NEW CONSTRUCTION—The future home of Lindsey's Hardware fast is taking shape at Broadway and Lubbock road intersection. To contain 84,000 square feet, the building—of steel and concrete—will be enhanced by a 150-foot pane of tinted glass in the front—facing west. Roger Lindsey said this morning that he expects to occupy the building about Sept. 1. In the picture above, steel beams are being swung into place for the roofing system. When completed, the building will be the largest retail store in Brownfield in point of floor space. (Staff Photo)

After a recent news story concerning the study of the possibilities of a junior college in Levelland, you may have heard someone wonder why the Brownfield Chamber isn't doing something like that.

Actually they are. In fact even while they were working to bring the Christian Junior College here, they were considering the possibilities of a Terry county junior college. The holdup at present is outside the Chamber, and some news should develop before much longer.

Up in Oklahoma and Kansas the Junior college has become almost as much a part of the local school systems as the high school.

We thought polio was whipped when the Salk vaccine came out. But did you know that out of a little over a thousand students in Brownfield schools in the first three grades, that only 250 have had three shots. Only 285 have received the two shots necessary for immunization. Another 245 have had one shot and that leaves 256 children in this age group who are just as apt to contract polio today as they

In The Pictures — A crowd estimated at 1,500-2,000 watched Friday night as the new swimming pool in Terry County Park was dedicated. In the left panel below, Ted Hardy is caught in mid-air as he leaves the high board in a diving exhibition. Middle panel: Part of the crowd—to grow larger as it grew darker—which thronged the area. Right panel: Mayor Arlie Lowrimore cuts the wide ribbon which opened officially the pool for swimming. Only mishap of the night occurred when two young sisters fell (?) into the shallow end of the pool.

Building Permits Lag During May

May is annually a slow building month, and it proved no exception this year as only $42,000 in permits were issued at the City Hall. In number of permits issued it was the lowest month of 1956 with eight, compared to February with 9. However total dollars of construction puts it ahead of February.

The total for the first five months of 1956 is now $532,895. Compared to all former years except the all time record year of 1955, this total reflects normal building for the first five months.

Building permits were as follows: S. Yandell to remodel the Texaco service station at the Lubbock-Tahoka Roads intersection to be a Dairy-Mart. Cost $500.

The Fundamental Baptist church is building a new $22,900 sanctuary at 107-9 W. Stewart. The old sanctuary will be used as an educational building.

B. N. Flanagan took out a permit to build a $9,000 frame and asbestos siding house at 711 Magnolia.

R. R. Marsh received a permit to add a carport to his residence at 801 E. Buckley, estimated to cost $200.

At 815 North A. W. W. Jeter is building an 8X22 foot addition to the existing residence. $500.

Ramsey Preparing To Open Campaign For Lt. Governor

San Augustine, June 7.—Soil and water conservation and greater protection for Texas families through good services and stability in government are the major issues on which Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey will campaign for re-election this summer.

Ramsey, who is touring the state preparatory to opening officially his campaign, said, "soil is the storehouse of agriculture and industry. Water is the key to both."

"People throughout Texas have made great strides in soil and water saving practices in the past 10 years," He added: "The state must give full assistance to equitable plans for conservation at the local level if we are to maintain a sound economy and reach our true potential."

On plans for protection of Texas families, Ramsey said the government must effect rigid rules of conduct and exacting controls over blind forces of influence. Ramsey cited the need for (1) strict curbs on lobbying; (2) stiff narcotic penalties, with life imprisonment or death penalty for the second conviction on charge of selling to minors; (3) eliminating loan sharks; and (4) an unceasing watch to assure families their insurance policies are sound.

Ramsey, who spearheaded the move to rid the insurance industry of "parasites" and eliminate fraudulent investment schemes, said the results have been tremendous.

"My ambition," Ramsey said, "is to wage the fight through to complete assurance of full protection to the public in all phases of government."

SUNDAY'S CROWD—Scores of men, women and children taxed the capacity Sunday of the brand new swimming pool — and its officials—in Terry County Park. Grown-ups paid 50 cents to swim. Those from 6 to 18 paid their quarters, and tots waded "for free." One of the main attractions is the slide, seen to the left of the picture above. The concession stand, operated by Brownfield Lions, reported brisk business all day. Opening hours of the pool are: 2 p. m. until 7 p. m. on Sunday, and 10 a.m. until 9 p.m. all other days of the week. Head Coach Doug Cox will manage the pool this summer, assisted by his staff of assistant coaches. One and two lifeguards are on duty at all hours. (Staff Photo)

General Telephone Slates Construction Of New Quarters Here, Manager Says

A modern building to house the Western Division offices of General Telephone Company of the Southwest will be built on the corner of Seventh and Tate streets in Brownfield, J. L. (Dusty) Kemper, division manager announced this week. The building will be erected and owned by Commercial Contracting Company of San Antonio and leased to General Telephone on a long-term agreement.

Kemper said the one-story structure would be of masonry construction and contain about 5,000 feet of floor space. It will be air-conditioned and will have forced warm air heating.

Construction is expected to begin soon. The new building will be occupied early this winter.

Kemper said land adjacent to the building is available for parking facilities for the office's 38 employees. The company will continue using its present warehouse facilities at 720 West Broadway for division supplies and material.

The new building will be constructed to care for the needs of the division office until 1966, he added.

The Western Division of the company is comprised of 33 exchanges in the South Plains of Texas and in far Eastern New Mexico. Largest exchanges are Hobbs, Carlsbad and Lovington in New Mexico and Brownfield, Lamesa, Littlefield, Levelland and Muleshoe in Texas. The division office directs the company's operation in this area.

Call Eight Men For Induction On 13th

Notices were mailed Monday by Local Draft Board 116 to eight men for induction into the Armed Forces on June 13. Eight others will take pre-induction physical examinations the same day, said Mrs. Nell Merritt, board clerk.

The eight men represent the local board's share of 586 called this month in Texas. The July draft call will total 641 men in Texas, and the local board's share of 5 will be inducted July 25.

