With the exception of juvenile crimes and drunkenness, the department reported most police work declined during the month. Officers received 219 calls, made 89 arrests and cleared two car thefts, one burglary and one misdemeanor theft.

Tax Payments Slow Some Here, Reports Assessor-Collector

After an early rush in October, tax payments have slowed considerably, reports J. D. (Jot) Akers, Terry tax assessor-collector.

Akers said $447, 184 has been paid on the $600,800 state and county tax bill. The total was based on an assessed evaluation of $33,601,607, he said.

FIRE MARSHAL URGES COMMON SENSE, PRECAUTIONS HERE

Deadly Dangers Found in Yule Guises

By CHARLIE MAPLE
NEWS Staff Writer

Though Christmas normally is a time for cheer and good will, it can turn into a nightmare of death and destruction if a few simple rules are not observed, says Jim Cousineau, Brownfield fire marshal.

Cousineau noted that Christmas decorations often are the cause of some of winter's most destructive fires.

"We have not had much of this trouble in the past," he said. "But once might be enough to destroy a family's happiness."

The fire marshal explained that Yule decoration dangers can be averted by a little forethought and precaution.

"Use cords and wiring approved by the Underwriters' Laboratory," said Cousineau. "And make sure exterior decorations and wiring are water-proof."

Cousineau noted that tree stands having water pans are of little value in keeping trees from getting dry. "Once the tree has been cut, it will not take up the water," he said.

Concerning tree decorations, the Marshal urged families to use fire-resistant materials wherever possible.

"Often cotton used around the base of the tree and the snow used to sprinkle the tree are highly flammable," he revealed. "This danger can be reduced by using treated cotton and snow from pressure cans."

Cousineau especially warned against using lighted candles and too many lights on trees or around flammable Yule decorations. "It takes only a spark to ignite fir branches once they get dry," he added.

Discarded Christmas wrappings were another danger point listed by the marshal. He advises disposing of the paper in a trash container outside the home as soon as possible. "Christmas paper can cause some awfully bad fires if left unattended," he said.

"Preventing fires at Christmas-time is just like any other time," concluded Cousineau. "It takes a little common sense—especially when small children are around."

NAMED TO OFFICIAL ALL-DISTRICT TEAMS

Trio of Cubs Are Honored

Brownfield, Andrews and Kermit completely dominated the official District 2-AAA all-district football team selected at Andrews Friday by district coaches.

The group selected an offensive team comprised of three Cubs and four each from Andrews and Kermit. The Mustangs placed five players on the defensive lineup by virtue of ties for right end and left tackle. Kermit and Brownfield placed three each, Pecos had two and Monahans rounded out the defense with one selection.

Other repeaters include Gene Gammill of Kermit and Tommy Jackson of Andrews. Kermit fullback, Charles Thompson and Robert Burk of the Ponies were selected for honorable mention last year.

The offensive lineup of the district's "dream team" includes eight seniors and three juniors. Defense has nine seniors, four juniors and one sophomore.

Farm-Labor Day Slated

Brownfield office of Texas Employment Commission will hold Farm-Labor Days again this year to assist farmers to secure hands.

The events are held from 9 a.m. until 12 noon each Tuesday in the northeast basement of the courthouse. First for the new year will be at 9 a.m., Tuesday.

Farmers seeking hands for the coming year, or farmers who expect to be seeking hands after first of year, are asked to attend the farm-labor meetings.

"The farmer may find just the hand he wants to hire," said Aubrey T. Jones, in charge of the TEC office here. "The farm-labor day will give the farmer—and the farmhand—the opportunity to talk. This can save time and money."

Jones also urged that all farmhands who are seeking regular jobs for the coming year be present Tuesday. "In this way," he concluded, "the farmhand may save much time and many miles of driving in looking for work."

Cubs Are Dumped In Berger Tourney

A cold first period and inaccuracy at the free-throw line proved to be too much to overcome as the Cubs fell before Phillips, 51-47, in the opening round of the Berger cage tournament Friday.

Saturday night Brownfield met Dumas, who lost to the Bulldogs, 78-57, in the initial round. Results were not available at press time.

Kenneth Cason tallied 12 points and Johnny Mack Jones added nine to lead the Cub attack. Brownfield led Phillips, 21-17, on field goals but were edged, 17-5, at the gratis line.

With the exception of the initial period, when Phillips exploded for a 20-6 lead, the Cubs outscored their opponents in every period.

MARK STORE AS PROGRESSIVE

Larger Ads Normally Add To Profits

By WELDON CALLAWAY

One of our regular advertisers came in this week with a good piece of news. He was planning to increase the size of his usual advertisement.

"Suppose I double the size of my ad, could I expect my sales to double?" he asked.

"Probably not," we were forced to answer.

It would be something of a miracle for sales to increase in exact proportion to an increase in advertising. Certainly, a business may expect more sales from larger ads. And often the additional sales more than pay for new advertising costs in a short time.

One of our publisher friends tells what happened when a grocery store in his city began using more space for his advertising.

Thus, newspaper advertising is so economical that even a small percentage increase in sales can more than pay for a large increase in advertising space.

However, immediate increase in sales may not be the most important benefit to be derived from larger ads. Larger advertisements mark a store as being progressive and reliable. The public recognizes the large advertiser as a business with an eye on the future.

Prestige gains from advertising are cumulative. From a long range view, they may be more important than immediate sales gains as a reason for using more advertising space.

burned by the fire. The fire was one of at least 20 cotton blazes that plagued South Plains gins Tuesday. It was the third time in less than a week that high winds fanned burr fires to damage the area's cotton harvest. Estimates for the three-day loss are near $500,000, including hundreds of bales of cotton destroyed, numerous burned trailers and miscellaneous damaged gin structures.

BEHIND AMERICAN BUSINESS SCENES

Western Europe Seeks Funds To Expand Steel Industry To Almost Double Steelmaking Capacity, to 122 Million Net Tons

By REYNOLDS KNIGHT
Economic Analyst
NEW YORK — The phenomenal postwar growth of the American steel industry is about to be duplicated in Western Europe.

In the United States, an output of 114 million tons of ingots and steel for castings is indicated for 1957, making the year the third largest in history. (The industry's capacity is around 133.5 million tons, up 24.9 million tons since 1952.)

If Western Europe steel companies can raise funds to underwrite their planned expansion, its prewar steelmaking capacity can be almost doubled, to an annual 122 million net tons by 1960, steel industry sources in this country believe.

The proposed expansion by 26 to 28 million net tons in the next three years will be largely in West Germany, the United Kingdom, France, Italy, Belgium, Spain, Sweden and Austria.

What this will do for world trade is seen the prediction that a rise of as much as 40 per cent above the 1955 level can be expected in Western Europe's exports of end products made of steel. To accomplish this, Western Europe steelmakers will increase their dependence on non-European (particularly Western Hemisphere) suppliers of raw materials.

