WEST TEXAS NOTES

Roscoe Times Sells—Rev. G. W. Butler, who has held half interest in the Roscoe Times for the past two years has sold his interest to J. W. King, who has been associated with him in the undertaking. Mr. King becomes the sole owner and editor of the Times effective immediately.

Will Publish Annual—The Snyder High School has decided to publish a 1922-23 high school annual. With the personnel of the high school and the backing they will have from every body, it seems evident that this will be the best annual Snyder high school has ever published.

The annual published last year was a splendid edition and received many compliments. This year it will perhaps be better still.

Gift For Snyder—A. H. Trice of Camp Springs was in Snyder Wednesday and told the Signal reporter that he had definitely decided to erect a gift plant in Snyder and that actual construction would begin in a short time.

Mr. Trice said that his house and machinery would be new throughout and that his equipment would be the latest improved, five seventy-saw gin stands.

Mr. Trice has been for several years operating a gin at Camp Springs.—Snyder Signal.

URGES COLLEGE EDUCATION

Best Way To Keep Out of Prison Say Arkansas Pen Warden

By The Associated Press
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 16.—If you would keep out of prison take a University or College course. That's the advice of the Warden of Arkansas penitentiary.

The prison report just made public shows that 1,302 persons at the institution during the fiscal year, July 1, 1921, to June 30, 1922, only 15 were of University or College training.

Of the total number committed, 225 were illiterate, while 175 had completed only the fourth grade in grammar school.

Three hundred and fifty were committed to violation of the liquor laws and 195 for murder, manslaughter and assault to kill. The greatest number was convicted of burglary, robbery and larceny—559, or 42.9 per cent.

COLEMAN NEWS

C. C. Campbell

COLEMAN, Nov. 16.—B. A. Peggels and associates have begun cleaning off the ground for a cold storage plant for Coleman, to be used by the J. M. Radford Wholesale Grocery Co. to further accommodate their large and growing patronage in this section, when completed.

The building will occupy a floor space 36 by 42 feet with basement. It will be built of native stone and lies just east of and adjacent to the Coleman Ice plant and along the Santa Fe Railway track, on the ground of the flour mill before it burned a few years ago.

The building is to be completed and ready for occupancy by February 1, 1923.

The body of Mrs. Guy Savage was brought in Wednesday from Temple where she had died the day previous in a sanatorium, and was laid to rest in the Coleman cemetery. The Savage family are among the best of this section and enjoy a large acquaintance having lived here many years.

A. P. Hubbard, a highly respected pioneer settler of this section died at the family residence in this city Tuesday and was buried in the Coleman cemetery Wednesday afternoon, Rev. D. S. Pearson speaking words of comfort to the bereaved. Mr. Hubbard was born at Holy Springs, Miss., Sept. 29, 1861 and was 61 years old.

TO DEVELOP THE ARTISTIC

Berkeley Takes Steps to Improve Social Arts and Crafts

By The United Press.
BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 16.—Music, painting, sculpture, literature, and drama will in the near future be of as much civic concern in the city of Berkeley as the maintenance of the streets, the police force, or the equipment of the fire department.

The Berkeley Chamber of Commerce recently decided that the artistic side of community life was being neglected. Hence, a committee was appointed to organize and suggest the best means of support of arts and crafts.

The committee is composed of Berkeley citizens who are recognized authorities in artistic lines. Berkeley is declared to be the first city in the country to adopt the time-honored European idea of patronizing the arts. The plan outlined by the Chamber of Commerce envisages municipal support, and this has been readily promised by city authorities.

Artists residents in Berkeley will be recognized, encouraged, and assisted by the municipality perhaps in collaboration with the semi official body. Creative artists in every line will be sought.

The final aim is to have an "Arts Center," maintained by the city, where Berkeley's talented men and women may be seen heard, and appreciated, and it is believed that such an "Arts Center" will eventually be self supporting.

Special committees dealing with music, art, sculpture and literature are already at work under the direction of Chas. Keeler, poet, dramatist, and author and Mrs. Roger Nobel Burnham, well known for her direction and production of plays.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY PROGRAM

The women of the Methodist church gathered at the church yesterday afternoon to observe the "Week of Prayer" program which had been condensed into one program.

