'Success' Defines Art Show

By KLYDIE SCUDDAY
NEWS Woman's Editor

Paintings by nine local artists were exhibited by Brownfield, Texas Branch of American Association of University Women, Thursday evening in Seleta Jane Brownfield Clubhouse.

Work on display included one in sequins, two in water colors and 47 in oils. The water colors, pictures of fruit, were painted by Mrs. Sid Lowery of 1206 East Buckley. She also displayed works in oil.

Portraits were exhibited by Mrs. L. G. Smith of Route 3 and Mrs. J. L. Cruce Sr. of 204 East Cardwell. Mrs. Smith, in painting her eight portraits shown, had used her own and friends' children as models. The models were taught in acts characteristic of children, giving the paintings added interest to any parent.

When asked, "Do you agree with the opinion of most artists, that life is the most difficult thing to portray?" Mrs. Smith replied, "I wouldn't know, but I can say it is the most challenging."

The two portraits by Mrs. Cruce were character studies of an Indian and "The Old Man of the Mountain." To add to the story of the latter, she had a painting of a small burro entitled, "The Young Man of the Mountain."

Mrs. Cruce also displayed landscapes and floral arrangements in oils. Mrs. E. B. McBurnett Jr. of 1205 East Buckley used the leafless mesquite for a painting of local color. In contrast, beside it was an oil of the gay colored pheasant in flight.

Oils of both floral and landscape scenes by Mrs. Tommy Hicks of 1212 East Tate were shown. Most of her work was in warm bright colors. Also on exhibit, were two pictures of dogs done by Mrs. Hicks' son, Tommy, when he was 12.

Mrs. Virgil Crawford of 1216 East Reppito had works of floral and landscape scenes in the brighter colors, giving a feeling of warmth.

A picture of a ship in a storm at sea was in the works exhibited by Mrs. James E. Finley of 1302 East Cardwell. The one picture was in dark tones in contrast to her other works of floral and landscape scenes, with their keen, warm colors.

Services Scheduled In Funeral Home's Chapel for C. Hafer

C. L. Hafer, 70, died of a cerebral hemorrhage early Friday morning in his home at 803 East Reppito.

Hafer, called Chris by his many friends, was employed by Jack Hamilton Tire Store as bookkeeper. From September 1945 until July 1952 (retired) he was manager here of West Texas Gas Company (now Pioneer Natural Gas).

Services were to be held at 2:30 p.m. today in Brownfield Funeral Home Chapel, with the Rev. James E. Tidwell of First Methodist Church officiating. Burial will be in Terry County Memorial Cemetery.

In addition to his widow, Hafer is survived by two brothers, Charles Hafer of Spokane, Wash., and Hugo Hafer of Corpus Christi, and two sisters, Mrs. Irene Hafer and Mrs. Hattie Kolb, both of St. Charles, Mo.

Hafer was born May 5, 1887, in St. Charles, and moved to West Texas from Chicago in 1927. He married Miss Ida Grace Stronach of Hammond, Ind., in 1922.

He began his long career with West Texas Gas in June 1927, and one of his first jobs was to check material for main line construction. From there, See No. 6 Page 3

THAT BAD COMBINATION
By George Peck

The consensus is that Walter Reuther, in proposing his profit-sharing plan to the Big Three of the auto industry, was simply throwing up a smoke-screen to divert attention from his real objective—the 4-day-week with 5 days' pay.

This opinion is based on the belief that even socialistically-inclined Walter has any real hope that management of the automobile industry will even seriously consider entertaining such a proposal—a proposal, which if put into effect, would spell "finis" for that industry as far as private enterprise is concerned. Reuther must know that sooner than completely abdicate to him, which his profit-sharing scheme would entail, the automobile manufacturers would fight to the last ditch.

Ruthless Reuther, any allegations to the contrary, is a smart operator. He must know that right now is not exactly the propitious time to take the UAW out on strike. (It is rumored that the public is not exactly breaking its neck to purchase automobiles at this particular juncture.) He must know that strikes at this time would do more damage to him and to his members than to the shockholders of the auto industry. It is this columnist's opinion (you can take it for what it's worth) that Reuther will not risk the loss of personal prestige which unsuccessful strikes would involve.

But now let's take a look at some of Walter's past accomplishments. Through his puppet Michigan's Governor G. Mennen Williams, Reuther has succeeded in putting the economic climate of that State to such an extent that new industries are avoiding the Wolverine State like a plague. Industries already established in Michigan are loath to extend their operations there and are carrying out their expansion programs in other States. "Soapy," the past and present monicker for Governor Williams, is now, with more than considerable justification, regarded by industry as "Mennen the Menace."

As a case in point, John T. McCarthy, an official of General Electric, in addressing a conference recently at Columbus, Ohio, stated that in the last five years his company has built only one plant in Michigan.

pect for the presidential nomination of the Democrat Party. Should he succeed in copping this nomination and eventually getting himself elected, Boss Reuther would simply move his control from Lansing to Washington, D.C. Not a very pleasant prospect, is it? One that we must not only hope and pray will not come to pass, but a catastrophe that we must put forth every effort to prevent.

Confronted with the sad spectacle of the pollution of Michigan's industrial climate by "redheaded" Reuther via "bow-tie" Williams, this combination must be prevented from transplanting its destructive operations from a State to a national basis.

The automotive industry can put a crimp in the political ambitions of G. Mennen Williams and Reuther's grab for more power, by standing resolute against unreasonable demands of the UAW, whether they be for profit-sharing or more pay for less work.

It's now squarely up to the automobile industry to break up THAT BAD COMBINATION.

With continued large consumer incomes and about a five percent reduction in per capita egg supplies, egg prices to farmers in 1958 are likely to increase.

