LARGEST CLASS GIVEN DIPLOMAS

Commencement Exercises Held at High School Auditorium Tuesday Night—65 Graduates

J. H. BEALL JR., IN ADDRESS

Local Attorney Substitutes For Dr. Paul W. Horn, Unable to be Present—Program Pleases

Outlining the basic rules of achievement by which members of the Senior class of the Sweetwater High School might be guided in their efforts in the scholastic and business worlds, Judge James Henry Beall Jr., substituting on extremely short notice for Dr. Paul Horn, president of Texas Tech College, delivered the baccalaureate address at the High School auditorium Monday night.

The value of preparation for the work of life was stressed by Wiley Embry, who delivered the salutatory, extending the welcome of the Seniors to the immense crowd that attended the graduating exercises. Their fundamental preparation for life made possible by the advantages offered them in four years of high school, the Seniors were ready to carry on, he said.

The school board, patrons, teachers, and school mates of the graduating class were thanked for their efforts that had made graduation possible by Claude Hope, the valedictorian. He compared the future of the Seniors to the race track of life, on which they were ready to put forth their best strides.

The Sorosis Club Medal, presented annually to the honor student of the class, was given by Mrs. Tom Hughes to Claud Hope. Miss S. C. Kinsey received the Self Culture Club medal, offered for the development of better music in the schools. The Music Study Club medal was awarded to Miss Lady Betty Cutbirth.

Judge Beall recalled the evening that he sat on the same platform at which the exercises were held. At his address, when he was a member of the class to receive their diplomas in the new high school building. It was also the biggest class that had been graduated up to that time—there were 18 members, the judge said.

"Despite the fact that there are 65 in the class tonight, showing the wonderful progress that education is making in Sweetwater, there are still some people who do not appreciate the value and importance of the schools," the speaker declared.

"To the Seniors, I can say that there is plenty of room at the top in any profession or business that you may choose after you finish your education. But you must climb to the top; you can not slide. And before you reach the top, you must make plans, get a definite object in life, stay with your ideals, follow up what you have set out to do, and do it."

Judge Beall urged all the members of the class who had the opportunity of continuing their education to do so. He warned them that in life, they must be satisfied with slow progress, go after their problems with enthusiasm and interest and "use their heads," if they were to succeed. Fair play and honesty, application of the Golden Rule in life, and the happy faculty of keeping on the bright side were stressed as essentials of achievement.

The Seniors were presented their diplomas by Superintendent J. Stone Rives, who thanked everybody who had helped the class in their way to graduation, and made appropriate remarks to the graduates. Miss Ina Lee Ely sang "Love's Valley," accompanied by Mrs. Carl Ragland. Mrs. Roy Scudday played the processional march and the class Commencement Song. The invocation was given by Rev. D. B. Hestir.

Fifty-two members of the class, with 15 affiliated credits, were entitled to their diplomas, and 13 members will complete their work at the summer school session, Superintendent Rives announced.

Earth Rotates On Axles, High School Students Believe

By The United Press.

DALLAS, Texas, May 28.—Here are some answers given by students of Forest Avenue High School to questions asked in an information test:

Metropolis is the largest city in the United States; the earth rotates on its "axles"; the shortest day in the year is Feb. 29; the circles passing through the north and south poles are the Mason-Dixon lines; the Mediterranean is the largest ocean in the world.

It may be interesting to some to know that the Armistice ending the World War was signed at the Alamo. And it's just as interesting perhaps, to know that Houston is now the capital of the State and that Davis is the present Governor. Dallas is in Franklin County and Waco is situated on the banks of the Rhine River. The Woolworth building is the tallest structure in Dallas and the Alps and Alleghenies are the two principal mountain systems in this country.

The others were reported recovering from their wounds. Murry still clings to his original story that two negroes made the attack. Officers are unable to find any trace of the assailants.

