'The folks at City Hall'

Brown defends city water

By BILL ELDER
Staff Writer

The first thing one wants to know when one sits down for an interview with the city's utilities director is this: Why does the city's water taste so salty?

Bill Brown leans back in his City Hall office — an office cluttered with charts and blueprints and even rusty water mains — and smiles as he answers.

"You're asking the wrong person. I personally do not find the water of the city of Big Spring to be objectionable."

Okay, so there is no bottled water or reverse-osmosis unit attached to the plumbing in the Brown household — but what does he say to the folks who call his office to complain about the quality of Big Spring water?

"We don't have a problem that's really treatable, other than by drastic changes in our treatment process. It's just solids, dissolved solids, such as salt and calcium. They're natural pollutants. As the water travels across the ground it picks these up. The quality is affected by the hydrological cycle — by natural phenomena — and nothing else."

"If it does not rain when it should, our water can get no better or worse. We're depending on rainfall to better our quality of water," the man in charge of water treatment and distribution patiently explains, even though it must be the millionth time he's had to defend the city's water.

He adds that the water is treated to make it safe and to remove the "suspended solids" so that it achieves clarity. Beyond that, it's "not economically feasible" to tamper with the water.

"We're looking at a problem of elements. If we were looking at a problem of organics — such as vegetation — we could do something about it," he concludes.

At age 51, Bill Brown has been defending the city's water before an often suspicious and occasionally irate public for 10 years in his post as utilities director. He sees the primary purpose of his department, which also handles sewage collection and treatment, as one of providing "customer satisfaction."

"Our objective is to supply a palatable product," he explains, meaning: We're here to give you the best water we can.

As head of a department that calls on people once a month to dig into their pockets and pay for the city services they've enjoyed, Brown and his staff get their share of complaints.

"We don't get more than our share — but we do get a lot," Brown says. "We try to take each complaint and look at it on an individual basis."

It's this personal attention to customer problems that has won Brown a place in the hearts of at least a few city residents. Brown shares with pride a Christmas card he received from an elderly widow who thanked him profusely for the speed with which his staff solved her complaint — which appeared to be a large amount of mud in her front yard.

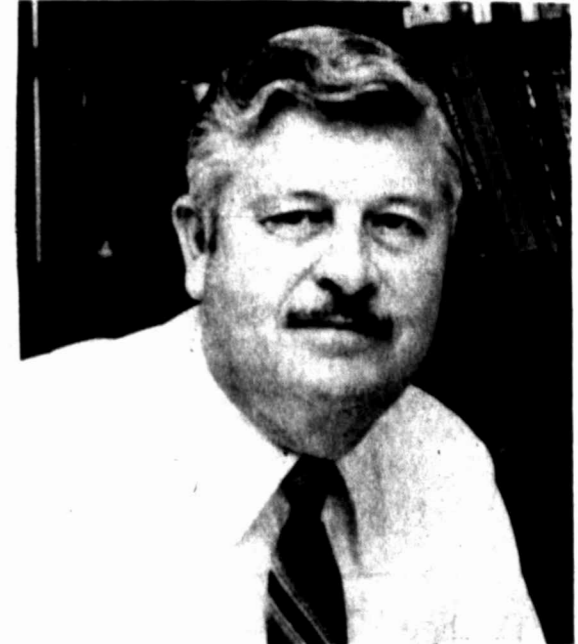

"You don't need anything more than this," says Brown as he gazes at the card. "That's the ultimate reward."

Brown is capping 13 years of public service in Big Spring with his resignation at the end of this month. Actually, his time spent serving the public reaches back to 1948, when Brown joined the Army. He spent 20 years in the military — as an instructor, recruiter, warehouseman, engineer, master sergeant. His last assignment was as a science instructor for the U.S. Army Medical Training Center at Fort Sam Houston near San Antonio.

"I decided that after 20 years in the military I would retire. I wanted to work in the public health field," Brown recalls. "I wanted to work for the city of Big Spring since I had property here."

"I like it here. My wife (Jackie) feels the same way. It's the best place we've ever been and we've lived in a lot of places."

Having gained knowledge of water and sewer service techniques from studies and certification both inside and outside the Army, Brown took on the job as superintendent of sewage treatment for the city of Big Spring in June, 1968. Two years later he was promoted to his current post as director of both water and sewage services.

BILL BROWN
City Utilities Director

Editors note — This is part six of a nine-part daily Herald series entitled "The folks at City Hall." The series is an attempt to acquaint city residents with the people who run the various departments at Big Spring City Hall.