LOOKING AHEAD — Bright prospects also lie ahead for American companies and industries thinking and planning for the world consumer goods market, a leading U.S. business executive said this week.

Lewis S. Rosenstiel, chairman of Schenley Industries, Inc., foresees an increase in the world's population of about 600 million consumers by 1970 — with demand for manufactured products expanding accordingly.

Each year the population size of France is added to the world's peoples, Mr. Rosenstiel said. In the United States alone, the population growth approximates 3 million persons annually.

"The creation of a better life with peaceful interchange of goods and services" is envisioned by the Schenley chairman through the application to peaceful uses of the scientific advances of our present era.

The progress stemming from these advances should permit a shorter work week, more leisure time and an improved standard of living, he concluded.

THINGS TO COME — To slow corrosion in fuel storage tanks, a major cause of oil burner breakdowns, you can buy a four-inch bar of special alkaline magnesium alloy which is suspended in the tank by a wire attached to the filler cap. . . . A 12-foot stepladder that rolls up in a bundle no bigger than a briefcase is made up of four-inch blocks with stressed aircraft cables to keep it rigid. . . . And, for the man who has everything, there's a mink-trimmed golf tee on sale on the specialty counters.

MISSILE-MUSCLE — The deadly accuracy of infrared as a detection technique in missile warfare has been graphically demonstrated with the Navy's Sidewinder missile.

The Sidewinder is an infrared, or heat-seeker, missile with the extra-ordinary record of knocking a flare from the wing tip of a drone without damaging it. But further development of detection materials aimed at improving infrared devices is needed, according to a leading rocket scientist.

Dr. Donald Wahl, missile expert with the Avion division of ACF Industries, Incorporated, at Paramus, N.J., said that detectors of infrared radiation must also be developed with sensitivity in the longer wavelength region in order to pick up the plume energy given off by a missile. He revealed that detection cell materials such as germanium and lead selenide are now being worked on.

IS THIS TIP NECESSARY? — The government uses 5,400 freight cars of paper every year for printing, duplicating and office purposes — including such pamphlets as "Tools for Food Preparation and Dishwashing."

Typical tip to housewives from this service booklet: "Dishpans should be large enough to hold the dishes but not too large for the sink."

Paperwork such as this reminds us, says the Tax Foundation, that government continues to grow in costs and services. The civilian payroll in the executive branch in 1947 amounted to $162 in taxes for every family in the country. Now, ten years later, it comes to $225 in taxes for every family.

Most families, we believe, would gladly dispense with dishwashing hints — and a lot of other government advice — if such economies would mean a saving of any part of that extra $93 tax assessment.

BITS O' BUSINESS — The airlines' policy of assessing a $3 penalty against persons who fail to make the trip for which they have reserved space and don't bother to tell the airline has cut the number of "no-shows" in half during the past year, the Air Transport Association reports. . . . Demand for schools, water and sewer systems is keeping the volume of municipal financing at a record $7 billion annual rate and municipal securities men believe this will hold through 1958. . . . With the hotel room occupancy rate down to 71 per cent over the nation, the big chains are stepping up efforts to modernize and improve their services.

BY PROGRESSIVE FARMER MAGAZINE

Cotton Council Official Named Man of the Year

MEMPHIS, TENN. — Claude L. Welch, head of the National Cotton Council's production and marketing division, has been named 1957 "Man of the Year in Service to Southern Agriculture" by Progressive Farmer magazine.

Cited for "notable service in the field of cotton production and marketing," Welch, as the 21st annual award winner, joins a group of some of the South's most outstanding farm and political leaders and scientists.

In announcing the award, Progressive Farmer recognized Welch for Council activities aimed at eradicating the pink bollworm, its efforts in cotton quality improvement programs, and various production conferences.

The pink bollworm program of expanded research and strengthened quarantine and control is saving the cotton industry an estimated $2½ million annually.

"Already, largely through Welch's efforts," the magazine said, "great strides have been made in improving the quality of cotton." Examples include elimination of tar-bottomed picksacks and asphalt covered bale ties.

Other quality improvement undertaken with the guidance of the Cotton Council's production and marketing division pointed to by the magazine include spinning-ginning tests to determine the effect of ginning practices on cotton quality, ginning engineering graduate courses and scholarships, studies in fertilizer placement, and the seed breeding shortcut made possible by the research station at Iguala, Mexico, where a second crop generation can be produced each year.

In addition to past accomplishments, Welch was commended for his achievements in-the-making. Among the projects which his division has in the works, Progressive Farmer took note of plans for an industrywide committee on long-range cotton research, research in special methods to deal with possible insect resistance, and the search for a new and better bale cover.

Welch is the second Cotton Council official to receive the Progressive Farmer award, the other being Oscar Johnston, founder and first president of the Council.

Other distinguished recipients include George Washington Carver, Negro scientist; David Lilienthal, former TVA board chairman; Senator Lester Hill; and Edward O'Neal, former American Farm Bureau president for many years.

Welch grew up on a Mississippi cotton farm, received his B.S. Degree in agricultural science at Mississippi State College in 1932 and his M.S. in agricultural economics in 1941. His graduate work was done at Louisiana State College and Colorado State College.

He joined the Council as head of production and marketing in 1945. Welch served as Jones County, Miss., agent from 1933 to 1938 and extension economist at Mississippi State for the next three years. During World War II, he was secretary of the U. S. Department of Agricultural War Board in Mississippi and state supervisor of the Office of Distribution, War Food Administration.

Nazarene Church To Observe Golden Anniversary Year

The Brownfield Church of the Nazarene will be among the 4,500 congregations of the International Protestant church that will pray at special Watch Night services around the world on Dec. 31, opening the denomination's golden anniversary year.

The Rev. Howard Smith is pastor of the local church, located at 203 West Tate.

Starting with a union of 288 churches and 10,414 members in 1908, the Nazarenes have grown to 4,500 churches and 300,000 members in 1958, in the U.S., Canada, British Isles and Australia, and missionary work in 33 world areas.

The denomination stands for the spread and conservation of the Wesleyan doctrine and experience of entire sanctification, or heart holiness.

Among U.S. Protestant denominations, it is 30th in membership, 19th in Sunday school enrollment, and 9th in its publishing house sales.

Nazarenes consistently have been among the first five denominations in stewardship or per capita giving.

The special watch night services will average from three to four hours in length around the world. Each local church will take part in other simultaneous services during the 1958 jubilee year.

You can't foretell the future always by the past — usually because you don't know the past.

Army Announces New Leave Policy

A liberal leave policy announced by the U. S. Army will permit young men to enlist in the Regular Army in the month of December and remain at home for the holidays.

Men enlisting after December 16 may request a delay in reporting to their basic training post, the delay not to exceed 15 days. This leave time permits enlistees to remain at home through the holiday season. Leave may not extend beyond January 6.

