

DID THE VOTERS SETTLE IT?

In the last issue of the State Line Tribune the editor tells the world that the court house question was settled by the voters of this county in the election held about three years ago.

That is the only truthful statement that has appeared in the Tribune with reference to the court house question. It is very true that the voters of Parmer county settled the court house question in that election. They settled it by the majority of them voting in favor of Friona. The majority want the court house moved to Friona—they settled it in favor of Friona. Once before they did the same thing, only Friona had the necessary two-thirds majority in that election. Friona did not get the court house then because bold, bad bandits broke into the court house and substituted the records. This won't happen again.

The people of Friona and the Friona Star had no idea of calling an election to move the court house this year. They know that it would not be advisable, because of the strained financial conditions that exist; but they do intend to study the county seat question very carefully and to see that the voters of this county are fully advised as to the relative merits of Farwell and Friona.

It is true that it will cost money to move the county seat and to build a new court house in Friona, but did you ever stop to think about the large sum of money that is wasted each year by citizens who are forced to travel as far as 40 miles to transact county seat business. That is the distance some of our citizens are forced to travel—the majority of them have to go about 30 miles. Were the county seat in Friona, which is the largest town in Parmer county and is very nearly centrally located, the reverse would be almost true. With 2085 people out of a population of 5680 living in the Friona precinct, you can readily see the injustice and inconvenience of having the court house in the extreme southwest corner of the county.

The tax payers are burdened with more expense maintaining the county seat in Farwell than they would be were they to build a new court house in Friona.

The Friona Woman's club is busy planting Chinese elms on the court house site in Friona. These trees will be 16 feet high in two years. By that time the ladies hope to see a beautiful court house amidst the trees.

Some men were busy digging a ditch on the court house site in Friona the other day, when a passerby stopped to ask what they were doing. He was informed that the editor of the Friona Star had hired them to dig a foundation for the new court house—and he believed it.

Being as Biblical names seem to be in order and we have been christened "Moses" by the editor of the State-Line Tribune, and because we feel that we are honored by being named after this wonderful man who led the children of Israel out of bondage and slavery and through the wilderness to peace and happiness, by being named after this man who worshipped God and who was favored by him; we desire to return this favor, therefore, Mr. Graham, editor of the State-Line Tribune, I hereby christen thee "Ananias" and henceforth by that name you shall be known.

Last week we offered $15 in gold for the best letters on "Where I Think the County Seat Should Be Located" Friday and Saturday we were besieged with inquiries about this event. It makes no difference which location you favor. Your letter will receive the same impartial judgment. The editor is of course in favor of Friona, but he is not going to judge the letters. That will be done by three men—one each from Friona, Bovina and Farwell. The prizes will go to the ones these men pick as winners.

Bovina to Hold All Day Sing-Song.

There will be an all-day singing at Bovina the fifth Sunday in March. Everybody is invited to come and bring a basket of dinner containing enough for yourself and one or two more. Coffee will be furnished by the Bovina people but you are asked to bring your own cup.

The singing will be held at the school house auditorium, beginning at ten o'clock. There will be plenty of good singers so be sure and come and everybody make a big hit of it.

PARMER COUNTY LISTED FOR Expect to Begin Relief Work Middle of Next Week FEDERAL DROUTH RELIEF AID

Friona Star, Parent-Teacher, School Circulation Contest Starts Off This Week, With Students Eager to Work

Pupils Determined That School Playground Equipment Be Paid for and Each Class Has Determined to Win the Capital Prizes Offered by The Friona Star.

STANDING OF THE CLASSES

Table with 2 columns: Class and Votes. Seniors: 1000 Votes, Juniors: 1000 Votes, Sophomores: 1000 Votes, Freshmen: 1000 Votes, Seventh Grade: 1000 Votes, Sixth Grade: 1000 Votes, Fifth Grade: 1000 Votes.

HOW WILL THEY STAND NEXT WEEK?

The big circulation drive among the pupils of the Friona school, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association and the faculty, is starting off with a bang this week. The pupils have been supplied with receipts and information and are now ready to take your subscription and will call on you in the near future. Don't disappoint these earnest young workers who are striving to pay for their playground equipment and win the big picture which will be given to the class getting the largest number of votes. Other pictures will be given to each class selling ten or more subscriptions and a picture will be given to each pupil selling ten subscriptions. These pictures will be awarded as soon as ten subscriptions are sold and the big one will be awarded at the close of the contest, May 10.

Votes will be given according to the number of pupils in the class, and the number of subscriptions they sell, this giving each class an equal opportunity to win. In other words, if your class has 50 pupils and each get one subscriber, the class will receive 500,000 votes, and if the class has 25 pupils and each one brings in a subscription the class will receive 500,000 votes. This gives each class an equal chance to win, regardless of the number of pupils in the class.

It is up to the class and the spirit of the pupils in that class. If they really are interested and want to win this prize and will go out and get to work they have an equal chance. The various teachers have been furnished receipts which they will give to the children. The receipt will bear on the stub the child's name and class number. When they sell a subscription they will tear off this stub and give it to the subscriber as his receipt. The pupil will then fill in the name and address of the subscriber on the larger portion of the receipt and bring it, together with a check for the amount of the subscription, to the teacher who in turn will hand it to Mr. Conway, superintendent. Mr. Conway will, at the end of each week, turn these receipts over to the Star and the subscribers name will immediately be placed on our mailing list. However, his subscription will date from May 10, 1931, which is the closing date of the contest. He will receive the paper free from the time he subscribes until May 10. Now is the time to subscribe and get the paper for 14 months for the price of one year.

Above is a table showing the standing of the classes. Each class has been started out with the same number of votes. Who will be ahead next week? The class that works the hardest will be the winner. Watch for this standing of the classes. It will appear in the paper each week and will show you which are the hardest workers and which are the most interested in their school. We have rumors that the Fifth grade threatens to walk away from the Seniors in high school. It is going to be a fight because we don't think the Seniors will let these youngsters do it. However, the Frosh may beat the Seniors, according to what we hear. Step on it, boys and girls, and put your class at the head of the list. You can win if you really want to.

Following is the schedule of vote values for each subscription in each class: Seniors, 19 pupils, each subscription 2,631.6 votes. Juniors, 28 pupils, each subscription 1,785.8 votes. Sophomores, 35 pupils, each subscription 1,428.6 votes. Freshmen, 59 pupils, each subscription 847.5 votes. Seventh grade, 44 pupils, each subscription 1,136.4 votes. Sixth grade, 41 pupils, each subscription 1,219.5 votes. Fifth grade, 35 pupils, each subscription 1,428.6 votes.

This schedule puts all classes on an even basis. It can readily be seen that the Senior class with 19 pupils, has an even chance with the Freshmen, having 59 pupils. But—which one will be in the lead next week and which one will win the prize? That depends on the pupils themselves!

Sunday School Institute Tuesday.

Tuesday, March 24, there will be held at the Friona Methodist church a Sunday school institute, comprising Hereford, Dimmitt, the Dimmitt circuit, Bovina and Friona pastoral charges, known as the Castro, Deaf Smith and Parmer group of the Amarillo district.

