Who am I? asks robbery victim

Man with amnesia seeking his identity in Big Spring

By CAROL HART

"My name is John Neill. I'm not 100 percent sure that's my name, but it seems familiar to me."
Neill is an amnesia victim. He can recall events in his life only after May 18 of this year. On that day, he claims he was robbed and almost killed in an incident in Indianapolis, Ind.
Events in his life up to that point are foggy, or out of his memory's reach.
Neill can recall the frightening events of May 18. He remembers arriving in Indianapolis to view the Indianapolis 500. He remembers pulling off Interstate 65 in his car to take a nap.
After awakening, Neill said he drove to a traffic light and a black man with a gun knocked on his window. "He said to open the door."
The man "asked me for my wallet." A white man was with the black man, standing behind the car.
"They said they had robbed a bank, and needed the car. I was scared to death, so I cooperated."
Neill was told to get in the back seat of the car. One of the men got behind the driver's seat, and the other got into a white station wagon behind Neill's car. The two vehicles drove about 30 miles to a gravel road.
The two assailants got out of the cars and began discussing the situation. The men opened the station wagon the white man was driving. Neill recalls they proceeded to set his car on fire, while he was in it. "The white guy held a gun on me" while they did this.
Neill remembers jumping from the back seat of his car to the front seat. He recalls unlocking the door, then kicking it. Then, "I remember an explosion."
He said he came to on Tuesday, May 19. "It was dark. My head was throbbing and I was coughing up black dust. I had lost my glasses. The car was all black."
Neill had somehow gotten himself out of the car before it exploded. He doesn't know what became of the two men who robbed him, and who had taken the identification he so desperately needed.
"I managed to get to Interstate 65," said Neill. "I didn't know which way I was going. An 18-wheeler stopped. The driver said he was going south to Florida, so I knew I was headed south."

Neill got in the truck, and the man driving said his name was George, and asked Neill his name. "I said 'you're probably not going to believe this, but I don't know.'"
As the two talked, Neill said the driver mentioned several towns, and the only one that sounded familiar was Dallas. He set his sites on the Texas city, and hitchhiked his way there.
Neill got to Dallas May 22. He still didn't know who he was or why he felt the urge to come to Texas. He was also missing his glasses, which made it hard for him to maneuver.

'Maybe there is a lot of pain back there that I won't remember.'

In Dallas, Neill made connections with the Salvation Army, an organization which has helped him ever since. A Salvation Army social worker sent him to Parkland Hospital.
Doctors in Dallas determined that Neill had traumatic amnesia. "There was nothing they could do for me except offer counseling," said Neill.
He was also told that it can take up to six months for traumatic amnesia victims to begin regaining their memories.
Through personnel at the Dallas branch of the Salvation Army, Neill was introduced to Lt. Bill Thrasher, who was assigned to the Big Spring Salvation Army. Thrasher invited Neill to come to Big Spring, since he was not familiar with anything in Dallas.
"I got here June 1, and I've been here ever since. I've been working on the staff."
While in Dallas, Neill watched as others played the piano, and felt that he too could play. He sat down, began working with the keys, and soon was recalling many tunes, most of them hymns.

Neill now plays the piano for services at the local Salvation Army unit.
Lt. Thrasher has moved from Big Spring since Neill came to town, and was replaced locally by Lt. Carroll Braun. Members of the Salvation Army, both here and in Dallas, have been helping Neill try and trace his background. He also has members of the police working for him, and has talked to doctors at the Big Spring State Hospital.
Neill has been able to piece a few fragments of his past together since coming to Big Spring. He thinks his birthdate is June 1, 1969, because the number sounds familiar to him. That would make him 22 years old.
He enjoys playing the piano. "Music is my only link with the past. I enjoy things related to the church. I must have been involved in this type of work before."
He feels he is a Baptist, because he is comfortable with Baptist doctrines he has studied since coming to Big Spring.
There are other things which surface in his memory. "I remember I liked school. I can remember high school graduation, all of us being there, but I can't remember where the school was."
Neill also can remember sad things which drift in his mind with nothing to anchor them down.
"I remember my father died, from leukemia, right before I graduated," he says. "I remember I was sorrowful."
Neill thinks his middle name is Charles, and that his brother's name is Charles, also. He thinks Charles writes songs.
He also wonders why he can't remember anything prior to May 18.
"Maybe I wasn't in the best of situations," he reasons. "Maybe there was a lot of pain back there that I won't remember."
Neill is handling the situation well, though. "I think I'd like to continue working for the Salvation Army. This is what I want to do with the rest of my life."
But, first, Neill would like to find his family and maybe settle in his own mind just who he is.

JOHN NEILL
...Brother wrote songs?

"I have a strong trust in the Lord. Otherwise, I'd go crazy. Sometimes, it's still scary. I wake up in the middle of the night and don't know who I am."
But, reflecting on all that has happened to him, Neill says "I think I've come through it pretty good."
Neill is staying at the local Salvation Army. Anyone who might know anything about him may reach him there.

Two men rob local service station employee

By BILL ELDER

Big Spring Police Department detectives were searching today for two men who held up a Harris Texaco employee at gunpoint Wednesday afternoon and made off with $300 in cash.
Detectives questioned several people in connection with the incident but were left without any leads or suspects this morning, they said.
They are searching for a Mexican male about 20 years old and an un-described accomplice, who allegedly robbed attendant Rod Harris at about 2:25 p.m. Wednesday and forced the 16-year-old to turn over the money.
Detectives say the pair drove up to the station at the intersection of Interstate 20 and Highway 350 in a green, older-model vehicle without license plates.
One of the men came inside the station, "asked for change to buy some cigarettes and pulled out a long-barreled revolver," said Detective Bill Price.
Harris told The Herald he thinks the gun was a .38-caliber pistol.
"I wasn't going to argue with him," Harris said, recalling how he emptied the cash register and then walked outside the station at the robber's command. Harris said he thinks he was led outside to give the robbers more getaway time before he could get inside to a telephone.
He was not hurt in the incident.
The station is owned by his father, Charles, and was the scene of a hold-up in April, 1979, which resulted in the murder of the station's former owner, Ann Reeves, and her son, Tracey. The case remains unsolved and Sheriff A.N. Standard said he believes there is "nothing to even remotely connect" the murder and yesterday's robbery.

HAVING TROUBLE — Ronnie Richardson of Odessa drew a "fighter" during the Wednesday night performance of the Big Spring Junior Rodeo; he never did get a time on his calf. The tie down roping was just one of three exciting roping events and many other varied activities at the rodeo.

Junior Rodeo queen named

The queen for the 1981 Big Spring Junior Rodeo is Lorri Roman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Roman of Forsan. First runner-up was Jeanie Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Robertson of Coahoma.
Since the candidates are not required to own a horse in order to qualify as a candidate, Miss Roman will not lead the grand entry. However, Don Richardson, county extension agent said, "The queen will be featured in all grand entries and she will be introduced with the officials before each performance."
Results from the first night of the rodeo include:
BAREBACK RIDING — Kenny Smith, 74.
TIEDOWN ROPING (13-15) — Kevin Miller, 12.4; David Clayton, 17.6.
(16-19) — Jerry Alley, 13.00; Dan Henry Riggs, 15.2; Casey Hannaz, 18.4.
BARREL RACING (12 and under) — Robin Wardlaw, 17.59; Angie Almand, 17.80; Tana Mahoney, 18.12; (13-15) — Christine Langston, 17.45; Johanna Puckett, 17.62; Shelley Hodge, 18.29.
(16-19) — Teresa Langston, 17.30; Paige Echols, 17.43; Amber Echols, 17.70.
POLE BENDING (12 and under) — J.J. Hampton, 21.30; Angie Almand, 21.76; Frances Wardlaw, 21.80; (13-15) — Daria Ehrlich, 22.21; Paula Kiefer, 21.35; Shelley Hodge, 18.29.
(16-19) — Terri Otho, 21.10; Kelley Jones, 21.94; Tisa Lovett, 27.47.
GOAT TYING (12 and under) — Robin Wardlaw, 12.13; Connie K. Everett, 13.50; Tana Mahoney, 18.00.

BREAKAWAY ROPING GIRLS (12 and under) — Patricia Doss, 8.8; Robin Wardlaw, 7.1; Lorrissa Edmondson, 7.5.
Girls (13-15) — Kristi Taylor, 3.6; Chari Alley, 3.8; Annette Overby, 4.3.
Girls (16-19) — Paige Echols, 4.7; Teresa Langston, 5.3; Terri Otho, 5.6.
Boys (12 and under) — J.P. Clayton, 4.4; Glen Overby, 8.0.
ATLANTA (AP) — President Reagan, trumpeting his twin victories on budget and tax cuts, today predicted a brighter economic future and declared, "America is better off today than she was yesterday."
Banking in Wednesday's congressional approval of the key ingredients of his economic package, Reagan flew here to address state legislators about the impact of his program and to sketch his goal of giving the states more power.
"America is more confident today than she was a day ago," a jubilant Reagan said. "And economic possibilities for all Americans are greater than they were 24 hours ago. America now has an economic plan for her future."
In a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the National Conference of State Legislatures, Reagan forecast better times ahead. He promised, "As I have said before, we are leaving no one behind."
In a passing reference, Reagan also isolated his opposition to the Equal Rights Amendment but suggested states could act on their own to curb discrimination against women.

Boys (13-15) — Cody Everette, 13.2.
RIBBON ROPING Boys (13-15) — Kevin Miller, 7.6; Kenneth Lewis, 14.6; Benton Beckwith, 17.6 Boys (16-19) — Jerry Alley, 8.9; Randy Taylor, 10.1; Ty Springer, 14.6.
SR. BULL RIDING (16-19) — Phillip Graf, 61; Roy Sutherland, 58.
There were no scores in the junior bull riding, the steer riding, or ribbon roping 12 and under.
Reagan's budget and tax cuts — both the biggest in history — passed decisive tests Wednesday in Congress. The Democrat-dominated House and the Republican-run Senate approved similar versions of a 33-month, 25 percent tax reduction and House-Senate negotiators settled final terms on $35 billion in spending cuts.
In Atlanta, Reagan faced an audience of 2,400 concerned about the impact of his economic programs on their states.
"Today the federal government takes too much taxes from the people, too much authority from the states and too much liberty with the Constitution," Reagan said.
"My administration," he said, "is committed heart and soul to the broad principles of federalism — or restoring power to the states."
"The government in Washington has finally heard what the people have been saying for years — we need relief from the oppression of big government," he added.
He said that with his economic program, the administration is "staging a quiet federalist revolution."

