Week-long Clean-up, Paint-up Campaign To Beautify City Will Start Here Friday

To make Brownfield clean and keep it that way is the aim of the city officials and the civic organizations during Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Week, May 25 through June 2.

In a planning meeting held at the City Hall Tuesday morning, representatives of the civic clubs, and city officials mapped directives for giving the city a thorough cleaning during the next week. Mayor Arlie Lowmore presided at the session.

Purpose of the campaign is not only to make the city more attractive but to remove fire hazards and to maintain a high health standard, Lowmore said.

Each property owner will be responsible for his own premises, but the city has been divided into thirteen sections, headed by a civic organization to oversee cleanup. Owners of vacant lots in the city are urged to see that the lots are cleared by some means, and suggestions have been offered that plowing up the lots will probably slow-down blowing of sand.

R. T. Wilson, scoutmaster, stated that his Boy Scout Troop 85 will be available for helping with the clean-up, as they wish to make money to attend the Scout Jubilee next year. Other Scout troops will also be glad to co-operate.

In cleaning up the premises, the mayor urged the people to put all trash and junk in the alleys for pick-up and to call the city hall — 4111 — immediately. An extra fleet of trucks will be in use during the next week, and "we will even haul away trees, if the people will just put them in the alley," City Manager Eunice Jones said.

Although May 31 (Thursday) is the day the city has set for "big pick-up day," the citizens are urged to go on with their clean-up and to call the city immediately for removal of the debris.

"We want to stress that point," Lowmore said. "You do not have to wait until May 31 to get rid of your trash. By calling 4111, you can have it removed at once."

A trophy or plaque will be awarded the club that has accomplished the best results in this clean-up, Lowmore said. A secret committee of judges will be appointed for the purpose.

Members of various clubs who attended the Tuesday meeting were Mrs. Otis Larner, Maids and Matrons Study Club; Mrs. E. E. Preston, Delphinian Study Club; I. E. Honey. See CLEAN-UP Page 4

No Beauty Contest At June 1 Opening

Due to a shortage of entries in the bathing beauty contest planned for the June 1 opening of the Terry county swimming pool, the contest has been called off, according to L. J. Richardson, Park Commission chairman.

However, a program to include a water show, diving exhibitions, dance routines and formal dedication will be held starting at 8:15 p. m.

Work is nearing completion according to Jack King, architect superintendent of the project. Wilton Thomason completed paving the roads and only lacks the parking area around the swimming pool of being through, King explained.

Cornelius Is '56 Maid Of Cotton

Terry county's Maid of Cotton for 1956 is Wanda Cornelius, 18-year-old daughter of successful cotton producers, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Cornelius of Route 1, Meadow.

The recently graduated Brownfield High School senior was chosen for the title Saturday from among 18 other Terry girls entered in the annual event.

Wilmer Smith, board chairman of Plains Co-Op Mill at Lubbock, Mrs. Jewel Robinson, home demonstration agent at Levelland, and her assistant, Mrs. Mae Ruth Bentley — these three comprised the judging panel.

The trio also named the following runners-up: first, Juana Jay Barret, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Barret of Gomez community, and second, Ruby Smith, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Smith, Jr., of Route 1, Meadow.

Although the crowd was never too large, an estimated 2,000 persons "looked in" on the proceedings Saturday, which was the finale to the observance here of National Cotton Week.

The chain of events which climaxed the annual "week" occurred in the afternoon on the east side of the courthouse square. From among the crowd, nine persons holding lucky tickets were presented gift certificates — which must be redeemed within 30 days for cotton goods only at any one of these stores:

Klein's, Shelton's, Franklin's, Brownfield Bargain Center, Collins, Cobb's, Fabrie Mart, Griffith's Variety Store, Fields, Wackers, Fair Department Store, House of Fabrics and Dunlap's.

Here are winners: $25, Earlene Cornett and Lela Shultz; $20, Mrs. Bern A. Floyd and Mrs. Elbert Green; $15, C. D. Duke and Mrs. C. H. Morton and $10, R. M. Hinson, Mrs. M. A. Gorman and Minnie Rex.

The certificates were presented by the Terry branch of Plains Cotton Growers. Other See CORNELIUS Page 4

VFW Post Schedules Special Memorial Day Service Here on Courthouse Square

Special Memorial Day services will be held at 10 a. m., Wednesday, on the northwest corner of the courthouse square.

The observances were announced this morning by Warren Scudday, commander of Brownfield Post 6794, Veterans of Foreign Wars, who will conduct the services.

Principal address will be made by the Rev. H. L. Smith, pastor of Church of the Nazarene. Present will be a firing squad from the National Guard unit here.

Following the observances in town, the VFW members will go to both cemeteries, where they will place miniatures of the Colors on each veteran's grave.

Memorial Day this year falls within the period proclaimed by Governor Allan Shivers as VFW Week in Texas.

Commander Scudday also said that members of the post would be on the downtown streets Saturday, selling the traditional poppies. On the Poppy Day, the flowers sold will be made by disabled veterans of both world wars, the proceeds being used to maintain the national home for orphans and widows of veterans.

The sleepy eyed Terry delegation had their seats at Convention Hall in Fair Park about 9:30, and after another delayed start, the convention was called to order at 10:25.

More-or-less routine procedure carried through to the keynote speech by Dallasite Gerald Mann which was followed by the Johnson parade, first of three demonstrations at the convention.

Terry countians were among the leaders to join behind the band and wend their way through the aisles of the giant auditorium.

Harris county then brought matters to a head with the motion to oust the Shivers group. The roll call vote of 254 county delegations started at 12:15 and was complete at 1:45. That was with the exception of Travis county which became so involved in polling their own delegation that they

AWARDED SCHOLARSHIPS — Six of the 79 Brownfield High School seniors who were graduated Monday night received scholarships from various groups totaling several thousand dollars. From left, they are Lanier Petty, whose award will enable him to attend any church-related school; Doug O'Dell, four years at Trinity University in San Antonio; Miss Verna King, who accepted the Brownfield Rotary Club's annual scholarship; Miss Melba Willis, whose scholarship carries the same condition as Petty's; John Hill, whose National Scholarship Foundation award will send him for four years to Rice Institute in Houston, and Jeanette Johnson, who accepted her scholarship from the Brownfield Chapter, American Association of University Women. Convention sidelights: Terry countians can be proud of the way their delegates conducted themselves in Dallas. And perish the thought that being a delegate is a "soft job." Aside from the fact that you are out the $50 or more for the trip, the hours in caucus and convention are long and tedious.

The 19th District was at the back and in the right hand corner on the ground floor. It was a pretty good spot, except you couldn't hear very good. As a matter of fact the public address systems were lousy throughout the entire two-day show. Seating was decided by drawing lots.

Terry Demos Stick With Johnson

By JERRY STOLTZ

(Dallas)—In a hectic 18 hours during a 27-hour period, Terry county's three delegates to the State Democratic Convention here Tuesday cast their votes solidly with the Lyndon Johnson-Sam Rayburn forces. It only took a few seconds for the Terry county one roll call vote, and other voice votes to be cast, but it took a long time for the convention to get around to taking them.

During these long hours there were convention hall parades, (and Terry county's banner was right near the front in the demonstration for Johnson) there was cheering and jeering, but never silence. And out of the confusion-unity and party loyalty emerged as the convention themes.

To start at the beginning, the three Terry county delegates, Leonard Lang, Lewis Peeler and H. L. Holleman arrived at various hours Monday. Lang arrived with Ches Gore and Herb Cheshsir early that morning after spending the night in Mineral Wells. The Peeler came in from Meadow during the afternoon and the Hollemans arrived in time for dinner. Others Terry countians here to observe were Arnett Bynum and George Weiss.

Over 1,000 Democrats taxed the capacity (and exceeded the cooling capacity) of the Adolphus Hotel's Crystal Room at a so-called reception for Johnson and Rayburn. It was actually a political rally to push the ball along a little faster. (The Terry delegation had already discussed strategy with Lloyd Croslin, Johnson lieutenant for the 19th Congressional district, and had charted their course.

After a hot hour of waiting Rayburn arrived to kick the noisy proceedings off. Johnson followed and both stressed unity and appealed for "fair play" with regard to the Shivers-controlled State Democratic Executive Committee.

This was the issue which brought about the roll call vote about noon Tuesday as the Harris county delegation demanded they be thrown out of office and a Johnson group installed.

Immediately after the reception the Terry group moved to the 21st floor for a 19th District caucus in the Cactus room. The meeting started at 9:50 and adjourned at 1:30 a. m. after a couple of hours of wrangling about the National Convention delegates.

Everything done in the Monday caucus was confirmed on STANDARD BEARERS — Ches Gore and Herb Cheshsir referred to themselves as the "chairman's bodyguard" as their reason for attending the State Convention. Actually, they went along for the ride and to see how things went. They are shown here on the convention floor with the Terry county standard.

