COUNTY ADAPTED TO SHEEP RAISING

Thrive On Weeds That No Other Stock Will Eat—County Agent Advises Sheep to Be Grown.

PROFITS ARE GOOD ON SHEEP

Profit On Wool In Spring And On Sale Of Surplus Stock In Fall—Goats Profitable Animals, Too.

Nolan county is essentially a live-stock farming county. A large variety of grasses are suited to the production of livestock. While we have a variety of grasses upon which livestock thrive we also have a supply of weeds that are not consumed by any livestock, save sheep. These weeds quite frequently choke out the grass and reduce to an unprofitable capacity the number of livestock that can be carried on the pastures.

There is one animal that is a profitable one that thrives on these weeds. That animal is the sheep. The sheep will convert for his owner the weeds into wool and mutton. Otherwise, these weeds are a liability instead of an asset. Sheep consume the weeds and this improves the grass on the pasture, making the production of other livestock more profitable.

The farmer or ranchman producing sheep has his wool ready for the market in the spring and surplus stock for the market in the fall and winter months.

If the sheep fails to raise an offspring for a profit her owner can take a profit off her back. The sheep will pay from 75 per cent to 100 per cent on her cost and keep. The Rambouillet is a dual purpose sheep, supplying both mutton and a good quality of wool. This variety is very profitable for the farmer.

The county agents along with his sheep raiser are advising the farmer of the usefulness and value to his farm of a small flock of sheep. Listed with him are quite a number of farmers who are in the market for some sheep or will be this fall. In this effort he should have the active cooperation of the commercial interests and the county farm organization, the County Farm Bureau.

L. F. Fry of the Ada community, bought 100 sheep last fall. He raised 75 lambs and has for sale four bags of wool. "We might say just here that lambs are being contracted for fall delivery at from $4.75 to $6.00 per head. Wool has been selling on the markets at from 25c to 55c per pound. As was stated in the columns of the Reporter last week, Homer Hendrix and his brother near Nolan, bought 150 head of sheep last fall. They have raised 140 lambs and will offer the trade six bags of wool.

Fry and Hendrix are cited as an illustration since they are new in the business.

The last U. S. census shows 18,000 head of sheep in the county. This number should be doubled this year. This census also shows Nolan County has 1,015 farms. This number of farms could easily carry 50,000 head of sheep and increase the farm revenues at least $350,000.

On a great many farms goats could be raised most profitably. Goats will thrive best on a brushy pasture, and on broken hill lands. The goat will yield about as great a profit as the sheep, and like the sheep they subsist upon plants not relished by other livestock.

With poultry consuming the waste around the farm, and many insects that are enemies of crop production, and with sheep and goats consuming the weeds and brush and each converting this waste into cash, debts and mortgages will soon fade away to their owner, who gives them some care and attention, while the all-out, ten farmer travels in a circle, round and round, year in and year out, borrowing money to produce some cotton.

NO RAIN NEARBY.

Just Trace Reported at Snyder—High Winds at Various Points.

That the very agreeable drop in temperature Thursday was caused by thunderstorms somewhere is rather evident but although there was a rather heavy cloud visible to the north Wednesday night, there were no rain reports Thursday.

Snyder received a very few drops of rain, but that was the only report on the entire Santa Fe railroad. Points on the Orient railroad did not receive any and neither was there any reported on the Texas & Pacific railroad. Rumors were current on the streets Thursday that Snyder, Oklahoma was heavily hit by a wind storm. Up to going to press Thursday afternoon reports concerning the storm at Snyder, Oklahoma had not been verified.

FINES IMPOSED.

Mr. and Mrs. Jouis Jones were fined $25 and $50 respectively on charges of vagrancy by a jury in Justice Court Wednesday night and Thursday morning. The woman was also charged with prostitution. They are in jail pending appeal. The couple were arrested Saturday night on the road between Sweetwater and Roscoe in company with two young men from Lorraine, who pleaded guilty and paid their fines.

E. I. HILL TALKS

Speech And Musical Numbers Feature Prayer Services Held Here Wednesday Night.

The first of a series of special prayer services at the Baptist church prayer meeting Wednesday night was featured by an address by District Attorney, E. I. Hill.

