Ex-Big Springer robbed, 'wanted man' captured

By CAROL HART
 "This is the first time I've ever robbed anything," a 47-year-old Garland man told former Big Springer James Underwood, manager of the Town and Country Savings and Loan Association in McKinney, during a robbery Wednesday.
 But the Garland man, William J. Hensley, may have had a little practice the day before, when he allegedly held up the Trinity Savings and Loan in Richardson.
 Hensley, who was apprehended Wednesday, was also charged with the aggravated robbery of the First State Bank in Wylie, and with the attempted capital murder of a Wylie police officer.
 Underwood, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Underwood of 801 E. 16th, called his parents Wednesday afternoon to assure them that he was all right, and to recount what happened during the robbery.
 Underwood said that a man entered the Savings and Loan Wednesday and asked to speak to the manager. When Underwood came out to greet the man, Hensley said "I'm robbing you. I want all your money."
 Underwood told his parents "I was scared to death. But the man was scared too."

 Hensley was arrested at 2:47 p.m. Wednesday, with Betty Johnson, 43, an hour after a robbery at the First State Bank in Wylie. During the Wylie hold-up, police officer Johnny Bridgefarmer, 21, was shot. He is hospitalized at Collin Memorial Hospital in McKinney, in stable condition.
 Underwood said his establishment was robbed about 12:03 p.m. Wednesday. A report on the arrests in the Dallas Morning News says that Underwood gave Hensley about $1,500 in cash contained in a bank bag. Hensley was wielding a gun during all of the robberies, report show.
 Underwood underwent a similar experience about six to eight months ago, his mother said in a phone call to the Herald today. At that time, the Town and Country Savings and Loan Association fell victim to another armed robber.
 Garland Municipal Judge Randall Grubbs set a $20,000 bond on each of the three robbery charges, and a $75,000 bond on the attempted capital murder charge, according to the Dallas Morning News.
 Officers recovered cash, and a gun from Mrs. Johnson's car. Arrests were made outside Mrs. Johnson's house.

Robert Clark resigns

City Councilman Boyd named manager of Industrial Park

By ANDREA COHEN
 In a reshuffling of city jobs, City Councilman Hal Boyd has been appointed to take over the position of Industrial Park manager effective July 6.
 Robert Clark, who served as manager approximately two years and was to be "the number two man to Boyd" according to City Manager Don Davis, resigned Wednesday, effective immediately.
 In a press conference this morning, Davis said a decision to expand the administration was talked about last October because of added industry and renewed contracts.
 "The Industrial Foundation and the Chamber of Commerce were doing work to expand," he said. "But it was on the back burner until about a month ago."
 "We had been talking to Hal Boyd about taking over as manager of the Industrial Park. It was discussed with Clark. He was supposed to be the property manager. He wouldn't have been as involved with recruiting.

HAL BOYD

 "The job Clark was offered was a lesser position with the same salary," he added.
 According to Davis, Clark quit of his own choosing. "He was not pressured into resigning. In fact, we would have preferred he stay on."

 Asked why Clark was not offered the position Boyd will be assuming July 6, Davis said, "I felt his personality and/or his qualifications were such that they didn't mend themselves to the job. He did a good job there. What was lacking was his ability to meet with administrative details of the job."
 Earlier this morning, before Boyd's appointment was announced, Clark told the Big Spring Herald he was quitting "for no certain reason. I was just tired of it," he said.
 Clark could not be reached for comment after the announcement was made.
 Clark's salary at the time of his resignation was $19,200 a year. Boyd's salary has not been finalized at the present time, according to Davis. The number two spot that would have been Clark's will not be filled immediately.
 Boyd will be responsible for maintaining the acreage at the Park, to administer the airport as a general aviation airport, administer contracts and will be involved with the industrial recruitment along with the Chamber of Commerce and the Industrial Foundation. He will also be responsible for the coordination and planning of the industrial development.
 Boyd, serving his first term on the city council, will be forced to resign from that position, which expires April, 1982. According to City Attorney Elliott Mitchell, the city charter states an appointment can be made to fill the vacancy. Big Spring Mayor Clyde Angel expects it to be filled within a month.
 Boyd is presently employed at Malone-Hogan Hospital as personnel director, a post he has held for eight years.
 Clark said he does not have another job at the present time. "I'm not going to do anything for awhile. I'm just going to take it easy."
 Clark served as Industrial Park manager for approximately 18 months, plus the six months preceding that, when he served as acting manager.

Gov. Clements vetoes Senate redistricting

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements today vetoed the Senate redistricting plan, stating it is "unlawful" in that it denies blacks a "fair and equal opportunity" to elect candidates who would best represent their interests.
 Clements' veto means the Legislative Redistricting Board must come up with a Senate redistricting plan.

It was thought Clements would not veto the bill approved by the Legislature because the five-member board includes all Democrats.
 "There are no black senators today and I, for one, do not believe that increasing the percentage of blacks in the 23rd senatorial district in Dallas from 46.3 percent to 50 percent is the best that the Senate could do in enhancing the prospects for electing a black to the Texas Senate," Clements' veto message said.

Dallas officials investigate death of ex-Big Spring man

By BILL ELDER
 Officials in Dallas are investigating the death of former Big Spring resident Dimas Anguiano Sr., whose body was found lying face-down in a vacant lot in Dallas June 11.
 A spokesman for the Dallas County Medical Examiner's office said that Anguiano's body apparently had been lying in the lot "for a few days."
 Cause of death was undetermined, the spokesman said, and would not be determined until a malfunctioning piece of machinery used in routine toxicology examinations is fixed.
 He added that there was a backlog of cases awaiting a final report from his office and that it may be a month before the cause of death to Anguiano, who was 46, is determined.
 The spokesman was able to say that there was "no evidence of significant trauma" on the body, which was decomposing.
 Identification was made by fingerprints on file with the Big Spring Police Department.
 According to Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, where the body now lies, Anguiano was born in Coahoma,

Big Spring apartment complex proposal tabled by planners

Members of the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission tabled a request for a Department of Housing and Urban Development loan for a proposed Big Spring apartment complex at their meeting Wednesday.
 Ernie Crawford, executive director of the PBRPC, said that the request for funding was tabled because the site for the proposed 100-unit complex is outside the corporate limits of the city.
 Big Spring recently passed a resolution stating that property outside the city would not be eligible for city services, such as water and sewage.
 "There was nothing wrong with the program" other than the question of city limits, Crawford explained.
 Paula C. Ybarra, Barbara Kayler and Gene Gaylor, the three who submitted an application for project mortgage insurance to HUD to insure a loan, were not present at the meeting.

 The three are seeking funds to build a 100-unit complex on a 10 acre site in south Big Spring. Twenty of these units (10 one bedroom and 10 two bedroom) will be Section 8 rent subsidized. Total replacement cost of the project is $2,960,500, and the amount insured is $2,563,750.
 Crawford said the funding request may be brought up again to the PBRPC if the matter of the city limits is resolved.
 Crawford also discussed the fact the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission had been informed of a 47 percent cut in budget. Last year's budget was $6,001,000, said Crawford, as compared to a budget of $3,173,000 this year.
 The CETA Manpower program, which placed CETA workers in various public jobs, was eliminated

Regarded as 'law and order' session, says Shaw

Legislature may be remembered for laws not passed

The recent session of the Texas Legislature may be remembered as much by what it did not pass as what laws it did come out of it, Rep. Larry Don Shaw declared in a talk to The Downtown Lions Club Wednesday.

He thought it would be regarded as a "law and order" session for having passed stronger anti-crime and anti-drug laws. Although he voted against the wire tap bill because he saw dangers of invading the sanctity of the home, and he hoped it would be administered wisely and would be productive.

He was one of 35 House members who refused to suspend the constitutional rule on Worthy Introduction of Legislation, and although they were described as "cockroaches," he said that even opponents conceded this may have held back the usual flood of needless legislation.

Rep. Shaw, whose 63rd District was obliterated and wadded all the way to the northeast corner of Texas in a restructuring of the House district, said he was not surprised at finding himself paired with a veteran member.

"It is the history of redistricting that freshmen generally find themselves paired with a veteran, and had I been confronted with the problem as was Speaker Clayton, I probably would have done as he did," he said.

Federal judge rules Houston schools properly integrated

HOUSTON (AP) — In a stinging indictment of forced busing, a federal judge says Houston's public schools have done the best they can to achieve racial balance and should be required to do nothing more.

"Court-imposed busing is extremely disruptive to public education," U.S. District Judge Robert O'Connor wrote in a 39-page memorandum and order issued Wednesday.

"It tends to divert attention from the foremost goal of the schools to provide the highest quality education for all students and to exacerbate racial conflicts and biases," the ruling said.

The decision by O'Connor was the latest chapter in a desegregation suit filed against the Houston Independent School District nearly a quarter of a century ago.

The original suit was filed in September 1956 on behalf of a 9-year-old black girl who was denied admittance at an all-white elementary school two blocks from her home. The Justice Department intervened on her behalf in the 1960s, and Hispanics entered the case in the 1970s.

Since then, O'Connor said, "The HISD has taken legally required affirmative action to achieve the greatest possible degree of school desegregation, having taken into account the practicalities of the situation."

O'Connor's ruling declaring the Houston district "unitary" requires school officials to report student enrollments by race every six months for the next three years.

Former school board president Tarrant Fendley said the ruling was a salute to the Houston school district. "The fact the judge has declared the system unitary is a congratulatory comment to all the people over many years who have worked so very

The Big Spring superintendent of schools says he agrees philosophically with the decision handed down by a federal judge against forced busing in Houston.

"Philosophically, from an educational standpoint, I never have thought that busing children out of their neighborhood was educationally sound," Lynn Hise said this morning.

He said he has not had an opportunity to study the specifics of the case and therefore could not comment in detail. The ruling would have no effect on Big Spring's operations, he said.

He commented that schools everywhere have had problems in attempting to institute satisfactory desegregation procedures. "Dallas had tried five generally accepted ways of integrating Dallas schools, and none of them had been successful," he said.

"I am hoping that the courts will diligently see this come about," he said.

A spokesman for the Justice Department here said it was "too early" to decide if the ruling would be appealed.

The plaintiffs, including Delores Ross Phlegm who is now 34 years old, could not be reached for comment immediately.

In his order, O'Connor expressed a distaste for busing, noting Houston's streets were congested with traffic and the school district spans about 313 miles.

"Widespread compulsory busing of HISD students would exceed the remedy necessary," he said.

O'Connor noted that 97 of the district's 238 schools were one-race schools, with at least 90 percent of the student body in one racial group. But he said that simply could not be helped.

"The diminishing white population makes it impossible to integrate the one-race minority school in the inner city of Houston," O'Connor said. "There are simply not enough white students in the HISD."

The judge said the proportion of white students in Houston's school has decreased from about half in 1970 to 27.3 percent today.

O'Connor, the fourth federal judge to preside over the long and complicated case, also said the school district has successfully integrated its faculty and staff.

"This Court approves of the HISD's demonstrated efforts and success in completely desegregating its teachers, administrators and other personnel," the judge declared. He denied a motion by the plaintiffs to order a change in the racial ratio of the faculty.

The ruling ends the 24-year-old litigation at the district court level, although it could be appealed.

Ruling worries minority leaders

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal judge's refusal to order further desegregation efforts in city schools is "a tremendous victory," Superintendent Billy Reagan says — but government attorneys say they may appeal the decision.

Reagan said he hopes Wednesday — the day the ruling was handed down by U.S. District Judge Robert O'Connor — "goes down as the day of accomplishment, of having closed a chapter in the history of Houston, Texas and the nation that no one can look back on with pride."

O'Connor ruled that the Houston Independent School District had done its best to achieve racial balance.

Court to decide where deaf girl is schooled

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — A federal appeals judge says the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has a heavy burden in a dispute over the education of a deaf 11-year-old Arkansas girl.

The court took under advisement Wednesday the Springdale School District's appeal of a lower court order that Sherry Grace should be educated in the district.

The district wants her sent to the Arkansas School for the Deaf in Little Rock.

She attended school in Springdale, in north Arkansas, last year under the federal court order of Judge Paul X Williams of Booneville, Ark. She had a certified teacher for the deaf in a one-on-one situation and her parents want her kept there.

The state Department of Education also says the Springdale school is an appropriate setting for the girl.

Judge Gerald Heaney of Duluth, Minn., called it a heavy burden for the court to consider taking the girl out of her home and ordering her to attend school in Little Rock.

James M. Roy Jr., attorney for the Springdale district, said she does not get enough social interaction with students. He likened it to watching a television program with the sound turned off.

Roy said the girl needs similarly handicapped students with whom to practice her language skills. Even a good teacher is not enough because the girl cannot interact with other students who do not have hearing problems, Roy said.

Other scouts attending were Bert Patterson, Burk Bristow, Dieter Gerstenberger, Chad Statham and Brant Nichols.

Also Brad Madry, Michael Self, and Lathey Williams. Leaders were Bill Mims, Dr. Rip Patterson, and Doug Nickols. The troop is sponsored by the Citizens Federal Credit Union.

The troop will be meeting at the Forsan school pool for the remainder of the summer, to develop swimming and life saving skills.

Doctors kill defective fetus, save normal twin

BOSTON (AP) — Doctors punctured the heart of a defective 5-month-old fetus and left it to wither away in the womb beside its normal twin because the mother decided she "could not face the burden of caring for an abnormal child."

The procedure, done last year at New York's Mount Sinai School of Medicine, was the first successful operation of its kind in this country and only the second in the world, according to a report in today's New England Journal of Medicine.

It immediately was denounced by anti-abortion activists.

CRMWD revenues top budget estimates

Revenues are running over budget estimates and expenses under through May for the Colorado River Municipal Water District. However, with the summer peaking season approaching, expenses may rise slightly more rapidly than revenues because of the much higher power costs.

Revenues of $756,779 in April were up slightly, and through the first five months of the year revenues of $3,451,767 were up $307,000, or nearly 9.1 percent. Expenditures through May were $1,872,581, which was $176,318 under budget estimates, or 8.61 percent, for the period.

This was due largely to expenditures of $1,136,452 for electric energy, same being $154,000 or 11.97 percent less than budgeted for the five-months period. However, power costs were up $381,000, or 33.54 percent, over the same time a year ago. One reason was a 40 percent increase in fuel adjustments for power during the past two months.

Total sale of water amounted to 1,592,959,000 gallons in May and 6,065,792,000 gallons through May. This was 135,000,000 gallons more than through May 1980. Cities used 5,086,915,000 gallons, or 75,009,000 gallons less, but oil companies more than wiped out this loss by taking 978,877,000 gallons, or 210,766,000 gallons more than through May of last year.

For May this year 1,176,624,000 gallons of the total supply, or 73.96 percent, came from Lakes J.B. Thomas and E.V. Spence. During the first five months, 5,036,963,000 gallons, or 82.98 percent, came from the lakes. In May 1980 only 60.26 percent came from the lakes, and for the five-month period 68.52 percent. This was logical because at the end of May this year the two lakes together contained 337,000 acre feet of water, whereas a year ago the total was only 141,078 acre feet.

Short sleepers are more energetic, confident

Have you ever wondered why it might take ten hours of sleep for you to get through the day, whereas a livewire never seems to take any time out for sleeping? Inventor Thomas Alva Edison was one of the latter. He would rest and close his eyes for no more than 15 minutes at a time and keep going throughout the 24 hours of each day.

THE NEED FOR sleep, once considered a basic biological requirement, is being reexamined and medical researchers now contend that sleep — part habit, part instinct — can be unlearned by a significant degree, allowing us to gain valuable waking time for work and pleasure.

