

School board approves bi-lingual program

By CAROL HART
Staff Writer

Members of the Big Spring Independent School District's Board of Trustees approved several budget amendments at their meeting last night.

A request of $48,947 was approved for the bi-lingual program starting up in Texas schools this year.

Big Spring and other school districts across the state are required to begin bi-lingual education programs for students who speak a language other than English at home.

If students indicated on surveys conducted earlier this year that some language other than English was spoken at home, they were then given language proficiency tests. If these tests indicated a need for the bi-lingual program for a particular student, that student, pending parental permission, was scheduled into the bi-lingual program.

A report given to the board shows that preliminary screening, testing and program design have been completed for this year, and the budget amendment is proposed to meet needs in the bi-lingual program for 1981-82.

Wade Burroughs will be attending workshops to learn how to better manage the bi-lingual program, the report shows.

Dr. E.S. Morgan of the Head Start and full-day kindergarten program applied for and received from Head Start authorities a $3,000 supplemental grant to the current Head Start program. The board approved the Head Start receipts and expenditures for the purchase of four Peabody Language Development Kits and other Peabody materials and preschool library books.

Board members also approved a request to begin collecting bids on new lockers for Goliad Middle School. The district requested lockers for 500 girls and 400 boys. School district employees estimated that between $17,100 and $22,500 would be needed for the project.

In other business, the board renominated Roy Watkins and Lila Estes as representatives from the school district to the Howard County Consolidated Tax Appraisal Board.

Board members discussed three students who have been recommended for suspension for the rest of the current semester. Superintendent Lynn Hise told board members at least one student is considering appealing the suspension.

Local policy updates also were considered. Hise discussed Senate Bill 341 with board members, which states that a hearing process is called for in cases of non-renewal of teacher contracts.

As allowed by the bill, the board set up a probationary period in which new personnel will be exempt from the hearing process if they have been with the district less than two years.

A weekly enrollment report for the week ending Oct. 2 shows 4,970 students enrolled in the district. This compares to 4,836 enrolled at the same period last year, the district said.

Four presidents gather

President Reagan shakes hands with former President Richard Nixon Thursday at the White House as former presidents Gerald Ford and Jimmy Carter look on. First Lady Nancy Reagan is shown standing behind Carter. Reagan and his predecessors were gathered on the South

Lawn before the former leaders left to attend the funeral for slain Egyptian President Anwar Sadat. It is possibly the first time that four American presidents have gathered in U.S. history.

Police scuffle with family

By BOB CARPENTER
Staff Writer

A Big Spring police officer narrowly escaped injury yesterday evening after a man attempted to shoot him with another officer's revolver, police said.

Lt. George Quintero said the incident began at approximately 7:30 p.m. when Officer Bob Armstrong confronted a subject he suspected of participating in a hit and run accident. The suspect was found in the front yard of his home.

Quintero said the man "evaded arrest by hiding behind three family members who had stepped between Officer Armstrong and the man. The family began struggling with Armstrong and the suspect then slipped away."

A report filed by Armstrong alleges that the mother began beating him with her fists while the suspect's brother began choking him from behind and kicking him in the ribs. In the melee the suspect's father managed to get Armstrong's service revolver and threatened to kill him, Armstrong said.

Quintero said officers Scott McKnight and Ray Meek responded to the call of an officer needing help and found Armstrong struggling with the three family members.

McKnight said the family turned on him and Meek when they arrived. McKnight said when he attempted to get the pistol away from the suspect's father the man pointed the weapon at him. McKnight said he was able to jam his hand in between the hammer and firing pin of the pistol just as the man started to pull the trigger. McKnight then was able to retrieve the revolver from the man, he said. The officers were able to subdue the three family members, said Quintero. The original suspect later turned himself in, he added.

Quintero said the four family members were to be arraigned this morning before Judge Bobby West. They were being held in the city jail without bond, Quintero said.

Tropical storm kills 65

LOS MOCHIS, Mexico (AP) — Tropical storm Lydia slammed into the north Pacific coast of Mexico, flooding two dams, swamping lowlands and killing at least 65 people, authorities said Friday.

They said most of the dead were in remote coastal and mountain villages. Eleven deaths were reported in Culiacan, the capital of Sinaloa state, police there said.

The storm hit the coastal regions late Wednesday but reports of casualties and damages did not emerge until Thursday night and Friday.

Five other dams in the state were said to be in danger of flooding but it was not clear if any was about to break, authorities said.

The region is one of Mexico's major agricultural areas and a major exporter of tomatoes and other produce to the United States.

In Los Mochis, in the northern part of Sinaloa, an estimated 800 houses were destroyed, said a Red Cross spokesman in Culiacan.

Electrical service to Culiacan went out Thursday night, and telephone service to the city of some 100,000 was sporadic. Some water supplies were contaminated.

Many villages were isolated by washed out roads and downed telephone lines and officials said the casualty toll could rise.

Mexico's national weather service said winds peaked at 90 mph in some coastal regions.

Haitians still in legal limbo

By CAROL HART
Staff Writer

Although deportation hearings for Haitians held in detention camps around the country have been blocked by court restraining orders, all the men awaiting the hearings will be treated the same, according to Art Hession, a spokesman for the Dallas office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

"It's impossible to tell how long the restraining orders will be in effect," Hession told The Herald today. The hearings have been sidelined for an "indefinite" period of time, he said.

Hession said the demonstration the Haitians staged at the Big Spring Federal Prison Camp Sunday and Monday should have no bearing on the legal process to determine if the Haitians may stay in the U.S.

Following the demonstration, 87 Haitians were moved to a medium-security prison, La Tuna Federal Correctional Institute, in El Paso. Ten Haitians remain here.

The 87 men moved to the La Tuna prison should remain there for a lengthy period of time "unless something comes up which I can't perceive," Hession said. He said he did not expect the 87 to be returned to Big Spring.

Will more Haitians be moved to Big Spring?

"We don't anticipate it," Hession said. "But it's not beyond the realm of possibility."

Haitian refugees are continuing to come into the country, Hession said. "We've got to find some place to put them."

Where they will be sent "is a factor we can't determine right now," Hession explained.

John Allman, superintendent of the Big Spring Federal Camp, said he did not anticipate any more refugees being sent here.

Allman said he expected his inmate population to "mushroom" soon since 50 regular inmates are "designated to come here, and 75 additional men have been re-designated to come here."

Feds probing rig fire deaths

By BILLELDER
Staff Writer

A federal job-safety agency's investigation into a fatal drilling rig blast near Knott last month should be completed next week, according to Jerry Bailey, director of the Lubbock office of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration.

Bailey said a field investigator had completed his gathering of information about the accident and OSHA was in the process of studying the information.

Three men died and a fourth was badly burned when a drilling rig ruptured a natural gas line about five miles northwest of Knott Sept. 27. The men worked for a rat hole service and a trucking company and were in the process of preparing a site for oil drilling.

The Texas Railroad Commission, which regulates the oil and gas industries in the state, declined to investigate the accident when it was learned that the pipeline is an interstate pipeline.

Bailey said if violations of safety standards were found, OSHA could issue a citation "which may or may not have a penalty" attached to it.

A company that has been given a citation may contest it in federal court, Bailey added.

Two Americans, Swede share Nobel Prize

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — The Nobel Prize for medicine was awarded to two Americans and a Swede today for research on the human brain.

The prize went to Dr. Roger W. Sperry of California Institute of Technology and Harvard professors David Hubel and Torsten N. Wiesel of Sweden.

Sperry received one half of the prize — this year worth a record 1 million kronor, the equivalent of $180,000 — for discoveries concerning "the functional specialization of the cerebral hemispheres (brain halves)," the Karolinska Institute of Medicine announced.

Hubel and Wiesel shared the other half for discoveries concerning "information processing in the visual system."

The prize for medicine was the first to be announced in this year's Nobel series.

SIGN LANGUAGE

By CAROL HART
Staff Writer

Here's another in a series of signs The Herald is publishing with the aid of employees at the SouthWest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf.

Since the growth of SWCID has been intense during the last year, Big Springers have the opportunity to interact with deaf students and faculty members from across the nation and from many parts of the world.

To communicate effectively with the deaf, it is important to gain a working knowledge of sign language. These tips we offer here may help, and classes offered through SWCID also should enable you to communicate better.

Today's sign is "stop," or "cease." To sign this, bring the little-finger side of the right hand down sharply across the left open palm (see illustration).

"The Joy of Signing," by Lottie R. Rieckhof, points out that the origin of this sign was the right hand placed emphatically on the

Sunday, we'll feature another sign language review. Remember, reviewing the signs often and working with people who are sign experts will help you learn faster.

(All of the signs we have published since this column began two weeks ago have been reprinted with the permission of The Gospel Publishing House.)

Digest

Economists foresee slowing inflation

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — Inflation will slow while the economy grows next year, but unemployment and interest rates will remain high, corporate economists said in a report today to an organization of business leaders.

The report, not as optimistic as the Reagan administration's forecasts, predicts the economy's recent sluggishness will end before January, and activity will pick up in 1982.

A group of economists from 20 major corporations prepared the report last month for presentation to the Business Council, whose membership includes board chairmen and top executives of U.S. companies.

Charles Brown, chairman of American Telephone & Telegraph Co., was to deliver the report to the council this morning during a closed meeting. Brown and other officials of the Business Council briefed reporters on the report Thursday night.

The report said economic activity will revive, stimulated by tax cuts this year and next year and a slight reduction in interest rates.

Brown said the encouraging aspect of the report was that the economists were nearly unanimous that the inflation rate is dropping.

"The bad news," he said, is that "it looks like interest rates will stay up a while; it looks like unemployment is not going to decline precipitously."

Reagan needs 20 votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan is 20 votes short of saving his sale of AWACS radar planes to Saudi Arabia in the Republican-controlled Senate, an Associated Press count shows.

If the vote were now, the tally found, Reagan would lose 57-30.

He needs 50 votes to assure the $8.5 billion sale of five Airborne Warning and Control System planes plus F-15 jet weaponry — the largest U.S. arms deal in history.

The AP count found just 21 senators firmly in favor of the sale as of Thursday and nine leaning for it, while 50 senators were committed against it and seven were leaning that way.

The other 13 were undecided, and Reagan would have to win all of those votes plus convert seven opponents to be sure of victory in his first major foreign policy battle on Capitol Hill.

Congress has until the end of this month to veto the deal, and the decisive Senate showdown is expected in two weeks.

Reagan has picked up eight votes in the last three days, including two senators who switched after co-sponsoring a veto resolution, and two separate efforts are under way to find compromises that would ease opponents' concerns about security and the potential threat to Israel.

Sen. Nancy Landon Kassebaum, R-Kan., announced her support Thursday after a meeting with the president, and Sen. Don Nickles, R-Okla., added his vote to the White House side later in the day.

"I think the assassination of (Egyptian) President Sadat makes it crucial that we reach out to all moderates in the Arab world," Mrs. Kassebaum told reporters.

Carters plan suit about gossip item

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Carter is considering a libel suit against The Washington Post over a gossip item suggesting that someone "bugged" the government guest house where Ronald and Nancy Reagan stayed before the inauguration.

Carter's attorney, Terrence B. Adamson, said in a letter to Post board chairman Katharine Graham that the item in last Monday's "Ear" column "is false, defamatory, libelous per se, injurious to the reputation of President and Mrs. Carter and published with actual malice."

Man held for robbery

James Curtis Hayes was arrested by Howard County Sheriff's deputies on a warrant issued for aggravated robbery with a deadly weapon at 12:10 a.m. today.

Hayes, 19, of 1002 N. Main, is being held in the Howard County Jail. No bond has been posted in the case.

4-H'ers off to San Angelo

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Six area 4-H participants and two 4-H leaders will attend the district 4-H meeting Saturday in San Angelo, according to Marian Morris, county agent, home economics division.

The leaders are Sharon Burnett from Westbrook and Janie Benson of Colorado City. Young people attending are Shelia Benson, Robert Lemons, Blaine Lemons, Donald Burnett, Elizabeth Burnett and Nicky Holman.

"These young people attending are the top 4-H participants in each county," Mrs. Morris said, "and they'll return to their respective communities to share their knowledge from the district meeting with their fellow 4-H club members."

Mistrial in theft case

A motion for a mistrial was granted Thursday in the case of Langford Wood, who is charged with theft from a person.

Wood was scheduled for trial Thursday, but following a postponement, the motion for a mistrial was granted by State District Judge Jim Gregg.

Wood was being represented by attorney Wayne Basden.

Tragedy gathers 4 presidents

WASHINGTON (AP) — For 36 minutes, Richard M. Nixon, Gerald R. Ford and Jimmy Carter were back at the White House, walking to the cheer of a crowd of the green and white presidential helicopter, up a red carpet and into the mansion they once knew as home.