Information on the enlistment options that may be selected, and on the Army's holiday leave policy for new enlistees may be obtained from SFC Frank J. Gaughan at the U.S. Army Recruiting Station, Room 204, Post Office Building Lubbock.

THE AMERICAN WAY

By MAURICE R. FRANKS
(Editor's Note: Maurice R. Franks is president of the National Labor-Management Foundation and editor of its official publication, Partners.)

A growing number of Americans — perhaps already a stout majority of us in every walk of life — have become convinced that the labor laws of this country need strengthening.

To protect our workers from all forms of exploitation, those laws are presently inadequate and need to be brought up to date.

To protect the labor movement from all its enemies — including its own worst elements — laws presently on the books lack both force and dimension and require that Congress get together and give them considerably more of both.

To straighten out the thinking of both men and courts, some important differentiations must be made in our labor laws and certain vital definitions of responsibility must be supplied.

The time has come when the public character of the labor movement must be legally recognized and its functioning so regulated as to bring both it and its leaders in line with their public responsibilities.

The time has come when the labor movement can no longer remain a private estate, operated mainly by and for its leaders—when the democratic machinery upon which its charters are based must be fully protected by law — and when every union official must be professionally qualified to function in office.

Before any union is enabled,

The Farmer's Wife

By ROSE JEAN HENSON

I will tell the story exactly as I heard it, and though it did not happen to you or me, I think after reading it, you will feel, as I did, that it could have easily been any of us.

The friend said, "I'd been visiting in the home of an old bachelor friend — a famous adventurer and writer. His home is a lovely place — simple and comfortable, yet crammed with treasured gatherings from every part of the world.

Leisurely, we'd gone from one room to another, and drenched with the magic of it all, we settled in front of the fire and I asked casually, "It's all so wonderful, Tom. Sixty years in fairyland, taking your pick of the best. What an exciting time you must have had! But tell me, out of all of this beauty, what have you cherished most? Which one thing is dearest to you?"

He gave a long, strange look as if no one had ever asked the question before and for a while he did not answer. Then he rose, and from its place beneath a priceless Persian tapestry, he took a plain bronze box and laid it in my lap.

Slowly the lid was raised. Surely, there was something exceedingly rare. Jewels, maybe? But no! There lay only some faded folds of patched blue and white gingham. Somebody's discarded apron! The old man was asked, "But what on earth made you keep that?"

He touched the old cotton with gentle hands, then answered softly, "It was my mother's kitchen apron. And if I had to choose what I would cherish most of all my treasures, I would choose that apron."

That's the story — and what does it mean to you? From an analytic standpoint, a psychiatrist would say that the old man remained a bachelor because he never quite grew away from those apron strings and when his mother passed on he still felt comfort in an occasional glimpse or caress of those same apron strings.

Could be. I like the philosophic interpretation better — and here that a labor trust is, in the mind of Congress as it demonstrably is in fact, as bad as any other kind of trust.

Americans everywhere were shocked by what your McClellan Committee was able to expose as evidence of union-leader corruption, irresponsibility and arrogance.

Doubtless, most of you gentlemen were likewise shocked — and will receive an even greater jolt by further evidence still to be uncovered by your rackets committee.

All you have to do is listen, not only to what is said but also to what is not said or that witness may refuse to say under self-incriminating oath, to appreciate the need for legal correction of the total situation.

You will know that, far more important than catching and punishing a juvenile delinquent or a big-time racketeer as the case may be, is the need to regulate out of the labor movement the very conditions that invite criminal types to leadership and lay temptation in the way of leaders who are basically honest.

You will also know that however much sense it may make for editors, publishers, clergymen and other public educators to avow that the vicious, self-seeking labor leader is very much in the minority, this offers you as lawmakers no excuse for assuming that cleanliness in the house of labor or is so widespread that our society can well afford to exempt it from sanitary regulation.

goes my imagination again. In the story, I see an old farm house, a busy mother and a lad clinging to her apron. What a hard-worked apron. Patched across the top where years of dishwashing had worn through the original fabric.

Smeared with cookie and flapjack batter. Fragrant with cinnamon and cloves and spotted from belt to hem with the imprint of little hands... a toddler to whom that apron represented all the sweetness and security in the world.

A mother's apron. Yes, surely, we too can remember the old cook apron — the crude kitchen where it was always warm in the winter and warmer in the summer.

A cook apron — a kitchen — a fire and of course — a mother.

The Christmas season is here. How many times have I already said or heard it said. I dislike Christmas. A lot of work for nothing. If you fit into that category then read the story again. It is very timely and sort of rings a bell to the Christmases of yesteryears. An apron — a kitchen — and a mother and let's add — some kids.

Some of my cherished memories are things that happened at Christmas time. We all had, still do, and always will be attached in some way to apron strings. I don't remember any of the hustle and bustle of making pies (all kinds).

They were a treat because we didn't have such things every day in the week — just on special occasions. It took a lot of time to bake cakes, make candies and stuff a home-dressed turkey. I still can hear the crinkle of green and red tissue paper that meant sometimes only one gift each.

We are so modern these days — no time for handmade gifts. Not even AN APRON. Perhaps then, mothers were pressed for time. Maybe they considered all the nice things we remember today as drudgery. But a child's emotions only absorb

THE APRON STRINGS

The old man treasured apron strings above the finery of the world. The next two weeks, I shall try to remember it. Someday my children will treasure something of the past. For it is out of the past that we are able to grow and mature, and in the latter years recline on a memory couch and appreciate the warmth and richness that only memories can afford.

"Down Wellman Way"

Well, just one more week till Christmas and everyone at WHS is really in the Christmas spirit! Even though they won't admit it, we think the teachers were also more lenient this week.

Last Saturday freshmen and junior classes had rummage sales on the courthouse square at Brownfield. The freshmen made $42.50 and the juniors made $27.12. Both classes are working very hard to promote their class funds.

The Wellman PTA sponsored a box supper last Monday night at the school cafeteria. The profit, $175, will be used to construct an asphalt tennis court at Wellman High and to aid the girl and boy scouts of this community.

The girls and boys basketball teams brought home a victory from New Home Monday afternoon. The girls won with a score of 57-39 and the boys won with a score of 33-27. Keep up the good work!

Last week Mrs. Akers, our English teacher, wanted to know how many of her sophomores were prospective play writers—so she asked the students to write a one act play. Out of the class, a considerable percentage of them were very good—much to everyone's amazement!

Thursday morning the Student Council presented Billy Davis and his talking dolls in an assembly program. He performed with dummies, first puppets and marionettes, and even taught us the fundamentals of ventriloquism. Everyone had a good time and enjoyed the antics of Sam Riley, his talking dummy.

We were sorry to hear about Mr. J. D. Pendergrass' accident last week. He is in the Methodist Hospital at Lubbock and will probably be there for quite some time if anyone would like to send a "get well" card. We all wish him a speedy recovery.

The FFA boys are pulling cotton to make money for a trip to Houston. Each year they make a trip to some principal city in Texas as part of their vocational class work.

