cotton Bowl game can be seen on CBS starting at 1 p.m. The Sugar Bowl gets started at the same time on ABC. The Rose Bowl starts at 3:45 p.m., on NBC. Then comes the Sugar Bowl at 7 p.m. There'll be an ABC news special at 8:30 entitled "Invasion" that might be worth watching. It's a recreation of what happened when Russia invaded Czechoslovakia in 1968.

Outside: Mid 60s

Man's payments 'shameful'

ST. JOSEPH, Mich. (AP) — A man convicted of failing to pay more than $17,000 in child support payments to seven women was sentenced to prison Tuesday. "This is the most shameful situation I've seen in all my years on the bench," said Circuit Judge Chester J. Byrns as he imposed the maximum, one-year sentence on Sammy Blanks, 30, who owed the payments for the support of nine children. Officials said Blanks also owes more than $9,000 to the state for doctors' and hospital fees for the children's births.

Smoke detectors required

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The City Council adopted a new, tougher smoke detector law Tuesday that is expected to affect some 180,000 dwellings. Smoke detectors are now required only in new single-family homes, and apartment buildings and hotels of combustible construction at least four stories high. The new law requires smoke detectors in all single-family homes upon change of ownership and in all duplexes, apartment buildings, boarding homes and hotels made of combustible materials. The new rules on single-family dwellings become effective Jan. 9 and those for other structures are effective Oct. 15, 1981.

Slot machines taken

GLEN BURNIE, Md. (AP) — A year-long investigation ended as the Maryland State Police confiscated one of the largest caches of illegal slot machines in the state's history, said spokesman Dan McCarthy. Beginning at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, police seized 167 electronic and manual slot machines from Willow Enterprises Inc. at three addresses on Roesler Road here, McCarthy said. Arrested and charged with keeping slot machines were Louis Wilner, 64, of Baltimore and Charles Prince, 58, of Brooklyn Park, Md.

Union move rejected

BALTIMORE (AP) — An effort to organize bank workers failed as employees of the Provident Savings Bank voted 2-to-1 to reject membership in the United Food and Commercial Workers Union. Tuesday's election followed a lengthy legal battle by the bank challenging the union's request to hold the vote. All but about five of 260 eligible workers voted Tuesday. A Samuel Cook, the bank's lawyer, said the vote represented a "vindication of the bank's excellent employee relation policies, practices and benefits." Union officials said they would try again to organize bank employees.

Two dead in Denison boarding house fire

DENISON, Texas (AP) — A wood-burning stove ignited a sofa in an old frame house and started a fire Wednesday that killed two of the four people who lived in the one-time convalescent home, a fire official said. The dead were identified as two women, Lou Ella Lee, 80, and Bobby Slaughter, 69. They were permanent residents of the house, described as "dilapidated" by neighbors and the site of a nursing home until the owner's state license was revoked in 1969, said Fire Marshal Dwight Sharp. The owner, Cookie Lee Paul, was not at home when the fire broke out, Sharp said. The fourth resident, Eddie Dye, 80, the only man who lived there, was standing in the front yard when firemen arrived. "When I arrived on the scene ... I went into the (burning) building from the northeast side and could see a couch on fire near a wood-burning stove. It was in flames," Sharp said. "In my opinion, the couch sat too close to the stove and that caused the fire. The man standing outside, Eddie Dye, told me he tried to put the couch out with cans of water," Sharp said. The fire marshal said he interviewed Mrs. Paul after she returned home to see firemen cleaning up debris where her house once stood. "She seemed in a state of shock and we could get very little information from her," he said. "It (the house) had been used as a convalescent home up until about 1969, but it was not meeting all the state standards and it was closed down. "Since then the neighbors said it was used as a boarding house, which I understand would be legal, although Mrs. Paul told me today it was only a private residence." Mrs. Paul was not related to any of the other residents of the home, neighbors said. Initially firemen searched frantically through the charred rubble for other people reported trapped inside the house when the fire broke out.

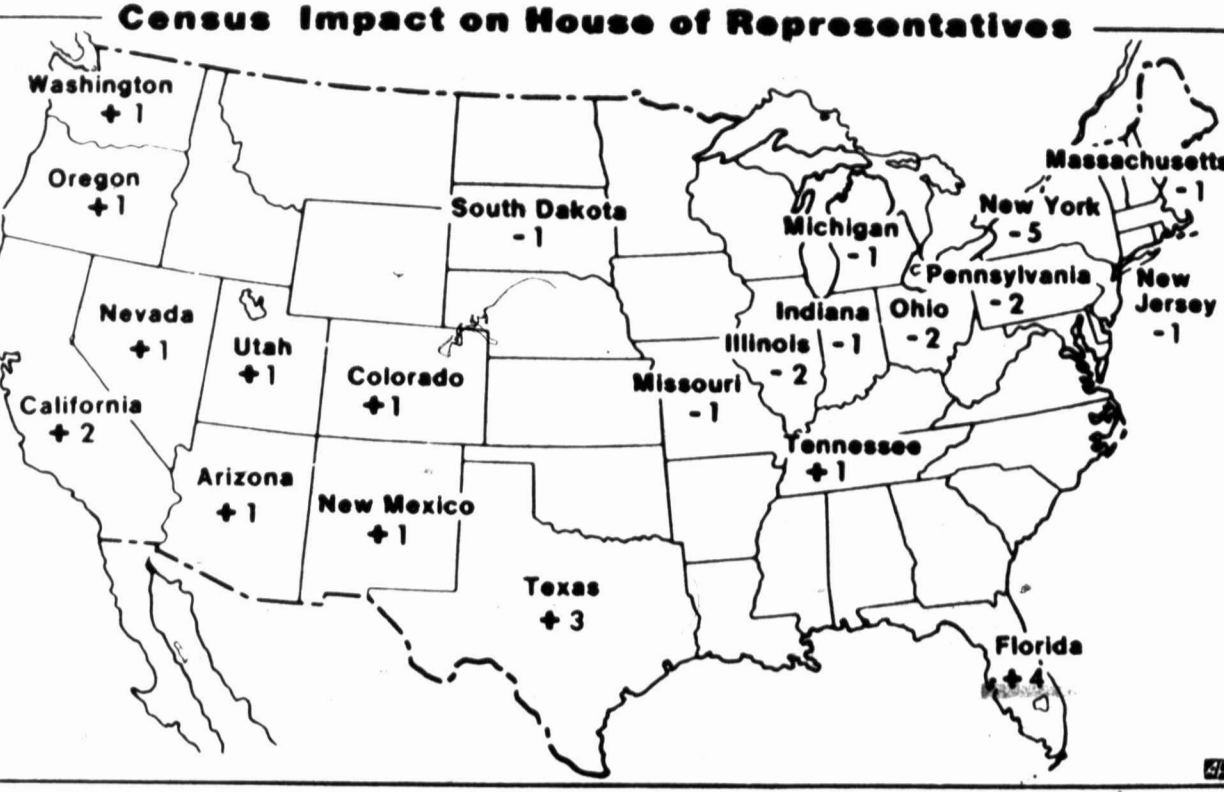

Name doesn't ring bell?

SUNFLOWER, Miss. (AP) — Does the name Bobby Sledge ring a bell? If you live in Sunflower, it has to. Sledge and his wife are the Sledge Telephone Co., a family business serving 450 persons in and around this delta town. "I guess you could say we're the front office, the back office and the repair shop," Sledge said. "I maintain my own lines and if there's a pole to be put up, I set it. If there's a telephone to be installed, I install it."

You don't have a phone

"In a time when family-owned businesses are giving way to large corporations, Sledge says he believes telephone users in his area like the personal touch his company affords. "Many of our customers are friends and neighbors, so we try to keep them happy," he said. "They know they can reach me or my wife any time they need help." "This business has been in our family for well over 50 years," Sledge said. "I bought it from my mother in 1968 and my father sold it to her." Sledge, 51, said his com-

Polish leaders warn of hard times, make appeal for national unity

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Poland ended one of its most turbulent years in decades Wednesday with warnings from its leadership of more hard times ahead and with appeals for national unity. "We enter the new year without illusions and easy promises," President Henryk Jablonski said in a speech on national television. "Conflicting interests of various elements, classes and social groups are bound to clash in it, and they become more apparent as the economic situation of the country becomes graver," he said. Jablonski, in a frank statement on the nation's plight, said "only we alone can solve our problems on the political, economic and moral level." "We are saying farewell to a difficult and crucial year, to a year heavy with threats and great hopes," he continued. "The social conflict in our country is one of deep divisions and shocks. We solved it by exposing the way of understanding. This was a joint victory of the workers protest and the forces of renewal within the party." The president, whose job is largely ceremonial, thanked the Soviet Union and "other socialist countries" for their "help" during the difficult period. The Communist Party, in its newspaper Trybuna Ludu, also advised that the new year would not bring with it the solution to Poland's problems. "The new year will not greet us with prosperity," the party said in a front page commentary Wednesday. "The process of making order in our lives will result in decisions and operations that will not be accepted by all with the same satisfaction." The party called on Poland's 35.5 million people to join in "hard and patient efforts" to solve the problems. The paper made no direct reference to the labor crisis of 1980, when hundreds of thousands of workers laid down their tools to demand more money, independent trade unions and a greater role in their own lives. The crisis brought the possibility of Soviet intervention. But the paper noted the year was "hard" on Poland. Strikes did not end with the old year, as revelers discovered when they showed up at state-operated restaurants for New Year's Eve parties. Musicians demanding increased pay and benefits refused to perform and officials had to use taped music. February is scheduled to bring the first full-scale rationing plan for meat and other scarce foodstuffs since the end of World War II. The government used a temporary rationing plan during Christmas week to ensure that everyone got a minimal amount of meat and butter for the holidays. The government is working on a number of measures to reform Polish life, including new labor laws, easing of censorship and a new economic plan. The 3.5 million member Communist Party, described as divided and demoralized, is expected to hold a congress in March. The government is expected to step up efforts to convince the Soviet Union and other allies the labor movement poses no threat to the Warsaw Pact military alliance and Poland's communist system. NATO foreign ministers discussed possible Western responses to any Soviet-led intervention in Poland at their meeting in Brussels last month. The officials

U.S. foreign policy going through period of change, re-evaluation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Except for the determined effort to persuade Iran to release the hostages, American foreign policy is lumbering through a quiet phase as carpenters put the finishing touches on the inaugural stands in front of the White House. A nervous eye still is trained on Poland, where Soviet troops and tanks are poised menacingly on the border. In the Persian Gulf, the war between Iran and

Iraq poses a danger to Western oil supplies should it heat up, but it remains a low-level conflict. Overall, the Carter administration is in a holding pattern, waiting for Ronald Reagan to take over and put his personal stamp on U.S. foreign policy. At the State Department, while the diplomats mark time, there is talk in the corridors of a Reagan purge, not only of political appointees, which is a natural

Perfect football weather predicted

By The Associated Press
Skies were fair and temperatures balmy across Texas Wednesday, the last day of 1980, and forecasters said the New Year should open with "perfect" football weather. Temperatures were in the 60s and 70s across the state. Late afternoon extremes ranged from 76 degrees at Laredo to 57 at Amarillo. Light winds from five to 15 mph were reported across most of the state.

Camping equipment valued at $394 was stolen from Lee's Rental, FM 700 sometime Wednesday. Cathy Moring, 305 E. 13th, told police she has been harassed by a juvenile who stands outside her residence and makes obscene remarks. She added this has been going on for approximately four months.

Medical techniques taught to park rangers

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A walk on the wild side can be good for the soul, but it leaves so many Tennessee park visitors injured that state officials are training rangers in emergency medical techniques. Bill Boswell, director of security for the Conservation Department's park system, said his goal is to have an EMT-trained ranger at every one of the state's 53 park and recreation areas. "All of our rangers get a basic 40-hour emergency first-aid course when they join us," Boswell said. "What we're talking about here, though, is a full-fledged, certificated program similar to what ambulance attendants get."

Deaths

Lee Holley
Roy Lee Holley, 83, died at 12:35 p.m. Wednesday in a local hospital following an illness of a year. Services will be at 4 p.m., Saturday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel. Graveside rites at Trinity Memorial Park will be conducted by members of Stakes Plains Lodge 598.

Deaths

Mr. Holley, a railroad engineer who retired in 1973, was born July 31, 1897, in Italy, Tex. He married Lula Mae Stephens Jan. 29, 1921, in Big Spring a year after he moved here. He was a member of the Church of Christ and Staked Plains Lodge 598 AM and FM. Survivors include his wife, of the home; three sons, R.L. Holley Jr., Temple, Tex.; John A. Holley, Arroyo Grande, Cal.; and James W. Holley, Santa Clara, Cal.; nine grandchildren; 13 great-grandchildren; two brothers, Woodrow Holley, San Angelo, and Lonnie Holley, Fresno, Calif.; and two sisters, Sally Fairley, Lubbock, and Edith Underwood, Gardena, Cal.

