Nursing home fire kills 13 people

KEANSBURG, N.J. (AP) — Fire roared through a two-story brick nursing home in this central New Jersey community before dawn today, and Middletown Fire Chief Richard O'Shaughnessy said at least 13 people were killed. Eighteen others were unaccounted for.

At least 13 residents of the Beachview Rest Home, on Raritan Bay about 30 miles south of Newark, were injured in the blaze, authorities said.

"It was unbelievable... the smoke," said Nick Naumetz, a 67-year-old patient who fled from the top floor of the home, which housed 114 elderly patients.

"The sirens went off. I looked at my watch and it was 4 a.m. Smoke built up rapidly, in no time at all... all of a sudden," he said.

Authorities were having difficulty reaching victims inside the building because of the flames, said Terry Colyer of the Keansburg Fire Aid Squad.

Six residents initially thought to be unaccounted for were found safe elsewhere.

"The evacuation was orderly, with no screaming or nothing," Naumetz said.

One man apparently leaped from a second-floor window and was found dead in front of the building clutching the window screen, said First Aid Squad Capt. Frank Folz.

Another man was found dead behind the building, he said. Both victims were badly burned.

Some evacuees, their faces blackened by soot, huddled under blankets in a Keansburg Fire House, and about a dozen others found shelter across the street from the nursing home in the home of Keansburg Police

Sgt. Kevin Robinson. Still others were taken to the Newport Fire Company in Keansburg.

The fire, which erupted at 3:57 a.m. EST, was still "burning like blazes" two hours later, said Detective James G. Beatty Jr.

Some 200 firefighters from a half dozen neighboring communities brought the blaze under control just before 7 a.m.

Among the injured were 11 patients and two firefighters, authorities said. They were taken to area hospitals.

Bayshore Community Hospital officials said at least three people were in the intensive care unit, five had been treated and released, and more were expected to be admitted.

Neither the cause of the fire nor its point of origin was immediately known, authorities said.

The Monmouth County prosecutor's office and state police arson squad were investigating.

Nursing home owner Frances Cappadona said the building didn't have sprinklers, which were not required under state law, but it did have smoke detectors.

13 DEAD, 23 MISSING — Firemen fight nursing home blaze in Keansburg, N.J. early Friday. Authorities said that 13 have died, 23 are missing and an undetermined number of employees are unaccounted for in the fire.

1981 begins with energy prices rising at double-digit pace

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices rose 11.7 percent in 1980, only slightly less than the year before despite the recession, the government said today. And 1981 begins with energy prices once again accelerating at a double-digit pace.

The Labor Department also reported that the nation's unemployment rate dipped from 7.5 percent of the workforce in November to 7.4 percent last month. The number of jobless workers stood at 7.8 million at the end of 1980, 1.5 million more than in December 1979.

The department said that wholesale, or producer prices, rose another 0.6 percent in December. If that pace continued for 12 months, it would translate to a 7.8 percent annual rate.

But economists forecast sharp energy and food price increases soon. In December, prices for wholesale food, ready for sale to consumers, dipped 0.4 percent after 0.5 percent in November. This falloff is considered an aberration because of continued heavy slaughtering of farm animals, and should be reversed soon, economists said.

Gasoline prices rose 1.5 percent in December following a 1.7 percent jump the month before. Home heating oil prices climbed 1.9 percent after rising 0.9 percent in November, the department said.

The 11.7 percent acceleration in 1980 prices, before seasonal adjustment, is a small improvement from 1979's 12.6 percent advance. The slight slowdown could be traced to energy prices, which rose 27.2 percent after soaring 62.7 percent in 1979, the department said.

A moderating influence through 1980 was prices for finished food, which rose 6.5 percent following a 7.6 percent climb the year before.

Prices for finished wholesale goods other than food and energy rose 11 percent last year compared with 9.3 percent in 1979.

The nation's unemployment picture continued to improve in December, with the number of jobs and the factory workweek expanding slightly.

Since May, joblessness ranged from the 1980's peak of 7.6 percent and the current 7.4 percent. The Labor Department had put peak joblessness at 7.8 percent, a figure revised downward in this report.

The Carter administration, in its soon-to-be-released economic outlook, will predict joblessness rising to 8 percent in this year's second quarter, a forecast echoed by many private economists.

In 1980, however, employment gains were registered beginning with July, following last spring's sharp but short recession. Manufacturing jobs rebounded by 500,000 and construction by 175,000, although employment in both areas remains "well below pre-recession levels," a Labor Department economist said.

Total employment — as measured by the department's monthly survey of households — stood at 97.3 million people last month, still some half-a-million below the February 1980 peak.

The department's Producer Price Index in December stood at 254.7, before seasonal adjustment. That means that an item costing $100 in 1967 sold for $254.70 in December 1980.

President Carter's economic outlook to be sent to Congress next week predicts the jobless rate will climb to 8 percent by the second quarter of this year.

The administration's farewell forecast also predicts consumer prices will rise 12.6 percent in 1981, about the same as last year.

"Double-digit energy prices are again becoming apparent," said Donald Ratajczak, a Georgia State University economist who conducts his own monthly wholesale price survey.

"Our samples show moderate gains in gasoline prices, but fuel oil prices are definitely rising sharply again," he said. "Total energy products (ready for sale to consumers) appear to have risen almost 2 percent in price in December."

In November, energy prices rose 1.3 percent at the wholesale level. Gasoline prices alone advanced 1.7 percent in November, after having declined for five consecutive months.

The Georgia State survey reported that non-energy prices rose 0.6 percent in December.

Oil exec became suspicious of $1 million lease deal

By JAMES WERRELL
A prominent area oil executive has told the Herald that he considered buying the W.B. Currie Lease a few months ago, but backed out of the deal.

The lease is suspected by law enforcement agents to be the site of a swindle in which Cosden Oil and Chemical Company was bilked out of $425,000. The oilfield man wished to remain anonymous, but he did relate his reasons for abandoning the idea of the purchase. "The asking price was about $1 million; not a bad price for a lease producing 50 barrels of oil a day," he said. "We thought that that kind of production might be coming from a water drive (oil forced by water) from a nearby lease. But it could run out in a year, and we wanted to take a closer look."

The executive asked Jaco Oil Company officials, operators of the lease, to let him run a 10-day production test with his own personal. Jaco never responded, said the man, and the potential sale was dropped.

"We had heard rumors, and we didn't really understand how that lease could be producing that much oil. After all, it had been just sitting there for years," said the man.

The man, who has spent many years in the oil business, said that the possibilities for theft are endless.

"I don't care how much stuff, how many safeguards, you put out there. If somebody makes up his mind that he wants to rip you off, he'll find a way to do it," said the man.

He then told of an incident that occurred while he was serving as a pumper on a local lease in the early '60s. The lease had been purchased by another man, but production on the lease amounted to only half that registered by the previous owner.

Neither owner nor pumper could determine why, until a storage tank was relocated years later. In moving the tank, a hidden line connecting the two tanks on the lease was discovered.

"When one of the tanks was full, they would turn on the pumps to force the oil into the pipeline. But the line from the full tank to the empty one would be open, and half of the oil would run into the empty tank," said the man.

The company was paying for a full tank of oil, but since the pumps were forcing the crude through two different outlets, half would go to the company, and half would go back to the owner into the empty tank.

"I must have walked over that hidden line a thousand times without ever knowing it existed," said the man.

FOR SALE — According to a local oil executive, Jaco Oil Company, Inc. officials of Midland offered to sell the W.B. Currie Lease for $1 million.

Plane dumps 100-pound bales of marijuana on neighborhood

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Robert Banta was tossing in bed, fighting a cold and the flu, when something hit his mobile home with the force of a jolt. When he went to investigate, Banta found the remains of a 100-pound bale of marijuana in his living room and a gaping hole in his roof.

Authorities said the marijuana was dumped out of an airplane as a pilot made a frantic escape attempt across South Florida skies in an effort to elude U.S. Customs agents.

The plane "was built in the early 1940s," said Broward County Sheriff's Deputy Jerry Sampson. "It was held together with baling wire and duct tape."

No one was injured by the barrage, but Banta's mobile home, which was hit about 3:30 a.m. Thursday, was left with a jagged, two-foot-wide hole in the roof. Another bale struck an empty parked van without doing serious damage and a third crashed through the roof of an unfinished home.

In all, police recovered 12 bales scattered from Pembroke Pines to Fort Everglades, which are 15 miles apart.

"We got marijuana bombed," said Banta. "I think this whole thing is pretty stupid. It's tough enough living near an airport, anyway."

Banta said when he heard the noise he thought there had been an explosion.

"It sounded like the hot water heater blew out. We came running out of our bedroom to see what happened and the place was eight inches deep in brown weeds," said the South Florida State Hospital security guard, who lives in the suburban community of Pembroke Pines.

Customs agents had spotted the airplane flying without lights over the Florida Keys, and began the chase at 1:48 a.m.

Police arrested Gerald Finegan, who gave addresses in Woodside, N.Y., and Fort Myers Beach, at Fort Lauderdale-Hollywood International Airport, where his Beechcraft Baron 18 made an unauthorized landing after the chase.

Once on the ground, the plane's pilot first eluded Broward County sheriff's deputies and Customs officials. But an undercover agent spotted Finegan in a cab in front of an airline terminal.

"He was acting suspiciously. He bought a one-way ticket to New York City and was passing the time nervously," said Judi Maffei, a sheriff's department spokeswoman.