Ronald Reagan, who lives there now, was waiting on the South Lawn to greet them, just as each had done dozens of times in presidencies past for other dignitaries.

United by tragedy, they formed one of the most extraordinary gatherings of American presidents in history, the first time in this century — and possibly ever — that four of them got together.

The past presidents were there so the present president could wish them a safe journey to Cairo to represent the United States at Saturday's funeral of assassinated Egyptian leader Anwar Sadat.

"Ordinarily, I would wish you happy landing, but you're all Navy men so I wish you bon voyage," Reagan said in a toast during a private reception in the ornate Blue Room.

Over cocktails and hors d'oeuvres, they stood in a circle talking about the Middle East, their memories of Sadat and Reagan's own decision to stay home from the funeral because of concerns for his safety. White House officials said.

Nixon and Ford told Reagan he made a wise decision, the officials said. It was not clear if Carter expressed an opinion.

Reagan had invited his predecessors on short notice. More than 200 government employees and guests stood on the lawn in the chilly night air, watching and waiting with cameras for the arrival of the presidents.

At 6:52 p.m. EDT, their helicopter touched down. Carter was first off, followed by his wife, Rosalynn. The crowd began applauding and the cheers grew as the Carters were followed by Ford and finally Nixon, who was deeply tanned.

Four abreast, they walked across the South Lawn, past reporters on one side and visitors and guests on the other. At the edge of the lawn, Mrs. Reagan kissed Nixon and Ford and shook hands with the Carters. The president shook hands with each guest and escorted them inside through the South Portico entrance.

In the second-floor Blue Room, the presidents were joined by Vice President George Bush and his wife, Barbara. The three women talked off to one side while the five men conferred, aides said.

Later, standing before a three-tier bank of television cameras with the former presidents at his side, Reagan eulogized Sadat as "a man of peace in a time of violence."

"In his final moments, as he had during all his days, he stood in defiance of the enemies of peace, the enemies of humanity," Reagan said. "Today, those of us who follow him can do no less."

Reagan also thanked the presidential delegation for "undertaking this sad mission."

Bidding them farewell, Reagan said, "In the language of my own ancestry... Until we meet again, may God hold you in the hollow of his hand."

Israel vows to continue peace plan

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — The United States and Israel vowed to continue the peace process with Egypt today as high-ranking delegations arrived in Cairo amid tight security for the funeral of assassinated President Anwar Sadat.

As the delegations were made, the official Middle East News Agency reported that Egypt's new leader, Hosni Mubarak, accepted President Reagan's invitation to visit the United States and "review all aspects of bilateral relations, and discuss in detail the situation in the Middle East." The trip is tentatively set for early next year.

Unrest continued to simmer in a Moslem fundamentalist hotbed south of Cairo, and exiled opposition leader Gen. Saadedin Shazli warned that Egypt was "unsafe" for foreign dignitaries attending Sadat's funeral. But Egypt's undersecretary for foreign affairs, Ossama El-Baz, said Egypt was safe and that the foreign dignitaries "will be protected."

Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr. told reporters at Cairo airport that the United States would continue the search for a "full and comprehensive peace" with the new Egyptian government.

Haig was accompanied by former Presidents Jimmy Carter, Gerald R. Ford and Richard M. Nixon, former Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, Defense Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger and others.

Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin, in a separate arrival statement, said that his government and people took "great satisfaction" in the news that the Mideast peace process undertaken by Sadat will continue.

Mubarak, who will meet separately with Begin and Haig later today, pledged in an interview with CBS-TV's Walter Cronkite Thursday to continue the Camp David peace process begun by Sadat. The Egyptian president will be buried Saturday.

Sadat was killed Tuesday, and within hours troops on both sides of the Libyan-Egyptian border went on a higher state of alert, U.S. intelligence sources in Washington said. They said there were increased troop movements on both sides of the frontier, but so far there has been no shooting.

Meanwhile, Western diplomats and military attaches questioned official accounts of the assassination and criticized the failure of Sadat's corps of U.S.-advised security men to protect him when the attackers leaped from an army truck and stormed the reviewing stand with guns blazing.

There is no evidence on film or video tape examined by an Associated Press reporter that the security men made any move to stop the assassins until they tried to flee. Many of the security men were photographed fleeing themselves as soon as the shooting started, although one film showed showed an agent firing on the attackers, apparently without hitting them.

Texas Democrats to unite behind consensus candidate

By JACKIE CALMES
Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Texas Democrats, including the five known contenders for governor, are planning what would be a history-making convention in a "smoke-filled auditorium" to unite behind a consensus challenger to Republican Gov. Bill Clements.

"We're not actually nominating anyone, okay?" Party Chairman Bob Slagle cautioned. "The primary does that. But the agreement is that those folks who are not the choice would not file."

Slagle said no date or place will be set for a meeting until he receives commitments from all five men known to be interested in the nomination. If they agree, he said, a selection committee of "150 to 200" Democrats would meet within a month, probably in Austin.

The five contenders are former Gov. Dolph Briscoe, former Attorney General and 1978 gubernatorial candidate John Hill, Attorney General Mark White, Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong and state Sen. Peyton McKnight of Tyler.

Slagle said he began discussing the concept with the aspirants last month, and Briscoe and McKnight agreed to it. The chairman said Hill, Armstrong and White are "tentatively agreeable."

"If they all don't agree to honor it, we won't have it," Slagle said from his Sherman law office.

Briscoe, McKnight and Armstrong were unavailable for comment Thursday.

Slagle said Briscoe is "perfectly willing for this to happen and would agree to be found by it no matter who the consensus candidate was — even if it's John Hill."

Hill, who defeated Briscoe in a bitter battle for the party nomination in 1978 and in turn blamed his loss to Clements on Briscoe's non-support, said he has no quarrel with Slagle's idea "as long as we don't look like kingmakers."

McKnight, so far the most active candidate, was "shaking money trees" in Houston Thursday, an aide said. But the aide, Ken Sheppardson, said a poll to seek a consensus candidate is "necessary. The Democrats need to do something to avoid a bloody primary."

Though White has not signed onto the plan, he said Thursday, "If all those people involved would be willing, I certainly wouldn't want to be the one person who stood away from it and tried to divide the party."

"To me, it makes a lot of sense," White added. "At the same time, it's not binding on anyone outside the group of people that might be talking about it."

"It's not intended to exclude anyone," Slagle said. "It's just to prevent us from spending several million dollars against ourselves and having everybody come out hating each other. It's a whole lot more fun to beat up on Bill Clements than to beat up on each other."

One gubernatorial aspirant outside the current gang of five is state Sen. R.E. "Pete" Snelson. Slagle said he had not talked to Snelson because the Midland senator had not told him of his ambitions.

"If Pete is interested, I certainly would be willing to talk to him," Slagle said.

The selection committee, he said, would be a "very, very broad-based group" comprised of the 62 members of the State Democratic Executive Committee, some Democratic county chairpersons, top party contributors and representatives of labor, blacks and Mexican-Americans.

As Slagle described the electoral process, each delegate would receive a ballot bearing the cooperating candidates' names, and rank each name according to preference. The top three vote-getters would be included in a run-off.

To be designated the consensus choice, a candidate would have to receive a majority vote. That person then would file for a spot on the ballot for the May 1 Democratic primary, while the losers — in keeping with their agreement would not file. The filing deadline is Feb. 1.

If you had asked me in September, I'd have said there were three chances out of 100 that we could pull this together," Slagle said. "Last week, I'd have said the chances were 35 to 65. Today I'd say they're better than 50-50."

"Nobody wants a smoke-filled room," he continued. "That would be terrible. A smoke-filled auditorium, maybe."

Slagle said a decision on the selection plan would be reached "in 10 days to two weeks," pending commitments from all would-be nominees.

The time and place for a meeting probably would be publicized, he said, but the selection process would be closed to the media. "We don't want to inhibit people from speaking their minds," Slagle said.

Slagle, who became party chairman just over a year ago, said the proposal "is not radical; it's just different."

He said most persons he has contacted are enthusiastic about the proposed pre-primary election, and view it as the only way to avoid a repeat of 1978's intestine warfare and ultimate loss to the Republicans.

"Bill Clements and Ronald Reagan are two of the best harmonizers the Democratic Party ever had," he said.

Police Beat

Man is arrested on weapons charge

Mario Hernandez Garcia was arrested at 12:45 a.m. this morning for carrying an illegal knife. Police said they discovered the knife after a routine search of the subject turned up a dagger with a six-inch blade.

David Davidson, Silver Saddle Motel Room No. 12, complained to police that at approximately 6:10 p.m. a person known to him struck him and attempted to knock him off the second story walkway of the motel.

Diane Farmer, 1506 Sunset, told police that at approximately 7 p.m. yesterday she received a harassing phone call from someone saying he was in the house with her.

Charlie Ray Lewis, complained to police that while his Ford pickup was sitting on the Ritz Theater parking lot last night someone broke out the vent window on the passenger side of the vehicle. Lewis estimated damage at $100.

David Mitchem, of Mitchem's Auto Sales, told police that at approximately 4:10 p.m. yesterday a subject unknown to him stole a 1972 Datsun from the business.

Leonard Arnold, 704 W. Eighth, complained to police he was struck by a car sometime Tuesday in the alley behind Toyland at 1204 Gregg. The victim was transported by Shaffer Ambulance to Cowper Hospital with a broken leg. Police said they found Arnold behind Toyland at 12:13 p.m. yesterday.

Vickie Rush, complained to police that while she was at 1811 Scurry she received harassing phone calls from an unknown individual.

Noel Morgan, 1011 Main, complained to police yesterday that a rent house he owns at 309 Edwards had been damaged by a former tenant. Morgan estimated damage at $500.

Randall Overton, 710 Johnson, told police that sometime Thursday night someone shot out the rear windshield of his pickup as it sat parked in front of the above address.

Police reported a vehicle driven by Roberto Dutchover Perez, 201 N.E. Sixth, struck a vehicle owned by Bob Sawicki, 1300 E. Fourth, Thursday at 6:10 p.m. in the parking lot of the Southland Apartments.

A vehicle operated by an unknown person and owned by O.H. Derington, 1603 11th Place, struck a parked vehicle owned by Meads Auto Supply, 421 Main, Thursday at 2:02 p.m. in the 300 block of W. Fifth. Police said witnesses observed the Derington vehicle leaving the scene of the accident.

Vehicles driven by James Richard Wood, Jr., 800 Pine, Helen Hendricks Stanley, 1106 Mt. Vernon, and an unidentified third vehicle collided Thursday at 7:50 a.m. in the 700 block of E. Third. Police said the vehicle left the scene of the accident. Police reports said no injuries occurred.

Vehicles driven by George Henry Pickett, 3001 Navajo, and Richard Martin Von Hassel, 1303 1/2 Lancaster, collided Thursday at 9:30 p.m. in the alley of West 18th. Police reported no injuries.

Tyler police chief target of inquiry

TYLER, Texas (AP) — The Tyler police chief has become a target in the current federal grand jury investigation into alleged corruption in connection with a sweeping drug bust here three years ago, sources told a Dallas newspaper.

Grand jurors are investigating allegations made by two former undercover narcotics officers that Police Chief Willie Hardy was "directly involved" in a plot to frame former nightclub owner Kenneth Andrew Bora on a cocaine delivery charge, a source close to the investigation told the Dallas Times Herald.

The panel also is investigating whether Hardy committed perjury when he testified as a character witness for the two former officers, who have admitted they fabricated evidence against Bora, the Times Herald reported.

Hardy declined comment Thursday night. Creig Matthews and his wife and former partner Kimberly Ramsey Matthews admitted Tuesday in federal court they had falsified evidence in the drug charge against Bora. The couple had been indicted on charges of violating Bora's constitutional rights.

Immediately after the couple's admission, a state district judge granted Bora a new trial on deadly assault charges in connection with an alleged September 1979 shotgun attack on Matthews.

Police arrested Bora and 120 other Tyler residents in April 1979 in the largest drug bust in the city's history.

Bora went to trial twice on the drug charge but was never convicted. He served one year of a 20-year sentence on the deadly assault conviction.

The federal grand jury considers Hardy a "target" because he allegedly helped the two former officers fabricate evidence against Bora, the Times Herald reported.

In addition, Hardy also possibly perjured himself when he testified that Matthews and his wife had "never used drugs to his knowledge," the source told the paper.

The couple has told federal authorities that Hardy knew they used drugs frequently during the undercover operation, the source said.

Deaths

E. Appleton

Eldon D. Appleton, 71, died at 2:10 a.m. today in a local hospital after a long illness. Services will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday at Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel with Byron Corn, minister of the 11th and Birdwell Church of Christ, officiating.

Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Born Dec. 17, 1909, in Callahan County, Texas, he married Gladys Harris Nov. 27, 1967, in Westbrook. He came to Howard County in 1925 and lived in Vincent, where he farmed for several years. He worked for the county until he started working for a railroad in 1942. He retired in 1975 as a brakeman.

He was a member of the 11th and Birdwell Church of Christ. He was preceded in death by one son, Dan Appleton, and two brothers.

He is survived by his wife, of Big Spring; one son, Rex of Houston; his mother, Jennie Appleton of Big Spring; one sister, Vivian Harney of Houston; one brother, John Appleton of

How to keep safe when turning on heat

National Fire Prevention Week ends Saturday, according to Big Spring Arson Investigator Rodney Phillips. Since the weather is getting cooler and people will be lighting their heating systems, Phillips has some tips to avoid fire.

One tip is to check the entire system for leaks prior to lighting it. Another tip is to not have any flammable liquids around when one is hooking up the system.

Phillips noted that 78 percent of all fire-related deaths in the nation occur in residential fires. He said there was a decrease in fire deaths, however, for 1977-78 due to the use of smoke detectors. Phillips said a smoke detector is "well worth the money spent."

Quoting 1980 statistics, Phillips said 2,888,000 fires resulted in losses of $6.25 billion.

"It only takes a little bit of common sense to prevent fires in the home," Phillips said.

There have been three deaths from fires in Big Spring this year, he said.

Major crimes in Texas up, murder rate down, says DPS

AUSTIN — The number of major crimes reported in Texas during the first six months of 1981 rose 3.3 percent compared to the same period last year, according to DPS Director Colonel Jim Adams.

"Although this is a significant increase, it does indicate that the volume of major crimes in our state is rising at a lower rate than we saw last year," Adams said.

In 1980, major criminal offenses in Texas increased 9.9 percent in comparison to 1979.

Major index crimes recorded by the DPS Uniform Crime Reporting Bureau during the first half of this year totaled 431,409.

"Based on reports from Texas police agencies for the first six months of 1981, burglary showed the largest increase by category, rising 8.2 percent to 133,621 cases," Adams pointed out.

The DPS director said one of the major crime categories actually registered a decline.

"Murder cases reported during the first half of this year totaled 1,143 — a decrease of 2.1 percent from the same period in 1980."

The remaining violent crime categories showed increases, with aggravated assaults up 3.8 percent and rape and robbery each posting increases of 3.5 percent.

The property crime categories of motor vehicle theft and larceny-theft rose 2.5 percent and half a percent respectively.

Total property loss attributed to major index crime in the first half of 1981 was estimated at $400 million.

In addition, state police agencies investigated 3,941 arson cases during the period which resulted in estimated property losses of $50 million.

Nigh denies bet on OU-Texas game

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The big game doesn't start until Saturday, but Gov. George Nigh and Texas Gov. Bill Clements already are flailing away at each other.

Clements says he and Nigh have bet a barbecue meal on the football game between the Texas Longhorns and the Oklahoma Sooners in Dallas.

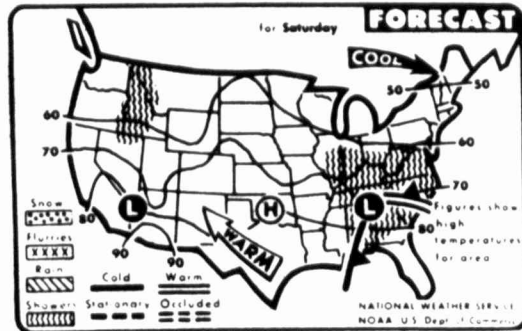

The Texas governor also chastized Nigh for skipping the game, saying, "Apparently he's so ashamed of his team he's not going to show up this year."

But Nigh, who is going to Austria instead, said, "It was a choice of between going to Europe or going to Texas, and I don't think that's any choice at all."

Nigh said his only regret is "that I won't be there to see the Sooners whip the Longhorns."

Weather

WEATHER FORECAST — Showers are predicted for Idaho, Montana, Nevada and from the Midwest to the Atlantic coast according to the National Weather Service.

Partly cloudy skies forecast for Texas

By The Associated Press

A blanket of drizzle and fog covered most of the state early this morning and scattered showers fell over North Texas and across the south central region.

Temperatures were cool, with most readings in the 50s and 60s, although a few 70s prevailed over the southern tip of Texas.

Winds were southerly 10 to 15 mph across West Texas, with gusts near 30 mph over the far west and across the southern Panhandle. Light northeasterly winds were reported elsewhere.

Skies should begin clearing this afternoon with showers and thunderstorms moving eastward into Louisiana by tonight. A Pacific cold front rolling in across the Panhandle should trigger scattered thunderstorms in West Texas this afternoon. Highs were expected to be in the 70s, except for a few 80s in South and Southwest Texas.

FRESH WATER FROM AN OLD WELL

Sometime ago Reader's Digest carried a story entitled, "Children's Letters to God." It is an interesting article. It contained actual letters that children had written to God. I would like to share some of them with you. One went like this: "Dear Mr. God, How do you feel about people who don't believe in you? Somebody else wants to know. A friend, Neil."

Then another one read simply: "Dear God, What is it like when you die? Nobody will tell me. I just want to know, I don't want to do it. Your Friend, Mike." A youngster named Frank wrote this one: "Dear God, I saw Saint Patrick Church last week. You live in a nice house." Or take the one written by little Maria: "Dear God, Do you get your angels to do all the work? Mommy says we are her angels and we have to do everything." Barry wrote: "Dear God, Church is alright but you could sure use better music. I hope this does not hurt your feeling. Can you write some new songs? Your friend, Barry."

Reading over these simple letters from children addressed to the Deity reminds one of the scene one day when the Master took a little child and sat him in his lap and said that the greatest in heaven would be like the little child. I'm quite sure that the Great Carpenter knew fully what He was doing and saying that day. And His wisdom is evident in the letters of these children.

For instance, how does God feel about people who don't believe in Him? A good answer would be heartbroken. Or, again, what is it like when you die? Guess that kinda depends on where you go! And despite the misconception, God does live in a nice house, a house "not made by hands." And to answer Maria — no, God doesn't use His angels to do His work. He uses His servants here on earth and sometimes it doesn't get done. And about the music, sometimes I have to agree with Barry. It is kinda off-key and it appears we need some new songs.

Matthew 18:4 — "Whoever humbles himself like this child, he is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven."

State Fair of Texas opens

DALLAS (AP) — The State Fair of Texas opens for its 96th year today, less than a month after the settlement of a multi-million dollar lawsuit over a Swiss Skyride accident at the fair two years ago.

But State Fair officials say the 3 million visitors expected this year will be more interested in the ice show, the livestock and the corny dogs than the missing gondola ride, which is still in mothballs.

A 22-year-old former cheerleader was paralyzed when a Swiss Skyride gondola fell at the fair in 1979. Cindy Holden settled for $3.8 million in damages for injuries she suffered in the accident, which left one man dead and 17 injured.

The skyride, once the fair's most popular and money-making ride, remains closed for the second year. And the court order prohibiting fair officials from touching the ride is still in effect.

At least three other lawsuits are pending, but general manager Wayne Gallagher said officials are ready to "get on with the business of doing the fair."

The other two rides owned by the fair, the Ferris wheel and the giant wooden roller coaster, have been undergoing rigorous inspection, as have about 60 contracted rides.

The State Fair of Texas Inc., a non-profit organization, hopes to gross $7.2 million this year and to produce a net income of $818,668.

Those figures are the lowest in four years. Gallagher says that's partly because he's being conservative — last year's fair income was short $20,000 of the expected $874,805 — and partly because the musical this year, "Little Johnny Jones," is expected to generate only about $50,675. That's $37,000 less than last year's production, "Camelot," which starred Richard Burton. This year's musical, by George M. Cohan, stars David Cassidy.

Fair officials will not try to increase income by raising prices, however. For the first time since 1977, basics such as admission, beer, soft drinks and corny dogs will remain unchanged.

One of the new attractions this year is a 45-minute multimedia presentation called the "Heart of Texas." Assembled and presented by Robert and Vesta Marbut of San Antonio, it encompasses 2,000 slides and 25 minutes of film backed up by an original soundtrack and script. Forty Texas cities are mentioned.

"It captures the essence of Texas — its myths, its legends, its story and its humor," Mrs. Marbut said. "It is entertaining, as opposed to documentary."

After its two-week premier run in the Centennial building on the fairgrounds, it will find a permanent home in San Antonio.

Also new at the fair this year will be a free, outdoor ice show performed four times daily on the Esplanade near the main gates.

Street dancing, which made its debut at the fair last year, will be free every Saturday night. Sing-along gospel music, initiated two years ago, also is free in the Band Shell.

Some attractions never change, such as the man who hands out free biscuits, peach cobbler and sausage every evening in the Women's Building.

And fairgoers are expected to drop $14,843 worth of quarters into slots at the Animal Behavior Entertainment exhibit to activate dancing chickens, fire-extinguishing rabbits and piano-playing ducks.

Don't get run over by train

Of the 1154 car-train accidents that happened in Texas in 1980:

—26 percent were caused by drivers who disregarded mechanical warnings.

—55 percent happened during daylight hours.

—91 percent happened in dry, clear weather.

—65 percent happened on city streets.

—77 percent of the drivers were male.

—45 percent of the drivers were between the ages of 20 and 34.

—56 percent happened in cities with a population of over 250,000 or under 2,500.

These statistics provided by the Texas Safety Association are chilling when you consider that some 1,000 people die and 4,500 are injured in grade crossing accidents in the United States each year.

In three out of five crossing accidents, the car and train collide. In two out of five, the car runs into the side of the train.

MOTORISTS MUST remember that a car traveling 50 mph needs 188 feet to stop. A freight train going 50 mph needs more than a mile and a half to stop. That's more than 18 football fields. The average freight train weighs about 2,000 tons.

Unfortunately, railroad crossings are often ignored or taken for granted by the public, according to officials of Operation Lifesaver, a program sponsored by Texas railroads and the Texas Safety Assn. to promote safety at railroad crossings.

Drivers become so familiar with a certain grade crossing that they tend to view it as a part of the scenery or a bump in the road — until one day a train crosses, and it's too late.

In Texas last year, more than 90 persons were killed and 570 injured at crossings.

THE MOST COMMON causes of these accidents were:

—Drivers ignore grade crossing warning signs, often driving through flashing lights or around lowered gates.

—An impatient driver races a train to a crossing, misjudging the train's speed and distance.

—Drivers who cross the same tracks everyday become too familiar with train scheduling and are not cautious at crossings.

—A driver is stopped at a multiple track crossing. As the train passes, the driver starts across the tracks without checking for trains on adjacent tracks.

—Drivers overdrive their headlights and do not slow down at night or in bad weather.

—While waiting for a traffic signal to change or stopped vehicles to move, a driver is trapped on a grade crossing.

Grade crossing accidents are the most severe type of highway accidents, and of all transportation accidents, they are second in severity only to aviation accidents.

The message is clear: stop, look, listen and be careful.

THE COLUMBUS DISPATCH-IDEAL BY CHICAGO TRIBUNE IN NEWS SERVICE

4-A

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Fri., Oct. 9, 1981

A bizarre backup team

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — A cast of colorful characters that could have stepped out of a James Bond movie apparently helped ex-CIA agents Frank Terpil and Ed Wilson with the British end of their illicit international arms smuggling operation.

The two American renegades, who jumped bail after indictment on gun-running charges in this country and are now hiding out abroad, found associates to their liking in the ranks of British businessmen, intelligence officers and assorted underworld denizens. Their activities are described by sources and in secret Justice Department reports seen by my associate Dale Van Atta.

—perhaps unwittingly — for Terpil in the purchase of the Hunters Lodge hotel in Crewe, a dreary rail center in the industrial region of west central England. "The purpose of the acquisition was to organize an underground railroad for hiding wealthy organized crime figures along with world terrorists," one Justice Department report states.

Using a Liberian corporation as a front, Terpil paid $500,000 for the hotel in 1979, and immediately began construction of a $1 million addition. The report says the Terpil "network" also engages in the unlawful international shipment of firearms and explosives between the United States, England and the Third World, as well as providing a "refuge for wealthy criminals."

— Robin Braid-Taylor, a London-based arms merchant. According to a Terpil associate, it was Braid-Taylor's job to provide the official documents needed to export arms from Britain. In one deal, Terpil planned to pay Philippines officials $56,000 to certify that a shipment of 10,000 machine guns was going to the Philippine military, when in fact they were to be diverted en route to a Caribbean destination.

BRAID-TAYLOR WAS AWARE he was selling the arms to Latin American right-wing revolutionaries. He confided to one of his clients that his dream, apparently inspired by the old Douglas Fairbanks movie, "The Most Dangerous Game," was some day to buy a small tropical island, import young blacks and hunt them down in the jungle.