Mrs. C. G. McCord assisted by her daughter, Miss Catherine, will entertain a number of friends Thursday afternoon with a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Grace Johnson who will be the bride of I. Hill Jr., about June 1.

SCHOOL CENSUS SHOWS INCREASE

Scholastic Population of County 312 Greater Than It Was For Previous Year, Figures Show.

SWEETWATER INCREASES

Shows Largest Gain With 296 More Pupils—Roscoe Follows With 127 Gain—Rurals Lose

An increase of 312 in the scholastic population of the county this year as compared with last year is shown in the scholastic census recently completed and on file with Superintendent of Schools Miss Minnie Fowler. Sweetwater Independent School district shows the largest increase with 296 additional scholastics.

Roscoe Independent School District shows an increase of 127. The county schools outside of these independent school districts, however, show a decrease of 21 pupils. This in the face of a larger rural population than the county has perhaps ever known. School authorities are at a loss to account for the situation.

On the basis of last year's apportionment, the county would receive $45,300 in state aid money, an increase of $3,744, with $17,136 coming to Sweetwater. The apportionment for the coming year has not been made yet however, and will not be until the scholastic census for the entire state has been sent to Austin. Then it will be balanced up against the total funds available and the apportionment made.

The county figures are as follows:

	1923-24	1924-25
Sweetwater	1222	1428
Roscoe	386	513
Rural	1855	1835
County Total	3463	3775

WILL TRY BISHOP BAND REHEARSAL

Attorney Challenges Tribunal to Take Stand in Episcopal Heresy Hearings.

By The United Press.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 28.—The Tribunal of Protestant Episcopal Bishops sitting here in the heresy trial of Bishop William M. Brown unanimously over-ruled the motion for the dismissal of the charges against the aged churchman today.

Counsel for Bishop Brown moved yesterday that the charges be dismissed on the grounds that the tribunal was without jurisdiction in the case.

A plea that Bishop Brown be found not guilty was entered by his attorney this afternoon. The plea came after every motion to have the case dismissed had been lost.

The attorney challenged the eight Bishops of the Tribunal, demanding that they take the stand and confess their faith in the doctrines of the church. "There would be eight different opinions, and you know it," he thundered.

FORD DISAPPOINTED

No Lead Mines "Gold Buck" For Henry.

By International News.

The latest reports of importance is that the Ford Motor Company is optioning the holdings of the Schulte Mining Company, located north of this city.

While it is certain that the automobile manufacturer has been disappointed in his "gold brick" mines in St. Francis County, officers of that company say they "will get a lead mine or bust," and following this announcement, the new lands have been leased and operations will be begun soon, they announce.

SERVICE

While the man who breaks his arm patting himself on the back is in a worse fix than he who hides his light under a bushel, it is nevertheless true that there is no organization in any community dedicated to the purpose of tooting the other fellow's horn. Therefore hear ye! The Sweetwater Reporter feels called upon, largely from within, incidentally, to call attention to the fact that it is doing its best to give the people of the city local, state, national and world news while it is still news, and to state that it is making a pretty good job of the effort.

Readers of The Reporter learned that the bonus bill had become a law and that President Coolidge had signed the immigration bill a great many hours before any other paper entered the city with the news. All the important news of the day at Washington is furnished The Reporter by the United Press.

News from Dallas, Austin, and where clearing houses for pure state of the day are established.

The fact that the state is completely covered is proved by the fact that the drowning of four persons near Abilene recently, a story which "broke" close to home, was told first in The Reporter, along with stories of importance from the far corners of the state.

The Reporter has a distinct advantage in being able to give you the local news exclusively, and the rest of the news first.

Do your duty!

Now that we have located our law-mower at the neighbor's who borrowed it before the last season closed and found the rake where it was "lost" after the children raked the leaves last fall, we are ready for the annual summer lawn campaign, announces the Maryville, Mo., Democrat.

