Witness testifies defendant killed sister, attacked her

By CAROL HART
Martha Esquibel told jurors that Edwardo Maidique shot and killed her sister, Linda Garcia, on March 23, then turned on her and broke her neck.
Miss Esquibel was the first witness called today to testify in the trial of Edwardo Maidique in 118th District Court. Maidique is accused of murder and aggravated assault in the incidents. He was indicted by a Howard County grand jury earlier this year on the two counts.
Before testimony opened today, Maidique pleaded not guilty to the charges. Rick Hamby and Don Richard are representing the state in the case, and Wayne Basden is Maidique's attorney.
Hamby asked Miss Esquibel to recount where she was on March 23. She said "I was at 1510 Mesa," explaining that was the house her sister, Linda Garcia, lived in. She said that at about 9:10 p.m., a man came to see the sisters, watched television, talked with them, and left the home about 9:30 p.m. When he left, only the two sisters and Linda Garcia's two children remained in the home.
"Did anyone else show up?" Hamby asked.
"Edwardo Maidique" showed up, said Miss Esquibel.

Hamby asked Miss Esquibel "How long had you known (Edwardo Maidique)?"
"He lived with my sister for three months," said Miss Esquibel, explaining the couple was together October through December.
Hamby asked when Maidique came by 1510 Mesa, and Miss Esquibel estimated about 10:15 p.m. or 10:20 p.m. "Did he knock on the door?" Hamby asked, to which Miss Esquibel replied "No, Sir."
She said she and her sister heard a noise, like someone pulling tape off a door, or something plastic. "We stopped talking, and looked at each other," she said.
She said she guessed at that time that the noise was coming from outside the kitchen door.
"What was your reaction?" asked Hamby.
"I got up and ran to the bedroom," she said. "On top of the dresser there was a phone. I picked up the phone and called the police. I told them to send someone, because someone was breaking in."
"Did you know who it was?" Hamby asked. "No, sir," said Miss Esquibel.
She said her sister then ran to the bedroom and got a gun from between the mattresses. At that time, she said Edwardo Maidique came in through the kitchen door.

Hamby then quizzed Miss Esquibel, asking her if the door had been locked after the friend left earlier in the evening. "Yes, sir," she replied.
When Maidique came in, Miss Esquibel said "He stood right in front of my sister." She said Edwardo said he had been told that "my sister was whoring around," said Miss Esquibel, adding that he said all this in Spanish. She also recalled that he was carrying a silver box.
Hamby asked her if she said anything, and she said no. She then said her sister got her gun, pointed it toward the ceiling, and shot one bullet.
"Edwardo got her by the wrist, and threw the gun under the couch. He got his gun and shot her twice." She added that his gun was inside the silver box he had been carrying.
"I saw her fall down," said Miss Esquibel. "He turned around, and that's when he went toward me. He came toward me and grabbed my neck and started beating me on the head with his gun. He tried to choke me."
"Did you stay in the hall," asked Hamby.
"No, sir. He pushed me in the house. He was found several hours later.
According to Settles, the men will be approached as if they are armed.
"They're out and they've had access," he said.
"They will be entered in the national computer. The chances of their eluding law enforcement throughout the United States is slim. It will be a matter of time before they are caught or they turn themselves in," Settles added.
Anyone having any information on the escapees is urged to call the Midland County Sheriff's Office at 682-9774. Another number, 685-1190 is available for persons wishing to contribute anonymous tips as part of the sheriff's Silent Witness program.

Three escapees still at large

By ANDREA COHEN
Three Midland County Jail inmates remain at large today after their escape Sunday night. They escaped after two jailers were overpowered and briefly held hostage.
"As of this time, we're getting numerous tips from people here," said Capt. Robert Settles of the Midland sheriff's Criminal Investigation Division.
"We've checked the leads, which have all been unfounded. A lot of people thought they saw them but didn't. We have no other information. We're checking with friends and relatives they associated with."
The escapees have been identified as Willie Bustillos Jr., Wallace Lee Sims and Frank Sidney Smith.

Bustillos is described as a 38-year-old Mexican male, five-feet, seven inches tall, weighing 140 pounds. He was being held on a theft charge.
Sims is described as a 33-year-old black male. He is six-feet one inch in height, 150 pounds and has a heart-shaped tattoo on his right cheek. He was being held on credit card abuse and burglary charges.
Smith is a 21-year-old white male described as being five feet, seven inches in height and weighing 170 pounds. He had been sentenced to 10 years in prison on a robbery conviction and was being held on a felony escape charge.
Smith attempted an escape about a month ago, investigators said, when he was emptying trash at the courthouse. He was found several hours later.

According to Settles, the men will be approached as if they are armed.
"They're out and they've had access," he said.
"They will be entered in the national computer. The chances of their eluding law enforcement throughout the United States is slim. It will be a matter of time before they are caught or they turn themselves in," Settles added.
Anyone having any information on the escapees is urged to call the Midland County Sheriff's Office at 682-9774. Another number, 685-1190 is available for persons wishing to contribute anonymous tips as part of the sheriff's Silent Witness program.

Miller appointed to city council

Big Spring city councilmen voted unanimously this morning to appoint Larry Miller as successor to Hal Boyd to the Place 2 seat on the council.
Boyd formally resigned to become manager of the Big Spring Industrial Park. His yearly salary will be $27,500.
The announcement came as somewhat of a surprise since Miller, who owns Carver's Pharmacy here, had announced in February that he would not be a candidate to succeed himself on the council, citing the press of business as reasons for his departure from the council.
Miller, together with his wife, are on a trip but he indicated in advance he would accept the appointment, if it were offered to him. He plans to be back in town toward the weekend.

Councilman Jack Y. Smith, who nominated Miller for the position, said the council considered up to a dozen local residents for the position. They approached Miller because the city is working on a budget for the new fiscal year and Larry has had experience in such matters.
Miller was elected to the Place 4 position on the city council in April, 1979, at which time he defeated his only opponent in the race, Sam Hunnicutt, polling 1,527 votes to 1,021 for Hunnicutt.
After leaving the council, Miller accepted an appointment as Howard County Civil Defense Director, Feb.

24. No announcement was made concerning that position but indications are that he will not attempt to pursue both duties.
Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Miller of Big Spring, grew up here.

$2.90 an hour increase okayed

Carpenters' union, contractors settle

By ANDREA COHEN
Members of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters Local 1428 negotiated a settlement Monday, the seventh day of their strike.
The carpenters received $2.90 an hour increase over two years, bringing a journeyman's salary to $14.45 an hour at the end of that period. Benefits were not part of the package.
The union had asked for a two-year graduated pay boost that would have increased their salaries by $3.40 an hour plus a benefit plan "or enough money to build the benefits ourselves," Charles Morris, business representative for the union had said.
Representatives of the Associated General Contractors of America and several independent contractors had offered the union $2.80 an hour over the next two years, with no provision for benefits.
"We're not really happy with it, but that's the way it worked out," Morris said. "But a lot of guys are glad to be back to work."
J.W. Cooper of the Cooper Construction Co., Odessa, representing contractors, was also not happy with the settlement.

"It's too much," he said. "We didn't want to settle for that much. But it's water under the dam now. I'm not really happy with it. There's no two ways about it that it's inflationary. But construction in this part of West Texas is active right now. We did the best with what we had in the time we had to work with."
"We are glad it's settled," he continued. "We're happy in that respect."
The strike was settled approximately 4:30 p.m. Monday after an hour and a half of talks. It was the second time the union and the contractors met since picket lines were set up Tuesday. According to Cooper, the two sides had also met three times prior to Tuesday.
About 88 percent of the 17-county local voted last Monday night to strike when their current contract expired. Two local projects were hit because of the strike, the mall under construction near K-Mart's on east FM 700 and an elementary school project for the Coahoma School District.
Approximately 30 construction projects were affected by the strike in the Midland-Odessa area.

Reagan picks woman to fill Court post

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan today chose Arizona Judge Sandra D. O'Connor to become the first woman justice in the history of the Supreme Court, calling her "truly a person for all seasons," and fulfilling a promise he made on the way to the White House.
Reagan said he did not name a woman successor to retiring Justice Potter Stewart "merely to do so," but because Mrs. O'Connor has the qualities needed on the high court.
"She is truly a person for all seasons, possessing those unique qualities of temperament, fairness, intellectual capacity and devotion to the public good which had characterized the 101 brethren who have preceded her," the president said in his nationally broadcast and televised announcement.
He said her nomination will be sent to the Senate as soon as FBI background investigations have been completed. The court is in recess until next autumn.
"We're satisfied that she will have no problem as far as confirmation is concerned," said Atty. Gen. William French Smith.
There remained the prospect that ardent conservatives would challenge her for past support of a constitutional amendment on the rights of women, and on abortion. Smith said he was confident that no single issue would dominate the confirmation proceedings.
As majority leader of the Arizona Senate, Mrs. O'Connor backed the Equal Rights Amendment resolution introduced in 1972.

Howard County banks report seasonal slump in deposits

Howard County banks experienced a seasonal slump in deposits during the second quarter of the year. Predictably, loans were up, as farmers began plowing and planting 1981 crops.
The four banks showed a total of nearly $198,500,000 in deposits for the quarter ending June 30, 1981, compared to a record $202,845,188 at the end of the first quarter.
The figures are substantially ahead of a year ago, when deposits here totaled $178,811,319.
All four banks showed less money on deposit but Security State's loss was only nominal, as was First National. The leader in deposits, as usual, was First National, with deposits totaling $97 million plus.
Loans are almost $8 million ahead of the first quarter and are almost $25 million ahead of the same quarter in 1980. They total $106,744,107, compared to $98,744,529 for the period ending March 30 this year and $81,824,022 for the second quarter in 1980.

Wholesale food prices rise, pushing inflation to 6.9%

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale food prices, unchanged for most of the spring, began rising in June, pushing the nation's inflation ahead at an annual rate of 6.9 percent at the wholesale level, the government reported today.
The Labor Department's Producer Price Index for finished goods has now risen at an annual rate of 9.5 percent for the first half of the year — well under last year's 11.8 percent. And analysts see little likelihood that the rate for all of 1981 will edge over 10 percent.
The wholesale price index rose a seasonally adjusted 0.6 percent in June — slightly above May's 0.4 percent but still the second-best month this year.
Economists are forecasting that the rate will remain relatively low for at least the next few months, particularly in light of the current ready availability of oil worldwide.
Food prices, however, probably will continue rising during the summer, keeping overall inflation from dropping further than it has in the last few months, analysts say.
Prices for finished consumer foods — those ready for retail sale — rose 0.5 percent in June after remaining virtually level during the previous two months, the new Labor Department report said.

