BING THE BONG — Out of town speakers and local leaders were in attendance at the H.E.L.P. anti-drug rally Monday night at Howard College auditorium. Inspecting bongs, used by marijuana smokers are Irvin C. Swank, of the Drug Enforcement Division, U.S. Department of Justice; Bobbie Wooten, Big Spring Parent Awareness H.E.L.P. Committee, Thomas J. Marquez, Dallas Chairman of the Texans' War on Drugs education committee, Sally Williams, legislative coordinator for Texans' War on Drugs and Elwood Hoherz, local chief of police.

Children exposed to peer pressure

Marijuana facts frightening

By ANDREA COHEN
— All children have been or will be exposed to peer pressure in the use of drugs.

— Marijuana use is more dangerous than drinking beer because marijuana is a mind-altering drug.

— Books are written geared toward small children encouraging the use of drugs.

— Big Spring is a main artery in drug trafficking from Mexico to the United States.

— Most drug addicts started using it out of curiosity and never expected to get hooked. Ninety-five percent of drug abusers started with marijuana.

These are some of the facts a large number of people learned Monday at an anti-drug rally, sponsored by The Big Spring Parent Awareness H.E.L.P. Committee. The meeting was in the Howard College Auditorium.

"Drugs are our biggest criminal and social problem," said Tom Marquez, Dallas chairman of the Texans' War on Drugs education committee. "The illegal drug business is highly profitable and tax-free."

To support his claim that marijuana is the drug most widely used, he explained that drug paraphernalia, items used in connection with drug use, are sold legally on the open market.

"The only reason for the drug paraphernalia business is to make it glamorous for the kids," he added.

Behind a display of paraphernalia confiscated by the Big Spring Police Department, Marquez showed literature aimed at young children encouraging drug use.

"And when the kids get into the teenage years, they can start reading magazines that are put out on newsstands," he said, holding the magazine to the audience. "Here's a copy of High Times with Willie Nelson on the cover. And if you want to know what drugs do, just remember him at the Democratic National Convention. He couldn't remember the words to the national anthem."

To reemphasize that the drug market is being aimed toward young children he told a story of an incident that happened near the school his children attend.

"I went into the store," he said, "and asked for two different brands of papers (to roll marijuana). The lady said 'You don't want that,'" speaking about one of the brands. "I asked why not and she said 'It's strawberry flavored for children.'"

Anti-drug rally produces praise from local residents

By ANDREA COHEN
A sampling by the Big Spring Herald showed that most of the people attending the H.E.L.P. rally Monday night in Howard College Auditorium wanted information. They were not disappointed. They all agreed it was an evening well spent.

Jan Powell has four children between the ages of 9 and 13.

"I learned about the laws," she said. "I didn't know they were so lenient. I feel the school system needs to do more in informing teachers, those who work with kids everyday. I'm going to read this whole packet to my kids."

Paulette Mason, who has children attending Moss Elementary School is concerned with drugs and how the children are starting to use them at a younger age.

"I want to talk to my children now. I'm surprised we had a head shop (Odds and Ends, located on Lancaster) and all this paraphernalia. I

He then held up a Christmas stocking aimed at the children's market, containing paraphernalia to use with marijuana and cocaine.

"Marijuana," he continued is the biggest drug used by kids. Pills, whether they be legal or illegal are the second largest problem. Texas has the largest production of illegal pill manufacturing in the country. Cocaine is on the increase with younger kids. It used to be used by kids mostly in their early 20s and up.

"One hundred percent of our children have been or will be exposed to peer pressure in drug use. They're exposed to it in the first grade and a decision is usually made by the fifth or sixth grade as to whether they'll use it, where as it used to be the decision wasn't made until high school or college."

He said that ignorance by the parents as to what damage can be done stems from the fact that drugs were not as widely used "when we were kids as they are now. In 7,500 different medical studies on marijuana alone, every one of them says it causes damage."

"Parents, the facts are 100 percent on our side," he declared.

"Overwhelming medical evidence shows marijuana affects the brains, lungs, the reproductive process and psychological changes."

He explained that THC, the major psychoactive ingredient in marijuana, lodges in the fatty tissues and takes four to six weeks to be completely eliminated from the body.

"That means if it's smoked weekly, it accumulates and lodges in the fatty cells. Liquor takes approximately 12 hours to be eliminated from the body."

He also told the group that five marijuana cigarettes do the same amount of damage to the lungs as 112 tobacco cigarettes.

"When they buy marijuana," he continued, "they don't know what they're getting. The marijuana can be laced with something like angel dust, which can make a person violent. Kids have no idea. They think they're getting the pure stuff."

"The solution," he explained, "is to form a parent peer group in every grade, in every school in Texas. The parents must get together and educate themselves and determine the most practical way for the child not to make the decision to take drugs."

He told the parents the peer group should decide on a set of rules so one child does not feel left out."

"If the parents become interested and take the responsibility, there isn't an official, a law enforcement agency or politician who won't cooperate," he added.

Irvin C. Swank, Drug Enforcement Division of the U.S. Department of Justice told the group that over the 25 years of working in drug cases, most addicts he has talked to never expected to get hooked. "It's experimentation," he said. "They think they can handle it."

"Most started using drugs out of curiosity and 95 percent of the addicts started on marijuana. Things are the same today as they were 25 years ago," he said.

"But in those days, marijuana was used by the lower social class and it was controlled almost totally by organized crime. Law enforcement officials had a good grasp on it. Then legalization of marijuana started becoming an issue by groups which formed and called for it."

He also told the group that Texas is now the biggest producer of amphetamines. "California used to be first and Colorado second," he said. "Now Texas is the first."

"We need more money, more manpower and parents must get involved."

Sally Williams, Legislative coordinator for Texans' War on Drugs, explained legislative proposals that are now before the state legislature.

The proposals include conspiracy and solicitation laws in drug traffic, seizure of illegal vehicles and profits directly traceable to illegal drug trafficking, the banning of stores which sell drug paraphernalia, triplicate forms to be used by physicians for the most abused pills, and mandatory jail terms for commercial trafficking, and persons over 21 selling drugs to minors.

Bobbie Wooten, chairman of the Big Spring Parent Awareness H.E.L.P. Committee and organizer of the rally said she was pleased at the response.

"I'm real pleased with the response and I'm real pleased with the turnout," she said. "I think everyone was really impressed with the program. This really is only the beginning. Just because people didn't come to the rally, doesn't mean they can't help. They can call me and you can put my phone number in the paper."

Mrs. Wooten's phone number is 263-7473.

Claims she was beaten by husband

Vickie Daniel details firing warning shot

LIBERTY, Texas (AP) — Vickie Daniel finished detailing today how she fired a warning shot at her husband, former Texas House Speaker Price Daniel Jr., but said she did not remember firing the second, fatal shot.

Mrs. Daniel, in court trying to retain custody of her two young children by Daniel, told how the shooting culminated an argument in the couple's spacious home. She is charged with his murder.

She said Daniel ignored a warning shot she fired from a .22-caliber rifle, but said she did not remember loading a second bullet into the gun and firing it.

"I told him, 'I'm warning you to leave, but he wouldn't,'" she testified Monday. "I fired a warning shot..."

"He told me to stick the gun up my ass so I shot by him. I intentionally missed him. I just wanted him to leave."

Today she told jurors her husband's death was an accident, saying, "I never would want to do anything like that to anybody."

She testified that after the shooting she wandered to her bedroom, then went back to the kitchen and saw her wounded husband lying on the floor by the back door.

"I stood beside the range. I told him to get up and he wouldn't. I wasn't sure he was hurt, but then I saw blood."

She said she asked the telephone operator to call an ambulance. She met two attendants at the front door and directed them to the place where her husband lay. A short time later, she said, Liberty County sheriff's deputies arrived.

Coal talks at impasse

WASHINGTON (AP) — Contract talks between the United Mine Workers and the soft coal industry broke off early today in an apparent impasse over the volatile issue of miners' working hours.

Representatives of the UMW and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, the industry's bargaining arm, had continued to talk past the union's self-imposed midnight deadline, signaling progress toward a settlement that would avert a strike March 27, when the current three-year contract expires.

Oil swindle case due study by local grand jury March 25

By JAMES WERRELL
Felony theft cases against two men suspected of swindling Cosden Oil and Chemical Company will be presented to a grand jury here on March 25, said 118th District Attorney Rick Hamby, Monday.

"That will be the primary business of this grand jury. The cases will be presented as felony theft of crude oil," he added.

On Jan. 5, a team of state, county and local law enforcement agents descended on the W.B. Currie Oil Lease, five miles west of Forsan, to shut down what was believed to be an oil swindling operation. Jaco Oil Company of Midland, operator of the lease, is suspected of charging Cosden Oil $425,000 for oil never received.

According to law enforcement agents, Jaco is suspected of selling Cosden the same tank of oil over and over again without ever pumping the oil into the Cosden pipeline.

John Theford Sims, a Jaco pump-jack, was arrested at the scene of the Jan. 5 clampdown, and was charged that day with felony theft of crude oil.

Also facing the scrutiny of grand jurors on March 25 will be D.C. "Butch" Wheeler, Jaco president.

