ATTEMPT TO CROSS BORDER

By Associated Press: El Paso, June 13.—At 1 o'clock this morning a motorcycle machine gun company and troops in motor truck were dispatched from Fort Bliss to Ysleta, thirteen miles east of there, where it was reported forty Mexicans had attempted to ford the Rio Grande.

The Mexicans were fired on by a cavalry patrol but no casualties are reported.

General Bell has dispatched an aide to investigate the matter.

Gen. Bell's aid reports that twenty-five armed Mexicans attempted to cross the river and fired on the patrol.

The patrol returned the fire. The Mexicans retreated. All was quiet when reinforcements arrived.

W. L. Futch spent yesterday on the plains and reports that section dry and windy.

A number of speakers will be on hand and final plans will be explained for entertaining the locating committee while in Sweetwater.

A committee of leading citizens of Nolan county will leave here at nine o'clock in the morning for Hamlin where they will meet the

TOTALS SHORT OVER MILLION

Washington, June 12.—Total registration for selective army service will be approximately 9,250,000, according to revised figures given out today by Provost Marshal General Crowder. This is more than 1,000,000 below the original census estimate.

Revision of the figures was made when the Provost Marshal General's Office realized that in using census figures officials did not take into account the fact that about 600,000 men of eligible age already have volunteered for service in the regular army, National Guard, navy and marine corps.

Another factor in the revision was belated realization that the Census Bureau estimates, made previous to the war, did not take into account the fact that in the last three years immigration has practically stopped.

SOLDIER BOY WRITES AGAIN

Fort Bliss, June 12, 1917. Sweetwater Reporter:

I have been in the army only a short time, but I think it is the duty of every loyal American to heed the call of our country and enlist to defend Old Glory. A trained soldier is worth fifty recruits in time of war. If we don't join the army and drill, how can we be prepared to defend our country? Some think the army a bad place for a young man.

I would not ask for better treatment than I have received since I came here. We have the good and bad in every walk of life. I would not think of quitting if I could as our country needs our service.

At nine o'clock tomorrow final signal will be given.

The vessel it is stated is nearly 100 feet long, is propelled by gasoline and is capable of the enormous speed of thirty knots.

By a special arrangement the submarine hunter's fuel supply is replenishable at sea, long tubes and connecting with a ship's reservoir.

The armament which this formidable vessel carries is declared to permit the most rapid offensive power by longrange guns.

AIR FLEET IS PROPOSED

Washington, June 11.—The Government soon will ask Congress for an appropriation of from $500,000,000 to $600,000,000 as the first move in developing the American aero service on a gigantic scale.

This became known today when decision was reached by the subcommittee of the Senate Military Affairs Committee to begin hearings tomorrow on the Sheppard-Hulbert bill, creating a separate aeroplane department of the Government.

"Before the year is over Congress will be asked to appropriate at least $1,000,000,000 for aero service," Representative Hulbert said.

Stations All Over Country.

"It is the idea of the Council of National Defense to establish aviation stations at intervals across the continent, where men can be trained and machines prepared for service.

"It would be impossible for this Government to send any considerable number of troops to the European battlefields under nine months or a year. We can train 5,000 aviators, however, in from six weeks to two months and have 5,000 machines ready for them to use by the last of July, or the first of August," he declared.

Hulbert said that all the military authorities of England and France have stated that the air branch must be developed on a great scale and declared "the greatest service the United States can do in this war at the present time is to send machines and aviators to France."

The subcommittee to meet tomorrow includes Senators Sheppard, Beekham, Brady and Sutherland. It is proposed to hear military authorities on the advisability of adding a new administrative department to the Government to direct the aero work.

To Send Billion

"We are going to spend a billion dollars this year in aero work," Hulbert said. "It is obvious with this sum to be handled, there must be a separate executive department."

That the aeroplane will be the factor that determines the outcome of the war is expressed today, following careful digestion of recent dispatches from the British front, showing how the aero service made late allied victories possible.

"Put out the eyes of the enemy and artillery will do the rest," Hulbert said.