Local couple weds on top of mountain

By RENEE BLACKWELL
At 8:00 this morning B.C. Coates Jr. and Reene Ann Sneed were married atop the mountain on Scenic Drive in Big Spring State Park.
When asked why they were married there B.C. answered, "Because I told Reene that when I married her I would be on top of a mountain."
Reene, whose birthday is also today, was wearing a bright red dress.
A cousin to the groom, Carroll Coates Jr. and his wife, Janis, served as best man and maid of honor.
The Rev. Jim McWilliams of North Birdwell Lane United Methodist Church officiated.
Reene works at the VA Hospital, and B.C. works as a drilling consultant at BMW and Associates. He also writes stories for Paul Harvey's "The Rest of the Story."
The couple plans to go to Six Flags next week for their honeymoon.
They plan to build a home and live in Big Spring.

The newlyweds will reside in Big Spring.

CRMWD delivers less water to cities

Although the Colorado River Municipal Water District delivered slightly less water to cities in June than for the same month in 1980, there was a substantial gain in total deliveries both for the month and for the first half of the year.
In June, the district pumped 1,840,374,000 gallons of water to all its customers, an increase of about 72,000,000 gallons or up 4.10 percent. Of this the cities took 1,618,895,000 gallons, about 2,000,000 gallons or .11 of one percent less than in June 1980. On the other hand, oil and industrial deliveries reached 221,479,000 gallons in June, an increase of 74,000,000 gallons or 50.30 percent.
For the first half of the year, the cities drew 6,705,809,000 gallons, down

SSHikes out?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two key Senate Republicans are ruling out further Social Security tax increases, despite a fresh warning that the retirement fund will be bankrupt by the end of 1982 unless taxes are raised or benefits are slashed.
On the eve of Senate hearings today, Sens. William L. Armstrong of Colorado and Bob Dole of Kansas stopped short of endorsing President Reagan's proposals for major reductions in benefits, including a hefty penalty for early retirement.
Health and Human Services Secretary Richard Schweiker said today the administration also is ruling out the use of general revenues or any new increase in Social Security tax rates.
"The current congressional budget process makes it very clear that there really are not any uncommitted general revenues present to turn to for Social Security," Schweiker told Armstrong's Senate Finance subcommittee.

Pope picks Polish primate

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John Paul II named Bishop Jozef Glemp as the new archbishop of Warsaw and Gniezno today, succeeding the late Cardinal Stefan Wyszyński, the Vatican announced.
The appointment makes Glemp the new primate of Poland, whose title comes with the nomination to the see. Glemp, 52, was bishop of the diocese of Warmia, with offices in Olsztyn.

Hotel blaze kills two

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Hotel officials said a fire early today killed at least two people and injured 17 at the luxury Camino Real hotel, where most of the guests were Americans.
Roman Zapata, assistant manager of the 700-room hotel, said both the dead were hotel employees. He said the hotel was about 75 percent occupied, but there were no Americans among the casualties.
Firemen said most of the injured suffered from smoke inhalation. Nine of them were hospitalized, a hotel spokesman said. They were not immediately identified.
Firemen said the fire broke out at about 1 a.m. (3 a.m. EDT) and was under control about four hours later. The guests were evacuated and moved to another hotel.

No one shows up to protest Stacy dam deadline change

AUSTIN — Two rare things happened at a Texas Water Board hearing on Stacy Dam Monday: No one showed up to protest and it was over in seconds.
The commission routinely extended the time the Colorado River Municipal Water District has to begin and complete the dam about 24 miles southeast of Ballinger.
A construction permit approved by the commission two years ago said construction had to begin by June 26, 1981, and be completed by June 26, 1981. Those deadlines Monday were extended to May 31, 1983, and May 31, 1989.
The reason for the extensions — and the lack of protest — was the currently pending litigation involving the dam.

The Big Spring-based water district said a suit filed by the city of Austin and the Lower Colorado River Authority prevented initiation of construction.
That suit appeals the water commission's approval of the permit. A district court in Austin upheld the commission's action, but appeal of that decision is pending before the 3rd Court of Civil Appeals at Austin.
The permit was issued after 50 days of testimony spread out more than a year. The legal fight is expected to take the case to the Texas Supreme direction of the bedroom." In the bedroom, she said he "hit me with his gun," more times. She said during the incident she received a skull fracture, a broken neck, and many bruises.

Miss Esquibel said she then saw Mardique leave the home, and run to a car waiting outside. In the car, according to Miss Esquibel, was Mardique's twin brother, Alberto, and a friend of the brothers. She said Edwardo made the friend slide over to the center of the car, and he got in on the passenger side. The car then sped down FM 700.
She then said "I went inside the bathroom and got a towel and wrapped it around my head. There was so much blood, I wanted to stop the bleeding."
She then saw her sister lying on the floor, and knelt down to feel for a pulse. "I couldn't find a pulse. I screamed, and jumped over her. I ran to the bedroom and called the police again, to report that she had been killed."
"How much time passed between the first phone call and the second phone call," asked Hamby.
Miss Esquibel estimated four minutes.
Hamby then questioned Miss Esquibel whether she had had anything to drink or smoke. She said no, adding "I don't smoke marijuana." She said her sister had also not had anything to drink or smoke.
"Do you see Edwardo Mardique in the courtroom," asked Hamby. Miss Esquibel said "Yes, between Wayne Basden and his interpreter."

Wayne Basden, attorney for Mardique, then took over questioning. "When did you meet Alberto?" asked Hamby, inquiring about Edwardo's twin. "I met him when I met Edwardo," said Miss Esquibel, adding that there was a day's difference between meeting the two.
Miss Esquibel said Edwardo was dating Ms. Garcia when she met him. "Was he staying with her at night?" "I don't know," said Miss Esquibel.
She said that she did not visit her sister when Edwardo moved in with her, because "me and Edwardo didn't get along." She added that she had no problems with Alberto.
She said she was involved in an argument with Edwardo when her sister asked him to move out. "He refused to move out," she said. "I called the police."
Basden then questioned Miss Esquibel about drugs. "Was there an argument about you giving drugs to your sister," asked Basden. "No sir," she said. "I did not supply drugs to my sister."
He then questioned her about "someone who works with spirits," asking her if she had tried to evoke someone like that to use against Edwardo and Alberto.
Basden then asked Miss Esquibel to recount what had happened, from the point she and her sister heard the first noise.
He then questioned her about a statement she gave to the police, in which she said Alberto broke into the

Legislature passes needed ethics reforms

Nothing has had greater impact on electoral politics than a series of changes in federal and state campaign contribution laws made in the early and mid-1970s. Those changes — new limits on the size of contributions to candidates for federal office, a tightening of the contribution requirements, and a new state law outlining specifically how political action committees (PACs) must be set up and administered — resulted in an explosion in both the number and the size of PACs formed by business and professional associations and other special interest groups. Prior to these changes, a few associations had political committees but the law was so vague that the legal questions discouraged many groups from setting up their own PACs. Once the guidelines were set down in the law, PACs proliferated rapidly until, today, any group or company with a lobbyist also feels obligated to have a PAC to help out friendly candidates. PACs now account for as much as 80 percent of the money contributed to some campaigns. This year, because of the increasing influence of PACs, I sponsored a bill to expand the campaign reporting requirements of these "committees." My bill, along with several other campaign finance bills, was combined by Speaker Billy Clayton into a single "ombibus ethics reform bill," and I'm pleased to report that it passed. Currently, PACs are required to report only their treasurer's name, the name of each contributor and the amount given, and the amount contributed by the PAC to each candidate. My bill (and the omnibus bill) will require PAC reports to also include: (1) the occupation or employer of each contributor, (2) the treasurer's address and phone number, and (3) the name of each corporation, union or association that provides administrative support or cosigns or assists the PAC in obtaining credit or determines which candidates receive contributions. Other provisions in the omnibus bill will: (1) prohibit legislators from accepting campaign contributions during a legislative session or during the 30 days prior to a session, (2) prohibit cash contributions larger than $100, (3) establish strict rules specifying when a campaign donation is considered to be officially accepted and a deadline for returning a donation that is rejected or declined, and (4) establish a 15-member Ethics Advisory Committee to issue guidelines on the conduct of public officials and make recommendations on ethics legislation to the next regular session of the Legislature.

Weather
in Southeast Texas

A flash flood watch was in effect today for portions of Southeast Texas and the coastal bend area. The area included in the flash flood watch was generally east of a line through the towns of Alice, Kingsville, Three Rivers, College Station and Lufkin. Forecasts called for showers and thunderstorms in Southeast Texas, the coastal bend and Northeast Texas today. The remainder of the state was to have clear to partly cloudy skies and continued warm temperatures. Highs were to be mostly in the 90s, ranging from the 80 in East Texas to near 103 in the Big Bend area of Southwest Texas.

WEATHER FORECAST — The National Weather Service forecast for Wednesday predicts showers in parts of Washington, Oregon and Idaho; in a line stretching from Arizona to Michigan; in parts of Texas, Louisiana, and Mississippi; and in parts of Florida.

Conoco accepts Du Pont offer in largest merger

NEW YORK (AP) — Du Pont Co. is launching a major invasion of the energy business with its planned acquisition of Conoco Inc., giving it guaranteed access to the oil that is the basis of many plastics and chemicals.

The merger deal, announced Monday, won the endorsement of the beleaguered management of Conoco, which has been scrambling for a merger partner, but was not so well received by Du Pont stockholders.

The merger would create the seventh-largest industrial company in the nation and would be the largest takeover ever. Conoco now ranks 14th in the list, based on sales, one place ahead of Du Pont. The current takeover record is held by Shell Oil Co., which paid $3.6 billion for Belridge Oil Co. in 1979.

Du Pont stock fell $4.875 a share, to $46.375, in active trading on the New York Stock Exchange Monday after the deal was announced. Conoco stock rose $7.375, to $77.

The fall in Du Pont stock cut the value of the deal to $6.8 billion from the $7.3 billion price tag that was put on the acquisition based on last week's Du Pont stock price.

Du Pont proposes to acquire 40 percent of the Conoco stock for $3 billion in cash, at $87.50 a share, and to acquire the rest at an exchange rate of 1.6 Du Pont shares for each Conoco share. The value of 1.6 Du Pont shares fell to $74.20 from $82.

Jack Henry, an analyst with E.F. Hutton & Co., said some investors have been enthused about Du Pont's growing ventures in health care and electronics products, which would be proportionately less important after Du Pont swallows the larger Conoco.

Conoco, a major oil company and owner of Consolidated Coal, the nation's second-largest coal company, has been fighting an unwelcome $2.55 billion offer from Seagram Co. Ltd. for 41 percent of its stock. Seagram, which is offering $73 a share, declined to comment on the Du Pont offer.

Like most oil companies, Conoco is involved in chemicals and last year reported $1 billion in revenues and $44.3 million in profits from chemical operations, which included a joint venture with Monsanto, a major Du Pont competitor.

But the deal could escape antitrust opposition because Du Pont is not heavily involved in petrochemicals and the Reagan administration is more sympathetic to large mergers than was the Carter administration. The Justice Department did not comment.

Application
center filed

An application for a proposed 142 unit retirement center in Big Spring has been received by the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission, and will be reviewed at 1:30 p.m. July 15 upon conclusion of the Commission's semi-annual meeting at the Odessa Country Club.

St. Mary's Episcopal Church is proposing to construct the project, which will be on the site adjacent to the Canterbury Apartments on Lancaster Street. Canterbury contains 120 units.