TIRED DELEGATION — Taken shortly before midnight, after more than four hours of steady political talk, this group of Terry countians were beginning to wear down. Seated at their table in the 19th Congressional Caucus room were, from left, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Holleman, Leonard Lang, George Weiss, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Peeler. The session ended about 90 minutes later.

"MR. DEMOCRAT" — Speaker of the House of Representatives Sam Rayburn was cornered by a couple of Terry countians when this picture was taken. We won't attempt to explain the expressions . . . from left are Arnett Bynum, Rayburn and Leonard Lang.

Delphian Study Club Installs New Officers At Luncheon and Meeting

New officers of the Delphian Study Club were installed following a pot-luck luncheon May 16 at the Seleta Jane Brownfield club house. Hostesses were Mrs. Wayne Brown and Mrs. Alvin Hallbauer.

The menu consisted of fried chicken, congealed salad, vegetable plate, rolls and pecan pie.

Attending were 18 members: one honorary member, Mrs. Lewis Simmonds; one associate member, Mrs. George Steele; and one guest, Mrs. Lonnie Toone.

Mrs. Nathan Chesshir, outgoing president, was installing officer. New officers, who were presented corsages, were President, Mrs. Weldon Callaway, first vice-president Mrs. W. C. Burrow, Sr.; second vice-president, Mrs. Crede Gore; recording and corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ralph Kerley; treasurer, Mrs. Virgil Bynum; and board member, Mrs. Brown.

Mrs. Brown and Mrs. W. T. Pickett, delegates, reported on the state TFWC convention which they attended earlier this month.

Decorations, rose arrangements, were done by Mrs. Hubert Thompson.

We've come to the end of another school year, and though we're glad to be out, we have many happy memories of this year. Let's reminisce a little.

Our first assembly was on the first day of school and was under the direction of the Student Council officers and cheerleaders, who were: president, Kenneth Murphy; vice president, Bobby Moore; and secretary, Barbara Whitaker. Cheerleaders were Judy Land, Janel Bragg, Beverly Brown, and head cheerleader, Carolyn Crites. This first assembly was both a coke party and a pep rally to get school started off in a friendly manner. Speaking of friendliness, the friendliest students of B. H. S. were chosen that week. They were Virgil Hughlett, Wanda George, Johnny Spears, and Mary Jo Christian.

Seniors, remember when we first got our rings, how proud we were of them? And now the juniors (or should we say, seniors now) have their rings ordered. It won't be long till you'll be the ones flashing them around.

The first month of school was a time when all the clubs were busy electing officers. The journalism class chose Johanna Haynes to be their editor, and Donna Newsom and Keith Baker to assist her. Donna Christopher was chosen editor of the annual with Theresa Stephens as her assistant. Other clubs electing officers were: F. F. A. president, Ann Griggs; F. H. A., president Joan Priest; F. F. A., president, John Milburn; Choir, president, Clifford Tuttle; Science Club, president, Thad Risinger; Band captain, Charles Higdon; Spanish, president, Carolyn Burnett; D. E., president, Dennis McCutcheon; and Arts, president, Donna Christopher.

Football season was started off by playing Levelland. The band did some outstanding marching at the football games, led by drum major John Hill, and the six lovely majorettes: Ann Griggs, Josie Griggs, Patsy Hulse, Bettie Ann Davis, Jo Beth Dumas, and head majorette Kay Kissinger. Other outstanding leaders of the school were the class officers: Seniors, president, Carl Moore, vice president, Keith Baker, and secretary, Shelby Thompson, Juniors, president, Lewis Chambliss, and secretary, Betty Hargrove. Sophomores: president, Don Burda, vice president, Jack Purtell, and secretary, Diana Adams; and Freshman president, Kenneth Willis, vice president, Ronnie Webb, and secretary, Ruth Glenn.

Of course, another big event, not only in school, but in all Terry County, is the Harvest Festival. Wanda Cornelius was sponsored by the school to run for queen.

A time everyone always looks forward to is "homemaking". School queen, Peggy Adams, reigned over the football game with Andrews, along with Princess Joan Priest, and Duchesses Donna Sue Nelson and Jorita Fulford.

The junior play, "Finders Creepers", was presented December 2. The characters were Johnny Raybon, Clifford Tuttle, Jerre Sue Estes, Janel Bragg, Betty Hargrove, Frances Floyd, Mike Hamilton, Dixon Latham, Jerre Pipkin, Leon Willis, Donna Christopher, Charles Inscore, and Junior Collis.

In the annual basketball tournament, we won second. We were really proud of our basketball team this year, and hope to have a fine one next year.

Carl Moore and Kay Kissinger were elected all-school favorites. Donna Newsom and Doug O'Dell, senior favorites; Nancy King and Lanier Petty, senior outstanding; Jerre Sue Estes and Johnny Raybon, junior favorites; Janel Bragg and William Smyrl, junior outstanding; Ann Lee and Larry Meeks, sophomore favorites; Patsy Hulse and Jimmy Wood, sophomore outstanding; Grace Grissom and Johnny Cabbiness, freshmen favorites; and Brenda Fenton and John Eldon Jones, freshmen outstanding.

Then, of course, there are our five talented girls, the Debonairs, who have made many

NAME PRESIDENT

Dr. F. W. Mattox The announcement was made Monday evening at the Lubbock Bible Forum that the new junior college to be established by members of the churches of Christ would be located in Lubbock. The announcement was made by M. Norvel Young, minister of the Broadway church of Christ, at the conclusion of the Monday evening session of the Lubbock Bible in the new city auditorium. He read this statement from the board of trustees of the Lubbock Christian College: "After careful consideration of the location available and considering the advantages of being in a city of the size and character of Lubbock the board has decided to establish the new junior college in this city. The board deeply appreciates the hearty cooperation which the chamber of commerce has pledged and the many other promises of support from the citizens of Lubbock. We are grateful for the fine spirit of cooperation evidenced by the administration and faculty of Texas Tech, and one reason we have chosen Lubbock is because of the advantages of having a university near this new school. We want to express our sincere appreciation also to the other towns which offered to give locations and backing for this college. We believe that Lubbock is in the center of a wonderful area and that the college will serve well the other communities which expressed an interest in having it located in their midst."

The statement from the board also included this information concerning the character of the school to be established: "This college will be a standard two-year college offering liberal arts training with additional courses in Bible and religious education to every student. It is our purpose to conduct the academic training in the college that it will be fully accredited from the beginning. There is a tidal wave of college students coming on. We are informed that there will be forty per cent more students in American colleges by 1966. We believe that there is a definite place for the junior college to help take care of the tremendous number of freshmen and sophomores which are crowding the campuses of our four year schools. This junior college will complement the work being done by such four year colleges as Abilene Christian College and Texas Tech. It will be a private college operated under an independent board of trustees similar to the operation of Abilene Christian College. It will stress solid academic training plus daily Bible classes and chapel, and the emphasis will be upon spiritual development as well as intellectual social and physical training. The school will be open to students of all faiths without discrimination, and the Bible instruction will be denominational in nature. The school will begin classwork in the Fall of 1957."

Following this statement from the board Dr. Young introduced Paul Sherrard, Chairman of the board, who announced the selection of the president of the Lubbock Christian College. He informed the three thousand persons assembled that Dr. F. W. Mattox, dean of students and assistant to the president of Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas, had been chosen as the first president of the school and had accepted the appointment. Mr. Sherrard stated that the board had been looking for a president for some months and that President Mattox was their first choice among a number of possible selections. "President Mattox is an outstanding educator," Mr. Sherrard said. "He is extremely well qualified for the task of beginning this school since he has had valuable experience in his present position since 1942. He was trained in college administration at George Peabody College where he obtained his Ph. D. degree in 1947. He is the author of the book "Teaching Religion in the Public Schools" which was published in 1947. He is a member of the Editorial Council of 20th Century Christian and writes regularly for the Gospel Advocate and Firm Foundation magazines. Dr. Mattox is a native of Texas, the grandson Texas preacher, F. L. Young of Dallas. He was born in Grand Falls, Texas in 1909 and was reared in Oklahoma City, the other a medical student at the University of Arkansas. The new president is due to move to Lubbock around July 1, 1956.

The board of trustees has appointed an advisory board to assist in major decisions of the college. The members of this board are outstanding citizens from West Texas and Eastern New Mexico. They met with the board of the new college last week and helped to make the decisions concerning location and the choice of a president. Other members of the board of trustees and of the advisory board will be selected later. The present members of the board are: Paul Sherrard, Chairman, Dr. J. B. McCorkle, J. C. Rigney, Dr. Bill Rogers, Don Baldrige, O. T. Shipp, Jr. The present members of the advisory board are: Billie Sol Estes, Pecos; J. Ray Dickey, Lubbock; Bob Cobb, Lubbock; Edgar Chance, Sudan; D. L. Campbell, Dimmitt; Frank Bozeman, Springlake; include Ross Black and Leonard Lang, Brownfield; L. E. Bartlett, Lubbock; Loy Hubbard, Lubbock.