With 44 employees and a $3.1 million slice of the proposed fiscal 1981-82 budget, utilities is one of the largest and most expensive city departments. It also is one of the city's principal sources of revenue, with a projected 1981-82 "gross" that's about $1,500 more than total budgeted expenditures for the utilities department.

Brown is retiring for "personal reasons" and hopes to stay in Big Spring. He has an offer for a job, he says, but nothing is definite. He's aware that his options aren't plentiful.

"There's not too many places where an ex-director of utilities can go," he admits.

Whatever job Brown lands, it's "going to be something with a challenge to it," he insists.

It's a safe bet it won't be the bottled water business.

City finding utilities post difficult to fill

Bill Brown's post as utilities director could remain unfilled beyond Brown's Oct. 1 resignation date, City Manager Don Davis told The Herald this morning.

Davis said he was searching for a replacement but it was a "probability" that a new utilities director wouldn't be found in time to assume the post when Brown leaves it.

"We've done some advertising but so far as I know we haven't really had any applicants yet. We might solicit some placement service help on this," Davis said.

Davis earlier had said he was thinking of reorganizing the City Hall hierarchy upon Brown's departure, and added this morning that it was "too soon to tell" whether Brown's replacement would have any more or less duties than are currently carried out by the utilities director.

Rain, rain go away, cotton farmers say

Expecting only a 30 percent chance of rain today Big Spring residents were surprised this morning when showers started falling at approximately 10:15 a.m.

The Experiment Farm weather station said it had only received a trace of rain, but a spokesman said it was raining steadily at the Farm's location.

Agricultural Extension agent Don Richardson said earlier this week that the light showers the area has been receiving help retain ground moisture.

Richardson said he hopes that rainfall will lighten up in the future so that cotton crops will flourish and farmers can harvest the cotton without delay.

The forecast for today predicts a 30 percent chance of rain increasing to 40 percent tonight and diminishing to 20 percent Saturday.

Long-range forecasts predict partly cloudy skies with no appreciable temperature changes. Highs next week should be in the mid to upper 80's.

Quake rocks Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A strong earthquake rolled through the Los Angeles area today, shaking the downtown area for about 15 seconds. There were no immediate reports of damage or injury.

The earthquake was felt as far away as Santa Barbara, 90 miles northwest of Los Angeles, and in San Diego, 125 miles south of Los Angeles.

A Santa Barbara resident, Jerry Renkin, said the quake was "very strong. It's the strongest we've felt in at least three years."

The National Earthquake Information Center in Golden, Colo., said a preliminary reading showed a quake of magnitude of 5.8 on the Richter scale hit at 8:51 a.m. PDT. It was centered in the San Pedro Channel off Long Beach, geophysicist Waverly Person said.

It was the strongest earthquake to hit Los Angeles since a quake that registered 6.4 in killed 65 people in February 1981.

French ambassador killed in Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — French Ambassador Louis Delamare was ambushed by unidentified gunmen today and a doctor at Barbir Hospital said the ambassador died of his wounds shortly after arriving there.

No one made any immediate claim of responsibility for the ambush.

Lebanese police and the French Embassy said the ambassador was shot in the head, chest and stomach.

A police statement broadcast by Lebanon's state radio said unknown gunmen opened fire at the ambassador as he was being driven back to his official residence close to the green line that divides Beirut into Moslem and Christian sectors.

The statement said the 59-year-old Delamare, a career diplomat and father of five children, was shot at 2:10 p.m. — 8:10 a.m. EDT. The doctor, who did not want to be quoted by name, said the ambassador was pronounced dead about 15 minutes after he was brought into the hospital of "multiple gunshot wounds in the head, chest and abdomen."

The privately owned "Voice of Lebanon" radio station said four gunmen riding in a white German-made BMW car shot the ambassador after trailing his metallic blue Peugeot 604 four-door sedan and then sped away. The police statement said Delamare's driver immediately turned the car around and raced to the emergency ward of Barbir Hospital, a few dozen yards from the scene of the shooting in mostly Moslem west Beirut.

The police statement did not give any details of the assailants but said a team of senior Lebanese officers moved to the scene and began an investigation.

Delamare's residence, a mid-city mansion known as "Residence des Pins," was in the mostly Moslem western sector of Beirut.

The ambassador had been assigned to Beirut in that post since Aug. 28, 1979.

