READY FOR WEST TEXAS RALLY WEDNESDAY NIGHT

East Texas Chamber of Commerce Joins Sweetwater Forces

FT. WORTH AND W. TEXAS CHAMBERS ENDORSE MOVE TO FORCE RECOGNITION AND TO GAIN EQUAL RIGHTS

DELEGATES FROM NUMEROUS TOWNS COMING TO PLEDGE SUPPORT TO SWEETWATER IN MOVE STARTED HERE LAST SATURDAY.

The fight for representation in West Texas and the equalization of taxes will be started formally Wednesday night when James Spiller and R. C. Crane of this city appeal to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for support in the move launched here Saturday by themselves and the Daily Reporter.

Verbal assurance of the support of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has been made, while the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce has delegated a representative to attend the conference and pledge the whole-hearted support of that body in the fight.

Ballinger Y. M. B. L. secretary wired to reserve them four places at the meeting, saying that they were strong for the Sweetwater plan.

Letters and wires are coming in every hour from points in the state, all expressing a willingness to cooperate.

Five plates at the banquet have been reserved for delegates from Colorado City, according to orders wired the Reporter by W. S. ...

Places for two hundred guests have been reserved at the Wright Hotel but it is evident that this number will not take care of the crowd.

Porter A. Whaley, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and W. M. Woodall, of that body, will be honor guests. Mr. Woodall will speak also on practical work of the Young Men's Business League. The League will hold a short business session before the program pertaining to the West Texas proposition is started, according to M. C. Marroo, president.

Tickets for the dinner at the Wright Hotel are on sale now at the Porter A. Whaley wired O. H. Roberts, editor of the Sweetwater Daily Reporter, here today that he would make Governor Neff "back up," Mr. Whaley stated that West Texas was ready and anxious to show its colors. He has received hundreds of messages and letters urging the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to get behind the fight. "It has," he declared.

Thousands of words have been printed in the big daily papers of the state and all over the United States, telling of the fight started in Sweetwater in the name of justice and equality. Sweetwater has a warm place in the hearts of the really big friends of posterity.

territory and is an able sidekick for Neely.

The infield presents an entirely different problem as every position, with the possible exception of Third Base, has two men "fighting" for retention. To a man up a tree it begins to look as if it will be impossible to dislodge Hubert Mason from the hot corner. He not only has the advantage of having played the position a greater part of last season but is daily proving that he is a sterling performer in every way. Regarding Short, Second and First base, time alone will tell who are to be the permanent guardians as every man out there is showing enough to warrant further retention.

Manager Smith today announced that he had booked a single game between the Swatters and Roscoe to be played on the latter's grounds next Friday. Several prominent fans have already announced their intentions of going over for the frolic. It is also announced that the Swatters will play at Roby in the near future, probably early next week. Roby admirers are very anxious to see Claude Harris perform in a professional uniform and have promised to shut up shop for the occasion. The game that is attracting real attention right now, however, is Wednesdays' affair with Colorado. The Colorado "Bears" have allowed their claws to go untrimmed and make no bones over the fact that they are coming here with the sole purpose of getting ample revenge for the defeat suffered on their own dunghill. "Show 'em no mercy" is Smitty's only comment.

Texas Government Faulty, as Claimed by Sweetwater, Says Star-Telegram Editor

"The State shall be divided into Senatorial districts of contiguous territory according to the number of qualified voters, as nearly as may be, and each district shall be entitled to elect one Senator."—Section 25, Article III, Constitution of the State of Texas.

"The Legislature shall, at its first session after the publication of each United States decennial census, apportion the State into Senatorial and Representative districts, agreeably to the provisions of Sections 25 and 28 of this Article."—Section 28, Article III, Constitution of the State of Texas.

"The Senators shall be chosen by the qualified electors for the term of four years; but a new Senate shall be chosen after every apportionment, and the Senators elected after each apportionment shall be divided by lot into two classes. The seats of the Senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the first two years, and those of the second class at the expiration of four years, so that one-half the Senators shall be chosen biennially thereafter."—Section 3, Article III, Constitution of the State of Texas.

"Taxation shall be equal and uniform. All property in this State shall be taxed in proportion to its value, which shall be ascertained as may be provided by law."—Section 1, Article VIII, Constitution of the State of Texas.

"The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a republican form of government."—Section 4, Article IV, Constitution of the United States.

