Indonesian ship sinks; 500 missing

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — An Indonesian passenger ship that caught fire and burned for 12 hours sank in the stormy Java Sea today and Indonesian officials said more than 500 people were missing.

Rough seas prevented a flotilla of rescue vessels from reaching the burning vessel and its panicked passengers.

A spokesman for the National Search and Rescue Operation said 566 of the 1,136 people aboard were known to have been rescued from the 2,420-ton Tampomas 2. A search was going on for survivors.

With the fate of the 570 people unknown, an Indonesian shipping official said the disaster was the worst in the country's history.

The rescued were being taken by ship to the port of Ujong Pandang, where the ship had been headed, the spokesman said.

The spokesman said an earlier report that the ship was being towed was not correct. He said none of the ships sent to help the stricken vessel could get near it in the rough seas.

"We tried to contact the boat, but it sank," he said.

He said a rescue plane that approached the ship reported about three-fourths of the vessel ablaze, thick black smoke pouring from the stern, and knots of people jammed at the bow.

Reagan expected to lift oil price controls today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan is expected to lift remaining oil price controls by Wednesday, a White House official said.

The White House had planned to announce the action today, at a briefing at 1:30 p.m. EST. But late in the morning, deputy press secretary Karna Small said, without revealing the subject of the planned briefing, that any announcements planned for this afternoon would be delayed until Wednesday.

"There's too much going on," she said, referring to the visit to the White House of the freed American hostages.

Controls are still in place on about 25 percent of domestic crude oil, all gasoline and propane. Removal of the controls could hike gasoline prices by up to 12 cents a gallon — but add as much as $7 billion to the federal Treasury at the same time through increased tax revenues from oil companies.

One industry analyst said he doubted consumers would feel the impact of the action soon on gasoline prices because competition and relatively low demand are likely to delay some of the increases at least until spring.

Hostages arrive in Washington for 'joyous welcome home'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The freed American hostages, expressing eagerness to "resume normal lives," arrived today to a tearful, joyous welcome home from their countrymen and a formal greeting by President Reagan at the White House.

The first of four planes carrying the 52 former hostages and their families from two days of seclusion at West Point, N.Y., landed at Andrews Air Force Base in suburban Maryland at 11:50 a.m. EST. The others followed at 15-minute intervals.

Vice President George Bush headed the welcoming party at Andrews, where a band played and hundreds of well-wishers yelled and waved American flags festooned with yellow ribbons.

Relatives of one returning hostage, Donald Cooke, hoisted him on their shoulders and carried him through the airport crowd. The sister of another, Frederick Lee Kupke, broke through a barrier to try to embrace her brother as he got off the plane. She was gently returned by Air Force personnel to a waiting area for hostage relatives.

Yellow ribbons and thousands of other well-wishers lined the 12-mile route of the bus motorcade from the air base to the White House.

Before flying here, the former hostages held a news conference at West Point, N.Y., where they were reunited with their families. They said they felt good "mentally and physically" after 444 days in captivity in Iran, and were confident they would recover from their ordeal, which ended one week ago.

The first hostage off the planes was Bruce Laingen, the senior U.S. diplomat in Iran throughout the crisis. He waved with both arms to the crowd and then was embraced by Bush.

Congressional leaders also were at Andrews and shook hands with the returned Americans.

The hostages were freed last Tuesday, the day Reagan and Bush were inaugurated.

Joining his former colleagues among the freed hostages was Richard Queen, who was released by his Iranian captors on July 11 because of illness.

After a reception at the White House a massive evening fireworks display was planned for the former hostages on the Mall near the Washington Monument.

Only 41 of the 52 Americans were present at the West Point news conference. There was no explanation why the other 11 did not participate.

"We're all right, mentally and physically," said Marine Sgt. John D. McKeel Jr. of Balch Springs, Texas, snappy in a freshly pressed uniform.

One of eight Marines among the hostages, McKeel said they all would be fine "as soon as they let us go home and back to chasing some women."

His remark drew a roar of laughter at a news conference by 41 of the 52 Americans, their last event before they went to Stewart Airport — two days after their arrival on American soil — for flights to Washington. At the airport, one gleefully displayed a "I Love New York" T-shirt.