Mrs. Merritt said the July call probably will be filled by volunteers and men without children.

The board clerk warned that young fathers must advise their board about children or See INDUCTION, Page 2

HUGE CROWD IS THRILLED

Glamorous First Night Marks New Swimming Pool Opening

They're swimming in the 'ole.

By the hundreds, residents have shucked their cares this past week and have taken to the water in the spankin' new pool at Terry County Park.

Formal opening ceremonies Friday night paved the way for the deluge of business which has astounded pool officials daily.

Emceed by County Judge Herb Chesshir, the Friday event lasted about two hours and was climaxed by—a water ballet.

Appearing on the entertainment side were Charles Goza, singing guitarist of Wellman; Janiece Meek, singing accordionist of Brownfield; some 20 dancing students of Mrs. Dee Parker, and the water ballet troupe—about 15 strong—of Mrs. Ben Monnett.

The scissoring of a broad blue ribbon by Mayor Arlie Lowrimore signaled the actual opening of the swimming pool. First "in" were divers Daphne Pemberton, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dip Pemberton, and Mary Jane Brownfield and Ted Hardy.

The crowd—some 1,500 or more—heard Rev. Bill Spreen of First Christian Church ask, in an invocation, the blessing of the Lord upon those citizens who had the vision to create such a project for the youth of the county—and it was to the youth that the pool formally was dedicated.

Among those acknowledged by the emcee and the crowd were Mayor Lowrimore; M. C. Butler and Turner R. Kimmel of Lubbock, architects; Paul Hughes of Lamesa, mechanical contractor; Jack King, architect's superintendent; Garner Jones of Lamesa, contractor, and State Rep. J. O. Gillham; Mrs. O. D. Kennedy, L. J. Richardson, W. N. (Doc) Lewis, Mrs. J. M. Teague, G. I. Simes, Jack Eastham, Jerry Stoltz and Lewis Peeler, members of the Park Commission; Grady Elder, former Chamber of Commerce manager here and now of the Snyder chamber, and the four county commissioners, Mrs. B. R. Lav, Bob Burnett, Carl Stephenson and Earl McNeil.

Free swimming lessons will get under way at 9 a.m., Monday, said Doug Cox, who will manage the pool this summer, aided by his assistant football coaches at Brownfield High School.

"Boys and girls wanting; to take these free lessons," Cox explained, "may register anytime with us here. We'll teach them in groups of 40, from 9 until 10 a.m., Monday through Friday. If a boy or girl is to start to school this fall, or if he is not over 18, he is eligible."

Record Total of Fines Are Paid in Court Here

A record number of persons—124—appeared in May before Justice of the Peace Lonnie Rhyne, and a record total of fines—$2,801—resulted.

Of the 124, Rhyne explained, 87 were charged with unlawful traffic violations—mostly for speeding.

Of the $2,801, the county kept $2,121, and the state, $680. Most of the county's share goes into the Road & Bridge Fund.

"Please slow down," urged Rhyne this morning.

Miss Jackie Luanne Tongate Becomes Bride of Don Pendergrass June 1

Miss Jackie Luanne Tongate became the bride of Don Pendergrass in a ceremony read in the home of the bride's parents at 6 p. m. June 1.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tongate of Route 1, Brownfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pendergrass of Meadow.

Dr. J. Harvey Scott, minister of the First Baptist Church at Petersburg, read the double ring rites before an arrangement of daisies and miniature roses interspersed with honeysuckle and Bells of Ireland.

Joe Tongate, brother of the bride, was best man. Miss Betty Mason of Meadow was maid of honor.

"My Happiness" and "Whither Thou Goest" were sung by four of the bride's classmates, Misses Pat Joplin, Barbara Russell, Sally Rutledge, and Marcia Dunn.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white linen sheath dress topped with a blue lace duster. She carried a white Bible, a gift from her aunt, topped with blue carnations. For something old, she wore a locket belonging to her mother. Something new was her wedding dress, and something borrowed was a hat belonging to her honor attendant. Something blue was a garter given her for graduation by Mrs. Carl Stevenson, and a 1938 penny minted in the year she was born, was placed in her shoe by her father.

Miss Mason wore a white linen dress with a blue carnation corsage. The members of the quartet were dressed in white and wore blue corsages. Miss Judy Tongate, sister of the bride, was candlelighter. She wore a white dress, trimmed in blue.

A reception was held following the wedding. The serving table was laid with a linen cloth and featured the two-tiered white wedding cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple and blue wedding bells. Miss Pat Hinson of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, served the cake and Miss Wanda Terry poured punch. Guests attended from Meadow and Lubbock.

Following a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., the couple is at home in Meadow, where the groom is engaged in farming. Both Mr. and Mrs. Pendergrass are graduates of Meadow High School.

Dr. Bob Black of Texas Tech's Ag department put over a point to Rotarians and their farmer guests Friday with this story:

A fellow was telling a friend about a hunting trip during which he had been tarped by a bear in a box canyon. And he told his friend how scared he was, and finally he figured that he could kill the bear with a ricochet shot off a rock wall. So he figured the angle, figured the windage, distance, drift and spiral of the bullet and every other factor of the shot.

Then his friend asked, "Well, did you kill the bear." And he said, "no, I missed the wall."
Dr. Black was pointing out

Lead in Little League Taken by the Braves

By HAL ROCHE
OF KTFY

A disastrous defeat at the hands of the Mulkey Construction Company Red Sox cost the Rotary Yankees their league lead last week. The Red Sox were never ahead until the last of the fifth when they pushed seven big runs across to sew up the game, 13 to 7.

Although out-hit by the Yankees, 9 to 5, the Sox put two base hits and four bases on balls together for the big fifth inning and gave pitcher Olan Boring the win. Starter Ronnie Farquhar gets the loss.

Leonard George of the Sox led the attack at the plate with a triple and a home run in three trips.

The second game last Thursday saw the Giants down the Cubs, 18 to 12.