Everybody's Proud Of Dist COURSE SERVES DUAL P

Brownfield merchants, students and educators are proud of their Distributive Education program.

The distributive education program provides practical instruction and preparation for useful and worthwhile participation in distributive business.

TWO-YEAR COURSE

It is a two-year course for juniors and seniors. It is designated as a cooperative part time distributive education program because the employers of the community cooperate with the school by providing part time employment training.

R. T. Wilson has been the coordinator of the Distributive Education Program in Brownfield for the past four years. The coordinator teaches two classes in the morning, one for Juniors and one for seniors, and spends the remainder of the day coordinating and correlating class room instruction with the part time training on the job in town.

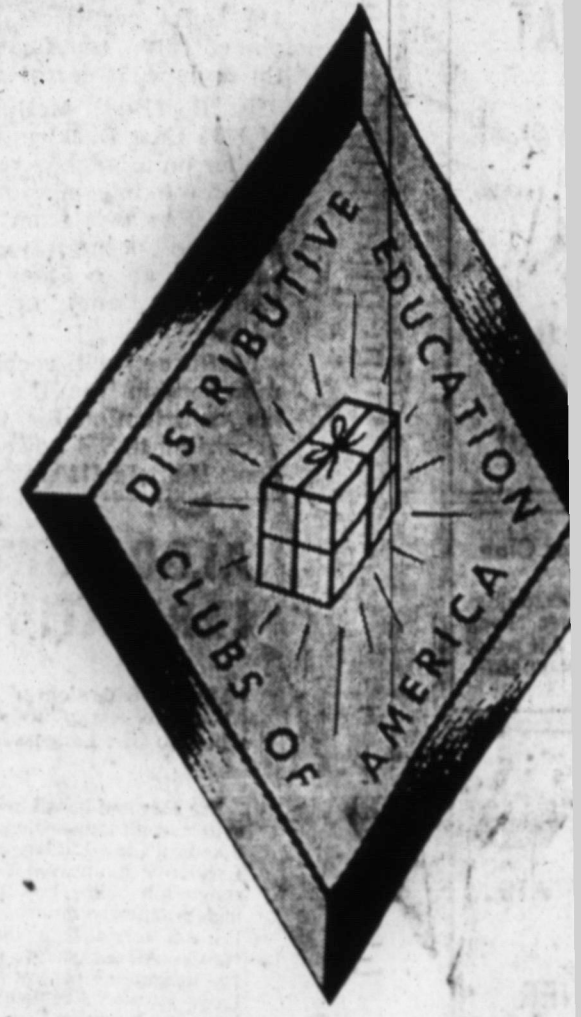

The part time employment serves as a laboratory for the students to apply the instruction given in the class-room. Students are employed by local businessmen at prevailing wages for a minimum of 15 hours per week. These training sponsors are considered as the down-town teachers for the students while they are training on the job.

BUSINESSMEN APPRECIATE PROGRAM

The following quotations are from businessmen in Brownfield, who were asked the question, "What do you think of the Distributive Education Program in the high school?"

Mr. Lal Copeland, Copeland Hardware, "We appreciate the opportunity of participating in the program. I feel that it benefits our business as well as train students for full-time jobs in retailing."

Mr. Tracy Cary, J. B. Knight Furniture: "I have participated in the program seven years. In that time we have used 5 boys; all have been very satisfactory and I will be looking for another next year."

We Thank You . . .

We, the members of the D. E. Program, want to express our appreciation to the merchant who have sponsored these two pages and also want to thank those who have D.E. Students training in their businesses.

Of Distributive Education

DUAL PUPOSE . . .

Mr. Jim Bayless, Bayless Jewelry, "I took Distributive Education while in high school and I definitely feel that this program influenced my decision to enter the jewelry business. It is a way for students to get training in distribution which will benefit them in later years. By taking Distributive Education a student can get started on the work of his choice much earlier than he normally would."

Mr. Kenneth Watkins, City Drug, "I am very much in favor of the program and feel that it is a source of well trained young employees that will help relieve the need for well qualified personnel in the distributive field. We have had very good results with D. E. students and are glad to cooperate with the school in this program."

Mr. L. J. Richardson, Jr., Vice-President of First National Bank, "We have 2 students employed under the Distributive Education program at the present and have 3 ex-students who are with us full-time now. We always look forward to employing Distributive Education students in our bank because we are aware of the importance of attracting young people in the field of banking."

Mr. Bobby Jones, manager, J. B. Knight Hardware, "I was a member of the program while in high school and feel that it benefited me a great deal. Now I am training D. E. students in our business. We have always been well pleased with the students we have trained and I believe D. E. Students are better prepared to enter retailing after completing this course."

Mr. Joe Satterwhite, manager of Chamber of Commerce, "In these times of critical competition in the retail field, a salesperson must be able to present his merchandise or service, to its best advantage. He must be able to meet and serve his customers in a friendly, business-like manner. He must prepare himself to take responsibility and advancement when the opportunity comes. Also, our businessmen must realize that better trained employees mean more satisfied customers and more profits. I believe the Distributive Education program in our high school helps to meet these needs."

Thank You . . .

Members of the D. E. Program, want to express appreciation to the merchant who in these two pages and also do we those who have D.E. Students trainees.