Everyone is looking forward to the Elementary School's Christmas program which will be presented December 19 at the regular PTA meeting. The students and teachers have all worked very hard preparing it and making their costumes. It will be in the High School auditorium at 7:30 and everyone is cordially invited to attend.

We are very glad to see so many new names on this six-weeks honor-roll. The honor roll is as follows: seniors "A"—Bill Adams and Martha Goza and "B"—Carroll Parker; juniors, "A"—Sue Harlan, Rals Loe, Winston Livesay and Barbara Bishop and "B"—Larry Sims, Tommy Loe and Buddy Hawkins; sophomores "A"—Peggy Burnett and Barbara Bishop; "B"—Mary Adair, Velda Hill, Tootsie Hawkins, Karen Hamm, Ann O'Connell, Virginia Thornton and Mary Hohenburger and freshmen "B"—Betty Hulse, Leon Falls, Lewayne Falls and Johnny Morehead.

MISS JOE ANNA COOK

Betrothal Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Cook of Route 2 have announced the engagement and pending marriage of their daughter, Joe Anna, to Orbra Carroll Rowden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Rowden of Route 2.

Date for the wedding has not been set but probably will be later in the month.

Miss Cook graduated from Brownfield High School in 1956. She attended Texas Tech for one year, working toward a degree in advertising art and design.

Rowden served four years in the U. S. Air Force after graduation from Brownfield High School. They will make their home in Lovington, N.M., where he is employed by the Lovington Press.

Literally 'Done to a Freeze' Is Mocha Pie 'Magnifique'

Truly "magnifique" — the French chef's way of saying "magnificent" — is this Mocha Bisque Pie. It's a party pie with a frozen Mocha Bisque Filling. The coffee flavor is added in an instant with Nescafé instant coffee, used dry, right from the jar. The Mocha filling has tiny pieces of chocolate all through it, a simple technique when you know it. Melted semi-sweet chocolate morsels are poured in a thin stream into the chilled filling to form the little flecks of chocolate.

Don't forget fragrant cups of Nescafé to serve with this "show-off" pie. Make Nescafé in a covered server to bring out the best in this quality coffee.

Mocha Bisque Pie

- |                                    |  |
|------------------------------------|--|
| 1/4 pound marshmallows (16)        | 1 6 ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels |
| 1/4 cup water                      | 1 tablespoon vegetable shortening                      |
| 1/4 cup instant Nescafé            | 3 egg whites   |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt                  | 1/2 teaspoon almond extract                            |
| 3 egg yolks, beaten slightly       | 1 teaspoon vanilla                                     |
| 1 cup heavy cream, whipped         | 1 cup light brown sugar, firmly packed                 |
| Set refrigerator at coldest point. | 1 9-inch baked pie shell                               |

Combine and melt over moderate heat, stirring constantly, the marshmallows, water, instant coffee and salt. Stir coffee mixture rapidly into beaten egg yolks. Cook over moderate heat 1 minute, stirring constantly. Let cool approximately 10 minutes. Fold in heavy cream and freeze until firm. Combine and melt over hot (not boiling) water the semi-sweet chocolate, and shortening. Beat egg whites, almond extract and vanilla till stiff but not dry. Beat in sugar gradually till stiff and satiny; reserve. Turn frozen mixture into chilled bowl. Stir till smooth but not melted. Pour in thin stream, stirring constantly, the melted semi-sweet, to form "chips". Fold in the egg white mixture. Pour in cooled pie shell. Freeze till firm.

By VERN SANFORD
Many a man has found great pleasure in buying his wife, or girl friend, a shotgun or fishing rod for Christmas. This is the year when wives and/or sweethearts may do the same thing.

Never has there been a time when more women were interested in the outdoors. More women have fished this year than ever before. In fact, many of the most important salt water tournaments on the coasts of the nation have produced women winners.

Today it is not a bit unusual to see women running fast speed boats, fishing with rod and reel, or hunting with the best of men. There were many husbands and wife teams applying for permits on public hunting ranges this year.

So why not buy hubby a gun, outboard motor, boat, or rod and reel for his Christmas present? And be sure and get one you can use, too.

No doubt women shoppers will look for quality in their sports merchandise even if they are shopping for the first time. Most sporting goods dealers recognize this and try to sell women the right kind of equipment. Women have a reputation for hunting bargains. But at the same time they want quality.

Shopping for Motors
Here are a few suggestions, however, which may be helpful to wives before they go into a sporting goods store.

One is to know the new trend toward various types of equipment. For instance there was a time when a 3-horsepower motor was adequate for fishing. That was when papa concerned himself with fishing close to the shore, and alone. Now, however, when he takes the family along he wants a motor and boat large enough to haul the entire family in comfort and safety.

If you plan to buy him an outboard motor, first give consideration to what he needs.

If, for instance, you want him to have a boat and a trailer, then the motor to go with it should be from 15-horsepower up, and preferably with electric starting.

On the other hand, if he will be renting a boat each time he goes out, then something above a 5 hp would be more desirable. Since there is little difference in the weight of a 5 and 7, the larger motor would be better. Of course you might want to get a 10 or 12 hp, but again there is the weight. Do not overload the man with a motor that will be too heavy for him to handle.

Of course if you want to go all the way, then get him a motor, boat and trailer. They will cost from a thousand dollars up, but will be presents the entire family can enjoy.

When it comes to fishing tackle the trend now is to lightweight, rather than heavy equipment. Even salt water fishermen are turning to lightweight tackle, most of them spinning tackle.

Buying Fishing Tackle
Here again, quality is the thing that counts most. Buy a

'Youth Tells Story' For Parent-Teacher

Colonial Heights PTA met Thursday in the cafeteria, with Mrs. Lavoy Berry leading a panel discussion on "Youth Tells Its Story" and Carl Hecker of Crescent Hill Church of Christ bringing the devotional.

The panel was made up of four of her students, James Frank, Roy Lee Chandler, Ethelyn Burris and Jimmie Toland. The quartet felt that youth suffered from having too much stress put on their bad points and not enough on the good they did. One made the statement, "When we do something good, if it is put in a back section but let us do something bad and it gets front-page publicity."

Miss Icela Crouch took the prize for room count. Miss Charlyn Weigle and Mrs. Evelyn Benson took second and third places.

rod built for action and 6 to 7 feet long. Most spinning rods come in two pieces, making it easy for them to be transported in automobiles. Also, nowadays you can get an excellent rod with spinning guides and offset handle to use the new enclosed type reels and monofilament lines.

As to the reel, you might want an open face reel or an enclosed reel. Each has its advantage and each is made by most of the reputable manufacturers. In every case, however, buy a well-known brand such as you see advertised in reputable newspapers and magazines. Don't throw your money away on cheap tackle just for the sake of price.

Then of course there is the question of lines and lures. A gain light lines from 6 to 10 pound test are more acceptable. Many fishermen also prefer light lures.