Friday's games pitted the Red Sox against the JC Braves, with the Braves taking the encounter, 4 to 2, and the Yankees beat the Indians, 4 to 2 in the day's finale.

The Red Sox defeated the Cubs, 14 to 13, Tuesday while the Braves slaughtered the Giants, 20 to 3.

Action continues tonight in Little League baseball with the Braves meeting the Indians in the first game at 5:15 and the nightcap finds the Cubs pitted against the Yankees.

Friday the Giants play the Indians meet the Red Sox, and next Tuesday the Indians meet the Cubs and the Red Sox play the Yankees.

Although both the Braves and the Yankees have dropped only one game each, the Braves have played seven games while the Yanks have played only five. The Braves top the league by 57 percentage points. The league standings:

	W	L	Pct.
Braves	6	1	.857
Yankees	4	1	.800
Red Sox	4	3	.571
Indians	3	3	.500
Cubs	0	7	.000

Batting averages took a tumble in most cases last week, and the big six has been reshuffled appreciably as the standings show.

Auburn (Giants)	667
Cabrera (Cubs)	591
Huffman (Giants)	588
L. George (Red Sox)	579
Harrell (Braves)	563
Harbin (Yankees)	533

Leonard George of the Red Sox heads the field in home runs thus far in the season.

Country Club swimming party for pre-school through fifth grade students will be held at 2 p.m., Saturday, said Mrs. Dip Pemberton.

Association Plans Work on Cemetery

An urgent call for funds has gone out from the Meadow Cemetery Association, according to President R. L. Montgomery.

The action was taken Monday when the association voted to undertake the following projects at the cemetery:

Install a pressure pump at a minimum cost of $300, to clear all lots of weeds, rubbish and drifted sand and to clear driveways and alleys.

Said Montgomery: "There is an urgent need for additional funds to meet this very necessary expense, and the cemetery committee earnestly requests that families living in Brownfield and surrounding areas who have loved one buried here, that they mail donations to Mrs. Carrie Avary at Meadow."

The average clerical office worker on the West Coast got $64 a week in 1955.

Double Ring Rites Unite Marilyn Miller and Joe Sharp Here June 2

MRS. JOE SHARP

Miss Marilyn Miller and Joe Sharp were married at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, June 2, in the Calvary Baptist church. Parents of the couple are Rev. and Mrs. Stephen W. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Sharp.

The bride's father officiated at the double ring ceremony, read before an arch covered with greenery intersticed with white carnations and flanked with three baskets of palms, two candelabra, and two baskets of white gladiolus.

Miss Sandra Jones of San Angelo played the pre-nuptial music and traditional wedding marches, and accompanied Mr. Gene Saur of Shreveport, La., as he sang "Because", "Always", and "The Wedding Prayer".

Given in marriage by her uncle, W. C. Miller of Brownwood, the bride wore a gown of white satin, designed with a fitted bodice and chapel sweep train. The yoke was accented with seed pearls and the long tapered sleeves were of chantilly lace. Her French silk imported fingertip veil fell from a heart-shaped tiara of lace and pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid.

Miss Jan Briggs of Seminole was maid of honor. She wore a gown of white taffeta, with a scalloped neckline and fitted bodice gathered onto a full skirt. She wore matching mitts and a headress of blue flowers. The bridesmaids, Misses Sallie Gray of O'Donnell, Jane Williams of Trent, and Patricia Howard of Childress, wore yellow frocks made identical to the honor attendant's. Miss Linda Campbell of Lubbock was flower girl and wore a blue organdy dress, with matching mitts and headress. Freddy Gail Dove of Fort Worth was ring bearer.

Former Brownfieldite Writes From New Home In Alexandria, Egypt

DENISE BARNETT

"What I wouldn't give to see a good old West Texas sandstorm!"

So writes Mrs. Glen Barnett from Alexandria, Egypt. Mrs. Barnett, her husband and one year old daughter, Denise Lynn, have lived in Alexandria for seven months and are taking advantage of their overseas stay by sightseeing every spare minute they have.

In a letter to the News this week, Mrs. Barnett writes: "The company has completed the first well here. It was located at Borg El Arab; the other rig at Wadi N'atrun. They are setting up a rig at Mersa Mahtud for their third well. Some names, aren't they? If you can't pronounce them, don't feel badly, because it's about all I can do to write them."

My husband is at Mersa Mahtud, about 300 miles from Alexandria. It's another little resort town on the Mediterranean. They plan to be there about two months, if nothing happens."

The Barnetts live in a modern villa in Alexandria, which is a city of about people. Mrs. Barnett writes "When I come home, I'm going to bring quite a few things from here. I'd love to send things now, but custom duty is so high, I can't do it, so I'll wait and bring it with me. The materials over here are really beautiful, but they're not as cheap as you would think. Everything here is about three times as high as back home."

The News goes to the Barnetts every week, and Mrs. Barnett says that she really enjoys reading the news and reads every line of it.

Mrs. Barnett is the daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Earl Bradley of 209 E. Buckley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Spears, Sr., had as their week end guests their daughter, Mrs. Ruby Bomar, of Lubbock, and their grandson, Charles Bomar, wife, and children from Eastland.

MRS. GAIL ARLEN ARMSTRONG

Miss Josephine Ann Grissom Marries Gail Arlen Armstrong Sunday, June 3

In a double ring ceremony read at 3 p.m. June 3 in the Calvary Baptist Church, Miss Josephine Ann Grissom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Grissom, 321 E. Buckley, became the bride of Gail Arlen Armstrong, son of Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Armstrong, 603 Lanny Avenue.

Rev. Armstrong performed the rites before an archway of greenery, flanked with baskets of white gladiolus and candelabra with blue tapers.

Nancy King, organist, played pre-nuptial music and the traditional wedding marches, and accompanied Pat Ramseur as he sang "I Promise You", "Because", and "The Lord's Prayer".

Miss Fay Grissom attended her sister as maid of honor. Candelighters were Misses Rita Lou Goodpasture and Grace Grissom, sister of the bride.

