FOR DRIVE-IN AND BASEMENT

State Bank Reveals Construction Plans

Construction and plans for more construction still dominate the Brownfield business scene.

In a meeting this week, directors of Brownfield State Bank & Trust Company authorized enlargement of the firm's drive-in facilities.

Said Pres. J. O. Gillham: "It is contemplated that this new expansion will involve some $75,000, and we expect to have the most complete drive-in banking facilities anywhere."

George E. Christenson, Architect of Dallas, has been employed to begin preparation of the plans.

Basement Planned

"It also is planned," said Gillham, "that a full basement beneath property immediately west of the bank will be constructed, giving us much needed space for some of our crowded departments and some storage space."

Directors said that ample parking room is being established by the bank on property just south of the building. Work on the parking area is to begin immediately.

Construction of the drive-in addition will begin as soon as plans are completed.

REQUIREMENTS ARE LISTED

Mail Box Improvement Week Under Way

Mail Box Improvement Week is being observed here as it is throughout the nation, says Brownfield Postmaster Wm. C. Brown.

"During the week," said the postmaster, "we encourage our patrons to inspect their mail boxes to determine whether they meet postal requirements."

"Rural boxes especially need a close inspection and correction of any deficiencies," Brown explained.

He said that requirements include the following:

1. Name legibly printed on box.

2. Sturdily mounted at proper height—about 1½ feet above ground.

3. Sufficient weather protection for mail.

4. A flag.

Brown added that postal officials will inspect some 37,000 rural routes this month, and consult with patrons whose mail boxes does not meet minimum requirements.

NEW GRANDSON

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Lee of Route 2 have a new grandson, William Robert Morman. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Morman of Lubbock, he was born May 16 weighing 7 pounds 10 ounces.

IT WAS A PLEASURE.

It has been a great pleasure to have worked in and about Brownfield during the past six weeks. The work has brought us into close contact with many of the people of the community and we have enjoyed it greatly.

To the candidates who participated in the campaign and to Curtis Sterling, publisher, and the personnel of the Brownfield News, we extend our sincere thanks for their splendid cooperation and loyalty. It is cooperation of this kind that makes working a pleasure and a difficult task easy.

The public also cooperated very nicely with the candidates and us. Through this cooperation the campaign has been a huge success and has added many hundreds to the subscription list of the Brownfield paper.

We are sorry we did not have the pleasure of becoming personally acquainted with more of the people of Brownfield and community. We wish to extend to one and all who have cooperated with us in this campaign, or in any other way helped to make our stay in Brownfield pleasurable, a sincere "Thank You."

Gladycy and Glenn Edwards
Esther Becker
Lloyd Becker

Cotton Is Hit Hard By Pests

"Thrips are sucking the young plants to death." Thus did County Agent Jim Foy comment Wednesday, after inspecting numerous cotton fields in the area.

Foy also reported that infestations of aphids and flying grasshoppers were found.

He said the presence of the thrips posed a peculiar problem at this time: whether to poison them and risk powdering the ground around young plants so that it might blow, or to leave them alone for a while.

"The situation is one which the individual farmer must solve," said the agent.

Poison bait for the grasshoppers was advised against by Foy, who suggested that farmers use instructions in the official Texas A&M guide book.

He offered the following advice for fighting the 'oppers: Dieldrin, two-thirds to one and two-thirds of a pint per acre, for machine application; one to two pints of aldrin, one to two pints of heptachlor, or six pounds of toxaphene per gallon — all machine applications.

Foy advised using the above amount plus half that much again if the farmer used airplane applications.

He said the grasshoppers were prevalent mostly around turn-rows and in pastures, but they would move to the fields once the weeds and grasses started dying.

The same poisons were suggested for thrips, plus DDT.

As the supreme governing body of the church, the General Assembly will act on all details of bringing together the two denominations and planning the future program of the new united church with its more than 3 million members.

The Rev. Mr. O'Dell will leave here Sunday and will return to Brownfield on June 12.