About That Gun
Most women are inherently afraid of guns. Actually a gun is much less dangerous than an automobile. It just must be handled carefully and by someone who knows what he is doing. Manufacturers build safety features into their guns. They try to give adequate caution to those who handle them. But like an automobile, if you get careless, they can be very dangerous.

On the other hand many hours of real pleasure can be had with a good gun, be it shotgun, rifle, or pistol. Each has its separate place in the scheme of things and each gives a man some pride in its ownership.

Shotgun is Most Popular
Generally the shotgun is the most commonly used. This is especially true when women are concerned.

Women usually will be most interested in 20-gauge shotguns, for themselves. This gun also is a fine shooting piece for the man, especially one who hunts dove and quail. Double-barrel shotguns are about out of the picture, although a few still are made. The trend now is to automatics and pump guns, made at varying price ranges by many different manufacturers.

If you plan to do mostly duck hunting, then a 12 or 16 gauge is desirable. Talk this over with the dealer who advertises in this newspaper. He'll be able to give you good advice. Chances are he knows just what your husband wants.

If you are buying a gun for the boy of the family, you may want to get a 410 or a 22 rifle. The first gun of practically every man was a 22 and every-man still has a great deal of sentiment for one. However, if it is a dangerous gun when improperly used, and every boy — and parent — should know this.

In pistols or revolvers there also is a very wide choice made by good manufacturers. One of the latest is the Hi-Standard Sentinel, a 22 pistol made in colors. It is a very attractive and functional gun, either for plinking or home protection.

Yes, this is one Christmas when mamma can buy outdoors goods and feel she is getting something she too will like. Talk it over with your local sporting goods dealer, and then let your budget be your guide.

It can be a real Christmas!

TERRY WINTER SPORTS

By CHARLIE MAPLE
NEWS Sports Editor

Though football still is making its last dying gasps, there is little doubt the sport soon will be only a "Hot Stove League" subject as the roundballers take over the sports scene here and elsewhere.

The annual round of grid banquets, which normally close the season, has begun here. The Quarterback Club treated Brownfield gridders — seventh grade through high school — to a barbecue Monday to start this writer on the circuit.

The boosters organization certainly put on a fine feed of barbecued chicken and held the speeches to a few "shorties" by some of the local businessmen and school officials.

We think the Cubs and future Cubs thoroughly enjoyed the evening—at least we enjoyed getting together with some of the youngsters and coaches again.

***

Tuesday night we journeyed to Meadow for the Bronco banquet and must report we had a fine time.

Conflicts forced the sponsors to move the annual affair up a week but it was not evident. Everything moved smoothly and looked well-prepared.

Joe Kelly, sports editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal echoed many of the problems faced by the NEWS sports department — only on a larger scale. Our fellow columnist outlined the problems his under-staffed department meets each season in covering the South Plains sports scene. There just is not enough personnel to cover all games.

Though he has only three assistants to cover this area, he told us the A-J gives staff coverage to some 40-50 football games per season. "The rest of the time we are dependent upon the telephone and our correspondents," he said.

Mrs. Lee Fulton arranged the centerpiece with an artificial pineapple painted white and studded with bright Christmas decorations. Pearlized grapes and painted leaves formed the base. A white candle on a glittering suede star stood on either side. A green felt table cloth gave added color.

Hospital Gifts Prepared
A letter of resignation was read from Mrs. T. G. Faulkenberry at the business meeting. The group voted to turn over all ribbons and bows left from their Christmas packages to Mrs. Joe Satterwhite for mailing to a state hospital. She will also head a committee to decorate the local hospital.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mmes. Joe Jackson, John King and Bill Blackstock. Guests were Mmes. J. A. Bench of the Johnson Community and Truman Dubose.

Members attending were Mmes. Fred Bucy, Baumgardner, A. J. Bell, Eulice Farrar, Fulton, J.R. Hissom, Drew Hobdy, Joe Johnson, Jackson, James King, John King, L. M. Lang, Ernest Latham, Rhodes, Bob Spear and Fred Turner.

We also enjoyed discussing the Meadow grid future with Coach Phil Wynn between bites of fried chicken. He is not one to resort to the crying towel, but he said he is losing six of his top men off this year's runner-up team in District 4-B. That's quite a few for a Class B school.

***

Received a letter from Bill

Nance of the Lubbock Park and Recreation Office this week.

Nance said an organizational meeting for the District 2 T-AF basketball league will be held in his office at 8 p.m. Tuesday and that he would like to have area teams send a representative to the meeting.

If any of our readers are interested, they can contact him at 407 East Broadway in Lubbock or phone PO 3-0404.

***

The Cubs seem to be having trouble getting started this season, having lost their last three starts (not including the Borgertourney played Friday and Saturday).

Though this is not the best way to start a season, we feel they will begin to shape up the halves in Tuesday's tilt, the football players put on an exhibition of "boxing-glove basketball," a sport that left the crowd in stitches.

CLOSING CLIPS: The Cubs did very well on the books the past six weeks, three making the honor roll. We tip the battered derby to Mont Muldrow, Donald Godwin and George McDonald for making the select list. Union's Wildcats apparently have the same luck owned by this columnist—they lost to Ackerly in the winners' tourney last week and then had to face them again in the first round of the Meadow Tourney. Tech's stadium expansion is moving along. More than $600,000 has been raised toward the $1,700,000 goal. Plenty of good option seats still are available to area fans. Coaches, don't forget to get your game results to us by 9 a.m. the morning after the tilt. . . . thanks.

Making of Corsages Discussed for BGC Members Wednesday; Gifts Prepared

Mrs. R. W. Baumgardner, program chairman when Brownfield Garden Club met Wednesday afternoon in Seleta Jane Brownfield Clubhouse for a guests day tea.

Mrs. J. C. Rhodes, discussing the making of corsages, said, "Silver or gold always should be used to represent the star of Bethlehem. White denotes purity and the candy stick stands for the staff of the Shepherds."

In a talk of Christmas decorations, Mrs. Baumgardner stressed complementary color coordination with the tree as the center of attraction in the

Household Fly Used In Tumor Research Tests

When is a house fly not a house fly? It is when he becomes a guinea pig! And that is just what scientists are making of the household pest in an attempt to discover a new treatment for tumors, says John White, Texas commissioner of agriculture.

The fly is becoming an important test organism for the rapid screening of tumor-inhibiting compounds. This new testing method quickly eliminates non-effective compounds and narrows the search for effective "cancer killing" elements.

An interesting sidelite in the research is that several of the tested compounds act as inhibitors of ovarian growth in female houseflies. This may mean the eventual discovery of an inexpensive chemical that would cause sterility in certain insects. The end result would be an effective insect control.

A federal entomologist, Norman Mitlin, recently reported his findings in this project at a meeting in Memphis, Tenn. He said that results of tests with tumor inhibiting compounds can be obtained in as little as three days.