'We Sure Got Plenty of Parking Space'

By WELDON CALLAWAY

Conversation overheard at a service station, at an unnamed town:

Tourist: "Nice quiet little town you got here."
 Citizen: "It's quiet all right."
 Tourist: "Wonder where I could buy some fishing tackle?"
 Citizen: "Don't know. I order mine by mail."
 Tourist: "Prices too high here?"
 Citizen: "Don't know. High or low, I wouldn't know."
 Tourist: "Sure is quiet. This a holiday or something?"
 Citizen: "Nope. Just like any other day. One thing we got in this town is plenty of parking space."
 Tourist: "Looks like good farming country. When do the farmers come in?"
 Citizen: "They don't. They go somewhere else."
 Tourist: "You need a chamber of commerce."
 Citizen: "Had one. It folded up. Nobody could remember the meetings."
 Tourist: "Think I'll have some lunch before I moved on. How's the restaurants?"
 Citizen: "Don't know about here. But there's a place down the road."
 Tourist: "Apparently you haven't been living here long."
 Tourist: "What's happening over there at the courthouse?"
 Citizen: "Don't know. Court election, or something. Look mister, save your breath. A map wouldn't know where to get a loaf of bread in this town."
 Tourist: "Why not? What's wrong with your newspaper?"
 Citizen: "That's the point mister. We don't have a newspaper. No sir, we don't have a newspaper, but we sure got plenty of parking space on the square."

Draft Registration Tops 6,000 in State

AUSTIN — More than 6,000 Texans of draft age registered at the state's 137 draft boards in January, reports Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director.

He said about 65,000 men a year, mostly 18-year-olds, register with the Texas boards.

At the beginning of the current law, 1948-49, rate of registration was about 63,000 a year.

Males reaching age 18 are required to register on their birthday, or within five days thereafter. All males born since August 30 1922, are legally obligated to register, except those not yet 18.

Membership in the National Guard or any of the unformed reserves does not excuse a young man from registration, pointed out Colonel Schwartz. He must register, though he enters the reserves before he is 18.

If a man joins the armed forces and goes on active duty before he is 18 he is relieved from registration until discharge or relief from active duty. Thirty days after discharge or relief from active duty he must go to a draft board and register, no matter what his age or length of service.

If a young man is an ROTC student in Texas A&M College before he is 18 he is relieved from obligation to register so long as he is an ROTC student. If he drops out he must register.

If he completes A&M and gets a commission but does not go on active duty, he must register. If he goes on active duty immediately he does not have to register until relieved from active duty.

This is approved by the Secretary of Defense in only six other schools.

Under present regulations, no one is drafted until age 22, except those who volunteer, or delinquents, but registration is mandatory at 18. Texas has 1,053,000 registered. Of this

During 1957, the state's 137 draft boards registered 64,149 males, most of them 18-year-olds. Federal law requires males to register at age 18, or within five days.

Technicolor Film Is Available To Groups

The BHS distributive education department has a 22-minute film, "It's Everybody's Business," available for civic and study club programs the next two weeks, according to R. T. Wilson, DE coordinator.

Wilson explained the film, produced by the United States Chamber of Commerce, is a highly entertaining explanation of the American business system.

The coordinator said organizations desiring to see the film may contact him at the school or his home. "We are offering this as a public service of the DE department," he added, "and we hope every organization will take advantage of this excellent Technicolor movie."

Women's Golf Play Under Way At Club

Twenty members of Brownfield Country Club Women's Golf Association met Wednesday morning for golf and a chili luncheon.

Peggy Elliot took medalist and Louise Bailes low net. It was the first week's play in a six weeks tournament being staged by the club.

Minnie Hazel Bowman's side is leading Gwen Henderson's side by 20 points with a score of 81-61.

For the first time in several years, most areas of the state have adequate subsoil moisture, crop, since planting is already underway in the Rio Grande Valley.

State Selective Service Notes More Texans Leave Service Than Enter

AUSTIN — The number of Texans leaving active duty in the armed forces in 1957 far exceeded those entering, reports Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director.

A total of 62,916 was discharged or transferred to reserve status during the past year, according to reports of discharge and transfer received by state Selective Service headquarters.

During the same year, state Selective Service headquarters received reports showing that 33,317 Texans entered the armed forces. Of this number, 26,047 entered by volunteering and 7,270 were drafted.

"Actually, a good many of those who go in through the draft board enter service by voluntary action," pointed out, Colonel Schwartz. "The draft law permits volunteering through a local board."

Selective Service in Texas forwarded 16,645 men for pre-induction mental and physical examinations during 1957, state headquarters records reveal. Of this number, 10,077 were designated acceptable for service by the Army and 6,568 were rejected.

During 1957, the state's 137 draft boards registered 64,149 males, most of them 18-year-olds. Federal law requires males to register at age 18, or within five days.

Under present regulations, no one is drafted until age 22, except those who volunteer, or delinquents, but registration is mandatory at 18. Texas has 1,053,000 registered. Of this

NOT JUST FOR 'UNION FAMILIES'

Texas AFL-CIO Offering $4,650 In Cash Scholarships To State High School Seniors Entering Essay Contest This Year

AUSTIN—A total of $4,650 in cash scholarships is being offered Texas high school graduates in the 1958 Texas State AFL-CIO scholarship contest, open to any graduating senior of any high school in Texas.

Seven cash scholarships ranging from $50 to $500 are offered to statewide winners in the contest, and 19 cash scholarships ranging in value from $50 to $250 are available to winners in Austin, Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, Odessa, San Antonio and Wichita Falls areas.

The contest is open to any graduating senior of any public, private or parochial high school in Texas, pointed out Texas AFL-CIO president Jerry Holleman. Contestants do not have to have any union connection in order to participate.

"There has been some confusion in previous years concerning the eligibility of high school seniors without a union connection," he declared.

"As a matter of fact, none of the four winners of statewide awards last year came from a union family. We invite and encourage any and all graduating seniors to enter the contest."

The contest consists of two stages. Contestants first must write a qualifying essay on one of five subjects listed in the announcement, and then the writers of the best essays will take an examination based on materials supplied them by the contest committee. Qualifying essays must be submitted by March 31.