Chemical Treating Of Seed Considered As Good Insurance

Planting high quality seed which have been treated to protect them from soil-borne diseases is one of the best steps a farmer can take for getting his crop off to a good start, advises Lee Coffey, extension agronomist.

Farmers do not have to wait until the last minute to treat the seed, he points out. Storage is no problem as long as the seed is stored under dry conditions and recommended dosages are used.

In fact, early treating is sometimes advisable because it helps avoid the last minute rush and gives the chemical extra time to work, he adds.

Farmers will have several approved chemicals to choose from when treating seed this year, says Coffey. The effectiveness of these chemicals is essentially the same and each will do the job if they are used according to instructions.

Special care must be taken when treating legume seed so the chemical will not kill the inoculant, cautions Coffey. Chemical treatment should be done at least two weeks before planting and then the seed should be planted as soon as possible after inoculation.

It is especially important to treat seed which is to be planted early, he says. Treating helps protect the seed and seedling from seed- and soil-borne diseases that may attack when soil conditions are not favorable for immediate germination.

A "FIRST" HERE—Pictured above are four John Deere "95" self-propelled combines, just before they were driven Tuesday to Lubbock, where special transports are to be built to take them north for the huge wheat harvest. The quartet of huge machines was handed over Tuesday to W. R. Butcher of Route 1, by Charles Kersh of Kersh Implement Company. John Deere officials in Moline, Ill., say that Butcher is the first man in the United States to take delivery of four machines at one time. He will be in north Texas soon to follow the wheat harvest north into Canada. The "95" is John Deere's largest combine, and is described actually as being the largest ever built

National Cotton Council Powerful Force Behind Any Success Of American Cotton Sales on Domestic and Foreign Markets

For more than 140 years after cotton was introduced in the United States, this king of fibers dominated textile markets without a serious threat. The king, however, was jolted rudely out of his apathy in the late 1930's.

Suddenly he found new and powerful challengers — synthetic fibers comparable to cotton in price and quality — substitutes of paper, plastics, glass and other materials, and finally, cheaply produced cottons from other lands.

By 1938 cotton was selling at less than a dime a pound, and there was a huge surplus in warehouses. In the first four months of the crop year, exports had declined a million bales over the same period the year before. In 10 years, production of rayon had quadrupled.

Such crises often breed great leaders, and for cotton it was Oscar Johnston, a farmer-statesman from Scott, Miss., then president of the world's largest cotton plantation.

Government efforts to remedy cotton's situation, he said, had been aimed at control of the supply of cotton — applied at the source in order to bring production in line with a constantly dwindling demand. The real need — rather than decreased supply — was increased demand.

If cotton consumption could be increased, he explained, the need for production control would decrease. Furthermore, if the cotton industry wanted to achieve this, it would have to do the job itself. All branches, while they might differ on many matters, could agree on the need for increasing consumption of cotton and its products.

In a historic address to representatives from all the cotton-producing states and all segments of the industry, Johnston, in November 1938, warned that cotton must keep pace with its competition or die.

They heeded his plea and formed the National Cotton Council of America. Producers, ginners, warehousemen, merchants, cottonseed crushers and — a few years later — spinners united in support of a single goal: increasing consumption of U.S. cotton, cottonseed and their products.

Initially, farmers paid 10 cents a bale to finance this program and the dime was collected at the gin. Other interests contributed proportionately. In August 1937, the Council — carrying out the unanimous recommendation of its delegate membership — practically doubled its program. Farmers now pay 20 cents a bale; oil mills pay 7½ cents for each ton of seed crushed; cotton manufacturers, 10 cents a bale; merchants, 3 cents a bale; and warehousemen, 1 cent per bale.

The Council's delegate membership approves its policies and programs. These are executed by a paid staff with headquarters in Memphis. Two divisions of the staff are concerned with research and two with promotion.

Research and its application to attain higher quality and lower costs in producing, processing and marketing raw cotton — from seed breeding to the cotton mill — are embodied in the program of the council's production and marketing division.

Market studies, development of new products and improving efficiency and quality in fiber and textile processing from mill to consumer are within the province of the utilization research division. Sales promotion at home and abroad is carried out by the sales promotion and foreign trade divisions of the Council.