The June issue of Harper's Bazaar Magazine focuses on sleep. "There is no absolute amount or quota of sleep which is necessary for every individual; the range of 'normal' is wide," Dr. Sheldon Kapen of the University of Massachusetts is quoted as saying in the magazine article. Kapen is of the opinion that sleep patterns are partly learned through parental example and therefore can be unlearned, allowing many people to trim up to two hours from their normal sleep period.

Another professor who has studied man's sleeping habits and his need for it, Dr. Ernest Hartman of Tufts University, reports that short sleepers — those requiring six hours or less — are actually more energetic, confident and successful than the Rip Van Winkle types. They are prone to sleep deeply and get the rest their bodies' need in a short time, Hartman says, implying that the quality of sleep, rather than the quantity, is more important.

A COMPREHENSIVE study at the University of California cited in the Harper Bazaar's article tends to support these findings. In it, subjects gradually learned to sleep an hour and a half to two hours less than they had been used to — without discomfort, fatigue or desire for more sleep. One couple even reported that the extra hours awake enhanced their sex lives.

Violence takes on new meaning

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — Battle scenes in faraway places, which seem so remote on the television screen, can suddenly become personal when a friend gets involved. I took an intensely personal interest in the shelling of an obscure Falangist outpost in the mountains east of Beirut the other day. The exploding shrapnel almost hit my roving correspondent, Peter Grant.

The indefatigable Grant had gone to that dreary, shell-pocked, painfully divided piece of earth called Lebanon to seek some insight into the complex struggle between Moslem and Christian forces. He headed straight for the front lines to see for himself what the fighting was all about.

MY REPORTER, ESCORTED by a 28-year-old militiaman named Claude, arrived at a Falangist command post in a ski lodge early on a Sunday morning. Below them, the Mediterranean sparkled in the sun. Patches of melting snow were pocked by mortar shellholes.

"At the headquarters, we exchanged our Renault for a four-wheel-drive truck, and were joined by three khaki-clad soldiers, all carrying U.S.-made M-16 rifles," Grant wrote. Off they went toward the front lines. Soon the shelling started.

"As we began passing Falangist gun emplacements and camouflaged tanks, we could hear the Syrian guns on the other side of the ridge, and see the shells landing about half a mile away near a shack at the top of a ski lift. Still far away."

They were hoping to reach a vantage point from which to look down on the Bekaa Valley, but before they reached the top of the ridge, soldiers at a Falangist bunker shouted at them to stop. A Syrian tank was around the next bend, they said.

From an observation post a few yards up the ridge, Grant and his escort peered over the sandbags. But the camouflaged tank was not visible.

"Climbing back down to the bunker, the war still seemed remote to me," Grant wrote. "It didn't seem possible the invisible Syrians could pose any danger."

"But suddenly I heard the unmistakable whine of an incoming shell — close. I heard somebody yell, but it was too late. The shell burst about 15 yards away on the path we had just come down. The concussion almost knocked me over, but I was able to join the mad dash into the bunker.

"THEN I LOOKED back and saw one of the soldiers, a 17-year-old named Jacques waving his M-16 wildly. His left arm dangled uselessly, nearly severed by a shrapnel wound near the elbow. His right arm was also bleeding. In a gesture of rage or defiance, he emptied his M-16 in the air."

The wounded soldier was lifted onto the truck. Grant and his escort clambered aboard. Thus began an intimate, harrowing struggle to keep the young soldier from bleeding to death on a wild ride down the mountain.

"I gave Claude my handkerchief, which he used as a tourniquet, while I tried to keep some pressure on the largest wound," Grant wrote. "Finally, the ambulance that had been radioed for met us and sped off to the hospital in Beirut."

Claude had been wounded four times and wore an artificial arm. When Grant expressed dismay over young Jacques, Claude shrugged and said, "This is not a picnic, it is war. If it was a picnic, I would have brought along my girlfriend."

They stopped by a waterfall on the mountain to wash the wounded soldier's blood from their hands and clothes. "Human beings are very ugly on the inside," Claude observed.

Footnote: Grant inquired about

Jacques two days later. He was told the young man will at least regain the use of his right arm. The doctors were still hoping they wouldn't have to amputate the left arm.

PENTAGON PIPELINE: A top-secret Defense Intelligence Agency report, written several months before the Israeli attack upon Iraq's nuclear facilities, confirmed that Iraq was developing into a nuclear threat. Warned the report: "Iraq has certainly developed a nuclear capability unmatched by its allies, with a potential for threatening Israel which has not existed before ... With the development of the Osirak reactor, (Iraq is probably intent on acquiring the material and technology for arming these missiles with nuclear warheads."

The real villain in the dangerous Israeli-Iraq confrontation is France. The United States made repeated secret attempts to persuade the French not to ship enriched weapons-grade uranium to Iraq. Even Saudi Arabia and Syria pleaded secretly with the French not to promote Iraqi nuclear development, without strict safeguards. These Arab neighbors feared Iraq wanted to dominate the Persian Gulf area. But the French thirst for Iraqi oil was too great. They agreed to deliver 70 to 80 kilos of uranium suitable for manufacturing nuclear warheads. All it takes to build one bomb is 20 kilos.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: How can I know if God is calling me to preach? I am in my 40s, and it seems silly to even think about it, but I have an overwhelming urge to tell others about Christ. — K.A.

DEAR K.A.: It is not silly for you to consider this, because God may be calling you and it would be tragic if you were to miss his call. The important thing is that you discover God's will. It would be equally tragic if you were to decide to become a minister of the Gospel if God were not calling you.

How can you determine God's call? Only you can decide if he is calling you — no one else can make that final decision for you. But let me mention some things you should take into consideration. For example, it would probably be a good thing for you to take whatever opportunities you may have right now to teach or preach. In other words, one of the ways we discover the gifts God has given us is by testing them out in actual situations.

Then seek the honest evaluation of others. Often we are not in the best position to assess realistically our own gifts and abilities — others can do it better. Tell some with whom you have Christian fellowship of your concern, and ask them to give you their honest and prayerful view of the gifts God has given you.

Also, I would hope you would include your family in your decision. Your letter indicates you are married, and this is a decision about which you and your wife should pray, and agree upon. In addition, your deep desire to tell others about Christ is good, and perhaps it is one thing that God would use to lead you.

I hope, however, that you do not feel that being a minister is the only way you can share Christ with others. It may be that God is calling you to be an active layman, witnessing for Christ right where he has already placed you. As a layman you may have opportunities with people who would never come to your church, but who need Christ. God needs people in all kinds of places — both as preachers and laymen. Seek his will, and trust him to lead you.

got out, and really handled his role well. He was most polite to the people in the car. We could tell, because we sat in the DPS car watching as he asked for the driver's license, then proceeded to tell him why he had been pulled over.

Members of the family got out of their car, and we got out of ours. Ms. Thomas and Sheedy told them all of the things they would receive as guests of Big Spring, and the family was so friendly, I changed my mind on the spot. "The Great Big Spring Hold Up" is really a nice idea after all.

ANOTHER NICE thing about Big Spring is "Spring City Theater," which will present "Sweeney Todd, Demon Barber of the Barbary Coast" July 23, 24 and 25 at the Comanche Trail Park Amphitheater. Cecelia McKenzie is one of the people responsible for keeping theater alive in Big Spring, which is very important to this community.

Assisting director Cecelia as assistant director is Crystal Dean. Cecelia and Crystal are working hard on the production now, and they have many fine cast members to work with. "Sweeney Todd" should be lots of fun.

Around the rim An idea that works

Carol Hart

I have to admit I was skeptical of the "Great Big Spring Hold Up" at first. I mean, having a DPS trooper chase down an unsuspecting motorist, pull him over, then invite him and his family to stay the night in Big Spring seemed a far-out way to get people to stay here.

But, then I had the chance to ride with the people responsible for the "Great Big Spring Hold Up" on Tuesday, and even this very skeptical skeptic changed her mind.

"THE GREAT BIG SPRING Hold Up" is really a lot of fun. Imagine riding down the highway in a DPS trooper's car, instead of eyeing one suspiciously from the rear view mirror. Trooper Glen Redmon drove the car Tuesday, and Chamber of Commerce assistant manager Mark Sheedy, Herald photographer Bill Forshee, Rose Thomas and I got to go along to see how the family would react, and to give them the low-down on what they would receive in Big Spring, in addition to free lodging.

Believe me, those DPS cars can really inch on down the highway. It didn't take long to find the suitable family, and the chase was on. When the car pulled over, Trooper Redmon

Dobrynin's discomfort

Evans, Novak

WASHINGTON — Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin is complaining, very privately, that the Reagan administration is not keeping him clued in on U.S. policy toward the Soviet Union.

Dobrynin, who started his ambassadorial term here way back in 1962, was on intimate terms with many previous secretaries of state and on fairly close terms with some presidents, notably Henry Kissinger and Richard Nixon. But in the Reagan administration, he finds himself frozen out of the intimate tete-a-tetes that marked earlier years.

That reflects Reagan's strong antipathy for continuing the old ways, in which Dobrynin was the focal point of all top-level U.S.-Soviet diplomatic business. Reagan was strongly reinforced by former U.S. Ambassador Malcolm Toon, who publicly protested that he felt squeezed out of the diplomatic game because the main business was done in Washington with Dobrynin. Neither Secretary of State Alexander Haig nor national security assistant Richard Allen was gone out of his way to disabuse Dobrynin of his morose sense of being left out.

IRAQ'S FIRST RESPONSE
In one of the dozens of secret briefings given Congress about the Israeli attack on the Iraqi nuclear reactor, a top intelligence official reported this startling word: Iraq's first reaction to the noise and flashes of the Israeli bombs was that a great fireworks display had started.

The reactor is located 10 miles southeast of Baghdad, far enough away that ground tremors would not be felt but the flashes would be clearly visible.

That shows the complete success of Israel in maintaining the crucial element of surprise. Although the Israelis had been saying privately for many months that the reactor would never be allowed to start up, Iraq's government and its air force apparently took that warning as a tall tale — just as many American ofhicials did.

KENNEDY EYES IOWA

A new clue that Sen. Edward M. Kennedy has one eye on the 1984 Democratic presidential nomination lies in the fact that Paul Wagner, a key Kennedy operative in 1980's losing struggle, has taken a roving teaching assignment for a consortium of Iowa colleges.

Wagner's roving seminar, covering five liberal arts colleges in the state considered certain to hold the first 1984 test for the wide open Democratic nomination, is a review of Ronald Reagan's first 100 days. He brings in experts from Washington, including some from the Reagan administration. That guarantees priceless exposure for Wagner, an Iowa native, to just the sort of youthful enthusiasts who might be recruited for the 1984 Kennedy campaign — or for Wagner himself, if he decides to launch a political career of his own.

Although the unique roving seminar ends in July, Wagner is considering extending his teaching chores in Iowa for another year. He discounts talk that he is a Kennedy stalking horse, pointing out that the senator first has to win big in his Senate re-election campaign next year. Insiders, however, insist that Wagner is laying the groundwork for Teddy Kennedy in the Iowa caucuses.

SADAT STEMS THE TIDE

A riotous debate in the Egyptian parliament just after the Israeli raid on that Iraqi nuclear reactor almost forced President Anwar Sadat to recall his ambassador to Israel to show Egypt's anger over the attack — accomplished with American-supplied warplanes.

The debate started off raucously, reflecting rising nationalism among Egypt's political militants and younger-generation army officers never fully reconciled to the Egypttian-Israeli treaty. What enflamed that mood was the fact that Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin had been given a gracious political boost when Sadat agreed to confer with him only days before the secretly planned raid.

Sadat flatly rejected recalling his ambassador, even as a token gesture. He wants to keep his Israeli relations on an even keel at least until next spring, when final Israeli withdrawal from the Sinai Peninsula is supposed to take place. Sadat worries that too strong an anti-Israeli withdrawal from the Sinai Peninsula is supposed to take place. Sadat worries that too strong an anti-Israeli reaction to the Iraqi raid might put in jeopardy that final Israeli pullout.

NOW IT CAN BE TOLD

Former President Carter actually used the line about his daughter Amy's fear of "nuclear proliferation" in a debate rehearsal he held at Camp David a few days before the Cleveland debate with Ronald Reagan last Oct. 28.

When top Carter aides monitoring the rehearsal heard the line, they reacted negatively and instantaneously. That would never do, they told Carter, it just didn't sound logical, it would make people laugh.

Carter argued, but then seemed to agree. The rehearsal continued for a few minutes when he suddenly said he had had enough and did not need any rehearsal anyway.

When he then spoke the offending line during the actual debate, those same aides were incredulous. It had exactly the response they predicted: guffaws and ridicule. Looking back, they decided Carter always had intended to use the line but did not want to argue the case with his aides.

Stubborn to the end, Carter was convinced that the line he attributed to Amy was a winner.

Test will confirm certain allergies

Dr. Paul G. Donohue, M.D.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Will you please tell me how reliable the RAST test is for food allergies? — Mrs. M.M.D.

RAST stands for (sit down for this one) radioallergosorbent test, truly a mouthful. RAST is one acronym I appreciate. It is a blood test used to detect antibodies that lead to allergic reactions. No test, including RAST, is 100 percent reliable. It can be useful in establishing food allergies, especially those to shellfish, nuts, wheat, eggs or milk. It is only one way to determine this.

Compelling evidence of food allergy is the fact that a person gets symptoms when he eats the suspect food and is symptom-free when he does not. A RAST test will show if you make antibodies in the presence of the particular food, and is further evidence. I can't give you an exact reliability factor for it. Many allergists feel it is a very useful test.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I have signs of dreaded hemorrhoids and wonder if you might tell me some exercises to do to avoid the little devils getting serious. Right now, they burn and itch a little after elimination. Thanks for your advance preventive medicine. — C.K.

Hemorrhoids are not pleasant, but the prospect of them should not fill you with dread. They are varicose veins of the rectal areas. There are two kinds, internal and external. You need not be bothered with more details about the differences between them except to understand the following:

The principal signs of internal hemorrhoids are bleeding and a feeling of a bulge where they protrude. Yes, they can itch. The chief sign of external hemorrhoids is pain, especially during elimination.

For most, straining is the contributing factor to avoid. So it's back again to the advice about increasing the amount of fiber in your diet — bran, fresh fruits, vegetables, or any of the whole-grain cereals. Soaking in a tub of warm water eases any inflammation and gives pain relief.

The second point I want to make is that itching is not always due to hemorrhoids. Infections, especially fungal infections, fissures and pinworms, too, can cause such itching.

You should be examined to confirm your self-diagnosis. You may want to look through the booklet "The Real Cure for Hemorrhoids," which has some control tips. For a copy, write me in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents.

NOTE TO READERS: I have completed a revision of the prostate booklet, which is on its way to the printer now. Those of you who have recently ordered this booklet will be receiving the new, revised version as soon as it is available.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters.

Clayton cited for 'his love of country-western dancing'

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Parting shots

If House Speaker Bill Clayton is true to his word, he has gravelled his fourth and last regular legislative session to an end. It was a nostalgic occasion for some, but not for Rep. Lynn Nabers of Brownwood, who is something of a maverick conservative though one of Clayton's committee chairmen.

"Sad?" Nabers asked. "I'm not sad: The only thing I'm sad about is that we didn't pass an amendment limiting the speaker's terms."

Last year Nabers endorsed Rep. John Bryant of Dallas for speaker, objecting that Clayton's three terms were at least one too many. Nabers' own speakership aspirations are hindered by lobbyists who distrust his independent streak.

A House-Senate resolution honoring Clayton includes a citation for "his love of country-western dancing."

Gov. Bill Clements is boasting of a .770 batting average for his bills passed by the 1981 Legislature. A notable strike-out, however, has his proposal for initiative and referendum, which would allow voters to pass and reject laws.

For that defeat, Houston lawyer-lobbyist James Nance is doing some gloating of his own. Nance fought I&R for big-business clients who feared voters would approve a corporate income tax. After the Senate's midnight adjournment, he modelled a T-shirt for friends.

"Who Shot I&R?" it asked above a picture of a smoking pistol. On back, it advertised, "Have Brief, Will Travel."

For lobbyist Gaylord Armstrong, whose clients-with-clout include Exxon, General Motors and General Electric, the session's midnight closing did not end lobby duties.

Looking fatigued in the speaker's office on the last long day, Armstrong said he had to catch a plane to New York City early the next morning to brief executives on how to make loans under the state's new law raising interest-rate ceilings.

No hablo español...

When Rep. Natt Garcia of San Antonio and Billy Hall of Laredo opened House debate on the bilingual education bill that Garcia and Corpus Christi Sen. Carlos Truan sponsored, their exchange began in Spanish.

Loosely translates, Hall told Garcia that no one understood what they were saying.

"That's all right, Garcia replied! He'll teach them."

The bill passed, though with a restrictive amendment that late has removed in a House-Senate conference committee. Most of the two-hour debate, however, was dominated by Garcia — so much so that at one point, Republican Rep. Frank Gaston of Dallas cautioned Garcia to let up.

"There are many of my colleagues in Redneck Square who are for the bill," Gaston said, referring to the conservatives' side of the House, "and they're just hoping you don't talk them out of it."

Clements who? ...

After Ronald Reagan's election, Republican Gov. Bill Clements bragged to reporter that he would have an open line to the White House anytime Texas needed anything.

After Austin's recent fatal floods, Clements forwarded the city's request for a disaster-area declaration.

COVERED — Officer Anthony Day covers an unidentified woman while gunman William B. Griffin holds several hostages inside the Security Trust building in Rochester, N.Y. Wednesday.

Gunman kills 3, is shot by police

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A 37-year-old man who seized seven hostages in a bank and said he "wanted to be executed" was shot dead by police after killing three people, including his mother, officials said. Seven were wounded.

Police said the three-hour siege of terror ended Wednesday when William Bernard Griffin stepped into the view of a police sharpshooter after fatally wounding one of the hostages in the doorway of the Security Trust Co.

The shooting began shortly before noon when Griffin, following an apparent family dispute, took a shotgun to his mother's house in a normally quiet neighborhood on the city's west side. He killed her and a wallpaper-hanger working at the house and seriously wounded his stepfather, police said.

Griffin left the house and headed toward the bank two blocks away, "walking fast with a rifle over his shoulder," said Scott Daitz, 27, of Greece, N.Y., who was delivering potato chips to a bar across the street from the bank. The gunman entered the bank, and then "a whole bunch of people came running out of the bank in all directions — just scattering," Daitz said.

Daitz's partner, Billy Winkler, ran across the street "to help get them out of there," Daitz said, but then a motorcycle policeman arrived, and "a shower of shots began."

Police said Griffin fired about 80 shots while holding seven people hostage. Four civilians and two police officers outside the bank were injured.

Attempts to negotiate with the man failed, and a special-operations team was called. Police Chief Delmar Leach said the gunman had the bank manager read a message over the telephone to law officers.

"The message said he wanted to be executed," Leach said. "He would give police a half-hour before he would start shooting the hostages."

After the hostages had been inside the bank about two hours, two employees escaped out a door, followed by a third — Margaret O. Moore, 30, of Rochester — who was shot and fatally wounded by the gunman, police said.

Bentsen: illegal drugs up 63 percent in Texas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The illegal manufacture and use of drugs in Texas increased by 63 percent last year, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, said today.

"We're losing the fight against drugs. There's no question that organized crime is involved in drug traffic in Texas, and we've got to stop it," Bentsen said at a news conference.

Use of such drugs as heroin and angel dust dropped off last year, but abuse of cocaine and amphetamines increased sharply, Bentsen said.

He said the Drug Enforcement Administration has estimated that the retail value of drugs illegally manufactured and used in Texas increased from $640 million in 1979 to more than a billion dollars in 1980.

That's only drugs manufactured within Texas and does not include those smuggled into the state from other countries, Bentsen said.

Sunbelt will battle for federal funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Sunbelt Council, a bipartisan coalition of more than 100 congressmen, today pledged to battle for a fair share of federal spending in the south and southwest.

"We came into being as a defensive mechanism," Rep. Charles Wilson, D-Texas, told members and supporters of the two-month old group.

"Most of us here resisted the formation of this council because we didn't want this type of regional warfare," Wilson said. "It was forced upon us by our colleagues in the Northeast."

With former Alabama Republican Congressman John Buchanan as its executive director, the 16-state council will fight efforts to divert from its region federal clean water funds, increased defense spending, benefits of the proposed tax cut, urban mass transit money and low income assistance.

"In the often strange world of formula politics, an enormous amount of money can be shifted by a change in the floor or ceiling (on program spending) as well as by substituting one (statistical) measure for another," a council statement said.

"Those fortunate enough to fit the statistical loopholes but which do not have problems will reap windfalls, mainly provided by losses from the low-income South," it said.

The council's initial foe in the economic battle, Wilson said, is the Northeast-Midwest Coalition, formed seven years ago by Republican and Democratic congressmen from states in those regions. He said that group has been "extremely successful" in diverting federal funds to its states.

There were 1,322 rotary rigs actually making hole in Texas on June 15, according to figures released by the International Association of Drilling Contractors.

That number compares to 1,295 on June 6, and 1,309 on May 18. A year ago, on June 16, 1980, there were 956 rotary rigs actually making hole.

In the United States, there were 3,899 rigs making hole on June 15 of this year. That compares to 3,860 on June 6, 3,826 on May 18, and 2,857 on June 16, 1980.

Dear Abby

Widower Wants a Woman With Health, Not Wealth

DEAR ABBY: I may be the first 80-year-old man to ask you for advice, but I need some help. After 57 years of a good marriage, my dear wife passed away last year. Now I would like to meet a sensible woman to invite out to my home occasionally.

My friends want to fix me up with women who are much too young for me. (A man who has daughters 53 and 55 years old does not want to go out with a woman who is 40 or even 50. In fact, I don't want a woman who is under 70.) I'm not interested in any woman's money as I retired with substantial income. I am in good health, play tennis three times a week, and walk no less than five miles every day, rain or shine. I enjoy traveling and can do anything a man half my age can do, but I don't go overboard on anything.

I would like a refined woman with a good sense of humor who doesn't run to doctors every day, and preferably one who can play a good game of gin rummy.

So, where is she?

LOOKING IN N.Y.

DEAR LOOKING: Have you looked in Florida and Georgia? There are more women there who fit your description than in all the other states combined. But I warn you, if your identity ever becomes known, you'll have to give up walking and start running or get a bicycle.

DEAR ABBY: I have neighbors who are very good people and I don't want to get them into trouble, but lately they've been doing something that is terribly wrong, although their intentions are good.

They have an 11-year-old son who started to wet the bed about a year ago. They took him to a doctor who found nothing physically wrong with him, so they took him to a psychiatrist. He said the boy was all right, so they just assumed he could quit wetting the bed if he really wanted to. If he woke up wet, they paddled him, and made him wash his own pajamas and sheets every morning.

Now they put a diaper on him and make him play outside in the front yard wearing only a diaper, a T-shirt, shoes and socks. All the kids tease him. He's a nice, polite kid, and I hate to see him humiliated this way.

Maybe if the parents see this in the paper they will change their tactics. I hope so.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

DEAR JACKSONVILLE: Well-meaning or not, those parents are being unspeakably cruel to the boy. Should they miss this column, please suggest that they buy a Wee Alert Wet Buzzer (Sears catalog lists it). I have recommended this inexpensive device for years, and according to my readers, it's worked wonders.

You hate to write letters because you don't know how to say? Thank-you notes, sympathy letters, congratulations, how to decline and accept invitations and how to write an interesting letter are included in Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Send $1 and a long, stamped (35 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Abby, Letter Booklet, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Loss of memory is not just result of aging

COLLEGE STATION — Feeling you aren't quite as "sharp" lately? "Ah, just getting older," you say? Millions of people think failing memory and aging are like the proverbial horse and carriage — "can't have one without the other." Not true, says Judith L. Warren,

Final area pageant scheduled

The final local Silhouettes of America pageant will be held June 27 in San Angelo's Holiday Inn Convention Center. The event will begin at 9 a.m. and continue throughout the day.

Silhouettes of America is a scholarship pageant for boys and girls ages 3-17. Winners of local pageants will advance to the national finals to be held in Lawton, Okla., Aug. 2-8.

Last year, entrants from Big Spring brought home four of the six winning trophies. This year's entertainment will be provided by three of those local winners: Dawn Estes, Miss Southern Belle; Tessa Underwood, Miss Dixie Land; and Shelly Buchanan, Miss Dixie Talent.

Girls will compete in 10 categories for Model of the Day. A Southern Belle gown is optional in local competition. The pageant will feature categories of party dress, sportswear, and talent, and participants will also be interviewed by the judges.

Entry forms are available at the Kid's Shop, Spoiled Rotten, and the Cottage, or by calling Sherry Buchanan at (915) 399-4544.

perhaps the most dreaded for the aging person, and it is a word used for many, many conditions with an equally large number of causes, Ms. Warren stresses.

Many of these conditions respond to treatment, she points out. Furthermore, the vast majority of people who experience a failing memory have a correctable problem.

Basically, everyone has the "same old" brain they had all of their adult life, Ms. Warren says. Even though scientists do think the brain starts to lose cells after a person reaches their 20's, recent research suggests the brain doesn't really change very much with age, if there is a stimulating environment.

"I'm getting senile" may be said jokingly, but this label is very disturbing to any older adult, the specialist emphasizes.

Ms. Warren is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Actually, senility has nothing to do with normal aging. It is simply a word —

Wood investigation

Harrelson associate called before jury

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A man described as a lifelong friend of convicted hired killer Charles V. Harrelson has been called to testify before a grand jury investigating the assassination of a federal judge.

George Edward "Pete" Kay, a Huntsville nightclub operator, was subpoenaed Wednesday but waited all day without being called. He is expected to take the stand today in the panel's investigation of the 1979 shooting death of U.S. District Judge John H. Wood Jr.

Kay was asked to testify as the grand jury looked for evidence of any link between Harrelson and convicted narcotics trafficker Jimmy Chagra.

Government attorneys have listed Harrelson and Chagra as "targets" of the two-year-old investigation.

Kay's attorney, Jim Moore of Houston, said he expected Kay to be offered immunity and compelled to testify. Two others who have refused to answer questions under similar circumstances have been jailed for civil contempt of court.

The bearded Kay would not comment on whether he would testify under immunity and Moore said, "we'd better wait and see what the government is going to do."

The grand jury interrogated eight witnesses on Wednesday, including a casino dice dealer who once received a $6,600 tip from Chagra and two Florida pilots who flew Chagra to Las Vegas.

The panel, meeting for the first time in a month, also pursued an alleged "payoff" for Wood's assassination in 1979.

Robert Mike Springer, who said he was a dice dealer at Binion's Horseshoe Casino in Las Vegas, said he was questioned about whether he remembered Chagra and Harrelson gambling together in 1979.

"They (jurors) thought I could connect Chagra and that other guy (Harrelson), and I couldn't," Springer told reporters after his appearance.

Springer said, however, he remembered Chagra because the high-stakes gambler "toked" (tipped) him $6,600 one time, but that by house rules the tip had to be divided with all other casino employees on that shift.

He said he did not know Harrelson or Harrelson's wife, Joan Starr Harrelson, who reportedly gambled at the same casino.

Fort Lauderdale charter pilots Dan Pavelka and Bill Dimaura said they were questioned about the all-night flight of Chagra and two Mexican maids from Florida to Las Vegas.

Pavelka said Chagra used the alias "Jimmy Alexander" on the Lear Jet flight and he remembered nothing special about it.

Pavelka said he was shown "a bunch of pictures" and he recognized Chagra and Earl McLennan, a Coral Springs, Fla., man held in contempt on May 8 for refusing to testify in the Wood investigation.

Beaumont judge to preside over Daniel murder trial

LIBERTY, Texas (AP) — State District Judge Leonard Giblin of Beaumont has been selected to preside over the trial of Vickie Daniel on a charge of murdering her husband, former Texas House Speaker Price Daniel Jr.

Judge Max Rogers of Huntsville, presiding administrative judge, announced Giblin's appointment Wednesday.

Giblin replaces Judge W.G. Woods Jr., a former Liberty County district attorney and friend of the Daniel family.

District Attorney Carrol E. Wilborn Jr. said Wednesday he does not expect a tentative October date for the trial to change. He said he and Richard "Racehorse" Haynes, lead defense lawyer, earlier had agreed on the third week in October.

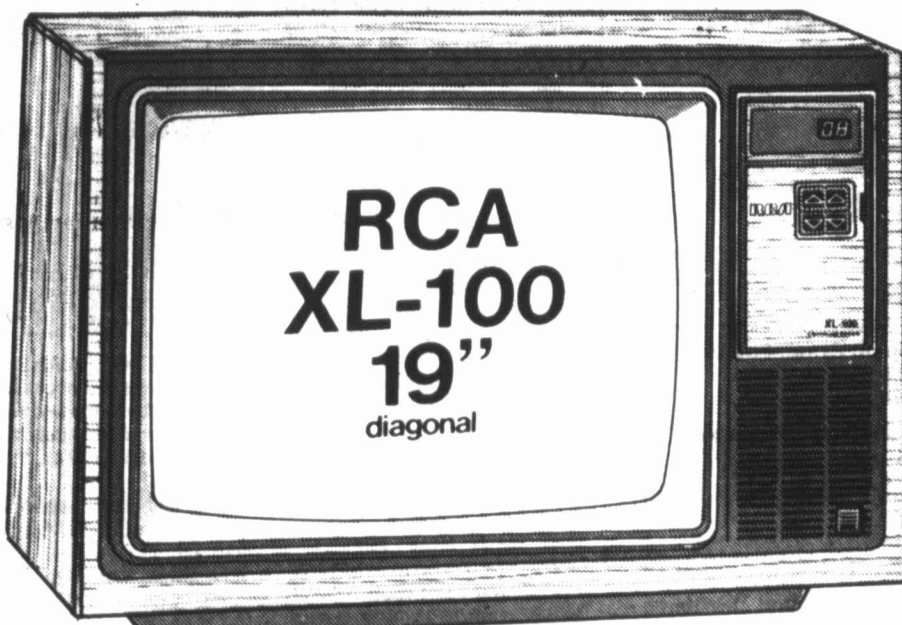

Giblin said he plans to meet with Wilborn and the defense lawyers within a month to arrange a pretrial hearing.

CONSERVATION EFFORTS have established a new wild whooping crane flock reared by sandhill cranes. The foster whoopers migrate over an 800-mile route each year shorter than the whooper's normal 2,500-mile flight.

Arranged marriages help save endangered whooping cranes

By REBECCA R. KIRTLAND
National Geographic News Service

WASHINGTON — The bride-to-be stood nearly 5 feet tall — robed in white plumage, her wings tipped with black, and her dark head capped by a crimson crown.

After leaving the safety and confinement of her childhood home in the East, she was escorted to Grays Lake, Idaho, where her intended mate was waiting.

The couple had never before met, but they immediately liked each other.

Within a few days, they were performing the graceful courtship dance — leaping into the air with spread wings, bobbing heads as they danced in circles around each other, tossing bits of grass and sticks into the air, standing tall and proud — all movement that flow elegantly one into the other.

They called to each other rhythmically with a trumpeting: "Ker-lee-oo, ker-loo."

