Mothers' Day Will Be Observed Sunday, May 9

(Special to The Reporter)

AUSTIN, May 7.—Sunday, May 9, has been set aside as "Mother's Day" by proclamation of Governor W. P. Hobby, according to the custom established by the Act of Congress in 1914, which provides that the second Sunday in May shall be observed as "Mother's Day." The proclamation gives a history of the observance of the day and gives credit to Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia, Pa., who first suggested the plan. The proclamation of the governor is as follows:

To Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia, Pa., the nation owes a debt of gratitude for having given us the idea of annually setting apart a day for special observance in honor of home and mother.

"Mother's Day" was first celebrated in a number of cities in the United States in 1910. On May 10th, 1913, both Houses of Congress passed a resolution commending the observance of "Mother's Day" by Congress and the executive branches of the government, and in 1914 Congress authorized the president to designate by annual proclamation, the second Sunday in May as "Mother's Day," and to request the display of the American flag on government buildings and private homes. The first national proclamation was issued by President Wilson on May 9, 1914. We cannot more fittingly acknowledge our obligation to Miss Jarvis for having given us this thought other than by keeping it sacred to the memory of her who gave us life, whether she shall have passed to the Great Beyond or whether she remain, that we may longer be the recipients of that love and devotion which only a mother can bestow.

To those mothers who have gone no greater tribute can be paid than to recall memories of her days that have passed. No homage can be paid her memory which, to even a limited degree can compare with that love and devotion for home and children so characteristic of her life, for it was during that time that the uppermost thought in her mind, heart and soul was "What can I do that will give the most comfort, pleasure and happiness to father and children? What act of mine will add more brightness and cheerfulness to the home for them?"

In doing these things she found her greatest happiness, and how often during that time have we failed to say or do that which would add to that happiness she found in her motherly work.

Mothers remaining with us find their greatest happiness in doing for us, and that kindly word and act from those on whom her blessings fall are indeed insignificant in comparison to what she has done, and is continually doing, for our welfare and pleasure.

This thought of a "Mother's Day" annually, which has been given to our keeping, gives us an opportunity to do on that day the things we have overlooked in the past, and that is to do and say that which will add to mother's pleasure, and an opportunity to, by some physical manifestation, demonstrate our appreciation and love for her and her devotion. To mother, more than to any other instrumentality, do we owe what we are and what we will be. 'Tis a mother's love and devotion to her child that is responsible, in an inestimable degree, for the progress of our nation and of civilization. It was mother, who during their immature years, trained the minds of our leaders, both past and present, along those channels which later in life were and are responsible for the accomplishments of the human race, both individually and collectively.

It was Abraham Lincoln who so well said, "All that I am or hope to be, I owe to my angel mother," to be followed later by these words from John Quincy Adams, "All that I am my mother made me," while to an unknown author we are indebted to the tribute to her: "Blessed is the memory of the old-fashioned mother. It floats to us now like the sweet perfume of some wood-rat blossom. The music of other voices may be lost, but the entrancing melody of hers will echo in our souls forever. Other faces will fade away and be forgotten, but hers will shine on us like the light from heaven's portals will glorify our own."

In accordance with the annual custom thus established by the Act of Congress in 1914, I deem it one of the treasured privileges of my official life to, by proclamation, add my feeble tribute to others so well bestowed upon mother.

Therefore, I, W. P. Hobby, Governor of Texas, hereby designate and set apart Sunday, May 9, as "Mother's Day," and call on each and every citizen to observe it, as was the intention of the originator of this noble movement, and it is requested that each and every individual provide himself or herself with the badge of the day, namely a white carnation, emblematic of purity, fidelity and devotion. Let us each and every one take advantage of this occasion to brighten the lives of those of our mothers who remain, and to encourage all honor to home and parents. It is further requested, as is the annual custom, that the services in the various churches of the state on this particular day, be devoted to mother.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto signed my name and caused to be impressed hereon the Seal of State, on this 30th day of April, A. D., 1920. W. P. HOBBY, Governor of Texas.

Proclamation Issued By Mayor C. A. Engle

Mayor C. A. Engle today issued a proclamation declaring Sunday, May 9, Mother's Day.