This is also the time of special offering for missionary work being done along educational lines. The offering is always divided between one home mission field and one foreign mission field. The offering taken yesterday was divided between the missionary work among the French in Louisiana and the Beuna Vista school at Havana, Cuba.

Mrs. W. W. Beall was program leader and the following members took part on the program: Mrs. Belcher told about the missionary work being done for the French people in Louisiana, and Mrs. J. T. Hughes followed with an interesting talk of the work at the Beuna Vista mission school at Havana, for the Cubans. Mrs. R. A. Stewart told an interesting life story of Miss Bennett, who was nationally famous for her pioneer work in both home and foreign missionary societies of the Methodist church. Mrs. Ramsey gave a talk full of much thought on "Once a member of the Missionary Society always a member."

Mrs. Ramsey closed the meeting with a prayer.

DISLIKES THE POOR FARM

Aged Mexican Woman Escapes Four Times from Home
SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 16.—Another champion has come to light.

Senora Maria Jaunita Torres, better known at police headquarters as "Old Torres" probably holds a championship for the number of escapes from the Poor Farm though the city hospital and other institutions have tried to help her back to happiness and give her three "squares" a day.

Word was received from "Old Torres" recently in a rather peculiar sort of way.

"There's a woman dying on the sidewalk on South Colima street. Come out and get her" was the word received at the Police station.

The ambulance was sent out and "Old Torres" was found and brought back to the station. Later she was sent to the Poor Farm and a few days later the alarm was given and "Old Torres" was brought in and sent to the same place again.

Officials at the hospital said that "Old Torres" has been a patient at the hospital three times and always refused to stay in her own bed. She insisted on visiting other patients who were ill with some contagious disease.

A Message from the Fire Sale

Beginning Saturday, November the 18th, we start cutting bolt goods that we had laundry dried. 90 per cent is clean merchandise, but it got wet during the fire. The following prices will prevail while it lasts:—

- Canton Flannel, clean 12 1/2c
- Domestic, 36 inch, clean 12 1/2c
- Heavy Grade Outings, clean 12 1/2c
- Gingham, Red Seal, clean 15c
- Tissue Gingham, clean 25c

Lots of other damaged goods at, seemingly, ridiculously low prices. We again call your attention to the fact, that every bundle bearing a white tag is clean merchandise, that is not burned. We are sure that it will pay you to come from a distance to reap the benefit, as others have, of this great Fire sale.

FREIGHT LEAVES LITTLE ROCK.

Outgoing Material Exceeds Incoming By Twenty Per Cent.

By The United Press.
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. Nov. 16.—Freight shipments out of Little Rock are exceeding incoming shipments by 20 per cent. It was learned here today. The eastern roads, at this rate, would have to send one empty car for every loaded one leaving Little Rock, if even flow of interstate commerce is maintained.

Shippers are fighting almost constantly for more empty cars, according to the Traffic Bureau of the Board of Commerce. Outbound lumber and cotton shipments alone balance the inbound loaded cars, it was said.

Intense shortage of empty railroad cars is not confined to Arkansas, but is noticed in all parts of the Southwest, according to complaints filed in several important shipping centers.

To relieve the situation, the Interstate Commerce Commission has issued a ruling ordering all railroads to return empty cars to their home lines instead of congesting the eastern terminals at the expense of the Southwestern shippers.

Pointing to the fact insurance companies refuse to insure mills and elevators in which carbon bisulphide is used to kill weevils, Leonard Haseman, entomologist at the Missouri Agricultural experiment station, today urged grain dealers and farmers grain associations to use carbon tetrachloride or some other non-explosive substitute.

Tetrachloride serves the purpose very well, providing it is used in double portions, Haseman stated. Carbon bisulphide was recommended for country grain bins because it was believed the farmers would safeguard the grain from fire during fumigation.

Fine woodworking shows in Brunswick cabinets

WHILE most people buy The Brunswick because of its superior tone and its ability to play -B records at their best, no one overlooks the beautiful cabinet work and finish.

In this particular, it is natural that The Brunswick should be supreme, for the House of Brunswick has been noted for nearly a century for its craftsmanship in wood.

The Brunswick Method of Reproduction is a many-year development.

