$25 million military assistance

U.S. steps up aid to El Salvador

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reagan administration is escalating its military involvement in El Salvador despite concerns of congressional liberals that the tiny Central American nation may become another Vietnam for the United States.

The State Department announced Monday night it is sending $25 million in new military aid and 20 more U.S. military training experts to El Salvador. The increased U.S. support is needed to help the embattled junta put down Marxist rebels who the administration contends are armed by Cuba and other communist countries, officials said.

State Department spokesman William Dyess said four five-man teams of advisers will be sent to El Salvador to train the Salvadoran military in communications, logistics, intelligence and other skills to stop infiltration and respond to terrorist attacks.

Dyess said the extra advisers bringing to 54 the number of Americans serving in military-related capacities in El Salvador, will not go beyond the garrison area or take part in combat operations.

Nevertheless, more than 40 members of the House said in a telegram Monday to President Reagan that one or more of the advisers are likely to be killed, "forcing the United States into another Vietnam or a humiliating withdrawal."

And Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, warned that the new advisers "go down there as prime targets" for the guerrilla rebels.

But Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., supported the administration action, saying there are "nervous Nellies saying we've got to do nothing, not even unhook the fire hose when the house is burning down."

The "nervous Nellies" phrase in itself evoked memories of Vietnam. Former President Lyndon B. Johnson used those words in the late 1960s to deride critics of the Indochina war effort.

Dyess said additional military aid beyond the $10 million approved by former President Carter in January is justified because leftist guerrillas may launch a new offensive.

"The insurgents are regrouping and massive quantities of arms remain in their hands," he said, adding that the rebels have reason to expect additional supplies are on the way from Soviet-bloc countries. "We want to improve as much as possible the government's ability to deal with this problem."

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Eight applicants have filed for the position of Mitchell County Sheriff, with Sheriff Bill McGuire having submitted officially his letter of resignation.

Judge Bill Carter has not released the names of the eight applicants; however, the county commissioners will act officially on McGuire's resignation at their meeting Monday.

Judge Carter indicates applications will continue to be taken until 9 a.m., March 16, at which time applicants for the position will begin interviews with the commissioners.

Construction due to begin in August

Councilmen select engineering firm

By JAMES WERRELL

The engineering firm chosen by the city to oversee repairs of streets, sewers and water lines predicts that construction will begin in August.

During a special work session, 7 a.m. today, the Big Spring City Council decided unanimously to hire the engineering firm of Parkhill, Smith and Cooper, Inc., of Lubbock to oversee various phases of the city's capitol improvements program. The firm was one of five which applied for the job.

"This firm was selected primarily because we (the city staff and council) felt they were the best qualified," said City Manager Don Davis, this morning. "We felt they submitted the best proposal, and that they were the proper size. They are capable of handling the work, but not so big that they wouldn't give us the personal attention we will need," he added.

According to Davis, proposals from all five applicants were reviewed by the staff and council during a meeting last week. At that meeting, two firms emerged as favorites.

Although many factors played a part in the council's decision, said Davis, the fact that the chosen firm is based in Lubbock while the other contender is based in Fort Worth helped sway councilmen.

Those applying for the job were: Parkhill, Smith and Cooper, Lubbock; Freese Nichols, Inc., Fort Worth; S&K Engineering, Inc., San Angelo; Esmond Haner, Inc., Odessa; and Roy Crim Engineering, Inc., Big Spring.

Included in the proposal submitted by the chosen firm was a tentative schedule for the first year of the capitol improvements program. If everything goes according to schedule, the firm will complete the preliminary planning phase of the water and sewer improvement portion of the program in April.

A final planning report will be submitted in early May, while work will begin simultaneously on the design phase of the program. That phase should be completed in June, with bidding on construction taking place in July.

The city hopes that construction will begin in August, said Davis. Plans for street improvements will follow roughly the same schedule with approximately a month's difference; construction to begin in September.

"There are various ways to finance this thing, but I think we'll go with a lump sum. That way we'll know exactly what we're facing before we even start," said Davis.

Fees for the services will be negotiated before a contract is signed, and the city will have the option to discontinue the service at any time, Davis added. He estimates that the planning phase will cost the city between $15,000 and $20,000.

"Our decision was based on the firms' proposals. We told them our problems, and asked them to give us a plan of action on how to go about solving them, and the decision was made on the strength of those plans," said Davis. "We were going for quality and the firm's ability to meet our specific needs. We weren't just bargain shopping," he concluded.

Custodian among first to show up at Moss Elementary School

By CAROL HART

"I'm included in everything that goes on around here," is the way Willie McDaniel describes his job as custodian for Moss Elementary School.