Hiram Johnson is reported to have cancelled half his hotel reservation in Cleveland, and the Iola, Kas., Register thinks that he still has too many rooms if he has kept even one.

There are a number of pretty good stories in the magazines, and we wonder why the illustrators don't read them occasionally.—Oklahoma City Times.

We have often wondered where some men hide themselves when they don't need a shave, wonders the Iola, Kas., Register.

WELCOME MRS. McCURDY

Ladies of Presbyterian Church Give Reception.

Mrs. J. A. McCurdy was formally welcomed into the social circle of Sweetwater Tuesday afternoon, when the Ladies Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church gave a beautiful reception in her honor at the home of Mrs. Sie Edwards.

Over two hundred ladies called during the afternoon and welcomed Mrs. McCurdy and several other new members of the Presbyterian Church who stood in the receiving line. Mrs. William Wight extended greetings at the door and directed the guests to Mrs. Edwards who stood at the head of the receiving line in which stood the following ladies: Mrs. Shinn, Mrs. J. A. McCurdy, Mrs. James Henry Beall Jr., Mrs. Arlidge of Plano, Mrs. C. W. Bryant, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Butts, Mrs. Rufus Wright, Mrs. Jay Ingram, Mrs. Willard Gibson, Mrs. Gus Farrar, and Mrs. R. K. McAdams, directed the ladies to the nook where Mrs. Royal Headrick had charge of the guest register.

From there they passed into the dining-room, where Mrs. W. H. Whaley, Mrs. C. A. Rosebroug, Mrs. E. P. Doyle, Mrs. J. E. Barrick and Mrs.

Ed Patterson served a sandwich course with ice tea. Clusters of dainty sweet-peas were given as plate favors. A delightful informality characterized the whole affair.

The reception rooms were made doubly attractive with bands of nasturtiums, rose and fern decorations in an artistic arrangement.

A Children's Day program will be given in connection with a missionary program Sunday evening, June 1, at the Church of the Nazarene, on W. N. 3rd Street. The public is extended a cordial invitation to be present.

HOPPER FORMULA GIVEN FARMERS

R. R. Reppert, Agricultural Expert From A. & M. College, Gives Demonstration Here Friday

CROP DAMAGE FEARED
Number of Counties Heavily Infested With Insect Pest, Reppert Declares in Address

"Sixty counties already known to be infested with the grass hopper will result in an estimated crop damage of $30,000,000 unless the insect is controlled," declared R. R. Reppert, of A. & M. College, in an address to Nolan County farmers at the county courthouse here.

"I find, however, that my visit here was not entirely necessary, inasmuch as you Nolan County farmers are already preparing to combat the dreaded hopper."

Mr. Reppert was introduced by County Farm Demonstration Agent W. C. Calvert and talked at length with regard to best manner of fighting the cotton-destroying pest. Among other things of vital importance he declared that in 1923 seventy-five Texas counties were infested by hoppers resulting in a tremendous crop damage and that so far this season more than 35 counties had reported the appearance of the insect.

Reports from Gonzales and Kerr Counties on the south, Childress on the north and west and Texarkana on the east with some thirty odd counties in between had been infested, he declared.

Mr. Reppert said that one of the best formulas for the fighting of the hopper, gathered from the experience of many farmers over various Texas counties, consisted of the following mixture:

Bran, 25 lbs.; white arsenic, 1 lb.; six lemons, both the peeling and juice; two quarts of low grade cane or sorghum syrup mixed in two or more gallons of water. Sufficient water should be placed, he pointed out, to make the mixture moist but not too wet.

"If evenly scattered this formula will prove most effective," Mr. Reppert declared, "and we find that about 25 pounds should be distributed over about five acres of ground to make the mixture moist but not too wet."

