MARY JANE'S ERRY JOURNEYS N THE ENCHANTED FOREST

Mary Jane falls in love with the Cigno Salvatico

He told Mary Jane he had never tasted anything so delectable

N a lake near the Royal Palace in the Enchanted Forest lives Cigno Salvatico, a magnificent snow-white Swan, the favorite of the Queen.

One day, as Mary Jane was strolling through the Queen's flower gardens just on the edge of this lake, the Swan sailed by her, moving over the water like thistledown on the air. "Oh lovely Swan," called out Mary Jane, "What would I give to be as beautiful and graceful as you!"

"Now that's very sweet of you, Mary Jane, to say such pretty things of me," re-plied the Swan. "You also are to be envied, for everybody loves you."

"I wish I lived on the edge of this lake so that I might see you all the time. I love you, beautiful Swan," declared Mary Jane. "But you seem to be looking for something. Can I help you find it?"

Then the Swan sailed close to the shore and invited Mary Jane to take a ride on his back. On the way he told her quite confidentially that he got really very tired of eating grass all the time and wished that someone would throw him a few grains of corn once in a while.

So Mary Jane took a bun from her basket spread with a good thick layer of rich MARY JANE SYKUP and gave it to the Swan. He told Mary Jane he had never tasted anything so delectable.

That was because I spread delicious MARY JANE SYRUP over it,"said Mary Jane. "The Queen is a very good friend of mine and I am sure if she knew you loved MARY JANE SYRUP so much she would get some for you. I shall ask her to keep it always just for you, dear Swan."