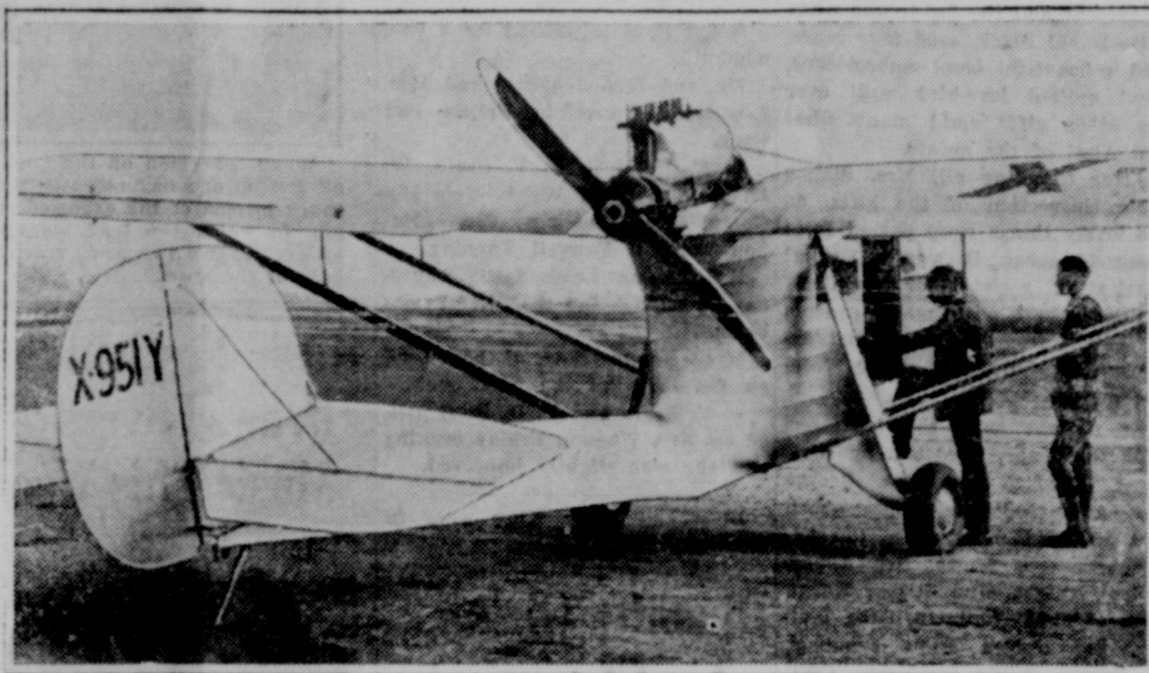

The programs begin at 10 o'clock and continue until about three o'clock. The local Sunday school is to serve dinner on the ground and we are not only requesting our people to bring dinner, but we urge them to attend this good service also, that we may get the greatest possible good from it.

This is the second of a series of such programs to be held monthly within this group of counties, the first having been held at Hereford in February. In April we shall probably go either to Bovina or Dimmitt. Let us all try to make this meeting of our neighbor charges with us a success from every standpoint. Come one, come all, and let us have a good day together.

O. B. ANNIS, Pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kelly and son, Rodney, of Comanche, Texas, are visiting their sister, Mrs. A. A. Crow.

At Last—The Noiseless Plane

Not much to look at, perhaps, but this odd plane has its fine points. Designed by Earl E. McClary, of Huntington Park, Calif., this plane is distinguished for its perfect visibility control for the pilot, greater and more positive control sensitivity and almost total absence of noise and vibration. It can land and take off at a speed of 35 miles an hour and possesses normal flying speed. McClary is shown above climbing into the cockpit with Dwight Peterson, test pilot.

Local Committee Prepared to Aid Securing Loans

The committee appointed by the Friona chamber of commerce recently to present Parmer county's application for drought relief has been successful in the attempt, and Monday received the following letter saying that Parmer county has been certified for relief:

"Mr. M. A. Crum, "Friona, Texas.

"Dear Sir: "Since writing you this morning I have received a telegram from Dr. C. W. Warburton, of the U. S. department of agriculture, agreeing to the certification of the counties which I have recommended. This includes your county. I am asking you therefore to confer with other leading citizens of your county and nominate a committee consisting of a banker, a merchant and a farmer, who is not eligible to a loan. Be sure that they are willing to serve and also send in their correct addresses. We would like these nominations to be sent in through the key banker.

"I hope that you will rush this matter so that we can get the appointments from the department, send out the blanks and start operations by the middle of next week. Sincerely yours,

"O. B. MARTIN, Director."

Immediately upon receipt of the letter a meeting was called of the committee appointed previously by the chamber of commerce with John Aldridge, Jr., county judge, and G. D. Anderson of the Security State Bank of Farwell in attendance. The committee, aided by Judge Aldridge and Mr. Anderson, wired Mr. Martin the information he desired so that immediate relief might be obtained.

The relief committee will consist of Ester Noble, cashier of the Friona State Bank, which has been designated as the key bank for this county, M. A. Crum and Floyd Reeve, and they will be ready to receive applications for loans just as soon as the necessary blanks can be received. Complete information as to the procedure of application for these loans will appear in the Star just as soon as the committee receives the information. The department of agriculture and the local committee are making all speed so as not to slow up the planting of spring crops.

Featuring Evelyn Brent.

A favorite with Friona audiences is appearing at the Texan, Madonna of the Streets, Columbia film adapted from W. B. Maxwell's story, The Ragged Messenger. It is none other than Evelyn Brent, alluring, beautiful, magnetic personality of the screen.

The story is an excellent vehicle for her. It is a dramatic story of love and reformation unfolded in the colorful locale of the Barbary coast of San Francisco. She plays the designing woman of the world who goes through an amazing change of character when she falls in love with a man who patterns his life along the golden rule.

An excellent cast has been assembled to support Miss Brent. Robert Ames plays the leading male role opposite Miss Brent. Josephine Dunn and Ivan Linov play other important supporting roles. John Robertson directed.

T. M. Rushing of Patna is visiting in Friona this week. He is a guest at the home of E. V. Rushing.

R. F. Fleet, who bagged the biggest deer killed by Friona hunters this year, has received the head from the Amarillo taxidermist, who mounted it for him. This head, from a beautiful ten-point buck, is one of the best specimens of the taxidermists art which we have been privileged to see. Call on Mr. Fleet at his store and look it over.

They carry a complete line of ladies' dresses, coats, hat, shoes, stockings, lingerie and accessories. In the men's department there are suits, coats, hats, shoes, shirts, Sox, work clothing and other articles too numerous to mention.

You will always find Carl Maurer ready to assist you and glad to serve you in any way that he can. He is assisted in the store by Mrs. Maurer, and both are well known to Friona people as they are long resident of Friona.

BEN GALLOWAY, MERCHANT OF FRIONA, IS RECOVERING

Ben Galloway, hardware merchant of Friona, suffering with pneumonia in the hospital here, was reported Wednesday to have gained much strength Tuesday night and is recovering rapidly.

