Several Men Thought Lost to Squad Will Be in Lineup Friday in Opener Against Baird.

Football prospects at Sweetwater High School advanced materially Monday when Superintendent McLain received an interpretation of the intoto the squad, eligible this season.

According to the information reaching the superintendent, the rules requiring an attendance of more than half of last year's term, and credit for the preceding semester's work, will not be effective until the spring term of this year. This brings back into the line up several of Coach Gibson's men who would otherwise have Will Stapp, 60, Confesses Killing Sam ticles and pledges. been forced to watch the game from the side lines.

"I have received an official interpretation of the attendance ruling." McLain said, "and I have been unofficially notified from Abilene that neither rule will be effective until the spring term. This boosts our football chances about 250 per cent."

Students as well as members of the faculty were enthusiastic over the prospects of the season, and extra hard work for the members of the squad is in order for the remainder of the week, before Sweetwater opens the season at home Friday. .

Body of Truett Hunter, 7, Found in Water Hole After He Had Been Missing Several Hours.

MOTHER FEARED DROWNING

Had Premonition of Son's Fate-Boys Had Constructed Raft in Nueces Street Excavation.

After a lengthy search by frantic parents and many volunteers, the body of Truett Hunter, 7year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hunter, was found under 4 feet of water in a ditch on Nueces street near the Williams and Miller gin Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. L. G. Morony at the First Baptist Church Wednesday, with interment at the City Cemetery. The our of the funeral has not been set. The child was first missed at 4 o'clock and it was supposed by his parents that he was playing with the neighborhood children. He failed to return home at the supper hour, however, and a search for him was started. The mother of the boy had a premonition that he was drowned, it was stated, and she is reported as having told the searchers that he would be found in the water.

A search at the water hole revealed the child's shoes near the edge and the water was promptly dragged with a seine and the body was brought to the surface. The body had probably been under water for two or three hours, it was thought, and all efforts failed to restore life to the child. A pulmotor rushed from the fire station was used for two hours without avail. The details of the drowning are not known, but it is supposed that the child either went wading and got beyond his depth, or fell from a small raft that children had constructed for the tank.

MODERN EDUCATION

The old fashioned plan of giving girls education in only those matters pertaining to their house-wifely duties, such as cooking, sewing and making a home is now giving way to an education which will fit them to take an equal position with boys in the business world. Now girls have a chance to learn these subjects which pertain to business. In fact, the enrollment records of the Kansas City first week of school. schools show that the girls have even a better chance than the boys.

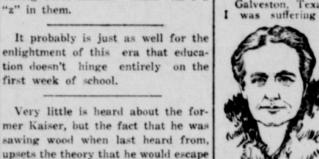

This year there are 7,424 girls enrolled in the high schools as compared with 6,864 boys, 560 more girls. Last year there were 842 more girls enrolled than boys.

These figures show that women realize that if they are to mingle in the business world they need and must have an education. The girls, who a few years ago, took courses in music and mainting, are now practic- Retail Food Prices Higher, Says Dept. writers and trying to reeir shorthand symbols.

out of life, whethe Adapted by Sada Cowan and How ard Higgin from the Saturday Evening Post story "Roles," by Elizabeth Alexander, "Changing Husbands" unfolds the tale of a rich young wife, eager for a career, who secretly changes places with an actress who resembles her. The husband, none the wiser, falls passionately in love with the actress. The wife loses her heart to the fiancee of the actress. Here then is a situation that leads to all sorts of complications to the embarrassment of the characters involved but which the audience finds hugely entertaining. As a matter of fact the plot is replete with so many surprising developments and unexpected turns, so crowned with incident and action that you'll want to keep your eyes glued to the screen for fear of missing something.

Leatrice Joy, who enacts the dual role of the rich young wife and her double, the actress, rises to heights never before reached in any of her former screen plays. All of the delightful personality of this talented artist is brought to the fore, and it is difficult to choose between her portrayal of the society matron and her characterization of the actress. Victor Varconi, Raymond Griffith, ZaSu Pitts, Julia Faye, Helen Dunbar and William Boyd make up the excellent supporting cast. Frank Urson and Paul Irbe, as associate directors, produced the picture, and Cecil B. De Mille personally supervised it.

Showing the Newest FALL COATS

For Ladies, Misses, Children

Fall has never found this store so well prepared to meet the needs of the changing season. The newest in fashion is here and at the customary low price so appealing a feature of Jones Dry Goods Co.

A visit to our Ready-to-Wear Department will find Mrs. Rankin, formerly of the Ladies Store, in charge. She will be glad indeed to show the large array of coats here for women, misses and on down to the wee kiddies.