The liberated Americans were going to the capital to receive their nation's formal welcome at a White House reception to which 6,000 dignitaries were invited.

There was no immediate explanation why 11 did not appear at the voluntary news conference.

Local industrial foundation chief reports good year in '80

Two directors, one of them new, were elected to three-year terms on the Big Spring Industrial Foundation board at the annual trustee meeting held here Monday.

Jim Bill Little is the returning director while Hooper Sanders was selected for the first time.

President Winston Wrinkle gave a general report on the activities of the foundation during 1980. Wrinkle told stockholders the foundation experienced another good year. Among highlights were:

—Assets grew from $601,497.01 to $635,175.85.

—Notes on the Big Spring Dress Company building were paid off and the Cosden hangar at Howard County Airport was purchased. The hangar is being leased to the Westex Board Co. The dress company building is now vacant.

—On Aug. 29, foundation officers agreed to build a building for Roundup Tank Co., at the Howard County Airport Site and to sell the Roundup firm the Dorland Hangar.

—Evans Transport Co., a division of Evans Products Co., purchased the Lubbock Manufacturing Company in December and has agreed to pay in full all notes owed by Lubbock Manufacturing to the Big Spring Industrial Foundation, amounting to $52,566 in principal and interest.

—R.H. Weaver was elected to the board of directors May 1.

—On Aug. 15, the board approved the publishing of a one-page pictorial brochure of industrial sites and buildings available for lease in Big Spring. Texas Electric Service Co., did the photography and Cosden provided the plane.

Wrinkle reminded his directors that industrial development is a very competitive business but added he thought that there was evidence of solid growth in Big Spring. Much more remains to be done, he reminded other stockholders. Desperately needed, he said, was the development of a 200-acre Industrial Park site with rail service and all utilities. Such a project could cost as much as $1,000,000, he said. Secondly, he added, the community needs to attract a larger labor force and to conduct a current labor survey.

Treasurer Sidney Clark presented the annual financial report and highlighted the fact that the Industrial Foundation currently has no notes outstanding.

Following the close of the meeting, the board of directors met and elected: Clyde McMahon Sr., president for 1981; Jim Bill Little, vice president for 1981; Sidney Clark, treasurer; and LeRoy Tillery, secretary.

Upon a motion by Little, seconded by Clyde McMahon Sr., the board voted to express grateful appreciation on behalf of the Industrial Foundation to Wrinkle and to Clark for the outstanding job in leading the efforts of the Industrial Foundation during 1980.

Martinez named campus director for HC in Lamesa

Nabar Martinez, former director of the CETA job training program for the City of Big Spring, is the new campus director for Howard College in Lamesa.

Martinez, a native of San Antonio, has been working on the Lamesa campus for about two weeks. Currently, he is completing work on his master's degree at Texas Tech university. Nabar earned his associate degree from Howard College and earned a bachelor's degree at Texas Tech.

The Lamesa campus of Howard College has 147 students enrolled in ten classes, with classes ranging in numbers from ten to 23. Currently, courses in business math, accounting, typing, real estate appraisal, English, government, history, psychology, child care and interpretive training (communicating with the deaf) are being taught on the Lamesa campus.

Martinez's wife, Elma, is currently serving as coordinator of volunteer services at the Big Spring State Hospital.

The Lamesa classes are being offered both in the afternoon and at night in a building owned by the county at 1810 Lamesa Highway.

Contract may spark industry Local man invents 'gas-saver'

By JAMES WERRELL

An eight-year dream has nearly come true for Jimmy Leffler.

Leffler signed a contract, Monday afternoon, with the International Harvester Company which set the wheels in motion for the production of a gas-saving device that reportedly can more than double mileage for a normal car.

Leffler, 1209 Douglas, a mechanic for the Texas Electric Company, has worked off-and-on for the last eight years developing the device. A prototype, which he completed early last year, boosted the mileage on his family car to between 60 and 80 miles-per gallon.

The device, said Leffler, allows the car's engine to burn fuel more efficiently so that carbon monoxide pollution is almost eliminated.

"When we go into production, the device will probably be made of aluminum or plastic. It will all fit inside the car's air cleaner. You'll just take out the air filter, put in the device, and go about your business," said Leffler.

