PLAN CLEAN-UP FOR CELEBRATION

Ladies Auxiliary B. C. D. Makes Extensive Plans for Improvement of City Park.

GET READY FOR JULY 4

Joint Finance Committee Meeting Outlines Plans for Legion Rodeo and Picnic.

Work is to begin immediately in putting the City Lake and Park in good shape for the big American Legion Picnic and Rodeo to be held there July 4th, and when present plans are carried out, the grounds will be in excellent condition for the events and crowds that are to be there on that day.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Board of City Development is making extensive plans for work in the park, and have approximately $500 to spend cleaning up the park. Part of this money has already been used for work on the grounds, but the majority of it still remains and plans are to be made at a meeting of that organization Saturday for the expenditure of the remainder of the money.

The improvements planned by the Auxiliary will be carried out mostly on the south side of the lake and west of the bridge. This part of the park is already dotted with large popular shade trees and weeds are to be cut and other work done there before the American Legion celebration.

A committee is at work, according to Mrs. Willard Gibson, president of the Auxiliary, in soliciting funds for the building of benches and tables to be placed in the park. Merchants are contributing to the fund and in return have advertisements of their business painted on the benches.

The finance committee of the American Legion here met with a committee from the Sweetwater Luncheon Club Wednesday afternoon and plans for the soliciting of funds to finance the celebration were discussed. Committees were appointed and the town divided into sections. Each committee began work Thursday for securing the necessary funds to stage a successful celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Cobb Wallace have moved here from Fort Worth and have taken an apartment on Locust street. Mr. Wallace has taken charge of the Wright Undertaking department.

Dime's Worth Of Pictures Proves Barnum Was Right

McPHERSON, Kas., June 19.—Albert Mattson of this city, a normal red-blooded American, and an admirer of beautiful women, recently read an advertisement in a well known periodical, to the effect that "pictures of ten beautiful women would be sent for ten cents," and he couldn't seem to get the ten cents sealed in the envelope quick enough.

He received a reply in a few days, feverishly tore open the envelope, and found the ten pictures as promised, but they had been roughly torn from magazines from the picture sections and advertising sections—and they were beautiful.

A letter accompanied the pictures, asking Mattson "not to get sore" as his was the 173rd reply answered. The letter went on to explain that Mattson should get some of his friends interested and "have the joke on them."

Weather.

Tonight and Friday partly cloudy, probable showers in Panhandle. Cooler in north portion.

BACKS HIS ENVOY

Premier MacDonald Says British See Nothing Objectionable in Action of Mexican Ambassador.

LONDON, Eng., June 19.—Premier MacDonald, speaking in the House of Commons this afternoon, vigorously defended the action of Herbert Cummins, British diplomat in Mexico City, whose expulsion has been ordered by the Mexican government.

"Cummins would have failed in his duty if he had not taken the diplomatic actions to which the objection was made," MacDonald said. "This government can see nothing objectionable in them. If the foreign officials of the world start objections to such communications, there can be no diplomatic relations."

HELD IN JAIL

Shooting Figures in Attention to Landlord's Wife.

A local man is being held by officers here after he was found guilty of drunkenness in Corporation Court Wednesday following an alleged wild ride to Abilene Tuesday night with the wife of his landlord.

The man, it is reported, was found first with the woman Monday night when her husband came from work and found the two together. A snappy shooting affray followed in which no one was injured, and the trip to Abilene followed Tuesday night.

A fine of $12.70 was made, and the man, unable to pay the fine, is in jail, awaiting a chance to work the fine out on the city streets.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Schöoler left Wednesday for a trip to Arkansas and other points east.

FEAR MINE WAR

Guards and Union Workers Said to Have Clashed in West Va.—No Known Casualties.

By The United Press. MORGANTOWN, West Va., June 19.—A gun battle was reported in progress between mine guards and union workers early today, following attempts to eject the workers from company houses.

The shooting is said to have started shortly after mid-night, and to have continued all night. No known casualties were reported, according to Morgantown police.