First it brought the Ultona, the first in-built, all-record reproducer—then The Brunswick Tone Amplifier.

In this finer instrument the amplifier is entirely of wood, like a violin, and tone waves can expand properly. Every acoustic law is observed.

Brunswick

Hear, then compare

The way to fully appreciate the superiority of The Brunswick is to hear it, then make comparison. Your car will quickly decide in favor of The Brunswick.

You'll appreciate how far in advance The Brunswick is; you'll admire its superior tone. The proof of the pudding is—Hearing. All we ask you to do is to investigate The Brunswick with your own ears.

WHY THE CO-OPERATIVE? On Friday night, November 3, the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association had actually sold 16,155 bales of cotton at an average price of 24c per pound. Information gathered from all over the state shows that the average price paid the farmer by the cotton buyer up to that time to have been around 20.50. Here is a difference in favor of the Association of 3 1/2 cents per pound. Of course the costs of operation must be reduced from the sale price before final returns are made to the farmers. There is no question but that, when the cost of operation is deducted, the prices thus received are still greatly in advance of the average prices received by farmers who are not members of the Association. Further, in view of the fact that the Association still has on hand some four-fifths of the total cotton received, and the farmers on the outside only have about one-tenth, and the price of cotton steadily growing higher, it would seem reasonable to figure that this difference would steadily increase as the season advances. Practically all farmers who joined this association did so with the expectation of getting more money for their crop than they might receive if they sold their crop at home. This will undoubtedly happen in the case of the vast majority of the membership, although it will never happen to all members. The reason for this is that each association member receives the average price of the season's sales for his grade of staple. That average price under ordinary circumstances will nearly always be more than the price prevailing at picking and ginning time, because at these periods competition to sell among farmers themselves automatically breaks the price by furnishing an immediate supply much greater than the needed demand. On the same basis the average price received by the association can never equal the peak price which some individual farmers might receive at some certain period of the year. We all know that few farmers ever receive these possible peak prices yet it is human nature to always talk about them when making comparisons. Important as the co-operative associations are in their work of getting better prices for members than for non-members as the result of intelligent sales methods, their chief purpose does not lie in this direction. The chief purpose of the commodity marketing associations through their plan of orderly is to stabilize prices and to raise the general average to a point at which there is some prospect of the the individual farmer making a profit. To do this properly requires control by the co-operatives of a good per centage of the commodity produced. Even the comparatively small amount now under control has been remarkably effective in the cotton markets during the present and the preceding seasons. It is generally admitted that the activities of the cotton co-operatives, coupled with the intelligent aid of the War Finance Corporation under the sympathetic management of Eugene Meyer, were last year chiefly responsible for increasing the price of cotton from 11 to 22 cents per pound and for maintaining the price at a respectable level throughout the season. It is also generally acknowledged that the activities of these same cotton marketing associations prevented cotton from dropping below the 20 cent level at the central markets during the dumping period in September and October of the present year. These achievements are infinitely more important to farmers than the ability of the co-operatives to get a few more cents per pound for their members than it is possible for the non-members to get. In accomplishing them all farmers benefit, whether members or not. The thing for the non-members to realize is that a comparatively small band of devoted, self-sacrificing co-operatives are developing a market of situation from which all farmers profit. Every self-respecting farmer should pull off his coat, join the association and help in this movement, rather than be willing to sit back and take advantage of the labor of other men. And this same farmer should have the encouragement of every banker, merchant and professional man in the South. J. W. L. Mill, secretary of the Texas Cotton Association, will speak in Sweetwater at 2 P. M. on Thursday, November 23, in Court house auditorium and it is his desire as well as members of the Association that the entire citizenship turn out to consider with him why we can't all co-operate together in this movement, which has for its aim, "No more seven and eight cent cotton and dull business." HURT ALL OVER Texas Lady Couldn't Sit, Stand or Lie With Any Comfort. Says "Cardul Did World of Good."