Two die in plane crash

LEAKEY, Texas (AP) — Recovery efforts began today for the bodies two men identified as a Colorado father and son killed in the crash of a single-engine airplane near here, the Civil Air Patrol said.

"It was too late, it was getting dark and it's in a pretty inaccessible area," said CAP Maj. Ann Farrell, explaining why searchers did not try immediately to recover the bodies from the wreckage found late Thursday in the rugged hill country.

The badly burned bodies were identified as Charles Benschmidt, 27, the pilot, and his father, George Benschmidt, 51, of La Junta, Colo. George Benschmidt was a senior executive of Western Food Canning Co.'s La Junta office.

The aircraft markings were obliterated by fire, but Ms. Farrell said the plane was believed to be the one reported missing Monday on a flight from La Junta to Uvalde, Texas. The missing plane was registered to Western Food, based in Hutchison, Kan.

Ms. Farrell said the bodies would be flown to Uvalde for transportation to Colorado.

A wide-ranging search began when the aircraft failed to arrive in Uvalde Monday night.

"The pilot's last contact was Monday with flight services in Abilene," said Clarence Born, a spokesman for the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The search, which involved the Federal Aviation Administration, the DPS, Civil Air Patrol and various sheriff's departments, extended from Wichita Falls in far North Texas to Del Rio, along the U.S.-Mexican border.

Ms. Farrell said it was difficult to locate the downed aircraft because of the "rugged, brush-covered, hilly terrain."

Three killed on turnpike

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — Two men plunged to their deaths from an Ohio Turnpike bridge, and a third died when thrown from his truck into the icy Sandusky River Thursday night during a series of accidents on the fog-shrouded structure.

Authorities said Friday that one of the men who fell 60 feet into the Sandusky River had been trying to help an injured trucker and apparently mistook the bridge guardrail for a median strip.

Nine trucks and two automobiles were involved in three separate accidents beginning about 10:30 p.m., state troopers said. Six people were injured.

Troopers at the Castalia post identified the victims as Earl T. Gregory, 38, Uniontown, Ohio; Roy D. Rogers, 29, Mexia, Texas, and Richard Hill, 37, Seaford, Del.

The series of crashes began when an unidentified auto and tractor-trailer truck stopped in the east-bound lane of the bridge because of the heavy fog, authorities said.

Haig faces questioning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State-designate Alexander M. Haig Jr. declared today that the Republic faces an unusually dangerous era in which foreign policy must be rooted in the premise that "there are things worth fighting for."

Haig, in testimony to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, swore that all his activities in behalf of Richard Nixon's presidency were "within the boundaries of the law" and commensurate with his duty "to preserve that office in the national interest."

But the retired four-star general dwelt principally upon his vision of a troubled globe, warning that "the years immediately ahead will be unusually dangerous."

And Haig declared the nation cannot survive those years with an obsession for peace at any cost. "There are worse things, there are more important things," he said during an exchange with Senate Majority Leader Howard Baker Jr.

"This Republic was spawned by armed conflict ... we fought and died to prevent dictatorship and genocide, in the second World War, from becoming the rule of the land. There are things worth fighting for. We must understand that. We must structure our foreign policy on that credible and justifiable premise."

In obvious anticipation of questions to come, he made some mention of his 5½ years with Nixon in his opening statement and appended those remarks with a written handling of his role in the handling of Watergate and other controversial issues of that era, including wiretapping and the bombing of North Vietnam.

UNUSUAL MISHAP — Texas Department of Public Safety Trooper Dean Richardson is shown inspecting a pickup which had been driven by Robert William Doshier, Sweetwater. Doshier was traveling westbound on IS 20, 1.6 miles east of Coahoma when he struck a tractor trailer driven by Richard Earl Stapp, Houston, also traveling westbound. At the point of impact, Doshier hooked on to the rear of the truck where he was dragged 3 miles. Stapp, seeing what was happening, pulled off to the shoulder of the road. A wrecker was needed to separate the two vehicles. A passenger in Doshier's vehicle, Michael Dale Teaff, was taken to Malone-Hogan Hospital where he was treated and released. Doshier received minor injuries.

Local youth seeks office at YMCA conference

Youth delegates from Big Spring High School participated in the YMCA Youth and Government District Conference in San Angelo today. They are among 5,000 high school delegates from 180 YMCA Clubs attending five district conferences across the state.

About 800 delegates will be selected based on merit and performance to attend the 34th Texas Youth and Government Conference in Austin, to begin Feb. 26.

With the assistance of Y staff and volunteer advisors, high school youth have been meeting at the local YMCA to identify and clarify concerns for community change. Youth leaders research and formulate positions on issues, interact with business, government and community leaders, then transform the positions into draft legislation.

Examples of some legislation, being presented today at the conference include bills regarding teacher accountability and regulation of toxic wastes. These bills will be presented by Bronwyn Allen, Michelle Bowers and Speight Grimes.

Besides learning how to formulate positions on issues, says Hannah Coleman, sponsor, youth delegates learn to respect differing viewpoints. The purpose of the YMCA conference program is to help youth participants learn how to listen to the views of others, how to take tough stands on issues with friends, how to work as a team, and how to get things accomplished in a diplomatic manner.

Campaigning for state offices are Merribeth Bancroft, governor; Shanna Hohertz, for president protem, and Debbie Cowan as senate clerk. Bills and their sponsors will be selected today to attend the state conference in Austin.

The YMCA youth and government program closely models the Texas Legislature, judiciary, and executive functions of state government. Leadership, committee activities, house and senate procedures, court room trial hearings, lobbying movements and press coverage are all a part of the learning experience.

As a delegate, youths will spend four days in Austin developing and practicing specialized activities of their choosing.

For 34 years now, Texas has supported the program through the YMCA and prior youth delegates have written more than 65 bills which were eventually enacted into actual state law. The program is financed through private contributions and participant fees of youth delegates.

Pipeline issue listed on agenda

Several items are up for consideration at the Dawson County Commissioners' meeting, set for 10 a.m. Monday in the Dawson County courthouse.

During the meeting, commissioners will be called upon to approve a pipeline crossing between Section 13-14, block 35, T-4-N, T&P railroad company. Commissioners will also hear the soil conservation board, and will select salary grievance committee members.

The group also plans to advertise for bids for a depository of county funds for 1981 and 1982, and will study tax assessments for 1981.

Mike Watson will also address the commissioners in relation to computer programming of the tax roll.

UNITED WAY OFFICERS — Newly elected officers for the United Way Board of Trustees are Tom Watson, secretary, Drew Mouton, vice-chairman, Russ McEwen, campaign chairman, Sherri Bordofske, executive director, Ron Medley, president, and Dr. Charles Hays, immediate past president.

Medley named new president of United Way trustees

By CAROL HART

Ron Medley was named president of the United Way board of trustees during a meeting Thursday in the Tumbleweed Room at Howard College.

Other newly elected officers of the board are Russ McEwen, chairman; Drew Mouton, vice chairman; Tom Watson, secretary; and Jay Boyd, treasurer.

Charles Hays is immediate past president of the board. Sherri Bordofske is executive director.

New board members, also named during the Thursday meeting, are Hooper Sanders, Pat Moore, Delores Hull, Jane Thomas and Tom Watson.

A nominating committee composed of Johnnie Lou

Avery, Dub Moore, Drew Mouton, Earl Archer and Dana Moore submitted the name for a vote by the board of directors.

During the meeting, Dr. Hays thanked several members of the United Way board for their help during the 1979-80 drive. Medley was recognized for "doing a good job," said Hays, and was given a plaque in appreciation. Also recognized was McEwen, who "worked throughout the drive on a number of things to benefit Howard County and Big Spring." David Partlow, public relations coordinator for the drive, was also thanked during the meeting.

A list of payments to member agencies for 1979-80 was distributed during the meeting. Payments received include The American Red Cross, $5,160; Girl Scouts, $8,600; West Side Community Center, $860; West Side Day Care Center, $6,880; and the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, $17,200.

Other payments include Permian Basin Planned Parenthood, $3,526; Young Men's Christian Association $17,200; YMCA-Lakeview Branch, $6,795; Salvation Army, $17,200; Big Spring Boy's Club, $8,600; Howard County Family Service, $3,884; and the Buffalo Trail Council-Boy Scouts, $10,320.

Budgeted as campaign and operating expenses for the 1979-80 campaign was $15,015.82. Sidney Clark, submitted the budget figures to the board members, and said that the "balances are correct" and had been verified.

In other business, the board members voted not to amend the by-laws as pertains to allocating funds when the United Way Campaign does not meet its goal.

Article IV, Section 3 (b) of the Big Spring United Way by-laws states: "In the event of non-receipt of sufficient funds, all funds received shall be distributed on a proportionate share basis as determined by the ratio of each organization's net agreed goal to the total received." This is, in essence, a percentage cut across the board for United Way member agencies.

American Petrofina charged with huge pricing violation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Energy Department charged three oil companies Thursday with $680 million in violations of federal price controls as Carter administration officials rushed to complete investigations of the nation's top 35 oil companies before leaving office.

The department's Office of Special Counsel previously had accused the nation's 15 largest oil companies of pricing violations totaling $10 billion. The charges Thursday represented the first filed against the next 20 companies following completion of audits on their pricing policies between 1973 and 1978.