Attending his bother as best man was Gary Armstrong of Abilene. Ushers were Jack Harlan and Don Armstrong, brother of the groom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ornamental gown of white imported Chantilly-type lace and nylon tulle, over net and taffeta. Designed with a high neckline framed with tiny double collar of pointed lace, the fitted lace bodice had a sheer yoke outlined with pointed applique, long sleeves ending in points over the hands, and terminated with a point at the center front waistline. From this stemmed a voluminous skirt of tulle with shirred lace yoke applied to tulle in deep points at the lower hipline and emphasized with hoops and crinoline.

For something old, she carried a lace-trimmed handkerchief belonging to her grandmother, something borrowed was a string of pearls and a white Bible belonging to Miss King, and she wore a blue garter. Her father placed a penny in her shoe for luck.

The honor attendant wore a navy blue silk orlon dress, designed with front pleated skirt and a round neckline. She carried a bouquet of white carnations. The candelighters wore light blue taffeta gowns, fashioned with vee-neckline, circular skirts and three-quarter length sleeves. They wore carnation corsages.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. Guests attended from Abilene, Coleman, Levelland, and Brownfield.

For a wedding trip, the bride wore a bronze silk orlon dress made on princess style, with pleated skirt and rounded neckline, and white accessories with an orchid corsage.

The couple are both graduates of Brownfield High School, and the bride was a member of the Rainbow Assembly.

Miss Barbara Phillips Becomes Bride Of Leroy Evans In Home Rites May 22

Miss Barbara Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Phillips and Leroy Evans, son of Mrs. J. E. Evans were united in marriage May 22 at 8 p.m. in the home of the parents. Rev. Alton McKee performed the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white street-length nylon dress over blue taffeta with white accessories. Her corsage was white and she carried a white pearl Bible a gift of the groom. For something old, she wore a ring belonging to her great-grandmother. Her dress was something new, she wore a necklace belonging to her sister, a blue garter, and her father placed a penny in her shoe for luck.

Miss Melba Phillips was maid of honor. She wore a blue dotted swiss dress with white accessories and a white corsage.

Bill McKee served as best man.

A reception was held in the home following the wedding. Miss Dorothy Phillips registered guests. Miss Wanda George and Miss Bobbie Bag-well served at the table.

Out of town guests were from Seminole, Big Spring, Midland, and Killeen.

After a trip to Carlsbad, N. M., the couple is at home in Abilene.

Order of Eastern Star Installation Held At Masonic Temple Tuesday

The public installation of incoming officers for Brownfield Chapter 785, O.E.S., was held Tuesday evening, June 5, at 8:00 P.M. at the Masonic Temple. The installation was preceded by a banquet at Nick's Cafe honoring the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Grace Buchanan, and the other new officers.

Miss Donna Newsom played selections on the piano during the dinner, and Miss Sherry Don Spears played for the program which followed. Program Chairman for the banquet was Mrs. Florence Parker, who led the members in group singing. She then read a poem which centered around the motto of the Worthy Matron, "Make the Little Things in Life Count." When she called on a member to rise and make a welcoming speech to the new Worthy Matron, the group was surprised and confused to see three members, Mrs. Norma Hall, Mrs. Carolyn Proctor, and Mrs. Inez Lucas rise and make speeches simultaneously. The program was then finished by a barber shop quartet appointed at random by Mrs. Parker. The quartet, Mrs. Ione Turner, Mrs. Beryl Sadler, Mr. George Steele and Mr. Otho Reeves unsuccessfully rendered "The Dark Town Strutter's Ball." The invocation for the dinner was given by Mrs. Sammie Miller, and the closing prayer by Mrs. Parker. The tables were decorated with spring flowers.

When everyone had assembled at the Masonic Temple, Mr. Claud Buchanan called the meeting to order. Mrs. Ruth Steele presided during the entrance of the officers and the opening ceremonies, which included the Lord's Prayer in unison, the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, and the singing of the National Anthem.

Mrs. Steele welcomed all members and visitors, and introduced Mrs. Florence Parker, member of the Registration Committee of the Grand Chapter of Texas. She then introduced the installing officer Mrs. Eric Proctor, who in turn introduced the Installing Marshal, Mrs. Parker; Installing Chaplain, Mrs. Melvina Nelson; and Installing Organist, Mrs. Turner.

Under the direction of Mrs. Proctor, the following officers were duly installed: Worthy Matron, Mrs. Grace Buchanan; Worthy Patron, Mr. Claud Buchanan; Associate Matron, Mrs. Irma Smith; Associate Patron, Cecil Smith; Secretary, Mrs. Ruth Steele; Associate Conductress, Mrs. Beryl Sadler; Chaplain, Mrs. Edna Earl Moore; Marshal, Mrs. Lura Brown; Ada, Mrs. Bar-

Would have sued Stoltz for libel over his remarks about me in last week's News and Views but two things held me back: didn't figure I could get anything but his spouse and a passel of kids (which I already have some of each of) and secondly, I sadly fear he was right. My biggest regret was landing on my head—figure I was crazy enough without doing more damage. But I'm up and at 'em again this week and am neck deep in weddings. I do want to thank everyone for being so kind—I enjoyed the cards, the visits and phone calls and I thank you every one. Guess you all attended the opening of the new swimming pool last week—it looked like very few of you were missing. I'm sorry I missed the water ballet, but along about 9 a.m., my son and heir got tired (I did, too) of waiting for the swimming to start, so we took off. Understand that Ida May (Mrs. Ben) Monnett did a marvelous job of training her swimmers, and I think you should know who they were: Patti Wilder, Donna Sue Nelson, Sue Shewmake, Leenelle Chesshir, Barbara Germany, Diane Adams, Mary Jane Brownfield, Roseallene Barrett, Linda Brownfield, Barbara Kirschner, Ann Patterson, Ann Copeland, and Daphne Pemberton and Ted Hardy, who along with Mary Jane Brownfield put on a diving act.