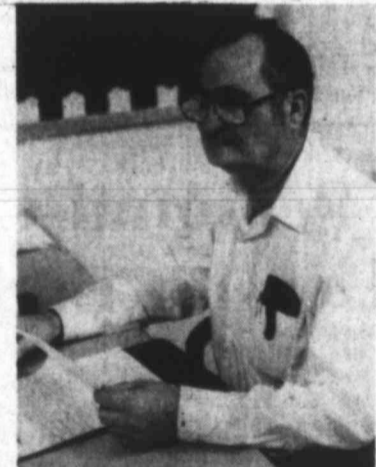

McDaniel has been with the Big Spring Independent School District for 15 years, and spent all but a few months of those years at Moss Elementary.

McDaniel explained that a custodian's job means general cleaning, which includes sweeping floors, mopping bathrooms, and classrooms and the cafeteria, plus cleaning up after the kids.

McDaniel is also responsible for fixing broken equipment. "If I can fix it, I do. If not, I call Marvin Butts (of the BSISD maintenance office)."

When the kids and teachers are out for extended periods of time, McDaniel said he works preparing the school building for the next term. That means waxing and scrubbing floors and washing windows plus numerous other duties.

His day starts at 7 a.m., when he opens up the school. He explained that he goes around turning on all the lights in the morning, preparing the classrooms for the children and teachers. At 5 p.m., he repeats the same routine, only this time turning out all the lights and shutting down the school. "I really like it," McDaniel said of his duties. "I like to be around people, and I work with a wonderful bunch of teachers here. Every year, on my birthday, they bake me a cake. We take time out for cake and coffee in the lounge."

He added that "I've got the teachers spoiled."

McDaniel's wife, Oneta, is vice president of Security State Bank. The couple is active in the First United Methodist Church.

Abilene man sentenced to 99 years for murder

MIDLAND, Texas (AP) — A state district court jury Monday deliberated just over an hour before recommending a sentence of 99 years in prison for an Abilene man convicted of murder.

The 10-woman, two-man jury deliberated 50 minutes earlier in the day before convicting 27-year-old Rex Shanks in the July 28 stabbing death of James McPeters, 46, of Odessa.

Shanks' attorneys said the verdict would be appealed. No formal sentencing date was set.

Shanks had contended he stabbed McPeters in self-defense, after McPeters stabbed him, and to protect McPeters' wife and child, who were traveling with Shanks.

Prosecution witnesses, however, testified Shanks had plotted to kill

McPeters for a cut of the victim's life insurance money.

McPeters' wife, Patricia, 27, was convicted of murder Dec. 19 and is serving a 50-year sentence. Willie Wayne Jennings of Wichita Falls also was indicted on a murder charge and is awaiting trial.

Jennings' wife, Tammy, was granted immunity and was the state's key witness in the trial.

She and her husband testified Shanks offered Jennings $7,000 to help murder McPeters after a drunken drive from Wichita Falls to Abilene to Odessa.

Mrs. Jennings testified Shanks set up an ambush after she, her husband, Shanks and Mrs. McPeters searched for an isolated spot to attack him. McPeters' young son, D.J., also was with the group, she said.

Trial of ex-football star under way in Colorado City

Jackson found the child sleeping with Ms. Garcia, according to the statement, took the child out of bed and struck it three times. Jackson then put the child on a couch in the living room of the couple's residence, according to the statement.

Ms. Garcia said in testimony Monday she found bruises on the child the next day and that the child complained of abdominal pains. The child's condition continued to worsen and she took him to a doctor about the second day, she said. The child was hospitalized, Ms. Garcia said, and surgery was performed.

Ms. Garcia was awaiting cross-examination from defense attorney Dell Barber when court recessed shortly before 3 p.m. The case was resumed this morning with Ms. Garcia on the stand.

The case is being heard before a nine-woman, three-man jury. Judge Weldon Kirk of Sweetwater is presiding.

District Attorney Rusty Carroll alleged Monday that Jackson beat the three-year-old son of Gloria Garcia April 20. The boy later required surgery to repair a damaged liver, Ms. Garcia said. Jackson and Ms. Garcia had been living together for four months at the time of the alleged incident, according to testimony from Ms. Garcia.

Mike Huckaby, an investigator for the Department of Human Resources, took a statement from Jackson on May 21 in which Jackson admitted hitting the child, Huckaby said. The statement was read in court Monday.

Jackson said in the statement he had been having trouble with the child's mother and that he had been

THE 'IN' LOOK DURING BIG SPRING CENTENNIAL WEEK — Bee Zinn and Mel Prather stroll through the grounds of the Heritage Museum in their turn-of-the-century clothes, which will be very much in style during Centennial Week here in May. A large crowd showed up at an old-fashion style show held in Garrett Fellowship Hall at the First United Methodist Church Monday night and stayed to learn more about planning for the 100th anniversary event, timed to honor the arrival of the T & P railroad in Big Spring.

Representatives of clubs, business attend kickoff

Between 250 and 300 individuals representing various clubs, businesses, and personal interests attended the official Big Spring-Howard County Centennial kickoff meeting Monday night. The meeting, held in the Garrett Hall of the First Methodist Church beginning at 7:30 p.m., included an introduction of what the centennial was all about, a presentation on celebrations held in other cities throughout the country, a barbership quartet, an old-time fashion show, and introduction of the Centennial Belles and Brothers of the Brush.