Legislator surrenders, claims innocence

Martin charged with lying to jury about shooting

LONGVIEW, Texas (AP) — State Rep. Mike Martin, who is accused of lying to a grand jury when he denied he staged his own shooting, has surrendered to authorities while maintaining his innocence and predicting his case would never go to trial.

The Republican legislator, a shooting victim who at various times said he was the target of unknown assailants, satanic hit men and political enemies, was indicted Thursday in Austin for aggravated perjury.

"I will probably ask the court to assign me an attorney because I do not have the funds to hire one myself. I just hope they will give me a thoroughly good criminal lawyer," Martin said just before he surrendered to a Gregg County constable Thursday night.

Martin, who faces a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and a $5,000 fine if convicted, was taken before Justice of the Peace Robert Malcolm Thursday night and then released on $5,000 bond.

The Longview lawmaker said he would plead innocent and predicted if his case went to court it would take two years with "mistrials, hung juries and appeals." But he added that he doubted he would ever be tried.

"Every attorney I've talked to has said it won't go to court," said Martin.

"If the district attorney wants to spend another quarter of a million dollars to have the horrible preacher Mike Martin put in jail or fined remains to be seen," said Martin. "I would think they would come to me and ask me to resign. It seems the practical thing to do rather than spend all that money on a trial."

Travis County District Attorney Ronald Earle said he has no intention now of asking for Martin's resignation in a plea bargain. But he added, "Things change."

Martin, 29, was wounded in the left arm by shotgun fire in the early morning hours of July 31 near the carpenter-trailer where he lived in Austin during the special legislative session.

That story was undercut by Charles Goff, Martin's cousin, who said Martin plotted the shooting in order to gain publicity. Goff said Martin paid him and offered him a job to fire the shotgun in a "controlled hit."

Assistant District Attorney Allen Hill said in Austin that Travis County grand jurors alleged Martin lied to them on Aug. 25 when he said he "did not plan and stage the shooting and wounding of himself."

Earle said, "For reasons known best to himself, we have alleged he arranged his own shooting. ... Because of the allegations he made and the position of public faith he occupied, there is an enormous amount of public interest in what happened to him."

"Since he told conflicting stories, he was taken before the grand jury so the public's right to know what happened would be satisfied. ... We have alleged that in that appearance before the grand jury, he lied. ... The thing that typifies the entire episode is he lied. ... His mistake was telling a lie," said Earle.

"I'm innocent until proven guilty or at least that is the way it is supposed to be in America, but it appears politicians are guilty until proven innocent," Martin said Thursday night.

The prosecutor said there was no felony committed at the trailer park; it is not illegal to have yourself shot. Martin, who ignored one subpoena and avoided another before testifying, became a felony defendant when he allegedly lied to the grand jurors, Earle said.

If Martin had told them he planned the shooting, he would have faced only a misdemeanor charge — perhaps for making a false report to police, Earle said. Pleading the Fifth Amendment right against self-incrimination also could have saved Martin from a perjury charge, the prosecutor said.

Earle said the investigation of the shooting is over, but Hill said he is looking into Martin's financial affairs. The Austin American-Statesman reported Thursday that Martin took a corporate contribution, which is illegal.

Earle said another possible charge — insurance fraud — was ruled out because, "it is my understanding he filed a claim but payment was not made under the claim."

No one else will be indicted in connection with the shooting, Hill said.

Martin, a carpenter and building contractor, was a political unknown when he decided to run against incumbent Rep. Jimmy Mankins, D-Longview, last year.

He surprised observers by beating the incumbent, partly on the strength of Ronald Reagan's 68 percent vote in Gregg County.

He showed a definite naivete about the legislative process once he arrived in Austin. Among his first moves was to try to fire the staff of a committee Mankins chaired. Martin assumed he would inherit the chairmanship because he beat Mankins.

The House Speaker makes new committee assignments and appoints new chairmen each session.

Martin, assigned a back seat in the 150-member House, was a quiet member. He sponsored one bill, an effort to require the teaching of creation science in addition to evolution. The bill died in committee, and Martin failed in attempts to tack it onto other bills.

'This is Elvis' a captivating film

There were many red, watery eyes as movie patrons left the Cinema Theater Thursday night. "This Is Elvis" was shown in a special preview that night to many loyal fans of the late Elvis Presley.