The five local lumber yards, Terry County, Shamburger, Higginbotham-Bartlett, Cicero Smith and Wm. Cameron have each contributed a fifth of the Little League fence materials. National Guardsmen will put it together Monday and we will have home runs (the legitimate kind, and not those that go-between a fielder's legs) in Little League.

Joe Kelly, Avalanche Journal Sports editor, gave Rotarians the low-down on the Tech-SWC situation Friday and he also made a few personal observations concerning the future. One of the most interesting was the idea that the college might sell the present Jones Stadium to the City of Lubbock and build another stadium southwest of the present one.

The golf story didn't get in last week, so we might just mention that J. O. Burnett had a 35 to tie for low gross in the API tournament. He won a set of Ben Hogan woods for the performance.

We need a big sign on the Little League backstop, right where everyone would see it everytime they looked up at a foul ball, saying something like "the purpose of this game is wholesome recreation — winning is secondary."

Jim Milburn, former Cub athlete, recently tied for first in the pole vault in an intramural track meet at Tarleton State college.

Back to Tech, their 1956 grid schedule includes Baylor at Waco on Sept. 29, A&M at Dallas on Oct. 6 and TCU at Lubbock on Nov. 10.

The Baptist like to look over at Possum Kingdom last week, C. E. and Mack Ross, Bill Neel, Carl Elliott, O. V. Newton and Jones Weathers had a nice catch of Black Bass and Crappie on minnows and lures. They were fishing out of Possum Hollow Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Goodpasture caught their limit of Crappie and White Bass fishing from the same camp.

They are going to start taking thermocline readings pretty quick. Right now the bass are biting plugs best by day and minnows at night.

Juniors Open Season Monday

Junior League baseball, for the 13 and 14-year-olds, officially opens Monday afternoon at 5:15 with the Rotary Pirates facing the Sundown Pump Supply Co. Dodgers in the first game.

It'll be the Cardinals sponsored by the First National Bank vs the Tigers sponsored by Claud Buchanan in the second game on opening day.

The same four teams will switch opponents and play again on Saturday, June 2.

Lions on the south, West Main on the north and city limits on the west; Rotary Club, West Main on the north to South First on the east, to Lions on the south, to South Sixth on the west; Maids and Matrons Study Club, South First on the west, to Tahoka Road on the north, to South D on the east, to the city limits well on the south; Delphian Study Club, Tahoka Road on the north to the city limits on the east, to East Buckley on the south, and South D on the west.

Alpha Omega Study Club, city limits on the west to East Lions on the north, to South Second on the east to city limits on the south; ESA, Tahoka on the north to South D on the east, to the city limits (old Lamesa Road) on the south, to South First on the west; and Jaycees, corner of South Ballard and East Buckley to include all of Colonial Heights addition to the city limits.

Boy Scouts passed out literature to all homes in the city Thursday.

Terry Little League Leaders Clash in First Game Friday At Lions Park

Two games are scheduled tonight, and then the league leading Braves and Yankees meet to temporarily settle the question of who is best Friday evening at 5:15.

Both clubs are undefeated, but the Yankees and Giants were rained out in the second game Tuesday to drop the Yankees a few percentage points out of first.

In the second game Friday the Cubs and Red Sox, both still seeking their first win, will clash.

The Giants vs Red Sox and Cubs vs Indians games are scheduled this evening.

The Braves have won three games, 8-6 over the Indians, 18-6 from the Giants and 22-1 with the Red Sox. The Yankees also beat the Indians 6-5 and dropped the Cubs 12-8.

Listen for the "Miss Little League" announcement during Hal Roche's broadcast of the Little League game this afternoon, and we'll also have full details in next week's paper.

The Giants beat the Cubs in a 14-13 slugfest to gain third place in the standings with a 1-1 record. The Indians have a 1-2 record with their victory over the Red Sox 11-3. Neither the Cubs nor Red Sox have won a game yet.

In the Tuesday game Jimmy Hackney got in the hole in the first inning as he walked Cecil Brown and hit Teddy Howell. Maurice Harrell singled in two runs. The Braves picked up six more in the next two and lead 8-0 into the fifth.

Archie Jennings opened the Indian half of the fifth with a line-drive home run into right field off Teddy Howell who had come in to relieve Leon Speed to open the fourth. The Indians scored five more, but lacked two of catching up through the six innings.

The victory was Speed's second of the season. Howell has credit for one win as does David Auburg, Britt Pounds.

were unable to agree on the tally on this Johnson test vote. The Johnson forces won, 1306 votes to 524. From this area the Yoakum, Crosby and Andrews county delegations were the only ones who sided with the Houston forces.

The official Caucus and a demonstration for Yarbrough occupied the time up to Senator Johnson's appearance, talk and another 15-minute parade.

The Convention instructed delegates to the national convention "to vote as a unit or

Texas Leaguers Organize Six Teams Open Season With Three Tuesday Games

Texas Leaguers open play Tuesday afternoon at 5:15 at the Cotton Yard on the Tahoka Road with the Cats playing the Buffs, the Eagles meeting the Sports and the Senators and Oilers playing the final game.

The six teams were organized Tuesday evening and more boys are needed, along with adult workers. The boys should be of Little League age.

Uniforms have been ordered, however, attention was called to one item in the League by-laws. A parent must be present at the time the boy accepts his uniform and understand the responsibility of caring for it.

The schedule for the next few weeks is as follows:

May 31—Buffs vs Eagles; Sports vs Senators; Oilers vs Cats.

June 1 — Cats vs Eagles; Buffs vs Senators; Sports vs Oilers.

June 4 — Cats vs Sports; Buffs vs Oilers; Eagles vs Senators.

June 5 — Cats vs Senators; Buffs vs Sports; Eagles vs Oilers.

groups which prepared the week-long events here were Chamber of Commerce, Retail Merchants Association, Brownfield Garden Club and Terry County Home Demonstration Council.

In addition to the Maid contest, some 50 women from the 11 home demonstration clubs in the county displayed the latest in cotton fashions — much to the delight of the audience. Narrator of the show was Mrs. Wilmer Smith. Master of ceremonies was Crawford Taylor, chief announcer of Radio Station KTFY. Emcee of the Maid contest was H. L. (Hub) King, Texas Farm Bureau director.

Entertainment was provided by Charles Goza of Wellman; Charles Lindsey of Brownfield; Janiece Meek of Brownfield, and the Debonnaires, quintet of girl singers.

TO ROPE HERE SUNDAY—Jim Bob Altizer of Rodeo Arena. Others who will be here are Del Rio, said to be the top calf roper in the professional rodeo ranks today, will meet Glenn Franklin of House, N. M., here at 2 p. m., Sunday, in the Terry County Sheriff Posses Rodeo Arena. Others who will be here are Toots Mansfield, Troy Fort, Tom Powers, Bill Teague and Sonny Davis. Tickets at the gate are $1 for adults and 50 cents for teenagers. Children under 12 will be admitted free.

hit wooing notes for the independent voter. Said Mann "Every voter does not have to belong to a party. We have no quarrel with a man following his conscience and voting his convictions. But to preserve the two-party system, those who seek and accept positions of leadership and responsibility in a political party must remain faithful and loyal to that party..."

A heckler kept after Mann until he departed from his talk with this story, "Jesus Christ had 12 disciples and one of them was Judas. Judas was a fool. Out of 4,000 people here today I guess we are allowed to have a few fools." That did not stop the heckling, but it slowed it down.

In conclusion Terry county should have had 10 delegates instead of 3 to attend this convention where in actuality we cast our votes for president. Next November let's turnout a big vote and gain our rightful number of delegates... finally, I doubt that you could pay me enough to live in a city as big as Dallas.

A total of 15 families are to be moved shortly into Brownfield by George P. Livermore Drilling Company of Lubbock. Some of the families already have asked for housing at the Chamber of Commerce offices, Manager Joe Satterwhite said this morning.

A luke-warm appeal for the observance of state's rights asked that the federal government "be petitioned to curtail federal encroachment upon the rights and the privileges of the state and local government."

For the farmers, the convention resolved "that Congress be petitioned to continue its efforts to bolster agriculture against an economic decline" and to peg support prices for small feed grains to that of corn.

Other resolutions for state and federal governments to "take such action as is needed to insure the maintenance of adequate water supplies," commended Speaker Rayburn for distinguished service, and instructed party officials to insure free access to press, radio and television newsmen at convention activities.

In a slap at Gov. Allan Shivers, the convention by resolution "deplored the confusion which has resulted in recent years by reason of failure of the leadership" of the party.

The resolution called for "the leadership" of the party in Texas to resign if, for any reason, it finds it cannot support the nominees or platform of the national organization.

One resolution by-passed the Democratic Executive Committee. It named a campaign committee to be headed by a Democratic Advisory Council official to guide campaign activity for the November general elections.

