

FUTURE FARMERS TO GATHER HERE FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

More than 200 Future Farmers of America will be in Brownfield Friday and Saturday.

Occasion will be the annual convention of Area II, Future Farmers of America.

Official hosts will be members of the Brownfield High School chapter, whose advisors are Ves Hicks and Walter Meyer.

The area comprises 92 chapters (in eight districts) in some 85 towns and is bounded roughly by a line from El Paso to Del Rio to San Angelo to Snyder thence to Tahoka and to Brownfield.

The two-day session is considered another "first" for Brownfield. It is to be held here only after long negotiations by Brownfield school officials and the Chamber of Commerce.

Main purpose of the convention has been described as that of "checking records of boys applying for the Lone Star Farmer Degree, highest honor which can befall a Future Farmer on the state level."

In addition, a total of seven Area II officers will be elected, plus a state officer-candidate, area sweetheart and area entertainer.

Hicks explained Saturday that "A few awards and scholarships will be given. The sweetheart and the entertainer will compete for the state titles during the convention later this year in Fort Worth."

The following is the two-day program.

FRIDAY — Registration in BHS auditorium from 8 a.m. until 10 a.m.; first general session at 10 a.m. in the auditorium; luncheon at 12 noon; second general session at 1:30 p.m.; swimming party at 5 p.m. (Terry County Park pool) and a barbecue supper and entertainment at 6 p.m. in the park, as guests of Chamber of Commerce.

SATURDAY — Breakfast at 7:30 a.m., with the state officer-candidate in charge; fourth general session at 8:30 in the auditorium, and announcement of winners and installation at noon.

Door prizes will be given at each session. All meals will be served in Brownfield Junior High School's new cafeteria.

Here are names of the towns which will be represented here and names of the chapter advisors:

The annual convention of Area II, Future Farmers of America, will be held in Brownfield, May 31-June 1, and will attract more than 200 boys from some 81 chapters throughout West Texas. Host chapter will be that of Brownfield High School.

The national emblem of the Future Farmers of America is significant and meaningful in the organization, it is made up of five symbols: the owl, the plow and the rising sun, within the cross-section of an ear of corn which is surmounted by the American eagle.

Upon the face of the emblem appear the word's "Vocational Agriculture" and the letters "FFA." The owl is symbolic of wisdom and knowledge; the plow is the symbol of labor and tillage of the soil; the rising sun is emblematic of progress and the new day that will dawn when all farmers are trained and have learned to cooperate; the cross-section of an ear of corn represents common agricultural interests since corn is native to America and grown in every state; and the eagle is indicative of the national scope of the organization. The emblem is protected by copyrights.

Teenagers' Recreation Is Planned

All teenage girls in Terry County interested in a summer recreation program designed especially for them—this group is urged to meet at 10:30 a.m., Tuesday in Brownfield High School auditorium.

The program is being sponsored by the Terry County Parks and Recreation Commission, whose secretary is Mrs. J. M. Teague of 410 East Tate.

Said Mrs. Teague: "We strongly urge all interested teenage girls and at least one of their parents to meet with us Tuesday. There are forms which each participating must sign before she can take part in the program."

"Tuesday, we'll sign the forms and organize our teams for the summer. Activities will include volleyball, softball, tennis, ping pong, cooking, sewing and swimming."

Mrs. Teague explained that all activities will require no fee, with the exception, perhaps, of the swimming classes.

Director of the summer program for the commission will be Mrs. Bill Todd, woman's physical education director at BHS, who said practice would begin June 1, with games being held between 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Said Mrs. Todd: "This is to be a countywide summer program, with girls from Meadow, Wellman, Union, Brownfield and the various communities taking part."

Remedial Reading Is To Be Offered Here

Brownfield Public Schools will offer a six-week remedial reading course to some 90-100 grade school students recommended by their teachers, according to O. R. Douglas, superintendent.

School officials requested that parents of these students attend a meeting in Colonial Heights cafeteria at 1 p.m. Tuesday if they desire their children to attend the course.

Burglars Break Into Stores At Meadow; $100 Worth Taken

Burglars broke into three Meadow businesses Tuesday night, taking an estimated $100 worth of items, reports Sheriff James Fulford.

Several boxes of shirts and blouses and some costume jewelry were taken from Wilson Drug, the sheriff said, and 12 cartons of cigarettes, a few cigars, two tools and $3.72 worth of gas were taken from Faulkner's Service Station. B and H Feed store reported about 9 pairs of work gloves were taken the same night.

