BHS Fieldmen Edge Crane Saturday For Championship of Seminole Meet

Cub thinclads, led by Larry Meeks' high stepping and Johnnie Jones' work in field events, Saturday edged Crane for the championship of the third annual Seminole Invitation Track and Field Meet.

The win marked the first track championship won by a Brownfield team in some six years. The Cubs slipped past Crane, 21-19 1/2.

Meeks stepped the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.6 seconds to highlight a day that saw 12 records shattered. Only two marks stood up under the onslaught.

The mark, set by Meeks in preliminary trials, made him the second fastest high hurdler in the state this year, according to reports. He came back to register a 14.7 timing in the finals Saturday night. His feat blasted the old mark, 16.5, which was set in 1956.

Big Johnnie Mack Jones added Brownfield's other first place with a 6-foot leap in the high jump. He also flipped the iron ball 50 feet, 9 inches to claim second in the shot put, and hurled the discuss 128 feet, good for third in that event.

Meeks came close to claiming both hurdle championships, losing to Jerry Brown of McCamey by less than a yard in the low hurdle race. The Brownfield speedster led most of the way before breaking stride when he nudged the next-to-last barrier. His time for the event was 20.3 seconds—ninth behind the winner.

Other Cub runners' garnering points were Cecil Pendley, who registered a 53.7, good for third in the 440-yard dash, and Curtis Bryant, who took fourth in the 880-yard run with a 2.13 record.

Farm Bureau Begun In Depression Days

All day Saturday will be hours of the open house at new headquarters of Terry County Farm Bureau.

Address of the organization's new offices is 208 Tahoka Road.

Hosts for the event, heralding a forward step in the history and progress of the farm group here, will be officers and directors. Refreshments will be served.

Officers: Carl Hogue, president; R. D. Jones, Jr., vice president; Leon Foote, secretary-treasurer; Joe Ed Sullivan, service agent. Directors: Raleigh Luker, Winfred Tucker, G. I. Sims, Alton Loe, D. C. Flowers, R. E. (Bob) Smith, J. O. Farrar, Homer Causseaux and James Martin.

The building also houses the Terry County Farm Association (concerned with farm laborers), whose manager is Oliver Grote, and secretary, Mrs. Dorothy Hill.

TCFB office secretary is Mrs. John Hill.

Hogue explained Friday that "Our new building belongs not to the national, state or district people but solely to members of Terry County Farm Bureau."

"The members in Terry erected these new offices, and not one cent is owed to any higher level of the farm bureau organization. Therefore, we, your directors and officers, sincerely urge that all members and the public visit with us Saturday."

TCFB's official birth year is 1932, when farmers of Texas sent representatives to Washington to confer with Roosevelt concerning the depression.

The group was told by the president, "Go home and organize, and I then will be able to talk to you." This was Farm Bureau born.

Among the men who served as the first presidents in those early growing years were Wood E. Johnson, Bill Tilson, R. D. Jones Sr., and Homer Winston.

Membership increases In 1951, TCFB grew suddenly and an office was rented at 604 West Main, complete with secretary (Miss Eleanor Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Miller of 1301 East Cardwell) and service agent (Ernest Sears, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Sears of Gomez).

Other Presidents Named In 1952, the office was moved to 110 North Fifth, where it remained until the move last month to Tahoka Road. Kelton Miller succeeded Sears in 1952 and remained until last year, when Joe Sullivan succeeded him.

In 1951, the association was organized, and Virgil Burnett was hired to manage the bracer problems. Man currently filling that post is Grote.

Other presidents of TCFB have been J. T. (Jake) Fulford, Eulice Farrar, and Carl Hogue. One of the prime movers

LATEST NATIONAL STUDY SO REVEALS

Retail Spending in Terry Reached New High in Year Ended Last July

(Special to the NEWS)
NEW YORK—How much did residents of Terry County spend in the last fiscal year? Where did they spend it and for what?

The latest data on the local market, gathered as part of a national study by the Standard Rate & Data Service, shows that they spent more money in their retail stores in the year than at any previous time.

This retail volume reached a new high of $22,524,000 in the year ending July 1, 1957, exceeding the $21,849,000 recorded in the previous twelve months. The increase was 3.2 per cent.

That was a bigger improvement than was reported for the United States as a whole, where the rise was 2.4 per cent.

Offsetting to an extent this increase in business volume is the fact that living costs also reached a peak in the period. In general, however, the working population found that it gained more than it lost. Wages rose faster than the cost of living did. But the pattern was broken in the last quarter of 1957 when the slump set in.

A breakdown of the amount of retail business activity in Terry County by kinds of merchandise reveals that the sales totals in some of the leading types of stores were as follows:

Food stores, $4,713,000, equivalent to 21 percent of all retail business locally.

Automotive stores, comprising those selling cars, motorcycles, boats and automotive parts, $7,159,000. This was 32 per cent of the total.

General merchandise stores, including department

It's OK to feel a little depressed, but if you talk it long enough you will make yourself believe it. So why don't we try seeing the cheery side of things, talking to ourselves about how nice things are, and, who knows, we may even believe that side of the story.

S. W. White Tells Story Of Meadow Basketball

(Probably the most popular, and certainly the most faithful fans of Meadow school athletics are Mr. and Mrs. S. W. White. In the article which follows, White has recalled from memory much of the athletic history of basketball in MHS. The survey ends with the year 1946. White plans later to bring the article up to the current year.)