Speaking of swimming, lessons start at the county pool Monday and also at the country club. Doug Cox can give you details on the lessons at the county pool, and Gene Mason is in charge of the country club lessons. At the country club, register any time between now and 9:30 Monday morning. Gene will be there by 9 a.m. Monday for your convenience.

Just before I conked myself, Joe Satterwhite at the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce had a meeting of representatives of the local civic clubs and other organizations for the purpose of planning a brochure of the calendar events of the clubs. This brochure will give the name of the club, the date, place, and time it meets for an entire year. Will you please complete your calendar for organizations and turn them in to me or to Joe? We hope to be able to cut out at least some of the conflicts, particularly of major events, by gathering this information.

Don't know about you, but I enjoyed reading about Rev. Ralph O'Dell's trip to Philly to the 250th Presbyterian meeting. He promised me another episode of his wanderings in the historic old city, but, since he was away for 10 days, I guess his desk was stacked at least as high as mine, and probably higher. So maybe later. Anyway, I appreciate his thinking of us poor old drones stuck here in Brownfield and sending the info back to us.

Mrs. Abe Lincoln called me last week and gave me a very good household hint, but trifle late to use last week. Anyway, it kept just fine, and, what with clean up season behind

Stewardship Is Theme of Program Held By Women's Missionary Society

The Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church met Monday afternoon at the church for a regular monthly business meeting with Mrs. Ike Bailey, president, in charge.

The meeting came to order with the singing of "Loyalty to Christ", followed by a prayer led by Mrs. Bailey. A devotion, "I'm sure you can use it. She says that she keeps her paint brushes in bacon fat between usings. She advises a thorough cleaning of the brushes to begin with, then storing them in bacon fat. When the time comes to use them again, wash in good soapy suds, rinse well, and dry. You'll find your brushes are soft and pliable, and Mrs. Lincoln says that she has stored them this way as long as a year with perfect results."

Had a letter from Peggy Bradley Barnett in Alexandria, Egypt, this week and it was so interesting that I wrote some excerpts from it and made an article for you. Peggy and Glen and their cute one year old Denise Lynn subscribe to the News and I'd bet that their News goes a longer way than that of any other of our subscribers before it reaches them. Peggy, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bradley, swears that she reads even the classifieds, and I know what she means because, although I've not been away as far as Egypt, I was away, and that hometown paper means a whole lot.

Which should give some of you an idea: how about letting us send the News to members of your family who are living away from Brownfield? Would make a wonderful gift. Now here's that Oriental punch recipe I promised you a couple of weeks ago, given me by Sweet Gawgia (Mrs. M. G.) Tarpley: 12 cups boiling water, 3 tablespoons tea, 1/2 teaspoon each of cinnamon and cloves; steep until done; add juice of three oranges, 1 lemon, 1 bottle maraschino cherries, juice and all; and sugar to taste. Just before serving, add a bottle of ginger ale and crushed ice. This recipe makes 12 glasses or 24 punch cups.

onal on "Stewardship" was presented by Mrs. Carl Elliott. Reports were given by standing committee chairman. Camp dates for the Boys' and Girls' Auxiliaries were given as follows: July 11-13, Junior Boys; July 16-18, Junior Girls; July 18-20, Intermediate Girls.

Mrs. Bailey appointed a nominating committee, with Mrs. R. D. Shewmake as chairman to bring recommendations for officers of the W. M. S. for the new church year.

A program on Ministerial Relief will be given at the church June 18.

The W. M. S. will meet in circles next week for Mission study in the following homes: Ann Pettit will meet at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday with Mrs. E. V. Riley, 907 E. Oak;

Lucille Reagan will meet at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday with Mrs. E. L. Lawson, 1208 E. Reppito; and Roberta Edwards will meet at 4 p.m. Monday with Mrs. Jim Jones, 219 W. Ripley.

Summary of the Cotton Situation

(Editor's Note: The following is a summary of the current cotton situation as presented last week to a group of South Plains growers. It was prepared by the American Farm Bureau Federation.)

1. The 1951 cotton acreage in the United States was 27 million acres. In 1955, it was 17.1 million, the lowest since 1883.
2. The 1956 cotton acreage allotments are scheduled to be down four per cent—in 1957 they are to drop another 10 per cent.
3. Foreign and domestic rayon prices are four to eight cents a pound less than U. S. cotton prices.
4. From 1948 to 1955, foreign cotton consumption increased by 33 per cent, but foreign rayon consumption increased by 158 per cent.
5. Domestic rayon production and the use of rayon as a blend with cotton, particularly for 1955 and 1956, are expanding rapidly.
6. Foreign cotton acreage has been expanded 30 per cent, or more than 17 million acres, in the last 10 years, while U. S. growers have reduced their acreage.
7. United States cotton exports are down from a total of 6 million bales in 1949-50 to 3 million in 1955, the lowest in 100 years, except for the period of the Civil War and World War II. They could be as low as 2½ million bales this year.
8. Foreign cotton production is within 2 million bales of foreign cotton consumption, and foreign countries are planning to increase their production in the next two years to equal consumption.
9. The synthetic fiber industry of the United States is spending $60 million a year on research devoted to fibers. The cotton industry is spending only about $14 million, or about one-fourth as much, on cotton research.
10. Rayon is four to eight cents a pound cheaper than cotton and can be substituted for or blended with cotton.
11. Because of the lower price of rayon compared with cotton and because of the fixed price of cotton, rayon and textile manufacturers are encouraged to convert to substitutes and blends.
12. Domestic uses of cotton total about 9 million bales annually. This market is being threatened by expanding foreign cotton production and expanding rayon production in the United States and abroad. Present plans of U. S. manufacturers making rayon that blends or weaves best with cotton provide for building additional capacity equivalent to more than 300,000 bales of cotton annually. In 1956, this will equal about 1,300,000 bales.
13. The carry-over of cotton has risen about 11 million bales in the past four years and is expected to be 14 million by August this year.