Those who may testify during the hearings include Texas Ranger Eddie Almond, who headed the investigation, members of the Texas Railroad Commission, and Bill Forshee, Herald photographer who took pictures of activities at the Currie Lease during the investigation.

Why weren't the cases presented to the last grand jury in February?

"Essentially, we have been waiting for graphics and statistics from American Petrofina (of which Cosden is a subsidiary) to enhance the grand jury's understanding of what took place. The technical aspects can get pretty complicated, and we want to make sure everyone has a clear idea of what happened," said Hamby. "We don't have those graphics yet, but we will by the time the grand jury convenes."

Hamby further explained that the District Attorney's office has waited to amass a sufficient case load before convening another grand jury.

"But that may change. We may try holding grand juries on a monthly basis in the near future," he added.

Although she broke into hysteria during Monday's testimony, she calmly testified today that the attendants had to struggle with her because "I was trying to get up to help Price."

'TOP O' THE MOR'NAN TO YA' — Sure, and didn't great aunt Nora McGrath bring the blessed little Shamrock from County Tipperary to Texas when she came to America these many years ago, and wouldn't you know the darling little plant is now flourishing in the yard of Mary McGrath's son, John Quigley, 609 Washington Blvd? John, an Irishman from the top of his head to the tip of his toes, dons the appropriate attire for this St. Patrick's Day while holding the floral symbol of the Emerald Isle.

Marines hurt in blast

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — An explosion tore through a vehicle belonging to the U.S. Embassy here today and three U.S. Marine passengers were injured, one of them seriously, an embassy spokesman said. He described the blast as an attack.

The spokesman said the U.S. van was driven by a Costa Rican employee of the embassy and was taking three Marines from the their residence to the embassy for a routine change of guard.

Asked if it was an attack, the spokesman, who declined to be identified, said, "Yes, it was an attack. But we are not sure if it was a bomb that was previously placed in the vehicle or if the vehicle was attacked by a projectile."

He said the van caught fire and was destroyed near the Yoses residential district on the east side of the city.

The spokesman said Sgt. Steven Garcia, 22, of the Bronx, New York City, suffered serious wounds in both legs. Cpl. Jerome Walters, 21, of St. Albans, Queens, New York and Sgt. John E. Roberts, 22, of Robbinsdale, Minn. both suffered light wounds, he said, adding that Roberts may have a broken arm.

The driver, identified as Emilio Camacho, was slightly injured, the spokesman said.

Police said an undetermined number of vehicles traveling on the same road were damaged by the blast.

Unlike other Central American nations, there are no terrorist groups operating in Costa Rica and terrorist attacks are extremely rare.

Police Beat

Burglary suspect placed behind bars

Two local men were arrested on suspicion of separate crimes, Monday.

At 10:45 a.m. Monday, Detective Roy Osborne and Bill Price arrested Thomas Warren, 27, 1804 Hearn, at his home. Warren is suspected of breaking into the Cameo Mobile Homes Company, 700 11th, Saturday night.

In that burglary, the intruder made his way into three different offices at company headquarters, and made off with $238 in cash.

Barry Kinneberg, 32, Big Spring, was also arrested Monday afternoon. He is suspected of stealing a pair of shoes from the Payless Shoe Store, 2011 S. Gregg, 3:26 p.m. Monday. The shoes were valued at $19.99.

Another pair of footgear was stolen from K's Thrift Center, 311 Main, 11:30 a.m. Saturday. According to reports, a man entered the store, tried on a pair of $65.95 boots, and walked out without paying.

He left behind a pair of blue tennis shoes.

Beatrice Armstrong, Sand Springs, believes she might have been pickpocketed while inside the TG&Y Store, College Park Shopping Center, Monday morning. According to Ms. Armstrong, the only time her purse was off of her shoulder was when another woman jostled her at the store.

When Ms. Armstrong was about to exit the store, she found that her wallet was missing from inside her purse. The wallet had contained $260 in cash, miscellaneous pictures and a driver's license.

A wallet belonging to Sanjuana Rogers, 1002 N. Main, was lost or stolen at an unknown location, sometime Saturday. The wallet had contained a variety of personal papers and $100 worth of food stamps.

Testimony in $200,000 suit

Testimony began Monday afternoon in the case of Pablo Luna, et al. vs. Custom Agriculture Service Inc.

The plaintiff in the case is seeking $200,000 in damages from an accident which occurred at the plant Dec. 14, 1978. At that time, a drum-dryer exploded, injuring three men.

Injured at the time of the explosion were Pablo Luna and Benito de los Santos, both of Lubbock, and Oscar Cervantes, Odessa. Cervantes was a Big Spring resident at the time of the explosion, and was an employee of Custom Agriculture Services Inc.

Luna and De los Santos were both employees of Western Equipment Company at the time of the accident. They were working on broken down equipment within the plant at the time of the explosion.

The unit which eventually exploded had been broken down the day of the accident, according to testimony presented.

Custom Agriculture Service Inc. is a cotton delinting plant located on the Lamesa highway.

Jim Edwards is representing the plaintiff in the case, and is being aided by Doug Bratcher.

Richard Palmer is attorney for the defense, aided by Paul New of Denver City.

Edwards called Oscar Cervantes to the stand Monday afternoon. Cervantes discussed plant operations and testified as to his duties for the cotton delinting plant while on the stand. He answered repeated questions by the plaintiff's lawyer about the manual switch operation of the drum-dryer.

Edwards also called Elvin Ford, a Lubbock architect, to the stand Monday. Ford detailed the plant layout to members of the jury, and Edwards presented pictures Ford had taken of the Custom Agriculture Service Inc. plant in February of this year.

Photographs and drawings included the drum-dryer unit as it looks today.

Called to the stand today was Walter H. Brumley, an electrician who testified further about the manual switch operation of the plant.

Jurors in the case include Dorothy Cotton, Mary Rush, Robert McClure, Bonnie Long, Patricia Thompson, and Amy Cooper.

Others are Sonya Worthan, Gary Fuqua, Mildred Wright, James Parrish, Pearl Klahr and Ruthie Findley.

Local poet recognized in quarterly

The forthcoming issue of the "Rocky Mountain Poetry Quarterly" will feature a poem written by Mrs. Imogene Puckett, of Big Spring, a member of the Rocky Mountain Poetry Society.

The poem, "A Prayer," will be sent to major newspapers and magazines throughout the United States. Copies of the issue containing the poem also will go to various colleges, universities and public libraries.

"We will be publishing our member's work on a regular basis," said Donald Day, membership chairman and a member of the editorial board of the Quarterly. "Mrs. Puckett is a talented poet. Our society exists to provide talented poets with a vehicle for sharing their work with others. In addition, members are eligible to attend seminars such as our forthcoming 1981 Poets' Gathering at Denver."

Persons interested in joining can write the Rocky Mountain Poetry Society, Post Office Box 512, Pueblo, Colo., 81002.

Texas Trails Act supported by Rep. Shaw

Officials of the Sierra Club say State Rep. Larry Don Shaw of Big Spring has agreed to push for adoption of the Texas Trails Act.

The bill will encourage the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department to participate in Federal Trail development programs and to provide additional trails for all types of use — horseback riding, hiking, canoeing, motorcycling, bicycling and etc.

Members of the Sierra Club say that often the different trail users in Texas have had to compete for the same trails and at times have found themselves in conflict with each other.

The Texas Trail Act, they point out, could relieve or reduce the competition on existing trails by encouraging expanded opportunities for all users and by encouraging the opening up of some of the available and suitable public land to trails.

Sierra Club officials say that since Shaw is chairing the sub-committee on parks, which is likely to hold hearings on the bill, his sponsorship could be very helpful.

Migrant program approved

LORAIN (SC) — Loraine school trustees met Monday night and approved the migrant program for another year, as well as giving approval to the Title I Coop Program.

Additionally, board members approved recommendations of the local textbook committee for the adoption of the McMillan Reading Series for Grades One through Eight and the Merrill Publishing Co., Earth Science for eighth grade.

State vocational funds in the amount of $5,100 for next year were approved, which represents an increase of some $50,000 over last year.

Following discussion of the proposed landscaping program designed to improve drainage at the school the matter was tabled pending further study.

Approval also was granted for the school calendar for 1981-82, calling for beginning of classes Aug. 20.

Monday's meeting was concluded in executive session regarding teachers' contracts, all of which were approved.

Arson charge hits Flowers

Ronald Gene Flowers, 19, was transferred to county jail Tuesday morning following his arrest on a charge of arson.

A $10,000 bond was set by Judge Lewis Heflin.

COLLEGE HEIGHTS' REPRESENTATIVES — Jody Strong (left) emerged as the spelling bee winner at College Heights Elementary by spelling successfully the words "usage" and "usher." First alternate at College Heights will be Colette White (right). Jody is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Curt Strong of 2803 Goliad. Colette is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James White of 2915 McAuslin. Jody will compete in Thursday afternoon's County Bee here.