Correction.

The names of Mrs. J. S. Schöoler, organist, and Mrs. T. H. Hampton, chaplain, were through error omitted from the list of Eastern Star officers installed as published in Wednesday's Reporter.

The Eldorado Times says the Better Babies Contest in that city started off last week with a whoop.

PARACHUTE LEAP SAVES U-S FLIER

Steers Machine From Above Business District After His Motor Goes Wrong.

PARACHUTE CAUGHT ONCE

On Wing of Plane Plunging 5,000 Feet, Aviator Leaps From Unguided Machine.

DAYTON, O., June 19.—His plane plunging earthward from an altitude of 5,000 feet directly over the Dayton business district, Lieutenant John A. McReady, hero of the first non-stop flight across the continent, avoided a disastrous accident last night when he walked calmly out on the wing of the hurtling ship and stepped off into space supported only by his emergency parachute.

Then as he sailed into space, McReady watched his ship which he had just left fall to earth and explode just outside the city limits.

The parachute landed in the tree tops on the brink of a ravine, and after several calls, Lieut. McReady succeeded in arousing two men who were sleeping nearby, who came to his aid and cut him down.

The famous pilot was returning to McCook field here last night from Columbus at about 11 o'clock, when something went wrong with his motor, high above Dayton.

Realizing that his life depended upon gliding toward the outskirts of the city, and then leaping from the plane in a parachute, he steered the machine north, and when over an open space, got out of the cockpit to jump off.

Something caught, and he had to climb back. By this time the plane was plunging at a terrific rate. McReady walked out on the wing of the unguided plane, jumped off, and then pulled the ring that opened the parachute.

MOODY A VISITOR

Candidate For State District Attorney Meets Local Citizens Wednesday.

For the first time in many years a candidate for State District Attorney in the person of Dan Moody visited Sweetwater Wednesday afternoon, leaving for San Angelo. He was introduced to a number of local citizens by Ed Mays, local attorney. Mr. Mays was a college friend of Mr. Moody's.

Mr. Moody is district attorney of Travis and Williamson Counties where he has made a very interesting record in law enforcement. Concerning him the Houston Post said editorially:

"Genuine legal ability and the moral courage to enforce the law are the primary qualifications for an Attorney General of Texas. This is not an office for a mediocre lawyer or a political opportunist.

"In the candidacy of Dan Moody the people of Texas are accorded an opportunity to place in the office of Attorney General a man admirably fitted for its important duties.

"As a lawyer, Mr. Moody's ability is unquestioned. The bar of Texas regards him most favorably. Though still a comparatively young man, he has taken first rank among the solid, substantial lawyers of the State.

"As District Attorney of the district comprising Travis and Williamson Counties he has proven himself a fearless and successful prosecutor. In severe tests in that office, his courage and skill have made him conspicuous.

"Dan Moody is what he is today because of his own efforts. He has made his way by his own energy and ability. Left upon his own resources when very young, he battled his way upward against odds that would have crushed a less heroic and determined spirit. When he lacked funds for carrying him through the educational courses to fit him to pursue his chosen profession, he went out as a day laborer, and earned the money which paid for both his general and legal education."

DIE IN STORM IN NORTH DAKOTA

Cloudburst and 90 Mile Wind Sweeps From Montana to Minnesota—Many Injured.

ALL TRAFFIC HALTED

Railroad Embankments and Highways Washed Out—Dickinson, N. D., Worst Hit.

By The United Press.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 19.—Two persons were killed and heavy property damage resulted from a storm which swept across North Dakota and Minnesota early today.

Originating in Montana, the storm swept east, reaching its greatest intensity at Dickinson, in western North Dakota, where two were killed and 21 injured. Scores of buildings were wrecked at Dickinson and Eland.

The cloudburst which accompanied a 90-mile wind washed out railroad embankments and highways, blocking traffic west on the coast line of the Northern Pacific and stopping the Soo line north of Bismark.