House flies complete a life cycle in slightly more than 2 weeks. They are physiologically similar in many ways to higher animals, as well as to other insects. With minimum space and effort, thousands of flies can be reared daily by non-professional workers, at low cost, for laboratory use.

Only 30 to 40 flies are needed for a single test. Mice and rats, normally used in screening tumor inhibiting materials, require months of effort in breeding new strains and in rearing the animals to maturity.

Using flies as the medium, Mitlin has tested 26 compounds of which 15 gave positive results. Among them were several compounds provided by the Cancer Chemotherapy National Service Center of the National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Maryland.

In actual use, the house flies are separated according to sex upon emergence from the pupal stage. The segregated females are fed milk containing the material to be tested. After 3 days the flies are dissected and their ovaries are removed. Underdevelopment of the ovaries indicates that the test material provides inhibiting action on tumors.

Studies Reveal Land Can Be Productive After Volcano Hits

A common saying among Italian farmers is that land ruined by volcanic eruption will not be agriculturally productive for 100 years.

But farmers in Mexico now are able to grow some corn only 14 years after their land was damaged at the 1943 birth of Paricutin volcano, reports Dr. Fred M. Bullard, University of Texas volcanologist, after inspecting Latin American volcanoes.

The time required for nature's rehabilitation of land depends on weathering brought about by rain and the elements which decompose volcanic ash into soil, Dr. Bullard explained.

Lava flow from a volcanic eruption does not always cover the entire area, but rather flows out in streams or often breaks out from a fissure at the base of the mountain, instead of flowing from the crater, he continued. Plots of "free" land are sometimes left between the lava streams, he said.

Lava from a volcanic eruption remains hot for years after the eruption, Dr. Bullard said. An Italian relates how he lit a cigar from lava still hot and steaming after 80 years. Once the lava crust has cooled, it serves as an insulation for the molten and gaseous mass inside the crust, he explained.

Dr. Bullard, who has been keeping constant check on volcanic action in Mexico and Central America for 11 years, plans to expand his research project to include Ecuador's volcanoes. He makes regular observation trips to volcanoes in Mexico and Central America to chart each volcano's activity. His long-term survey of volcanoes is sponsored by the Pan American Institute of Geography and History.

PCG President Is Honored By Farm Magazine Recently

DALLAS — W. O. Fortenberry, president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and B. W. Frierson of Fort Bend County, were named "Men of the Year in Texas Agriculture in 1957" by The Progressive Farmer magazine.

Fortenberry was cited for outstanding agricultural leadership in the irrigated High Plains and in cotton affairs in Texas and United States.

Frierson's citation reads, "For exceptional services to Texas in developing the agricultural operations of Texas Prison System and for agricultural leadership in Gulf Coast Area of Texas."

When Frierson was hired to manage the agricultural operations of Texas Prison System in 1949, the system was known as one of the worst in the nation. In spite of 73,000 acres of potentially valuable land, the system was having to buy tremendous amounts of food.

Now, the Prison System, for all practical purposes, feeds itself. Cotton production has jumped from 1/3 bale per acre to an average of 1 1/2 bales per acre this year. In Texas it costs only 67 cents a day to keep a prisoner as compared to an average of $2.83 in other states.

Fortenberry has been a cotton producer and ginner for more than 30 years. During that time he has held virtually every office in ginning and farming organizations on community, state, and national levels. At present Fortenberry is serving his second term as president of PCG, an organization composed of more than 20,000 Texas High Plains cotton producers and allied businessmen.

Dr. J. Layton Cochran Elected To Be Texas Division Head of Cancer Society

AUSTIN — Dr. J. Layton Cochran of San Antonio was elected president of the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society at the final session of the 12th Annual Meeting at the Driskill Hotel here today.

Other officers elected by those attending the meeting from over 160 county units throughout the state included Travis T. Wallace of Dallas, chairman of the board; Edwin T. Phillips of Fort Worth, vice chairman of the board; Dr. John A. Wall of Houston, vice president, and president elect; Mrs. L. E. Dudley of Abilene, vice president; Philip R. Overton of Austin, secretary, and Raymond Gee of Fort Worth, treasurer.

Board of Directors of the Texas Division also voted the following as members of the State Executive Committee: Dr. J. Layton Cochran of San Antonio; Dr. John A. Wall of Houston; Dr. Jarrett E. Williams of Abilene; Dr. Porter Brown of Fort Worth; Dr. G. V. Brindley of Temple; Dr. Wilbur Q. Budd of Amarillo; Dr. John H. Childers of Galveston; Dr. R. Lee Clark of Houston; Dr. E. C. Hinds of Houston; Dr. Stanley W. Olson of Houston; Dr. David A. Todd of San Antonio; Dr. Andrew B. Small of Dallas; Dr. H. O. Smith of Marlin; Dr. J. E. Miller of Dallas; Dr. John Thomas of Austin and Dr. Grant Taylor of Houston.

Retiring president is Dr. Porter Brown of Fort Worth.

At a general session in the morning, Mefford R. Runyon of New York, executive vice president of the American Cancer Society, presented a resume of the Society's national activities and brought a message of hope to the more than 200 volunteer delegates attending.

He indicated that the best hope for cures of widespread cancer at the present time lies in research being conducted in chemotherapy and virology.

"We don't know what a discovery in a biochemist's laboratory will not affect the deductibility of the contributions."

"Section 170 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 provides for the allowance as a deduction, within the limitations prescribed by the section, of contributions or gifts payment of which is made within the taxable year or for the use of a State, or a political subdivision thereof, or the United States, or the District of Columbia for exclusively public purposes."

Under the ordinary circumstances an individual may deduct as much as 20 per cent of his gross income for charitable donations and a corporation may ordinarily deduct 5 per cent of its gross income for charitable donations, local tax authorities pointed out. Outright donations are deductible also.

About $630,000 has been raised to date, but approximately 11,000 of the original 13,000 seat options remain available, Kynoch said.

Internal Revenue Department Rules Tech Stadium Gifts Are Deductible

Contributions to the Texas Tech Stadium Expansion program will be deductible from income tax returns, according to word just received from internal revenue authorities by Texas Tech officials.

"Those who have already obtained their option seats should take note of this announcement, inasmuch as the question was unanswerable at the time they secured their options," said Charles E. Maedgen Jr., general chairman of the stadium expansion program.

Meanwhile, campaign headquarters have shifted to Midland for two days.

With DeWitt Weaver, Tech athletic director, Robert P. Kynoch, campaign director, took the complete seating chart to Midland Wednesday. There, Tech Board Vice Chairman Jim Lindsey and Julian Simpson, Midland alumni chapter secretary, established temporary campaign headquarters on the mezzanine of the Hotel Scharbauer Wednesday afternoon and all day Thursday.

Beginning in January, the drive will be continued in other West Texas and New Mexico cities.

Maedgen hailed the tax letter as "a big boost" in the campaign to raise $1,700,000 for expansion of Jones Stadium to 55,000 by 1960, when Tech officially enters the Southwest Conference football race.