A short program consisting of a violin solo by Miss Lucy Cuthbert, a vocal solo by Mrs. Hamilton and several songs by the congregation preceded the speech.

Attorney Hill used as a subject "The Sunday School."

"A church that has a live, growing and conquering Sunday school will be that kind of a church," declared the speaker. "We are not making the success of our Sunday school that we ought to make of it," he said.

Mr. Hill read a Religious Census of Sweetwater which had been gathered last winter and proceeded:

"Of the men living in Sweetwater between the ages of 25 and 35, who are members of the Baptist church or who prefer the Baptist church, there are 83 men. Of the 83, thirty-three are members of the Baptist church and only 10 attended Sunday school," declared Attorney Hill.

Mr. Hill went on by saying "the city is growing; new residences are going up; new business houses and enterprises; the church is growing; other Sunday schools, some of them, are growing, and we must make our Sunday school a growing Sunday school."

He spoke of the Sunday school as connected with the youth of the community and said "we all realize the importance of teaching the child, giving it religious training and bringing it to Christ."

At the close of his talk an open discussion was called by Rev. L. G. Morony and Judge R. C. Crane made a short talk.

He stressed the importance of child training and having the child in the Sunday school. "To my way of thinking," he stated, "the religious training is the most important for the youngsters from the cradle to 15 years of age. The most important training should go to these youngsters."

LITTLE PREACHES TO SUPPORT SELF

Evangelist Talks On Playing The Part of a Man at Revival On Wednesday Evening

"You can be a non-tamer or lawyer without God, but you can't be saved," stated Evangelist Phil J. Little Wednesday evening when he preached on playing the part of a man. The text was from Isa. 55:6 and brought out the fact that it was only a man's part to seek God and work for the salvation of his soul.

"The kind of God that calls is a king, loving and patient God. He is the same yesterday, today and always. You ought to be willing to play the part of a man with God. The fellow who is willing to play the man's part is willing to do the right thing at the right time and in the right way. The right thing to do is to seek God.

"Lost men don't seek God for pleasure, popularity, wealth, or fun, but for the salvation of their soul."

Evangelist Little urged the congregation and all people to seek God while young and forever after to play the part of the man.

A large congregation heard the Evangelist and many automobiles circled the tabernacle.

A special quartette arranged by Singer Neill will sing tonight and Evangelist Little will preach on "The Biggest Sin In Sweetwater."

Census Taken By American Red Cross Shows Greeks Have Large Families.

By The United Press.
ATHENS, June 28.—That more than a third of the total number of families among the 140,000 or more refugees in the Salonica district are made up of six or more persons, was revealed in a census undertaken last week by Leon K. Wiese of Anaerotes, Washington, field manager for the Salonica district of the American Red Cross work.

This was discovered when the American Red Cross began to put into effect a rule that men from 16 to 45 years of age must support themselves and other members of their family, and that boys and girls of 16 years or more must support themselves.

The application of this rule—intended to prevent any refugees from becoming "professional" paupers—in the city of Salonica alone brought about the reduction of American Red Cross feeding from 55,000 to 35,000 persons per day. Similar action is being taken in other districts.

GIRL IS UNKNOWN

Girl Found 14 Months Ago in Box Car Believed To Be Insane

By The United Press.
PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—Fourteen months ago July 8, Alice Joyce, who is now in Philadelphia General Hospital awaiting identification, became the "mystery girl."

On May 8, 1922, the girl was found crouching in one corner of a box car in the West Philadelphia freight yards. She was attractive and well dressed. Authorities sought to learn her identity and her refusal to answer questions was attributed to obstinacy.

"I am Alice Joyce, I am twenty-eight years old."

This is the only information authorities have been able to obtain, and the most severe questioning failed to elicit further information. The girl, however, intimated that she was from Buffalo, but refused or was unable to divulge anything else.

Magistrate Pennock sentenced the girl to the house of correction, but before Alice could be sent there she suffered a collapse and was sent to the hospital for treatment.

Physicians at the hospital first believed Alice was an amnesia victim. Later alienists and mental specialists failed to fathom the disease that continues to keep Alice the "mystery girl."

The mystery of the girl's identity and the circumstances surrounding her arrival here has aroused the interest of hundreds of persons from every section of the country. Detectives from Buffalo, New York, Chicago and other cities have been here in an attempt to solve the girl's identity. Mothers, husbands, brothers and sweethearts have journeyed to the institution in the hope that the girl is their loved one.

