Egyptians in Big Spring study farm techniques

By MIKE DOWNEY
Staff Writer

Egypt came to Big Spring yesterday in the form of two Egyptian agricultural experts visiting the U.S.-Big Spring Field Station. Samir Ibrahim Basiliou and Moustafa Kamal El Tawil travelled from the Mallawi Research Station in Egypt and were in Big Spring to examine the techniques and crops at the farm station.

The men sat down in Dr. Bill Fryrear's office at the station and, with their Texas guide T.L. Leach and Dr. J.D. Bilbro of the station, they talked to The Herald. The subjects ranged from fertilizers to wind barriers.

Basiliou remarked that since the wind usually comes from the same direction in Egypt, "trees are often planted around cotton crops to protect them from winds and sand."

El Tawil added that the tree most often used as a wind break resembles a Christmas tree but often grows a height of 20 meters — about 65 feet. He noted the tree's roots grow down so crops can be planted within nine feet of the tree barrier.

Farms in Egypt are "limited to 100 acres" by government policy, said Basiliou, noting that most Egyptian farmers average about one to six acres of farmland. He said the government plans to "claim millions of acres for cultivation" from land not presently irrigated by the Nile.

On the subject of the government of Egypt and President Sadat's assassination, El Tawil said: "We don't expect anything to change in our country."

The men were in the United States when Sadat was killed, they added.

Following the discussion in the station, the Egyptians and their American guides went for a tour of the 270-acre facility.

During the tour of cotton stands, El Tawil asked why so much space was left between the rows of cotton. Following Fryrear's explanation of dryland farming, El Tawil remarked that "all crops in Egypt are irrigated. There are no droughts in Egypt."

The men then went on to examine the farm's efforts in experimentation with hybrid millet and guar. (Regarding guar, a meeting of area farmers and bankers was to be held at the farm station at 10 a.m. today to discuss guar as an alternative crop to cotton. It's expected that the farmers would be trying to sell bankers on guar as a worthwhile investment.)

At one point, Basiliou paused and offered this observation: "To most Americans Egypt is just the pyramids and the desert," he said. He added that there is much more to his country.

"Egypt has six-and-a-half million acres of cultivated land on both sides of the Nile," said Basiliou. "We grow cotton, wheat, rice, corn, barley, onions and other vegetables. Egypt exports potatoes to England and watermelons to the surrounding Arabic countries," Basiliou said.

In addition to agricultural strength, Egypt also has an intellectual side, Basiliou said.

"There are 14 universities in Egypt with colleges and studies in medicine, education, agriculture, and engineering," he said.

Productivity in Egypt is high, according to Basiliou. He says "Egypt has a higher yield of cotton than Texas — at least in this area. We have the same corn yield as Illinois."

As the tour continued, El Tawil examined closely the cotton in the experimental fields. He said he was a "cotton breeder interested in varieties of cotton" and questioned Bilbro and Fryrear about the use of mechanical strippers to remove cotton from the plants (cotton is mostly handpicked in Egypt).

Basiliou and El Tawil said Egypt has a "shortage of labor" and they hope to "introduce mechanization to the country."

Leach, a retired Texas Tech professor, said the Egyptians would be in Texas for one month.

"They spent two months in Illinois, and from Texas, they go to spend a month in Arizona," said Leach. He said they planned to be in the U.S. studying agricultural techniques and equipment for about five months.

FIGHTING DRUG ABUSE — Four members of the Big Spring Police Association as shown here with a drug awareness booklet they plan to help publish and distribute

Police launch area-wide drug awareness campaign

By BOB CARPENTER
Staff Writer

The Big Spring Police Association announced today it is launching a county-wide drug awareness campaign and the main weapon will be a 24-page booklet to inform parents and their children about the harmful effects of drug abuse.

Bud Jones Jr., a police detective and president of the BSPA, said funding for the project is being obtained by selling advertising space inside the booklet.

"We hope to get enough support to be able to publish 1,400 to 1,500 copies of the booklet so that each household with children will have access to the publication," Jones said.

The illustrated manual will contain educational articles and reprints from the U.S. Department of Justice Drug Enforcement Administration, said

Jones. The booklet will supply information on the different types of drugs including stimulants, hallucinogens, narcotics, depressants and marijuana. The booklet will tell parents the warning signs of drug use and how to identify various kinds of drugs, the detective said.

"We see a lot of drug abuse cases come through our department and we get to wishing there was some way to tell people about the destructiveness of drugs," Jones explained. "We are hoping this publication will help."

Jones said one reason Big Spring gets its share of drug problems is because the city sits at the crossroads of two major highways.

"I wouldn't say Big Spring has a drug problem like Dallas or Houston might have, but for a town of this size we do have enough trouble with drugs and we think people should be made aware of the problem," Jones said.

The firm handling the publication of the drug handbook is International Publications based in Nashville, Tenn., said Jones.

He said an advertising representative for the company would start contacting local and area businessmen Monday as well as private citizens who are interested in buying an advertisement and supporting the BSPA drug awareness program.

Lt. George Quintero of the BSPA urged the people in the Big Spring area to join him in a community effort to battle against drug abuse.

If parents don't talk to their children about drugs there's always a pusher who will, Jones advised.

Ruling due on nationwide telephone rates for the deaf

By BILL ELDER
Staff Writer

A decision by the Federal Communications Commission on lowered interstate long-distance telephone rates for the hearing- and speech-impaired is pending and may be handed down by the end of the month, The Herald has learned.

Yesterday it was reported that intrastate phone rates for the hearing-impaired had been reduced by 50 percent by the Texas Public Utilities Commission.

The ruling on nationwide long-distance calls may be made by Oct. 30, according to officials at the Southwest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf here in Big Spring.

The reductions sought by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

in conjunction with the National Association of the Deaf include a 35 percent reduction for calls made between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. and a 60 percent rate cut for calls made between 5 p.m. and 11 p.m., according to Fred Roy, SWCID director of collegiate studies.

He said the proposed reductions don't apply to calls made after 11 p.m. or operator-assisted calls.

The new rates, should they be granted by the FCC, would apply only to persons using a Telecommunications Device for the Deaf, or TDD.

In order to qualify for the rates, a speech- or hearing-impaired person would have to certify his disability with a physician, audiologist, speech pathologist "or the appropriate state or federal agency," said Roy. He said the reductions could affect as many as 13 million persons who are deaf or have serious hearing impairments. It's not known how many of them use TDDs.

Roy said SWCID learned of the pending decision through the college's extensive contacts.

"We're in contact with people around the world. We hear about things that affect the deaf from all over the country every day," said Roy.

He added that a 24-hour directory assistance number for the users of TDDs has been set up. That number is 1-800-855-1155.

The Texas PUC ruling on long-distance calls within the state slashed the rates for TDD users by about 50 percent.

The reduction was granted because the PUC recognized "it takes at least four times longer" to use a TDD when making a call, according to Michael Moore, a faculty member of SWCID.