In the complaints, the department accused Clark Oil & Refining Corp., Milwaukee, of violations totaling $297.5 million; American Petrofina Inc., Dallas, of $260.7 million in violations, and Texas City Refining Inc. of Texas of $121.7 million.

The department said those totals may not represent actual overcharges to consumers. Some of the money may have wound up being carried on the companies' books as increases allowable under pricing regulations, but not yet imposed because of market conditions.

The special counsel's office has focused on company actions since the 1973 Arab oil embargo, when federal price controls were in effect on crude oil and petroleum products. All controls on such products are scheduled to expire in October.

Officials of the three companies named in the new allegations denied any wrongdoing, calling the dispute a difference in interpretation of complex regulations.

Petrofina officials said their records indicated that company had given up $90 million in price increases it was entitled to, rather than making $260.7 million in overcharges as alleged by the department.

In a statement, Petrofina said, "The company has worked diligently to comply with the regulations and will attempt to resolve differences of interpretation with the DOE."

Clark Oil called the regulations "complex, often ambiguous and frequently changed."

In addition to the new allegations, the Energy Department is working to reach as many settlements as possible with the original 15 oil companies.

Special Counsel Paul Bloom said the number of those companies seeking to reach an agreement with the government has increased because of the belief that they may encounter long delays by waiting to reach agreements with the new Republican administration.

Two injured in Corpus Christi blasts

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — Officials today sifted through the wreckage of a petroleum refinery, trying to decide what touched off a pair of explosions that seriously injured two men.

but could not say where the leak started or what ignited the vapors.

John Fernandez, 44, a truck driver from Rosharon, was listed in fair condition with burns on his face and hands.

tanks in the area, and firefighters were pumping gasoline out of the tank through one line and refilling the tank with water.

The refinery produces 125,000 barrels of gasoline a day, he said.

"We know that a gasket (on one of the gasoline lines) failed, but we think that it failed because of the heat from the fire," Sager said. "We don't think that was the location of the original leak."

Residents in a nearby neighborhood were evacuated to a city recreation center after the 4 a.m. explosions. Most returned home, however, by 7:30 a.m., authorities said, and although petroleum products continued to burn, fire officials reported the situation was under control.

Eckles was using the telephone at an operating house to report the first explosion to the fire department when the second blast destroyed the building and critically burned him, Sager said.

Assistant Fire Chief R.K. Gibson said four fire trucks answered the call and found three large gasoline storage tanks ablaze.

Sager said gasoline vapors continued to leak through a manhole on one of six large

Midland man violated terms of plea deal, can't appeal

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau AUSTIN — A Midland County man who violated the terms of a plea bargaining agreement two years ago has no right to appeal the terms of that agreement, the Court of Criminal Appeals ruled Thursday.

The appellate court also ruled that William Durwood Busbee's appeal was filed too late and said his voluntarily entered into the plea bargaining agreement and thus had no right to appeal it.

Two weeks after entering the guilty plea to a marijuana charge in mid-1978, 142nd District Judge Vann Culp — seeing Busbee for the second time in as many weeks — terminated the five-year probated sentence granted in the agreement and assessed a six-year prison term for the marijuana conviction.

Culp imposed the formal sentencing and assessed Busbee a six-year prison term.

IT AIN'T HEAVY — Lance Corporal, Kevin Wynne, 22, of the Royal Corps of Transport, appears to be in line for the world's sturdiest man title as he lifts this army "truck" aloft with one hand at the Buller Barracks here in Aldershot, England Thursday. But Kevin's not really that strong, the vehicle is constructed of inflatable rubber and its real use is to deceive enemy reconnaissance. The inflatable is to be used this week to raise funds for television personality Jimmy Savile's Stoke Mandeville Hospital appeal.

Death law in Texas, Oklahoma challenged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government has been asked to block the use of lethal drugs for executions by Death Row inmates in Oklahoma and Texas.

The inmates and a national legal defense organization dispute the idea that lethal injections are painless, quick and humane.

They argue there is strong evidence the drugs "may actually result in agonizingly slow and painful deaths... far more barbaric than those caused by the more traditional means of execution."

Edward Nida, FDA spokesman, said the agency has six months to respond to the complaint, filed last month.

He said given the nature of the case, he hopes the FDA will respond more quickly, perhaps by the end of the month.

Liebman said Channey, who was convicted of first-degree murder, is not likely to be executed soon, since several more appeals are possible.

Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico and Idaho have passed death-by-injection laws and other states are working on similar legislation.

Of the 691 persons now on Death Row nationwide, 166 are in four death-by-injections states.

'Benign neglect' policy might work

If Ronald Reagan wants to try something new in South America, he might adopt a policy of limited "benign neglect."

It couldn't be any worse than the activist, often meddlesome efforts of his recent predecessors.

President Carter's high-minded but futile plan to force human rights policies on non-democratic governments to the South has been an unmitigated failure.

IN MANY CASES, it has resulted in the opposite, a strengthening of the forces of totalitarianism — including the greatest oppressor of them all, the Soviet Union.

This happened when the president called upon Argentina to cooperate in the grain embargo against the Soviets after the invasion of Afghanistan.

Argentine officials — irked by previous human rights pressures — told him in diplomatic language to buzz off.

THEY HAD A GRAIN SURPLUS, which they cheerfully sold (at huge profits) to the Soviets. Thus a policy intended to enhance human rights became a powerful instrument of aid to the Soviets in suppressing human rights in Afghanistan.

But previous presidents who chose to support existing rightist governments in Latin America fared little better.

Enthusiastic backing of these regimes was at best an embarrassment.

AT WORST, the United States just wound up on the wrong side when our erstwhile allies were overthrown as in Nicaragua.

A series of articles by leading Latin American experts was published recently by the American Foreign Policy Institute. If they seemed to agree on one thing, it was that there was no perfectly satisfactory policy for the U.S. in Latin America.

The problem is seen in microcosm today in tiny El Salvador. The situation there was described recently by James Whelan, editor of the Sacramento Union:

"INSPIRED BY A NAIVE and anti-capitalist 'human rights' approach, the Carter Administration installed an unstable client regime ... and encouraged it to pursue policies that alienated landowners, businessmen and the fledgling middle class without satisfying the peasantry."

Fortunately, ideal relationships with Latin countries are probably not nearly as essential to the United States as conventional wisdom insists. Henry Kissinger once said South America was a dagger point aimed straight at the heart — of Antarctica.

KISSINGER oversimplified. But no matter how valuable Latin American good will might be, it is likely to remain out of reach for a long time to come.

Our best bet might be to suspend efforts to rebuild South America on the North American image, and to get along the best we can with whatever kind of Governments the people of that region are able to construct for themselves.

Pain, pleasure

James Werrell

I have put off the new year as long as possible, but, alas, it has arrived.

My wife and I vowed that the beginning of 1981 would mark the none-too-gradual end to the lifestyle we had been leading during a joyous holiday season. The experience, in its abruptness, can be likened to what a car feels when all the oil drains out of its transmission while it is traveling down the expressway at 80 miles an hour.

INSTEAD OF BEER, we pop the tops on V-8s. Instead of roasts, potatoes drowning in butter and fudge, we crunch gloomily on raw spinach salad. Instead of revelry into the morning of the following day, we are early to bed and early to rise.

How do we feel? Healthier, no wealthier, no wiser and a little bored. Abstinence makes the heart grow fonder.

Which brings us to the philosophical question, how does one find true happiness? Certainly not by living the life of a monk, as I have recently discovered.

A MODERATE AMOUNT of asceticism can be fun, for a while anyway. One's body does appreciate the cease fire, and there is something to be said for banishing the guilt that usually accompanies gluttony and the wanton disregard for natural limits.

But those small pleasures soon pale, and, as I have said, life gets boring.

Then again, I am not espousing hedonism as the answer either. When you crack one crusty eye the morning after and your head is pounding and old brother guilt sits smiling at the foot of your bed, you realize that the price of the good life is way too high.

So you find yourself on life's rocky outcropping, staring down into the misty lowlands where hidden lies that peaceful kingdom of the Sensible Middle Ground.

IN THIS KINGDOM, pleasure and pain have been balanced in euphoric moderation. Those inhabitants of the kingdom who eat well-marbled steaks also jog two miles a day. Those who drink stop after the second martini.

Work in the kingdom is only hard enough to produce a satisfying sense of accomplishment. No type-A personalities with throbbing veins in their foreheads here!

Those who stay up late do so only on Friday and Saturday nights.

Money accrued while gaining a satisfying sense of accomplishment is spent only on sensible items until enough can be set aside to splurge on steaks or a new pair of jogging shoes.

THIS KINGDOM IS, of course, difficult, if not impossible, to locate. Searchers are usually side-tracked to the land of the lushes on one side of the river, or to the land of the vegetarians on the other.

I, myself, will undertake a search for the Sensible Middle Ground sometime in the near future. In the meantime, however, excuse me while I pop another V-8 and contemplate my navel.

Goes Sci-Fi

WASHINGTON — If you thought "Star Wars" was just an amusing fantasy, you underestimate the futuristic fantasies of those who run the Pentagon. They're spending millions of real dollars on a dead-serious effort to develop "The Force" as a military weapon.

In a closely guarded basement room, a top-secret "psychic task force" is hard at work trying to perfect psychotechnic weapons that will work through extrasensory perception — like long-distance telepathic hypnosis to enslave enemy leaders or transmission of nuclear bombs instantaneously around the world through the power of positive thinking.

