JUST AS EXPECTED

General Mitchell has had another vindication. Forty-four anti-aircraft guns on eleven dreadnaughts have failed to hit eight sleeve targets which were towed by airplanes above the battlefleet. If the targets had been enemy planes, unopposed by an air force, they could have been blown out of the water for all the anti-aircraft guns could have done to save them. At the same time an attacking air fleet had no difficulty at all registering hits upon targets in the water. This repeated demonstration of the superiority of an air fleet as an attacking force ought to overcome the last objections of admirals and generals toward plans that will give larger attention to the demands of the air service for recognition. At any rate it is not an issue that can be put at rest by demoting General Mitchell and sending him "to the woods".

Advertising Mortalities

Denton Record Chronicle: Asserting that failure to maintain advertising appropriations is one of the poorest pieces of finance an established business can indulge in "a syndicate writer proceeded to prove it by citing several instances where cessation of advertising of advertised articles has brought disaster to the producer."

Two of his citations are to St. Jacob Oil and Pyles Pearline, both of which only a generation ago were among the

no, no-darken gray hair

Don't let gray hair suggest age. It often comes long before age is due. Keep your dark hair glossy. Keep it looking like a girl's. The way is quick and easy.

Do it, if you wish, like the women of old times—by brewing sage tea and adding sulphur and alcohol. But there is now a better way.

The preparation is ready-made. It has some additions of great value. All druggists supply it under the name Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound.

It is not sticky or greasy. It is easy to apply. The results are quick, and so even, so natural that nobody knows you have used it.

This old way is still the best way to darken gray hair. Generations of women have used sage tea, but never so many as today.

Apply it at night as directed, and morning brings an amazing change. Apply it once or twice more and the hair returns to the darkness, the luster, the softness of youth.

The cost is a trifle—not more than 10 cents for every year that it makes you look younger. Think what that means to you.

LATEST EGYPTIAN RELICS BROUGHT TO UNITED STATES BY PROFESSOR REISNER

New relics of Egypt's ancient civilization, brought back recently by Prof. George A. Reisner, head of the Boston-Harvard archaeological expedition that has uncovered the sarcophagus of Princess Nebti-Senerfu, 5,000 years old, near the great Pyramid of Gizeh. The two heads at the feet of the statues in photos are the most prized in his collection; that at the left is beautifully carved of alabaster; that at the right, of wood.

most widely advertised and consequently most widely known articles of commerce.

When the head of the St. Jacob's Oil business died an "expert" was brought in. He went over the expense sheets, saw the heavy advertising appropriations and proceeded to "save at the spigot". He reasoned that the product was already so well known there was no need for further advertising (just as one finds merchants who think their business is too old and well known to need advertising), and the advertising, then one of the biggest appropriations in America, was cut to a negligible sum. That was less than a generation ago. Today not one in 50 will remember there ever was such a product.

At far back as 1904 Pyle's Pearline was spending an advertising appropriation of $500,000 a year. "The ad fund was 'lopped off', the business was dead" says the writer. "It tried unsuccessfully in 1914 to stage a come back but it failed and the plant—once possibly the best known in the world—was sold as junk to a soap dealer. Makes out a rather strong case, doesn't he?"

CHITWOOD

It is with extreme pleasure that this section welcomes R. M. Chitwood, who so ably represented it in the current session of the Legislature. Not only was he chairman of the very important Prison and Educational Committees in the House but in numerous ways it was demonstrated that his service to Texas were of extreme value. Representative Chitwood is very capable of higher things in a political way and his friends can do no greater service to him or to Texas than to see that opportunity comes his way along these lines.

The tourist is out in full force again. California, Colorado and New Mexico are starting their pilgrimages on the annual tract eastward. And before long the Easterners will head their camp cars westward. 'S'funny how people always want to spend the summer summer's eve.

Correct this sentence: "Riches won't save him now" said the man in the street: "he has broken a federal law."

FLAT TIRE JOINS

Brothers Separated 27 Years Reunited By Puncture

PORT ARTHUR, March 30.—Many incidents have contributed to the reunion of relatives after years of separation, but it has been left to a punctured tire to reunite two brothers after being lost from each other 27 years.

Stopping to help a brother traveler in tire distress on the Port Arthur-Beaumont highway, Charles Ashburner, Dallas salesman, thought he heard a familiar note in the voice of the man in trouble.

Comparison of notes revealed that the stranger was Thomas E. Ashburner, San Jose, California, returning to his home after getting first glimpse of gulf waters.

Mrs. Carl Ragland and son Carl Brand, returned Sunday afternoon from a weeks visit at Hamlin with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Brand and family. Mr. Ragland went over Saturday and returned with them.

The Days of the Hand Fed Press Are Gone

The new high speed automatic press now being installed by the Sweetwater Reporter in its Commercial Printing Department feeds itself. A pile of onionskin tissue paper or a thick heavy booklet cover look alike to it. Its appetite is huge. It will take a stack of 2,500 sheets of paper and devour it in an hour.

It will take your message and convert it into a thing of printed beauty—whether it be your letter-head, catalogue, booklet or other printed matter, in one or more colors. Give it a chance and it will serve you as you have never been served in this section before.

Let the master printers of the Commercial Department of the Reporter work with you—in layout, design, in preparing copy and in the delivery to you of printed matter that is of the highest quality—in every way worthy of you.

The pupils of the Valley Creek school are in the midst of monthly exams this week. Excitement is running high over who shall be class winner at the close of school, and as each first-rank in class is a step towards that goal, all are trying for the first rank.

At the end of each month, the students who rank first in class that month, have a blue star placed on his report card. The student receiving second place gets a red star. A blue star counts two points while a red star counts one point. Class honors will be determined by the number of points a student scores through the term.

At the close of the year, the first honor pupil has a large gold star placed on his report card, besides, he represents his class on "Class Day" at the close of school.

The second honor pupil has a large silver star placed on his card.

The pupils like the contest spirit, and they accomplish more, it seems, when they can see a definite goal ahead.