Deaths

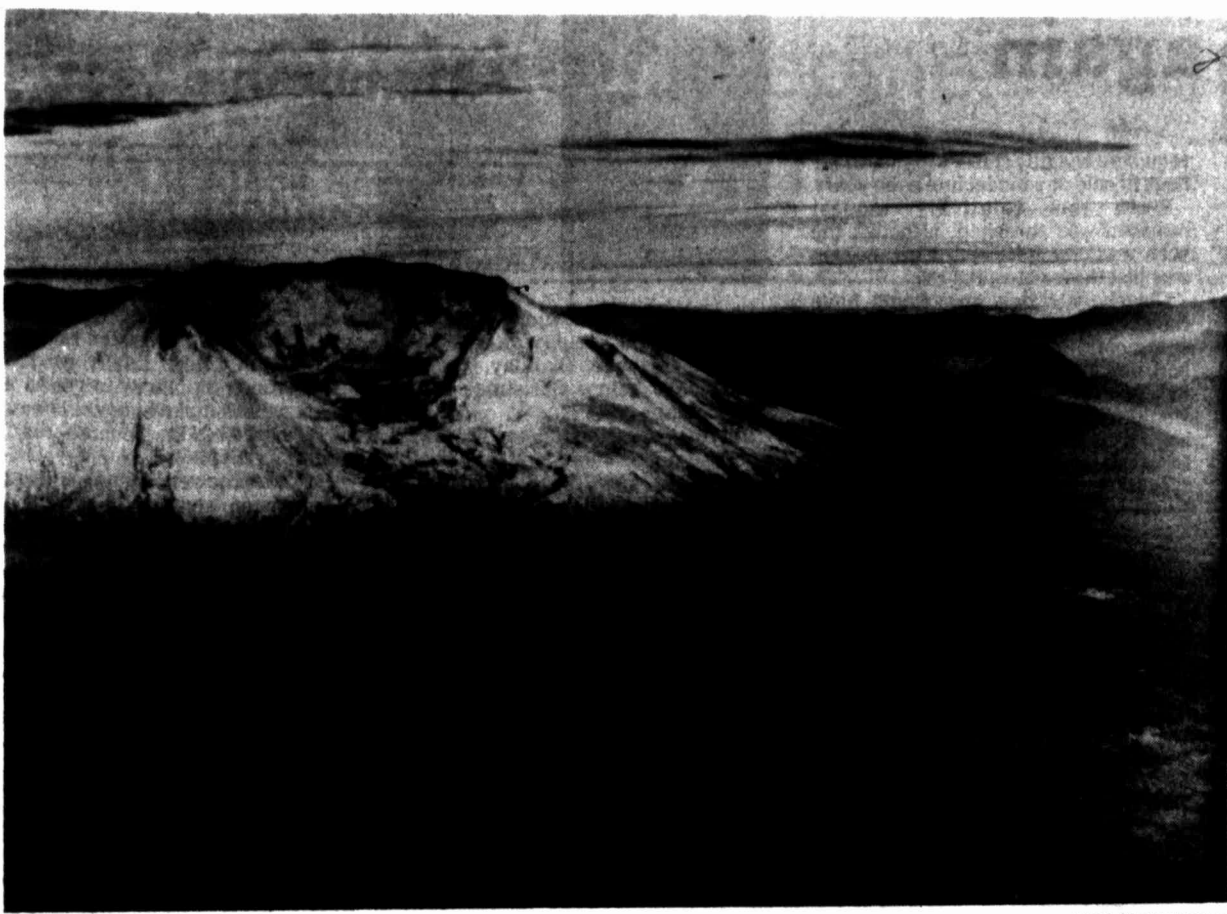

Mark Gribble, the EMT instructor at the McMinnville Area Vocational-Technical school, was in charge of the concentrated, 103-hour training program, portions of which involved working in the emergency room of a Nashville hospital. "Our goal with this training is to turn out people who can stabilize the patient and keep conditions from deteriorating until the injured party can get definitive treatment from a hospital," Gribble said in an interview at Henry Horton State Park, near Shelbyville in middle Tennessee. "They have to be able to recognize symptoms, give treatment and control shock," he said. "Park rangers get involved in everything from heart attacks, fractures, severe bleeding, and poisonings to drugs. It's critical that they learn how to handle the problems and handle them quickly."

Deaths

Gribble said the rangers had achieved higher scores in tests than any class he had trained in his seven years of EMT-related work.

Economy showing surprising strength despite record-high interest rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's economy is showing surprising strength in the face of record-high interest rates, the government reported Wednesday, and many economists said chances of another recession are increasingly remote.

The Commerce Department said its Index of Leading Indicators — a key barometer of economic activity — rose 1.2 percent in November, the sixth consecutive monthly increase after sharp declines during the spring recession.

The jump came as a surprise to both government and private economists who a month ago said rising interest rates would depress this closely watched measure that forecasts 10 major activities, from workweeks to stock prices.

"I think we have to admit that the economy is holding up longer and somewhat better than we thought it would," said Lawrence Chimerrine, head of Chase Econometrics Associates in Bala Cynwyd, Pa.

Ted Torda, a Commerce Department economist, said there are indications of some weakness in the economy — particularly in the housing and auto sectors. "However, there's a lot of underlying strength that has not been recognized."

For the past two years, Torda said, many economists, both inside and outside government, have "consistently underestimated the economy's resilience."

The new figures follow other reports of the economy's stubbornness. New home sales rose nearly 6 percent last month; the nation's trade deficit narrowed; consumer spending is holding up, and the unemployment rate remains virtually stable.

In addition, growth of the nation's basic money supply has slowed significantly in the last month, which should relieve upward pressure on interest rates. Most economists now believe most short-term rates have peaked.

The Index of Leading Indicators showed eight of 10 activities increasing, with rising orders for plant and equipment contributing most to the overall gain.

Contracts for capital equipment were up 16.7 percent in November, after adjusting for inflation, Torda said.

In addition, the average workweek increased; layoffs declined; liquid assets and stock prices rose; vendor activity was up; producer prices for key raw materials climbed, and building permits, after declining in October, edged up.

Republican Party's election sweep voted top news story of the year

NEW YORK (AP) — The Republican Party's sweep of the elections, which put Ronald Reagan in the White House and gave the GOP control of the Senate for the first time in almost three decades, has been named the top story of 1980 by member editors and broadcasters.

The election story narrowly edged the Iran hostage crisis, which finished first in the 1979 poll. The troubled U.S. economy was third.

The Top 10 were chosen on two ballots: a preliminary vote and a second that included the top 15 vote-getters and three late breaking stories. The ranking:

1. The election.
2. The Iranian hostage crisis.
3. The U.S. economy.
4. The Soviet intervention in Afghanistan.

Burglar escapes from prison

GATESVILLE, Texas (AP) — An inmate helping renovate the Texas Department of Corrections women's prison here apparently escaped Wednesday, law enforcement officials said.

Phillip Eugene Kilpatrick, 29, was last seen in a compound enclosed by a 12-foot chain link fence, according to Linda Woodman, warden of the maximum security Gatesville unit.

The trustee supervising the crew reported Kilpatrick missing around 10 a.m. Wednesday.

"The last we saw of him he was in an enclosed fence," Mrs. Woodman said. She added that "any inmate who escapes is considered dangerous," although authorities did not know if Kilpatrick had any weapons.

Kilpatrick had been working at the Gatesville unit since September. He was serving a six-year sentence for burglarizing a residence in Harris County.

People of German extraction in this area are being invited to be a part of the fifth annual German Heritage tour, which will depart for Europe Thursday, July 16.

The tour directors, Mr. and Mrs. Glen E. Lich of Kerrville, say there is no profit motive in their tour, that this is a special education tour which will afford a special insight into the Germany of today — its way of life, culture, architectural monuments, spectacular geography, agriculture, economy and the influences which have shaped the modern country. The tour will cover a distance of approximately 2,200 miles in 15 days, much of it off the beaten track.

Lich is an assistant professor of English and German at Schreiner College in Kerrville. In addition, he is a consultant for the Institute of Texan Cultures in San Antonio. Mrs. Lich is a teacher in the Ingram school system.

In the previous four tours, members came from 20 Texas cities as well as six other states. The Liches reside at 718 Jackson Road in Kerrville 78028.

5. The volcanic eruption of Mount St. Helens in Washington state.

6. Events in Poland. The strikes, the growth of an independent union movement and the threat of Soviet intervention.

7. The murder of former Beatle John Lennon in New York.

8. The earthquakes in southern Italy, which killed thousands.

9. The war between Iran and Iraq.

10. (tie) The boatlift from Cuba and the influx of thousands of Cuban and Haitian refugees and the fire that killed 84 people at the MGM Grand Hotel in Las Vegas.

The second 10 included the FBI Abscam operation; the Voyager 2 pictures of Saturn; the drought in the Midwest and Southwest; the gold medal won at the Winter Olympics by the U.S. hockey team; the Moscow summer Olympics; racial riots in Miami; the resumption of draft registration; the murders of black children in Atlanta and the excitement over "Who shot J.R.?" on the television show "Dallas."

The Top 10:

1. The Election — Reagan's election on Nov. 4 wasn't exactly a surprise. But pre-election polls had predicted a very close race and the size of the mandate was unexpected.

Reagan and running mate George Bush got 51 percent of the vote to 41 percent for Carter, and 7 percent for independent John Anderson.

Reagan won 489 electoral votes to 49 for Carter. The president carried only the District of Columbia and six states — his own Georgia, Vice President Walter Mondale's Minnesota, Rhode Island, Maryland, West Virginia and Hawaii. Even more startling was the GOP capture of 11 Senate seats to take over that body by a 53-47 margin.

2. Iran — Crushed hopes. That was the story of the Iran hostage crisis which, with one or two interludes, spent much of 1980 on hold. One interlude was the death in Egypt of the deposed Shah, whose admittance to the United States started the crisis. Another came in April, when a mission to free the 52, who were taken Nov. 4, 1979, was aborted in the Iranian desert. Eight U.S. soldiers were killed.

3. The Economy — Double digit inflation continued in 1980, the prime interest rate soared over 20 percent and a new recession threatened. As the year ended, OPEC raised oil prices again and some of Reagan's advisers urged him to consider declaring an economic emergency.

4. Afghanistan — About 100,000 Soviet troops marched into Afghanistan in January to try to put down a rebellion several years old. The U.S. then led a boycott of the Moscow summer Olympics, cut off sales of grain and technology to the U.S.S.R. and withdrew consideration of the SALT nuclear weapon limitation treaty from the Senate.

5. Mount St. Helens — Mount St. Helens erupted May 18, blowing 1,300 feet off its 9,677-foot top and devastating the surrounding 150 square miles. Thirty four died at the southwestern Washington volcano. Another 28 were missing and presumed dead.

6. Poland — Strikes in August in Gdansk shipyards led within a month protests by other workers in Poland, troubled by low wages and food shortages. Facing a general strike and possible Soviet intervention, the Communist regime replaced party boss Edward Gierek with Stanislaw Kania, and granted the workers the right to independent unions.

7. Lennon — It harkened back to the violence of the '60s, the decade John Lennon was so much a part of. Late in the evening of Dec. 8, the 40-year-old former Beatle was entering the Dakota, the luxury New York apartment building where he lived, when he was gunned down.

8. Earthquakes in Italy — On Nov. 23, much of southern Italy rumbled and crumbled under the shock of Italy's severest earthquake in years. Cities were devastated, some communities disappeared and nearly 3,000 people were killed with many more still missing at year's end. Relief supplies poured in from all over the world.

9. The Iran-Iraq War — Iran and Iraq had been squabbling for years over border provinces heavily inhabited by Kurds. In late September, Iraq finally struck — toward the Iran's Persian Gulf oil refineries.

Turnaround likely to come later this year or in 1982

FORT WORTH — For the first time in four years, business and financial editors across the United States are more optimistic than pessimistic at year's end in their economic outlook for the coming 12 to 18 months, a nationwide media survey has revealed.

The country's press says it feels comfortable about the prospects of the Reagan Administration solving the nation's economic problems, but says the turnaround probably won't come until late in 1981 or early in 1982.

These findings are part of the eighth annual survey of the media released by Hill and Knowlton, Inc., the international public relations — public affairs counseling firm. Full-service offices in Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston are among Hill and Knowlton's 15 domestic offices.

This year's survey — conducted during the past three weeks — included the views of 170 editors and broadcasters from all sections of the country, representing major daily newspapers, electronic media, and key business periodicals. The study was carried out by Group Attitudes Corporation, the research subsidiary of Hill and Knowlton, Inc., based in New York City.

One major finding was that newsmen and newswomen — by an 80.2 percent proportion — are convinced that the national economy will fare better or remain the same in 1981 compared to the past 12 months. Only 18.2 percent of the media thinks the economy will do worse next year. When they view the economy in terms of their own individual localities, news representatives are even more optimistic, with 89 percent convinced that conditions will improve or remain the same and only 9.8 percent saying things will get worse locally.

The editors and broadcasters identified the following as the most important issues for the federal government to deal with in 1981:

1. Controlling Inflation
2. Reducing Reliance on Foreign Energy
3. Encouraging Capital Formation Through Tax Incentives
4. Increasing Productivity Growth Through Larger Investment Tax Credits or Depreciation Allowances
5. Reducing Government Spending Overall

Editors consider various environmental issues such as disposal of hazardous wastes and storage for radioactive materials as important, but secondary to economic issues.

The editors and broadcasters described the public's growing concern with economic issues in this way:

"I think the voters are finally catching on to the causes of inflation. The government essentially spent more than it took in and operated under a large deficit. If that was the way your Uncle Harry ran his business you wouldn't want to be related to him."

Other key findings in this Hill and Knowlton survey included:

Editors are convinced that there will be improvement in stock market averages, in business spending for plant, equipment and R&D, and in consumer confidence.

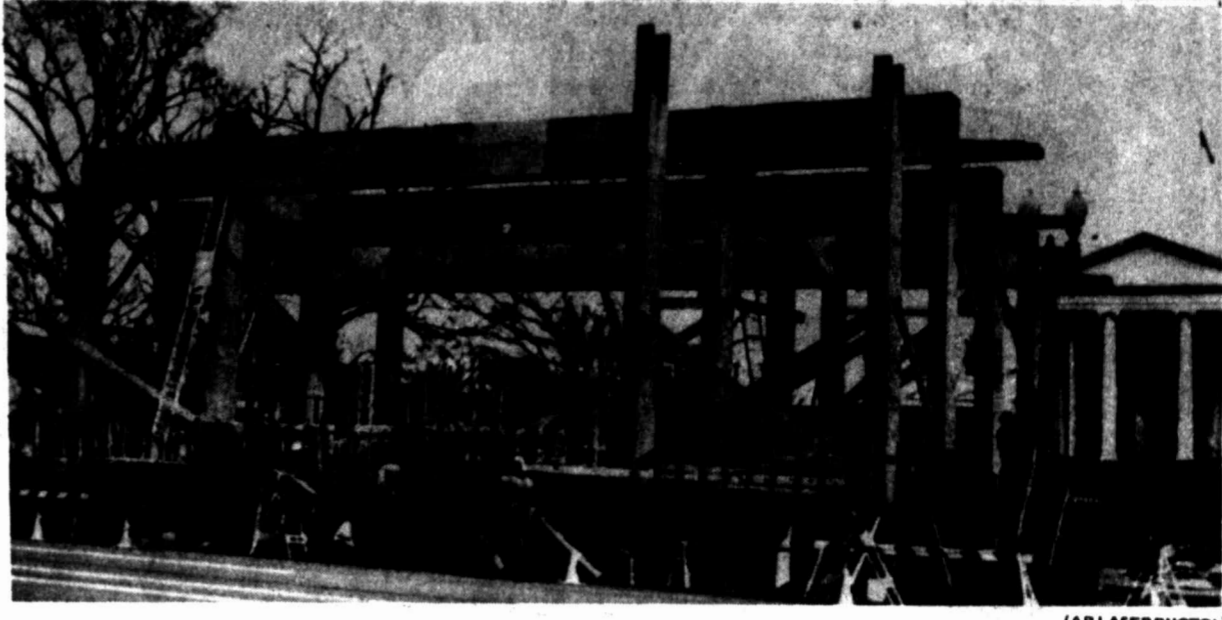

—Editors feel strongly that the consumer tax revolt in the U.S. is over and that there will be no more federal bailouts of large corporations, like Chrysler.