Letters arrive at the hospital by the thousands, seeking more details about the "mystery girl" and many have sent photographs in a vain effort to identify Alice.

Alice is quite endurable and spends most of her time talking to herself. In her coherent ramblings she disclosed nothing of her past life, and physicians at the hospital have almost despaired of ever learning more about her.

Dr. E. S. Farr, medical director at the hospital, said that the girl is insane and insensate often takes the form of persons concealing their identity.

OPERATION SUCCESSFUL.

Mrs. Ethel Hightower, who resides with her parents on Sweetwater Route A, underwent an operation at the Sweetwater Sanitarium Monday. At last reports she was greatly improved.

BETTER ROADS IF STATE CONTROLS

Highway Amendment to Constitution Discussed at Abilene Wednesday By Man From Cleburne.

SWEETWATER SENDS DELEGATES

Good Roads Will Result From State Control of Highways Without Increased Local Taxes.

"The constitution is sacred because it is the code of the people and not the work of their representatives in the legislatures. If it is amended by the people then the amendment becomes equally sacred" declared R. M. Chitwood at Abilene Wednesday where he attended a meeting to further the voting of the Constitutional Amendment for Good Roads July 27.

The meeting was addressed by H. A. Oliver of Dallas, president of the Commercial Executives Association of Texas and secretary of the Cleburne Chamber of Commerce.

It was brought out at the meeting that the Highway Amendment will put the building, control and maintenance of the state highways into the hands of the State Highway Department, that there will be no additional taxes involved in the proceedings, the proposition being financed by gasoline taxes and increased motor fees; that failure to pass the amendment will mean that $2,000,000 of Federal road money yearly or 200 miles of improved highway, will be lost to Texas as Arkansas has now lost it, although Texas will continue to pay Federal taxes as before, and finally that the valuations of West Texas counties are not large enough to permit them to vote bond issues to build improved highways. Finally, it was pointed out that in Nolan county, for example, which has over 75 miles of state highways, the money raised in the county for highway purposes can be spent on the rest of the roads in the county, instead of all it being spent on the Bankhead R. Q. Mills and Del-Rio Canadian, as is now the case.

In addition to R. M. Chitwood, Rufus Wright, President, and J. A. McCurdy, secretary of the Sweetwater Board of City Development, Judge A. S. Mauzey and G. O. McGinley of the Nolan County Commissioner's Court, L. J. Geer, Geo. Sheppard, C. R. Simmons, A. Levy, Tom Farris, Judge H. R. Bondies and a representative of the Reporter attended the meeting.

On motion of Grady Kinsolving of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce, the Taylor County delegation present went into organization with Judge E. M. Overshiner as county chairman to carry the amendment. It is probable that other counties will also organize.

MRS. GRAHAM BURIED.

Died At Farm Home Ten Miles North Of Town Wednesday.

Mrs. J. A. Graham was buried in the City Cemetery Thursday following funeral services at the Church of Christ here conducted by Elder O. E. Bonner.

Death claimed Mrs. Graham Wednesday, after an illness of less than one week's duration at the family home, ten miles north of Sweetwater. She was aged 29 years and besides the husband, is survived by two boys, 2 and 8 years old, a sister at Rotan, two brothers in Crosby County, and another brother, Ira Pullen, in Sweetwater.

Mrs. Graham had lived in and near Sweetwater most of her life, except for a few years in Pecos County, where she married ten years ago.

NUDITY DENIED

SAN ANGELO, June 28.—The rumor circulating on the street to the effect that some of the young folks of the city had engaged in a mixed swimming party in the nude at Ben Ficklin recently was found upon investigation Monday by C. C. Arnett, probation officer, to be unwarranted. The manager of the cold drink stand at Ben Ficklin was highly complimentary of the conduct at swimming parties there and said he had not noticed any such party as reported, Mr. Arnett said.

GAINING
More Americans are being born than are dying. Census figures show that close to 23 babies were born last year for each 1000 population, with only 12 deaths.

That gives us an excess of 11 births a year for each 1000 population. It means that Americans are increasing in numbers nearly 1,200,000 a year without the aid of immigration. At that rate, it won't be many centuries until we have as many people as China.