H. T. Swartz, director of the Tax Ruling Division in Washington has advised that "It is our opinion that the amounts contributed and used for the purposes stated . . . (purchase of option seats) . . . will be deductible by the donors, for Federal income tax purposes, in the manner and to the extent provided by section 170 of the 1954 Code; and that the granting of so-called "seat options" will not affect the deductibility of the contributions."

"Section 170 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 provides for the allowance as a deduction, within the limitations prescribed by the section, of contributions or gifts payment of which is made within the taxable year or for the use of a State, or a political subdivision thereof, or the United States, or the District of Columbia for exclusively public purposes."

Under the ordinary circumstances an individual may deduct as much as 20 per cent of his gross income for charitable donations and a corporation may ordinarily deduct 5 per cent of its gross income for charitable donations, local tax authorities pointed out. Outright donations are deductible also.

About $630,000 has been raised to date, but approximately 11,000 of the original 13,000 seat options remain available, Kynoch said.

SELF-AID MIGHT CURE TROUBLES

More Work for More Food Would Help World Welfare Status

The idea of the world as a welfare state has been decried by scientists, who think that it is wrong to believe that the world will provide food simply out of a sense of duty. This research scientist believes that if more food is to be produced, more work must be done to earn it.

We think that it is about time someone took occasion to emphasize this fact. We have been hearing about the great increase of population in the world which, statistics tell us, number some 50,000 persons a day, and been warned that unless a great increase is made in production of food, millions of people will starve to death.

It has been pointed out that food is growing on only seven to ten per cent of the world's land surface. This means about eleven billion acres of the total land surface, 37,500,000,000 acres, are "climatically suited to crop growth, but the present area in use is between three or four billion acres."

This food-producing area represents a world per capita average of about one and one-half acres, whereas if all the suitable land area was in use for the production of food, it would mean about five acres for every man, woman and child in the world.

Continued conservation of soil and prevention of erosion, avoidance of waste and other preventable losses and the intensive cultivation of land already in use should be carried on.

The scientist found, however, that the farmer himself, and the environment which influences him, often lags behind the opportunities that natural science offers.

A program of education in modern agricultural methods, with modern equipment, would do much to increase the production of food in the world, and such an educational program will do more for the people themselves, in raising their standard of living and bettering their physical conditions, than almost any other type of assistance which may be given them.

State Capital NEWS

By Varn Sanford

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN—Pleas for Bascom Giles' release are mounting.

Latest activity is a petition signed by 103 Austin citizens, filed with the State Board of Pardons and Paroles, Earle Ed Burkhalter, member of the Travis County Parole Board for the past five years, submitted the request.

Burkhalter said that he is hopeful that Giles can be home for Christmas.

Giles is serving a 6-year sentence, in Huntsville, for his part in the veterans land scandals. He was eligible for parole last April. However the Pardons Board contended that his release "would not meet with community acceptance."

Burkhalter's petition is the result of that statement. Burkhalter said that he knew Giles only casually and had not consulted any of Giles' friends or relatives when he started the petition. He did say, however, that he felt that Giles' wife and family were being punished beyond the intent of the law.

"Mr. Giles has taken his medicine without pursuing the generally accepted course of taking advantage of all the technicalities of the law," Burkhalter commented. "He made restitution in civil procedures of all the money that was asked of him by the state's Attorney General."

In commenting on the petition for release, Rogan Giles, son of the former Land Commissioner, stated that the petition "confirms reports we have been receiving from all over the state, that Dad should be treated just like anyone else and be paroled."

Three of the nine members of the corrections board, the policy-making group for the prison system, recently said that Giles should be paroled. They praised his spotless prison record and termed him an "excellent risk" to society. One member, Lewis Nordyke of Amarillo, described Giles as a "political prisoner."

Giles entered the Huntsville prison on Jan. 10, 1956. As a trustee he earns double time. Therefore, without parole, he will be discharged Jan. 21, 1958. Also he has made several blood donations, each of which entitles him to a 30-day commutation.

In view of these earnings Giles already has completed the three-year sentence given him in his jury trial. The balance of his time is the result of a guilty plea that followed the jury trial.

Prison officials state that he has been a model prisoner.

PEACE AND QUIET HERE — Legislators have left. And Christmas decorations are going up in the State Capitol.

But Christmas in the Capitol, as elsewhere, may be a bit blighted this year by thoughts of upcoming bills.

Before adjourning, the lawmakers passed a $325,000 appropriation to pay second session expenses. Four different special funds had to be tapped to scrape it up.

This, added to State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert's forecast of a $20,000,000 deficit by 1959, heightened lawmakers' gloom and dissatisfaction at session's end. Some predicted they would have to come back in January to pass a tax bill.

Gov. Price Daniel said "no" to another session. Even if the comptroller's forecast proves correct, said Daniel, the 1959 session can take care of it. But the governor said he had real hopes that a rise in oil production would bring in more revenue and avoid the deficit.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS QUESTIONED — Seven major bills were passed in the two special sessions called by Governor Daniel this fall.

First session turned out laws on water planning, lobbyist control, crime study and practice before state agencies. Second session turned out three laws aimed at strengthening local control of schools, particularly in regard to segregation. Last one to pass authorized county judges to require registration of organizations they feel are interfering with school operations.

In reference to the sessions Governor Daniel said he felt "very good" about them. In the first session they completed enactment of the 52-point program he submitted originally, said Daniel. "Old political pros still are fussing," he commented, but "we've never had so much mail from the grass roots voicing approval."

Critics contend, however, that the new laws are an empty victory.

Their view: (1) Measures on water planning, lobbyists, etc., were so riddled with amendments they'll have little effect. (2) Second session school bills won't stand up in court and will, therefore, prove a dis-appointment to the people who wanted pro-segregation laws. (3) Whole thing cost the Governor support in the Legislature and took nearly $2,000,000 from an already overstrained state treasury.

It's a debate that likely will continue until voters have the last say in next summer's primary.

OUT TO CHEAT STATISTICS — "Give the gift of life for Christmas."

That is the slogan for holiday driving agreed upon by the Texas Safety Council and Governor Daniel. Objective is to prove wrong the usually-right statisticians who say that 115 Texans will die in traffic accidents this holiday season.

To make drivers safety conscious, an all-out program is being launched by the Governor's office, Department of Public Safety, Highway Department, schools and military installations, and the Texas Safety Association.

Last December's traffic accidents took 252 lives, 108 of them during the holidays.

APPOINTMENTS DUE — Governor Daniel says he hopes to have some 100 appointive jobs in state government filled by Christmas.

During the session several legislators publicity needed the governor about the pileup of vacancies in state boards, departments and agencies.

Among those to be named are members of the newly-created Water Development Board and one member of the new State Board of Water Engineers.