Another placed the convention in temporary recess, instead of adjournment, until the September convention. Its effect would be to allow the controlling Johnson team to call a new convention session to release Shivers executive committee at any time deemed necessary.

Mrs. Fred Hodges Services Are Held

Funeral services for Mrs. Fred Hodges, 58, of Route 5, Lubbock, who died Sunday in St. Mary's Hospital at Lubbock, were held Monday in the Wolfthorpe Baptist Church.

The Rev. L. B. Moss, pastor, officiated, assisted by the Rev. J. Henry Cox and the Rev. Horace Hitt, both of Brownfield.

Survivors include her husband; one daughter, Mrs. Newman Raider Jr., of Beckley, W. Va.; mother, Mrs. L. W. Fulford of Brownfield; four brothers, W. C. Fulford of Lubbock, Alton M. Fulford of Ropesville, J. T. Fulford of Meadow and L. W. Fulford Jr. of Brownfield; two sisters, Mrs. A. G. Hall of Big Spring, and Mrs. Clifford Rankin of Texarkana, and one granddaughter.

ry, Lynn, Gaines and Dawson, has given up his duties as council commissioner. Al Muldrow was installed as a member at large of the governing board of the Council.

Ed Mayfield is up and around at a reduced rate of speed after three days in a Lubbock hospital with a heart specialist. He says he didn't have an attack, but was "close" enough that he's on a strict diet and has cut out smoking.

Frank Jordan, John Hansard and Jake Geron were at the Lions 2T-1 district convention at Amarillo last week.

It looked like the town was going to the dogs for awhile, judging from the number of complaints received at the Police Department. Then this week they got a call to help roundup five stray goats. At last report three were still missing.

The Wednesday night rain brought just under a half inch of slow falling moisture to most of the county, and smiles prevailed.

Likeable Charley Jones left this week to take over as head coach at West High school. That's an AA school about 25 miles north of Waco.

Start Condemnation Of Highway Property

Condemnation suits have been prepared and will be filed this week with the County Judge on five pieces of property along U. S. 62 through Brownfield, according to City Attorney Bill McGowan.

Judge Herb Chesshir is to appoint a three-man jury to review the suits and as soon as damages are set the court will issue an order. Although either the property owner or City can appeal the judgment, the right-of-way for the widened highway is considered clear and work can proceed.

Mrs. Mae Crawley Rites Set Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Jessica Mae Crawley, 51, of 419 South Fourth, who died Wednesday, will be held at 4 p. m., Friday in Crescent Hill Church of Christ.

Officiating will be John H. McCoy, minister. Burial will be in Terry County Memorial Cemetery, under direction of Brownfield Funeral Home.

Mrs. Crawley died at 8:05 p. m., Wednesday shortly after arrival at Treadway-Daniel hospital, where she had been taken after suffering a heart attack as she was entering the Crescent Hill church for the night services.

Her survivors are one daughter, Mrs. John W. Cook, of Wimberley; mother, Mrs. Jeff Dunn, and one sister, Mrs. D. O. Neal, both of Brownfield; two brothers, Lee O. Baggett of Lubbock and Dewey D. Baggett of San Angelo, and three granddaughters.

Mrs. Crawley had lived in Brownfield since 1950, moving here from Slaton, where she had lived since 1924.

SPLIT DECISION — The two Yoakum county delegates actually were split on whether to follow the Johnson-Rayburn standard all the way, or to side with the Houston faction to throw out the Shivers State Committee. They allowed the alternate a vote and went against other counties in this area by going with Houston. From left, A. B. Carpenter, Plains, was for following Johnson's leadership, while Judge H. K. Denton of the Sligo community and Claude Freeman, of Denver City, opposed him.

Rep. Carr Is Wellman Graduation Speaker

The graduating seniors of Wellman High were urged to have faith in themselves and "shoot for the stars" Friday night when State Rep. Wagoner Carr of Lubbock County delivered the commencement address at the high school auditorium.

"It takes God 100 years to make an oak tree, but only two months to make a squash," Carr told the graduates. "It takes time and effort to accomplish great things. Each of us must determine himself whether he is to be content with the values which take long, hard effort to attain. If you aim below the stars, you aim too low."

Rep. Carr, who has received enough statewide support pledges to assure the speakership of the Texas House of Representatives for West Texas next year, addressed an audience estimated at 250 persons.

Letter To the Editor . . .

Dear Sir:

A dream of mine is fast becoming a reality and I feel that The Brownfield News has been partially responsible for that. Home Demonstration work is reaching its proper place in Brownfield. For any agricultural area to be prosperous and happy, as God intended, the people must have brotherly love and respect among its people. Brownfield needs the rural people, and the county needs Brownfield, so the only sensible thing to do is to create a closer community spirit. I feel that your paper has had a large part in giving Home Demonstration work its proper place.

There was a time when HD women were looked upon as a backward group of simple women who knew little about culture and social life. Those who felt that the cotton dress revue was important enough to go see, will agree with me that we have some of the most talented, lovely, and attractive women in any community. They work diligently and faithfully to improve their own homes and communities. They try to live up to the HD slogan "God and Home — The Source Of Freedom."

The Chamber of Commerce has realized the need of bringing the farm and town people together and our hearts are overflowing with gratefulness to them. The Retail Merchants proved that they feel the same way by their wonderful co-operation during cotton celebration. I shall never cease feeling humble and grateful for the privilege of working with such wonderful people.

I can think of very few

COLONIAL CHAMPS — Championship softball team of Colonial Heights school is shown above. From left in back row, they are Mrs. J. G. Bragg, sponsor, and Patsy McDougal, Margaret Mull, Karen Newman, Barbara Wiseman and Shirley Gotcher. things in Brownfield that I might complain of. I do feel we have a few more barriers to climb before there is complete harmony between the rural and urban people of Terry County. A few merchants have yet to realize that much depends upon agriculture and the farmers. Almost everyone downtown is kindness itself, but I believe there is room for improvement. Perhaps the employers could stress agriculture and refuse to hire an employee who resents the farmer. This may be hard for some people to believe, but there are men in town who have been heard to say that they detest the farmer and they hand out some very uncomplimentary remarks — all the time their salaries come from the farm business. There are women clerks who look with disdain upon the farm women as they do their shopping. No wonder some go out of town to trade. I believe the Retail Merchants could help the situation. I do not mean that all employees are like this — only a few. I do deem it important enough to mention, however.

I want to thank each and everyone who helped during our cotton project — every little kindness is deeply appreciated. The HD women were wonderful, as always, for they are the salt of the earth. I am happy I live in Brownfield, and Terry County! Lets strive to bring still closer harmony among our people, and some day HD work will hold the position in Brownfield that it deserves, and the town will fully appreciate it.

Salvation Army To Host Four Youths For Week in June

National Salvation Army Week began last Sunday. An announcement by President Eisenhower, followed by similar declarations from other high government officials, including governors of most states and mayors of many cities, has set the stage for the nationwide observance. As part of the observance here, four Brownfield youths have been selected to attend the Army's new children's camp at Midlothian. They are Jimmy Layland, 11, son of Mrs. Clannie Layland of 908 Lubbock road; Bill Wright, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wright of 510 South Third; Ira Kirby 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kirby of 401 North A, and Kermit Henson, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Henson of 510 South Ninth. Noting that the Army in the last 10 years has provided 100 million free meals, or the equivalent of one meal for more than half of the country's population, National Commander Donald McMillan reaffirmed the Salvation Army's twin goals of physical regeneration and spiritual rebirth of the nation's unfortunates. The Army's first meeting was in 1880. The Brownfield youths will leave Lubbock by train on June 2 for their week's outing at the camp, a $500,000 project, named after Carl Hoblitzelle of Dallas, millionaire philanthropist.

Senator Aikin Is Speaker At Joint Civic Club Meeting

Senator A. M. Aikin, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, spoke to a joint meeting of Brownfield civic clubs at noon Wednesday on the relatively noncontroversial subject of the proposed constitutional amendments. Speaking on the subject in a nonpolitical manner, the Senator briefly explained good and bad features of each, although he personally didn't oppose any of them. Two in particular, the resolution providing for right of jury trial in lunacy cases to provide for waiver of the jury, and the amendment to authorize changes in the teacher retirement system, drew his unqualified support. The other seven which he sought to acquaint his audience concerned the Veteran's Land Board, college finances, denial of bail to professional criminals, changes in the official oath, relates to assistance of needy individuals, allows aid to innocent persons who were sentenced and served in the penitentiary and another allows the commissioner court leeway in transfer of funds.

Mrs. Hallbauer was re-elected circle chairman. Other officers named were Mrs. T. L. Murphy, vice chairman, and Mrs. John Jennings, secretary-treasurer.

Members also voted to meet in homes, rather than in the church, beginning with the July meeting.

Those present were Mesdames R. T. McDonald, A. A. Sawyer, B. D. Holder, E. D. Ballard, Jennings, Truett Flache, Roberson, W. F. Frymier, Joe Christian, Spreen Satterwhite, and the hostesses.