MATE FOR LIFE

The pair bond that is developing between these two whooping cranes (Grus americana) will last as long as they live. They will stake out territory and protect it together. They will share the responsibility of caring for their young. They will travel together from their summer breeding grounds in Grays Lake National Wildlife Refuge to their winter home at Bosque del Apache, N.M. They will observe the traditions of their species, and the survivor will mourn the death of the mate.

Life in the wild will be different for this long-legged, long-necked beauty. She was born in captivity and reared by foster parents, sandhill cranes, at the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service's Patuxent Wildlife Research Center in Laurel, Md.

Scott Derrickson, the 32-year-old head of Patuxent's crane propagation program, said it was possible to set her free without special training because her mate will take care of her. It all depends on their forming a pair bond; in this case, the chemistry was there.

WILDLIFE PIONEERS — These two are pioneers in the latest efforts of scientists to rebuild the population of wild migratory flock that makes the 2,500-mile trip from Wood Buffalo National Park in Canada to the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge in Texas each year. Six other whoopers lived in a non-migratory flock in Louisiana, but had vanished by 1948.

Bringing the bird back from the brink of extinction is one of the real success stories in wildlife management.

Scientists found their summer nesting grounds in Wood Buffalo — Canada's 11-million-acre wilderness park. They learned that the female crane generally lays two eggs, but only one chick survives. They collected the "extra" eggs to incubate in captivity at Patuxent, and the research center had a flock of 20 whoopers until the "mail-order" bride was sent to Idaho.

Since 1975, the U.S. and Canadian wildlife services have worked cooperatively to place whooper eggs in sandhill crane nests at Grays Lake. The sandhills hatch and rear the foster chicks, and the whooper population at Grays Lake is now 17 to 20.

Prosecutions are likely

Government prepared to act if air controllers strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reagan administration is prepared to prosecute air traffic controllers if they carry out their threat to strike next week and ground more than half the nation's commercial air traffic, says Transportation Secretary Drew Lewis.

Negotiations between the government and the controllers broke off Wednesday when union negotiators walked out of informal talks after rejecting the Federal Aviation Administration's wage offer.

Robert Poli, president of the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization (PATCO) said he stands firm on a 7 a.m. Monday strike deadline if an agreement is not reached by midnight Sunday.

Lewis said that while he wants to avoid a strike, the administration is prepared to move quickly in the courts to bring the controllers back to work if necessary. He said he would not rule out criminal prosecution of those who strike, even recommending that some controllers be jailed.

"We are not going to tolerate an illegal strike," Lewis told a news conference. By law, controllers are forbidden from striking and a federal court injunction against a walkout is in effect.

A strike would be felt across the economy as travelers and shippers of air freight would find long delays and no aircraft at all along many routes.

"If a strike occurs it will come at a high cost to the union, seriously inconvenience thousands of air travelers, and it will cause millions of dollars in economic loss to the airlines and to air commerce," Lewis said.

Man killed with claw hammer

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Police have arrested the roommate of the victim and charged him with beating Eresmo Munce Guerra, 44, to death with a claw hammer Wednesday night.

Charged with murder and jailed in lieu of $15,000 bond was Reyno Perdomo, 24.

Police said they found the victim lying on a bed, his face and head savagely beaten with a claw hammer, about 8:20 p.m. Wednesday.

Investigators said the argument and fight between the roommates began when the victim complained Perdomo was making too much noise while repairing a broken door lock with the hammer.

Fate of health, safety regulations uncertain

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fate of Reagan administration efforts to ease health and safety regulations in the industrial workplace is uncertain in light of Supreme Court approval of strict limits on cotton dust.

By a 5-3 vote Wednesday, the justices rejected a challenge to the cotton dust standards and ruled that federal regulators do not have to satisfy a cost-benefit test before imposing limits on worker exposure to toxic materials.

But the court has not yet decided whether to hear a similar appeal attacking federally imposed limits on the amount of lead workers can be exposed to in the workplace.

Both sets of standards were adopted in 1978 under the same congressional act. And, both were appealed to the Supreme Court on grounds they did not take into account the costs involved in relation to their benefits.

Shortly after the Reagan administration took office 5½ months ago, it ordered all federal agencies to put a freeze on any new regulation until after it is justified with a cost-benefit study.

Cost-benefit analyses also were ordered for federal regulations adopted during the Carter administration but not yet fully implemented. The textile industry says implementing the cotton dust standards could cost it $2.5 billion.

The Labor Department asked the Supreme Court to defer rulings on both the lead cases so that Reagan officials could review the rules they inherited from the Carter administration. The justices, in a decision, dismissed that suggestion.

The Supreme Court is expected to take the lead cases within the next few weeks. If the court refuses to hear the ruling upholding the lead standards will be linked to a number of disorders, ranging from vomiting to heart attacks. Cohen acknowledged that the lead case is not linked to a number of disorders, ranging from vomiting to heart attacks.

HAIG REVIEWS TROOPS — U.S. Secretary of State Alexander Haig reviews Philippine Army honor guard before paying homage to both American and Philippine World War II dead. Haig is in Manila for talks on regional security with foreign ministers of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations.

Haig calls for stand against 'evil forces'

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr., speaking today at a memorial to America's World War II dead in the Pacific, said the monument was a reminder that Americans and other free peoples must stand together to confront "the forces of evil."

Haig laid a wreath at the base of the circular memorial to 36,279 servicemen killed or missing in action.

The sacrifices "of those heroes of 40 years ago must...serve as a reminder that there are forces at work today who seek to force a stark change through bloodshed, through terrorism, through so-called wars of liberation," Haig said.

"Our presence here this morning reminds us that we too must sacrifice, sacrifice with vigilance and unity to ensure that we maintain collective strength to prevent the forces of evil, who would resort again to conflict, from having their way."

Haig also laid a wreath at a nearby cemetery for Filipino war dead.

The secretary had lunch with President Ferdinand E. Marcos at Malacanang Palace. The government radio station said Haig delivered President Reagan's congratulations on Marcos' re-election Tuesday and told him Vice President George Bush will represent the United States at his inauguration June 30.

Woman, 99, crushed beneath car wheels

DEANSBORO, N.Y. (AP) — A 99-year-old woman whose eyesight and hearing "weren't too good" stepped behind a car as her 89-year-old sister was backing it out of their driveway and was crushed to death, authorities say.

Eva R. Peck, 99, and her sister, Clara Adams, were "always together" during the more than 40 years they shared a home, said Barbara Ames, a neighbor with emergency medical training who rushed to the sisters' house after Wednesday's accident and tried to help.

"They were just the sweetest, loveliest, sharpest ladies you could ever meet," Mrs. Ames said.

Other neighbors who ran to the rescue jacked up the car, and ambulance attendants detected a faint heartbeat in Miss Peck, Mrs. Ames said. But she was pronounced dead on arrival at Faxon Hospital in Utica, 10 miles northeast of Deansboro.

"It's hard to believe this all happened," Mrs. Ames said. "We were all looking forward to (Miss Peck's) 100th birthday."

Oneida County Investigator Clifford Baker said, "Mrs. Adams was in an extreme emotional state." He said Miss Peck apparently stepped behind the car, and police were considering the killing accidental.

Rep. Stenholm accepting nominations to academies

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Rep. Charles W. Stenholm (D-Texas) reminds young persons that he is presently receiving applications from young persons interested in competing for nominations to the service academies, for the classes entering July 1982. Stenholm advises that he will be using the competitive method of selection, so that all young persons meeting the necessary requirements may be considered.

The service academies are the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland; the Military Academy at West Point, N.Y.; the Air Force Academy near Colorado Springs, Colo.; the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, N.Y.; and the Coast Guard Academy in New London, Conn. These institutions offer an excellent education and a great opportunity for young persons wishing to serve their country through a military career.

In order for Cong. Stenholm to consider applicants, a candidate must meet these requirements: (1) Must be a U.S. citizen; (2) must be over 17 and under 22 years of age on July 1, 1982; (3) must be a legal resident of the 17th Congressional District; (4) must never have been married; (5) must be physically fit, including excellent eyesight; (6) must have a good overall high school record.

Stenholm stresses that political influence is not a factor in his nominations to the Academies. He is looking for bright, active, well-rounded individuals to offer as nominations.

Interested young persons who meet the above requirements should write to Stenholm c/o House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515, by Aug. 31. Upon receipt of a letter of interest, the Congressman will provide information as to further steps which should be taken. Young persons should make arrangements on their own to take ACT or SAT examinations.

The competition for these nominations is keen, but Stenholm says he wants to assure all young persons interested in a military career that they will be given an equal opportunity to compete for nomination.

Pulling ads from TV shows is policy at several firms

NEW YORK (AP) — Procter & Gamble's revelation that it withheld its advertising from dozens of TV programs because they were too sexy or too violent calls attention to a longstanding effort by many corporate advertisers to ensure they're welcome in America's living rooms.

With threats of boycotts and hit lists, conservative groups recently have been trying to exploit the sensitive link between sponsors and broadcasters to get off the air programs that don't meet their standards of decency.

ABC-TV President James Duffy told The Cincinnati Enquirer that P&G withdrew sponsorship of 12 different shows on his network, including the movies "The Women's Room" and "East of Eden" and an episode of "Taxi" that involved a scene at a gay bar, as well as two episodes of "Dynasty" because of the show's portrayal of big business was considered negative.

While some advertisers put their advertising dollars on highly rated programs regardless of content, others say they have long screened TV programming before it is broadcast to make certain their products are seen in an appropriate context and environment.

Pepsico, for example, has a longstanding policy against advertising its youth-oriented product amid sex and violence, said Al Goetz, spokesman for the fifth-ranked television advertiser.

"This is a decision we made long before Jerry Falwell" — the founder of Moral Majority Inc. — John Lowden, a vice president of International Telephone & Telegraph, says his company also was sensitive to complaints about gratuitous sex and violence "long before it was a popucompany ranks 14th among television advertisers, acknowledged that Falwell "is having an impact."

R.E. Buchanan, a vice president for the J. Walter Thompson advertising agency, said its negotiators constantly audition TV programs in New York and Los Angeles.

One of the company's accounts, Kraft Foods, developed written guidelines nine years ago, he said, "and that's not unusual." Kraft's attitude is that "it is a visitor in the living room," said Buchanan.

"We recognize violence and sex as acceptable themes in adult programming," said Kathleen C. MacDonough, speaking for General Foods Corp., which spent $71.9 million last year on TV ads.

She said the company rejected more than 100 programs last year and has refused to advertise on certain programs for 20 years.

Tower claims Bentsen will be hard to beat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Tower, R-Texas, has warned fellow Republicans that Democratic Sen. Lloyd Bentsen will be hard to defeat in the 1982 elections.

"I think Lloyd is in very good position politically in the state and will be a very formidable candidate," said Tower.

Rep. Jim Collins of Dallas and State Sen. Walter Mengden are contemplating a challenge of Bentsen, but neither has asked his advice, Tower said.

His advice, he said, "would depend on who the person was and what the political situation was at the time. But I would think it would be fairly confidential advice, and I would not tell the press."

In a news conference, Tower refused to be drawn into any remarks that might be taken as critical of Bentsen, who three years ago took a virtually neutral position and gave little support to the race that then-Rep. Bob Krueger made against Tower.

A reporter asked Tower's opinion of a pollster's view that the best way for Republicans to beat Bentsen is to portray him as a wealthy Texan out of touch with the voters.

"I think I'd have no comment on that," Tower said.

Thoreau would cringe at Walden Pond today

CONCORD, Mass. (AP) — It was a typical June day at the beach: radios blaring, Frisbees flying, a vendor hawking ice cream and a line of sweltering motorists waiting to get into jammed parking lots.

But this setting was no average oceanside beach. It was Walden Pond, an international symbol of serenity since Henry David Thoreau built a one-room wilderness hut in 1845, lived alone for two years and later recounted his experiences in the classic book "Walden."

Thoreau would wince if he saw it now.

"He certainly wouldn't come here today," Roland Wells Robbins, a member of the Walden Pond Advisory Committee and a past president of the national Thoreau Society, said with a sigh. "Look around you. Beer drinking, pot smoking, dog and pet violations. Motorcycles roaring through the woods. Nude bathing...."

For decades, debate has raged over proper use of Walden, a 417-acre site in a forested suburban area northwest of Boston. The area became a state park six years ago after serving as a county park for 50 years.

Time and the crush of an expanding population have taken their toll on the tranquility that attracted Thoreau. Robbins says the area has steadily waned since World War II and a "mob scene" has existed for at least 10 years.

State environmental officials concede that they have problems managing the popular park. But they say a major question is how to balance the demands of "Thoreauvians" for an unspoiled natural area against the recreational needs of the 632,000 people who visited the area last year.

"It is a state park and there aren't that many major swimming areas in that area," said Gilbert Bliss, state director of forests and "The beach is only at one end of the 142-acre pond, and there is still plenty of wilderness."

Bliss confirmed most of the violations cited by Robbins and blamed them on lack of police supervision. But he said conditions have improved since two years ago, when area teen-agers used the park as a hangout and a rape was reported in the parking lot.

Some visitors say they're surprised to find no replica of the cabin that Thoreau built 136 years ago on land borrowed from friend and fellow author, Ralph Waldo Emerson. A pile of rocks plus a simple stone marker, surrounded by posts and a heavy chain, now mark the location.

"Are you kidding? The vandalism and souvenir seekers would not permit a house to stand overnight," said Robbins, a historian who discovered the exact spot where Thoreau constructed his simple wooden dwelling.

"People have said we could build a very secure replica and have bright lights and a TV camera monitoring it," said Robbins. "But this is a nature sanctuary and that would obviously defeat the purpose."

After Thoreau ended his experiment in rugged individualism in 1847, the pond and shoreline remained in their natural state for the next 75 years. In 1922, the descendants of Emerson, who owned much of the land around the lake, decided to give control to Middlesex County for use as a reservation. Their deed specified that bathing and boating be allowed, but forbade ballgames, bicycling, open fires and development.

Use of Walden Pond became an international issue in 1957 when the county, with little notice, uprooted 100 trees and started to clear a slope of the pond to build a ramp and bath house. The ramp would have allowed buses to drop passengers off just 70 feet from the side of the lake.

"All holy hell rang out," Robbins recalled. "People called it desecration and an illegal attempt to change the deed."

The Thoreau Society formed a committee that sued the county and prevented changes in the pond area.

WALDEN BEACH? — Lifeguard Nancy Todd of Boxboro, Massachusetts cautions some swimmers recently on the beach at Walden Pond in Concord, Mass. This isn't a normal oceanside beach, Walden Pond is an international symbol of peace and serenity since Henry David Thoreau built a one-room wilderness hut in 1845.

Delegation from Iowa town interviews Johnny Carson

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — Now that they've seen him interviewed on television, it's up to the few but proud residents of Cooper, Iowa, to decide whether comedian Johnny Carson has what it takes to become the town's 51st resident.

Cooper sent a delegation to NBC's "The Tonight Show" Wednesday to interview Carson as the town tries to adopt a celebrity for a July 11 centennial celebration.

One of the delegates, 29-year-old Terry Rich, told Carson, "There's competition — real competition."

And indeed there is. After sending out questionnaires, the residents of Cooper got about 90 applications back, including one from Carson, actors Danny Thomas and Henry Winkler, former football star Fran Tarkenton and Lady Bird Johnson, the former first lady.

"We'd like to have someone famous from Cooper," said Gerald Lawton, 57, a farmer and grain dealer and another of the interviewers.

"We recently lost three people who moved away, so we had to adopt three to get the population back to 50, and now we're going to adopt someone famous," he said.

"If I get beaten out by Mickey Mouse," Carson said on his television show, "I'll never hear the last of it."

The trio showed Carson and his audience pictures of the tiny farming community. Included were views of the church, the school, the post office and the general store — which has gone out of business.

In an interview earlier, the delegates admitted "The Tonight Show" paid for their trip but happily disregarded the apparent conflict of interest.