He was brought to the hospital from Friona Saturday by an ambulance of E. B. Black company, suffering under a severe attack of pneumonia.

Sending the ambulance to Friona was the cause of a rumor, circulating here all week, that a motor car wreck had claimed another victim.

Ben Galloway is seriously ill and has been removed to the hospital at Hereford. Mrs. Galloway has been confined to her bed for some time with heart trouble.

Announcement.

Beginning March 22, Sunday school and preaching services will be held at my home, the school at 2:30 and preaching at 3:30. To these services the public is cordially invited.

The Apostolic Church of Jesus Christ stands for clean living, teaches the doctrine of Jesus Christ as laid down by Him while here on earth, and enacted out by his disciples, and as recorded in the Acts of the Apostles. To the best of our ability these teachings will be taught. No omissions of parts of verses or shifting of the meaning of the Scriptures to some other age will be done. We believe the entire Word of God is for us today. To those who want to hear the Word taught in its full meaning, come. We need the teachings now that they received on the day of pentecost as much as they did then. So come and let us search the Scriptures together. We will look for you. (Signed),

Lazbuddie Items

Gives Shower.

Thursday, March 12, was the date of the most delightful affair in the realms of Lazbuddie society when Mmes. Loyal Lust and Ralph Disch entertained as joint hostesses in the home of Mrs. Lust in honor of Mrs. Cecil Simms, one of our high school teachers. The color scheme was white and green. As the guests arrived they were presented a small white card with green ribbon ties, hand decorated in green, with Jones-Simms, February 15th, and three leaf clover, St. Patrick motif.

Mrs. Cecil Simms was formerly Miss Billie Jones of Lubbock, a niece of R. L. Bledsoe. Mrs. Ralph Disch called at Lazbuddie school at four o'clock for Miss Grace Jennings and Mrs. Cecil Simms.

just going to Mrs. Lust's house for a few minutes before going on to the Bledsoe home.

Imagine her surprise when she arrived and found out it was her party. A special chair was placed for the bride, and little Ealnor Joe Lust, lovely little daughter of our hostess, gave a reading about a "Young man who thought he wouldn't get caught". Miss Morgan, our music teacher, gave an interesting reading on "Married bliss", portraying an old couple who had journeyed life's pathway together and in the evening of life had only each other and sweet memories for company, since their children had all flown from the home nest.

Then each guest was asked to advise the bride on what she should and should not do. This caused a lot of merriment.

Masters Dale Treider and Adrian Disch marched in carrying a heavily laden basket and deposited it at the feet of the bride.

Music, "You are the one I love." Little Ealnor Joe Lust and Mary Frances Bledsoe carried arm loads of present and the finish was when little David Black, aged four years, laid a beautiful hand embroidered, hand quilted love-bird quilt over the other gifts amid many Ohs! and Ahs! of the guests.

After thanking all, Mrs. Simms began inspection of the gifts, as the lovely things were passed from guest to guest. It was a mutual admiration society for awhile.

Interspersed with many squeals of delight from the bride and exclamations here and there from the guests.

At a late hour the hostesses, who were ably assisted by Mrs. R. L. Bledsoe and Mrs. George Treider, served sandwiches, punch and after-dinner mints to the following guests. Mmes. Eva Abney, DeLos Knight, Jim Black, Emma Dyck, Claudie Gallman, Otto Treider, Lee Nobles, Finis Jennings, R. Pyritz, Willie Steinbock, Cecil Simms, T. G. Raper, C. E. Merriott; Misses Grace Jennings, Marguerite Morgan, Gladys Treider, Mary V. Wilson, Francis and Alma Steinbock, Alena and Rena Raper, Betty and Mary Francis Bledsoe, Dale Treider, Elnor Joe Lust, David Black, Adrian Disch and hostesses and assistants. Loyal Lust, Ralph Disch, R. L. Bledsoe, Geo. Treider.

A list of the gifts is too long to print here. As each guest departed she assured her hostesses it had been a most delightful afternoon.

Dimmitt Girls Are Champions In Basketball

Dimmitt, March 17.—Castro county is elated over the latest achievement of the high school Bobkittens in eliminating all competition to take the state basketball championship against Mingus Saturday night at Plainview, in a game in which two of the best teams in the Southwest battled every inch of the way.

The final score was 30 to 26. Paid admissions set a new record for basketball attendance in West Texas. The Palo Pinto girls took the lead and held it through the first half, but consistent scoring in the final periods by the Dimmitt girls brought them victory.

This is the first time in history that an A. A. U. girls basketball championship has rested in the Panhandle. C. A. Pryor is superintendent of the Dimmitt schools and Miss Myrtle Woodfin is coach of the girls. Members of the winning team are Ona Fae Smith, Irene Waggoner, Gertrude Wesson, Evelyn Blanton, Sesters Brooks, Dyer, and R. Waggoner.

Slaton Article Commented on by Press, People

(From the Hereford Brand)
The open letter addressed to citizens of Deaf Smith and Slaton counties by Judge John P. Slaton, published in the Brand on March 5, has not only created much local favorable discussion, but the article was carried in full by several newspapers of this section. The State Line Tribune, Farwell, and Sentinel, Vega, approved the sentiment expressed and passed it on to their readers as applicable to their territories.

Judge Slaton, who is president of the Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Hereford bar, took the position that Deaf Smith and Castro counties would have to pay for good roads whether they built them or not. He pointed out that the state bond issue seemed a certainty and these counties would be called on to pay through the gas tax a share of all other bonds which counties have voted for paved roads.

He suggested that these counties might as well get ready to hold out their hands for a refund in line with a big string of East Texas counties that were already crowding up close to the cashier. The way to get ready, he said, is to vote local bonds for paving, and when the time comes to have the State take them up.

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Weir visited Hereford Monday.

Net Result—A One-Ton Shark

When fishermen on the good ship Natalie II hauled in their net off Boston one day recently they were greeted by this 2000-pound shark instead of the expected catch of cod fish. After a long struggle, in which the boat was nearly wrecked, the big fellow was killed. Here's the prize catch being exhibited in Boston by members of the crew.

Music Festival Draws Lovers of Music This Week

AMELITA GALLI-CURCI

The Panhandle Music Festival will be staged in Amarillo this week, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Besides the contest feature which makes the festival one of the greatest conventions of musicians in the Middle West, there will be two great artist attractions under directions of Emil F. Myers of the Amarillo College of Music.

Thursday night the famous Fisk Jubilee singers will appear in concert. They are original exponents of negro spirituals.

On Friday night music lovers from the entire Panhandle will have opportunity to hear the most noted soprano in the world, Galli-Curci. Her encores include "My Old Kentucky Home," "Swanee River" and "Home Sweet Home". Entries of Ralph Smith, school band director, are Marvin Knox, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Knox, trombone solo; and Carl Spratt, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Spratt, French horn solo.

So far as could be learned by the Brand the only piano contestant from Hereford will be Aurelia Hoffman, age 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hoffman. Aurelia is a pupil of Miss Frances Oberthier. She won a blue ribbon last year at the annual meet, having had only seven months' training.