The State of Texas today is violating the letter and the spirit of all of these provisions.—Star-Telegram.

MAKE 5 STATES OF TEXAS, SAYS E. B. MOORE, OF ABILENE

Abilene, Tex., April 4, 1921. M. C. Marroo, President, Sweetwater, Texas.

Dear sir:—I am heartily in sympathy with your movement to divide the State of Texas. I am in full sympathy with your meeting called for Wednesday night—as I see by the papers.

I think West Texas will continue to be ridden by the patriarchs and saints in eastern and central Texas, till this part of the state either gets up and starts house-keeping for itself, or till it gives them such a scare that they will be willing to grant a small part of what is due. I do not believe it is true to the Texas spirit to further knuckle or bend the suppliant knee to those self-constituted bosses and guardians of the interests of the state.

I think, however, that it will be necessary to start the move for three, or possibly four states instead of only two. I would far prefer the reservation made by our fathers when Texas went into the Union—the right to make five states, but I am pretty sure you will have to make a drive for at least three states. If you can show Dallas and that section that Dallas is to have a state capital, we may be able to get enough votes in that section, which, added to the vote of West Texas, would carry the matter that would be successful. Four states with another state capital in the southeast portion, would get more votes still—and it is votes that we will need very badly, when this movement is started.

All states or new divisions must remain "Texas" with some qualifying word before it to designate, in order to carry. So many would not like to sever the "sacred memories" I have met that a number of times the last two or three days: "Whose would the Alamo be?" etc.

The more states we can make, would only secure that much larger interest among the voters in the new states provided for, but that much more power would be had in the U. S. Senate, where all the big politics is done. That is a value we have not thought much of during our existence. While the need of two or three Senators more would have accomplished wonders sometimes for our way of thinking, yet we have neglected that needed strength and let little states in the west with as much population as one or two of our big counties, have as much influence in national

To The Armstrong Farm Tractor Co. Sweetwater, Texas.

Gentlemen:

Please accept our thanks, that of 15000 people who were your guests and ours during our recent exposition, for the use of your wonderful home. With out your unselfish assistance and interest it would have been impossible to have staged this affair so creditably and comfortably. To each member of your firm we desire to express our deep appreciation for your individual interest and help.

May your enterprise grow and flourish until your own industry becomes the products of this entire West Texas section, and as well known as you made yourselves known, to the guests of yours and our house party.

SAN ANGELO HAS BIG MASS MEET; ON DIVIDE STATE

Instructed Delegation Coming to Sweetwater Meeting on Wednesday Night.

Special to The Reporter. SAN ANGELO, April 5.—A big mass meeting was held here at 4 o'clock this afternoon to appoint instructed delegates to the meeting at Sweetwater Wednesday night. Unanimous approval of the move to demand better educational facilities as started at Sweetwater Saturday by C. J. Mellen and O. H. Roberts of the Daily Reporter, and others.

In case the state is divided, San Angelo will be in the ring to land the capitol, it developed this afternoon.

and international affairs as our whole great big Texas with its 5 1/2 millions of people. Another short-sightedness that is almost inexcusable on our part.

Go ahead with your work. I had hoped to come up and be with you, but may not be able to do so.

Yours, E. B. MOORE.

PRESIDENT FARRIER SAYS NEFF'S ACTION GROSS INJUSTICE TO WEST TEXAS

"YOU ARE ENTITLED TO SCHOOL—GO AFTER IT." PRESIDENT OF EAST TEXAS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WIRES MAYOR SHEPPARD

OMAHA, Texas, April 5. Board of City Development, Sweetwater, Texas.

The Governors veto of the West Texas A. and M. College is a gross injustice to your part of the state. I extend to you my cooperation for the welfare of West Texas, and admire your spirit. You are entitled to this school, go after it.

MILTON FARRIER, Pres. East Texas Chamber of Commerce.

AND STILL THEY COME FORWARD IN SUPPORT OF SWEETWATER'S FIGHT FOR ALL WEST TEXAS

GRAHAM, Texas, April 5. Mayor George Sheppard: Sweetwater, Texas.

I deplore the action of Governor Neff in vetoing the A. & M. bill. I stand ready to aid in fight for proper representation. Urgent business prevents my being present at meeting tomorrow.

Thos. G. Binkley, Rep. 99th Dist.