This effort contributed a great deal to Pima S-1, an extra long staple now being produced commercially by growers in Arizona, West Texas and New Mexico, and fully competitive with the fine cottons of Egypt.

Cotton can be improved also through manufacturing processes. It's in this area that much of the activity of the council's utilization research division is centered.

Several years ago, for example, a study of the council's market research section pointed up the huge potential for expanding cotton consumption through development of fabrics with "minimum care" characteristics.

Opportunities were stressed in conferences; contracts with converters, finishers, and laboratories; publicity in trade and general publications; and other educational activities.

This stimulated research leading to development of wash-and-wear, no-iron cotton fabrics — materials with permanent pleats and other desirable qualities.

Chemical finishing now is being applied to almost two billion yards of cotton fabrics

Let's Talk Livestock!

By TED GOULDY

FORT WORTH — Cattle and calves were slow and about steady here Monday. Salesmen were asking higher prices following last week's declines, however, the buying side held firmly to the recently established lower schedule of values.

Good to choice slaughter yearlings and steers cashed at $24 to $27, and medium and lower grades cashed at $16 to $23. Fat cows sold from $17 to $19.50, with a few fancy young cows to $20 and $21 and above when maintaining heiferish characteristics. Canners and cutters sold from $12 to $17.50. Bulls drew $18 to $22.

Good and choice slaughter calves sold from $23 to $27.50, with heavies around 600 pounds and up at $26 down. Common and medium offerings sold from $17 to $23, and culls sold from $14 to $17.

Medium and good, stocker steer calves sold from $24 to $30, and medium and good stocker steer yearlings sold from $22 to $27, with some choice thin lightweight yearlings to $28 and $28.50. Plainer stockers ranged around $20 to $24.

OLD CROP LAMBS STRONG, SPRING LAMBS STEADY

Sheep and lambs were steady with last week's close at Fort Worth Monday. Good and choice spring lambs sold mainly at $21 to $22, a few topping at $22.50. Less than choice spring lambs, while held in line with the lowered range established late last week, were still finding the better outlet to packers. Old crop yearling

Meadow Youth To Attend Boys State IN AUSTIN

Donnie Hester will represent the Meadow school systems at Boys State, June 8-14, in Austin.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hester of Meadow.

Boys State is an annual event, sponsored by The American Legion, and is designed to acquaint participants with the workings of the state government.

Recreation and other activities are scheduled for the group. Meadow's representative last year was Perry Lockett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lockett.

ENTERING ARMY—Robert Alton Patrick, son of Mrs. D. S. Neal of North 14, left Tuesday morning from Amarillo for Fort Carson, Colo., where he will receive his basic Army training.

lams cashed at strong prices, and sheep were steady.

Good and choice slaughter spring lambs sold from $21 to $22.50 and cull to medium springers sold from $15 to $20. Stocker and feeder lambs sold from $18 to $20.

Good and choice yearling lambs sold from $17 to $18.50, and cull to medium old crop lambs sold from $15 to $16.50. Feeder yearling wethers sold at $16.50 down. Yearlings ewes sold from $19.50 down.

Aged wethers drew $12 to $13.50, and two-year-olds reached $15. Old ewes drew $7 to $8.

HOGS OPEN STEADY TO 25 c HIGHER, SOWS STEADY

Hogs were steady to 25 cents higher at Fort Worth Monday than the close last week. Choice butcher hogs sold at $22 to $22.50, and medium to good hogs for $19 to $21.50. Sows cashed at $17.50 to $20. Stags drew $11 to $12.

HEREFORDS SELL JUNE 19; ANGUS SELL ON JUNE 20

The stocker and feeder cattle sales at Fort Worth this season will all be two-day affairs.

This arrangement was worked out with the convenience of the buyers who must travel a distance in mind, since it will enable them to see good commercial Southwestern Herefords on Thursdays and good commercial Angus stockers and feeders on Fridays.

Thus the travel expense will be virtually halved for buyers who attend these affairs.