The movie begins at the end with the death of Presley, and flashes back to Tupelo, Miss., where the singer was born. "This Is Elvis" is a two-hour summary of his life, songs, TV appearances, concerts and family. Though Presley as a youngster and before his TV appearances was portrayed by a look-alike, the remainder of the movie is almost totally original clips of the films, movies and TV appearances made by "The King". The narrations are the actual voices of Elvis, his parents, his wife, and others that were closed to him.

There are few surprises in the film, but true fans of Elvis don't want surprises, they want him. And that's what they get. The movies does bring out some little-known or forgotten facts about the singer, however: his failing grade in music in high school (he was also banned from the Glee Club), the controversy surrounding his movement on stage, his passion for buying his friends gifts (100 Cadillacs he gave away during his lifetime), and his dependency on prescription drugs, something his fans would rather forget.

The songs themselves are enough to make "This Is Elvis" worth seeing. "That's All Right Mama", "Shake, Rattle and Roll", "Heartbreak Hotel", "Hound Dog", "Love Me Tender", "Teddy Bear", "Don't Be Cruel", "Jailhouse Rock", "Blue Suede Shoes", "Are You Lonesome Tonight," and "My Way" are among those songs that captivated, and still captivate his audiences.

The struggles the singer encountered during his life are also portrayed. Rebuilding his career after serving in the Army, his grief over his mother's death, his frustration with making movies that were "so bad" that they made him "physically ill," his divorce and his anger toward his former bodyguards who wrote a book concerning his drug dependency are shown.

Whether you are a loyal Elvis fan or just appreciate him as a great performer, "This Is Elvis" is a fast-moving, captivating film from beginning to end and the big screen and sound make it almost "like being there."

"This Is Elvis" is now showing at the Cinema. The film is rated PG.

Banks cut ties that endanger tax benefit of new All-Savers

Stymied by the Internal Revenue Service, the banking industry is hurrying to cut the strings that tied high-interest investment opportunities to the All Savers tax-free certificates that go on sale next month.

The IRS said Thursday that incentives offered by some banks and savings and loan institutions to draw investments in the certificates would jeopardize their tax-free status.

Some banks had offered depositors short-term interest of 40 percent or more if they would deposit funds that would automatically be rolled over into an All Savers Certificate on Oct. 1, when they first become available. The certificates are expected to yield about 12.6 percent tax-free.

The IRS said that when the bonuses — earned in "repurchase" agreements with the banks — and the certificates were considered as a single package, the interest exceeded the limit imposed by Congress when it created the All Savers Certificates.

The IRS said banks and S&Ls could continue to offer the incentives only if depositors were given a "reasonable" chance to withdraw their funds before they are transferred to an All Savers Certificate. Some banks that offered the incentives had already allowed the withdrawals.

"We're going to notify all those that purchased repurchase agreements that they have the option of not going in to the All Savers Certificates," said Victor Rosen, vice president of First Federal Savings & Loan in Philadelphia.

Schweiker considers rating welfare recipients' property

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of Health and Human Services Richard Schweiker is reviewing a proposal that would require states to assess most of the personal property and household goods of welfare recipients, the New York Times reported today.

The newspaper quoted federal officials as saying the rules would reduce welfare cheating by making sure the assets of welfare families did not exceed the new legal limit of $1,000 per household.

If the secretary approves the regulations, they would take effect Oct. 1, the Times said.

Dear Abby

Girl's New Curves Bring New Problem

DEAR ABBY: I don't know if you remember me or not. I wrote to you a year ago about my weight problem, and you gave me some really good advice. I went to Overeaters Anonymous. So far I've lost 55 pounds, and I'm still losing. But now I have another problem.

Since I've got a pretty good figure, guys have started noticing me, and Abby, I can't handle it. I'm 18 and never dated before because I was such a mess, but with guys paying attention to me all of a sudden, I'm a wreck! I hated being fat and ignored, but at least I wasn't hassled by dudes trying to get me into bed. All the guys I know are after only one thing.

My girlfriends say if I don't put out on the first date, I shouldn't expect a second date. Please help me.

HASLED IN ST. PAUL

DEAR HASLED: Your girlfriends are wrong. Hang on to your high standards and say goodbye to the dudes who try to rush you into bed. There's something worse than being ignored — it's too much attention from guys who are after only one thing.

DEAR ABBY: I have a very ticklish problem I don't know how to handle. Last week I invited some women with whom I had previously worked to my home for dinner. I prepared a special dinner, using my best china and silver, and my favorite lace placemats with matching dinner napkins.