"We think they might be trying to bribe us," Lawton said. "But we've got that old Cooper spirit. We're not easily swayed."

"We're looking for the best candidate," he said. "The people back home will be listening tonight. We'll talk it over at a town meeting July 1."

Cooper plans to rename its main street after the celebrity chosen by the residents.

George Rogers richest rookie Saint in history

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "I'm glad to be a Saint," said Heisman Trophy winner George Rogers after signing a contract Wednesday with the New Orleans Saints that gave him the most money ever paid a rookie on the club.

Rogers, a running back from South Carolina, was the first player taken in the National Football League draft this spring.

"It's a long-term contract — three years — with an option," said Saints' owner John Mecom Jr., adding the club never paid a rookie more. "That's the cost of doing business in this day and time."

Neither Rogers nor Rogers' agent, Jack Mills, would discuss contract terms. But it was apparently more than the $250,000 a year offered Rogers by the Montreal

Allouettes of the Canadian Football League.

Coach Bum Phillips, entering his first season with the Saints after building Houston into a regular playoff entry, said he never seriously doubted that the Saints would sign Rogers.

"He wanted us, and we wanted him," Phillips said. "He got a good contract, and we got a good contract. It's something we can live with."

Rogers said he was glad the negotiating was over and glad that he wound up with the Saints, although he said he would have signed with Montreal, if Mills had thought that was best.

"I'd just like to thank the people in Montreal for the hospitality they showed me. I'm sorry things didn't work out for them, but I really wanted to play in the NFL."

Mecom said he never thought Rogers would wind up at Montreal.

"I know a bit about what goes on there, and a bit about the man making the offer," Mecom said. "It would be something like a dog chasing a car. If he caught it, he couldn't drive it."

Rogers said he had few solid plans for using his big new salary.

"Invest it, probably," he said.

"I already bought my Mama a house, and I'm going to buy my aunt a house."

Other than that, he said, his immediate plans included a fishing trip in the Gulf of Mexico and working out in preparation for the start of preseason camp at Vero Beach, Fla., on July 13.

Mills said negotiations with the Saints were harmonious.

"We're just very pleased to have it taken care of now, so we won't have it drag out into the training camp," he said.

Mecom said he doesn't expect any Saints veterans to be jealous of the salary Rogers gets.

"It would be a very disappointing thing if that were to happen," he said. "The New Orleans Saints ball players are paid as well as any in the league."

He said there was enough pressure on the team to improve on last season's 1-15 record without a problem of jealousy over salaries.

Drysdale, Rozelle benefit in strike

By the Associated Press

It wasn't easy to find, but there are at least two people who can be considered indirect beneficiaries from the baseball strike — Don Drysdale and Pete Rozelle.

Drysdale is the new analyst on ABC-TV's "Monday Night Baseball" series, replacing the same Drysdale who was let go late last year.

Last Monday night's traveling road show with Howard Cosell and Keith Jackson was canceled by the strike, so Drysdale didn't have to face nosy reporters asking questions about his broadcasting deficiencies.

This is a subject that Drysdale and ABC are sensitive about. The ABC public relations department has tread more softly around Drysdale during the first two Monday night games in June. ABC was still pushing baseball, but it was soft-selling interviews with Drysdale.

Some at ABC felt that Drysdale should not be rehired — even though an extensive talent search came up with nobody better — because it would be an embarrassment for the network. If ABC believed Drysdale was the best available man for the job, the network deserves credit for swallowing its enormous pride and taking Drysdale back.

Late last year, Drysdale pressed ABC for a decision on his status. Dennis Lewin, one of ABC's top producers, told him his services were no longer required.

ABC considered some 20 baseball analysts and auditioned four of them — former players Wes Parker, Jim Lonborg and Tim McCarver and former manager Frank Quilici. They decided Drysdale was the best, notifying him in late May just before he was scheduled to do a game for NBC.

Rozelle, the National Football League commissioner, is involved in a messy court case in Los Angeles, which was brought by longtime nemesis Al Davis, owner of the Oakland Raiders.

The NFL, which has a gag rule preventing any strike or management personnel from publicly criticizing game officials, other clubs or the league, tries to avoid airing its dirty linen in public. The name-calling in Los Angeles is not good for the league's image, but the big strike story is taking attention away from the courtroom.

No news is good news, as far as the NFL is concerned. And if the strike continues into July, coverage of NFL training camps and then the preseason games will be front-page stuff for ravenous sports fans hungry for major league action.

DIFFERENT GAME, SAME STYLE — Philadelphia Phillies first baseman Pete Rose punches a check swing single toward third base in the fourth inning of a charity softball game Wednesday in Fairfax, Ohio. After the hit, Rose was presented with the ball and a T-shirt commemorating "hit number 3631".

As fruitless talks resume

Mediator Moffett calls negotiations most bizarre

By the Associated Press

And on the seventh day, the negotiators rested.

"I made the suggestion to both sides that they should leave here, rethink their positions, come back here Friday (at 3 p.m., EDT) prepared to go forward, address the issue and come to an agreement and conclusion," said Ken Moffett, who played shuttle diplomacy Wednesday, attempting to make peace between the striking players and the baseball owners.

No new proposals were offered during a two-hour session Wednesday, in which the two sides shot the breeze in separate rooms, never talking face-to-face. "If we did get together, an already deadlocked situation would get into a worse situation,"

Monterey gets share on state tourney team

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — South San Antonio, the Class 4A champion, made nearly a clean sweep of the 10 places on the 4A all-state tournament schoolboy baseball team.

Lubbock Monterey's three outfielders and Shiner's entire infield also were chosen to all-tournament teams announced Wednesday.

The five all-star teams were selected by sportswriters and broadcasters covering the tournament, which ended Tuesday night.

Only shortstop Ty Harrington of Waco Midway and rightfielder Michael Sykes of Lubbock Estacado broke South San's domination in 4A.

Three of the South San choices — undefeated pitcher Joe Williamson, first baseman Marty Manzi and leftfielder Ricky Walker — were unanimous. Other South San players named to the all-tournament team were catcher Scott Reinhard, second baseman Pito Garcia, third baseman Floyd Haman, centerfielder David Watts and designated hitter James Canty.

South San finished with a 30-2 record, winning the last 22 in a row.

Class 5A champion Monterey placed outfielders Doug Hatch, Scott Reid and David Faulkner on the all-tournament team as well as shortstop Shawn McClain and designated hitter Mark Venable.

Says promoter Arum Sugar Ray in trouble

HOUSTON (AP) — Sugar Ray Leonard, between talk of his voodoo punch and a confrontation with Ayub Kalule's medicine man, has a serious prediction concerning his upcoming bid for Kalule's World Boxing Association junior middleweight crown.

"I don't think the fight will go beyond 12 rounds but I hope he'll cooperate and go down in two," Leonard said following Wednesday's training session for the June 25 bout. "I think you'll see a Sugar Ray that is more devastating. I feel very comfortable at this weight."

Leonard said he was not worried about using 10-ounce gloves required in the junior-middleweight class. Eight ounce gloves are used in the welterweight division.

In fact, nothing could shake Leonard's confident mood, not even a visit by Ben Mugimba, a 37-year-old Catholic father of six from Uganda, who attempted to disturb Leonard's workout with a skull carved from wax.

"The skull is to show that there is bad fortune in Leonard's future and to make him think he is likely to lose," said Mugimba, escorted to ringside by a fight publicist.

Leonard was unimpressed. "I'll be throwing a lot of left hooks and a lot of voodoo righthands," he said.

While Mugimba's presence filled a lull in training with pre-fight silliness, promoter Bob Arum said he was completely serious in saying he was forced to promote the fight and that Leonard could lose to the Ugandan junior middleweight champion.

Arum said it was only at the insistence of Leonard's attorney Mike Trainer, that he sought to bring the two fighters together in the Astrodome.

"I don't want to take the blame when Leonard loses this fight," Arum said. "The match wasn't my idea, believe me. They made me do it. (Leonard's attorney Mike) Trainer came to me and said get us Kalule. Ray wants another title."

Arum said a loss by Leonard to Kalule would hurt the gate for a future fight against Thomas Hearns, the reigning WBC junior middleweight champion.

"OK, so he (Leonard) can't lose his welterweight title in this fight, but if he loses the fight, he hurts the Hearns fight," Arum said. "That's why this fight is so idiotic."

Arum said there was no need to try to boost Kalule in his fight against Leonard.

"I don't do that," Arum said. "Leonard is in trouble with Kalule. I mean it. This isn't hype."

Cub fans rejoice

CHICAGO (AP) — The sale of the Chicago Cubs' National League baseball team to the Chicago Tribune has won widespread endorsement from both fans and the baseball world alike.

As one fan said gleefully, "Now the Cubs can join the 20th Century."

After 65 mostly lackluster years of Wrigley family ownership, it was generally hoped the newspaper would spend the money needed for better players and to improve the Cubs' stagnant farm system.

The sale sparked debate over whether lights would be installed in Wrigley Field — a move resisted by the Wrigley family in deference to neighborhood residents' need for peace and quiet, but urged by players over the years.

Freda Craven, a fan, said, "The sale was needed since Wrigley wasn't going to spend the money on the team that was necessary to make them a contender. I just know the Tribune will go out and buy more expensive players."

"There would be no strike now if not more money," said Elmer Nichols of suburban Park Ridge. "And there's no reason the Tribune would get into this if they didn't want to spend the dollars it takes. It's a business first, a game second."

And Ann Snyder said, "I don't know much about baseball, but I know enough to know Bill Wrigley didn't know enough."

Jim Brosnan, a former Cub pitcher and author of "The Long Season," noted: "The first thing new management should do is get rid of all the people they're going to inherit and start with an entirely new organization. The old one didn't work."

One-time Cub batboy Walter Jacobson, now WBBM-TV anchorman, was "so thrilled" by the sale that "I'm going to apply for another term as batboy."

Glenn Beckert, the Cubs' star second basemen when the club almost won the Eastern Division crown in 1969, said, "Hopefully (the sale) will give them enough finances to start competing in the free-agent draft."

Said retired relief pitcher Moe Drabowsky, "Terrific! I would hope with the Tribune the financial resources would be there to play the game by today's rules."

Catcher Barry Foote, traded by the Cubs to the New York Yankees last month, said lights ought to be a priority item. "The next thing they should do is put in lights; having played there for over two years, I can see that now."

Foote said from his North Carolina home. "If all teams played in the day, that'd be something else, but it was such an adjustment after playing night games. It was too easy for people to say, 'Aw, you guys use that as an excuse,' but there were too many Cub teams that didn't make it."

Cub first baseman Bill Buckner: "When a club starts selling players (Rick Reuschel was traded to the Yankees last week for minor league players and cash), you know it's in trouble. I figured something was up."

Randy Johnson returns

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Randy Johnson, a quarter-back veteran of the National Football League, plans to play as well as coach the remainder of the season for the Austin Texans of the American Football Association.

Johnson, 37, is expected to start against Jacksonville, Fla., here Saturday.

After 11 seasons with Atlanta, the New York Giants, Washington and Green Bay, Johnson was hired to coach the Texans this year.

He had to play against San Antonio last Saturday, however, when starting quarterback Mike Washington hurt his ribs and substitute Ward Kirk was sick with the pneumonia.

"I didn't anticipate having to play, but we're at the point now where we have to turn things around. If my playing will help, then I'll do it," said Johnson.

The Texans are 0-3 following a 42-22 loss to San Antonio and are averaging only 116 yards a game rushing.

"We're not running the ball well and it's just silly to beat our heads against the wall trying to run," said Johnson. "If we have to throw 35 or 40 times a game to move, we'll do it."

Driver superfluous in US Open

ARDMORE, Pa. (AP) — Johnny Miller picks Bruce Lietzke. Lietzke picks Tom Watson. Watson picks Miller if he drives well. Jack Nicklaus? He chooses not to choose. "I can't pick anybody, including myself," Nicklaus said. It's not difficult to come up with a list of golfers whose game would seem to fit the snug, elegant Merion Golf Club, where 156 qualifiers tee off today in the 81st United States Open championship. "About 20 people could win it," said Watson, naming Tom Kite, Lee Trevino, Raymond Floyd, Severiano Ballesteros, Tom Kite, John Mahaffey and Lanny Wadkins among them. Lietzke, a three-time winner this year, is Miller's choice. "He has the game to win the Open," Miller said.

"He's been sort of overlooked, but he hits the greens in regulation, he's been playing well. I like his chances." Miller isn't as high on Lietzke. His right shoulder has been hurting, the residue of a friendly arm-wrestling tussle 2½ years ago. "If I do well it will be a surprise. I'm just going to go out and have some fun and smell the roses." Lietzke says he's not putting well and dismisses his chances. Instead he picks Watson, "not because he's the best player, but because they've eliminated the driver in this tournament. That's Tom's biggest enemy." Watson basically agrees. "Short hitters have the advantage," said Watson, whose victories this year include the Masters, the Atlanta Classic and the New Orleans Open. "You have to play it like Hogan did, below the hole." Ben Hogan won here in 1950. "My chances are good if I put the ball in the fairway," Watson said. The driver is almost superfluous at Merion. It's needed on only three or four holes. The Open is one of two majors that has eluded Watson, and a win over the "Favorite" Cont. on 3-B

After nasty car accident nearly destroyed golfing career

Hogan's historic return began at Merion Club

ARDMORE, Pa. (AP) — Merion and the miracle of Ben Hogan. Much of the history of American golf is woven into the white-faced traps, subtle mounds and unique basket flagsticks of the Merion Golf Club on the outskirts of Philadelphia, where the U.S. Open again will be played this weekend. It remained, however, for the grim-jawed Texan to provide the old course with the sport's highest drama. It was the fabled comeback of 1950 — a story that has been preserved in history books, movie film and word of mouth generation to generation. Hogan undoubtedly remembers every blade of grass, every difficult lie and every stab of pain of that memorable experience, but he doesn't like to talk about it. "You'll have to write it from what you saw," he said when reached by telephone in his office at the Ben Hogan Golf Company in Fort Worth, Texas. "After all, you were there." Hogan, an army lieutenant in World War II, won his first Open at Riviera in Los Angeles in 1948 with 276, the first time a winner had broken 280. On Feb. 2, 1949, he and his wife, Valerie, were driving home along a lonely Texas highway from Phoenix, Ariz., when a huge transcontinental bus lunged out of the haze and skidded into the path of the Hogan car. Instinctively, Hogan threw his body in front of Valerie to shield her from injury, a heroic gesture that probably saved both of their lives. The steering wheel of the car was driven through the driver's seat like a spear. Valerie's injuries were minor. Hogan suffered a double fracture of the pelvis, a broken collarbone, a fractured left ankle and a Cont. on 3-B "Merion"

Lawyers sneaky with Al Davis in Raiders vs. NFL trial

LOS ANGELES — The Oakland Raiders and Los Angeles Coliseum Commission were expected to call one final witness today in the antitrust suit against the National Football League, with the league then taking some two months to present its witnesses. Raiders managing general partner Al Davis was scheduled to undergo redirect questioning by Joseph L. Alioto, who is representing the team in its bid to move to Los Angeles. The Raiders were then expected to call one final witness before resting their case.

A remark contained in a profile of Davis in the magazine "Inside Sports" provided a source of controversy during Wednesday's testimony. Alioto protested a move by a defense lawyer to show jurors a statement implying that Davis admired Adolf Hitler.

The comment, contained in an "Inside Sports" profile of Davis, was shown to the jury briefly without an explanation of its context in the story. Davis admitted on the stand he had said, as reported: "I didn't hate Hitler. He captivated me. I knew he had to be stopped."