SIGN LANGUAGE

By CAROL HART
Staff Writer

In today's sign language lesson, we'll learn the sign for "telephone" or "call."

To sign "telephone" or "call," bring your hand to your face and place the thumb on the ear and the little finger at the mouth (See photo).

Lottie L. Riekehof in "The Joy of Signing" says the origin of this sign was the natural position of a phone in use.

The sign pictured here is not the sign to use for all forms of "call." To say something like "the meeting is now called to order," place the palm of the right open hand on the back of the left open hand and draw the right hand up.

To say something like "she was called Rachel," make the sign for "name" and move the hands in this position slightly up, forward and down.

Sunday, we'll feature another sign language review with all the words and pictures we've run this week. Next week, look for five new words to add to your vocabulary.

This series is running with the help of students and faculty of the Southwest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf. The series is designed to help you communicate with the deaf, since Big Spring has a substantial deaf population drawn here because of SWCID.

Arts festival opens Saturday

The Big Spring Arts and Crafts Festival has been announced for this Saturday and Sunday at the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum and the event promises a large number of colorful and exciting exhibits of western and oil field art, said festival organizers.

Festival officials said the show will feature exhibitors from Austin, Midland, Odessa, Lubbock, Fort Worth, Sudan, and San Angelo. In addition, the nationally ranked festival will be almost evenly split between artists and craftsmen. Of those listing their items to be sold at the show, 74 listed art and 82 listed crafts.

As in past years, the festival will be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday, and 1 to 6 p.m. on Sunday. The show is open to the general public and there is no admission charge.

House defeats peanut, sugar price supports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Marvin Leath, D-Texas, was shaking his head when he came off the floor of the House of Representatives.

"I'm somewhat deflated. I can't believe that. That's incredible," the former Marlin banker said Thursday afternoon, moments after an amendment passed with ease, 250-159, to eliminate from the 1981 Farm Bill a peanut quota and allotment system.

"We really thought we had everything worked out and that we had the votes. I would say this puts the entire bill in great jeopardy at this point."

The vote on the peanut program was the most visible sign that a coalition of congressmen representing farm states had collapsed. By the end of the day, efforts to boost producers' prices in cotton, peanuts and sugar had gone crashing down in defeat.

"I have a hard time finding a reason to support the bill in the form it's in now," said another Texan, Rep. Charlie Stenholm, D-Stamford, a member of the House Agriculture Committee.

An amendment by Rep. Stanley Lundine, D-N.C., to eliminate a peanut quota and allotment system passed with ease, 250-159. Then an amendment by Rep. Peter Peyser, D-N.Y., and Rep. Margaret Heckler, R-Mass., to strike the sugar loan program from the farm bill carried, 214-189.

"We were unable to hold together a coalition for all the commodities. It fell apart, while the old cheap food, anti-producer people on the Democratic side of the aisle held together," Stenholm said.

Leath said the new change in the peanut program would have a severe effect on Texas.

"This very drastically affects Texas. I don't know the total peanut tonnage in Texas, but it's considerable, especially in the western part of my district and in Stenholm's district," Leath said.

"As bad as the farm bill was, the peanut program was one of the few programs that worked well and that we thought would be continued without too many problems."

Stenholm, the only farmer in Texas' 24-member delegation, teamed earlier Thursday with Rep. Glenn English, D-Okla., to win voice-vote approval of crucial amendments to provide for set-aside programs, with increased loan rates, in wheat and feed grains.

But he was shouted down on a similar attempt for cotton, and that defeat was followed by House adoption of amendments to cut back producers' profit in peanuts and sugar.

"As it sits now, this is not a good farm bill, and the way the votes went today, it may be impossible to pass a good bill," Stenholm added.

With several amendments still left to be heard, Congress delayed until Tuesday its final consideration of the 1981 Farm Bill.

Rep. Charlie Rose, D-N.C., blamed the coalition setback on the Reagan administration not following through "deals" to back the peanut and sugar programs and on resentment by some Democrats that the bargains were struck last summer as Reagan won votes for his tax cut legislation.

Stenholm agreed.

"You look at that and see we didn't get the expected Republican votes and we didn't get the expected Democratic votes. We lost on both sides. We had the votes, we thought. We knew we were going to be tight on sugar, but we thought we'd win easily on peanuts," Stenholm said.

Rep. Abraham Kazen, D-Laredo, pleaded with his colleagues to provide more opportunity for farmers to make a profit.

"It's incumbent upon those of us who represent rural areas to band together," he said, quoting statistics that said 96 percent of the population now live in urban areas.

"Rural America is the backbone of this country. If we don't protect the needs of our farmers, we're heading for trouble," Kazen added.

But no one rallied to the cry. The unity on farm legislation began slipping during the attempt to raise the loan rate for cotton farmers if they would set aside a percentage of the crop from their production the previous year. Similar provisions had passed earlier for wheat and feed grains.

"We had much more organized opposition to the cotton because people in Arizona and California, where you've got imported, virtually free water, they aren't as concerned about this as we are," Stenholm said.

Reagan to tackle tax-free bonds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tax-free bonds have been used to finance new farms, heavy industry, paddleball courts, a topless go-go bar and other operations that might create jobs. Now, the Reagan administration is trying to crack down on them.

It costs a city, county or state nothing — not even a risk to its credit rating — to sell tax-free bonds for the benefit of a private citizen or firm.

But these "small-issue" industrial-development bonds are costing the federal government at least $1 billion a year in lost taxes. Critics also say the bonds are forcing up interest rates, particularly for cities and counties, and squeezing traditional borrowers out of the credit markets. This could mean higher local taxes.

As a result, the Reagan administration is preparing to ask Congress to restrict use of the bonds, which have been called the most important tool ever provided state and local governments for economic development.

The Internal Revenue Service already has begun a crackdown of a different kind, one that has farm-state lawmakers and champions of small business fuming.

The IRS ruling in effect bars a city or county from combining several small bond projects into a single package of $1 million or less to save legal and underwriting costs. This jeopardizes "aggie bond" programs that help new farmers purchase land with bond sales of as little as $20,000.

Several members of Congress have introduced bills to delay or override the IRS ruling.

President Reagan last month mentioned in passing that some restrictions might be imposed on development bonds to raise revenues. Treasury officials now add that changes are necessary to stop abuses.

While the administration has not decided on specifics, one likelihood is that a city, county or state would have to put up some money each time it approves the issuance of an IDB. Thus, such bonds would no longer be cost-free for local government.

But one thing is certain, says Bruce Thompson, deputy assistant treasury secretary: "Whatever we do won't be retroactive. It would affect only bonds issued in the future — perhaps starting sometime next spring."

Weather

WEATHER FORECAST — The National Weather Service forecasts showers Saturday in a wide band from Texas stretching north to Michigan; and for parts of New Mexico and Colorado.