Demos threaten block of budget compromise

By OWEN ULLMANN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional plans for quick passage of more than $35 billion in spending cuts approved by House and Senate negotiators faced a new barrier today as House Democrats threatened to block approval until the minimum Social Security benefit program is restored.
Related stories page 3A
The chairman of the House Rules Committee, Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., said he is determined to block final action on the massive budget-cut package for next year until a provision eliminating the $122-a-month minimum retirement benefit is dropped from a Senate-House compromise completed on Wednesday.

"I am totally and completely against the idea of eliminating any benefits from people now receiving them," Bolling told a news conference.
Congressional leaders had planned to put the final budget package to a final vote in both chambers by this weekend so that Congress could recess for the month of August. However, Bolling said he is "prepared to stay for a month" if necessary to restore the benefit.
Bolling's committee sets the rules on how the House would handle the final budget package.
Other Democrats on the committee who were at the news conference, including Minority Leader Jim Wright of Texas, said they fully supported Bolling.

Reagan wins historic three-year tax cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — A historic three-year tax cut hailed by President Reagan as the path to prosperity now carries the resounding endorsement of Congress, putting him on the verge of the most sweeping economic policy change in half a century.

Reagan whipped the Democrats in their own House on Wednesday, winning on a 238-195 vote that was even wider than Reagan's earlier budget-cutting victories. Forty-eight Democrats defected to the president and only one Republican strayed the other way.

Only a formal vote today by the Republican-run Senate, which endorsed a similar bill 89-11 earlier Wednesday, was necessary to send the bill to a Senate-House conference committee to work out the relatively few differences in the two versions — perhaps as early as this weekend.

One possible obstacle remained there, $47 billion worth of special tax breaks for the oil industry over the next five years. That was the biggest deal Reagan made to convince Democrats to bolt their leaders.

Reagan's bill would reduce taxes more than $753 billion over the next five years — the largest tax cut in American history.

It features a permanent 25 percent cut in tax rates over 33 months, with rich and poor alike getting the same percentage reduction.

The first cuts would take effect Oct. 1, averaging about $2 a week for a typical four-member family in the last three months of this year. Larger reductions would follow in 1982 and 1983. Starting in 1985, taxes would be adjusted automatically each year to offset partially the higher taxes caused by inflation.

Reagan, who had spent much of the last few days personally persuading House members to accept his plan, was jubilant.

"We have made a new beginning," he told reporters. "We're back on the right road and we're making progress. And if we keep working together, we can reach that new era of prosperity we all want."

Senate Finance Committee Chairman Bob Dole, R-Kan., said House and Senate conferees should be able to resolve their differences quickly. They probably will start work Saturday.

The oil provisions will be the biggest issue, and there's a chance — though unlikely — that they could delay the entire bill.

The Senate bill includes $20 billion in oil-tax cuts, and liberals have vowed to filibuster any compromise that increases that figure. Such actions, however, often fizzle quickly when Congress is ready to take a big recess, as it is preparing to do now.

The House bill has $47 billion in tax breaks for the oil industry, and reducing those could alienate some of Reagan's conservative supporters.

The Reagan bill was favored by Congress over a rival Democratic plan that would have produced an average 15 percent cut in tax rates over 21 months, with an additional 10 percent reduction in a third year contingent on the economy performing as well as the Reagan administration forecasts. The Democratic cuts would have favored families with incomes less than $50,000 a year.

A typical four-member, two-earner family with $20,000 income would realize a $333 tax cut in 1984 when Reagan's bill is fully effective. The Democrats would have provided a $431 cut.

Weather

WEATHER FORECAST — The National Weather Service forecasts rain Friday in a wide band from Southern California stretching south to Texas and North to North Dakota and Minnesota; and in a band from Arkansas south to Florida.

Partly cloudy skies, warm temps forecast

By the Associated Press
Widely scattered showers and thunderstorms were forecast today for western, north-eastern and south-eastern sections of Texas.

Forecasts called for partly cloudy skies and warm temperatures statewide. Highs were to range from the upper 80s to near 100.

Showers and a few heavy thunderstorms were reported during the night over western sections of the South Plains southward into the Permian Basin. Some light showers were also reported in the Del Rio area.

Early morning temperatures were mostly in the 70s. Extremes ranged from 65 at Marfa and 67 at Dalhart to 81 at both Galveston and Palacios.

Farm Insurance available to growers of wheat

A new insurance plan authorized by Congress is now available to wheat growers in Howard County, according to Larry Hollar, District Director of USDA's Federal Crop Insurance Corporation.

A key feature of the insurance program, which is designed to replace the ASCS disaster payments program, is that the government pays up to 30 percent of the premium cost.

Another important feature, Hollar adds, is the opportunity it provides for wheat growers to choose the amount of protection they want to carry.

It's possible to purchase a policy that guarantees 50 percent, 65 percent, or 75 percent of the local average yield. Policyholders can also select the price per bushel they want to be paid in the event of a loss. The choices are $2.50, $3.50 and $4.50.

Hollar offers this illustration of how the insurance works: In an area where the average wheat yield has been 10.4 bushels per acre, farmers can elect to carry a policy that guarantees 5.2 bushels, 6.7 bushels or 7.7 bushels. If a wheat grower chooses the maximum guarantee of 7.7 bushels per acre and the maximum price per bushel of $4.50, he will be paid an indemnity of $4.50 for each bushel his yield is below 7.7 bushels per acre.

Because of sharply higher production costs and last year's drought losses, Hollar points out that most policyholders are choosing insurance that protects their entire production investment. Others are carrying enough insurance to guarantee the amount of income needed to meet specific financial obligations, such as the repayment of bank loans or land rental payments.

Deadline to apply for 1982-crop wheat insurance in Howard County is Aug. 31. Federal All-Risk Crop Insurance policies can be purchased from the local FCIC representative or from private insurance agents and lending institutions. Wherever purchased, the protection and the cost are the same.

Tax cut support by de la Garza big surprise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Kika de la Garza, D-Texas, was one of the surprises in the victory the House gave President Reagan on his tax cut bill — the second half of his economic recovery program.

Several Texas Democrats were expected to support the president's program Wednesday, but not de la Garza.

Not only is de la Garza a committee chairman — expected to side automatically with the Democratic leadership on such crucial votes — but he represents the Rio Grande Valley, one of the nation's poorest congressional districts.

The strongest pitch that Democratic leaders made for their tax bill was that it helped the working man while the president's bill was aimed at the wealthy. De la Garza said he didn't agree.

"Neither of these tax bills have any great benefits for the poor. What the poor need are better education, better jobs, better paying jobs, better housing," de la Garza said.

"And if this vote helps generate the economy, where it'll help in those areas as the president says it will, I'll be glad to continue to work with the president. I'll vote with him when he's right and vote against him when he's wrong, and that's the beauty of our system."

President Reagan called Rep. Kent Hance Wednesday afternoon, about 30 minutes after final passage, and thanked him for his courage in defying the House Democratic leadership to co-sponsor the administration's tax cut bill.

"I told him I appreciated his courage, and his faith, and that I enjoyed working with him," an elated Hance said after the House gave a 238-195 victory to the bill endorsed by Reagan and sponsored by Hance and Rep. Barber Conable, R-N.Y., ranking Republican on the Ways and Means Committee.

Hance, D-Lubbock, credited the groundswell of public support, generated by the president's nationally televised speech Monday night, for the victory.

"Last Thursday, I didn't think we had a chance. But I had a feeling Friday it was winnable. Monday, it looked better, and then after the president made his speech and the phones started ringing, you could feel that things were changing," Hance added.

"The president's speech made the difference. We would have lost by five or maybe won by two or three votes if he hadn't made the speech. By noon today, I had 32 firm votes (from Democrats). We only needed 27 and I felt we could win it."

By the final gun on the president's bill, 48 Democrats — including eight of Texas' 19 Demos — had jumped on the bandwagon, while the Republicans lost only one of their block of 191 members.

On the anti-eliminate vote on final passage, all but four Texans supported the tax bill, which won by a 3-to-1 margin, 322-107.

Hance wasn't surprised at de la Garza's vote. "I knew we had a shot at him, but he wasn't on my list of 32," said Hance.

Reagan, in his feverish pitch toward Democrats it considered undecided, had de la Garza over at the White House Tuesday.

"Yes, I was over there yesterday and visited with the president, the vice president and the secretary of the treasury, but that really had no bearing on my vote. It was an evolutionary process, and I finally made my decision late in the debate on the floor," de la Garza added.

"We had a considerable number of telephone calls and telegrams. That had some bearing. We don't go by numbers, but it's an indication of the attitude in the communities. We knew the people who called in."

At the same time last week, House Democrats were claiming that four of the nine Texas Democrats who supported Reagan's budget were committed to the Ways and Means Committee tax bill, leaving Hance and four other "boll weevils" to vote for Reagan's plan.

But the thousands of calls, telegrams and letters from constituents, heeding Reagan's plea for their support on his tax bill, had their effect.

Iran earthquake death toll hits 1,000

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Tehran Radio reported today that at least 1,000 people died in the major earthquake that leveled parts of seven villages in southeastern Iran.

Iran's official Pars news agency earlier said there were 836 confirmed deaths and 854 people injured, with the death toll expected to rise as rescue workers continued to dig through the rubble in Kerman province.

Abolhusein Saveh, governor-general of the quake-ravaged province, predicted the death toll would reach 4,000 and said half the population in the isolated, mountainous region had been buried by debris scattered by Tuesday night's quake.

The radio, monitored in Beirut, said the township of Sirj, 25 miles from the provincial capital of Kerman was the worst hit.

