FORD ADDRESSES LUNCHEON CLUB

Mayor Elect Pledges Self Toward Building of Sweetwater, Invites Co-Operation

PLAN FOR MINERAL WELLS

Luncheon Club Takes Proposition In Hand-Retiring Mayor Boothe And Chitwood Speak

Addresses by Representative R. M. Chitwood, Mayor Joe H. Boothe, and Mayor elect John J. Ford, and formation of plans in connection with Sweetwater's part in the Chamber of Commerce Convention at Mineral Wells next month, were the outstanding features of a largely attended meeting of the Sweetwater Club's Thursday luncheon at noon today.

Mayor Joe H. Boothe, heading the list of speakers, thanked the Sweetwater Club for its co-operation and work with the retiring city administration, and pledged himself as a citizen to support the new administration in its every move toward building Sweetwater.

Representative Chitwood, in the course of his talk, expressed himself as being glad to be back home in Sweetwater and West Texas. He urged the support of the citizens of the town to the new administration and stressed the necessity of team work with Mayor-elect Ford and the city commission for the progress of the city.

Judge Ford, in a sincere and ringing appeal urged that all malice and opposition be laid aside as the new administration began functioning, and that all efforts be directed toward the welfare of the city. The Mayor-elect repeated his declarations that he had no ill feeling toward any one that he came out of the race with a friendly feeling toward all, and that he invited and urged the help and co-operation of every citizen in Sweetwater in upbuilding the city.

Ford stated that he would be glad to give audience to any one in any time in connection with city affairs and city problems, and stated his intentions of carrying out city affairs in a manner that was most beneficial to the city. He asked the co-operation of the Sweetwater Club in carrying out programs for the city's development.

Will Wade brought up the matter of Sweetwater's arrangements for attending the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention at Mineral Wells, and several enthusiastic talks were made in which the proposition of Sweetwater being strongly represented there was favored.

Rufus Wright urged that arrangements be started at once in order that this city make a creditable showing at the convention "where the eyes of Texas are focused on West Texas towns" and that this city give some consideration to a program and plan for bringing the convention here in the near future.

Chief of Police W. R. Johnson, J. A. McCurdy, Secretary of the B. C. D., Judge R. C. Crane, County Engineer John Focht, D. A. Clark and others made splendid talks relative to Sweetwater's attending the convention. M. C. Manroe told the Luncheon Club that both the Boys' Band and the Saxophone Orchestra was in splendid shape to attend the convention. Following a unanimous vote of the club, Wade announced that he would appoint a committee at once to work out details for this city's part in the big West Texas rally.

M. B. Howard of the Board of Trustees made a short talk in which he gave a brief review of the school conditions, and announced that money for completion of this school year was running low. About $6,000 in tax money is still out, Howard said.

The $5 gold piece, attendance prize given by Ney Sheridan, was awarded to W. S. Barcus, Scout Executive. W. T. Wade was toastmaster for the occasion. Several new members were reported by the membership committee.

Mrs. Jim Butler will be hostess Friday afternoon at a meeting of the Self Culture Club. All members are invited to be present.

By United Press.
TULSA, April 9.—Just who engineered the deal whereby Eugene Purdy, church deacon, sold the affections of his wife, Helen, to E. S. Hutchison, his wealthy rival in love, was the paramount question today confronting the weary jury trying Purdy for the murder of Hutchison.

In an attempt to give the jury every opportunity to learn, the prosecution plunged into a determined cross examination of George Reeves, defense attorney.

Reeves was placed on the stand late yesterday afternoon by his colleague in the defense and read to the jury the contract signed by Purdy and Hutchison in Oklahoma City, November 10, 1924, following the raid on the Monticello apartment in which Mrs. Purdy and the wealthy lumberman were arrested.

The contract gave Purdy $5,000 in cash and Tulsa property valued variously from $40,000 to $50,000.

"Coke" Sandwiches Latest Smuggling Device Unerathed

By United Press.
LONDON, April 9.—Cocaine sandwiches are among the most ingenious smuggling devices unerathed in London's underworld, according to J. C. Goodwin in his latest book, "Queer Fish."

Describing the "Queer Fish" who infest the dens of the metropolis as thugs, second-story men and bootleggers, Goodwin singles out for special attention a man found to have been engaged in smuggling cocaine to England from a Hamburg cafe. One lot was seen up inside a little girl's doll, he says, and another consignment arrived in hollowed out cakes of soap.