The proposed project will consist of 142 housing units which will provide rent subsidized housing for elderly and handicapped persons. Types of units to be built are 12 two bedroom, 24 efficiency and 106 one bedroom units.

LISD may add to tax rate in fall

LUBBOCK — Faced with a $2.5 million deficit, the Lubbock Independent School District may have to add at least 10 cents to the tax rate this fall.

The estimated 1981-82 budget of almost $51 million was inflated this year by a cutoff in state money previously reimbursed to local school districts for property tax exemptions.

The projected budget includes no funds for increases in salary increments for teachers.

If the tax rate is raised 10 cents, it would advance almost to $1.01 per $100 valuation. Under that taxing schedule, yearly school taxes on a $50,000 market value house would rise from $453 to $503.

Even then, the school district would be left without a carryover balance which is used for emergency funding.

Eligibility for burial in VA national cemetery explained

Veterans should remind their families that burial in a Veterans Administration national cemetery is open to any veteran who has been discharged under other than dishonorable conditions, Jack Coker, Director of the Waco VA Regional Office, said recently. Although the law doesn't provide for grave site reservations, a veteran can make things easier for his survivors by expressing a desire to be buried in a national cemetery, keeping military service records accessible and verifying eligibility at any VA office. To be eligible for burial, military service must have been for other than training purposes. Reserve or national guard personnel who do not meet those requirements, but who die as a result of their active duty training, may also be eligible. Service members who die on active duty are also eligible. Burial is available to an eligible veteran's widow, widower, minor children, and under special circumstances, unmarried adult children.

When a veteran or dependent dies, the documents verifying eligibility should be presented to the funeral director handling the burial. The funeral director then contacts the national cemetery director to determine eligibility and space availability. Of the 108 national cemeteries, 58 have grave space available, 47 are closed and three are under construction or design. A closed cemetery means it is not available for initial interments. Those who have a spouse or dependent buried in a closed cemetery may still be buried in that family grave site. Once eligibility and space are determined, the VA will open the grave, handle the burial, furnish a headstone or marker and provide perpetual care and maintenance. Questions regarding burial in a national cemetery or other VA burial benefits can be answered by the nearest VA cemetery or regional office. Toll-free numbers are located in the white pages of your phone book under "U.S. Government."

Poles in need of Bibles

Those who are prone to judge the Polish people by the jokes told about them that might reflect on their lack of attic salt or by the fact that they are still deep within the Russian orbit misjudge the race.

THE JOKES, OF COURSE, are refinements of stories that were first told around the campfires of the soldiers in ancient Rome. And there is no doubt but that many Poles would like to break the chains that link them to the Soviets and go their own way. They have lived the nightmare of Big Brotherhood all too long.

Some of the world's greatest people were of Polish extraction and who can forget that the present Pope of Rome was born and raised in Poland.

Communism preaches atheism, yet, according to the American Bible Society, its counterpart in Poland is making an urgent plea for millions of Bibles.

The appeal originated with Barbara Enholc-Narzynska, executive secretary of the Bible Society of Poland, who said in so many words that it would take more than a few thousand Bibles to satisfy the demands for Holy Script made by the Poles.

"We are facing a huge problem with severe shortage of paper," said Ms. Enholc-Narzynska, adding that the country was experiencing an acute shortage of foreign currency to pay for imports.

"But we desperately need Bibles. The worldwide demand for the Bible is particularly evident in Poland as the Word of God is being discovered in a new way by the people of my country," the Polish Bible Society people said. The Bible Society in Warsaw is the major producer of Bibles in that country. Last year, 240,000 Scripture items were distributed in the country of 35 million, which is predominantly Roman Catholic.

THE AMERICAN BIBLE Society supports the work of the Polish Bible Society through the worldwide fellowship of the United States Societies in the translation, publication and distribution of the Holy Scriptures.

The UBS is composed of 66 national Bible Societies. Since 1816, the American Bible Society has translated, published and distributed the Holy Scripture without doctrinal note or comment and without profit.

Cultural ambassador thrives

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — The cultural community was horrified when David Stockman, the Reagan administration's Robberspierre, put the National Endowment for the Arts in tatters for a ride to the budgetary gulch. The president was anti-culture, they cried.

It's a bum rap. The White House has given culture a status it never had before — its very own ambassador.

The new post is "ambassador-at-large for cultural affairs," and the first person to hold the position is already hard at work. He is Daniel Terra, a successful businessman who served as national finance chairman of the Reagan-Bush campaign. He was also a heavy contributor to the Reagan campaign and other Republican causes.

IN A NUTSHELL, TERRA'S mandate is to make the world safe for American art. He will not only advise the president and the secretary of state on "broad cultural policies and activities of the United States Government," according to his official job description; he will also "serve as a liaison point between the Department of State and the International Communication Agency to plan cultural programs abroad and to ensure harmonization (sic) with foreign policy objectives and priorities."

Ambassador Terra will also apparently be an arbiter of taste and patriotism for other American ambassadors who may be artistically ignorant or unreliable. "He will provide guidance to the Art in Embassies Program," the official job description states. "To ensure the American art displayed in ambassadorial residences abroad is representative of our national cultural heritage and in concert with the president's goals and international policies of the Department of State."

Woe betide the ambassador who hands an un-American nude in his bedroom when he could have put up a print of Washington crossing the Delaware.

The censorial duties of the new ambassadorship provoked a possibly sarcastic comment from Sen. Edward Zorinsky, D-Neb., at Terra's confirmation hearing. "Mr. Chairman," he told Foreign Relations Committee Chairman Charles Percy, R-Ill., "I pledge to you that as I visit some of the American embassies throughout the world and I see an abuse of American art, I will contact Mr. Terra."

TERRA WASTED NO TIME getting down to work. "The day after his confirmation last month, he embarked on a five-day trip to Paris, Vienna and London, accompanied by his wife. He attended a conference in London and had high-level "consultations" in Paris and Vienna, his secretary told my associate Lucette Lagnado. Nothing was said about "harmonization," and if the roving culture czar found any subversive paintings or sculptures in our ambassadors' homes, he didn't report it.

Terra, who just turned 70, knows what he likes. The Terra Museum of American Art, which he opened last year in the Chicago suburb of Evanston, is devoted almost exclusively to representational works painted between 1840 and 1940 — including the famous George Caleb Bingham work, "The Jolly Flatboatmen," and several outstanding canvases by American Impressionists.

Oddly enough, the creation of Terra's ambassadorship for culture comes just three years after the State Department's bureau of cultural affairs was abolished. And it was created despite the testimony of Secretary of State Alexander Haig at his confirmation hearing that he favored "eliminating" ambassador-at-large positions.

The ambassadorship carries a salary of $50,000 to $60,000 and a modest staff — a secretary and a legal counsel, and possibly two other assistants.

MORE THAN BUBBLEGUM: Los Angeles area moviegoers may be literally sitting on a fortune: One of the favorite "drops" for dope wholesalers and pushers is the bottom of a theater seat. The stash is taped under the seat by the delivery man, and the retailer is given the exact row and seat number in a coded telephone call.

That's just one of the tricks being used by dope traffickers in the endless cat-and-mouse game with law enforcement agents.

Here's another, employed by East Coast smugglers: The illicit cargo is wrapped in waterproof packaging and dumped overboard from the mother ship off the Georgia coast, with a location beeper attached. The drug shipment is later "harvested" by another vessel, like a shrimp boat or trawler, which hooks the underwater bundle and tows it to shore. There it is quickly hauled up and transferred to a waiting truck.

In a variation of this method, sources told my associate Mark Kirkham, the two boat leaves the waterproofed bundle on the bottom of a small inlet. There it is located by dealers' agents, sometimes elderly men supposedly going out for a day's fishing in small boats. The bundle, weighing up to 100 pounds, is brought aboard and repackaged into smaller caches. Then it is stuffed into innocent-looking beer coolers or iceboxes for the trip to shore.

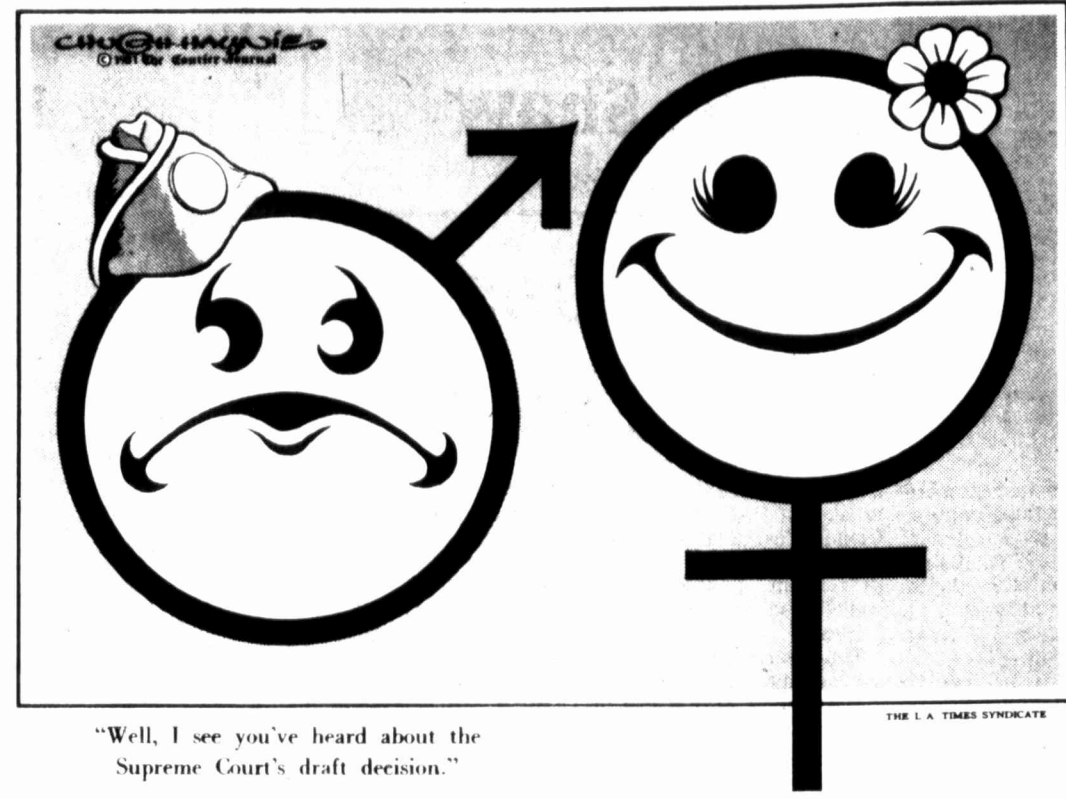

Airborne package delivery services are a favorite means of shipping the narcotics, disguised as ordinary parcels, to distribution points across the country. In a matter of days — or even hours — a packet of cocaine or other dope can go from the ocean floor off Georgia to the bottom of a theater seat in Los Angeles.