During the dinner, one of my guests commented on how exquisite the lace dinner napkins were. She examined her napkin carefully and fingered it admiringly. After my guests left, I was one napkin short! I searched all over, and finally came to the conclusion that the guest who had admired it must have taken it.

I am very upset over losing that napkin, but more disappointed in the woman I suspect took it. I am torn between calling her or just forgetting about it. If I do decide to call, I don't really know how to ask her without insulting her. Please help.

ANXIOUS IN MASS.

DEAR ANXIOUS: Call her and ask if she inadvertently carried off the dinner napkin, thinking it was her handkerchief. (It's possible, and it's certainly worth a try.)

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from the woman whose husband goes out to fetch the morning paper in the nude. She said, "I can hardly look my neighbors in the face, wondering if they've seen my husband picking up our morning paper."

Please tell her I've seen her husband, and I can understand why she can hardly look her neighbors in the face.

Shower, luncheon, rehearsal dinner, brunch honor couple

A bed, bath and lingerie shower, bridesmaids luncheon, rehearsal dinner and a Sunday Brunch were pre-nuptial and post nuptial festivities honoring Cindy Burgess and Richard Flora, who were married Aug. 22 in the First Christian Church.

The bed, bath and lingerie shower was held Aug. 20 in the home of Emily Easley.

The refreshment table was covered with an ivory lace cloth and centered with a silver candelabrum holding baby's breath and purple ribbons. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

The bride-elect and honored guests were presented corsages of ivory, lavender and purple flowers. Special guests were Mrs. John Burgess, mother of the bride-elect; Amy Burgess, her sister; Mrs. Ray Frazier and Mrs. W.L. Finch, her grandmothers.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Greg Burton, Mrs. John Dorton, Mrs. Herman Smith, Mrs. Del Shirey and Mrs. J.W. Tipton. The hostesses' gift was a negligee.

Big Spring County Club was the setting for a rehearsal dinner honoring the couple Aug. 21, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. A.R. Flora, parents of the prospective bridegroom.

The Blue Room was decorated with floral arrangements and greenery. The tables, each covered with ivory lace cloths, were centered with ivory, lavender and purple flower arrangements with three ivory candles.

Cindy and Richard presented attendants gifts: crystal bells to the bridesmaids and utility lights to the groomsmen.

Sixty-five guests attended the dinner. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W.L. Finch, Bay City grandparents of the bride-elect; Mrs. Ray Frazier, San Antonio, grandmother of the bride-elect and Mrs. A.R. Flora Sr., Philadelphia, Pa., grandmother of the prospective bridegroom.

The home of Mrs. Auriel LaFond was the scene of the bridal luncheon honoring Miss Burgess Aug. 22. Guests were seated at tables centered with floral arrangements in the bride-elect's chosen colors of ivory and lavender.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Jerry Spence and Mrs. Henry Butler. Guests were served chicken salad in carved cantaloupe halves, blueberry muffins, orange-coconut muffins and ambrosia.

Miss Burgess presented lace gloves to her attendants. Thirty-five guests

The Weekly Headline

Grandpa tamed when I took this picture. It won't look natural, he said. My desk is never clean.

It's clean now. The umbrella stand is empty, the hat rack is bare. His old Web press has been retired. But Grandpa's presence lingers on.

For over fifty years he printed the Mayfield Progress, reporting the news with integrity. There were times when he was threatened, cajoled by attempted bribery, menaced by pressure groups, but he stayed true to principle. He was a giant in our town.

What made Grandpa strong in the face of danger — in corrupt when confronted by unscrupulous forces?

His church was the center and circumference of his being. Its truths and its goodness sustained him. It was all that he needed — he remained steadfast and sure.

Your church is eager to help you meet the pressures of your day. Its resources are unlimited and eternal. Go to your church or synagogue and take your family with you.

Haynes present concert

The Haynes Family, a dynamic music ministry, will be in concert both morning and evening at the First Assembly of God Church, 4th and Lancaster Sunday. Morning worship service is at 10:30 and evening service is at 7.

The Haynes Family consists of eight members, five of whom are family. The members of the band and their responsibilities are Dwayne Haynes, business manager; Doris Haynes, public relations, back up vocals; Kristi Haynes, lead vocals, keyboard; Doug Haynes, back up vocals, bass guitar; Tim Haynes, lead vocals; Mike McIntyre, guitar; Hank Ford, drums and David Prouty, keyboards, guitar.

The Haynes Family is a ministry with goals: 1. To share Christ's love, glory, and ability with others and, 2. to show others that Christ can make a difference in the family.