The seven statewide awards are: $500 first prize and $250 second prize, awarded by Texas State AFL-CIO, $250, Texas State Pipe Trades Association; $250 Texas State Association of Electrical Workers; $250, Operating Engineers Local 347 of Texas City; $200, Iron Workers District Council of Texas; $50 Communication Workers Local 6222, Houston.

Local awards are offered as follows:

Austin — $100, Austin Trades Council; $100, Typographical Local 138; $50, Office Employees Local 298; $50 Carpenters Local 1266.

Dallas—$250, Dallas AFL-CIO Council; $50, Motion Picture Operators Local 249-A.

Fort Worth — $100, Tarrant County Central Center Labor Council; $50, Typographical Local 198.

Houston — $250, Houston Labor and Trades Council; $250, Houston Area Industrial Union Council; $250, Houston Building and Construction Trades Council; two $250 awards, Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Local 4-367, Pasadena; $250, Plumbers Local 68; $100, Laborers Local 18; $100, Motion Picture Operators Local 279-A.

Odessa—$100, Odessa Central Labor Union.

San Antonio—$100, San Antonio AFL-CIO Council and San Antonio Building and Construction Trades Council.

Wichita Falls—$250, Wichita Falls Trades and Labor Council.

Full information about the contest can be obtained from the Texas State AFL-CIO, 1011 San Jacinto Street, Austin, or from any sponsoring organization.

reports though unpleasant as they may be, tell a story and could serve as a stepping stone in 1958, if one would but let them.

Of course, no one can prevent providential hazards, such as rain, hail or drouth, but if you were one of the many who wound up this year on the short end, it might be wise to re-check your bank statements and see if part of those signed checks were not responsible for some of the loss. There is no way around it—profits and losses are determined by wise and efficient management. I doubt if there is a farm family who could not look over their income report and see where they could have cut down $50 a month.

Now wait, before somebody starts screaming—what about the grocery expense? Wasn't there at least a dollar's worth of items you could have done without? Sure, every week. That in itself, amounts to $52 a year.

And then there's a countless ways the farmer could save 50 cents here and a dollar there. Before a half dozen of my farmer friends blow a fuse, let me remind them that I am married to a farmer, who in my opinion, is an efficient manager and he spends money that could be saved if necessary.

It's just that we like sitting in the easy chair and hire too much of everything done. As an example in 1957, I started partially partrionizing our local steam laundry. Thirty five cents is not much for a pair of khakis or blue jeans, but three pair is $1.95 and there's 52 weeks in a year, making the total amount $54.60 for three pair pants per week, to say nothing of a shirt or two I send along.

Why don't I do it myself? It's not my health. I'm not pressed for time. I've had 25 years experience. Now you guess why—and you are probably right.

What I'm trying to say is that a small amount here and there seems so trivial, especially when farming operations speak in terms of thousands instead of hundreds. But it's worth a minute of your time, if you were one of those who came up short, to face the facts—you spent too much—not in one large bill, but a little here, and there.

If I remember correctly, it was 1939, when everybody who made $600 or more was told they would have to pay an income tax. I was working in the ACA office and received a salary of $80 a month. Tiny Nelson, who is now our rural mail carrier, was janitor for the post office building. He informed me on the subject, and at the time I didn't think much about it because $600 above expenses seemed a fantastic amount to save.

Since that time, almost everything has doubled in price except the deductible allowance. I don't know enough about economics, but it seems logical that each individual should be allowed more than $600. It would cut considerably on the government income but nevertheless our present deductible figure is as outdated as the Model A Ford we drove when it was set up.

And speaking again of spending—before the problem is solved, I imagine there will be quite a few Terry citizens express themselves concerning the local hospital situation. Right here and now without elaboration (although I do have my reasons) the Farmer's Wife wants to state publicly that she is not in favor of the county going into the medical business.

Dr. Treadaway is our family doctor and Dr. Daniell is our friend and both have rendered an inestimable service to the community. Maybe it's because so many have imposed on their services that they have, after long deliberation, decided to take it easy along with the rest of us. A doctor just doesn't jump out right quick and hire someone to take over his work for a week—a farmer can.

Most of us have taken unconsciously the medical profession as we do a grocery or hardware business. Our money pays for the doctor's service and he should appreciate the

SECRETARY BENSON SAYS HE CAN'T

Plains Farmers Have Little Hope For Increased 1958 Cotton Acreage

Lubbock — High Plains farmers, along with other cotton producers across the U. S. cotton belt, face 1958 with little or no hope of increased cotton acreage, according to information from Washington, D. C.

W. O. Fortenberry, president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., today said that Agriculture Secretary Benson told Congress last week he does not have the power to boost acreage allotments for the 1958 cotton crop.

The PCG recently sent Wilmer Smith of New Home, vice president, and George W. Pfeiffer, executive vice president, to Washington to attend a conference with Secretary Benson. This conference, arranged by the National Cotton Council, asked Benson for increased acreage in 1958.

Allotments for the 1958 crop have been set at 17,600,000 acres. The National Cotton Council asked an increase to this allotment to help overcome an impending shortage of high quality fiber.

The Farm Chief made his decision last week in a letter to Rep. Cooley, (D-NC) chairman of the House Agriculture Committee. The decision was based on a legal opinion by R. L. Farrington, Agriculture Department general counsel.

Farrington told the Secretary cotton allotments are not designed to take into account needs for particular grades of cotton but are designed to bring the total quantity of cotton produced in balance with the total quantity of cotton needed.

Any increase in 1958 allotments, said Farrington, would add to the total supply not only of the grades desired but also of other grades which presumably are already in surplus.

The Counsel contended there is no certain method of growing a particular grade of cotton because of the unpredictable effects of weather, insects and other factors.