Dear Abby

Housewife Has Special Twist For Weight-Watching

DEAR ABBY: Several of my friends and I have hit upon a great idea for losing weight. We pull down our shades, lock our doors, and do our housecleaning in the nude! I know it sounds kooky, but here's what we do. We go from room to room and force ourselves to look at our bodies in every mirror we pass! There's something about a fat, unclothed body that spoils your appetite come mealtime.

Housecleaning is good exercise. There's lots of bending and stretching. There's only one rule: Always keep your stomach muscles tight. After a while, it becomes a habit, and those tummy muscles will be taut after the body is clothed.

This is no put-on, Abby. Pass this on to your readers. I don't know anybody who wouldn't like to lose 5 or 10 pounds, and this really works.

SLIMMING DOWN IN SCOTTSDALE

DEAR SLIMMING: Now, if you could arrange to watch yourself eat in the nude, you'd have it made. And should you decide to cook in the nude, do wear an apron while frying bacon.

DEAR ABBY: I have three daughters ages 7, 8 and 9. Ever since they were toddlers, I have been teaching them proper table manners, especially how to hold a fork or spoon properly.

My "problem" is the TV cereal commercials. Why do they show children eating cereal and holding the spoon like a shovel? When my children see children on TV eating like that, they think that's the correct way, and not the way I have been teaching them.

Thanks for listening.

MRS. B. IN JEFFERSON, LA.

DEAR MRS. B.: I wish children "holding spoons like shovels" were the worst examples seen on television commercials. However, in order to undo the damage, explain to your children that the children they see on the commercials have not yet been taught to eat properly.

DEAR ABBY: I've been dating a married man for several years. His wife found out about us and is filing for divorce. I love him and he loves me, but he isn't sure he wants to get married again. So where does that leave me?

He has asked me to wait and see what happens after he works out his present problems, but he won't make any promises.

Abby, I'm young and attractive and don't want to spend the rest of my life waiting for a man who may never marry me, but I've been out of circulation for nearly three years and am very happy and fulfilled when I'm with him.

Should I invest any more time in what could be a dead-end relationship? Or would I be wise to hang around and see what happens? And if I do decide to hang around, how long should I give him to make up his mind?

UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: From the facts you've given me, your friend would like to put you on "hold" forever. Say goodbye now. If he really loves you, he will offer you what you want — marriage. If not, good riddance.

GARDEN SETTING — This is the California garden room of actress Kathleen Nolan (former president of the Screen Actor's Guild). Here, the exterior garden and swimming pool have been treated as an adjoining room. Garden colors in the green and blue family were pulled from the actual garden and used as accent colors in the room. The garden theme is also accentuated with upholstery fabrics with a plant motif. The cool blue area rug with palm green inset border is of "Trevira" Pen-tron and is called "Fascination" from Gulistan. The color plan of the rug draws from the garden and pool and helps complete the look.

Overview of prison system is presented to club by Federal Prison official

The Altrusa Club of Big Spring met for a regular meeting July 23 in the Patio Room of the Holiday Inn.

The meeting was called to order by Gertrude McCann, president. The Altrusa Blessing was led by Deloris Albert, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance led by Reba Baker. Minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer's report were given by Pat Highley and Mrs. Albert, respectively.

Debbie Mitchem, program coordinator, introduced Paul Girvan as the speaker for the meeting. Girvan is the Records Manager of the Big Spring Federal Prison Camp, coming to Big Spring in June, 1979, from a position in a central office of the Bureau of Prisons in Washington, D.C. He had previously worked for a central office in San Diego.

Girvan explained that the Bureau of Prisons is now divided into five regions. Of the nine facilities in the South Central Region, those located at Big Spring and Segoville are the only two minimum security institutions in this region.

The three stages of prison security are that of maximum, medium and minimum. The degree of security at the various prisons depends upon the severity of the crimes committed by the inmates.

Four penitentiaries in which women reside are located at Alderson, W. Va., Pleasanton, Calif., Lexington, Ky., and Fort Worth. The prison at Alderson, W. Va. is for women only, while both sexes reside at the other three.

Sites of several new institutions include: Talladega, Ala., built in 1979; Bastrop, built in 1978; Big Spring, built in 1979; and Otisville (Lake Placid) N.Y., also known as Raybrook, built in 1980. The purpose of the new institutions is to reduce crowding in the nation's penitentiaries, create more humane and safe living conditions, and to enable the closing of antiquated penitentiaries across the nation.

Following Girvan's overview of the prison system, the meeting was adjourned with the benediction, led by Helen Coban.

The next regular club meeting is scheduled for noon, Aug. 13.

Concerto competition announced

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Talented young musicians take note! "Seventeen" Magazine and General Motors are cosponsoring a National Concerto Competition, designed to be a major springboard for teenagers who are thinking seriously of a life in music.

High school students who are American citizens and who study a musical instrument with an instructor are eligible; this year's contest is open to those who play the piano, violin, or flute. The winner in each of these three categories will receive a $5,000 music scholarship from General Motors. The overall winner among the three will be given the opportunity of appearing in a concert hall to perform a concerto with a nationally recognized orchestra.

The annual competition will bring thirty-six soloists (twelve in each of the year's three instrumental categories) from around the country to the host school, with all expenses paid. Each year, a different school will host the event. The 1981-82 competition, from February 26-March 1, 1982, will be held at the Eastman School, in Rochester, New York.

Applications must be post-marked by November 15, 1981. Entry requirements include a nonreturnable audition tape which meets competition specifications and a nonrefundable $10 entry fee. For an entry form, write to Seventeen Magazine & General Motors National Concerto Competition Director, Box 5362, New York, N.Y. 10150.

Accidents and hazardous materials are discussed

The Desk and Derrick Club met in the lobby of the Cosden downtown office building Monday at 7 p.m. Pat Highley, president presided.

Ann Drake presented a program on safety and the use of placards and their meanings. She stressed the proper method to use when approaching the scene of an accident involving any cargo.

Mrs. Drake said Chemtrec stands for Chemical Transportation Emergency Center, a public service of the Chemical Manufacturers Association at its offices in Washington, D.C. The center provides immediate advice for those at the scene of emergencies, then contacts the shipper of the hazardous materials involved for more detailed assistance and appropriate follow-up.

Chemtrec operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week to receive calls from any point in the United States.

Chemtrec's toll-free number is 1-800-424-9300.

The center can usually provide hazard information warnings and guidance when given the identification number or the name of the product and the nature of the problem. It is important that every effort be made to keep a phone line open. The shipper can then contact the on-scene leader to provide guidance and assistance.

The group elected Pat Highley as delegate, and Venita Blassingame as alternate to attend the National Desk and Derrick Convention in Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 23-25.

The next regular meeting will be Aug. 17. A birthday party and program, under the direction of the social committee and the program chairman, Venita Blassingame, is planned.

Two killed, four hurt in factory shootout

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — A former factory worker whose firing was upheld recently by an arbitration panel opened fire in the plant with a shotgun, killing two of the panel members and wounding three other people, police said.

The gunman, Daryl McReynolds, 31, of Evansville, was seriously wounded during a gunbattle with police, in which he was hit with 12 shots, authorities said. Because he was hospitalized, he was not charged immediately in the shootings.

"I saw him holding the gun at his side," said Maureen Fischer, who was working as a temporary employee at Crescent Plastics Inc. when the gunman walked in Wednesday afternoon. "But the man across the aisle smiled at him and said 'Hi,' so I didn't think anything about it."

The gunman went into the back of the plant "and then I heard gunfire and I got under the desk," she said.

McReynolds killed Crescent Vice President Bernard Peak Jr., 43, and shop foreman Glenn Stahl, 53, with a double-barreled shotgun and then "cut loose and started firing at anybody," said police Lt. Frank Gullede.

Two other workers were wounded.

An eyewitness said that when the gunman started to leave the building onto a loading dock, he ran into Vanderburgh County deputy Robert Beckham, 40, who was the first officer to answer a police radio call about the shooting.

Ralph Parker, who works at a bottling plant across an alley from the rear of the Crescent offices, said the gunman shot and wounded Beckham, who then stumbled behind a car and returned fire.

McReynolds, a machinist, was fired about six months ago for absenteeism and "poor work habits," said Ken Graves, Crescent's vice president for employee relations. He would not elaborate.

Officials of the company, which employs about 160 people to make tubing for refrigeration units, said McReynolds had worked there for five years before being fired. The Machinists union said he worked at the company 13 years. It wasn't clear why there was a discrepancy.

The union contested McReynolds' dismissal and the issue went to an arbitration panel, which upheld the action three weeks ago.

Senate panel OKs Casey

WASHINGTON (AP) — William J. Casey is directing the CIA today with a new but limited endorsement from a Senate committee that nevertheless is going ahead with its investigation of him.

Two days after the Senate Intelligence Committee hired a special counsel to run its Casey inquiry, the panel unanimously pronounced him not "unfit to serve" based on what is now known.

President Reagan said that should end the matter, but the Senate panel also unanimously agreed Wednesday to continue investigating the 68-year-old CIA director, whose past business practices and management of the spy agency have been questioned.

The committee vote came after five hours of testimony by Casey behind closed doors. One source called the decision "obviously a compromise between two sharply divided factions. The beauty of this statement is in the eye of the beholder."

Chairman Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., who less than a week ago called on Casey to resign, delivered the panel's decision to a crowded news conference in the Capitol Crypt. He said:

"Based upon the staff review to date, and Mr. Casey's lengthy testimony today, it is the unanimous judgment of the committee that no basis has been found for concluding that Mr. Casey is unfit to serve as director of central intelligence."

"The staff will follow up on points that need clarification."

Moments later, Goldwater strode off, saying: "I'm going home." Left at the microphones, the committee's ranking Democrat, Sen. Daniel P. Moynihan of New York, announced that the minority panel members would hire their own special counsel and that Casey might be recalled to testify.

American Indian population grows

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time since the Census Bureau began taking headcounts, the American Indian population of the United States has climbed beyond 1 million, the bureau says.