WACO, Texas, May 28.—Dr. M. W. Sherwood, state commander of the American Legion, recently returned from Austin, where he appeared before the state text book commission in the interest of flag etiquette and the teaching of the national anthem in the schools, part of the Legion's program. Although no decision was made by the commission, it is believed that several of next year's text books will contain folders setting forth rules to be observed in showing the proper respect to the flag.

SUMMER CLEANNESS AND COMFORT

A new house, perhaps, or a residence freshly papered and painted. Here is where the Electric Range, with its lack of smoke fumes, is so much appreciated by the housewife. Curtains, hangings, paint and paper are not smudged. Your kitchen and adjacent rooms maintain their dainty freshness indefinitely.

Heat Where Needed

When the heat of summer makes kitchen work uncomfortable and any sort of a range fire well-nigh unendurable, then is when the Electric Range is appreciated the most. Heat is applied only where needed. It is there in ample quantity—but none is wasted heating the room. That is why the electric range is economical with current—and at our low range rate, your Electric Range costs you little if any more than any other type of fuel.

Since the Chrysler Six brings quali- ties no other car can offer, you could well afford, in order to gain those qualities, to discard your present car without recompense

Do not expect a long trading allowance on any used car when you approach the purchase of a Chrysler Six.

It cannot be granted for reasons so plain and obvious that they tion, the public eagerness to own the car is far from being satisfied.

But that is not the real point—the real reason why long allowances are impossible is that the buyer gets in the Chrysler Six something no other car can offer.

Any other car offered in exchange instantly depreciates in com- parison with the Chrysler because it does not possess those Chrysler qualities.

If you do not want the results the Chrysler alone gives, any good car will answer—if you do want them and value them, you will realize that the Chrysler Six renders ordinary types obsolete.

No fine car has ever been more closely priced than the Chrysler Six—and no car has ever given at any price the riding, driving, braking, accelerating, power and speed qualities peculiar to the Chrysler.

Ten minutes at the wheel of the Chrysler Six will convince you that the ownership of such a car means so much more than you have been enjoying that this is the one and only important ques- tion involved.

The Chrysler Six goes so far beyond anything else in every detail of performance; and reaches such unprecedented economy of maintenance, that you could well afford to discard your present car without getting a cent for it, in order to gain the advantages which only the Chrysler can offer.

McNARY vs. MARVIN

SENATOR McNARY

THE FARMER

THOMAS O. MARVIN

BY SENATOR CHARLES L. McNARY

Author of the Farm Relief Bill
Prices of farm products have fallen so far behind prices of other commodities that the country's entire agricultural structure is threatened.

It is the purpose of the farm relief bill now in Congress to increase present prices of agricultural commodities to a "ratio price"—that is, a price on the general level with the prices of other commodities.

The bill creates an export commission and an export corporation, with capital stock of $200,000,000 to be subscribed by the United States.

If the commission finds that the prevailing domestic price of a farm commodity is below the ratio price—as the result of a surplus which must be exported at prevailing low foreign prices—the president is authorized to declare an emergency.

The commission will then recommend to the corporation the amount of the commodity it should purchase at the ratio price, while the president adjusts tariff rates or sets an embargo to prevent an influx of the commodity in the United States at not less than the ratio price, and sells the surplus abroad at the highest price obtainable.

If the corporation buys at the ratio price and sells at the lower export price, it is evident a loss will be sustained. The commission, therefore, will then establish an "equalization fee," to be collected by use of "participation certificates."

Certificates to the amount of the equalization fee will be given by the purchaser to the producer as part payment for the produce purchased.

As an illustration, if the ratio price of wheat is $1.50 and the equalization fee—representing the loss to the corporation per bushel—is 20 cents, the farmer will be paid $1.30 in cash and 20 cents in certificates.

If at the end of the operation period the losses total less than was estimated, the difference will be distributed as dividends to the farmers holding participation certificates.

In this way the corporation will suffer no loss, surplus farm produce will be taken care of, prices of farm products will be kept at the same level as prices of other commodities, and the farmers of the country will be saved from bankruptcy.