—Editors are convinced that an increase in defense spending would strengthen the U.S. position in the Mideast and would also be a plus in U.S. relations with the Soviet Union.

—Editors feel strongly that synthetic fuels should be developed as a substitute for foreign oil as one means of solving the nation's energy crisis. They are also convinced that energy conservation is a realistic means of reducing reliance on foreign oil. They appear to be reserving judgment on whether "nuclear energy should be developed as a substitute for foreign oil."

Other accomplishments the editors and broadcasters expect from the Reagan Administration include improving public attitudes toward both business and government. "Reagan's economic decisions will result in higher employment and hence less resentment against business," one said. Another commented that the newly elected president will create a positive feeling toward government because "people feel that he can do what he said he would do."

In addition to monitoring the progress of the Reagan Administration, editors said their chief stories during the coming year will cover topics including the state of the auto industry, energy issues, and "renewed confidence in the minds of the spending public."

FRONT LAWN IN TRANSITION — The construction of the parade reviewing stand for the 1981 inauguration of President-elect Reagan on the sidewalk in front of the White House has begun to obscure the view of the executive mansion. Wednesday pedestrians make their way past the work along a make-shift sidewalk roped off on Pennsylvania Avenue. (AP LASERPHOTO)

Residents file $10 million suit against companies

MONT BELVIEU, Texas (AP) — Two Mont Belvieu residents forced from their home by leaking gases have filed a $10 million suit, claiming two companies negligently caused the dangerous vapors to escape from a salt dome beneath the town.

Patrick and Laura McCune filed the class action suit Tuesday in state district court in Houston against Gulf Oil and a subsidiary, Warren Petroleum Co.

About 75 families were evacuated from their homes in October after authorities discovered ethane and propane seeping from the salt dome into residential sewer lines in this Chambers County community 30 miles east of Houston.

Warren, one of about 14 companies storing petrochemicals in the salt dome, reported loss of pressure in a storage well Sept. 17 but has accepted no blame for the leaks that led to the evacuations.

During a meeting Monday night, about 65 families organized a legal action committee to consider possible action.

Purging of the gases from the area is continuing and local officials estimate same families may be able to return to their homes in about three weeks.

Retired engineer, now 61, studies for rabbinate

NEW YORK (AP) — Abraham L. Raich retired in August after more than 30 years as a statistical engineer for CF&I Steel Corp., in Pueblo, Colo., but he is one retiree who does not spend his golden years putting in the garden.

Raich enrolled in Yeshiva University's Rabbi Isaac Elchanan Theological Seminary in New York City to begin studying for the rabbinate. Already 58, Raich, a Pueblo native, will be at least 61 before he will be allowed to assume the pulpit.

Not a routine pursuit for an oceanographic chemist turned quality-control engineer, but Raich has plans.

"While I found most of my time at CF&I enjoyable, my real love was serving the Jewish community, and my ambition now is to become a helping rabbi in a small town," he said.

So Raich has moved his wife and himself into a Manhattan apartment so that he can study for the rabbinate.

His interest in the rabbinate was kindled by his position as a lay leader and cantor at Temple Emanuel and the United Hebrew Center in Pueblo, where he often had to lead congregations when Pueblo was between rabbis.

As a youth, Raich spent a year and a half in Palestine with his family and was able to study in Tel Aviv for a year before the 1936 Arab riots forced Raich's father, an ardent Zionist, to move the family back to Pueblo.

After graduation from Pueblo Centennial High School, Raich attended the University of Denver, graduating with a chemistry degree in 1947. He earned a master's degree at the University of Washington Oceanographic Institute in Seattle in 1949.

The prospect of long sea voyages and the difficulty he would encounter in observing the Sabbath, he said, prompted him to enter the new field of statistical engineering. Raich went to work in CF&I's quality-control department in 1949.

Raich said that he had studied with local rabbis periodically during the next 30 years, meeting Dr. Solomon Simonson, former professor of mass medical communications at Yeshiva University, this way. He said Simonson had inspired him to enroll in the seminary.

"This is the place if you're really serious," he said.

Lola Gonzales in county jail

Lola Delores Gonzales, 32, of Midland was transferred to the county jail Wednesday morning after she was arrested in Midland on two theft warrants.

Bond was set by Justice of Peace Lewis Hefflin at $15,000 for a felony theft charge and $5,000 for a misdemeanor theft count. Bond was posted by Ike's Bail Bond.

LINDA MITCHELL
Artist of the Month

Honors come early for aspiring artist

Linda Mitchell was raised in South Dakota and Iowa and moved to Texas to get away from the cold. In 1979, she and her husband moved to Big Spring.

She enrolled in Howard College, majoring in art and minoring in music. Only one year later, the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce has proclaimed Mrs. Mitchell as January Artist of the Month.

Mrs. Mitchell's interest in art was stimulated by her art teacher, Becky Smiley.

"I had never done anything in art before and I wanted to see what I could do," she recalled.

Pastels, charcoal and water color are among Mrs. Mitchell's favorite mediums. As far as drawing goes, she likes abstracts the best.

"I tend to stay away from landscapes," she explained. "I like to draw things less realistic."

Aside from her quickly developing art hobby, Mrs. Mitchell is employed as a physical education teacher at St. Mary's Episcopal School and also works for Pat Walker's Figure Perfection, Inc. In addition, she is taking 19 hours this semester at Howard College.

No Route to Top With 'Bottoms Up'

DEAR ABBY: My husband is the head of a large corporation. He does not drink hard liquor, but very few people know this because at parties he takes one drink and pretends to sip it all evening.

He watches his junior executives' drinking habits very carefully, and they are promoted accordingly. Anyone who takes more than two drinks is passed over for promotion — no matter how good a job he does.

I feel that my husband should have a talk with the man and give him a chance to cut down. He says, "No, once a drunk, always a drunk." He says it takes guts not to drink in today's society, and he needs men with guts to run the business right. What is your opinion?

SCARSDALE

DEAR SCARSDALE: If everyone who takes more than two drinks is (as your husband states) a "drunk," there are a lot of "drunks" effectively running a lot of businesses.

I agree, it takes guts not to drink in today's society, but one who takes a drink publicly and "pretends" to drink it so no one will know he's a non-drinker is lacking guts himself. If guts is the issue, the person who says, "No thanks, I'm an alcoholic" has far more guts than your holier-than-thou abstainer.

DEAR ABBY: I couldn't believe that letter signed ARKIE. He said a dental supply salesman told him that the big-city morticians made a fortune removing dental gold from the mouths of a human remains while preparing them for burial. What a crock!

As a licensed mortician in Arkansas, I can assure you that such low-down practices are not tolerated in this or any other state. If ARKIE (or anyone else) has proof of such unethical conduct, he needs only to report it to the state board of embalming.

That dental supply salesman must be laughing out loud knowing his ridiculous story fooled both ARKIE and Abby. This is not a dig from a mortician, just the facts.

DUFFIE, JONESBORO, ARK.

DEAR DUFFIE: Yup, I bought ARKIE's story. Shame on me. And now morticians all over the country have come to bury Abby — not to praise her.

(Problems? You'll feel better if you get them off your chest. For a personal reply write to Abby, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

What rules bug you most?

TWEEN 12 & 20

By ROBERT WALLACE, Ed.
Copley News Service

What rule set by your parents bothers you the most and why?

This question inspired 4,221 teens in the United States and Canada to respond.

Interestingly, the girls' rules differed from the boys'. Only curfew (the time to be home at night) was listed by both girls and boys in the top five responses. The 2,842 girls named curfew as the No. 1 rule that bothered them, followed by dating rules, use of the telephone, the time set for going to bed, and homework.

The 1,379 boys listed doing girls' work (dishes, cleaning house) as the No. 1 source of irritation, followed by rules on length of hair, making their beds in the morning, baby-sitting for younger brothers and sisters, and curfew.

Let's hear what a few of our teens had to say about bothersome rules:

From Cathy Carson, 12, Astoria, Ore.: I've got to wait four more years until I'm allowed to get my ears pierced. My dad doesn't like pierced ears on little girls, but I hardly consider 12 being a little girl.

From Ian Niles, 15, La Habra, Calif.: My parents force me to attend church. I feel I am mature enough to choose my religious future.

From Wanda Payne, 13, Columbus, Ohio: I'm not permitted to date until I'm 14. I can buy this but I'm afraid when I turn 14, my mom will say, "Wait until you are 15."

From Patty Gannon, 12, Goshen, Ind.: I have to go to bed at 8:00. This makes me mad because do you know how many neat television programs that I miss?

From Darcy Hallstrom, 17, Anaheim, Calif.: I'm not allowed to call boys on the telephone. My mom thinks that if boys are interested, they will call me. Well, times have changed and if we don't change with the times, we're last.

From Teresa Hyatt, 12, Alliance, Ohio: I have to do my chores when I get home from school. I'd rather go outside and play and do the chores later.

From Tom Olsen, 16, Nashua, N.H.: I had to shave off my mustache. It took me three full months to grow it.

The winner of a TWEEN 12 and 20 T-shirt is Melody Connors, 15, from Colorado Springs, Colo., who said it best: "The rule that bugged me most was limiting phone calls to 10 minutes in duration. When the rule was first made I was furious, but honestly it has brought respect within our family (two sisters and three brothers). Because of this rule our family arguments are gone — well, almost gone, and now I am actually talking to my younger sister. I have discovered that she is human."

Cheese & Wine Anytime

Cheese and wine have been natural partners for centuries, but they've never been more "in" than now! With today's time schedules, friends often gather informally for an evening of wine and cheese tasting, which may include cheese d'oeuvres and snacks to fill out a light repast.

around a theme, and should offer a variety of natural cheeses, from firm to soft, and from mild to extra sharp. Fortunately, there's no need for a trip to a specialty shop, because the dairy case of today's supermarket has a wide assortment of domestic and foreign-type cheeses.

The choice of wines for a tasting is important, but spend just as much time on the selection of cheeses to have a basis for tasting and comparison. The Kraft Kitchens suggest that a good tasting can often be planned

Your cheese tray could feature an array of the classic types of cheeses produced in this country — monterey jack, muenster, brick, blue, Swiss, and colby. To show the increasing development of flavor which results from aging, you could offer a sampling of natural cheddar cheeses ranging from mild to extra sharp.

When you select wines to accompany cheeses, the basic principle is that the flavors should enhance, not overpower each other. A mild cheese will be accented by a light Chablis or fresh rose, while a flavorful cheese such as sharp cheddar calls for a full-bodied Burgundy or California pinot noir.

To save last-minute duties, your cheese tray may be assembled ahead of time, wrapped tightly in moisture-proof wrap to prevent drying, and refrigerated. For eye appeal, cut the cheeses in different ways. Cheddar adapts well to slicing; Swiss cheese may be cut in cubes or sticks; and the cylindrical colby midget longhorn may be cut to form an attractive, easily-served spiral. Since cheese should usually be served at room temperature for maximum flavor, remove the cheese tray from the refrigerator at least an hour before sampling time, and uncover just before serving.

In planning quantities, remember that the greater variety of cheese and wine you serve, the more you'll need to allow each guest an adequate sampling. For the wines, a tasting portion is about one to two ounces, so estimate 12-15 servings per bottle and at least one-half bottle per person, depending on the number of wines. If you were serving four wines to twelve people, you would probably need two bottles of each.

For the cheese, estimate between a quarter and a half pound per person — again, the greater the variety of cheeses you offer, the more you'll need. Feel free to be generous — leftover cheese keeps well and can be used in a number of ways.

Light cheese dishes are the perfect way to cap an evening of cheese and wine tasting. Serve a beautiful layered spread of grated cheddar cheese, cranberry-orange relish, whipped cream and cream cheese, with glasses of a light rose or riesling. A California-style fondue made with natural monterey jack cheese might call for a fruity Gamay Beaujolais. Experiment with new flavor combinations, but most of all — have fun!

'NATURAL' PARTNERS
cheese and wine

Cheezy treats !

MONTEREY FONDUE
2 cups (8 ozs.) shredded Casino brand natural monterey jack cheese
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup white wine
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Vegetables for dipping
Toss cheese with flour. Heat wine in fondue pot or saucepan until bubbles rise to the surface. Do not boil. Add cheese mixture, 1/2 cup at a time. Stir constantly, letting cheese melt completely before adding more. Continue stirring until mixture bubbles lightly. Stir in parsley. Keep fondue bubbling gently while serving. Serve with raw vegetables. Yield: 2 cups

LACY CHEESE DISCS
Kraft midget longhorn style natural colby cheese
Cut cheese horizontally into 1/4-inch slices. Turn upright; cut vertically into quarters. Place cheese quarters 2 to 3 inches apart on Teflon-lined cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees, 10 minutes. Remove from cookie sheet immediately; drain on absorbent paper.
Variation: To make curled cheese appetizers, prepare as directed. Remove from cookie sheet by rolling disc around handle of wooden spoon. Drain on absorbent paper.

LAYERED CRANBERRY CHEDDAR SPREAD
18-oz. pkg. Philadelphia Brand cream cheese
2 tablespoons sherry
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
110-oz. pkg. frozen cranberry-orange relish, thawed
3 cups (12 pz.) shredded Kraft sharp natural cheddar cheese
Combine softened cream cheese and sherry; fold in whipped cream. Layer relish, cheddar cheese and cream cheese mixture in 1 1/2-quart clear glass container. Garnish with additional cheddar cheese, if desired. Serve with crackers or fruit wedges.