Into the vortex

Joseph Kraft

PARIS — What started as a battle for the succession in Iran has now flared into civil war. But neither one of the principal forces currently engaged seems able to win decisively, and it is a question whether the continuing battle will not eventually draw the two superpowers into the Iranian vortex.

The present ruler of Iran presents a standing invitation to a power struggle. The Ayatollah Khomeini is 81 years old, and in poor health. He follows political affairs at a distance, preferring to hold himself above the battle as a kind of ultimate arbiter. Inevitably there emerged rival contenders to take over from him in running the government.

ABOLHASSAN BANI-SADR was one Bani-Sadr was elected President of Iran in his own right with 75 percent of the vote. He developed links to the military by taking over direction of the war after Iraq attacked Iran last fall. As a Western-trained official concerned to make government work, he had the support of most middle-class Iranians. As an economist who tried to marry Mark with Islam, he appealed to the radical Moslems — the so-called Moujahedeen-e-Khalq.

For all these reasons, however, Bani-Sadr had only fair relations with the Ayatollah Khomeini. He was liked, not loved. His best bet, accordingly, was to wait until the Ayatollah expired, and then mobilize the various groups in his camp. Indeed, in May, an interview with Bani-Sadr published by a Middle East journal was entitled: "Bani-Sadr Waiting for Khomeini's Death."

The other leading contender was the Ayatollah Mohammed Beheshti. He was in a markedly different position. An Islamic fundamentalist, he was the Secretary General of the Islamic Republican party, or IRP. Through the Parliament, he controlled the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, to referee disagreements between Bani-Sadr and the Parliament. Most important of all, as a religious figure in his own right, and the dominant figure of the religious party, he had the inside track with the Ayatollah Khomeini. So the Beheshti interest was to settle the struggle before Khomeini died.

WHAT IN RETROSPECT looks like a countdown against Bani-Sadr began more than a month ago. On May 28, Dr. Beheshti announced that Bani-Sadr had violated the constitution by blocking the appointment of a foreign minister, and with respect to some property matters. On June 6, Bani-Sadr's Tehran newspaper was closed. On June 10, a public protest called for the "execution of Bani-Sadr." On June 12, the Ayatollah Khomeini dismissed Bani-Sadr as head of the armed forces. That night, Bani-Sadr fled to a hiding place somewhere inside Iran, leaving behind a "message to the Iranian people" which claimed that his enemies were taking over in a "coup d'etat." On June 20 the Parliament voted to impeach him.

That day the radical Moslems of the Moujahedeen-e-Khalq staged a protest march on behalf of Bani-Sadr in Tehran and a dozen other cities. The Revolutionary Guards, or bully boys of the Islamic Republican Party, met them head-on. Several days of brutal street fighting followed, and there was a way of executions. Officials sources announced about 60 people killed. Unofficial reports from Tehran indicated a much higher toll, and an atmosphere of terror.

On Sunday, June 28, Dr. Beheshti and the top leaders of the IRP met at party headquarters to consolidate their victory. In a dispatch to his paper here in Paris, Eric Rouleau of the French journal Le Monde, who has excellent connections in Tehran, reported that the meeting was set to name a candidate to replace Bani-Sadr as President. It was also going to mobilize several lay parties of the left — including the Communist Party, or Tudeh — against the radical Moslems.

In the midst of that meeting, with Beheshti on the rostrum, a large bomb exploded. Beheshti and 71 members of the party hierarchy were killed. The bombing was clearly an inside job, and a good deal of evidence, including the survival of several radical members of the IRP, points to the Moujahedeen as the instigators. What shapes up now is further strife between the Islamic fundamentalists, who had been headed by Beheshti, and the Islamic radicals, aligned with Bani-Sadr.

The ebb and flow of the struggle so far suggests that neither side can win on its own. Decisive power appears to rest with two groups that have so far stayed on the sidelines — the Tudeh Party, and the army, which seems to be protecting Bani-Sadr. The Tudeh Party is closely tied to Moscow. And the army? Will it not eventually turn toward Washington?

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: My sister says she believes in Christ, but she says God is too merciful and loving to send anybody to hell. What is your opinion about this? — G.W.I.

DEAR G.W.I.: The important thing is not my personal opinion, but what Christ (whom your sister says she believes) has told us about this subject.

When we turn to the Bible we discover that Christ actually said more about the subject of hell than any other individual or writer in the Bible. In all of these statements he clearly teaches the reality of judgment and hell, and we must take these very seriously.

There are three things Jesus taught us about hell that I would like to point out. First, he told us that sin will be judged by God. We are responsible for our sins, and some day God will come in judgment.

"All the nations will be gathered before him, and he will separate the people one from another as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats. Then he will say to those on his left, 'Depart from me'." (Matthew 25:32, 41). God is holy, and does not overlook sin or treat it casually. Jesus also taught the reality of hell as the eternal abiding place of all who have deliberately turned their backs on God and his will. This is a sobering truth, but it cannot be dodged or evaded as we read the Bible.

"The angels will come and separate the wicked from the righteous and throw them into the fiery furnace, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth." (Matthew 13:49-50). "Do not be afraid of those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul. Rather, be afraid of the one who can destroy both soul and body in hell." (Matthew 10:28).

There is one final truth you need to know, and that is the fact of salvation. Although hell is a reality, you need not go there — and in fact right now you can know you are going to go to heaven and be with Christ.

This is the reason Christ came — to provide a way for us to be forgiven and saved. Are you (and your sister) really trusting Christ? Have you ever committed your life to him in faith? If not, my prayer is that you will make that step of commitment now so you need not fear death and hell.

Cell death causes acne scar

Dr. Paul G. Donohue, M.D.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Would you please explain what causes acne scarring? What can be done about it? Is there any help for it? — Mrs. J.S.

When there is deep infection with acne, skin cells die. They are replaced by scars. It's the same process involved when a scar forms over a cut. The treatment depends on the kind of scarring, always remembering that the color of scars fades with time.

So one form of treatment is patience. Thickened scars can be injected with steroids, which tends to flatten them. Dermabrasion, in which scars and outer layers of skin are sanded down, is another method. New skin forms over the sanded areas. Dermabrasion is especially good when there are many shallow, pockmark-type acne scars. It works best in fair-skinned individuals. Darkly pigmented skin tends to become overpigmented afterward. Chemical peeling is another treatment, and in a newer treatment collagen from beef is injected under the scar. Collagen is the gristle-like substance in the meat. This tends to flatten scars and make them less noticeable. You might find this being done in the large medical center near you. It's not generally available yet.

I mention these various treatments only to show you that there is help. Which is most appropriate for you, I cannot say from this distance. Contact a dermatologist or a plastic surgeon to get a firsthand opinion. You may need only the dose of patience I mentioned at the outset.

Dear Dr. Donohue: What is the significance of calcification in lungs of former tuberculosis patients? — J.D.

Calcifications in the chest X-rays of former tuberculosis patients represent the "tombstones" of the old TB germs that once lived in the lungs. That is the body's way of sealing up the germs and the scars those germs made. That is their only significance.

Dear Dr. Donohue: What do you know about a pregnant onion? — Mrs. A.B.

Nothing, except to treat it with respect. If I learn any more you will be the first to know. I've filed your letter.

For a comprehensive discussion of how to cope with the change of life, write to Dr. Donohue, in care of the Big Spring Herald, for his invaluable booklet, "Make Menopause Easier." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Life support withdrawn from dental coma victim

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — The Tarrant County Medical Examiner's office is investigating the death of an 18-year-old honor student removed from life support systems Monday, almost two weeks after lapsing into a coma while undergoing routine dental surgery.

The decision to remove Vikram-Jeet Bajaj from life support systems at Arlington Memorial Hospital was made by the youth's family, said hospital spokeswoman Carlene Ness. Bajaj suffered cardiac arrest or respiratory failure June 26 after being given an anesthetic intravenously at the office of oral surgeon Dr. Edward Menton, according to Darrell Keith, a lawyer hired by the family.

Keith declined to comment Monday on the family's decision to end life support for young Bajaj or on possible resulting legal action.

The medical examiner's office declared that the youth's brain activity ceased at 11:52 Monday morning, according to assistant medical examiner Dr. Mark Crouse. Bajaj was pronounced dead at 12:07 p.m. Crouse said the office will conduct an investigation into the circumstances surrounding Bajaj's death but that the inquiry probably won't start until after toxicology tests are completed later this month.

"It just became our case," Crouse said.

A spokesman for the youth's parents, Prem Mehendroo, issued a statement Monday in which Bhushan Bajaj and his wife asked that the family's "privacy be respected."

"We deeply appreciate the many prayers and expressions of concern for Vikram and support for us," the couple added. The youth was in a coma by the time he reached the hospital on June 26 and had only "minimal brain activity," Keith said.

The boy's parents had been in Menton's office about an hour and a half "when they overheard some commotion in the office by the doctor's staff," Keith said. "They were told their son had experienced a cardiac arrest and had been transferred to Arlington Memorial Hospital." The boy's father said last week that Menton had been out of the room when his son arrested and was called back in by a nurse.

The family, natives of India, moved to the United States about 18 years ago and young Bajaj, an honor student, had been to Menton once before. He was to have had four back teeth removed.

Bajaj was the second teen-ager in six weeks to die after undergoing anesthesia for dental surgery in Tarrant County.

Seventeen-year-old Shonita Crumpton died June 24 at North Hospital. Her mother, a nurse, said she was told by a nurse inserted into her mouth to keep her breathing apparatus open or was inserted into her mouth for oral surgery. She was a dental wisdom teeth patient.

Miss Crumpton was a member of a special college program for minority students at Texas Tech University shortly after the death.

Proper treatment of fruits and vegetables insures quality

By JANET ROGERS
County Extension Agent, Home Economics

Frozen fruits and vegetables spice year round menus with garden-fresh flavor. But the nutritive value and quality of these fruits and vegetables depend largely on the treatment before freezing, storage temperature and method of cooking and serving.

Select sound, ripe fruit which is slightly riper than for canning but not soft or mushy. Tree or vine ripened fruits contain more vitamins and a richer flavor than fruits picked green and allowed to ripen before freezing.

Keep fruit cool until it is frozen. Wash it in cold water but do not allow it to stand in the water. Some fruit loses food value and flavor and some gets water soaked.

Some fruits, such as peaches, apricots, apples and pears, discolor easily. Ascorbic acid (vitamin C) is available in tablet, crystalline or powdered form. Use 1/2 teaspoon of this per quart of syrup to prevent this discoloration.

If you don't want to pack the fruit in syrup, sprinkle dissolved ascorbic acid over fruit just before adding sugar. Use 1/2 teaspoon in 1/2 cup cold water to each quart of fruit.

Some special commercial antidarkening preparation of ascorbic acid are now on the market. These materials can be found at drug stores or where other freezing supplies are sold.

Most fruits have better texture and flavor if packed in sugar or syrup. Some may be packed without sweetening for use in special diets.

The way you plan to use the fruit determines the method of packing it. Fruit packed in a syrup generally is better for dessert use; fruit packed in dry sugar or unsweetened is better for most cooking because there is less liquid in the products.