Mrs. Monnett Is New PWO Leader

The regular meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Organization was held in the church parlor at 1 p.m. Monday. Hostesses were Mrs. Tom May and Mrs. L. L. Bechtol.

Luncheon was served to approximately 45 members and guests. Following the luncheon, Rev. Ralph O'Dell installed Mrs. Ben Monnett as president of the group, to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. L. D. McReynolds, who is moving away.

Mrs. Monnett conducted the business meeting. Reports were made by standing committees, and plans were made to buy a portable organ for the Westminster Foundation at Texas Tech. Members also voted to continue their scholarship fund for a worthy college student who has decided on a Christian service career.

"We've Been Asked About Segregation" was the program topic, by Mrs. A. M. Muldrow.

New Officers Of Alpha Omega Study Club Installed Tuesday Morning

Alpha Omega Study Club met Tuesday at 9 a.m. in the Seleta Jane Brownfield club house for the final meeting of the year.

The serving table was laid with a white linen cutwork cloth and featured a centerpiece of pink dragons in a crystal tiered compote. Mrs. Grady Goodpasture poured coffee and miniature sweet rolls were served by Mrs. M. J. Craig, Jr., Mrs. Arlie Lowimore, and Mrs. Jack Cleveland.

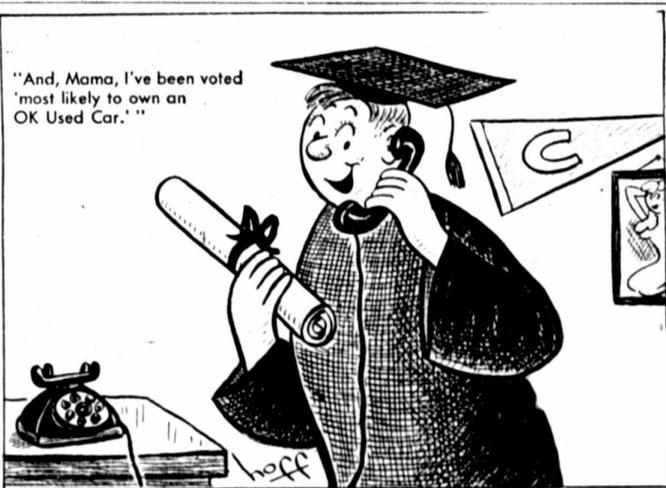

Mrs. Tommy Hicks, president, called the business meeting to order. She gave a brief report of the 59th annual convention in Dallas of the Texas Federation of Women Clubs, which she attended as a delegate. Mrs. Hicks said she was happy to report that the club was awarded first place for being a 100% Latin-American Scholarship and Miss Lillia Lilliard presented the club with the book, "Syrian Yankee" by Salon Rizk.

Mrs. Jack Cleveland, program chairman, for the coming year, outlined the course of study, "Relax and Live". Mrs. Craig had charge of the installation service. A corsage of the club's flower, carnation, with maroon ribbon was presented to each of the following:

Mrs. Hicks, president; Mrs. Arlie Lowimore, first vice president; Mrs. Curtis Sterling, second vice president; Mrs. Marion Bowers, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Jack Eastham, recording secretary; and Mrs. Bill Cope, treasurer.

OUTSTANDING ESAers—The three outstanding ESAers of Texas, chosen at the State Epsilon Sigma Alpha convention held this month in Fort Worth are, left to right, Frances McLean of District 8, Odessa, first; Frances Gillham, District 9, of Brownfield, second; and Frances Martin of District 1, third. Each of the 142 chapters in Texas selected their outstanding member, who then compete at district and the district winner goes to state. Mrs. Gillham, president of the local chapter, will attend the International convention at Albuquerque, N. M., June 7-10.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Wade and Tennie attended the funeral of her uncle, Robert Douzer, in Seagraves Sunday. Rev. and Mrs. Alton West also attended the funeral. Our deepest sympathy goes to the family in the loss of their loved one.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Barrier and boys spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Elvica Duncan and Debra.

Pool Home Demonstration club met in the home of Mrs. W. R. Posey on May 16. Mrs. Elvica Duncan had charge of the program, "Food Preservation" in the absence of Miss Mildred Cox. Others present were Mmes. Otis Aldridge, Fred Terry, W. F. Terry, J. M. Trussell, Thurman Solsberry, and Jack Brown. Miss Cox arrived to pick up the supplies just at the close of the meeting. The next meeting will be June 6 in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Dunn.

Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Bingham and De Ann were Mr. and Mrs. Willie Blair and son, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Roberts and son, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Mason and sons, Glen Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Wendel Mason and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Bingham and daughter.

written that you don't realize that you're getting a documentary of their customs. I thought it was a most absorbing book and although it's a little gory in places, it is well worth a gag or two. And maybe it won't bother you, anyway, to read about soldiers bashing babies heads against the huge old cottonwood trees after they had hung the sturdy limbs of the trees.

Mrs. Bill Blankenship called me early this week to tell me that there are three cute little kittens looking for a home. They're part blue Persian and will make lovely pets for children. The kittens were born soon after the death of Mrs. Betty Criswell, who owned the mother cat. If you'll call Mrs. Blankenship or Mrs. Chick Lee, they'll be glad to show you the kittens.

Think I only have room for one of the recipes Mrs. M. G. Tarpley called and gave me this week, but want to pass it on to you, as it will make a wonderful dessert. Mrs. Tarpley got it from her mother, Mrs. C. J. Johnson of Carrizo Springs when she went down to spend Mother's Day. It's called Carrot Cake and goes like this: Mix one cup sugar and 1/2 cup brown sugar with 3/4 cup salad oil. Sift together and add 1 1/2 cup flour, 1 teaspoon each of baking powder and cinnamon, scant teaspoon soda, and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Add 1 cup grated carrots, two eggs, beaten in one at a time, and one half cup chopped nutmeats. Bake in a loaf pan in a medium oven 45 minutes to one hour.

Next week a nice tea-party dish... Oriental Punch.

beginning their meetings by answering roll call with such things as "How I can improve my yard", "my favorite recipe", etc. This is a wonderful way of sharing their ideas with their friends and of being able to learn new ways of doing things from their friends. I think these gals are wonderful and I want them to know it.

This is not much interest to anyone but Presbyterians, but I want to remind all Presbyterians that Brownfield will be host to an overnight meeting of the Abilene Presbytery Westminister Fellowship and if you can keep one or two more of these young fellows for overnight and give them Saturday morning (June 2) breakfast, please call Mrs. James King or the church office.

I attended the book review of "The Hill of the Rooster" by Dr. W. C. Holders of Lubbock at the church last Thursday, and I'm sorry all of you couldn't have been there. Mrs. E. N. Jones, the very gracious and charming (and very attractive, I might add) wife of Texas Tech's Prexy, reviewed the book, and I think we were all hanging on the edges of our seats while she did so. As Dr. Holden said afterwards, "I think she reviewed the book better than I wrote it", I firmly believed him. However, I have read the book, and should certainly say it would be a draw. If you have not read this very exciting and interesting book, please do so. It is chock-full of notable things about the Yaqui Indians, but so well-call 4111, they'll be happy to remove it for you. Let's please get busy and get Brownfield cleaned up and keep it that way. Not only for beauty's sake... but for health's sake.

A very happy... and deserving... lady in Brownfield is Mrs. H. L. Smith, wife of the Nazarene preacher. She was the lucky recipient of a beautiful automatic washer, given away by Farm and Home Appliance company this week.

Wul, a little birdie has told me that some 20 or 30 families are about to move into Brownfield. They'll be needing places to live and we'll be needing to give them a hearty welcome.

Hope all of you attended the Maid of Cotton contest held on the courthouse square last week. And right here, I'd like to pay tribute to our fine Home demonstration clubs in Terry County. I bring this up, because they presented a fine style show prior to the contest. These women are some of the unsung heroines of our country, because they strive always to make their lives better in every way. They not only carry on a course of study constantly, but are busy wives, mothers, and business partners to their husbands. One thing I've noticed, in writing up their meetings, is that they clean up. May 25, and lasts until June 2. There is quite a detailed story in the News this week about it, but I would remind you of some things that you can do to keep your premises better looking and healthier to live in all year long. Item one is to get a cover for that garbage can and keep it on there. Sort of hard to do in many cases, but get a long sturdy stick and beat the dogs and little curious boys off... like I do. They have many dents in them, but my lids are still there. Another thing to remember is that pools of water and piles of wet grass, etc., breed flies and mosquitoes, so try to keep them cleared up. The pools of water are no great problem, but piles of weeds and grass are.