The Brownfield News AND THE TERRY COUNTY HERALD

Vol. 19 Brownfield News-Herald, Thursday, June 7, 1956 No. 23

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Stice, Patsy Stice, and Mrs. R. M. Kendrick attended graduation exercises at Amarillo High School last week. Mrs. Kendrick's grandson, Sammy Kay Kendrick, was among the nearly 600 graduates.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Vernon of Longview visited early this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Murdough.

AFBF's Seven-Point Program for Cotton

(The following comprises the 7-point cotton program prepared by American Farm Bureau Federation and discussed last week in Lubbock for area farmers.)

1. To make the cotton price support level reflect the average grade and staple.
2. To study the method of calculating parity for cotton so that it more accurately reflects technological changes.
3. To increase research effort and expenditures for cotton.
4. To make mandatory the labeling of textile fiber products to show the percentage of cotton and competitive synthetics in textiles.
5. To work out agreements with foreign exporters of textiles to prevent imports by the United States which seriously affects the U. S. cotton industry.
6. To persuade producers to reduce their production by reducing their cotton acreage in return for payment in kind from CCC surplus stocks.
7. To urge the Administration and Department of Agriculture to take any action necessary to maintain, regain and expand the world exports of cotton from the United States.

The Brownfield chapter of Future Farmers of America will be host next year to the annual convention of the group's Area 2. The decision was made last week in Alpine site of this year's meeting, and was announced by Ves Hicks, advisor here.

At the Alpine session, William Smyrl of the Brownfield chapter placed first in public speaking. Johnny Grissom of Lamesa was elected state vice-president, and Leon Bagwell of Loop placed first in the entertainment division, playing his guitar. County Agent Jim Foy reported favorable attendance at the three insect-control meetings held this week in Wellman, Meadow and here. Foy, illustrating his discussion of the various insects prevalent in the county, urged his audience of cotton producers to "hit them early and hard."

The economics of a lower price for U. S. cotton were laid on the table for area producers during a meeting last week in Lubbock, sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau.

Among those attending from Brownfield were Charles Kersh, Jim Foy, Eulice H. Farrar, Raleigh Luker, Carl Hogue and Kelton Miller. The lower-price premise was put forth by the National Cotton Council as a result of an extensive study. NCC did not advise land is not plugging for—the lowered prices. The national group merely is pointing out the advantages which it thinks will accrue over a long time from such prices.

ADDRESS COTTON PRODUCERS—Some dozen Terry county growers were among 75 from throughout the South Plains who heard an evaluation May 30 of the current cotton situation. The occasion was the third of three statewide sessions set up by Texas Farm Bureau. Meeting in Hotel Lubbock, the group was addressed by the quartet shown above. From left, they are C. H. DeVaney of Coahoma, vice-president of TFB and director of its District 6; Dr. M. K. Horne of Memphis, Tenn., chief economist of the National Cotton Council; Jack Lynn of Washington, D. C., legislative director of American Farm Bureau Federation, and H. L. (Hub) King of Brownfield, director of TFB's District 2. (Staff Photo)

GAINS ARE EXPECTED

Lower Prices and Long-Range Planning Seen for U. S. Cotton

The theory and thinking behind a long-range program based on lower prices for U. S. cotton were told in detail last week to an audience of South Plains farmers.

The occasion was the third of a series of statewide meetings sponsored by Texas Farm Bureau to "analyze and discuss the current cotton situation, termed by many as the most critical ever faced."

The lower-price plan was presented by Dr. M. K. Horne of Memphis, Tenn., chief economist for the National Cotton Council, speaking to some 75 producers meeting in Lubbock's Hotel

Lubbock. Among those attending were about a dozen from Terry county.

Horne told the group that the industry's real need, based on an NCC study, was a price policy geared to a cost of production which is geared downward.

The economist emphasized strongly that hopes for gains which a lower price for U. S. cotton might bring are based on a long-range program rather than on a short-run, one-year basis.

Said Horne: "If there is good ground for hope that the costs of growing U. S. cotton can be reduced farther and faster than the cost of rayon or foreign cotton during the next five or 10 years, then we have the basis for a long-range policy which might help our cotton become the most aggressive competitor in the world of fibers."

A stable price for cotton, more utilization research and promotion — Horne outlined these three factors as the key to American cotton industry's future.

Others speakers to appear before the Lubbock group were Jack Lynn of Washington, D. C., legislative director of the See LOWER, Page 5

NEED 'PROUD' AMERICANS

Patriotism Will Help Keep Peace

"There's a need for proud Americans," those Memorial Day words were spoken in Arlington National Cemetery, resting ground of the Unknown Soldier, by Army Sec. Wilbur Brucker.

The fact that Memorial Day and the time for Brownfield's National Guardsmen to leave for camp fell within the same week was purely coincidental, but the patriotism involved in the two is one and the same.

"The safety of America and American ideals," Brucker said, "depends upon the indomitable spirit of millions of other Americans—in and out of uniform, in every walk of life—willing to stand up and be counted for America, and take the hard road for the sake of their country."

One thing should be clear to every citizen . . . the members of the Brownfield National Guard unit are volunteers. Nobody tells them they had to join, they have instead chosen to retire their military obligation in this manner. In view of the utter lack of patriotism among so many others towards serving their country, this "volunteer" spirit is admirable.

And Brucker spoke of those "out of uniform." Stop and look around during this two-week period at the number of business firms who have men gone, so many at full pay, and be proud of the employer. There's Harry Goble, for instance, at Griggs and Goble, he has two men at North Fort Hood—Jimmy Billings and Howard Smith. That's quite a burden on one business. But Harry Goble served in one war and he's doing his part to keep another from starting.

THE AMERICAN WAY

BRAVO! LAKE CITY
By George Peck

[EDITOR'S NOTE: George Peck is Chairman of the Board of the National Labor-Management Foundation and Executive Editor of its official publication, PARTNERS.]

Our editorial hat is doffed to the citizens of Lake City, Florida (population 8,000). On May 8th they went to the polls and did themselves proud—by an almost 3 to 1 majority the voters rejected a proposal that the city take over municipal ownership and operation of the investor-owned Florida Power & Light Company's electric service facilities. The proposal, estimated to cost from $3 to $5 million, included construction of a city-owned diesel generating plant.

Advocates of the socialistic plan, confined principally to city officials, trotted out all of the usual hokum that the put-government-in-business zealots customarily voice—they waged an intensive campaign. Their principal argument was that a city-owned utility would pay no taxes and, therefore, would prove a good money-maker.

However, the voters of Lake City were not to be hood-winked by this pet and fallacious theory that the proponents of political power customarily advance. A committee of some 60 business and civic leaders was organized to oppose what they know would be a step toward socialization.

Robert H. Fite, President and General Manager of the Florida Power and Light Company (which company now competently services Lake City and is quite capable of taking care of that city's increasing electrical needs) has very properly hailed the election results as a resounding endorsement of the American free enterprise system.

"Florida welcomes new industries and venture capital," Fite said, "and Lake City is in the forefront in this attitude. Its strategic location, abundant raw materials, transportation and friendly labor conditions make it an attractive site for new industries."

During the campaign, the citizens' committee stressed two main objections to Lake City injecting itself into the manufacturing of electric energy.

1. Rate regulation under municipal operation does not exist in Florida. This meant that the citizens of Lake City would have no protection against rate increases. On the other hand, the Florida Power & Light Company which now services Lake City and which the voters on May 8, overwhelmingly decided is to continue serving it, is under the strict regulation of a state commission which among other things fixes rates.

2. A small city-owned plant could not provide dependable service and there was grave danger that it might even become obsolete in a few years due to atomic power developments.

Well, what has so recently happened in Lake City is just one more substantiation of the statement that has been made so repeatedly in this column: When the voters are given an opportunity to decide between political electric power and electricity production by private enterprise, they invariably and overwhelmingly register their preference for the latter.

One is led to wonder in view of the expressed preference for non-socialist, non-political power whenever voters are granted a chance to register their convictions, why such legislators as Senator Morse and others of his ilk continue to press for government development of electric energy. These demagogues profess to be preserving the natural resources for the people, to protecting them against the "greedy" private power interests. Well, it would seem that a ungrateful general public is "paw" for instance, citizens located outside the area served by that pet of the socialists, TVA, are just a bit "fed up" at having to pay part of the electric bills of consumers Authority area. They are registering their protests.

The America people through their chosen representatives have final, exclusive control over Federal spending and over the activities of all Federal bureaus, agencies, commissions or what have you. That control needs to be asserted, otherwise the would-be socializers of this country's economy will wrest it from the people's grasp forever.

It is rumored that come next November 6 there is to be a national election. We, the voters—we, the electricity consumers—can insure that we will pay only our own electric bills by electing representatives and senators who believe in the "American Way" of letting private enterprise do the producing of not only electric energy, but of all other products.

But to get back to Lake City—more power (no pun intended) to the "smart" citizens of that enlightened, enterprising community.

WHEN YOU RETIRE He Makes Hobby Horses

By Robert Peterson

Two Brightly painted hobby horses in front of a white stucco house a few miles from Myrtle Beach, Ga., caused us to slam on our brakes as we were driving by last month. Here was something different. Most roadside stands along this busy New York-Florida highway feature such prosaic products as woven baskets and chenille bedspreads. But here was an item blessed with a little originality.

"I've been making 'em for a couple years now" said the horsemaker, Mr. George Upson, 72, when we found him amid sawdust and shavings in the garage adjoining his home. "Never thought I'd make any pin money when I retired but I've been doing all right with my horses."

He asked how he got started. "It was the usual story," replied. "I didn't know what to do with myself when I retired. My wife gave me some wood-working tools but they sat idle here in the garage for a year. Then one day my daughter came over with a hobby horse she brought at an antique shop for $45. I was shocked at the price she paid for it and told her I could duplicate it for $5. I did too. Pretty soon her friends were wanting me to make hobby horses for their youngsters.

"It's sort of funny looking," he told us as he picked up one of his wooden steeds. It had an exaggerated neck, a quaint beaming face, and a mane and tail of leather thongs. It was painted deep pink with blue trim on the rockets. "I give some of them a wood finish," he added. "With a little stain and varnish you can make a hobby horse that looks like a piece of fine furniture."

"People seem to go for that old-fashioned design," he went on. "A woman from New York ordered four horses last week. She said not to bother painting or varnishing them cause she was going to shoot 'em with buckshot and sell 'em for antiques."

"I use hardwoods like sweet gum, ash, and maple—mostly odds and ends I pick up over at the lumber mill. I take my time and turn out a quality product. Lots of folks say my horses are better looking and better made than any you'll find in stores nowadays.

"The materials cost about $4 per horse and I sell 'em for $15. With this and my pension I do all right."

"The thing I can't understand," he commented reflectively, "is why more retired people on small incomes don't get out of their rockers and make things like these hobby horses. If your product is well made and a little unusual it will always sell. And keeping busy in retirement is a lot more fun than sitting on the porch watching the cars whiz by."

If you share Mr. Upson's views and would like to buckle down to an interesting retirement occupation, write to this column care of your newspaper for a free list of profitable hobbies suitable for retired people.

AUSTIN, Tex. — Nearly 100,000 young Texans take off their mortar boards and roll up their sleeves this week.

Analysts predict that figures, when complete, will show a record number of diplomas and degrees awarded this year.

Texas Education Agency pegs public high school graduates at between 64,000 and 65,000. Degrees being conferred by state-supported colleges and universities are estimated by the Texas Legislative Council at 20,000. Private and church-supported schools swell the graduate rolls several thousand more.

Awaiting these young people said commencement speakers is unprecedented opportunity. Examples of the '56 high school graduate's future, as outlined by an Austin speaker: (1) a longer life span—44 years ahead for boys, 49 for girls, (2) higher earnings averaging a quarter million dollars apiece; (3) less work, dwindling to a 30-hour week and (4) ever-increasing ease and leisure as technology advances.

Concrete evidence of the speaker's promises is the job placement story. University of Texas Student Employment Bureau reports five to ten job offers per graduate at better than ever salaries. Personnel in some deans' office speak wearily of the impossibility of coping with the year-end flood of would-be employers.

High school officials say many graduates began work between their last exam and commencement night.

Mixed Reaction To Highway Bill—A bonanza or a blunder—Texans are in disagreement as to which term applies to the new federal highway bill.

Senate passage of the bill left only a few details to be conference before sending the measure to the President. Final enactment will set into motion a 13-year, $51,000,000 interstate highway construction program.

Texas Highway Department officials are frankly jubilant. They are poised to begin letting contracts Aug 1, using the new supply of federal funds.

"We'll be scraping the bottom of the barrel in the July letting," said State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer.

Greer said the new law would mean a minimum increase of $37,000,000 a year in federal road building aid to Texas—or double the present amount.

He called it "the most far-reaching piece of highway legislation yet enacted." He predicted an era of unparalleled development.

Gov. Allan Shivers was less enthusiastic. He charged turning a state function over to "bungling bureaucracy" made it unduly costly.

His objection was to the provision giving the Secretary of Labor, rather than the states,

Matters Pertaining To Social Security Will Be Discussed

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Brownfield at 9 a. m. on June 14 in the courthouse basement to assist interested persons in all matters pertaining to the federal agency. Says John G. Hutton of the Lubbock office: "The arrival of spring brings thoughts of Vacation and job plans to millions of high school and college students. Any student planning to work should get his social security card now."

Hutton continued: Having his card with him to show prospective employers may help a student get the job, because most employers now insist on copying the name and number directly from the card.

"This prevents mistakes in the name and number on the wage reports which the employer must file. Because earnings can be credited only when the name and number are correct, and because benefits payable in old age or to dependent survivors in case of death are based on earnings credited.

Lynn preceded Horne on the speaker's stand, telling his audience quite bluntly that "Price isn't the reason agriculture is in a slump during this period of relatively high economy. In 1947, total farm sales in this country amounted to about $33½ billion, with a net income to farmers of about $17 billion."

"In 1955, total farm sales were still $33 billion but net income to the farmers was down to $10.5 billion. This is why price isn't as important as some would have you believe. Agriculture is caught in the cost-price squeeze, and such items as the higher minimum wage, seven per cent freight increase is why farm net income is lower," he concluded.

The legislative director discussed in detail AFBF's seven-point program for the American cotton industry, saying: "All the farmers do not agree with it, but it is the best we have to date, and until you farmers come up with something better, we are stuck with it."

1. Contact their congressmen in Washington, giving them the facts and asking that they assist Farm Bureau in lowering the state reserve to two per cent.

2. Contact local ASC committeemen, giving them the facts and asking them to help persuade the state committee.

Nearly 476,000 students were served under the program at the peak this year compared with about 260,000 in 1946. Ten years ago only 2,327 Texas schools were in the program compared to 2,693 this year.

Allotted cotton acreage for the 20-county South Plains this year is 2,045,533 acres. Of this total, agricultural officials now estimate 562,000 acres of dryland cotton is planted, and 1,277,000 acres of irrigated cotton is in the ground. Estimated production is 1,430,000 bales, about 1,000 bales more than the 1955 crops.

King also discussed TFB's acreage reserve policy which calls for the number of state ASC committeemen to be increased from five to 12. The policy recommends that these committeemen be elected for a term of two years and that voters and elected committeemen shall be farm owner and operators and that the districts from which the committeemen are elected correspond to present Extension Service districts.

Draft Classification Changes Are Clarified

AUSTIN, Texas April 24.—State draft boards are receiving may telephone calls these days from men who want to know what "IV-A" means. Because of a recent amendment in Selective Service regulations, more than 100,000 Texans are eligible for a change in classification. Nearly all of them are exempt from further military service unless Congress and the President change the law in the future.

Brownfield News-Herald, Thursday, June 7, 1955

"That is what the classification IV-A means," Colonel Morris Schwartz, state draft director, says. "It means that, under present law, individuals receiving it have completed service and are exempt from further service."

The individuals receiving the IV-A classification were formerly classified in Class I-C and early classified in Class I-C (Discharge) and Class I-C (Reserve). These two draft classifications are now abolished.

Federal Excise Tax on Gasoline Is Forthcoming

Farmers soon will be able to obtain a refund of the federal excise tax on gasoline which is used for farming purposes under a new law. Present federal tax rate is 2 cents a gallon.

John R. Robinson, Internal Revenue Service, announced today that under the new law first refund payments will be made after June 30 on gasoline purchased and used during the first six months of 1956. Thereafter, refunds will be made for one-year period from July 1 to June 30.

To get his refund, a farmer will have to file his claim after June 30 and before October 1. Claims are to be made on Form 2240 and are to be filed with the United States District Director of Internal Revenue for the farmer's district.

Refunds will be limited to the federal tax on gasoline which is used by a farmer for farming purposes, in carrying on a trade or business, on a farm located in the United States. A farmer also may request a refund of the tax on any gasoline which is used on his farm by a custom operator or a neighbor in connection with cultivating the soil, or raising or harvesting any agricultural or horticultural commodity.

Robinson explains that gasoline shall be considered used for farming purposes if it is used to designate her a preferred creditor because she is a depositor.

Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts pointed out proper procedure is first to seek priority with the receiver. If he refuses, creditors may appeal through the courts. This takes months, sometimes years.

Short Snorts—Walter L. Bell has resigned as director of the State Board of Control effective Oct. 15. He has held the job since 1953. He has no immediate plans except to return to his Ft. Worth home and rest.

The Rev. James Hamilton Clark, chaplain of the Texas House of Representatives for the past 10 years, has passed away. He had been a Methodist minister in various South and Central Texas towns and served seven terms as county judge in Johnson City before becoming House chaplain.

Texas Health Commissioner Henry Holle reported that "practically all" nursing and custodial care homes in Texas have been licensed and are meeting requirements of the effective June 1, 1953. Texas has 466 homes under state license.