Goodwin's sandwich-making Goodwin writes:

"He steams the wrapper of a pack of cards soon after he's brought it. Then he splits a card in two, generally one of the aces. He spreads the powdered cocaine over the one half and replaces the other.

"The cocaine is now like the meat in a sandwich—in the middle—and he gums the edges of the two halves together, replaces the card in the pack and regums the wrapper and there you are!"

ply was subjected to the normal fluctuations during 1924 due largely to the reflecting changes in the character of the corn crop and consequent price changes in the product.

No important changes occurred in quantity of meats imported during 1924, but such imports have totaled only 33,000,000 pounds in each of the last two years. The 1924 exports declined about 23,000,000 pounds, which made the balance of trade in meat products approximately three-fourths of a billion pounds in favor of the United States.

A JUDICIAL LIGHTNING ROD

Once in a while some division of government at Washington takes pains to assure the people that its affairs are administered with prudence and economy, instead of with effort to see how much it can squeeze from the patient taxpayers. The latest to come with cordial explanation to the people is a committee of seven members, appointed by the American Bar association, to report on the cost of administering the federal courts. In his message vetoing the gasoline tax bill Governor Donahay remarked that the people of Ohio have to pay more than $600,000 a year for the support of a bureau to supervise the granting of license to the motorists of the state. This outlay for a crew of paper-cutters is more than Ohio pays as its pro rata share for supporting the courts of the United States and the department of justice. The annual report of the attorney general shows that the total expenditure for U. S. courts and the department of justice was $22,374,945.21, a per capita expenditure of only twenty-two cents. Of this amount the department of justice received $7,823,164.74, and the courts $14,551,790.47.

Analyzing these figures the Bar association's committee says: "The total amount spent for judicial salaries, including the supreme court, the circuit courts of appeals, the district courts, the courts of the District of Columbia, the courts of claims, et al., was $1,535,991.91, or a per capita expenditure of 1.459 cents. Doesn't it shock the sensibility of the reader who thinks differently to realize that when he buys a penny picture post card and affixes a 1-cent stamp that he expends a large amount than the average annual per capita cost of salaries of federal judges of all kinds? Again the average citizen thinks that the supreme court of the United States costs a great deal of money. The attorney general's report shows that the total expenditure by the government for that court was $233,278.58, or a per capita expenditure of about one-fifth of one cent."

This accounting is not made to the people as the preliminary to creating sentiment that will justify some new foray upon the public treasury, but only to let them know that it is not the courts that are adding to the cost of government. It is as a lightning rod to protect the temple of justice. For the real cause of extravagance the people must look to the bureaus and their ever multiplying number of job holders, to the legislatures which never fail to contrive ingenious ways of adding to budgets and tax bills, and to the swarms of tax-eaters who are clever at inventing ways and excuses for attaching themselves to a public pay roll.

If you are wrong and know you are wrong and everybody knows you are wrong, there is no salvation except in dignity.

THERE ARE OBSTACLES

Poland and Czecho-Slovakia are deeply interested in the conversations that are going on between Germany, Great Britain and France concerning ways to bring Europe to a permanent peace. France is not enthusiastic over any plan as yet proposed. Bound to Poland by a tight alliance, and to Czecho-Slovakia by treaty, she will assent to no arrangement that permits the territory of these little nations to be used in a trading stock in the new international bargaining. Broad hints have been given from both Germany and Great Britain that in a readjustment of Germany's eastern frontier the welfare of these little allies of France may suffer. Great Britain seems to be indifferent to such an event. But no such sentiment exists in France. The French treasury is already too heavily interested in financial advances to the threatened nations to permit any readjustments that would impair its security, or limit the present territory or sovereignty of Poland and Czecho-Slovakia. It is such stumbling blocks as these that make hard going for any movement headed in the direction of a sustained European peace.

A LESSON BY SOCRATES

From Forbes Magazine:
Once upon a time, according to an old story, a young man went to Socrates, the Greek philosopher, and said: "Sire, I come to you in search of knowledge. I have heard much about you, and have come a long way to find you. Will you tell me how I can gain knowledge?"
Socrates said: "Follow me." The youth followed him to a body of water and was surprised to see him wade into it up to his waist. He followed him and Socrates grasped him by the arm and head and thrust his head under the water. He held him there until it seemed the youth would surely perish. He dragged him to the shore and awaited for the youth to catch his breath; then said: "My boy, what do you most desire when I held your head under the water?"
The youth replied: "Air."
Socrates said: "Go your way and remember that when you want knowledge as much as you wanted air, when you were under water, you'll get it."