NEFF IS WORRIED OVER WEST TEXAS FIGHT, IS REPORT

Special to The Reporter. AUSTIN, April 5.—West Texas and the fight launched in Sweetwater last Saturday, protesting the action of Gov. Neff in vetoing school legislation is worrying the chief executive a great deal, it is said in official circles.

As evidence of this fact, it has been reported that Mr. Neff will be only too glad to submit to the special session in June the matter of redistricting the state, which will give to West Texas a just representation.

Texas as a whole has taken issue with Neff in vetoing the A. & M. bill and the rural school aid bill, especially on top of the glaring fact that he signed the bill adding to the University appropriation.

It was as if a cyclone had hit official Austin when the action taken at Sweetwater became known here. Strange to say, however, sympathy is for West Texas except among a few who are influenced by ties of one kind or another that bind them with the political forces which have worked against West Texas so long.

West Texas may find it easy to get proper recognition at the next session of the legislature.

Out of my high respect for the legislature I may approve bills carrying larger appropriations than I think they should carry for the purpose of enlarging and supporting institutions we already have, but I shall not, in the face of the expressed will of the Democratic party and while times are as they now are, approve a bill establishing a new institution. Governor Neff said late today in defending his action in vetoing the West Texas A. & M. bill and the $4,000,000 rural school bill.

The governor's statement was given out following the move inaugurated in West Texas to divide Texas into two separate states.

"The threat that West Texas will

FIRE DESTROYS TWO RESIDENCES ON LOCUST STREET

Fire destroyed the homes of Mrs. J. J. Singleton and L. H. Chatfield, North Locust Street, at 3:10 o'clock this afternoon.

The fire is understood to have originated from the explosion of a gasoline stove in the Singleton home and flames spread rapidly to the Chatfield residence, adjoining on the north. A brisk south wind fanned the fire and made it a difficult task for the fire boys to gain any headway.

More than twenty minutes delay was caused the fire department by an error in giving the alarm and the hose-trucks went to the Clifford Sayles place, in the southwestern part of town.

The buildings are a total loss. A small amount of furniture was salvaged from the two residences.

Mrs. M. E. Bibbee of Snyder who has been guest of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bibbee, has returned to her home.

organize a new state does not in any way change my purpose as governor." Gov. Neff continued. "A movement of that kind will receive no support among the conservative and sober-thinking citizenship of even West Texas, beyond the effervescent oratory of the hour."

The governor said among other things that Representative Chitwood of Nolan county is "absolutely correct," in that part of his resolution in which he charges that West Texas is not fairly and justly represented and that the state should be redistricted, in order that West Texas can have the representation to which she is, according to population, honestly entitled. The governor referred to the resolution adopted at a mass meeting at Sweetwater yesterday. Governor Neff was in favor of this bill, but it was killed in the senate.

SENSE VS. SENTIMENT

Governor Neff Friday took a step which will be another cudgel in the hands of proponents of the move to divide Texas into two states. He vetoed a little bill of $50,000 to purchase a site for an A. & M. college in West Texas.

If East and Central Texas, used a little more sense instead of sentiment exclusively, they would come a great deal nearer insuring perpetuity of the great State of Texas in its present extent.

But when West Texas asks for redistricting to get fair representation, politicians of Central and East Texas kill the bill. Some parts of Central and East Texas are...

the representation, proportionate to population, that West Texas has. But these politicians who are such sentimentalists they go into hysterics when division is mentioned, haven't enough judgment to know that the best way to keep West Texas a part of Texas is to give that section justice.

For several years West Texas has sought an agricultural school. No arguments have ever been made against the need of such an institution. General admission of the kind of such an institution and the good sense in building it will make the killing of this bill another cudgel in the hands of those who favor dividing the State against the mere sentiment of every genuine Texan. Justice may change sentiment to resentment. Amarillo Tribune.

THE STATE OF WEST TEXAS

For ten years the Reporter has believed in and advocated the wisdom of dividing Texas into two or more states. There is but one argument against it, and that is one of sentiment. It is the most practical and at the same time the most practicable way of getting justice for West Texas, and it begins to appear that it is the only way West Texas will ever get recognition.

Taxation without representation is one of the most pernicious forms of tyranny, and if West Texas has not been paying her tax money into the state's coffers for years without getting a cent of it back, we'd like to know what you'd call it.

East and West Texas have little or nothing in common. Their interests are altogether different. Their forms of agriculture are as wide apart as California and Iowa. The climate is different, the topography is different, the very people are different. The interests of East Texas are not the interests of West Texas. Insofar as any gesture of the legislature has revealed West Texas has no interests of any kind whatsoever. The average East Texan's idea of West Texas is as wide of the mark as the school-boy's conception of the Einstein Theory of Relativity.

It has come to a practical showdown for West Texas. She must fight tooth and toenail, for everything she gets. Why not set up a separate state and end the fight at one blow? Why continue to pay tribute to the balance of the state to the detriment of her own interests?

West Texas should concentrate her energies on a campaign to get an election on the question of dividing the state. Sentiment is all right in its place, but it is sadly out of place when a whole empire is suffering. Abilene Reporter.

SELL 6,000,000 POUNDS OF WOOL

CHICAGO, Ill., April 7.—Approximately fifteen percent of the pooled wool of the American Farm Bureau Federation has been moved at conservative values since the first of the year, according to the announcement here. The importance of foreign wools has been a bearish factor and has prevented any great activity in domestic wools. However, 6,000,000 pounds have been sold from Ohio, Michigan, North Dakota, Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, South Dakota, Indiana, and Kansas Farm Bureau pools. The prices average about forty percent of last year's values for the various grades.

IDOL OF STAGE IN "BLACKMAIL"

Wyndham Standing, tall idol of an army of followers of both the speaking stage and the silent drama, who has the pleasantly difficult part of the diplomatic lawyer in the Metro production, "Blackmail," is peculiarly fitted for such parts by his earlier stage training.

In this latest of his screen appearances as the resourceful lawyer pictured by Lucia Chamberlain in the story published in the Saturday Evening Post, Mr. Standing has a role similar to those which won him fame in the legitimate.

Mr. Standing made his first stage hit as a member of Sir Henry Irving's company in the Lyceum Theater in London, and continued his successes with Mr and Mrs. Kendall and Miss Fettesque. He came to this country and appeared in a number of productions with Comstock and Gest, the Schuberts and William A. Brady.

Turning to the screen he appeared as leading man for Elsie Ferguson, Pauline Frederick and Petrova. He has also been starred with Norma Talma and Lucy Cotton. His first picture was with triangle and later he appeared in productions by Famous Players, Goldwyn, International and...

IMMIGRATION TO COME UP FIRST

CONGRESS WILL FIND BIG PROGRAM OF WORK READY FOR IT AT EXTRA SESSION.

FOR PEACE WITH GERMANY

Knox Resolution Expected to Show Its Head Early in the Senate—Navy Appropriation Bill to Receive Early Consideration.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—Congress knows pretty well what duties it will be expected to perform, and the order in which they must be taken up, when the extra session comes into being. In truth, President Harding, in his inaugural address, gave some intimation of what he expects, although he did not go into specifications.

When the new congress assembles in April it probably will find waiting for it some definite plan concerning foreign-relations. It is, of course, possible that the President and the secretary of state will not find enough time between now and the convening of congress to set forth definitely their views concerning the vexing question of our relations with the lands across the sea, but it is not believed that spring will be far advanced before plans are presented for action or rejection, although it can be taken for granted that, with the heavy republican majority in both houses, no administration plan stands in much danger of disapproval.

The Knox resolution for immediate peace with Germany may show its head in the senate within a day or two after the next session begins, although now there is some thought of postponing it. The high hope of some of the senators is that the President will recommend the coupling up with the resolution of a paragraph which will give to France a new evidence of our friendship for that country. No one can tell, however, as to how this will be, because there has been strong opposition in congress to doing anything with the Knox resolution except to pass it in the briefest possible form, a form which shall include nothing except a bald statement that peace exists with Germany.

Harding Gave Warning.

In his inaugural address Mr. Harding said: "There is no instant step from disorder to order. We must face a condition of grim reality, charge off our losses and start afresh. It is the oldest lesson of civilization. I would like the government to do what it can to mitigate them. In understanding, in mutuality of interest, in concern for the common good, our tasks will be solved."

Every President in recent years on taking office has said something in his inaugural address to remove from the minds of certain kinds of people the thought that because an administration is changed instant relief from evil can be expected. Mr. Wilson said something of this kind when he came into office, and so did Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt, and it may be that all the Presidents before their time had a like thought, and uttered a like note of warning.