John Taylor, general chairman of the Big Spring Centennial, Inc., began his introduction of the area-wide centennial plans by informing the attentive audience that a lot of work had already gone on behind the scenes in preparation for the major festivities to be held May 21-30.

Taylor said the purpose of the centennial was to honor our heritage, create new civic awareness and unity of all citizens, uncover new civic leadership, stimulate local economy, and focus attention on tomorrow. He went on to say that the centennial committee had already uncovered many new leaders in the community and was very happy with the response to the celebration plans so far. However, he also said that the success of the area-wide recognition of the coming of the railroad 100 years ago would depend on people from the entire local area getting involved in the fun and festivities.

Jim Kling, representing the John B. Rogers Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa., that has been retained by the local centennial company, presented a slide show and discussion of similar celebrations that had been held in other communities throughout the country. He iterated what Taylor had said about some of the outcomes of the centennial, but also stressed the entertainment element of the week-long festivities and pageant.

Dan Conley, the organizer and head of a local barber shop quartet, was introduced and the quartet presented some of their renditions of turn-of-the-century songs. Following their entertaining numbers, Guy Cowan emceed an old-time fashion show. During the show, many of the styles that would be available to area residents during the centennial celebration were modeled by local citizens.

In addition, clothes worn by some of the first settlers of Big Spring and Howard County were worn by a few of the models, as well as clothing that had been made by various individuals in preparation for the celebration. Cowan stressed that the clothes that would be available to area residents would be on sale at the centennial store, which is located in the old Knight's Pharmacy building across the street from the State National Bank.

One of the highlights and main purposes of the evening was the announcement of the formation of the Centennial Belles and Brothers of the Brush. The two organizations had waited until the Monday night meeting to allow a more competitive and equal participation by the various clubs, organizations, and businesses in the area.

Following a discussion of both groups, Billy McLaughlin of the Centennial Belles and Ray Alexander of the Brothers of the Brush said that kits would be available to those attending the meeting and that the kits would be worth $15. Each kit contained fifteen certificates and badges for the individual organizations with an explanation sheet of how the various chapters of the two groups were to be formed. In the literature, it stated that membership should be solicited within the various clubs, stores, or plants, and from friends.

In order to form a chapter of either the Centennial Belles or the Brothers of the Brush, an individual or group must sell a minimum of ten memberships. Those persons wishing to join may do so by purchasing a certificate and badge for $1. Once they have made their initial purchase, they will also be asked to sign their names to two charter sheets, which will be recorded in the official records of the Big Spring-Howard County centennial.

After the initial ten memberships are sold, that club or organization will be assigned a chapter number. These numbers will be assigned to the various chapters beginning no earlier than 10 a.m. Wednesday, at the Centennial Headquarters at 906 Main Street in Big Spring.

Merchants discuss centennial plans

Merchants representing the various retail establishments within the area met this morning in the Tumbleweed Room at Howard College with representatives of the Big Spring Centennial, Inc. and the John B. Rogers Co. to discuss their participation in the local centennial celebration slated for May.

Johnnie Lou Avery, chairperson of the special events division of the centennial committee, said the committee was planning the largest celebration to be held anywhere expected 10,000 people to attend the large pageant to be held six of the nights of the centennial celebration. She said she felt the celebration would also bring merchants closer together and enhance future merchant programs.

Avery said that many things had already surfaced during the planning of the centennial, including the large number of young people in the community who want to help during the festivities. She said these people were eager to help merchants serve coffee, prepare floats, or anything else the merchants may need assistance on during the centennial.

She went on to say that the merchants needed to come together as a group during the centennial committee.

Said they needed to have window displays and judging, and encouraged stores to have style shows; both the old-time styles as well as current clothing. Avery then added that she felt the fact the centennial was being held during the memorial Day weekend would help attract other people to the local area to do their shopping.

John Taylor, general chairman of the centennial committee, introduced Jim Kling of the John B. Rogers Company saying that the firm had also been retained by the local community for the celebration of the discovery of the "big spring" by Marcy and that people who were here at the time were very impressed with their efforts and the success of the program.

Kling said that the participation by the local community had left an imprint upon him. He said he had only expected 125 to 150 people at the kickoff meeting Monday night, and was presently surprised to see more than 200 people there. Said that the Centennial Belles had prepared 50 kits for chapters and had given out all 50 kits and would have to deliver seven more. He said the Brothers of the Brush did not do quite as well, but still gave out 31 kits.

He continued by saying that he had been involved in celebrations for 31 years and that, based on his experience, this type of participation by the community was a clear indication that the local area will succeed in its efforts. He went on to say that the most cynical and reluctant group to get involved were always the merchants; mainly because they were always being asked to donate things to all types of events. Kling said that this would be a different type of promotion and would do a great deal to benefit local retail establishments rather than being an event to make donations to.