RED TAG ASSURES SEED IS PROPERLY CERTIFIED

Austin, March 17.—Persons desiring state certified planting seed were warned by R. V. Miller, seed certification chief in the department of agriculture, to demand that each seed bag bear the red tag, showing the imprint of the state seal and signed by state officials.

Reports received here were that seed has been offered for sale and designated "Registered Seed", "First Year from Certified Seed" and other phrases apparently intended to confuse the purchaser and create the impression that the seed were state approved. Miller said a list of certified breeders may be obtained from him.

VEGA CALLS ELECTION TO VOTE WATER BONDS

Vega, March 18.—An election has been called here for April 13 to vote on a $25,000 bond issue for installing a water system. Vega is looking to the future and plenty of water is needed for beautifying the town, reducing fire insurance rate and providing water for domestic and industrial purposes.

Santa Fe Gives Rail Work Jobs To Hereford Men

(From the Hereford Brand)
A crew of 125 men started Monday morning out of Hereford laying 110-pound steel to replace the 90-pound on the Santa Fe railroad between here and Canyon.

It has been announced that the Hereford territory has been allotted the greater share of jobs, 55 men out of the 125. Amarillo was allowed 25 and Canyon 45.

The cost of the work, including materials and labor, will amount to $432,000, of which a big per cent will be for labor. J. B. Raymond, roadmaster, is in charge, and he says he has plenty of men, with a long waiting list of perhaps 200. The reconstruction work will require several months, although it is stated that the track-laying crew will be able to handle close to a mile a day where no switches are encountered.

Rails and ties have been strung for some time along the right-of-way, and most of the other material has been assembled in the yards at Hereford, present operating headquarters.

The company operates a mess car and sleeping quarters, but most of the grocery supplies to feed the men will be purchased from dealers along the road, it is claimed.

Claims Drop of Creosote Will Kill Dandelion

(From the Hereford Brand)
Every man or woman who shows Americans how to save work is a hero or heroine. Every householder in Hereford who has tried to have a beautiful lawn can testify to the hard labor involved in eradicating the prolific dandelion from the landscape.

Now comes Mrs. C. A. Skelton with a sure-fire method that routs the dandelion, and the laudable feature is that Mr. Dandelion is made to yield up the ghost in such an easy manner.

A drop of creosote or sheep-dip, from the smallest kind of oil can, upon the bud or bloom of the dandelion will kill the plant and not harm the soil or any other vegetation, according to Sank Ramey and Harry Sherrick, credible witnesses, who tried out the method upon suggestion of Mrs. Skelton. Mrs. Skelton says this prescription has been thoroughly tested in Portales and found to be a satisfactory procedure.

Mr. Ramey is authority for the statement that ten cents worth of creosote or sheep-dip and a tiny oil can will do the work on the ordinary yard. He began acting upon the plan two weeks ago and none of the dandelions treated have shown any signs of reviving.

As Relief Plane Sighted Marooned Fishermen

This is not a scene of a lost expedition in the Arctic but an aerial view of a group of fishermen just before their rescue on Lake Erie, where they were marooned on floating ice. The plane, sent out from Buffalo, N. Y., located the men and found crude signs "EATS" and "HELP" which they had formed on the ice with pike poles. After dropping a big can of steaming coffee by parachute, the pilot directed U. S. Coast Guard boats to the scene, where the rescue was effected. Note the canvas windbreak in the center, about which the men huddled.

Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

March 22, 1931

THE USE AND ABUSE OF GOD'S GIFTS (Temperance Lesson)

Luke 12:16-21, 41-48

Golden Text: Be not drunken with wine, wherein is riot, but be filled with the Spirit.—Eph. 5:18.

Introduction.

"Be not drunken with wine." Why not? Whose business is it whether I get drunk or remain sober? A question many a man in these recent years. The great modern crusade against alcoholic beverages, which reached a high peak in 1920 when the Eighteenth Amendment severed completely the relations between the liquor traffic and the government, has made prohibition the most discussed of all the social issues of our day. It is, therefore, fitting that the adults in church schools should face the question fairly, and consider their obligations in light of their pledge of allegiance to Jesus and his standards of living. It seems that there are three interested parties in every act of any individual. They are the one acting, society of which the actor is a member, and God the giver and sustainer of all. The drinking of intoxicating liquor and the accompanying drunkenness pertain to all three.

Man's Obligation to Society.
Society rightfully demands social living. We owe it to society to direct our personal affairs in such a way as to serve, and not injure, society. One's personal liberty ends where social welfare begins. A man has no right to poison his system with alcohol, and thus deprive children and wife of the necessities of life, lower his ability to serve those who pay him for services rendered, and further endanger the safety of fellow workmen by lack of acumen in controlling machinery, or driving automobiles on the highway. Society has a right to protect itself. The individual who disregards that right is inviting disaster, provoking the wrath of decency.

Keep from Covetousness.
Our immediate lesson springs from a request made to Jesus by one of his hearers, who asked the Saviour to command his brother to make a fair division of their joint inheritance. Christ immediately rebuked the man for his interruption of a religious discourse for the good of all by the intrusion of such a secular matter concerning only himself of all the throng. The man's egotism and self-seeking were apparent. He should have known that Christ's kingdom was not of this world, that he was not a judge or umpire in temporal matters. But though the interruption was unjustified, and crude in the extreme, our Lord, according to his wont, proceeded to turn it to good account, and drew from it one of the most weighty of his utterances, a saying that may well be made the keynote of our lesson. He went to the root of the man's spiritual malady by warning him, and all his hearers, to take heed, and keep themselves from covetousness.

"For," said he, "a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth."
The Self-Centered Rich Man.
"And he spake a parable unto them." The story was designed to show the folly of having one's happiness on material possessions. "Saying, The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully. He got his goods honorably, and not by iniquity, as do liquor-sellers. Christ did not condemn him for his industry and prudence, or for the amassing of wealth, but for his trust in his possessions, making his life consist in them. Abundance is not an offense in God's eyes. Our Lord came that we might have life and have it abundantly (John 10:10). God has promised to reward the faithful by opening the windows of heaven and pouring out such a blessing that there shall not be room to receive it (Mal. 3:10). But the material gift must not crowd out the Giver.

He did not plan to use his wealth for the joy, the comfort, and the elevation of others, but merely to heap up more wealth. He only wanted to "buy more fields to raise more corn to fatten more pigs to sell for more fields to raise more corn", etc., in an endless round. "He that loveth silver shall not be satisfied with silver; nor he that loveth abundance, with increase; this also is vanity" (Ecc. 5:10). Greed is an intoxication. To a boy a hundred dollars is fabulous wealth. He gets a hundred thousand dollars and still feels poor.