The Haynes Family ministry began in 1974. The family had always sung together as a means of worship in the evenings, but had never had the opportunity to minister outside their home. Their pastor, the Rev. Randall Ball, asked them to do a special benefit concert for "Speed the Light" in their church, the First Assembly of God, in Big Spring. They accepted and from that concert doors were opened to sing in churches throughout the West Texas area.

In addition to the music ministry, Doris Haynes, the mother of the family, has a beautiful testimony of how the Lord healed her of a malignancy when she was given six months to live.

Rick Jones, pastor, cordially invites the public to attend these concerts.

JAARS AIRFIELD — This is the hangar area of Townsend Field at Jungle Aviation and Radio Service headquarters in Waxhaw, NC. JAARS is the communication and transportation arm of Wycliffe Bible Translators. Townsend Field is named for Cameron Townsend, founder of Wycliffe Bible Translators and JAARS.

Terrorism is becoming a problem for Wycliffe

WAXHAW, N.C. (AP) — Missionaries and pilots training in this tiny Piedmont village to spread the Gospel around the globe are accustomed to the risks of jungle life and the hazards of remote dirt airstrips.

But they are facing a new danger that seems to be surfacing with increasing regularity — terrorism.

"We always tell our people to be blackmailed," says Martin Huyett, executive director of the Jungle Aviation and Radio Service, the branch of Wycliffe Bible Translators that transports linguists to dozens of nations around the world.

"That is, we will not pay if one of our missionaries is taken hostage."

JAARS, located in the piney forests on the outskirts of Waxhaw, seems isolated from the dangers facing missionaries who fan out across the globe. About 275 missionaries live in JAARS housing at its training center and in homes around Waxhaw.

JAARS provides a training ground for flights by linguists, and it stays in radio contact with missionaries and pilots through an international network of ham-radio operators.

Terrorism was not a major problem for the linguists of Wycliffe, which has about 4,500 workers worldwide — including about 2,000 in Third World areas — until recently.

But the problem was demonstrated in March when Chester Bitterman, 28, a linguist and graduate of Columbia Bible College in South Carolina, was shot to death by terrorists in Bogota, Colombia.

Bitterman, who had moved to Colombia with his wife and two daughters 18 months earlier, was taken captive when guerrillas abducted him and said they would kill him unless Wycliffe linguists left Colombia. He was killed after being held for six weeks.

Since that time, Ecuador has ordered linguists out of that nation, saying their work has become too controversial.

JAARS and Wycliffe officials are reluctant to talk about terrorism, but they staunchly maintain that it has not affected their efforts to translate the Bible into every language.

"We will continue to do what we have been doing, and that is help people everywhere get the word of God," Huyett said in an interview. "We always clear our work with a country's government and go through the proper channels. When we've done all we can, we're in God's hands after that."

Translating the Bible into another language is a lengthy process that sometimes requires linguists to live in a native country for 10 to 12 years in order to produce grammar books, write the language and translate the Bible.

JAARS pilots, trained to make short takeoffs and landings in rugged terrain, are responsible for taking missionaries to and from the mission fields and providing their only link to their homes and the rest of the world.

Dr. Wayne Martin, president of Arlington Baptist College, Arlington, will be speaking at Faith Baptist Church, 1209 Wright St. Sunday at the 10:50 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. worship services.

Nine day Holy Land tour will be led by local Baptist pastor

Dr. Phillip McClendon, Pastor of the Hillcrest Baptist Church, will lead a tour group to the Holy Land this year after Christmas.

"We have an exciting 9-day itinerary that covers all the significant Biblical sites in Israel," Dr. McClendon said.

Dr. McClendon has been appointed as Associate Tour Host on the BIBLE LANDS SEMINAR, which is conducted annually by Dr. Wayne Dehoney, a past president of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Dr. Dehoney is the well-known minister of Kentucky's largest church congregation, the Walnut Street Baptist Church of Louisville. He is the author of numerous books, has been Visiting Professor at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, and is the recipient of the Israeli Government's Pilgrim Medal, given in recognition of his many trips to the Holy Land.

"This is more than just a tour," Dr. McClendon says. "It will be an in-depth spiritual experience. The group will visit the significant Old and New Testament sites such as Calvary, the Garden Tomb, Capernaum, the Sea of Galilee, etc., where on-the-spot lectures and inspirational services will be conducted. Seminar sessions conducted in the hotel in the evening will provide an in-depth understanding of the sites visited during the day." College and Seminary credit will be offered for those who accompany Dr. McClendon.