The 1980 census found 1,361,869 native Americans, up from 792,730 in 1970.

AT&T suit may be dropped

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reagan administration, asking that its landmark antitrust suit against the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. be "put on ice," says it will drop the case if Congress passes an amended telephone deregulation bill backed by the company.

Assistant Attorney General William F. Baxter, who said in April that he intended to litigate the case "to the eyeballs," asked a federal judge to recess the case until next June 30 to allow Congress time to act.

"If the legislation passes, with the amendments that have been worked out, it would be the administration's intention to discontinue the litigation," he told U.S. District Judge Harold H. Greene and three AT&T attorneys during a closed meeting Wednesday.

"I can assure you that I am speaking not just for the antitrust division of the Department of Justice, but for the administration and the president," Baxter said. "The administration has concluded that there is no realistic possibility of moving (telephone deregulation) legislation through the Congress unless, in some sense, this case is put on ice."

The judge refused to recess the case, however. Green said the trial would resume as scheduled Aug. 3 with presentation of AT&T's defense because "it would be inappropriate for the court to suspend this lawsuit simply because such suspension may have a political impact in other forums."

The Justice Department's change of position stunned AT&T competitors and other government officials because the goal of the seven-year-old antitrust suit — the largest in history — was to break up AT&T.

CCC inviting bids on corn

The Commodity Credit Corporation is now inviting bids on corn stored with the CCC. The minimum quantity that can be accepted is 1,000 bushels.

Those wishing to inquire about the corn or make an offer should call the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in Houston, 713-226-5871. Offers may be made by telephone between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

The minimum acceptable corn price is 115 percent of the loan rate of the county in which the corn is stored. The successful bidder will pay interest, storage, and handling charges for the corn. According to the branch office in Houston, all grain is located in the Texas Panhandle north of Lubbock.

The Howard County ASCS office has more details concerning the program for anyone who may be interested in placing a bid. The local office phone is 267-2557.

Fire Department hosting Slow-Pitch Tourney here

The Fire Department Extinguishers will sponsor a 16-team slow-pitch softball tournament this weekend at Johnny Stone Memorial Park beginning at 6 p.m. Friday. The Extinguishers have been playing numerous charity contests thus far this year, with the latest being triumphs over OIL and KMD-TV. In those games, and with the auction of local merchants, over 3,000 dollars was raised for the Firemen's Association Disaster Fund. The fund is being set up to help local people get through the trauma of having their home and possessions destroyed by fire. Those wishing to enter teams in the tournament should contact one of the local fire stations for more information.

Owners optimistic about strike...

NEW YORK (AP) — Major league owners, calling for a rapid conclusion to the baseball strike, have admonished their negotiators to begin bargaining in earnest when talks resume with the Players Association here today. The 26-owners met for two hours Wednesday to map strategy for the first negotiating session in a week with the Major League Players Association. During the meeting, the owners heard a progress report from Ray Grebey, the director of the Player Relations Committee, owners' bargaining arm. The American and National League owners had held separate meetings prior to a joint session. Ed Fitzgerald of the Milwaukee Brewers, chairman of the board of the PRC, said the owners asked questions about the current status of the negotiations and expressed their views. "There were no votes taken so I can't say things are unanimous," Fitzgerald said after the meeting. "But the overwhelming consensus was that the clubs want the strike to be brought to a rapid conclusion and to reopen the season. We hope to achieve that end through collective bargaining." Fitzgerald said the owners still maintain great faith in the collective bargaining process, adding, "They have instructed the PRC to begin that process in earnest at the 2 p.m. bargaining session." Federal Mediator Kenneth Moffett has scheduled a bargaining session in the 49-day-old strike for 2 p.m. EDT today at the Doral Inn. It will be the first meeting between the two sides since talks broke off last Thursday in Washington. The owners and Grebey refused to answer questions or offer any further comment on the afternoon meetings. Texas Rangers owner Eddie Chiles, who has spoken with reporters in the past regarding the owners position, offered such comments as "I'm going deaf in this ear," when questioned about the meeting. Grebey, said he believed a settlement could be hammered out at the bargaining table. "We've always believed in collective bargaining and felt it would produce a settlement. We still feel that way." Chicago White Sox President Eddie Einhorn sounded one of the few optimistic notes. "I've always felt we've been close. We're this close," he said, holding two fingers about an inch apart. Throughout the talks, AL owners have been pictured as more willing to ease up on management's position on the free-agent compensation question, while NL bosses were the hardline group.

But players seem more unified

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The players most distant from the baseball strike negotiations, those who play or live on the West Coast, finally got first-hand information on the proceedings — and liked what they heard. In the first of what was billed as a series of regional meetings with players, Marvin Miller apparently was successful Wednesday in mending any cracks in the players' solid front and heading off potential new dissension. "They (the owners) are trying to break the union, but we're stronger now than ever," said Los Angeles Dodgers' infielder Dave Lopes, who earlier had been critical of the way the players association was handling the negotiations. "I made a mistake saying player representatives shouldn't be part of the negotiations; I see after listening at this meeting that they're an integral part of the negotiations." Lopes recently criticized the "circus" atmosphere of the bargaining, mentioning the fact that players were sitting in. He spoke of the Baltimore Orioles' Doug Decinces in particular. After Wednesday's meeting, however, Lopes went up to DeCinces, shook his hand and apologized, saying, "I know you guys have been working hard." "I appreciate that," said DeCinces, who had flown out from the East Coast with Miller. "Thanks for coming to the meeting." Miller, the players' chief negotiator, said the previous scattered player complaints with the strike were to be expected.

He blamed part of it on a news blackout during last week's negotiations and added, "Every once in awhile the papers will print a quote from a player wishing he were playing baseball. Every player wishes he were playing baseball."

SWCID student claims javelin in World Deaf Olympics

Swafford wins Olympic gold

COLOGNE, WEST GERMANY — Jackie Swafford, a student from the SouthWest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf in Big Spring, Tex., captured the gold medal in the javelin in the XIV World Games for the Deaf here Wednesday. Swafford, who is 24 years old, won the javelin competition in the worldwide deaf event by throwing it 222' 2". That was 10 feet below the deaf world record held by California native Craig Healy in 1974, but still enough to win the 1981 competition.

Swafford is one of 42 members of the United States team competing in the World Games for the Deaf, and the only participant from SWCID, one of three colleges for the deaf in the world. Swafford had to raise the money to make the trip, as the United States does not support these Olympic games. Swafford put together $4,000 for expenses. Just under $3,000 came from the Big Spring community, while he raised the remainder in his hometown of Barryville, Ark.

Rodriguez brothers spark Big Spring

ABILENE — The Big Spring League All-Stars moved within one game of the sectional championship here Wednesday evening, taking a 9-2 win over Arlington. The Big Spring team had opened the tourney on Monday with a 17-0 win over Arlington behind the two-hit pitching of Tommy Rodriguez, and in this win it was his brother, Adam Rodriguez, that twirled the victory. The younger Rodriguez, after allowing two first inning runs that knotted the score at 2-2 at that point, surrendered only two hits the remainder of the way. The Big Spring team put the game out of reach in the fourth and fifth innings, scoring four and three runs, respectively. After loading the bases in the fourth, David Anguiano was hit by a pitch, forcing in Big Spring's Jinx Valenzuela, who had a two-run single in the first inning. Adam Rodriguez then singled to plate brother Tommy and Rusty Hayward. Big Spring put the game out of reach in the fifth with a four run uprising. Adam Rodriguez had the big blow, a two-run single. Big Spring will now face San Angelo tonight at 7:00 p.m. in the finals of the losers' bracket. The survivor of that game will meet Abilene tomorrow night. BIG SPRING 200-340-9991 ARLINGTON 200-500-9243 Kirby, David Freeman (3) and Dirk Chapman; Adam Rodriguez and Tommy Olague. Ex-Boston College player indicted for fixing games in 78-79 season

NEW YORK (AP) — The FBI says its investigation into the 1978-79 Boston College basketball scandal has not ended with the indictments of five men. "The investigation is continuing, and if it is successful, other indictments will be returned," said Kenneth Walton, deputy assistant director of the FBI's New York office. A federal grand jury in Brooklyn on Wednesday indicted one former Boston College player, Richard Kuhn, although informant Henry Hill has said three players were involved. Walton refused to comment when asked whether Jim Sweeney and Ernie Cobb, the other players implicated by Hill, were being investigated. Hill was named as an undicted co-conspirator. The others indicted were brothers Anthony Perla, 30, and Rocco Perla, 31, and Paul Mazzei, 37, all of Pittsburgh, and James "Jimmy the Gent" Burke of New York City. Burke has been reported as the mastermind of a 1978 robbery at the Lufthansa cargo terminal at Kennedy International Airport, which netted $5.8 million in jewels and currency. However, he has never been charged. All five defendants pleaded innocent. Burke and Mazzei already were in custody. Burke for a probation violation and Mazzei for narcotics trafficking, Walton said. The others surrendered Wednesday and were released on $50,000 bail each. Trial was set for Sept. 23. The defendants were charged with racketeering, sports bribery and interstate transport in aid of racketeering. They allegedly tried to fix six Boston College basketball games — against Providence, Harvard, UCLA, Fordham, St. John's and Holy Cross.

Sports Festival ends with success

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The third National Sports Festival, which ended a gala six-day stand Wednesday night with championship games in basketball and ice hockey, was a colorful combination of sights and emotions. —Renaldo Nehemiah flying gracefully over the high hurdles, Ron Galimore soaring over a vaulting horse; Brian Oldfield heaving a shot, Darrell Pace letting fly an arrow to lodge in the heart of the target, and Lydia Crabtree gracefully dancing in intricate counterpoint to a curling ribbon held in her hand. —Scott Hamilton dominating the men's figure skating to the point where one official said after the first day of competition that the only way Hamilton could lose the gold was if he broke a leg. The Festival ended with a flourish of impressive action, as five sports closed out the Games Wednesday. UCLA recruit Stu Gray, the tournament MVP, popped in 22 points to pace six players in double figures and lead the West squad to a 109-97 gold-medal victory over the South in men's basketball. Sam Potter and Ralph Jackson added 18 points apiece for the West, which end the two-time champion South's domination of Festival basketball. If convicted, the defendants would face a maximum penalty of 20 years in prison and fines of $25,000 each. Walton alleged that the point-shaving scheme was formed at meetings involving all the defendants. He would not say how much the men won, although he said they bet up to $100,000 per game.