"Thou Foolish One." "But God said unto him." The fifth act of this awful tragedy; the flashing fall of the sword. "Thou foolish one." Man is forbidden to call another, "Thou fool" (Matt. 5:22), for man has not the wisdom to judge another; but God can say it, for he knows the heart. And surely this is the final folly, to rest all one's hopes upon a thing so evanescent as the bubble of worldly possessions. "This night is thy soul required of thee." "Thy life," that very soul which thou hast been congratulating on its assured and comfortable future in this world. Here is irony indeed. "And the things which thou hast prepared, whose shall they be?" Certainly not things, for "shrouds have no pockets," heaven has no bank for even the richest miser, there is no railroad or ferry to carry things across the black river.

Make Ready.

The remainder of this most impressive and solemn chapter carries and the thought of the searching parable we have just studied. Having pictured the tragically foolish life of the ordiling, our Lord turns to the blessed life of God's true sons. It is a life of trust, free from all anxiety, as free from care as the life of a flower or a bird. It is a life devoted to the kingdom of God, and not to the eating and drinking and other material interests that make up the kingdom of this world. We must eat and drink, of course, but if we seek first God's kingdom, God will gladly give it to us, and with it he will "throw in" whatever worldly goods are necessary to our real lives.

The Faith and Wise Steward.
"Who then is the faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall set over his household." The steward was the household manager, and the smooth running of the establishment depended upon him. To every one some stewardship has been assigned by Jesus, and all we have to consider in this life is not ease or wealth or honors, but the faithful performance of this stewardship. In the home, the Sunday school, the church services, and through the world-wide extension of missions and evangelism, the Christian's supreme work as a steward is to do what he can to dispense the bread of life.

"Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing." This is the Beatitude of the Faithful Stewards, to be added to the eight Beatitudes at the opening of the Sermon on the Mount. We win this blessing if we keep steadily and joyously about our God-appointed tasks, so that whenever Christ may return to earth he will find us so occupied.

The Unfaithful Steward.
"But if that servant shall say in his heart." It is not what we say with our lips that determine our lives, but what we say in our hearts. "My Lord delayeth his coming." Thus the fact that nineteen centuries have passed and still the Lord has not returned to earth has given men a false sense of securing; but each year and day of delay but brings the great event nearer, and during the nineteen centuries uncounted millions, though Christ has not come to them in judgment, have been taken before him.

"The lord of that servant shall come in a day when he expecteth not, and in an hour when he knoweth not." He not only did not look for his lord's return, but scarcely for a time realized it when he did return, so dazed was he. "And shall cut him asunder." A not uncommon punishment in those fierce days, said to have been the mode of execution of Isaiah. "And appoint his portion with the unfaithful." His portion is death, the eternal death of the soul. Enslaving Power of Strong Drink. The warcy of the "wets" is "personal liberty". By it they win many foolish people who do not see the fallacy of the implied argument. In reality the Eighteenth Amendment is one of the noblest strokes for freedom ever made by any people, freedom from the slavery of strong drink.

"No ideal of the American people has been more sacred, since the first adventurers reached the eastern coast, than that of the pursuit of freedom. With scientific application fitting it to new knowledge and present day living conditions, it yet is as sacred as ever. The struggle against drink and its deadening hand on human personality through the ages may well be considered one of the ways of continuing the struggle for personal and group freedom."—Harry S. Warner.

NEWS OF THE FRONA PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Our Family Trio.

It can truthfully be said that everyone who has reached the age of maturity has at some time recalled some pleasant scenes when all the children of his particular family were living under the same roof, carefree and happy. Recently I was recalling some such scenes as I looked through our old family album, when I suddenly remembered that we used to have a family trio.

The trio was composed of two of my sisters and myself. I shall call my sisters by their nick-names which were Peggy and Pansy. Peggy played the piano and Pansy and I sang, she a deep, rich alto, I a high soprano. We knew a variety of songs—any kind for any occasion.

We always sang for the guests who came to visit us, because in our little village there was not much amusement for our friends and relatives who came to spend a holiday with us. If we were very personally acquainted with the guest we sang the songs which we were sure he liked. If not, we dared not sing until we had found out by some scheme the kind he liked. Our greatest problem in the guest line was singing for the ministers of the gospel who came to visit our family. We had learned that some preachers liked sacred songs, and that some liked the fastest jazz; so we knew not whether to sing Sweet Hour of Prayer or Hinky Dinky. We usually struck a happy medium by first singing Annie Laurie. After this song the guest usually requested a certain song or gave us a clue as to what to sing next.

The guests that we dreaded and fled from most were the lady friends of my mother. When some of them requested that we sing, I am afraid that we consented half sulkily. These garrulous females could not refrain from gossiping while we were singing, and everyone in the room would be deeply interested in the latest scandal and would forget that we were singing for their entertainment. If there was anything that we detested it was furnishing music for someone else to talk by!

At intervals, when we had no company, we would gather around the piano to sing for our own amusement. Such hours usually ended with a very unpleasant dispute. Pansy would want to sing How Do You Do? and Peggy, who was deeply in love, would want to sing something sentimental, like Let Me Call You Sweetheart. Our mother would tell them that there was time enough to sing both and would plead with them not to be so rude with one another. Often in the midst of a song mischievous Pansy would give me a punch with her elbow and wink out of the corner of her eye. I knew this to be a signal that we would sing one of our own compositions next. Peggy, with her back turned to us, would know nothing of our intentions. When she would start playing Yearning Just for You, we would burst out singing something more to our liking.

The Snow Storm.

As I was sitting by my window reading one of Poe's short stories, I was suddenly aroused by the whistling of the wind through the trees. Glancing up I found that the wind had turned to the north and was sending dust and weeds swirling. Thus roused from my reverie I decided I would watch and see what this would bring about, knowing that when there is a change in the weather, as had been the morning, it was usually followed by a blizzard. It was not long until I was assured that it would be the case.

Soon a few drops of rain, which turned to sleet and snow, fell. I sat and watched these crystal-like flakes which were whirling so thick and fast that I could see a very short distance in front of me. Soon the earth was covered with a blanket of white. But, lo! it was not long for it to stay thus, because the wind began to come in great gusts and drifted the fallen snow, leaving places on the ground in contrast with white.

The storm was still raging terrifically at nightfall, and the fierce arctic curved around every windward stake and tree, speeding his words with a care, all through the night.

The next morning when I arose I found that the wind had abated and that a few lonely snow flakes fluttered lazily to earth. Soon the sun came out, making the snow drifts look like so many mounds of precious jewels bestowing their beauty upon the earth.

Clark and Otis Club.

Friday, March 3, the geometry club had their regular monthly meeting, and averaged their grades. The Clarks beat the Otises by three points.

We intend to win at the county tournament this year because over half of the class is making A's. There will be two of the best members of the class chosen to compete in the county. Mr. Conway thinks we will win because the geometry class of 1930-31 is the best all-round class he has ever taught.

At the first of the year we made nine objectives to accomplish during the year, and so far we have done so. The nine objectives are:

1. To win county contest.
2. Never to give up any problem worth while.
3. Make class work a pleasure, not a drudge.
4. Think things through for ourselves.
5. Do our work neatly.
6. Do work on time.
7. Fill in last page of book with A's and B's.
8. Organize Geometry Club.
9. All pass course.