— Samuel Cummings, a onetime CIA arms expert, born in Philadelphia but now an Irish citizen. He founded Interarms Co., one of the biggest munitions dealerships in the world.

— E. Ralph Warren, a retired British Army lieutenant-colonel. An associate of Cummings, "The Colonel" was Braid-Taylor's boss and the man who, according to Terpil, could "walk the paperwork through Whitehall" — meaning he allegedly could fix things at the Foreign Office.

— A former British intelligence agent named McGowan, who introduced Terpil and Wilson to a covey of current and former British intelligence and counterintelligence officers who could be useful to their operation.

— An unidentified provincial cop, possibly in the Cheshire Constabulary. When a raid was planned on Terpil's hotel in Crewe, a Justice Department report notes, "Scotland Yard also advised that (one police officer) was on Jenner's payroll to keep activities at the hotel from being discovered."

— A desk clerk named Ben at the Elysee Hotel in London, another Terpil-Wilson pit stop. Like the Cheshire policeman, Ben ran interference for the gunrunners, making sure they weren't surprised by authorities or business rivals.

FOXES IN THE HENHOUSE: Maybe it's a good thing President Reagan has decided to abolish the Department of Energy. The way things have been going lately, it would soon be known as the Department of Big Oil — a sort of protective big brother for the Seven Sisters.

Consider just two recent appointments to high positions in the Energy Department: One was to the key post of inspector general, the man who's supposed to track down fraud and other abuses in the department. If employees are in bed with the oil companies, it's the inspector general who should go after them.

The new DOE inspector general is James Richards. The name may not ring a bell with the general public, but it plays a veritable love song for the oil companies. Richards is Nelson Eddy to Big Oil's Jeanette MacDonald.

The other questionable appointment is that of R. Tenney Johnson as general counsel of the Energy Department. Johnson is responsible for cracking down on — who else? — the oil companies.

Trouble at the borders

Joseph Kraft

WASHINGTON — A North American Accord was one of the few original ideas surfaced by Ronald Reagan in the 1980 campaign, and in keeping with that emphasis the President has applied his abundant charm to build personal rapport with the leaders of Mexico and Canada. But bonhomie should not blind this country to fundamental differences of political interest. In both Mexico and Canada there have recently occurred major events that spell trouble on the border.

In Mexico, Jose Lopez Portillo has named his choice to be the candidate of the official government party for president of Mexico. The man who will likely take over in 1982 is Miguel de la Madrid Hurtado, presently Minister of the Programming and Budget Accounts from Mexico City. He is the usual gush about Senor de la Madrid being young (46), moderate (whatever that means), and (because he was educated at Harvard) pro-American.

THE DISTINGUISHING feature, however, is that in his present job, and as a former employee of the Mexican oil monopoly, Senor de la Madrid has been a partisan of rapid industrial development led by growth in the oil sector. What that means has been spelled out by bitter experience all over the world, from Venezuela through Nigeria and Saudi Arabia to Indonesia.

Lopsided geographical and social development is a first consequence. Certain areas — the oil fields and industrial centers, and especially the capital — thrive. Others — notably the rural sectors lacking in oil — are left in the lurch. In Mexico, that means further intensification of the rural impoverishment that drives millions of peasants into Mexico City and across the border to the U.S. in search of jobs.

Inflation, fostered by an excess of funds competing for a scarcity of resources, is a second consequence. Mexican products have already been priced out of world markets, and they sell at home only thanks to high protectionist barriers. The country, unable to earn foreign exchange by selling goods, has been forced to borrow more and more on international markets. Now the outlook is for still further dependence on foreign loans and increasing reluctance to admit foreign (mainly American) goods.

Invidious nationalism is a final, and especially pernicious, consequence.

The easy way to relieve the pressure of social conflict, and inflation, and high dependence on foreign countries for capital, is to blame all the trouble on outsiders — especially gringos. Thus the persistent drift of the Lopez Portillo government to the left of the U.S. in dealings with Cuba and the Marxist movements of the Third World seems sure to continue under the next president.

AS TO CANADA, the major new development is the divided decision of the Supreme Court on the constitutional changes proposed by Prime Minister Pierre Elliot Trudeau. The court found that it was legal for the federal government to force a Canadian constitution out of the British North America Act passed by the Parliament in London in 1867, and now supplemented by an elaborate bill of rights. The court also found that custom provided there should be agreement between the federal government and the provinces on the new constitution.

At present, there is deep division between Mr. Trudeau and the provincial leaders. The British Parliament will surely not approve translation of the 1867 act to Canada without full acceptance of the Supreme Court's stipulation for provincial accord. So Trudeau is now obligated to reopen constitutional negotiations with the provincial authorities, who have come — because of his aloof disdain — to detest him.

A general rule of thumb is that whenever the provinces and Ottawa are in tension, the federal authorities bid for popular support by asserting Canadian sovereignty over unloved American interests. Among other things, Trudeau has already enacted a National Energy Program that makes life harder for the large American oil companies. As long as he is bargaining hard with the provincial leaders, measures that discriminate against American interests in Canada will be applied with gusto.

These border difficulties are plainly not going to overwhelm the U.S. But the fact that there is foreign trouble so close to home underlines the need for improving present arrangements for managing international security. North American business cannot be done at the personal level so dear to the President. Neither can it be left to the uncoordinated interplay of the dozens of state and federal jurisdictions that meet each other across the borders. It has to be managed by serious officials able to deal with broad authority on subjects that are detailed and disagreeable.

Around the rim Detour

Bill Elder

There it was in TIME magazine: Richard Pryor, "who only 15 months ago nearly perished in a fire," recently took a wife.

Imagine that. Fifteen months after nearly burning to a crisp, the man has the arrogance to go out and get himself married.

This brings to mind several other acts of naughty timing, doesn't it? Well, it should.

YOU REMEMBER, of course, the disgraced and very, very high public official who hit the golf course within one month — one month! — of falling from public favor. Links had been the man's downfall, but 30 days later, you couldn't remind him of that.

But enough celebrity talk. How about the gentleman — who shall remain anonymous — who was observed dining on a bagel 19 years after a hole was punched through his chest in a donut factory assembly-line accident.

Now he was a doughy fellow. Nothing fake about his chutzpah, was there?

Speaking of false chutzpah (and who isn't, these days), how about the case of the famous right-wing actor — you know, the actor who was born with a perfectly normal left arm but had this weird feathered appendage in place of a right arm.

Seriously, while I'm on the subject of actors — make that actresses — I'm reminded of the time I was in Los Angeles and I read about a girl who sold cheap religious statues on the boardwalk. She had no acting experience whatsoever (beyond her uncanny ability to dupe tourists into thinking her trinkets were High Art) but Hollywood was sure she was just right for the starring role in a soap opera.

Well, the series bombed quickly and on the day her agent broke her the bad news, the girl was right out on the boardwalk again, dispensing her plaster idols. She carried no illusions about herself — and that's really the only way to travel, especially if the neighborhood is kinky.

SPEAKING OF KINKY (and who isn't speaking of those fizzy little critters nowadays), I'm reminded of the time — whoops, my people are calling me and I've got to go.

I do hope you've enjoyed this little vacation from the bombings, shootings and other horrors, big and small you'll find in the rest of this newspaper.

And I hope you'll keep in mind what Richard Pryor said as he emerged from his honeymoon: "Marriage is a gas," he bubbled cheerfully, "but don't put your head too close when you try to light it."

Poor lymph drainage causes swelling

Dr. Paul G. Donohue, M.D.

Dear Dr. Donohue: My left leg has been swollen now for about five months. The doctors had a heck of a time diagnosing my problem. First, I had a venogram done. No problem there. Then I was told I had lymphedema. Tests are to be done to confirm this. What kind? If it is lymphedema, what can be done for it? I am very upset because this is disfiguring. I used to have nice, slender legs. — C.S.

First, a bit of background, although from your letter (edited for length) you do seem well informed anatomically. Others may benefit.

We have two circulation systems. One is the blood's. The other is for lymph fluid. Lymph is a transparent liquid part of the blood, and in order to do its work in the body it has to get out of the blood vessels. It accomplishes this by leaking through the capillaries, the tiny vessels at the ends of the arteries.

After it has done its work of bathing the body's tissues it finds its way back into the blood through a separate circulation network — the lymphatic system. This system is subject to the same problems as are blood vessels themselves. When lymph vessels are blocked, fluid pools and the area swells. That is lymphedema.

There are various causes, including tumors, scarring from surgery or radiation treatment. Or it may occur as the result of an abnormality present from birth — malformation of a section of the system, for example. Sometimes when this happens the swelling may not be apparent until adulthood.

Phlebitis (vein inflammation) can also cause leg swelling like yours. The vein study was done to assure this was NOT the case. Since the swelling was not from phlebitis, your doctors suspect improper lymph drainage as the cause. To confirm this, lymphangiograms are done. Dye is injected into the lymph vessels, which are then studied to pinpoint the blockage.

Leg elevation (with the legs higher than the heart) and gentle massage can minimize capillary leakage and the swelling. There are also special devices available that are fitted to the legs to pump the fluid back into blood circulation. This apparatus alternately inflates and deflates to do this.

As the lymph situation is corrected natural leg contour should return. It may not return to a completely normal contour, but the above steps will minimize the distortion.

In response to reader requests, Dr. Donohue's publisher now has a complete listing of all the booklets on various medical problems. Readers wishing this list can write him care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for return mailing.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

ALPINE CONCERT — 105 alpine horns were blown during a music and folklore gathering on Switzerland's famous Mount Pilatus above Lucerne recently. The sound from the alpine horns and the echoes from the nearby mountains were splendid, visitors said.

Afternoon baby shower is held

Cara Painter was honored with a baby shower Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Robbie Stewart. Co-hostess was Vicki Dalby. Sixteen persons were present.

A corsage made from baby socks was presented to the honoree. Games were played, and the winners gave their prize packages to the honoree.

Cookies, finger sandwiches and punch were served from a table covered with a pastel pink cloth. An arrangement of pink, blue and white carnations centered the table. The favors given were pacifiers made from Lifesavers, jelly beans, and pink and blue ribbons.

The hostesses presented the mother-to-be with a baby book. Baby Painter is expected in November.

Dear Abby

Resort Owners Tired Of Role as Brother's Keeper

DEAR ABBY: Three years ago my husband and I bought a motel and restaurant in a resort area 300 miles north of our hometown. We are both from large families. Our problem is our relatives who come to visit us all summer long.

We give them half price on rooms and food, but they come when our tourist business is at its peak, and they take up all the rooms that could be rented to tourists for full rate.

Ours is a small but prospering business, and my husband and I run it together. Abby, our parents are welcome anytime, but carloads of aunts, uncles, cousins and their children pile in on us, taking up most of the rooms. Also, after driving so far to see us, they stay for several days expecting us to entertain them in the evenings after we have put in an exhausting 14-hour day!

Is there a nice way to ask them not to come at the height of the season? We just can't find the words. We do love them and don't want them to be mad at us.

US AT THE RESORT

DEAR US: The words you used in your letter say it all — and very well. Love is usually a two-way street. Tell them. If they love you, they will understand.

DEAR ABBY: I want to share with you and your readers an activity my wife and I find to be excellent for releasing tension: boxing!

My wife and I each own a pair of boxing gloves. On those infrequent occasions when we've had a bitter argument over something, we clear out the living room, lace on the gloves and have a go at each other. It enables us to blow off steam and keep our self-defense skills sharp.

We recommend boxing for couples who have lost something in their marriages. It'll put the zip back in!

MIXING IT UP IN MINNEAPOLIS

DEAR MIXING: I'm all for blowing off steam and keeping one's self-defense skills sharp, but wouldn't a couple of punching bags serve the purpose? To each his (and her) own. Me? I'd rather kiss and make up.

DEAR ABBY: Recently a Seattle lawyer wrote to you concerning the problem of aliens marrying U.S. citizens. Your response could be misleading.

A sham marriage, as it is known, involves a conspiracy to avoid the immigration laws, and the alien and/or the citizens can go to the penitentiary for up to five years. Regardless of whether the people say "I love you" to each other, if they are married in name only and not living together... people know. When the U.S. citizen spouse starts demanding blackmail from the alien... people know. When people testify against each other because they have had a fight and the citizen spouse is looking for a "cheap divorce" (i.e., deportation)... people know.

By the way, there is also a statutory presumption in our immigration law, that if a marriage is dissolved within two years after obtaining the immigration benefit, there is a presumption of fraud.

This is a very serious matter, and your response indicated to me that you did not understand just how serious it might be.

HOUSTON LAWYER

DEAR LAWYER: You're right. I didn't. Thanks for setting me straight.