US men's basketball stops Russia for gold

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — All-American Kevin Magee led the United States basketball team to a 93-87 gold medal victory over the Soviet Union and swimmer Jill Sterkel won her fifth gold medal as the World University Games came to an end.

The Games officially closed today with a ceremony, but no events were scheduled.

The Soviets finished the 10-day games with 38 gold medals. Romania downed Cuba 3-2 in men's volleyball Wednesday, increasing its gold medal total to 30. The United States finished with 29 gold medals.

Magee, a 6-foot-8 forward from California-Irvine, scored 31 points to pace the American basketball victory. Working inside against 7-4 Vladimir Tkachenko and 7-foot Alexandr Belositeni, Magee fouled out with 3:59 remaining in the game and the Americans holding a seven-point lead.

The Soviets pulled to within one point a minute later before guards John Bagley of Boston College and Sidney Lowe of North Carolina State took over. Steals and driving layups put the game out of reach of the frustrated Soviets, who had played the Americans close all night.

Nikolai Deriughin led the Soviets with 21 points. Tkachenko added 16, most on them on flat-footed short shots.

"Magee was playing against two of the finer big men in the world," said U.S. Coach Tom Davis of Boston College. "It's very tough to play against men of that caliber."

Magee, who had averaged less than 10 points a game throughout the tournament, said: "I didn't do anything different. The coach told us to come out and hustle and play defense. That's what we did."

Howard Carter of Louisiana State scored 17 points for the Americans.

Sterkel, a University of Texas student, matched Romanian gymnast Nadia Comaneci's feat of winning five gold medals. Sterkel gave the U.S. women's 400-meter medley relay team a clear-cut lead by turning in a stunning performance in the butterfly leg. The United States won the gold in a record-setting 4 minutes 18.85 seconds.

Kim Linehan, also of the University of Texas, captured the women's 400-meter freestyle in a record 4:15.27. Linehan, who also won the 800-meter freestyle on Monday, was followed by the Soviet Union's Irina Laritscheva in 4:15.50 and Hanna Sherri of Stanford University in 4:21.01.

The Soviet Union took the men's 400-meter medley relay in a Games record 3:48.75. The United States was second in 3:49.55 and Brazil third in 3:55.10.

Daniel Machek won the men's 400-meter freestyle in a record-setting 3:58.08, collecting Czechoslovakia's first gold medal of the Games.

Non-sports jury will decide NFL vs. Raiders

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A jury of seven women and five men — with not a sports fan among them — has begun deliberations in the landmark antitrust trial of the Oakland Raiders vs. the National Football League, a case crucial to the future of professional sports.

As Judge Harry Pregerson placed the case in the U.S. District Court jury's hands Wednesday he declared, "The wait now begins."

The panelists had heard 12 weeks of complex and sometimes emotional testimony from witnesses who included the two chief partisans — Al Davis, managing general partner of the Raiders who wants to move his team to Los Angeles and NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle, who opposed the move and had the backing of 22 of the league's 28 teams.

The jury which met for three hours Wednesday, before being taken to a hotel for the night, has been asked to decide whether Rozelle and the NFL violated antitrust laws by stopping Davis' proposed move.

At issue is the NFL's rule 43, which requires that three-fourths of the league's team owners consent to another team's move to a new community. Davis contends this is anti-competitive and a violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act.

Rozelle said the league is a partnership of owners all working for a common good and not in competition with each other.

"We feel our league has gotten as far as it has by staying together," Rozelle told reporters outside court. "We feel it should be treated as a partnership. This has ramifications for us as well as other sports groups."

But Davis told reporters professional football would profit "if we do away with these illegal rules."

"We have a great game," Davis said. "It's based on competition and they ought to let us compete."

Whatever the jury's verdict, Davis and Rozelle conceded that the scars of the marathon legal battle would not be easily erased.

"I really don't have that much respect for Pete Rozelle," said Davis. "I think he destroyed his credibility. He came off as a guy who misled the court."

And Rozelle told reporters, "I'd be less than human to say there aren't hard feelings."

But he insisted that if the case is decided in favor of the NFL and Davis remains in the league, "I'd just deal with him as I have in the past, like I have with all 27 clubs."

West Texas Running Club set Saturday

BROWNFIELD — A total of 34 trophies will be presented in eight divisions this Saturday when the West Texas Club Running Club sponsors their August Race.

The race will begin at 9 a.m., with the distance being five miles. Divisions include Open, 15 and under, High School and under, 30-39, 40-49, 50 and over, girls 24 and under, and ladies 25 and over.

Most of the race will run on flat, asphalt roads. Club members will pay one dollar to run, while non-club members will be charged two dollars.

Those desiring more information should call Mickey McClure.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, JULY 31, 1981

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This could be a day of arguments and much tensions coming into the open unless you make a point to maintain self-control. The points you display can impress others.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Ask questions of an associate and then you will know better what is expected of you. A private matter can be resolved now.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make certain you know the motive behind a favor a friend wants to bestow upon you. A social affair could be costly.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Carry through with what a higher-up expects of you instead of being obstinate. Safeguard your reputation tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Be sure to handle important business matters before engaging in social activities. Show that you have wisdom.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Keep friends and advisers apart today and avoid trouble. You have latent talents that should be put to work.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Contact higher-ups and gain the support you need. Show kindness with one who offends instead of becoming vengeful.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) It's important that you carry through with regular routines today instead of going on a foolish fun spree.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Don't jeopardize your security by spending lavishly for entertainment. Save your money instead and invest it wisely.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't join an argument between a family tie and a friend at this time. Streamline your social activities.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Although you may be provoked, don't argue with a co-worker who happens to be out of sorts at this time.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Find a more practical system for operating in the days ahead. Listen to what a successful friend has to suggest.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Try to get at the bottom of an unpleasant situation at home and establish more harmony. Strive for increased happiness.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be inclined to get in arguments and with little accomplished, so teach to get at underlying causes of trouble. Make sure your progeny develops the right philosophy of life. Don't neglect ethical training.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Prince Charles, Diana beginning honeymoon

ROMSEY, England (AP) — Prince Charles and his bride Diana were spending their first day of marriage in a home today with their host and hostess and 12 servants.

Britain basked in a glow of joy, pride and patriotism induced by Wednesday's glittering royal wedding, and revellers celebrated into the early hours, the couple spent their wedding night at Broadlands, the country estate of Charles' second cousin Lord Romsey 90 miles southwest of London.

Surrounded by 5,000 acres of fields and woodland near this small country town of 15,000 people in Hampshire county, the 18th century mansion was the home of the late Earl Mountbatten, Charles' great-uncle and Romsey's grandfather, who was assassinated by an Irish Republican Army bomb in August 1979.

The prince's parents, Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip, honeymooned there after their wedding in November 1947.

The nearest public road is more than a mile from the 21-room Georgian mansion. The main guest bedroom, the Portico Room, with floral print chintz curtains and four-poster bed, looks out over landscaped gardens and the River Test.

But the away-from-it-all peace and privacy of Broadlands that began when the estate's big black gate shut behind the prince and princess of Wales at 6:11 p.m. Wednesday will last only two days.

On Saturday they fly off to a tumultuous welcome from the 27,000 pro-British inhabitants of Gibraltar. There they will board the royal yacht Britannia for a two-week Mediterranean cruise.

Charles and Diana arrived at Romsey by train from London's Waterloo station to be greeted by a cheering, flag waving crowd of 30,000 and the pealing bells of Romsey Abbey, where Mountbatten is buried.

The 20-year-old bride was trimmed with a tricorn hat and a pink ostrich feather, while her 32-year-old husband wore a gray suit.

Former Manson member marries 'billionaire'

GREENVILLE, Texas (AP) — Donald Lee Laisure is a marrying man. By his own count he has repeated the vows 35 times and profited from the experience.

"I got wealthy by using my head. I looked for them rich women just like girls looking for rich oilmen," said Laisure.

But he insists his first 35 marriages didn't mean a thing — it's his bride No. 36 who has stolen his heart.

Susan Denise Atkins, the former Charles Manson "family" member convicted of murdering actress Sharon Tate in 1969, has announced she will marry Laisure next month in the prison chapel at the California Institute for Women in Frontera, Calif.

"I've never loved anyone else but Susan. I swear to God," said Laisure, 52, a balding, portly man described as a "character" by some of the other citizens of this city 80 miles northeast of Dallas.

Laisure drives a brown Fleetwood Cadillac with the words "Filthy Rich" emblazoned across the back in stick on letters. The car, like his apartment, is adorned with snapshots of women — photos he says will come down when he weds Miss Atkins.

He claims to be a billionaire and says he doesn't have to work because he has "enough money to last until I'm 500 years old."

Laisure says he has wed 35 times and officials at the Hunt County clerk's office say they don't doubt it. County records show Laisure has filed for divorces in the last year, and has signed two marriage licenses in addition to the license to marry Miss Atkins since March.

"He files all the time, and lost of times never goes through with them," one county clerk employee said.

Laisure says he has only married "beauty queens" with money and brains. But he insists he never swindled money out of his girlfriends.

"They would practically force the money on me," he said.

Laisure said it was love at first sight when he met Miss Atkins alongside a California freeway 15 years ago.

"I almost married her 15 years ago, but I married someone else," he said, refusing to explain why.

He said they saw each other on and off during the next few years and became so close he received psychic messages from California when she joined the Manson family.

Laisure insists Atkins had nothing to do with the murders. "She did not personally kill anybody. She's a scapegoat for the state of California."

'Boy in box' needs cool air

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) — A local couple has filed suit in federal court to force the Brownsville school district to air-condition the classroom where their son now is confined to a plexiglass cubicle.

Ana and Raul Espino started fighting their son's confinement to the 5-foot by 5-foot box almost a year ago, and lost their case before the State Board of Education in Austin.