"Ammunition, when shot away by the billion dollars' worth is gone forever," Hulbert said. "Cannon after this war is over, will be turned into plowshares. The aeroplane, however, will live forever and those stations which it is proposed to establish now to prepare men for flying will later become terminals or division points, for transcontinental air service in this country."

"THE COST OF HATRED"

There is no fake in the whipping scenes in "The Cost of Hatred," the Lasky-Paramount production which will be seen at the Queen today, with Kathlyn Williams and Theodore Roberts in the stellar roles, as Tom Forman, the whipper will testify. To protect Forman from the force of the blows, a heavy canvas jacket was put inside his shirt. During the taking of the scenes, the long last quilt frequently missed the jacket and nipped the skin from the writhing juvenile.

Others in the cast are J. W. Johnston, Horace B. Carpenter, Charles Ogle, Mayme Kelso and Louise Mineugh.

GERMANS BEGIN TO HATE SIGHT OF THE KAISER

London, June 12.—An instance of German "Kaiser hatred" was described by a wounded engineer.

"In a house in one of the villages we captured a few days ago, that had evidently been some kind of a headquarters, there was a large picture of the Kaiser on the wall. Several German prisoners were brought in the house. One of them on seeing the Kaiser's picture spat on it. We asked him why he spat on the picture and if he was a Saxon.

"No Englishman," he replied; "I'm a Prussian, but I'm fed up, and he's the devil who started this."

TOWNS MAKE THEIR OFFER

Buffalo Gap, June 12.—The locating committee of the West Texas A. & M. College, headed by Governor Ferguson, has been busy since it struck West Texas.

The committee looked at the site at Miles yesterday evening late. The crowd of more than 20 men from Abilene to escort the governor and his party from Ballinger to Abilene stayed up late Monday night to wait for the committee to come in from the fish fry given them by the Ballinger people.

At Ballinger Judge Guion president of the Board of Directors of the A. & M. College presented the claims of Ballinger for the new A. & M. All of the locating committee spoke at Ballinger Monday night at the fish fry. The speaking lasted three hours. The governor stated to a reporter of this paper that they were most royally and cordially entertained at San Angelo and Ballinger. It was reported that Miles was helping Ballinger to get the new A. & M. This was a false report and as the governor states "we were shown an attractive piece of ground at Miles by the citizens of that town. This site is known as the Bowman place and consists of 1,874 acres." The governor stated that at Ballinger they were most elegantly entertained. To use his own words "We were democratically entertained at Ballinger than at any place thus far visited. There were no formalities at all. We were given a good old fashioned fish fry. We put sand, sugar and salt in our coffee and it all tasted good." Sixty pounds of fish and lots of fried chicken were in evidence to the crowd of about 30 in all. A. W. Sledge of Ballinger gave the following as their description in brief of their proposed site: "2000 acres, 1,700 of which is in a high state of cultivation with 7 different sets of improvements, houses, barns and windmills, etc. It also has a fine pecan orchard. It joins the city and the Santa Fe for a mile and a half. The Colorado river strip is wide open. Five different kinds of soil are found on the site. The rock quarry that the town is built of is on it. It has an inexhaustible supply of stone and sand." The drinks are on J. A. Weeks, an Irishman and one of the liveliest wires in Ballinger who when placing the committee in autos to show them the site said to J. F. Cunningham, thinking he was one of the committee, "I want you in my car." The crowd enjoyed a hearty laugh. We know that the Abilene crowd has a distinguished appearance but we did not think that the Ballinger people could discriminate the Abilene people from the state officials.

Commissioner of Agriculture Davis who is an expert judge of land stated that the three sites of Angelo all fronted on the Concho. As he stated one tract was close to the city while the others were from 2 1/2 to 4 miles from the city. One tract had only about 100 acres in cultivation. "I like one especially well which had 400 or 500 acres of first bottom land close to the river in cultivation. This lay back from the river into the mesquite land. The soil on the tracts on the land we have seen varied so some extent but was typical west Texas soil. The proposed site at Miles is a beautiful piece of land close to the town it has only comparatively small part of it in cultivation."

Speaker Fuller whose dignity prevents him from saying anything against anybody said: I like all the sites that we have seen. They are good."