BY THOMAS O. MARVIN, Chairman U. S. Tariff Commission.

You can't change a fundamental economic principle by legislation.

You can't beat the basic law of supply and demand by artificial price fixing.

That's why the so-called "farm relief bill" is an antidote at one end, but poison at the other.

It may serve as temporary relief for the farmers' ills, but it will end by making them worse than ever.

The farmers are in a bad way because of over-production. If the relief bill is passed, what will it do? Stimulate more production! In this way the proposed legislation will aggravate the very condition the results of which it is trying to overcome.

With production thus further stimulated, the surplus will become greater and greater. The corporation, which must purchase this surplus, will have on its hands a quantity of farm produce it cannot possibly handle.

As it exports more and more farm produce at a low figure, it must boost domestic prices higher and higher to keep pace with its losses.

This will reduce domestic consumption, people will turn to substitutes, and the situation—with supply increasing and demand decreasing—will become worse and worse.

Besides this, fixing the price of one commodity will affect many others.

Take wheat as an example. If the price of wheat is boosted and protected by an embargo, it will cost the millers more to make flour.

Then they, too, must put their prices up—and we will need an embargo on foreign flour to protect their industry.

If the price of wool should sink below the so-called "ratio," it would be boosted in the same way. Then we would have to put an embargo on imported suits, socks, overcoats, sweaters, blankets, yarns and a hundred and one other commodities, to protect our manufacturers and merchants.

Artificial price fixing has been tried as a remedy for undesirable economic conditions almost since the dawn of history—but it never yet has worked.

Diocletian, emperor of Rome, promulgated his famous price edict in 301 A. D., fixing a price for "provisions and other articles of commerce." History tells us that "the effect was disastrous; it brought about a disturbance of the food supply; many traders were ruined, and the edict gradually fell into abeyance."

As such plans go, the McNary-Haugen plan is probably as good as it can be. But any plan artificially to stimulate prices is fundamentally wrong and must result in eventual failure.

Methodists Defeat 8-Year Bishop Measure.
By The United Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 28.—The attempt to limit the length of the term of a Bishop to eight years instead of for life was defeated by the Methodist General Conference here today.

The reports of the majority and minority committees are on the table, where they will lie dormant until the next conference. The minority committee ruled that it would be constitutional to elect a Bishop for a term of years as well as life. They recommended an eight-year period.

Powder Stored in Rear of Car Causes Driver's Death.

By The United Press.
SAN ANTONIO, May 28.—Four cans of powder that exploded in the coupe driven by R. E. Moraleas, late yesterday, caused his death today in a hospital.

The theory advanced for the explosion is that a short circuit occurred in the wiring of the car, transmitting the current through the frame of the car to the rear where the powder was stored.

Conductor Sims Free of Nineteen Years Trouble

One of the most remarkable statements in connection with Karnak, the sensational new medicine that is being so widely discussed here, was made a few days ago by Mr. William Sims, 771 West Elm Street, Springfield, Mo. Mr. Sims is the popular conductor on the Florida Special, crack passenger train on the Frisco between Kansas City and Memphis, and numbers his friends by the thousands.

"I would not take a block of the best business property in Springfield for the good Karnak has done me," declared Mr. Sims. "For over nineteen years I suffered day and night from rheumatism and although I spent a small fortune on treatments and faithfully took the baths at Hot Springs, nothing helped me. I finally got so I could not even walk or stand on my feet and of course I had to give up my run. It looked like my usefulness was about ended.

"But Karnak has knocked my rheumatism sky high and built me up to where

I feel fit as a fiddle. The medicine has simply been a godsend to me, and if anybody wants this statement verified let them write me or call me." The statement of Mr. Sims is typical of the hundreds being made every day by those who have experienced the remarkable health-restoring qualities of this sensational new medicine. Karnak is sold in Sweetwater at the Sweetwater Drug Store.