Going on with the clean up business, the city plans to cooperate with you on this clean up deal, and say they'll cart off anything from trees to old beat-up furniture. So this is your opportunity to get rid of a bunch of junk you've been keeping around because you're too stingy to pay to have it hauled off. They just ask one thing: please put the junk, trash, etc. in the alley so that the men can get to it easily. As soon as you've accumulated a goodly sized stack, if you'll

Clean Up Week begins tomorrow, May 25, and lasts until June 2. There is quite a detailed story in the News this week about it, but I would remind you of some things that you can do to keep your premises better looking and healthier to live in all year long. Item one is to get a cover for that garbage can and keep it on there. Sort of hard to do in many cases, but get a long sturdy stick and beat the dogs and little curious boys off... like I do. They have many dents in them, but my lids are still there. Another thing to remember is that pools of water and piles of wet grass, etc., breed flies and mosquitoes, so try to keep them cleared up. The pools of water are no great problem, but piles of weeds and grass are.

Going on with the clean up business, the city plans to cooperate with you on this clean up deal, and say they'll cart off anything from trees to old beat-up furniture. So this is your opportunity to get rid of a bunch of junk you've been keeping around because you're too stingy to pay to have it hauled off. They just ask one thing: please put the junk, trash, etc. in the alley so that the men can get to it easily. As soon as you've accumulated a goodly sized stack, if you'll

USDA Official Cotton Meeting Main Speaker

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Marvin McLain will speak on "The Challenge Facing Cotton" at the 17th annual American Cotton Congress, to be held May 31 through June 2 in Lubbock.

The secretary's address, before a dinner audience the evening of June 1 in the Caprock Hotel, will highlight the three-day event, which has set as its theme, "Problems Confronting the Plains Area".

Experts in their fields will discuss the major problems facing the cotton producer from planting through marketing, said Burris Jackson of Hillsboro, general chairman.

Jackson will deliver the keynote address on May 31, after the addresses of welcome from Lubbock city officials and cotton industry leaders. Registration will continue through the first day at the Caprock and Lubbock hotels, and rooms also may be reserved at other places. Reservations may be made by writing direct to W. J. Reidy, Caprock Hotel, Lubbock.

Horne Jr., chief economist with the National Cotton Council, will talk on "The Economic Study of the Cotton Markets;" Don Jones, superintendent of the Lubbock Agricultural Experiment Station, will speak on "History and Role of Research in High Plains Cotton production;"

Farmer Will Speak

Isaac Holmes, farmer northwest of Abernathy, will discuss "Cotton Production Methods on the Texas High Plains," and William Frank Hughes, USDA agricultural economist at College Station, will talk on the "Economic Aspects of Irrigated Cotton Production."

The director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at College Station, R. D. Lewis, will head the Friday afternoon session, during which the following persons will be heard:

AT RODEO ARENA

Famous Cowboys Will Rope Sunday

Two of the most famous ropers ever to come out of the Southwest will compete Sunday in Brownfield for $2,000 prize money. They are Jim Bob Altizer of Del Rio and Glenn Franklin of House, N. M.

Sponsored by the Terry County Sheriff Posse, the event will get under way at 2 p.m. at the Rodeo Arena. Tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for teenagers. Children under 12 will be admitted free, said Leo Holmes, captain.

Altizer is considered the cream of calf ropers today, and Franklin could be considered the challenger of his position.

Other great ropers and cowboys such as Toots Mansfield, John D. Holleyman, Tom Powers, Troy Fort, Bill Teague and Sonny Davis—these have gone down in defeat before the Del Rio artist.

World champion high school calf roper before his graduation, Franklin has moved into the professional ranks, where in the last few years he has been setting the circuit on fire with his fast loop and speed on the ground. To date, he has won approximately $7,000 this year.

Also scheduled to appear are Fort, Cooper, Davis, Holleyman and others. Holmes said this was to be the last roping event to be held this year in Brownfield.

Altizer and Franklin will rope 12 calves each. Both these men have won the lion's share of big money in Denver, Fort Worth, San Antonio, El Paso and Houston.

Plains Cotton Growers soon will have a full-time executive vice-president, it was announced yesterday in Lubbock.

George W. Pfeiffenberger, widely known in West Texas and throughout the nation for leadership in advancing the interests of cotton, will assume top-level staff responsibility about July 1.

Official announcement of the appointment came from PCG's President W. O. Fortenberry.

As executive veep of the Plains Growers, Pfeiffenberger will manage an organization dedicated to the promotion and protection of cotton producer interests in West Texas.

He will be concerned with activities aimed at solving cotton production problems in this area, at improving and stabilizing fiber and seed quality, at improved merchandising and promotion of short staple consumption and at an analysis of government policies affecting Plains cotton.

A native of Ohio, Pfeiffenberger is a member of The Fiber Society, the American Society for Quality Control, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Society for Testing Materials and the Texas Acad-

MAY 30 IN LUBBOCK

Importance of Cotton Meeting Is Told

Two important Lubbock meetings are scheduled for the end of this month: On May 30, the Texas Farm Bureau will sponsor a Hotel Lubbock meeting designed to air the current cotton situation, termed by many as "the most critical ever faced."

The 17th annual American Cotton Congress will convene May 31 through June 2 in the Caprock Hotel National and state speakers will appear at both sessions.

Total 1955 farm cash income in the 38 counties of District 1, as reported by the Bureau of Business Research, University of Texas, was $525,407,000.

Cotton and cottonseed accounted for 62.21 per cent, or $326,835,000, of the total. Cattle and calves were second, with 17.29 per cent, or $90,816,000.

Agricultural officials estimate as much as 90 per cent of the irrigated 1956 cotton acreage in the 20 South Plains counties now is planted.

The Agriculture Department

last week predicted this year's domestic cotton harvest "may be the smallest in 75 years." World-wide production is expected to reach 39,300,000 bales, just slightly above the 1954-55 record.

"With normal underplanting and abandonment," the USDA report said, "the acreage harvested in 1956 may be the smallest in 75 years." During cotton acreage reserve program will be explained in detail.

Speakers will be Jack Lynn of Washington, legislative director for the American Farm Bureau Federation; Dr. M. K. Horne of Memphis, Tenn., chief economist for the National Cotton Council, and H. L. (Hub) King of Brownfield, member of the Texas Farm Bureau's board of directors.

Lynn will discuss the seven-point cotton program, and Horne will tell results of a cotton price study made by his organization. King will discuss the present state 10 per cent cotton acreage reserve program and explain why TFB favors a two per cent reserve.

The Lubbock meeting will get under way at 9:30 a.m. and will be adjourned at 1 p.m.

Can We Build With What We've Got?

Say "industry" and what do you think of? Soot-covered cities, long lines of strikers, large factories, payrolls . . . prosperity when the plants are going. It also means competition, keen competition between communities, states and individuals. Everyone is eager to share in the stabilizing wealth that "industry" can bring to a region.

Several West Texas towns have been successful in acquiring industry since World War II to prove that it is possible. And while we wholeheartedly support any program for the betterment of Brownfield there are a couple of quotes from the recently published "Tomorrow in West Texas" that stick in our mind.

First, and a statement similar to those which we have used in previous editorials, "The Southwest has been, and to a considerable extent still is, essentially a supplier of raw materials and power for other sections of the country."

Secondly, "The discussion of industrialization thus far has been rested largely upon the assumption that this development will result from the establishment and operation of plants by those who are drawn to the community from some outside area by the superior advantage or advantages it offers. This is the road to industrialization that is visualized characteristically

To many another community, however, industrialization has come in a quite different manner: it has come as a result of developments within the community itself. The sole proprietor of some small shop, as a consequence of a growing business, finds it desirable to employ a man to assist him — then two, then three, and progressively more until he has become the proprietor of what merits recognition as a local industry.

"In another case, some local man develops a new machine or an improved method of performing a certain operation; building upon that he, too, becomes the recognized head of a local industry which in time may attain even national standing.

"Or, again, certain local citizens may believe they see an opportunity to build an industry upon some particular resource of the area, be it clay or cotton or grain sorghums or beef animals or other. These men, using their own capital, construct a plant, place it in operation, and success attends their effort.

"Uncommon indeed is the Industrial Committee that examines possibilities locally with the same interest and enthusiasm that is evidenced in dealing with the stranger; only in rare instances will the same effort be made to stimulate the development of a small local undertaking as to effect the 'importation' of a new one . . .

"Local possibilities may be few in a given community but the record of industrial development indicates that it is generated more commonly from within, so to speak, than drawn from without. Where local possibilities can be discovered, therefore, no less effort should be made by those interested in industrialization to realize those possibilities to the full than to interest outsiders. And, since local industry will be directed by men who are a part of the community, with a knowledge of its needs and aspirations, it might be well for the Industrial Committees, the bankers, the community leaders, to give special thought, exert special effort, to promoting industrialization from within, rather than from without."

There's another side to the problem of course. In fact several sides. But we wanted to pass along these comments from this authoritative source for what it's worth.

IMPACT IS THE ANSWER

Advertiser Must Seek Results

What'll you have? What's that bring to mind? It's a dry county so let's skip on . . .