Local 4-H member receives state award

COLLEGE STATION — "My 4-H work has been based on working with my hands. I have shared my skills, produce and achievements with my family, 4-H members and others, and my heart has expanded," says Scott Robinson. Scott, a Howard County 4-H member, has been named a state winner the Santa Fe Program.

As state winner, Scott will receive an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 29 - Dec. 3, announce state officials with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. The trip is one of eight sponsored by the Santa Fe Railway, which also provides four $750 scholarships to outstanding Texas 4-H members.

Scott, 18, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Robinson, Ackerly. He has been an active member of the Knott 4-H Club for 10 years.

Some of his 4-H projects include beef, leadership, achievement, citizenship, veterinary science, livestock judging, public speaking and community improvement.

He has exhibited steers and heifers for 10 years, has been junior county 4-H rodeo director five years, and has been to the Co-Op Youth Leadership Conference in Missouri.

SCOTT ROBINSON

He received the 1980 Howard County Gold Star Award and has won county medals in beef, swine, agriculture, entomology, livestock judging, leadership and citizenship.

Scott was a winner in the 1979 Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo and was a Rural Youth Honoree at the San Antonio Livestock Show.

Leadership roles for Scott have been numerous. He has been a member of the Texas 4-H Council, president of the district and county 4-H councils, and president of his local club.

"I feel my experiences have prepared me to be a good citizen and leader," Scott says. He is currently enrolled at Howard College in Big Spring and plans a career in agriculture.

PTA City Council announces election of new officers

Leslie Earnst, Big Spring City Council PTA president, presented the program for Moss Elementary School's first PTA meeting of this year.

New officers elected are Weldon Claxton, president; Kathy Schrum, vice president; Jacque Jones, secretary; Richard Biel, treasurer; and M.A. Barber, parliamentarian.

M.A. Barber, principal, introduced the teachers and took room count. Sara Tipton and Linda Alexander had winning rooms. Linda Bradley, membership chairman, gave a report on this year's membership drive and stated that the association's goal of reaching 100 percent membership was progressing. The budget was read and approved. Gary Bradley was named project chairman, and Shirley Boyd was selected as chairman for the carnival to be held Oct. 31.

Mrs. Earnst reported that the City Council PTA encourages parents to be involved with the local PTA units in our schools. She gave some functions of the council which include providing leadership training, promoting public relations for local PTAs, fostering good relationships between home and school, and providing training through programs that will benefit children.

The PTA City Council works with district and state level PTAs. Mrs. Earnst reported that Marcy PTA, working through the City Council, helped to pass a resolution presenting PTA's support of funding libraries to state legislators. Also, PTA's views on drug laws were presented to legislators through the help of the council.

Mrs. Earnst concluded the program by stressing the importance of joining PTA to help provide a good atmosphere for education.

The City Council PTA, made up of the leadership of local units, meets the first Tuesday of each month and is open to the public.

Texas' War on Drugs meeting will be held Oct. 20. It was announced that the state convention will be held Nov. 16-18 in San Antonio.

Linda Henry, hospitality chairman, served home-made ice cream. A door prize, two steak dinners at K-Bob's, was won by Jeannine McKinney.

The next meeting will be Nov. 10 at 7 p.m. in the Moss cafeteria.

Rebekahs to furnish cakes for hospital

Olene Melton, vice grand, presided at the meeting of Big Spring Rebekah Lodge No. 284 Tuesday evening. Ten members were present, all of whom were past noble grands.

Members reported 23 visits to the sick and shut-ins. Olene Melton and Myrtle Gring will furnish cakes to be served to patients at the Veterans Administration Hospital Tuesday.

Mildred Collins, refreshment committee chairperson for October, reported that Birthday Night will be celebrated Oct. 20.

For the record

In Thursday's story concerning the 1961 class reunion of Big Spring High School alumni, the phone number of Wanda Dryer was incorrectly printed. The number should have read (915) 263-6528.

Larry Don Shaw predicts area growth at Study Club meeting

Larry Don Shaw, state representative, was special guest at the Monday meeting of the 1941 Study Club. The meeting took place in the Signal Mountain Room of Coahoma State Bank.

Shaw pointed out that a major problem in the area is the water shortage, but anticipated that West Texas will experience rapid growth because of wind and solar energy projects of the future. To keep abreast of the changes in state government, Shaw suggested reading many different newspapers and magazines, watching related television programs and keeping an open mind.

Mrs. Rodney Tiller led the Club Collect Fall colors and a Halloween theme decorated the serving table. Mrs. Grady Tindol and Mrs. Ray Swann were hostesses for the 15 members and guest present.

The next meeting will be Nov. 2 in the home of Mrs. Bill Read. Child abuse will be the program topic.

Child's birth is announced by Wards

Mr. and Mrs. James Allen Ward, 3230 Cornell, announce the birth of their first child, a son, Christopher James-Bryan, Monday at Malone Hogan Hospital. The infant arrived at 8:15 a.m. weighing 7 pounds 15 ounces and measuring 21 inches long.

Christopher's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Averitt, 3301 Eleventh Place, and his paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James B. Ward, Rt. 1. The new arrival's great-grandparents are Mrs. Alma Averitt, 1508 6th, and Mrs. Della Chambliss, Ruston, La.

Chapter holds pledge ritual

Alpha Phi Delta held their first pledge ritual Oct. 2 at the home of Jeanne Newton.

Robbie Brunson, Linda Bowersox and Peggy Craven were inducted as pledges of Beta Sigma Phi. The three pledges will go through a period of training and will then take a test to see if they will qualify for membership. Refreshments were served following the ritual.

The next meeting will be Tuesday at the home of Debbie Nixon.

TOUCHDOWN... we all know the thrill that lifts us to our feet when OUR team scores. We cheer, we sing and shout.

It takes teamwork to put a man over that goal line. The whole team must work together to move that ball down the field... the right way. The guards and tackles must hold the line. The ends must be on target to receive passes. The quarterback must know his plays and execute them with speed and skill.

Likewise, in the game of life we need wisdom and strength beyond our individual endeavor. It is essential to receive inspiration and help in order to achieve successfully our goals in life. Your church or synagogue can provide that faith which leads to everlasting victory.

Here Tamil New Reader Scripture Portions are being offered to passengers on a suburban train in Southeast India.

Help the Children program is created
ATLANTA (AP) — Drawn together by the slayings of 28 young blacks and the poverty those victims represent, more than 100 churches and synagogues have formed clusters to minister to residents of city housing projects.
The Help the Children Project was originated to provide safe summer recreation for inner-city children in 23 neighborhoods, but is now providing tutoring in schools and job opportunities for youths and their parents, says the project's administrator, the Rev. Bob Bevis.
Last spring about 115 congregations, including mainline Protestant, Catholic, Jewish and predominantly black denominations, agreed to provide safe recreation for children following the slayings of 28 young blacks in the Atlanta area over a two-year period.
Clusters ranging from four to eight congregations, in most cases working hand-in-hand with local tenant associations, each adopted a neighborhood in cooperation with the city school system and business community. Bevis said in an interview at his First Presbyterian Church office.
Each cluster consists of at least one inner-city church and at least one suburban church, at least one predominantly black congregation and one predominantly white congregation.

Missionary to speak to Stanton WMU
The annual meeting of the Big Spring Baptist Association Women's Missionary Union will be Monday in the First Baptist Church, Stanton. The meeting, which begins at 10 a.m., will be followed at noon by a covered dish luncheon.
Mrs. N.H. Eudaly, missionary on furlough from El Salvador, will bring the message. She and her husband have served in the mission field there since 1978.
Mrs. Eudaly is editor of literature for children and their leaders as a member of the staff of the Baptist Publishing House in El Paso from 1952-1977. She was on mission assignment in Managua, Nicaragua in 1977-78.
Born in Appleton, Mo., Mrs. Eudaly is a graduate of Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, Mo., and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth. She is the author of "Dickie in Mexico," "Chatting with the Chews" and 19 other books in Spanish.

Bishop Hulsey to visit St. Mary's new campus
The Rev. David L. Bristow, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, announced that the fall visitation of the Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of North-west Texas will take place next week. The Rev. Sam Byron Hulsey, D.D., will be at St. Mary's Church Thursday for a 7:30 p.m. service of confirmation and Holy Eucharist. New members will be received into the church at this service to which the public is invited.
Bishop Hulsey will spend Friday visiting St. Mary's Episcopal School. This will be his first inspection of the new campus. St. Mary's, the oldest church-related school in Big Spring, acquired the old Park Hill site from the Big Spring Independent School District last spring and moved its teaching ministry there in the fall after extensive remodeling. Bishop Hulsey will also tour Canterbury, the Episcopal retirement center, 1700 Lancaster, Friday.
Bishop Hulsey's last visit was in May when he instituted the Rev. Bristow as St. Mary's new rector and headmaster. Bristow served previously in churches in Houston, rural east Texas and Odessa.

Salem Baptist to welcome young speaker
Loren Robinson, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Darrel Robinson, Pasadena, will bring the morning and evening messages at Salem Baptist Church Sunday. Services will begin at 11 a.m. and 7:45 p.m.
Robinson is a sophomore at Sam Rayburn High School in Pasadena and a member of the concert choir. He surrendered to the ministry during the summer.
Loren served this summer at Memorial Heights Baptist Church, Gonzales, as youth director.
The Rev. Darrel Robinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Pasadena, is a former pastor in this area. Loren is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Woner Robinson, Rt. 2.

Coahoma FCW to meet Saturday
The Fellowship for Christian Women will meet Saturday at the First Baptist Church, Coahoma, at 10:30 a.m.
Business to be conducted will include election of new officers and the discussion of the Arts and Crafts Fair in November. Everyone is urged to come and bring a covered dish.
A nursery will be provided.

Female priest appointed to conference

'Focus on Family' films begun

The Cedar Ridge Church of Christ has begun showing a new film series featuring family expert James C. Dobson, Ph.D. The film series, entitled "Focus on the Family," features seven of Dobson's most popular presentations, all of which were filmed live at family life seminars. The showing is free to the public and begins each Wednesday night through Nov. 18 at 7:30 p.m.

The film to be shown Wednesday night is "Shaping the Will without Breaking the Spirit." Other films in the series and dates of their showing are "Christian Fathering," Oct. 21; "Preparing For Adolescence," Part 1: "The Origins of Self-Doubt," Oct. 28; Part 2: "Peer Pressure and Sexuality," Nov. 4; "What Wives Wish Their Husbands Knew About Women," Part 1: "The Lonely Housewife," Nov. 11; Part 2: "Money, Sex, and Children," Nov. 18.
Dr. Dobson is Associate Clinical Professor of Pediatrics at the University of Southern California School of Medicine and part of the attending staff of the Children's Hospital of Los Angeles.

"You have the interesting dynamics of blacks and whites, rich and poor sitting down together to talk about a common concern," he said.

In addition to providing supervised recreation at the housing projects and local schools, the churches organized the Summer Employment Corp. to provide jobs for 10- to 16-year-olds. Their activities included flea markets, farmers markets, car washes and neighborhood cleanups.

"The long-range value is to start instilling good attitudes about work in young people who have been living and growing up with a welfare attitude," he said. "We are bringing hope into a situation where hopelessness is the norm."

The clusters are modeled on a group which First Presbyterian formed with another Presbyterian, an Episcopal and a United Methodist congregation in 1976 to minister at the Carver Homes public housing complex in southwest Atlanta, Bevis said.

At 2:30 p.m. Sunday a LWML workshop or zone rally will be held in Monahan. Members at the local level will be attending this workshop. Members of St. Paul Lutheran Church, Monahan, will be hostesses to all LWML members from the West Texas zone.

The rally will follow the theme of the International LWML meeting, "Come to the Living Waters." Reports of the International convention will be presented by delegates who attended.

Charles Stenholm/Congressional Comment

'Conservative with sanity'

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The comparisons between the problems faced by the mayor of New York and the mayor of any municipality in the 17th District might seem, at first glance, impossible to make. There are vast differences, no doubt, but after a recent visit with the mayor of our country's largest city, I learned that there are many similarities as well.

Mayor Ed Koch is well-known as a rather flamboyant personality in a city renowned in flamboyant personalities. He is also a dedicated public official who has come to recognize, as few individuals really can, the ease of passing federal mandates as a member of Congress and the difficulty of carrying out those same mandates on a local level. He is the first to admit that during his five terms as a congressman from New York, he was among those voting for wide-sweeping social programs that were both well-intentioned and expensive.

