ALLEGED CATTLE RUSTLERS JAILED

Three Prominent Hockley County Cattlemen Charged With Wholesale Cattle Thefts.

L. F. D. RANCH HEAVIEST LOSER

More Than 200 Animals Missing—May Move Trial To Lubbock County From Hockley

By The United Press.

LUBBOCK, July 1.—The days of yore, when the cattle "rustlers" roamed the plains, were recalled here today when three men were lodged in the Hockley county jail charged with wholesale cattle stealing.

More than two hundred cattle are reported to have been stolen from numerous big ranches in Hockley county during the past several months. Milt Goode, his brother-in-law, Pat Kyle, and another man, all of whom are not only well known but are connected with the prominent families of this section of the country are jailed.

The L. F. D. ranch is reported to be the heaviest loser. The ranch is owned by the Colonel Littlefield estate of Austin and covers several thousand acres of land.

It is planned to transfer the trial of the three men to Lubbock county due to the fact that there are not enough men in Hockley county to form a jury. Most of the residents of the county are running for some county office.

Miss Jim Bob Latham returned Saturday afternoon from Colorado where she has been visiting her grandparents.

NEW WAREHOUSE TO BE BUILT HERE

W. H. Jobs Secures Permit To Build $10,000 Fire-Proof Two-Story Building In Sweetwater

MASONIC TEMPLE NEARLY READY

Several Residences Under Construction Contribute To Building Activity Locally.

With the Masonic Temple rapidly nearing completion, a $10,000 warehouse soon to be constructed by W. H. Jobs and several residences either under way or soon to be built, Sweetwater will not lag far behind in the procession this year.

There are still several weeks of work on the Masonic Temple building before it can be formally used. The metal ceilings are being put in this week and the painters are busy.

The warehouse to be built by W. H. Jobs is to be located on the West North 6th Street on the new Santa Fe industrial switch. Foundations have been prepared for it for some time but the work has been held up for some weeks pending a clearing of the title. Mr. Jobs now has this cleared and permit for a $10,000 building has been secured by him from the city.

The structure will be two stories, fireproof and is intended for use as a bonded warehouse, where manufacturers can ship here in carlots and then local it out in smaller lots as sold in the surrounding territory.

Work is progressing rapidly on the $8,000 residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Allen on E. N. 4th street. This is in the form of a brick bungalow.

The foundation has also been laid for the $2,500 bungalow of Brown Davenport, who will move here from Trent. This residence is to be located on South East Third Street.

STATE IS SILENT ON ROAD MATTER

Judge Mauzey Reports Repeated Letters Fail To Bring Answers From Austin.

MUST HAVE STATE APPROVAL

Fisher County Road Cannot Be Built With Funds Available Without State.

Future of the State Highway Department to acknowledge repeated letters is the reason, ascribed by Judge Mauzey for the condition of quietude on the road to connect Sweetwater with the Fisher County highway.

Sweetwater banks agreed to take $3,000 in county scrip to be matched by a similar sum to be returned from the state, balance to be contributed in Sweetwater if any needed to build the four miles needed. But unless the State Highway Department approves the route and plans, there will be no State Aid forthcoming.

Judge Mauzey, in relating the history of the proceedings from the time the Litchon Club first started the ball rolling, said that he took up the matter with the division engineer, J. M. Pirie, who was stationed at San Angelo. Just a few days thereafter Mr. Pirie resigned.

Then Judge Mauzey took up the matter direct with Austin, he said. Letter after letter was written but no acknowledgment has been forthcoming. The only thing he received from the state Highway Department was detailed, voluminous and extensive details on how to proceed the Holy Tractor which was received by the county a few days ago.

What Judge Mauzey wants to do is to get the State Highway Engineer to inspect the route and secure a conditional approval of the route before going to the expense of hiring an engineer and having a blue print of the road made, only to have such plan turned down by Austin when sent to him. It would cost nearly $1,000, he said to have such print made, which would use up one-third of the money available without making a step forward.

There are approximately three things that can be done at the present time. The first is to do nothing, the second is to send a delegation to Austin and get a statement from the Highway Department relative to their plans or lack of them, and third, use funds in hand for temporary repair to the road to get it in passable shape for all business.

Judge Mauzey stated that he would be willing to go to Austin if it were agreeable to the Commissioner's Court that he do so, and secure from them a first hand opinion of what they will or will not do.