Russell J. McVinnie, Catholic bishop: "Today a mental lazybones, the imbecile seeker after security, and earthy hedonist calls the intellectual an 'egg-head.'"

History records no fanaticism like that of the righteous.

IN OWN TOURNEY
Broncs Tip Ropesville

Speaker—Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State College in Canyon, spoke Wednesday at a meeting for high school student councils of the district at Brownfield. Dr. Cornette has been president of WT since 1948, was dean at Baylor University for three years, and taught for 15 years at Western Kentucky State College.

The Meadow Bronchos, riding on Harold Hinson's 27 points, rolled past Ropesville, 57-47, in the top game of the Meadow Basketball Tournament's first round Thursday. Johnny Valentine led Ropesville with 17 points, but it was not enough to stop the Bronchos who now met Shallowater in the second round Friday. Shallowater eased by Spade, 50-34, as Dwain Bishop had 17 points. Neal was high for Spade with 19.

In the other boys' games, O'Donnell swamped Andrews B, 59-32, and Ackerly bopped Wellman, 47-27.

Spade girls scored a 49-48 victory over Shallowater and Sundown swept past O'Donnell, 71-35. New Home was an easy winner over Union, 48-18.

Other leading scorers of the day in the boys bracket were White of O'Donnell with 18, Brewer of Andrews B nine, Cook of Ackerly 17, and Donnie Benson of Wellman 11.

Leading girls' pointmakers were Sandra Weber of Shallowater with 27, Gloria Gray of Brownfield, Texas.

Ramona Garcia
Merry Christmas to you all.

Whoso'er would reach the rose, Treads the corcus under foot. — Mrs. Browning.

Spade with 31, Simpson of O'Donnell 19, Renfro, Barnett and Smith, all of New Home, 11, and Doris Howell of Union 15.

Sundown forfeited its second round game to Ropesville in order to yell for its football team in the state playoffs.

First Date

It's her first real date. This time there is no chaperone, but her mother is not worried because this is a boy she knows at Church. There is no question about it; people who are loyal Christians simply have unquestioned integrity and moral structure. This situation is no accident; morality and sturdy character are intentional products of religion. The Church teaches, upholds and demands ethical, responsible living of its members. Do you cherish a good character for your son or daughter? Then go with them every Sunday to Church and put your first loyalty there.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

Is something wrong with your life — an inner restless dissatisfaction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure.

Through the church God has committed the provisions and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church to God, everyone should be in the Church and the Church in everyone!

Full Scale Clean Up of Trash Fish Is Slated For Fort Brown Lake in January

A full scale clean-up of trash fish in Fort Brown Lake at Brownsville will be made early in January, it has been announced by Marion Toole, of inland fisheries of the Game and Fish Commission. A survey completed there during the summer months by crews of the Commission indicated that more than 98 per cent of the fish population is undesirable. Crews under the direction of L. V. Guerra, Assistant Project Leader, made the investigation through netting and seining collections. Gill nets 125 feet long and 8 feet wide with mesh from 1 to 3 inches square were used. Fort Brown is described as a long, murky, shallow, silty bottom, ox-bow type lake that no longer has a natural connection with the Rio Grande or other waters. With rough fish predominating, a complete kill and restocking was recommended. The biologists also suggest that adequate fish screens be placed over discharge of pumps from the Rio Grande to prevent re-introduction of rough fish. According to the report, buffalo in numbers made up 34 per cent of the fish population; fresh water drum, 21.4 per cent and gizzard shad, 17 per cent. In weight, flathead catfish made up 22.43 per cent, followed closely by carp with 21.85 per cent by weight. Largemouth bass represented only .48 per cent of the weight. Records show the lake has been stocked with more than 35,000 bas during the past three years. Because of the preponderance of rough fish, the bass have not had an opportunity to crop off. Fort Brown lake is located two miles east of Brownsville and at one time was a part of the resaca system. A 12 inch pump at the Rio Grande provides the inflow into the lake. The lake is owned by the city of Brownsville and is operated as a recreational area. "The city and state are co-operating on this project," the director said. "Because of the increased tourist traffic in the Rio Grande Valley, it has been deemed necessary to make the best possible use of this fishing water." "The renovation program is scheduled to get under way in January," he said. As a general rule in life, one gets about what one pays for.

Wladyslaw Gomułka, leader of Poland's Communists: "We cannot always do what we like. In the present political situation we are forced to abide by the Warsaw Pact."

WHAT TO DO WHEN BREATHING STOPS

These five figures illustrate, from top to bottom, the steps in mouth-to-mouth resuscitation now being taught in Red Cross First Aid courses.

- (1) Mother, using middle finger of one hand, clears child's mouth of any foreign matter. With same finger, she holds the tongue forward.
- (2) Mother places child in a face-down, head-down, position, and pats him firmly on the back with the free hand, to help dislodge any foreign object in the air passage.
- (3) The child is placed on his back, and the mother, using middle fingers of both hands, lifts the lower jaw from beneath and behind so that it "juts out."
- (4) With one hand only, the jaw is held in this jutting-out position.
- (5) The mother, covering the child's mouth and nose with her mouth, breathes into the child with a smooth, steady action. The free hand applies continuous moderate pressure to the child's abdomen, between navel and ribs, to prevent the stomach from being filled with air.

'Airlift Buckskin' Is Resumed In Texas

AUSTIN—"Airlift Buckskin" got its reactivation papers this week, so the Air Force Reserve again will team up with Texas public and civilian agencies to expedite tanning of donated deer hides needed for therapeutic treatment of tuberculosis patients. Colonel Walter B. Magness, commander of the Austin Air Reserve Center, announced that authority was received from Fourteenth Air Force Headquarters to use training time to fly the green hides from the state concentration point in Austin to a tanning factory on the west coast. The aerial transport will be provided, said Colonel Magness, by the famed Alamo Wing quartered at Brooks Air Force Base, San Antonio, commanded by Brigadier General John H. Foster. Alamo Wing crews last year initiated "Airlift Buckskin" by flying two tons of the green hides to San Francisco. The deer skins, donated by Texas hunters under an elaborate system set up by private agencies including

Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas, are urgently needed to aid restoration of hundreds of patients to normal health. Utilization of training missions by the reserve to speed up final processing of the pelts has been credited by the Volunteer State Council for Texas Tuberculosis Hospitals with tremendously expediting the program. Committee chairman, Joseph Hennessy of San Antonio, said, "Motor freight carriers over the years have contributed equipment to bring the hides from all over the state to Austin, but that a severe bottleneck developed in the final processing until the Air Reserves committed their training missions to the vital haulage link." "This meritorious program has contributed toward restoring many good people to useful effort," said Colonel Magness. "And the USAF is proud to be able to help in the humanitarian work."

Dr. Nathan M. Pussey, president, Harvard University: "The fruits of intellect unsupported by faith are not necessarily a richer life, but more often superciliousness, fastidiousness or even lacklustre and despair."

Sherman Adams, Assistant to the President:
