Pope's assailant made plans to kill Queen Elizabeth II

ROME (AP) — The man accused of shooting Pope John Paul II told police he made plans to kill Queen Elizabeth

Mitchell group to join parade

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Mitchell County is making plans to implement its Centennial caravan plans by joining Big Spring's parade at 4 p.m., Monday.

According to caravan chairmen Joe and Vicky Weaver "we're looking forward to this out-of-town Centennial visit and appreciate the invitation from Big Spring to join its parade."

"We'll be taking lots of Centennial spirit and some surprises and certainly hope to add to all the West Texas enthusiasm that's being generated throughout the area."

The Mitchell County group plans to leave Colorado City at 2 p.m., Monday.

Final approval expected soon for 72-unit apartment complex

Final approval is expected soon for a new, 72-unit apartment complex to be built at 3500 Parkway.

Sid Smith, owner and general contractor for the $2.5 million project, will ask the Planning and Zoning Board on June 2 for permission to begin construction. If the board approves, the City Council will review the proposal on June 9.

Consumers cutting spending; national economy slows down

WASHINGTON (AP) — American consumers are finally cutting back their spending, and the national economy is slowing down with them, a new government report indicates.

Personal consumption spending increased 0.2 percent in April, the Commerce Department reported Monday. But that plus undoubtedly would have been a minus had not inflation driven up the prices of goods.

Such spending, which makes up more than 60 percent of the gross national product, had risen 1.4 percent as recently as January. But then it leveled off at about the rate of inflation before dropping in April.

The Commerce Department was releasing revised first-quarter GNP figures today, and analysts said in advance that the revision could show even more strength than the robust 6.5 percent growth reported last month.

But they also said that the growth was concentrated in January and that the economy has slowed considerably since then.

Two Commerce reports released Monday seemed to back that up, indicating that:

—Personal income rose only 0.6

percent in April, the smallest increase since last June, while spending climbed 0.2 percent, the smallest rise since last May.

—Housing starts rose 4.2 percent last month, making up only a little of the 27 percent decline recorded in February. And the department's acting chief economist, William Cox, said that "the housing sector is without a doubt going to be a negative influence on the next couple of quarters" of overall economic growth.

A separate Federal Reserve Board report showed U.S. manufacturers operating at 80.3 percent of capacity in April. That 0.3 percentage point increase — to the highest level in a year — was considered an indication that producers are not about to shut down entirely in the face of reduced consumer spending.

Taken together, the reports appeared to show the sluggish, basically flat economy that most economists — including those in the Reagan administration — have been talking about for some time.

He told us he went to London to make plans," said the police source, who asked not to be identified. The source said Italian police have asked British police to confirm Agca's description of his trip to England is true.

The source said the suspect, who is held at police headquarters with five guards in his room, told police he wanted to draw attention to the problems of developing countries by killing someone he considered a symbol of imperialism.

"He's a very strict Moslem," the source said. "He doesn't drink alcohol, he doesn't smoke, he won't eat pork. He hardly sleeps at all. He sleeps in an arm chair with his elbows on a table. He won't sleep in bed."

Agca escaped from a Turkish jail in November 1979 where he was awaiting trial on charges of murdering a journalist. He was convicted in absentia in April 1980 and sentenced to death.

Police believe extreme right-wing Moslem fundamentalist groups in Turkey helped him escape from jail and obtain a false passport that allowed him to travel in half a dozen European countries and six Italian cities.

Agca has insisted that he acted alone for "ideological" reasons, telling police he got money by extortion — not from a political group.

"He calls himself an idealist who acted completely alone," said another official who asked to remain anonymous in another interview.

"He said he did it as a noble act to attract public attention to the problems of the Third World, to the imperialism of the United States and the Soviet Union."

members of the special anti-terrorist squad of the police from being quoted by name in the press without authorization from the Interior Ministry.

The police source told The Associated Press that investigators believe there is a "fifty-fifty" chance that Agca acted alone, both in the planning of the attack against the pope and in the execution, as he claims.

House redistricting bill will favor GOP

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Texas House, where Democrats outnumber Republicans three-to-one, has voted for a congressional redistricting bill that one Democrat called a coup for the GOP.

House members tentatively approved the bill Monday, 103-41, with a final vote set for today.

The bill assigns the three new congressmen Texas receives by virtue of the 1980 census to Houston and Dallas-Fort Worth areas where the GOP has made sizeable gains in recent years.

Reps. Ron Coleman, D-El Paso, and Gene Green, D-Houston, said the House redistricting committee bill — despite Democrat control of the House — would give all three new seats to Republicans.

The leader of the Mexican-American caucus asserted that blacks and Hispanics had been "pitted against each other" in the jockeying for votes.

The bill allocates one of Texas' three new congressional seats to a Dallas-Fort Worth mid-cities area, another to Houston and the third to an area dominated by Houston but including suburban and rural counties to the north and west.

Corpus Christi is split, with most Anglos going into a coastal district that runs north into Brazoria County while Mexican-Americans join the district of U.S. Rep. Abraham Kazen, D-Laredo.

Mexican-American legislators protested the division to no avail.

Green, majority whip, failed in an 86-58 vote to put across an alternate redistricting plan approved by most members of the House Democratic Caucus.

The caucus plan would have preserved the re-election chances of Congressmen Bill Patman, D-Ganado, and Jim Mattox, D-Dallas, whom the House redistricting committee plan shoved into politically unfavorable new territory.

It also would have placed the three new districts in a Mexican-American area of South Texas, a solidly Democratic section of Houston and an area taking in parts of Tarrant, Collin and Denton counties. Nueces County (Corpus Christi) would have gone entirely into the South Texas district.

"In our plan, there are three new districts that could be filled by Democrats. Under the committee plan, there are three new congressional districts that probably will be filled by Republicans," Green said.

Green urged Democrats to reject bipartisanship, saying states with Republican-controlled legislatures were doing no favors for Democrats in their redistricting plans.

He also appealed to the state representatives to consider the impact of redistricting on the chances of House Majority Leader Jim Wright, D-Texas, to become speaker when Tip O'Neill steps down. Wright's chances depend on continued Democratic control of the U.S. House.

"I don't think we should get into Republican versus Democrat. That is really not our purpose. We need to look at the plan in terms of basic fairness and compliance with the law," said Rep. Tim Von Dohlen, D-Goliad, redistricting committee chairman.

Blacks voted against the Democratic Caucus plan because it did not carve out a district in Dallas County that a black congressional candidate could win.

Mexican-Americans supported the caucus plan because it included a new South Texas district where a Hispanic could be elected to Congress.

"I'm embarrassed to be here when we and the blacks are pitted against each other," said Rep. Paul Moreno, D-El Paso, chairman of the Mexican-American caucus.

It was discovered over the weekend that the committee map put U.S. Reps. Jack Brooks, D-Beaumont, and Ron Paul, R-Lake Jackson, in the same district.

Von Dohlen said the pairing was accidental and would be corrected by the House-Senate conference committee that will write the final bill.

"We must face up to the fact that partisanship has finally arrived in the Texas House. The Republican Party has effectively put together a bill that guarantees them three new seats and defeats two Democratic congressmen. The Republicans are to be applauded. This is one of the finest political maneuvers I've seen in five terms in this body," Coleman said.

Councilmen get first glance at master plan on Thursday

Big Spring City Councilmen will get their first glance at the master plan for a local capital improvements program during a special work session, 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

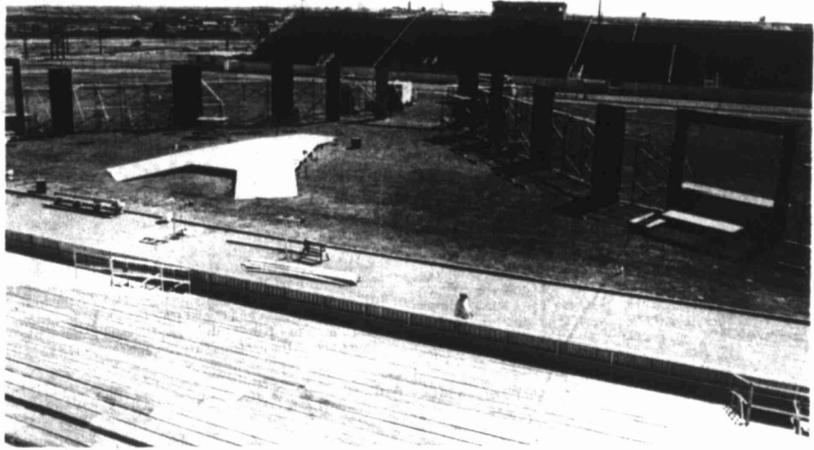

During the meeting, financial consultant Joe Smith, First Southwest Corporation, and Bennett Reeves, Parkhill, Smith and Cooper Engineering Firm, will present a schedule and method of payment for the first year of the improvement program.

The capital improvements program, approved by voters during a bond election last year, will include the resurfacing of several city streets and the renovation or replacement of many existing water and sewer lines.

Engineers were hired early this year to create a preliminary master plan and establish priorities for the approved projects, said City Manager Don Davis, this morning.

"The engineers have met with Joe Smith to review their preliminary schedule, and Joe has put together financial summaries to match," said Davis. "After the meeting, Thursday, the citizens should have a pretty good idea of when and where we'll be going to work on this."

PACKAGING FOR 'IRON HORSE REVUE' — Props for the 'Iron Horse Revue,' which starts here Thursday night in Memorial Stadium, are now in place and have been painted. The extravaganza taps the energies and makes full use of the talents of the 450 people of all ages who will be involved in the production. In all, six performances will be staged during the May 21-30 Big Spring-Howard County Railroad Centennial. Each performance starts at 9 p.m.

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Lake date

Q. I would like some information about Lake Abilene. I would like to know if we will be able to fish in it by spring (which is here) and who may we contact?

A. Abilene City Water Superintendent Dwayne Hargeshimer has said he will open the lake to the public as soon as the big equipment is out of the way and there is no danger. That will probably not be any time this summer.

PEGGY SUE WILLIAMS
Holds special awards

Special award goes to BSSH employee

Peggy Sue Williams of Coahoma was recently honored with a Special Employee Award in Austin. The award was presented by State Commissioner John J. Kavanough, M.D., at the 24th Annual Nutrition and Food Service Management Seminar.

Mrs. Williams received a personally signed letter from commissioner Kavanough and a framed certificate for her dedicated service to the clients at the Big Spring State Hospital and the special effort she has put forth to better qualify herself to serve these clients.

Mrs. Williams is scheduled to attend the NRA Convention held in Chicago, Ill., this week. She will be accompanied by her supervisor, Michele Mahaffey, Chief of Food Service Management.

Employed at the Big Spring State Hospital May 15, 1972, she began her career as a Clerk III in the Supply Department. She is presently employed as a Food Service Manager II.

She has attended Howard College at night for three years working toward a Management degree. She has maintained a 3.8 grade point average and in April was presented with a certificate of honor. Mrs. Williams will complete her associate degree in the near future.

She has received a certificate of appreciation from Big Spring State Hospital in 1977, was nominated for a commendation award in 1980, 1981 and the Board of Directors of The Credit Union. She is presently secretary for the Texas Public Employees Association and works to support any program associated with the Department of HMHR.

Her personal concern for improving employees education has helped many employees receive GEDs and take courses in Food Service and management at Howard College.

Peggy Sue is married to Tommy F. Williams. He is employed by Cosden Oil and Chemical. They have three sons: Robert, Eddie and Michael.

With a busy schedule as a wife and mother, career person and student, Mrs. Williams enjoys and finds time for other activities such as her animal friends which presently consist of a horse "Bojangles," a coonotee, numerous rabbits, a dog and a cat. She also loves working with plants, oil painting and sewing when time permits.

Two defensive driving courses offered at HC

The Howard County Junior College District will be offering two separate Defensive Driving courses, beginning June 10, according to Harold Wilder, a member of the Howard College staff.

According to a report issued by the National Safety Council, almost 40 percent of last year's motor vehicle accidents occurred during the months of June, July, and August, said Wilder. The report also said that in crashes with big cars severe enough to cause a fatality, passengers of small cars are eight times more likely to be killed than occupants of large cars.

These statistics show that motorists, and drivers of small cars, especially, should be aware of the dangers and be better prepared to operate their vehicles defensively, said Wilder.

Wilder added that the automobile industry estimates that by 1986, at least 50 percent of all new cars purchased will be small cars.

"There is no disputing the fuel-saving possible in driving small cars," Wilder said. "But drivers of small cars must be re-trained in how to drive those vehicles where big cars and trucks travel side-by-side with the small cars."

Howard College is making available its Defensive Driving course in eight one-hour sessions. The Defensive Driving course has been designed by the National Safety Council to reduce needless losses due to human error by teaching accident prevention methods and improving drivers' attitudes and behavior.

Wilder said the Council-proposed course teaches drivers how to drive to stay alive. "That is, how to drive to prevent accidents; all accidents; the big ones and the small ones."

Defensive Driving is available by calling Howard College at 267-6311.

Poster child for MOD attends local school

Michael Bessent, 4, has been named the 1981-82 poster child for the Caprock Chapter of the March of Dimes. He will serve Howard and other surrounding counties.

Michael, like thousands of children born each year in the United States, has multiple birth defects. He was born with spinal bifida, and is hydrocephalic. Michael also has myelomeningocele with scoliosis. He is impaired in his lower extremities, uses a wheelchair and requires extensive bracing.

Michael also underwent open heart surgery last year at St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock, to repair a hole in the ventricle walls of his heart.

The youngster has attended Moss Elementary School for the past two years. His hobbies include his puppy, Sandy, watching Sesame Street, finger-painting and sometimes going to work with his father.

Michael's sister, Angela, 7, is a help, as she enjoys playing with her brother. The two live with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rickey Bessent at 3707 Dixon. Bessent is employed by Kin Ag Corporation out of Roscoe. Mrs. Bessent is a homemaker who devotes many hours to the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation.

Brownlow to exhibit art at May 23 fair

David Brownlow, an artist with a well-known following, will be one of the many artists and craftsmen participating in the first annual Spring Arts and Crafts Fair to be held Saturday, May 23, at the Dora Roberts Community Center and grounds surrounding Cosden Lake.

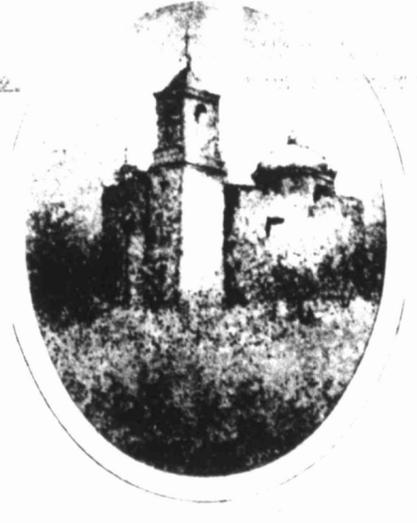

The fair, which is being held in conjunction with the local centennial celebration, will be open from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. and is free of charge to the general public.

Brownlow, a native of Fort Worth, is a self-taught artist who has painted since childhood. The winner of the numerous awards and prizes, he says that the only art education he acquired was from public library books.

Having exhibited in numerous juried shows throughout the states of Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Colorado, Alabama, Arkansas, Michigan, New Mexico and Ohio, Brownlow is represented in the permanent collections of the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts, Fort Worth Art Museum, Beaumont Art Museum, Worcester Art Museum in Massachusetts and the Junior Service League of Longview Memorial Library.

David Brownlow is also represented in the private collections of such well-known people as Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bellamy, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hope, Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Rockefeller, Hal Wallis, Mr. and Mrs. S.W. Scurlock, Edward Marcus, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Tandy, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Weyner, Mr. and Mrs. Angus Wynn, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Ben C. Wileman and numerous others.

The artist, who also has countless other credentials, presents a refreshing and unique approach to his subject. He works mainly in miniatures and will even make his own frame if he cannot find one that works with the subject in one of his paintings. Brownlow has exhibited in Big Spring during previous festivals and is included in the private collections of many local and area residents.

SAMPLE OF WORK — David Brownlow, the renown artist from Fort Worth, will be one of the many top-named artists and craftsmen to participate in the first annual Spring Arts and Crafts Fair to be held Saturday from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Dora Roberts Community Center and on the grounds surrounding Cosden Lake.

Police Beat — Vandals, thieves warming up

Vandals and thieves stay busy in the city.

Sometime Monday night, vandals threw soft drinks and ice cream on a car belonging to Letita Fisher, P.O. Box 1744, and used a sharp object to scratch the doors of the auto while it was parked at the McDonald's Restaurant. Cost of the damage has not been estimated.

Early Sunday morning, vandals slashed two tires on a 1978 Datsun pickup belonging to Lanny Fryar, 1001 Johnson, while the pickup was parked outside Fryar's home. Damage was estimated at $90.

Thieves stole a golf cart from the 87 Auto Sales lot, 1001 W. 4th, sometime Sunday afternoon. While the intruders were exiting the lot, the cart struck a pickup, causing $300 worth of damage to the right door. Total loss was estimated at $675.

Wilber Townsend, 826 W. 7th, believes he knows the thieves who stole his 1974 Oldsmobile Ninety-Eight, while it was parked at the Fiberflex plant, Monday afternoon. "The car was valued at $2,000.

Someone attempted to pry open the door of a car belonging to Belinda Dungan, 1501 Sycamore, early Monday morning. Cost of damage to the moulding of the auto has not been estimated.

Thieves stole $80 to $100 worth of food stamps from a car belonging to Marie Lopez, 106 1/2 Scurry, between 6:30 and 7 p.m. Saturday.

Sometime over the weekend, burglars entered the home of Elisio Cabrera, 308 N.W. 8th, and stole a console-model television set. It was valued at $1,250.

Thieves entered the garage at the home of Debbie Loftis, 1612 State, Monday afternoon, and stole her 17-month-old Doberman Pinscher. The pup was valued at $100.

Two mishaps were reported Monday.

Vehicles driven by Ann Hines, Sterling City Route, and Gaye Cowans, 518 Edwards, collided at 10th and Scurry, 1:56 p.m.

Vehicles driven by Robert Petty, 2609 Wasson, and Carol Williams, 3722 Hatch, collided on the 600 block of South Scurry, 3:01 p.m.

Rep. Hance, wife estimate their estate at $500,000

LUBBOCK — U.S. Rep. Kent Hance and his wife estimate their estate is valued at $500,000. Most of their assets are derived from land holdings in Castro and Deaf Smith counties.

Hance, who represents the 19th District of Texas in Washington, is a native of Dimmitt County. Kent is married to the former Carol Hays of Dimmitt.

The couple owns 160 acres of farmland in Dallas County, an undivided one-third interest in 1,280 acres in Deaf Smith County and undivided one-third interest in mineral rights on 4,660 acres in Deaf Smith County.

The congressman is listed as a partner in the Hays & Hance Cattle Co. The company reportedly operated at a loss in 1980.

The congressman earned $3,200 from speeches last year.

RUSTY WEIR APPEARS HERE — Rusty Weir, a popular country musician who headquarters out of Austin, appeared in Big Spring Saturday night at a dance sponsored by the Cotillion Dance Club. Weir, who is well-known for such songs as "Lay This Guitar Down," performed with his band for about three hours at the Dora Roberts-Figure Seven Tennis Center. Weir came to Big Spring following a performance at Billy Bob's in Fort Worth Friday, and was heading to Amarillo Sunday. He will appear at the Kerrville Folk Festival later this month. Here with Weir are Paula Talbot (left) and Cinda Stanley, two of the Cotillion Club members.

On track Garden clubs flower show plans blossom

"On Track" is an official column prepared by the Big Spring Centennial, Inc., and lists the various events and meetings being held in conjunction with the upcoming Big Spring-Howard County Centennial to be held May 21-30. Individuals wishing to list their activities and events in this column are asked to call Mel Prather at 267-4373, or bring their items by Citizens Federal Credit Union.

GARDEN CLUBS FLOWER SHOW: The Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs will be presenting a Standard Flower Show Saturday, May 23, 1981, at the First National Bank. The show is open to the general public from 3 to 6 p.m. and the theme will be the celebration of the T&P Railroad's 100th birthday. There is a $1 admission charge for adults and 25 cents for children.

REVUE TICKETS: Tickets for all six performances of the "Iron Horse Revue" are currently on sale at the Centennial Store-Headquarters at 900 Main. Available tickets include patron, general admission, reserved, and children. The first performance of the large stage show will be held Thursday and persons are being encouraged to purchase their tickets in advance to prevent any waiting in line at the ticket offices at Memorial Stadium. The centennial store is open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

CENTENNIAL BALL TICKETS: Tickets for the Centennial Ball are currently on sale at the centennial store. The ball will be held at the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum on Saturday, May 30, beginning at 8 p.m. The cost is a tax-deductible donation of $15 per ticket and includes entertainment, snacks, and all types of beverages. Tickets will be limited to 1,040 seats and are being sold on a first come, first served basis.

OIL-ENERGY DAY LUNCHEON TICKETS: Tickets for the Oil-Energy Day luncheon to be held Tuesday, May 26, in the east room of the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum, are currently on sale at the centennial store. The price is $4 per ticket and Jim Nugent, Texas Railroad Commissioner, will be the guest speaker.

COMMEMORATIVE BOOKLET: The commemorative booklet outlining the history of Big Spring and Howard County is now on sale at the Centennial Store-Headquarters at 900 Main. The cost of the 116 page book is $3 and includes a 16 page insert listing the numerous committees and individuals involved in the local centennial celebration. It also includes the detailed histories on various churches and organizations, as well as including dozens of historical photos.

COMMEMORATIVE COINS: The commemorative coins have arrived and are currently available at the centennial store. The coins are being sold in both antique bronze and in sets. The antique bronze coins are being sold for $3 and the limited and numbered sets of bronze and sterling silver coins in a case are being sold for $100. The bronze coins are also available in pendants, key chains, and money clips.

TICKET EXCHANGE: All coupon holders for the "Iron Horse Revue" are now being allowed to exchange those coupons for tickets to the major stage show. Individuals interested in reserved seating may purchase tickets in that section for an additional fifty cents with each coupon. And persons with children twelve and under may exchange the coupons on a two for one ration. Persons who do not have time to exchange the coupons for tickets may present the coupons at the gates at Memorial Stadium for general admission. Patron ticket holders are also being reminded that they may change the night they wish to attend a performance only prior to the actual performance date printed on their tickets.

ARTS AND CRAFTS FAIR: The first annual Spring Arts and Crafts Fair will be held Saturday, May 23, at the Dora Roberts Community Center and the grounds surrounding Cosden Lake. The show is open from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. and is free of charge to the general public.

Representative Larry Don Shaw Reports from Austin

Gasohol: Good news, bad news

At long last, the House has okayed a measure which, if approved by the Senate, will exempt gasohol (90 percent gasoline and 10 percent ethyl alcohol) from the 5-cent-gallon state gasoline tax and make gasohol price-competitive with unleaded gas.

I co-sponsored the bill, and I'm confident that it represents a significant shot in the arm for the alcohol-gasohol industry in Texas. That means a major new market for Texas farmers, and it means Texas, following the lead of all five surrounding states, is taking a step to encourage this industry which can have a big impact on reducing U.S. dependence on foreign oil.

All the news regarding gasohol is not good, though. Here's the situation: Texas liquor laws prohibit issuing alcohol production or liquor sale permits to any company which is not at least 51 percent Texas-owned.

Last session, however, the Legislature passed a bill which would exempt a company from the 51 percent requirement so long as it only produces alcohol which is unfit for human consumption. It's clear that most members of the Legislature thought this meant only that the alcohol could not be used for alcoholic beverages.

Less than a month after the last legislative session ended, however (and too late to clarify the language of the new law), the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission decided that raw alcohol is fit for human consumption, and therefore any company that's less than 51 percent Texas-owned cannot get an alcohol production permit unless they agree to denature the alcohol they produce — in other words, to add something or treat it so as to make it unfit for human consumption.

The only problem is that the ruling eliminates a number of other non-beverage uses for Texas-produced alcohol — foot extracts or vinegars, for instance, or medicinal or pharmaceutical products.

Until that ABC ruling, a company called Midwest Solvents was planning to build a $25 million, 10-to-12 million gal.-year alcohol plant at Santa Rosa in the Rio Grande Valley. Estimates are that it would have added 485 new jobs in the community and pumped $26 million a year into the Texas economy.

After the ABC ruling, the deal fell through, and Midwest Solvents is building the plant in another state. Why? The elimination of the non-gasohol market for the alcohol made the plant a much greater risk. Midwest Solvents needed the assurance that if the multi-billion-dollar federal synfuels program does result in a federally-subsidized cheap motor fuel, they would be able to keep their alcohol plant running and sell the alcohol for other non-gasohol, non-beverage uses.

I am sponsoring House Bill 136, which would allow companies less than 51 percent Texas-owned to obtain permits to produce and sell alcohol for any non-beverage purpose.

This would greatly reduce the risk for any potential out-of-state investors in the Texas alcohol-gasohol industry who want to know that they'll still have a market for their alcohol if future developments made gasohol uneconomical as a motor fuel.

Unfortunately, the House Liquor Regulation Committee is sitting on this bill, and prospects for its passage this session appear at this point to be slim and none.

William Saroyan dies

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Author William Saroyan, who once wrote that "the best part" of a man "stays forever," is to be cremated here in his hometown, the scene of many of his nostalgic works.

Saroyan, 72, died at a local hospital Monday after a two-year bout with cancer.

He has to be cremated within a day or two, a spokeswoman for the Neptune Society said. Saroyan's children, Aram and Lucy, planned to arrange a memorial service later.

Saroyan was a prolific writer for more than half a century, but his best-known works were written in the 1930s and 1940s. They included the Pulitzer Prize-winning play "The Time of Your Life," novels such as "The Human Comedy" and "My Name is Aram" and numerous short stories.

In "The Human Comedy," Saroyan gave this view of death:

"Try to remember that a good man can never die ... The person of a man may go, but the best part of him stays. It stays forever."

Only five days before he was hospitalized on April 20, Saroyan telephoned The Associated Press here to report that cancer had spread to his liver, heart, kidneys and bones. He then gave this final statement to be used after his death:

"Everybody has got to die, but I have always believed an exception would be made in my case. Now what?"

Saroyan started writing fiction at age 17 and tried to write rapidly and concisely. He felt that "speed and brevity is the point out of which comes unified work."

His first fame came in 1934 when he won the O. Henry Award for his first major short story, "The Daring Young Man on the Flying Trapeze."

Saroyan wrote "The Time of Your Life" in just six days.

Two sentenced after confessing pot possession in prison camp

Two former inmates of the Big Spring Federal Prison Camp, Gilbert Saenz of Austin and Jose Pineda Garcia of Midland, have been sentenced in Abilene Federal District Court after entering pleas of guilty to charges of possessing marijuana at the camp in 1980.

Saenz received four months in prison and eight months probation. He was serving a sentence here for possession of marijuana, federal records reveal.

Garcia received a year's probation. He was confined at the federal prison complex here for smuggling aliens, evidence showed.

Judge Hal Woodward passed sentence on the two.

Woodward also sentenced three Abilene women to six months in federal prison for embezzling money from two Abilene banks and a savings and loan firm.

They are Debra Kay Neff, 28; Teary Haynes, 23; and Jeanine Ferguson, 20. The sentence of each will be followed by 4½ years of probation.

The women were ordered to report to Deputy U.S. Marshall Richard Jones June 1 for transfer to federal prison. They were also ordered to make restitution, each paying $25 a month.

Janet Lilljedahl, 35, entered a plea of guilty to the charge of taking $642 from Citizens National Bank of Abilene.

Dominoes form railroad yards

Members of the Boys' Club of Big Spring depicted the railroad yards of the city with dominoes in the Boys' Clubs of America Mego Incredible Domino Rally Contest, held Monday.

They competed with Boys' Clubs across the country. Multi-colored dominoes were used, along with tracks, elevators and bridges.

Each club was to depict some part of their city when using the dominoes. Since Big Spring is celebrating the Centennial of the railroad, the boys decided to depict the railroad yard.

The boys competed for cash prizes, awarded on the basis of originality as well as artistic and educational merit.

Earl Butz admits guilt to tax violation charge

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Earl L. Butz, former U.S. secretary of agriculture, has agreed to plead guilty to a federal tax violation charge, a newspaper reported today.

The Indianapolis Star quoted David T. Ready, U.S. attorney for the Northern District of Indiana, as saying he had concluded negotiating both the plea and the process that will be used to charge Butz.

Ready declined to say what charge Butz will plead guilty to, the Star said. The newspaper said Ready noted the tax violations didn't relate to the time Butz was agriculture secretary.

Butz, 71, reached by The Associated Press in Fargo, N.D., where he was to address the North Dakota

Banker's Association, said, "I'm not making any comment" when asked about the report.

According to the newspaper, Butz earlier said he cooperated with the Internal Revenue Service in an audit of his tax returns.

Ready said Butz is to appear Friday in Fort Wayne before U.S. District Judge Jesse E. Eshbach, waive his right to be indicted by a federal grand jury, be charged by an information complaint and plead guilty, the Star said.

The U.S. attorney declined to discuss the amount of money the government will charge Butz with failing to report, saying the exact figure would be entered into the public record Friday.

Financial disclosures reveal rich, poor

Ten Texas congressmen are millionaires

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 75 members of Congress have accumulated enough assets to make them millionaires — or very close to it — and 10 of them are from Texas, according to financial disclosure statements just released.

Rep. Jim Collins, R-Texas, is the richest of the Texans and among the wealthiest in all of Congress with assets of more than $4.6 million spread over a large number of stocks.

Congress released the financial statements Monday as required by the Ethics in Government Act.

Collins, a former insurance company executive, who is contemplating a challenge against Sen. Lloyd Bentsen next year, listed assets in 58 different ventures, plus stock dividends from 87 sources that netted him at least $375,000 in 1980 income.

Other Texas congressmen with assets clearly over $1 million are Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Beaumont; Rep. Sam Hall, D-Marshall; and Rep. Ralph Hall, D-Rockwall. They are among only 21 in the House of Representtatives, although 55 others have enough assets to be millionaires also, if their assets are on the top side of the ranges they reported in various assets.

Rep. Charles Wilson, D-Lufkin, heads six Texans who are among the "possible" millionaires. Others are Rep. Bill Archer, R-Houston; Rep. Marvin Leath, D-Martin; Rep. Jim Mattox, D-Dallas; Rep. Ron Paul, R-Lake Jackson; and Rep. Jim Wright, D-Fort Worth, the majority leader of the House.

On the other end of the scale, three Texas congressmen listed little or no assets.

In contrast to the vast holdings listed by the million-dollar club, Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-San Antonio, listed a savings account with $477.13 and two certificates of deposit worth a total of $962.42, plus a $500 honorarium he earned for speaking last year at San Antonio Community College. He showed no debts.

"I have no other sources of income, property (tangible or intangible, corporeal or incorporeal or hereditament). Neither does my spouse or any relative to the 10th degree of consanguinity. I am, as always, a fulltime congressman," Gonzalez wrote in the "income" space of his statement.

Gonzalez, a 65-year-old liberal Democrat, wrote: "No change: no income," in the assets column of his statement.

Rep. Kika de la Garza, D-Mission, also showed no assets and no debts. Rep. Jack Hightower, D-Vernon, showed only $1,000 to $5,000 in assets and listed three bank loans as liabilities: one over $50,000 and two of more than $15,000 but less than $50,000.

Hightower listed among "other income" a $12,847 stipend from the state of Texas for his 1980 pension benefits as a result of his service in the Texas Legislature. Other former members of the Legislature got similar income.

Congressmen were not required to list their $60,000 annual congressional salary.

They were asked to report their assets and liabilities in one of six categories: $1,000 to $5,000; $5,001 to $15,000; $15,001 to $50,000; $50,001 to $100,000; $100,001 to $250,000; and over $250,000.

Collins' lengthy list of assets included holdings worth more than $250,000 in seven different accounts, holdings of $100,000 or more in 19 other accounts and $50,000 or more in 14 others.

While the lower range of his assets totaled $4.6 million, Collins' properties could be worth $8.6 million if they are on the upper side of the range he reported. Similarly, his 1980 stock income could be as much as $1,064,500 if those dividends were on the upper side of the range reported.

Brooks had at least $1.6 million tied up in 38 properties and 1980 earnings of at least $215,000, with a third or more coming from stock dividends.

Sam Hall showed 34 assets worth more than $1.5 million, with 1980 income of at least $43,500 from 29 sources, most of them oil properties.

Ralph Hall, a first-term congressman, showed $298,548 in earnings as a lawyer last year before giving up his seat in the Texas Legislature to come to Washington. In all, he had $323,527 in 1980 earnings and assets in 22 ventures worth at least $1.7 million, possibly as much as $2.7 million.

Nominee for advisor on human rights says opposition 'communist inspired'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate committee approval of Ernest W. Lefever as President Reagan's human rights adviser may be in doubt because of a report by the panel's Republican chairman that Lefever branded opposition to his nomination as "communist-inspired."

Chairman Charles H. Percy of Illinois joined Democrats on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on Monday in questioning whether Lefever will oppose human rights violations by right-wing dictators as strongly as those by communists.

Lefever told Percy, however, "I have never meant to hint or suggest any conspiracy" behind the opposition. He also maintained that he didn't use the word "communism."

The testimony came at an often hostile, day-long hearing on Lefever's nomination to be assistant secretary of state for human rights. Testimony was continuing today.

Percy told Lefever: "I was concerned when in my office you did tend to view the opposition to you as communist-inspired."

Sen. Paul Tsongas, D-Mass., also quoted Lefever as telling him in a private conversation that the opposition was organized by communist sources, and Percy said a staff member also indicated that Lefever "referred to the opposition ... as orchestrated by communist sources."

"Well, first of all, Mr. Chairman, I do not believe I used the word communism," Lefever replied.

"There isn't any question you used the word communism to me," Percy said. "And you did so with Senator Tsongas. And you did so in a separate conversation with our counsel, Charles Burke."

Lefever replied, "I have never meant to hint or suggest any conspiracy theory. I do not use the word communism lightly."

Lefever said he knows of no communist opposition to him except for two newspapers, including the Soviet paper Izvestia, but he said "a number" of people who support revolutionary Marxist methods oppose him.

Percy did not press the apparent discrepancy and Tsongas told reporters during a break that he thought Lefever simply "retreated" from the private assertion about communist-inspired opposition.

Percy said he has not decided how he will vote on Lefever's confirmation and "has an open mind."

But knowledgeable Senate sources who earlier had predicted Lefever's approval said it is now possible that Percy and two other Republicans, who were not identified, might join a number of Democrats in opposing confirmation.

Even if the committee voted against confirmation, the full Republican-controlled Senate still could confirm Lefever.

Howard County chapter of ACS establishes memorial program

The Howard County chapter of the American Cancer Society has an established memorial program, according to Londa Henry of the local chapter.

Memorials may be sent to The American Cancer Society, Box 2121, care of Mrs. Merle Stewart, Big Spring, Tx. 79720.

Mrs. Stewart sends donors a receipt for income tax purposes. Notes are also sent to the relatives of the person in whose name a memorial is made.

The local chapter held a meeting recently at the La Posada Restaurant. It was reported that $1,411.75 was collected in the door-to-door campaign.

The local district is the first to reach 100 percent per capita goal, and the first in services provided, it was reported.

Next meeting for the local chapter is in September.

Savings bonds sales reported

December sales of Series EE & HH United States Savings Bonds in Howard County were reported today by County Bond Chairman Jimmy Taylor to be $59,473. Sales for the first 12 month period totaled $506,549 for 81 percent of the 1980 goal of $625,000.

Some people, in fact lots of people, are going to be unhappy with the reforms scheduled to be made in the Social Security program. Many, as a matter of fact, have already been quoted as saying they can't live on the proposed reductions in their monthly checks.

It has been said that the program will go broke as early as next year if the changes are made, so it may be a case of either living with the changes or doing without the money altogether. Already, the program has gone on much too long without reform.

SOME OF THE changes in Ronald Reagan's reform package are designed to improve and streamline the program. Others would hit hard at some groups.

An example of one of the potential problem areas is the plan to reduce spouses' benefits at age 62 to 27.5 percent of the deceased spouses' Social Security allotment. The current level is 40 percent. This proposed reduction literally could spell doom for some widows. Although we have stereotyped the word "widow" as being synonymous with "rich," that idea usually couldn't be further from the truth.

More times than not, these women will rely totally on their spouses' allotment to help them survive their retirement years. With inflation taking its toll, the family nest egg, if there ever really was one, was long ago depleted to pay for necessities.

Another proposal of potential danger is the plan to tax sick pay for the first six months of an employee's illness. Currently, sick pay is untaxed.

When illness strikes, an individual or family usually is in a position where any extra expenditure is like dreaming the impossible dream.

As is known, health insurance eases the burden of illness-related costs, but usually the assistance is not sufficient to pay for all the bills incurred.

Also, an individual's or family's normal expenses go on. Despite illness, bills must be paid. Taxing sick pay seems to go a bit far, and in turn taxes what could be seen as our humanitarian spirit.

The Reagan plan also calls for tightening disability assistance requirements to require that a worker's disability be determined solely by medical factors. The law now allows consideration of the worker's age, education and job experience, as well as health.

Although health has to remain the No. 1 criterion in determining disability benefits, these other factors also should remain as part of the overall consideration process.

Despite these drawbacks, the proposal does have some points worth merit.

One such point is to more than double the penalty for people who retire before age 65. Instead of getting 80 percent of full Social Security benefits at age 62, they would get only 55 percent. OTHER POSITIVE POINTS include abolishing limits on how much people between the ages of 65 and 72 can earn without losing benefits plus lowering Social Security tax rates on the 114 million workers now paying into the system.

There is no doubt that the current Social Security system needs to be revamped. If not, the destitute system surely could fall into absolute bankruptcy as early as 1982.

However, we also have to consider the impact such proposals will have on living, breathing humans. In our zeal to cut levels and save dollars, we have to remember that there are real people whose very lives depend on those monthly checks.

Reagan planners and Congress need to weigh each item, search their consciences and talk with their constituents before casting anything in bronze.

Another dent

Around the rim

Richard Horn

The Mormons have put yet another dent into the already damaged MX missile plan. Last week, after "much prayer and agonizing discussion" the leaders of the church voiced their opposition to the Air Force plan to place the monster missile system in parts of Utah and Nevada. They came to that opinion because Mormon pioneers came to "carry the gospel of peace to the people of the earth."

The Mormons are a very large group who have a lot of influence in this country. Most Protestants consider the Mormon gospel to be at best weird and at worst blasphemy, but the church has achieved respectability because of their "pro-family" views, clean-cut image, and the Donny and Marie Show. To a great many people in the western U.S., God has now spoken.

A GROUP OF Panhandle citizens claim no such authority, but they too have said that they don't want the MX missile in the alternate New Mexico-Texas region.

The Air Force is, no doubt, troubled by all of this. They have long championed the plan to put powerful missiles on underground tracks so the Russians will have no way of destroying them. It's a cute idea, and one which would no doubt warm the heart of Dr. Strangelove. There are people who say we must have it if we are to survive and, predictably, there are many who say it will only bring on a devastating war.

The selling point of the MX is its power. When (if) it is built, the Russians will think twice about sending their own missiles over since (1) the MX is more powerful than what they have and (2) they don't know where a MX missile is at any particular time. Of course there's always the possibility that all the MX will do is relieve the Russians of the need to aim, but the Air Force isn't planning on that.

The drawback of the MX is its size and cost. Even the most optimistic planner thinks it will take five to ten years for the system to be completed, and that's when they have a place to build it. If you listen to some people in the State Department, war is inevitable as soon as next week. I doubt the Russians will let us finish our ultimate weapon so it will be a more sporting war.

AND THEN THERE is the cost. The Defense Department is already spending so much so fast that Reagan's "massive" spending cuts are almost meaningless as far as reducing overall government spending.

If cutbacks are needed, it may be smart to cut out fuding for a massive weapon that may never be built.

Whatever, some decision needs to be made soon. The Air Force is already looking for ways of altering the MX plan to make it a bit more feasible. One idea was to only pretend we are building it so the Russians would not dare provoke us.

Of course, announcing that so the Russians can hear is stupid, but it's an exciting idea. It would be like the end of "Dirty Harry" with President Reagan in the Clint Eastwood role. He would snarl into the Washington-Moscow hotline: "So you've got to ask yourself a question Mr. Brezhnev. You have to say 'Do I feel lucky?' Well, do ya punk?"

Cats get fatter

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — Salah Taroty is a prominent member of the Egyptian parliament, a wealthy lawyer and the owner of much valuable real estate. He is also the recipient of a low-interest $30,000 loan from the U.S. Agency for International Development to buy equipment for a Wimpy fast-food restaurant he is building.

Kathouh Hassan made a fortune as an Egyptian government contractor, and is now getting into the hotel business by building the luxury-class Uncle Sam Hotel. The name is appropriate: Hassan got a $1 million AID loan to buy elevators, furniture and other supplies for his hotel.

Kamal Hanna, a millionaire who owns 10 companies and part of two Egyptian banks, hit up AID for a $1 million loan to buy construction equipment — most of which he resold to the Egyptian government at an undisclosed profit.

gone to millionaires already well established in the Egyptian ruling elite.

For example, AID officials estimate that about 70 percent of the $100 million a year available for low-interest loans has gone to Egyptian importers. The agency explains that this helps the economy by making hard-to-get items available for Egyptian businessmen. But, in fact, Grant found, the goods were usually resold, not to other businessmen, but to the government, which already had access to the same goods. The importers, of course, made a fat profit on the resale.

While the corporate fatcats are getting fatter on AID's loan diet, the lean and hungry bureaucrats are also stealing a few scraps. Because the civil service is used as an unemployment cure, each government ministry has about five times as many employees as it really needs. Salaries are ridiculously low, and many officials make up for this with the time-honored extraction of "baksheesh" from those doing business with the government.

AID projects can be stalled for months while the contractors try to get needed equipment and material through the Byzantine maze of the Egyptian customs service. The easiest way to expedite delivery is to bribe civil servants to cut the red tape.

As Egypt's hungry masses wait for the AID money to trickle down to their level, they have one consolation: If American aid helps keep the peace, at least they won't be common fodder in another Israeli-Egyptian war.

WHO'S GOT A SECRET? — The government has a truly awesome number of documents stamped "confidential," "secret" and "top secret." But General Accounting Office auditors found that contractors for the Defense Department don't have the foggiest notion of what should be classified.

Of 496 documents the GAO examined, an incredible 90 percent were found to be improperly stamped. The errors ran both ways: (1) stamping something with a classified designation when in fact there were no secrets in it, and (2) failing to protect sensitive national security information with a classified stamp. The GAO concluded the Pentagon doesn't give its contractors adequate training.

WATCH ON WASTE — Dismayed by reports that some Customs Service officers were making $30,000 and $40,000 a year in overtime alone, Congress told the agency to clamp down. So now, while the service's overtime is still running high — about $26 million a year in public funds — the taxpayers are also getting stuck with a $541,000 bill to hire people to run the special program to cut down on overtime.

Woman proposes use of funds

HOUSTON (AP) — A councilwoman has suggested the $4.9 million in unspent federal revenue sharing funds uncovered by a research study should be used to resurface Houston heavily-traveled streets.

Councilwoman Eleanor Tinsley said Monday the research study found the city had unused funds dating back to 1973.

Don Jones, a spokesman for the Public Works Department, said $4 million would resurface about 50 miles of the city's roads and thoroughfares.

Lebanon strategy

Evans, Novak

WASHINGTON — In the mangled White House Situation Room May 11, Secretary of State Alexander Haig ended weeks of irrelevant bureaucratic feuding by revealing to policy-makers the strategy he and President Reagan devised for Lebanon that may well yield the administration's first diplomatic triumph.

The Reagan argument to be put before Israel and Syria: Risks of a new Mideast war exceed possible benefits for either country. The added argument for Israel: The U.S. would be the major loser, the Soviets the clear winner.

With Vice President George Bush presiding in Reagan's place, Haig proposed a face-saving solution for Israel and Syria. Thus, Reagan's policy was to play for time. But the root of the policy follows Reagan's deepest conviction that Moscow, while invited in by Washington to pressure the Syrians, must be kept out of the Middle East over the long-term.

A CONSENSUS QUICKLY developed around the table not to overtly pressure Prime Minister Menachem Begin but to inform Israel of the dire consequences of an Israeli-Syrian war for Reagan's Persian Gulf strategy. Moderate, pro U.S. Arab states would be forced to defect from Reagan's regional defense plan, and even Israeli-Egyptian peace might be fouled.

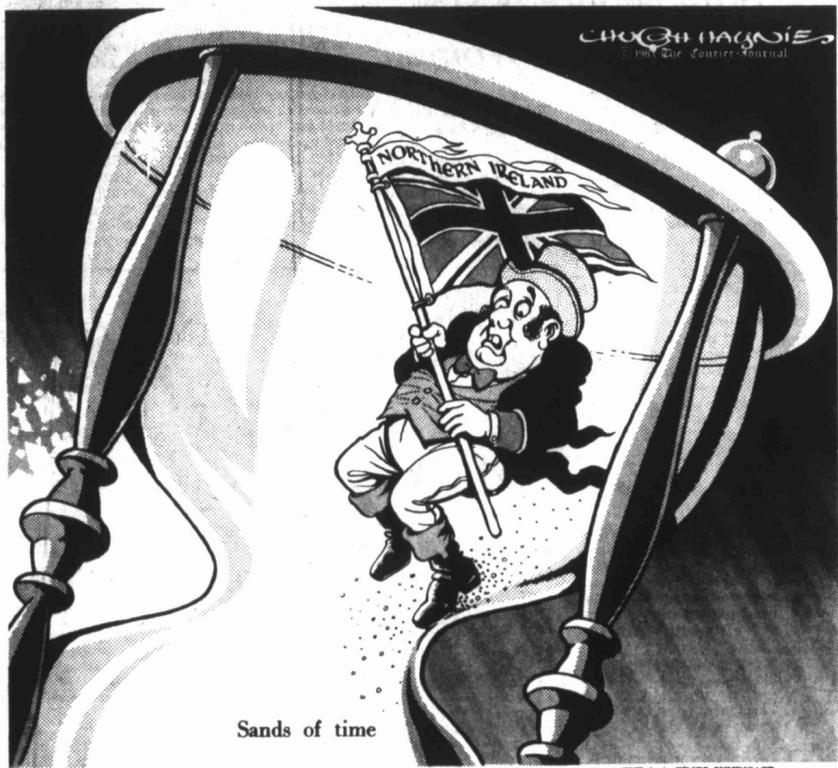

Shortly after that Monday session, one participant estimated the odds of delivering Reagan's face-saving solution at less than 50-50. By mid-week, those odds had climbed higher — high enough for some U.S. officials and foreign diplomats to believe that immediate withdrawal of the Syrian anti-aircraft missiles might not be necessary if the overall solution made them innocuous.

Haig's emphasis on the U.S. as the prime loser in a new Mideast war followed Reagan's overriding conviction. War would not only isolate the U.S. (along with Israel) from the rest of the world but would draw Moscow back into big-power Mideast diplomacy. That would weaken Reagan's hand and strengthen Soviet pressure for the so-called "overall settlement" of the Arab-Israeli crisis via the Geneva Conference, the long-stalled forum with the U.S. and the Soviet Union as co-chairmen.

This became one of the major points of persuasion used by roving Ambassador Philip Habib in his talks with Begin in Jerusalem. Contrary to public rhetoric, Begin's mood in the intimacy of his talks with Habib was not at all truculent. In the midst of an election campaign, the Lebanon crisis has pushed Begin to new heights of popularity. But Begin does not want to press his luck and risk Israeli lives in a shooting war.

Outlines of settlement have long been clear: an exchange of regular Lebanese army patrols for Syrian forces now controlling the ridges of Mt. Sannin in central Lebanon; an agreement by the Israeli-backed Christian militia to pull out of the besieged city of Zahle, also to be replaced by the Lebanese army.

SYRIAN WITHDRAWAL OF the missiles, whose emplacement started the crisis, might be delayed. If the Syrians agree to vacate the heights and end their siege of Zahle, the missiles, as described by a U.S. official, "are immunized by the settlement" and could be withdrawn later.

Sleeping pills can rebound

Dr. Paul G. Donohue, M.D.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I have depended on sleeping pills to get me through the nights for years now. With the help of a sympathetic doctor I am trying to break this habit. I need encouraging words from you, and I presume so do others out there who may have my problem. — Mrs. W.P.

You and they have all the encouragement you can possibly want from me. We tend to be a pill-taking people, looking for sudden cures for all our problems. Insomnia is a difficult problem. Your doctor seems to have a good patient.

Sleep patterns change with age, and you have to learn to understand the changes and take steps to adjust. Often, there may be fewer hours of sleep during the night because a person has begun taking afternoon naps. Perhaps one is not quite so active as before. Establishing regular hours for sleep and for waking helps restore a sleep cycle.

Retirees may take a more relaxed approach to when they go to bed, not having to meet the nine-to-five demands of a job. But they do need some kind of schedule so the body knows what's expected of it and when. There is some evidence that a glass of milk or Ovaltine at bedtime may help shorten the time it takes to fall asleep. Both these drinks contain the amino acid tryptophan. This substance is being studied for its sleep-inducing properties. I cannot state unequivocally that it works for all. I can state that it is worth a try. It is, of course, harmless.

Sleeping pills often have a reverse effect, making the person drowsy during the day, thus adding to the sleeplessness the following night — a vicious circle of insomnia.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I have so many friends who tell me they have diverticulosis. I am beginning to think I'm weird because I don't. At least I don't think so. I am 57. What can I do to avoid it? — Mrs. F.W.

At your age most people examined show some signs of diverticulosis. Those are small sac-like projections from the colon wall. It is very prevalent in civilizations that use highly-refined foods — like ours. I hope you don't have it either.

To prevent it, you need a diet that is relatively high in fiber. Fiber is not digested and therefore absorbs water like a dry sponge. This keeps the stool soft, and the colon does not have to work so hard to eliminate the food that is digested. Make sure your diet has fresh fruits, vegetables, whole wheat, bran, breakfast cereals. Bran is great fiber food.

If you are having elimination problems from too little fiber, you can add two teaspoons of bran to your cereal. Increase the amount until you note the desired effect, softening of the stool. For more on the subject, see the booklet "Don't Let Diverticulosis Throw You." For a copy, write me in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents.

Dear Dr. Donohue: You bring up the fact that sometimes people who have an intolerance to milk should try a milk substitute. What is this substitute? Can you purchase it? — R.V.

It is not a milk substitute, but a substance mixed into the milk that provides the means to properly digest it. Now you present me with a real problem. When I mentioned this substance by brand name several months ago, I got loads of mail from readers who told me they wanted to get some, but could not find it.

So what I am going to suggest is that people who have been told they need this contact a local gastroenterologist, who very likely will have heard of this substance and who might know of patients using it and where they can obtain it. It is not a bad idea, anyway, to learn if one actually has the enzyme deficiency causing milk intolerance before going to any expense to buy the product.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I really want to know God and to change my way of living for the better. How can I do this? — R.N.

DEAR R.N.: I am thankful you have this desire in your heart. Don't turn away from it. God has put it there, and it would be tragic to bury it. And God has put it there because he loves you and wants you to be his child.

The first step in knowing God is to realize what God has already done to make it possible for you to know him. The Bible says our greatest problem is sin, because it is our sins which have separated us from God.

Because sin is our greatest problem, our greatest need is forgiveness, because only by being forgiven of our sins can we be restored to fellowship with God. But forgiveness is not something we can buy from God, nor is it something we can earn. How, then, can we be forgiven?

We can be forgiven because God has made it possible in Jesus Christ, his Son. We are (so to speak) enslaved by sin — held captive by it. But Christ has paid the price to free us. That price was his life, freely given for us on the cross. Christ took upon himself the punishment that you and I deserve, and because He died, we need not fear death and hell.

In his grace, God gives us forgiveness and salvation when we turn to Christ in faith. The Bible says, "There is no difference, for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified freely by his grace through the redemption that came by Christ Jesus" (Romans 3:22-24).

How can you know God? By confessing your sin to him, and committing your life to Jesus Christ as your Lord and Savior. Open your heart to him, and trust him for forgiveness. He stands at the door of your heart and has promised to come into your life if you will open your heart to Him (See Revelation 3:20).

And then live each day as a child of God, growing in your fellowship with Christ through reading the Bible and praying to him. As you do, you will find your life changing because Christ will help you be the person he wants you to be.

Dear Abby

No Free Lunches — Even for Dogs

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: In reference to the woman who brought her son to a doctor's office in an emergency without her checkbook, I assure you this happens all too often. My husband is a veterinarian and I help in his office. "I forgot my checkbook" is a common excuse. It is often months and many reminders later before we're paid.

There are few products and services we can get without cash, check or charge (established credit, that is). And I'd like to see you get your car out of a garage after it's been repaired by saying, "I forgot my checkbook."

It's time for the consumer to realize that nothing is free, and there is no reason why a doctor or any other professional should extend credit to anyone who comes in off the street.

TIRED OF THOSE "CHECKS IN THE MAIL" DEAR TIREDS: I agree. But in this case, the patient wasn't "off the street"; he was referred by his regular physician who was unavailable at the time of this emergency. Also, you can't compare a human with a broken arm to a Honda with a broken axle.

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 years old and have a problem. Softball starts soon, and it falls on the same day and time as my clarinet lesson. My parents want me to continue my clarinet lessons, but my softball coach can't change the practice time.

My clarinet instructor can't change my lesson time either. I want to play softball. Your reply will help us decide.

L. WAGNER, ELKHORN, NEB. DEAR L.: Appeal to your clarinet teacher again. Surely there is one pupil who will change the time of his (or her) lesson to accommodate you. While sports is as important as music, a town the size of Elkhorn can't afford to lose a clarinetist to the softball team.

DEAR ABBY: Already I am worried about our summer vacation. My husband wants to take me and the children on a picture-taking trip through Colorado for our vacation. (He is a camera nut.)

Our children, 7 and 6, are constantly fighting, so you can imagine what an automobile trip with them would be like for two weeks!

I realize that my husband works hard all year and deserves the kind of vacation he enjoys, but I don't relish the idea of being referee for the kids while father pursues his hobby, which involves looking for places to photograph and endless waiting for perfect sun directions.

What is your advice? MOM

DEAR MOM: Compromise and spend part of your vacation in the mountains and the other part doing your own thing.

A suggestion: On long trips with kids who don't get along, instead of putting them both in the back seat, let one sit in front with Dad, and keep the other in the back with you. Then switch.

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to a letter written to you from HAD IT WITH SITTERS.

I am a 13-year-old who does a lot of baby sitting. And like all my friends, I get paid $1 an hour. That includes feeding, bathing and, if necessary, changing diapers. After putting the kids to bed, I am expected to empty the dishwasher and wash and load the dishes used at dinner. After that, I clean up all the messes made by the kids. All of the work is done for that same $1 an hour. It's not easy because some kids like to test a new baby sitter by being little monsters.

Most adults don't understand that the main reason that kids my age baby sit is because they aren't told enough to get a job that pays minimum wage. So if you think all baby sitters are the same, I got news for you, HAD IT WITH SITTERS! Signed

Forth Worth couple is honored with shower

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Dixon, Fort Worth, were honored with a miscellaneous wedding shower May 9 in the Fellowship Hall of East Fourth St. Baptist Church.

The couple was married April 25 in the Orchard Hills Baptist Church, Garland. The bride is the former Julie Baker, Garland. The groom, formerly of Big Spring, is employed by the Fort Worth Police Department.

Since the Dixons are living on a farm near Fort Worth, a farm theme was used in the shower decorations. Red and white checked gingham cloths were used on the registry and serving tables.

Mr. and Mrs. dolls, dressed in overalls and gingham dress, were used as the centerpiece on the serving table. Red silk roses in a miniature ceramic milk can, red candles in hurricane lamps, lanterns, a rural mailbox with the honored couples' names on it, plus miniature farm tools and a tractor were used at vantage points throughout the room.

Red and white carnation corsages tied with red and white checked ribbon were presented to the honoree and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Floyd Dixon. Other special guests were the groom's grandmothers, Mrs. Dillie Dixon and Mrs. Mamie Kinman.

Hostesses for the shower were Muriel Denton, Fannie B. Adkins, Lenora Willingham, Carolyn Hanson, Patsy Anderson, Yvonne Ray, Pat Rhoton, Joy Hester and Jan Steward. Others were Latha Hill, Leta Kirby, Mary Cain, Latrice Davis, Bettye Griffith, Edith Harrell, Ina Stewart, Cletha Clayton and Delores Hitt.

The hostesses presented the couple with heavy-duty wheelbarrow.

Afternoon tea, bridal shower honors Diane Kay Bates

Diane Kay Bates, bride elect of Jeffrey Dale McLemore, Midland, was honored at an afternoon tea Sunday, from 3 to 5 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Ross J. Callihan.

Co-hostesses for the miscellaneous bridal shower were Mrs. Jackie Romine, Mrs. Glenda Myrick, Midland, Mrs. John Anderson, Mrs. Roy Spivey, Mrs. William Shankles, Mrs. Arvie Walker, Mrs. Doyle Whetsel, Mrs. Andrew Bayes, Sherri Callihan, Mrs. Ray Russell and Mrs. Alton Callihan, Christoval.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Marty Whetsel, sister of the bride-to-be. Daughters of the hostesses assisted with the gifts.

A corsage of powder blue, hand-fashioned silk flowers was presented to the honoree, who was attired in a summer fashion white dress with black jacket. Her mother, Mrs. D.R. Bates and Mrs. Manuel McLemore, mother of the prospective groom, Midland, also received corsages.

Milk glass and silver appointments were used on the refreshment table, which was covered in a floor-length white brocade. A floral arrangement of silk flowers and tapers featured the bride-elect's chosen colors of blue and white. Finger sandwiches, a strawberry fruit bowl and cookies were served to the guests.

Attending from Odessa were Mrs. R.A. Carroll and Mrs. James Carroll.

The couple will exchange vows June 22 in the chapel of the First Baptist Church.

Club installs officers

Officers were installed at the Big Spring Child Study Club meeting May 13. Club members, dressed in Centennial or Western clothing, met in the home of Mrs. Dub Moore. A salad luncheon was served to members and guests present.

Mrs. Dene Sheppard installed the new officers using the theme "Making Stew." New officers are Mrs. Bill Pollard, president; Mrs. Gary Cox, vice president; Mrs. Michael Emerson, secretary; Mrs. Ben Neel, treasurer; Mrs. Guy Speck, historian; and Mrs. Lenny Prudhomme, parliamentarian.

Following the installation, a business meeting was held. Yearbooks, and Dr. Dobson's films, next year's program course were discussed.

The club adjourned for the summer, with meetings to resume in September.

Officers installed by PTA

A special called meeting of the Washington Place PTA was held May 12 in the school cafeteria for the purpose of installation of next year's officers. They are: Marcia Rogers, president; Karen Phillips, vice president; Sharon Settles, secretary; and Joyce Johnson, treasurer. The officers were installed by Virginia Martin.

A lifetime membership was presented to Mrs. Laura Whitley, retiring teacher at Washington. The possibility of changing the meeting hours from 7 p.m. to 4 p.m. was discussed.

PTA dues will be increased next year to $1.50. Of this amount, $1.10 will go to state and national, and 40 cents will remain with Washington School.

'Best of Dear Abby' slated for publication

FAIRWAY, Kan. — A major book by Abigail Van Buren, America's most widely syndicated advice columnist, will be published by Andrews and McMeel. Publication date is Oct. 8.

"The Best of Dear Abby," her first book in 19 years, is more than a collection of Abby's best letters. It includes candid autobiographical material as well as some insightful commentary on how society has changed since the author began her career 25 years ago.

"The Best of Dear Abby" deals seriously with marriage, divorce, parenting, sex, aging, teenagers, infidelity and homosexuality, but the chapters titled "Not Fit to Print" and "Abby's One-Liners" alone would justify an anticipated first printing of 100,000 copies," says John P. McMeel, chairman of Andrews and McMeel.

The Dear Abby newspaper column, now syndicated by Universal Press Syndicate, Andrews and McMeel's parent company, is read by 65 million readers daily in over 1,000 newspapers in the United States and abroad.

First child's birth announced by couple

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Dean, 1319 Sycamore, announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, Leslie April. The infant made her debut at Malone-Hogan Hospital Monday at 11:21 a.m., weighing 6 pounds 12 1/2 ounces and measuring 19 inches long.

Leslie's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charley Kelley, 1705 Harvard. Paternal grandparents are Mrs. Annette Dean, Cape Girardeau, Mo., formerly of Big Spring, and the late John Warren Dean Sr.

ACCEPTS AWARD — Dene Sheppard, right, accepts a certificate and crystal plate from Betty Rendel, NFRW president, at the "Tribute to Women" held in Austin April 29. Mrs. Sheppard has been active in every phase of political campaign work since she first joined a Federated Club in 1964.

State capitol is site of 'Tribute to Women'

AUSTIN — Mrs. Dene Sheppard, president of the West Texas Republican Women's Club of Big Spring, was honored at a special "Tribute to Women" in Austin April 29 by the Texas and National Federations of Republican Women.

The Texas "Tribute to Women" was held from 4-6 p.m. at the Driskill Hotel. The event culminated the TFRW's Legislative Day. State awards were presented by the former First Lady of Texas, Nellie Connally, with Betty Rendel, NFRW president, doing the national honors.

The event was co-hosted by Anne B. Armstrong, former ambassador to England, and Mrs. William Clements, First Lady of Texas. Austin Mayor Carole McClellan presented the Key to the City to Betty Rendel and Cathy Smyth, president of the TFRW. Other special guests attending the Tribute included: the Hon. George Strake, Secretary of State; Mrs. Fran Chiltes, GOP National Committeewoman; the Hon. Amadee Turner, member of the European Parliament, plus a host of Texas legislators and GOP Party leaders.

Also attending was Susan Alexander, Forsan, vice president of Big Spring's Republican Women's Club. The Texas Federation has over 10,000 members, making it the largest political women's organization in the state.

It is now widely agreed that prolonged institutional living is damaging and dependency-producing for people who don't need it.

Many older people leave their homes and go to medical institutions for basically non-medical reasons: they can't get adequate personal care and help with meals and chores at home, or can't afford to pay for such services at home.

The kind of care they need might be provided in a range of settings other than nursing homes and hospitals—at home, or in family-style boarding homes, day care centers, foster care homes for adults, or in supervised residences in the same community where the older person has been living.

Congressman Claude Pepper, chairman of the House Select Committee on Aging, estimates that 25 percent of older people in nursing homes could be cared for better at less expense in non-institutional settings.

Significant dollar savings would result from a more rational pattern of caring for older people, the Administration on Aging reports.

Compared with hospital care, community care can save about 40 percent in costs, the Administration on Aging estimates. Compared with nursing home care, community care can save 25 to 50 percent.

Currently, disabled elderly people rely on their own families for the major portion of the help they need. At least 60 percent of all care of functionally disabled older people is provided by their families, often by elderly spouses and their adult children with some help from social agencies.

However, about 31 percent of all persons 65 and over live alone. Community services are the only resource for many persons who live alone.

The Department of Health and Human Services' effort to develop long term community services for the disabled focuses on new ways of organizing, delivering and financing services in 12 states.

In each demonstration project the goal will be the same: to tailor services to the needs of the individual.

Conservation is part of the answer, so...

let's save all we can.

We Americans have traditionally been pretty good savers, and lately we've made some progress in saving energy. We've slowed our energy consumption and actually reduced our imports of petroleum.

But in 1980 we still imported more than 40 percent of the oil we used in the United States, at a cost of about $70 billion. We must save more, and we can.

Most of our savings so far have come from driving slower in more efficient cars. We can also improve around our homes by increasing the insulation in our houses, and by choosing the most energy-efficient appliances when we shop for new ones. American industry is making appliances more efficient and labeling large ones with their energy-efficiency ratings to help us compare.

At your electric company, we believe that conservation is important. But it's not the whole answer to our energy problems. We need to use more of our abundant domestic supplies of coal and nuclear fuels to make electricity. And support efforts to develop other sources of energy and make them economically practical.

Conservation is part of the answer, so... let's save all we can.

Schmidt's first inning home run sets tone for game

World champs end Valenzuela's streak

By the Associated Press
Mike Schmidt said it was a little like playing in the World Series, but to Fernando Valenzuela, it was nothing special, just a loss. For the first time this season — on a Monday night before a full house of 52,439 at Dodger Stadium — Valenzuela did not go nine innings. The 20-year-old Los Angeles pitcher left after seven innings with his team trailing 4-0 to the Philadelphia Phillies. He left without a chance to win, and he eventually absorbed his first loss as a major leaguer. After winning eight straight games as a rookie — a feat believed to have been accomplished only once before — Valenzuela became imperfect. The defending World Series champion Phillies wound up winning 4-0 on a first-inning home run by Schmidt, his 12th this year, and three more runs in the fourth inning. Right-hander Marty Bystrom, also a rookie, scattered five hits over seven innings for the victory. "I was as nervous as I was in several of the World Series games last year," Schmidt said. "He (Valenzuela) is not unhittable, but he was unbeatable — until tonight." Valenzuela, a screwball specialist, left in the seventh for a pinch hitter, having given up as many runs as he had in his previous eight starts, five of which were shutouts. His earned run average jumped to 0.91. "I knew sooner or later I would lose a game," Valenzuela said through an interpreter. "I'm not sad. I don't think it will affect my type of game. You win games, you lose games." Later, after further questioning, he said, simply: "Tonight, I lost." In the only two other National League games played Monday night, Montreal edged San Diego 3-2 in 10 innings and San Francisco defeated the New York Mets 3-1. The loss ended Los Angeles' winning streak at seven games and left Valenzuela tied with Dave "Boo" Ferris for what is believed to be the most season-opening wins in a row ever for a rookie. Ferris won his first eight for the Boston Red Sox in 1945. Valenzuela gave up just three hits before leaving, but two walks in the fourth inning hurt him. Schmidt's homer came with two out in the first, and Valenzuela retired the next seven batters before walking Pete Rose and Schmidt to start the fourth inning. Keith Moreland bunted one pitch foul before he singled Rose home, and Valenzuela let the count go full on Gary Matthews before Matthews grounded a single through the left side for another run. Moreland, who wound up on third after Matthews' hit, scored on a sacrifice fly by Garry Maddox. "They got three base hits," Dodgers catcher Mike Scioscia said. "Only one of them was hit hard." Rookie Dave Stewart held the Phillies hitless over the final two innings, but the Dodgers were unable to come up with that rally that could have gotten Valenzuela off the hook. Ron Reed pitched the final two innings for Philadelphia, checking the Dodgers on one hit. Expos 3, Padres 2

Jerry White, a late-inning defensive replacement, drove in the winning run in the 10th inning with a sacrifice fly as Montreal won only its third game in the past 11.
Giants 3, Mets 1
Jack Clark hit two home runs, and Allen Ripley pitched eight strong innings as San Francisco dealt New York its eighth straight loss. Ripley yielded only a solo homer to Joel Youngblood in the eighth and left in favor of Greg Minton after walking Mike Jorgenson to lead off the ninth.
Darrell Evans also homered for the Giants.

Centennial Games has top players from past, present

The spotlight in the Big Spring-Howard County Centennial Celebration Sunday afternoon will turn to Steer Park, where a baseball doubleheader featuring former professionals in the old Longhorn League will be played. Al Valdes, himself a former baseball pro, has been contacting former pros in the area to compose a team that will oppose Frank Ibarra's Big Spring High School team. Two of the area's finest sandlot baseball teams, the Big Spring Yankees and the Big Spring Red Sox, will clash in the second game. Baseball buffs can gain admission to the park for a modest $1. Tickets for the contest are on sale at City Barber Shop, Big Spring Savings and the Centennial Store. Advance ticket sales have already passed the 200 mark.

Jack Griffin, one of the area's best known umpires, will be behind the plate for the Oldtimers-Steer game. Chris Uchman manages the Yanks while David Cruz directs the Red Sox field. Johnny Mize and Tony Mann are among the outstanding players for the Yankees.

Tito Arencibia, who hasn't played professional baseball for many years but who stays in top shape because he is a devoted handball player, will be in the lineup for the Oldtimers.

The Steer-Oldtimer game will end after seven innings, after which the Red Sox and Yankees will take the field.

By the Associated Press
You really have to hand it to Goose Gossage. That's what the New Yankees usually do in tight situations — and he rarely fails to disappoint them. For the 11th time this season, the Yankees' great relief pitcher came out of the bullpen to preserve a victory, this time a 2-1 decision over the Kansas City Royals Monday night. That kept Gossage's relief record spotless this season. He has made two other appearances in 1981, gaining a victory in one, while having no decision in the other.

"If I only have to pitch an inning or so, I can do that just about every night," said Gossage. "That's what I like about being a reliever. I've got a chance to be in there every game."

Gossage has allowed just eight hits and one run in 192.3 innings of work and owns a glittering 0.46 earned run average. Of the 59 batters he has retired this season, 27

Garcia leads Red Sox sweep

SNYDER — The Big Spring Red Sox used an advantageous hitters wind and the heroics of Ernie Garcia in taking a twinbill sweep of the Snyder's A's here Sunday in semi-pro action.

Garcia slammed three homers for the day, with his grand slam shot in the seventh inning of the second game allowing the Red Sox to overcome the A's. His other two homers came in the first game.

The two teams battled to a 10-10 tie in the regulation of the first game, but Mike Walker's three-run homer in the first extra frame propelled the Red Sox to a 15-12 triumph. In that win, Garcia had three hits, as did Adam Yanez and John Morelton. Morelton also homered to join Garcia and Walker in that department.

In the nightcap, the A's led 4-2 before Garcia's grand slammer. Other hitting stars for the Red Sox in the win included Morelton, Vicente Garcia and Pete Amaro with two hits each.

David Cruz was the winning pitcher in the first game, with Louis Rodriguez the winner in the second. The Red Sox, now 5-1 on the year, play the Big Spring Yankees in the second half of a Centennial special next Sunday afternoon in Steer Park.

have been on strikeouts.

"I feel comfortable with the job I'm doing," said Gossage. "I like getting out of bed in the morning. I love coming into a tough spot. The tougher the situation, the better I am."

In other American League action, it was Baltimore 5, Oakland 1; Chicago 7, Toronto 2; California 7, Cleveland 1; Boston 8, Seattle 5 and Texas 13, Detroit 5.

Monday night's situation was mild compared to most for Gossage. Yankee starter Tommy John was taken out of the game with two out in the eighth after giving up his seventh hit. Gossage then cleaned up, getting the final four batters.

"I don't like anybody with a bat," said the sometimes awesome relief pitcher. "When a hitter steps in swinging, the adrenaline starts flowing. I say to myself 'All right! All right! They're trying to hurt me with that thing.'"

Graig Nettles drove in the deciding run for the Yankees with a sacrifice fly in the sixth inning, snapping a 1-1 tie, as New York won the first meeting this season between the 1980 AL Division champions.

Dave Winfield and Reggie Jackson, who was celebrating his 35th birthday, opened the sixth against Paul Spittortl, 0-4, with singles. Lou Piniella advanced the runners with a sacrifice and Nettles followed with his fly ball.

New York's first run came in the third on Dennis Werth's RBI double. Kansas City nicked John, 5-3, for a run in the second on Frank White's RBI single.

Scott McGregor allowed just three hits — all by Rickey Henderson — as he pitched Baltimore over Oakland. Mark Belanger and Ken Singleton drove in two runs apiece for the Orioles.

It was the sixth consecutive triumph for the Orioles, who have won 15 of their last 18, and the fifth straight defeat for the A's.

White Sox 7, Blue Jays 2
Greg Luzinski enjoyed his finest day since donning a White Sox uniform, hitting two home runs and driving in five runs as Chicago downed Toronto. Luzinski, raising his season RBI total to 13, became the first White Sox player to drive in five runs in a game this season.

Angels 7, Indians 2
Brian Downing's two-run single capped a three-run sixth inning and helped California beat Cleveland.

The Angels started the sixth with bunt singles by Rod Carew and Rick Burleson. Dan Ford's bunt moved them to second and third, and, after a walk to Fred Lynn, Don Baylor's sacrifice fly put the Angels up Downing's clinching single. The Angels scored three insurance runs in the ninth on RBI doubles by Bobby Grich and Carew and a run-scoring single by Burleson.

Red Sox 8, Mariners 5
Brian Stapleton keyed a three-run eighth inning with a tie-breaking double, lifting Boston over Seattle. The score tied 5-5. Carl Yastrzemski started the Boston eighth with a pinch walk off Dick Drago, 1-2, and gave way to pinch runner Rick Miller.

Raiders vs. NFL trial begins today

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Attorneys for the Oakland Raiders and the National Football League prepared to square off today in a federal courtroom where opening statements will signal the start of a long-awaited trial.

Barring any last-minute settlement of their dispute, the two opponents plus three other joint litigants will ask a jury to decide a multi-million-dollar question — can the Super Bowl champion Raiders move to Los Angeles?

Attorneys for the Raiders, the Los Angeles Coliseum, the Los Angeles Rams, the Oakland Coliseum and the NFL, who plan to address the jury, say it will take two full days for them to state their cases.

Then a parade of witnesses will be called to testify by the plaintiffs — the Raiders and Los Angeles Coliseum. Their opening lineup includes Raiders' managing partner Al Davis, Rams' owner Georgia Frontiere, Los Angeles Coliseum Commissioner William Robertson and, if they can subpoena him, NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

Before the trial ends — in an estimated four months — appearances are expected by several Los Angeles County Supervisors who were players in the tug-of-war between two cities that both want the Raiders as their home team.

The 10 jurors, who were chosen for, among other things, their lack of knowledge about sports, are being asked to rule on a limited issue — the legality of the NFL's constitution and a specific rule numbered 4.3 which forbids a team to move without approval of three quarters of the owners of other league teams.

Henry, Ritchey Coahoma MVP at banquet

A total of 158 varsity athletes were recognized last week at the Coahoma All-Sports Banquet, with the night's highest honors going to Darla Henry and Philip Ritchey.

Henry was named the Most Valuable Girl Player at CHS, while Ritchey garnered the MVP for the boys at Coahoma.

Paul Allen served as the Master of Ceremonies, with Athletic Director Roy Winters introducing the coaches of each sport, who in turn introduced the respective athletes.

Outstanding athletes in each sport were recognized for their performances the past year. Individual winners in each sport were: Girls Tennis-Kelly Anderson; Boys Tennis-Neil Barbee; Golf-Doug Fortenberry; Girls Track-Brenda Rinard; Boys Track-Dalton Kerby; Boys Basketball-Michael Meyer; Girls Basketball-Andrea Fowler; Football-Randy Clanton.

There were other awards given during the night. Trainer Royce Islas copped the Outstanding Service Award, while Booster of the Year went to Warren Jeter. Clanton and Fay Fryar were given the Booster Club Scholarships.

Coahoma Booster Club new officers were also presented. They are President Sammy Buchanan, Vice-President Glenn Sargent, Secretary Judy Dobbs, and Treasurer Louise Calawav.

Special recognition was also given to Bo Fryar for her contributions to the Coahoma Booster Club throughout the past year.

Rangers receive due as bats erupt in win

DETROIT (AP) — The Texas Rangers were due. Manager Don Zimmer was sure of it.

No baseball team with a .289 batting average and starters the likes of Al Oliver, Micky Rivers, Bump Wills, Pat Putnam and Bobby Bell — all of whom hit 290 or better — can be denied runs forever.

So Zimmer wasn't surprised when his team, which had scored only one run the entire weekend in two games against the Chicago White Sox, bounced back Monday night with a vengeance, connecting for 19 hits and a 13-5 American League victory over the Detroit Tigers. "We just were due to hit tonight, and tonight we hit," said Zimmer. "We just went 18 innings and got one run, so I guess we were overdue."

"Texas was hitting everything," agreed Detroit catcher Lance Parrish, who watched five pitchers troop to the plate trying to stop the Texas barrage. "I don't think it mattered who was up (pitching)."

THUMBS UP — Indianapolis 500 rookie Josele Garza breaks into a big smile and gives a thumbs up sign to unified at an average speed of 195.101 mph Saturday for the May 24 running of the 500-mile race. Garza, 22, from Mexico City, Mexico, will be the first Mexican to drive in the 500.

As NBA champions honored by estimated one million fans

While city goes bankrupt, Celtics rise to top

CELEBRATION — Boston Celtics star forward Larry Bird, center, raises his arms in jubilation as the team parades through the streets of Boston Monday to celebrate their winning of the National Basketball Association championship last week over the Houston Rockets. In the lead truck with Bird is assistant coach K.C. Jones, 2nd left.

BOSTON (AP) — Celtic green was the color of the day when thousands of whooping, raucous fans jammed into Boston's City Hall Plaza to celebrate the Boston Celtics championship victory in the National Basketball Association.

The happy fans, estimated by some as high as one million, cheered Monday when they were shown the NBA trophy. They yelled when team members like Cedric Maxwell and Kevin McHale threw their hats to the crowd. But the biggest ovation came when Larry Bird, the Celtics star forward, came to the podium.

Aggies hire ex-great

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Texas A&M has hired the captain of the Aggie 1974-75 basketball team as its assistant basketball coach, university officials announced Monday.

John Thornton will serve on the staff of head coach Shelby Metcalf effective July 1.

Thornton comes to A&M after two years as athletic director and head basketball coach at Hill Junior College. He also worked at Athens High School, where he was named coach of the year in 1977.

Thornton, a 6-7 forward in his playing days, was named the Southwest Conference's Newcomer of the Year and Most Valuable Player of the 1973-74 A&M team.

Spokesman for Mayor Kevin H. White, quoting Police Superintendent Robert Bradley, estimated the plaza crowd at 50,000 to 60,000 and the crowd along a parade route at more than one million. However, given the modest crowds along portions of the parade route, the one million figure appeared to be high.

The crowd's enthusiasm resulted in three injuries when a young man standing on the roof of a subway entrance crashed through a plexiglass bubble, landing on two women.

The three were treated for cuts and sprains at Massachusetts General Hospital.

Vendors did a brisk business in Celtics pennants, T-shirts and bumper stickers as the crowd celebrated Boston's first championship sports team since the 1976 Boston Celtics. For many it was a welcomed respite from the city's months-long financial crisis that has threatened to close the city's schools for nearly a month.

"The Celtics have given Boston a tremendous uplift. There really is a Celtics pride. It is passed down from one generation of players to the next in the same way that pride in our city is passed along from parent to child," White said in a statement.

"It's good for the city," said John Luikert, an insurance claims adjuster who walked over to the rally from his office. "At least something in this city is run properly."

Bird, chosen by his teammates to speak to the crowd, offered his own observations on the city's plight.

"For the last couple weeks in the paper I've been reading about Boston going bankrupt," Bird said. "Well, I spent about two minutes up in Mayor White's office and all them people up there do is run around asking for autographs. Now I know why they're going bankrupt."

Bird said he could think of only one place he'd rather be: "French Lick," his Indiana hometown.

As strike deadline approaches

Baseball mediators not giving up hope

NEW YORK (AP) — Only 10 days remain before the threatened baseball strike, but federal mediator Kenneth Moffett, for one, hasn't given up.

Moffett, acting head of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, has called negotiators for both sides to a meeting today at the offices of Ray Grebey, executive director of the Player Relations Committee. The session was scheduled to begin at 2 p.m. EDT.

Grebey, chief negotiator for the owners, and Marvin Miller, head of the Major League Baseball Players Association, met with Moffett for more than two hours May 11. Apparently, little progress was made at that session, and Grebey and Miller both declined to discuss the meeting.

The players have threatened to strike May 29 over the issue of free agent compensation, the sole issue left unresolved in last year's contract settlement. In February, the owners implemented a plan which entitles a club losing a "ranking" free agent to a veteran player as compensation, and 10 days later the players set their strike deadline.

Under last year's contract agreement, the players have until June 1 to exercise their option to strike.

Earlier this month, the players' union asked the National Labor Relations

Board to cite the owners for failing to bargain. The NLRB says that since the owners have contended that free agent signings have created a financial hardship for them, they want the NLRB to order the owners to open their books to examination by the players' union.

The complaint also asked for an extension of the June 1 strike deadline should the financial information be disclosed.

Tech inks big shot-putter

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech track coach Corky Oglesby signed his first recruit of the 1981 season Monday when he received the signature of Slaton shotputter Ken Matney on a letter of intent.

Matney, 5-10, 220-pounder is a two-time district and regional champion and finished third in the state as a junior and senior.

This year he set a district record with a throw of 58-7 and a regional record with a throw of 59-9 1/2. The regional record was the sixth best throw in the state for all classes.

"We really needed help in the shot put, and we feel like Kenny will be a very good boost to us," Oglesby said.

Which could end tonight with Islanders repeat

North Stars admitting defeat in NHL finals

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Although the Minnesota North Stars still plan to give it everything they've got tonight in Game 4 of the Stanley Cup finals against the New York Islanders, there is a gloomy air of inevitability in their locker room.

After the defending champion Islanders scored a 7-5 victory Sunday night to take a 3-0 lead in the best-of-seven National Hockey League series, Minnesota players seemed stunned.

"You've got to be realistic," said goalie Gilles Meloche. "Sunday's game was the key one for us and we lost it. What can you say? We're down 3-0."

Perhaps the most telling statement came from North Stars center Tim Young. "They're not invincible," he said. "Somebody's going to beat them next year."

Awaits Brigham Young in NCAA first round

UT wins SWC Baseball Tourney

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — For three days the Texas Longhorns pounded out big and scored runs in clusters and claimed the championship of the Southwest Conference baseball tournament by winning three straight games by scores of 7-6, 9-3 and 11-1.