WORD 'MOROSE' DID IT FOR WINNER — Sam Gladden (right) will again represent Goliad Middle School in the County Spelling Bee scheduled Thursday at 4 p.m., in the Howard College Auditorium. First alternate at Goliad will be Tracy Butler (left). Sam correctly spelled the word "morose" and then handled "negotiator." Sam is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Gladden of 600 Highland while Tracy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Butler of 2702 Apache.

LARGE TURNOUT — Members of the detective division of the Big Spring Police Department were on hand Monday night to answer questions asked by those who attended the H.E.L.P. anti-drug rally at Howard College. The paraphernalia which was exhibited, has been seized by the police force within the city limits. From the right (foreground) are Juvenile Detective Pat Dunham, Detectives Roy Osborne, Bud Jones, and Bobby Armstrong who is talking with City Attorney Elliot Mitchell. Leaning against the wall behind Armstrong is Patrol Sgt. Jimmy Wallace talking with City Manager Don Davis.

Dr. Ferguson fired months ago BSSH superintendent may be named in April

AUSTIN — More than eight months after Dr. Grace Ferguson was fired as superintendent of the Big Spring State Hospital, a decision on her replacement remains in limbo.

That situation, however, may end in April, officials with the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation say.

Last year, an attempt to name a new superintendent fell through when acting superintendent Dr. Wallace Hunter withdrew his name and MH-MR officials decided the only other applicant needed more management experience, Dr. Jimmie R. Clemmons, deputy commissioner for mental health services, said.

In November, the board decided to readvertise.

A second round of advertising for the post began early this month. Screening and interviews of applicants could come in early April, Clemmons said and

"Hopefully, we'll have the appointment of a new superintendent sometime in April."

Clemmons acknowledged, however, that the April date is an optimistic one.

A board meeting usually is held on the third Friday of each month, but that might change in April because of Good Friday.

To date, two applications for the job have been received — not nearly as many as Clemmons had hoped for by this time.

More applications are expected to be filed within the next two weeks, however, an MH-MR personnel spokesman said Monday.

Clemmons said the position of state hospital administrator is especially hard to fill for several reasons.

"There have been a number of lawsuits against state hospitals," Clemmons said, "so getting someone to go into a position where there's a likelihood of a lawsuit is hard to do."

Ferguson threatened to sue MH-MR officials after she was fired, claiming discrimination against her as a woman and because of her religious persuasion. She has yet to carry out that threat, MH-MR Chief of Legal Services Kent Johnson said, but a suit could be filed at any time.

The firing came last summer after several members of Dr. Ferguson's staff complained that they could no longer work in what they described as an atmosphere of disharmony and suspicion.

Lemmons also noted that often a superintendent will be sued even without any direct involvement in the situation that prompted the lawsuit.

"There's a lot of responsibility in the job, too," he said, "and the differential between the superintendent's salary and other top physicians (at the hospital) is not that big."

$1,525,030 budget

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Colorado City's city council approved a budget of $1,525,030 for 1981-82 during a budget workshop held Monday evening, an increase of $184,660 over last year, most of which are fixed expenses.

The budget will include an across-the-board ten percent pay raise for city employees.

Also approved was a new water rate: $7.50 for the first 3,000 gallons, $1.20 per thousand gallons for the next 97,000 gallons and $1 per thousand gallons for more than 100,000 gallons.

The budget will be presented formally at a public hearing April 6, at which time the council also plans to talk to Weldon Hardegree regarding making property available for a city landfilled site.

Big Spring's sales tax rebates in first quarter up 25 percent

State Comptroller Bob Bullock cites new accounting timetables as the reason Big Spring and many Texas cities showed a drop in sales tax rebates for March. Despite the drop for the month, Big Spring's rebates for the first quarter of 1981 have risen by nearly 25 percent compared to the same period last year. Payments for the first quarter of this year total $318,438.24, compared to $253,243.20 for the first quarter of 1980.

The rise has come about despite a drop in March payments to $63,001.89, compared to $155,994.91 for the same month last year.

The situation is apparently the same in a number of area cities. Coahoma received $1,832.60 for March of 1981, compared to $3,396.43 for the same month last year. But first quarter totals show that Coahoma has received $6,737.20 so far this year, compared to $5,920.49 for the same period in 1980.

Colorado City rebates for March dropped from $17,075.07 last year, to $10,593.74 this year. First quarter totals, however, rose from $32,938.71 last year, to $48,240.68 this year.

Lamesa rebates dropped from $63,595.43 in March of 1980, to $27,663.02 for March of this year. First quarter payments rose from $109,999.16 last year, to $175,243.20 this year.

Sanctor rebates dropped from $6,381.29 in March of 1980, to $2,790.62 for March of this year. First quarter payments rose from $9,901.17 last year, to $11,866.72 this year.

Bullock said rebates of the optional one-percent city sales tax this month total $37.9 million statewide.

The March payments will raise 1981 payments to date to more than $162.5 million, up $23.8 million over the first quarter totals last year.

Houston's check this month is $8 million for a yearly total through March of $32.9 million, a 20 percent increase over the 1980 first quarter.

Dallas will receive a check for $4 million, bringing that city's 1981 payments to date to $18.3 million, an 11 percent increase over the first three months of 1980.

Fort Worth will receive $1.3 million for March. Fort Worth's payments for 1981 total $6 million, compared to $5.6 million during the same period in 1980, or a 7 percent increase.

San Antonio's rebate for March is $2 million bringing that city's payments this year to $8.7 million, a 14 percent increase over the 1980 first quarter payments.

Bullock said most cities received smaller payments this month compared to March of last year because of a change in the agency's accounting period and processing timetable but that generally 1981 payments are ahead of the 1980 rebates for the first three months.

The city sales tax is collected along with the state tax by merchants and businesses and rebated monthly to the cities in which the tax is collected by the comptroller.

Hijack problems persist for Syria

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — The hijacking is over for most of the hostages but not for Syria. It's left with a bunch of Pakistanis who didn't want to leave home, three hijackers it doesn't know what to do with, an American wanted on drug charges in the United States and a Canadian believed to be an escaped convict.

The hijackers of the Pakistani airliner and the 54 political prisoners released by Pakistan in response to the hijackers' demand are being held under heavy guard at the Damascus Airport Hotel while the Syrian government decides what to do with them.

Libya agreed to give them and the hijackers asylum, then reneged. So far, they have been granted only temporary asylum by Syria.

A member of the hotel staff reported many of the freed prisoners said they want to return to Pakistan "to continue the struggle against the government of President Zia ul-Haq."

He quoted a spokesman for the prisoners as saying, "None of us wanted to leave Pakistan," and that Zia's government forced them to go.

They were exchanged Saturday for the 101 passengers and crew members who were held hostage aboard a Boeing 720 jetliner for 13 days in Kabul, Afghanistan, and Damascus by three heavily armed young opponents of Pakistan's military regime.

President Zia said Pakistan got rid of "some bad eggs."

One of the freed hostages,

Craig Clymore, 24, of Laguna Hills, Calif., has been indicted in New York on charges that he was a member of a ring smuggling heroin and hashish oil into the United States. The State Department revoked his passport and said he would be issued documents for travel only to the United States. But for the time being he was holed up in a Damascus hotel.

Another freed hostage who passed himself off as Lawrence Clifton Mangum of New York City was arrested by Syrian police at the request of the Canadian government. It tentatively identified him as an escaped convict named Lawrence Lome, who escaped from Canada in 1976 while serving a seven-year prison sentence for importing drugs.

Neither the United States nor Canada have an extradition treaty with Syria, but officials in Washington and Ottawa expected the Syrian government to cooperate in sending the men home.

The 86 Pakistani passengers and the crew of the airliner Pakistani jetliner flew to Saudi Arabia Monday for a pilgrimage to Mecca, Islam's holiest shrine, as guests of the Saudi government. They are to be flown home Wednesday.

The other freed American hostage, Frederick Hubbell, a 30-year-old lawyer from Des Moines, Iowa, flew to Frankfurt, West Germany, for a reunion with his wife Charlotte, and his parents.

Editor named in El Paso

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Harry Moskos has been named editor of the El Paso Herald-Post to succeed outgoing editor Pete Lee, who is retiring at the age of 65.

The appointment, announced Monday by Gordon Hanna, general editorial manager of Scripps-Howard Newspapers, is effective April 1.

Moskos, 44, came to the Herald-Post as executive editor last September from the Albuquerque Tribune, where he was managing editor. Moskos is a graduate of the University of New Mexico and has also worked for the Grants, N.M. Daily Beacon, and the Associated Press.

Jobs depend on energy...
let's keep on working.

We Americans have always understood that we can't get something for nothing. We're hard-working people. One of the things that has kept us working, and kept our standard of living climbing here in the Southwest, has been a ready supply of reasonably priced electric energy. It makes our labor more productive, and helps hold down the cost of the goods we produce. It helps keep our industries competitive, and that enables them to grow and employ more people.

The costs of energy everywhere keep rising. But an even bigger problem is making sure we have enough electric energy here. At your electric company, we're working to keep this area attractive by supplying the electricity we all need at reasonable cost. We're planning ahead to keep our supply abreast of the need, so business and industry can plan confidently for their future here. Because that means jobs here.