Nature will kill off the surplus by wars and disease epidemics if we get too many. Increasing population, when it reaches a certain point, breeds its own destruction.

About 1,300,000 Americans will make the journey into the grave and beyond, this year, according to latest Census Bureau mortality figures. It's our annual death rate.

That's quite an army. Few of us realize how many funerals there are. It's the end of the road, is death, and we're all traveling toward it fast. Why be as greedy and thoughtless to others as if we were going to be here for all eternity? This would be a better world if we gave more thought to that supposedly unpleasant change called death.

RICH
Osage Indians in northern Oklahoma get in one month an average of about $2700 apiece as royalties from oil wells drilled on their lands. This averages a family income of $13,5000 a month for an Osage pa and ma with three papooses.

European nations might jot this down in their handbook of directions for treating conquered people. They will report that all our Indians are not Oklahoma Osages.

AT THE PALACE.
There are several reasons why the screen production of Sherlock Holmes differs from most motion pictures.

plays. In the first place it bears the name of that imposing star, John Barrymore, who, unfortunately is too seldom seen on the screen. In addition to this leading dramatic actor, who plays the title role, others in the cast include such names as Roland Young, who plays the part of Watson. The villainous Moriarty is played by Gustave von Seyffertitz, formerly stage director of Charles Frohman and a character actor for many years. Louis Wolheim, who is now creating a sensation on the stage by his portrayal of the rough-neck stoker in The Hairy Ape is another member of the cast. Among others are Percival Knight, Reginald Denny, Albert Bruning, Lumsden Hare, John Willard who not only is appearing in The Cat and the Canary, but is also the author, Carol Dempster, Hedda Hopper and other well-known men and women of the stage and screen.

In order to get the proper atmosphere the producer did not attempt to manufacture stage backgrounds, but instead, transported the entire company to Englan and later to Switzerland. Scenes were taken in the old sections of London, Baker street, the house to which the world has been a track; Limehouse and St. John's College, Cambridge. In Switzerland the company had to go to a little mountain town in order to get the proper locations. Then the company returned to this country in order to complete the production and have it authentic, true and wholly artistic.

In Sherlock Holmes, John Barrymore has succeeded splendidly in his interpretation of the leading role. He has made himself look a great deal like the Holmes pictured in fiction, and has thoroughly humanized the detective while retaining the characteristics Conan Doyle accorded him.

Sherlock Holmes comes to the Palace Theater for a two-days showing, beginning Friday.

COTTON AND WEST TEXAS.
From Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

"West Texas is the most promising field in the world for the increase in cotton production which appears to be needed in the near future," Clarence Ousley told the farmers gathered at the Rock Island Community Institute at Amarillo Friday.

Mr. Ousley made a detailed analysis of the present cotton situation and pointed out that with the present rate of consumption continuing another 12 months it is hardly possible that enough cotton will be produced to supply the demand. He pointed out the various factors which have contributed to the establishment of a price level which has insured a profit to the farmer, enumerating (a) better farming, (b) better and more efficient marketing through co-operative agencies, and (c) better financing. Then he continued:

"But while these factors have been highly useful, after all the great thing is that we have disposed of the burdensome surplus which we had two years ago. With reduced world production and increased American consumption, the trade is wondering whether we can produce enough this year to run the mills next year. That is why Great Britain, whose spinning industry in Lancashire is so vital to her commercial life, is sending large sums to develop cotton growing in Australia and Sudan. And her efforts are yielding no little encouragement. The truth appears to be that if we are unable to reduce the ravages of the boll weevil, two serious consequences will follow: First, the South can not grow cotton profitably upon the basis of boll weevil yield at a price much below the average of the last season; and, second, such prices are almost certain to develop other cotton-growing areas.

"The domestic fact of greatest concern at this time is the migration of negroes from the Southern states east of the Mississippi.