We mean by the seventh objective that there are starred exercises and challenges all through our book, and if we work them without help we may put an A in the back of our book. If we need help we get a B or C.

Seventh Grade.

Last Friday afternoon the two seventh grades met together in the auditorium and were entertained by several musical numbers. A concert solo was given by Clyde Sherrieb, who is going to Amarillo this week to enter a contest. The following people gave their declamations: Golding, Virginia, Ruby, Lora, Nadeen, John and Mildred.

We had a debate between the Seventh A and Seventh B. The Seventh B took the affirmative side, and their speakers were Eddie and Inell. The Seventh A took the negative. Their speakers were Ruby and Glen. The affirmative won the debate.

DEVOTED TO THE INTEREST OF FRIONA AND PARMER COUNTY.

VOLUME 5—NUMBER 36.

FRIONA, PARMER COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MARCH 27, 1931.

$1.50 PER YEAR

Our Viewpoint by L. E. B.

PAVING '60'

Parmer county is in a very fortunate position regarding Highway 60, inasmuch as it traverses the entire length of the county in a diagonal direction, giving us many miles of that highway and three of the 13 Texas towns on it. That fact alone will bring Parmer county more than the usual county share of the money which will be spent by travelers passing over this road. Then another thing: Quite a few of these travelers are potential investors. They are people who if favorably impressed with our country may buy land and locate here. Numerous well-to-do Northern farmers take their families and spend the winter in warmer climates, in California, Arizona and South Texas. If these people think well of our country, if they think we are modern and growing, it is highly probable that some of them may want to invest in our lands and either farm them themselves, rent them out or start their older sons in business.

Then, too, for our own convenience, and because we will never have to pay for these bonds, we should vote bonds to pave this highway. Every visitor who is favorably impressed with a county is a good perpetual advertiser for that county. The very best kind of an advertiser because he will boost for you and tell others about what a wonderful place Parmer county is. If someone were to come to you with a new and modern automobile and say: "If you will sign a note for this car I will turn it over to you and pay the note myself." would you accept? You bet you would, and that is exactly what the State of Texas is offering the counties today. Even if this amendment were not to pass (and there doesn't seem to be any possibility of its failing) the gas tax from this designation and advertised national highway would be sufficient to pay for it. It is up to the people of Parmer county to either accept this free gift of a modern paved highway and vote the bonds or take no action and pay for some other county's roads.

About our letter contest: We have been besieged the past week with inquiries about the kind of letters we want. That is up to the people who submit them. You may pick the town, you choose and write a letter in favor of it. Letters in favor of Farwell and Bovina will receive the same careful consideration as those in favor of Friona. The judges will be impartial and will judge the letters according to the points brought out in them. We have not chosen the judges yet because this contest is open to everyone. We will choose the judges from those who do not take part and have no axe to grind in this matter. Such asinine epistles as printed in the State Line Tribune last week will not be accepted as entrants for two reasons: First, because they are not a brief in favor of any town; second, they must be submitted to the editor of the Friona Star—not the State Line Tribune. If the readers of the Star prefer we will be glad to send these letters to the head of the department of Political Economy at the University of Texas for judging. We assure you of impartial judging and that if you can find more points in favor of Farwell than someone else can in favor of Friona, you will win the prize. If "Ananias" wants to write a letter in favor of Farwell, let him do so and sign his own name to it.

We heard a rumor this week that Farwell is all wrought up over our map showing them to have a population of only 300. They claim 700. That would make good data for a funny paper. We received our information from one of the county officials some time ago. In a conversation we asked him what the population was and he said that it was not over 300 in the city limits. According to the number of occupied houses that would be about right. Now in last week's scandal sheet "Ananias" comes out with the assertion that Farwell has a population of 700. He claimed that the U. S. census gave them that many. Well, we wrote to Mr. Unger, supervisor of this district, whose headquarters are in Plainview, for the correct figures. He sent us an official report which gives the population of Farwell

Committee to Handle Farm Loans Ready

The federal drought relief committee in Parmer county is now ready to handle loans for the farmers of this county. Supplies and information have arrived and farmers who desire these government loans should call at the Friona State Bank or at the office of M. A. Crum where the committee is ready to receive applications and help the farmers in every possible way. Money will be loaned for nearly every farm purpose in limited amounts and under certain conditions, the details of which are too bulky to be printed in this article, but it is sufficient to say that if the government can be assured a good lien it will loan money for seed, feed, food and farm machinery repairs sufficient to last until July 1. Those farmers needing aid should apply at once for it will take from a week to ten days to have the loans approved and for the government check to return here.

Lottie Moon Circle.

Lottie Moon Circle met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Curry, with ten present, one new member, and one visitor. An interesting Royal service program was rendered, after which we had a lesson in the W. M. U. manual, taught by the pastor.

The meeting will be held next Tuesday with Mrs. Stevieck. All W. M. U. members are urged to attend.

REPORTER.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Howard and little adopted son, of Monroe, Texas, came Saturday to visit Mrs. Howard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Drake, returning home Sunday evening.

Mrs. Pete Buske and Mrs. Smoky Price visited friends and relatives in Lubbock and Abernathy Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Maurer and Mrs. J. C. Wilkison were business visitors in Lubbock Tuesday.

W. C. Lynch of Muleshoe was transacting business in Friona on Tuesday.

Mrs. A. P. McLeroy left Tuesday for Fort Worth where she will visit friends and relatives for some time.

As 479 persons, but, to have that many people they would have to average around 15 persons to an occupied dwelling. Really, when you get right down to brass tacks, Farwell and Texico are only one town, divided by the state line. Together they are a really good town. They live together, they work together, they vote together, and they evidently enumerate their census together.

We are really sorry that we made a mistake of 179 in giving Farwell's population, but even at that we did not make as much of a mistake as "Ananias" did. He was over 221. After this when anyone wants to know Farwell's population, just remember that the census gives it as 479.

If Farwell is going to claim a population of 700, Friona should make claims to 1500, for it is at least twice as big. It don't take figures—only eyesight—to see that.

Wouldn't it be a wonderful thing for Farwell if Friona would refrain from asking for the county seat. They might even be willing to admit we had a population of around 256 and are located in Parmer county for other than tax purposes.

Farwell's only claim to the county seat is that we would have to build a new court house which would cost some money, which we can't at present afford. That is true. But nobody is being asked to vote bonds at present. Of course we can't afford it this year. However, a more centrally located county seat would increase the selling value of Parmer county lands four times what it would cost to build a fine three-story court house.

Our Merchants

MARINELLO BEAUTY SHOPPE

The Marinello Beauty Shoppe and the Post Office Barber Shop are operated by Lorene and "Fat" Hughes in the space formerly occupied by J. J. Horton in the post office building.

Mrs. Hughes formerly operated her beauty shop in Smoky's barber shop when it was in the building now occupied by the City of Friona and John White, tax collector for the city and the Friona Independent school district. She is equipped with modern equipment to give your face and hair the best of care and specializes in facials, shampooing and finger waving.