W. B. Bizzell stated that all three places at San Angelo were attractive. He said: "The desirable one of the three could be selected and one that would be suitable for the college. The Miles site is a pretty tract of land. The hydraulic engineering works could be well worked out on the Miles site."

Supt. Doughty stated all propositions are interesting. "There is something worth while at each place," he said.

W. E. Thomason, secretary to the governor and the committee is also with the committee. The committee was shown the Ballinger site Tuesday morning early. They will reach Abilene about 5:30.—Abilene Reporter.

Ballinger Defines its Advantages (Ballinger Ledger)

Of course every town applying for the West Texas A. & M. College claims to be in the "logical" place for the location of the new educational institution, but the "proof of the pudding is in the eating."

Ballinger's application, as presented to the board, contains in detail the advantages offered here for the school. If any town in the list of twenty or more applicants can offer the natural advantages we are offering and back the offers up with the proof, we will have nothing to say, will step aside and endorse the locating board's action in planting this school at some other point.

Ballinger is offering a site for this college a tract of land upon which can be found seven different kinds of soil. Crops are growing in all of the seven varieties. The locating board can find no objection to the land.

Upon this land the college will have access to three different kinds of water. The Colorado river splits the tract of land open. Elm Creek empties into the river on the land, and there are inexhaustible supplies of well water, and if the regents see fit they can impound surface water as there are natural advantages for building dams.

One of the best building stone quarries in Texas is located upon this land. Ballinger is built out of the stone from this quarry and the supply has hardly been "touched." The finest quality of sand and gravel for building purposes is located on this land. In fact large quantities of this building material—stone, sand and gravel, is being shipped from here to San Angelo and Abilene. San Angelo's dam, that holds its water supply was constructed out of stone and gravel shipped from Ballinger.

The proposed site also has a supply of valuable pecan and mesquite timber, and is located on the railroad, and adjoins the city. Several hundred acres in the Colorado River valley can be placed under irrigation at a very small cost.

Ballinger is offering a healthy location, where the death rate is as low as the lowest, and where there is not today a single tubercular patient. The temperature here compares favorably with any in the district within which this college is to be located, the nights being cool.

From the standpoint of geographical location Ballinger is offering the center. The map shows this most conclusively. We have the railroad facilities and people can come and go through connecting with other lines of railroad without delay, and at a saving in the cost of travel.

No place can offer better environment than can be found here. We pit social, educational and religious surroundings with any town and county in Texas.

IS NECESSARY TO ACT NOW

Dallas, June 12.—In an effort to get the people of the district to take the right viewpoint in the present national crisis, the officials of the Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas issued the following statement this morning.

There are certain things in this world which have to be done, and done at once. The doctor says, "Appendicitis; immediate operation necessary." You do not talk of your money being "tied up." A near relative is sick and calls for you. You do not say, "If this were October I could do." You are told "Your home is on fire." You do not say, "Let the neighbors attend to it."

The Liberty Loan proposition is in line with the cases referred to. It is one of those urgent things which come up from time to time, which must be attended to.

Business, your safety, your income, your savings, your self-respect and pride are threatened. This is no time to trifle. Germany has said we shall pay for the war. We can be made to pay by one means only, viz: invasion. We are faced with the fact that we must find money, arms, men, immediately or we might as well be dead, morally and financially.

Yes, there are certain things in the life of an individual, and of nations, which have to be done—and done at once.

You are face to face with such a situation right now. Your intelligence your common sense, your self-respect, tells you to try yourself and meet the situation like a man.

"Money tied up; if this were October could do it; Let the neighbors do it," and all beside the point. A man should be ashamed to talk such nonsense.

You are face to face with one of those things which must be done and done at once.

FIFTY SLACKERS WILL BE ARRESTED

Jackson, Miss., June 12.—About a half hundred affidavits charging failure to register for the selective draft were being prepared by United States District Attorney George here today against eligibles in Mississippi. Federal officials are receiving letters from citizens and authorities from over the state containing names of alleged slackers. The clerk of one South Mississippi county sent in fifteen names.