Floodwaters close roads in Sherman

Still more rain in soggy sections of Texas early today caused some floods, evacuations and street closings.

The heaviest rain was in the north and northwest, where from three to five inches fell. The National Weather Service reported flash floods in Gainesville — hard-hit by storms early in the week — and Sherman. The NSW said there were some evacuations in both towns.

In Lamar County near Paris, where two inches of rain fell early today, the NSW advised people to avoid travel if possible.

A spokesman for the Cooke County sheriff's department in Gainesville said that at 5:30 a.m. the storm was slackening off and only a few roads remained closed.

Other thunderstorms and heavy showers were reported across the South Plains and in areas north and west of a cold front that extended across North Texas from Texarkana through Mineral Wells to Abilene.

At 4 a.m., temperatures were in the 40s and 50s in northwest Texas, with 60s and 70s reported around the rest of the state. Temperature extremes ranged from 41 degrees at Amarillo to 77 at Brownsville.

The forecast called for sunny skies in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and far West Texas, and cloudy skies and scattered thunderstorms elsewhere. Forecasters said temperatures would range from highs in the 50s in the Panhandle to the 90s along the lower coast.

FORECAST
WEST TEXAS: Cloudy with scattered showers and thunderstorms through Saturday, except fair west of the mountains. A few thunderstorms becoming locally heavy eastern portion. Cool north and mid south through Saturday. Lows upper 40s north to near 70 south. Highs Saturday lower 40s north to mid 80s south.
EXTENDED FORECAST
WEST TEXAS: Chance of showers and thunderstorms Sunday. Decreasing cloudiness Monday becoming partly cloudy and warmer Tuesday. Highs mid 40s Panhandle to upper 70s extreme south Sunday rising to 70s and 80s by Tuesday. Lows upper 40s Panhandle to upper 40s Panhandle to upper 50s extreme south Sunday rising to 50s and 60s by Tuesday.

FBI agent links gun parts to Wood case

DALLAS (AP) — The wooden stock of a rifle found by two boys may be linked to the assassination of U.S. District Judge John H. Wood Jr., a FBI agent has testified.

FBI Special Agent Ronald Iden testified Thursday at a pre-trial hearing for Jo Ann Starr Harrelson, who is charged with making a false statement on a firearms purchase application.

Iden said the government believes the rifle she allegedly purchased 12 days before the judge's slaying is "relevant" to the Wood investigation.

Mrs. Harrelson is married to convicted hit man Charles V. Harrelson, who has been identified by federal authorities as a prime target of the Wood investigation. He is being held in Houston on charges unrelated to the Wood slaying.

Mrs. Harrelson's attorney moved for dismissal of the firearms charge, arguing it is based on testimony before a grand jury at a time when she was immune from prosecution.

However, FBI agents testified that the charge stemmed from information gathered independently of the grand jury testimony.

U.S. District Judge Barefoot Sanders did not rule on the dismissal motion, but told attorneys to file legal briefs by next Wednesday.

Iden said agents searched El Paso attorney Joe Chagra's home last February and found a sketch that appeared to be a map showing the location of a weapon.

Joe Chagra is the brother of convicted drug trafficker Jimmy Chagra.

Rev. Moon indicted for tax evasion

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal indictment charging the Rev. Sun Myung Moon with income tax evasion is an "attempted assassination" of the Unification Church's founder and its members, a church official says.

The 61-year-old evangelist and businessman from South Korea was indicted Thursday along with one of his top aides. The indictment accuses Moon of filing false personal tax returns for 1973, 1974 and 1975 and failing to report about $112,000 in interest earned on bank deposits in those years.

Moon also was charged with failing to report $70,000 worth of stock he and his wife received in a trade for merchandise in 1973.

Takeru Kamiyama, 39, an aide to Moon who lives in Tarrytown, was charged with conspiracy, aiding in the filing of Moon's allegedly false returns for 1974 and 1975, committing perjury and obstructing the investigation.

The perjury counts stemmed from alleged false material declarations under oath before a federal grand jury.

Representatives of the church denied the charges, claiming their organization was being hounded.

Mose Durst, president of the Unification Church in the United States called the indictments "the attempted assassination of Rev. Moon and the 3 million members of the Unification Church."

He said the indictment was even "more significant than what happened to (slain Egyptian President Anwar) Sadat. Rev. Moon is the most significant religious figure in the world."

If convicted, Moon and his aide could get up to five years in prison on the charge of conspiring to cheat the government of income taxes, and three years on each tax count.

Both defendants were to be arraigned on the indictment Oct. 22 in U.S. District Court here.

Leaders of the sect said Moon was "out of the country," and would not say whether he would return to the United States to face charges.

In a separate case, federal investigators are trying to determine whether Moon and hundreds of his followers had improperly obtained residency status in the United States. The Justice Department said last June that deportation proceedings might begin soon.

Moon's goal is the formation of a world "family" in which all religions and races unite before God. But in this country it has been accused of brainwashing young converts and of using tax-exempt status to buy up property and carry on profit-making businesses.

The church's holdings in the United States are worth more than $40 million, according to church officials.

Moon, Kamiyama and others described in the indictment as their agents were accused of trying to impede the tax inquiry at various times since 1976 by effecting changes in corporate records of Tong II Enterprises Inc., a concern they formed to import products from Korea.

Michael Allender joins group of Austin artists

Michael Allender will join the growing number of Austin residents who participate in the annual Big Spring Arts and Crafts Festival held during the third weekend each October. The festival has continued to be self-supporting since its creation and is free of admission charges to the general public. Michael Allender was born and reared in the Texas Panhandle, where he acquired a sensitive appreciation for the natural world. His keen observations and knowledge of wildlife were increased at Texas A&M University where he acquired a B.S. in wildlife ecology and M.S. in psychology. He spent two additional years at Utah State University studying ethology (animal behavior) and working as an illustrator for the Smithsonian Institute.

A COUPLE OF NUTS
By Michael Allender

It was during this time that Allender began to express his knowledge of wildlife in visual forms. In 1974 he turned professional artist, choosing the difficult and demanding medium of China-clay engravings (scratch-board) to create the precise renderings of the animals he knows so well. Michael chose tedious medium of India ink on china-clay because it allows him to depict incredibly fine detail in an absolutely convincing style. He applies the ink to the clay surface with brushes and pens, then engraves this "ground" to produce the finished image.

Very few artists have the patience or dexterity required to maximize this medium's potential. Michael sometimes spends 300-500 hours on a single piece before penning his signature of approval. Allender has studied wildlife in their natural habitats throughout North America. When now working in his studio, he is usually backpacking in America's wilderness areas, photographing and developing ideas for future artwork, magazine articles, and books. His art hangs in numerous western galleries and in private collections throughout the nation.