By S. W. WHITE
NEWS Correspondent

Mack Turner, a member of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal staff, came down to take pictures of the girls basketball team during the 1945 Meadow Invitational tournament.

He said he was writing a book on girls basketball and asked Mr. Still to give him a history of the Meadow teams from the time basketball in the school here began to the present time.

Mr. Still, who has been here only the last few years, referred him to me and I told him I guessed I had seen more games that Meadow girls had played than anyone else. I told him I didn't think I could remember enough of the games and who participated in them to give an interesting history, but that I would try.

So here it is.

We moved here in January 1921. The school consisted of a two-room frame building which long since has been torn down and converted into school bus sheds.

A Miss Copeland and Miss Ellington were the teachers. They still are in school work at this time. Miss Copeland, who now is Mrs. D. J. Harris, is teaching at Spur and Miss Ellington has been with the Lubbock school system many years.

The first basketball team in Meadow School included Fay Timmons, who later became Mrs. Allen Wingham and still lives near Meadow; Jimmie Watkins, now Mrs. J. D. Cook of Roswell, N.M.; Ione Nettles, now Mrs. Sebron Perry of Lakeview; Kate Duke, now Mrs. H. E. Webb of Levelland; Zella Smith, now Mrs. Bryan Wright of Seagraves; Edna Mitchell, now Mrs. Fred Hinson of Meadow; Grace Smith, now Mrs. John Abbie of Levelland; Joe Freda Duke, now Mrs. Earl Anthony of Brownfield; Beatrice Watkins, now Mrs. Slim Neth of Brownfield; Era Watkins, now Mrs. Vance Glover of Plains, and Aletta White, now Mrs. Lee Walker of Meadow.

Aletta now has four daughters to carry on basketball. They are Alma, Joyce, Freda and Lee Nell. Freda is forward on the present team. Lee Nell, now 8 years old, has her career in basketball yet to make.

Another outstanding basketball player that moved to Meadow about this time was

TEXAS NATURALIST'S EFFORT

Reader Is Compelled To More Intimate Terms With Nature in Bedichek Book

"Adventures With a Texas Naturalist," by Roy Bedichek, published by Doubleday & Company, New York, $2.75.

No other book I've read has brought me more quiet pleasure than this "Adventures With a Texas Naturalist." The author has made me a fellow traveler in his out-of-doors jaunts in and around Austin, where for years he has been director of the Bureau of Public School Service, which is part of the extension division of the University of Texas.

I am eager to see Edwards Plateau and the great rock house on the ranch in Bear Creek Valley, where Bedichek chose to settle for the purpose of writing his book.

I am delighted with his picturesque language as he describes the room in the century-old house. I find myself wishing that I too had a round solid oak table, big as this one, confounded in a gambling hide-out years ago where it socommodated an eight hand game of poker with a large student's lamp in the center, with bouso crowding gently toward it as it to keep warm on winter nights.

I'm anxious for spring now, for I want to get to know the birds in my locality better. I want to be on intimate terms with them as the author does with the inquisitive wren.

After reading the author's account of nature in the Davis Mountains, I find myself wanting to visit them. His informal style is most captivating and his odyssey of nature most enlightening. I feel I've just witnessed the death struggle of a frog as he is slowly swallowed by a snake.

It is a book that I am already reading to my friends.

The bread cooked during the meeting, cherry pie and coffee were served to Mmes. Denver

Report Shows That Texas' Major Game Continues To Grow

Major game species in the trans-Pecos area of Texas with the exception of antelope showed some population increase during 1957, according to figures released by E. A. Walker, director of Wildlife Restoration of the Game and Fish Commission.

Kills reported by hunters during the 1957 open season, however, were not as heavy as for some other years.

Biologists working in the trans-Pecos area made their determination from crane lines and from deer pellet group counts. It was found that the herds of deer in the trans-Pecos and elk in the Guadalupe Mountains both showed good increases.

The bighorn sheep in the Sierra Diablo area remained about the same as 1956 when 12 head were accounted for. There was no apparent increase in the antelope herds, as indicated by counts made from automobile and airplane. Collared Peccary showed not only an increase in population but an extension of range.

The black bear population level is very low and these animals are restricted to isolated and heavily wooded regions. They are seen only on occasion.

Scaled quail in the trans-Pecos area showed a 79 per cent increase over 1956 as reflected through census line checks.

"Ample early season moisture set the state for improved breeding conditions," the report says.

Drought conditions and improved land use were blamed for slight decreases in game numbers in some specific areas.

Pendley finished his event in a dead heat with McDowell of Denver City, but judges placed him third.

Despite poor weather the past two weeks, Coach Don Hendley's charges came through to claim their first track title in several years. Hendley said he is "extremely proud" of his boys. "Those who did not gain any points for us still represented the school well," he said. "They tried hard — that's all we ask."

Finishing behind Brownfield and Crane were McCamey, 16½ points; Monahans and Fort Stockton, 16; Kermit, 15½; Seminole 15; Pecos, 11; Lockney, 9; Andrews, 2; plains, 1½, and Wink, 0.

Most of Andrews' track power was competing in the Southwestern Recreation Meet in Fort Worth, accounting for the school's poor showing at Seminole.