Quickly getting vegetables from the garden to the freezer is a must for top quality frozen vegetables. During hot weather, harvest vegetables in the early morning before they absorb much heat.

Vegetables at optimum maturity will have best flavor and texture. If you must store vegetables before freezing, spread them out loosely in a cool, well-ventilated place or packing loosely in the refrigerator.

Prepare vegetables for freezing similar to cooking them. Wash thoroughly in cold water, drain and sort, peel, trim, and cut.

Heat vegetables in boiling water before freezing. Use one gallon of boiling water to each pound of vegetable. The length of heating time varies with the vegetable. This kills enzyme action in the product. The enzymes help the plants grow and mature but if not deactivated the vegetables will develop off flavors and often discolor or toughen during freezing.

Place the scalded vegetables immediately into running cold or ice water. When the product is cool to the tongue when tested, it is cool enough to pack.

After the vegetables have been heated, cooled and drained, pack in airtight moisture-vapor-proof containers, leaving 1/2 inch headspace. Seal according to type of container you use.

Cook all vegetables in the frozen state, except corn-on-the-cob which should be partially defrosted. Cook them only until tender in a small amount of water.

New survey shows an increase in women and the young in Alcoholics Anonymous

NEW YORK, N.Y. — A survey just completed among recovered alcoholics in Alcoholics Anonymous in the U.S. and Canada indicates continuing increases in the numbers of women and of people 30 and under who join A.A. This is the fifth and largest in a series of surveys begun in 1968. 24,950 A.A. members took part in the sampling.

The results show that 34 percent of those who have joined A.A. since 1977 are women. Further, the percentage of young people in the current sample has risen from 11.3 in 1977 to 14.7 in 1980. One in every four newcomers joining A.A. since 1977 is 30 or under, and one in 25 is 20 or under. The youngest respondent was a 13-year-old girl. The oldest was an 85-year-old man who has been sober since his first A.A. meeting, in 1957.

The results were compiled from questionnaires filled out by approximately 5 percent of the total of 476,000 recovered alcoholics who are active members of A.A. groups in the U.S. and Canada. The study offers reinforced evidence of the long-term efficiency of the A.A. program. Of those who start, only slightly more than 50 percent stay more than three months. But members who have remained in the program for between one and five years have an 85 percent chance of remaining active in A.A. for the next year without drinking. For members with more than five years of sobriety, the likelihood of another suc-

Ballplayers' Tobacco Gives Readers Something to Chew

DEAR ABBY: Why ask Steve Garvey why baseball players chew tobacco? He doesn't chew. You should have asked that handsome hunk, Tommy Lasorda, who manages the Dodgers. I used to see him on TV with a plug of tobacco in his mouth as big as a baseball. Not lately, however. Either he's reformed or he's ducking the camera.

IN LOVE WITH LASORDA

DEAR ABBY: Baseball players aren't the only ones who chew tobacco. I belong to an organization called Cuspidor Hitters Worldwide, and we have members (both men and women) who are doctors, lawyers and socialites. I've been chewing tobacco and dipping snuff for three years. Some people may think it's disgusting, but there are worse habits.

CHEWING IN MELBOURNE, FLA.

DEAR ABBY: Regarding the letter the woman wrote on how disgusting baseball players look, spitting tobacco juice all over the place.

DEAR ABBY: Baseball players chew tobacco because they don't realize how harmful it is. If they could hear a surgeon describe his feelings of helplessness and remorse after performing surgery for cancer of the tongue, the mouth or the throat caused from habitual tobacco chewing, they would never chew again.

BOSTON, M.D.

I read it to my husband, a devoted chewer, and in answer to her question, "Why do baseball players chew tobacco?" he calmly said, "Have you ever tried to hold a cigarette with a baseball glove?"

GAVE UP NAGGING IN TEXAS

DEAR ABBY: You were asked, "Why do baseball players chew tobacco?"

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 12 year-old girl who loves baseball. I think I know why baseball players chew tobacco. It calms their nerves. I think it looks icky when they spit on the ground, but they can't carry around a garbage can. I would rather see ballplayers spit tobacco than chew their nails, keep tying their shoelaces or scratching whatever itches.

YANKEE FAN

In the early days of baseball, the old timers chewed tobacco to keep the dust out of their throats. Today, however, baseball is played on meticulously manicured diamonds where groundskeepers sprinkle the dirt infields before and again halfway through the game to keep the dust down.

DEAR ABBY: Kissing a guy who chews tobacco is like licking a dirty ashtray. Yech!

VICKI

My gripe is with the TV turkeys who put the camera on the ballplayers while they're chewing and spitting. What a poor example for our growing boys to see!

Annual Fortenberry reunion held

The Kentwood Older Adult Activity Center was the scene for the annual Fortenberry Family Reunion held June 27. The event was attended by 55 family members.

Willie Fortenberry, 84, of Big Spring was recognized as the oldest person attending, while Jerid Hunt, month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Hunt, Carlsbad, N.M. was the youngest family member attending. Mr. and Mrs. Les Daw, Arlington, travelled the longest distance to attend the reunion.

Next year's reunion will also be held the last Sunday in June at the Kentwood Center.

Brenda Kay Lewis honored at miscellaneous bridal shower

Brenda Kay Lewis, bride-elect of Anthony Boyd Claxton, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Byron Corn. Co-hostesses for the event were Mrs. Weldon Hartley, Mrs. Bruce Griffith, Mrs. Blake Shuttlesworth, Mrs. M.A. Long and Marie Rowland.

Special guests included the honoree, her mother, Mrs. S.N. Lewis, and Mrs. Lloyd Claxton, mother of the prospective groom.

The refreshment table was covered by a peach cloth and a white lace overlay. A floral arrangement in the bride's chosen color of peach, flanked by brown tapers, centered the table. Strawberry shortcake, ice cream and punch were served from the table. Milk glass and silver appointments were used.

The hostesses presented Miss Lewis with an electric skillet.

The couple will marry Aug. 1 in the College Baptist Church.

Salt solution aids stuffy nose

Though a "normal" (0.5 percent) salt solution used as nose drops can be helpful in irrigating a stuffy nose, beware of getting too much salt in the water, cautions the "Here's News in Medicine" column in a recent Family Circle magazine. An excessively strong solution can be harmful. To make a normal preparation, stir one-fourth of a teaspoon of salt into an 8-ounce glass of water.

Gilley's big bash a bust

PASADENA, Texas (AP) — Despite rains, poor attendance and high ticket prices, country-western singer Mickey Gilley says he plans to stage another Fourth of July picnic next year.

The three-day bash was intended to replace Willie Nelson's once-traditional picnics, and residents feared 20,000 people might converge on this Houston suburb.

But the crowd peaked at 1,000 — fewer than the hordes that pack Gilley's giant honky tonk for a night of dancing and mechanical bull riding.

Gilley postponed his opening act Friday when only 10 people showed up, and rains also trimmed the crowds Saturday and Sunday.

But he says he'll try again next year. "We don't ever give up."

Residents pressured the City Council last month until Sherwood Cryer, Gilley's Club owner, agreed to hold the picnic at the rodeo grounds instead of the nightclub.

Gilley, whose club was the setting for the movie "Urban Cowboy," said he hoped his picnic would fill a gap left when Nelson decided last year's outdoor July Fourth concert would be his last. The country music star's picnic, usually held near Austin, drew thousands of people.

"We had a lot of things against us," Gilley said Sunday, citing the change in location. He admitted ticket prices might have been too high at $15 a day, and said he probably needed more advertising.

Performers like Ricky Skaggs, Joe Ely, Ernest Tubb and Shirley West played gamely despite the sparse attendance.

Beam pleads not guilty

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — The leader of the Texas Ku Klux Klan has pleaded innocent to a charge of illegally staging a paramilitary training camp on federal property.

Louis Beam, the 34-year-old Grand Dragon of the Texas KKK, entered the plea during the first day of testimony Monday in his federal court trial, which is expected to last a week or more.

Beam was indicted in April on one count of demonstrating on federal lands without a permit. The indictment accused him of conducting "guerrilla warfare-type military maneuvers" last February at the Lyndon B. Johnson National Grassland near Decatur.

His attorney, Huntsville lawyer Harry H. Walsh, argued Monday that the paramilitary maneuvers were intended to train KKK members to prepare for an invasion of the United States by Soviet or other communist armed forces.

"What they (Klan members) were doing was not illegal. There is nothing illegal about teaching people how to use gas masks and military tactics," Walsh said.

Beam has said the U.S. Constitution guarantees his right to assemble and bear arms and "is the only permit I need or will ever seek."

He is expected to testify later this week in the nonjury trial.

Deputy saves drowning child

QUITMAN, Texas (AP) — A quick-thinking deputy with no training in life-saving techniques "just did what came naturally" and performed mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, saving a 5-month-old Dallas infant.

"I don't know if I did it right," Wood County Deputy Ken Wisdom said Monday. "I just did what came naturally."

Wisdom said he performed the life-saving measure on Katrina Thomas, the infant daughter of Knowland Thomas of Dallas, after the child apparently was thrown from a boat into the Lake Fork reservoir near here during a weekend outing.

The deputy, who was on his routine rounds, said he saw several members of the family about 20 yards out in the water about 2 a.m. Saturday and first thought it was several people swimming.

Having player reps serve as GMs in new baseball format

Maybe ditching owners the answer to strike

By the Associated Press

...for it's one, two, three strikes, 'You're out' at the old ballgame. For baseball, it may only take one strike to be out. We are obviously witnessing the end of this marvelous sport as we have known it. Kiss it goodbye. Accept that fact. It is an obvious one to anybody paying even minimal attention to Marvin Miller, Ray Grebey and the hoards of attorneys who follow them from one negotiation to another, from this caucus to that one, from these hearings to those. Now the question is, how do we replace the grand old game? There are all manner of suggestions and Miller himself may have come up with the best five years ago. You may recall in the spring of 1976, the baseball club owners were in a tizzy over the arrival of free agency and the negotiations of a collective bargaining agreement to deal with that dilemma. We'll fix the infidels, they decided. We'll shut down spring training camps. That strategy lasted about two weeks until Commissioner Bowie Kuhn stepped in and ordered the camps opened. But just before that happened, Miller had a quaint thought. The show in baseball, he observed at the time, is the players, not the owners. Owners are superfluous, excess baggage, really unneeded. Miller suggested that unless management got off its collective duffs, the players would simply dispense with them. Remember how it was when you were a kid. You just chose up sides and played a game. No owners, no general managers, just players. Well, said Miller in 1976, the players could do exactly that again, only this time on a larger level. If it was possible in 1976, then it's possible now. So, in the interest of saving the game, we offer a plan. It is presented free of charge, in, of course, the best interests of baseball. We start by having a commissioner. That will be Marvin Miller, naturally. Now we need teams, and to form them, the players hold their own draft. If you need league presidents — and no one is quite sure you do — then the two league representatives, Bob Boone and Doug DeCinces will do. Use the current team player reps to serve as general managers, doing the drafting and dividing up the talent. The rules in the UBL — that's Union Baseball League — are simple. There will be no free agent compensation and every year everybody goes free — just the way arbitrator Peter Seitz and the federal courts said they ought to be back in 1976. That will keep fan interest at maximum levels because players will be changing annually. If you have a bad team this season, hang in there. Next year's draft will deliver 25 new faces and maybe it will be better. That's more than Chicago Cub fans can hope for right now.