"Whereas, the chief executive of the state has named Sunday, May 9th, in proclamation as Mother's Day, and has also requested and advised that said day be observed becomingly as its designation implies, "Therefore, I, C. A. Engle, Mayor of the City of Sweetwater, in accordance with the higher proclamation herein referred to, name Sunday, May 9th, 1920, as Mother's Day for Sweetwater, and hereby request and urge that our thoughts and demeanor of that day be consistent in memory and attitudes as the spirit of National Mother's Day is suggested in this proclamation; especially by our several churches where suitable programs honoring our mothers will be observed."

PROFITTEERING IN INDUSTRY MAKES LIVING COST HIGH

(Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 7.—A study of profiteering in American industry made under the auspices of the railway brotherhoods, was presented to the railroad labor board today in support of the railway workers' demands for higher pay, and to refute charges that increased labor costs are responsible for the high cost of living. The study seeks to show that profiteering in industry is the fundamental cause for high prices in practically all commodities. Attention is called to the many war-made millionaires and continues that "three-fold relationship exists between high prices, profiteering and additions to the quota of millionaires," and that increase in the wealth of the wealthy is "unanswerable refutation to all attempts to hold labor responsible for the high cost of living."

BLANTON'S NEW DISCOVERY

In a recent news dispatch from Washington, headed "Blanton Charged as Labor is Spending Money Against Him," Mr. Blanton, representative in Congress of the 17th Texas district, is quoted as saying:

"How much they are spending I don't know, but an active and expensive propaganda against me is being conducted in my district. It has been asserted numerous times that labor unions will spend one hundred thousand dollars to beat me."

If this is true, we have very little respect for the intelligence and business ability of those who manage the labor unions, because anyone familiar with the political situation in this district certainly would be foolish to think of wasting money in such a manner.

It is generally conceded that any capable man in the district should be able to defeat Blanton at an expense not to exceed three or four hundred dollars, and we believe that no man or delegation of men would be so extravagant as to even make an unthoughtful remark that he or they intended to waste so much money for the satisfaction of defeating so small a man.

Personally, we know of but one individual in the district who is spending any money to defeat Blanton, and he is out money only for hotel bills and transportation in his campaign that he is waging at this time in the southern part of the district.

But we cannot believe that he is spending money foolishly or extravagantly, because he does not drink, nor smoke, nor gamble. Neither, however, does he crochet, or tat, or embroider, or wear pink silk pajamas, because he is a HE MAN.

The propaganda he is distributing consists of statements relative to his idea of constructive legislation, of interest to this district, and never does he refer to "poisoned candy which his enemies are sending to his children," or to "in. sorial machines which are received frequently through the mails."

Invariably, in discussing Blanton's record, and the many instances in which he has been the laughing stock of Congress, and brought shame and humiliation on this district, he gives the page and paragraph which he is quoting. And as a result of this clean, above-board policy, he is being given much encouragement through out the entire district.

The fact of the matter is that while Blanton is trying to elicit the sympathy of the uninformed voter of his district by inserting in the Congressional Record propoganda of his own imagination, Bob Gribben is informing the voters of his idea of sane, beneficial and constructive legislation necessary for the development of the resources of this district, and incidentally calling their attention to the unenviable record which Blanton has made in Congress, and which has earned him such nicknames as "Talk Lots," "Tommy the Tough," "Tom TH," "Magpie" and others equally suitable, judging by his actions.

Gribben is appealing to his constituents for their votes, without so flattery their sympathy, and without promising, among other things, "that when he goes to Congress he will make them open at eight and not close before six."

We hope that when Judge Gribben goes to Congress, he will devote his time and efforts to working for our interests, rather than spending his time and our money advertising himself, and worrying about what will happen to him in the next election.

IDEALS

No man, no set of men, no organization ever reaches the ideal. Effort carries us a long way toward the goal, but the journey is long and hard and the end is never reached.

Mistakes are made, sometimes intentionally, sometimes not. We are misjudged, our intentions are not understood.

The giver of all good and perfect gifts made it that way, but on the other hand he expects all of us to be broad enough to try and understand before judgment is passed.