REPORTS DR. A. W. YOUNG OF TECH

Weather-Bedeviled Farmer May Be In Better Shape Than Others

"High Plains cotton and maize farmers who are behind in their spring work because of bad weather may be better off in the end," says Dr. A. W. Young, Texas Tech agronomy department head. He points to moisture supplies that are far above normal, making desirable soil conditions that might not be improved by the usual tillage. "This is the first time in several years that soil bacteria have had moisture enough to work on the organic matter during the winter months," says Young. "Also, the freezing and thawing of the moist soil has improved its workability," he continues. "Of course, there are some soils on which this factor works to a better advantage to list the ground prior to planting this year, he said, that in his opinion, it will be a disadvantage unless the farmer plans to water the ground. Exposes Surface Listing exposes more land surface to the winds and, consequently, more water can be lost to evaporation, he added. "The amount of moisture in each piece of land is the final word on whether or not to water," says Young. "How the land lies and whether any moisture has been lost, to-ter crops, influence the storage level." He explains that there is no need to water if the soil already has enough moisture to decompose residues and release plant foods and the water-holding capacity of the soil is near its maximum. These factors were taken care of with October and subsequent rains, he noted. Watering prior to planting is the big question now, declared Young. Since sandy soils cannot store as large an amount of water as the heavier soils, his opinion is that to try to get more water in the sandy cotton land in the High Plains may be a question of economic waste. Says Chisel Soil His advice to the cotton and maize farmer in the sandy area is to work the land with chisels and bring some of the leached clay to the top if it begins to blow after a rain—also, to plow just deep enough to remix the sand and keep it from moving. "Some work may be necessary to level the ground for a proper seed bed," explained Dr. Young. "However extra work will only tend to tractor-pack the soil and dry it out." In the heavier loams, more work may be necessary for the proper preparation of the seed bed. He suggests that the disc-type implements will probably work to better advantage in these soils.

"In case of having to replant, as many did last spring, the flat planting leaves an area of soil moisture still undisturbed," points out, Dr. Young. "This enables the farmer to 'bust the ridges' in replanting and still have moisture to get the seed up." Every farm is a different problem, he believes, but to the farmer, land preparation that is both cheaper and better is certainly a step in the right direction.

Construction In Schooling Big Problem

By CHARLIE MAPLE NEWS Staff Writer (EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of four articles concerning a study of Terry's four school systems in conjunction with a state-wide investigation under the Hale-Aiken Committee of 24.) School construction, a problem that has dogged Terry's four school systems for years, will receive close scrutiny by the county's Hale-Aiken committee which is delving into ways to better the present education program. The state has given school boards the responsibility for determining the need, location, design and financing of school buildings. The steadily growing population here has increased the responsibility as trustees attempt to stay ahead of needs, while keeping an eye upon a possible downturn in growth. Terry's Hale-Aiken committee will study the present need for school facilities and attempt to predict what will be necessary in the future.

The group also will consider methods of better utilization of facilities to cut short spiraling construction. Possibilities suggested for study will include holding school on a year-around basis with staggered vacation periods; to extend the school day for additional use of facilities; use of specialized classrooms for other classes when vacant, and conversion of unused space for new classrooms. Texas Education Association estimates 4,257 additional classrooms will be built within the next four years. The figure still will be about 2,100 short of the predicted need by 1962, according to the association. This look into the future will be a major consideration for the Terry group. Terry educators agree a slow growth likely will continue here, keeping pace with the state's predicted population. The first impact of Terry's Korean War babies already are branches and jonquils. According to Mrs. Hissom, reporter, Maids and Matrons will support the sale of Fertilome in Brownfield with Joe Christian's Western Grain Company as distributor. Fertilome has an organic base that makes it ideal for both lawn and flowers, and has outlast all other fertilizers in Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth and Corpus Christi. Mmes. Fred Turner and Rhodes, hostesses, served refreshments to Mmes. Bell, Hissom, Joe Johnson, James King, Ernest Latham, Spear, H. B. Thompson.

Agriculture Commissioner Calls For New Up-To-Date Laws for Agriculture

Agriculture in Texas and the nation is going through an dramatic evolution, says John C. White, Texas agriculture commissioner. If the changes we are experiencing in farming and farm life were just a bit more physically violent—it could be properly called a "revolution." No previous era in agriculture has been such an emphatic shift in emphasis and techniques as we have since World War II. Old farm concepts have been outmoded by new and dynamic production and marketing. As a result, laws passed 20 and 30 years ago have, in some instances, not met the needs of this new period. This is particularly true in Texas. Some of our old laws are impractical. And even some of our legislation that is less than 2 years old already need amending. A goal of the Texas Department of Agriculture during the next legislative session will be to emphasize changes in the following fields: 1. Revision of the nursery law. 2. A marketing enabling act. 3. A new general warehouse law. 4. Dressed poultry inspection law. 5. Amending the recently-enacted egg law. 6. Amendments to the weights and measures law. A new nursery law is needed to set up some basis of standards and to control movement of inferior nursery stock into being felt here. Only two years ago, Brownfield constructed Colonial Heights School, believing it would be sufficient for several years. Already it has become necessary to add eight rooms to the new school as a stop-gap measure while studies are completed for the next construction program. A survey of the county's other three systems indicate no classroom shortage is apparent within the foreseeable future. Wellman reports a surplus of space at present. Shortage of educational facilities here and throughout Texas is attributed to the post-war boom and years of neglect during and after World War II. Since that time, educators note, schools have played "catch up" in their construction programs. In the words of a nationally-known news commentator, "The basic problem is money. Money builds schools, hires teachers and encourages bright college graduates to enter the profession. "Money alone is not enough. There must be citizen interest, citizen support, and careful planning, in addition to more adequate funds, in order to meet the challenge which faces the public schools of America."