Raul Espino Jr. cannot control his body temperature following an automobile accident and is confined to a wheelchair.

When the 7-year-old started first grade last September, the Brownsville Independent School District built him an enclosure cooled with a portable unit. But his parents objected to the box as being excessively restrictive.

The Espinos are seeking a preliminary injunction in federal court and $25,000 in compensatory and punitive damages.

U.S. District Judge Filemon Vela has been scheduled to consider the case at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

The suit contends that the cubicle will damage Raul emotionally and is not the "least restrictive environment" required for physically handicapped students.

ONE OF THE BEST THINGS THAT EVER HAPPENED IS ABOUT TO HAPPEN AGAIN.

Defendants in oil scam not guilty, jury rules

BY CAROL HART

BILL ELDER

STANTON — "Not guilty" was the verdict handed down by a Howard County jury Monday evening in the case of the State of Texas vs. John Theodor Sims and D.C. "Butch" Wheeler. The men were charged with attempted theft over $10,000 in an alleged oil scam against Cosden Oil and Chemical Company. They were suspected of selling the same barrel of oil over and over again to the Big Spring company.

JOHN GREEN
Defense attorney

Wheeler is owner of Jaco Oil Company, which was operating on the Currie Lease in Howard County at the time the men were arrested. Sims is a company pumper for Jaco.

Howard County District Attorney Rick Hamby, and Special Assistant Don Richard represented the state. John Green, former Ector County district attorney, represented Sims and Wheeler.

District Judge Jim Gregg, who moved the case to the Martin County courthouse last Tuesday when air conditioning broke down in the local courthouse, said the jury went out at 4:01 p.m. Monday, and returned with a verdict at 9:10 p.m.

Monday evening. "We had to be fair. We had to go on what they (the attorneys) gave us."

Glen Wilkins said "the state had a good case, but there were holes in the testimony."

Wilkins added that there were several reasons that the jury agreed on the not guilty verdict. "There were too many contradictions" in the testimony against the defendants, he said.

Ruby Ditmore said "some of us thought they were guilty," but added they felt the man's guilt could not "be proved beyond a doubt."

"There was contradictory testimony," Mrs. Ditmore said. "There was not enough evidence to say they were guilty."

Mrs. Ditmore added "I felt there was a whole lot left out that we needed to know. There were a lot of questions. The state could have put together a better case."

Another juror added "we couldn't go on assumption. Most of us believed they (Sims and Wheeler) were guilty. But the judge and the lawyers said that unless there was positive proof that they had stolen" we could not convict them.

Several of the jurors who talked to the Herald today said there were several discrepancies in the testimony. One of the people testifying for the state "couldn't say if the seal (on a meter used to monitor the flow into a Cosden pipeline) was on the meter or not.

"That blew the whole thing right there," said a juror.

Hamby, in discussing the case today, said "it was a very difficult case," adding that testimony in the case was "complicated."

"This is a difficult case to make," Hamby said, "But we're going to keep trying."

In closing arguments yesterday afternoon, Richard explained to the jury that the prosecution had looked at the alleged offense from three angles which offered "sufficient evidence that on the first and fifth (of January) no oil went from (Jaco's) storage tank into (Cosden's) pipeline."

Those three angles, he said, were: testimony by a state Railroad Commission official that the field could not produce the amount of oil Jaco claimed to be producing; additional testimony on oil being moved into Jaco's storage tanks; and evidence provided by a drop meter which prosecutors said showed no oil being pumped out of the tank into the Cosden pipeline.

Green countered by reminding jurors of testimony by another state Railroad Commission official who testified that at least one well was producing on the dates under question.

He responded to the allegation that Jaco turned off its pumps after the Cosden gauger came on the lease to gauge the amount of oil in the tank by impressing on the jurors that the evidence the state provided — newspaper photos and a videotape — offered nothing more than circumstantial evidence that anything wrong was occurring on the lease.

And finally, pointing out a discrepancy in testimony about readings of the meter, he told the jury that "someone set that meter back," between Cosden and state investigators.

Hamby then gave the state's rebuttal to Green's argument.

"You're going to have to believe that the Railroad Commission, the Texas Rangers, the Big Spring Herald and Cosden conspired" against Sims and Wheeler, he said. The implication was that was too wild a scheme for the jury to believe.

"The only thing you need to consider is that oil didn't go down that pipeline. It was closed, and made to look open," Hamby insisted.

"I'll admit that the evidence we presented to you is no more than circumstantial. There were no eyewitnesses. When you're stealing, do you shout out, 'Hey, I'm stealing'? No. You hide when you're stealing — and it worked."

Council stands firm against 100 Haitians

By BILL ELDER

The Big Spring City Council Tuesday stood firm in its protest against the 100 Haitian refugees housed at the Federal Prison Camp in the Industrial Park.

Jim McWilliams, pastor of the North Birdwell United Methodist Church, went before the council this morning and chided council members for their 3-2 protest vote taken last week, which "angered and embarrassed many of our constituents," McWilliams said.

Saying he was not addressing councilmen Russ McEwen and Robert Fuller, who declined to support the protest, McWilliams said the other council members had "fallen far short of the expected mark of understanding, compassion and morally accepted behavior."

Councilman Larry Miller told the pastor he had no intention of changing his stand while councilman Jack Y. Smith said "I'm doing what I think I should be doing. My conscience is clear at night."

Winston Wrinkle, president of the Chamber of Commerce, voiced support for the council and said: "It's not our commitment to take care of the poor of the world. If you study the Scriptures, you'll see that the poor are with us always. Our economy can't assimilate these people."

The council earlier had said it was making the protest to the federal government because of complaints from constituents that Big Spring would become "a refugee camp."

Texas Sen. John Tower's office last week said that he had been informed by the Justice Department that no more Haitian refugees would be transferred to Big Spring.

As for the Haitians here now, Camp Supervisor John Alliman has said he would not approve of them being released into the Big Spring community.

The refugees, who fled Haiti to find jobs in America, were scheduled to undergo screening by U.S. Immigration, Naturalization Service officials in Big Spring. The process will determine whether the Haitians are deported or released to relatives or sponsors in the United States.

Reagan will get vote

STATE NEWS SERVICE

WASHINGTON — With Democrats predicting a 20-vote House victory on tax cuts prior to the president's speech Monday night, it appeared more definite that the much-publicized defection of nine Texas Democrats to the Republican side on a close budget vote in May probably would not be repeated.

Nevertheless, previously undecided Rep. Charles Stenholm, D-Stamford, announced Monday that he would side with the president, bringing to at least five the number of Texas Democrats who probably will vote for the three-year Republican tax cut plan rather than the plan offered by Democrats.

Debate on tax cuts will begin on the House floor Wednesday, with Rep. Kent Hance, D-Lubbock, leading portions of the floor debate on oil tax incentives.

Besides Hance and Stenholm, Rep. Phil Gramm, D-College Station, has committed himself to the Republican plan, and Reps. Sam Hall, D-Marshall, and Marvin Leath, D-Marlin, have said they lean toward the Republicans.

West Fest 81 to raise March of Dimes funds

West Fest 81 — a day of carnival events, bingo, game booths, food concessions and live entertainment — will be held Sept. 13 at Comanche Trail Park, according to Billie Davis, executive director of the local March of Dimes.

The event will be held from 11 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. to raise money for the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation.

The two biggest events will be a Fiddler's Contest at 4 p.m. and two auctions at 2:30 p.m. and 6 p.m.

Organizations, clubs or civic groups wishing to have a booth at West Fest 81 are urged to contact either Pat Sherwood, chairperson, at 267-3455 after 6 p.m.; or the March of Dimes office at 113 W. 2nd, Suite 104; or call 263-3014 for registration forms.

Organizations with food concessions will be required to give 40 percent of their proceeds to the March of Dimes. Forty percent of the proceeds from the Fiddlers Contest will also go to the March of Dimes. There is a registration fee of $10 for all booths. Deadline is Aug. 15.

Other highlights of the day will be a caricature artist, photo booth, T-shirt and balloon sales a country store and clowns.

Game booths — run by March of Dimes volunteers — will include a quarter slide, dunking booth, dart board, bingo, rope and steer, kissing booth, vase coin toss, ring toss and others.

"We hope to project a carnival-type atmosphere with fun for the entire family," said Mrs. Davis.

Mitchell grand jury issues 14 indictments

COLORADO CITY (SC) — The Mitchell County grand jury Monday released 14 indictments against 12 persons.

George Edward Miles was indicted on two counts of jail escape and one of forgery. On one occasion, he left the County jail, but was returned by his mother. The second time, he and Darren Dwayne

Woody rushed out of the jail, past a jail matron, only to be caught in a weedy area near the jail a short while later.

Woody also has been indicted for that jail escape. Others indicted by the grand jury include Robert Lewis Draper, Frank Anderson and Charles Allen Moore, possession of marijuana.

Man nabbed in Big Spring receives life sentence

Douglas Loring Ashby, who was arrested in Big Spring following the posting of a state-wide alert in February, was given a life in prison sentence for the murder of his 21-month-old stepson. Ashby was arrested at the Rip Griffin Truck Stop locally after a teletype message sent state-wide gave a description of the man accused of beating, burning, scalding and ripping the hair from his wife's child by a former marriage. A warrant for Ashby's arrest was issued from Haltom City, where he had been living. Local officers Barry Smith and Scott Howard, and Sgt. Jimmy Wallace, were dispatched to the truck stop at 7:20 a.m. Feb. 12, when they were alerted that a man matching Ashby's description was inside. Ashby was arrested at the scene, and later transferred to Haltom City. During last week's trial for the 24-year-old defendant, Sgt. Wallace and Avery Faulkner were called to testify.