Fulford, Deputy Bill Gordon and Texas Ranger Ras Renfro are investigating the trio of break-ins.

Summer Courses At BHS To Be Offered Interest Shown

Junior and senior high school students have until 4 p.m. Tuesday to notify school officials if they desire to take summer school courses for credit this year, reports O. R. Douglas, superintendent.

"A survey is being conducted to determine if students desire to take summer work," said Douglas. "These survey sheets must be returned by Tuesday in order for us to set up the classes."

The superintendent said credit courses will be offered in any subject in which 10 or more students are enrolled. He said a $15 tuition fee will be required for the eight-week session.

Douglas noted the schools are prepared to offer English, Texas government, Texas history, American history and mathematics. "However," he said, "if we get 10 or more students in any subject, it will be offered for credit."

Legion Players Will Start Their Season June 1, Says Nowell

Brownfield's American Legion baseball team, for 16-17 year-old boys, will hold its first meeting at 5 p.m. Monday in the high school gymnasium, according to J. B. Huckabee, manager.

"All boys who are interested in playing should attend the meeting or contact Farris Nowell, the coach," said Huckabee. "We must get everyone registered and a team selected before June 1—the opening day of the season."

The manager said the team is open to any boy in Terry County. "Players must be 16-17 years-old and born after Sept. 1, 1939," he added.

Coach Nowell said the meeting Monday will be followed with a limbering-up session. "Those who intend to try out for the team should bring their equipment and be ready to throw the ball," he noted.

The team will be sponsored by American Legion Post 269.

OF FARMERS

Signatures Necessary

Terry County cotton farmers have until June 1 to protect the acreage history of their farms and the county, reported Looe Miller, ASC office manager.

Miller said MQ-31 forms, "Request to Preserve Acreage History," have been mailed to every county farmer who has not signed a form to date.

"These forms must be signed immediately and returned to the ASC office by June 1," said the manager. "Otherwise, we likely are to lose more acreage history this year."

Miller explained that in the past cotton allotments were issued on a five-year average or "history," of acreage used within the county.

"If we had a wet year or something happened to keep the farmers from planting their full allotment, the farmer and the county lost that much acreage-history the next time allotments were issued," stated Miller.

"Under the law revised in 1956, the farmer can sign Form MQ-31 and receive credit for 100 per cent of the farm's allotment, regardless of the amount planted."

The ASC manager said Terry County lost approximately 12,000 acres of cotton history in 1955 and about 2,000 acres in 1956 because farmers were unable to plant all their allotments.

Despite the fact that Terry farmers now can protect their acreage history by signing the form, Miller revealed only slightly more than 25 per cent have signed.

"A few minutes spent to sign and mail the form now may save Terry farmers a lot of money in the future," summed up Miller.

ABOUT WEATHER

Here's One For Record

For the record: An exuberant gust of wind reached down Friday, grabbed A. D. Jordan's pick-up truck and placed it neatly on the ground again—bottom side up.

Inside were Jordan, two sons, R. C., 16, and Don, 13, and a farm hand, Pancho Hernandez, all of Meadow.

The quartet, working in a field 11 miles north and 6 east of Brownfield, seeing the squall line which hit the city about 3:30 p.m., Friday, had made a dash for the truck thinking to go to a storm cellar.

Hail already had broken the windshield.

All suffered some bruises. Other than the windshield, only part of the truck to be damaged was the top.

Other damage has been reported to building and farmland in all parts of the county.

OF LAND OWNERSHIP

The Responsibilities

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The observance here and throughout the nation of Soil Stewardship Week begins today. Congregations in many Brownfield churches this morning will hear sermons dealing with the subject. The following article approaching it from only one angle: Responsibility of Land Ownership.)

The man-land relationship is a necessary part of God's universal scheme. In the Garden of Eden, God made man a steward of the land and responsible to Him for its care and use.

The Biblical message is clear and emphatic on land use and distribution. A man's inheritance of land was to be held, as nearly as possible, inviolate.

Hear Elijah's judgement against Ahab when he would take Naboth's vineyard: "Have you killed and also taken possession?" (I-Kings 21:19). Micah sets forth the prophetic ideal, "They shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree, and none shall make them afraid." (Micah 4:4.)

God's greatest material gift to man is a very special kind of property containing the basic sources of food fiber, and fuel for man's use. Ownership of whatever sort, owner-operator, landlord or tenant involves, utilization of one's property to serve the highest purpose of human development and welfare.