Every man was born with the right of his opinion. No man can deny him that. Fairness to all is evidence of a broad and understanding mind. Yet we forget at times and we say or do things which hurt and from which recovery is never fully made.

There is an ideal for a man, for a business, for a newspaper. It is a distant thing, we can see but never reach. earnestly we strive to attain the heights and the mountain tops, but alas, we fall because it was intended so.

A careful study of the man, the town, the newspaper will aid us in understanding and in the end a common ground will be found, upon which our efforts may be linked and as one we may strive for the good of things around us, remembering always that nothing worth while can be attained without earnest, sincere cooperation.

Show us the man who said it never rained in Sweetwater.

Chicago's messengers have struck for higher wages. Guess it will be the dishwashers' turn next.

A bale of long staple cotton has just been sold at Lubbock for 85 cents a pound. Why worry about oil wells?

Democrats of Fisher County in convention Tuesday at Roby threat, oned to "start something" if the leaders of the assembly attempted to inject the Hobby endorsement issue into the deliberations. Hobby's name was not mentioned during the convention. It is cold.

Prince Hooley Booley, or some such a name, of Rumania, says this is a peculiar land, when a woman with eleven million cold iron men asked him to marry her. Wish someone with those kind of peculiar ideas would make a mad rush in this direction. We have a friend who has his arms open.

If those bold, bad burglars who pinched Curley Whitton's silk shirts Wednesday night got any of the screamingly noisy patterns which we have seen displayed in a number of stores recently, they'd better get rany miles from Sweetwater before they put them on. The noise would identify them anywhere.

Twenty men already have volunteered to build at least one house each to help relieve Sweetwater's housing problem. And when they finish the houses, they'll be almost able to build another with the profit they make on the first one, judging from the flattering offers would be residents of Sweetwater hold out for a place to live.

Labor bureau statistics show that the cost of living has just doubled within the past six years. Judging by the way our pay check looks on Saturday night, however, and how on the same night in the halcyon days of 1913, it has about quadrupled. And even at that, there was something then to spend the residue for besides cokes and ice cream cones.

The boxing entertainment given Wednesday night by the local American Legion post is only the forerunner of a number of such affairs. Except for the fact that boxers were a little short on pep, and long on dancing, the entertainment was perfect, and the effort of the legionnaires to promote clean, legitimate boxing in Sweetwater deserves the commendation and support of everyone.

RECORD INCUBATOR HATCH

BELLEVILLE, Kan., May 7.—What is believed to be a Kansas record for an incubator hatch was established by Mrs. C. H. Owens, wife of a farmer near here, a few days ago.

The egg capacity of the "wooden hen" is 140. When Mrs. Owens counted the brood it numbered 138 lively chicks.

"Best Little Essay", Soldier Declares of Increased Pay Bill

"The best little essay ever written on enlistments in the army is the report of Congress approving an increase in the pay of the army" is the way the men at the recruiting office here talk of the work they are doing.

"Reports of the next few months ought to show the lads crowding into the ranks, and many of the men whose terms now expire within a short time undoubtedly will be going back. If they have to wear overalls to fight the cost of living they would rather wear the old blue denim, issue, than the kind they have to buy.

"The increase in pay is all that was needed to make the army the best all-around thing for a man to work in in the world. With the new schools for every branch of learning that men make their livings by, with the clean, healthy life, the best food and medical attention, the pay being needed was modest money to live on decently, and the chance to take unto himself a wife with, out fear of failure to give her a comfortable home."

Men who were in the army before the war like to look fondly of the old dress uniform of blue and they are hoping that the uniforms will be replaced as soon as the situation allows itself.

They are hoping too that the old system of clothing allowance, as opposed to the new method of issuing clothing, made necessary by the emergency, will be re-established, as a considerable saving could be effected by judicious use of the allowance.

DENTIST REMOVES HIS MIRRORS; SAYS PATIENTS WASTED HIS TIME

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 7.—Women's vanity no longer finds a means of gratification in the office of Dr. Arthur R. Melindy, a dentist. Recently Dr. Melindy removed from his dental tray two large hand mirrors.