As he told other U.S. mayors not too long ago, "As a member of Congress, I voted for many of the laws ... and did so with every confidence that we were enacting sensible permanent solutions to critical problems. It took a plunge into the mayor's job to drive home how misguided my congressional outlook had been. The bills I voted for in Washington came to the floor in a form that compelled approval. After all, who can vote against clean air and water, or better access and education for the handicapped? But as I look back it is hard to believe I could have been taken in by the simplicity of what the Congress was doing and by the flimsy empirical support — often no more than a carefully orchestrated hearing record or a single consultant's report — offered to persuade the members that the proposed solution could work throughout the country."

After facing the realities of paying the bills for his city for several years, Koch now describes himself as a "liberal with sanity." As TIME magazine recently described his basic governing maxim, Koch believes that "you don't spend what you don't have."

The mayor of New York City and I pretty much share those two philosophies, although no one would ever describe me as any type of liberal. But I would like to earn the description of a "conservative with sanity."

Koch and mayor of Abilene could share frustration in dealing with one particular well-intentioned, but impractical and expensive federal mandate: total accessibility for the handicapped to transit systems. Abilene city officials and I tried and tried, unsuccessfully, to obtain a waiver from Department of Transportation regulations requiring all new city buses to be equipped with wheelchair lifts, even though adequate alternate means of transportation were available in Abilene.

New York City faced the same problem with their subway system and found the DOT unwilling to bend and recognize that alternative means were available and were even preferable. As Koch says, "It would be cheaper for us to provide every severely disabled person with taxi service than making 255 of our subway stations accessible."

It will cost the City of New York some $1.3 billion in today's dollars to meet the DOT regulations, plus an additional $50 million in recurring annual operating expenses. In fact, the estimated cost for applying the regulations, when spread over the limited number of wheelchair users and severely disabled passengers, will be $38 per trip, compared to 85 cents per trip for the general public.

My trip to New York, at the invitation of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, gave me a better perspective into the problems brought about by passage of well-intentioned federal mandates being forced on local government — whether those governments are the largest in the country or the smallest.

The visit with Mayor Koch strengthened my own resolve to continue to ask myself, "Can we afford it? Do we really need it? Can it best be done at the local or state level?" before voting on any federal mandate in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Disabled air controller ordered back to work for 'examination'

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — An air traffic controller who says he has violent episodes and takes eight kinds of medicine, including tranquilizers, has been ordered back to work at the Fort Worth Air Route Traffic Control Center in Euless.

Larry McDargh, 44, of Bedford, says he's afraid he might "lose my cool and hurt somebody" if he has to stop taking the drugs — some of which are prohibited if he goes back to being an active controller.

"I'm scared to come off that medication until I can get hold of myself," he said.

Sherri Rogers earns music scholarship

SAN MARCOS — Sherri Rogers of Big Spring was among the 85 Southwest Texas State University students who received music scholarships for the 1981-82 academic year.

According to Dr. Arlis Hiebert, chairman of the SWT Music Department, 45 students had their scholarships renewed while 40 are xvst-time scholarship recipients.

Rogers is a returning scholarship student, Hiebert says. Hiebert says the music scholarships are awarded to new students after auditions before a faculty committee. The committee makes the awards on the basis of excellence in musical performance and promise for the successful completion of a degree program at Southwest Texas State.

McDonald's offers tuition plan for college students

McDonald's restaurants in Midland and Big Spring have introduced the "McDonald's Scholarship Work-Study Plan" for students attending Midland College and Howard College.

The plan is designed to help cut the high cost of education.

Under the plan, a student at either college can receive $75 to $225 refunded for fees and books with no restrictions on courses taken.

"With costs rising, it's hard for a student to get a good education," says Vic Moore, owner of the McDonald's restaurants in Midland and Big Spring.

"McDonald's wants to do as much as possible to reward those students who are serious about their education and determined to get that diploma."

To become eligible for the "McDonald's Scholarship Work-Study Plan," a student must complete at least 12 hours for a semester, pass each course with at least a "C" grade and average at least 20 hours per week working at McDonald's. Flexible working hours are available with some weekend — only positions possible.

McDonald's asks that students apply in person at McDonald's, 1111 Andrews Highway in Midland or 1110 West Douglas in Big Spring.

Suicide suspected in officer's death

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A medical examiner's spokesman said suicide was suspected in the death of an off-duty Terrell Hills policeman found shot to death at his home.

A .357 magnum pistol was found next to the body of Mario Herrera, 26, who was shot in the mouth.

Steers try to rebound in Midland tonight

By NATHAN POSS
Sports Editor

MIDLAND — A pair of teams that suffered painfully close losses last week in their District 5-AAAAA openers meet tonight, with the loser all but being eliminated from the league title chase.

The hottest matches the Big Spring Steers and the Midland Bulldogs, and their positions are much the same as in the past. Since 1974, both of the teams have entered this game with an 0-1 district mark, the Steers having lost to Abilene and Midland to Odessa Permian.

But that streak nearly ended on both ends last week. Big Spring led until 14 seconds remained, only to be beaten on a desperation pass by Abilene. Midland had the ball on Permian's 26-yard line in the final minute, but couldn't move it in and lost 17-10.

The Steers had played one of their emotional games in the loss to Abilene, and it no doubt will be difficult to recover.

"We didn't play well and execute smoothly, but we did play very hard," said Big Spring Coach Ralph Harris of last week's loss. "We could still be a very good team before this year is over. We can get a lot better."

Another aspect that will probably hurt the Steers game tonight is the absence of returning All-District runner Bobby Earl Williams. Williams re-injured a knee in the Abilene game, and his presence in the latter stages of the contest hurt the Steers. Williams had his knee under arthroscopic surgery Monday, and no permanent damage was found. Nevertheless, he will be gone for at least three games, and maybe for the year.

"We lost a good player," Harris said of Williams. "We like to think we've got some ammunition left, though. Most people don't think we do. That's a challenge for our team to respond to."

But the loss of Bobby Earl hurt him more than it did us," the Steer grid boss continued. "We still have a chance to play these next few games, but he doesn't. I just hope people remember that."

Midland started off the year by defeating Amarillo Tascosa, but then fell to Midland and Lubbock Monterey. But in the Permian game, the Bulldogs switched to the I-offensive attack, and played the defending state champions on even terms for most of the game.

"They'll line up in the split backfield, switch to the I, give an unbalanced look and then go in motion," said Harris of the Pat Culpepper coached Midland team. "They'll give us an opportunity to become confused. Permian did at times. The ability of our kids to pick it up without losing their poise will have a lot to say in the game."

Midland is a talented crew, and according to Harris, has as much talent as anyone in the district.

The Bulldogs also have a couple of giants in the form of tight end Wally Kleine (6'7", 235) and defensive tackle Joe Goebel (6'8", 260). Goebel is being touted in some circles as a possible All-Stater, and also is a better than average kicker.

Running the Midland show is quarterback Alan Chick, but the big threat is tailback Wesley Williams, who Harris describes as the strength of the Bulldog offense. He has carried 54 times for 259 yards and three scores this year.

Replacing the Steers Williams (who led 5-AAAAA in rushing last year and is currently leading it this year) will be junior Danny Stephen. Stephen has seen starting duties before in the BSHS backfield, so that should help ease the loss of Bobby Earl.

The Steers, while playing hard against Abilene, must have a better showing this week. "Midland has better talent than Abilene. Last week they (Midland) played very intense. They'll be tough if they continue like that," said Harris.

Another factor in helping ease Bobby Earl's loss is the offensive line, which Harris said is really coming around. "We're doing better in the offensive line than most people think," said Harris.

But that's not what concerns the Big Spring Steers the most. The most important factor is themselves.

"The most important thing about this game is that we are physical and play as hard as we can," mentioned Harris, "rather than having proper execution all the time. We've still got to execute better, though."

AREA GRID ROUNDUP
Forsan visits Stanton

STANTON — The two teams are old foes, and have the same mascots, but that might be all that is similar tonight when the Stanton Bulldogs play host to the Forsan Bulldogs.

In recent years, Stanton has gone into the game as heavy favorites, and has then lived up to that ranking during the contests. Most recent evidence was a 36-0 whipping inflicted on Forsan last year.

But that may have changed, despite the fact that Stanton is still salty. The Stanton crew comes into the game with a 3-2 record, but one of those losses was to state ranked Tahoka, and Coach Steve Park's crew is fresh from a 22-6 upset win over Seagraves in their 5-AA opener.

The difference this year is the Forsan Bulldogs. After winning only one game in 1980, first year head coach Jan East and the rejuvenated Forsan squad has a mark of 3-2 heading into tonight's contest, including a 5-AA rout of O'Donnell by a 42-0 count.

"Our kids are real pumped up for this one, and to win like we did last week really helped. I know we're 25-point underdogs (in the Harris Rating System) but I think we'll give 'em a good shot," said East.

In other 5-AA games, Morton is at O'Donnell and Seagraves is at Ropes.

Garden City meets Sands

ACKERLY — The pre-season tests are over, and the District 3-A (West Zone) competition is for real tonight when the Garden City Bearkats tangle with the Sands Mustangs.

Going on previous contests this year, the Garden City team would have to be considered as the favorite. But Sands is fresh from their first win of the year, an 18-17 edging of undefeated Smyer.

Garden City is on the upswing, however. In Coach Stu Cooper's first year last fall, the Bearkats improved from an 0-10 mark of 1979 to 3-6-1. But they have already matched that thus far, as their 3-2 mark is the best among any West Zone inhabitants.

The Bearkats are coming off an expected 37-12 win over Water Valley, and has high hopes of winning their zone.

Sands opened the season by tying in their first two games by scores of 0-0. They then lost 30-0 to Throckmorton before falling to Lorraine 20-16.

But last week's win proved that the Sands crew could play, making tonight's game more interesting than it appeared just a few days ago.

Coahoma hosts red hot Post

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Bulldogs will be trying to break a four-game losing streak tonight when they host the Post Antelopes, but it won't be an easy task.

Coahoma, after opening with a 30-0 rout of Wall, has fallen on hard times. But their 1-4 record could be deceiving, as all of their four losses were to rugged teams. In fact, Coahoma has scored as many total points as their opposition on the year.

Post, meanwhile, is 3-1 and coming off an open date. They should be well rested for tonight's contest.

Sweetwater visits Lamesa

LAMESA — The Lamesa Golden Tors played inspired football in the first half of last week's contest with state ranked Andrews, but things fell apart after the intermission.

But Coach Jim Warren is hoping that his Golden Tors can put it together for an entire 48 minutes tonight when the Sweetwater Mustangs come to town.

Sweetwater is a high powered team lead by all-around ace Danny Williams. The Mustangs are coming off a loss to San Angelo Lake View, but still have lost only once in four decisions.

Lamesa is 0-5 on the year, and winless in three District 2-AAAA outings.

Colorado City goes for 3rd win

COLEMAN — After having some difficult times in their first three games, the Colorado City Wolves will take a red hot two-game winning streak here tonight when they invade the Coleman Blue Cats.

Colorado City, after winning over Ballinger two weeks ago, came out strong in their contest with Coahoma last week, rolling to a 30-0 half-time lead en route to a 30-14 decision.

Coleman comes into the contest after having lost to Abilene Wylie by a score of 28-14.

Klondike opens 3-A at New Home

Chances for redemption will be given tonight when the Klondike Cougars travel to meet New Home in the District 3-A (West Zone) opener for both teams.

Both teams came into the game without a win in their non-district slate. New Home managed a tie in their five starts, while Klondike is 0-4.

Klondike is the defending 3-A champions, and Coach Bill West hopes that that distinction gives his team a boost that they have not had thus far this year.

Grady meets another tough foe

GRADY — The Grady Wildcats go from the frying pan to the oven this week when they host the Trent Gorillas, and either way that's hot.

Grady met the defending state runner up in six-man football last Friday, Highland, going down to a 50-0 defeat. But Trent won't be much easier.

"They're another real tough team. I just hope we can get through these next two games without being too hurt physically or mentally and go in with a good attitude for the last three games," said Grady Coach Richard Gibson.

Bill Easterling Memorial Run tomorrow

COAHOMA — The Bill Easterling Memorial Run, sponsored by the West Texas Running Club, will be held here tomorrow beginning at 10:00 a.m. at Coahoma High School.

The race is the October version of the West Texas Running Club, and will include two different distances of two and nine miles.

Divisions in the nine-mile jaunt include Open, 30-39, 40-49, 50 and over, and Ladies. Divisions in the two-mile run will be high school and under, open, 30-39, 40 and over, girls 24 and under, and ladies 25 and over.

A free t-shirt will be given to all participants. Entry fee is one dollar for club members, and two dollars for non-members. The t-shirts are being provided by Athletics Foot of Abilene, which is owned by Roland Beal.

The race director is Sherill Easterling. She has indicated that their will be awards in each of the previously mentioned divisions.