In many instances absentee-owners fail to accept their responsibility as stewards of the soil. A special effort must be put forth to remind the absentee owner of his moral responsibility. Profits made at the expense of soil jeopardize the local community and are made at the expense of the nation.

In the exercise of his ownership of the land, a good owner develops a just pride in his acres, and is actively involved in the improvement of the attractiveness and the productivity of his acres. He comes to feel himself a part of the continuing creative process working cooperatively with God, "maintaining the yield," contributing to human welfare.

Land ownership consciousness results in the conservation and the improvement of the God-given soil, and at the same time yields social satisfactions to the farmer, his family, his neighbors, and the world at large.

Such ownership eventuates in responsible citizenry and Christian stewardship of the land. This kind of ownership should be transmitted from generation to generation.

Farm families have a significant opportunity in father-son agreements. The son inherits the land and the soil stewardship practices of his father. The land of such a farm is conserved and enriched for future generations.

Mrs. Wilson Resigns As Terry HD Agent

Mrs. Wayne Wilson, Terry County home demonstration agent, has resigned her position effective June 1, according to County Judge Herbert Chesshir. The resignation was accepted by Commissioners Court.

Mrs. Wilson, who came here Sept. 1, 1956, told the commissioners she must resign because her husband has accepted a position with an aircraft company near Dallas.

The agent was graduated from Texas State College for Women with a degree in home economics last spring and took home demonstration training in Lynn County prior to accepting the position here.

Wilson will study electronics at Texas A&M while he is employed by the aircraft company.

BRICK UPON BRICK

Is something wrong with your life—an inner restless dissatisfaction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure.
Through the church God has committed the provision and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church relation no one is securely related to God.
Everyone should be in the Church and the Church in everyone!

Quickly and accurately this workman lays the bricks in this wall. He knows that the manner in which he lays bricks will determine the strength and beauty of the completed wall.
Day by day we build our lives in just the same fashion as the bricklayer builds his wall. What we put into our lives and the way in which we do so will make us what we are to become. No worthwhile life can be built without the stone of faith and the mortar of love, all of it crowned by hope. The Church has specialized in these three essentials of life for centuries.
Go to Church Sunday and begin to learn from the only Masterbuilder, God our Creator.

All of the cotton plant except the leaf is utilized in some form to benefit man or beast. The cotton fiber, seeds, hulls, and stalks are all put to commercial use to benefit civilization.

On a visit to England, Francis Cabot Lowell, a young Boston merchant, memorized details of a power loom and reproduced it from memory — thus firmly establishing the American cotton manufacturing industry in 1814.

Best way to use booklet: find home of club, under which will be time and place of meeting. Just about 85 different groups are presented. C. C. Mgr. Joe Satterwhite said Saturday he was one jump ahead of the readers, however. He explained that Brownfield Jaycees meet each Monday noon on Page 2 of the Calendar of Events, the Jaycees are listed as meeting on Wednesday noon. "It is in error", says Satterwhite.

The attractive booklets are free for the picking, them up at the chamber offices.

Steering committee of the Maid of Cotton Review met Thursday to wrap up the event's business until next year. The group named Miss Nancy King as alternate Maid of Cotton to compete next fall in the South Plains contest. Miss Stella Sue Moore was named Maid in the judging here last May 18. The committee also said it might be able to declare $600 to $700 profits from the Review. Principal income was from merchandise, donations and the sale of tickets.

$200,000 FROM DANFORTH

National FFA Project Gets Financial Assist

A $200,000 grant from the Danforth Foundation put finishing touches on the financial program of the National 4-H Club Foundation in its drive toward establishing the National Club Center in Chevy Chase, Maryland.

State 4-H Leader Floyd Lynch said the Danforth Foundation will also present a statue of a rural youth as being symbolic of all young people to be served by the center, and as a tribute to the late Wm. H. Danforth, founder of the Danforth Foundation, who was well-known for his interest in youth and 4-H activities.

Renovation of the Center property, now leased to the Defense Department, will begin in January 1958. As soon as the Foundation takes possession of the Center, Lynch states that it will become the focal point of all Foundation programs concerning education and youth service.

The Center is scheduled to become a "working" memorial to 4-H Club work, and no duplication of state activities will occur in any of its educational training programs. Such programs will be devoted primarily to citizenship training, federal government operations, leadership, character and personality development, and public relations.