IT'S THE LAW in Texas A public service forum of the State Bar of Texas The Tenth Amendment says that all powers not given to the United States government shall belong to the states or to the people. In any showdown, one court — the Supreme Court of the United States — says whether the federal or the state governments (or nobody) can do certain things. Hence the case of the sturdy Captain Gideon Olmstead, the first man who tested this court power. And what a time he had! In 1778 the British ship Active captured Captain Olmstead's fishing boat upon the open sea and took his three-man crew abroad to help sail a war cargo to New York. But Olmstead and his three men posed to take over the prize money for Olmstead. Finally when President Madison himself said the Court had the backing of the U. S. Government, the Pennsylvania legislature gave in. Poor Olmstead at 83 got his prize money, but he won a bigger case for the Supreme Court before the American people. As so often happens, a Supreme Court case involves justice for one man, in this case a humble fisherman. But the issue was national in scope.

Dr. J. U. Borum Jr. OPTOMETRIST 207 S. Fifth St. Phone 3172

vania had set up admiralty courts to decide claims arising at sea. The Philadelphia court gave Olmstead only one-fourth the prize.

So Olmstead appealed to the committee of the Continental Congress named to review all cases of capture at sea. It decided for Captain Olmstead. The Pennsylvania court at once denied the committee's right to upset its jury's verdict. Meanwhile, we had given up the Articles of Confederation and adopted the Constitution which lodged admiralty powers in the federal government. For 31 hard-fought years the case shuttled between state and federal courts. Everybody got into the act — the governor, the legislature, Congress, and even President Madison. In 1809 the U. S. Supreme Court upheld a lower court which had decided that the Committee of Congress was right. This was a victory for Olmstead. In this showdown Pennsylvania called out her troops. Rebellion spread. The U. S. Marshall swore in a 2,000-man posse to take over the prize money for Olmstead. Finally when President Madison himself said the Court had the backing of the U. S. Government, the Pennsylvania legislature gave in. Poor Olmstead at 83 got his prize money, but he won a bigger case for the Supreme Court before the American people. As so often happens, a Supreme Court case involves justice for one man, in this case a humble fisherman. But the issue was national in scope.

Plan Now to Attend Your TERRY COUNTY FARM BUREAU OPEN HOUSE Saturday-March 22 IN OUR NEW HOME ... 208 Tahoka Road

FIRST PRESIDENT — Judge Homer Winston, first president and one of the founding fathers of the Terry County Farm Bureau. Judge Winston was a man of keen foresight and unusual wisdom in that he could foresee the tremendous amount of good an organization such as TCFB could do for the farmers in this area. We were lucky to have such a man to head our group in its infancy.

Brief History of Terry County Farm Bureau

TCFB was born in 1932, when Texas farmers sent representatives to Washington to confer with Roosevelt concerning the depression. The president told the group, "Go home and organize." Thus was Farm Bureau born.

Wood E. Johnson, R. D. Jones Sr., Bill Tilson and Homer Winston were prime movers in the organization days, and served as presidents of TCFB in the early years.

In 1951, because of a sudden increase in membership, an office was opened at 604 West Main, with Miss Eleanor Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Miller of 1301 East Cardwell, as secretary, and Ernest Sears, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kely Sears of Gomez, as service agent.

Kelton Miller succeeded Sears in 1952, and Joe Sullivan succeeded Miller last year. Other presidents have been J. T. (Jake) Fulford, Eulice Farrar and Carl Hogue.