The consignors will also find that the additional time will enable the salesmen to work the cattle out in more leisurely fashion and thus enable the commission firms themselves to contact their customers concerning filling orders for these cattle. This should strengthen the selling side considerably, since often a phone call is all that is needed to make the cattle bring that extra 50c or $1 per hundred.

The first of these sales takes place Thursday, June 19th, and will feature the whitefaces. The second sale will be Friday, June 20th.

molasses and salt together to the feeds.

Farmers often utilize unpalatable feeds by blending them into mixtures containing a sufficient portion of some very palatable feeds to bring about the required consumption on the part of the animals.

In a recent meeting concerned with livestock feeding, the author, with the help and judgement of nearly 100 young farmers, set up a list of concentrates and roughages rating them as: very palatable, fairly palatable, and less palatable.

These concentrates were considered very palatable: corn oats, hominy feed, beet pulp, molasses, wheat bran, soybean oil meal, linseed meal, peanut meal, dried skim milk, and dried whey.

Listed as fairly palatable were: barley, wheat, grain sorghum, cottonseed meal, corn distillers' dried grains, corn gluten meal, corn gluten feed, wheat middlings, meat scraps and tankage.

Considered less palatable feeds were: rye, buckwheat, raw soybeans, malt sprouts, dried brewers' grains, and wheat screenings.

Roughages considered very palatable were: ladino clover, corn silage, peavine silage, alfalfa, red clover, timothy, sudan grass, sweet sorghum, bromegrass, alsike clover, trefoil, lespedeza, and most root crops.

The fairly palatable roughages included: potatoes, corn

In event of rain, camp activities will be moved to the Legion Hall. In case there should be tornado warnings, the group will be moved to the basement of the courthouse for protection.

Tuesday is set for a "get acquainted" meeting and all girls are to bring a nose bag lunch, two wash cloths and a tin can. They will be dismissed at 6:30 p. m.

The meetings are set for 9:30 a. m. for Wednesday through Saturday in the Little League Park, with dismissal at 2:30

Meadow Exercises Set

Meadow grade school honor students were announced Monday by Principal Joe Burleson.

Valedictorian is Gloria Copeland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Copeland, and salutatorian, Judy Tongate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tongate.

The duo will deliver addresses during commencement exercises for the grade school pupils at 5 p. m., today in the auditorium.

Principal address will be presented by Mrs. Joe Burfodder or stover, orchard grass, bluegrass, soybean hay, most grass silages, oat straw, Bermuda grass, oat silage or hay and kudzu.

Listed as less palatable in this survey were: sweet clover, canary grass, quack grass, Johnson grass, meadow fescue, rye hay or silage and buckwheat.

For purposes of the survey, it was assumed that all the feeds be representative of their class in quality. For instance not one kind of hay cut at a favorable stage of growth and properly cured and stored, while another hay might be cut later and cured differently.

Further, it was agreed that where animals had been accustomed to eating certain feeds from a very early age the ballots might be cast differently.

Palatability problems are the subject of considerable research now in progress and the future may find the farmer equipped to increase or decrease feed palatability and consumption to fit the maximum efficiency requirements for all ages and classes of livestock.

Indeed, salt is already used by many farmers and stockmen both to increase consumption of some rather unpalatable mineral supplements and medicines and to limit the consumption of protein supplement.

Length of a cotton fiber ranges from 1,000 to 4,000 times that of its width.

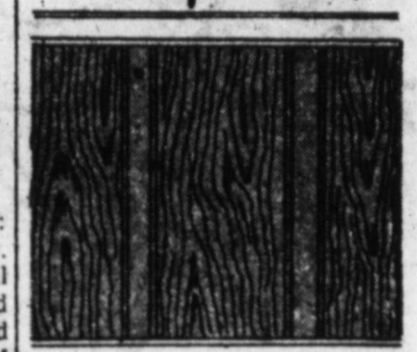

The Incas in Peru spun and wove cotton more than a thousand years ago.

Cotton is produced in some 48 countries.