Largest scheduled event for the new 4-H Center will be the National 4-H Club Conference, held in the Nation's Capital each June, and attended by each state or territory's four top 4-H'ers — two boys and two girls.

Texas delegates to the 1957 Conference are J. W. Jackson, Jr., of Alice; Bill Kolter of Wichita Falls; Marion Dean of Denton; and Sharon Thompson of Hale Center.

Norman C. Mindrum is executive director of the National 4-H Foundation.

Importance of State Rural Families Grow As Urbanization Trend Rapidly Continues

The big "drouth" in Texas farm numbers appears to be broken! Latest estimates indicate a 1956 increase of 15,000 farm residents over 1955 figures and a jump of 30,000 since 1954.

Yet, Texas' 1,156,000 farm residents last year comprised only 13.2 percent of the state's total population and 5.2 percent of the nation's farm people, according to a state-wide survey conducted jointly by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

Rural Sociologist R. L. Skrabanek says the continuing trend of farm numbers to become a smaller proportion of the state's total is due primarily to extremely rapid urban population gains.

Things have changed since the "good old days," Skrabanek points out, modern emphasis centers around increased production instead of increased population per unit. In 1930, for instance, more than 40 percent of the state's citizens lived on farms and ranches, but today's agriculture must depend on new techniques and increased efficiency to meet constantly growing demands for better food and fiber. The individual farmer is, therefore, becoming more and more important to the welfare of his country, Skrabanek concludes.

Texas' farm population declined steadily for 21 years, rallying in 1954 to initiate a gradual upward climb still in effect. Most of the males leaving farms fall into the 10 to 24-year age group, and considerably more females leave than do males. For years agriculture has released valuable manpower to turn the cogs and wheels of industry, while research has enabled fewer farmers to produce more at less cost. The future of agriculture depends on constant improvement of breeds, seed, fertilizers, and machines as well as improved education and properly-conducted community organizations.

Farms are getting bigger too—The state average is now estimated at more than 500 acres—well above 1950's average of 438 acres, and more than double the size of 1930.

Today nearly 12 million Americans make their living by growing, processing, manufacturing, and selling cotton and its products.

A senator of Civil War days gave the title of "King Cotton" to the white fiber which helps provide so many of the necessities and conveniences of our modern life today. Cottonseed oil is the principal ingredient of a recently developed frozen dessert called "mellorine," which has many qualities of ice cream.

The average American uses more than 26 pounds of cotton per year. The world average is 3.4 pounds.

Farms. Fewer farms, each containing more acres than ever before, is the situation of today. There are less than 4 people on each of Texas' 292,000 farms today, charged with a job handled by 332,000 farms in 1950.

1957-58 Basketball Schedule Complete For the Red Raiders

With the signing of Hamline University, Texas Tech's 23-game basketball schedule for 1957-58 has been completed, according to Coach Polk Robison. Hamline, to be played in Lubbock Municipal Coliseum Dec. 7 has split in two previous games. The 1949 National Intercollegiate champions defeated Tech 80-56 in the quarter-finals at Kansas City, but the Red Raiders downed the Pied Pipers 59-53 while sweeping the West Texas Doubleheaders of 1953. Other non-conference games will be with Abilene Christian College here Dec. 2, West Texas State here Dec. 11, Georgia Tech in Atlanta Dec. 14, Louisiana State in Baton Rouge Dec. 16, and Santa Clara here Dec. 20. Tech engages in the Southwest Conference Tournament at Houston Dec. 26-28 before making its debut in official SWC competition against Rice Institute there Jan. 4.

Remainder of the schedule for the Red Raiders, who had a 12-11 mark last year:
 Jan. 7 — Texas Christian, Lubbock; Jan. 10 — Southern Methodist, Lubbock; Jan. 13 — Arkansas, Fayetteville; Jan. 25 — Baylor, Lubbock; Feb. 1 — Texas A&M, College Station; Feb. 8 — Texas, Austin; Feb. 11 — Baylor, Waco; Feb. 15 — Arkansas, Lubbock; Feb. 18 — Texas, Lubbock; Feb. 22 — Southern Methodist, Dallas; Feb. 25 — Texas A&M, Lubbock; Mar. 1 — Texas Christian, Fort Worth, Mar. 4 — Rice, Lubbock.

Water is so important in cotton production that at least 700,000 gallons are required to grow each bale of cotton.

King Cotton is nearly 5,000 years old. Ancient records actually requires more cotton than did the famous old frigate show that cotton was grown with its flowing canvas sail, and used there as early as 3,000 B. C.

SOIL STEWARDSHIP

MAY 26 — JUNE 2, 1957

Sponsored by
Terry County Soil Conservation District

"The Earth Is The Lords And The Fullness Thereof"

People are dependent upon land passed on by their forefathers . . . Each generation can greatly influence the quality of land for the future. With the development of agricultural technology, man can do more to change soil than ever before. He can bring about more rapid deterioration or more rapid improvement. For this reason he has an increased responsibility. Therefore it is important for man to be aware of his Stewardship.

Christian stewardship morally obligates each generation to pass on a land resources of higher productivity than it received. Jesus severely condemned the unfaithful servant who gave back only the talent he had received. (Matt. 25:14-30)

Man's relationship to the land demands much more than a consideration of the immediate. The United States' population is increasing at the rate of about nine thousand per day or three million per year. Yet, our total area of productive land is shrinking by some 500,000 acres each year. We shall have more people to feed and clothe from the products of the soil. Thus, future generations will need to maintain a much larger population with less land. Each generation must conserve and improve the productivity of the land in its possession if it is to fulfill the Command of God.

Certainly God did not create the earth just for Adam and Eve, but for all men of all generations. When Jesus said, "I came that they may have life, and have it abundantly," (John 10:10), we cannot for a moment believe that Jesus was speaking only for his generation, but rather for all generations. This teaching provides an opportunity for us to be co-partners with God in meeting the needs of future generations, so that all God's people may live abundantly in accord with their nature and destiny.

- . . . Soil and water are gifts of God!
- . . . It is our moral responsibility to care for and use wisely our soil and natural resources.
- . . . He who destroys our soil sins against God and man.

Goodpasture Grain

This week thousands of youths will march down the aisles, take their seats and supposedly digest food for thought, contained in commencement addresses, eloquently delivered by distinguished speakers.

At the appointed time, each will go forward and receive a diploma, which recognizes the completion of 12 years of schooling. He will return to his seat feeling both happy and sad—and yes, a little frightened.

Happy not only because he has accomplished his own goal, but also the goal society expected of him. Sad, though he will not understand why. Now that the long-awaited moment has arrived, he may feel he is not as eager to graduate as he once imagined. Perhaps for the first time in his life, 12 years of guidance, correction, obedience, and "belonging" really take on meaning.

Protection Slipping Away

Frightened, because even then he may feel a little of the warmth and protection, never before associated with school slipping away. Soon society will accredit him with all his actions. Parents or school no longer will be there to defend his failures. He is launching out on his own.

What next?

Dramatized, perhaps, but of all the events in my life, I think graduation is the most vivid — even more so than marriage. Though I don't recall the speaker, or what he said, I do recall how I felt. The diploma hasn't meant so much, but the memorable event lives on.

No doubt, many commencement addresses will be flavored with the theory of the power of positive thinking. In part, this theory says, "Think success and you will succeed. Think big and you can go out and turn the world upside down."

I do not go along with the idea, but rather with the old colored man who said, "The reason some folks nevah gits nowah, is cause dey warn't gwine no place when dey stauted."

A Working Formula

One formula that will work with every individual, whether he is a graduate or not is called Divine Mathematics. Unlike standard mathematics, its law say to divide and then multiply.

To get more of anything, then you must give away some of what you have. If you need more money, then take a part of what you have and give it away. If you need more talent and ability in your work, then offer a part of what you have in some worthy cause. If you want more knowledge, try teaching someone with less than you have. If you would like to be more handsome or beautiful, tell someone else how much you admire them.

If you want more happiness for yourself, find an unhappy person and cheer him up. If you want more kindness, then be especially kind to those you meet. Whatever you want or whatever you need, take some of what you have and give it away. So simple—and yet it works.

It's too bad, I, for one, never have made a passing grade. How about you?

Let no one underestimate the importance of a well organized home. Any housewife knows that the business of homemaking has no dollars and cents valuation attached. However, it has been estimated that if the services of a cook, seamstress, housekeeper, chauffeur, etc. had to be paid for, it would cost the average householder $134.25 a week, or an average of $8,000 a year. Indeed, homemaking is not just a job — it's a CAREER.

For every pound of pima cotton used, it takes four pounds of our short staple cotton to hold it together, because the long staple is weak. So the pima cottons are actually to our advantage.

President Eisenhower, in his news conference this week, verified the old adage. "There is nothing sure but death and taxes." In general, he stated: With the impending national budget at stake, it would be wishful thinking to expect any tax reductions (this year) . . . I hasten to add . . . or any other year. Most of us may expect death before much tax cuts, either under a Republican or Democratic administration.

Visiting In Clovis

I had an occasion to shop recently in Clovis, N.M. First off, I liked their parking meters. They register up to two hours, taking pennies or nickels, depending on how long you expect to park. The shopping district, with a nice selection of stores, was located conveniently on both sides of one long street, conserving time and energy. The sales tax was annoying, but the clerks were particularly congenial toward my "just shopping" approach. I always appreciate this attitude, because when I shop I want to LOOK! Just ask Hubert.

Other fellow is William Smyrl, president of the Brownfield chapter. Floyd and Smyrl will be on hand to greet more than 200 Future Farmers who'll gather here May 31-June 1 for the annual convention of Area II, Chapter.

Upon leaving this city limits, a sign read "ADIOS—Come Again". I couldn't help feeling—here was a town that really appreciated my business.

And I really appreciate your reading interest. ADIOS, Come Again.

South Plains Sports Show Will Be Held Tuesday at Lubbock

A Message For Memorial Day

The Price of Freedom

by Billy Graham

MOST Americans are inclined to take their blood-bought freedom for granted. How lustily, in times of war, do we sing songs of patriotism, exhibit due respect to the boys in uniform, and pray for peace. Yet, when the smoke of conflict subsides, our respect and regard for those who bore the brunt of war's perilous sword quickly wanes and dies. But true gratitude for an earned peace should be as perpetual as is our freedom. The young men who gave the best years of their lives, often at the peril of life and limb, should always be remembered by the citizens of our nation. And that memory should not find expression in a shallow sentimentality, but in making adequate provision for those who have so willingly stood in war's gap and subjected their youthful bodies to the onslaughts of the enemy.

Freedom of any sort, it seems, never comes cheap. Our spiritual freedom was purchased at terrific cost by the most splendid youth that ever walked the shores of time, Jesus Christ the Son of God. It hardly seemed right that He of all men should die in the very prime of life and at the peak of His usefulness! But, in the wisdom of God, only those who are ready, able and willing, are called upon to bring life and liberty to those who are unable to secure it for themselves. In the case of spiritual freedom, there was only One in heaven and earth who was equal to the task, and that was Jesus Christ.

When our national freedom was jeopardized, only the young, the strong, the very best of our society, were equal to the task. After World War I, 300,000 men returned home disabled, handicapped, or ill. World War II counted the disabled service men in the hundreds of thousands, and the Korean War added many thousands more. It is estimated that by 1960 there will be 4,000,000 disabled veterans in America.

As a group, they have been self-sacrificing, counting the price they paid as a debt they rightly owed. Most of them are like the recruit who asked the recruiting officer in World War II:

"If I fight, Sir, what will be my reward?"

Swiftly came the blunt answer: "Wounds, scars and perhaps death. But remember, that through your wounds America will remain free."

"That's enough," said the boy, "sign me up."

This is the spirit of the veteran—the spirit of the true soldier. But we, who profited so greatly by their sacrifice, must not forget the debt we owe these noble men who bear wounds that well might have been our own.

On this Memorial Day it is fitting and proper that our thoughts should not only be with those who were killed on the fields of battle, but that we should remember those who were disabled in freedom's conflict. We should resolve to pray for them and their families, use every means at our command to make their lives richer and fuller, and finally, that we should rededicate ourselves to the great principles of freedom for which they exposed themselves so willingly; that these Disabled American Veterans shall not have been wounded in vain.

(Written especially for the D.A.V.—the Identity-Tag organization)

THE AMERICAN WAY

THE JET AGE

By George Peck

"Locking the stable after the horse is gone" is something that happens all too often at the Nation's Capitol. U. S. Senator Warren G. Magnuson of Washington State, however, has introduced a Bill to meet a situation which could become a danger to the flying public a few years hence. This Bill requires the Civil Aeronautics Administration to establish and enforce strict physical regulations requiring examinations of all pilots operating commercial passenger planes.

To paraphrase the old bromide, the legislation proposed by Senator Magnuson would "lock the airplane hanger before plane, pilot and passengers are lost."

Aircraft are beginning to fly higher and faster, almost beyond man's physical ability to handle them. This is especially true of the new, fast jet planes.

Jet aircraft have been ordered by the major airlines and will be in use beginning in 1959. At present, practically all new jet aircraft are flown by men in their 20's, and virtually no studies have been made as to the ability of older pilots to handle the speed problems which the jet age has brought to aviation.

Unfortunately, at the present time the major airlines do not have the power to determine the routes and types of planes that are to be flown by specific pilots. This matter is determined by the contracts made between the airlines and the Union and, to a large extent, is a part of the Union seniority system. The management of the airlines has no discretion in deciding which pilots are best fitted to fly a particularly difficult route.

Senator Magnuson has foreseen that a completely new range of unanswered problems in speed and high altitudes is opening up with the introduction of the jet age into civil aviation. His 26 years of experience in the public welfare are reflected in the broad terms of the Bill which he has introduced. This Bill calls not only for better control of physical examinations and physical requirements for airmen, but also will establish research and study programs to help solve these new problems. No undertaking is safe or unsafe in itself; its safety depends on the balance between the demands of the undertaking and man's capability to cope with it. The flying of jet planes requires a much higher level of organization and physical standards than does the more automatic operation of slower aircraft.

In the Armed Services only the youngest pilots, men in their 20's fly jets. As a pilot gets older and acquires higher ranking, he is assigned to a command or staff job that does not require daily flying. In civilian life, however, because of the Pilot's Union seniority system, the senior pilots will probably fly the jets. This entails the possibility of a civil pilot, even in his fifties, being introduced to jet flights.

It is obvious that "seniority" alone is not the proper yardstick to determine the ability of a pilot to fly jet planes—in fact, that very "seniority" can jeopardize the safety of the air traveling public in the jet age. Split-second decision at the speed of sound can only be made by those who are in top physical condition. The impact of age, bringing with it the inevitable slowing down of the reflexes, certainly demands careful study.

Mrs. R. L. Hamm of 515A East Main returned Tuesday from a visit with relatives in Dalhart, Plainview and Amarillo.

Soil And The Church

Soil is more than just dirt. It is a living organism. Like every living thing it can be developed or it can be destroyed. Either it will benefit from man's wise and loving care, or it will suffer because of his ignorance or greed.