Phil Swann, sales manager at Big Spring Truck and Trailer, 212 N.E. 12th, has served as liaison between Leffler and International Harvester. The contract signed Monday clears legal hurdles to allow the company to test the device for possible future production, said Swann.

"We expect company representatives to be in Big Spring in about two weeks. Refinements and testing on a new product like this usually take years, but will all the groundwork Jimmy has laid, that probably won't be necessary," said Swann. "The company has expressed a great deal of interest, and I suspect that when they get a look at the device it will be katie-bar-the-door. The possibilities of what this could mean for the country—for the world—are really exciting."

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Prying neighbors

Q. What can you do about nosy neighbors? All hours of the day and night, we have neighbors who spy on us. We don't have anything to hide, but we like our privacy.

A. Our only advice is, endure them. Some people have so little going for them that they must look to other people to lessen the monotony of living. Apparently your neighbors are doing nothing illegal but their curiosity is rather unusual.

Lawmakers may get serious about dealing with Texas water crisis

By REP. LARRY DON SHAW

What do New York, Houston and West Texas all have in common? They're all facing serious water shortages.

Alert work lands seven behind bars

COLORADO CITY (SC) Alert work by highway patrolman Tom Johnson landed seven persons in the Mitchell County Jail Monday afternoon.

Johnson stopped a pickup truck a mile west of the Colorado River bridge in Mitchell County after the occupants of the vehicle were suspected of leaving a Big Spring service station without paying for their gasoline.

A check of the pickup revealed it had been stolen last Saturday night in Phoenix, Ariz. All seven persons in the pickup, including a 15-year-old girl, were taken to the county jail, pending further investigation.

Recovered in the truck were a rifle, black powder hull and can pistol, two knives, a homemade sword, three check books from Arizona, a saddle, and a dog.

Assisting Trooper Johnson in the arrest were highway patrolman Jim Burson and Colorado City police sergeant Billy Williamson.

According to Johnson, several of the persons in custody probably are hit-and-runners and will be released. The seven offered no resistance when arrested, although one of the men did try to injure officers.

The suspects, ranging in age from 18 to 36, were to be taken to the Justice of the Peace Court earlier today.

HC to set up info booth

The Adult and Continuing Education Department of Howard College will have an information booth set up in the middle of Highland Shopping Center Saturday.

Anyone interested in registering for the basic education classes or any of the many continuing education subjects is invited to come by, according to department officials.

The basic education courses such as mathematics and reading are taught at various learning centers throughout the area. These courses are useful for persons wanting to receive their high school equivalency diploma, improve their English speaking ability, or brush up on their writing or reading abilities.

Continuing Education classes will be available in country & western dancing, conversational Spanish, cake decorating and ten general topics.

Information on all courses offered can be obtained at the information booth or by calling the Adult Education office at Howard College at 263-1321.

Tax session set Thursday

COLORADO CITY The Mitchell County tax appraisal district will be in session this Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Administration Building of the Colorado School District.

According to Chief Appraiser Mike Burt, there will be a report from the Southwestern Appraisal Supervisor as it relates to work being done on the contract.

In addition, a Social Security contract with the State will be discussed, as will hospitalization. Board members also will consider office space for the tax appraisal district.

The impending water crisis isn't news to anybody in West Texas but, amazingly, New York—two of our nation's largest seaports—are facing even more urgent water shortage problems than we are, at least in the short run.

Ironically, Houston's water problems and those of some areas of East Texas could prove to be a blessing for West Texans. For years, we've been trying to impress upon the Legislature the urgency of our situation. And for years, our ideas for insuring adequate water supplies into the 21st Century have instantly been labeled as West Texas boondoggles. It's been us against the rest of the state. And we've been outnumbered.

Now, partly because of last summer's drought, and partly because of the growing demands for water for the exploding populations of Texas' major cities, the water crisis in our state is not limited to West Texas.

The result may be our salvation.

Last week, at my invitation, Speaker Billy

Clayton joined me and a dozen other freshman Democratic legislators for lunch to outline, in very general terms, his idea for a huge water development trust fund. Under the Speaker's proposal, any surplus state revenues not appropriated by the Legislature would automatically be placed in a state trust fund. This money would then be used to back up bonds passed for a variety of public water development projects.