SAD SAL — Milwaukee Brewers third baseman Sal Bando holds his head down as New York's Reggie Jackson rounds the bases after hitting a two run home run in the ninth inning Thursday to cap a 3-0 victory for the Yankees. The win gave New York a two games lead in the best of five playoff series for the American League Eastern Division title.

All baseball playoffs at 2-0

By The Associated Press

First-half champions Oakland and New York in the American League and second-half winners Houston and Montreal in the National League are one victory away from advancing to the semifinals of major league baseball's first three-tiered playoff season.

The A's and Yankees appear to have the advantage over their NL counterparts with 2-0 leads in the divisional playoffs because they won their two games on the road, at Kansas City and Milwaukee, respectively. New York beat the Brewers 3-0 Thursday and return to Yankee Stadium tonight with Tommy John facing either Pete Vuckovich, hampered by the flu, or Randy Lerch in the East Division playoffs.

Oakland, which beat the Royals 2-1 to take a two-game advantage in the AL West series Wednesday, is at home tonight with Rick Langford opposing Larry Gura.

In the NL, Houston had to travel to Los Angeles, where the Astros lost three games in a row at the end of the 1980 season to force a one-game playoff at Dodger Stadium, won by Houston. The memory of those three victories gave the Dodgers hope going into today's third West Division championship game.

"We had to win four (including the one-game playoff) last year," said Los Angeles first baseman Steve Garvey. "We only have to win three this year. We're in better shape."

Dodgers right-hander Burt Hooton faced lefty Bob Knepper for the Astros, who have allowed only one

DALLAS (AP) — Although Oklahoma is 1-1-1 and fumbled the ball away 10 times in the process the Sooners rated a field goal favorite over the unbeaten and third-ranked Texas Longhorns Saturday in their annual Red River collegiate football rivalry.

The 10th-ranked Sooners have beaten Wyoming, lost to Southern California and tied Iowa State.

Texas has rolled over Rice, North Texas and Miami.

Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer and his Big Eight Sooners haven't beaten Texas Coach Freddie Akers and the Southwest Conference Longhorns since 1978.

The nationally televised (11:50 a.m.) game will pit Oklahoma's explosive Wish-bone-T ground attack which is averaging 358 yards per game against a tough Texas defense which has permitted only 40 yards per contest. Both figures rank second nationally.

I've heard people refer to farmers as "those rich farmers" for years. That is the motivation for this column. I thought maybe someone out there might like a chance to be a rich farmer so here is an offer, along with some vital information.

We will rent you 1,000 acres of farm land. (This offer is for someone not currently farming.) All you need now is to run out & borrow $215,500.00 at 20.5 percent interest (that is SBA's rate). This will be enough for the minimum amount of equipment ($153,000.00) and expense of producing a crop, plus living expense. Incidentally, this does not include cost of labor, insurance or any extras, e.g. an extra tractor.

If you're lucky & produce a bale of cotton to the acre & sell it at 52 cents a lb. (the current loan price), you will have around $97,000.00 income after you pay 1/4 rent, which is enough to pay the $44,177.50 interest on your note & $53,322.50 toward the principle.

At this point, your note is only $162,177.50 (plus interest $33,246.39 for the next year). Since you've got your equipment, all you will have to borrow for the second year is money to operate & live on ... $62,500.00 + interest $12,812.50 ... at the end of the 2nd year you'll only owe $270,736.79 ... and you're on your way to being a "rich farmer." Welcome to the game.

*** You don't have to be a rich farmer to shop at Big Spring Seed & Chemical, 602 N.E. 2nd. We do have a 30-day credit plan. Be sure & inquire about a new service we have starting in 1982.

Lady Steers back on winning track

ABILENE — The Big Spring Lady Steers girls volleyball team returned to their winning ways here Thursday night in their District 5-AAAAA second half opener, drumming Abilene High 15-5, 15-4.

The Lady Steers won their first six games in the opening half of district action, but then fell in the title match with San Angelo on Tuesday. But last night, the Big Spring girls showed no signs of being down following the loss.

Lady Steer Coach Patti Purser was most pleased with the win. "Everybody played and did well," she noted, then mentioning the outstanding play of Amy Ragan in serving, Pam Caudill's setting, Elise Wheat and Stephanie Russell at the net and Sissy Doss in the backcourt.

"Before the season, Amy couldn't serve overhand, but she knew if she wanted to play varsity she would have to," explained Purser. "She's worked real hard at it, and it really showed last night. She served two aces and six points in a row in the opening set."

Ragan was the leading point server in the match with 10, followed by Caudill's eight, Wheat's four, Doss and Sylvia Randle's three, and Janie Phillips with two.

The win moved the Lady Steers second half record to 1-0, and their season mark to 16-7. They return to play at Midland High on Tuesday.

In the JV contest, the Big Spring girls also won, taking a 15-7, 15-4 decision.

Debbie Holguin, a freshman that was just moved up to the JV squad, did an outstanding job setting. Sheri Graham was mentioned for her backcourt play.

The JVs also play at Midland on Tuesday.

The Big Spring freshmen will be at home on Monday at three in the evening when they host Lamesa.

Defending SWC champ faces extinction

By the Associated Press

THE defending champion Baylor Bears, who swept through the Southwest Conference unbeaten a year ago, face virtual elimination Saturday night unless they can rebound against unblemished Southern Methodist in Texas Stadium.

The Bears were eight-point underdogs to the 14th-ranked Mustangs, who are third in the country in scoring of offense with an average of 40 points per game.

SMU is third nationally running the ball with an average of 333 yards per contest behind Eric Dickerson, who is averaging 136 yards and Craig James who is averaging 117.

In other SWC matchups, Houston was a field goal choice over Texas A&M at Kyle Field; rejuvenated Texas Christian was a three-point pick over Rice in Houston; and Arkansas was a touchdown favorite to bounce back from the TCU upset to beat Texas Tech in Lubbock.

No 3-ranked and unbeaten Texas was a field goal underdog to No. 10-rated Oklahoma in the only intersectional game of the weekend.

The Baylor-SMU series has become one of the SWC's wildest with the last six games decided by a total of 27 points.

Baylor overcame a 21-0 deficit last year to beat the Mustangs 32-28.

Houston is third nationally on rush defense, allowing just 55.7 yards while Texas A&M is 10th.

The Aggies' Johnny Hector has averaged 101 yards per game as A&M's top offensive threat.

"We will be tested severely," said Houston Coach Bill Yeoman. "The conference is going to be a jumbled mess just like I said it was. If we do not play at our maximum effort we will get blown away. They have rallied late in a couple of ball games now and it has to help their confidence."

Arkansas has a 20-4 lead in the Texas Tech series but the Razorbacks found out last week against TCU, which had lost 22 straight years, what can happen if you take a victory for granted.

Bill Pierce will start at quarterback for the injured Tom Jones in Arkansas' lineup.

TCU quarterback Steve Stamp, the nation's No. 2 passer and Stanley

Washington, the top receiver in the country, will be a big project for the Owls, who knocked off Tulane last week.

Rice beat the Horned Frogs 28-24 last year.

"I look for us to have a high-scoring, and aggressive game with TCU," said Rice wide receiver Hosea Fortune.

This will be the first time since 1961 that Rice and TCU will meet coming off victories.

Runnels girls split matches

Runnels' girls volleyball teams split their matches with Andrews here last night.

The Runnels White team topped Andrews B team, 15-6, 15-4. Leading server point wise for Coach Barbara Fletcher's team was Christina Alvarez with 10, followed by Delia Leal with eight, Tracy Kilgore with seven and Jana Whitehead with two.

Andrews A team then rallied to beat Runnels Red 12-15, 15-8, 15-13.

Libby Hernandez had 14 service points for the Runnels girls, with Tammie Green adding nine, Monique Jones seven and Lisa Phillips four.

Hernandez was mentioned by Coach Jane Upton for her setting, while Phillips played best game of the year, especially spiking.

The Runnels teams return home on Monday to play Lamesa.

Goliad girls sweep Lamesa

The Goliad girls volleyball teams were red hot here Thursday afternoon, rolling to a pair of easy wins over Andrews.

The Goliad White team scored a 15-9, 15-10 win in their match. High point servers were Charlotte Lang with eight, Pamela Palmer with six, and Karen Brodie and Michelle Hupwed with five each.

The Goliad Black squad scored a 15-1, 15-5 triumph. Kelli Preston had 11 points serving, with Sheila Chapman adding five and Lisa Hale four. Defensive standouts were Priscilla Banks, Larrie Norman and Sheri Myrick.

The Goliad girls will enter the Plains Tournament tomorrow, and then return home to host Lamesa Monday.

Hometown boy leads Southern Open

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — George Johnson, a self-proclaimed golf hustler once bumped off the pro tour for poor play, is turning his game around before a hometown crowd at the $200,000 Southern Open.

Johnson, who grew up in Columbus, shared the lead with defending champion Mike Sullivan and veteran George Burns at 4-under-par 66 after Thursday's first round.

A total of 47 players equalled or bettered par on a cool, cloudy day that began with rain falling for the first four hours. There were 75 of the 156 players entered at 71 or better over the par-70, 6,791-yard Green Island Country Club course.

One stroke back in the chase for the $36,000 first prize were Peter Oosterhuis, Peter Jacobsen, J.C. Snead and unknowns Payne Stewart and Mike Holland.

Calvin Peete and John Cook were among seven at 68, while Andy Bean, returning after more than five months with a hand injury, headed 15 golfers at 69.

Jerry Pate, the seventh-leading money winner, was at 70 and Johnny Miller had a 71. Arnold Palmer was in danger of missing the cut today after a 74.

Johnson, 42, who learned to play while caddying at a local club, said he makes about $20,000 to $25,000 on the mini-tour and used to earn money as a hustler.

"I used to go to the golf courses where the money was, in Atlanta, St. Louis, anywhere. That's the only thing that kept me going," said the ever-smiling Johnson.

"I've hustled all over the world, but no more. Everybody knows me now. My hustling days are over," he said.

In 1979, Johnson lost his Tour card because of poor play after 10 years on the circuit.

Johnson, who just was hired as a club pro at a local golf course, said he would probably return to the Tour-nament Players Tour next March.

Unser renamed Indy winner-for now

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Four and a half months after he was waved across the finish line, Bobby Unser is ready to celebrate his third triumph in the Indianapolis 500-mile race.

A special U.S. Auto Club appeal panel announced Thursday that a one-lap penalty against Unser, which vaulted runner-up Mario Andretti into first place a day after the May 24 race, was improperly assessed.

The dispute, now settled as far as USAC is concerned, still may not be over, though, depending on Andretti's next move.

"I'm just too sick to even think about it," Andretti said. "I'm sick at the decision, the way it was carried out. I want to make that clear."

Andretti could appeal the USAC ruling to a higher body within auto racing — to the Automobile Competition Committee for the United States (ACCUS), the domestic arm of the Federation Internationale de L'Automobile (FIA), the international governing body. If he is rebuffed by ACCUS or the FIA, he could take the matter to civil court, which Unser previously said he would do if necessary.

Andretti, who won the Indy race in 1969, said, "I'll never be able to swallow this. It's totally unjust, it really is."

Unser, understandably, was elated over Thursday's ruling, which came on a 2-1 vote by the special USAC panel. Ironically, when the decision was announced at USAC headquarters, Unser was hunting elk in northern New Mexico mountains with his brother, Al, and with Pat Patrick, Andretti's car owner.

Patrick had said all along he thought Unser should have been declared the winner.

Phillie manager going to Cubs?

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Philadelphia Phillies Manager Dallas Green has accepted a lucrative, five-year contract to become vice president and general manager of the Chicago Cubs, according to a published report.

The agreement was reached last Sunday and will be formally announced as soon as the Phillies — now 0-2 in the National League East playoffs — complete post-season competition, says a copyright story in today's editions of the Wilmington News Journal.

They Phillies were trying to avoid elimination today against the Montreal Expos.

Lee Elia, Green's third base coach in Philadelphia, would replace Joey Amalfitano as manager of the Cubs, the report said.

The paper quotes what it calls an "unimpeachable source" as saying that the 47-year-old Green, a Delaware native, accepted the offer only after he and his wife Sylvia, were wine and dined in Chicago recently.

Mrs. Green was picked up at Greater Wilmington Airport in a private jet owned by the Chicago Tribune Co., owner of the Cubs, the report said.

Exact terms of the contract were not disclosed, but the News Journal said Green, who is paid $96,000 a year by the Phillies, at first balked at making the move, partly because the difference in salary would not have been worth it. A new offer, including generous fringe benefits, was impossible to refuse, the paper said.

Green, who last season led the Phillies to their only World Series championship ever, refused Thursday night to confirm or deny the report.

The paper added that Bill Giles, who heads a group that is negotiating to buy the Phillies from Carpenter, offered to match the Cubs' offer to Green.