CHEESE OPORTO
1 cup (4 ozs.) shredded Kraft sharp natural cheddar cheese
1 cup (4 ozs.) shredded Kraft natural Swiss cheese
2 tablespoons soft Parkay margarine
2 tablespoons port
Combine all ingredients, mixing until smooth and well blended. Press into 10-ounce custard cup lined with plastic wrap. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with chopped nuts, if desired. Serve as a spread for crackers, bread or fruit. Approximately 1 1/2 cups.

Workers to battle fruit flies

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — A "house-to-house" battle to wipe out the Mediterranean fruit flies threatening Santa Clara County crops will begin next week in a last-ditch effort to avoid aerial spraying of the controversial pesticide Malathion, officials said Wednesday.

A thousand workers will gather in an encampment at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds on Tuesday before moving out with chemical sprays to strip and spray fruit trees in a 50-square-mile area, said Jerry Scribner, the project's director.

At stake is Santa Clara County's annual agricultural income put at $125 million by the county Department of Agriculture. Crops grown in the county that are especially vulnerable to fruit flies include citrus fruits, apples, cherries, pears, tomatoes and bell peppers.

"We really expect it to work," said Scribner, deputy director of the state Department of Food and Agriculture, who is coordinating federal, state and county efforts to battle the insect pests.

"We've been a step behind the fly all the way," Scribner said. "We'd take the fruit and spray one tree, and then we'd find the fly next door. Now we're going to do it in a more comprehensive way."

"The problem is we've never had Mediterranean fruit flies in this area, so even the experts don't know if this will work," he said.

Proposals for aerial spraying of Malathion have been opposed by community groups who say the pesticide should be tried using the door-to-door approach first. Several studies have shown Malathion is safe, but critics have charged that its use in aerial spraying could be dangerous.

Morrison named to library post

Mrs. Dorothy Morrison, librarian at Marshall Public Library, has been named to the State Board of Library Examiners. This board certifies the qualifications of librarians who head county libraries. Her term begins immediately and will expire in July, 1985.

Other members of the board are Dee Blackmon, librarian at Abilene Public Library, and Mrs. Patricia Sorrel, librarian at Wharton County Library. Dorman H. Winfrey, director of the Texas State Library, is ex officio chairman, and Harold Billings, director of General Libraries at the University of Texas at Austin, is ex officio secretary.

McEwen, Davis lead campaign

The Big Spring YMCA board of directors have selected Russ McEwen and Don Davis as the leadership for the 1981 Membership Round-Up. This year's campaign theme will be Western. Russ McEwen will serve as the Trail Boss and Don Davis as the Assistant Trail Boss.

The Round-Up's other key leadership jobs include as Ranch Foreman, Jim Parks, Earl Archer, Paula Talbot and Sherry Bordofsky.

Yet to be completely recruited are Spread Foreman and Ranch Hands. Those who have been assigned jobs working for Jim Parks ranch, are Curt Mullins, Ray Kennedy, Ben Bancroft and Elliott Mitchell. Earl Archer's Foreman are Tim Hall, Paschal Odum, Drew Mouton and Ella Morrison. Recruited to work for Paula Talbot are Cinda Stanley and Linda Lou Cathey.

The Spread foreman, Sherry Bordofsky has recruited Carol Hunter. The Round-Up for 1981 will be $47,000. This will come from participating and Sustaining Types of Memberships. The Membership Round-Up will begin Jan. 23, with the end coming Feb. 9. The YMCA's Executive Director, Bob Cappel, will serve as the Chuck Wagon Boss (Cook) for the Round-Up.

trucks, the government decided Wednesday against ordering a recall of the vehicles.

Instead, the Transportation Department agreed to a Ford Motor Co. proposal to send a dashboard warning sticker and a letter to each of the car owners, noting the possible hazard and suggesting precautions.

The compromise was quickly criticized by a consumer group that said the government should have taken stronger action and ordered repairs made on the transmissions.

The Ford vehicles involved were sold from 1970 to 1979. Ford made changes in its transmissions this year, but has argued all along that the hazard stems from driver error, not from the design of the transmission.

"There is no defect in our transmissions," declared Herbert Misch, vice president in charge of Ford's environmental and safety engineering staff in a statement issued in Detroit.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration last summer said there have been more than 1,700 injuries and nearly 100 deaths as a result of Ford transmissions suddenly slipping from park to reverse while the car is idling.

Government and Ford lawyers have been negotiating for months in attempt to reach a settlement short of a recall. Ford, which already has lost more than $1.5 billion this year because of poor sales, could provide no estimate on how much a recall would have cost.

A company spokesman said just preliminary work would cost $50 a car. He said mailing of the letters and stickers will cost between $5 million and $10 million.

The agreement covers the Ford FMX C-3, C-4 and C-6 transmissions as well as the JATCO automatic transmission.

The compromise was quickly criticized by the Center for Auto Safety, a consumer group associated with Ralph Nader.

"Merely putting a sticker on a vehicle isn't going to assure that you aren't going to have problems in the future. For the consumer it's a pretty raw deal," said the organization's Russell Shew.

Although agreeing to the compromise, the Transportation Department made clear Wednesday it did not agree with Ford's interpretation of the hazard, and officials emphasized a future recall remains possible.

Under the agreement, Ford will send the owner of each of the 22.9 million affected cars a dashboard warning sticker urging motorists to make certain the gear selector lever is in park, the parking brake is in place and the ignition is off when the driver is not behind the wheel.

"Unexpected and possibly sudden vehicle movement may occur if these precautions are not taken," the sticker warns motorists.

Braniff merger talks may have led to Lawrence resignation

DALLAS (AP) — A possible merger between Braniff International and Eastern Air Lines forced Tuesday's surprise resignation of longtime Braniff president Harding Lawrence, a securities analyst said.

"There is not much question that he was forced into it," said Jim Trotter, a vice president at Rauscher Pierce Refsnes Inc. in Dallas. "The question is: by whom?"

Lawrence, 60, served 15 years at the helm of Braniff International Corp., parent company of the airline, serving as president and board chairman for most of that time.

Braniff and the much-larger Eastern Air Lines disclosed preliminary merger talks Nov. 15. The status of the talks has not changed since.

"The (two) companies apparently are working toward an agreement in principle," Trotter speculated. "At that point they would have worked out a plan for top management for the new company. So it's possible that that led to Lawrence's decision to resign."

"To me it means the likelihood of a merger is improved," added Eliot Fried of Shearson Loeb Rhoades Inc., in New York, "because without questions, if Braniff were to go with Eastern, (Eastern's president) Frank Borman and Harding Lawrence would never get along."

A replacement is expected to be announced at the corporation's Jan. 7 board meeting, according to a press release officially announcing the resignation. The release attributed Lawrence's retirement decision to his desire for more time with his family, and Braniff public relations officer Jere Cox denied there was any pressure for Lawrence's resignation from directors or creditors.

"It was something Lawrence has been considering for the past couple of years," said Cox. Lawrence was not available for comment, having left his office for what was described as an extended vacation trip. Company spokesmen said Lawrence would not be back at the company's Dallas headquarters before the Jan. 1 retirement date.

"I knew the announcement was being contemplated," said Braniff board member Herman W. Lay. "I couldn't possibly comment further."

Company officials did not say whether Lawrence's lucrative, long-term contract would still be honored. The contract runs through 1990, calling for a minimum salary of $300,000 with compensation to be paid Lawrence's heirs should he die before expiration.

In the first three quarters of 1980, Braniff suffered operating losses of $113 million, mitigated by the sale of planes and equipment which made the net loss $51.6 million.

Lawrence, in October, inaugurated Operation Turnaround, a program he said was designed to put the company back in the black. It included layoffs, route cutbacks, suspension of Pacific flights and a system-wide, 10-percent pay cut which was scuttled when Teamsters Union members rejected the idea overwhelmingly, even though pilots and mechanics had voted to accept it.

In his retirement announcement, Lawrence wrote, "I'm looking forward

Interstate banking may be sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration will recommend next week that Congress permit banks to provide full banking services across state lines, a White House spokesman said today.

The recommendation was contained in a report prepared by Orin Kramer, associate director of the White House domestic policy staff, and approved by the president, deputy press secretary Ray Jenkins said.

The White House declined to make public a copy of the report.

Texas man, daughter found shot

PAGOSA SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — A 27-year-old Duncanville, Texas, man and his daughter were found shot to death in their car at a highway junction west of here, and officials were uncertain whether they were murdered or were murder-suicide victims.

Archuleta County Sheriff Neil Smith said his office recently was investigating the deaths of Paul Lucero and his daughter Taunya, about 3 years old. He refused to discuss the case further Wednesday.

An autopsy was performed Wednesday on the bodies by Dr. Leonard Marquez, the county coroner, but results were not expected until Friday, Smith said.

Smith said the bodies were found about 10 a.m. Tuesday in Lucero's car at the junction of U.S. Highway 160 and Colorado 151, about 20 miles west of here. He said the two were thought to have been dead less than three hours.

Smith said the bodies were discovered by a state Highway Department crew. The two had been visiting relatives in Bayfield over the holidays, he said.

Fire breaks out at CC refinery

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — An early morning series of explosions and fire damaged a unit of the Quintana Howell oil refinery on the outskirts of the city Wednesday.

There was one reported injury when a bystander was hit by a car, firemen said.

The first explosion went off in a hydrogen cracking unit. It was followed by "two or three" smaller explosions which disabled the refinery's own water-pumping units, rendering company firefighting equipment useless, said a spokesman. Electrical service in the area was disrupted.

No damage estimate was given.

All available city firemen and equipment were sent to the scene and contained the flames within 90 minutes, a fire department spokesman said.

Police started to evacuate all people living within six blocks of the refinery, but canceled that plan when firemen brought the fire under control, a police dispatcher said.

Woodson is new TDNA president

HOUSTON (AP) — Craig Woodson, president of Woodson Newspapers Inc. of Brownwood, becomes president of the Texas Daily Newspaper Association on Thursday.

Woodson succeeds V. Lyle DeBolt, senior publisher of the Freedom Newspapers Group in Harlingen.

The TDNA also announced Frank Feuille, president of the Newspaper Printing Corp. of El Paso, becomes vice president and Charles O. Kilpatrick, publisher of the San Antonio Express and News, serves as treasurer.

New directors are Jim Fain, publisher of the Austin American-Statesman, and W. Lawson Grant, assistant publisher of the Temple Daily Telegram. They succeed Kilpatrick and W. Howard Bronson Jr., publisher of the Shreveport, La., Times.

Tar Heels stifle Longhorns, 16-7

HOUSTON (AP) — Amos Lawrence and Kelvin Bryant, North Carolina's twin 1,000-yard rushers, each scored touchdowns and an opportunistic defense led by safety-punter Steve Streater decked the Texas Longhorns 16-7 Wednesday night in the 22nd Annual Bluebonnet Bowl.

Lawrence, who went over 100 yards for the eighth time this season, ripped 59 yards on North Carolina's first possession for a 6-0 lead and Bryant put the Tarheels ahead for good at 13-7 with a 1-yard run in the second quarter.

Streater, the only player in Atlantic Coast Conference history to make All-Conference at two positions in the same year, ignited the Tarheels to the lead early in the second quarter.

Streater punted a Bluebonnet Bowl record 63 yards to get the Tarheels out of trouble and then, on Texas' first play after the punt, Streater intercepted to set up the go-ahead touchdown by Bryant.

The Longhorns, trying to end a disappointing season on a winning note, scored in the second quarter when freshman Mike Luck of Houston scored on a 1-yard run set up by a 42-yard end around play by speedster Herkie Walls.

Sugar, Orange Bowls hold answer for college football supremacy

By the Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Panthers will be crowded around their television sets on New Year's Day and New Year's Night, hoping to pounce on a national championship.

Georgia's got it now. All the top-ranked Bulldogs have to do is beat Notre Dame in the Sugar Bowl. But the Fighting Irish, who had a chance to grab the national championship before crumbling against Southern California, have a habit of destroying other teams' championship dreams in bowl games.

And if Georgia does happen to lose, there are second-ranked Florida State and No. 4 Oklahoma colliding in the Orange Bowl with an opportunity to leapfrog into first place.

Which pretty much leaves the third-rated Panthers between a rock and a hard place. Pitt did what it had to do, stopping Heisman Trophy winner George Rogers 37-9 in the Gator Bowl last Monday night. Now it hopes Notre Dame can do a job on freshman Herschel Walker and the Bulldogs.

On Wednesday night, North Carolina played Texas in the Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston.

Georgia is 11-0 and Walker is clearly the reason. It's the same team which went 6-5 without him a year ago.

"We'll have to get two, three, four, five guys to tackle Walker," said Notre Dame linebacker Bob Crable. "If we get a lot of people on him, that will more or less negate him. But if we stop one guy, that leaves 10 more and you can't win a football game like that."

Like Georgia, Florida State has never won a national championship. It had a chance last year when it went undefeated into the Orange Bowl, also against Oklahoma. But the Sooners ruined the Seminoles' bid for perfection with a 24-7 victory.

"It'd be nice to know that big thing's out there," Coach Bobby Bowden of Florida State said of the national championship. "But I've never even fought for No. 2. I'd just love to beat Oklahoma."

The Cotton Bowl game between sixth-ranked Baylor and No. 9 Alabama is a rematch of a 1979 game in which Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide bombed the Bears 45-0.

While Baylor is trying to prove it's as good as its regular-season record, Michigan will be trying to show 16th-ranked Washington and the fans in the Rose Bowl that it's not as bad as its postseason record.

"I'm looking forward to our first win in the Rose Bowl," said Coach Schembechler of the fifth-ranked Wolverines, who have lost seven bowl games, five of them in Pasadena, Calif.

"But I think this Michigan team has character, we did so much more than anyone thought we could do.

"Did you know this is the first time we have won the Big Ten championship outright since 1971?"

Taking turns directing Bears to only Cotton Bowl appearances

Jeffrey brothers unique in Baylor football history

DALLAS (AP) — Jay Jeffrey arrived at Baylor in 1979 in the shadow of his brother Neal, a quarterback Baylor fans vowed they would never forget.