Deloris Albert, with Bill Thrasher

Deloris Albert named Sunday School Teacher of the Year

Deloris Albert of Big Spring returned home from the annual Texas Youth Council Convention held in Dallas Friday, Saturday and Sunday with a rare honor. She was named Texas Division Sunday School Teacher of the Year for 1980 over 40 other nominees.

She received a plaque awarded by Salvation Army Division Commander Major John Mikels of Dallas and a Bible signed by Capt. Dan L. Delaney, Specialist in Youth Work for the Salvation Army in the Dallas area.

On hand for the presentation in Dallas was Lt. Bill Thrasher, commander of the Salvation Army Post in Big Spring.

Mrs. Albert, who is secretary to Big Spring Herald publisher Tom Watson, has been teaching Sunday School in the local Salvation Army citadel for about five years. Her classes are made up of sixth, seventh and eighth grade students.

Mrs. Albert was one of 649 delegates attending the youth council meeting in Dallas.

It was learned during the meeting that the Victoria delegation was involved in an automobile wreck shortly after leaving Victoria for Dallas and two members of the delegation wound up with serious injuries in a hospital.

Mrs. Albert was the first Big Spring resident ever to be named Teacher of the Year in the Texas Division of Sunday School Teachers.

She went on to say that the merchants needed to come together as a group during the centennial committee.

HEALTH SERIES — Local dentists Dr. David Rickey, seated, and Dr. Robert Patterson, standing, gave two presentations on the proper care of teeth to students at Bauer Elementary School recently. Dr. Rickey gave a slide presentation on tooth care to all third graders, while Dr. Patterson demonstrated proper toothbrushing methods to the first and second graders. The presentations were two of a series of lectures on health, coordinated by Viola Barraza, librarian at Bauer. The next subject will be the dangers of drug abuse, which will be presented by the police department.

Guacamole shortage looms over Texas

DALLAS (AP) — California farmers are seeing red over Texas' month-long embargo of California produce — but Lone Star restaurateurs are turning green over the prospect of 30 days without avocados for Texas guacamole — an avocado-based delicacy that is a staple of Mexican restaurants.

The avocado ban was imposed Sunday by state officials who feared infestations of the Mediterranean fruit fly in California would spread to this state. But some Texas customers think the ban is strictly for show.

Bill Prather, wholesale buyer for Avocado Sales, a Dallas produce broker, complained that the fruit flies don't even like avocados.

"They found them in two counties out there (in California) and they were a long way from the avocado groves," he said.

He said Texas officials are allowing produce into the state if it is fumigated, but that the fumigation must be done at 90 degrees — "which would burn them up."

It could take three or four weeks, but you've got to have it in a temperature of 40 degrees," he said.

Prather agreed that avocados from Florida and Texas' Rio Grande Valley don't measure up to California avocados, and added that the Florida harvest doesn't begin until June or July.

"Avocado out of Florida does not make good guacamole because it doesn't have the oil content. It's full of water," he said. "I don't see that we can bring anything in for a month."

'Breathing club' meeting today at hospital

You'll have to admit that the thought of going to a "breathing club" meeting conjures up some interesting thoughts. Yet a group of Big Spring victims of lung disease, members of the Big Spring Lung Association, meet regularly to learn more about their disease, and how to remain self-reliant in spite of their breathing problems.

The group will meet today at 7 p.m. in the classroom of Malone-Hogan Hospital. Dr. Sam Supuya, Veterans Administration Medical Center, will speak on "solving problems in everyday living for both the chronic lung patient and his family."

Ken Randall, chairman of the BSLA, says that persons with breathing problems and their friends are discovering that others who have faced or are facing similar problems, can help.

"The victim of lung disease becomes easily discouraged with their progress, or lack of it. Learning how others cope with it, learning breathing exercises that help them to relax, and consulting with a physician or health professional is the regular agenda at our meetings. Self-confidence and self-reliance for the club's members is our goal," the registered respiratory therapist explained.

Priority program topics throughout the year include lung disease as a chronic condition, living with the environment, preventing infections, allergies and lung disease, drugs and medicine, managing daily pressures and stress, diet, travel tips, home care, testing and treatment, and where to get help.

The public is invited to attend these meetings.

Inflation leads to concentration of land, resources among wealthy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Inflation has led to increased concentration of land and resources among wealthy and high-income groups, a new Agriculture Department report says.

"Those people with assets and related income who are not dependent on the income generated by the land being purchased can bid more successfully" than others, the report says.

In other words, a wealthy farmer can bid up the price of a farm, knowing he does not have to rely on earnings from the additional land to pay for it. That can crowd out of the market a less-endowed farmer who wants to expand a marginal holding.

The report, released last week, is being circulated among members of Congress, lobbying groups and others involved in designing general economic and farm legislation this year.

The report noted that inflation also has increased the wealth of those who own land and other farm assets because land price changes have kept pace with both inflation and increases in real farm earnings.

At the same time, though, the report said inflation and efforts to deal with it may be feeding off each other.

For example, the report said inflation has stimulated purchases of such things as large, more complex farm machinery. That drives up production costs, which in turn increases pressures for higher commodity supports.

"Operators may buy larger equipment and buildings sooner if they expect price increases," the report said.

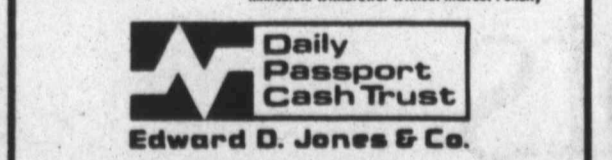

"Inflation often leads to conflicts," the report said.

"For instance, legislators often try to assist clientele groups in coping with inflation on the one hand and try to stop inflation on the other.

"The first objective may lead to higher commodity price supports, larger food stamp benefits and easier credit availability for farmers.

"In contrast, the second objective may require freezing, decreasing or even eliminating commodity price supports, food stamp benefits and special credit programs."

Attorney target in Wood probe?

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — A local defense attorney whose home was the subject of a surprise, 13-hour search, says two FBI agents told him he is a "target" in the investigation of the murder of U.S. District Judge John Wood.

"There's no doubt in my mind I'm a target of the grand jury investigation of Judge Wood's assassination," lawyer Joe Chagra, brother of convicted drug trafficker Jimmy Chagra, said Monday night. "They told me I was now a target."

He said the agents were among about 70 federal officers who searched his home and that of four other Chagra relatives Friday, seizing a truckload of items including documents, jewelry and cash.

Afterward, federal sources here and in Washington said the agents were looking for evidence in the May 29, 1979 assassination of Wood. Both sources said a resolution to the 21-month-old investigation — the largest since the assassination of President John Kennedy — was near.

Wood, who had been assigned to preside over the narcotics trial of Jimmy Chagra, was shot in the back and killed by a sniper in San Antonio. Chagra was later tried by another judge and sentenced last year to 30 years in prison without parole for continuing criminal enterprise.

Joe Chagra, who helped defend his brother, denied any involvement or knowledge of the death of the federal judge. "I had nothing to do with Judge Wood's murder, before, during, after or anytime in the present time," he said.

Braniff profit sharing OKed

DALLAS (AP) — Debt-riddled Braniff International Corp. has received a financial boost from 5,000 Teamster employees who agreed to donate 10 percent of their paychecks to help propel the airline into the black.

The profit-sharing proposal still must be voted on by unions representing Braniff pilots, flight attendants and mechanics.

If approved, Braniff's 11,500 employees would furnish 10 percent of their salaries toward making the airline profitable. The amount employees would be repaid would depend on Braniff's ability to make a profit with the employee funds.

Braniff estimates the profit-sharing program would save the carrier about $30 million yearly. Another $10 million would be saved annually by waiving the Teamsters' cost of living increase.

Farabee, Shaw votes recorded

Harris-Hanks Austin Bureau AUSTIN — Most votes in the Texas Senate and House this past week were unanimous and routine.

Here are vote totals on a few key issues and how your local or area lawmakers voted:

HOUSE
On adoption of a House bill creating a $5 million a year experimental summer school program. The state and federal project would be limited to school districts and students who fail a grade or course or who are not proficient English-speakers. The motion prevailed 95-34.

For: Walter Grubbs of Abilene.
Against: Larry Don Shaw of Big Spring.

SENATE
On adoption of a Senate bill barring deductions from state employee checks unless approved by the legislature. Opponents of the bill said it would be used to prevent state employee groups from having union dues deducted.

The motion prevailed 19-9.
For: Ray Farabee of Wichita Falls.

On tabling amendment to Senate a solution that would tighten state regulations on low-level radioactive waste dumps. The amendment would have deleted a section of the bill allowing individuals to seek injunctions against poorly run dumps and substituting a similar section allowing local governments to file suit instead.

The motion prevailed 20-9.
For: Farabee.

Eldred E. Gray can help you with your income tax

The tax laws in this country make people laugh or cry, depending on what time of year they're reading them. It's not that their particularly funny, it's just that their ridiculously complicated.

Whether you use the long or short income tax form, whether your tax records are simple or complex, Eldred E. Gray, a Big Spring certified public accountant, can make your income tax payments as small as possible and as easy as possible.

Although it is against the law to not pay income tax, it is wise to pay as little income tax as possible. The government has given tax breaks for a number of things to make individuals' payments lower. Eldred Gray can help you find and use those breaks.

Among the things that can be deducted to make tax payments smaller are moving expenses, energy saving measures for the home, and job related expenses. Political contributions and contributions to charitable organizations can also be written off for savings to the taxpayers.

All of this is not easy to understand; it often takes several different forms to get the needed breaks. Eldred E. Gray can help you. He has the qualifications necessary. He's been a certified public accountant for 15 years and has 25 years

KATHRINE TEWARI

Ms. Tewari will speak at luncheon

Texas cooks, attention! What dish does your family like best?

More than likely, it is a beef recipe. Since Texas is the number one cattle-raising state in the nation, Texans acquire their love of beef naturally.

The Texas CowBelles, sponsors of the fourth annual Texas Beef Cook-Off, invite you to submit your favorite beef recipe to the state chairman no later than April 1. The address is: Texas CowBelles Beef Cook-Off, 5501 Interstate 40 West, Amarillo, Tex. 79106.

The Texas CowBelles, the four-county local organization, suggest that you don your apron and with pen and paper in hand, measure the ingredients and write down each step you take in the preparation of that meat special you fix so often for your family. Perhaps you no longer measure, you just automatically know how much of this and that you use. But for the contest, amounts are important, in fact a must. That meal-in-one that is "old hat" to you may be a winner. Last year's runnerup was from Tulia. This year's could be from Scurry, Borden, Howard or Mitchell Counties.

To tempt your palate and inspire you to enter the Beef Cook-Off, as well as learn how to prepare beef in a microwave oven, the Texas CowBelles are co-sponsoring Wednesday's Brown Bag Luncheon at the Pioneer Gas Building.

Bobbie Nix, former Tejas CowBelles president, says, "Join us for a microwave demonstration by Kathrine Tewari, Furr's home economist. She will give you important tips on how to make your dishes prize-winners with the help of garnishes and sauces." Ms. Tewari has previously given demonstrations at the Howard County Fair.

Official entry blanks for the Beef Cook-Off may be picked up at the Brown Bag luncheon at the Pioneer Gas Building Wednesday or at the County Extension Office.

Forum to be represented at War on Drugs rally

GFWC Modern Woman's Forum met Feb. 27 at Texas Electric Reddy Room. Mrs. Allen Hull, served as hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ruby McElrath.

Mrs. Cass Hill, president, conducted the opening ceremonies and business meeting for the 14 members present. The Big Spring Centennial, Inc., asked for representatives at a meeting on March 2 in Garrett Hall of First United Methodist Church. Mrs. Adele Tibbs was chosen as chairman, with Marie Affleck, Goldye Moad, Gene Duncan, Dorothy Hull and Lavelle Hill as members.

The club was also asked to have members attend the rally on March 16 at 7 p.m. at Howard College Auditorium on Texas War on Drugs. An invitation to the Silver Tea at Howard County Library on March 17 was read.

Mrs. T.G. Adams, chairman of International Affairs Committee introduced two guests, Frances Loftis and Marie Seaman, members of the International Wives Club of Big Spring. The ladies are natives of Germany who married servicemen during

Dear Abby

Foul-Mouthed Kids Are Asking for Soap

DEAR ABBY: About AUNT DONNA, whose 3-year-old niece started to use dirty language. You said children often do this to get attention, so just ignore it, and the child will quit.

When she is at our house, when our "Sissy" was 2 1/2. We were advised to ignore it, so being modern parents, we ignored it. Weeks passed, then months, and Sissy continued to use those dirty words. We were mortified over and over again by our angelic-looking daughter's less-than-angelic mouth!

Meanwhile, my mother was getting impatient with our modern method that didn't seem to be working. Then one day her self-control snapped, and she chased Sissy down the hall with a wooden spoon and gave her the spanking she needed and had probably been asking for for months!

Abby, that one spanking from Grandma did the trick. Sissy hasn't used a bad word since, and she just celebrated her 12th birthday.

OLDER AND WISER

DEAR OLDER: Judging from my mail, my answer was a bomb. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: Your advice to AUNT DONNA was off the mark. Children who use gutter language may be looking for attention, but they are also looking for limits to their behavior, not to mention love and acceptance.

Kids who misbehave and go unpunished are rejected kids. We owe it to them to voice our disapproval, set limits on their behavior and give them the constructive attention they are craving.

Not reacting to a child's foul language is a cop-out, as was your answer.

My suggestions:
1. Tell the child that nasty language is not appropriate and will not be tolerated. Period.
2. Show the child love and approval when it's deserved.
3. Give the child responsibility so that she can demonstrate her worth.

This formula may not work wonders, but it's better than sticking one's head in the sand.

DEAR SYBIL: You're right. Your answer was better than mine.

Do you hate to write letters because you don't know what to say? Thank-you notes, sympathy letters, congratulations, how to decline and accept invitations and how to write an interesting letter are included in Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Abby, Letter Booklet, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Mu Zetas to meet at Young N' Alive

Mountain View Lodge was the meeting place for Mu Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Feb. 23. Members provided an evening of games and prizes for residents at the lodge.

A short business meeting followed. Marian Buzbee and Rene Eyskens were welcomed as guests.

In the report on the Valentine Charity Ball, a good response from the community was noted. All those attending enjoyed themselves and considered the event one of the more successful dances sponsored by City Council. Peggy Payne, selected as Chapter Sweetheart, was presented her sweetheart pin.