HENDERSON CHILD KILLED

HENDERSON, Texas, June 19.—Effie Nunn, 13, was fatally injured when she was struck by an automobile as she was crossing the street here today. The child died shortly after she was taken to a hospital.

The driver of the car had not been found late today.

E. E. Weaver of Texarkana, candidate for six year term as Railroad Commissioner, was in Sweetwater Thursday in the interest of his campaign.

USE OF POISON

Mixture of Bran Mash and Mistakes Made in Hopper War Explained By A. & M.

Concerning the success of poison mash used against grass hoppers, and explaining some of the mistakes that are made in its mixture and application, the Extension Department of A. & M. College says:

While the poison mash advised for grasshoppers is obtaining generally good results, we have several complaints that it was ineffective. In every one of these instances we have found that directions in mixing and applying in some respect or other had not been carefully carried out. In one case the farmer had allowed the druggist to convince him that calcium arsenate would do as a poison instead of the white arsenic. Be sure that what you get is "white arsenic" or Paris Green.

In another instance the bran mash had been put out in piles over a small part of the field. The poison mash we have advised has been used for many years in many states and under all conditions and secures the best results when sown thinly and evenly over the entire infested area. Don't think that you have unusual conditions that require a departure from our recommendations.

In still another instance water taken from a barrel formerly containing creosote stock dip was used to mix the mash. The odor of creosote in this water was so pronounced as to repel the grasshoppers. Lemons are used to attract the insects to the bait, and the use of such water serves to neutralize this attraction.

Other mistakes are doubtless being made on various farms. The above instances will give point to our statement, expressed in our former letter, to "mix and apply bran mash exactly as directed, leaving out no part." We may add "and putting nothing else in."

Another thing to be said in connection with this formula is that results, as indicated by dead grasshoppers, should not be expected too soon. Very few grasshoppers die from the effect of the poison the first twenty-four hours, and it will not be until the second day that a great many dead grasshoppers are found. They will continue to die from the effects of poisoning for a week or more.

85 Year Old Civil War Vet Stops On Hike to California

Eighty-five years old, with silvery locks, undisturbed by barber tools since the Civil War, flowing over his shoulders, "Uncle" George W. Sherman, Georgia Confederate veteran, visited Sweetwater Thursday on his hike from his home in Barnesville, Ga., to Los Angeles.

"Uncle" George's blue eyes are as bright today as they were when he witnessed some of the hottest fighting in the Civil War. He carried a brief case, and sends a hand bag ahead of him. Leaving Fort Worth Tuesday, he was aided along the way by motorists, and arrived here Thursday morning.

"Uncle" hiked from his home to Memphis to the recent Confederate reunion, and made the journey from there to Fort Worth in 8 days. He expects to reach Los Angeles in November, where he plans to sell papers. He holds a record as a hiker, having gone on foot to Confederate reunions at Richmond, New Orleans, and Memphis.

REPORT GAS QUIZ

Federal Trade Commission Investigation May Mean Anti-Trust Prosecution.

By The United Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 19.—The Federal Trade Commission report on alleged profiteering in the gasoline industry, made at the request of President Coolidge, has been laid before the Department of Justice for appropriate action.

The report is believed to foreshadow anti-trust prosecutions, as it is being carefully studied by Augustus T. Seymour, assistant attorney general, and in charge of anti-trust prosecutions.

PARK IS POPULAR

Majority of Tourists "Seeing Texas First."

The Sweetwater Tourists' Park still holds its popularity with travelers and is crowded every night with parties who stop over to enjoy the conveniences offered here, chief of which are the free swimming and fishing at the City Lake.

Over twenty cars of tourists registered with Lake Keeper Reed Wednesday and Thursday, averaging over 100 people for the two nights.

Of the 20, nearly half registered were from Texas, and touring Texas and the "See Texas First" idea seeming to be very popular.

Included among the long distance travelers who stopped Wednesday night were L. W. Drake and party of four who are going to Fort Worth from Phoenix, Ariz., and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Shelby enroute to California from Lexington, Ky.