And while they haven't exactly forgotten Neal, Jay has emerged from the shadow into his own spotlight, leading the sixth-ranked Bears to a perfect Southwest Conference season and a match-up with ninth-ranked Alabama in the New Year's Day Cotton Bowl.

"Now when I go down there, people ask, 'Aren't you Jay's older brother?'" said 27-year-old Neal Jeffrey, who six years ago led the Bruins to their first SWC championship in 50 years.

But the elder Jeffrey doesn't mind that the spotlight now has turned to brother Jay.

"I'm just so proud of what he's done," says Neal. "Because it's my brother who led them, that's what has made it so unique."

"It is ironic, though," he said, referring to the fact that both brothers not only started as quarterback at the same school, but also led pre-season underdog teams to the Cotton Bowl.

The two Jeffreys are the only brothers in the history of the league to accomplish that feat.

Neal's 1974 Bears emerged as the "surprise" SWC leaders, bouncing back from a dismal 2-9 record in 1973 and a shaky start the next season.

This year, 21-year-old Jay marched the Bears to a sparkling 10-1 record — three games above his brother's 7-4 season.

But he now faces his sternest test — leading the Bears against the Crimson Tide, a three-point favorite.

However, Alabama, 9-2, has yet to win a Cotton Bowl under the tutelage of coach Paul "Bear" Bryant, losing to Texas A&M in 1964 and Texas in 1972. Bryant's only Cotton Bowl victory was in 1950 when his Kentucky team defeated Texas Christian.

In its lone Cotton Bowl appearance, Baylor fell 41-20 to Penn State in 1975.

And it's no consolation to Jay Jeffrey that Alabama comes to Dallas with five straight bowl victories. Aside from their mirrored athletic accomplishments, the brothers say their lives parallel in other areas as well.

"We both have confidence and believe in ourselves, and we set goals," said Jay, who transferred from the University of Missouri in 1979.

Jay opted for a school closer to his home in Shawnee Mission, Kan., for the first two years of college, even though his brother urged him to go to Baylor.

But he said he packed his bags for Waco, Texas, after he spent most of his first two years at Missouri on the bench.

"I wanted to play," he said, shrugging.

Neal, youth director at Wilshire Baptist Church in Dallas, says Jay is "a strong leader. And I think that's also something I did well."

"And we both have the same deep competitiveness," he added.

Jay laughed when asked if he considered himself a better athlete than his brother.

"I'd like to think I have the potential to be as good as Neal," he said. "He did so well in college and went on to the pros."

Neal, who was drafted by San Diego but saw little action on the field, has a higher opinion of his younger brother's ability.

"He's a better athlete than I was," the older Jeffrey beamed. "He's stronger, a better runner and does an overall better job as quarterback."

Neal racked up 1,141 yards in total offense in his championship season. His best year was in 1973 when he accumulated 1,908 yards offense. Jay has rolled up 1,549 yards total offense this season.

In addition to Neal and Jay, their father, James Jeffrey, lettered at Baylor from 1947 to 1950 as a halfback.

Oiler owner explains reasons for firing Coach Bum Phillips

HOUSTON (AP) — In firing head coach Bum Phillips, Houston Oilers owner K.S. "Bud" Adams Jr. said Wednesday that Phillips adamantly refused to hire an offensive coordinator.

In a prepared statement, however, Adams said the firing was not solely a result of Sunday's 27-7 playoff loss to the Oakland Raiders. Instead, he said, the action resulted from serious concern over the future of Oiler program.

"This is the most difficult decision I have had to make in my 21 years as owner of the club," Adams said. "Bum has done a fine job over the past six seasons in bringing our team to its current level of development."

"At the end each season I always sit down and evaluate the job that has been done and determine if we made the degree of progress we were looking for prior to the beginning of training camp."

"In recent years I have felt we have taken significant steps forward but after this season I feel we have taken a (Continued on Page 2-B "Disagreement")"

OUT OF WORK — Bum Phillips leaning against the porch railing of his new home that is under construction Southwest of Houston Wednesday after he was fired as the head coach and general manager of the Houston Oilers of the NFL by owner K.S. "Bud" Adams Jr. Phillips had coached the Oilers into the playoffs for three seasons and had a 59-38 win loss record.

know, and she had already heard it on television I'm a little bit disappointed about that."

"At least they could have given me 24 hours to let my family know and to notify my assistants."

He said he would not have done anything differently during his six-year tenure, including the hiring of an offensive coordinator, a move he has been criticized for not doing.

"The first three years I was coach here, we had an offensive coordinator and couldn't make the playoffs. The last three years, we didn't have one and we made the playoffs. We won, but maybe we didn't win enough."

Phillips had promised Oiler fans last year that the team would "kick down the door" to the Super Bowl this year, but Houston's NFL title dreams when Oakland defeated them.

"I'm not bitter," he said. "Hell, he (Adams) owns the club and he can do anything he wants to with it."

"I guess they expected more than I could produce." The oft-quoted Phillips, famous for his butch haircut, western boots and "laid back" attitude, has coached the Oilers for the past six years.

Flanked by center Carl Mauk, who said he didn't want to discuss the firing, Phillips said he wasn't worried about his plans. "The future will take care of itself," he said.

"I don't know what's going to happen right now, but if I get any other coaching offers, I'll probably take them. I have to pay my bills and coaching is the only job I've ever had."

He said Adams called him to the office Wednesday morning and told him he had been fired. "I then went to the phone to let my wife

Looking Back

The Herald takes a look at some of the more exciting moments in the world of sports during the past year on this page and the following.

GEORGE THE MAGNIFICENT — Kansas City third baseman flirted with the record books of baseball, as he maintained a plus .400 batting average throughout much of the summer. But with people pitching around him after he injured his batting hand in late August, it dropped to .388. Still, the handsome star helped lead the Kansas City Royals to the American League title, capping it with a dramatic three-run homer in the playoffs for a 3-2 win for the Royals in the final game.

UP AGAINST THE WALL — Heavyweight champion Larry Holmes (right) batters former champion Muhammad Ali against the ropes during their October heavyweight title fight. Ali had come out of retirement for the 10 million dollar bout, but was beaten at will by the younger Holmes. Ali lost when he didn't answer the bell for the 11th round, although he admitted later that he knew he would lose as early as the opening round.

NICKLAUS WINS HIGHLIGHTS GOLF YEAR — Golf great Jack Nicklaus whoops with joy after he birdied the final hole of the US Open last June at the Baltusrol Country Club in Springfield, New Jersey. In one of the year's most dramatic golfing events, Nicklaus, 40, won the 1980 US Open, after not having a tournament victory in almost two years.

Disagreement over offensive coordinator

(Continued from 1-B) large step backwards." Adams said he met around mid-season with Phillips and "expressed concern over the lack of scoring. He said he recommended Phillips either consider elevating one of the existing offensive coaches to offensive coordinator or go outside and bring in the best available man to work in that capacity. "I also told him we were the only one of the 28 National Football League teams to function without an offensive coordinator."

Adams said. "Bum said he was the offensive coordinator and he was satisfied with the job being done on offense. "I was very disappointed to learn through the newspapers, instead of first hand, that he had totally rejected the idea of hiring an offensive coordinator for the 1981 season. "When Bum came to me asking if he could make a trade or acquire a player I was always supportive by providing him with what he thought it took to put a winner on the field.

BORG WINS WIMBLEDON AGAIN — Sweden's Bjorn Borg sinks to his knees and raises his arms after winning his fifth consecutive men's singles title at England's prestigious Wimbledon tennis tournament last July. In one of the great tennis matches of all time, Borg beat John McEnroe of the United States in a five-set match that lasted nearly four hours.

AN OLD COMBINATION — Philadelphia Phillies first baseman Pete Rose (right) watches with his former manager with the Cincinnati Reds, Sparky Anderson (left), as the Phillies workout prior to their opening game of the 1980 World Series against Kansas City. The Phillies, with Rose playing a large role won the world championship by defeating the Royals four games to two.

SPLIT TWO LUCRATIVE BOUTS — Roberto Duran and Sugar Ray Leonard fought two very lucrative welterweight boxing matches during the past year. In the first in Montreal, Duran scored a victory by unanimous decision in a bout that went the full 15 rounds. In the rematch in New Orleans, Leonard won when Duran simply quit with 16 seconds left in Round 8, complaining of cramps.

Consumers can learn many lessons from looking at economic realities of 1980

NEW YORK (AP) — What have you learned from your experiences in the year just past, and in the equally upsetting decade that preceded it?

Not to believe in political promises or economic forecasts, to be sure. And it is hoped you have discovered that nobody in office looks after your fortunes more diligently than you yourself.

So much is there to remember that you might benefit from a reminder, incomplete and idiosyncratic though it be.

—On everyone's list is lesson number one: Prices rise relentlessly and interest rates generally. Interest rates might be falling now, but the next low will certainly be higher than the previous one.

—The house you saved to buy is now just as far beyond your grasp as it was a year ago. Lesson number one is the major reason why this is so.

—You must rely on your wits if you're going to move ahead in these volatile times. If, for example, you still want to buy that house you might consider creative financing, i.e. asking the seller for a loan.

—Don't chase stock and bond prices. They're so sensitive to so many stimuli that there's a good chance that what went up yesterday will be down tomorrow, giving you another chance.

—No matter how many sales are under way, or how many rebates — no matter what other "cost-cutting" promotions there are in the market — car prices will be higher than they were a month or a year ago.

—It pays to be in debt because you get the use of the money now, pay back in cheaper dollars, and receive an income tax deduction from Uncle Sam. But it sometimes pays to save.

Sometimes is an important word. Everyone knows that 8 percent interest during 12 percent inflation results in lost buying power. But not always. The person who pays cash can also obtain substantial discounts.

—Buying power isn't always a consequence of accumulating financial assets. It can be the opposite. If you have very few assets, but much knowledge in acquiring grants, benefits, scholarships and various other subsidies, public and private, you may be able to live well today.

—You must not rely on short-term economic measurements. Almost certainly they will be revised, leaving you without justification for the decision you have just made.

—Bank credit cards aren't all they were cracked up to be. Or, perhaps it should be said they aren't what they used to be. Banks are adding handling charges and restricting usage.

—You are the best judge of your financial condition. Your own wallet tells you more about the economy and your place in it than all the statistical confetti that Washington can shower. Where, after all, do they get the information that makes up the statistics? From you.

Review the year, review the decade, and vow not to make the same mistakes.

MEETING THE CHIEF — Secretary of Defense-designate Caspar Weinberger, foreground, and Reagan chief of staff Edwin Meese III walk down driveway of Ronald Reagan's Pacific Palisades home in Los Angeles Tuesday after meeting with Reagan. Reagan and his wife Nancy planned to leave Wednesday for Palm Springs, Calif., where they will spend New Year's Day with family friend Walter Annenburg.

FACT FOLLOWS FICTION — Mrs. Rossanna Enlow, president and board chairman of The Evansville Courier, in Indiana opens a gift at her 75th birthday party Tuesday. Among those who wished her a happy birthday was actress Nancy Marchand, who portrays fictional newspaper publisher Margaret Pyncheon in television's "Lou Grant." Over the phone Tuesday, the two women talked shop, exchanged pleasantries and marveled at how much the real publisher has in common with the make-believe one.

Grains and soybeans at near-limit highs

By The Associated Press

Hog and pork belly futures prices fell sharply for the fourth straight day Wednesday to close the year with one of their steepest declines in a decade, analysts said.

At the close of the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, pork bellies fell 1 cent to the 2-cent daily limit, with the February-delivery contract at 55.57 cents a pound; hogs were the 1.50-cent limit lower to 68 cent higher, February 47.75 cents a pound; cattle were 40 cent to 1.30 cents higher, January 65.15 cents a pound; feeder cattle were 1.25 cents to 1.50 cents higher, January 73.45 cents a pound.

Grain and soybean futures prices rallied to near-limit highs in late buying before the close of the year.

At the close of the Chicago Board of Trade, soybeans were 17 cents to 29 1/4 cents higher, January $7.88 1/4 a bushel; wheat was 13 cents to 17 1/2 cents higher, March $5.01 a bushel; corn was 5 1/4 cents to 7 3/4 cents higher, March $3.78 a bushel; oats were 4 1/2 cents to 5 1/2 cents higher, March $2.23 a bushel.

In metals, copper regained some of the losses posted Tuesday and silver rose disproportionately high due to very thin activity, analysts said.

On the Commodity Exchange Inc. in New York, gold closed $3.90 to $4.80 higher, January $591.30 a troy ounce; silver was 42 cents to 64 cents higher, January $15.69 a troy ounce; copper was .45 cent to .65 cent higher, January 83.75 cents a pound.

READY FOR A NEW YEAR — President-elect Ronald Reagan, with his wife Nancy carrying several packages, arrived at the Palm Springs, California airport Wednesday following a short flight from Los Angeles. They plan to spend New Year's eve and day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Annenberg.

We're trading in these little stamps for some big values.

It makes a lot of sense.

Wouldn't you rather see lower prices and bigger savings every day at Furr's than to continue to pay for trading stamps? It's true that providing trading stamps actually adds to the cost of the groceries on our shelves. We believe that in these high-priced times, you're ready for something better. Like lower food bills and bigger savings.

We're cutting prices.

Giving up stamps means we can permanently reduce 1000 items now in our stores. That's 1000 better ways to save. And watch your newspaper every week for our advertised specials. They'll be the biggest values in town. But that's not all. Every time you see an item flagged as part of our Temporary Savings Program, you'll know we're passing along to you extra value our suppliers offer in special money-saving promotions.

Stamps may still be redeemed at official Redemption Centers

You can count on us.

We're out to earn your confidence. Not only by cutting prices, but by continuing to improve our service, our looks, our selection and our quality. We'll be offering you more of the one thing we believe you want most ... Value. Because we want to be your favorite store. And that's a goal we wouldn't trade for anything.

Bringing the best values close to home.

THE FAMILY CIRCUS

"Mommy! The snow grew last night!"