The Holy Tractor recently secured by the county is being used on the road west of town, and later will be used on the road north of Roscoe. Judge Mauzey said the county was without funds, but the special road tax voted on Roscoe permitted the use of the tractor in that section.

STRIKE LEADERS RE-AFFIRM THEIR ULTIMATUM

Approximately Ten Thousand Shopmen Idle In Texas As An Answer To Walkout Order—Texas & Pacific Estimate Loss At 4,000—Katy Shops Are Deserted.

BY THE UNITED PRESS.

CHICAGO, July 1.—A gigantic campaign, bearing the stamp of approval of the United States Government, to recruit workers to take the places of 400,000 striking railroad shophmen was launched Saturday night. Apparently disregarding, without further thought, any attempt to settle the dispute between the operators and the strikers, the railroad managers in all the employment offices throughout the country have started to fill the places of the strikers.

The protection of the men who replace the striking shophmen or of those who remain on the job, disregarding the walkout order, will be guaranteed by the full power of the Federal Government and by public sentiment, according to the promise made by Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the United States Labor Board.

Simultaneously a statement was issued by Bert M. Jewell, chief of the striking union forces, in which he declared that the walkout was practically 100 per cent effective and that peace could only be made according to the terms outlined in the union's ultimatum to the railroad managers prior to the issuance of the strike orders.

By The United Press.

DALLAS, July 1.—Approximately 10,000 railroad shophmen were idle in Texas Saturday night as the railroad employees answered the nation-wide strike call at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Approximately 4,000 were estimated to be out on the Texas & Pacific road and the Katy reported practically all of their shops deserted. No reports of "sympathetic" walkouts have been received.

MOTHER GAVE IT

Virginia Lady Suffered With Aches and Pains Until Mother Began Giving Her Cardui.

Dublin, Va.—Miss Mary Alice Hughett residing on Route 2, near here, recently told a visitor of her interesting experience with Cardui. Miss Hughett said: "I had been suffering for some time with painful... I was pale, didn't feel like going. Would just drag around, and couldn't rest to do any good. I would suffer once a month with my back, sides and head. My limbs would ache and I didn't know what to do, but I knew I must do something, for I didn't get well by letting it run on.

"My mother is a believer in Cardui, for she saw what it did for others as well as herself, so she began giving it to me.

"It wasn't long before I saw a change. It was just what I needed. It regulated me. I began to eat and sleep, and the pain stopped.

"Cardui is without doubt the best female tonic made, and I am glad I can recommend it to others."

If suffering with symptoms such as Miss Hughett mentions, or other ailments peculiar to women, you not begin Cardui at once? Its merit is well established by successful use for more than 40 years.

HAS A NEW FEEDING AND BREEDING PLAN

C. C. French Advocates Method for Building Up Market for Ewes of West Texans.

COLLEGES READY TO ASSIST

Would Raise Lamb to Be Marketed in Spring and Fatten Ewes Near Market Center.

Special to The Reporter.
SAN ANGELO, Texas, July 1.—A combined breeding and feeding proposition for old ewes and spring lamb that would market West Texas grain on the hoof is being advocated by C. C. French, industrial agent of Fort Worth Stock Yards. His proposal of a method for building up a market for ewes that can not safely be held by the ranchman for another year is contained in a letter here to C. A. Broome, prominent cattleman and insurance man here. Mr. French is here for the convention.

Mr. French says that the Concho country, the Devil's River Country, the Pecos Country and the Trans-Pecos County and parts of New Mexico, to say nothing of the border part of Old Mexico, will always raise sheep mostly of the Merino grades; they will always have ewes for sale that it is not safe to hold for another year, and owing to the restricted range, the ranchman must sell.

"Many of these ewes that do not get fat, now marketed in thin flesh, are not desirable for the packer and consequently go to the Northern markets at low prices," Mr. French writes. "Fort Worth is the geographical center of a number of counties that the railroads and good roads is admirably situated to handle everyone of these ewes, in the same manner as hogs are now transported by truck; hogs are taken from the stock yards to the country fifty miles, fed and returned; the same can be done with these ewes.