Talking about his art and his subjects, Michael Allender said "to portray those details which accurately depict each subject's unique personality requires an intimate knowledge of the animals' anatomy and behavior. With each finished piece comes the satisfaction of knowing that more people will enjoy and appreciate, as I do, a closer look at our wild neighbors who call wilderness, 'home,'" he said.

'Southwestern Scenes' artist makes 2nd appearance at Fair

Bill Mittag, an Abilene artist who paints the "Southwestern Scenes," will be making his second appearance at the Big Spring Arts and Crafts Festival to be held Oct. 17th and 18th in the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

Mittag was born in West Texas and raised in New Mexico. He received his college degree from New Mexico State University and has done graduate study at Eastern New Mexico University and UCLA. He participated in amateur rodeos for several years in the team roping event. His love for horses and the western way of life are expressed through his oil paintings and pen and ink sketches.

His "Southwestern Scenes" range from the Texas hill country to the deserts of New Mexico and Arizona to the Colorado Rockies, and have won his numerous awards in art show competition.

Mittag is a member of the National Cowboy Hall of Fame, Lea County (New Mexico) Cowboy Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center, Texas Fine Arts Association, and the Abilene Fine Arts Museum.

This past summer, Mittag participated in the George Phippen Memorial Western Art Show in Prescott, Arizona; the western Heritage in Littleton, Colorado; the Beef Empire Western Art Show in Garden City, Kansas; and a solo exhibit at the Winters State Bank in Winters, Texas.

Hill County artist to appear

Sylvia Dinsmore, an Austin artist, will join more than a dozen of her fellow citizens during the Big Spring Arts and Crafts Festival.

Having lived most of her life in the Texas Hill Country, Dinsmore says she has developed a deep love for the area and uses the flowers and landscapes from Central Texas in her art.

She began painting professionally in 1970, and studied under such artists as C.B. Normann, J. Mahaffey, E. Scott, and Dalhart Windberg. Dinsmore says that Windberg told her to "study all you can, then go and do your thing." As a result, Although tableaus are her trademark, she is equally at home with oils. Her palette-knife paintings are distinctive in their gentle touch and muted tones. Her landscapes capture the natural beauty of the Texas countryside.

Her work is available through several galleries throughout Texas, as well as the Hallway Gallery in Georgetown, Washington, D.C.

Losers are winners in exercise program

There's a new program in town in which the biggest losers are the biggest winners. It's a jazzercise and aerobic exercise program held Mondays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays at 4:15 p.m. in the gym at the YMCA. Twenty-five women ranging from ages 13 to 66 have signed up for and begun the second 5-week session that started Monday. Fees for the class are $15 for members and $22 for non-Y members.

Teaching the exercise class is Hannah Coleman, a special education teacher at Big Spring High School. "I used to go home all wound up and take it out on my husband. Now I come here and kick it off," she said.

Rebekahs plan birthday night

The Big Spring Rebekah Lodge No. 284 met Tuesday with Olene Melton, vice grand, presiding. Seventeen members were present, 15 being past noble grands. Thirty-three visits to the sick and shut-ins were reported.

The October refreshment committee announced that birthday night will be Tuesday. All members having birthdays this month are urged to attend.

The refreshment committee consists of Mildred Collins, chairperson, Norma Newton, Corynne Cunningham, Lona Crocker and Mable Morrison.

The next meeting will be Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Woman's Spirits Plunge As Pet Bird Flies Free

DEAR ABBY: While I was away from home, a young woman came into my home as a guest of my son. This young woman took "Freddy," my precious parakeet, out of his cage, opened the front door and threw him out, saying he was "born free."

Abby, I had had Freddy for five years and I had grown to love him very much. It has been three weeks since this incident occurred and now I have given up all hope of ever seeing my sweet bird again.

I pray that you will print this so that young woman will realize the sorrow she has caused.

J.M.T., FOSTER CITY, MICH.

DEAR J.M.T.: "Realizing the sorrow she has caused" is hardly adequate restitution for having robbed you of your beloved pet. That cruel and thoughtless young woman owes you a replacement for Freddy. And since it was your son who brought her into your home, he should assume some responsibility for the loss of your pet.

DEAR ABBY: I am an 18-year-old virgin (girl) who is tired of hearing the statistic: "Only three out of every 10 teens under the age of 18 are virgins."

I have been going steady with my boyfriend for two years. We plan to marry as virgins when we finish college. Our relationship is very strong and we don't feel that sex would make it any stronger at this time. I find it hard to believe that our values are not shared by more teens.

My question to you, Abby, is: How accurate do you think these statistics are? With so much peer pressure and so much stress on sex today, I'll bet there are a lot of teens who are still virgins, but they wouldn't dare admit it.

I question that there is really a valid way to get accurate statistics. I would appreciate your opinion.

WAITING FOR MARRIAGE

DEAR WAITING: What you say makes sense, but much depends on how the statistics were gathered. In a written questionnaire where participants are not required to identify themselves, the chances for 100 percent honesty are almost a certainty. But in a face-to-face confrontation, that's something else again.

DEAR ABBY: I'm confused. When does one use "further" as opposed to "farther"? I never know for sure which word to use. Thanks.

MURRAY IN MADISON

District director to speak Thursday

The Big Spring Garden Club met Oct. 7 in the home of Mrs. John Coffee, 513 Edwards. Mrs. John Davis was co-hostess. Presiding over the meeting was Mrs. E.W. Greer, president.

Mrs. Greer thanked members who assisted with the Horticulture Show at the Howard County Fair. She urged all members to attend the Council of Garden Clubs monthly meeting which will be held Thursday at 3:30 p.m. in the Dora Roberts Community Center. Mrs. Charles O. Ice, District I director, will be the speaker. It was also announced that the zone meeting will be Nov. 9 in Lamesa. Mrs. Clyde Angel, a member of the club, is zone chairman.

Mrs. O.C. Mason, program chairman, distributed year books and introduced Mrs. John Knox, who presented a two-part program. The first part of the program was a discussion on reading flower show schedules. Part two of the program dealt with the care and planting of bulbs. Mrs. Knox stressed the importance of proper watering and feeding of bulbs, and she added that bulbs should be planted outside in November or December. Planting and growing techniques were also discussed.

Indian bread sale planned at Festival

The Mu Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday in the home of Mrs. Carla Shaw.

Plans for the Indian bread sale at the Arts and Crafts Festival Saturday and Sunday were discussed. A Halloween costume party to be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Walling later this month was announced.

The raffle gift, two bisque birds, was won by Susan Raines.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Sharon Richardson.

Mrs. P.D. O'Brien, Houston, was special guest. She was president of the BS Garden Club from 1956-58, and is the mother of two members, Mrs. O.C. Mason and Mrs. E.W. Greer.

Forsan couple announces birth

Mr. and Mrs. William Martin Whetsel, Forsan, announce the birth of their first child, a son, Daniel Martin, Oct. 2 in Malone Hogan Hospital. Daniel made his appearance at 4:06 p.m. weighing 7 pounds 14 1/2 ounces and measuring 19 1/2 inches long.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. D.R. Bates, Garden City Rt., and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Whetsel, Forsan. Daniel's great-grandmother is Odell Bates, Garden City Rt.