Proponents of ESP weaponry say it is as revolutionary as the atomic bomb. Most physicists say it's hogwash.

SUPPORTERS OF "voodoo warfare" claim that psychic weapons sank the U.S. nuclear submarine, Thresher in 1963. They also say the Soviet nuclear disaster in the Urals in 1958 was caused by a bungled ESP explosion.

The justification for the Buck Rogers brigade's secret budget — at least $6 million last year — is that there's an ESP gap between the United States and the Soviet Union, where intensive research has been going on since the 1930s.

According to the Defense Intelligence Agency, the Russians have already demonstrated the lethal potential of psychotechnic weapons on flies, and even frogs. In fact, the late Josef Stalin hoped to develop ESP weapons on a stopgap equalizer in the days of American nuclear monopoly.

Stalin's successors in the Kremlin, spiritual skeptics though they are, seriously believe they can develop such thought-provoking, not to say mind-blowing, devices as "hyper-spatial howitzers" which can transmit a nuclear explosion in Siberia to the White House lawn with the speed of thought. Or, to cite another example, Soviet scientists are working on "photon barrier modulators" which (like Haitian witch doctors) can induce death or illness from miles away.

THERE IS EVEN speculation that the microwave radiation the Soviets beamed at the American Embassy in Moscow from 1959 to 1978 was some kind of an ESP attempt at mind control. U.S. scientists have yet to offer a credible reason for the low-level microwave transmissions, which were apparently harmless.

When my associate Ron McRae queried some respected physicists on ESP weaponry, the response was general hilarity. One scientist, between guffaws, compared the psychic task force's project to a World War II attempt to train seagulls to drop fresh guano on the periscopes of German submarines.

But it's no joke to the ju-ju team in the Pentagon basement. They believe. For inspiration, the psychic warriors have posted a sly quotation on the headquarters wall. It's from the late Admiral William Leahy, chief of naval operations in World War II, and it says: "The A-bomb is the biggest fool thing we have ever done ... The bomb will never go off, and I speak as an expert on explosives."

ITALIAN WOES: (1) U.S. emergency aid for Southern Italy's earthquake victims isn't the only assistance we have given to the land that nurtured so many American citizens. One of Italy's most famous showplaces — the island city of Venice — is being kept financially afloat largely through the efforts of American benefactors.

The once-powerful city's resident population has now fallen below 100,000, as young Venetians leave their hometown for greater opportunities than its tourist-dependent economy provides. Meanwhile, many of Venice's priceless art masterpieces are kept in tourist-attracting shape through private American donations. For example, Tintoretto's gigantic depiction of heaven — regarded as the world's largest masterpiece — is about to be given a much-needed cleaning with funds from Americans who fell in love with the old city's picturesque canals and piazzas.

(2) A recent Drug Enforcement Administration report shows that Italy has become a major transit stop for heroin on its way from Southwest Asia to the streets of New York City. A secret project named "Operation Monitor" checked heroin samples collected during 1979 in Harlem and Manhattan's Lower East Side. It turned out that 42 percent of the samples arrived in New York on a single Alitalia flight from Palermo, Sicily.

American heroin smugglers arriving at Kennedy International Airport, the DEA reports, "are predominantly Italian-Americans from the New York City area, who in turn supply various Italian and non-Italian distribution networks along the East Coast."

FLUNKING OUT: The National Education Association is about to lose the status of teacher's pet that it enjoyed under the Carter administration. Its enthusiastic support of Carter has made it, instead, the Peck's Bad Boy of the incoming Reagan team.

Dear Editor: I have been trying to get the city of Big Spring to put up signs at Kentwood school. Signs for the crosswalks and a speed limit sign.

My children among many others have to wait on traffic to cross or run back to the sidewalk to keep from being hit. Many parents park in the crosswalks which means the children have to walk between cars to cross. My children have been in the middle of the crosswalk and had to stop for a passing jeep. The situation is dangerous.

I talked to Capt. Morris of the Big Spring police. He said he can't enforce the law without signs. He told me to call Paul Feazelle. Paul Feazelle said he would see that the signs were put up. After a week they were not put up. I called the city manager, Mr. Davis. Mr. Davis said, in November, they would put them up during the Christmas holidays. The principal of Kentwood school, Mr. Ware, has been trying all year to get signs. He called Mr. Feazelle the same day I did about the signs. PTA at Kentwood has sent notes home with the children telling parents not to park in the crosswalks, still people park in them.

We still have no signs! Would you please help me and the concerned parents of this community to make our school safer for the children.

Best smiles of the year

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The lists are starting to come out. Last week, the National Hairdressers Assn. decided that Nancy Reagan was much better coiffed than Rosalynn Carter. How on earth did Mrs. Carter lose first place?

What many people don't realize is that these lists — and almost every industry has one — are made up by public relations people who know that on a dull day every newspaper in America will print them, provided the people are this year's celebrities.

ARCHIE DOUBLEDAY, who has the National Toothpaste Assn. account, has been working for a month now on the list of those who have the "Best Smiles in America."

He told me in his office, where he was rearranging names on a large board, that it was a tough job.

"I have had to drop Jimmy Carter."

"That's a pity," I said. "I thought he had a very nice smile."

"Reagan has a better smile. Reagan has the best smile in America."

"But for four years, you claimed that Jimmy Carter had the best smile."

"Carter's teeth are the too big. Reagan's teeth have just the right bite size."

"The Toothpaste Assn. never lets politics interfere in the selection of its 'Best Smile' list. I also had to drop Fritz Mondale — he has a weak smile."

"Who have you replaced him with?"

"George Bush. When he smiles, he lights up a room."

"Ed Muskie has a nice smile. Is he still on the list?"

"No, he didn't make it. We also had to drop Zbigniew Brzezinski."

"How could you drop Brzezinski? He's got one of the great smiles in the country. I wish I could smile like he does."

"I would have kept him on the list but I had to make room for Al Haig. We've had our eye on Haig ever since he worked for Nixon. Finally we decided he deserved to make the list."

"IT'S FUNNY. I never saw Al Haig smile when he was working for Nixon."

"Oh, he smiled a lot. It wasn't an ear-to-ear smile, but it had a nice quiet dignity to it."

"I don't see Teddy Kennedy's name on the board."

"No, Teddy didn't make it. We gave that slot to Strom Thurmond. We think Strom has the most ingratiating smile of anyone in the Senate."

"I can't argue with you there. Did any women make the list?"

"Nancy Reagan did."

"And Rosalynn Carter didn't?"

"How did you know?"

"It was a lucky guess."

"Maureen Reagan eased out Amy Carter by six votes."

"That was a squeaker. I see you put Sugar Ray Leonard in place of Spectacular Bid."

"That was a tough one. Spectacular Bid has one of the finest sets of teeth in the country. But when it comes to a great grin, Sugar Ray Leonard no whas him beat."

"WAIT A MINUTE. Have you replaced Walter Cronkite with Dan Rather?"

"Dan Rather has beautiful gums."

"So does Walter Cronkite."

"But when Rather smiles, you also see his dimples. We've been scouting Rather for some time — we decided his time had come."

"I noticed you picked Larry Hagman, who plays J.R. Ewing on 'Dallas'."

Paul G. Donohue, M.D.

Infants require immunization

Dear Dr. Donohue: Immunization is fine and I don't have anything personal against it, but I have done some research and read that babies have a strong immunity and anti-body protection against diseases. This is transmitted to the baby during pregnancy and is good protection until the child is nine months old. Since babies are blessed abundantly with this mechanism of protection, can you please explain to me why our earth doctors immunize them at such early dates? With the extra antibodies, isn't there a chance there could be damage to blood cells and other parts of the body? — A.M.P.

What you have to understand is the difference between passive and active immunity. A baby is, as you say, born with antibodies against many infectious diseases. He has gotten those antibodies passively from the mother. They do not last forever, and when they are gone the baby is susceptible once again to infection. You must also understand that during pregnancy the baby is not exposed to many of the infections which he will meet out in the world.

So we have active immunization. A small dose of the agent or of a modification of the agent that causes a disease is given. It is not enough to produce the illness, but sufficient to teach his body to make the necessary antibodies on its own. You might say that the baby's body has now been programmed to recognize germs that cause illnesses and to produce protective antibodies on demand. This reaction is immediate.

Without immunization it would take a long time for the baby to recognize the germ and make the antibodies from scratch. That's what active immunization against tetanus, diphtheria, whooping cough and polio is begun. Every child should be immunized against all childhood disease for which protection is available, including measles, mumps and rubella. The best times for these immunizations have been carefully worked out. If you have any doubts about your child's status, check with your doctor or county health department.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I have a problem that I can't seem to figure out. At times, I feel as if I must vomit, but when I go to the sink and hold my head with my mouth open, nothing comes out. There is no pain, and only water appears. This might last from one to five minutes, with no after effects. — C.B.D.

Nausea is the feeling of immediate desire to vomit. With severe nausea, there is often an increase in perspiration and also of salivation. This might explain the "water." Nausea is not always followed by vomiting.

Why this is happening to you could lead us into myriad possibilities. I would not have to be the wisest person in the world to suggest that you need medical attention. Disorders of the swallowing mechanisms, food intolerance (such as to fatty foods), diabetes, drug toxicity, air swallowing — all these give you some idea of the range of possibilities. One thing is for sure, this is far from normal, especially on a chronic basis. Please get a firsthand opinion on this, OK?