Bartlett, Texas.—Mrs. Nannie Moser, of Route 1, this place, states: "About three years ago I was in a very critical condition. I had been suffering for some time. To tell how I hurt would be impossible. I just hurt all over. I couldn't sit, stand or lay with any comfort, my back ached and head all gave me a great deal of trouble. I was especially bothered with a light swimming in my head. My people were very uneasy about me and said me to my relatives to see if a change would do me any good. I stopped at a sister-in-law's and she being a great believer in Cardul, asked me why I didn't use it. I decided to try it. I had only taken a few doses when I felt it would do me good. This gave hope and I used it right along and it did me just a week of good, since which time I have never ceased to praise Cardul." Cardul is for simple female complaints and womanly pains and has been found to benefit in thousands of such cases when not due to malformation or that do not require surgical treatment. Try it. STIMULATE LIBRARY ACTIVITY.

Library Association Numbers Over 6,000—To Conference in April.

By The Associated Press.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Nov. 19.—More than one thousand librarians and trustees of public, college, school and other libraries are expected to attend the annual conference of the American Library Association, which is to be held here the last week in April, next year.

The association has in its membership more than 6,000 librarians and library trustees in almost every section of the country. It has for its purpose the advancement of the library profession and the establishment and development of libraries everywhere.

Next year's meeting is being planned at the home of many southern members of the association who feel that the publicity resulting from such a meeting will help to forward the library movement in that section of the country. Many persons in the south who have not attended meetings because of the distance from home, plan to journey to Hot Springs to take part in the program and deliberations of the association.

COLEMAN NEWS.

By C. C. Campbell.

COLEMAN, Nov. 17.—Members of the Coleman L. O. O. F. Lodge are preparing for their annual oyster feast which will take place on Tuesday night, November 28th. Various committees have been appointed to arrange for the catering and if the program as arranged by the committees is carried out in full it will be an event long to be remembered by the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs who will participate.

A slow rain began falling here on Thursday morning about 1 o'clock and continued throughout the day. This coupled with the splendid rain which visited this community Sunday and Monday will put a fine season in the ground and fill the creeks and tanks with stock water.

The sowing of small grain has been rushed for the past three weeks and the acreage will be larger than for several years past. The season's cotton crop has all been gathered and while the crop was short, yet, the price obtained will compensate the farmer for the shortage in the crop. The feed crop in this section is very limited. Hence, the farmers are now paying out too much cotton money for forage.

RAILROADS SHOW INCREASE.

Annual Menu of Pennsylvania Lines Run High.

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Approximately 2,500,000 eggs, 1,500,000 pounds of fresh meat, 1,500,000 pounds of potatoes, 500,000 pounds of sugar, 5,000,000 rolls, 150,000 pounds of coffee and 500,000 quarts of milk and cream are consumed yearly by the Pennsylvania railroad dining car service, according to the Pennsylvania News, publication of that railroad.

The railroad's dining car service, serving 10,000 meals daily, if operated simultaneously, could serve 4,336 persons at one sitting. The 125 cars in the service, if placed end to end, would form a mobile restaurant approximately two miles long.

A force of about 1,555 employees is required to prepare and serve the 2,575,000 meals which railroad waiters annually carry down the aisles of diners traveling forty and fifty miles an hour.

These meals are prepared in dining kitchens having a floor space 19 1/2 feet long and 2 1/2 feet wide, each kitchen having four cooks, a chef and three assistants. Each car represents an investment of $30,000 of which $3,000 is spent for silverware, utensils and linen.

PIANOS INVADE JAPAN.

TOKIO, Nov. 17.—Musical instruments, especially mandolins, are being imported in increasing quantities, and western music is so fashionable that a study of the piano is not considered a necessary part of the education of a Japanese girl. The playing of the "Koto", the national harp, and of the "samisen" has not been abandoned but there are strong tendencies in the younger generation to turn to foreign instruments.

"School Days"

The little red school house was once famous for the great men it produced. These men were exceptional—they became famous in spite of "the little red school house" and its meager facilities—not on account of it. When folks are willing to swap their automobiles for an oxcart, use candles instead of electric lights and wear homespun instead of late styles—then it will be time to drop back a few decades in our school system. Next Saturday, November 25 there will be a bond issue to erect a new East Ward School in place of the temporary building now there—and to modernize the South and West Ward buildings. When this is done Sweetwater will be equipped with school buildings in keeping with its aspirations as the coming city of West Texas. With the friendly rivalry and keen competition now prevalent among West Texas cities—it can afford to do no other.