Switzer praises UT defense

in the country," said Switzer. "The Longhorns are not as good offensively as Southern California but they are certainly better defensively. They are big strong athletes with a lot of experience."

Akers said "even with all the turnovers they have had, they have outgained everyone. That tells you their offensive line is blowing people away. Iowa State caught them at the best possible time — after a frustrating loss to USC and before playing us."

He added "Oklahoma has been extended much more than we have but we expect to take a fine football team to Dallas and we expect to meet a fine football team there."

Texas will come into the matchup with a week's rest. "It's given us a chance to heal a few wounds and to work with our younger players," said Akers.

The Longhorns hold the all-time edge in the series at 45-27-3 but Texas is only ahead 18-16-1 since World War II.

Both teams were relatively injury free with Texas' starting fullback Carl Robinson expected to start after a two weeks' recovery from a sprained ankle.

Pitchers make big difference

Dodger run in 20 innings. The Expos, playing in post-season competition for the first time, beat the Philadelphia Phillies 3-1 for the second game in a row at Montreal Thursday night. The two teams met today in Philadelphia with Larry Christenson pitching for the Phillies and Ray Burris for Montreal.

The Expos got an unearned run in the second inning, a two-run homer by Gary Carter in the third and then stifled a Phillies rally in the eighth for the victory.

Montreal starter Bill Gulickson allowed only three hits through seven innings until Louie Smith doubled, Pete Rose singled him home and Bake McBride doubled to put the tying run on second base with two outs. Mike Schmidt was walked intentionally before reliever Jeff Reardon retired Gary Matthews to end the inning.

Reardon went on to get his second save in two games.

"We know we're between a rock and a hard place," Phillies Manager Dallas Green said of his team's chances to win three straight against the Expos. "It's going to be tough because their pitching is a lot better than ours and we knew it before the series."

Dave Righetti struck out 10 and allowed four hits in six innings while Lou Piniella and Reggie Jackson bled to lead the Yankees over the Brewers. Goose Gossage pitched the last 22-3 innings for New York and struck out another four Milwaukee batters.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals addressed to the Honorable Mayor and City Council of the City of Big Spring, Texas, will be received at the office of the City Secretary, until 2:00 P.M. (October 27, 1981), for the construction of certain Water Works and Sanitary Sewer Improvements for the City of Big Spring, Texas.

The project consists of the replacement of existing water lines in various parts of the City, complete, including piping, connections and appurtenant items of work. Also included is the construction of a new sanitary sewer outfall line beginning at the sewer plant and proceeding generally northwest until it intersects an existing line in Rutter Street approximately 300 feet west of Columbia Street and a portion of line along Columbia Street between Drexel Street and Auburn Street, complete, including piping, connections, manholes and appurtenant items of work.

The improvements to the water distribution system will be bid in three parts. The Base Bid covers work which will definitely be included in this Contract. Alternates A and B deal with replacing certain water lines in the easements behind the residences or in the streets respectively. One of the alternates will be included with the Base Bid. Additive Alternates are provided to make up the difference between the Base Bid and the funds available. None, all or any combination of the Additive Alternates may be added to the Base Bid.

A Pre-Bid Conference will be held in the Council Chambers, City Hall, Big Spring, Texas at 2:00 P.M., October 15, 1981.

Bidders must submit a Cashier's or Certified Check issued by a bank satisfactory to the Owner, or a Proposal Bond from a reliable Surety Company, payable without recourse to the order of the City of Big Spring, Texas, in an amount not less than five percent (5%) of the largest possible bid submitted as a guaranty that the Bidder will enter into a contract and execute bonds and guaranty in the forms provided within ten (10) days after notice of award of contract to him. Bids without the required check or Proposal Bond will not be considered.

The successful Bidder will be required to furnish a Performance Bond and a Payment Bond, each in the amount of the contract, written by a reliable Surety Company, authorized to do business in the State of Texas, and satisfactory to the Owner, as required by Article 166, V.A.T.C.S., as amended by H.B. 341, passed by the 66th Legislature, Regular Session, 1959.

The City of Big Spring, Texas reserves the right to hold all proposals for a period not to exceed 30 days after the date of receiving bids, to reject any or all bids and to waive formalities. No bids may be withdrawn, after having been opened, within the 30 day period set out herein.

Bidders are expected to inspect the site of the work and to inform themselves regarding all local conditions.

Information for bidders, proposal forms, specifications and plans are on file in the office of the City Secretary, Big Spring, Texas, and at the office of Parkhill, Smith & Cooper, Inc., Consulting Engineers, 4010 Avenue R, Lubbock, Texas 79412 (Phone 806-741-6141), upon payment of $25.00 deposit for each set of documents. Refund of the deposit will be made as provided in the INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS.

A attention is called to the fact that there must be paid on the project not less than the general prevailing rates of wages as set out in the SPECIAL PROVISIONS. However, the inclusion of such minimum schedule of wages does not release the Contractor from compliance with any State Wage Law that may be applicable. The Contractor must abide by the Wage and Hour Laws of the State of Texas and must pay not less than the rates legally prescribed or as set forth in the SPECIAL PROVISIONS, whichever is higher.

Owner's head almost swallowed by pet snake

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Monty the python was great at parties and had been a friend to Bennett Boggess for years until it opened its jaws and tried to swallow his head, leaving him in shock and with teeth stuck in its forehead.

Rosemary Russell heard an "agonizing scream" and rushed into the living room where she saw the 14-foot-long snake wrapped tightly around her boyfriend's head.

The python was digging its teeth into Boggess' forehead, Ms. Russell said, and as she watched, it widened its jaw to take in Boggess' entire head.

Ms. Russell and Richard Frank, one of Boggess' roommates, said they were convinced they would have to kill Monty to free Boggess. But after a bloody struggle that lasted a few minutes, the snake relaxed its grip and Boggess got free.

Boggess, 23, now says the next time he feeds his snake he'll make sure two people are on hand.

Monty was still living at home today, but in a cage with 30 pounds of barbells stacked on top for security.

"I've been awake three nights watching the snake cage to make sure it doesn't get out," said Frank, adding that he would love to give the snake away and is trying to talk Boggess out of getting another snake when he eventually gets rid of Monty.

Although Boggess said after the Sept. 30 attack that the snake had just become ornery, a Gainesville expert said the python's behavior was characteristic.

"Snakes cannot be domesticated," Walter Auffenberg, curator of herpetology at the Florida State Museum, said Wednesday. "They are completely untrustworthy in that they can get some cue from you that you're the food."

Boggess, a billing clerk at Shands Teaching Hospital, was about to feed the python a live rabbit and had the snake draped around his neck when it tried to swallow his head.

Frank said he saw Boggess fall back and grab the snake's mouth, but as the snake wrapped itself more tightly around his head, "all you could see was one eye and a nostril. You could see the blood going down over his eyes."

Frank and Ms. Russell tried to pull the snake away, but it tightened its grip. Frank went to the kitchen for a knife and Ms. Russell went to look for an ax. Suddenly, after being poked in the eyes and mouth by Boggess, Monty relaxed its grip.

Boggess was treated at a hospital for shock, and was given tetanus shots and local anesthetic. Several snake teeth were removed from his forehead.

Boggess said he bought Monty for $60 when the snake was a baby five years ago and "it grew and grew and grew." He said the serpent "seemed friendly then," but admitted he'd like to sell it or give it to the Jacksonville Zoo. He said he still wants to buy a smaller snake.

Winds deflate balloonists' hopes

NORTON, Kan. (AP) — What started as a lazy, tranquil float across the Rocky Mountains turned into a turbulent, wildcat ride across the Kansas plains as strong winds deflated two balloons participating in the U.S. Gas Balloon Championships Thursday afternoon.

The winds forced down two gondola cars and five men in western Kansas, and played a dangerous game of "crack the whip" with one balloon.

No serious injuries were reported, but two men suffered bumps, bruises and were "all scratched up" after their helium balloon went out of control during an emergency landing near Norton.

Tom Parker, 36, a Dallas dentist, and Harko Mori, 33, a professional photographer from Tokyo, were trapped in the runaway balloon when their "rip cord" failed to release the craft's helium.

Three other men went down in a wheat field southwest of Scott City. They were Ben Bruzzo and Ron Clark, both of Albuquerque, N.M., and Rocky H. Aoki, owner of a

Now...Who did J.R. kill?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — J.R. Ewing of "Dallas," who began last season trying to discover his mystery assailant, is in a new pickle that could send him to jail for murder.

But the big question on the producers' minds may be why the solution to the latest cliffhanger has failed to arouse the same fever pitch of viewer curiosity that awaited the answer to "Who Shot J.R.?"

The CBS series opens its fourth season Friday with a puzzle left hanging from the end of the last season — who is the dead woman in the swimming pool at South Fork Ranch, and did J.R. kill her?

Cliff Barnes, J.R.'s archrival, who discovers the body, accuses him of her death and J.R. is taken to police headquarters for questioning. J.R., television's most hissable villain, is played by Larry Hagman. Ken Kercheval is Barnes.

The episode will reveal the identity of the victim, but it will take several more episodes to clear up all aspects of the mystery.

Producer Larry Katzman said last April, when the cliffhanger episode was first telecast, that the victim would not be a stranger.

This year's cliffhanger on "Dallas" has stirred up some interest but nothing like the phenomenon that surrounded "Who Shot J.R.?" It created a sensation here and in England, and the resolution of that mystery — it was his wife's sister, Kristin — broke all viewing records with a 76 percent share of the audience.

"The real craze that gripped the country last year is now hitting other countries," said John Simms, a spokesman for Lorimar Productions. "It's just opened in Japan, Germany, South Africa and Finland. Our phones have been ringing off the wall with calls from those countries. And the Finland station can be seen in Leningrad, so that for the first time 'Dallas' is being seen in Russia."

restaurant chain based in New York and Tokyo. Bruzzo was a crew member on the first trans-Atlantic balloon flight in 1978. The trio have been planning a trans-Pacific flight next month.

While Bruzzo and his passengers were skidding to a halt in Scott City, Parker and Mori were hanging on for their lives as their gondola car skipped wildly across Norton County.

"We had requested an emergency landing and were coming down through the clouds," Parker said. "The wind was blowing about 30 mph. I went to pull the rip cord ... to open the rip valve and release our helium. It failed to open, the helium stayed in there and we hit the ground and bounced."

The balloonists said they had taken off Wednesday evening from Albuquerque as part of a race in the Albuquerque Balloon Fiesta. They were in a race in which 17 "hound" balloons were chasing a "hare" balloon which had taken off earlier.

Parker said the balloon dragged them about 1½ miles through trees and brush before slamming into a large oak tree. The impact knocked the top off the tree and threw Parker out of the wicker gondola car some 30 feet to the ground.

"I had on four layers of insulated clothes," Parker said. "That and the gondola saved me."

J.R. threatened four women in the episodes immediately prior to the woman being found in the pool. Here are the prime candidates:

—Sue Ellen, J.R.'s wife, played by Linda Gray, who has taken away their son, John Ross.

—Pamela Ewing, J.R.'s sister-in-law, played by Victoria Principal, who helped Sue Ellen get the baby away from J.R.

—Kristin Shepard, J.R.'s former mistress, played by Mary Crosby, who is a potential danger to J.R. because he may be the father of her child.

—Louella, J.R.'s secretary, played by Meg Gallagher, who failed to get rid of the man who staged a counter-revolution in Asia for J.R. The man ended up before a state Senate investigating committee, a considerable embarrassment to J.R.

Folks in Yellville ready Turkey Drop

YELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — In keeping with a harvest tradition, the folks in Yellville will be tossing live turkeys from the rooftops onto the crowd in the courthouse square Saturday, come high water or humane society.

"Whether you want to call it a drop, a toss or kicking them in the pants, the turkeys are going to be on the (courthouse) square" during the annual Turkey Trot Festival, Terry McPherson, president of the Yellville Chamber of Commerce, said Thursday.

The American Humane Association asked Gov. Frank White and Attorney General Steve Clark this week to stop the Chamber of Commerce from dropping the live birds because it is cruel and could be dangerous.

An aide had said White would take no action because the governor was unsure the drop would take place. The aide made that comment before McPherson vowed to go on with the turkey drop, and there was no word from the governor afterward.

The attorney general said he would not intervene. Douglas Lee, an investigator with the Arkansas Humane Association, said dropping the turkeys violates state laws that prohibit cruelty to animals.

"They can be injured," Lee said of the turkeys. "You cause that animal undue stress or injury that could be avoided."

They've had a Turkey Trot Festival in this town of 1,031 people for 36 years, and 20 years ago someone started tossing turkeys from a low-flying airplane. But last year the pilot's license was revoked for 60 days because he flew below the Federal Aviation Administration's 1,000-foot limit, said FAA official James Butler in Little Rock.