COMMUNITY PRIDE IS NEEDED

The best country newspaper is the paper that satisfies the public desire for information as to what is going on in its territory. The best communities in city, town, or country are those that take the greatest pride in what is going on. The only available medium for showing pride in local affairs is the local newspaper. The place that fails to support the local press either in the matter of finances or that is indifferent as to how it appears, is a place that has no solidified local pride. Indifference as to what the public thinks of a place soon results in a general run-down appearance, just as personal indifference on the part of an individual as to his appearance results in slovenliness. The slovenly, indifferent town, neighborhood, or individual soon becomes to be shunned. Apply the test to your community and see if you are really showing the world that you are proud of it.—Brownwood Bulletin.

ELECTION

As a result of Tuesday's election there will be several new faces around the City Hall when the newly elected officials take office. Owing to Joe H. Boothe's refusal to be a candidate there was bound to have been a change in the mayor's chair in any event. Judge John J. Ford defeated his opponent, James Henry Deall, Jr. in a closely contested race.

Walter Trammell was the official re-elected when he defeated M. C. Manroe for Street Commissioner.

Roy Bardwell led the field in a three cornered race for Water Commissioner. A runoff will be necessary between him and L. E. Musgrove present water commissioner before this office is definitely decided.

The closest race of them all was the one wherein Mrs. Jim Trammell defeated W. H. Bartlett for re-election as City Secretary. Only 10 votes separated these two candidates when the polls closed.

W. R. (Buck) Johnson lost to L. Gordon Hendrick in a closely contested race for City Marshal.

Buck was serving his seventh term when defeated and Bartlett his sixth. Appointive officers of the new administration have yet to be named.

Mr. Trammell was a member of the very progressive previous administration and other candidates elected made their campaigns on a basis of the continued progress and development of this city—a program with room for all of us to get our shoulders to the wheel and co-operate.

Mayor Elect Ford, in a statement to the Reporter Wednesday reiterated his position in this respect, with especial emphasis on street paving. And paving with continued development of Sweetwater Trade Territory, the Non-municipal progress, are about the two County Fair, and other items of most important things that face this community at this time.

MARY JANE'S MERRY JOURNEYS IN THE ENCHANTED FOREST

"You have grown to be quite a little girl," said the Stork, "Do you remember me?"

Mary Jane Discovers the Ciconia is the Bird of Good Luck

JUST on the edge of the Enchanted Forest lives a little Old Man, and one day as Mary Jane was going home from her visit in the Enchanted Forest she saw him dancing about in his front yard and clapping his hands with joy. "Oh! Mary Jane," said he, "I'm the luckiest old man! The Ciconia has just made a nest on the roof of my house and that's great good luck, you know. Come, I will show you."

When they reached the roof, Mary Jane saw a great pile of sticks and trash and sitting in the middle of it was Ciconia, the White Stork.

"Why, how do you do, Mary Jane," said the Stork. "You've grown to be quite a little girl. Do you remember me?"

"Not very clearly," answered Mary Jane, "but I've often heard my mama speak of you."

"I take great interest in watching my little girls and boys grow sturdy and strong," said the stork, "and you, Mary Jane, look the healthiest of them all."

"Yes, I am strong and happy, thank you," said Mary Jane, "because my mama sees that I get lots of delicious MARY JANE SYRUP. Wouldn't you like to have some?"

"Indeed, yes," said the stork. After she had eaten a large corn cake covered with rich MARY JANE SYRUP she said she loved its flavor. "And, hereafter," continued the Stork, "I shall always leave a note at each house I visit telling them to be sure and keep plenty of MARY JANE SYRUP on hand for their little ones, so that they shall grow strong and healthy like you, Mary Jane."

If Back Hurts Begin on Salts

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally by Drinking Quarts of Good Water

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Tears by the bucketful and not a drop of glycerine.

This record was established by Wanda Hawley and Mae Busch during the filming of "Bread" the Metro-Goldwyn picturization of Charles Norris' novel at the Palace Theatre today.

For five days these actresses did little before the camera except cry. This does not mean that the production is made up largely of weeping scenes. It means merely that Victor Schertzinger, who directed the picture, elected to film in sequence all the scenes of featuring tears.

LYRIC

The final showing of the Sam Wood Paramount production of Kate Jordan's "The Next Corner", which has been the feature of the Lyric Theatre will be held there this afternoon and evening. Conway Tearle, Lon Chaney, Dorothy Mackail, Ricardo Cortez and Louise Dresser are featured.