Rodeo, queen nominees named

By RENEE BLACKWELL
When folks think of rodeos, most of them think of rank stock, wild calves, fast horses, and the talented cowboys and cowgirls that work with them. However, no rodeo would be complete without a rodeo queen, and the names of the candidates for the Big Spring Junior Rodeo are on hand. Nominated from the Coahoma 4-H club is Jeanie Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Robertson; from the Knott 4-H club is Leigh Ann Billingsley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Billingsley; Dawn Underwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Underwood is the nominee from the Gay Hill 4-H club; Sue Leshar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Leshar is from the Lucky Acres 4-H club; and Lorri Roman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Roman, is representing the Forsan 4-H club. The individual 4-H clubs, united under the county club, nominate one candidate to represent their club in the queen's contest. The candidate selling the most tickets will be the queen of the rodeo this year. Even though the ticket sales have not been turned in, the rodeo will have a large number of participants. Don Richardson, county extension agent, said that there will be approximately 400 entries in this year's rodeo. The ticket sales committee chairpersons are Mr. and Mrs. Rob Ethridge. They are assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Alexander and Mrs. Emily Elrod.

Big Spring All-Stars take 1st round win

ABILENE — The Big Spring Big League All-Stars used the three-hit pitching of Tommy Rodriguez and a potent attack in demolishing the Arlington All-Stars by a score of 17-0 in the first round of the District 16-18 year-old Tournament here Monday night. The Big Spring team, managed by John Velasquez, scored once in the first to take a lead they would never relinquish. The blow that gave the Big Springers a 4-0 lead in the third inning was a two-out, bases loaded double by Jinx Valenzuela. The Big Springers made the game a rout in the final inning, scoring 10 runs, with Mark Warren's bases loaded triple being the biggie. Warren was excellent at the plate, driving out three doubles and a triple, while Valenzuela had three hits. Oscar Limon added a pair of hits, with Tommy Olague, Rusty Hayworth and James Walker all chipping in with one hit each. Rodriguez whiffed six in the contest, and his teammates committed only one error. Two of the hits off him were infield singles. Big Spring will meet Abilene tonight at six o'clock. Waine Shipman will toe the mound for the Big Spring team.

Kwiksilver wins District VII Slow-Pitch

Kwiksilver won the District VII Slow-Pitch Tournament the past weekend, overcoming the Westside Kings in the final two games for the title. Teams from Big Spring, Snyder, Ackerly and Sterling City were involved in the tournament, which sends the top four teams to the State Class A Tournament in Midland in two weeks. Kwiksilver had advanced through the losers bracket to meet the Kings. They topped them in the championship round by scores of 9-8 and 13-3. The Kings had earlier defeated Kwiksilver 10-7. Taking third place were the Ackerly Plowboys, while the Big Spring Astros finished fourth. Kwiksilver's Robin Wall as the Tourney MVP. Other All-Tournament players included Kwiksilver's Jody Flores, Joey Pate and Roger Evans, the Kings Tony Rubio, Pano Rodriguez and Lupe Lara, Steven Hern and Eddie Hern of the Plowboys and David Walkub of the Astros.

Brenda Scott Van Gaskins are honored

Mr. and Mrs. John McGregor, Knott, honored Brenda Scott, Coahoma, and her fiancé, Van Gaskins, Knott, July 21 with a "paper shower" in shades of blue. Guests were registered on a square tier table draped with blue. Unique and useful gifts of paper were presented to the honored couple in a large fiberboard storage box, which was a gift from the host couple. The square refreshment table was covered with a white embossed paper cloth and centered with honeycomb wedding bells and fresh summer poinsettia leaves. Lime sherbet and ginger ale were served in paper appointments. Special guests were Mrs. Larry Nix, mother of the bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins, parents of the prospective bridegroom, his grandmother, Mrs. Nora Gaskins, Knott, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Martin, Lamesa. Approximately 25 guests attended. The couple will exchange vows Saturday in the Midway Baptist Church.

Partisanship inescapable in congressional remapping

Representative Larry Don Shaw Reports from Austin

The latest issue of Texas Monthly Magazine contains one of the best analyses I've seen on the battle over how to draw Texas' 27 new congressional districts.

The article, entitled "The Deal that Didn't Work," does an especially good job of explaining why Dallas County is the main point of contention in the fight. Here are some excerpts:

"Houston and the Rio Grande Valley had grown faster than any of the other regions... Dallas, Fort Worth, and San Antonio had failed to keep pace, which meant that they would lose representatives. That made them, especially Dallas, the bloodiest battlegrounds of the redistricting war."

"A political map of most cities would resemble an archery target, with concentric circles composed of minorities at the center, Anglo Democrats in the next ring, and Republican suburbs encircling all. Minority legislators — who lost population but were protected by law from losing their districts — reached outward to take away the white Democrat's constituents. Since the Democrats were usually short of people to start with, that left them little recourse to take in suburban constituents. And — proof — their districts turned Republican."

In Dallas County, the question became this: Should the Legislature continue to split the large black community between two congressional districts (currently represented by Congressmen Martin Frost and Jim Mattox, both moderate Democrats) or should most of the black community be "packed" into one district, thus making it possible for a black to be elected to Congress but at the same time insuring that a Republican would win the other seat.

Many respected black leaders, after much soul searching, decided to oppose the one-black-and-one-Republican plan. They reasoned that they would be better served by two friendly white Democratic congressmen than they would be electing one of their own but giving the other seat to the Republicans. The Senate, however, voted 16-15 in favor of the one black-one Republican plan, and the fight now moves to the House.

I have mixed feelings. The Republicans have undeniably made great gains during the last ten years, and they probably deserve another congressional seat for two from Texas. Also, Texas has a sizable black population but only one black congressman. On the other side, many staunch Democrats argue that it's every Democrat's duty to hold out for as many Democratic districts as possible.

One other consideration goes beyond these partisan and racial factors, however. Currently, a Texas congressman, U.S. Rep. Jim Wright (D-Ft. Worth) is Majority Leader of the U.S. House of Representatives, second only to Speaker Tip O'Neill, and it's widely held that Wright would become speaker when O'Neill retires. The importance of that to all Texans — Democrats and Republicans alike — cannot be overstated.

That won't happen, though, if the Democrats don't hold on to a majority in the House, and if recent trends continue, the Republicans quite possibly could cut into the Democratic margin and, some predict, even take control of the House next year. Naturally, Wright supporters argue that, while we should be fair, the balance of power in the Congress could hinge on one member, and we shouldn't give the Republicans any more seats than is absolutely necessary.

I favor giving the Republicans at least one more district but, quite frankly, I have not yet decided whether or not we should draw a black congressional district in Dallas County and thus give the Republicans a second new district.

I plan to listen very closely to the debate before I cast my vote.

Dimmit County names attorney

CARRIZO SPRINGS, Texas (AP) — The Dimmit County Commissioners Court has named a new county attorney to replace Pablo Bustamante, who resigned on July 10 in a plea bargain agreement.

Bustamante was ordered to resign and to serve seven years probation after pleading guilty to misapplication of county funds.

The appointee, Alfred Fitzpatrick, served as county attorney when former county attorney Bill Casey resigned and moved to Zavala County.

Fitzpatrick chose not to run re-election at the end of his term and has been practicing law in Carrizo Springs.

A Texas Ranger investigation — which resulted in the indictment of Bustamante and a justice of the peace — continues in this South Texas county.

Demos keep fighting revised House remap plan

By KATHRYN JONES
Harris-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Over the protests of Democratic Party loyalists who vow they'll keep fighting the House redistricting committee Monday adopted a congressional reapportionment plan favored by conservatives.

Rep. Tim Von Dohlen of Goliad, chairman of the committee, won support for his plan after making revisions to bring his reapportionment map closer to the version Texas senators approved last Tuesday.

Committee members voting for the plan said those changes may make it easier for the House and Senate to agree on a reapportionment map and avoid having to send the decision to a joint conference committee.

In essence, the proposal gives Dallas County a 63.7 percent black-majority district and gives South Texas a new 53 percent Hispanic district.

Northwest and West Texas' five congressional districts remain basically the same under the House committee-adopted plan and the Senate version.

U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm's

District 17, which includes Taylor and Howard counties, are drawn identically under both proposals.

Rep. Gary Thompson of Abilene, a redistricting committee member, said that means the district has a good chance of keeping those same lines in the final reapportionment map.

"Under any plan, the district has historically been virtually the same," said Thompson, who voted for Von Dohlen's proposal. "I think it's a good plan."

Other conservatives such as House Speaker Bill Clements favor the plan, and Gov. Bill Clements has said he's satisfied as long as a reapportionment bill gives his home Dallas County a black-dominated district.

State Democratic Party Chairman Bob Slagle said even with the revisions, the plan spells bad news for Democratic incumbent U.S. Reps. Martin Frost and Jim Mattox of Dallas and places U.S. Rep. Bill Patman of Ganado in a conservative district.

Von Dohlen's previous proposals delegated a new congressional district to Harris County and drew what some opponents called a dragon-shaped district in South Texas.

When that plan drew criticism last week and appeared doomed to lose by a one-vote margin, Von Dohlen said he met with individual members and decided to conform his plan more closely to the Senate version.

N. M. woman wreck victim

COLORADO CITY — A 28-year-old woman was killed about 8 a.m. today on Interstate 20 about a mile west of FM 2836, according to the Department of Public Safety.

Debra Marie Hummel, 28, of Las Cruces, N.M., was killed when the car she was in went off the road near an overpass in the con-

He had said he would make changes only in Dallas and Harris counties, but the revisions spanned half the state, reaching from South Texas to the northeast part of the state.

Witnesses said the wreckage of the car "looked like an accordion." The car appeared to have been traveling east.

Trustees award bids

COLORADO CITY (SC) — The Colorado School Trustees met Monday night in a special session and awarded several bids for remodeling.

The remodeling of offices for the Tax Appraisal District goes to H & H Contractors of Colorado City at a cost of $35,313.73.

Additionally, a parking area will be done by Bob and Bobby Nobles Dirt Contractors at a cost of $10,504.

Other bids included remodeling the band hall-choir room at the Middle School, plus closing windows at Hutchins Elementary School and air conditioning the practice room. That bid went to Haney & Haney Contractors of Abilene for a cost of $69,496. In addition, Nobles Dirt Contractors will be doing some other work at the back of the Administration Building.