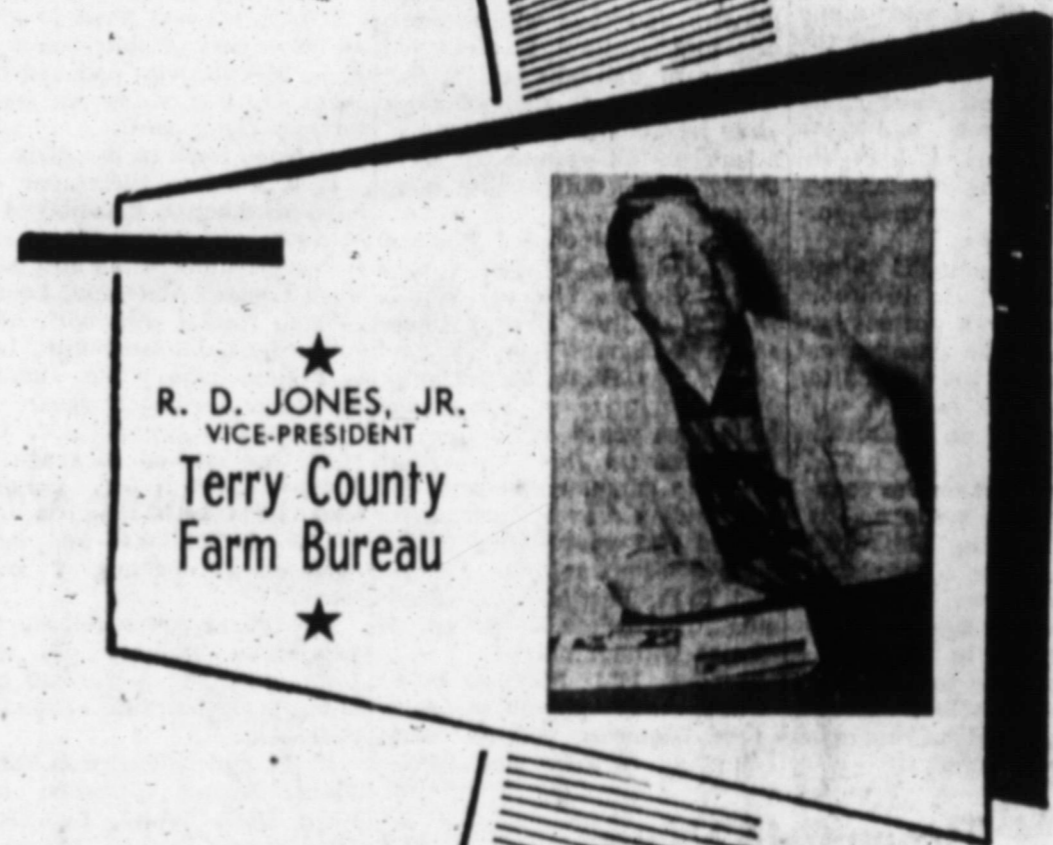

TCFB MANAGER — Joe Sullivan, office manager, insurance service agent, and general "get-it-done-man" is one of the prime reasons that TCFB is such a successful farm organization. Sullivan has been with TCFB one year and during that time has been very instrumental in the continued growth of the organization.

JUNIOR HIGH BAND WINNERS — First Division (superior) ratings were won by this sextet of junior high bandsmen at the Region Nunn and Larry Mertz. (NEWSfoto)

No. 7

Willie (Bill) Forges, who is Mrs. Robert Finley of Lubbock.

At that time there was no indoor courts for the teams. The games were not good for the players or the fans.

When players fell, they received bad skins from the rocks. About the time the game got under way, a West Texas sandstorm would blow up.

This, coupled with the crowd getting in front of you, many times you couldn't see how the games came out.

As the next few years came and went, Meadow had some very good teams. I don't remember anything outstanding, but I think they won their portion of the games.

The county continued to settle until the little two-room building could not accommodate the children. The trustees got busy and bonds were voted for a two-story brick building with eight rooms and an auditorium in 1923.

As time went on the county continued to settle up—as all good farming belts like this does — so a one-story brick house was built with the auditorium and gymnasium combined in 1930.

As the school grew and more girls were available, Meadow began to have some real good teams. For instance, there was the four Decker sisters, Bula, Lois, Mary and Jamie Ruth. Jamie was the best of the four. In fact I think she was outstanding in other games in addition to basketball.

Also, the four Donahoo sisters, Berta, Bessie, Bennie and Billie, were good. However, in my judgement, Berta was the best.

They all are married except Billie. Bessie married a Meadow boy that was on the boys team the same time she played ball. Our neighboring ball players and fans will remember him — Paul Castleberry, known to the fans as "Ack."

I will have to disres from girls basketball here long enough to tell you about Meadow's most outstanding boys team.

The lineup included Howard (Doc) Simpson, Clayton (Cow) White, Horace (Horse) White, Herbert (Little Herby) Ches-shif and Elmer Finley.

This was Elmer's first year on the senior team. The others had three years advantage on him, but in his basketball years to come, he became an outstanding player. In fact, he played two years with Coach John Wisdom at John Tarlton and, to the best of my recollection, they played 33 or 40 games without defeat.

That 1931 Meadow boys team really played wonderfully. Simpson was an outstanding forward and Clayton White, an outstanding guard.

They won every game with neighboring schools, including five invitational tournaments. They won the county tournament and went to the finals in district against a powerful team from Plainview, losing by only three points.

The thing I appreciated most about the Meadow boys that year was the sportsmanship trophies they won in the five invitational tournaments in which they played.

I think we will have to give at least part of that honor to L. L. Martin, who coached the team. He just would not stand for any rough stuff.

Now, back to the girls.

It is hard to remember off hand all the girls that played at Meadow all these 24 years. However, some of the best ones were Louise Anderson, Louise Nelson, Naomi Mitchell, Nina Ruth Short, Louise Smith, Letta Finley, Ceba White, Juanita Branch and Toma Forges.

About this time, H. C. Osborn was elected to teach in Meadow School. Mr. Osborn, who also coached the girls, was one of the calmest and most coolheaded coaches I ever knew.

You could never tell by his expression whether he was winning or losing. He had one of the best girls teams Meadow ever had.

In the main lineup was Marie Ward, Bennie Donahoo and Elsie Della White, forwards; and Mary Decker, Margaret Jones and Ruby O'Dill, at guard.

The only defeat they suffered that year was at the hands of our neighbors 6 miles north — and that was by a small score in each of the four games they played.

Ropes had a wonderful team. It took a bunch of professional girls to stop them at the national games.

Incidentally, Elsie Della is back in the old home town to teach after four years at Abilene Christian College. This is her third year. She coached a winning junior girls team last year and six of her players are on the senior team now.

Well, this brings us down to another outstanding team for Meadow. The team was coached by F. T. Bell, who was a splendid coach. Though not quite as calm as Mr. Osborn, he was gentle and kind. He was loved by all his players.

For two straight years his team won every conference game, including county and district, and went to the state meet. The team was eliminated in the semi-finals at Greenville the first year. The following year, the team was beaten in the finals at Waco by a bunch of girls from Gatesville that had played together four years.