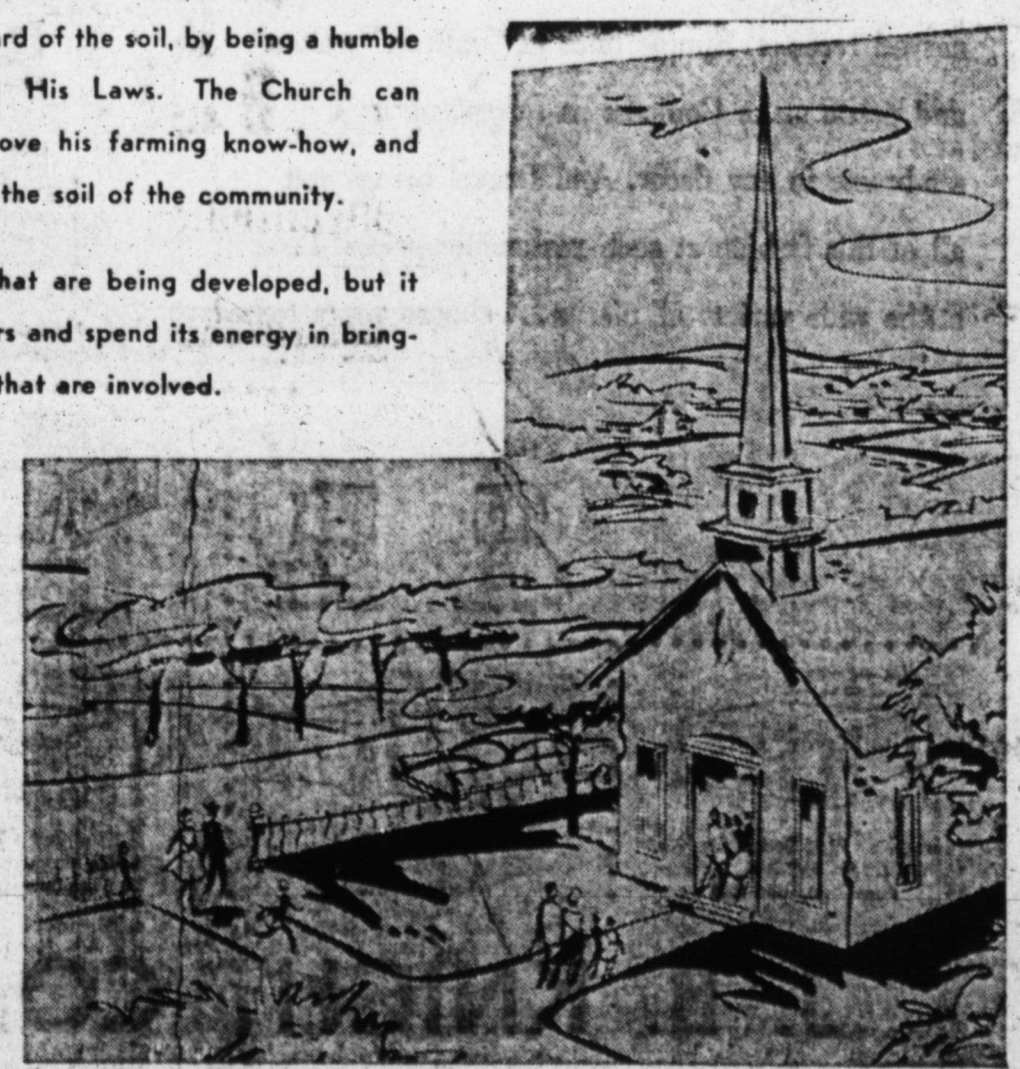

Today more is known about wise soil practices than in any previous period in history. Our concern is for wider distribution of the know-how of good soil practices, a more complete acceptance of new methods of soil and water conservation, and a placing of soil conservation and community welfare ahead of selfish interests.

Basically, the problem of soil conservation is the selfishness of the human heart. The church through its message and its ministry can change the heart. It can curb selfishness. It can instill reverence and love of God. It can develop a genuine concern for others.

Good soil practices have a bearing on the future of every institution in the community. All institutions have a responsibility for conserving our land and water resources.

The church can make a contribution no other institution can make. It can put its finger on the sin of soil exploitation. It can give man a new motivation. The Christian farmer knows that good soil practices pay off in dollars and cents, but his motive will be higher. He will follow good soil practices because it is God's Will. One way in which he responds to the Love of God revealed to him in Christ Jesus is by being a good steward of the soil, by being a humble co-worker with the Creator, never defying His Laws. The Church can challenge him with the responsibility to improve his farming know-how, and to cooperate with his neighbors in conserving the soil of the community.

The Church will support good soil programs that are being developed, but it will leave the doing of these programs to others and spend its energy in bringing its ministry to bear on the moral problems that are involved.

It will all be over by tomorrow night and vacation time will be upon us. SHELTON's offers some timely tips on what to take with you to make your vacation more fun and more comfortable than ever.

First of all, for the smallest in the family, there are all sorts of shorts, treader pants etc., but some of the best are the no-iron print magic crepe sunsuits in red, aqua or navy on white in sizes 1, 2, 3 and just $1.75. There's also the pink, blue or maize ruffled-bloomer sunsuit with white organdy button-on skirt in sizes 1, 2, 3. And wait 'til you see the wee scraps of shorty pajamas for the small set . . . in toddlers, 1, 2, 3 to 6X sizes, of pink, blue or maize cotton plisse, priced $1.95, $2.50 and $2.95.

Skirts, skirts and more skirts are just the thing to take a-tripping and SHELTON's has them by the scores . . . in arnel and cotton, dacron and cotton, cotton acetate silk, arnel triacetate, plain cotton, sharkskin, morelove krinklev-oile, and many more. In full, straight, plain and fancy styles and more sizes than you can shake a stick at. And, of course plenty of blouses to match with 'em.

One of my favorites is the Tyrolean print crease resistant skirt with lilted unpressed pleats swirling into a billowing skirt that needs little or no ironing . . . in blue, beige or brown. With this, choose a jewel toned broadcloth blouse with scoop neck and smart tab detail. Both by Bobbie Brooks, and just an example of the wide selection you have to choose from.

There are plenty of those Nettie Rosenstein bathing suits left for you girls, and smaller ones for the littlest girls. You will want to choose your cool, cool cottons from the many at SHELTON's, too. And new shipments of shorts, both short, walking and Bermuda lengths, as well as treader pants, pedal pushers and slacks are arriving daily.

Let the girls at SHELTON's help you choose a vacation wardrobe that you'll enjoy all summer long!