How to forget your fear of buttonholes

CLEVELAND — Buttons are very much in the fashion picture for Spring. According to Jan Saunders, Elma Sewing Machine Company, however, many seamstresses avoid patterns with buttons because they fear sewing buttonholes.

"The buttonhole attachment found on many older sewing machines was hard to use," said Ms. Saunders. "Most machines now have a built-in buttonhole foot which is the type that makes buttonholes in one step, there still remains the problem of getting all the buttonholes the same size."

If sewing buttonholes causes you problems, the following advice from Ms. Saunders should help you achieve professional looking results with ease:

"If you don't have a buttonhole foot with length markings on it, mark off the dimensions of your buttonhole length on the fabric by putting a piece of cellophane tape at either end of the buttonhole," said Mrs. Saunders.

For the proper buttonhole length, measure the button's diameter and add the height of the button plus 1/8 inch for the bartacks.

"Using a good quality mercerized cotton or long-staple polyester thread, sew a test buttonhole on a swatch of the fashion fabric between the two pieces of tape. Be sure the fabric swatch is the same thickness as the finished garment, with all layers of interfacing, etc., included.

"You may want to cord a buttonhole for extra wear and stability in stress areas," she added. "A corded buttonhole is easy to cut open and generally wears better than a buttonhole that's been stitched over a couple of times. A buttonhole foot with prongs that hold the cording in place is helpful here. If one is not available, be sure to use a zigzag stitch wide enough to sew over — not through — the cording."

After the buttonhole is sewn, all that's needed to open it is a very sharp seam ripper. First, using the back side of the ripper, part the two rows of stitching to expose the fabric. This is called the 'cutting space.' Cutting the buttonhole open from the center to the bartack, pierce the cutting space near the center and bring the ripper point back up through the fabric in front of the bartack, and cut. Do the same to the other end of the buttonhole to finish cutting it open.

"To machine sew a button on without a shank, simply 'baste' it to the fabric with cellophane or basting tape. Then set the machine at 0' stitch length (or lower the feed dogs so the fabric doesn't move), and set the zigzag width, and set the stitch between the holes," said Ms. Saunders. "Sew each set of holes using about six to eight stitches.

Crucial habits are formed in teen years

Your son's or daughter's teen years represent a difficult period; no longer a child, not yet accepted as an adult. It is a period of great physical and psychological, and often ignored nutritional needs.

The teen years are marked by physical growth, putting additional demand on needs for protein, carbohydrates, vitamins and minerals. These nutrients are needed daily to build healthy bones, muscles and organs.

Many teens may not be meeting these needs because: Breakfast may be skipped or replaced with foods high in carbohydrates and fats and low in nutrients. Lunch and dinner are often eaten "on the run" and away from home. They become weight conscious and may eat very little, severely limiting the amounts of nutrients their bodies receive daily; and some vent their frustrations by overeating.

Solutions to these problems lie in keeping less nutritious foods to a minimum. Replace soft drinks with juices.

Dear Abby

Well of Confession Best Kept Capped

DEAR ABBY: I am a 28-year-old single female engineer working in an oil field. I've worked for the same company for four years and am making a very good living.

When I was new in this business, and insecure in my position, I was pressured, or you might say, "sexually harassed," by a fellow engineer who was much older than I. He got me into a lot of good (and harm) in the company. He got me home several times and I had no choice except to comply with his wishes, so I did. I never told anyone. Fortunately, after a while he stopped bothering me.

Now I am involved with another engineer who recently joined the company. He is more my age, single, and I am really in love with him. We haven't advertised the fact that we're seeing each other because we figure the less talk, the better.

My problem is that the older engineer has sort of taken the younger one under his wing, and they have become very friendly. I am worried sick that the older engineer will tell the younger one about what went on between us.

So far I haven't said anything, and I don't plan to, but I wonder if that is wise. Should I keep quiet and hope he doesn't find out? Or should I tell him myself and hope it won't make any difference?

NOT OK IN OKLAHOMA

DEAR NOT OK: What was, was. If the younger engineer confronts you about the older one, don't lie. But for now, save your confessions for the confessional.

***

DEAR ABBY: I am a 39-year-old man who has recently started dating a very attractive 37-year-old woman. We both enjoy theater and movies — especially comedies, and that's the problem. Abby, this lady's laughter attracts a lot of attention. She doesn't just laugh, she screams and hoots! I am sure I am not overreacting. When she laughs, people turn around and look at us.

I'm afraid if I ask her to try to hold it down, she will become self-conscious, and that would spoil the entertainment for her.

I am a fairly quiet person and dislike being conspicuous. Should I remind this lady that too-loud laughter is embarrassing? If it weren't for this one fault, she would be an ideal companion.

EMBARRASSED IN MINNEAPOLIS

DEAR EMBARRASSED: Hearty, explosive laughter is characteristic of an uninhibited, outgoing personality — a healthy plus. Furthermore, it's appropriate to laugh at comedy, so why not accept the lady as she is?

***

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to marry Jeff in a few months, but a problem has developed.

I have three cats who are like a part of my family. Jeff hates them and is jealous of the attention I give them. Now he tells me that after we married he doesn't want to see any cats around the place! Abby, I really do love Jeff, but I just cannot see myself parting with my cats. What should I do?

TORN IN TOLEDO

DEAR TORN: If you are honestly "torn" between Jeff and the cats, you'd be better off with the cats.

WEDDING BRINGS KENNEDYS TOGETHER — Sen. Kennedy and estranged wife Joan leave New York's St. Ignatius Loyola Catholic Church Saturday following the wedding ceremony of their nephew Michael Kennedy, son of the late Sen. Robert Kennedy, and Vicki Gifford, daughter of sportscaster Frank Gifford.

Wedding is attended by sports, political figures

NEW YORK (AP) — Michael Kennedy, son of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, and Vicki Gifford, daughter of sportscaster Frank Gifford, exchanged wedding vows Saturday at a landmark Park Avenue church crowded with a who's who of political and sports figures.

About 100 spectators stood outside St. Ignatius Loyola Church to get a glimpse of the Kennedy clan and the other guests, many of them rich and famous.

Besides the groom's mother, Ethel Kennedy, the wedding was attended by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts and his estranged wife, Joan; Sargent Shriver and his wife, Eunice Kennedy Shriver; and Pat Kennedy Lawford. Also on hand were National Football League President Pete Rozelle; sportscaster Howard Cosell and Don Meredith; and two of Gifford's former football teammates of the New York Giants, Alex Webster and Charlie Conerly.

Joan Kennedy arrived in a taxi with her two sons, Edward Jr. and Patrick, and the senator came by limousine with their daughter, Kara.

The children sat between the two during the ceremony and the entire family walked to the altar together to receive communion. Caroline and John Kennedy, the children of the late President John F. Kennedy, walked several blocks to the church from an East Side apartment but their mother, Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, did not attend, nor did the groom's grandmother, Rose Kennedy.

INFORMATION CENTER — The College Heights' PTA maintains a bulletin board in the school's main entry. Current issues concerning education and legislation appear on the board to keep parents informed of events, changes and trends in these areas.

PTA delegation confers with Texas lawmakers

More than 700 Texas PTA members convened in Austin today for the fifth annual "PTA Day at the Capitol," according to the Big Spring Council of the Parent-Teacher Association.

PTA members from across the state visited the Senate and House galleries during session, toured the Capitol, visited their legislators and lunched with many of the lawmakers.

Governor Bill Clements, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and House Speaker Billy Clayton were expected to meet with the PTA delegation, as were Senator W. E. Snelson, chairman of the Senate Education Committee; Representative Hamp Atkinson, chairman of the House Public Education Committee; and Rick Salwen, legal advisor for the Texans' War on Drugs Committee.

Current legislation of particular interest to the 700,000 members of the Texas PTA includes the War on Drugs legislation: a five point legislative program which has been declared emergency legislation by the state; teacher competency testing bill; bill to raise legal age of drinking; teacher's pay raises; recognition of master teachers; expansion of pilot program for alternative learning centers and the creation of parenthood pilot programs.

Texas PTA asks that members contact their legislators in support of these and other bills pertaining to youth and education.

Of particular interest to Big Spring PTAs is the Legislative Budget Board's recommendation to increase state funding of public libraries. Big Spring PTAs were responsible for a resolution adopted at the Texas PTA convention in favor of this measure.

Though current efforts include some to slash appropriations for public libraries even lower than their current support, House Speaker Billy Clayton has introduced a bill in support of increased library funding, according to Howard County Librarian Judith Gray.

For information on the status of any bill, persons may call toll-free 1-800-252-9693 in Austin.

To keep parents informed on education and legislative issues, College Heights' PTA maintains a bulletin board in the school's main entry, according to College Heights PTA President Diana Bailey.

PTA's March bulletin board at College Heights features information on the six candidates for the Board of Trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District, and urges parents to vote on April 4.

Delegates attending the convention from Big Spring were Mrs. Angel, Mrs. John Hogan, Mrs. E.W. Greer, all of the Big Spring Garden Club; Mrs. O.S. Womack from the Rosebud Garden Club; Mrs. Guilford Jones of the Rosebud How to Grow Garden Club and Mrs. Cass Hill of Planters Garden Club who also represented the Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs.

District meeting is held

Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. held its 35th annual District I meeting March 3-4 in Lubbock at the Koko Palace.

The meeting opened with the District I judges annual meeting March 3 at the Municipal Garden-Arts Center with Mrs. Dick McGuire, president of District I Judges Council, presiding. Officers were installed for 1981-83 by Mrs. O.S. Womack, Big Spring, District litter chairman and master judge.

The theme for the District Convention March 4 was "Plan, Plant, Protect."

Mrs. Carroll Anderson, District I Director, was presented at the business session at 9:30 a.m. Mrs. Lee Coil, convention co-chairman, presided over the business meeting. Mrs. G.W. Basham, awards chairman, presented awards to Big Spring clubs as follows: The Director's Citation went to the Rosebud Garden Club for planting a pecan tree in the Southern Zone at Midland College honoring Mrs. Carroll Anderson, outgoing director of District I; a director's citation for being 100 percent on District I Gardener magazines and second place on speech contestant, Joni Avery.

The Rosebud How to Grow Club won a Director's Citation for being 100 percent on District I Gardeners.

The Luncheon at 12:30 p.m. honored state officers and chairmen scholarship recipients and convention workers. Mrs. Charles O. Ice, 1st vice-director, presided.

The program, "Reflections in Shakespeare's Garden" Flower Designs, was presented by Mrs. John Ewald, El Paso. Mrs. J.K. Somerville, 1st vice-president of Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., installed officers. Mrs. Clyde (Annie Matt) Angel, wife of Big Spring's mayor, was installed as Southern Zone District I chairman of Texas Garden Clubs, Inc.

Stenholm champions cause of the saver

Cong. Charles Stenholm, who represents Howard County and the 17th Congressional District in the U.S. House of Representatives, is on the right track.

The past week, Stenholm introduced legislation he maintained would provide one of the most important inflation-free tax cuts to effect lower and middle income Americans this year.

The bill (2240) would boost the amount of the exemption of certain interest and dividend income from taxation, raising the amount of tax-free interest from $200 to $1,000 for a single person and from $400 to $2,000 for a married couple filing a joint return.

STENHOLM THINKS this will

All in name

Art Buchwald,

A man stopped me on the street in Manhattan the other day and asked me to sign a petition.

"What's it for?" I asked him.
"We want to change the name of the Bronx to El Salvador."

"Why El Salvador?"
"WE FIGURE IF we change our name we can get as much economic aid as El Salvador is getting. We worked it out that what Reagan is cutting out of the budget for the Bronx comes to exactly what he is putting into El Salvador."

"My good man," I said, "you can't compare El Salvador to the Bronx."

"You ever been there?" the man asked.

"To El Salvador?"
"No, to the Bronx. We're the same size as El Salvador and we got as many problems as they do."

"But sir," I said, trying not to get the man angry, "El Salvador is being threatened by 10,000 guerrillas."

"We got more than that in the Bronx. It's safer to walk in the jungles of El Salvador at night than it is in the parks of the Bronx."

"But your people get your arms right here in the United States. The guerrillas in El Salvador are being supplied by the Russians and the Cubans. That's why we're giving El Salvador aid and taking it away from you."

"I'm not too sure I follow that," the man said. "You mean just because our guerrillas in the Bronx can get any arms they want, right in this country, we're not entitled to American aid?"

"That's correct. The $100 million is not aid for El Salvador, but a message to Russia and Cuba to keep their hands off Central America."

"Well, why can't the people in Washington give us $100 million so it will be a message to the Soviets to keep their hands off the Bronx?"

"Because the Russians don't want the Bronx."

"How come?"

"They've seen it on television."

"THAT'S WHY I want you to sign the petition, man. If we can change the name of the Bronx to El Salvador, maybe they'll want it, and then we'll get some of that money they're throwing at the people down there."

"I don't believe the Russians can be that easily fooled."

"I know they can't, but I figure the people in Washington can be. Hell, I don't think there's a dozen people in the capital who know where El Salvador is."

"I think you would be better off, instead of changing your name to another country, if you changed it to a new weapons system," I said.

"What are you talking about?"

"If you called the Bronx 'the MX Missile System,' I could get you $30 billion, with no questions asked."

"It doesn't matter. The only real money that's going to be spent in this country for the next four years is going to be for armaments. If you have a sexy military name, you'll get all the money you want."

"It would be nice if you did. Everyone wants the U.S. to have an MX system, but no one wants it in their own back yard. If the Bronx offered to put it there, the military would be very grateful to you, and reward you handsomely."

"So you think that's a better deal than changing our name to El Salvador?"

"I really do," I told him. "Giving El Salvador $100 million would be a one-shot thing. But they're going to have to pour money into an MX missile system forever."

encourage many people to save. At the present time, the U.S. savings performance ranks the lowest among the major industrial countries. Japanese citizens save a rather astonishing 20 percent of their disposable income. West Germans put back 13 percent. Americans, on the other hand, save only about five percent of their disposable income.

Even the English, whose country has become synonymous with high inflation and low productivity, manage to set aside 11 percent of their net income.

It is Stenholm's contention that his bill would not only encourage increased savings but would help reduce interest rates, control inflation and encourage vitally needed capital formation.

The National Association of Realtors points out that more than 80 percent of all tax returns on which interest income is reported are filed by tax payers earning less than $25,000.

"WHEN YOU LOOK at this as a percentage change in taxable income," Stenholm said, "the lower the income level, the greater the tax relief to that individual. The elderly, generally in a low tax bracket, and those whose interest income comprises approximately one quarter of all income they receive in any given taxable year, would be particularly affected by this bill."

Stenholm said his bill would serve as companion legislation to the Small Savers Provision, introduced earlier by U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen (who also hails from Texas).

"This type of tax relief would take a serious step toward reducing the penalty forced on those who try diligently to save, only to see any advantage eaten up by inflation," Stenholm said. "And by putting more money into savings we can make that capital available for investments in industry and housing needed to increase our productivity and thereby curb inflation."

The Republicans are getting the credit for initiating legislation for tax reform in Congress but not all the worthwhile pieces of legislative logic are being introduced by members of the GOP. Stenholm was swept into office identified as a conservative and a level-headed thinker and he's living up to the reputation.

Insight on 1999

Around the rim

Richard Horn

It was midnight in New York's Central Park in that smoldering summer of 1999. Samuel woke up, stretched, and looked up at the sparkling stars in the sky overhead. It was a beautiful, clear night. Peaceful and quiet.

It would stay quiet until the tourists started coming later in the month. They would come to enjoy the clear air and sense of history and excitement that only New York City could provide. Some would go to rent... cabins on... by the side of the Hudson — others would see the Manhattan and see the historic sights from New York was the financial capital of the United States and the world.

SAMUEL PICKED himself up off of the cool grass and started for the park exit and the street. He was feeling a bit melancholy and nostalgic tonight for it was seven years to the day that he had come to New York from his West Texas hometown. His family had left the town after it had been bought with Canadian money and renamed New Edmonton. It seemed like decades ago. So much had happened that it seemed difficult to grasp it all.

The few years before and after Samuel's family moved to New York were known as part of the Texas Decade. It was a time when the ideals of Texas became the ideals of the nation. Samuel remembered the joy most people felt when the Staubach-Henderson ticket won the Presidency. Industries and workers moved West by the thousands. It was as though the country had found its youth west of the Mississippi.

But it was a tough time. Just a few days after the star-studded inauguration, America was hit with the shock of Survival Saturday. The TV networks, in a frantic attempt to get the big story first, prematurely announced a nuclear holocaust. Thousands of people in the Appalachians and northern Rockies began shooting people on sight, fearing them to be hungry mobs from the bomb-ravaged cities. Samuel's own grandfather was killed when he asked his neighbors if he could borrow a screwdriver. Samuel shook off these horrid memories as he reached the street and made his way to the tall skyscrapers, most of them now empty monuments, and felt relieved that he was not here when the city was full of people. It was a lot different now.

Many of the... Staubach administration. Just two years after his election, President Staubach gave first "Damned if I can figure out economics" speech and the next day put half the U.S. Government up for sale. The Lincoln Memorial was bought by Disneyworld, the Washington Monument ended up in Boise until it was blown up by sagebrush rebels from the ILA (Idaho Liberation Army). The Statue of Liberty was bought by a Houstonian and put in Galveston Bay, where it was hoped it would ward off communists from the Socialist Republic of Mexico.

SAMUEL REACHED the subway station. The doorman smiled and opened the huge glass door and Samuel walked down the stairs to wait for his train. On the walls of the station were a number of ads for the new model cars — the ones with the Thompson guns mounted on the hoods. Those ads were there to grab the attention of tourists from the south since no one in New York had reason to own a car.

The train finally came and Samuel walked onto the plush carpeting of the subway car. He sat down on the couch nearest the door and looked up at the Norman Rockwell prints on the ceiling and felt glad that he lived in a place where dreams could still come true.