Larry Don Shaw/Reports from Austin

Who will go against Clements?

With more than six months to go before the May primary elections and over a year remaining until the general election, 1982 is rapidly shaping up as a battle royal in a number of statewide races.

Gov. Bill Clements will have a serious Democratic opponent next year. That much is certain. What's not so certain is just who that opponent will be. Rumors have been flying fast and furious around Austin for months now, and the picture is, if anything, cloudier now than it was six months ago.

To put it mildly, there was no stampede of likely contenders to take on an incumbent who spent $7 million to get elected three years ago. A year ago, the assumption was that Clements would be challenged by one of four people: former Attorney General John Hill, who barely lost to Clements in 1978; Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, whose longtime gubernatorial ambitions are well-known; Attorney General Mark White; and-or State Comptroller Bob Bullock.

It has become clear that none of these four is particularly eager to challenge Clements, and the lack of a leading candidate has left the door open for other hopefuls to travel the state soliciting support in an effort to grab the front-runner position.

State Sen. Peyton McKnight (D-Tyler), a wealthy independent oilman, jumped in first and has been well-received in some Democratic circles, tentatively at least. More recently, the popular State Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong surprised a lot of people when he responded positively to requests from several prominent Democrats that he consider making the race.

And recent rumor has it that former Governor Dolph Briscoe is nearly certain to enter the fray. Hill is still thinking the situation over, and the consensus is that McKnight will bow out if both Briscoe and Hill run — he feels that such a battle would divide the party so much that the primary victor, whoever he is, would have little chance in the general election against Clements.

Secretary of State George Strake (R-Houston) has resigned his post to begin his campaign to unseat Lt. Gov. Hobby. That contest should easily set a new campaign spending record for a race for the state's number two spot.

Populist Jim Hightower, who nearly knocked off incumbent Railroad Commissioner Jim Nugent in the 1980 Democratic primary, has announced that he will take on incumbent Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown in the Democratic primary next year. The Ag spot actually is better suited for Hightower, who has written two excellent books on farming and the food economy, and for five years directed the Agribusiness Accountability Project. Also, Hightower (who came out of nowhere in 1980 to grab more than 48 percent of the vote against an incumbent who outspent him three to one) begins this race with statewide organization already in place and with a higher name recognition factor than his opponent.

So far, former state Democratic Party Executive Director Garry Mauro is the only announced candidate to succeed Armstrong as State Land Commissioner, although House Speaker Billy Clayton is considered likely to enter the race. Some insiders speculate, however, that Clayton has put off his announcement until November because he may not run if the voters don't approve his water trust fund amendment on the Nov. 3 ballot.

No one has stepped forth yet to challenge State Comptroller Bullock, who is known as the toughest, no-holds-barred, bare-knuckled political brawler in the state. Likewise, no names are being mentioned as possible opponents for Attorney General White, although there undoubtedly will be several contenders for that office if White does finally decide to run for Governor.

Finally, it appears that U.S. Rep. Jim Collins (R-Dallas) and State Sen. Walter "Mad Dog" Mengden (R-Houston) are definitely going to lock horns in the Republican primary to determine which of them will challenge U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen in the general election. Bentsen already has more than $2 million in his campaign kitty in anticipation of such a challenge.

Clements to wager Texas javelina

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Gambling Gov. Bill Clements, still peeved about the puny pig he won in last year's bet, again has placed an animal wager on the Texas-Arkansas football game.

Clements said Thursday he will send Arkansas Gov. Frank White a Texas javelina if Arkansas wins Saturday's game in Fayetteville, Ark. If the No. 1 Longhorns win, White will ship an Arkansas razorback to Clements.

assurance from this Arkansas governor that I wasn't going to get about a 30-pound shoot this time, which is what happened last time. I said, 'If you can't do any better than that there's no bet,'" he added.

The "malnourished pig" was sent to Clements by then Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton.

Clements said he expects to get a "full-blown Arkansas razorback" if Texas wins. The governor said he will eat the hog.

Daniel defense objects to state's evidence

LIBERTY, Texas (AP) — Prosecutors faced a continuing evidentiary challenge today in their bid to prove Vickie Daniel intentionally killed her husband, former Texas House Speaker Price Daniel Jr.

State's attorneys overrode vigorous defense objections Thursday and hammered into the record several items of physical evidence critical to their case.

Marvin Powell, a former sheriff's investigator and the state's fifth witness, was to return to the stand today to open the third day of testimony.

Mrs. Daniel, 34, is accused of killing her husband last January during a violent argument at their Liberty ranch home.

According to previous testimony, Mrs. Daniel admitted shooting her husband but said the fatal shot discharged accidentally.

She said she recalled firing a warning but could not remember a second shot.

Clements backs Crime Stoppers

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A citizen council that envisions paying anonymous callers for tips leading to the arrest of criminals has begun its work with the "100 percent" backing of Gov. Bill Clements.

The governor's general counsel, David Dean, said Thursday that Clements would do everything in his power to help state and local citizen groups halt crime.

"Gov. Clements is highly committed to a very effective Crime Stoppers program," Dean told the first meeting of the Governor's Crime Stoppers Advisory Council. "He (Clements) wants to do anything and everything he can help it and give it a high profile."

Clements backed up Dean's comments in a statement that said, "I am 100 percent behind this program and am confident that it will be successful in getting criminals off of the streets and behind bars and assisting in the creation of additional local Crime Stoppers programs across this state."

The council chose Maurice Acers of Dallas as its chairman. Acers served with the FBI from 1934 to 1947 and is past chairman of the Greater Dallas Crime Commission.

"If we don't conquer crime," said Acers, "crime will conquer the democratic processes we have enjoyed all these many years."

Harte-Hanks earnings up

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Harte-Hanks Communications Inc. reported a 15 percent improvement in third quarter earnings Thursday over the same quarter of a year ago.

Robert G. Marbut, president and chief executive officer, reported primary earnings of 63 cents per share and fully diluted earnings of 60 cents per share.

He said earnings for the same quarter of 1980 were 55 cents per share.

Garden City at Klondike

KLONDIKE — The biggest game of the West Zone in District 3-A will kick off tonight when the Klondike Cougars play host to the Garden City Wildcats.

Klondike is the defending district champion, but waited until their league opener a week ago to record their first win of the year. But that doesn't mean the Cougars aren't tough.

"Klondike is not as big as last year, but they're still solid," pointed out Bearkat Coach Stu Cooper. "They played a tough non-district schedule, and that's the main reason they didn't win a game in that time. But we have the utmost respect for them."

Garden City takes a 4-3 mark into the contest. The Bearkats opened West Zone action last Friday by taking a 14-0 win over Sands.