But Alioto said outside the court the quote referred to Davis' views as a 10-year-old boy watching the outbreak of World War II. Jurors were not informed of this. Alioto accused attorney Joseph Cotchett, who is representing the co-defendant Rams in the case, of sneaking the comment before the jury and said, "If he did sneak it in, he should have put it in to context."

Alioto did not protest Cotchett's move open court, instead making his complaints in the chambers of U.S. District Judge Harry Pregerson.

Cotchett apparently was trying to show that money and power were Davis' two

Davis said under questioning, "I would rank power in a classification second to winning," adding that he needed to accept the most lucrative deal for his team because "I'm afraid that wealth will buy great players (in the future)."

Lake Spence reports record catfish haul

Run-off into Lake J.B. Thomas and Lake E.V. Spence has subsided, but not the fishing tempo. Fishermen have been especially active at Lake Spence with big runs on striped bass, blue, yellow and channel catfish. One 40-lb. blue catfish was reported, a record at Lake Spence.

White bass fishing was fair to good at Lake Thomas, Richard and James Seals, Big Spring, pulled in 20 one day ranging from 1/2 to 1 1/2 lbs., and came back the next day with 30. Channel catfishing was good with many catches up to 5 lbs on rods and reels, also trotlines with all kinds of bait. Yellow catfishing also was good, best results coming from trotlines with live bait. Black bass fishing and that for walleye was poor, and crappie fishing only fair.

This picture at Lake Spence was more varied, as these reports attest:

Wanoreck's Paint Creek Marina — Mary Lee Pruser, Big Spring, 10 and 13 lb. 10-oz. striped bass; Finis Legu, Sterling City and Trey Evans, Odessa, 29 catfish up to 9 lbs.; Ralph and Lorene Blair, Robert Lee, Randy and Nellie Whitson, Canyon, good string of catfish topped by an 11-lb. 10-oz. blue; Bill Skinner and Rich Parsons, Midland, 5 1/2-lb. striped, three channel cat to 1 1/2 lbs., and a good string of perch; Norman Sloan, Odessa, 12 channel catfish totaling 12 lbs.

Donna and Mike McCartney, Abilene, 48 channel cat averaging 1 1/2 lbs. in two days of fishing; Billy Bartfield, London, England, eight channel catfish to 2 lbs. and a 10-lb. blue catfish; Bob and Joyce Dawson, Lubbock, 15 strippers totaling 94 pounds in two days of fishing; Johnny Tammes, Colorado City, and Doyle Herring, Abilene, 40 channel catfish and one blue catfish.

Skinner's Hillside — J.W. Pursar, Big Spring, three strippers to 14 lbs.; Joe Dunham, Odessa, a 40-lb. blue catfish, 90 channel catfish to 4 lbs., two yellow catfish to 8 lbs., and four strippers to 14 lbs.; Ralph Blair, Robert Blair, Robert Lee, 10 and 12-lb. blue catfish; Jim Bob Trulock and family, Odessa, Phillip Bagley family, Odessa, 125 channel catfish to 4 lbs., 10 yellow catfish to 8 lbs., 30 channel catfish, Don Vinson, Winters, four strippers from 6 to 7 lbs.

Wildcat Fish A Rama — Johnny Lemons and family, Midland, 9-lb. channel catfish and 22 white bass to 2 lbs.; Chester Banta, Ira, two blue catfish to 7 lbs.; James Hogeland and R.C. Horton, Andrews, three strippers from 8 to 12 1/2 lbs., six channel catfish to 1 1/2 lbs.; Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Mashburn, Abilene, 10 strippers to 12 lbs.

Triangle Grocery — John Chance, a 6-year-old lad from Slaton, landed a 4 1/2-lb. striped on a helibaiter and 10; Max Lee and party from Slaton, caught six strippers to 9 1/2 lbs. Willard Reese Family, Robert Lee, caught nine crappie to 1 1/2 lbs. with minnows.

Southwestern Bell, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas effective July 21, 1981, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

It is expected that the requested rate schedule will furnish a 15.8 percent increase in the company's intrastate revenues.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

The filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for interexchange private line and foreign exchange (FX) service. He's won four Opens. No one has ever won five. He likes Merion and over the years he's played it well.

Trevino said his ailing back is feeling better, that he played five straight days last week and that he's ready.

Floyd and Kite have the more impressive credentials of the other major contenders. At 38, Floyd is enjoying the best season of his 19-year Tour career. He's won three times, including last week, and is second only to Watson on the money-winning list.

Kite, one of golf's more accurate strikers of the ball, has an amazing record of consistency. He's been seventh or better in his last seven starts.

Aviso Público

Southwestern Bell, en conformidad a las reglas del Public Utility Commission (Comisión de Servicios Públicos) de Texas, por la presente hace saber su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel para un servicio de teléfono en Texas con vigencia a partir del 21 de Julio de 1981, a menos que la Comisión haga otra determinación.

Se espera que el nuevo arancel que se ha solicitado rendirá un aumento de 15.8 por ciento en los ingresos intraestatales de la compañía.

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel se ha archivado en las oficinas del Public Utility Commission en Austin, Texas, al igual que en cada municipalidad afectada y servida por Southwestern Bell, y cada una de las oficinas de la compañía para negocios con el público en Texas tiene una copia para lectura pública.

Aviso a los Clientes de Otras Compañías de Teléfono

El registro incluye, pero no se limita a, propuestas para aumentar las tarifas para servicio de línea privada entre centrales telefónicas (interexchange private line) y servicio de central telefónica extranjera (foreign exchange FX). Cambios en dichas tarifas de servicio también afectarían a clientes de otras compañías de teléfono porque dichas compañías proveen los servicios ya mencionados en conformidad a tarifas especificadas por Southwestern Bell.

Then came Merion, bringing with it not only the pressure of the Open but also the supreme test of having to go 36 holes on the final day.

An unknown named Lee Mackey from Birmingham, Ala., shot a record 64. The first day. Hogan was eight shots back. Ben fired a second round 69 to move to within two shots and survived the 36-hole marathon to tie Lloyd Mangrum and George Fazio for the title. The next day he won the playoff with a 69.

Hogan went on to win two more Opens and score an unprecedented Triple Slam in 1953, winning the Masters, U.S. and British Opens, skipping the PGA and a shot at the Grand Slam of pro golf. But nothing compared with the odyssey at Merion.

The Detroit Yankees used the shuffling of Bert Patterson and John Oler in taking a 9-3 win over the Anderson Devils in NL Major action Tuesday night.

Patterson's grand slam was the first he's run in the NL this year, and Oler then got into the act with a round tripper of his own.

Patterson also had two singles in the contest, with Barney Dodd having three singles. Lee Morris had a single and a double, with Rocky Sharpnack, Timmy Gutierrez and Quade Weaver all adding singles to the 12-hit attack.

Lance Soles had a double for the Devils, with Todd Macklin and David Madigan adding singles.

Sharpnack was the winning pitcher, with Macklin the loser.

The Yankees are now 4-10 on the year, while the Devils are 7-7.

Names in the news

ABBIE HOFFMAN
...to deglamorize drug use

Hoffman fights drug use

NEW YORK (AP) — Abbie Hoffman — ex-Yippie, counter-culture hero and all-around activist — says he's planning to use his "celebrity status" to fight heroin addiction.

Hoffman, serving a jail sentence on a drug charge, said at a news conference Wednesday that addiction is a serious social problem — second only to "society's greed for money."

Hoffman, 44, called on others who have a "cultural impact" to join him in an anti-heroin advertising campaign.

Hoffman is serving a three-year sentence for selling $36,000 worth of cocaine to undercover police officers in 1973. He turned himself in earlier this year after spending seven years as a fugitive. On June 10, he began working at the Veritas Therapeutic Community drug clinic under a prison work-release program.

Governor gets part

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — President Reagan turned from acting to politics, but New Hampshire Gov. Hugh Gallen is headed the other way.

The state film bureau says Gallen has gotten a bit part in a movie about the 1905 Japanese-Russian peace treaty, which was signed in Portsmouth, N.H. The five-hour film is a project of the Japanese Public Broadcasting System.

Gallen shouldn't have much trouble with his part, according to film bureau head Martha Leighton. The governor plays a governor — Gov. John McLane, who played host to the foreign diplomats 76 years ago.

Bailey at Georgetown U.

NEW YORK (AP) — The class of 1982 at Georgetown University includes quite a few talented students. But few are as talented — or as outspoken — as 63-year-old Pearl Bailey.

Miss Bailey, a high school dropout some years back, says college "makes you feel younger because it makes you stretch again."

In an interview in Good Housekeeping magazine, the celebrated entertainer, movie traveler and conversationalist crowed about her 4.0 grade-point average, the equivalent of straight A's.

"Those gals fussing and fighting to be a '10' have nothing on ole Pearl Mae," she said, adding that, with her grades, she considers herself a "red-hot four."

Fonda in South Africa

MASERU, Lesotho (AP) — Actress-activist Jane Fonda, spurned by officials in South Africa, has received a warmer welcome in this small mountainous kingdom surrounded by South African territory.

Miss Fonda, along with husband Tom Hayden and their two children, were denied visas Tuesday when they arrived in Johannesburg from New York City. They had been invited by students to speak at a university in Johannesburg, but officials of the white-ruled nation denied them entry without explanation.

"If they are making the progress that they say they are, and if they want to be understood, then it is in their interest to let people like us in to see all sides," Miss Fonda said after arrival to a VIP welcome in Lesotho Wednesday.

Astronaut Bean resigns to paint moonscapes

HOUSTON (AP) — Alan L. Bean says he's through walking on the moon and plans to devote himself instead to painting it.

The 49-year-old Texan, the fourth man to walk on the lunar surface, announced Wednesday that after 18 years, he is retiring from the astronaut corps effective June 26.

"I am going to sit in front of my easel and become as fine a painter of moonscapes as I can," Bean said.

The idea of becoming a career artist "did not just pop into my head," Bean said. "I've been doing more on weekends, going to museums and art shows. I decided if I was going to try and make a contribution, I had to start now."

Bean began studying art while in the Navy in the late 1950's. He said no other artist has had a first-hand view of space.

"I could paint in general before I went to the moon, and took some lessons from a couple of artists, but there is no one around who can teach you to paint moonscapes," Bean said. "The atmospherics and the colors — mostly gray — are so different from what other artists have experienced."

Bean was the lunar module pilot on Apollo 12, man's second lunar landing mission of Nov. 14-24, 1969. He also commanded the July 28-Sept. 25, 1973 Skylab 3 mission.

His 1,671 hours, 45 minutes on the two flights mean he has spent more time in space than any active astronaut.

Bean's resignation leaves John Young, commander of the first space shuttle flight in April, as the only active astronaut who has walked on the moon.

El Paso policemen charged with marijuana possession

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — of the officer relieved of duties.

An El Paso policeman has been charged with possessing marijuana with intent to sell and another officer has been relieved of his duties after an investigation by the police department's narcotics unit, officials said.

Patrolman Ignacio R. Alarcon, 30, was charged Monday with possession of marijuana with intent to sell and with using the telephone to commit the felony. Police have not released the name of the officer relieved of duties.

Alarcon was fired and taken into custody Monday morning police said.

Police Chief Bill Rodriguez would not release further details about the allegations.

Coalitions are seeking regulations of domestic infant formula industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — A coalition of minority rights groups is asking the Reagan administration, which rejected an international code on infant formula marketing, to strictly regulate the industry in America.

The organizations say millions of dollars and thousands of lives can be saved by promoting breast feeding for babies born to poor people in this country.

The Senate, meanwhile, was voting today on a bipartisan resolution that expressed "concern" about the administration's position on the infant formula issue. The House on Tuesday said it was "dismayed" that the administration opposed the code.

Public Advocates Inc., a San Francisco law firm representing the minority rights coalition, told a House Commerce subcommittee Wednesday that the Food and Drug Administration should force formula makers to state on package labels that "Breast is Best."

The labels should be written in Spanish as well as English, the coalition said.

A spokesman for the baby formula industry said the rights groups were trying to force their ideas on the nation's mothers, regardless of their preference.

The Infant Formula Council of Atlanta, representing the formula makers, also said the rights groups were using outdated and misleading figures in seeking to scare people about the use of infant formula. There has been a sharp decline in infant deaths in the last 10 years, World countries.

including those born to poorer families, the council said.

Robert C. Gelardi, head of the council, said opponents of formula "appeared to be proposing a campaign of enforced universal breast feeding regardless of the mother's or the physician's choice."

The United States stood alone last month as 118 other nations in the World Health Organization adopted a voluntary code aimed at controlling the advertising and marketing of infant formula in developing Third World countries.

Quest for H. C. baseball coach under way

P. W. Malone Science Building dedicated

Tuesday's Howard County Junior College District trustee meeting occurred in two segments — the first session ended about 1:25 p.m., to permit those present to attend dedication ceremonies for the P.W. Malone Science Building.

Fellow trustees had voted to honor the veteran member of the college board a couple of months ago by naming the structure for him.

Both Dr. Malone and his wife were present for the ritual, which took place outside the south entrance to the building. The ceremony included the unveiling of a colored portrait of the co-founder of the Malone-Hogan Hospital and Clinic. It will shortly be located in a wall recess inside the building, protected by glass. Dr. Malone has been a member of the board for 35 years.

College district trustees voted unanimously to support HC President Dr. Charles Hays in his quest for a baseball coach, a decision which bids fair to restore baseball to the school's curriculum no later than next spring.

Board member Harold Davis applauded the decision but said he thought such a person should have dual duties. Davis also reminded the others present that trying to mold a baseball program without offering scholarships would not be easy.

Dr. Hays said it was possible that the baseball team would play a split schedule, operating in the late spring and again in the fall.

William Harvey Rothell, formerly with the Big Spring Independent School District, was hired as a school counselor. The college's new assistant librarian is Norris Maxwell, who succeeded Roy C. Kaufman, who resigned without revealing future plans.

The school's new journalism teacher will be Mrs. Jack Woodley, wife of the high school principal at Forsan. She succeeds Steve Lacey, who resigned several months ago, effective at the end of the 1980-81 school year, for the expressed purpose of returning to college to work on additional credits.

Beth Marie Patterson was hired as an interpreter for SouthWest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf. The board also voted to accept the resignation of James Fisher, an instructor at SWCID.

The Big Spring firm of Lee and Reynolds was retained as the auditor for the school district.

The trustees voted to issue a contract on a bid of $53,973 for the addition of a Westinghouse elevator to the Garrett Coliseum. It was one of two bids received. The elevator can be installed in about 60 days.

R&A Electric and Lighting Supply submitted the low bid of $5,600 for a 500 KVA transformer at Howard College. Two other firms also entered bids for installation of the transformer.

On the advice of Dr. Hays, the trustees decided to take no action on the removal of four buildings in the Big Spring Industrial Park to district property. Hays said that the lowest bid, which was in excess of $25,000, actually was for each building and did not include such items as site preparation, the removal of power lines and restoration of the buildings once they had been moved.

The board also delayed action on a proposal to provide SWCID with a mascot and school colors. Dr. Douglass Burke, chief executive officer at the college, said more attention would be given to the challenge of providing a name and colors before the next board meeting.

A special meeting of the board was set for June 20 by board president Don McKinney.

VETERAN TRUSTEE IS HONORED — Dr. P.W. Malone (center), 35-year member of the Howard County Junior College District, stands beside his portrait during a dedication ceremony which took place outside the district's science and math building Tuesday. The building will henceforth be called the P.W. Malone Science and Math Building. The portrait will hang inside the building. Participating in the brief ritual were Dr. Charles Hays (left), president of the junior college district; and Don McKinney (right), chairman of the district's board of trustees. Mrs. Malone also was present for the ceremony.

Famed club planning reunion

The Blue Bonnet Sunbeamer Softball Team (1948-49) will hold its reunion Saturday, June 27, at the Grand Motel, 21st at Avenue Q, Lubbock, at 1:00 p.m.