He said the desired grades under normal conditions probably would range somewhere between 60 per cent to 75 per cent of the total production, with the balance made up of the "trash" cotton which already is too abundant.

Farrington also told the secretary that a boost in 1958 cotton allotments without specific legislative authority, would conflict with the acreage reserve phase of the Soil Bank.

Fortenberry said that while the PCG was interested in obtaining acreage increases for this year, the primary interest of this organization in connection with a cotton program is to secure a long-range program that will work toward the benefit not only of the producer, but will benefit other segments of the cotton industry, and which will put cotton back on a sound economic basis thru the national and world.

LAST STATE TO ADOPT LAW

Texas Egg Law To Go Into Effect On Monday; Quality Expected To Improve

Only a few more days remain before the Texas Egg Law becomes effective. On Monday official enforcement of the new law is inaugurated by the Texas Department of Agriculture. After that date, Texas will no longer be the only state in the union without legal protection for the egg industry, says John C. White, commissioner of agriculture.

The new egg law is essentially a grading and labeling act. Briefly, it requires all eggs sold within the state to be properly marked as to its grade—and the eggs must meet the specifications indicated on the carton or crate whenever inspectors from the department makes one of their frequent spot-checks at any level of trade. The end result of this new law will benefit all persons connected with the industry. The producer is given an incentive to market high quality eggs that bring a premium price. The better his eggs, the more his profit and his good quality product will not have to compete on the same levels with inferior eggs.

The housewife, too, will be relieved of the hit-or-miss methods of egg buying. No guesswork is involved when she picks her eggs at the market. The grade on the box is the grade of the egg inside and she still will have a wide choice of quality and price according to her cooking needs.

The entire egg industry can

Economist Predicts '58 Cattle Price Will Continue To Climb

Prices of cattle should rise some further in 1958, according to John McHaney, extension economist. However, he adds that prices after 1958 will depend to a great extent on the general level of business activity.

The inventory of cattle and calves on Jan. 1, 1957, showed a decrease in numbers for the first time since 1949, says McHaney. There was a further reduction in 1957 and on Jan. 1, 1958, numbers were probably down to about two million head from the 95.2 million head on Jan. 1, 1957. Less cows probably will be slaughtered in 1958, says the economist. Cattle producers did not withhold many cows from slaughter until the last part of 1957, but more are likely to be withheld in 1958.

However, this may not reverse the cattle cycle in 1958, because last year's reduction will mean a smaller 1958 calf crop. But it will reduce total cattle slaughter and total beef output in 1958.

Ranges and pastures over much of Texas have a good growth of winter grass and weeds. This feed, plus small grains, stubble fields, cured grass and ample hay reserves should carry stock through the winter in good condition, points out McHaney.

All range feed in the state was reported at 80 per cent condition on Jan. 1, 1958. This compares with 51 per cent on Jan. 1, 1957, and 69 per cent for the 10-year average to this date. The improved range conditions have created a good demand for range cattle which should continue in 1958 assuming favorable moisture conditions.

McHaney says that little change is likely in the total meat output in 1958. There probably will be a reduction in the slaughter of hogs.

Heavy carcass weights for cattle also will help maintain the output. Lower pork prices during the latter part of 1957 will certainly make pork more competitive with beef.

On Feb. 23, 1945, the American Flag was raised for the first time over the Japanese fortified island of Iwo Jima when members of the 28th Marines planted the Stars and Stripes on the highest point, Mt. Suribachi.

Loper Is Not Going Along With 'Sacky' Designing This Year

Many Brownfield women will be interested to know there is one prominent designer who does not intend to follow the present trend to the chemise or sack look, and that designer's line of dresses can be bought in Brownfield.

Don Loper of Beverly Hills, Calif., is of the opinion that the new style does nothing to enhance the beauty of the wearer. He says he designs clothes to make women look attractive and feminine and he wants his creations to be romantic wearable and timeless.

Designing for movie stars, socialites and the working girl, Loper's designs do have an attractive modern look without being sacky. Checking at Shelton's Ready To Wear, one can find the dress with pleated back waist, giving that back blouse effect without the resemblance of a bag. His versatile designs place

By CHARLIE MAPLE
NEWS Sports Editor

Congratulations to the Meadow cage teams for their repeat performance in winning the District 7-B crowns.

We hope to attend your game Monday night at Lamesa. Our only hope is that we do not put the hex on your playing, which has proven more than adequate without us this season.

We had planned to get around to see all the teams this winter, but schedules just seemed to cross us up. Maybe things will improve in the next few months and I can get a little better organized.

At any rate, here's a tip of the hat to two fine teams that we hope will represent Terry County all the way to the state championships.

LOST: Mrs. Doug Cox called this week to report she accidentally swapped mountain jackets with someone at Tuesday's athletic banquet. She said she would like to swap back for the right jacket. Call 2718 if you find you have the wrong one.

Speaking of the banquet Tuesday, we must say it was one fine affair. Congratulations to the Pep Club for staging what we would consider one of the top social affairs of the season. Decorations, program and meal all showed considerable planning had taken place.

Mrs. Todd and her girls did things up brown, giving BHS seniors something to remember for quite some time.

While we are on the subject, we feel we should take time now to commend the Pep Club and the cheer leaders for their work last fall and winter. There were some pretty miserable nights this year, but the cheer-leaders and club always were on hand to give the athletes backing.

It has been our experience that a crowd gives a team the added push needed to win a game. Though the individual player may not realize the crowd is in the stands when he is playing, he does know when that backing is absent and his play often reflects its absence.