Education Is Necessary.
"The counties of Dallas, Wise, Tarrant, Parker, Comanche, Erath, Hood, Johnson, Ellis and Brown, are admirably located to handle such ewes, by the farmers being educated to take advantage of conditions and purchase them in the spring as they come to market. At that time the farmer has an abundance of green feed. The ewes coming from the range mend rapidly, and should be bred to a mutton type of ram so as to bring fall lambs. By that time the farmer can have wheat, rye or oats pasture for both ewe and lamb. The lamb can be marketed in the spring, when there is always a demand for spring lamb and green peas.

Mr. French continues that the ewe could be full fed, and reach the market just about the time the corn fed sheep in the North are gone and just before the grass sheep begin to come in and that the farmer who starts in the spring with a thin ewe, should have the following spring a fat ewe, a fat lamb and a clip of wool. "The finished spring lamb usually sells above any other class of meat; it is to the sheep business what 'baby beef' is to the cattle business, Mr. French writes.

Proposal Is Ideal.
That the proposal is ideal is the opinion of Dor Brown, county agent, who indicates that an extensive educational program through publicity and through a personal campaign among the feeders would necessarily have to precede any such undertaking to make it successful. He says that in this time of high freight rates that a feeding proposition will eliminate running up the freight bill as much as it takes four or five pounds of grains to make one pound of meat. The saving by shipping the latter is self-evident.

Such a proposal, he holds, would be mutually profitable to the ranchers of this section and to the farmers nearer the market centers. "They'll have to be educated to the advantages of the scheme, however," he says, "to insure even its partial success."

Further explanation of the proposal is given in the letter from Mr. French in this manner:
"The S. M. S. ranch sells their old ewes in Northern markets through one firm, who have a large clientele, that purchases these ewes and takes them to their farms. They do this because they expect to get a fine white-face calf from a registered male in the spring.

Colleges to Assist.
"Now the ranchman in the Concho Country and the Devil's River Country is rapidly getting into shape to breed these ewes to mutton type rams, and as soon as bred sell them to farmers in the above described counties. The time has come when the West Texas farmer should be educated to handle them for the reason that he is being forced to reduce his cotton acreage and he must have something else to do with the unused portion of his cotton farm."

Colleges and other interests are ready to assist in making demonstrations in this kind of feeding and breeding the same as has been done at Spout in feeding calves and making baby beef, Mr. French declares.

Towns which have recently voted the limit of one dollar per hundred in support of their schools include Lubbock (more than 5 to 1); Roscoe (3 to 1) Weatherford (big majority) and Colorado, among others.

The valuations in the school district will not remain at their present high figure but will be reduced to such a scale as to meet the absolute demands of the schools.

SWEETWATER BOYS AT SNYDER.

One of the greatest treats Snyder has had in a long time was the Sunday afternoon concert of the band played on the court house lawn, and that it was thoroughly enjoyed was attested by the hundreds of people that gathered late Sunday evening to hear them play, and they played good music too. Bandmaster Leavell brought with him several of the Sweetwater band boys and every number was met with a hearty response by the crowd of listeners. A special feature was the singing of Masters Hayden and Holman Beavall accompanied by the band. Sweet boyish voices so seldom met with any more, there is no voice sweeter than that of a boy but most of the young generation seems to have forgotten that they have such a thing as a voice and when therefore they do sing like these chaps did, it makes cold chills run up their spine.—Snyder Signal.

CAUGHT MONSTER TROUT.

Largest Fish Taken From Lake Since Days Of Pioneers.

By The United Press.
SARANAC LAKE, N. Y., July 1.—Duncan Haynes, of Peterson, N. J., was fishing in Follonsbee pond. He got a strike that nearly wrecked his eight-ounce rod. Following an hour's battle, he was able to bring his catch to the side of the boat. All he had was a lake trout that weighed thirty-one pounds, measured forty-two inches in length and was twenty-six inches in girth. It was the largest lake trout caught in the Adirondacks since the days of the pioneers.

At the time he made the catch, the lucky angler was a guest at "White Birches," the camp of J. E. Harbour, millionaire thread manufacturer of Paterson.

The giant trout was brought here and placed on exhibition. It is now being mounted and will be placed in the trophy room at the camp.

BUILDS TELEPHONE LINE

Special to the Reporter.
BROWNWOOD, July 1.—The West Texas Telephone Company is constructing a new telephone line to Cross Plains. The line should be completed in a few days. It eliminates the necessity to use a circuitous line to the new oil fields over which there has recently been a congestion of business. Other telephone lines are being projected from Brownwood to points in the oil fields hereabouts, according to F. W. Greber, general manager of the company.