"I found I lost too much time waiting for patients to examine their mouths from various angles," said Dr. Melindy. "Women are the worst offenders, using the mirror for primping. I find I can accomplish more work each day since I removed the mirrors."

LLLOYD GEORGE IGNORES MESSAGE ON IRELAND

(Associated Press) LONDON, May 7.—Premier Lloyd George will not take cognizance of the message from American congressmen relative to Ireland.

An official at the premier's residence said, "we long since have come to believe that resolutions and messages coming from America are political maneuvers, and that they do not represent the American sentiment. Consequently, they have little weight."

CONSTRUCTION STARTED ON MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

(Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 7.—Actual construction work has been started on the Texas World War Memorial Hospital which is to be built at Kerrville, with funds raised by the Benevolent War Risk Society for care and treatment of Texas ex-service men suffering from tuberculosis, according to Dr. C. W. Goddard, state health officer. Dr. Goddard declared this institution will be welcomed by thousands of ex-soldiers who were unwilling to accept help from the federal government for fear they would be sent to a hospital outside the state.

The contract has been let for the first unit of the buildings which will accommodate 100 men. It will consist of two large wards of 32 beds each and twenty bungalows of two beds each, besides an administration building, a substation plant, a water and sewerage disposal system, a power plant for furnishing heat and electric light to all the buildings, an ice factory and a laundry.

This unit is to be paid for out of funds subscribed during the past few weeks, but Dr. Goddard said additional money is needed to complete the sanatorium.

LABOR INTERESTS WILL OPPOSE ZONE SYSTEM FOR MINIMUM WAGES

AUSTIN, May 7.—Efforts to divide the state into zones with different scales of minimum wage for women and children to be controlled by conditions found in each zone, will be opposed by labor interests in the state, T. C. Jennings, commissioner of the department of labor, declares.

The industrial welfare commission failed recently to agree upon a minimum wage scale for women and children and asked Governor Hobby to submit the matter to the legislature.

Employers, Commissioner Jennings said, do not favor the proposed plan of fixing a flat wage rate for women and children employees. They are said to contend that living conditions vary in different parts of the state.

TEXAS POLO PONIES BEING USED IN EAST

BROWNWOOD, May 7.—Texas ponies have found their way to polo clubs of the East, as twenty-eight trained near Brownwood have been shipped to the eastern markets.

The ponies were under training for several months and it is said that they have already been engaged at the polo markets in New York.

Two pony trainers are busy at the training grounds here getting more horses ready for the market. The animals have been put through a strenuous exercise each day.

SKY PILOT WANTS TO WED COUPLE IN AIR

WICHITA FALLS, May 7.—C. J. Arrington is living in hopes, he claims. He said he has married couples from the church steeple to the basement and in stores, railroad stations, and in many other places, but his latest adventure came when he was called upon to marry a couple on a vaudeville stage at Burk Burnett.

"I only hope I have a chance to marry a couple in an airplane," Justice Arrington declared. "for that's all I have to look forward to in the way of exciting marriages."

ONION CROP ESTIMATED AT 5,000 CARLOADS THIS YEAR

(Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 7.—Onions grown in the Rio Grande Valley this year are described as being of good quality by William A. Saunders, representative of the markets and warehouse department, who has just returned from that section. He estimated the onion crop at 5,000 carloads.

Mr. Saunders estimated that there was 3200 cars of cabbage to be shipped out of the valley when he left there. The potato crop is about ready for market, he said.

HOTEL FOR BOYS IS CHICAGO PLAN

(Associated Press)
CHICAGO, May 7.—The stray boy who for dinner flattens his nose against the bakery window and who at night sleeps with grown-up trams in the park or in the back alley shed, will come upon better days if the plan of George W. Brown of Chicago works out.

A hotel for boys, to be operated so far as feasible by boys, and fitted up in a way to attract the youngster who finds himself in vast Chicago temporarily or permanently without a home, is the idea of Mr. Brown, who for a decade, has given most of his time to volunteer work among homeless boys. His work has brought him in touch with juvenile court officials in many cities and he has enlisted their support in his efforts to obtain a "transient hotel for boys" between the ages of 14 and 17. Joseph Tumulty, the president's secretary, a schoolmate of Mr. Brown, has lent his aid to some of Mr. Brown's betterment schemes.