Coahoma visits Kermit

KERMIT — The Coahoma Bulldogs get one final chance to get back on the winning track before district starts when they visit the Kermit Yellowjackets here tonight.

Coahoma started the season with a shellacking of Wall, but since then have lost five consecutive games. But for some consolation, the Coahoma schedule is not an easy one.

Kermit enters the game with a mark of 5-1. This is also their final tune-up before their district begins.

Ropes in Forsan party

FORSAN — It will be a double type of homecoming for the Forsan Buffaloes as they host Ropes tonight.

First, it will be the real Forsan Homecoming, as all the festivities of the occasion will be present. Secondly, it will be the Buffs of Coach Jan East first home appearance after four straight road games.

Forsan is coming off a 21-0 loss to Stanton, and must win in order to stay in contention in 5-AA. The Buffs are 1-1 in district and 3-3 on the year.

Ropes lost last week to Seagraves for their initial setback after four wins. Ropes is led by Alex Torres, a running back who East describes as "one of the best athletes in our district."

Stanton meets Morton

MORTON — The Stanton Buffaloes take their perfect District 5-AA record into Morton tonight to face the home town Indians.

Stanton has defeated both Seagraves and Forsan in their two league outings, and stands 4-2 on the year. Morton is coming off a 19-0 loss to 5-AA heavyweight Plains.

"But they should have beaten Plains," said Stanton Coach Steve Park. "They dropped about eight passes that would have really changed the game."

Wylie at Colorado City

COLORADO CITY — After their six game non-district schedule, the Colorado City Wolves appear to be on the right track for their 7-AAA opener against Abilene Wylie.

The Wolves, after losing their first three games with a non-existent offense, have regrouped to win three straight contests. Their latest victim was Coleman.

Wylie is 3-2-1 on the year, and boasts an offense built around running back Kevin Newman.

Lamesa, Snyder go for win

SNYDER — A pair of teams still searching for their first win of the year meet tonight when the Lamesa Golden Tors will visit the Snyder Tigers in a District 2-AAAA contest.

"It should be a great game," said Lamesa Coach Jim Warren. "Both of us are winless, so we'll just have to wait and see what happens."

Sands, Meadow in survival

MEADOW — A pair of teams battling for survival in the West Zone of District 3-A meet tonight when the Sands Mustangs visit Meadow.

Sands comes into the game with a mark of 1-3-2, while Meadow has won once while losing five times. Sands Coach Jim White sees the game evenly matched.

"We're pretty evenly matched, but you really can't say anything the way our team plays. We're inconsistent. We'll play great one game and not any good at all the next week," he mentioned.

Grady at Borden County

GAIL — The Grady Wildcats meet their third straight six-man heavyweight tonight when they tangle with the Borden County Coyotes in a seven o'clock contest.

Grady won their opener, but has been fruitless since then. But their past two foes have been rugged in Highland and Trent.

Borden County is 3-2 on the year and a perfect 2-0 in district.

Steers test Permian win streak

By NATHAN POSS
Sports Editor

The Odessa Permian Panthers come to town tonight, boasting a 23-game winning streak and the title of defending 5-AAAAA and state champions. But that is not what had Big Spring Head Coach Ralph Harris somewhat depressed yesterday in talking about the upcoming game.

Harris' somewhat downcast attitude dealt with the fact that the Steers seem to have caught an injury bug this year, and can't ever get one person healthy without another getting hurt, whether it be in a game or practice. Of course, another "downer" is that the Bovines have lost both of their 5-AAAAA games.

"We're playing with a beat up crew," mentioned Harris, stating the obvious. "Of course, Bobby Earl (Williams, the leading rusher in 5-AAAAA a year ago) is out for maybe the year, and Tony Molina, Greg Scarbro and Scott Griffin are doubtful. And Evans (Richard, the Steers other projected running back) was really only totally healthy for the first two series of the year, and then he hurt his groin. He's played, but he's just going strictly on guts."

Harris mentioned that they weren't many players that began the season that aren't injured right now, but most will play tonight. "It's just one of those type of seasons that happens every four or five years," said the Steer mentor.

The Steers will bring a 2-3 season mark and 0-2 league mark into the game against the defending state champs, who last lost in 1979 to Abilene Cooper.

But while Permian is a perfect 5-0 this year, their wins haven't been as easy as most would think. They toppled El Paso Coronado by 21-14 in their opener, and then easily whipped Amarillo and Fort Worth Wyatt. But their 5-AAAAA wins have been close, a 17-10 decision over Midland and a 7-0 win over Abilene last week on a late touchdown run of 28 yards by fullback Dale Carr.

That Carr run that beat Abilene is typical of the Permian team this year, as Harris pointed out. "They've gone to more of a fullback offense," noted the BSHS coach. "He (Carr) is the total heart of their offense. Their tailback (Steve Howell) is probably the fastest kid they've ever had back there, but he really hasn't produced that much yet."

Confucious, or was it Weeb Ewbank, once said, "Offense draws crowds, but defense wins championships." And that is once again the story of the successful Permian team. The Panthers lead 5-AAAAA in total defense, allowing only 142 total yards per game, and have given up only 24 points this year and shut out three of their opponents.

"They stunk a great deal on defense," said Harris, "and their basic pass coverage is to bring a lot of people at the quarterback. And they do a great job of getting in position defensively to stop what you do in certain situations. Permian is just very well coached. They do an excellent job of utilizing their best talents."

After sweeping AL series from A's

Yankees in World Series

OAKLAND (AP) — The New York Yankees are in another World Series, lending a touch of tradition to a strange, strike-marred baseball season.

"I want a Yankees-Dodgers Series. I hate the Dodgers," said rookie pitcher Dave Righetti, one of the most openly delighted members of the team that won the American League pennant by beating the Oakland A's 4-0 Thursday night, sweeping the best-of-five league playoff.

The Yankees, who have made 32 previous World Series appearances, will open at home Tuesday night against either the Los Angeles Dodgers or Montreal Expos, tied 1-1 in the National League playoff that resumes tonight in Montreal.

All of the Yankees' Series teams of the past won 90 or more regular season games. The 1981 team won 59 in a season interrupted for two months because of the players' strike.

There was no champagne in the Yankees' clubhouse, on orders of owner George Steinbrenner. And there were no complaints.

"We haven't won anything yet," said

Steinbrenner, who embraced his most celebrated former employee, Billy Martin, and told the A's manager, "You never gave up, you little rat."

Martin predicted that his young team would win the AL West again next season. "And we'll go all the way then."

Replaced Martin during the championship season of 1978 and took over after Gene Michael was fired this year, is the man in charge as the Yankees go after a 23rd world championship.

"This ballclub has won a lot," said Reggie Jackson, who didn't even notice the absence of champagne until it was pointed out to him. "We're like the A's team of 1974. I think we broke open one bottle of champagne when we won the pennant that year, then headed for Los Angeles and won the Series in five games."