GAS BOMBS ENTER SENATE DISPUTE

Rhode Island Filibuster. Ends When Chlorine Gas Fumes Nearly Overcome Lt. Governor.

GOVERNOR BECOMES HERO

Discovers Papers Soaked With Chlorine—Fist Fights and Near Riots in Long Session.

By The United Press.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 19.—What is believed to have been poison gas was used today in an attempt to break the filibuster in the Rhode Island State Senate, which has been in continuous session since Tuesday at 2 p. m.

The deadlock is due to the Democrats' insistence that the Republican members vote in favor of a constitutional convention before the annual appropriation bill is passed, and the Senate adjourns.

The chairman refuses to recognize Republicans.

Fist fights, rioting on a small scale, and many humorous scenes, such as when Speaker Lt. Governor Toupen, Democrat, was shoved as he sat in his chair and watched the long drawn out battle, were climaxed today with the introduction of poison gas into the chamber.

About 7:45 this morning, those senators who were awake after the long night session noticed that the chamber was permeated by the strong odor of gas. One by one they started toward the door, but none left the room.

A few minutes later a reporter at the press table near the rostrum fell unconscious. The Lieutenant Governor, swaying on his feet with his head drooped forward, caught at one of his body guards to save himself from falling.

Two men ran from the chamber, crying for assistance and doctors. The Governor, in his office at the time, detected the odor of gas, and ordered the air, looking under tables and chairs, and finally found a bundle of wet papers under the Lieutenant Governor's chair.

Without waiting for further investigation, he ran from the chamber, throwing the papers in the corridor. The papers smelled of chlorine gas, and chemists have been sent for to analyze the liquid in which they were soaked.

Local Tom Mix, Spurs And All, Held As Vagrant

A young man who gave his name as Dick West but who looked more like Tom Mix was picked up Tuesday afternoon by Chief of Police Johnson after the would-be cowboy told a Sweetwater man that he was "not working but had plenty of ways to get money."

Dick was dressed in his boots and spurs, big hat and even carried a pair of cowboy chaps, to say nothing of a mammoth six-shooter that was loaded to the brim. He is being held by officer a charge of vagrancy.

SCOUT PROGRESS

Enthusiasm by the recent meeting at Hermleigh where members of the Buffalo Trail Council of the Boy Scouts held their first gathering for competitive scout work.

Sweetwater scouts tied for first place at the Hermleigh meet. If it is easier to back a winning team than a loser, we have everything in our favor for making the Sweetwater troupes the leaders of West Texas.

W. M. Elliott, president of the Buffalo Trails Council, reports that the number of council members at the Hermleigh meet was hardly as large as he would like to have seen.

"It would be great if all the council members could grasp the part hood and a greater world," Dr. Elliott said. "There is no agency working primarily with boys that is doing so great a work as is the Boy Scout movement."

POWER OF WEALTH

Can money do anything? Is the power of wealth greater than the law, and will it be able to smother two sons of millionaires from the gallows after they have confessed a brutal murder?

The power of wealth is on trial in Chicago, where money does most any thing.

thing. The second city of the United States has a hard time to so far as the ability of the silver lining to disperse the darkest cloud is concerned.

The cloud now hovering about Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb, "super intellectuals" who murdered a 14-year-old boy in cold blood, may be dispersed by a rift that will let through the shower of silver and gold.

The wheels of justice in Cook County, Illinois, lost no time in preparing for the prosecution of the sons of millionaires. Cook County is used to brutal murders. It has also had its share of student affairs recently.

Perhaps it was the fact that the sons of rich turned to crime that led the State's attorney, Robert E. Crowe, to take personal charge of the prosecution of Loeb and Leopold.

It is the opinion of many that the two murderers in this case should pay the supreme penalty for their crime. It is a certainty that if they are not convicted after they have confessed, the power of wealth will be proved greater than the power of law.

Young Leopold, in a telephone conversation with his parents after he had been placed in jail, attempted an air of indifference over the whole affair. "We have lots of dough," he remarked, "and we ought to be able to get out of this."