The work of the Pep Club has been evident this school year. They have assured the

PERSONAL INCOME TO DECLINE

Cotton Mill Consumption Hits Lowest Ebb Since 1939, Notes PCG Executive

Disappearance of cotton in the United States in the 1957-58 marketing year is estimated at about 13.5 million bales, as compared with disappearance a year earlier of about 16.2 million bales, but is still slightly above the average for the marketing years from 1947-48 through 1956-57, according to George W. Pfeifferberger, executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Domestic mill consumption the first five months of this season was at the lowest level since 1939. The total for the marketing year probably will be around eight million bales. This would be about 600,000 smaller than consumption during the preceding season and smaller than in any other marketing year since 1948-49 pointed out, Pfeifferberger.

Stocks of gray goods have been high in relation to unfilled orders for several months. This indicates consumption will continue low for several months.

Some decline in personal disposable income per person during recent months also indicates consumption will continue relatively low, the publication states.

Exports of cotton during the current season are expected to be close to 5.5 million bales

Exports from Aug. 1 through November were 1.7 million running bales or about 84 per cent of those during the same period a year ago.

However the rate of exports which prevailed during the first four months of the season is not expected to continue during the entire season.

Sales of cotton by the Commodity Credit Corporation for export during the 1957-58 marketing year were 4.8 million bales as of Jan. 14. This cotton must be exported between Aug. 16, 1957 and July 31, 1958.

In addition, cotton which was exported between Aug. 1 and 16, 1957 from CCC sales for export during 1956-57 must be added to CCC sales for export in 1957-58. Although there are no official figures on the amount of cotton so exported, the New York Cotton Exchange estimates that about 185,000 bales were exported between Aug. 1 and 15.

Foreign spot market prices for foreign-grown cotton continued slightly above U.S. export prices in December. This situation has prevailed for several months.

CCC held about 4.7 million bales (owned and held as collateral against outstanding loans and excluding stocks sold for export and for unrestricted use) on Jan. 24.

This compares with post-world war II peak stocks of about 14.2 million bales on Jan. 30, 1956. CCC loans on the 1957

If this weather continues, we are afraid the early track season is going to be a miserably lullaby. It has been too cold and wet for much work to be accomplished.

The Cubs' first meet is slated for this Saturday at Fort Stockton. Unless it clears the boys almost will be attending the event without practice. Coach Cox's linksters still are under wraps as a result of the winter's miserable weather.

Tech's stadium expansion program has moved out into hinterlands and seems to be progressing very well.

The group plans to be here in the near future to give Brownfield fans a chance at the many choice seats left. Watch the NEWS for the date.

We were talking to school officials earlier this week and they tell us things don't look too good for constructing a bowl or semi-bowl type stadium here.

Though the offer of four Brownfield earth-moving contractors represents a tremendous boost in that direction, a tremendous outlay would be required for concrete, steel and labor.

Officials said they still have to remain within the $190,000 approved by voters this month. Anything in excess of that, will have to come from other sources. Architects said things do not look too promising under the present situation.

We would like to see the bowl or semi-bowl stadium come about. It would mean Brownfield would have a permanent structure that would require little or no maintenance for many years and barring catastrophe, would likely never need replacement.

Thinking out loud, we wonder if any other Brownfield and Terry residents would be interested in forming a drive to attain this goal — a permanent athletic plant.

This is not endorsed by the NEWS nor the school board thus far. It is only this columnist thinking out loud. It seems to us that it would be a tax-deductible gift just as surely as Tech's option seating program.

What do you think? We feel it would be a fine community project—something that would be a focal point of area activities. It would be a real tribute to the progressiveness of the city and its residence.

"Eighteen and Anxious" To Show Here

"Eighteen and Anxious," provocative and tense with its drama of today's young people, has been set to open today at the Rialto.

The new screen production is a keenly different approach to the situations facing youth and its story is both shocking and unusual.

Lovely young Mary Webster, who soared to stardom via her outstanding film roles in "The Delicate Delinquent" and "The Tin Star," portrays the role of the girl who, while not yet a woman, is already a mother. Co-starring with Miss Webster in this motion picture are William Campbell glamorous

Jackie Loughery, Ron Hagerthy, Martha Scott, Jim Backus and Jackie Coogan.

Executive producer of "Eighteen and Anxious" was Irving H. Levin. Edmond Chevie produced, with Joe Parker directing.

"Yields as high as 82.4 bushels an acre by TRF 9 under dryland cultivation at Renner encourage recommendation of the hybrid for North Central Texas as a corn-growing area," said Dr. C. L. Lundell, director of the foundation.

"Ample seed supplies for the 1958 planting season are available to the region's farmers."

The foundation recommends stands of 8,000 to 12,000 to the acre for the new hybrid, the number depending upon the available moisture, the fertility of the soil and the fertilizer treatment used.

"With adequate moisture and heavy fertilization, the heavier rates of planting should be used to obtain maximum yields," Dr. Lundell added.

He said the Foundation's 82.4-bushel yield of TRF 9 was obtained from a 12,000-plant stand, properly fertilized, under dryland cultivation at Renner.

"The Foundation's yield tests during 1956-57, inclusive, have shown TRF 9 to be well adapted throughout all corn-growing areas in Texas," continued Dr. Lundell. "The new hybrid has proved superior to the older hybrid TRF 3, which it replaces," he added.

Averages for the two hybrids from 11 tests conducted over a 6-year period show 41.9 bushels an acre for TRF 9 and 39.5 bushels for TRF 3.

"A comparison of yields obtained with six hybrids in 12 tests during the last three seasons showed TRF 9 first with an average of 32 bushels to the acre," said Dr. Lundell.

TRF 9 has met with widespread acceptance by Texas farmers since Texas Research Foundation released it in 1956 for commercial field production.