Mr. Hughes, who was formerly a barber in Smoky's shop, has purchased his own equipment and installed a chair in the front of the beauty parlor. He is quite a favorite among the ladies, when it comes to haircutting, and the convenience of being able to get their hair cut and set in the same place by these expert operators is appreciated by them.

Mrs. E. H. Gschler, who is visiting her mother and father in Abilene, reports a very delightful time there, but misses Friona.

"RAIN OR SHINE" AMUSES AUDIENCE AT TEXAN THEATRE

The endlessly surprising Joe Cook triumphs over the talkies in his debut in "Rain or Shine", which Columbia Pictures have ably transferred from stage to screen. It opened at the Texan theatre yesterday and received a tremendously enthusiastic reception.

Joe Cook is an amazing personality. He is something distinctly different and altogether refreshing. He is an aggregation of stars. When single handed he attempts to replace the entire personnel of a three-ring circus, and does it successfully, too, the spectators' emotions were a compilation of hilarity and amazement.

The big cast of movie stars, including Louise Fazenda, Jean Peers, William Collier, Jr., Alan Roscoe and Adolph Milar, acquit themselves most creditably. Louise Fazenda plays one of those exaggerated comedy roles for which she is famous. It is a masterpiece in caricature. Teamed with the ridiculous antics of Tom Howard, it is a delight to behold. Frank Capra, who achieved great success for his direction of "Submarine", and "Flight", also "Ladies of Leisure", displays further strokes of genius in screencraft for his masterly handling of the picture.

See "Rain or Shine" for great entertainment. It is the silliest, smartest, most diverting and devastating comedy ever portrayed on the screen.

Ernest Batie was in Hereford Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Masbery and son visited in the Otto home Monday.

Freak Weather Brings Snow, Hail and Rain

Wednesday Friona was visited by a spell of weather that brought all three types of moisture to this vicinity. In the early morning a hard south wind, bitterly cold, started blowing and continued throughout the day.

At first the wind carried a small amount of snow which at times changed to rain and sleet with a few hailstones. The warm ground melted the snow and sleet as soon as it fell and the moisture went into the earth.

It seems certain that Friona will have good crops this year as rains have fallen at frequent intervals. These rains although averaging only about a half inch, have furnished sufficient moisture to get the ground in good condition and the wheat fields look to be in fine shape. Everyone is looking forward to abundant crops.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Howard and son, Marshall, of Monroe visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Drake Saturday and Sunday.

Friona C. of C. Meeting One of Great Interest

The Friona chapter of commerce met at noon Thursday at Mrs. Lillard's cafe in its regular fortnightly luncheon meeting to hear the report of Howard Morris, delegate to the Highway No. 60 meeting at Eald, Oklahoma, recently.

After the luncheon was over, Mr. Morris told of the interest manifested by the various towns along the route of this national highway and the benefits that would accrue to these towns were this Highway approved and paved. Statistics of the American Automobile Association quoted by Mr. Morris proved that the designation and marking of the highway would bring large sums of money to the Panhandle of Texas and more than enough gasoline tax money to pay for paying the nearly 300 miles of the highway which crosses the Texas Panhandle. He said that Mr. Elliott of Bovina, told him Bovina was anxious that Bovina, Farwell and Friona get together on the road matter and take some action as regards the paving of the same. The secretary was instructed to write Mr. Elliott that the Friona chapter of commerce was willing to cooperate with them in any way which they saw fit.

The meeting brought out the fact that the State of Texas is certain to assume all county road bonds and to pay for these bonds with the gasoline tax. Those counties which go ahead now and vote bonds will have paved roads at no cost to themselves but the counties which hesitate and wait until this law is passed will probably have to wait until some of the present bonds are paid. This may be as long as ten years and the sparsely settled counties with low voting strength will certainly have a long wait before any of their roads are improved, although they will be paying for improvements in other sections of the state. There does not seem to be any doubt as to the passage of the amendment and the counties whose inhabitants are wise enough to see the handwriting on the wall will immediately vote bonds to improve their roads instead of paying for the other fellows' and letting their own go.

Several of this community visited the workers meeting at Hereford Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell and son and Mr. and Mrs. Allen drove to Portales Wednesday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Crowder.

Miss Anna Mae Brewer and her cousin drove to Spearman Friday.

 The dairy judging team of the vocational agriculture department of the high school held highest position in judging Holsteins and took second place in the dairy judging contest at Lubbock Monday, in the annual judging competition conducted by Texas Tech for vocational agriculture students of high school in Texas.
 This team was composed of Edwin Holland, Marvel Upton, Rollie Orr and Paul Coneway. There were 30 teams entered in this division. Dublin, in Central Texas, won first. The Hereford boys, under B. H. Hopkins, instructor, led the entire Panhandle and West Texas.
 The poultry judging team which made the trip was made up of Jack Cartwright, Claudell Sikes, G. C. Hartman and Spaulding Bartley. Full report on this department had not been released Tuesday. G. C. Hartman placed third in the standard perfection examination. In the dairy division Edwin Holland was second high point man in judging Holsteins.

(From the Hereford Brand)
 The Presbyterians and Baptists were victors Saturday night over their opponents in the inter-church basketball tournament, no age limit, now in progress.

The Christians were defeated by the Presbyterians 17 to 29; and the Baptists set the Methodists back quite handsly, 25 to 17.

The next games, a double-header, will be played at the high school gym Friday night, starting at eight o'clock. There is no admission charge. There was a big crowd out Saturday night to cheer their favorites, and a larger attendance is expected Friday evening. The games will continue until a champion has been decided upon a percentage basis.

Isaiah 35:5-10

5. Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped.

6. Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb sing: for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert.

7. And the parched ground shall become a pool, and the thirsty land springs of water: in the habitation of dragons, where each lay, shall be grass with reeds and rushes.

8. And an highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called the way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those; the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein.

9. No lion shall be there, nor any ravenous beast shall go up thereon, it shall not be found there; but the redeemed shall walk there.

10. And the ransomed of the Lord shall return; and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads; they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

6. Jesus the World's Teacher.—Luke 6:27-42. Golden text: As ye would that man should do to you, do ye also to them likewise.—Luke 6:31.

7. Jesus the Friend of Sinners.—Luke 7:36-50. Golden text: Faithful is the saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners.—I Timothy 1:15.

8. Jesus Bearing the Good Tidings.—Luke 8:1-15. Golden text: He went about through cities and villages, preaching and bringing the good tidings of the kingdom of God.—Luke 8:1.

9. Jesus Sending Forth Missionaries.—Luke 9:1 to 10:24. Golden text: The harvest indeed is plentiful, but the laborers are few; pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest that he send forth laborers into his harvest.—Luke 10:2.

10. The Good Samaritan.—Luke 10:25-37. Golden text: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.—Leviticus 19:18.

11. Jesus Among Friends and Foes.—Luke 10:38 to 11:54. Golden text: Ye are my friends if ye do the things which I command you.—John 15:15.

12. The Use and Abuse of God's Gifts.—Luke 12:16-21, 41-48. Golden text: Be not drunken with wine, wherein is riot, but be filled with the Spirit.—Ephesians 5:18.