In addition to Dr. McClendon and Dr. Dehoney, the travel-seminar will have on the faculty Dr. Harold Freeman and Dr. Bill Toland from Southwestern Seminary, Dr. Wayne Ward and Dr. Dale Moody from Southern Seminary, Dr. Billy Simmons from New Orleans Seminary, Dr. Bill Pinson from Golden Gate Seminary, and other Bible scholars and inspirational speakers.

Dr. McClendon's group will depart for the Holy Land on Jan. 12 and return Jan. 21. The tour is open to all local people interested persons may receive further information from Hillcrest Baptist Church by writing 2000 FM 700, Big Spring or phoning, 263-8309.

Steers open season tonight

Host Snyder Tigers in Memorial Stadium at eight

By NATHAN POSS
Sports Editor

Ready or not, the 1981 high school football season begins tonight for local fans when the Big Spring Steers play host to the Snyder Tigers in Memorial Stadium at eight o'clock.

At this time of the year, most fans, and football teams, are ready, as spirit runs high in every camp. Much of this is due to the fact that everybody is unbeaten, and everything's fine.

In recent years, however, it hasn't been long before the Big Spring Steers fans have had their enthusiasm dampened. Only last year, when the Steers opened with wins over Snyder and Sweetwater, have local fans been able to savor opening triumphs.

In other years, dating back to 1971, things have started off on a downbeat for the Steers.

And as usual, there is loads of enthusiasm about the Steers at this time of the year, but in this case, it looks to be something that should last. The Steers, you see, welcome back six offensive and eight defensive starters from the 3-7 team of a year ago, including the entire backfield that can explode at any point on the field.

That backfield includes quarterback Tracy Spence and running backs Bobby Earl Williams and Richard Evans. Williams has been mentioned in some publications as a pre-season All-State selection, and Steer Coach Ralph Harris is hoping that the talented 196-pound senior can live up to that bill. It might be a couple of weeks before Williams hits full swing, however, as he is not totally recovered from a knee injury suffered in an off-the-field accident in May.

TONY MOLINA

GREGG SCARBRO

The other back is no slouch, either. Richard Evans rushed for over 600 yards last fall and has sprinter's speed, so the position should not be able to concentrate on any one individual.

That opposition tonight, the Snyder Tigers will be in more than one type of opener. While it is the Tigers season opener, it is also the varsity football coaching debut for Coach George Beyerly, a man that switched from the basketball arena after guiding Snyder to back-to-back district championships in 1978 and 1979.

And while he may be a rookie on this level in football, Big Spring's Coach Ralph Harris, in his second year of trying to turn around the Steer program, has been impressed with Beyerly thus far.

"He's made some good coaching decisions from what we've seen them do," said Harris. "He and his staff have utilized their talent to what they do best, and it has made for what looks to be a sound attack."

That sound attack of the Tigers has been an inside running, power oriented style. And to compliment that type of conservative ground game, the Tigers also have shown a proficiency in their scrimmages to throw the short pass patterns.

"That's not to say that they don't have the ability to throw the ball deep," Harris cautioned. "It's just that they have shown in the scrimmages that they would rather stay with a power attack and throw it short. But that might change in the game, because you can never tell what changes a team might make."

Harris regards the Tigers as a team with not great speed, but not slow, either. "They're real hard to classify," he mentioned. "They have enough speed to hurt you, but they aren't the type of team that seems to rely on the big play."

Snyder QB Brent Brett executes well, but it is the running of 180-pound fullback Raymond Jeffrey that the Tigers depend on.

"Some coaches we've talked to say that he (Jeffrey) will be the best runner of the field," Harris said. "If that's the case, he's pretty good."

Better than Williams or Evans, according to the other coaches. But Harris, despite respecting Jeffrey, seemed to disagree with that statement.

Defensively, the Tigers have strength and size inside, helping return All-District linebacker Matt Davis operate more efficiently.

"They use that guy all over the place," said Harris. "You can never tell where he's (Davis) going to line up."

"As a whole, their defense has looked good," continued the Steer mentor. "They make very few mistakes."

Harris also mentioned that the Tiger defense is grounded conservatively, much like the offense.

SWC teams open against easy foes tomorrow

By The Associated Press

The Southwest Conference opens its 67th football season this weekend as favorites in four of five games in an abbreviated schedule.