The lineup these two years included Jamie Ruth Decker, Annie Johnson and Edna Duffee, forwards; and Lois Hollor, Bula Hester and Kathline (Kat) Garner, guards. Jamie and Kat were picked on several all tournament teams during these two years.

The next few years we just coached along with pretty fair teams winning about as many games as we lost.

Some of the players were Alma Walker, Nola Walker, Joyce Walker, Duane Bell, Margene Bell, Marie Stevenson Mary Copeland, Elwanda Wilborn, Ellie G w e n Nettles, Joyce Stevenson, Ima Upton, Edpa Hemmy and Dortha Zorne.

This brings us down to the present team of 1944-45. The lineup is Jean Finley, Pat and Freda Walker, forwards; and Doris Renfro, Jerry White, Norma Bingham and Juanez Jones, guards.

The second team is Jenice Bell, Bobbie Stevenson and Lois West, forwards; and Gertie Minter, Eloise Shook and Jane Jones, guards.

This team has played 21 games so far this season and lost only two. One loss was to Wilson by one point. They shouldn't have lost this game but you know ball players have their off days and this was Meadow's. They just couldn't get started.

The other game they lost was to the powerful Cooper team, which has two outstanding players. One is a 6-foot forward that is very hard to guard because of size and fleetness. The other is a guard of about equal size and ability.

Meadow girls first met Cooper in the Ropesville Invitational tournament. Meadow won the game, 40-28, in the semi-final game. Meadow beat New Home, 20-16, in the final game of the tournament.

Cooper beat Meadow by two points, 24-22, in the finals of the 1945 Meadow Invitational tournament.

Meadow already has won the county tournament this year and I think they have a good chance to win the district. You know I mean this is if they can get equal breaks.

I have enjoyed these games from year to year and have many friends among the Meadow girls as well as neighboring teams.

My motto always has been, "Win if you can do it with fair play and good sportsmanship." There are principles involved in sports. After players' school days are over, they should be the best of friends and neighbors.

Clarity of Egg Law Clarified For Public

The Texas Egg Law has been in effect since Feb. 17, and already the Texas Department of Agriculture is being flooded with questions concerning its various points, reports John C. White, TDA commissioner.

Greatest concern seems to be whether ungraded eggs can now be sold in the state. Ungraded eggs can still be sold, but they must be clearly marked "ungraded" on the package or carton.

Just because eggs have not been graded, it does not mean that the eggs are of poor quality. On the contrary, a display of ungraded eggs may contain a mixture of all egg grades. However, the eggs must be of edible quality or they cannot be offered for sale.

Another point causing some confusion is the fact that certain descriptive terms cannot be printed on egg cartons or used in advertising.

Any eggs below the quality of Grade A must not be labeled as "fresh, selected, henery, new laid, infertile, cage," or other words of similar import.

These terms are confusing and sometimes mislead the consumer on eggs of lower quality. Unless some bans were placed on descriptive phrases for eggs under grade A, then fancy phrases might be used to camouflage the true condition or quality of the product.

And finally, retail egg sellers do not have to renew their license from the Texas Department of Agriculture each year. The retailer's license is good indefinitely until it is recalled, canceled or revoked.

For other segments of the industry however, licenses run only from Sept. 1 through Aug. 31 of the following year. Those required to have a license include: dealers, wholesalers, processors and brokers.

FOR FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH GROUPS

Formosa Student at Texas Tech Details Family Life, Christianity in Far East

Miss Meiling Tsai, graduate student from Formosa attending Texas Tech, was guest speaker for Christian Youth Fellowship and Chi Rho Fellowship groups at a dinner meeting at First Christian Church Sunday evening.

Thirty young people were present. Tables were decorated in St. Patrick's Day theme, and serving the meal were Mmes. D. L. Pemberton, Joe Christian, R. L. McDonald and Johnnie Venable.

Miss Tsai also spoke at the morning session of the high school class and at the evening church service.

In this country and studying at Tech on a scholarship, her field is organic chemistry in which she is doing original research, working toward her master's degree. She plans to continue her studies at Purdue University next year, in preparation for a Ph. D. degree.

Miss Tsai stressed the emphasis placed on family life in Formosa. In spite of a certain relaxing of these ties, due to influence of the West, the children in the family are taught to show great respect to their elders.

In Formosa there is a great eagerness for education, she pointed out, and students spend more time in the classroom than they do in the United States. Examinations are given not only to enter college but for entrance to both junior and senior high schools.

Miss Tsai is a second generation Christian and the daughter of a minister. Christians number about five per cent of the population of Formosa, in comparison with more than 60 per cent in this country, yet this is a larger percentage than in most of the countries of Southeast Asia.

While here Miss Tsai was the house guest of Mary Joe and Genie Christian.

Special PTA Meeting Is Called for Today

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Gaasch showed a film, "Family Circles," with an open discussion following. Mrs. Ralph Kerley, president, had charge of the business meeting.

Mrs. J. E. Smith was elected to head the nominating committee with Mrs. Bill Neel and Kenneth Browning serving with her. Browning and Mmes. Kerley, O. D. Yeager Jr. and next year's officers, to be elected at the next meeting, were appointed delegates to attend the PTA spring conference in Littlefield, April 15.

Our advice to those who are making more money than they ever made before is: Save some of it — you may need it later.