ABUNDANTLY SATISFIED.

How excellent is thy love, O God! thy kindness. O God! therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings. They shall be abundantly satisfied with the fatness of thy house; and thou shalt make them drink of the river of thy pleasures.—Psalms 36: 7, 8.

FOR SCHOOL FUNDS

As outlined by previous articles from the Board of Education, the money in sight for the support of the public schools of Sweetwater is not sufficient to operate them for the full nine months term. Lacking these funds, either the quality or the quantity of schooling afforded the young people of this town are bound to suffer.

To obviate this situation, the School Board has secured enough names to a petition to call a special election for July 29, at which time the proposition will be put before the taxpayers as to whether or not the city tax rate shall be raised from 50c to $1.00.

The $1.00 tax rate, on the present valuation of city property would yield more than is asked for by the Board of Education. That body says however, that the property valuation will be scaled down so that the amount raised by taxation will be just sufficient to meet the requirements as outlined for some $50,000.

If there is one thing more than another that the American citizen favors, it is that the public schools of his community shall be just as competent and efficient as it is humanly possible for them to be, for the benefit of the children of the community. This without regard to the business element, that of bringing new residents here. The first question asked by a prospective new citizen is concerning the schools.

Recent elections at Weatherford, Lubbock, Colorado and other nearby towns that have voted the $1 rate by large majorities predict the carrying of this election by a majority equally large.

WONDERLAND

Despite his assumption of leadership nobody in Washington is having a better time this summer than President Harding. The golf links are in perfect condition and the putting-greens retain the most beautiful shade of emerald; the Mayflower, thoroughly overhauled, redecorated and polished to a superlative degree, shines like a jewel. Invitations pour in from every hand; corner stones are to be laid and dedicatory exercises to be held; L. L. D.'s are ready to be conferred, speeches are to be made; bands are playing; school children, ever ready for any kind of a holiday, are waiting to scatter flowers, and the batteries of cameras are in position for new flashlights. It is another chapter of Warren in Wonderland, a repetition of the summer of 1921, with the incidents and occasions varied. Truly it is a wonderful world and surely nature is grand.

How natural it was therefore, according to the charges of Mr. Bush, that when Mr. Lasker went to President Harding and told him that the sale of liquor on the U. S. Shipping Board ships would help to solve the Board's financial problem, President Harding replied:

"Mr. Lasker, you are Chairman of the Shipping Board; you know what to do."

Why should a leader give heed to a mere detail involving the Constitution of the United States with all the gates of Wonderland ajar.

"HER WINNING WAY."

Mary Miles Minter. Coming In A Comedy Of Errors.

A modern comedy of errors is "Her Winning Way," an adaptation of a famous London stage hit, in which Mary Miles Minter will be presented tomorrow (Monday) at the Queen Theatre. The star will be shown in the role of a cool and resourceful business girl, a young newspaper writer whose specialty is literary reviews and interviews with authors.

Gaston Glass, the young French actor whose fine work as the violinist in "Humoresque" will be recalled by many picture lovers, is leading man with Miss Minter, and has the role of a shy young novelist who snirks from society and especially from interviewers. When her editor assigns to Miss Ann Annington, the girl in the case, the delicate task of getting an interview from the author who refuses to be interviewed, that enterprising young person is faced with a real problem. She is quite undaunted, however, and failing to get to the author by fair means, she tries foul ones—that is, if you consider climbing into his apartment by the window a foul means.

Once inside, and discovering that the maid has just left, the resourceful girl pretends that she is the new maid, and thereupon she begins her double duties—those of caring for the apartment and cooking her author's meals, and studying him with a view to getting copy for her story.—(Adv.)

Sold More By Advertising

According to L. J. Geer, May was the best month for electrical accessory sales in the history of the West Texas Electric Co. in Sweetwater. Mr. Geer attributes this remarkable record, in the face of financial conditions commonly said to be poor, wholly to advertising done by his company in the columns of The Reporter.

"We did not depend much on advertising before this spring," said Mr. Geer. "We sent men around from house to house. They would interrupt the family housework, wake the baby perhaps, and sales suffered. Now we do not have representatives make house to house canvasses. We depend entirely on newspaper advertising to carry our messages. We tell people what we have; what it will do for them in the way of lightening of housework and adding pleasure to living, and then at their leisure the ladies come in and see what we have, or send their husbands in. Sometimes the men come in on their own initiative to look at washing machines or other appliances to make the work of their wives easier. And the net result is, we sell more merchandise, and people are better satisfied. Our June business, while not quite as heavy as May, has been very good. We thoroughly believe in newspaper advertising."