If the young men escape sentence, those who have plenty of "dough" may be led to believe that they are secure in their roles of jugglers of justice. Money can do most anything if it can clear Leopold and Loeb.

After the crime was committed, the murderers began shifting the blame for the blow struck with a chisel, that killed their victim. The first bold assertion that "we killed him" has now become a game of passing the buck back and forth in an effort to get out from under the shade of the hangman's noose.

Some years ago, "Ropes" O'Brien, state's attorney of Cook County, was famed for the number of men that he sent to the gallows. The name "Ropes" was given O'Brien because his prosecution of those guilty of crime punishable by death did not cease until every effort to send the guilty parties to the ropes on the death scaffold had been made.

Cook County and the nation will indeed be fortunate if state's attorney Crowe is enabled to give Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb, millionaire murderers, a dose of "Ropes" prescription.

OPEN MIND

On June 2, 1924, the school board of the Sweetwater Independent School District passed an order calling for an election in this school district to let the qualified property-tax-paying voters of this district pass on the question of whether the 50 cent tax shall be increased to 80 cents on the $100 worth of property.

The 50 cent tax has long been levied, and has been for a number of years—year after year—conclusively demonstrated to be too low to produce sufficient school money to run the schools in a first-class and efficient manner for the nine months required by law if Sweetwater is to have schools of recognized standing.

At two different public meetings in Sweetwater the proposition was endorsed to increase the school tax to an amount not to exceed $1.00 on the $100 of property, and on May 29 a petition signed by fifty or more property owning tax-paying voters of the district praying for an election on that proposition was duly presented to the board.

But the school board in its wisdom appeared to think that $1 was too much to authorize the board to assess and collect, though the proposition was to place the authority, on a sliding scale so that the actual rate would be fixed from year to year at any amount not to exceed $1, as would meet the needs of the school situation.

And so another petition was circulated and presented to the school board praying for an election to increase the old 50 cents to 80 cents, and the school board preferred to order an election on this petition and ignore the first petition.

The proposition as thus presented has its compensations. About two years ago when a proposition was voted down in this community to increase the tax rate to an amount which would run the schools properly and efficiently, there was serious opposition to the increase, although it had already been demonstrated that 50 cents was entirely too small a rate to run the schools properly.

But this year friends of the public schools in Sweetwater of all shades of opinion appear to be convinced that we must have more money if our schools are to be run as they should be.

Indeed the second petition, and on which the election was ordered, was signed by such well known and conservative tax payers as J. H. R. Lagow, J. H. Freeze, J. A. J. Bradford, Mose Newman, J. W. Millspaugh, R. A. Farland, E. W. Withers, J. Roe Bradford, S. V. Bullard, M. D. Willis, J.

Bray, and others, thus showing that these citizens having the welfare of our public schools and the community at heart are convinced that our schools must have more money to run on and are in favor of trying it out at 80 cents.

The difference between the propositions presented by the two different petitions is too small to quibble over. Every qualified voter in Sweetwater with the best interests of his community and its schools at heart should at once get in behind the proposition to carry the election for the increased tax rate. There may be no opposition to it, but the friends of the schools should take nothing for granted, and should not go to sleep on the job, but talk up, work up, and vote for, bigger and better schools in Sweetwater, and carry the election by a large vote.

Mrs. S. E. McCord entertained little children Tuesday afternoon, from 4:30 to 6:30 with a birthday party for her daughter, Barbara Ruthe, celebrating her third birthday anniversary.

On entering, each little guest went to a table, where they were assisted by Alma Ree Kent, writing their names and ages in a pink and white memory book.

The dining room was decorated in pink and white and in the center of the table there was a large white cake with three pink candles on it. After many games were played, the children were served ice cream and cake.

A picture was taken of the guests. Just before going home, each child was given a box of Cracker Jacks as a guest favor. All departed wishing Barbara Ruthe many more happy birthdays.