"The corn has a large, white grain which is superior for milling purposes," said Dr. Lundell. "Such white corn has always been in demand by the

George Nader Gives Flat 'No' To Hair Trim for His Role in 'Flood Tide' Epic

Hollywood's George Nader, who always wears his hair at normal length, rebelled against getting a crew-cut for his role as bachelor engineer in Universal-International's "Flood Tide" in which he stars with Cornell Borchers and 12-year-old Michel Ray.

The new CinemaScope drama arrives Tuesday at the Regal Theatre.

Producer Robert Arthur and the film's director, Abner Biberman, both felt that a crew-cut was essential for Nader's portrayal.

In refusing point-blank the actor said, "Crew-cuts represent a sort of regimentation. American men seem bent on fitting themselves into a pattern which makes them all look alike."

"Today, not only professional men, but almost everybody else including agency runners at the studios, are effecting a military look."

"When I want to wear a uniform, I'll join the armed services." Nader also pointed out that on mature men a crew-cut often looks silly. "I think this kind of hair-trim is all right for boys but not for older men."

Expanding his argument, the star insisted that his portrayal in "Flood Tide" might be rather unimpressive if he posed as a very thoughtful, experienced adult and yet sported an Ivy League noggin.

Highly dramatic sequences in the picture call for Nader to rescue a friend from the gallows, overcome the murderous hatred of a malignant little boy cripple, and calm the fears of a frightened widow.

Much of the colorful action was filmed on the Southern California seacoast.

What vision this living water would be to a desert wanderer! The nomad and the lonely prospector may dream of running water, but they depend on wells and canteens for their meagre day to day supply.

Most people dip their little store of joy in life from an evasive source and try desperately to store enough to last until the next oasis. What a vision a living eternal source of joy would be to them. Why, they would say, it's like being born again; like having a new life!

Christianity says that deciding to trust in God and trust in the day by day life He gives is like finding living water in the desert. And more, he who drinks from this water will never thirst again. Come to Him then who gives you life. Trust Him and live.

Is something wrong with your life — an inner restless dissatisfaction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure. Through the church God has committed the provision and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church relation no one is securely related to God. Everyone should be in the Church and the Church should be in everyone!

Author Recalls Admonition By Thomas Jefferson Warning America Against Supreme Court's Slow Usurpation of Power

EDITOR'S NOTE: John T. Flynn is a noted author, lecturer, and radio commentator.

By JOHN T. FLYNN
There is such a thing as prophecy — authentic prophecies — authentic prophets. The one I have in mind is no less an American philosopher than Thomas Jefferson.

He warned young America about many things. But here is one which is especially apt at the moment. He said, "It has long been my opinion, and I have never shrunk from its expression . . . that the germ of dissolution of our federal government is in the constitution of the federal judiciary."

He added that these judges worked like gravity itself, gaining a little today and a little more tomorrow, "advancing like a thief" to ultimately destroy the form of government set up in the Constitution.

Is Shocking Assault
An immense, indeed a shocking assault, on our great constitutional system has been carried on, as Jefferson prophesied would be the case, by the justices of the Supreme Court.

The history of the gradual subordination of the Court is indeed shocking. Justice Black, FDR's first appointment, was denounced at once as a Ku Klux Klanner. That assault seemed to embitter Black and to drive him into a morass of confused leftwing philosophy.

Only two years ago he said "the world could not do better than to follow the social and political ideas" of Dr. Albert Einstein — Dr. Einstein who had denounced communists in our government.

Was Second Appointment

Roosevelt's second appointment was Stanley Reed. The bent of his mind was revealed earlier in his statement that while a New Deal law might be unconstitutional, it didn't hurt anybody.

Perhaps the most dangerous justice is Felix Frankfurter. He has a tireless, brilliant mind, endlessly chasing new ideas. He has been denounced as a communist and as a conservative.

He is, in fact, a reckless thinker who, in addition to promoting his own free-wheeling ideas, has kept busy getting young men of his own stripe into high federal posts.

Reckless Idea Man
Justice Douglas might be classed as one of the Court's most reckless idea men. He visited Russia and came back to praise its cultural development. He is for world government, is willing to side with pro-communist Nehru who, for some curious reason of his own, Douglas classified as a bulwark against communism.

When the case of atom-spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg came before the Court, it was Douglas who voted to stay their execution.

These four justices were named by Roosevelt. After Roosevelt, came Truman and Eisenhower who have both named justices until the Court is now well packed. Warren, the Chief Justice, is difficult to describe. He is a politician and nothing else. He has had no judicial experience.

Is Torn To Shreds
He ran for Vice-President when Tom Dewey ran for President — and both were soundly defeated. Eisenhower's group of justices are not much different from the appointments made by Roosevelt or Truman.

The real mischief which has come out of this packed Court is that the Constitution of the United States has been torn to pieces. All those great limitations on the dangerous powers of government have been almost completely wiped out of the document.

As a result we see our Washington government exercising powers it has seized from the sovereign states, passing out money, policing fifty or sixty European and Asiatic countries with our armies all over the world.

Supposed To Protect
There is not one word in the Constitution which empowers the federal government to tax the people of this country to pay the bills for running other countries. All this spending is supposed to be to protect us from the Communist menace.

Yet the Supreme Court of the United States in the past few years has wiped out practically all our defense against the communist conspiracy here at home.

I bring this matter up now because there has just appeared in print a 24-page pamphlet which describes with terrifying clarity this story of the shocking and lawless usurpation of power by just nine men.

Called Shameful Story
All the invasions of power by the government have been made possible by the assault on our Constitution by the Supreme Court. This pamphlet describes with dramatic clarity the whole shameful story of this usurpation of power by the Supreme Court.

I would urge any American interested in his country to get a copy of this pamphlet. It is called NINE MEN AGAINST AMERICA — the story of the Supreme Court and its attack on your liberties — by Rosalie M. Gordon. It can be obtained by writing to America's Future, 542 Main Street, New Rochelle, N. Y. The price is $2.25 per copy.