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, JAN. 2, 1981

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You may want to make some startling changes now but take a few moments out to think deeply and decide whether or not the changes will be beneficial in the future.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Study every angle of a new project you have in mind and then act carefully. Take no risks where your reputation is concerned.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Get busy at those chores ahead of you early in the day so you'll have more time for pleasant activities later. Be wise.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Steer clear of an overly dynamic acquaintance and seek company of persons who have more poise. Use common sense.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Take it easy if confronted with an annoying situation and use diplomacy instead of forcefulness for best results.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You may want to run off to new interests, but it's best to complete current tasks. Be more encouraging to others.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) It's to your interest to keep promises you have made. Avoid a co-worker who is confused and could get you in trouble.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Plan how to have greater income in the days ahead. Concentrate on how you can be more productive in the future.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get busy at regular routines and complete what you have started. Make practical plans for the days ahead.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Others could be pressuring you to do things you don't like, so be more resolute in carrying out your wishes.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Do nothing that could upset conditions at home. Not a good day to start a new project. Be logical.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Know your true position in a financial matter before going ahead with future plans. Use care in motion.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Make constructive plans that could give you added income in the days ahead. Take steps to improve your health.

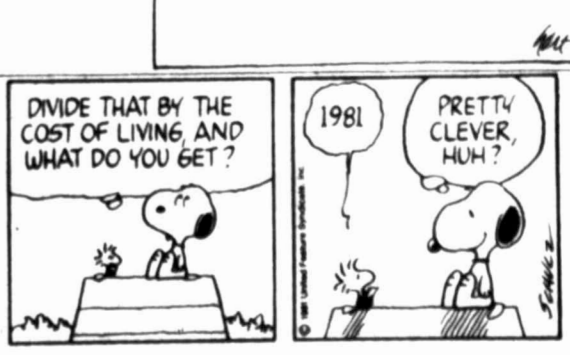

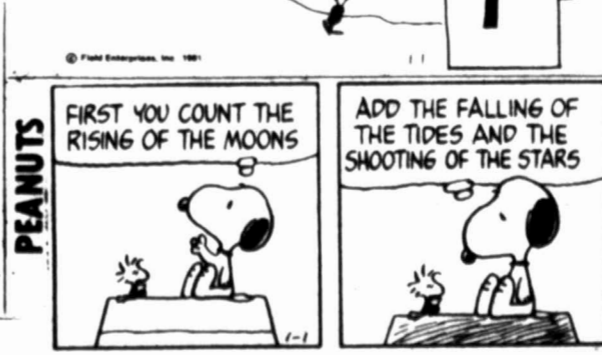

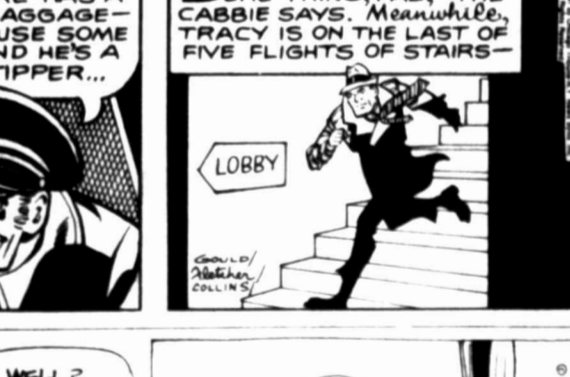

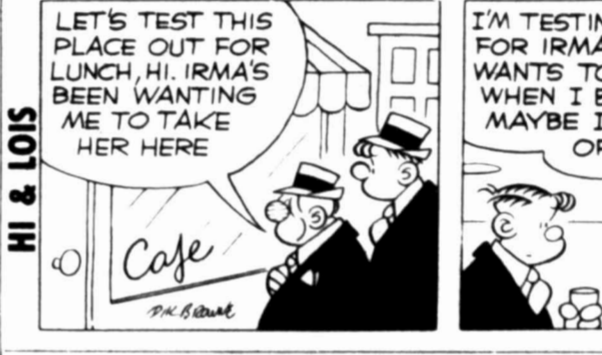

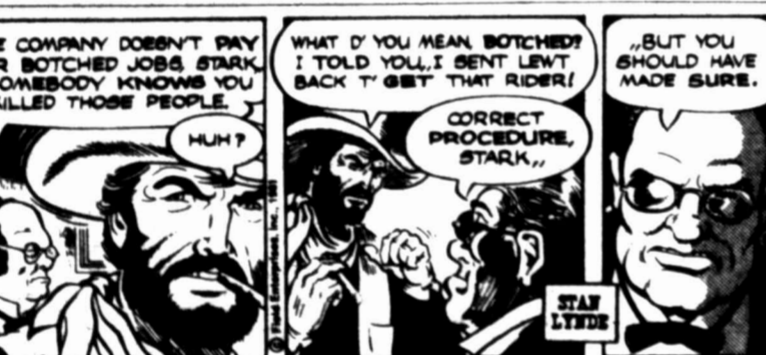

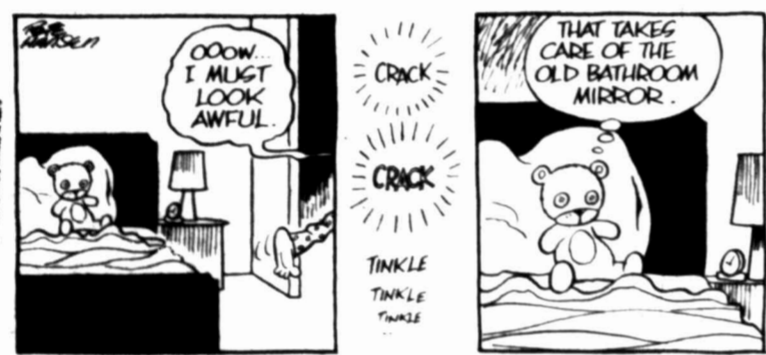

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be very ambitious, so give the best education you can afford in preparation for a most successful life. Religious training is important early in life. Teach to work with hands. One who will be fine in sports.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

New hope offered to ailing

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit neurosurgeon says there may be new hope for stroke victims — cerebral bypass surgery.

Dr. James I. Ausman, chairman of the neurosurgery and neurology department at Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit, is part of a delegation of neurosurgeons involved in a five-year study to determine whether bypass surgery can help stroke patients.

The operation could prevent further strokes in those who already have experienced a minor one and avert strokes in those who show warning signs that indicate a stroke may occur, Ausman says.

The disease is one of the nation's top killers, claiming the lives of more than 200,000 Americans and costing the country more than $12 billion each year, according to Ausman.

"The general opinion of the public is that once you have a stroke you're through," Ausman said. "That's not true and there's abundant evidence to prove it."

Ausman and 67 other surgeons met in Detroit recently to assess progress in the $5 million, five-year study of 1,000 stroke-prone patients.

In what is known as the International Cerebral Revascularization Project, the surgeons are treating half of their patients with the best medical treatment available and the other half with the same treatment supplemented by the cerebral operation.

Ausman estimates more than 90,000 bypass operations will be performed in 1981.

Five from here named to color guard unit

Five Big Spring young men were selected as members of the Hutchinson, Kansas Sky Ryders Drum and Bugle Corps. Tryouts were held in Hutchinson Dec. 26, 27, and 28. All five will be Rifle Members of the Color Guard Unit. Twenty four rifles were present with eight openings on the 17 member Rifle Line.

This summer the corp will be in competition throughout the Southwest, Eastern United States and ending in Montreal, Canada, for the International Competition Aug. 20, 21, and 22, a total of 21 States, Canada, and over 10,000 miles. Last Season the Sky Ryders finished 17th out of over 75 Drum and Bugle Corps. The nearest the Sky Ryders will compete is June 27 in Dallas.

The Riflemen will return to Kansas three times — February, March, and April — for weekend camps before moving to Hutchinson after their school is out in May.

Big Spring members of the Rifle Line include: Mike Donald — son of Mrs. Zane Donald, Donald is a Liberal Arts Major at East Texas State University and is a member of the Rifle Team at ET. Victor Mellinger — son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Basden and Sam Mellinger of Ft. Worth. Victor is a Freshman, Music Education Major at East Texas State University and is also on the East Texas Rifle Team.

The other three are all members of the Big Spring High School Rifle Team. They are:

Martin Solis — son of Mr. and Mrs. Vicente R. Solis. Tony Shortes — son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Shortes. Robby Roton — son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roton.

U.S. regrets Mexico's cancellation treaties

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department expressed regret Wednesday over Mexico's decision to terminate two fisheries agreements, saying it will "severely hurt" fishermen of both countries.

In its first official comment since Mexico informed the United States of its decision Monday, the department said the U.S. fisheries relationship with Mexico over the past four years has been "dissatisfying and frustrating."

However, the department welcomed Mexico's stated willingness to continue consultations on fisheries issues. The statement said that as a result of the Mexican action, 76 small U.S. tuna vessels now permitted to fish inside 12 miles of the Pacific Coast of Mexico and some 50 U.S. vessels fishing snappers and groupers will have to suspend operations after Dec. 29, 1981.

At the same time, Mexico can no longer seek permission to fish for surplus resources off the U.S. coast, the statement said. "The potential for fishing by Mexico off the U.S. coast is very great because there are substantial surpluses that the U.S. could make available to Mexican fishermen," it said. "This, of course, would be difficult to justify without clearly reciprocal treatment of U.S. fishermen in fisheries of Mexico."

Mexico announced its decision on Monday, a week before a scheduled meeting between President-elect Ronald Reagan and Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo.

The action culminated a sharp deterioration in fisheries relations which was touched off six months ago by the inability of the two countries to reach agreement on tuna fisheries operations.

At a news briefing Tuesday, State Department officials said the dispute over fisheries should not obscure positive trends in other aspects of the relationship, including a tripling of trade over the past four years.

They said they did not believe the ill-feelings generated by the fisheries conflict would have an impact on overall ties between the neighboring nations.

Woman may be able to identify assailant

PLANO, Texas (AP) — A woman who remained unconscious for 3 1/2 months after a vicious beating at her home is now communicating with her family and may be able to tell police who her assailant was, officers said.

Polly Gant, 52, wife of former Plano bank president Jack Gant, was beaten senseless and her 81-year-old mother, Laura Needham, was killed in a Sept. 15 attack at the Gant residence. Officers were stymied in their investigation because Mrs. Gant remained in a coma until Tuesday's recovery, according to police.

"She is communicating very slightly," said Plano police Sgt. Gary Mills. "She's talking a little bit, but it's my understanding that she's still in a subdued state."

Police found Mrs. Gant and her mother on the morning of Sept. 15.

Texas hog production reflects major gains

AUSTIN — Pork lovers will be in "hog heaven" if Texas producers continue to expand production as they did in the last quarter of 1980, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

"As of Dec. 1, there were 930,000 hogs and pigs on Texas farms and ranches, the largest number since 1974," Brown said. "This number was boosted substantially by the September-November pig crop, which was the largest in seven years."

Brown added that in a survey conducted by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, Texas pork producers said they intend to step up breeding by 10 percent in the coming six months.

While the Dec. 1 inventory of hogs and pigs in Texas registered an increase, this was not the case nationwide. As of Dec. 1, there were 64.5 million head on U.S. farms, four percent below a year ago at that time. There were 54.8 million head of hogs and pigs in the nation's 14 major producing states, which account for 85 percent of total U.S. hog and pig output.

This was also a four-percent decline from a year ago. The September-November pig crop in these major pork producing states totaled 21.3 million head, down two percent from 1979.

Disney may negotiate with another network

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ron Miller, president of Walt Disney Productions, says there is no mystery about why NBC is dropping "Disney's Wonderful World."

"They didn't negotiate a new contract because our performance against '60 Minutes' wasn't that great," he said. "And they wouldn't move us elsewhere because they felt there is no longer a market for an anthology series."

Miller said negotiations are now under way to move the show to another network. "I think 8 o'clock on Friday or Saturday would be ideal," he said. If that isn't successful, he said, the Disney studio has ready several dramatic series, mini-series and movies for sale.

Miller, son-in-law of the late Walt Disney, said he began work on the series in its second year. "I'd feel very, very sad if I'd went off the air. But I haven't given up hope. I feel that outside the 7 p.m. time slot we will give adequate numbers." He said the studio had been aware for some time that NBC was unhappy with the series' performance. "We tried to work out our differences," he said. "I just NBC president, seemed

He said Fred Silverman, NBC president, seemed more interested in Disney's film library than new shows. He also said NBC executives cringed whenever he mentioned the True Life adventures. Some of these award-winning shows will be telecast later this season before the show goes off the air next September.

Viewers today don't seem to pay much attention to "The Wonderful World of Disney," soon to leave the air, but in the early days it was THE pioneering television series.

Moral Majority fighting obscenity

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — The X-rated gingerbread men and women sold at a shop here may be "disgusting" but they're not illegal, according to prosecutors who refused to pursue a Moral Majority complaint about the cookies.

The gingerbread man feature prominent sex organs and big smiles. "These are obscene cookies, and there's no way you can get around that," said James Wright, executive director of the Maryland Moral Majority.

Wright sent two youngsters into the shop to make a cookie purchase. He then tried unsuccessfully Tuesday to convince Annapolis police and the Anne Arundel County state's attorney's office that the store had illegally sold obscene material to minors.

It is a misdemeanor to sell or display to people under 18 pictures, statues or other representations of humans with obviously stimulated sex organs.

Frederick Paone, an assistant state's attorney, said he found the cookies "personally disgusting" but not illegal.

"All I saw was a visual representation of a gingerbread man, not a visual representation of a person," Paone said.

John Coffee stepping down

West new municipal judge

By ANDREA COHEN
Members of the Big Spring City Council, meeting in executive session Tuesday evening, appointed Howard County Justice of Peace Bobby West to succeed John Coffee as municipal judge. The appointment becomes effective Jan. 1.

BOBBY WEST

Earlier in the month, Coffee had indicated to members of the city council that he wanted to be relieved of his duties but did not reveal his future plans.

A statement released Tuesday night stated that Mayor Clyde Angel and Councilman Larry Miller had met with Judge Coffee Dec. 18 to discuss changes within the municipal court.

"At that time, Judge Coffee expressed his intention to resign from his post as municipal judge effective the first of January," the statement said.

City councilman opted not to comment on his resignation. Coffee was unavailable for comment.

The municipality will be obtaining a new computer system.

In a special meeting Tuesday morning of the city council, members accepted a bid from National Cash Register for $98,216.