"The experimental stage of cotton-growing in new areas of the world and the loss of labor east of the Mississippi, not to mention the lessened yield throughout the cotton belt from boll weevil damage, conspire to put West Texas in a position of peculiar advantage. On these level plains, with soils easy of cultivation, according to the latitude and winter temperature, the cost of producing cotton here is low enough to offset the lighter yields in seasons of scanty rainfall and to furnish profits large enough in seasons of abundant moisture to absorb the losses of occasional drouth. I am not scientist enough to speak confidently of the possibility of increasing the drouth resistance of the cotton plant, but it seems to my lay mind that since the plant breeders have been able to shorten the period of maturity, to lengthen the fiber and otherwise greatly to modify the habits of the plant, it is not unreasonable to hope that diligence in research and seed selection may evolve a variety of cotton that will produce a fair crop with the limited rainfall of the West."

All of which supports the judgment of West Texans who have been extending the cotton area and who have been giving some attention to the question of the best cotton plant for West Texas conditions. There will be a greatly increased production of cotton in West Texas during the present season, and the outlook, as outlined by Mr. Ousley, insures that it will bring a fair price. The immediate meaning of this is that we are to have prosperity in West Texas during the next 12 months.

The ultimate meaning of the situation Mr. Ousley has described is that West Texas will become one of the important producing sections of the world if proper attention is given to a development of the industry, and especially to the matter of developing the very best cotton plant, adaptable to West Texas conditions, that can be produced.

This last-named task is one that there should be general co-operation in performing. It is one of the most important economic projects facing West Texas.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold. Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

WHEEL BREAKS WINDOW

This Makes Third or Fourth Time Plate Glass Broken in St. Angelus Special to The Reporter

SAN ANGELO, June 28.—The old Jonah window at the corner of the St. Angelus at Beauregard and Irving streets was broken again Tuesday morning when a wheel ran wild from the Ford coupe belonging to J. D. Hassell, as it was being driven east on Beauregard, hit the curbing and bounced thru the plate glass, landing on the inside of the St. Angelus Tailor Shop, of which Edgar Martin, sitting at his desk, was uninjured by the scattered glass. The window costs about $55. It was insured.

This makes the third or fourth time that the window has been broken, heavy winds prior to this time having played havoc with it. The wheel took its course thru the window when the hub cap came off.

Airship Hangar Could House Large Office Building

At Scott Field, Ill., the Army Air Service has erected, at a cost of more than $2,000,000, a large airship hangar. The huge structure could contain a 10-story office building with a 50-foot tower on the roof. The hangar, which is built of steel, concrete, and glass, is 825 feet long and 225 feet high. At the end are large steel doors opened and closed by electric motors that travel on railroad rails.

Modern Jove Juggles Million Volts

At an electrical show held at a western university not long ago, one of the students mystified the crowd with a display rivaling the mythical feats of Jove, who was believed by the ancients to be the wielder of the thunderbolt. Seated in a chair separated from a table by seven-ply insulators, the youth grasped a zigzag rod in one hand and in the other a wand with which he made contact with a ball from which the lightning effect was emitted. The impunity with which he handled the 1,000,000 volts is explained by the low amperage value of the current passing through his body and the insulators under the chair legs, which prevented the electricity from going to the ground and thereby establishing a flow of current that would have been disastrous to the daring young experimenter.

A variation of the "dunning" letter is used by a Western firm, with agreeable results. Its notice is headed with four bars of music. The words are also given, being a parody on an old Scotch folk song. They read: "May a body ask a body, Please remit today."

Attachment on Spade Saves Shoes

The illustration shows a simple attachment for a spade, to save the shoes while digging. The attachment consists of a short length of 3/4 or 5/8-in. pipe, about 4 in. long, with a hacksaw slot cut through it lengthwise as shown, to permit it to be pushed onto the spade. The slot should, of course, be of such a width that the spade will be gripped firmly. The use of this attachment not only saves the shoes, but it is not so tiring on the foot.

World's Largest Cable for Atlantic Ocean

Completion of the laying of a new cable in the Atlantic Ocean, between New York and London, is expected by August 1, next, according to a recent announcement. It will be the largest ever laid in the Atlantic, or anywhere else in the world, and will have a capacity twice that of any other cable now in service between the United States and Europe. Engineers charged with the design of the new cable estimate that it will permit a sending speed of approximately 600 letters per minute in both directions at the same time, or a total of 1,200 letters per minute, making it the fastest cable in the world. Its conductor requires an average of 1,100 pounds of copper per mile, as against an average of about 700 pounds of copper per mile for the heaviest now in service.