Dear Dr. Donohue: I had a virus infection, a cold, I guess you'd call it. Suddenly, I lost my sense of smell. Is this uncommon? Why would it happen? — E.L.

A loss of smell happens because there is an inflammation of nasal membranes. The nerve endings that detect odors are damaged by the inflammation. Since smell is such an integral part of taste, people often complain that they have lost that sense also. Both sensations return to normal when the inflammation of the nose subsides. Taste may take longer in some people than in others.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I am a young person living in a wealthy neighborhood. There are so many problems with drugs and broken homes here and so few real Christians that it seems impossible to witness for Christ. Why can't you come and have a crusade here? — M.K.

DEAR M. K.: Your question points out a very important fact: Just because a person has great material possessions does not mean he is happy. Today many people think they will be happy if they just get more money or more possessions. But that is not true. Sadly, the picture you paint of your neighborhood could be repeated many times throughout our nation.

Each year we receive many hundreds — even thousands — of invitations to hold crusades. We look at each of these carefully and prayerfully, and we would do the same if we received an invitation from the churches of your area. However, a crusade is not the only answer to your situation. I know (as you say) that it may seem impossible to witness in your situation, and humanly speaking it may well be so. But God is able to work in any situation. In fact, the very fact that things are so bad around you shows the emptiness of people's lives. All around you are people who are hurting and lonely and insecure. They have (in many cases at least) put their faith in money and social position, and then they have found these do not buy happiness.

What I am suggesting is that your neighborhood is a fertile field for witness. Let me suggest first of all that those who are real Christians in your neighborhood should be praying for others. Form home prayer meetings, and begin to pray specifically for those around you. Then witness for Christ. The kind of witness that will count the most will be a loving, compassionate witness. It will be a quiet word of testimony about Christ and what he can do to meet the deepest needs of the human heart.

Look through the book of Acts very carefully. The early Christians faced many situations that were much tougher than yours. But they had a loving, infectious faith combined with a trust in the Holy Spirit. God blessed them, and God will bless your witness also.

No-Frills Death His Happy End to Life

DEAR ABBY: I hope you won't think I'm off my rocker, but when I die I don't want any kind of wake, funeral or burial service. I've already told this to my wife, but she doesn't take me seriously. I have grown children, grandchildren and relatives all over the U.S. and Canada, and I don't want people traveling thousands of miles just to bury me. After I'm gone, I want my skin donated to the nearest burn center, my eyes, kidneys and all other usable organs donated to those who can use them, and the rest of me sent to a medical college for research or whatever bodies are used for.

I'm not a religious person and I don't want any kind of service, eulogy or prayers. The minute I'm pronounced dead, I want my body moved out and disposed of in the above-mentioned manner.

Abby, how can I make sure that my wishes will be carried out? It doesn't seem fair that a person has no say over what happens to his body after he's dead.

If you, or any of your readers have a solution to my problem, let me know, and I'll die happy.

NO FRILLS

DEAR NO FRILLS: I agree, it doesn't seem fair that one should have no say about what happens to his body after life departs from it, but traditionally that has been the prerogative of one's nearest of kin. Perhaps a lawyer can help assure you that your wishes will be carried out as soon as you are.

(P.S. Even though you may not want any kind of service or prayers, consider your survivors. It may be a comfort to them.)

Living on the Leftovers

They don't have much — Granny and Gramps

A little "retirement cottage" with a guest room for visiting grandchildren, though they own it free and clear . . .

A modest savings account for a rainy day — it took some doing to add to it month by month . . .

Memories, the kind that grow warmer and deeper with every passing year . . .

Affection — it reaches to them across the miles from more than a score of loving hearts . . .

And Faith, the firm, courageous, ever-celebrating faith that has made life to Granny and Gramps a confident walk with God.

No, they don't have much as many people count riches. But they do have certain treasures that can never be lost, stolen or foreclosed. Priceless things whose value reaches beyond time into eternity.

They're living on the leftovers of a life of giving.

Medical missionary to minister at Christs Fellowship Center

Percy T. Collett, M.D., an English missionary who has spent the last 50 years dispensing medicine and miracles up and down the Amazon river in Brazil, will be ministering at Christ Fellowship Center Sunday through Wednesday evenings.

MEDICINE AND MIRACLES — Dr. Percy T. Collett, center, teaching and ministering to a group of natives at a mission station along the Amazon river in Brazil. Dr. Collett is a medical doctor and world traveller who has served on the mission field along the Amazon for 50 years.

Sunday evening service will be at 7 p.m. on the corner of FM 700 and 11th Place and Monday and Tuesday evening services will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Collett, who is 80, said he received the baptism of the Holy Ghost manifested by speaking in other tongues, in 1921. Since then he has travelled throughout the world, sometimes walking many miles through jungles preaching the gospel of Jesus Christ as well as ministering in great metropolitan areas.

Dr. Collett speaks 13 languages and or dialects and has travelled to Australia, New Zealand and the Islands of the Pacific; to the People's Republic of China, from the Russian border to Vladivostok; Japan; to the Aleutian Islands and Alaska; the Canadian Northwest; Hawaii, Mexico and Central America plus many other countries. He was a Temple of Religion speaker at the World's Fair in New York in 1939, chosen by the leading churches of America.

Dr. Collett visited in Athens, Greece; Mars Hill, Damascus and Syria, where Paul the Apostle preached and was in Beirut, Lebanon during the battle for that city. His ministry has reached Brussels, Belgium;

Cairo, Egypt; Jeddah, Saudi Arabia; the Red Sea and East Africa and Kuwait.

Dr. Collett has also preached in Geneva, Switzerland; Rome, Italy; Germany and England; Madrid, Spain; Panama; South Africa; Calcutta and Bombay, India, speaking to christian business men about the pitfalls of trading. He has been entertained by kings and queens, tribal chiefs and witch doctors.

Dr. Collett claims that the Holy Ghost controls his meetings and will impart wisdom, knowledge and understanding to those attending. Through the teaching of the Word of God, Dr. Collett teaches how to eat and drink right and have a clear mind.

Dr. and Mrs. Collett, who is 75, plan to return to the mission field to finish out their lives after this tour.

Outstanding gospel and operatic singer is scheduled at First Church of God

IMADEAN LISTER

Imodean Lister, San Diego, Calif., will present an hour long musical concert at the First Church of God, 2009 Main on Jan. 14, at 7 p.m. According to the host pastor, Bob McCray, admission is free and the community is cordially invited to attend this service of worship and praise.

Miss Lister is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. V.V. Lister of Tucson, Ariz., the third of ten children. During her high school days she began to use her singing talent in a very natural and moving way. In 1970, she sang for the Governor of Texas. Since graduating from college she has toured more than 70,000 miles as well as traveled to Europe in 1973 with a student group from Anderson College in Indiana.

Her musical ability is widespread in that she has sung the lead role in many of the outstanding classical oratorios, operas, and cantatas while attending both Gulf-Coast and Anderson colleges. She is also one of the featured singers on the "Christian Brotherhood Hour" radio broadcast which is heard around the world.

Imodean has recorded two stereo albums titled, "I Feel the Touch," and "Roll Jordan Roll." These recordings are a combination of contemporary gospel with a few classical anthems.

Her program consists of many songs which were written by such outstanding composers as Bill Gaither, Andrae Crouch, and Otis Skillings. You will not want to miss this hour of inspiration as Imodean blends her warm personality with the message of Christ to portray His love and forgiveness to all mankind.

Anti-Semitism and anti-Jewish hostility explodes in 29 states and Washington D.C.

NEW YORK, N.Y. — There was a sharp increase in assaults and vandalism against Jewish institutions, houses of worship, cemeteries and private property last year in the United States compared to 1979, according to a nationwide survey conducted annually by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

The findings, which were made public today by Nathan Perlmutter, ADL's national director, revealed 377 reported anti-Semitic incidents in 1980 as against 129 in 1979. These included firebombings, swastika daubings, anti-Jewish graffiti and other vandalism in 29 states and the District of Columbia.

The largest number of incidents — 120 — was reported from New York State, with 69 of these in New York City's five boroughs and 39 in Nassau and Suffolk Counties. New Jersey came next with 69 reported incidents, Massachusetts with 34, California 27, Michigan 21, Illinois and Rhode Island 12 each, Minnesota 10, North Carolina 9, Connecticut 8, Missouri 8, Virginia 8, Arizona 6, Oregon 5, Colorado 4, Wisconsin 4, Tennessee 3, Florida, Nebraska, Ohio and Washington, each 2. One incident was reported in each of the following states: Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Maryland, Mississippi, Nevada, Pennsylvania, Texas and Washington, D.C.

In addition, Perlmutter pointed out, there were 112 anti-Semitic incidents involving bodily assaults against Jews, harassments or threats by phone or mail directed at Jewish institutions, their officials or private Jewish citizens that were not included in the total of ADL's 1980 audit. He explained that this class of anti-Semitic activity was separately noted because it was not part of the 1979 audit and there was therefore no basis for comparison. Perlmutter said "the sheer statistics of anti-Jewish incidents suggest that there is a high quotient of anti-Semitism and anti-Jewish hostility which still exists just beneath the surface of American life."

The audit was based on reports from ADL's regional offices across the country. The data received by ADL indicated that 20 persons were arrested or apprehended in 11 of the total of 377 incidents. Of these, 14 were aged 17 or under. Perlmutter said, however, that on such limited information, no firm conclusions ought to be reached that teenagers or juveniles were mainly responsible. He noted that two of those arrested — in connection with a fire at a Jewish temple in Los Angeles — were 24 and 35 years of age and were linked by police to the neo-Nazi National Socialist American Workers Party. The Los Angeles episode was the only one in which charges were brought against members of an organized hate group. According to Perlmutter, the increase in the number of tabulated incidents in 1980 may stem partly from improved reporting procedures following last year's audit, which revealed 129 anti-Semitic episodes as against 49 in 1978. As a result of making those findings public, the report said, there was heightened awareness by local Jewish communities around the country and a greater tendency for victims to report anti-Semitic episodes to ADL. Perlmutter said that there are still Jewish institutions and communities wary of reporting incidents because they fear publicity might encourage imitative behavior patterns that would result in further assaults. He added that even with the improved reporting procedures and greater awareness of the problem, the number of incidents for 1980 is undoubtedly higher than 1979 and, in any year, is higher than reported. Among the findings of the ADL survey were the following: — Almost 65

May have come from gun of off duty deputy

Experts study stray bullet that killed El Paso teen

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — A stray bullet apparently fired to the air by a New Year's Eve celebrant has been sent to ballistics experts in Houston to determine if the slug, which struck and fatally wounded a teen-age boy, came from the gun of an off-duty sheriff's deputy.

Three off-duty deputies have been suspended without pay for firing shots into the air outside a residence during a New Year's party. One of them fired a .38-caliber pistol, the same caliber that killed 13-year-old Robert Fierro.

Funeral services for the slain youth were set for today. Chief Sheriff's Deputy Jesus Reyes said Thursday there was a possibility one of the deputies could be charged with murder or negligent homicide in the teen-ager's death. But he said the matching caliber and the fact that the deputies were only a block and a half away from the Fierro home where the boy was standing in his front yard to watch fireworks alone do not prove guilt.

"Thousands and thousands of people in El Paso discharge weapons on New Year's Eve," even though it is against the law, he said. "All through the city and the county there were people shooting off weapons. It's quite common."

The other two deputies were shooting guns of different calibers. All three were suspended pending the outcome of an internal investigation, Reyes said. Fierro, a ninth grader at Valley Junior High School, died Tuesday in a hospital when a brain scan revealed bullet struck him in the top of the forehead and lodged behind one of his eyes. He never regained consciousness. Coroner Juan Contin said it was impossible to tell what angle the bullet was traveling in "because we don't know which direction the boy was looking when it hit him."

Physic Professor C. Sharp Cook of the University of Texas at El Paso said it was theoretically possible for a .38-caliber bullet to be fired straight up and gain enough speed on its fall back to earth that it could kill someone if it hit them on the head.

Clute's name-change election prompts nationwide suggestions

CLUTE, Texas (AP) — Clute, Texas. Ameslan, Texas. Those are among the suggestions officials in this coastal community have received from across the nation since scheduling an April 4 vote on whether Clute should change its name.

Or Honey Bun can not be beat. No need to cry about the past. Change that name for one to last. One way to make the townfolk shout. Would be to change from Clute to Clout. From Emil A. Gonzales Sr.

of El Paso came a suggestion to drop the "l" in Clute and "you'd have a city with the cutest people in Clute, Texas, and on Valentine's Day you will celebrate the cutest couple contest."

language teacher who said it would be a beautiful name because it looks very American and is short for American sign language. Jacobs and City Manager Bill Pennington say they appreciate all the suggestions but Brazoswood remains the only alternative now under consideration.

Children watch as mother killed at Harker school

HARKER HEIGHTS, Texas (AP) — Horrified teachers, parents and students stood in a crowded schoolyard and watched in disbelief as a man dressed in Army fatigues shot a woman to death, then was wounded as he exchanged gunfire with police after running into a field nearby.

The woman, Betty Bush, 36, was shot four times in the chest Thursday as her two children, age 4 and 6 years old, looked on. She was pronounced dead at the scene, said Ted Wermuth, police chief for this small Central Texas town adjacent to the huge Fort Hood military reservation.

Witnesses said the man knocked her down and shot her with a pistol before a shocked crowd in the schoolyard. Two kindergarten classes and a room of first graders witnessed the incident from their classroom windows, a school official said.

The woman's two sons reportedly were treated for shock by the school nurse and were boarded at a neighbor's house, police said. Their father is reportedly on military duty in Korea. Police said the shooting occurred about 8:38 a.m. and officer D.J. Johnson arrived at the scene almost immediately. Johnson said the man fired at the patrol car, then fled behind the school. Other officers cornered him in a field and ordered him to drop his pistol, Wermuth said. Instead, said Wermuth, the man opened fire at police who returned fire.

Some Cuban refugees may be moved to East Texas

MARSHALL, Texas (AP) — The proposed influx of as many as 2,000 Cuban refugees from Fort Chaffee, Ark., has angered officials and residents in the five East Texas towns targeted for relocation sites.

Jerry Pratt said he is adamantly opposed to the influx of refugees. "We're going to do everything in our power to prevent (the relocation.) We're all good, hard-working, God-fearing people, and we don't want the type of people we understand these people are."

The Texas Employment Commission said November unemployment for the area was 7.1 percent. Unemployment statewide was 6 percent.

The original 20,000 refugees that crowded the camp when it opened last May have dwindled, the spokesman said, because some have been "sponsored out."

He said the remaining Cubans seem more difficult to place than others.

The director of the Resource Development for World Relief Organization, Dick Burrow of Wheaton, Ill., has confirmed that WRO will open a small office in East Texas, specifically for Cuban relocation.

Officials say the number of Cubans is not a foregone conclusion.

"We have to talk to community leaders and get their support before talking about quantities," Burrow said.

He said WRO is working through the Southern Baptist Convention and Bellvue Missions International in Hurst.

Gregg County Sheriff Bob Weaver said he was told about 2,000 Cubans would be shipped to the five Texas cities, with the first wave of 150 arriving in the next two weeks.

Hawks face No. 1 Midland College in finals of ABC Classic tonight

By NATHAN POSS
Sports Editor

The Howard College Hawks get something of a rare opportunity tonight in the championship game of the ABC Classic when they will square off against the national's top ranked junior college boys basketball team, the undefeated Midland College Chaparrals. The two championship bound teams earned their finals berths in last night's first round contests, and both managed rather easy wins.

The Hawks opened up the night with an 83-65 triumph over the Sul Ross JVs in a contest that easily could have been much worse. Midland College then played last year's national champions, the Western Texas College Westerners, in a game billed as the best of this year against the best of last. Although Western Texas was realistically in the game with six minutes to play, Midland never trailed in cruising to a 97-77 win. The win was the 15th of the year for Coach Jerry Stone's Chaps, who are assisted by former Howard College All-American Archie Myers, while Western Texas dropped to 11-4. HC will bring a tough record of 12-3 into their championship game match.

relinquish behind the bombing of Virgil Slay, Western Texas hung tough. WTC trailed only 50-45 with one minute to play in the half, but Midland's Charles Johnson led a final surge in the 60 seconds before the halftime that increased that bulge to 58-45. But Western rallied back in the early minutes of the second half behind the scoring of Caesar Scott and Keith Denis, only to be teased. WTC moved within six at 64-58, but that would be as close as they would come in the final 20 minutes.

Johnson, the former Midland High star, tallied 30 points. The 6'6" sophomore canned his high point production from both inside and outside in a variety of shots. Slay added 16 for the number one ranked Chaps, with 6'7", 240-pound Ernie Tate pumping in 14.

Scott paced the WTC charge with 21 points, while Chuck (Rocky) North added 16. Sul Ross will meet Western Texas in the battle for third place at 7:00 p.m. tonight, with the championship round between Howard and Midland beginning at 9:00 p.m. All action takes place in Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

Howard College Coach Harold Wilder saw some good things in the easy win. "I thought our guys played well for not practicing that much. It wasn't a great game, but I couldn't expect that much after being off for a month and only practicing a couple of days."

The Midland-Western Texas game was intense from the beginning, with both teams intent on proving their top billing. But in the end, it was simply the outstanding depth of the Midland team that prevailed.

Stone used all 13 players suited up for the game, with no noticeable dropoff from the first five to the second five. Western battled the entire way. After Midland scored the opening points to take a lead that they would never relinquish behind the bombing of Virgil Slay, Western Texas hung tough. WTC trailed only 50-45 with one minute to play in the half, but Midland's Charles Johnson led a final surge in the 60 seconds before the halftime that increased that bulge to 58-45.

AIRBORNE HAWK... Howard College Hawk Kenneth Jones (44) soars toward the basket for a slam dunk during first half action of his team's win over the Sul Ross JVs in the first round of the ABC Classic. The Hawks will meet the nation's top ranked juco outfit, Midland College, in tonight's finals.

MC Coach Stone expecting rugged battle from HC Hawks in finals

By NATHAN POSS
Sports Editor

Tonight's ABC Classic matchup between Howard College and Midland College offers the local juco basketball outfit a chance to achieve national status, as their opponent is the top ranked team in the country, and have been since mid-December.

The Hawks will take a 12-3 mark into the championship affair against the undefeated Midland Chaps, who have been perfect in 15 games thus far.

And although his team has to be considered a favorite and the number one ranked team in the country, Midland Coach Jerry Stone realizes the Chaps must be ready to play tonight in order to maintain their lofty status.

"We're not overconfident by any means," Stone said after his Chaps scored a 97-77 win over the defending national champion Western Texas team. "We didn't play all that well tonight. We're number one, but that doesn't mean anything. All it really means is that everyone guns for us."

"Playing the host team in the finals of any tournaments is always tough," the Midland College mentor continued. "They (Howard) have a lot of size, and that bothers us, because we really haven't played that well recently."

And although Stone seems to be downplaying the impressive skills of his team, Howard College Harold Wilder realizes the task of knocking off the top ranked juco team in the land will be tough.

"For us to have a chance at beating them," Wilder explained, "we've got to recognize the various defenses they run and attack them without turning it over. They really hurt Western with those turnovers, because when they steal the ball it's off to the races."

The Hawks might have an advantage tonight on the inside parts of the game, as the trio of 6'7" Kenneth Jones, 6'6" Ron Akins and 6'5" Randy Corker can play with most any inside junior college outfit.

"We've got to control the tempo," said Wilder. "We've got to play under control and do what we do best."

San Angelo girls continue winning

The San Angelo Bobcats girls basketball team continued with their impressive ways here last night, using the scoring of Jeannie Bryant and Elsa Ornelas in recording to a 65-34 win over the Big Spring Steers. The win was the 15th in 16 decisions for the Bobcat girls, and boosted their District 5-A-A-A-A first half record to 3-0. The Steer girls, meanwhile, slumped to 0-3 in district play and 4-15 on the year.

San Angelo led from the beginning, gradually increasing a 14-8 first quarter lead into a comfortable 32-17 halftime advantage.

Bryant and Ornelas took up the slack for the injured Ruthie McDvitt, as they combined for more points than the entire Big Spring team. Bryant canned 26 in the contest, with Ornelas adding 18.

Elise Wheat had 11 and Sylvia Randle 10 for the Big Spring girls.

Lamesa girls sweep Golias JHS

Lamesa Junior High swept two games from the Golias JHS girls in action here Thursday evening.

The Lamesa A team then scored a narrow 23-21 win over the Golias White team. Tammie Green had six for the Mavericks, with Lana Fletcher, Amanda Solis and Tammy King adding four each. Green, Solis and Monique Jones drew praise for their overall play.

The Lamesa B team beat the Golias Black girls squad by 18-13. Joann Rodriguez scored four points to pace the Golias squad, with Shanudra Wrightsil and Keri Myrick drawing praise for their play.

Both girls teams will host a tournament in the Golias Gym beginning today.

Hawk Queens blitz ACU

ODESSA — The Howard College Hawk Queens came back from their Christmas vacation in grand style, completely dominating the Abilene Christian University JV team in the first round of the Odessa Chamber of Commerce Women's Tournament. Final score was Howard 69, ACU 37.

The Hawk Queens, now 12-2 on the year, will face Cisco in the second round tonight beginning at seven A win in that contest would put the HC women into tomorrow night's finals.

The Hawk Queens came out cold in the first half, but still managed to take a 32-21 halftime lead.

But HC Coach Don Stevens ordered a different full court press in the opening stages of the second half, and his strategy worked to great advantage. In the first nine minutes of the second half, the Hawk Queens outscored ACU by 18-2 to all but salt the game away.

Stevens was happy with the play of his team in their first contest since the Christmas break. "We played pretty good basketball for the most part. We shot poorly at first, but warmed up as the game went along," he said.

Sophomore All-American candidate Kelly Lyons led the Howard College women in scoring with 21. No other Hawk Queen hit in double figures.

Besides the Howard-Cisco matchup tonight, the other semifinal game will pit tourney host Odessa College against ACU and San Jacinto vs. Mary Hardin Baylor.

In boys basketball battle

Steers visit Coahoma

COAHOMA — A pair of area high school boys basketball teams on the verge of beginning their district schedules square off tonight when the Coahoma Bulldogs play host to the Big Spring Steers in an 8:00 p.m. encounter.

Coahoma comes in with a better record than the Big Spring team, but that could be deceiving, as the Bulldogs have generally played teams in their Class AAA level, while the Steers have played all of their games against AAAA or AAAAA squads.

Cowboy Brown gaining respect

DALLAS (AP) — There are many tempting targets for a quarterback attacking the young Dallas Cowboy secondary, but now there's a bright new bullseye at linebacker to test.

Atlanta quarterback Steve Bartkowski greeted the newcomer, linebacker Guy Brown, by throwing a touchdown pass in his area during the Falcons' recent 30-27 playoff loss to the Cowboys.

The Cowboys are certain Brown, who is replacing the injured Mike Hegman at strongside linebacker, will get a quick challenge Sunday from Philadelphia Eagle quarterback Ron Jaworski in the National Conference title game.

"Now's the time for the real pros to come to the front," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry. "Now is when Guy shows what he's got."

"Sure, the Eagles will come at him," said Dallas linebacker Coach Jerry Tubbs. "But he played tough against Atlanta. He got beat on two passes but graded 100 per cent against the run. I thought he had a pretty good game. I thought he passed with flying colors."

"The longer the game went the more comfortable I felt," said Brown. "I felt like I always had the physical equipment to play this game now I believe I have grown a lot mentally."

Hegman was injured in Dallas' final regular season game, a 35-27 victory over the Eagles. He was hurt chasing down a fumbled forward lateral after an interception, dislocating his elbow.

"We keep hearing that Wilbert Montgomery is injured but we know he will play and play hard," said Breunig. "That's one of the big keys, stopping the Eagle ground game and Montgomery. And Guy is great at defending against the run."

Brown is a fourth year player from the University of Houston who has spent most of his career on the bench. He has tremendous speed but has always been hampered by nagging injuries.

He was hurt chasing down a fumbled forward lateral after an interception, dislocating his elbow.

"There will be no JV game between the two schools, as Coahoma is running of a JV Tournament of their own during the day."

Sims named Offensive Rookie of Year in NFL

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Sims of the Detroit Lions, who proved in 1980 he was every bit the runner he'd been in college — and a fine receiver as well, was named today the Associated Press Offensive Rookie of the Year in the National Football League.

Had there been, he would have dispelled it instantly. In his first game as a pro, he rambled through the Los Angeles defense for 153 yards and three touchdowns in a 41-20 romp over the Rams.

Sims was, fittingly, a runaway choice. He received 53 of the 84 votes cast by a nationwide panel of sports writers and sports broadcasters, three from each NFL city. Joe Cribbs of the Buffalo Bills was second with 24 votes. The only other player to receive more than two votes quarterback David Woodley of the Miami Dolphins with three.

"I felt chills every time he touched the ball," veteran linebacker Charlie Weaver said following Sims' debut. And quarterback Gary Danielson said after that blowout of the Rams, "If you think he's good now, wait'll you see him in our eighth game."

Sims enabled the Lions to vault from last in National Football Conference rushing in 1979 to second in 1980, just behind Los Angeles. He set club records with his 313 carries and 1,303 yards (fourth in the conference and fifth in the league), his league-high 13 touchdowns rushing and his five 100-yard games in the season.

In his second game, against Green Bay, he gained 134 yards, scored a touchdown rushing and, to show his versatility, caught an 87-yard touchdown pass from Danielson.

Sims was the Heisman Trophy winner as a junior at Oklahoma and the runner-up to Charles White in the voting as a senior. There was never any question of his ability to run.

"He made all of us better football players," Danielson said. "Everybody on the offensive line loved blocking for him. They knew Billy would pick up the big gains."

He also caught 51 passes for 621 yards and three touchdowns (not bad for a guy who'd caught the ball just three times in college). In all, he accounted for 1,924 yards on offense and his 16 TDs led the league.

"We drafted Buddy No. 2, and when you draft a man No. 2, you suspect he'll be a starter," linebacker coach Doug Shively said. "How soon will be dictated by the position at hand. He was in a position where he was put in the starting lineup and he responded quickly."

In Richardson, Atlanta drafted a blue chip athlete with a bad knee. "We took a chance and it paid off," Shively said of Richardson, an eighth-round pick. "Al probably would have been drafted a lot higher if it hadn't been for that bad knee. We knew he was an excellent athlete."

There's nothing to it," said Jones Ramsey, UT sports information director. "The regents are not going to buy up his contract. It (the reason behind the reports) is recruiting. It happens every year."

DOESN'T BELIEVE IN BLUE JERSEY JINX — Dallas Cowboys head coach Tom Landry tells reporters in Dallas Tuesday that Philadelphia head coach Dick Vermeil's psychological warfare won't work against the Cowboys. Vermeil chose white jerseys for his Eagles for Sunday's NFC championship game so Dallas will have to wear their blue jerseys in which their lifetime record is 10-10.

Oiler GM wants Saints to repay

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oiler General Manager Ladd Herzog says he'll release the present coaching staff from the final year of their contracts but won't give up his accusation of tampering against former Coach Bum Phillips.

The future. It might not be pleasant. "These coaches are friends of mine who I've worked with," Herzog said. "The hardest thing for me to do right now is my job but I have to protect the interests of the Houston Oilers."

Herzog said Thursday he won't try to keep the six assistant coaches from possibly joining Phillips if he becomes head coach of the New Orleans Saints.

Phillips, currently negotiating with Saints owner John Mecom concerning the head coaching job, has denied he has already invited the Oiler assistants to join him in New Orleans. "I can't hire a staff if I don't have a job," Phillips said.

But Dan Hallidorson, who opened up the 1981 PGA Tour schedule with a spectacular, 7-under-par 63 Thursday in the first round of the $300,000 Joe Garagiola-Tucson Open, has a couple of the game's biggest threats in challenging position just off his shoulder.

But Herzog, who replaced Phillips as general manager last week, says the six assistant coaches suddenly changed their minds about staying with the Oilers.

"I understand they have 18 draft choices and we could use some," Herzog said when asked what compensation he would seek. "I'm firmly convinced that the assistant coaches were tampered with."

Stewart says Campbell will sit out next season if the Oilers do not renegotiate.

Richardson, a left side linebacker out of Georgia Tech, could not be reached for comment on the award.

TV pilot muddles future of NFL great

Bradshaw to retire?

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Terry Bradshaw, talking retirement again, says he may leave the Pittsburgh Steelers for a starring role in a possible NBC television series called "Short Trackers."

Bradshaw, who also discussed possible retirement last winter, said he'd had discussions with NBC about doing a pilot show — which would star Bradshaw and country western singer Mel Tillis as cohosts in a two-man auto racing team.

Bradshaw also said Bradshaw had a verbal agreement to do the pilot.

"But you're talking about a lot of ifs," the 32-year-old quarterback said Thursday night from Las Vegas in a phone interview with television station KDKA in Pittsburgh.

Bradshaw's agent said Thursday that the Steeler star would probably leave football if NBC buys the series. Agent David Ger-shenson also said Bradshaw had a verbal agreement to do the pilot.

Phillips meets with Mecom, Johnny Carson

HOUSTON (AP) — A second talk with New Orleans Saints owner John Mecom behind him, Bum Phillips was in Los Angeles today for an appearance on the Tonight Show.

There was speculation announcement of any signing will be delayed until Super Bowl week gets under way in New Orleans Jan. 19.

Phillips, currently negotiating with Saints owner John Mecom concerning the head coaching job, has denied he has already invited the Oiler assistants to join him in New Orleans.

After a Wednesday night meeting, Mecom continued to say he had other prospects to interview but said, "It's got to be obvious my heads-on-favorite, so to speak, is Bum."

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, JAN. 10, 1981

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Make sure during the daytime that you work out any problems that exist with anyone else so that your future efforts can be well coordinated. Maintain a positive attitude.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Take time to put business and personal affairs in better order. Go to influential persons for the help you need.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Handle routine tasks that are important early in the day so you'll have time to engage in favorite hobby later.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Concentrate on ways to improve your environment. Assist close ties in gaining their aims and gain their devotion.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You can now study your surroundings and make plans for improvement. Have more compassion for others.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Support friends who need your assistance at this time. Discuss practical matters with them and get their advice.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Study monetary dealings with others early in the day and be sure they are right. Make needed repairs to property.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Morning is fine for planning recreations for later in the day. Be more considerate of the needs of family members.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get busy at uncompleted tasks before going ahead with new projects. Plan how to gain your most cherished aims.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Allow time to be with good friends before you pursue favorite hobby. Maintain a cheerful manner.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Ideal day to enjoy yourself at recreations with congenials. Show others that you are an excellent citizen.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You can now launch a new project that could give you added income in the days ahead. Take needed health treatments.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You can keep promises sensibly now and in the evening put new ideas to work. Don't neglect routine chores.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one who can communicate well with others, so permit to have playmates around to further this ability and make adult life easier to endure. There's a fine balance of mind and athletic ability in this chart.

Low-volume retailers worry about oil decontrol

AUSTIN, Texas (AP)—If, as Ronald Reagan has hinted, the government's gasoline price and allocation controls are on the way out, the first service stations that would be forced out of business would be the big-city, low-volume retailers, according to a recent report.

The Texas Oil Marketers Association said Thursday many wholesale distributors who originally advocated decontrol are now worried about how it might affect their businesses.

Resource Planning Associates of Cambridge, Mass., prepared a report for TOMA that showed 45 percent of TOMA's members want allocation controls to continue and 31 percent want price controls to continue.

TOMA said its own poll showed 65 percent of its members consider "supply protection" the most important safeguard after decontrol.

TOMA's membership includes over 1,000 firms that provide gasoline to more than two-thirds of the service stations and retail outlets in Texas.

Price and allocation controls are set to expire Oct. 1, although TOMA said the Reagan administration might remove controls earlier.

The report said crude oil supplies are expected to be tight in 1981 because of the Iran-Iraq war.

It said the long-term outlook for small independent refiners "is bleak" unless they operate in a special market that majors and large independents have ignored.

Major refiners have no incentive to continue supplying smaller refiners with crude oil "except to avoid charges of predatory practices," the report said.

Brinkley's 'Magazine' works out kinks, awaits new time slot

LOS ANGELES (AP) — You are a network programming boss, and your news guys keep coming up with these magazine programs that don't cut it. They take up an hour of your prime time schedule without putting anything measurable back, such as ratings. Why is this happening?

Well, the legend of CBS' wildly successful "60 Minutes" beckons loudly. So what to do with the program? Do what NBC President Fred Silverman did, nudge the little nuisance into a forgotten corner. And, oh, what a forgotten corner Silverman found for "NBC Magazine With David Brinkley." What's that, you say? There exists such a program? Sort of. If you were looking (and viewers aren't) you'd find "NBC Magazine" on Friday nights, alongside CBS' "Dallas."

This descendant of NBC's "Weekend" and "Prime Time With Tom Snyder," fiascos isn't "60 Minutes," but neither was "60 Minutes" in the first decade of its life. Brinkley, who won new fans with his refreshing wit and dead-aim to the heart of matters during last summer's political conventions, is a vast improvement over Tom Snyder in this type of program.

Brinkley's "Magazine" team comprises Jack Perkins, master of the off-hand report, Betsy Aaron, Garrick Utley and Douglas Kiker. The format, as Brinkley wishes, is pliant, allowing short segments as well as longer, more deliberate pieces. After each, Brinkley & Co. sit around and mull. "What we want first is to be loose and flexible," says Brinkley. "Other shows have a rather rigid formula — three stories a week, which means each story has to be 12 to 16 minutes long, whether it needs to be or not. We're doing some that are two minutes long. "The other thing we want is a degree of relaxed, informal attitude — not to come across as rigid and steele. Everything in our little round-table is ad-lib, I've insisted on that. People are better when they're not staring at a TelePrompTer

— it's like a cobra. You can become dependent on the damned thing and develop this blank stare."

Of course, style doesn't count in a dark closet. One upper-level NBC programmer said "Magazine" might be moved to a healthier spot in the schedule after "it has shown itself qualitatively." That's the only way it can show itself in the meantime.

$9.4 million wrongful-death suit moved to Fredericksburg

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A $9.4 million wrongful-death lawsuit against former White House press secretary George Christian over the shooting of a junior high school teacher by Christian's teenage son has been moved to Fredericksburg.

Retired State District Judge Herman Jones ordered the trial moved Wednesday, almost 18 months after he granted the change of venue sought by the Christian family because of publicity surrounding the fatal shooting of Wilbur Rodney Grayson.

Grayson, 29, was shot three times with a 22-caliber rifle that witnesses said John Christian had carried to school May 18, 1978.

Witnesses said Christian, then 13, walked into Grayson's classroom, pointed the rifle at the teacher and shot him.

The youth was committed to Timberlawn Psychiatric Hospital in Dallas for treatment but was released in February and placed under the foster care of a Dallas physician. Now 16, he is attending classes at Highland Park High School, where he is a junior.

secretary to former President Lyndon B. Johnson, and his wife, Jo Anne, are responsible for the conduct of their son. It also alleges they are liable for the teacher's death because they had entrusted their son with a 22-caliber semi-automatic rifle.

The suit seeks $4,422,742 for Mrs. Grayson and $5 million for her son, Ian. Jones said a trial date would "have to be worked out" by the lawyers and Judge Robert Barton, a former Kerrville district attorney who will preside over the case.

Granville getting heat for message

NEW YORK (AP) — While Joseph Granville glows in the glory that comes to a man whose opinions can help create one of the most hectic days in Wall Street's history, a glow of another sort is developing.

It is heat and, as if from an inferno, it is radiating in his direction from some of the losers in the multibillion massacre that occurred on Jan. 7, a day after Granville telegraphed his sell message.

So far, the Securities and Exchange Commission hasn't announced any special investigation into the matter, and neither has the New York Stock Exchange, where $40 billion in values vanished in one wild day.

In the course of their work both institutions will look into the matter, but so far neither seems to have made any special deal out of it. But it is special, and a lot of questions are being asked today.

They are being asked by ordinary investors, and those same people are dashing off irate letters. Heat is developing, and it's a matter of time before a congressman feels it and decides to make something of it.

By questioning, for example, the ethics of any adviser who tells some clients by telephone to sell all stocks because the market had peaked while others were just receiving mailed advice to buy aggressively.

The Granville letter is mailed to perhaps 11,000 subscribers, 3,000 of whom pay extra for an early warning service in which changes of opinion — buy or sell — signals — are telegraphed or telephoned to them.

Does this have some aspects of the old investment pools, in which "in" groups purchased stocks and then touted them to others, creating a bull market in which they suddenly could sell at a profit?

The Securities and Exchange Commission declined to comment. "The commission always watches unusual markets," said Andrew Rothman But, as is customary, he neither confirmed nor denied any special study.

Portfolio managers often get six-figure salaries and the host of perquisites that accompany them. They are paid well because they are supposed to possess expertise and because of their responsibilities.