The rules in the UBL — that's Union Baseball League — are simple. There will be no free agent compensation and every year everybody goes free — just the way arbitrator Peter Seitz and the federal courts said they ought to be back in 1976. That will keep fan interest at maximum levels because players will be changing annually. If you have a bad team this season, hang in there. Next year's draft will deliver 25 new faces and maybe it will be better. That's more than Chicago Cub fans can hope for right now.

Can NLRB open owners books to end strike?

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board resumed its case against major league baseball today before an administrative law judge who asked Mark Belanger and Bob Boone for their autographs after the first day of hearings. Melvin Welles, the NLRB's chief administrative law judge, listened with a bemused smile to the testimony offered Monday as the labor board sought to force management to open its books to the union. "I am a baseball fan," the judge said. "Most of us are. I root for the Yankees. When Washington had a team I saw 30 games a year. Now I see 10 or 12, almost all of them in Baltimore." That's why the judge must have been particularly impressed by the presence of Belanger, the Orioles' shortstop, who was called to testify for the union. "It was interesting to have Belanger," Welles said. "He takes so many hits away from Yankee batters. I like the fact that he bats about .200 against us, though." Welles is in charge of assigning administrative law judges for cases like the one the NLRB is pursuing against the owners. "I assigned this one to myself, because it sounded interesting. It will be more fun for me." Acting on behalf of the union, the NLRB is seeking to prove management has bargained in bad faith by refusing to open its financial books in negotiations while, at the same time, various club owners and Commissioner Bowie Kuhn have bemoaned the game's financial condition. Kuhn and three club owners, Jerry Reinsdorf of the Chicago White Sox, Calvin Griffith of the Minnesota Twins and Ruly Carpenter of the Philadelphia Phillies, were scheduled to testify today. Also scheduled for tonight is a meeting of the executive board of the Major League Players Association. The 26 player representatives will be briefed on the status of negotiations in their strike, which entered its 26th day today with 13 more games canceled for a total of 324 lost since the walkout began June 12. On Thursday, the 26 club owners will meet in New York for a briefing from chief negotiator Ray Grebey and the Player Relations Committee. The owners' meeting came about after eight teams reportedly asked league president Lee MacPhail of the American League and Chub Feeney of the National by telegram to set it up. The New York Times said that the New York Yankees and Mets, Houston Astros, Cleveland Indians, Chicago White Sox, San Diego Padres, Texas Rangers and Baltimore Orioles had requested the meeting, the first by the owners since the strike began. The Times also said that two of the owners of those teams identified Edward Bennett Williams, owner of the Orioles, as the main force behind the request. Most of the opening day of the NLRB hearing was devoted to testimony from Marvin Miller, executive director of the union, who traced relations between the players and management which led to the strike. Miller spent more than two hours on the stand, testifying under questioning from Mary Schuette, the NLRB attorney, and David Silberman, representing the union.

City would lose 4-6 million bucks Cancelled All-Star game would cost Cleveland $$

CLEVELAND (AP) — As the strike by baseball players nears its one-month anniversary, the chore of preparing for an All-Star Game that may never happen has become increasingly frustrating. "Extremely frustrating," said Cleveland Indians spokesman Bob DiBasio Monday as baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn declined to cancel the game, scheduled for Municipal Stadium next Tuesday. "There's no change in plans," said Gabe Paul, president of the host Indians. "We're going full steam ahead and will until the last possible minute." Thousands of souvenir T-shirts, mugs and pennants are locked away, 5,000 pounds of hot dogs are stored in the Stadium's freezers, 50,000 programs are printed and 1,600 hotel rooms are reserved for incoming media and baseball officials. "I'm still processing credentials. We're still getting requests," DiBasio said. More than 500 media representatives planned to cover the event. But no one seems optimistic that the players' strike will be settled in time to save the game, at least for its scheduled date. "The game hasn't been canceled," said Chuck Adams, a spokesman for Kuhn. "We're continuing to re-evaluate it day by day. But obviously a decision has to be made soon. We're rapidly running out of time." If it is not played next Tuesday, the game could be rescheduled, with July 30, the second rain date, the most logical choice. July 15 is the primary rain date. "The thing they obviously don't want to do is cancel the game," DiBasio said. "A postponement would be OK." Cancellation of the contest would cost the Cleveland economy $4-$6 million according to Frank Carrell, vice president of the Convention and Visitors Bureau. Also, the baseball players' pension fund would lose about $2 million. The decision rests with baseball's executive committee, comprising Kuhn and team owners from Detroit, Milwaukee, Cincinnati, Kansas City, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Boston and Pittsburgh.

If the game is saved, Municipal Stadium will be prepared. A month without baseball has left its natural turf in excellent shape, and Al Friedlander, Stadium Corp. vice president, said there would be no problem rounding up salespeople to staff concessions and souvenir booths. "If they say, 'No All-Star Game this year,' we'll run a sale for about two weeks and sell the (souvenirs) at half price," he said. Contingency plans have not yet been made for the 78,000 people who bought tickets for the soldout contest. "Obviously if the game is played July 30, the July 14 ticket would be good," DiBasio said. "As far as refunds, that'll probably be the last thing they decide on." The All-Star Game has been canceled only once since the first one was played in Chicago's Comiskey Park in 1933. That was in 1945, when wartime restrictions prevented players from traveling to the game. Monday was the anniversary of the 1933 contest.

Rockets, Murphy keep negotiating

HOUSTON (AP) — Bob Woolf, agent for free-agent guard Calvin Murphy, says he'll meet with the Houston Rockets officials Thursday to discuss a new contract for the National Basketball Association's free-throw champion. Woolf announced Monday he plans to meet with Rockets General Manager Ray Patterson in an effort to negotiate a new pact for the 11-year veteran. "Calvin met with the Rockets, and from what I understand it was a positive session. He is convinced that Houston wants him on the ballclub next season, and he has never changed his stance that he wants to remain a Rocket," Woolf said. "I'm a heckuva lot more optimistic about Calvin remaining with the Rockets than I was two days ago." But Patterson took a more cautious approach. "It's July and so it's time ... to talk," he said. "But I wouldn't read too much into this meeting. Our basic position since the new right-of-first-refusal system began is that we want a free agent to be completely satisfied when he finally does sign his contract." Woolf said last month that six teams were negotiating for Murphy, who has spent his pro career with the Rockets. Last season, Murphy, 33, set a league record with 78 consecutive free throws and poured in 42 points to lift the Rockets into the Western Conference championship playoff and eventually to the NBA finals against Boston.

Just one pitch from perfect game Johnny Mize gets no-hitter

Johnny Mize pitched his second no-hitter of the season Monday, missing a perfect game by only one pitch as the Church of the Nazarene toppled the Trinity Family team by a 7-0 count in Church Fast-Pitch Softball League action. Mize hurled perfect baseball until the sixth, and missed his gem by slipping on a 3-2 pitch, allowing the bave to rise too high. But he still managed to stop the Trinity team the remainder of the way without a hit. Mize's first no-hitter of the year was a perfect game. It was a five-inning affair against a Hobbs, New Mexico, team in the Cotton Mize Invitational. In that game, Mize was hurling for Cotton's Chippers. The win gave the Nazarene team a perfect 13-0 record, and they close out their season on Thursday. Ricky Myers was the big stick for the winners, driving out a three-run homer.

Despite desire to return to action Pirate players remain unified

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pitcher Don Robinson of the Pittsburgh Pirates is waiting out the baseball strike — and wacking golf balls. "I've been golfing the last two weeks about every day," says Robinson, who's been playing here and in his hometown of Kenova, W. Va. "I think the toughest part of the strike is finding something to do all day, and I figure I may as well play golf." Robinson was among the celebrity participants Monday in the Kent Tekulve Invitational, a benefit golf tournament to combat the neuromuscular disease Myasthenia Gravis. "If we hadn't been on strike, I wouldn't have had enough time to get ready for this," said Pirate reliever Tekulve, who gave his name and time to help organize the event. "But I wish I was back playing ball, and I think everybody wishes we were back," he added at Shannopin Country Club in Ben Avon Heights. That doesn't mean Tekulve's strike resolve has weakened. He said he remains opposed to the notion that teams should be compensated when they lose free agents. "I still don't believe in compensation. I don't believe it's right," Tekulve said. Robinson said he too is committed to the strike. "I think it's all for the younger players, and I agree with it 100 percent," he said. "Are the players feeling the financial pinch?" "Not right now, but if it continues the rest of the year I will," said Robinson. "I've prepared," said Tekulve. "I knew a long time ago that this was a possibility, and my financial world is a conservative one." To stay in shape, Tekulve has been throwing at a makeshift target in his backyard. "I built a contraption. It's a four-foot by four-foot wooden framework with some tarps hanging over it. That's been my catcher," he said. Meanwhile, Tekulve also has been working with the Myasthenia Gravis Foundation of Western Pennsylvania. The disease gets its name from Greek and Latin words meaning "serious muscle weakness." The cause is uncertain, but the disease impedes nerve impulses to muscles. Symptoms include drooping eyelids, blurred vision, loss of facial expression, and overall weakness. There is no known cure, but the disease can be treated with drugs and blood plasma transfusions. "When I met with the group from Myasthenia, I found really sincere, honest people who were working hard," said Tekulve. "The disease is not very well known, and that's where I felt I could contribute."

US Ryder Cup team complete with Nicklaus, Rogers

OAK BROOK, Ill. (AP) — Weekend performances at the Western Open golf tournament earned Jack Nicklaus, Bill Rogers and Howard Twitty spots on the 12-member U.S. Ryder Cup team headed for England in September. The team plays in biennial competition against the top

12 British pros. The three touring pros earned the final three Ryder Cup berths with their performances at the tournament, in which Rogers finished tied for fifth, Nicklaus was tied for seventh and Twitty was far back in the field. The Western Open was the final chance for the pros to earn points that determine the golfers who make the team. Already named to the team were Tom Kite, Tom Watson, Ray Floyd, Bruce Lietzke, Hale Irwin, Lee Trevino, Jerry Pate, Ben Crenshaw and Johnny Miller.

Nicklaus, Twitty and Rogers were tied with Lon Hinkle and Curtis Strange going into the weekend tournament at Butler National Golf Club. Hinkle's bogey on the 17th hole cost him a berth. Nicklaus, who made the team in 1969, 1971, 1973, 1975 and 1977, said the tour-namment means more in prestige than anything else. "It's far more important for the guys to make the team than to actually play in it," Nicklaus said. The Ryder Cup competition is scheduled for Sept. 18-20 at the Walton Head Golf Club in Surrey, England.