Jackson, a member of the A's world championship teams of 1972-73-74, said he expects to be in the Yankees' starting lineup for the Series opener despite being held out of Thursday night's game because of a torn calf muscle.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGNER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, OCT. 17, 1981

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early morning brings all kinds of new activities and interests that can help you gain the progress you desire. Make sure you don't make any mistakes in communicating with others.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Morning is best for handling responsibilities and to avoid unpleasant strife in the afternoon. Happiness can be yours.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Study your surroundings and make long-range plans for improvement. Attend a social function in the evening.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You have work to do that requires special care, so be precise and gain added benefits. Be kind to loved one.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) It may seem difficult to gain your aims early in the day but conditions are bound to improve later.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Good day to reach a fine understanding with your family and to keep any promises you have made. Engage in favorite hobby.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Morning is fine for handling routine chores, but be alert for possible danger in the afternoon. Cooperate more with others.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Use good judgment in the morning where finances are concerned, but later there are likely to be confusing conditions.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Showing others that you are a true friend will gain their added goodwill now. Don't neglect important business matters.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Know what your true desires are and how best to attain them. Be more optimistic about the future.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) A good friend can be of help to you today, so accept and get busy on projects. Avoid the social in the evening.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Delve into civic matters of importance and gain the assistance of loyal friends. Engage in hobby with congenials.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Take a new approach on a matter that has been puzzling you a long time and you solve it wisely. Be alert at all times.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be able to get at the truth of any situation, so direct the education along lines of investigation and there could be much success during lifetime. Your progeny will be very good in sports and could be famous.

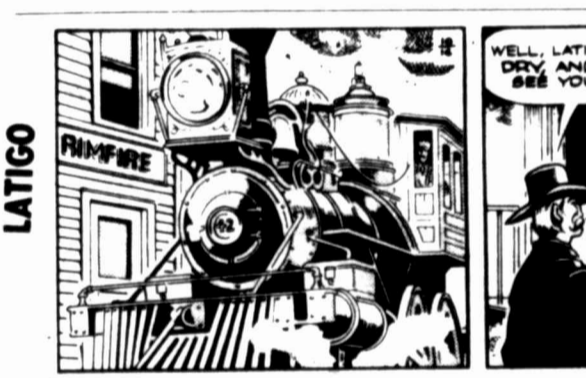

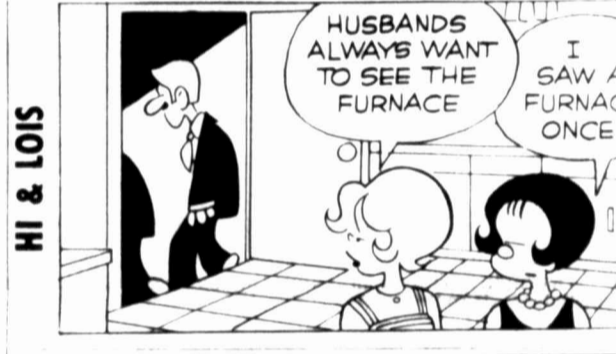

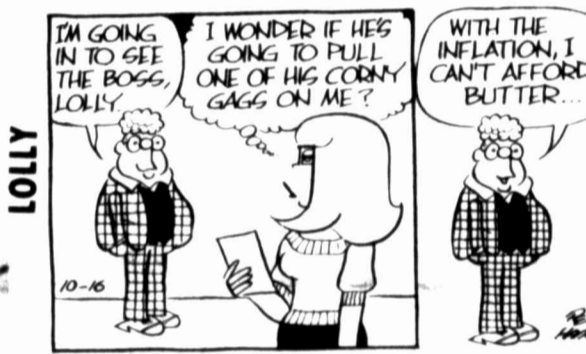

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Does the name make a difference?

St. John wasn't his last name — that was French and usually mispronounced. But around Cape Cod, he was known simply as St. John, after his home town in Canada. His appearance seemed far from saintly. Yet it never seemed awkward calling him that. He loved people. He loved the sea. He loved hard work. Most importantly, he loved his church and God. And his enthusiasm was contagious — somehow you felt better after you'd been with St. John.

It's refreshing and exciting to run into someone who tries hard to put his religion into living and working.

Remember that every day. Then folks might feel that same excitement when they run into you and me. That's something to strive for.

Most Americans religious, Princeton survey finds

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans overwhelmingly believe in God. Most of them pray regularly. Nearly half of them are in church every Sunday. Almost every home in the United States has at least one Bible. But it's rarely read.

These are among the findings in surveys over the past year as summed up in the 1981 "Religion in America" report of the Princeton Religion Research Center.

A variety of different measurements "attest to the remarkable stability of religion in America," says George Gallup Jr., executive director of the center, which is linked to his polling organization.

Salem Baptist to present gospel concert

The Calvary Singers from Calvary Baptist Church, Odessa, will be in concert at the Salem Baptist Church Sunday night at 6 p.m. Members of the group include Betty Gilliam, Jackie Shotwell, Glenda Helton, Delores Andrews, and Karen Murphy, pianist.

Delores Andrews and Karen Murphy are former Big Spring residents and also former members of Salem Baptist Church. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis McKee, Rt. 2.

The group has recorded an album entitled "Songs of Praise."

St. Paul parish workers have salad supper

The St. Paul Lutheran parish workers met Thursday night in the home of Phyllis Graumann, 1903 Nolan, for a salad supper. Fourteen members and six guests were present.

Four visitors from Andrews Lutheran Church presented the program on the 12 apostles, and photographs taken by S. Richardson, were shown.

A devotion was given by Phyllis Graumann. Lela Hansen called the meeting to order. Plans were made to repair the Chrismos (handmade religious symbols) for the church Christmas tree. Tentative plans were discussed for the annual adult Christmas party which will be held Dec. 12.

The next meeting will be Nov. 12 in the home of Dorothy Bell.

Gospel quartet to perform Saturday night

"The Lighthouse," a gospel quartet from North Ridge United Methodist Church, Lamesa, will perform a concert of gospel music at the North Birdwell Lane United Methodist Church Saturday at 7 p.m., according to the Rev. Jim McWilliams, pastor at North Birdwell Lane.

The quartet, led by the Rev. Carl White, pastor of the Lamesa Church, has been performing inspirational music throughout the area for the past few years, using their talent to spread the gospel.

A reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church, which is located two miles north of 120 on North Birdwell Lane, will immediately follow the concert. The public is invited to attend.

In regard to the sharp controversy over abortion, the surveys find people about evenly divided, with 46 percent opposing the 1973 Supreme Court decision allowing abortion and 45 percent supporting it. The remaining 9 percent were undecided.

But 54 percent think human life begins at conception, while 22 percent think it begins somewhere between conception and birth; 17 percent at birth; and 7 percent with no definite opinion about it.

Generally, Gallup says, the indicated religious stability is impressive, considering various trends that would be expected to have a "negative impact on religion," including:

The "distractions of modern life, forces undermining the family and the ongoing conflict between values of society and those of the church."

Ironically, he notes, the "electronic church" which many critics have contended reduces religious participation appears to be a "key factor" in maintaining religious stability.

The survey results indicate that "religious programs are more likely to draw people to church or synagogue rather than keep them away," Gallup says.

Despite the outward signs of religious vitality, however, he reports there also are some negative indications beneath the surface.

For example, biblical illiteracy was found to be widespread. Less than half the adult respondents could name four or more of the Ten Commandments. A fourth of the teen-agers have never read the Bible.

"Americans revere the Bible but they do not read it," Gallup observes, noting that only 12 percent read it daily.

While Americans say they believe in God, they show "little evidence of having pondered a basis for this faith" when asked why they have it, he says.

Also, while most of them pray, he says findings indicate they "do so in an unstructured and superficial manner. Prayers are usually prayers of petition rather than prayers of thanksgiving, intercession or seeking forgiveness. God for some is viewed as a 'divine Santa Claus.'"

Religion has a much stronger hold in America than in Great Britain, where only 73 percent believe in God or "some sort of spirit or life force," while 15 percent don't know and 12 percent are atheists.

JOYFUL BUSINESS — Mac and Cheryl Dodson pose with a Joy Rocker, one of 2,500 they produce yearly in their small Southern Illinois plant near Mount Vernon. Born-again Christians, the Dodsons say the Lord brought them to the area and has blessed their work. Employees of Cher-Mac, Inc., start their day with prayer and Bible study.

First Baptist Church presents sacred concert

Bill Robinson, a soloist from Hollywood, Calif., will present a sacred concert at 5:45 p.m. Sunday evening at the First Baptist Church, according to Joe Whitten, minister of music.

Robinson spent eight years studying serious classical music including two years at Juilliard School of Music in New York. Later he switched to light opera. Until 1972 when he gave his life to Christ, he had a very promising career as a popular singer and worked with some of America's best known entertainers, including Pat Boone and Sammy Davis Jr.

For two years Robinson was the leading male soloist with the Max Davey Singers from Detroit. Later he began singing gospel music. He has appeared on the Good News, 700 and PTL clubs television shows.

Robinson sings solo favorites, sacred classics and spirituals.

No admission fees will be charged, and the concert is open to the public.

Pastor to serve as chairman of conference

The Rev. Carroll C. Kohl, pastor of the St. Paul Lutheran Church, will attend a regional pastoral conference Monday and Tuesday in Pecos. Kohl will serve as general chairman and program chairman of the conference.

The theme for the conference will be "Discovering God's Ministry For You, Where You Are."

Sandra S. Bess, archdeacon of the Trans-Pecos Area Ministry of the Episcopal Church, will be guest speaker. She will be helping area pastors meet the needs of their congregations, and is specially trained to work with smaller congregations.

REV. JAMES E. MCKEE

Associational meeting announced

The annual meeting of the Big Spring Baptist Association will be held Monday at Midway Baptist Church. The meeting will begin at 3 p.m. with announcements, recognitions, and seating of messengers.

McKee attended Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, and holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Baylor University. In 1959 he received a Bachelor of Divinity degree and in 1977 a Master of Divinity degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth. He has pastored churches in several Texas cities and a church in Colorado Springs, Colo.

McKee works with associational leadership in developing an associational strategy of evangelism. He also works in a new program of the Evangelism Division which deals with church growth.

McKee and wife, Joyce, have four children, Russell, David, Stephen and Jerusha.

LET'S GO NORTH — OR SOUTH!
 Two opportunities for spiritual growth are available this next week.
 The Lubbock Christian College Lectures begin Sunday evening. An impressive array of speakers have been invited to speak on the theme, "Our Father, Which Art in Heaven."
 If you cannot go North, go South. Instructors from Sunset School of Preaching will speak on the theme of "The King and His Kingdom" each evening through Wednesday at the Church of Christ in Sterling City.

Odds against Steers

 league opener to Abilene, with an Eagle touchdown pass with only 14 seconds left spelling defeat. And in the defeat, the Steers lost Williams, no doubt the most talented athlete in 5-AAAAA. Last week, the Bovines simply did not play well against a fired up Midland team.
 But Harris is not down on the team, and neither are his aides.
 "We had a good chance to do something for Big Spring football this year," he philosophized. We had a good group of seniors returning that were ready and had worked hard to get ready, but they've all been beat up with injuries so much. I know these last two losses have bothered them more than anybody."

 And as Harris mentioned the injury situation being something that happens in such occurrence as every four or five years, he discussed the affect on the team, and it's possibilities.
 "We've got so many things that are going as badly as they can this year," he said. "Injuries, losing a game we should have in the last seconds (to Abilene), and already being out of the district race. We've got a chance to check it in, but I really don't think the players or the coaches are ready for that."

SEMINOLE — Girls volleyball teams from Goliad JHS split matches with Seminole here yesterday afternoon.
 The Goliad Black squad won by a count of 15-10, 7-15, 15-10. Lanette Smith had 11 service points, with Sheila Chapman and Joann Herrera adding seven each. Outstanding play was noted from Priscilla Banks and Lisa Hale.
 The White squad lost 2-15, 4-15. Karen Brodie and Michelle Husted were praised for their hustle in the loss.
 Both Goliad teams return to play at Sweetwater on Monday.
Tennis for 84 Olympics
 LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles Olympic Committee officials say the chances are very good that tennis will become a full-fledged Olympic sport in time for the 1984 games.
 The IOC called Peter Uebegroth, president of the Los Angeles Organizing Committee, to ask for the expansion, the Times said. The committee has contracted for 21 sports and the Los Angeles committee must make the decision on any additions.

Watch the Jenn-Air Grill-Range in action. See what good taste is all about.

The amazing Grill-Range that does so many things so well is being demonstrated at your Jenn-Air dealer. See steaks sizzle up plump and juicy on the Char-Flavor grill. Watch chickens and roasts turning golden brown on the rotisserie, while eggs and pancakes cook to perfection on the non-stick griddle. The Jenn-Air demonstration will show you how to roast meals faster, juicier, and at lower temperatures. And you can see how easily Jenn-Air's convertible cooktops slip in and out—great for clean ups as well as cooking! What you won't see, though, is all the smoke, grease and odors that are whisked away by an exclusive built-in surface ventilation system.

The Big Spring Herald Salutes...
 The youth of our community who are carriers for the Big Spring Herald.
 This year 66 young people in our community have operated their own business. They buy papers wholesale and sell them to their subscribers at retail. They must keep accurate records, collect monthly, deliver in all kinds of weather, and pay their invoices at the first of each month.
 These carriers have earned in excess of $85,000.00 this year. These earnings were used by the carriers in many ways in addition to savings.
 We salute these young business people on International Newspaper Carrier Day, Saturday, October 17, 1981.