The type of project would vary, of course, from region to region, and the Speaker's proposal does not specify a canal or pipeline or any other particular method of transporting water to West Texas. It would simply set up the trust fund so that a sizable amount of money would be available to back up any bonds that local authorities decide to issue for large-scale water development projects in the years to come.

Speaker Clayton's idea is still only that—an idea. He and his staff are still working out the details, and it probably won't be available in comprehensive written form for a number of weeks yet. I expect to work with him on it, and I'm hopeful that the final version will contain enough leeway for adequate solutions to our situation in West Texas.

And, because of the water problems in Houston and East Texas, I think the Speaker's approach will be viewed as a vital measure not just for West Texas but for our entire state. In short, I'm optimistic that, finally, this year, the Legislature may very well cast aside regional differences and be serious about dealing with the impending Texas water crisis.

We can't afford to put it off any longer.

Polish students vow to escalate protests

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Politburo member Mieczyslaw Moczar called today for a widespread purge of functionaries who wielded power and influence under Edward Gierki, the party chief ousted after last summer's crippling strikes. Meanwhile, students and farmers warned their protests would escalate.

"Obviously we could have avoided such great social tremors. They had long been forecast by political seismographs. Those seismographs were ignored and the accumulated colts led to a mighty quake," Moczar wrote in the party paper Trybuna Ludu.

"I believe that in this period of renewal of social life there is a need to place for the energies of socialism, who work on great social movements, so as to put the hand for their destructive activity."

"I also believe that the present situation must continue. Not only those who are thoughtless, boss or tyrant but also those who are not serious and change without any real cause. Also those who do not understand the needs and the new tasks, and change without any real cause."

Students and farmers, who supported the party's call for a purge, said they would continue their protests.

Stenholm will help shape '81 farm bill

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Rep. Charles W. Stenholm (D-Stamford) today was named to four key subcommittees of the House Agriculture Committee that will essentially serve as the staging area for formulation of the 1981 Farm Bill.

Subcommittee assignments for the 17th District Representative, serving his second term in Congress, include Cotton, rice and sugar; livestock, dairy and poultry; tobacco and peanuts; and wheat, soybeans and feed grains, including oilseeds.

Stenholm's subcommittee assignments are part of the House Agriculture Committee's plan to complete the 1981 Farm Bill by the end of the year.

Stenholm said he expects to take a very active part in work on the new Farm Bill. Stenholm continued, "and quite frankly, I'm looking forward to it. Right now there are a lot of questions regarding the future direction of agricultural policy in this country and that policy will have a widespread effect on the economy of the country as a whole."

Weather

Colder temperatures expected Thursday

By the Associated Press

Most of Texas was to have clear to partly cloudy skies and mild temperatures today.

There was a slight chance of some light rain in Extreme South Texas, but the remainder of the state was to have pleasant weather. Highs were to be mostly in the 50s and 60s except in the Big Bend area of South-west Texas and extreme South Texas where readings were to reach the lower 70s.

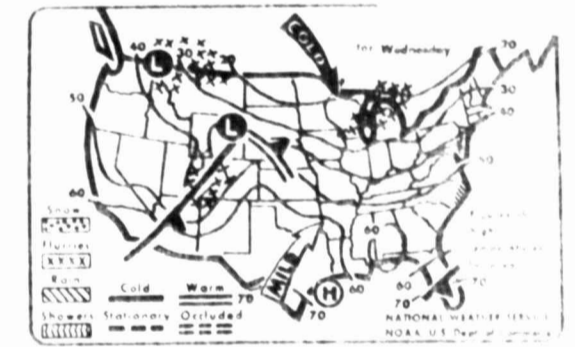

A nearly stationary cold front was located across central portions of the state early today. The front located on a line from just south of Lubbock to Austin to Del Rio.

Some light rain fell during the night in South Texas. Fog was reported in South Texas and in extreme North Texas early today. Visibility was reduced to near zero at Del Rio at times during the night.

Early morning temperatures were mostly in the 30s and 40s ahead of the front and in the 20s and 30s south of the front.