Regional Play Set At Lubbock Friday
Pairings have been announced for the Conference 3A Region One basketball tournament to be held in the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum at Texas Tech Friday and Saturday.

Kermit of District 2 will meet Graham of District 4 at 7 p.m. Friday, followed by Hereford of District 1 against Snyder of

Expert Says Poultry Operations Should Be Analyzed Closely

Before a poultry producer chooses a pullet rearing program, he should analyze his operation and decide what best fits his needs, advises Bob Griffin, extension poultry husbandman.

The two systems being used to rear pullets are confinement rearing and range rearing, says Griffin. The trend for the past few years has been toward confinement rearing.

There are several reasons for this trend, says the husbandman. One is that less labor is required. If birds are in a confined area, it takes less labor to feed and water them, especially if mechanical equipment is used.

Another reason pointed out by Griffin is that less land is required in confinement rearing. One thousand pullets will require five acres of land if range reared, but by confining them, this land can be used for livestock or possibly raising field crops, such as grain for the birds.

Less trouble can be expected from parasites in confinement rearing, says the husbandman. External parasites can find many places to live and hide on a range. Wild birds can also bring parasites and diseases to the range bird easier than to a confined bird.

Of course, parasites can get into the poultry house but they are much easier to control in the house than on the range. Internal parasites such as roundworms are also easier to control in the house.

There also is less loss due to predatory animals when the pullets are kept in confinement, says Griffin. It is not uncommon in Texas for a wild animal to get into a flock and kill several birds, and this can be quite expensive when there is an investment of over $1 per bird.

But regardless of the system used, the producer must still watch his management closely, advises Griffin. The replacement cost is second only to feed in producing eggs and should be kept as economical as possible.

District 3 at 8:30 p.m. A third place game will be played at 2:30 p.m. Saturday preceding the finals at 4 p.m.

Also, Region One competition in Conference 1A and 2A will be conducted Saturday, but participants will be decided next week through bi-district play.

Taste Tests Urged By Milk Producers

Good quality milk tastes and smells good. These are the standards by which consumers judge milk and if the product they buy isn't pleasing on these points, a new source of supply is sought. It pays the dairyman to give his own milk a regular taste test, says A. M. Meekma, extension dairy specialist. Early detection of a bad flavor or odor, and prompt efforts to remove its cause, can save serious troubles that are almost sure to follow if off-flavored milk is marketed.

Meekma lists some of the undesirable tastes and how they may be prevented. An acid, sour taste is caused by bacterial growth. Faster cooling or improved sanitation is needed. A bitter taste may come from strong feeds or weeds or by conditions in the milk of cows late in the lactation period.

"Cow" flavors may result from poorly cleaned or poorly ventilated barns or a cow not feeling up to par. A cow breathing impure air will pass the odors along in her milk.

Milk not properly cooled or handled with improperly cleaned milking equipment may taste malty. A metallic flavor may occur if milk comes in contact with certain metals.

NEW STRESSES, HOWEVER, ARE ARISING CONSTANTLY

Many Conveniences Of 'Modern' Living — Particularly Of Good Health — Simply Did Not Exist Even a Short Time Ago

Progress in medicine and public health is difficult to measure.

As each succeeding generation grows it falls into its own pattern of development, forgetting all too easily that only a few years earlier many of the conveniences of "modern" living — particularly of good health — simply did not exist.

How many of us recall the scourges that swept over whole communities in the form of smallpox, malaria, typhoid, and other diseases of which we are only vaguely aware today?

In fact, the only information most of us have of these diseases is gained from reading of epidemics in foreign lands, of tasting the protective chlorine in our water, and of the small scar left by a long past vaccination.

Even today we modernists are witnessing the decline and fall of still another ominous disease foe — paralytic polio. Since the advent of Salk vaccine, the drop in incidence has been so dramatic that the odds are good that tomorrow's children will be as safe from paralytic polio as our children are from smallpox.

Our ability to control infectious disease has been attained in a period of history marked by wide and intensive scientific and technical progress, accompanied by profound social change.

New stresses have been created that lead, sometimes suddenly and at other times slowly, to disease and premature death unless there is someone to stand guard.

As an example, the chemical stresses to which we're exposed are legion and are mounting rapidly. Thousands of industrial plants discharge chemical wastes into rivers and streams that provide our drinking water. Many chemicals that have not been tested adequately for their effect on man are added to food in order to preserve, color and flavor it.

A recent Railroad Commission survey shows that well over five million barrels of salt water are produced each day in Texas oil drilling operations. Some of that amount finds its way into river systems and underground water supplies, alt-

Chief Chemist For Lubbock Crime Lab Open To Applicants

Interviews will begin immediately for the position of Chief Chemist of the state police crime laboratory for Region Five, announced Maj. R. A. Crowder, region commander, Texas Department of Public Safety.

Major Crowder pointed out that the man selected for this position will have the distinction of serving as the first chemist and crime lab operator on a region basis. Prior to the reorganization of the Department the only state crime lab was located at Austin.

"Applicants who have a degree in chemistry are eligible for this new position", said the Major.

The applicant selected will be assigned to the new Lubbock Region Headquarters. It was also pointed out that the man must be physically capable of working with enforcement agencies under all conditions.

The position offers retirement benefits with good pay and an annual two weeks paid vacation plus sick leave. Any applicant who meets the above qualifications should contact Major Crowder at DPS Headquarters in Lubbock.

"Vacancies still exist for Patrolman in Drivers License, Motor Vehicle Inspection, License & Weight and Highway Patrol Services. Persons interested in these positions may obtain an application form from any Sub Station Headquarters or they may secure additional information from a department employee" the Major said.