The role of spine in sciatica

Dr. Paul G. Donohue, M.D.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Can you please tell me about the cause of extreme discomfort of the sciatic nerve? Also, what do I do to relieve it? It prevents good sleep and also gives me knee problems. — Mrs. E.S.

In the lower part of the back, nerve roots from that area of the spine merge into one large nerve that passes downward to the legs. This is the sciatic nerve. Sciatica is a symptom of something wrong with that large nerve or its roots.

There may be low back pain or pain anywhere from behind the buttock to the ankle. The pain is aggravated by moving the leg or the back. Because this nerve system is so long, the cause of pain at any given point may be caused at a point far removed from there. There may be a protruded disc, one of the cushions between the blocks of bone that make up the spinal column. Such a disc can press on a nerve root and the pain be felt in the buttock or leg. A cause may be found anywhere between the spine and the point of pain.

For the sake of another example, an abscess in the muscles of the buttocks can press on the nerve. Sciatica is not an illness itself, but an indication that something is wrong with the nerve somewhere along its path in the body.

The exact cause must be found, then treatment can be instituted. You can see why it would be futile for me to attempt to give you any tips about easing your problem yourself. The booklet "Backache and Spine Problems" discusses the role of these nerves in various pain symptoms. For a copy, write me in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I have constant salivary in my mouth. I hope you can advise me as to what kind of a doctor to see for such a problem. I am constantly chewing until my mouth and lips are sore. I get relief when I remove my dentures. — Mrs. R.P.

The very first person I would consult would be a dentist. Since you do get some relief when you remove your dentures, it seems likely that they may be the cause. Perhaps they are throwing the alignment of your mouth off enough to irritate the jaw point. That irritation can result in salivation.

I don't know for sure, but I would start there. Then, after a dental examination, if the problem is not there, I would see an ear, nose, mouth and throat doctor. They are experts in problems of the salivary glands also.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I am 48 years old and had only three periods in 1979 and last year had none. How many months do I have to miss menstruation to be sure of no longer becoming pregnant? — Mrs. R.

To be sure pregnancy will not occur, a woman should practice birth control for a full year after her last menstrual period. But she should also be certain that the menstrual periods have stopped because of menopause and not for some other reason. That is, she should have some of the other symptoms of menopause — the hot flashes, for example. If she has none of the other symptoms, she ought to consult her physician to confirm her fertility status.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Dear Editor:

So much is heard and said about ripoffs by oil companies when the price of gasoline jumps 17c per gallon in 3 weeks' time. This is a non-renewable product of the earth and, based on prices in other parts of the world may not be too high. That question is debatable.

But how about some of the prices in the stores where food is sold? I have in my hand a 1-lb. package of PRO-VITA, a ready-to-eat cereal, purchased two weeks ago for 89 cents. Today, I went back there for more to find the price of $1.23 marked thereon — an increase of 38 percent. This was at a store on Gregg St. No, it was not in error because some of the old prices had been inked out and new price labels added.

It would not have been surprising that a 10 cent increase or thereabouts had been posted. In reading the label, I saw none of the ingredients in which the raw materials had taken such a jump within such a short time, the 38 percent.

The point I want to make is that everyone talks about the high price of gasoline but forgets to watch the other items which are even more necessary than fuel. If we would check these prices and call to the attention of the seller the fact that we are aware of such outlandish increases; they might be more reluctant in making the high increases.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: As a Christian, I know I ought to keep my mind on spiritual things a lot more than I do. But I am so easily distracted. How can I practice the presence of God completely? — Mrs. F.B.

DEAR MRS. F.B.: I want you to look closely at what the Bible commands us in Colossians 3:1-2: "Since, then, you have been raised with Christ, set your hearts on things above, where Christ is seated at the right hand of God. Set your minds on things above, not on earthly things." Notice that his is something God commands for us — not an option. In the rest of the third chapter of Colossians Paul gives us some ways we can do this.

First, there has to be a definite commitment on our part to Christ and his will. Is Christ Lord of your life? Do you honestly want to serve him and be closer to him — even if it costs you in terms of time and makes you rearrange your priorities? If you have never settled this issue, I urge you to turn your life over to Christ without reserve, telling him that you want to follow him in every area of your life. This may mean you need to repent of sins that have taken root in your life, and turn your back on them.

Then give priority to the Word of God. God has given you the Bible, and you will never grow closer to God if you neglect it. Set aside a definite time each day to study it prayerfully, and apply its teaching to your life. "Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly" (Colossians 3:16). Memorize passages in the Bible also, and when you are tempted to turn your back on Christ, bring those passages to mind. When Satan tempted Jesus, he replied with God's Word (See Matthew 4:1-11). There is an old saying: Satan will keep you from God's Word, or God's Word will keep you from Satan.

Also turn your mind to Christ in prayer. You can pray anywhere, and about anything. Don't just pray for your own needs, but pray for others as well. God also has given you other Christians, and their fellowship can be very helpful in drawing you close to Christ.

Middlemen

Jack Anderson,

WASHINGTON — The Reagan administration has made no secret of its belief that Nicaragua is transshipping Soviet armaments from Cuba to the leftist guerrillas in El Salvador.

What has not been made public, though, is the evidence our intelligence agencies have gathered of a reverse flow of non-military supplies from Nicaragua to Cuba. As with the military smuggling, the Nicaraguans are the middlemen — but this pipeline runs from the United States to Nicaragua to Cuba.

Despite the 20-year U.S. economic boycott of Cuba, it is now possible once again to buy goods in Havana bearing the label "Made in U.S.A." Intelligence analysts have concluded that the U.S. boycott is being circumvented by using Nicaragua as a clearinghouse for American goods that Fidel Castro badly needs.

FOR EXAMPLE, ONE U.S. company has sold huge quantities of agricultural chemicals to Cuba through the Nicaragua connection. In some cases, my sources say, the shipments have not been offloaded in Nicaragua, where the cargo vessels simply touched port briefly before shoving off for Cuba.

Still other American companies have acted in good faith, but are becoming suspicious that the goods sold to Nicaragua were actually intended for transshipment to Castro. One tire manufacturer, for example, has sold Nicaragua tires that do not fit any trucks known to be in use in that country. The tires, however, will fit Soviet-made trucks the Cubans have.

Intelligence sources told my associates Dale Van Atta and Bob Sherman that U.S.-made farm machinery shipped to Nicaragua is also ending up in Cuba. Ironically, the American machinery goes to Castro, while Soviet machinery provided to Cuba is delivered to the Nicaraguans.

Drug companies are apparently major profiteers in the illegal breach of the Cuban boycott. Intelligence sources indicate that some drug makers are afraid the U.S. government will impose civil or even criminal sanctions for pharmaceutical shipments to Nicaragua that could not be any stretch of the imagination be used only within that country.

Reagan aides have the intelligence reports in hand, and are reportedly using them in the development of their overall Nicaraguan policy. A final decision on resumption or termination of U.S. economic aid to the Nicaraguan junta is expected in the next few days.

MEANWHILE, OTHER intelligence reports have described the Nicaraguan leadership's communist connections. Nicaraguan interior minister Tomas Borge, who is close to Castro, has been quietly seeking aid from other foreign leftists.

For example, last April Borge made a secret visit to North Korea to arrange arms shipments to Nicaragua. The meeting was set up through Borge's ties to the Palestine Liberation Organization. These date back to his days in the Sandinista guerrilla forces, which ousted the late President Anastasio Somoza in July 1979.

The Nicaraguans have also approached the Soviet Union directly for assistance, but have been turned down — at least publicly. Nevertheless, intelligence sources believe there has been some covert aid from Moscow through its Cuban puppet.

For example, a major Nicaraguan airport was closed for three hours last Feb. 25. During that period, at least two light Soviet tanks were unloaded from unidentified aircraft, plus a large amount of spare parts for military helicopters.

ANGRY ANGLER — Rep. Berkley Bedell, D-Iowa, is a self-made businessman. He developed a superior fishing lure and made a small fortune.

Now Bedell is going after a really big fish — Mobil Oil. Bedell wants the government to stop subsidizing the oil companies' development of energy innovations, and he has picked out Mobil in particular because of what he considers the company's base ingratitude for its help from Uncle Sam.

It's not just that Mobil has run ads claiming sole credit for a chemical catalyst that converts coal to gasoline — without mentioning the $3 million the government spent to make the chemical commercially profitable. Even worse, in its ads, Mobil repeatedly criticizes government involvement in the energy field — which strikes Bedell as hypocritical.

What particularly irked the congressman was a statement reportedly made by a Mobil official to a group of investment analysts: "If I had a good idea, I'm going to do it myself; if I have a lousy idea, I'm going to get the government to finance it so I don't lose any money."

Commented Bedell: "If the catalyst is as good as their ads claim, and if government support is as bad as the company claims, then the Mobil Oil Corp. ought to put its own money where its mouth is."

A Mobil spokesman claims the government's $3 million was "small when compared to the many millions" the company spent developing the catalyst.

HEADLINES AND FOOTNOTES — The General Accounting Office is buying better-than-economy class airline tickets for some of its officials on international flights of more than six hours. The reason given is the extra room and less crowded atmosphere — not the fancy meals and free booze that the $150 extra cost provides... In addition to all its own troubles, the Democratic Party is now getting Lyndon LaRouche. He's the 1978 Labor Party candidate who entered a few Democratic primaries last year and was resoundingly ignored by the voters. Now he's formed the "National Democratic Policy Committee." When an aide claimed official status, the Democratic National Committee firmly denied it. "Well, we're a group of Democrats," replied the LaRouche aide.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Considerable confusion and muddled thinking exists later in the day, so make a point to make important decisions earlier. You begin to see things more clearly in the evening.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Go to the right sources for the data you need. Don't take advice from those who are not cognizant of all the facts.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Obtain important information about a project you are interested in before you go ahead with definite plans. Use your wisdom.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you handle routine duties in a more up-to-date way, you get more benefits. Study a new plan before making any changes.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Don't neglect important things in the day. Try to cooperate more with others.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Take care you don't take on any heavy expenditures of money in the evening. Allow time to engage in creative activity.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Postpone going ahead with a new interest you have in mind and wait until a better time. Evening is fine for recreation.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Improve the foundation of your life so you can have added abundance in the days ahead. Get rid of annoying conditions.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Iron out any problems with others in a quiet and tactful manner. Seek the company of congenials in the evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have to use careful thought in handling monetary affairs today. Use your intuitive faculties for best results.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Use a different attitude in handling a puzzling situation and you get better results. Relax in the company of friends tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have hidden desires that need more study before you pursue them. Strive for increased happiness.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Some of your friends may have problems so be sure to give a helping hand. Show others you have practical wisdom.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one who comprehends the problems of others and knows instinctively how to solve them. Be sure to give your gifted progeny the right education to bring out this ability. A busy life in this chart.

As league owners meet this week

Raiders, NFL primed for court meeting

MAUI, Hawaii (AP) — Changes in National Football League playing rules will be proposed today amid continued conjecture on the suit the Oakland Raiders and Los Angeles Coliseum have brought against the league.

The Competitions Committee makes the rules report, including one to lessen the penalty for pass interference, while the owners are expected to stand fast in their determination not to let the Raiders move from Oakland.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle was asked if he expected a vote on the Oakland situation after the ballot went 22-0 a year ago. He answered, "Not unless the Raiders ask for one."

Rozelle said the league expects the antitrust case will go to trial and eventually could reach the United States Supreme Court.

Asked if he would step down if the Raiders should win the litigation, the commissioner answered: "As long as I enjoy being part of the league, I will want to stay. If any circumstances occur, including personal, that I don't enjoy it, I will step down."

Rozelle would not enjoy a victory by the Raiders' managing general partner Al Davis. Yet he emphasizes he is only acting for the other 27 NFL team owners in this fight.

"I have a contract that says I enforce the constitution and by-laws," Rozelle said as the league's negotiations began. "That is what I am doing."

He told the media he saw no out-of-court settlement in the Raiders case which goes to trial on an antitrust accusation shortly. The loser is expected to appeal.

Asked if a victory by the Raiders and LA Coliseum in district court would mean the Raiders would be able to move immediately, the commissioners said that depended on the jury verdict or what the appeals court says when it receives it.

He said that a full appeal procedure probably would take more than two years.

Rozelle based his opinion of no out-of-court settlement of the Raiders' matter on the fact "four corners are involved."

He named them as the Oakland Coliseum and Raider fans, Al Davis and the Raiders, the Los Angeles Coliseum and fans there and the 27 defendants — meaning the other NFL owners.

The Los Angeles Coliseum seeks a replacement for the Los Angeles Rams who moved to Anaheim in adjacent Orange County starting with the 1980 season.

Davis claims the Oakland Coliseum has not increased seating nor made improvements during the team's tenure. The Oakland Stadium holds 54,615. The Los Angeles Coliseum could hold 90,000.

He also said Larry Farmer, a Bruin assistant basketball coach for six years and a player under former coach John Wooden, would be the new UCLA head coach.

Nets General Manager Charlie Thekoks confirmed late Monday night that Brown, a former coach of the

It's for sure, Brown leaving UCLA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — After two winning seasons at UCLA, Larry Brown has been lured back to the National Basketball Association as coach of the New Jersey Nets.

He disclosed his decision to the Bruins at a closed-door meeting with them Monday, and although he would not confirm he was leaving, two players who asked to remain anonymous said that was what Brown told them.

They also said Larry Farmer, a Bruin assistant basketball coach for six years and a player under former coach John Wooden, would be the new UCLA head coach.

Nets General Manager Charlie Thekoks confirmed late Monday night that Brown, a former coach of the Denver Nuggets, had signed to coach the team starting next season.

Thekoks, in an interview with ABC Radio Sports, said: "We're really excited about Larry and about next year. We feel we have half turned around our program and with the addition of Larry Brown we feel next year basketball in New Jersey will be exciting."

Several players were near tears as they filed out, one-by-one, from Monday's meeting in Pauley Pavilion.

Freshman center Kenny Fields, who had been dropped from the team and then reinstated by Brown, said: "We hate to see him go. Coach has a tendency to get real close to his players. Wherever he goes, I hope he keeps in touch."

Brown had been rumored to be leaving UCLA for the past month, but said he would wait until after the Bruin finished the season to make a decision. Monday's talk with the team came two days after the club lost its opening game of the NCAA tournament.

He becomes the third UCLA head basketball coach to leave in the past six years. Following the end of Wooden's 27-year reign at the school, Gene Bartow, Gary Cunningham and Brown each guided the team for two years.

This season Brown's 10th-ranked Bruins, who suffered an embarrassing 78-55 NCAA playoff loss to BYU Saturday, finished with a 20-7 record. In 1979-80, Brown coached the team to a

As in goodbye, ranked teams

Bye has new meaning in NCAA

The other teams to receive first-round byes, then leave sooner than expected, were UCLA, Wake Forest, Kentucky, Louisville and Iowa. Along with LSU, the "bye" teams still alive are Notre Dame, Virginia, Tennessee, Illinois, Utah, North Carolina and Indiana.

"Considering all the other upsets," Notre Dame Coach Digger Phelps said Monday, "we are awfully happy to be where we are right now."

Thursday night it's Brigham Young, 24-6, vs. Notre Dame, 23-5, and Virginia, 26-3, vs. Tennessee 21-7, in the East Regionals at Atlanta; and Kansas State, 23-8, vs. Illinois, 22-7, and Utah, 25-4, vs. North Carolina, 26-7, in the West at Salt Lake City, Utah.

Friday night it's LSU, 29-3, vs. Arkansas, 24-7 and Wichita State, 25-6, vs. Kansas, 24-7, in the Midwest in New Orleans; and St. Joseph's, 24-7, vs. Boston College, 23-6, and Alabama-Birmingham, 23-7, vs. Indiana, 22-9, in the Midwest at Bloomington, Ind.

Notre Dame has been a giant killer of sorts dating back to the 1940s. More recently, the Fighting Irish have halted winning streaks of 28 games by Virginia (this year), 26 games by DePaul (last year), 29 games by San Francisco (1977), 34 games by South Carolina (1974), 40 games by Wake Forest (1974).

Now Notre Dame faces the unenviable task of trying to put the clamps on Danny Ainge. BYU's scoring machine whose 37 points last Saturday helped demolish UCLA's once-awesome Bruins 78-55.

In the schools' only previous meeting, in New York's Madison Square Garden Dec. 28, 1956, the Irish routed the Cougars 91-66.

"We couldn't have been more impressed with Brigham Young after watching them beat UCLA," Phelps said. "Danny Ainge is a true All-American and the rest of their players complement him so well."

"They've got tremendous size up front, yet they run the fast break as well as anyone. They look like a lot of the Olympic teams you see because they are big and physical. They beat UCLA at their own game, and I didn't think anyone could out-quick UCLA."

They'll have to come out and try to take charge right away and just hope that Orlando Woolridge can help us at least to some extent."

Woolridge, a 6-foot-9 senior forward, is their main man under the boards, but he's suffering from a recurring thigh injury. If he can't perform, 6-6 Bill Varner will take his place. "I don't know whether we'll be able to count on Orlando or not," Phelps said.

In San Angelo JHS Relays

Goliad girls tough

SAN ANGELO — The Big Spring Goliad girls scored 87 points to take third place in the rugged San Angelo Junior High Relays here this weekend, narrowly missing second place.

San Angelo Edison won second place in the meet, outdistancing the Goliad girls by one point. The champion was Midland Goddard, which scored 93 points in edging Edison and Goliad.

Latria Cork spearheaded the Goliad effort by coping a first place in the 300-meter dash. She also claimed a second place ribbon, as did Amanda Solis, Millie Correa, Tammi Green, Carletta Lewis, and the 800-meter relay team of Joy Tate, Lewis, Isabella Ward and Jo Ann Ezeili.

The Goliad girls return to action on April 4, at which time they compete in the Monahans Relays.

Forsan girls valiant in Sterling City meet

STERLING CITY — The Forsan girls track team put on a valiant effort here Saturday in the Sterling City Track meet, rolling for 87 points and missing the first place trophy by only one-half point.

Klondike's girls won the affair with 87 1/2 points.

Forsan's effort is outstanding when considering that they have only seven girls out for track. For this reason, Coach Ron Taylor noted, there were many events that the Buffalo Queens couldn't compete in due to numbers.

Karla Cregar and Christi Adams both achieved a pair of first place ribbons, while Teresa White had one first place.

One of Cregar's first place ribbons set a new Sterling City meet record, as she

Big 10 flexing muscles in NIT

BY KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The Big Ten is looming bigger every day in the National Invitation Tournament.

On the verge of the quarter-finals, Minnesota, Purdue and Michigan are all still standing tall — and looking pretty healthy at that, according to their latest victims.

"That team was 9-9 in the Big Ten — and it gives you an idea of how they play basketball in the Big Ten," said Connecticut Coach Dom Perno after suffering an 84-66 humiliation at home to the Gophers Monday night.

"They got inside people, they got outside people, they have seven quality players and will be tough to beat in the NIT."

So will Purdue, which beat Dayton 50-46 in another second-round game Monday night.

"They just manhandled us on the boards," said Dayton Coach Don Donohor. "It was a case of finesse."

Those games were two of seven played Monday night as the NIT field dwindled to eight teams. Elsewhere, Syracuse whipped Holy Cross 77-57; Duke stopped Alabama 75-70; South Alabama nipped Georgia 73-72; West Virginia edged Temple 77-76 in overtime and Tulsa downed Texas-El Paso 72-67. Michigan scored a runaway 80-68 victory over Toledo in the only NIT game played Sunday night.

The results set up the following quarter-final pairings: Michigan and West Virginia at Minnesota on Thursday night and Duke at Purdue and South Alabama at Tulsa Friday night.

Trent Tucker, hitting 14 of 17 shots from the field, scored a career-high 35 points as Minnesota rolled past Connecticut. Seven-foot-two sophomore center Randy Breuer added 19 points for the Gophers, 16 in the second half when the Big Ten team pulled away from a tight 37-33 lead at intermission.

"I felt I couldn't miss," said Tucker. "Our team is oriented to the big guy (Breuer), but I had the rhythm, and the coach told me to put it up."

Tucker entered the game with a 14.1 average.

"Tucker has been a real good shooter," said Minnesota Coach Jim Dutcher. "But he just proved himself a little more tonight."

Forward Mike Seacore had three baskets and two assists in the final seven minutes to help Purdue beat Dayton. Dayton was forced to play most of the game without Mike Kaneskie, its leading scorer and rebounder for the season.

The 6-10 junior center sprained his right ankle taking a jump shot at the 17:02 mark of the first half.

He was sent to the hospital for X-rays, which were negative, at halftime after soaking the ankle in ice. Later, he returned to the Flyers' bench on crutches.

Tulsa blows big lead, but still dumps UTEP

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Tulsa Coach Nolan Richardson says his Hurricane played its "best 35 minutes of defense of the year" in putting together an 18-point lead over Texas-El Paso.

But the last five minutes almost eliminated the Hurricane from the National Invitation Tournament.

Mike Anderson hit two pressure free throws with 12 seconds left to allow Tulsa to survive a UTEP rally, 72-67, Tulsa, 23-7, hosts South Alabama in the third round of the NIT Friday night.

"I never expected to win this game by a big score," Richardson said. "But after playing our best 35 minutes of defense of the year to get the big lead, I was disappointed that we allowed them to make it so close."

Richardson said his team was guilty of "some silly things" and contended officiating hurt his club at the end.

UTEP Coach Don Haskins, for whom Richardson played in college, was also critical of the officiating and said questionable calls "let us get back in the game."

"We had absolutely no intensity," said Haskins, whose Miners end their season at 18-12. "I thought we were ready to play, but we weren't. This was the most we've been behind all year."

Tulsa outscored the Miners 25-5 to zoom from a 27-25 first-half deficit to a 50-32 lead early in the second half. Tulsa was ahead 65-47 with 5:44 left when UTEP began its comeback.

Forward Paul Cunningham reeled off 10 points to spark the rally and pull the Miners to within 68-66 with 14 seconds left. Anderson, who finished with 14 points, made it 70-66 with 12 seconds left and Phil Spradling hit two insurance free throws with 6 seconds left.

Tulsa hit 32 of 49 free throws, including 10 of 18 in the final 7:25 when the Hurricane did not score from the field.

Fred Reynolds tossed in 24 points and grabbed 10 rebounds for the Miners. Tulsa got 12 points from Paul Pressey and Bob Stevenson and 10 from Greg Stewart.

Kuhn sure fans not fed up yet

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn said he does not think there will be a player strike this year.

Kuhn, in Arizona to visit spring-training camps, said Monday while watching the San Francisco-Seattle game at Phoenix Municipal Stadium that he doesn't consider the current impasse over free-agent compensation to be a serious threat to the sport.

Asked why he thinks owners and players will be able to get together, Kuhn replied: "My tummy tells me so."

The executive board of the Major League Players Association voted unanimously Feb. 25 to strike May 29 if the compensation issue is not resolved by then.

Kuhn said he thinks a solution will be reached once the two sides devote their full attention to doing so.

"I think once the spring camps are over and both sides sit down to some serious bargaining, the issue is eminently solvable," he said.

"The union is in no rush. That's not an abnormal thing in a union-management situation."

Kuhn said he does not agree with the idea that the public is becoming fed up with baseball's labor-management spat.

"This kind of happening has gone on for 15 years," he said. "I think the fans take it pretty much in stride."

Navratilova finding success again after parents go home

BY WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

Parental concern is nice if you're a little girl in pigtails and ribbons but, if you're over 21 and an independent-minded multimillionaire, it can be a drag.

Martina Navratilova found it so when her parents and little sister moved in on her last year and took much of her attention away from tennis, which is her livelihood.

"I love them dearly," said the gifted Czechoslovakian defector Monday when she came to New York to promote the $300,000 Avon Championships March 25-29 in Madison Square Garden, "but they were miserable over here."

"I am not one to cry 'wolf.' I don't complain when my shoulder hurts. But it was a troublesome year for me. I had to take care of them financially as well as emotionally."

Martina's father, Mirek, mother Jana and little sister Jana returned to Prague at the end of last year after eight months in this country. America wasn't for them. With fewer responsibilities, Martina's tennis game, which had been in the doldrums, suddenly came to life again.

The 24-year-old left-hander, twice winner at Wimbledon and No. 1 in world women's rankings in 1978 and 1979, has won four of the six tournaments on the Avon winter tour, losing only two matches, and is the top-seeded favorite in the climactic Avon Championships.

Although three of her strongest rivals — Chris Evert Lloyd, enjoying a sabbatical with her family; Tracy Austin, sidelined by a sciatic nerve, and young Andrea Jaeger, with a foot ailment — haven't been fit to challenge, Martina refuses to concede that her winter's success would have been different if everybody had been well and active.

GOOD FOOD, GOOD HEALTH — A smiling Martina Navratilova displays a tray of Czechoslovakian delicacies Monday in New York during a promotion for the $300,000 Avon Championships tennis competition to be held in New York's Madison Square Garden, March 25-29.

Congressman
Charles W. Stenholm
Congressional Comment
America cannot afford to lose inflation fight

WASHINGTON, D.C. - During his initial unveiling of proposed budget cuts, President Reagan challenged Democrats in the Congress to either support his plan or come up with a better plan. The Conservative Democratic Forum (CDF) has basically done both. We support the general level of cuts, but reserve the right to increase or change the numbers to improve on the chance of success of a more conservative government.

PROPOSALS included in the plan are:
Private financing of the Strategic Petroleum Reserve. This proposal assumes that all capital and management costs will continue to be funded by the government, but that transferable equity certificates will be issued to the public to fund the acquisition of oil to fill the reserve. Proposed two-year outlay savings or revenue increase: $7.4 billion.

Eliminate investment value of home purchases from the Consumer Price Index used for cost of living adjustments for federal entitlement programs. The CPI, as currently figured, measures housing costs in a way that overstates the actual rise in the cost of shelter and the importance of housing in total living costs. It uses housing purchase prices which reflect not only the cost of shelter but also the investment value of housing. Savings: $2.1 billion.

Reductions in federal and multilateral aid. Basically, the proposal entails a 10 percent across-the-board reduction in such aid and development programs, including their administrative budgets. Savings: $635 million.

Repeat of Davis-Bacon requirements that workers on federal projects receive the union scale, instead of an average locality rate. This then tends to increase the construction costs to the government as well as implicitly protecting unions from non-union competition.

Farabee, Shaw votes recorded
Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN - Voting action was a bit slow in the Texas Senate and House this past week and most votes were unanimous and routine.

HOUSE
In passage to final reading of a Senate bill barring deductions from state employee pay checks unless approved by the legislature, opponents of the bill say it will be used to prevent state employee groups from having union dues deducted.

SENATE
On an amendment to a bill to reorganize Courts of Civil Appeal into courts with both civil and criminal jurisdiction. The amendment mandates the election of additional justices for the 3rd Court of Appeals at Austin rather than appointment by the governor, as with other new courts.

Dr. Brillhart named area 2 vet of TAHC