The point is that advertisers seek results. Primarily the first concern is to seek the media which, in some way or another, will produce the kind of results he wants.

We'll all have to admit that the beer advertising on the TV sports show is effective. This is regardless of our personal views concerning beer.

That brings us to the selection of a medium. This depends on the type of audience and what his message to them is.

We don't pretend that we could sell beer as effectively as TV, in fact we don't want to try. But we'll guarantee we can sell more groceries for our Brownfield stores than the same TV show that sells beer could.

Whereas that show reaches for millions of viewers, we reach for 3,000 Terry county homes. The people who buy their groceries in Brownfield.

It finally comes down to the point that this is YOUR local newspaper. We are a weekly newspaper with but one purpose in existing . . . that is to serve Brownfield and Terry county. We are compiling a history of this county, week by week as it grows. We are keeping the citizens currently informed of activities. And we are supplying the advertisers with a medium to reach their potential customers.

You don't have one without the other, and whether the hen came before the egg doesn't matter.

The Power of Memorial Day
 by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale

I had the privilege of growing up in small Ohio communities in the early part of this century, and one of my most inspirational memories centers around Memorial Day and the old soldiers of the Civil War.

To me, Memorial Day was one of the most moving of all the national holidays. I was stirred by the speeches and martial music from the bandstand or cemetery on what we called "Decoration Day." There was something about the newness of life that the Spring had brought; soft sunshine falling on the fresh green grass of early summer, the misty hills in the distance, the sound of stirring national songs, and above all, the softly flapping flag in the gentle breeze as the speaker told us of our country, the deep devotion of its heroes, and recounted once more the stirring episodes of our heroic past.

And many a lazy summer afternoon, I sat on the coping around the old courthouse listening to the veterans of the Civil War tell of their experiences in the epic struggle between the States. A boy's imagination quickly sent him off behind long columns of blue or grey, and to him, such names as Antietam, The Wilderness, Shiloh, and Gettysburg became very real and meaningful.

Those old soldiers used to talk gratefully of Lincoln's insistence that those who had borne the heat of the battle and the burden of the struggle, the widow and the orphan, were to be given not charity, but their rightful due as the dependents of those brave men who had fought to preserve liberty and to keep the Union intact. It was regarded as a sacred duty of the nation, and the nation kept faith with its veterans.

In those days, as now, were many who had been disabled by the struggle. Their ability to compete in life had been reduced by wounds suffered in battle. Even as a boy I remember hearing how it seemed they were thought of only on such days as Memorial Day, when orators, fervent in their patriotism, remembered, if only for a day, the long continuing sacrifice made not by those who had died in battle, but by the disabled who were to live for many years following the great struggle.

The heroes of World War I and World War II and the Korean War are, of course, men who, with no concern for themselves, gave their lives that freedom might live. We can never do them adequate honor. And, we must never forget them. They died in their young life, forsaking the opportunities of the years that rest of us might live and develop our highest hopes and dreams.

However, there are other living heroes who deprived themselves of either physical, emotional, or mental health for us and for their fellow countrymen. It would be as wrong for us to neglect or forget them as their buddies who today sleep on some Pacific Island or in a European cemetery. A hero dead or a hero maimed and disabled are both due our equal gratitude and our unceasing devotion.

We must never forget that the most effective way of honoring those who have died is to remember the living disabled, that their lives may be rich and full. They are a great asset to our country as the living embodiment of devotion to freedom. A country is recreant indeed which does not everlastingly keep alive grateful appreciation to those who suffered disability to perpetuate everything that we Americans hold dear.

There could be no better time than on Memorial Day to resolve that we shall gratefully support the honored men and women who have suffered disability from the wars of the United States.

(Written especially for the Disabled American Veterans, the Idento-Tag organization)

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

AUSTIN, Tex.—Record turnouts at this year's precinct conventions produced a surprising by-product—a flood of suggestions for elections law changes.

County convention resolutions sent the Secretary of State's office reflect interest at the grassroots in giving more power to the people and less to the pros.

ECTOR County Democrats charged the party has become "of . . . by . . . and for the politicians." They passed a resolution to prohibit any officeholders, state or federal employes from being a national convention delegate.

Yoakum and Harrison County conventions recommended preferential primaries for presidential nominees.

A number of resolutions were aimed at forcing conservative Democrats into becoming Republicans. Two counties, Swisher and Wilson, resolved that voters be required to register party preferences when they pay poll taxes.

Gray County Democrats also took a dim view of present producers. Something is wrong, they said, when admitted Republicans are so scarce they can hold "precinct conventions in a telephone booth," yet carry the state in a general election.

AMERICAN GUARANTY CLEARED—Two Austin corporations, American Guaranty Underwriters and the Karlich

Co., have been cleared of charges of violating the state securities act.

In an agreed judgment, the firms were absolved of any wrongdoing.

The judgment directed American Guaranty to refrain from re-selling its own stock. It also was directed to call in, 60 days, loans made to Aviation Finance Co. and Metropolitan Finance Co., both of San Antonio.

There was no allegation of insolvency involved. Calvin C. Huffman, Austin attorney, is president of American Guaranty. He is a former newspaper publisher from Eagle Pass.

STATE MAY SUE SALESMEN—Civil recovery suits may yet be filed against the salesman of the Certified Drafts of the defunct US Trust and Guaranty.

At the request of the Insurance Department's liquidation division, the attorney general is preparing a ruling on the legality of such suits.

Testimony from buyers would be the basis of charge. INSURANCE DEADLINE NEARS—Some 120 insurance companies have yet to meet the legal requirements for annual permits to do business in Texas.

The Insurance Commission has indicated that it will take prompt action toward closing the firms that fail to make the June 1 deadline. The firms include 20 stock life insurance companies and 100 mutuals of various sorts. Most are small concerns.

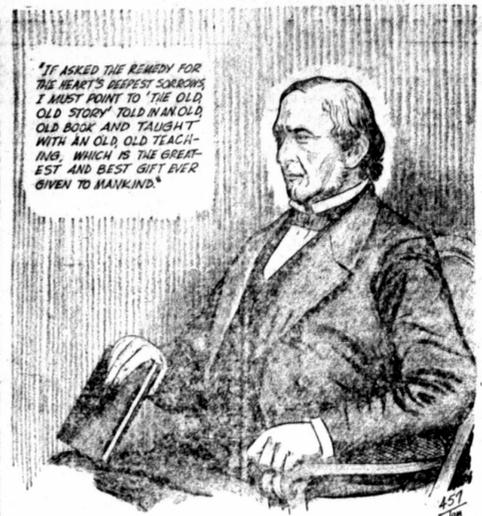

Procedure calls for a show-cause order and a hearing in each case. This will require some 30 to 60 days.

DEFENDS U. S. SUPREME COURT—The U. S. Supreme Court, a frequent target of criticism, has a defender in Austin Attorney Everett Looney, immediate past president of the State Bar of Texas.

Looney declared, in a speech before the Dallas Criminal Bar Association, that such attacks by politicians are "heresy without equal in our history." He said "the number one scapegoat of American politics, the one safe target of the vilifiers, the rabble-rousers, the washed and the unwashed mongers of hate, is the federal judiciary."

Looney accused critics of the court of creating a "climate of frenzy" and "hysteria" which threatens to destroy the American system of justice. He

THE AMERICAN WAY
 THE SOCIAL SECURITY SWINDLE

By John T. Flynn

(EDITOR'S NOTE: George Peck is Chairman of the Board of the National Labor-Management Foundation and Executive Editor of its official publication, PARTNERS.)

I never thought I would live to see the day when the government of the United States would become a racket. Politicians, yes! There is always a good deal of racketeering in that second oldest profession. But for our government — Uncle Sam—to adopt that line is a little disillusioning.

George Peck

The federal government is in several rackets. The one least excusable is the Social Security racket. This provides for old age and other pensions for workers in private industry. It does not apply to all workers, but it does to many, many millions. Here is how it is worked. The boss takes out of the protected employee's pay envelope each month a certain percentage of his wage and sends it to the boss pays a corresponding amount and this, too goes to the Treasury. Thus the covered workers are provided with pensions.

This is supposed to be a mutual system. The funds collected go into a great trust. This United States Treasury. The workers who are working and their bosses, pay benefits to those who retire and dependents of those who die. The whole operation is handled by Uncle Sam, as it should be. But the government has fixed the rate so high that each month the take of the Social Security is $1.5 billion. See American Way, Page 3.

The tests were held by W. L. Owen, station entomologist. His report shows that yields were increased an average of 830 pounds of seed cotton an acre from three applications of insecticides in 1954. The gross value of these gains averaged $102.39 an acre. The entomologist's 1955 report shows that control of thrips and fleahoppers resulted in gains of 310 to 602 pounds of seed cotton an acre. The average gross value of the foregoing increased yields was $50.44 an acre. The cost of three applications of a recommended insecticide averages $1.50 an acre when put on with a ground-spray machine.