The price includes all software applications, installation, implementation and some in-house training, according to Tom Ferguson, city finance director. "It will be necessary for several people to attend a seminar to obtain complete training for use of this system," he said in a memo to the mayor and city council members.

City council members were told maintenance work could be acquired within four hours after the notification.

"The college and the county have computer systems compatible to this system so it's probably fail-safe," said City Manager Don Davis.

The delivery date of the computer is expected in 45 to 60 days.

Big Spring Police Chief Elwood Hoberz asked the council to approve the relocation of the municipal court to the council chamber to give the police department added room. He told the council the detective would be moved into the courtroom with partitions at each desk.

West to take oath of office

Several county officials will be sworn-in during a ceremony at 3 p.m. today in the Howard County commissioners courtroom.

County Judge Bill Tune will approve bonds for the officials in open court session, and Margaret Ray, county clerk, will administer the oath of office.

Bobby West, who was named municipal judge Tuesday night, will take the oath as justice of the peace, precinct one, place one. West said he checked with the State Attorney General's office and was told it was legal for one man to hold both positions.

Others to be sworn in include A.N. Standard, sheriff; Dorothy Moore, county tax assessor-collector; O.L. Brown, county commissioner, precinct one; and Rick Hamby, district attorney.

Bill Crooker, county commissioner, precinct three; Bob Miller, county attorney; and Robert Smith, constable, will not be present for the swearing in ceremonies. They will take the oath of office later.

Following the ceremony, Sheriff Standard and Mrs. Moore will deputize the people serving in their offices.

Bears surprised everybody

DALLAS (AP) — Grant Teaff thought all along his Baylor Bears would do better than the sixth-place finish that sports writers predicted for his team in the 1980 Southwest Conference football race.

But not even he would have anticipated his group would be in Dallas this week, preparing for a New Year's Day clash in the Cotton Bowl against a national powerhouse like Alabama.

His Bears, under the guidance of newfound quarterback Jay Jeffrey, steamrolled to a 10-1 record, including a perfect 8-0 SWC slate, and found themselves ranked No. 6 in the country at the end of regular-season play.

"If you take all the teams in the nation and the talent and experience and stack it up, we're probably not even No. 10," Teaff said.

"I've said all along this was not all that talented a team. The biggest thing we've got going now is that they believe they're good," said Teaff, a deeply religious man who himself is author of an inspirational book entitled, "I Believe."

Vann McElroy, the Bears' all-Southwest Conference safety, was a sophomore at Uvalde (Texas) High School when the Bears last came to the Cotton Bowl, in 1975, and that had been Baylor's first league title in 50 years.

"I didn't expect to ever go to the Cotton Bowl when I came to Baylor. I just didn't see us in the Cotton Bowl picture," said McElroy, a 6-2, 219-pound junior who intercepted eight passes last season, sparking a Baylor effort that led the nation with 29 steals.

McElroy, who also had 57 tackles and knocked down 10 passes during the Bears' surprising season, looks at Alabama, 9-2, with an awe, of sorts. He considers the ninth-ranked Crimson Tide the best team Baylor has faced this season.

"If we're going to win, we have to shut down their option. In the secondary, we're going to have to have to stay alert all the time. Alabama will hulk you to sleep with their running game and then hit the big one (pass) on you. It's really going to be a challenge to try to stop them," McElroy said.

criminal justice grant totaling almost $26,000 to continue the work of the Major Crimes Task Force.

In other business the council: —Denied a claim to Sandra Morton who was in a mishap with a city police vehicle at Fourth and San Jacinto.

—Established a two hour parking area on the south side of Sixth, east of Main.

—Accepted a bid from Hester and Robinson, Big Spring, for infra-red heat in buildings 10 and 19, at a cost of $29,000.

—Passed ordinances to combine the voting precincts at the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum, close Adams Street, amend the code of ordinances concerning the Parks and Recreation Board and abolish the Joint Airport Zoning Board, the Economic Advisory Council, the Board of Equalization and the Emergency Medical Service Council.

—Passed resolutions to lease the municipal auditorium to the Spring City Theater and establish a municipal court of record.

—Acted to pay 499 vouchers totalling $671,514.50.

Joe Hernandez, 15 received a special commendation from the council for aiding Officer Ira Harrison in apprehending a suspect Dec. 15. The presentation was made by Councilman Jack Y. Smith.

Blonde found nearly frozen is recovering

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — Jean Hilliard was literally frozen stiff — "like a piece of meat out of a deep freeze" — when a friend found her in the snow after a night of 22-below-zero temperatures. But the 19-year-old blonde has made a miraculous recovery.

"At worst, I might lose a couple of toes," she says.

"I can't explain why she's alive. She was frozen stiff, literally," Dr. George Sather, who helped treat the teenager, said Tuesday. "It's a miracle."

Miss Hilliard was frozen after a midnight car accident in rural northwestern Minnesota.

When she arrived at the Fosston, Minn., hospital, her skin was too hard to piece with a hypodermic needle or to reveal a pulse. Her temperature was too low to register on a thermometer. Her face was ashen and her eyes were solid and didn't respond to light.

"The reaction didn't appear until two or three hours after she started thawing out. The body was cold, completely solid, just like a piece of meat out of a deep freeze," Sather said.

Her bizarre ordeal began late Dec. 20 as she was returning to her parents' home near Lengby, Minn. The family car skidded off the road on the edge of the White Earth Indian Reservation and stalled in the windy, frigid weather. Clad in western boots, a coat and mittens, she began walking to Wally Nelson's home some two miles away and collapsed only 15 feet from his door.

Nelson found her as walked out the door at 7 next morning. "Her face was ghost-like. I figured she was dead," he said.

Her body was so stiff that Nelson loaded her "diagonally" in the back seat of his car and headed for the hospital.

Wrapped in "water-type heating bags," Miss Hilliard received oxygen and hospital staff heard "little whimpers, probably air coming out of her lungs," Sather said.

She took breaths two or three times a minute, about one-fifth the normal rate. Doctors were unable to give her intravenous feedings because "she was frozen too solid to penetrate the skin," said Sather's brother, Dr. Edgar Sather.

Her pulse, hardly registering, was about 12 beats per minute. And her temperature was too low for a thermometer, with a low reading of 88 degrees, 10 degrees below normal. But in several hours, wrapped in an electric heating pad, she began to revive.

"By noon, she spoke a little. By evening she was lucid," Sanger said. Tests show her heart, kidneys, blood chemistry "are all OK."

She has patches of gray on her legs and her toes are blistered, but there is no talk of major amputation.

"When I woke up, all I wanted was a glass of water," Miss Hilliard said by telephone. "Here was my whole family. Everybody's eyes were just big. They were saying, 'She's alive!'"

"It's more or less like I dreamed about it," said Miss Hilliard, who wants to study heavy equipment operation and maintenance. "It's really eerie when you think about it."

Fires will cost

Lamesa much more

LAMESA — Beginning in January, rural fire calls in Dawson County will cost 3.5 times more than they have during the almost two decades in which equipment of the City of Lamesa has been responding to calls.

Dawson County commissioners voted unanimously Monday to accept a Lamesa City Council offer for rural fire protection. The fee currently is $100 but it will increase to $350 in January.

This year's fire calls have cost the county only $6,400 to date. The minimum will be 64 calls in 1981, which means the county will be paying more than $22,000.

Wants Olympic gold in 1984 Olympics

Sensational fish Walker wants more than pro money

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — If events follow their natural course, three years and a few months hence, a big, strapping kid out of Wrightsville, Ga., is assured of striking the mother lode in pro football's golden vein of fame and fortune.

It portends to be a long, frustrating wait but not to Herschel Walker, the freshman ball-carrying phenom of the Georgia Bulldogs. "I don't think about it," says the 6-foot-1, 218-pound

All-American speedster who rushed for 1,616 yards, most ever for a first year man, and helped propel unbeaten Georgia into the Sugar Bowl Thursday against Notre Dame.

Track is his first love he acknowledged at an informal new conference Tuesday.

Walker has been clocked in 9.2 for the 100 and has run the 220 in 20.9, phenomenal speed for a man of his size. He has been given permission to compete in track in the spring.

Walker was asked if he wished that the NFL, which has a rule against signing a college player until his class has graduated, had a "hardship case" loophole.

"I don't fret much over money," he said. "Money keeps you happy a little while. Friends keep you happy a long time."

It is Walker's 9.2 speed woven into the fabric of a raw body power that has some critics, including Notre Dame's Coach Dan Devine, putting him on a tier above Houston's Earl Campbell, top running back in the NFL; Dallas' Tony Dorsett, Chicago's Charlie Payton and Detroit's sensational rookie Billy Sims, cream of the pros.

The 19-year-old sensation not only made All-America his first year but finished

Cost of celebrating mixed across America

By The Associated Press
Millions of Americans who ring in 1981 tonight will find the cost of celebrating New Year's Eve hasn't gone down since they bid good-bye to the 1970s.

But going out in style is not going out of style.

"It'll be sold out," said Bruce Behnke, of the Las Vegas Hilton, where couples will pay $150 for the Liberace dinner show.

The Royal Canadians, the late Guy Lombardo's band, performing outside New York for the first time in 50 years, are at Boston's Colonnade Hotel where couples will pay $40 to dance.

Many night spots will feature oversized television screens showing New York's Times Square and the thousands who jam the streets to count down the old year. But in honor of the American hostages in Iran, the big ball that slides down a pole at midnight won't be lighted the whole time for the first time since 1904.

Frank Palumbo, owner of the Philadelphia nightclub Palumbo's, said his $20-per-person price for filet mignon and dancing includes no complimentary alcohol. "We don't encourage drinking," he said.

A few deals, like the $40 per person at the MGM Grand in Reno, Nev., and the $160 Marriott in Philadelphia, prices are the same this year.

Sniper attack hearing set

ACKERMAN, Miss. (AP) — A Webster County man facing federal charges in the shooting death of a Texas youth prepared today for a hearing before U.S. District Judge L.T. Senter Jr.

Ronald Glen Shaw, 29, of Eupora, has been charged with murder on a government reservation in the sniping death of Terrell Johnson, 9, on the Natchez Trace Parkway on Friday.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. What is the ^{New Improved} PAY BY MAIL PROGRAM?

A. This is a program offered to readers of the Herald, whereby those people who prefer to pay for their newspapers through the office may do so.

Q. How does the PAY BY MAIL PROGRAM work?

A. The reader may pay for his subscription for three, six or twelve months in advance.

Q. Can the reader pay through the office by the month?

A. No. We are not able to offer this service.

Q. How much does it cost?

A. There is no charge for this service. It is offered as a convenience for you and your carrier.

Q. What happens to my payment?

A. Your carrier is given credit for your payment each month after it is earned.

Q. Is there any advantage to my carrier if I pay by mail?

A. Yes. You are registered as a PAY BY MAIL customer and this eliminates the necessity of his making a collection each month.

Q. What happens if I stop for a vacation?

A. The copies missed during the vacation period will be saved in a vacation pack and delivered upon your return.

Q. If I stop my paper for any reason, do I lose my money?

A. No. A full refund will be made if you must discontinue your paper for any reason.

Q. Will I be billed when my payment is due?

A. Yes. You will be billed by the Big Spring Herald on the first of the month prior to the expiration date.

Q. On what day does my subscription expire?

A. All PAY BY MAIL payments commence with the first day of any month. Therefore, your subscription would expire on the last day of the month of the period for which you have paid.

Q. What happens if my payment is past due?

A. If your payment has not been received by the expiration date, your carrier will be notified and collection will be made at the home.

Texas electric customers to receive higher bills

During January, Texas Electric customers will begin receiving higher bills brought on by the expiration Jan. 1 of the company's largest long-term contract for low-cost natural gas.

The first bills reflecting the higher cost of new gas TESCO has had to buy for use in making electricity will be sent Jan. 6.

The higher-priced gas which has to be used to replace the amount of fuel supplied by the expiring Old Ocean gas contract, will increase customers' electric bills by about $8 for each 1,000 kilowatt-hours used.

"For much of this year, we have been publicizing this upcoming bill increase in an effort to encourage our customers to take steps to conserve on their use of electricity," said TESCO President Bill Marquardt.

By taking conservation steps in homes and businesses, he said, customers can do a lot to lessen the effect of higher-priced gas on their bills in the future.

"We hope customers will call us for information on how to conserve or for the times and places of our free neighborhood Operation Tighten-Up workshops. There are a number of effective measures that can be done for little or no cost," Marquardt said.

More than one-fourth of the fuel TESCO used in 1980 to produce electricity came from the Old Ocean gas contract.

"We have had to acquire new natural gas to replace the fuel supplied by this contract, and new gas supplies are much more expensive than that we've paid for the Old Ocean gas," Marquardt said.

The Old Ocean contract was negotiated 20 years ago, when gas was cheap. Recently, TESCO has paid an average of 41 cents per thousand cubic feet (mcf) for gas supplied by the contract.

During the 1970s, however, the market price of gas went over $2 per mcf, and that price continues to climb. Gas being acquired under new contracts today ranges in price from about $2.25 to more than $5 per mcf.

"Our customers saved about $700 million on their bills during the '70s because we were able to make much of their electricity with Old Ocean gas, instead of higher-priced gas," Marquardt said.

Although the higher cost of new gas will cause bills to increase, bills will not be as high as they would have been if the company had not built new generating plants fueled by lignite coal.

Today, he noted, TESCO is making almost half its customers' electricity with lignite, and also is building the Comanche Peak nuclear plant near Glen Rose.

"We still will have to use a great deal of natural gas and some oil to make electricity, and as gas and oil prices continue to increase, so will the price of electricity."

"But lignite and uranium now are much cheaper than gas, and our use of those two fuels will continue to help hold down the amount of those increases," Marquardt said.

TESCO's only remaining long-term contract for low-cost gas, the Odessa Natural contract, will expire in one year, at the end of 1981.

That contract supplies a much smaller percentage of the company's fuel. But because gas under that contract is lower in price than the Old Ocean gas, its expiration also will cause significant increases in customers' bills, beginning in 1982.

Afghan rioting reported today

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Rioting was reported today in Kabul, capital of Afghanistan, where Soviet forces have been trying for more than a year to put down Moslem rebels.

There was no immediate word of any casualties. The cause of the disturbance was also unknown.

