Reagan lifts grain embargo

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Reagan said today he is lifting the grain embargo against the Soviet

In a statement read to reporters at the White House, the president said he was lifting the embargo "after weighing all options carefully and conferring fully with my advisers." Read by deputy press secretary Larry Speakes, the statement also referred to Reagan's opposition as a presidential candidate to the embargo and said the decision to lift the ban was delayed out of concern the Soviets might "mistakenly think it indicated weakening of our position."

Vickie Daniel to keep her children by default

LIBERTY, Texas (AP) - After the longest child custody trial in Texas history, Vickie Daniel was allowed to keep her two youngest children by default - but that was good enough

"I didn't understand what had happened at first," Mrs. Daniel said late Thursday, after jurors voted that neither she nor her sister-in-law, Jean Daniel Murph, should be awarded custody of the children.

But when a child-custody jury makes that ruling, Texas law provides that custody and all rights automatically go to the natural parent and once that was explained, Mrs.

Daniel was a happy woman.
"I am elated," she said, amid congratulatory hugs from spectators and relatives in the packed courtroom. "I'm so happy I'm going to go home and hug my children."

Jurors had deliberated almost two hours before deciding not to name a "managing conservator" for the two young sons Mrs. Daniel bore former Texas House Speaker Price Daniel Jr. - a man she is accused of killing.

The jury had three options in deciding custody of Franklin Baldwin Daniel, 3, and Marion Price Daniel IV,

They could have awarded the boys to Mrs. Murph, their aunt; to Mrs. Daniel, their natural mother, or to neither woman — the option they finally chose.

"Say some prayers and take care of those kids," said Mrs. Daniel's attorney, Richard "Racehorse" Haynes, as he shook his client's hand. Havnes said the decision bolstered his "unbroken, unbridled faith in the jury system," and was the "most acceptable verdict for Vickie Daniel and the system." Under the "neither" ruling, all rights - including visitation - are denied Mrs. Murph and the rest of the powerful Daniel family. "I think the issue is closed now." said one of Mrs. Murph's attorneys, Andrew Lannie. "I don't foresee an

Like it or hate it, daylight savings time arrives Sunday

Late risers can steel themselves for the change from standard to daylight savings time, which takes place at 2 a.m., Sunday.

At that hour, the clocks theoretically move forward to 3 a.m., and will remain that way until Oct. 25, when standard time will be resumed.

If you have been used to sleeping late, you might have trouble adjusting to the change because it won't be nearly as light at, say, 6 a.m., as it will be on Saturday.

Some people look forward to daylight savings time because it gives them an extra hour of daylight to play golf, mow the yard or what ever it is they like to do in the evenings. Others hate it because they like to toddle off to bed at 10 p.m., and it's still not completely dark.

Like it or hate it, though, daylight savings time will be here Sunday morning and will be around for six months. Make the most of it. Some people continue to ask: "Do we move our time pieces ahead or do we move them back?" The best advice to follow is: "Spring forward, fall back." And this is spring

Atlanta authorities are split on validity of CORE evidence

ATLANTA (AP) - Authorities are split in evaluating information provided by a civil rights leader who says he has identified a "psychopath" responsible for some of the 25 slayings of young blacks here. The FBI says it is "plausible." But a prosecutor says the information will probably "go down the drain" once checked.

Fulton County District Attorney jurisdiction in 18 of the 25 killings, also was critical Thursday of the attention the FBI was giving to information from Roy Innis of the Congress of Racial Equality. He said "the FBI really gave it more credence" than it deserved.

Meanwhile, missing persons investigators today were searching for a 21-year-old black man who is similar in stature to three of the last four victims.

Jimmy Payne, last seen Wednesday, was described as standing 5 feet 3 and weighing 130 pounds. No decision has been made on assigning his case to the special police task force investigating the deaths because authorities have not determined that it fits the pattern of the other cases, said police spokeswoman Marion Lee.

Innis announced at a news conference in Atlanta Wednesday that CORE had "broken" the case by finding a "psychopath" responsible for at least six of the killings. Innis said CORE had the person under surveillance

Slaton said the public statements by Innis would probably hurt the police probe "a great deal" if true. Slaton said he feared that CORE surveillance would tip off the person being watched. "If I was the killer, I'd figure I was under surveillance" and try to slip away, Slaton said. At the news conference, Innis produced an envelope he said contained a picture of a suspect and spoke formation about the suspect. Innis refused to identify the witness or the suspect, but an aide, Larry Mitchell, said Thursday that the suspect was a black man who obtained victims to be killed The Miami Herald and the Knight Ridder News Service reported today that the witness was a woman from Hollywood, Fla., near Miami, who had a drug problem.

"She's a heroin addict," said her brother. "Everybody knows she doesn't have father.

Her father was quoted as saying he hadn't known that she was being guestioned about the Atlanta case.

Sen. East holds back vote to define beginning of life

WASHINGTON (AP) - Amid charges that congressional hearings are been tilted in favor of antiabortion forces, Sen. John P. East, R-N.C., is scaling back ambitious plans for legislation that would redefine life as beginning at conception.

East, one of the most conservative freshmen senators, says he is abandoning his plans to have a Senate panel vote on the legislation by the middle of next month.

"We've got a long way to go," he said. "When these hearings are over, no one will be able to say that they were not complete, fair and exhaustive.

The prospectively long and brutal battle over the proposal to give fetuses constitutional rights opened Thursday before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee on separation of powers. Six members of a women's liberation group were arrersted on charges they disrupted the hearings.

Among the eight witnesses scheduled to testify today, only Dr. Leon Rosenberg of the Yale University Medical School was considered a supporter of legalized abortion.

There were complaints that East had tilted the hearings in favor of antiabortion forces led mainly in the Senate by Jesse Helms, R-N.C., who sponsored the bill.

Rehab Opry criticized prior to performance

The Rehab Opry, scheduled here at 7 o'clock Saturday night in the Municipal Auditorium is drawing an unusual amount of criticism from some local residents.

The abilities of the performers in the show have nothing to do with the complaints offered by the people here.

Instead the critics argue that a number of local people might be laboring under the impression that the Opry is raising funds for the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, which is located

None of the funds derived from the show will go to the local center, the opry critics point out

Instead, the net profits go to the West Texas Rehabilitation Center of Abilene, which is the sponsor of the Saturday event.

Jim Weaver, president of the board of directors at the Roberts Center, said the local facility had been receiving calls from area residents asking to purchase tickets for the Rehab Opry from the local center. Weaver said the fact that the sponsor was not made clear during earlier announcements of the event has perhaps led many people to this wrong impression.

Weaver explained by saying that the West Texas Center was allowed to solicit funds from a much larger area of the state than the local rehabilitation center, and should have considered holding the Rehab Opry in another city since the local area was already being served by the Roberts Center.

"I can understand their need to raise funds for their center," Weaver said. "We are all in the same situation. We all need funds to provide the treatment that is needed by many residents in our area who are unable to afford to pay for these required services," he continued.

"We're doing a good job of taking care of our own," Weaver said. "The Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center treats close to 200 patients per week," he said. And while it may be true that the West Texas Rehabilitation Center does treat a few people from this area, it would be very hard to believe that they could be serving anywhere near the number of patients from this area who are being treated by the local center," he said.

"I feel the Rehab Opry will be taking funds from the Big Spring community," Weaver said, "that are needed by the local facility to continue providing the professional treatment the center has become known for.

"Most of us who have been confronted with situation," he said, "would have preferred that the West Texas Rehabilitation Center have remained in their specified solicitation area. We just do not feel that having overlapping funds raising functions benefits either facility." he said.

FRESH WATER FROM AN OLD WELL

The day you turn your face from sin to God; the day you look away from your own works, your own feelings, even your own faith — unto Jesus; the day you cease struggling; the day you see that faith is simply depending upon Jesus as a bankrupt debtor depends upon his endorser; the day you begin to so depend upon and confess Christ as your Saviour; that day God will save your soul, and through that selfsame, simple faith will you become a son of God.

Dr. Richard Niebuhr has well expressed the watered-down concept of God and of salvation which characterizes much present-day religion: "AS God without wrath, calling a man without sin, to a kingdom without judgement, through a Christ without a Cross."

Truck, bus industry is massive

The truck and bus industry in Texas is likely bigger than you think.

A total of 2,791,588 trucks and buses operate within the state's boundaries. The industry employs 490,700 people, who share a payroll of more than $6.5 billion annually. That averages out to more than $13,251 per employee.

THE INDUSTRY PAID over $656 million in state and federal highway users taxes in 1980. That averages out to more than $1.8 million a day.

Fresh fruits and vegetables raised in Texas find a big market out of the state. For instance, 68,800,000 pounds of Texas produce are marketed in the city of Chicago, another 56,200,000 in New York and Newark, 46,300,000 pounds in St. Louis, 43,500,000 pounds in Los Angeles. All are shipped by

The true figure would stagger you.

And get this, I'm not all that crazy about your song, either!

A long expanse of wet weather can turn a person nasty. The clouds seem two feet above your head, and the air is so viscous and clammy it rides like a tumor in your chest. A week of rain can bring on one of those ill-defined ailments of the soul, with symptoms such as paralysis of will and heaviness of heart, that only sunshine

THE BRIEF RESPITE from the deluge, however, proved one thing: Rainy days in West Texas know how to end well.

In a sky that sprawls as far as human sight allows, the spectacle of midnight-black turning tail before infinite turquoise is nature at her most eloquent. Spring steps delicately out of the showers minus a layer of winter grit, drip dries, and sweetens the air with its new purity.

In the wilder places, after a rain, the green lurks on the edges of things, in competition with the natural brown and dusty-slate colors of the prairie. Brighter colors look eccentrically flashy on that pale canvas.

But, of course, there are more mundane signals that the curtains are about to open on this annual, one-act melodrama. Lawns begin to resemble Kansas wheat fields, and owners begin to wonder whether the eightyear-old Toro can make it through the harvest one more time.

On most Saturday mornings, you can retrieve the mail barefooted, but each night there's a debate about whether to swap the heavy winter blanket for a lighter one. With the heavy blanket, you sleep with a leg and half a torso hanging out; with the lighter one you just freeze.

The frantic pace of basketball has almost wound down, making way for the slower rhythms of baseball; an even trade of sweat-stained hardwoods for fresh air and Astroturf. So what if they're playing in snow in

It sounds corny to say that spring is a season of hope and dreams. But really, it freezes or soaks you one day, roasts you the next so you don't know which end is up. What else is it good

Reserves incentive

Jack Anderson,

WASHINGTON The conflagration in El Salvador is spreading across the border into Guatemala. and the Reagan administration is already drafting plans to provide the Guatemalan generals with military equipment.

The administration is expected to justify this increased involvement in the turmoil in Central America on grounds that the Guatemalan guerrillas are getting support from Cuba by way of Nicaragua. But there is another, more compelling reason that will not be mentioned: ala has oil. Though still barely tapped, its oil deposits could make Guatemala a rich country in a few

FORMER PRESIDENT JIMMY Carter cut off military aid to both Guatemala and El Salvador to show U.S. disapproval of their military dictatorships. But last January, he resumed military assistance to the embattled Salvadoran junta, which had replaced the old dictatorship 18 months earlier.

President Reagan increased the arms shipments and dispatched military advisers to El Salvador in the belief that the Soviets are fanning the flames of rebellion there. Secret intelligence reports, including intercepted messages, link the Kremlin to the Cuban-Nicaraguan activity.

Now I have learned that Reagan will soon resume military aid to Guatemala which, unlike El Salvador. is still ruled by the same repressive military regime.

Intelligence reports exist which will buttress Reagan's decision to make Guatemala yet another arena of East-West confrontation. My associate Bob Sherman has seen a confidential Defense Intelligence Agency analysis, which reports:

"A tape recording recently captured in a skirmish with Guatemalan guerrillas has provided convincing evidence of Cuban and Nicaraguan complicity in organizing, directing and supporting the Guatemalan Revolutionary Movement. 'Socialist' countries may have already been contacted to supply arms and supplies, which are to pass through Cuba and Nicaragua before being forwarded to Guatemala.'

IF THIS HAS a familiar ring, it should. Captured documents established the link between Salvadoran guerrillas and Soviet-bloc nations, which justified the Reagan administration's anti-communist alarums and excursions in El Salvador

The DIA appraisal claims that guerrilla strength in Guatemala is minimal, and "only small-scale insurgent activity is anticipated in the near term." My sources say the administration hopes that renewed U.S. military aid will help the Guatemalan generals eradicate the leftist rebels before they have a chance to grow into a real threat.

The stakes in Guatemala are high. A confidential State Department cable last month spelled out the oil prospects this way: "The optimistic view long held by most oilmen (is) that Guatemala does in fact possess significant reserves on the order of the Alaskan north slope."

Although Guatemala expects to 9 produce only about 15,000 barrels of oil a day this year, the cable notes that a petroleum consultant has advised the government it could be producing a million barrels a day within seven or eight years "if appropriate drilling incentives are adopted.

What worries the administration is that the United States may be losing out in the international competition to develop Guatemala's huge petroleum resources. Several years ago, Guatemala asked for U.S. help in exploiting its oil reserves, but got nowhere. The Guatemalans turned elsewhere. The State Department cable notes that "U.S. companies have been edged out by (the) French in promising exploration areas.

But the Guatemalans have once again asked for U.S. help, and our embassy in Guatemala City has urged favorable response, noting that experts believe Guatemala "could supply 10 percent of U.S. import needs ithin six to eight years.

WATCH ON WASTE: The Fish and Wildlife Service has been given more than $1 million to trap and study California condors, a gravely en-dangered species. But it has yet to trap its first specimen, because state officials aren't convinced the feds can do the job properly. In fact, a Fish and Wildlife Service scientist was responsible for the death last year of one of the 20 or 30 condors believed left in California.

- The Department of Energy hired Bectel National, Inc., to study the feasibility of running a Hawaiian sugar mill on solar energy. The government-funded Sandia Laboratory is also working on the project. Last week, nine employees irom Bechtel, Sandia and other subcontractors flew off to the project. Last week, nine employees from Bectel, Sandia and other subcontractors flew off to Hawaii for a two-day "review" at the sugar mill, at a cost to the government of some $10,000. The meeting had originally been scheduled for March, but was apparently postponed to give some conferees a chance to take a little Easter vacation in the islands.

Brady

Evans, Novak

WASHINGTON - A decision at the highest White House level rules out any new presidential press secretary during the convalescence of assassination-attempt victim James Brady, now recovering miraculously at George Washington University Hospital.

Until recently, White House chief of staff James A. Baker III and presidential counselor Edwin Meese III were casting about for an "acting" press secretary to serve until Brady returns. That return may be quite far off, at least several months.

BUT WHEN THEY thought it through, Meese and Baker, strongly backed by Ronald Reagan, changed their minds. Even with the "acting" in front of a new name, Brady would be bound to look upon the new man as a potential threat to his future - or worse, as an indication that the White House might feel Brady would not return to the job he loved. So signals were changed. Deputy press secretary Larry Speakes remains the president's spokesman.

HARD-NOSED WHITE HOUSE Lyn Nofziger's political office in the Reagan White House, until now used mainly to check the conservative purity of the president's appointments, is about to embark on a hard-nosed policy of threats and reprisals to pass the Reagan economic program.

House Republican leaders have been huddling with Nofziger and his aides to devise tactics for harassment of Democratic congressmen from marginal districts who oppose Pres' er' Reagan's budget and tax That includes both paid ittacks and the dispatch of an operatives into the offending congressman's district.

T'e two Nofziger aides bandling the tion are both experienced Rejublican political operatives: Lee Atwater and Paul Russo. Atwater, a South Carolinian well versed in Southern politics, is zeroing in on conservative southern Democrats.

HELMS AND THE EAGLE Sen. Jesse Helms tightened noticeably when Assistant Secretary State-designate Lawrence Eagleburger started a negative answer to the senator's question, in a private interview, as to whether he subscribed to the entire Republican

He wished he could say yes, Eagleburger began, but there was one part of the platform that bothered him. "I don't think we ought to do away with the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit," Eagleburger answered deadpan. But on the other aspects of the platform, he said, he had no problems.

Helms, a right-winger with a genial sense of humor, relaxed. But he still has no clearned Eagleburger for the post President Reagan wants him in. A potent figure on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Helms put a hold" on the nomination two months ago and will not remove it until he hears Eagleburger say in public, during confirmation hearings, what he told Helms in their long private meeting in Helms' office.

REAGAN MISSED TAKEOFF Although President Reagan had an unannounced plan to fly to the Cape Canaveral, Fla., launch of the Columbia the weekend of April 10, the cancellation forced by assassination attempt did not reduce his political profit from the most spectacular space trip ever made.

ANYTIME THE NATION scores a stunning success, such as the Columbia's voyage, the man who happens to be president always cashes in. What made this trip different was the president's physical inability to involve himself personally at the beginning or end of the flight.

The general rule is that if you have had an attack of gallbladder pain because of gallstones, the gallbladder should be removed, since a second attack is very likely and you might not be in as good a shape for the surgery then as you are now. That is the ideal BUT. The statement is also made that if you have NOT had an attack of gallbladder pain, but do have gallstones, and are over 50, then you can be watched without having to

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: How do you understand I John 3:6, which says, "Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: whosoever sinneth hath not seen him, neither known him"? Does this mean that if we commit any sins at all we are not Christians? - W.A.

DEAR W.A.: The problem here is mainly with the English translation which you are using. As you may know, the New Testament was originally written in Greek, which is a very expressive and precise language, and sometimes it is difficult to catch the full meaning of a passage when it is translated - although modern translations which seek to be accurate and faithful to the original text do an excellent job.

I suggest you look at a couple of good modern translations, which will help you see what the writer is saying. The new International Version, for example, says, "No one who lives in him (Christ) keeps on sinning. No one who continues to sin has either seen him or known him." The Amplified Version (which seeks to show the full meaning of the original Greek words) says, "No one who abides in him - who lives and remains in communion with and in obedience to him . habitually commits (practices) sin." The paraphrase of J.B. Phillips puts it this way: "The man who lives 'in Christ' does not habitually sin. The regular sinner has never seen or known him." Other modern versions translate it (and similar passages) along the same lines What the Bible is saying here is that person who is committed to Jesus Christ does not habitually and continuously sin. That does not mean he never sins - the Bible itself tells us that we will never be completely free of sin until we go to be with Christ in heaven. But it does mean that he does not willingly and knowingly continue a pattern of sinning in his life with no effort or attempt to live for Christ. A person who lives this way is not living for Christ.

Have you committed your life to Jesus Christ. Asking him to forgive your sins and also be Lord of your life? Remember - we trust him, not our own good works. But if we know Christ, our lives will begin to relfect him increasingly as we turn from sin and obey him.

How io and save

Fight, fight, fight skyrocketing food prices by taking a tip or two from the current Family Circle magazine how-to article Ways To Fight Food-

Flation. The following moneysaving tips on buying, storing, cooking and serving food are culled from the 110 suggestions in the article:

Big birds are the best buy. They usually have a lower price per pound than small ones, and they have more meat in proportion to bone.

Don't pay for self-basting turkey. If you don't have time to sit around basting, just drape the bird with cheesecloth soaked in oil before roasting. Remove the cloth for the last hour of cooking so the skin will turn brown and crisp.

Though powdered skim milk costs less than half as much as fresh milk, some people don't like the taste. Family Circle suggests pleasing powdered skim milk haters by dissolving the powder in cold water (according to package directions), then mixing it with an equal amount of whole milk. Chill it well before you serve

Don't throw out sour milk. Use it in baking. But for each cup of sour milk you use in a recipe calling for sweet milk, add 1/2 teaspoon of baking soda and eliminate 2 teaspoons of baking powder when the recipe calls for it.

Extend butter by mixing softened butter with an equal amount of corn oil and store it in the refrigerator to harden it a bit. It spreads well, costs less than butter and has fewer saturated fats.

Regular rice is cheaper than instant rice and cooks nearly as quickly (15 minutes, not 40 or 50) if you cook it like pasta. Bring lots of water to a boil (it won't be absorbed, so don't bother to measure it). Add salt and pour in the rice. Boil furiously, uncovered, and test if it's done after five minutes. Drain in a strainer.

Rook club to meet May 15

The Rook Club met April 17 in the home of Mrs. T.H. McCann, 702 Highland, Mrs. Pat Allen, Mrs. McCann's mother was hostess. Mrs. Layla Evans was a guest.

Two tables were in play and Mrs. S.R. Nobles won high score. A salad plate was served at the end of the game. Mrs. Hugh Duncan will host the May 15 meeting.

Rapid drying warps flood

damaged items

Prevent further damage to flooded furniture by slowly drying out items, advises Jane Berry, a housing and home furnishings specialist. After removing excess dirt and debris, bring furniture indoors to dry. Rapid drying in the sun-shine or intense heat will cause severe warping and twisting, she warns. Dr. Berry is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Government officials say they had to open up loan practices for financially strapped savings and loan associations or else alreadytight home-loan money would have dried up almost completely

But consumer groups say the new type of mortgage could "wreak total havoc" in the housing market and could cause people to overextend themselves when buying a home.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board, by a 3-0 vote Thursday, authorized federally chartered savings and loan associations to offer open-ended, adjustable-loan mortgages. Under such an agreement, a lender could raise a home-buyer's monthly payments, raise the total of the loan or lengthen the life of the loan in tandem with increases in market interest rates.

whipping Eagles

Spring Steers used a five-run outburst in the second inning and the pitching of Moe Rubio to open the second half of District 5-AAAAA with a 5-2 win over the Abilene Eagles here Thursday afternoon.

The win was a big one for the Steers, who also knocked off the Eagles in the first half. Abilene shared the first half with Abilene Cooper and Midland Lee, and the Steer win was a must. But in this half, every game is a must for the Big Spring crew.

It was the first game for the Steers since last Friday, when they eliminated themselves from a share of the first half title by losing to San Angelo 6-5. In that contest, the Steers committed a couple of costly errors. But this time, they were flawless in the field.

After a scoreless first inning, both teams got all of their runs across in one Blake Rosson led off with a walk, and one out later Tim Shaver tripled to plate Rosson. Tommy Olague followed with a single to score Shaver, and Beef Armendariz then singled Tommy Rodriguez then drew a free pass to first from Abilene hurler Brian Oden to fill the bases.

Oden then walked Mark Warren and a run in, and Abilene Coach Mark Elam yanked the Eagle starter in favor of reliver Jeff Waits. It didn't help, as Dickie Wrightsil slammed a single to left, scoring Armendariz, but Rodriquez was thrown out at the plate.

Abuene countered with a pair of runs off Rubio in the second on a pair of walks and a pair of hits. But that was to damage, although they threatened later. In each of the last three innings, Abilene had two runners on base, only to leave them stranded

Abilene Coach Mark Elam was obviously not impressed with the Steers, even though his Eagles haven't beaten them yet. "No way Big Spring is going to go undefeated in the second half. If they do, I wouldn't think much of this district," he

Although that's obviously sour grapes from a sour it not doubt could serve as a little fire for the Steers, who probably are still upset at blowing a chance to win a share of the first half title.

The Steers will have a chance to stay undefeated in the second half of 5-AAAAA play at home tomorrow when they host Odessa Permian. That contest, slated in Steer Park, will begin at two

The multi-directional game was first going Seaver's way. Cincinnati's star right-hander was working on a no-hitter for 61-3 innings and held a commanding 4-0 lead going into the eighth.

Then the roof caved in for Seaver at the Astrodome, as Houston scored four runs to tie the game at 4-4. But the Reds finally pulled it out in the 10th on Driessen's RBI single.

"At least we came back and won," said Seaver, who did not figure in the decision. "The way we've been playing, it shows excellent fortitude to keep trying. We didn't put our tails between Seaver had held the Astros hitless until Craig Reynolds singled to right in the seventh. Then Seaver was chased in the eighth when the Astros scored four times, three of the runs coming on a homer by Cesar Cedeno.

for Christians published NEW YORK, N.Y. - A Christians participate in $1.90 each from ADL's

Haggadah for Christians published last year by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith and the Catholic Archdiocese of Chicago was so well received that it has been reissued for the coming Passover, April 19-26.

According to Theodore Freedman, director of ADL's national Program Division, more than 25,000 copies of "The Passover Celebration — A Haggadah for the Seder' have been sold since its issuance. He attributed the book's popularity to the growing number of Christians in all denominations who either servances. "By repeating what Jesus, as a Jew, experienced in observing the Passover with his disciples, his modern followers hope to gain greater understanding of the roots of Christianity, Mr. Freedman said.

The 58-page recounting the exodus of the Israelites from slavery in ancient Egypt was edited by Rabbi Leon Klenicki, codirector of ADL's Department of Interfaith Affairs. It contains an introduction by Gabe Huck, director of the Archdiocese's Liturgy Training Program, which explains the special meaning of the holiday for Christians.

BSISD asks continuation

funding of Head Start Program

The Big Spring out and is in need of Independent School District replacement. has submitted an application to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for continuation funding of the Head Start Program for Howard County

The School District is requesting $260,795 from the funding agency with the applicant supplying a match of $58,418 for a total project budget of $350,508. The project start date is September 1981 and will continue for 12 months.

Primary goal of the Big Spring ISD's program is to insure that no young child shall lack the environmental stimulation and opportunity for him or her to fulfill the complete range of his or her environmental capacties. The secondary goal is to increase knowledge among parents and involve them in the basic educational opportunities of their child.

The program will serve 215 children ages 3 and 4 years old. Approximately 66 percent of these children are Spanish speaking, while 12 percent are Black and 22 percent are Anglo; 90 percent of these children will be from homes below poverty level. Funding ill provide for the following personnel: 1 Administrator, 10 teachers, 1 Nurse, 1 Social Worker, 10 teachers aides, 1 Clerk, 1 Bookkeeper and 1 Custodian. Bus transportation is contracted with the public schools and USDA school lunch funds are utilized.

The application states that the greatest problem encountered by the program is inflation. Increased funds have not kept up with costs and employee state pay raises. When a staff member gains several years experience they often transfer to other school district programs that can afford them. Also, some of the equipment utilized by the program has begun to wear