Security Board is enormous. This very year the government will collect in these security taxes and taxes of other similar government plans something like ELEVEN AND A HALF BILLION DOLLARS. The rates are fixed so high that the various social security funds in the government's hands have accumulated on a fantastic scale. At the present time these funds—old-age, un-

FLEAHOPPER

The two vicious insects cause damage which delays fruiting and reduces yields of cotton. Thrips cause heaviest damage early in the growing season, when the plants are small.

The thrips damage terminal buds, causing excessive branching and vegetable growth. Fleahoppers cause small squares to shed, also resulting in excessive vegetative growth. Early damage by both insects results in late crops that are usually poor in quality.

Cotton entomologists most familiar with the Plains insect situation say that thrips and fleahopper control should be made a regular farm job. They know that when the practice is followed every year, the farmer will be paid highly for his time and expense.

Two or three applications of toxaphene, dieldrin and heptachlor controlled thrips and fleahoppers effectively on the High Plains in 1955 when initial treatments were applied soon after the cotton had reached the fruiting stage.

A good general recommendation, says Owen, is to put on the application of insecticide during each of the last three weeks in June.

employment and other federal pension funds—have accumulated until they amount to some 43 BILLION DOLLARS.

Now what has become of these 43 billion dollars? The government has been paying benefits as they come due, but there is left some 43 billion in the government's hands. Where are these fabulous billions? Why your good old Uncle Sam has borrowed them. Of course, Uncle Sam does not borrowing in fact. The government in Washington borrows these billions. This means that the politicians borrow them. They borrow them and spend them on all those boondoggles which help them to stay in power.

If you have a policy in a private insurance company, your premiums are invested by the company not in its own stocks and bonds, but in the stocks and bonds of other corporations and governments. If at any time the private insurance company needs funds to meet its obligations, it can convert its investments into cash. But if the federal government needs money to meet its social security payments, it would have to go back to the workers, their bosses and the general taxpayers and tax them all over again.

The so-called security funds amounting to 43 billion dollars are all invested in federal bonds. The government has spent the money. To use these bonds to meet pensions it would have to go back and tax the people all over again to get the money. Who would be taxed? Who but the employers and their workers who put up the money in the first place?

Back in the early New Deal days when all sorts of fantastic government enterprises were suddenly popping up, the problem of Social Security was among them. Competent students at the time warned against these fantastic funds. This writer recalls forecasting that if ever needed, the money would have to be collected all over again from the very people who supplied the money in the first place. But the temptation to the politician who were running the government to borrow these funds and spend them on all sorts of boondoggles was too powerful to be resisted.

The course now is quite clear. Congress should put an end to the accumulation of any more such funds. It should then enable employees and bosses alike to reduce the take. And it should set up a congressional commission to investigate and study this whole indefensible policy. It

OIL AND MEAL

HIGH PLAINS SESAME

PLANTING IS URGED

Sesame Production Is Profitable On South Plains, Figures Show

The following information was released recently by the Texas Sesame Seed Growers Association.)

Six good reasons for growing sesame:

1. Sesame grows well in the entire cotton-producing South and Southwest. It has a combination tap root and fibrous root system and is drought tolerant.
2. Sesame matures in 90 to 110 days and fits your farming program. Farmers agree that crops following sesame produce better.
3. The whole seed, the oil and the meal of sesame are top quality. Sesame oil is recognized as "Queen of the Vegetable Oils."

4. There is a good and improving market for sesame in the United States and for export. The 1954 demands through the association exceeded the supply.

5. The low cost of production and relatively good price for the comerial seed allow growers to make good profits.

6. There are no acreage controls.

In the production of sesame seed, the association says: Good stands require a good seed bed. Plant after cotton is planted, when danger of cold weather is past. Plant three-fourths to one and one-half pounds an acre, depending on location. Vegetable planter boxes mounted on standard frames are best for good results.

Plant seed one to two inches deep, depending on weather and soil conditions. Best yields resulted from plants in the row one to four inches apart. Cultivate like cotton, usually no more than two or three times.

TSSG says this about harvesting the crop:

Sesame sheds its leaves and no chemicals are required. When leaves drop, cut with a row binder or grain binder and put into small shocks.

Bundles dry in the shock 10 to 14 days, and the pods crack open at the tip. Thresh seed by pulling a combine through shocks.

Sesame is an excellent food product, explains the association, and the whole seed is used to improve the flavor and nutrition of bread, buns, brown-and-serve rolls or French sticks. Several variations of sesame candy and cookies are on the market, as well as "snack crackers" containing the seed.

Whole sesame seed can be substituted in many recipes commonly using peanuts or pecans, with delightful results. "Open Sesame Pie," containing the seed in the crust, won this year's $25,000 Pillsbury baking contest.

When crushed for oil, the seed yield about 50 per cent high quality vegetable oil, which is used for cooking, margarine or shortening and for many other specialized purposes. The remaining meal contains about 50 per cent protein and is premium quality poultry and livestock feed.

Concerning markets, the association explained: Farmers deliver their sesame to local assembly points to be cleaned or trucked to a central cleaning plant. Here the seed is cleaned and bagged according to the buyer's requirements, and then shipped by truck, rail or ocean steamer to its final destination.

The bakery and candy trade in the United States import relatively large amounts of seed each year, and this market will be greatly expanded as new products are developed.

In the world market, sesame has been traded for centuries, much in the same manner as wheat or cotton. This year, about half of the association's total production was sold into the export market.

This is the third year of commercial sesame production under leadership of the association. First-year results were good, they say, and acreage increased about eight times. Second-year production was good in early areas and under irrigation, but severe drought and extremely high temperatures cut production in many of the dryland counties. Even in these areas, sesame compared well with other crops.

Average price to growers in 1954 was 9.6 cents a pound. Normal yields on dryland of 300 to 1,200 pounds an acre would result in gross profits between $29 and $115 an acre, with cost of $10 to $25 an acre.

The $25 cost would include some fertilizer, and yields would be increased accordingly. Irrigation farmers can expect yields of 600 to 1,500 pounds an acre, depending on fertility, care and number of waterings.

It doesn't know what maximum yields are on irrigated land, says TSSG, but 2,000 pounds an acre at Lubbock and more than 3,000 pounds an acre in Arizona have been reported.

Farming Angle—

In the past five years, it was noted, U. S. acreage has been reduced steadily from 26,900,000 to the 17,400,000 now in effect.

Terry county remains dry, but the range area still shows some improvement from the recent small rains. Planting of cotton seed soon will be a thing of the past. The alert is out, however, for the insects which soon will be taking their annual toll.

Avoid the following 10 home hazards and live longer: Tripping over objects, unlabeled medicine, using makeshift ladders, handling loaded guns, slippery surfaces, careless use and storage of knives, careless storing of poisons, inadequate wiring and faculty extension cords.

The 1956 Maid of Cotton in Terry county is beautiful Wanda Cornelius, 18-years-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Cornelius of Route 1, Meadow.

Wanda, who was graduated Monday from Brownfield High School, was awarded the coveted title against 21 other contestants here Saturday evening. A panel of three out-of-town judges made the decision.

This year's Cotton Week observance may rightfully be called a success—it should even more so next year. The minds of those persons attending the Saturday night club, he calculated the amount of money he'd spend and wound up just enough to pay the check, but not enough left for a tip. There seemed no way out of the predicament so he talked it over with waiter. Typically suave waiter listened to the without a change of expression.

"Don't let a thing faze either you," he murmured he picked the bill. "I'll add this thing up again."

Be sure of a stand of small grain...

KILL ALL SPECIES OF WIREWORM WITH A SINGLE

 seed treatment

NEWLY SEEDING FIELDS make good feeding grounds for true and false wireworms and other soil insects. If there is not enough moisture in the soil to permit quick sprouting, seeds are vulnerable to insect attack for several days. But the threat of wireworm damage should be recognized at all times.

A dieldrin preventive seed treatment is a sure way to protect small grain seeds until they sprout.

LOW-COST PROTECTION

It costs just pennies per acre to treat seed with dieldrin, but dollars per acre to feed the wireworms untreated seed! A dieldrin seed treatment prevents "spotty" stands... eliminates the expense of time and money for re-planting or sowing extra seed for the wireworms to feed on... assures you of a longer grazing period. And dieldrin does not harm plant development.

COMPATIBLE WITH FUNGICIDES

Dieldrin is compatible with fungicides... can be applied at the same time to save the expense and work of a double treatment. You can buy dieldrin-treated seed from your seed dealer, or treat the seed yourself. Dieldrin can be applied as a slurry, dry, or in a grain drill. A convenient method is to apply dieldrin to the seed in the grain drill as you plant. Follow directions on the label for the particular formulation you buy.

LESS WORK AT PLANTING TIME

Seed can be treated now and stored until planting time. Dieldrin eliminates the rush of treating seed and planting within a few days. Dieldrin formulations are available throughout the small grain growing area. See your local supplier.