"The Y. M. C. A. conducts in Chicago a transient hotel for men, a high skyscraper calculated to give its tenants clean surroundings, morally and physically, but homeless boys under 17, hundreds of whom drift into Chicago every week, may rely on the dangerous expedient of seeking a rooming house, or, if without funds, may sleep behind ash barrels," Mr. Brown said today. "I have housed scores of these boys in my homes until jobs and recurrent pay-days lifted them off the rocks, and I know what even a few days of decent surroundings can do for them."

"The large and properly conducted hotel for which we are working, and which will not be a 'Boys' Home,' will be equipped to do for thousands and thousands of kids what my feeble efforts have accomplished for a few hundred."

PRAIRIE SCHOONERS FREE FROM LEGAL FORECLOSURE SAYS OKLAHOMA COURT

(Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, May 7.—If at night all that separates you from the radiance of the stars and the storm clouds is a thin sheet spread over the bows of an old-time prairie schooner, and if that "schooner" is your homestead it can not be taken away from you through debt, contract or other legal procedure, according to the laws of Oklahoma, where many such "prairie schooners" may still be seen.

This is the substance of a ruling made recently by Justice of the Peace J. J. Deupree of this city. The case involved the purchase of a wagon and team and certain other effects of a horse trader and his wife by a third party. The trader's wife refused to deliver her "home" to the third party, and the latter sought to replevin the wagon. Judge Deupree denied the right, although the purchase thereof had been indicated in the bill of sale.

EMBROIDERY AND CROCHET SUPPLEMENT PRACTICAL DARNING AND PATCHING

(Associated Press)
AUSTIN, May 7.—Texas high school girls who take home economies are taught embroidery and crochet work secondary to practical patching and darning, renovating of old clothes and stockings and cutting down adult's clothing for use by children, according to Miss Lillian Peck, assistant state director of home economics, who has just completed a survey of 26 high schools seeking college affiliation credits for work done in home economics.

Teaching Has Lost Half Its Inducements

(Associated Press)
DALLAS, May 7.—Teaching as a profession has lost about half the inducements in some Texas counties in the past five years, according to reports of county superintendents made to the Texas State Teachers' Association. Counties reporting teaching efficiency as having decreased more than 50 per cent are Johnson, Bowie and Hays. Counties reporting a loss of one-fourth of the efficiency of their teachers were Crowell, Foard, Henderson, Polk, Jackson, Dallas and Tarrant.

During the year nearly half of the teachers in Johnson county have changed, and five vacancies existed until time for the schools to close. Bowie county reported its teachers as loyal in carrying out their contracts, but the county superintendent in his report says the teachers will not enter such contracts for the coming year. Hays county has six vacancies, and some schools will see the term end with even more vacancies, the report said.

Board in the rural districts of Dallas and Jackson counties is about thirty dollars a month, the REPORT says, and adds that this is about the same as that paid in Henderson county. Fifteen per cent of Henderson county's teachers have resigned during the current year to enter other business; 10 per cent of the teachers in Jackson county have done likewise, while one-eighth of Dallas county teachers have quit the profession, the report showed.

Several of the county superintendents in their reports declared there were no prospects for increased salaries for the teachers during the coming year. It was also declared by some of the superintendents that many of the teachers who signed contracts last year will not reconsider their present positions and that many have expressed their decision to seek other professions at the end of the present term.

CALIFORNIAN SURVIVES
38 MACHINE GUN WOUNDS

(Associated Press)
SUSANVILLE, Cal., May 7.—When George Bremala, a soldier from Los Angeles county, was caught in the fire of a German machine gun nest at the battle of the Argonne, he received thirty-eight separate wounds, twenty being of a serious nature. Tremain fell and lay on the ground in an exposed position for twelve hours before being rescued. When finally carried to a field hospital his injuries were pronounced fatal and for weeks he hovered near death in hospitals in France.

The amputation of both legs was anticipated for nearly a year, but healing was finally accomplished and now he can walk with the aid of crutches.

Tremain was permitted to come here from Letterman General Hospital a few days ago to visit his parents.