Mr. Geer's experience with newspaper advertising is of course nothing either new or exceptional. People learned to depend upon advertising in newspapers to keep them in touch with the late arrivals in merchandise within the stores new things. Newspaper advertisements are more interesting in some cases than the news itself. Read them regularly and see.

A DAY IN THE WEST.

A lizard streaked up the side of a rock,
With a road runner in pursuit;
A kangaroo-rat watched from below,
Till a rattlesnake made him scoot!

2—
The kangaroo-rat leaped for his hole,
But the rattler's aim was good,
A horny toad grimly laughed at the sight
While a Gila monster cooed!

3—
Quick the horny toad flashed into a bush,
But alas! left out his tail,
A prairie dog stopped a moment to weep,
And a coyote mimicked a wail.

4—
That prairie dog he "shore" did move,
But the coyote he moved faster,
A scorpion stung a centipede,
As it went strolling past her.

5—
The road runner dozed in his castor corral,
The rattler slept as if dead,
The Gila monster groaned and moaned:
"No more horn toads," he said!

6—
But the coyote howled in his out-door sport,
As he stalked another dog,
While the scorpion munched its wriggly lunch,
Beneath a petrified log.

7—
A blood red ball slips o'er yon rim,
And the night breeze cools the sand,
Another day a typical day,
Has crept from the Western land.

YELLOWSTONE FETE VINDICATES 'LIAR'

This Year Celebrates Golden Anniversary of Great National Park in Northwestern Wyoming

SOLITARY TRAPPER FOUND IT

In Relating His Find He added a Few Ornaments To Amazing Facts As They Were

Some of Bridger's Yarns

Here are some of the "historic lies" of Jim Bridger, who mixed numerous yarns with his unbelievable tales of geysers and hot springs:

"I found a place there," he related, "where there was the damndest echo you ever heard. There was a long valley. One night, just before I camped, I shouted: 'Get up.' And the echo woke me up in the morning."

Bridger also told of coming to Alum Creek, which still flows in the Yellowstone. When he crossed the stream the alum shunk the hoofs of his horse into mere spindles, he related.

And when I crossed the place it was a wide stream, but when I came back three weeks later the alum had shunk the banks so that I could jump across," he added.

YELLOWSTONE PARK, July 1.—This year celebrates the golden anniversary of Yellowstone National Park and vindicates Jim Bridger, "the greatest liar of his time."

For it was this solitary trapper, pushing through an unknown and Indian infested region to the south of the present park boundary, who stumbled upon the awe-inspiring geysers and hot springs, and discovered the Yellowstone. Then he returned across the Teton range of the Rockies.

Now Bridger had an imagination and knack for telling tales, and to the facts—amazing enough as they were—he was not above adding a few ornaments.

Is Jeered

He was the center of laughter jeered at and derided, cheated for many, many years of the fame that was his. And when he died an epitaph was inscribed which read:

"Here LIES Jim Bridger. He LIES in death as in life."

But his tales of boiling water "as big as a man's body spouting higher than the flagpole in Virginia City" had awakened the curiosity of other explorers and trappers, and in 1859 David Folsom and C. W. Cook headed a party that touched a fringe of the "terror land" that Bridger described.

However, they feared to relate what they had seen lest they be classed with "the greatest liar of his time."

Thus it was not until 1872 that official verification was given Bridger's tales. To these later adventurers, under General H. D. Washburn, went the official credit of discovery.

On Big Scale

The Yellowstone remains the largest of our national parks and contains the greatest variety of scenic wonders.

Everything within its more than 2,000,000 acres is on a gigantic scale. Distances are great; canyons are of terrifying depth; mountains tower to monstrous heights. The geysers and the "paint pots," the hot springs, are of never-ending interest to tourists.

The opening day this year is June 13, and park officials expect that more than 100,000 visitors will see for themselves that old Jim Bridger wasn't such a monstrous exaggerator, after all.

REVIVAL CLOSES SUNDAY

Meeting Ends With Evening Service—Special Music On Program.