CART nixes suspensions

TROY, Mich. (AP) — Seven drivers who had been suspended by Championship Auto Racing Teams for competing in an event sponsored by a rival group will be allowed to back in CART-sanctioned events. CART's board of directors said it had decided against appealing a federal judge's decision lifting 60-day suspensions against the drivers. CART imposed the suspensions after the drivers competed in the June 21 Pocono 500, a race for Indianapolis-type cars sponsored by the U.S. Auto Club. CART's archival.

Bowlers set 300 record

DENVER (AP) — Tom Baker and Pete Weber rolled to a 300-300 tie during the fifth round of the $95,000 Denver Open, setting a Professional Bowlers Association match game record, but Baker won the match and extended his lead to 348 pins. Baker ran his total up to 8,689 for 34 games, including bonus pins, and is followed by Al Stomum at 8,341, and Weber, at 8,318. Mike Aubry is fourth with 8,249 and Joe Berardi is fifth at 8,159 pins. The previous one-match record was 300-298 set in April when Gary Dickinson defeated Mark Roth in the Firestone Tournament of Champions.

Herschel Walker to challenge NFL over draft rules

ATLANTA (AP) — University of Georgia All America running back Herschel Walker says the National Football League regulation against signing underclassmen is unfair and he may challenge it. A similar rule was recently adopted by the Canadian Football League after its Montreal team made an attempt to draft the super freshman off the national champion Bulldogs' squad this spring. "As things go on and I get better, there's a chance that I may challenge that rule sometime," Walker said Monday. He commented in an interview with WSB-TV here. "It's not right," Walker said, "that if I wanted to play in the NFL for them to hold me out of that right. The next year, the CFL can't draft anyone who is not a senior now. They've got it where you can't do anything." Walker set a freshman rushing record of 1,616 yards in leading Georgia to the 1980 national championship and a victory over Notre Dame in the Sugar Bowl. His achievement broke the mark of 1,586 yards set in 1973 by Pittsburgh's Tony Dorsett. The Montreal Alouettes made a determined bid to sign Walker this spring, but Walker decided in April he would play at least his sophomore season at Georgia.

'John has had his share of paddlings'

McEnroe's mother defends upbringing

John McEnroe, Sr., and his wife, Kay, knew they had something special on their hands back on Feb. 16, 1959 when an Air Force doctor in Wiesbaden, Germany, lifted the newly born baby boy by his feet and brought forth the breath of life with a few hard thumps on the bottom.

"He was pretty lively then," says the elder McEnroe, a successful attorney from the suburban-like Douglaston area of New York City. "He seems always to have had a natural affinity for sports. He could hit a thrown ball with a bat when he was two."

Kay McEnroe, the attractive, ebullient mother, recalls that her No. 1 son was the "firstest" in almost everything he tried. "He talked sooner and walked sooner than most children. He made the top grades in his class. As long as I can remember, he had this fierce desire to win."

John Patrick McEnroe, Jr., is the talk of the tennis world — the youngster with the unruly curls, familiar red headband and low temper fuse whose left-handed brilliance halted Bjorn Borg's streak of five men's championships and 41 consecutive match victories at Wimbledon.

In producing this sensational upset, the 22-year-old shot-making wizard enlarged upon his reputation as the game's bad boy — "Super Brat," "Mac the Strife," "Mac-In-Row," "Prince of Wails," pick your own cliches — while piling up a series of fines for his court tantrums.

He has the whole sports world asking: What makes McEnroe steam? Did he have no discipline as a kid? Was he pampered by his parents? Realizing their son was a rare genius, were the elder John and Kay McEnroe derelict in their obligations to apply a tight rein?

"Absolutely not," insists Kay McEnroe. "We have three boys, John the oldest. They were taught to be considerate and polite. When they weren't, they were punished. John has had his share of paddling.

"We never pushed any of them. We wanted them to grow up to be normal, healthy kids but at the same time individuals. There was never an attempt to put them in a mold."

The mother said young John has been misrepresented by some of the media and misunderstood by the public.

"He is basically very, very shy, a private person," she said. "He is close to a genius. He is a perfectionist. He can't abide by sloth and indifference. In school, he won a medal for high grades. He played basketball, soccer and baseball, besides tennis, and got mad when he thought his teammates weren't going all out."

McEnroe's parents accuse the All-England Club and a segment of the British press of engaging in a personal vendetta against the talented new Wimbledon champion.

McEnroe wanted Wimbledon dinner his way

NEW YORK (AP) — John McEnroe returned from England to prepare for this week's Davis Cup competition bearing two Wimbledon titles he won on the court and a tattered reputation he says he doesn't deserve.

The brash, 22-year-old New Yorker captured the men's singles crown by defeating Bjorn Borg 4-6, 7-6, 7-6, 6-4 Saturday, snapping the Swede's 41-match winning streak and his five-year grip on the Wimbledon championship. On Friday, McEnroe teamed with Peter Fleming to win the men's doubles title. But his behavior made as many headlines as his brilliant court play.

He was fined a total of $4,750 for three separate on-court comments he made about the officiating during the tournament. He bristled when reporters asked if he and his girlfriend, Stacy Margolin, has broken up. He was livid when one London newspaper reported that he had been arrested for speeding.

Saturday night, he failed to show up at the traditional Wimbledon champions' dinner. And, on Sunday, he reportedly was involved in an incident at London's Heathrow Airport when he was returning home.

McEnroe, who met with reporters briefly at the National Tennis Center Monday after practicing for the Davis Cup series between the United States and Czechoslovakia starting Friday, said the All-England Club had withdrawn its champions' dinner invitation to him.

Concerning anti-trust laws of US

NFL vs. Raider trial has serious connotations

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Patrick Lynch, the attorney for the National Football League, insists that the current legal battle between the Oakland Raiders and the NFL involves nothing more than a contract between the league and Al Davis.

"This is a contract case, a case brought by someone who is trying to breach his contract," Lynch said Monday, adding that Davis, the managing general partner of the Raiders, wants to move to Los Angeles because he believes he can make "a pot of money, that's why he wants to leave Oakland."

Lynch said the Raiders did not prove to the NFL that they had a financial need to leave Oakland. Without such proof, the league would certainly not let them move, the attorney said.

Lynch made his comments shortly after the ninth week of the antitrust trial in which the Raiders and the Los Angeles Coliseum Commission are suing the NFL.

Maxwell Blecher, an attorney for the Coliseum Commission, told jurors that the nation's antitrust laws could start unraveling if the NFL wins its case.

"It is a very dangerous argument," said Blecher in a so-called mini-summation. U.S. District Court Judge Harry Pregerson has been asking attorneys to briefly sum up their arguments periodically during the trial.

Blecher said that if the NFL successfully argues that the league is a partnership that could prevent the Raiders from moving to Los Angeles, then the oil industry could argue the same thing. He pointed out that oil industries share such things as pipelines and refineries.

The NFL has been arguing that it is a "single entity," or partnership and thus could not have conspired to violate the Sherman (antitrust) Act as the Coliseum and Oakland Raiders contend.

"You would emasculate the antitrust law by ruling in the NFL's favor," Blecher said.

After the day's session was completed, Lynch called that premise ludicrous. Joseph L. Alioto, attorney for the Raiders, told jurors in his argument that NFL team owners are "rough, tough businessmen who would love to knock off Al Davis" as a competitor.

"They would love to relegate Al Davis to a second-class stadium for the rest of his life while Georgia Frontiere plays 'Home Sweet Home' on her cash register."

Frontiere is the owner of the Los Angeles Rams, who moved to Anaheim from the Los Angeles Coliseum in suburban Orange County starting with the 1980 season. Alioto pointed to testimony that showed the Rams made $4 million more than the Raiders last year.

"He can't afford to take $4 million less (than the Rams) and still remain in business," Alioto said of Davis.

Recent floods could benefit Texas fishing

AUSTIN — The recent misery-dealing floods eventually will have beneficial side effects for the state's fish and wildlife.

Officials of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department point out that high waters have a rejuvenating effect on rivers, lakes and coastal bays, and also provide wildlife improved habitat conditions for the normally critical summer and early fall.

The most obvious effect of the floods was the filling of virtually every impoundment in the state — many of which had reached severely low levels.

This is a genuine plus for freshwater fishing prospects, in the view of Inland Fisheries Director Ernest Simmons. "The higher lake levels cause an abundance of new fish habitat to be inundated," Simmons said. "This causes a virtual explosion of reproduction for forage fish species such as shad and minnows."

Game fish respond by moving into the new areas and taking advantage of the enhanced food supply. "A great deal of nutrient material also is washed into reservoirs, and this adds to their general productivity," Simmons said.

As most fishermen know, higher lake levels also tend to flood additional fish-holding structures such as trees, bushes and rocks. "Of course, fishing for sight-feeding fish such as bass is generally poor when the water is cloudy or when a lake is rising, but a feeding binge usually takes place as soon as the water starts to clear," he added.

Catfishermen need not wait for the clear water, as channel catfish usually start feeding vigorously even in the midst of a flood, Simmons noted. "Of course, it's certainly advisable to be careful when fishing streams which are subject to rapid rises," he warned.

Freshwater fishing could be improved even as long as a year or two after a major flood. "I've seen the fishing improve for three consecutive years after a flood on the Colorado River," Simmons said.

The flood's effect on saltwater bays and estuaries is more subtle and difficult to assess than freshwater lakes, according to Gary Matlock of the department's coastal fisheries branch.

"Periodic flooding mainly lowers salinity levels in the bays, and causes fish populations temporarily to shift location to adjust to the changing salinity," Matlock said. He said flooding can be either good or bad for a bay, depending upon the viewpoint. "Low salinities can cause oysters to die and cause brown shrimp to move completely out of the bays," he said. "But it also can boost the growth of blue crabs, which are important food for game species such as redfish. It may cause spotted seatrout (speckled trout) to move closer to the Gulf, since they prefer high salinities, but redfish are more tolerant and may stay put."

Matlock said while a flood has virtually no long-term effect on baby fishing, it can cause a mini-boom for anglers who are smart or lucky enough to take advantage of fishes' movements. "You will hear about people catching a lot of fish where they are concentrated near a pass in response to the changing salinities," Matlock said. "But bay fish usually slip back into their normal seasonal patterns pretty soon after a flood."

Wildlife biologists are all aglow about this fall's hunting prospects, since the heavy rains brought on tremendous production of food and cover.

"Fortunately, temporary flooding seldom has much detrimental effect on wildlife species," said Upland Game Program Leader Don Wilson. "The larger animals usually can escape the rising waters, and ground-nesting birds such as quail usually can renest."

Wilson said the past month's heavy rainfall came too late to do significant damage to turkey nesting, as most poults hatched this spring already were "about flying size" by that time. "I believe most areas had a fairly good turkey hatch, and survival should be high because of the abundance of food and cover caused by the rains," said Wilson.

Quail prospects remain good in the wake of the deluge, Wilson believes. "Even if the birds have to renest, habitat conditions are so good they should have outstanding production and survival."

Texas League Roundup

Midland stays hot

By The Associated Press
Jim Rothford's 12th home run powered the Shreveport Captains to a 6-5 Texas League baseball victory over the Jackson Mets Monday night.