Plans were made to have an Indian Bread booth at the annual Jaycee Rattlesnake Roundup to be held around the last of March.

A "Spring Rush" is scheduled with the next meeting being a model meeting to be held at Young N' Alive.

EYE ON THE BALL — Glen Rieke of Rice University keeps his eyes glued to the ball as he follows a rebound between University of Texas players LeSalle Thompson (42) and Virdell Howland (5) in the first period of their game in Austin, Monday. Mike Wacker (44) stays in the background ready to assist. Texas defeated Rice 58-44 in the first round of the Southwest Conference tournament.

In first round of SWC Tournament

38-foot shot at buzzer guns TCU past Aggies

By the Associated Press

Texas Christian — the team responsible for getting the Southwest Conference basketball race off to such a zany start two months ago — ripped the water again Monday night.

And, as dejected Texas A&M coach Shelby Metcalf will tell you, his Aggies were the victims again.

Darrell Browder's jump shot from near mid-court gave TCU a 62-60 victory over A&M Monday night, spoiling the Aggies' hopes to make amends for a dismal mid-season by marching through the post-season SWC tournament.

In the SWC's two other first-round playoff games Monday night, Texas Tech routed Southern Methodist 80-58 and Texas defeated Rice 58-44 Monday night to grab other berths in the league tourney, which begins Thursday night in HemisFair Arena at San Antonio.

Arkansas, Houston and Baylor — the first three finishers in the league's 16-game double round-robin — got automatic berths in the tournament.

TCU's 56-51 upset over defending champion A&M back on Jan. 3 in Reunion Arena was the first game of the SWC season and set the trend for a season full of wins by the underdogs.

The Horned Frogs thwarted the Aggies again Monday night in College Station, with Browder's long jump shot swishing through just before the final buzzer sounded.

After the game, someone went out onto the court at G. Rollie White Coliseum to step off the shot, just for the record. It measured 38 feet.

"That last shot by Browder was a hell of a shot," Metcalf said.

"This was a terrible way to end our season. Our players deserve better. This was a heartbreaker."

TCU jumped ahead 28-20 but the Aggies scored seven straight points to trail only 28-27 at the half, then rallied for a 47-40 lead after eight minutes of the second half.

The Horned Frogs battled back for a 51-51 tie with 5:45 to play, and the lead changed three times before A&M's Reggie Roberts tied the game at 60-all with his 20-foot jumper with 30 seconds left.

TCU ran down the clock and fed the ball to Browder, who fired his "Hail Mary" shot that caught nothing but the bottom of the net.

"It was a game that could have gone either way at the end. Browder just put it up and it went in," TCU coach Jim Killingsworth said.

Browder hit 12 of 20 from the floor and 6 of 8 from the line for a game-high 30 points. Vernon Smith led A&M with 19.

Ricky Pierce connected on only 6 of 25 from the field in Rice's loss to Texas. The Longhorns took a 25-18 halftime lead and never trailed.

Monterey takes win over BSHS in opener

By NATHAN POSS
Sports Editor

Lubbock Monterey pitcher Steve Coleman did it all here Monday afternoon in leading his Plainsmen to a 10-3 season opening win over the Big Spring Steers.

Well, not all of it, as the Steers at times proved to be their worst enemies in the form of defensive errors and excessive walks.

Nevertheless, it was Coleman, who displayed a heater of a fastball, that pitched his way out of a couple of jams, and offensively slammed three hits and drove in three runs in the chilly, damp weather that forced the game to end after five innings.

But that was to be expected. Coleman, you see, has been an All-District 3-AAAAA performer the past two years.

It was a typical first game for the Steers, who at times were their own worst enemies. Especially the pitching staff.

Starting hurler Moe Rubio pitched well for three innings, limiting the Monterey hitters to two runs.

But the fourth and fifth innings were the downfall of the BSHS crew in Coach Frank Ibarra's debut.

The Plainsmen, with the aid of a walk, an error and three base hits, boosted their lead to 4-1 in inning four.

The Steers had a chance to get back in the game in the bottom of the fourth when Tommy Oague and Marcus Armendariz led off with singles and advanced to third on an infield out by Tim Shaver.

But Coleman, who seemed to only strike people out when he needed it the most, fanned the final two Steer hitters of the inning to keep the three run lead.

It wouldn't matter, however, as the Plainsmen tallied six runs in the fifth inning on only two hits. And only one of the hits made it out of the infield.

In the meantime, both Rubio, third baseman Rusty Hayworth, and rightfielder Tracy Spence made errors, and reliever Wayne Shipman had control problems. It all was too much to overcome.

The Steers scored two runs in the bottom of the fifth when Armendariz and Spence belted hits driving in Lupe Ontiveros and Oague, but the game was called shortly after as the rain approached.

While the opening day loss to the always tough Monterey team was disappointing, there were bright spots for the Steers.

Coleman was no doubt one of the better, harder throwing hurlers that they will face, and the Bovines rapped out nine hits. None of them were cheap, either. Armendariz led the way, going a perfect three-for-three.

The two teams will return to action today for another encounter, but this time it will be on Monterey's home turf.

In Region V Tournament Lyons, Hawk Queens run past Weatherford, 81-66

KELLY LYONS
27 Points

KELLI MULL
Great game off bench

BROWNWOOD — The Howard College Hawk Queens received yet another outstanding effort from Kelly Lyons, and the rest of the team took note in rolling to an 81-66 win here Monday night over Weatherford College in the first round of the Women's Region V Tournament.

The win for the Hawk Queens was the second in as many days. It boosted their season mark to 28-7, and followed a rout of Ranger in the qualifying round Sunday.

The Hawk Queens will now play in the semifinals tonight against old rival Western Texas, a 69-65 winner over Cisco yesterday afternoon.

Howard and WTC have met twice this year, with the WTC women claiming both games. They were close decisions, however, as WTC won the first by one point and the second in overtime.

The win over Weatherford at times seemed easy, but their fees made an impressive run at the Hawk Queens in the latter stages of the game to make it interesting.

After running to a 46-35 halftime lead, Lyons once again got herself into foul trouble as the Hawk Queens were rolling.

HC held a 61-46 lead with about 10 minutes remaining, but Weatherford exploded in the next four minutes to bring the count to 64-58.

Stevens then placed Lyons back in the contest, and the results were immediate.

Even though Lyons didn't score much at this time, the trio of Cynthia Robinson, Kelli Mull and Jill Floyd did, quickly putting the game out of reach of the Weatherford women, which were the Northern Conference champions.

The Weatherford rally didn't surprise Stevens, however. "I knew that some time they would make a rally," he mentioned. "Probably when Lyons was out of the line-up. When they made theirs, I think it took something out of them."

Lyons continued to set new standards for Hawk Queen season scoring, pouring in 27 points. That put her at 673. She broke the old standard set by Tami Edwards in 1978 of 620 points against Amarillo last week.

The Hawk Queens shot a torrid 53 percent from the field, and converted on 11 of 13 free throw attempts. This was most pleasing to Stevens.

Great game off bench tournament wins. "We played well last night, and so did they. I just hope we can keep it up tonight," he said.

The Hawk Queen coach praised Lyons, but also mentioned the performances of Mull, Floyd and Robinson.

"Mull came off the bench and moved from a guard to a wing position, and hit some key shots that opened everything up," he stated. "Jill had her usual good floor game, and Robinson got some big rebounds and hit the few shots that she took."

Kay Cole kept Weatherford close with 25 points, most from the outside.

Should the Hawk Queens win tonight, they would return to the finals of the Region V Tournament for the second year in a row. They would meet the winner of the Amarillo-McLennan game, which is slated for a six o'clock tipoff.

HOWARD COLLEGE (81) — Westbrook 10-2; Floyd 2-4; Wasserman 3-0-4; Luftrick 4-0-8; Lyons 13-17; Luna 4-1-2; Robinson 4-2-10; Mull 5-5-15; TOTALS 26-11-41.

WEATHERFORD (66) — Christian 3-2-8; Tucker 2-0-4; Andrews 1-0-2; Finch 4-4-12; Bailey 3-1-7; Cole 8-9-25; Jefferson 4-0-8; TOTALS 25-16-66.

Halftime Score: Howard 46, Weatherford 35.

Coahoma boys battle Seminole in 6-AAA championship tonight

LAMESA — The Coahoma Bulldogs boys basketball will be hoping to claim the District 6-AAA championship and a spot in the state playoffs tonight when they battle the Seminole Indians at 7:30 p.m. in the Lamesa Middle School.

The two teams, along with

Denver City, claimed co-shares of the 6-AAA title by tying for both the first and second half titles. All three teams were 4-2 in each half in the four-team league.

After the three-way tie ended the regular season, the schools got together and drew for spots in a deciding Forsan's Lavonne Brumley and Christi Adams returned with All-Region T-AA Tournament honors for their excellent play the past weekend.

The two Forsan seniors were among five honored on the Class AA level. Others named were Melissa Mayo and Vickie Teal of New Deal, and Lori Barnes of Sanford-Fritch.

Forsan advanced to the regional finals before dropping a 42-40 heartbreaker to New Deal. New Deal thereby goes on to the state tournament.

Forsan thus ended their season with a record of 26-4, and that was despite the fact that they were outmanned physically in most of their games.

"We weren't very big, but we battled," said a proud Forsan Coach Ron Taylor. "We were really outmanned in the regional finals against New Deal. They had a couple of big girls, and our tallest was 5'8". But we scrapped and played well together like we had all year long, and came two points from going to state."

"I'm just real proud," Taylor continued. "We proved a lot of hard work will overcome a size handicap. Everyone at the tournament told me they were impressed with the fact that we were so good to be little."