This team was formed from two softball teams, Blue Bonnet and Sunbeamer Laundry teams of 1945-46-47. As a result of this combination of players, the Blue Bonnet Sunbeamers of 1948-49, became the best softball team to ever play in West Texas. Among their accomplishments in 1948 were:

(1) Won the Texas Softball League. This league played only on weekends and among the membership were Abilene, Stamford, Crane, Odessa, Monahans, McCamey, Big Spring, San Angelo and Lubbock. This league played a 32 game schedule and the Sunbeamers finished in first place, 10 full games ahead of the second place team.

(2) Won the South Plains League easily. This league played on Tuesday and Thursday nights.

(3) Went to International Softball League World Tournament in Oklahoma City and finished third. The Blue Bonnet Sunbeamers, managed by the fiery Blackie Hilliard, had an excellent array of young and talented athletes. Such outstanding softball pitchers, as Jackie Neel, G.W. Warden, Stringbean, Pope and Kenny Scott, performed for the 1948-49 teams.

Jackie Neel was one of the great softball pitchers and one year while living in Harlingen, pitching for a team there, he hooked up in a duel with Gene Paull of Lake Jackson and they went 33 innings before Lake Jackson finally won the game 1-0. This game appeared in Believe It Or Not.

Jackie Neel had the best pitching record in the Texas Softball League of 1948. He won 14 games while losing only 2. He had 3 no-hitters, 8 shutouts, struck 239 batters in sixteen games for an average of 15 strikeouts per game.

G.W. Warden had the second best record. He won 13 games and lost 3. He had 5 shutouts and one no-hitter to his credit. Warden played second base when not pitching and posted a batting average of .323, second only to his teammate, Ralph Earhart, who won the batting championship. Many observers believe Warden to be the best softball player ever developed in Lubbock.

Texas softball of 1948 was very competitive to the delight of the ardent fans. Many unusual and exciting events took place in the league that year.

Drag races are slated June 25-28

The AHRA Nationals will be conducted at Alamo Dragway, San Antonio, Texas June 25, 26, 27, and 28. This, the most prestigious drag race in the Grand American Series of Professional Drag Racing, will field the largest field of drag racing cars ever to race in the South.

Dee, Joe and John Martinez, owners of Alamo Dragway, have made many new improvements to the track. They have added 1,000 new bleacher seats for the comfort of the spectators.

Three new ticket booths have been added for speedier service. One booth has been added at the pitgate and two were placed at the spectator gate.

AHRA President Jim Rice has announced that the track will open early Thursday afternoon so that more track time will be available for timing and tuning the record number of entries.

Discount tickets are available at all area Sears stores and the Spurs box office in San Antonio. Discount prices are $10 for Saturday and $10 for Sunday. For further information one can call: AHRA (913) 341-2266 or M-Co Auto (512) 927-6160.

Economists begin to offer rosier view of inflation

NEW YORK (AP) — Of all things, some of those economist people who have had so little good to say for so many months are now sounding as if there might be a future down the road.

The conventional wisdom may be changing. "On the inflationary front, the key question voiced by conventional wisdom now concerns how rapidly inflation will abate and how far volatile commodity prices will decline," says Merrill Lynch Economics.

This, it continues, "represents an abrupt shift from earlier attitudes which typically assumed double-digit inflation would persist indefinitely."

How true in that respect seems the comment by John Filer, Aetna Life & Casualty chairman — made when inflation and interest rates were soaring — that anyone who used existing trends to project the economic future could be making a fundamental mistake.

Based on conditions existing then, said Filer, it might sound preposterous to say that interest rates and inflation could fall sharply, but that possibility, he said, could never be dismissed.

Now, after a winter of economic gloom, Morgan Guaranty Trust offers the opinion that "Much evidence suggests that the recent ebbing in inflation is more than just a temporary dip." Reduced inflation, it says, "is a strong possibility for the year ahead."

House members pay price for voting against Clayton

By JAY ROSSER
Staff Writer
Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Amred with a crate full of legislative proposals, Rep. Bill Keese of Somerville reported to the State Capitol last January to start his third-term as a Texas lawmaker.

It started out just like the 1977 and 1979 sessions. The first vote he cast would help determine who would claim the most powerful post in that legislative body, speaker of the House.

Twice before Keese had supported Springlake Democrat Bill Clayton. This time, however, opposed to anyone holding that position for an unprecedented four terms, Keese voted instead for Clayton's only challenger, Rep. John Bryant of Dallas.

Keese's vote also was spawned by concern. How effective, he wondered, could Clayton be after suffering through the Brilab scandal?

Bryant lost in a landslide show of support for Clayton. Keese was one of 21 House members disloyal to Clayton, an irritant factor that not long after plagued the West Texan in a fight over the House rules.

"We're effective," Keese said of the coalition, expected to remain intact for the planned special session. "Our victories are few and far between and they're small victories, but they're victories."

Looking back on it, Keese said he's paid a heavy price for voting against the state's first four-term speaker.

"When I realized my candidate, John Bryant, was out of the picture, I realized then my legislative program was probably dead," Keese said.

Keese wasn't far off the mark. His legislative briefcase carried 29 bills, most seeking to enhance solar energy. None passed. Only one of his two resolutions — one regarding the Snook High School basketball team — passed.

"If I could turn back the clock," Keese said, "I still wouldn't vote for him. I don't think it's healthy for the state or the voters to have a person in such a powerful position for such a long time."

Keese, when compared to Clayton, is a liberal. Virtually all members of the Clayton team harbor conservative philosophies.

The stunning blow to Keese came at the end of the session as the House struggled to reapportion the state's 150 legislative districts. Keese found himself paired in his legislative district with another incumbent, Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale. Kubiak, ironically, voted to let Clayton have a fourth term.

That wasn't totally unexpected, however. Keese remains convinced Clayton recruited a candidate, Curtis Fuelberg, to run against him in the May 1980 Democratic primaries.

Clayton, meanwhile, disputes those contentions. "You know, I think anybody that wanted to play ball, played ball," Clayton said. "If they didn't... you know, I think everybody wanted to. I don't know of anybody that didn't want to."

Clayton claims the Kubiak-Keese pairing was inevitable.

"You know, I think if you'll look at this redistricting and compare it to previous redistrictings, you'll find that there was probably less dissatisfaction with the plan than I've ever seen," he said.

Slower growth in rural areas during the past decade forced the need for the pairs, he said.

"It just comes down to however and where you start drawing the districts as to where the pairs come," Clayton said. "I guess I saw 15 or 20 different plans of redistricting rural Texas, and without exception, everyone had a pair in the Panhandle... in Hunt and Fanin counties... and between Keese and Kubiak."

"Nobody got singled out. It just happened that way," Clayton disloyalists, however, aren't convinced of his even-handedness. "I don't know how you identify whether he's the one behind it or not," echoed Rep. Frank Gaston, a Dallas Republican and Bryant crony.

"All you really know is that all the people that opposed him were punished in one way or another, be it through redistricting, legislation or their committee assignments."

Gaston cast a "white light" in the speaker's race — one that goes on the record as present, not voting. He waged a ferocious battle hours later in the rules fight that determines how much clout the House is willing to give the speaker.

Gaston offered 21 amendments designed to weaken what Bryant's group would call Clayton's stranglehold on lawmakers. He didn't get very far.

"I knew when I went up there," Gaston said from his Dallas office, "that it wasn't going to be a session for me to get much legislation passed. It wasn't."

Gaston, too, feels he was punished. "I certainly was shafted during redistricting," he moaned. "The district I wound up with has about one-third of my old district in it and my financial and volunteer support has been cut out of it...."

"I would certainly think (my opposition) had a lot to do with it. I think he was very slick and maneuvered things in such a way that he got the Republican people to take the blame for it."

Big Spring Rep. Larry Don Shaw was another Bryant supporter, but hedged at the last minute. He, too, wound up voting "a white light."

During the six-month session, Shaw bucked the speaker on several key issues. When capitol wags list Clayton's allies, Shaw's name isn't muttered.

Shaw, a freshman, also was paid a high price for his disloyalty. He was another redistricting casualty. Clayton appoints members of the redistricting committee and what that panel did to Shaw's district stunned the 28-year-old.

He wound up in a district that runs almost from the New Mexico border to the Oklahoma line. Worse yet, he was paired in the same district with "The Duke of Paducah," the "Dean of the House," W.S. "Bill" Healy.

"It's like I told the West Texas delegation," Shaw grumbled. "I expected to be paired 'cause I'm a freshman. But with the Dean of the House? The only logical conclusion was that both Healy and myself supported Bryant."

Disproportionately slow growth in West Texas spawned the need to pair four legislators. Aside from Shaw and Healy, Clayton — who has announced he won't return to the House — was paired with his ally Rep. Pete Laney of Hale Center.

"The logical place to look was to people who didn't support you in the rules fight or the speaker's race," Shaw said. "I'm not upset about it, but to be honest, sincere and realistic, I'm convinced that was the reason I was paired."

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

On June 15, 1961, I took the oath of office for the United States Senate for the first time.

It was truly an awesome moment for a 35-year-old political science professor from Wichita Falls. It also was a dream come true, because I had had a lifelong interest in politics and public service. Then, as now, I could think of no greater privilege than representing the citizens of the greatest state in the nation in the Senate.

This twentieth anniversary of that occasion is a time to reflect on these exciting years, and to thank you for coming me to serve you.

These years have been momentous ones for our country. We have achieved many things, and suffered from many problems. We put a man on the moon, but allowed our national defense posture to deteriorate. We made great strides in bringing equal opportunity for all Americans closer to reality, but allowed government to intrude unnecessarily in the lives of individuals and business.

We have endured war, assassinations, riots and natural disasters.

Yet as I look at our nation today, I see the American spirit as undaunted as ever. Patriotism has surged in the past year, even as pressures on freedom in the world have increased in the face of the problems facing our economy. I sense a determination to pull together to endure shorter term sacrifice while working for real long term solutions which will leave us in better shape than ever.

Looking at the Senate as a body, I also sense a new mood there among my colleagues. Senators seem less sure now than they did 15 years ago that government intervention is the way to solve problems. In this Congress, there is more emphasis on the essential responsibilities of government — defense among the foremost — and less on finding new things with which to concern itself.

In fact, there is growing realization that government has gone too far in injecting itself in the lives of its people. And there is a real possibility of giving back some of the control that has been assumed in recent years.

Over the past 20 years, my own responsibilities have grown, particularly during this Congress as I have taken on the chairmanship of the Senate Armed Services Committee. The responsibility which goes with that job is one I take seriously, for I truly believe the future of our way of life depends on maintaining a strong U.S. defense capability. But my primary purpose for being in Washington is still to represent you, the citizens of Texas.

The past 20 years have been exciting and challenging. But never have I felt greater opportunity, greater responsibility or greater optimism than at this juncture of history.

Together — we who serve you and you who keep us in touch with your needs — can seize the moment and go beyond our current problems to a better future.

July 18 spectacular 'Gilded Cage Ball' plans shaping up

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Mitchell County's Centennial "Gilded Cage Ball" plans are being taken off the drawing board and becoming realities, according to Mrs. J.R. Fuller, Centennial Ball chairman.

Date and time for the event, which, if preparations are any indication, will be a truly spectacular evening, are July 18 from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m., in the Colorado City Civic Center.

All Mitchell County residents are urged to make their reservations early, due to limited seating space. Reservations will be taken beginning at 10 a.m. June 27 through 4 p.m. that same day at a charge of $30 per couple. Persons are encouraged to wear formal dress from any era of the last 100 years.

The gala will include a grand march, a coin set auction and the presentation of Mitchell County's "First Lady."

The Centennial Ball committee reminds area residents reservations must be made in person at the Colorado City Centennial Headquarters, just north of C.C. Athletics, June 27.

Included in the "Gilded Cage Ball" will be a catered buffet by Lula Adams of Sweetwater and music by Dave Adams of Abilene.

According to Mrs. Fuller, "The ball committee is working hard to make this an elegant, memorable event for everyone in Mitchell County with delicious food, excellent music for dancing, entertainment, all bound together in an exquisite, unforgettable setting."

In 31st round by Phillies Frankie Rubio drafted

By NATHAN POSS
Sports Editor

Former Big Spring High School baseball standout Frankie Rubio has signed a contract with the Philadelphia Phillies organization after being drafted in the 31st round of the regular phase of the summer free agent selections.

Rubio was drafted out of Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, Tex., and after signing the contract with the Phillies organization, was sent immediately to rookie camp in Helena, Montana. The Phillies had kept a keen eye on Rubio throughout his college career at Southmost College and Midwestern, where he compiled an impressive pitching record the past year.

A total of 50 players reported to the Helena camp yesterday, and that group will be divided into two teams for the 70 game rookie schedules, which will begin next Monday. Those 70 games will be packed into 71 days, with the season ending in latter August.

A spokesman for the Phillie organization in Helena indicated that Rubio would either be placed on the team in Helena, which plays in the Pioneer Rookie League, or in Bend, Ore., which participates in the Northwest Rookie League. Both Helena and Bend are classified as half-A leagues, which consists of rookies and Class A, AA and AAA farm teams all play 140 games in a season, with the next step after AAA being the major leagues, which plays the 162-game schedule.

The spokesman for the defending world champion Phillies said that the Rookie League provides the organization a chance to more fully evaluate the newly drafted prospects and

Suspect posts $35,000 bail

As a result of filing a writ of habeas corpus last week in 118th District Court, bonds were set for two different charges against Carroll Wayne Jones.

Jones, 36, of 2527 Fairchild, had been held in county jail since May 6 on charges of rape of a child and retaliation. Bond was originally denied by the authority of Justice of the Peace Lewis Hefflin.

Jones appeared before District Judge Jim Gregg Monday. Gregg set bonds of $25,000 for the rape of a child charge, and $10,000 for the charge of retaliation.

Bonds were posted at 5:15 p.m. by B&M Bail Bond service, and Jones was released from county jail.

Theft suspect jailed here

Stanley Hendricks, 21, of 2618 Fairchild, was transported to Howard County jail Sunday following charges of theft over $200 and under $10,000.

Sheriff's deputies went to Alamogordo, N.M., to pick up Hendricks Sunday. He is being held locally, pending setting of a bond.

Arrest made at grocery

Annie Thomas Simpson, 32, of 207 NW 12th, was arrested at Quickie Grocery, 510 Lamesa Highway, Sunday, on charges of possessing a stolen check.

Ms. Simpson was placed under a $15,000 bond, which was later posted by B&M Bonding Service.

Man released on 3 charges

Michael P. Egan, 21, of 4110 Dixon, was transferred to county jail Sunday on charges of driving while intoxicated, attempted burglary and possession of a controlled substance.

He was released on bonds of $1,000 for DWI, and $10,000 each for the other two charges. Bonds were made by B&M Bonding.

plays the 70-game schedules, gauge where they should be placed in future plans. Rubio is listed by the Phillies Baseball Club as a right-handed pitcher with dimensions of 6'2", 200-pounds.

As a performer at BSHS in the 76 and 77 seasons, Rubio did much more than pitch. He was an outstanding hitter as well, earning both All-District and 5-A-A-A-A Most Valuable Player honors.

Hoyle Nix will play at rodeo

Hoyle Nix and his West Texas Cowboys will play nightly for dances in the Howard County Fairbarn, which will be held following the June 24-27 performances of the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo.

Adult tickets for the show sell for $4 each while children under 12 can gain admission for $2. Thursday, June 25, has been designated as Centennial Night and those attending will be encouraged to wear their Centennial clothes. In honor of the successful Big Spring-Howard County Centennial Celebration, which was held here last month, the admission prices will be reduced to $2 for adults and $1 for children for the one night only.