The Texas Aggies are a field-goal favorite over California in a road game Saturday afternoon while Texas Christian is a nine-point underdog at Auburn.

are prohibitive favorites in the other matchups, all night games.

The initial Aggie-California meeting at Berkeley brings together two teams who had disappointing 1980 campaigns.

A&M was 4-7 and California 3-8. Although the two teams have never met before A&M is 6-4-1 against Pac-10 opponents while California is 1-9 against the SWC.

California will unveil its new $900,000 AstroTurf and a freshly installed "Run-&Shoot" offense for the 1 p.m. PDT (3 p.m. Central time) game.

Auburn narrowly survived the Horned Frogs 10-7 in Fort Worth last year. The loss got TCU off to a 1-10 season.

TCU has one of the finest pitch-and-catch combinations in the country in quarterback Steve Stamp and wide receiver Stanley Washington.

TCU is 6-17-1 against Southeastern Conference teams.

The game will be televised locally back to the Dallas-Fort Worth area starting at 1:30 p.m.

Baylor, the defending SWC champion, whipped Lamar 42-7 in Beaumont last year but Coach Grant Teaff is still scared.

THE LIGHT TOUCH
 By Sherry Wegner

If you expect your garden vegetables to look like the ones on the package... don't. Those pictures are done by professional photographers.

About the only place you can expect "medium prices" is at the fortune tellers.

We may not have all come over on the same ship, but inflation has us all in the same boat.

Much of that T.V. violence occurs when you drag your kids away from the television set to do their homework.

A friend of mine said that they were just getting able to make ends meet, then somebody moved the ends.

If you want to make ends meet... shop at BIG SPRING SEED & CHEMICAL, 602 N.E. 2nd. A new shipment of Wayne's dog food is in. We have a good supply of small grain seed. Check with us for defoliant & aerial spray service.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, SEPT. 5, 1981

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A good day to engage in activities that can give you the greatest satisfaction. Be sure to use your full mental and physical qualifications to gain your aims. Use common sense.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Study your appearance and take the right treatments to improve it. Seek the company of those who can make you feel happier.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Don't neglect to handle duties that are important to your future. Your intuition is accurate now, so be sure to follow it.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Make notes of new ideas that can bring a better set of conditions into your life. Try to please the one you love.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Take care of small tasks first before handling larger ones. Study your environment and make plans for improvement.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Make plans to cultivate one whose thinking is different from yours. Make sure you don't spend money foolishly now.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Show close ties that you are deeply devoted to them. Make sure you arrive on time for appointments. Express your talents.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Make plans for having greater abundance in the future. Take health treatments and improve your appearance.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Contact friends and make mutual plans for the days ahead. You need to improve your health if you wish to accomplish more.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Make plans to engage in amusements with congenials. Loved one is now more willing to go along with your wishes.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Find out what condition is causing disharmony at home and get rid of it. Make any concessions that are necessary.

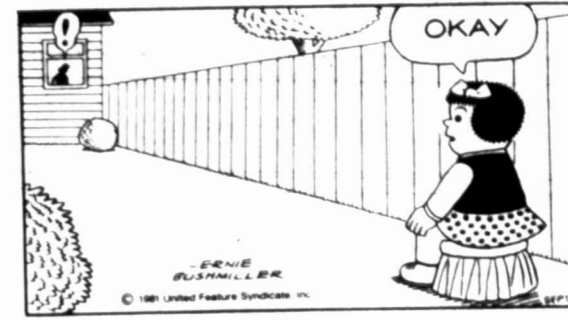

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Study your surroundings and make needed improvements. Be sure to take needed health treatments.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Ideal day to handle a monetary matter that is important to your future. Plan new ways to have greater abundance.

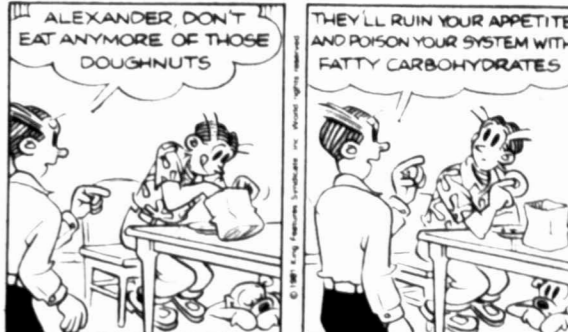

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will have the right solution to problems and would do well in any field of importance, so be sure to give the finest education you can afford. Give ethical and religious training early in life. Sports are a must here.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!