It must be remembered that this is a republican administration, republican in the white house, republican in both branches of congress and republican in all the executive departments. Consequently the republican party is to be held responsible for everything that is done or that is left undone. The President has been holding conferences with leaders of congress. Apparently the executive and the legislative branches want to make good, but it can be said without any animus whatsoever that some of the legislators, as has been the history of things ever since politics was, seem to want to make good in everything only if it can be done without injuring their chances of re-election.

Pass Immigration Bill.

The plan of the republicans is for an immediate passing of the immigration bill which failed of passage at the last session. The President and a majority of the republican senators and representatives apparently want to have this bill put through in just the form in which it was passed at the last session, but influences have been brought to bear on some of the members and senators, and it looks now as if the percentage rate of immigrants who are to be allowed to enter the country is to be raised. Congress at the last session fixed the immigration rate at 3 per cent of the persons of any one nationality now residing within the United States. Now it is being urged that the percentage be raised to 5 per cent, and there are some members of congress who would like to see it put up to a much higher point.

The immigration bill, however, will go through and it seems likely today that the only yielding that will come will be in the direction of raising of the rate of 3 per cent to 5 per cent. At the 5 per cent rate about 4,000 immigrants will be admitted into the United States every year.

The navy appropriation bill failed of passage at the last session of congress. It will be taken up immediately on the reassembling of the lawmakers, and with its discussion will come a continuation of the debate on disarmament. The country is to hear a great deal more about the navy building program of Japan before congress finally acts on matters concerning our own fleets.

The Fairy King was only as tall as your thumb but he had a good appetite

Mary Jane and the Fairy King

ONE day Mary Jane met the Fairy King in the Forest. The Fairy King was only as tall as your thumb. But he had a very good appetite. And he was always hungry. So he said to Mary, "Did you bring anything good to eat with you?" And Mary said, "I've got a lovely spread of bread with some delicious Mary Jane Syrup on it, that my mamma gave me for my lunch." The Fairy King said, "Well, why didn't you say so before? You know that Mary Jane Syrup is what we fairies always serve at our banquets, when we want something especially good." So Mary brought out her bread with Mary Jane Syrup on it. And they sat and ate, and talked about ships and sealing wax, and cabbages and kings until it was time for Mary to go home. Then the Fairy King gave Mary a great, big diamond that he found on a rose leaf that very morning. Mary had the diamond mounted in a ring. And she's wearing it to this very day, in memory of the Fairy King, and the Mary Jane Syrup they enjoyed so much that afternoon of the long ago, when the heart of a child thrilled to the magic of a fairy's kingly gift.

MOUNTAIN LAKES AND STREAMS, FULL OF GAME FISH, PROVIDE SPLENDID SPORT IN THE CANADIAN ROCKIES

To the real fisherman a vacation is no vacation unless it affords some angling. Fishermen visiting the Canadian Rockies will be well repaid for toting along their tackle for there are innumerable lakes, many un-named, tucked away in mountain pockets, and they give up good catches to those who seek them out.

Visitors to Banff find some of the best trout fishing that Canada affords in the Spray Lakes, about 28 miles distant, and may fish the Spray River for 20 miles along the way. Six game fish have their home in the Banff National Park, which holds Lakes Minnewanka,

Breakfast from Sicamous Lake, British Columbia

Fishing in Pipestone River near Lake Louise

Mystic, the Sawbacks and Vermilion, as well as numerous others. Everybody who visits Lake Louise goes to Moraine Lake with its ten guardian peaks. Anglers will find it worth while to stop here, cross the outlet of Moraine Lake, skirt the first of the ten peaks and follow a three mile trail to Consolation Lake for the fine cut-throat trout which thrive in its cold waters. Following the Pipestone River northwards from Lake Louise affords opportunity for fruitful casting all the way to an Alpine lake, discovered a few years ago, and full of trout eager for the fly. From the Chalet at Emerald Lake it is but a step into a boat floating upon that wondrous green pool where many fish dart about the reflected snowpeaks. At Sicamous you may catch your breakfast from your bedroom window, for the hotel is hung right out over Lake Sicamous from which you may travel into Salmon Arm and Shuswap Lake, with its 35 kinds of finny folk. Twenty pound Steel-heads are common, and being game fish, landing one is real sport. Kamloops is one of the best centers for fly fishing which may be enjoyed on Lakes Pinartan, Paul, Knouff and Fish from March 15th to November 15th, as well as on the Thompson River. You may catch sea-run rainbows, cut-throat, Dolly Varden and the celebrated Thompson River or Kamloops trout.