The attendance at the revival services at the First Baptist Church increases daily as the meeting draws to a close. Three conversions were reported from the Saturday morning services and a splendid crowd was in attendance.

The meeting closes with the evening service today. The subject of the morning service by the Reverend Shepard, who is conducting the meeting will be "The Eagle-Winged Lise and that of the evening will be "The secret of a great life."

Special music at the Sunday service will probably be furnished by the Drago sisters and others.

MISSIONARY ON VACATION.

Miss Rowena Williams, Missionary Worker from Chihuahua, is in the city for a few days, the guest of Mrs. T. Shipley. Miss Williams is enroute to Murray, Ky., where she will spend her vacation. Previous to entering her Mexico work, she was Missionary to Cuba for about eight years.

IT WAS PAY-DAY.

It was pay-day for the Mexican section hands on the Santa Fe working on track construction north of town yesterday and apparently also a holiday. Some Sweetwater merchants enjoyed considerable patronage as a consequence. The local postoffice also had a rush of business issuing money orders for the Mexicans to send money to their kin folks in Mexico. Ordinarily there is call for a foreign money order of a naverage of about one a month and the deluge exhausted the facilities of the local postoffice for that particular form of money order.

LATIN DIPLOMACY KEEPS WAR GOING

Factions Thrown Against One Another In Effort To Remove Revolutionary Leaders.

EMBARRASSES MEXICAN LEADERS

Recent Killings And Captures Compelled To Give Nation A "Big Black Eye"—Plot Is Open.

By The United Press. LAREDO, July 1.—That the "Old Guard" in Mexico, keeping always in the background, is behind all the recent turmoil along the border is the belief of well-informed persons on both sides of the Rio Grande, according to reports here.

Playing the suave, skillful game of Latin diplomacy, throwing first one faction and then another against each other, the old guard is behind a super-plot, destined primarily for the purpose of keeping turmoil in progress in Mexico and secondly the killing of as many revolutionary leaders as possible, it is believed here.

What government is in power matters but little to this clique. It is the prospect of foreign recognition that prompts all the disturbances.

The recent Blanco-Martinez killing is an example. When Adolfo De La Huerta, Mexican finance minister, was hearing success in his efforts to float a loan to Mexico at a conference with international bankers in New York, this affair was pulled off. On account of the publicity given statement of Texas officials that they would prosecute Mexican plotters to the limit the place for the killing was set here. Blanco and Martinez were were said to have been lured to the Mexican side and killed as they attempted to escape back to the American side, according to semi-official reports. Then with the attendant publicity given the affair, the result was accomplished—another "blackeye" for Mexico.

Old time residents who have watched the ebb and flow of political tides in the turbulent southern republic see in this latest affair a plot for the return of the old Diaz regime. Their sole aim now is to delay American recognition until the present Diaz revolutionary movement reported under way can get in the saddle. And with continued turmoil in Mexico there seems to be little chance of recognition soon.

Mrs. Will Bradford and son Billy returned Friday night to their home at Dallas where they will join her husband on a months visit at Galveston, San Antonio and Center Point. Mrs. Bradford has spent the past month in the city visiting her father, Capt. A. A. Prince and brother Newton Prince.

Mrs. H. C. Hord and daughter, Miss Grace are spending a few days with Mrs. Ben L. Cox in Abilene.

SCATTERED RAINS FALL

Rain ranging from one inch at San Angelo to three quarters of an inch at Slaton fell over portions of West Texas Friday night. Sweetwater received only a light sprinkle, enough to lay the dust temporarily. Novice received a light shower, but Brownwood was passed up, but little rain was reported west, Big Spring receiving none. El Paso was treated to an elaborate electrical display but no moisture went with it. Heavy rains were reported east of Sweetwater Saturday, Baird receiving a Ball game at Abilene and Stamford were rained out.

The rains served one purpose and that was the mitigating of the extreme heat prevalent for the past few days.

PICNIC WELL ATTENDED

Hylton Gathering Excites Curiosity Of Passing Tourists.

"What's going on out south of here today?" asked a tourist Saturday at a local filling station. "I believe that I have met more than a thousand people on the road and there was a crowd the size of a small army congregated."

The gathering referred to was the Hylton picnic, which drew an enormous crowd besides the candidates. The county officials were absent from their offices Saturday, the answer being the Hylton picnic. Scores of other Sweetwater people also availed themselves of the opportunity to enjoy a general picnic.