"MY FAVORITE RECIPE" — Pictured is Mrs. E. E. Preston of 420 East Broadway as she prepares her favorite recipe, date nut pie. Her directions: Mix 1 cup of sugar, 1/3 cup of oleo and 2 egg yolks and cream until smooth then add 4 table-spoons of cream and 1 teaspoon vanilla and mix well. Add 1 cup of chopped dates and 1 cup chopped pecans. Fold in 2 stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into uncooked pie crust and bake in slow oven (325 degrees) for 45 to 60 minutes. According to Mrs. Preston, "My family loves date nut pie and it is so simple and quick to make, with the beaten egg whites giving it a crunchy topping." (NEWSphoto)

'Peyton Place' Exposes Manners And Morals of Small Town in New England

The manners and morals of a small New England town will be revealed in all their stark realism when Jerry Wald's emotion-charged drama, "Peyton Place," makes its screen debut Friday at the Rialto.

To bring this daring story to the screen for Twentieth Century-Fox, Wald selected a group of young, up-and-coming personalities.

They include Lana Turner, Hope Lange, Lee Phillips, Lloyd Nolan, Diane Varsi, Arthur Kennedy, Russ Tamblyn, Terr Moore, David Nelson and Barry Coe.

nine-nine chisel and rotary cutter."

In "Peyton Place" the history of two young women and their attendant problems are scrutinized carefully. These women, played by Hope Lange, as Selena, who starred in "Bus Stop," and Diane Varsi, making her film bow as Allison, are drawn together emotionally in a community in which, by circumstances, they are set at the two extremes of the economic scale.

Selena comes from Shacktown, and Allison, from fashionable Elm Street.

"Peyton Place" marks a turning point in the career of Miss Turner, who plays her first role as the mother of a teenage daughter. It was also Jerry Wald several years ago who persuaded Joan Crawford to play her first mother role in "Mildred Pierce."

The supporting cast is headed by Betty Field, Mildred Dunnock, Leon Ames, Lorne Greene, Robert H. Harris, Tami Conner, Stats Cotsworth, Peg Hillias and Erin O'Brien-Moore.

You can tell by the questions some people ask about what they know about the matter being discussed.

AT RIALTO ON FRIDAY — Lana Turner rebuffs the advances of Lee Phillips in one of the many dramatic moments of Jerry Wald's "Peyton Place," coming Friday to the Rialto, The Twentieth Century-Fox CinemaScope drama, in De Luxe Color, was directed by Mark Robson.

'ANGELS' Engineers Studying Mysterious Objects

University of Texas engineers at the Electrical Engineering Research Laboratory are trying to discover the truth about "angels."

To EERL engineers, an "angel" is any unidentified radar signal. What they discover may explain the mysterious objects and "flying saucer" reports which periodically excite citizens, said Dr. Archie W. Straiton, EERL director.

The "angels" research team is gaining new data on these strange occurrences by measuring returns with ultra short radars employing millimeter wavelength radiations created by EERL engineers.

Within a few seconds after one of the newly-developed radars is pointed at the sky, an unidentified target is picked up, Dr. Straiton said. "These returns last for a few seconds, without much movement, and then disappear."

Just what causes "angels" or phantom signals on the radar screen?

Charles W. Tolbert, EERL engineer supervising the project, said two possible explanations are given.

First, the unidentified radar signals may come from birds or insects, blown grass or spider webs circulating in the atmosphere up to about 3,000 feet.

Second, the phantom signals may come from "atmospheric turbulence, in air layers producing very sharp changes in temperature and moisture content."

"On the basis of tests conducted up to now, the best possible explanation for 'angel' returns is that isolated drops of water which sometimes form in the atmosphere serve as targets for a brief time and then disappear by evaporating," explained Tolbert.

Books More Effective Weapons Than Missiles, H-Bombs, Reports Chairman

"Books and reading well may be one of our most effective weapons in our protracted and bitter war against the ism of evil — stronger than guided missiles, sturdier than hydrogen bombs," says Jack Valenti, in urging Texans to observe National Library Week, March 16-22, which he is serving as state chairman.

This first National Library Week, sponsored by the American Library Association and the non-profit National Book Committee, is a citizen's campaign to help re-establish reading in the daily life of every American and to focus attention on the services of libraries. The theme of the nationwide effort is "Wake Up and Read!"

The alarming report that 60 per cent of United States adults do not read one book a year, other than from the Bible, and that half of the country's adults live within a mile of a public library, but only one-fifth of them visit it, prompted the organizing of the reading drive.

The House and Senate passed concurrent resolutions favoring the week, and state governors, including Texas, have issued proclamations setting the date.

In addition to endorsement by such national organizations as the National Education Association, Junior Chamber of Commerce, and General Federation of Women's Clubs, state citizen committees have been appointed.

The Texas Citizens' Committee, with Valenti as chairman, includes Stanley Marcus of Dallas; J. Frank Dobie of Austin; J. F. Albright of Dallas; Mrs. Edith Dean of Fort Worth; Mrs. E. N. Dendard of Waco; J. W. Edgar of Austin; Mrs. A. J. House of Yoakum; Mrs. D. L. Hudson of Bryan; Mrs. John Leddy Jones of Dallas; R. W. Pettway of Austin; Mrs. H. N. Phillips of Midland; Dr. M. E. Sadler of Fort Worth; W. E. Snelson of Grand Prairie.