INTEREST GROWING IN REVIVAL MEET

Two special services were held at the morning services were very unusual for Monday morning gathering and each one who came received a blessing. The absent ones missed the best part of the meeting. Nearly sixty young people met Brother Huston at 7:15 services.

The large chorus led by Brother Huston at 7:45 sang the old, old story in revival songs, that thrills one with renewed spiritual joy.

The pastor preached a soul stirring appeal for a closer walk with God and at the close when the invitation was given seven young people came offering their lives to Christ.

We appreciate very much the presence and cooperation of the pastors of the Baptist, Christian and Presbyterian churches, Rev. Adams, Rev. E. L. Hughes and Rev. McLaurin and the splendid representation of their members at these meetings. The chorus was accompanied by Mrs. John Berry, piano, Misses Drago, violins, and R. G. Rogers, cornet.

The public is cordially invited to come enjoy these meetings and especially do we urge the young to be in these 7:15 services.

The Christian workers are trusting that all the people of the city may be strengthened by these meetings and we will enjoy one of the greatest spiritual awakenings ever witnessed in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Mahaffey and two daughters, Misses Carolyn and Pauline, of Abilene, have returned to their homes after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Rogers.

H. M. Murphy was Exposition guest of his sister, Mrs. George T. Wilson, Saturday from Hermleigh.

SWEETWATER BOY ALL AROUND ATHLETE AT UNIVERSITY

Another Sweetwater boy is doing his part to put Sweetwater on the map—in this instance it's Frank Robertson, who is making a reputation in athletics in his senior year at the Austin. Frank is the oldest son of F. G. Robertson and made a reputation in athletics during his senior at the High School. He went to State meet at Austin that year and the state championship in the pole vault was won on a record of two points less than he made on the home field. He fell down on that event in Austin by a close margin.

According to "The Austin American" Frank won two first events, one second and honorable mention in a fourth event, the Javelin throw.

He won ten points for the freshman class in 120-yard high hurdles, finishing first in 17.1 minutes. This was the first time he had ever run the high hurdles, which was pronounced most excellent track work.

First in High Jump, 5 feet 6 inches. In Pole vault, 19 feet, 6 inches, he won second place.

The University Triangle Track Meet was held on Clark field, last Saturday a week ago.

In the Art Department, Royston Crane continues to keep Sweetwater talent, well toward the front in his cartoon work.

In the case of both boys, Sweetwater has good cause to feel proud of her sons.

SOUTH WARD LEADS CITY SCHOOLS IN CAR CONTEST, COUNT SHOWS

South Ward school won the $75 fund in the Ford car contest by collecting the largest amount of Hubbard sales tickets according to the enrollment of the four schools.

East Ward took second place, West Ward last.

ARTHUR BRASHEAR DROWNED, COLEMAN

Arthur Brashear, nephew of I. W. Brashear of this city, drowned near Coleman yesterday, according to a wire received here this morning. No particulars are available.

Young Brashear worked with the Williams-Miller cotton offices during last summer and has a number of friends in this city.

G. R. Brashear, father of Arthur, arrived in Sweetwater this morning and left over the Santa Fe this afternoon for Coleman to attend the funeral.

NEW HARDWARE FIRM OPENS FOR BUSINESS

The Costephens Hardware Company, members of the firm being W. R. Costephens and E. A. Costephens have opened for business in the building recently completed for them on 2nd street just west of the square.

The Sweetwater store will be under the active management of W. R. Costephens while E. A. Costephens will continue to manage the firm's store at Roscoe.

The Sweetwater store will carry a complete line of shelf and heavy hardware, implements and wagons will be distributors for this section for the International Harvester Company products.

While the entire stock and fixtures for the Sweetwater store have not yet been completed the new firm is in a position to supply most any lecting the largest amount of Hubbard at this time, said Mr. Costephens.

LAST NIGHT'S STORM DOES LITTLE DAMAGE

(Associated Press) FT. WORTH, April 5—Stories of severe storm damage in parts of West Texas and this immediate vicinity began to reach here today.

A cyclone struck nine miles north of Childress doing much damage with no loss of life. It struck in a farming region.

West of Fort Worth rains filled the creeks to the banks and rising waters marooned a number of workmen and automobile parties. Bridges and culverts between Fort Worth and Weatherford were swept away. Damage to crops were reported at Burleson and Everman.