In other Texas League action, Midland beat San Antonio, 5-3. Amarillo defeated El Paso, 9-3, and Arkansas edged Tulsa, 2-1.

Ed Cuervo had a homer for Jackson before Rothford slugged his game winner.

Joe Carter had a two-run homer to pace the Midland Cubs to a 5-3 victory over the San Antonio Dodgers.

Midland was able to take advantage of most of their scoring opportunities, stranding only two base runners while San Antonio left 10 men on base.

The deciding runs scored in the eighth inning when, with the score tied 3-3, San Antonio third baseman Leo Hernandez made a wild throw, allowing two runners to score.

Mike King, 40, was the winning pitcher. The loser was Butch Wickensheimer, 3-3.

Don Gausepohl and Ron Tingley had solo homers to lead the Amarillo Gold Sox to a 9-3 victory over the El Paso Diablos. Johnny Evans had a solo homer for El Paso.

The winning pitcher was Troy Dixon, 5-8. Tim Cook, 6-3, was the loser.

Rafael Santana's double drove home Tom Nieto from second base with the winning run in the seventh inning as the Arkansas Travelers edged the Tulsa Drillers, 2-1. Nieto had walked and moved to second on a bunt.

Ralph Citarella, 5-7, was the winning pitcher. Ron Carney, 2-5, who deserved a better fate, was the loser. Carney gave up only four hits.

299 sparks Mason's win

HOUSTON (AP) — Cindy Mason of Duarte, Calif., bowling in only her third national professional tournament, took first place Monday night in the Ladies Professional Bowlers Tour $25,000 Houston Classic at Big Texan Lanes.

The 19-year-old Mason became a top contender for rookie-of-the-year honors in the 23rd game of match play when she rolled a 299. That gave her the Houston championship and first prize of $6,000.

Nikki Gianulias of Vallejo, Calif., winner of the last LPBT tournament, held in Rockford, Ill., finished in second place with a 289 in her 22nd game of match play.

Another Californian, Donna Adamek, also of Duarte, finished third. She was followed by Lisa Rathgeber of Palmetto, Fla. and Lorrie Nichols of Island Park, Ill.

Coahoma Lions team to honor Coach Smith

The Coahoma Lions Baseball Club will honor the coach of their Little League team, Bob Smith, with a party on Saturday, July 11 at 10 a.m. at the Comanche Trail Park in Big Spring.

Smith has coached youth baseball in Howard County and the surrounding areas for 20 years. He also has helped coach youth football and basketball, as well as serving as Boy Scout Master, Cub Scout Master and Chapter Advisor of the Demolay's.

The Coahoma Lions Baseball Club extends an invitation to any people that have participated under Smith to attend the party.

For more information, contact Mrs. Reid at 3-7990, Mrs. Gee at 7-2923, or Smith at 7-6256.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, JULY 8, 1981

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Early in the day is the best time to get together with experts and obtain the data you need to get ahead in your line of endeavor. Come to a better understanding with loved one.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Attend to those details that will help clear up a problem that has troubled you in the past. Try to avoid arguments.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Go after personal aims in a direct way and get excellent results. Become friendly with persons who can be helpful to you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Engage in civic affairs which could give you added prestige. Show others that you are a most reliable person.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You are now able to get the information you need for new ventures you have in mind. Avoid a troublemaker.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You can now handle credit and debit matters intelligently and get excellent results. Use orthodox business methods for best results.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Know exactly what associates expect of you and then cooperate to the best of your ability. Discuss money matters with an expert.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) The planets are favorable and you can make advancements in career matters now. Think along more constructive lines.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Take time for recreation since it could remove any tensions you may have. Your creativity is highest in the morning.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Take steps to see that home conditions are improved. Increased study on a new project could bring more abundance.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Don't neglect routine affairs and everything works out better for you and associates. Be as efficient as you can.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Engage in practical affairs that could lead to greater income in the future. Analyze your progress in the evening.

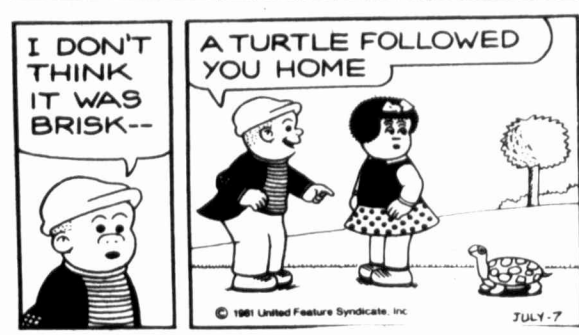

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Making yourself more attractive through health treatments is wise at this time. Take part in activities you enjoy.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be precise but there is also loftiness of thought here, so be sure to provide with a good education so that this life can be a happy and successful one. Be sure to give spiritual and ethical training early in life.

A SNAPPY DISCUSSION — Allan Neighbors of Midland, and his racing turtle have a heart-to-heart pre-race pep talk at the Midland recreation dept's annual turtle race held recently. The turtle apparently didn't agree with all Allan's pre-race instructions as the turtle snaps off a snappy remark. He also didn't have enough snap to win the race.

Explorers near Titanic site

ORLEANS, Mass. (AP) — Stalkers of the ill-fated luxury liner Titanic neared their hunting grounds today. "They should be there and ready to start work in that area probably some time tomorrow," said Tex Treadwell of Texas A&M University after taking a radio report early Monday morning from the voyagers. As of this morning they're on their way to the area in which the Titanic was supposed to have been lost. Treadwell said he has been monitoring the vessel Gyre since it sailed from Woods Hole, Mass., June 27.

"This leg of operations they're on right now involves two things," he said. "The first one is purely a research project on the geology of the sea bed out on the New England coast. And the second leg is some more research plus a search for the Titanic hulk itself. All last week they were working on the research project, and the reports I have is that everything went just fine." The site of the sinking is roughly 200 miles south of Newfoundland.

The 174-foot vessel Gyre, with a crew of 20, including scientists and filmmakers, is on a 26-day trip with special underwater search equipment — sonar, metal detectors and television cameras with lights.

They are due back in Boston July 22. They seek the Titanic, which hit an iceberg on her maiden voyage from Europe to the United States April 14, 1912, and sank in 12,000 feet of water. About 1,500 perished.

The study team last year found some likely spots for further research.

"This was the area in which the ship's navigators and the rescue ship thought they were," said Treadwell.

But he gave no indication of the Gyre's position, adding, "Well, as I say, they're somewhere between the Georges Bank and the Titanic area. I don't have an exact position."

He said they are counting on good weather, and added, "If there was going to be good weather in that area, this was the time."

The search is being led by Michael Harris, head of International Expeditions of Tampa, Fla. He said before sailing that if the Titanic is found, the plan is to bring a deep-diving submarine with nine-foot stretch arms next summer to probe some of the interior.

Some of the valuables sought from the Titanic are diamonds now estimated to be worth $300 million.

Financing of the project is by Jack Grimm, an oilman from Abilene, Texas. He hopes to get some of his money back from a book and a film about the search.

Texas Aeronautics agency 'batted 1,000 on the hill'

AUSTIN — Using baseball terminology that this summer has been applied only to the Texas Legislature, Texas Aeronautics Commission Executive Director C.R. Wilkins said his agency "batted 1,000 on the hill."

The Legislature passed thirteen bills concerning aviation, including 11 that were supported by the agency, Wilkins told commissioners this week.

The agency was less successful when coming to bat before the appropriations committee, Wilkins said. The requested $10.5 million for airport construction was cut to $5 million, he said.

Wilkins said the agency currently has pending $14 million in construction requests from 100 communities. "We're going to be hard pressed to make any significant impact in construction for the next two years," he said.

At the commission meeting, Wilkins outlined some of the bills that will affect aviation.

"The first compatible land use bill ever passed in Texas was one good thing we got," he said.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Ray Farabee of Wichita Falls, changed the Airport Zoning Act to give airport zoning boards control of land near airports.

The bill gives the boards control of corridors of land three miles wide and five miles long extending from runways and prohibits construction of buildings or other obstructing near runways.

If the amended act has been in effect twenty years ago, airports would not be faced with the problems resulting from residential areas built too close to runways, Wilkins said.

Another bill significant to the agency was one continuing the commission until Sept. 1, 1983, under the Sunset Act.

Wilkins said the 28 changes made in the statutes make them, "much better than they were before."

One change in the statutes, described by Wilkins as controversial, allows the Legislature to veto commission rule changes and additions.

Other statute changes include:

— a clause prohibiting employees and members of the commission from serving as an officer, employee or paid consultant of an aeronautics trade association.

— authorization of a separate loan fund for facilities development to be funded by the interest from loans made by the commission for airport construction.

— a clause directing the commission to draft and administer rules covering the safety of air carrier operations.

Other aviation legislation passed included bills:

— allowing county commissioner courts to enact ordinances permitting small aircraft to land on county roads.

— changing from 1,200,000 to 400,000 the population requirement necessary for a city to spend airport revenue bonds without competitive bidding or performance bonds.

— allowing privately owned public access airports to be appraised at their value as airport property, rather than at the value of surrounding property.

Wilkins said all of the bills passed will be beneficial to aviation in Texas.

National Tax Limitation

Committee lauds Stenholm

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The National Tax Limitation Committee has singled out Cong. Charles Stenholm for of Representatives.

"Not often are votes in the Congress of such critical and far-reaching importance as the passage of the Omnibus Reconciliation Act of 1981," said Uhler in a letter to Congressman Stenholm.

"We applaud your courageous vote," wrote Uhler, "and your efforts to bring federal spending under control."

Uhler said the National Tax Limitation Committee looked forward to working with Stenholm on passage of a tax-spending constitutional limitation amendment to establish an annual spending level for the federal government.

Lewis R. Uhler, president of the 500,000 member citizens group, applauded Stenholm for his "courageous vote" in favor of the Gramm-Blatta II amendment to the Reconciliation Bill. The amendment passed by only 217-211 Friday, June 26.

Stenholm and 28 other conservative Democrats crossed party lines to give the President and the American taxpayer an unexpected victory in the budget process in the House

Tibbs visiting in local area

Mr. and Mrs. James K. Tibb, Puerto Rico, are visiting this week in Big Spring and Snyder. Tibbs was stationed at Webb Air Force Base until its closing in 1977, and Mrs. Tibbs was employed at Veterans Administration Hospital. The Tibbs are staying in the home of his mother Mrs. Bill Gill, and are visiting their daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Sparks, Big Spring, and Mr. and Mrs. Rickey Huckabee, Snyder.

The Tibbs will return to Puerto Rico Thursday.

Use a fan to help hold down electric bills.

In many homes, air conditioning uses more electricity than all other appliances combined. And with electricity costing a lot more this summer, it pays to do everything you can to use less electricity. Try living a little warmer. Set your thermostat at 78° or 80° or even higher, and use a fan to circulate the air. You may be slightly uncomfortable at first, but most people adjust very quickly to living warmer. If you use a fan and dress in cool clothing, you may not even notice a difference.