All of the twelve lessons of the quarter are taken from the first twelve chapters of the Gospel of Luke. As a historian, Luke gives an inspired record of the life of Christ in more definite chronological order than any other writer of the New Testament. However, in common with Matthew and Mark, he omits all reference to Christ's Judean ministry, which occupies a large part of the first year immediately following his baptism and temptation. Only in the Gospel of John do we find any record of this important part of Christ's life. Among the interesting events there recorded, and found nowhere else, we find the first miracle ever performed by Jesus, the changing of water to wine at the marriage feast in Cana of Galilee, John 2:1-11; the first cleansing of the temple, John 2:13-17; the well known interview with Nicodemus, John 3:1-9, and his conversation with the woman of Samaria when she came to Jacob's well to draw water and found Jesus sitting there weary by his journey, John 4:5-26.

In the first lesson of this quarter, we studied about the birth of John the Baptist, the forerunner of the Messiah, whose coming and mission were prophesied four hundred years before his birth, Mai. 3:1 and 4:5. In the second lesson we learn of the circumstances connected with the miraculous birth of Jesus; the appearance of the angels to the shepherds and the announcement of the "good tidings of great joy"; their hasty visit to Bethlehem where they found the virgin Mary and the divinely born child; the meeting of Mary and the child with the aged Simeon and Anna in the temple when Jesus was forty days old, and the visit of Jesus with his parents to Jerusalem when he was twelve years old, Luke 2:10-52.

Then we had the account of the baptism of Jesus by John in the river Jordan, the descent of the Spirit in the form of a dove and the voice from heaven saying, "Thou art my beloved Son." Soon after the baptism by John, "Jesus was led by the Spirit into the wilderness", and there, after fasting forty days, he was tempted of the devil. Unlike the first Adam, Jesus, the second Adam, successfully resisted the devil's enticements and overcame his threefold temptations.

In subsequent lessons, we saw Jesus, the Great Physician, who performed many miracles of healing, giving sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, cleansing to the leper, freedom to those possessed of devils, and bringing the dead to life. Also we see Jesus, the world's Great Teacher, who spoke as no other man ever spoke. We studied a brief extract from the greatest sermon ever preached, the Sermon on the Mount.—Luke 6:20-49. A more extended report of the same sermon is found in Matt. 5, 6 and 7.

We studied some of the wise teachings of Jesus in parables, as, for instance, the Parable of the Sower, telling of the four kinds of soils and the four different results of the seed sowing. Probably the best known and the most interesting of all the parables is that of the Good Samaritan, the story of the man on the "Jerusalem to Jericho" road, who fell among the thieves, who beat him, robbed him and left him half dead. Being found in that condition by his countrymen, they passed him by in neglect; but a Samaritan, a foreigner, finding the man in distress, tenderly cared for him at the expense of time, labor and money, and even at the risk of being made the victim himself of robbers. In this parable, Jesus gives us a concrete illustration of how we should act towards the needy and distressed; that our "neighbor" is any one that needs our help. We should imitate the example of Jesus himself as set forth in today's Golden Text:—"Who went about doing good". Let us obey the Saviour's injunction which gives point to this parable, "Go thou and do likewise".

OLD MAN WINTER GETS REVENGE

MABEL WIMBERLEY, English IV.

Old Man Winter, who seemed to be angry because the beautiful maiden Spring was slipping into his long-occupied place upon the earth, planned a way to get revenge. On the last day of February he struck a final blow in the form of a terrible snowstorm. Never before had he made the wind blow so hard, or the snow and sleet have such a freezing bitterness.

Scheming Old Man Winter chose a time when he could punish the most people—a Saturday afternoon. About two o'clock fluffy little snowflakes began chasing each other down from the heaven to the earth in a very pleasing manner. Farmers who needed supplies from town, continued preparing for the journey, thinking that the snow would soon cease falling or would melt as soon as it lodged on the soft, warm earth.

No so—Old Man Winter had a plan in the back of his head. He waited until the minute he thought he could do the most damage, then he struck a mighty wind, sleet and snow, which drove the grazing cattle into shelter and sent the barn-

SNOWSTORM

ALBERT CONEWAY, English III

A busy Saturday morning with a cool wind and sunshine as usual, gave no sign of a blizzard that was to go on record as the worst of its kind for the winter of 1930-31. Clouds calmly floated about as if wandering around for a sight-seeing trip until mid-day when they suddenly started to gather as if consulting whether to war or stay at peace with Old Sol. The result of the consultation certainly must have been the former question mentioned because they immediately took a desolate, blackish look and merged into one vast body completely covering the heavens as if to make a smoke screen to hide their poisonous work from the sun. They struck, then blew to mother earth instantly with a strong wind from the north. Accompanying this wind was a mixture of sleet and snow which could not be called either. At first the mist came down in fine-sized crystals, but as the storm increased they took a coarser form until by early nightfall they were ordinary sized snowflakes. As time went on the volume of the wind increased until it took double force to make headway against it. The temperature dropped lower and lower as night fell and by midnight it was not over ten degrees above zero. The storm continued to rage the entire night, but as morning neared, it quieted down until by daybreak it had completely subsided. What a morning! A vast area, at the disposal of your eyesight, completely blanketed with snow that glistened in the sunlight with great splendor. Everything seemed new with an inspired rigor to start all over in a clean, bright world. Such a scene as this gives one an inspiration to forget the scarred part and say: "Isn't this a wonderful world?"

Algebra Club.

The Tountons won over the Hawkes in the higher percentage of grades. The Hawkes gave the Tountons an entertainment Monday, March 25, at the railroad bridge west of town. It lasted from 4:00 until 7:00. After walking the rails and playing New York, in which the Hawkes won, refreshments of sandwiches, pickles, cakes and apples were served. Everyone enjoyed the entertainment to the utmost.

Aggies Prune Trees.

The agriculture class, seeing that the trees on the schoolground needed pruning, took up the study of tree pruning.

After the study was finished and the tools were made ready, we boys, under the direction of our instructor, Mr. Heath, started our work.

Most of the trees needed much work, but a few needed only the dead wood cut off.

A locust tree had worms in it called locust borers, and these worms will possibly spread to the other trees if the locust is not removed soon.

CLAUDE MILLER.

Sixth Grade.

In history we are having a baseball game. Last Friday row number one and row number two had a game. The score was six to nothing in favor of row number two. We are going to have some more baseball games this week.

Those on the honor roll in spelling last week were Virginia Weis, Bernice Rogers, Joyce Landrum, Vernell Glossup and Willie Ellen Coghill.

Football Season Is Nearing.

Next football season is drawing near, and it looks as if Friona will have one of her best teams.

Last season we won nearly half of our games. There is no reason why we should not win every game this coming season.

There is one thing that we will have to take into consideration first of all. We will not play football unless we play eligible men.

If we want to put Friona on the map we, as football players, should all try to make our grades. I want to remind the boys who expect to play that they will have to pass as many as three subjects, and that they have only seven more weeks in which to pass these subjects. You are in danger when you see C's coming up on your report card. My suggestion is that you try to raise these grades to B's and to A's.