A crowd gathered outside the Ministry of Information and Culture at about 11 a. m. and began hurling stones at the building, according to the report from a diplomatic source.

People also threw stones at passing vehicles for a few minutes, then turned and began stoning the government building, said the source, quoting a witness in Kabul.

Afghan police arrived on the scene in the old Shahri-Nau section of Kabul about 45 minutes after the rioting began, and Soviet and Afghan Mi-28 helicopter gunships flew over the area about 15 minutes after that, the source quoted the witness as saying.

The police apparently contained the demonstration and prevented it from spreading to other sections of the city, said the source, who asked not to be identified.

Speech, language pathologist Marianne Norris resigns Dora Roberts Rehab post

ASSISTANT MANAGER — Mark D. Sheedy has been hired as assistant manager of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce, with primary responsibility for Tourist and Convention Development. He is a graduate of Big Spring High School, Howard College and Angelo State University, and has spent the last year working as events coordinator at the Chapparral Center on the Midland College campus. Sheedy will be working with the planning and organization of conventions, and tourist related activity in Big Spring.

By CAROL HART

A transfer and a return to school are the reasons Marianne Norris, a speech and language pathologist, is leaving the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center.

Mrs. Norris will complete her duties at the Rehabilitation Center Wednesday. She said that her husband, Ralph H. Norris Jr., is being transferred to Denton. He has been working as the assistant personnel director at the Big Spring State Hospital, and will take the position of management specialist with the Denton State School.

MARIANNE NORRIS working with people who are hearing or neurologically impaired, and with those who have had laryngectomies, the removal of the vocal cords.

She also worked with stutterers, learning disabled children, and language delayed children, and people with articulation difficulties and voice impairments.

She also did contract work with the Veteran's Administration Hospital two mornings a week, she said.

At the Rehabilitation Center, Mrs. Norris worked with all ages. She said her youngest patient was 21 months, and her oldest was 83 years old.

Mrs. Norris came to Big Spring in July of 1979. She recently presented a paper which was part of her master's thesis, titled "Voice Initiation and Termination Time in Stuttering and Non-Stuttering Children," at the American Speech, Hearing and Language Association in Atlanta. The paper has been sent off for publication in a professional journal, Mrs. Norris said.

While in Big Spring, Mrs. Norris was active in the First United Methodist Church, and served on the March of Dimes advisory board. She and her husband were also active in the Civitan Club.

Floods hit Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Floods and landslides in West Java killed 110 villagers and left 40 missing and 3,000 homeless, officials said today.

The West Java governor, Maj. Gen. Sang Kunaei, said the villagers were asleep when the floods and landslides overwhelmed their towns late Friday.

Water usage indicates shy count Census figures wrong in BS and Odessa?

Either individuals in Big Spring and Odessa are increasing their daily per capita use of water at a much greater rate than the state average, or the 1980 reported U.S. Census figures for the two cities are grossly inaccurate.

These are conclusions which may be drawn from a water-use study for the cities by O.H. Ivie, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

If, however, the first assumption is correct, then the cities are going to need the Stacy reservoir supply several years sooner than consulting engineers estimated in supporting the application to the Texas Water Commission for the proposed lake southeast of Ballinger.

Ivie conjectured that the correct population for Odessa, based on an average increase in per capita consumption, should be 101,947 instead of the census report of 93,034 (which includes residents served by the Ector County Utility District). For Big Spring, the adjusted population should be 28,072 instead of the reported 24,888 according to the 1980 preliminary adjusted federal census. The federal census figure of 12,671 for Snyder, the other member-city of the CRMWD, appears to be pretty much in line, said Ivie.

In the case of Odessa and Big Spring, the population projections based on the adjusted per capita consumption of water by Ivie are close to what officials in these cities had been estimating on the basis of utility meters and other factors.

Two precautions were taken to insure accuracy of the per capita figures. First of all, customers outside of corporate limits were eliminated because census figures are for corporate limits. Second, the average of three years (for example 1969-70-71) was used for the decennial water use to avoid climatic distortions. Last summer, for instance, there was an unprecedented water demand due to the most severe, sustained heat wave on record, and a three-year average will smooth that out.

Essentially, what Ivie did in his population projections was to assume this would be an accurate figure for the 1970-80 decade. On this basis, he came up with a figure of 174 gallon per capita per day for Odessa and 192 for Big Spring.

It is these figures divided into the

	Population	Per Day Per Capita (Gallons)	Adjusted Per Capita (Gallons)
Odessa	90,380	132	130
Big Spring	31,230	207	148
Snyder	13,850	134	123
		1970
Odessa	78,380	158	152
Big Spring	26,735	244	170
Snyder	11,171	206	163
		1980
Odessa	93,034	199	191
Big Spring	24,888	324	224
Snyder	12,671	233	169

The adjusted per capita is arrived at by eliminating all deliveries outside the corporate limits of the cities. Includes the population in the Ector County Utility District in western Odessa.

Winter wheat in 'fair to good' shape across U.S.

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Winter wheat is going into 1981 in "fair to good" shape across the nation, the government's latest weekly report says.

Economic indicators looking good

WASHINGTON (AP) — A key barometer of the economy rose 1.2 percent in November, the sixth consecutive monthly increase after sharp declines during the spring recession, the government said today.

The November jump in the index of leading indicators was stronger than October's revised 0.7 percent rise, which came as somewhat of a surprise to many economists who had predicted a weakening in the economy because of record-high interest rates.

The Commerce Department index provides a broad look at 10 different economic conditions in a way calculated to predict future activity.

Eight of the indicators available for November registered increases, with rising orders for plant and equipment contributing most to the overall gain, the department said.

Pregnancy guidelines are given

Parents beware: Pregnancy has become a major risk for American teenage girls, reports the Health Insurance Institute.

About 1 million adolescents became pregnant last year.

Three in 10 of all adolescent pregnancies reported last year were for girls under 15 years of age.

At least 3 in 10 teenage pregnancies were aborted.

Should a family require an abortion for one of its members, the Institute points out, many group policies provide benefits for legal abortions under the category of normal maternity coverage.

This means that a male policyholder with dependent coverage generally is entitled to receive payments for an abortion for an unmarried daughter or any other dependent female.

Similarly, women policyholders, married or not, are entitled to abortion benefits as would be their dependent daughters.

Gas leak suit filed

MONT BELVIEU, Texas (AP) — Two Mont Belvieu residents have filed a $10 million class action suit alleging two companies negligently caused gas to escape from a salt dome beneath the town.

About 75 families have been evacuated since the leaks began in early October in this Chambers County community about 30 miles east of Houston.

Gulf Oil and a subsidiary, Warren Petroleum Co. were named as defendants in the lawsuit filed in state district court in Houston by Patrick and Laura McCune.

Warren, one of about 14 companies using the salt dome to store petrochemicals, reported loss of pressure in a storage well Sept. 17. It has accepted no blame for the leaks that led to the evacuations.

At a Monday night meeting, most of the families evacuated organized a committee to consider possible legal action.

Marvin Barrow, named to head the committee, said a damage suit may be filed by the group.

"The majority of the people have told me they just don't want to live on a powder keg any longer," he said. "And since that gas leak occurred you couldn't sell any of our homes."

Purging of the gases from the area is continuing and city officials said some families may be able to return home in about three weeks.

Since the evacuations, most of the families have been living in a nearby motel.

"Additional moisture would be beneficial and would help restore short soil-moisture supplies," it said. "Most areas need snow cover to prevent future damage from cold temperatures and winds. Wind damage has been light to moderate thus far."

The report was issued Tuesday by the Joint Agricultural Weather Facility operated by the departments of Commerce and Agriculture.

In its first look at 1981 production possibilities a week ago, the Agriculture Department said next year's winter wheat crop could be another record of 1.96 billion bushels, up 5 percent from the 1979 harvest of 1.89 billion bushels.

The joint weather analysis said Tuesday that as of Dec. 22-28 the winter wheat crop in Kansas, the biggest producer, was in "good condition" and that 98 percent of the planted acreage had emerged from the ground.

Looking at other areas of the world, the report included these observations that will have an impact, one way or another, on U.S. grain supplies and prices in the months ahead:

Western Soviet Union
Above-freezing temperatures in most winter grain areas last week caused further melting of the protective snow cover. Precipitation also was above normal in most areas, but much of the Ukraine had drier weather.

Europe

Above-normal temperatures in much of Europe allowed resumption of winter grain growth in some western and southern areas. Most agricultural areas remained free of snow.

South America
Most of Brazil's soybean areas received above-normal rainfall last week with moisture supplies abundant to excessive in some areas. Showers in Argentina's southern Buenos Aires province may have delayed wheat harvesting.

Little rain fell in the corn-growing area of northern Argentina, where soil moisture is adequate at present.

Australia
Late-winter grain harvesting continued on schedule, with light, scattered showers causing only minor delays.

Corn-growing areas received below-average rainfall for the week. The crop is entering a critical development phase in which moisture deficiencies may reduce potential crop yields.

Funds urge for black colleges

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas state universities could find themselves under the same type of court control that now looms over state prisons if state officials do not make good faith efforts to improve black colleges, according to Attorney General Mark White.

White on Tuesday persuaded the Legislative Budget Board to recommend an additional $20 million to two predominantly black

FBI vendetta against Dallas police alleged

DALLAS (AP) — Former FBI director J. Edgar Hoover, incensed over insinuations of an agency cover-up, directed a vendetta against the Dallas Police Department after President John F. Kennedy was assassinated here, a Dallas newspaper said today.

The Dallas Morning News quoted FBI documents obtained under the Freedom of Information Act as saying Hoover ordered his agents to stop teaching at the Dallas Police Academy and refused to invite Dallas officers to the FBI National Academy in Washington for more than two years after the assassination.

But only months after Police Chief Jesse Curry resigned in 1966, the newspaper said, FBI agents returned to the Dallas academy and a Dallas officer was invited to the FBI school.

Curry said his blood pressure increased as a result of "the continued pressures and tensions of the office" when he resigned.

He died of heart problems last June 22.

In 1964 and 1965 Hoover instructed Dallas FBI agent Shanklin to tell Curry his agents "just don't have the manpower to take on additional training commitments at this time," the News quoted FBI documents as saying.

The boycott was triggered by a statement attributed to FBI agent James P. Hosty Jr. by Dallas police Lt. Jack Revill the day of the assassination, FBI memos show.

Revill, now assistant chief, said at the time that Hosty told him the FBI knew before the assassination that Lee Harvey Oswald was "capable of committing the assassination of President Kennedy." Hosty, however, denied making the statement.

The next day, Curry said on television the FBI wanted to cover up information that it was aware of Oswald's presence in Dallas and had not notified police. He retracted the statement after Shanklin challenged him to prove it.

Later in 1964, Curry wrote Shanklin a letter stating that no FBI source "ever asked me to 'cover up' the fact that the FBI knew Lee Harvey Oswald was in Dallas" before the assassination.

On April 28, however, Hoover wrote Shanklin that he "and personnel of your office are to deal at arm's length with Dallas Police Department personnel. We will not extend training assistance, nor will we accept candidates from that department to the (FBI

National Academy."

On Jan. 19, 1966, Hoover wrote Shanklin, Dallas Mayor Erik Jonsson visited his office and "asked to discuss the serious breach between this bureau and the Dallas Police Department, if one exists."

Hoover said Jonsson assured him he would "lay down certain guidelines under which Curry will be expected to operate," including "orders that Curry shall be certain of his facts in any statements made.

Carter signs revenue sharing measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter has signed legislation extending for three years the federal revenue-sharing program for local governments and providing the funds for state governments for two years.

The program provides $4.6 billion in annual aid to local governments through the 1983 fiscal year. It also authorizes, subject to later appropriations, $2.3 billion a year for state governments in fiscal 1982 and 1983. The states will get no money in the current fiscal year, which began on Oct. 1.

The revenue-sharing program expired on Sept. 30.

Two escape from Houston psycho ward

HOUSTON (AP) — Two men, one accused of the murder of a law enforcement officer, used bed sheets as a rope to escape from the ninth floor of a psychiatric ward at Jefferson Davis Hospital in Houston Tuesday.

Authorities said Michael Noack, 21, and Leslie Houston Childress, 46, should be considered armed and dangerous.

Noack is charged with capital murder in the Nov. 2 shooting death of Michael Rivers, an officer in the suburban community of Hegwig Village.

Childress was being held on a charge of possession of methamphetamine.

The men were in the hospital for psychiatric examination.

Sheriff Capt. Charles Gaines said the men somehow found a screwdriver and used it to pry loose the frame holding a shutter proof plastic window pane. Then they used bed sheets to lower themselves seven stories, where they dropped 10 feet onto the first floor roof of the building.

Two fellow inmates in the room, who declined to join in the escape, said the men left in an old model, dark colored car which apparently was waiting for the escapees.

Texas firm exec pleads 'no contest'

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A Texas oil firm, through its president, pleaded no contest Tuesday in federal court here to charges it bilked Apco Oil Corp. and Vickers Petroleum Corp. in a $1.4 million false oil certification scheme.

U.S. District Judge Ralph Thompson fined Compton Petroleum Corp. of Abilene, Texas, $46,000 and entered a finding of guilty against the firm on each of 15 charges contained in a federal indictment.

Compton President Randy Barker appeared before Thompson. Barker became president after the frauds occurred.

Compton Corp. was indicted along with its former vice president and general manager, Billy G. Young, earlier this month. Young, who now lives in Tulsa, has pleaded innocent to the charges and faces trial in February.

The incident alleged that Young, through the oil firm, joined with unnamed "co-schemers" to defraud Apco of Oklahoma City and Vickers of Wichita, Kan., from November 1976 through November 1977.

The scheme, to which the corporation pleaded no contest, entailed reaping fraudulent profits by selling to the two oil companies refined oil that was certified as more valuable crude or unrefined oil.

The indictment, which followed an FBI investigation, also accused Compton Corp. and Young of sending falsely prepared invoices to the firms through the mail and of making false statements to the Federal Energy Administration.

Thompson fined Compton Corp. a maximum of $1,000 on each of 11 counts, a maximum of $10,000 each on three other counts and $5,000 on one count.

The corporation had new owners and management since 1977, defense attorneys said.

Young, if convicted at his trial, faces a maximum possible sentence of 50 years in prison and a $36,000 fine.