The Reds then fumbled and the Whites recovered. Hinson gained good yardage. The Red defense held, however Delbert Hadaway punted for the Whites. Reds then took the ball on their own nine yard line. Clark throws a pass to Kenneth Willis for 26 yards. The Red defense was looking better when they were stopped by half-time.

During second-half the Whites offense looked better with Hinson and Oswald leading in moving the ball, pressing the Reds goal but meeting a strong defense.

Oswald finally scored a touchdown on a bottleg run. Since the new rule on extra point attempt, Hinson took the ball over for two extra points.

After the kickoff the Reds held near their own goal. Cioe was forced to punt, the Whites fumble and Ken Kendrick recovers for the Reds. The Whites hold, taking over the ball on downs, only to lose it.

A pass by Clark is intercepted by Oswald. Junior Knox carries nine yards in two runs to gain the 45 yard line only to loose on a fumble. Willis makes a 30 yard run deep into White territory.

After trying many passes Clark makes a 20 yard pass to Cioe and on the next play Clark throws to "Rabbit" Wright for the touchdown. Extra point try failed leaving the score 8-6 in favor of the Reds.

The Reds attempted an on-side kickoff and Charles Lee and Willis vied for the ball with Lee taking possession just as the whistle sounded.

Coach Cox said, "It was a fair game but there are many details to be ironed out."

"FAVORITE RECIPE" — Pictured is Mrs. M. V. Walker of 1306 East Reppito as she prepares to bake her favorite recipe, chicken loaf. Her directions are: Cook one hen until tender, then cut into small pieces. Take a small loaf of bread and pinch into small bits. Moisten with chicken broth and add salt and pepper. Stir in six raw eggs and four boiled eggs, diced. Add chicken and mix well. Pour into large greased loaf pan and slice two boiled eggs over the top. Bake in medium oven until done. Mrs. Walker says, "So many people who can't eat chicken and dressing enjoy this, and I find it handy to take to our church suppers." (NEWSfoto)

ABOUT FAULTS

A POEM

(Note to readers: The following poem, "Careless Words," was submitted to the NEWS by Winnell Paschal of 821 South Second.)

In speaking of another's faults,
Let's not forget our own.
Remember, those in a house of glass
Should never throw a stone.
If we have nothing else to do,
But talk of those who sin,
'Tis better to commence at home
And from that point begin.
We all have faults, the old and young,
Pray, tell me who has none.
Perhaps we may for all we know
Have fifty to their one.
We have no right to judge a man
Till he's been fairly tried,
Should we not like his company,
We know the world is wide.
I'll tell you of a little plan,
I find it works quite well.
To try my own mistakes to cure,
Ere I of others tell.
And though I sometimes hope to be
No worse than some I know,
My better judgement bids me let
The faults of others go.
So let us then when we begin
To slander friend or foe,
Think of the harm one word may do
To those we little know.
Remember, curses, sometimes like
Our chickens, roost at home.
Don't speak of other's faults until
We have none of our own.

AT THE WHEEL OF A NEW JOHN DEERE 820 DIESEL

The new John Deere "820" Diesel slashes labor costs by greatly increasing one man's daily work output. It's a heavy-duty tractor with the capacity to handle 5- or even 6-bottom plows (above), 16-foot tool carriers, 21-foot double-action disk harrows, double hookups of hydraulically controlled grain drills and field cultivators, 20-foot disk tillers, and similar loads. The new "820" combines this tremendous work capacity with outstanding Diesel fuel economy plus the exclusive maintenance economy of John Deere two-cylinder engine design. Stop in soon and make a date to spend a day at the wheel of a new John Deere "820" Diesel Tractor.

Take the wheel... get the Swept-Wing feel!

You spend a lot of time in your car—driving to work, shopping, taking trips. How your car rates on the road is important to you. So all we ask before you invest in a new car is this: Come in and take a "road rate" drive in a Swept-Wing 58 Dodge. Really compare it thoroughly on every count. We honestly believe it rides better, handles easier, responds quicker than any other car you've ever driven. But we'll leave the verdict entirely up to you. You be the judge.