In additional business, the Trustees authorized the school district to advertise for bids on two 1965 Dodge school buses to be sold and Athletic Director Tom Ramsey presented a program on athletic policies in the school district.

No action was taken during the meeting to nominate someone to replace Mrs. Vernon Lewis on the tax appraisal board, although that decision will be made during a future meeting.

Lion's Convention reviewed

Thirty-five people attended the Big Spring Evening Lion's Club's Ladies' Night at Furr's Cafeteria Monday night. Past district governor Joe Pond and wife Nell were introduced as guests.

Lt. Governor George Weiss of the Midland Downtown Lion's Club introduced the current District Governor of District 2A-1, Russell McMeans of Stanton Noon Lion's Club and his wife, Georgia.

McMeans told the gathering about the Lion's International Convention held at Phoenix, Ariz., in June. He also reminded the local Lion's that international vice president, Eb Grindstaff of Ballinger, will be the incoming president of Lion's International when the 1982 convention takes place in Atlanta, Ga. McMeans wants all of the clubs in this district to qualify for the Melvin Jones Award, and to have every club in the District achieve the 100 percent participation of $10 per member contribution to the crippled children's camp in Kerrville.

Let's make Texas look good for Eb Grindstaff when he becomes president of the International Service Club, he said.

Cast, crew of 'Iron Horse Revue' view video-tape

Cast and crew members who performed in the "Iron Horse Revue" during the recent Howard County Centennial will have a chance Saturday to view the show in its entirety via a video-tape, according to Bob Lewis, show chairman.

The video-tape will be shown in the Comanche Trail Park amphitheatre Saturday. Cast, crew and the public are invited to come out to the amphitheatre, said Lewis, at 8:30 p.m., and bring a picnic supper and soft drinks.

Lewis said certificates would be distributed to everyone who participated in the "Iron Horse Revue."

NEW IMPROVED!

Pay By Mail

BENEFITS TO YOU

CONVENIENCE— avoids untimely interruptions...eliminates monthly collections.

RECORDS— you receive an easy to read statement with corresponding dates.

SIMPLICITY—you may pay for three, six or twelve months, whichever you choose.

AND IT COSTS YOU NOTHING AT ALL!

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. What is the ^{New Improved} PAY BY MAIL PROGRAM?

A. This is a program offered to readers of the Herald, whereby those people who prefer to pay for their newspapers through the office may do so.

Q. How does the PAY BY MAIL PROGRAM work?

A. The reader may pay for his subscription for three, six or twelve months in advance.

Q. Can the reader pay through the office by the month?

A. No. We are not able to offer this service.

Q. How much does it cost?

A. There is no charge for this service. It is offered as a convenience for you and your carrier.

Q. What happens to my payment?

A. Your carrier is given credit for your payment each month after it is earned.

Q. Is there any advantage to my carrier if I pay by mail?

A. Yes. You are registered as a PAY BY MAIL customer and this eliminates the necessity of his making a collection each month.

Q. What happens if I stop for a vacation?

A. The copies missed during the vacation period will be saved in a vacation pack and delivered upon your return.

Q. If I stop my paper for any reason, do I lose my money?

A. No. A full refund will be made if you must discontinue your paper for any reason.

Q. Will I be billed when my payment is due?

A. Yes. You will be billed by the Big Spring Herald on the first of the month prior to the expiration date.

Q. On what day does my subscription expire?

A. All PAY BY MAIL payments commence with the first day of any month. Therefore, your subscription would expire on the last day of the month of the period for which you have paid.

Q. What happens if my payment is past due?

A. If your payment has not been received by the expiration date, your carrier will be notified and collection will be made at the home.

Knott is site of bridal luncheon

Lisa Furlong, bride-elect of Jim Bob Coates, was honored with a bridal luncheon Saturday in the home of Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins, Knott.

The honoree's chosen colors of pink and burgundy were used throughout the entertainment area. The entrance to the foyer was marked with a straw basket holding a nosegay and pink and burgundy streamers. Guests registered on an antique oak table, centered with a nosegay of summer flowers and a porcelain figurine.

The guests were served a hot appetizer from a silver tea service, and the buffet table was laid with ecru linen edged in lace. A round mirror reflecting a lead crystal bell, a trio of pink tapers in crystal holders, and a burgundy rose in a crystal bud base centered the table.

Guests were seated at tables laid with ecru linen edged with lace and centered with crystal bells tied with pink and burgundy bows. Places were marked with nosegays of matching summer flowers and handmade place cards.

Assisting Mrs. Gaskins were Brenda Scott, Coahoma, and Mrs. Kelly Gaskins, Knott.

Special guests were Mrs. Kenneth Furlong, Big Spring, the honoree's mother, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. James Coates, of the Salem community, and his grandmother, Mrs. Ruth Appleton, Vincent.

The hostesses presented Miss Furlong with a lead crystal fruit bowl. The couple will marry Aug. 15 in the First Baptist Church of Coahoma.

Coahoma to adopt school budget

COAHOMA — Members of the Coahoma school board will adopt the 1981-82 budget and set the tax rate when they convene in regular session at 8 p.m., Monday.

In other business, the trustees will employ new personnel, open bids on gasoline, milk and bread, set school price lunches, adopt the student's handbook.

Child injured when hit by cycle

Toni Lynn Kinman, 6, of Route 1, Box 3250, was injured when she was struck by a motorcycle Monday.

Miss Kinman's bicycle and a motorcycle driven by an 11-year-old boy collided about 9 p.m. Monday. Miss Kinman was taken to Malone-Hogan hospital to be treated for injuries received in the incident.

Sale announced by Harte-Hanks

Harte-Hanks Communications, Inc. has announced the sale of Show Case Publishing Co. to Taylor Communications, Inc. of Dallas.

Show Case publishes Fashion Showcase, a national publication for apparel buyers. The terms of the sale were not disclosed.

Students win A&M honors

COLLEGE STATION — Two students from Big Spring have earned "Distinguished Student" status at Texas A&M University. They are Van M. Gaskins, junior agricultural economics and Barry T. Rosson, junior civil engineering.

Recipients of the "Distinguished Student" honor must earn at least a 3.25 grade point ratio, out of a possible 4.0, during the most recent grading period.

Whipkey Drive vote expected

Consideration for making Whipkey Drive a two-way drive from the Figure 7 tennis courts to US 87 will be given during the 10 a.m. meeting of the Big Spring Traffic Commission next Friday.

Committee members will also study traffic control on the intersections of Fifth and Bell and Sixth and Bell during their meeting.

FINE CANDIES MAKE PERFECT GIFTS
...see the selection at Rainbarrel Gifts and Candies

Rainbarrel opens old fashioned candy store

The Rainbarrel Gift shop in College Park Shopping Center already has a reputation for offering the most unusual of gifts. Now they are tempting Big Spring's collective sweet tooth with some of the finest candy made anywhere.

Rainbarrel owners Steve and Amy Lewis have just opened an old fashioned candy store in the gift shop. Now Rainbarrel Gifts and Candies carries not only quality, unique gifts, but also delicious, hard to find candies.

Some of the more famous candy brands they stock include Lammes Candies from Austin, Sweet Shop candies from Fort Worth, and Lee's Country Candies, also out of Fort Worth, makers of the much-loved Fudge Loves. They also carry Jelly Belly jelly beans, the jelly beans made famous by President Reagan.

These are candies that are sold at the finest department stores. They have handmade gourmet chocolates with no preservatives added. They have fruit slice candies, mini-fruits, rock candy, brandy truffles, and grape, lemon, cherry and tangerine sours.

Rainbarrel is also the only place in town that you can find white chocolate.

In addition, they carry thousands of containers that are perfect for gift giving. The candy is also available in gift boxes, to make a perfect gift.

This old fashioned candy counter only adds to the great selection of gifts already available at the Rainbarrel. They still have stained glass, candles, chimes, and gag gifts.

The Rainbarrel is open from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday. If your sweet tooth yearns for some of the finest candies made, or if you're looking for the perfect gift for someone, check our Rainbarrel Gifts and Candies.

Morris Robertson, sons want to please public

If you happen to put a dent in your car, or if you need a new paint job on that not-so-new automobile, Morris Robertson is the person you need to see.

Morris Robertson Body Shop, at 207 Goliad, has the experienced people to get the job you need done. They have been in Big Spring as a family business since 1946.

Morris and his sons take a great deal of pride in the professional work they do. The people of Big Spring and the surrounding area know they can trust the Robertsons. They are in business to please the public, and they please them by turning out the best work at the most reasonable prices.

They are open and honest about what the job will take, and they aren't out to make a little extra money by taking advantage of someone in need.

Morris Robertson Body Shop offers complete body work facilities. They can do radiator work, body work, and can mend the broken glass and straighten the frame on your car.

QUALITY BODY WORK OFFERED ... at Morris Robertson's

They open their doors at 7:30 a.m. every Monday through Friday, and remain open until 5:30 p.m.

In this day of high speed traffic, even the most careful of drivers can make a mess of their car. Newest economic forecast doesn't have a rosey tint

NEW YORK (AP) — From whatever source your economic message comes, it bears rather poor news for the next few months. Some bit of discomfort seems assured for nearly everyone, and a recession grows more likely.

If your source is anti-administration, the grim outlook is served up like a dish of cold greasy stew. Inflation could worsen any day now; interest rates might remain high; unemployment is likely to creep up. Should your source be more friendly to the Reagan people, you will hear that the economic menu, though unpalatable as cod liver oil, is conducive to the building of strong bones for future growth.

The message is the same, however, in that they tell you not to make big spending plans or take big risks or dream big dreams for the rest of the year because its going to be a tricky time. The Federal Reserve has reiterated its intention of keeping his foot on the monetary brakes. Now, people who try to forecast interest rates have just about written off any sharp drop before winter.

Carmakers already have experienced one of the worst Junes in their entire history. They had had big hopes; they were to have been the year they would give the American public the cars had been demanding. But the public seems unable to afford them.

Five years ago the family that needed a big sum perhaps to buy a car might have taken a loan of the homestead. Try getting second mortgage loan today that can be repaid on "easy terms."