James D. Meeks, Dallas Public Library director, is heading the Texas Librarians Committee.

County and local chairmen have been appointed in many parts of the state. Loyd L. Turner, Tarrant County chairman, in organizing the citizen effort in Greater Fort Worth, has said, "More reading is vital for an informed public in today's complex world. Surely the library should rank behind the home, the church, and the school, as one of our greatest institutions."

Tech Signs 12 to Letters

On the first day out, Texas Tech signed 12 athletes to Southwest Conference letters of intent Saturday including last year's state mile champion Bobby Cunningham of Littlefield.

Cunningham, it was learned last week, is ineligible to run track this, his senior, year because of scholastic difficulties and was eligible to sign a letter.

All-state tackle Jerry Ferguson of Sundown, Larry Mullins, Snyder tackle; Jimmy Evans, Big Spring quarterback; Wallace Lee, Littlefield tackle; Ted Radcliff and Kenneth Sherill, Graham tackle and guard, respectively; J. W. Witt and Kenneth Robinson, Amarillo tackle; Charles Rice, Amarillo end and linebacker; Kenny Kendrick, Amarillo fullback, and David McKinney, Arlington State Junior College transfer guard were inked to pacts, Athletic Director and Head Football Coach DeWitt Weaver said.

Evans, captain of the football and basketball teams, also was president of his senior class at Big Spring High.

Cunningham, in addition to being a top miler, was Littlefield's starting fullback last season.

Lee was an All-South Plains football election by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal the past two years along with Ferguson, while Mullins was considered the "most improved" player for the Snyder Tigers last fall.

'Who's Who' Ranks 159 Texas University Grads

The University of Texas is the only southern or southwestern educational institution in the nation's "top 25" whose male graduates from 1920-1949 are listed in the 1956-57 "Who's Who in America." It ranks 21st with 159 listings of first degrees only.

An American Association for the Advancement of Science survey shows Harvard, Yale and Princeton, in that order, leading the "top 25" which is dominated by eastern and northern institutions.

No new expenditures are proposed by the resolutions. They simply suggest the more rapid spending of money that is going to be spent anyway.

The reasoning back of these resolutions is not hard to follow. Funds already appropriated by Congress for civil works and military construction projects are being spent at the present time on the basis of a normal economy.

But the economy is not normal. Between five and six million America men and women let contracts, and to set the wheels spinning. With the cost of living at record highs, there are not many of our people who can afford to be separated from a payroll for weeks or months. Resources melt far too quickly at the prices we must pay today for everything we buy.

So we cannot afford to waste time needlessly. I am confident that Congress will do whatever is necessary to tide our people over the hump. But we can't consider that the problem is behind us until our people are employed at productive jobs.

The only action we can take that will put people to work quickly is to speed up the projects which we have passed upon already and for which we have appropriated the funds.

That would be the effect of my two resolutions. This is not depression talk. I do not say the country is in a depression, or headed for one. But it is a fact that our unemployed people are in a situation that is most urgent are without jobs. There is nothing normal in America about a situation in which we are losing the productive capacity of this many men and women.

Programs are under consideration which will create jobs. But a program does not become a payroll immediately upon its enactment by Congress. It takes time to plan programs, to set up administrative machinery, to so far as they are concerned. The unemployment picture is spotted. In some communities there is virtually no unemployment. In others the unemployment rolls are heavy and growing.

Men and women who are out of work want jobs. They are not looking for charity. They do not want handouts. They want productive jobs. It is the interest of all of us that they have them.

A sextet of lasses, headed by Pat Runnels and Linda Bost, swept through four matches to win the girls' volleyball championship at BHS last week, according to Mrs. Bill Todd, girls physical education teacher.

The Runnels-Bost team won the title by edging Nancy Moses' team, 11-15, 15-9, 15-3. Pat Howell's sextet squeezed by the Bookworms, 15-8 and 16-14, to win third place in the championship bracket.

Biologist Says That Redfish Decline Not Serious In Texas

Complaints that redfish in Texas coastal waters are dying out has prompted an investigation by Terrance Leary, biologist with the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

His findings, reported in "Redfish Are Vanishing?" to appear in the March issue of TEXAS GAME AND FISH should reassure fishermen.

Commercial catch statistics show the redfish holding its own each year with the other fish caught by commercial fishermen. Although the catch of sportsmen is not recorded, it is thought to be two or three times the commercial take.

Leary traces the decline of redfish catches in some years to hard freezes in 1940, 1947, 1949, and 1951 which killed tremendous numbers of fish; limitations on length or size of commercial nets; and off-limits areas declared against netting in many bays.

"Man hours spent in reaping the harvest varies also with weather conditions and the market price of the catch,"

Ralph Yarborough's Washington Newsletter

With our state and nation facing the most critical unemployment problem since World War II, and thousands of small businesses in bankruptcy, I have filed a bill to cut personal income taxes by $5.2 billion. Our economists tell us that one of the quickest and best ways of ending this recession is to cut taxes as a way to boost purchasing power, build consumer demand and put men back to work.

The bulk of the tax cut I am urging would go to families who are hardest pressed to buy food and clothes.

For example, under my bill to raise the exemption from $600 to $800 per person per year in figuring income taxes, adds Leary. The biologist closes with pointers to the sport fisherman after redfish: avoid the boats, wade into the water, and do some long, hard casting. This extra effort gives slow results and not as easy as fishing from a boat, but it pays off in good redfish catches.