Roping great Toots Mansfield will be honored in a special ceremony Friday night, June 26. Mansfield, a resident of Howard County, has been voted into the National Cowboy Hall of Fame and will be inducted this year.

Malcolm Patterson, rodeo parade chairman, said he hoped that many of the floats which appeared in the Centennial parade would enter the rodeo parade. No advance notice is needed to enter the parade. Starting time is 4 p.m., Wednesday, June 24.

'Great Big Spring Hold Up' nets gifts for three victims

WELCOME TO BIG SPRING — Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sims, second and third from left, and their granddaughter Nancy, 9, were the first "victims" of the "Great Big Spring Hold Up" Tuesday, for summer, 1981. The event is sponsored by the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce and many other Big Spring businesses. Mark Sheedy, left, assistant chamber manager, presented the Arizona family with gifts, and State Trooper Glen Redmon drove the DPS car used to pull over the Arizona travelers. Rose Thomas, right, of Skipper Travel, will serve as a guide to a family which will be stopped June 26.

By CAROL HART
State Trooper Glen Redmon spotted the car with Arizona plates and sped down the highway after it. Passing motorists may have wondered why Redmon had four passengers in the car as he followed the other vehicle. Joe Sims, driver of the Arizona car, was "trying to figure out what I had done wrong." But, the offense was small on Sims part.

Following a routine license check, Redmon assured the Arizonian, his wife, Jane, and granddaughter, Nancy, that they had not done anything wrong. Rather, the three were "victims" of the "Great Big Spring Hold Up."

Then, Mark Sheedy, Rose Thomas, two of the coordinators of the event, and two members of the press piled out of the DPS car to tell the family what they had won, and to catch their reactions.

And the family soon learned that being "victims" of the "Great Big Spring Hold Up" wasn't such a bad deal after all.

Sponsored by the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce and KBYG radio, the "Hold Up" features a number of gifts for the family. After verifying that they could spend Tuesday night in Big Spring, the Sims were escorted to the Mid-Continent Inn, where they were to receive a free night's lodging.

Sheedy, who is assistant manager of the Chamber, told the family that they were to receive a meal at the Brandin' Iron Inn, tickets to "Alice in Wonderland," ice cream from "Baskin-Robbins," a tour of the Heritage Museum, and a breakfast at Herman's restaurant before the family hit the road again today.

The Arizona family was the third car to be pulled over by the Big Spring delegation Tuesday. A family from Missouri, and another from New Mexico, said they would like to stay, but felt they needed to move on down the road before nightfall.

But Sims and his family graciously accepted the offer to stay. The Sims are from Prescott, Ariz., and granddaughter Nancy is from Phoenix. The three had been to Dallas, where Joe had attended his class reunion. They were returning to Phoenix to leave Nancy with her parents.

The "Great Big Spring Hold Up" was reinstated this year after a lapse of a year, Sheedy said. The event was begun about three years ago, as a Big Spring promotional, in hopes that the family chosen would be good will ambassadors when they left the city. A vote from the Chamber tourist and convention committee this year was what it took to start the "Hold Up" again.

100-unit apartment complex hits snag

A proposal to build a 100-unit apartment complex on a 10-acre site in south Big Spring has run into a snag concerning corporate limits of the city.

The application for the El Reposo apartments indicates that the area, located in close proximity to the industrial site at the municipal airport, is properly zoned and within city limits. According to other reports, though, the site is just outside the corporate limits.

Municipal services can no longer be extended to new customers outside the city, and there are no plans to annex properties in that section, which could pose problems for services such as water and sewage. County Judge Bill Tune said that the residents could be responsible for their own trash, and might have to get water from a well.

Paula C. Ybarra, Barbara Kayler and Gene Gaylor will meet with the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission board of directors at 1:30 p.m. today in Midland to review their application for project mortgage insurance to the Department of Housing and Urban Development, and to insure a loan to be used in construction of the apartment complex. Total replacement cost of the project is $2,960,500 and the amount insured is $2,563,570.

First Ebony Pageant booked Thursday at HC

The Ada Bell Dement Civic and Art Club will present its first annual Ebony Pageant and fashion show Thursday at 7 p.m. in Howard College Auditorium.

Participants will model casual wear, swim, and evening wear.

The winner will be crowned about 8:30 p.m. and will receive a plaque and $50 as the prize. Runners-up will receive plaques.

There will be singing and dancing as entertainment and the public is invited.

Admission is $1.

Debra Woods will present plaques and flowers. Miss Woods was a contestant last year in the Miss Howard College pageant where she placed second runner-up and was named Miss Congeniality. Milton Perkins will be emcee.

Several businesses in town donated flowers and decorations for the pageant.

The winner will be featured in a parade at 10 a.m. Friday beginning at Lakeview School, continuing down N.W. Fourth to the Lamesa Highway. Then the parade will turn north to Dairy Queen proceeding across San Antonio St. down 6th, and back to the school.

Bell developments interpreted for hearing impaired persons

As a much-traveled science demonstrator for Southwestern Bell, Bill Haehnel has seen a number of interesting places and events.

But Haehnel encountered a new experience in Big Spring recently when his demonstration on new technological developments in the tele-communications field to the Civitan Club was interpreted for several hearing impaired individuals in the audience.

Jim Fisher, a Civitan Club member and an instructor at the Southwest Collegiate Institute for the deaf in Big Spring, interpreted Haehnel's demonstration through sign language. It was the first time Haehnel's demonstration, entitled "The Knowledge Business: Looking Back at the Future" has ever been interpreted.

"I really didn't have any trouble interpreting the demonstration because Bill is such an enthusiastic and dynamic speaker," explained Fisher, who has interpreted everything from soap operas to chemistry lectures in the past. "His style of speaking goes hand-in-glove with sign language.

Dumpers of trash face $200 fines, sheriff says

People who throw debris on county roads may face fines up to $200 if they are caught, according to Sheriff A.N. Standard.

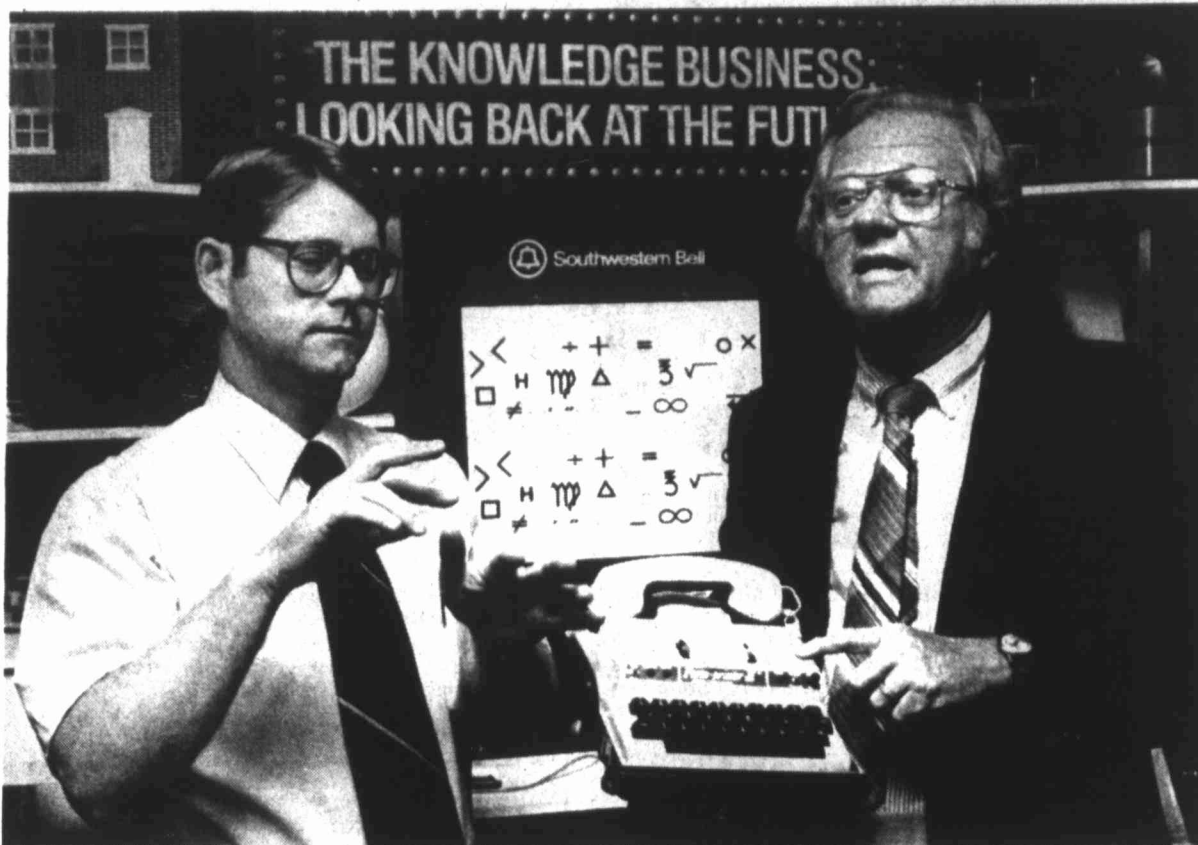

Several residents of Longshore Road have notified the sheriff's office that the road is being used in spots as a dumping ground. Standard said that "we will attempt to file complaints" against people dumping trash in unauthorized areas, adding that cases filed "will be processed through the

"It's very fulfilling for me to interpret for all types of groups," Fisher continued. "Sign language is a beautiful, almost poetic form of communication. In some ways it's superior to verbal communication." A portion of Haehnel's 45-minute program is devoted to Bell System services for the disabled. Haehnel explains and demonstrates such services as the Porta-Printer-II, a portable device by which the hearing impaired can communicate, a telephone handset complete with a volume control dial, an electronic larynx, and voice activated telephone systems.

"I was thrilled that those individuals in the audience who could not hear my demonstration were able to be included in the program — especially the segment on products the Bell System offers the disabled," explained Haehnel, who travels some 35,000 miles and makes some 250 shows a year. "I really enjoyed the experience and I think everyone in the audience did too."

"We'll attempt to prosecute those in violation," he said.

FIRST TIME — Southwestern Bell Science Demonstrator Bill Haehnel explains the advantages of the Porta-Printer-II for the hearing impaired while Jim Fisher, an instructor at the Southwest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf in Big Spring, communicates the message through sign language to those in the audience who cannot hear Haehnel's demonstration. It was the first time Haehnel's demonstration has ever been interpreted through sign language.

51 degrees low record

Last night frigid unseasonal June weather drove the temperature down to a bone-chilling 51 degrees, setting a new record. The previous low for June 16 was 55 degrees, set in 1945, according to the USDA Big Spring Experiment Station.

However, there is good news for area sun bathers as temperatures are expected to climb back to the upper 80s today, and the forecast is for sunny skies the rest of the week, according to the National Weather Bureau.

Two are moved to county jail

Oscar Prince Garcia, 18, of 3219 Auburn, was transferred to county jail Tuesday, where he was held on charges of burglary and evading arrest.

Judge Lewis Heflin set bonds of $25,000 on the burglary charge, and $5,000 for the charge of evading arrest. Garcia was still in custody this morning.

David Edward Garcia, 18, of 101 E. 24th, was released on a $5,000 bond Tuesday following charges of burglary. Bond in his case was set by Judge Bobby West, and posted by Basden and Conway.

Root Hospital given award

COLORADO CITY (SC) — The Texas Hospital Association has credited Root Memorial Hospital with attacking the rising costs of health care.

As a result of its commitment to a policy of cost effectiveness and restraint, Root Memorial has been awarded a 1981 Certificate of Participation by the Texas voluntary effort.

Root Hospital Administrator Ray Dillard notes hospital costs have been increasing due to a number of factors, most of which are beyond control. "Nevertheless," Dillard comments, "we will continue to contain aggressively the increase in our expenses, while at the same time, preserving the high standards of service we currently provide our community."

Bond posted

James Craig Sexton, 3310 Cornell, was placed under a $15,000 bond Tuesday for charges of burglary of a habitation.

Sexton, 17, was released from county jail when bond, which was set by Judge Lewis Heflin, was posted by B&M Bail Bonding Service.

Women win district offices

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Volumes seem to have been written concerning the problems of the marginally-employed worker and the need to protect the employee from the abuses of the employer.

Little thought has been given, however, to the multitude of problems facing the employers of such labor, whether that employer runs a household and depends on a part-time housekeeper or a hamburger stand and hires teenagers after school.

The inclusion of such workers under the minimum wage law creates the first set of problems with many employers simply unable or unwilling to hire workers at the standard minimum rate.

Even if the federal minimum hourly wage rates are met, the employer may well find himself in the position of the case outlined in the publications, The Exchange, recently. The retired businessman, a widower, told of his experiences in trying to hire a part-time housekeeper.

Mrs. Spivey reported the presentation of the Auxiliary's Teacher of the Year award to Mamie Lee Dodd, fifth grade teacher at Marcy Elementary School in May.

The ladies were reminded that Buddy Poppies are to be sold June 20.

Congressional Comment

The employee had medical problems that would make it difficult to find employment elsewhere and really needed the job.

And even though the employer met federal wage standards, in order to employ her legally, he was required to fill out and file 13 different state and federal forms, plus pay a total of $442.35 a year in Federal Social Security taxes and state and federal unemployment insurance taxes.

All of these problems were encountered, I might add, after the man had found someone willing to do the work. Many potential employees turned down the minimum wage job to live in government-subsidized apartments at low rentals and subsist on welfare or Social Security payments, bank interest and other types of minimal income. Their desire and will to work have been destroyed by the federal largess, he believes.

No wonder that many employers and employees now agree on wages paid in cash from hand to hand, with such income never reported. I am not justifying breaking the law, but I do understand the frustration that can lead to such a practice.

Federal rules and regulations have reached the heights of the ridiculous. If I have work to be done and am willing to pay you to do that work; if you need work and are willing to perform the task I advertise for the pay I offer, to what degree does the government have the right to interfere? That is the question.

I sometimes think government has been determined to legislate and regulate common sense right out of the picture and has become far too successful.

We now have a golden opportunity to make significant changes in the way government affects us.

Official flower proposed

The dandelion, that scourge of fathers who tend summer gardens, was proposed as the official flower for Father's Day in June, 1924. That was the year that President Calvin Coolidge proclaimed the first national observance in honor of these parents sometimes regarded as down-trodden species.

The Coolidge proclamation followed a 13-year campaign by Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Wash., for such an observance. At the conclusion of the campaign, the citizens of Wilkesburg, Pa., proposed the dandelion as the official Father's Day flower because "the more it is trampled on, the more it grows." The proposal never took root, the dandelion giving way to the rose as a symbol for the occasion.

Nevertheless, father still seems slightly trampled. About 75 million greeting cards are sent on Father's Day compared to 125 million on Mother's Day, according to the National Association of Greeting Card Publishers.

Shower honors bride-elect

Laurie Choate, bride-elect of Tommy Dale Churchwell, was honored with a bridal coffee Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. Bobby Gee.

Guests were greeted by the honoree, Mrs. Carroll Choate, her mother, Mrs. T.J. Churchwell, mother of the prospective groom and Mrs. Gee. A corsage of orchid daisies was presented to Miss Choate. White daisy corsages were presented to both mothers.

The refreshment table was centered with a crystal cut vase containing an arrangement of orchid and purple spring flowers. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Co-hostesses were Helen Shive, Nan McKinney, Theda Brooks, Dene Sheppard, Marie Ethridge, Ernestine Day, Lorene Barbee, and Kim Gee.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Julie Johnson, sister of the bride, and Justin Johnson, nephew of the bride, both from Quincy, Ill.

The hostesses presented Miss Choate with an electric mixer.

The couple will be married Saturday in the First Methodist Church.