But when the title game that 11-1 romp over Arkansas Monday afternoon was over, the main topic of conversation on both sides was pitching. Or the lack thereof.

"I was surprised at the magnitude of victory," admitted Texas coach Clifton H. Longhorn. "I think it is due to our pitching."

Texas catcher Burk Goldthorn, the tournament's most valuable player, chimed in. "They (Arkansas) didn't act aggressive out there today. That's probably because of their pitching. It was very depleted."

The Razorbacks used five pitchers in the title game and none of them could stem the tide.

"It was just one of those days," sighed Arkansas coach Norm DeBrynn, whose Razorbacks have now played Texas in the tournament final game and lost three years in a row. "We had no defense, no pitching and we really didn't hit that well. Give Texas credit; they deserved to win."

Goldthorn fattened his individual statistics in the three games of the tournament, collecting seven hits in 15 times at bat, including two home runs and two doubles, and driving in six runs. He led a contingent of six Longhorns onto the all-tournament team.

Dave Seiler, 3-4, got credit for the win while Ed Vidmar, 0-3, took the loss for Arkansas.

The win means Texas will host the NCAA Central Regional baseball tournament this weekend. Opening round matchups are Texas against Brigham Young and Lamar against UT DIVISION (M) — Gary's leading Blue Demons of Big Spring led their team without a loss in girls action, taking a 7-5 win over the Midland Red team.

With Tonya Burton taking the loss, Abernig, Cayla Page, Beaglers, Della Bilalita and Sandy Laga each had one hit for the Blue Demons.

Midland's Roxie Barrett was the losing pitcher in the game, pounding out three singles. Adding one each for the losing side were Susanne McCabe, Kar Watson and Burton.

AMERICAN LEAGUE (MINOR)

The Yankees' Mike Stanton rolled to a 15-6 win over the American Well Wolves in AL Minor League action.

Lance Deal, Josh Woolen, Kyle LaRoche and Ryan Tuto all had singles for the Panthers, while Travis Sinclair managed the only hit for the Wolves.

Woolen was the winning pitcher in the contest, with John Foster the loser.

AMERICAN LEAGUE (MAJOR) — The Turner Properties Wilcats went wild in scoring a 16-1 win over the Wheeler Motor of Stanton team.

Jay Pirckle hurled the win for the Wilcats, now 3-0, while Sorley was the losing hurler for the Stanton team, which is now 0-3.

Arizona had a triple for the Wilcats, with Montana and Rox adding doubles. Pirckle helped his own cause with a single.

Stanton's lone hit came off the bat of Sorley. The Wilcats had previously defeated the Angels 13-3 and the Astros 4-0.

Five British soldiers killed in Belfast

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Guerrillas set off an estimated 1,000 pounds of explosives hidden in milk churns under a British armored personnel carrier today, killing all five soldiers aboard, the army said.

The incident occurred near the hometown of IRA hunger striker Raymond McCreech, nearing death in the 59th day of his hunger strike.

The vehicle was blasted off a road in South Armagh, known by the British as "bandit country," near the border with the Irish Republic.

An army spokesman said the explosives were detonated as two Saracen carriers on patrol approached a bridge. The leading carrier escaped damage, while the second one was "blown off the road," killing the crew.

It was the highest number of casualties suffered by the British Army in Northern Ireland in a single incident since 18 soldiers were killed in a bomb explosion at Warrenpoint on Aug. 17, 1979. On the same day British soldier-statesman Lord Mountbatten and three members of his party were killed when their yacht was blown up off the west coast of the Irish Republic.

The army Saracen carrier hit the land mine at about 10:30 a.m. — 5:30 a.m. EDT — south of Newry, County Down, on a road to McCreech's hometown of Camlough.

There were no immediate claims of responsibility.

Early today, the British government refused demands by McCreech's family to remove two members of the medical team attending him. The relatives said the prison doctors tried to confuse McCreech and pressure him to end his fast.

Tax writers seek tax cut compromise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief tax writers in Congress, agreeing only that their differences are many, are signaling the White House they want to talk about finding a consensus on tax cuts.

"We hope we can indicate to anyone who might be interested" that efforts should continue toward finding a tax plan acceptable to Congress and President Reagan, Sen. Robert J. Dole, R-Kan., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said Monday.

Dole went Monday night to the White House, where he conveyed that message to Reagan's chief of staff, James A. Baker III.

"They're willing to listen," Dole said after the meeting. "But so far they see nothing better than their proposal... If, in fact, we could put together something to present to the president, we'd be in business."

He said the White House wants to avoid a lengthy debate that could delay final action on a tax bill until October.

Dole had lunch at the Capitol on Monday with Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., senior Democrat on the committee; House Ways and Means Committee Chairman Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., and Barber Conable, R-N.Y., senior Republican on Ways and Means.

Talking to reporters after the session, the four were unanimous on one point — no agreement on a tax plan was sought and none was reached.

"We now agree on what the problems are," Conable said. "We thought this meeting was preferable to continue reading in the papers what each other is doing."

The Reagan administration opened the door to compromise last week amid mounting indications that the president's individual tax-cut plan is in trouble. That plan would reduce personal tax rates by 30 percent over three years.

The four chief tax writers in Congress agreed to the lunch in an effort to expedite passage of a tax bill. The only solid development to come out of the meeting was Rostenkowski's announcement that the Ways and Means Committee likely will begin writing its tax bill on May 28.

House and Senate leaders hope to complete work on the measure by early August. The Reagan administration asked that the individual tax cuts take effect July 1, although that schedule is jeopardized because Congress has been devoting so much time to the president's budget cuts.

BUY, SELL, AND TRADE QUALITY USED BOOKS ...at the Book Exchange on 901 1/2 Johnson

Book Exchange will buy, sell, trade fine books

Rumor has it that there are still a number of people who enjoy reading books. Another rumor floating around is that those people do not enjoy paying high prices for hardback books.

That is why the Book Exchange, located at 901 1/2 Johnson, is the perfect place for book lovers who hate spending money.

Operated by Bea Walker and Laura Duke, the Book Exchange has over 16,000 paperbacks to sell at half their list price. In addition, the Book Exchange will buy and trade old books that are brought in.

The Book Exchange is a real inflation fighter. They allow you to buy books at a price much cheaper than they can be bought in regular book stores, and in addition will pay you for old books that you've already enjoyed.

The Book Exchange only stocks slightly used books, ones that are still in good condition. They have books for every taste, from popular fiction to classics of literature, as well as gothic novels, mystery novels, and non-fiction books. They also stock a selection of hardback books.

Many of the books on the Book Exchange shelves are still on bestseller lists. There are books by Irving Wallace, Peter Benchley, Joseph Heller and Robert Penn Warren. If you enjoy romantic novels, The Book Exchange has a huge selection of Harlequin Romances.

For those who collect comic books, there are many available that are available no place else. The Book Exchange also carries many children's books.

If you are looking for a hard-to-find book, the Book Exchange is a great place to browse and discover. They have moved to a new location at 901 1/2 Johnson and are open for business from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Come and look. You'll be surprised at the fine selection, and pleased at the finer prices.

SHEPPARD FUNERAL HOME IN BIG SPRING ...for caring, quality service in your time of sorrow

Sheppard Funeral Home offers caring service

It's not something that we like to think about, but for all of us, there is no way of escaping it. Death.

When you are confronted with the death of a loved one, turn to the people at Larry D. Sheppard Funeral Home in Big Spring. The experienced, long-time residents of Big Spring will assist you in your time of sorrow with caring, quality service.

Larry D. Sheppard is the owner of the funeral home and Tommy Whatley is the manager. They are assisted by J.O. Hagood, Larson Lloyd Jr., and Leonard West.

All are there to serve you when you need them most.

Sheppard Funeral Home has been in Big Spring for two years now, opening here in June 1978. But they have been operating funeral homes since 1968. Crane, McCamey and Ozona have known the services of Larry D. Sheppard and his employees for a number of years.

In Big Spring, Sheppard Funeral Homes has the Sheppard Chapel of Memories, which seats 350 people. And the State Board of Morticians has rated the chapel as the nicest between El Paso and Fort Worth.

Sheppard Funeral Home also offers insurance and pre-need services. Pre-need can be very helpful to your relatives. You can make all the arrangements for your own funeral before your death and relieve your grieving relations of the responsibility. Noble Glenn is in charge of the insurance department and will be glad to help you in any way.

So call Larry D. Sheppard Funeral Home in your time of sorrow. The number is 263-1321.

Transfer quality of courses taken at HC net good grades

A study conducted by the Admissions Office of Howard College re-affirms that the academic standards and transfer quality of the courses taken at Howard College compare very favorably with the academic standards at senior institutions. The study, which is conducted annually by Mary Dudley, Dean of Admissions of the Howard County Junior College District, compared the grade point averages earned by students while attending Howard College with the grade point averages which the same students earned at Angelo State University, Texas Tech State University and the University of Texas at the Permian Basin. These are the three receiving institutions to which most HC students transfer, according to Dudley. "Findings such as this verify our belief in the academic quality of the transfer curriculum offered by Howard College," said Dudley. The study was conducted by contacting the Admissions Offices at the three main receiving institutions: ASU, Texas Tech, and UTPB. These universities supplied the grade point averages of their students who had transferred from Howard College. A comparison was then made of the present GPA with the GPA earned at HC. "We feel the slight differences found are verification of the adequate preparation for further college work which Howard College students receive," added Dudley. "We think this re-affirms to our faculty, to our administration, and to our students and their parents that the academic standards and the transfer quality of the courses taken at HC prepare students for a senior institution." The GPAs are shown in the accompanying chart:

| Senior College GPA              | Howard College GPA | Difference |
|---------------------------------|--------------------|------------|
| Angelo State 2.42 (88 students) | 2.89               | -.47       |
| Texas Tech 2.64 (103 students)  | 3.11               | -.47       |
| UTPB 2.87 (21 students)         | 3.06               | -.19       |

Felony escape charges filed
COLORADO CITY (SC) — Official charges of felony escape have been filed against two men who broke out of the Mitchell County jail Sunday but were recaptured less than an hour later. Assistant District Attorney Lonnie Markley says a hearing will be held to deny bond to the two men. The hearing is set for 10 a.m., Friday before District Judge Weldon Kirk. The two men, Darren Woody and George Miles, forced their way past a jailer, Sandy Parker, and ran into a weedy area west of the jail. They have been convicted previously — Woody of robbery in Mitchell County, who is back from prison on a bench warrant and Miles, who is being held on a grand jury indictment for forgery.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, MAY 20, 1981

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime finds a number of problems that come from broken promises, so avoid those who are upset and avoid moodiness yourself. Strive to gain your aims.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Not a good day to put a new plan in operation. Your hunches are not good, so don't rely on them now. Be more cheerful.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) A good day to arrange a meeting with higherups and get the support you need. Attend group meeting and get fine results.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) An ally wants to talk over a business matter with you, but await a better day for that. Sidestep a troublemaker.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Try not to argue with co-workers today, and remain poised and collected. Take needed health treatments.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Avoid a temptation to over-spend where recreation is concerned. You can join with good friends later for inexpensive fun.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Try not to have any long conversations at home until evening or there could be serious arguments occurring.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You can now make better plans regarding your personal finances. Talk with an expert about ways to increase your income.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Wait until the afternoon before going through with a practical matter you have in mind. Strive to get ahead.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Make sure you are not forceful with others now or you could meet with delays. Help a friend in need.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Be careful not to fall into some kind of a trap during the day or you will find it difficult to get out of it later.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have many obligations to attend, so doublecheck with officials so you don't make mistakes. Don't lose your poise.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Some unsavory situation could run your good name, so refuse to become involved in it. Express happiness.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... He or she will be one who will like to study every aspect of any situation and then reach the right decisions, be it in business matters or in dealing with friends. This can be a successful life if the best education is provided.