PRE-PLANNING A LOVED ONE'S FUNERAL...AN EXPRESSION OF LOVE

Just like having life insurance and making a will, prearranging the funeral is expressed for your family in a very special way. It's doing something now that will mean so much later. Those left behind will know that everything is being done exactly as you wanted it. And that's truly a blessing.

Visit Larry D. Sheppard Funeral Home this week for complete information on prearranging the funeral. No charge, or obligation, of course.

Dear Abby

Refreshing Draft from Spring of Inspiration

DEAR READERS: Yesterday's column was filled with names (submitted by my readers) of those who managed to succeed against the odds. Today's is a continuation of that list:

Have a thalidomide child born with a dwarfed, twisted body without arms, and you have a Terry Wiles, who, with the aid of mechanical devices, learned to play the electric organ, steer a motorboat and paint.

Amputate the cancer-ridden leg of a handsome young Canadian, and you have a Terry Fox, who vowed to run on one leg across the whole of Canada to raise a million dollars for cancer research. (Terry was forced to quit halfway when cancer invaded his lungs, but to date has raised about $20 million.)

After having lost both legs in an air crash, let a British fighter pilot fly again with the RAF, and you have a Douglas Bader, who, with two artificial limbs, was captured by the Germans three times during World War II — and escaped three times!

Blind him and you have a Ray Charles, George Shearing, Stevie Wonder, Tom Sullivan, Alec Templeton or Hal Krents.

Label him "too stupid to learn," and you have a Thomas Edison.

Make him a "hopeless" alcoholic, and you have a Bill Wilson, founder of Alcoholics Anonymous.

Tell her she's too old to start painting at 80, and you have a Grandma Moses.

Afflict him with periods of depression so severe that he cuts off his own ear, and you have a Vincent Van Gogh.

Your list would not be complete without a smiling Max Cleland, who lost both legs and an arm in Vietnam and now heads the Veterans Administration in Washington, D.C.

Don't forget Patricia Neal, the fine actress who suffered a severe stroke, but rehabilitated herself against overwhelming odds.

Blind him at age 44, and you have John Milton, who, 16 years later, wrote "Paradise Lost."

Call him dull and hopeless and flunk him in the sixth grade, and you have a Winston Churchill.

Punish her with poverty and prejudice, and she may survive to become another Golda Meir.

Pit her against sexual discrimination, and you have a Madame Curie.

Tell a young boy who loved to sketch and draw that he has no talent, and you have a Walt Disney.

Take a crippled child whose only home he ever knew was an orphanage, and you have a James E. West, who became the first chief executive of the Boy Scouts of America.

Rate him as "mediocre" in chemistry, and you have a Louis Pasteur.

Make him a homosexual, and you have a Michaelangelo and a million other talented people.

Not all disabilities are physical and visible. And not all who have won against the odds are well-known celebrities.

Every family has its own heroes and heroines for whom there is no medal distinguished enough to reward them for their accomplishments.

It is to you, whose names do not appear here but deserve to, that I dedicate this column.

Ladies VFW auxiliary distributes fruit

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars presented an American flag to the Christian Care Center the afternoon prior to their meeting Jan. 6 in the Post Home at 7:30 p.m. Ethel Knapp, president, presided. Committee reports were given by chairmen Sarah Grubbs reported that members sacked fruit at the Veterans Administration Medical Center Dec. 18 and distributed it to patients at VAMC and to Christian Care Center residents the next day. This is an annual project of the Texas Valley Fruit Growers Association and the Amarillo VFW, implemented by local VFW's over Texas.

Active fetus is healthier

Children who kick and squirm frequently before birth, have a lower incidence of birth defects, fewer breathing problems and better overall health than prenatally less active children. So says the "Here's News in Medicine" column in a recent Family Circle magazine. The magazine cites an Ohio State University study of the movements of unborn children in more than 300 women during the last three months of pregnancy. The study showed that a fetus moving twice or less per hour for two days in a row has a greater risk of having some health complications. Dr. William Rayburn, who conducted the study, believes doctors can use an unborn child's movements as a diagnostic tool to determine fetal well-being.

Symphony tours schools

The Midland-Odesa Symphony today performed a pair of children's concerts for the Big Spring area school students ranging from grades three through eight.

The highlight of the performances was a full scale production of the Russian children's fable of "Peter and the Wolf" with the Kelly Draper Puppeteers and actor-narrator Charles Dixon.

The Orchestra was directed by Dr. Thomas Hohstadt, and was presented under grants from the Atlantic Richfield Foundation and the Texas Commission on the Arts.

The Midland-Odesa Symphony will return to Big Spring on March 25, and will feature internationally famed concert cellist Adolfo Odnoposoff as its Guest Artist.

Concerts this season are sponsored by the Greater Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce Arts Council and the Big Spring Symphony Association, Inc.

TWEEN 12 and 20 — Roller skating isn't kid's stuff

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Teens: It has taken a few years for the idea to get rolling, but skates on wheels are moving full speed ahead as our latest sports craze.

On city sidewalks, roller-skating mamas steer their baby strollers to the market. In New York skaters breeze past the joggers in Central Park. The president of Chicago's Stockbrokers' Association rolls to and from work every day over eight miles of lumpy sidewalks, past bumper-to-bumper traffic.

Linda Ronstadt has skated to lunch with California's Gov. Jerry Brown. College students are skating to class. In short, people from all walks of life are rolling along.

For roller-skating enthusiasts, roller skating can be a way of getting in touch with the outdoors. And those who prefer glitter and glamour to grass will be happy to know that rink skating is on the upswing, too.

No longer dark and dingy hangouts where organs blare outdated music, today's rinks are plush palaces with carpeted halls, waiting rooms and skating floors that resemble ice.

A whole new roller culture has sprung up around the country. Roller-disco wear — clingy pants and shorts in shimmering hot colors — is invading the fashion scene, although jeans and T-shirts will do, too. The movie, "Rollermania" adds to the craze. Several new magazines devoted to the sport are in print and by the end of 1980 at least 25 books on every aspect of roller skating will be available.

In just a few short years, roller skating has finally gone from kid stuff to serious business. And with gas prices doing triple leaps, a

PETER AND THE WOLF — "Marvin" and Thomas Hohstadt, music director of the Midland-Odesa Symphony Orchestra, introduce the symphony, "Peter and the Wolf" to area school children today.

Instructions given for letter writing

NEW YORK, N.Y. — That all important business letter. If it's terrific, so is the impression you make. Below are some rules for a business letter guaranteed to make you look good on paper, from the September issue of Seventeen.

Use the right paper and a matching envelope — preferably an 8 1/2" x 11" sheet of bond paper and a No. 9 or 10 envelope.

paragraphs short.

Always type the letter and proofread it for errors. Correct them neatly.

For the close, "Sincerely yours" is usually appropriate. Sign your name below the close, and under that, type or print your name.

Put your return address in the upper right-hand corner and the date immediately below. The business address and salutation go two spaces beneath the date and against the left margin. Leave a space in between them.

Fold the letter evenly into thirds, slightly smaller than the envelope.

Now it's more important to conserve.

Our biggest contract for low cost natural gas expired at the end of 1980. As a result, the gas we use to generate your electricity today costs more. And that means your electric bill will increase this year.

To help hold down the cost of electricity, we're building plants that use cheaper fuels like lignite and uranium. You can help hold down your electric bill by conserving.

FRIENDLY PERSONNEL GREET YOU AT BIG SPRING SAVINGS... public service is a way of life at Big Spring Firm

Big Spring Savings uses professional staff

Funds to finance any item that the customer may need are available at Big Spring Savings and Loan Company, located at Seventh and Main Streets in Big Spring.

Big Spring Savings and Loan has a professional staff, headed by President, Ray Don Williams, which is well schooled in financial matters and which is experienced in dealing with the public.

Big Spring Savings' spacious quarters make doing business with the friendly and courteous personnel a pleasure and an ease.

Whether you are planning to construct a new business building, remodel the one you are now in or saving money for that inevitable rainy day, Big Spring Savings Association personnel are prepared to offer you help.

The staff at the firm encourages you to drop by and learn for yourself about the loans available. It may be surprisingly easy to arrange a loan.

Consider the people who work there your neighbor. That's the way they want you to feel. That, of course, is how they feel.

Officers of the savings firm are among the leaders in dealing with civic matters. They reason that anything good for the community as a whole is good for Big Spring Savings Association itself. That's the reason they give so much of their time to improving the image of the community.

ADD TO YOUR HOME WITH HANDMADE PIECES... gifts of distinction at Heirlooms

Heirlooms will help you find the right antiques

Heirlooms is a new shop that combines the old charm of antique furniture with new handmade gifts.

Owned and operated by Howard and Sarah Higgins, the business at Third and State has finished as well as unfinished antiques and old furniture.

The do-it-yourselfer has a large selection of furniture to choose from, and the Higgins refresh the pieces that appear in the showroom.

"Right now we are not refinishing furniture for other people because we have plenty of our own to renovate," Mrs. Higgins said. This is evidenced by more than 300 pieces stacked in the store.

Homemade gifts include beaded wire pictures, hand-quilted pillows, embroidered aprons, hand-made cutting boards, needlepoints, baby blankets and pillow sets, macrame, weavings, silkscreens, lithographs, and ceramics.

"We try to have unique gift items that are not available in other stores," said Mrs. Higgins who does some of the gift work herself.

"Our stock changes dramatically from week to week," Mrs. Higgins said. She suggests customers check often because there is always something new in both the shop and showroom.

"The concept of Heirlooms is to find a keepsake that can be passed down from generation to generation," Mrs. Higgins said, "and with the popularity of accenting with an antique item here or there, we think that Heirlooms has something to offer Big Spring residents.

"We hope to start some refinishing classes in the next few months so other people can learn how to economically restore their own heirlooms," Mrs. Higgins said.

Heirlooms is located in the Wooten Self-Storage building at 1100 E. Third. Store hours are from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Saturday.

Home court advantage non-existent in SWC

By the Associated Press

It was a bad night for the home teams Monday night as all four home-standing Southwest Conference basketball teams lost.

Houston edged Baylor, 53-51, to move into first place for the first time this season. Southern Methodist surprised Texas Tech, 58-48; Arkansas beat Rice, 57-52; and Texas had to go into overtime to beat the slumping Texas Aggies, 67-63.

With the score tied at 51-51, Houston coach Guy Lewis ordered the Cougars to go into the spread offense. He didn't intend for it to be a stall, but that's what it turned out to be.

The Cougars tried for a shot by Rob Williams as the clock wound down, but Baylor's Pat Nunley grabbed the rebound only to have it stripped from him by David Bunce. Freshman Michael Young's uncontested layup with two seconds remaining gave the Cougars the victory and the top spot in the SWC round-ball standings.

"He picked it up and stuck it in the hole for the win. Maybe not too artistic, but it got the job done," said Lewis.

Lewis said he didn't intend to stall away more than seven minutes.

"I felt like we'd score off of it (the spread offense) much sooner than we did. It wasn't meant as a stall," Lewis added.

Williams was the only Cougar scoring in double figures with 19. Terry Teagle, who connected on 9 of 13 field goal attempts, was the leading scorer for the Bears with 23. His performance drew praise from Lewis.

"Teagle shot out of this world. He shot some that if my team shot them, people would say we're undisciplined. But he hit them, too," Lewis said.

The SMU Mustangs continued their roller coaster season with a 58-48 victory over Texas Tech in Lubbock. The victory came on the heels of the Mustangs' 60-59 loss to Rice in a game where SMU squandered an 18-point second-half lead.

Asked how the Mustangs were able to turn in such a fine performance against the Red Raiders after the loss to Rice, SMU coach Dave Bliss shrugged and said, "It beats me."

Tech held a 24-20 halftime lead, but coach Gerald Myers said, "We were just too impatient and took too many bad shots."

Texas coach Abe Lemons was pleased with the 67-63 Longhorn victory over Texas A&M, but doesn't think the Horns "are out of the woods yet."

"I thought we played better than they did and deserved to win it.

Most hostages lived it up during stay at West Point

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Welcome home, American style, means that the 52 former hostages spent much of their first two days on U.S. soil feasting and forgetting 14 1/2 months of rice. In between hugging and laughing and talking, they "ate like horses."

Lawyer says altercation preceded Daniel shooting

LIBERTY, Texas (AP) — A defense lawyer says an obvious altercation between Price Daniel Jr. and his wife preceded the Jan. 19 fatal shooting of the former Texas House speaker.