YOU BE THE JUDGE! THINGS TO NOTICE IN THE SWEPT-WING 58:

- The feel behind the wheel—You feel different because you sit differently. Low and snug and secure, completely in control, almost a part of the car.
- The ease of push-button driving—Once you try Dodge Push-Button Torqueflite you'll never be happy with outmoded lever types. Ladies love it.
- A slide that's a glide—There's no sway on curves, no dip at stops. Torsion-Aire is standard equipment, too.
- This power steering is different—No power steering is like Dodge power steering. It works full time, yet leaves you the feel of the road.
- More power and stopping power—You get up to 320 hp. You get new-design Total-Contact Brakes.

TEXAS SAFETY
ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—"Traffic signs are guide-posts for a safe driver," J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, said today as he discussed the importance of observing traffic signals and markings.

"Thinking drivers are aided by these signs," he said, "because they know that they have been placed in most areas of danger to forewarn motorists and pedestrians of traffic hazards."

Musick advised motorists to learn the sign shapes and know the meaning of each one, so that they can be recognized at once, even at a distance.

The six signs are:
OCTAGON, the Stop sign, is yellow with black letters. It means come to a full stop and be sure the way is clear before proceeding.

Seedling Disease Causes $13 Million Annual Cotton Loss

Cotton seedling disease during the 1952-56 period caused an annual reduction of 2.17 per cent of the potential Texas cotton crop—a loss of about $13,000,000 each year.

This loss does not include the cost of having to replant, damaged root systems in remaining stands and reduced efficiency in machine harvesting caused by skips say research plant pathologists of the Texas A & M College System.

Seedling disease may be subdivided into seed rot, pre-emergence damping-off, post-emergence damping-off and seedling root-rot phases.

Seed rot may be controlled by proper treatment of seed with any of the approved seed treatment materials. But seed treatment alone has little, if any, effect on pre-emergence of post-emergence damping-off or seedling root rot.

The zone of protection covered by the seed protectant is too limited to prevent infection after the seedling ruptures the seed coat.

But efforts have been made to protect the seedling from the seed zone to the soil surface by mixing fungicides in the soil that covers the seed. Research for evaluating such a procedure was initiated in 1953.

Tests conducted in 1954, 1955 and 1956 provided valuable information on various fungicides and mixtures of fungicides and how to apply them to get the desired placement in the covering soil.

This method of mixing fungicides in the covering soil at planting can be used as an aid for cotton seedling disease control, and when it is used in conjunction with good seed treatment, even more significant results can be obtained.

AN IMAGINARY STORY

The Adam Family Finds a Use for The Plant Called Cotton, Growing in Eden

By ROSE JEAN HENSON
NEWS Correspondent

God created the earth and the heavens above it. Then He created man in His own image and named him Adam and placed him in a beautiful garden called Eden.

God saw that it was not good that man should be alone and so he gave him Eve, a wife, for a helpmate.

And God blessed them and said unto them, "Be fruitful, and multiply and replenish the earth and subdue it."

Adam gave names to every thing in the earth, both animal and plants.

Their clothing, made from woven fig leaves, covered their nakedness but leaves were not durable, washable or even crease-resistant. So a leaf clothing was replaced by animal skins. They were washable and durable, but oh so uncomfortable.

Sons and daughters were born to this couple and in the course of time the eldest son, Cain, noticed some tiny green plants in a sunny spot in the garden.

The plants brought forth white blossoms and then almost overnight they turned pink. A beautiful sight indeed; As autumn drew nigh, the little pink blossoms emerged into hard green balls.

As the little hard balls grew larger, they became darker and speckled and then one dewy morning the little ugly balls cracked open and out burst a fluffy white mass.

The mass was soft and pliable. Experimenting, the Adam family discovered that by removing the seed from the mass it could be strung into long thin threads.

Adam gave much thought to this plant because he realized its worth for both domestic and commercial purposes. He thought and thought and still he found no name.

One day as God walked in the Garden with Adam, he stopped amidst the snowy white spot. "My son, this plant is the most valuable of all the plants I have given to man. It shall be used by him so long as he shall live upon the earth."

"With scientific knowledge, men shall seek to duplicate its likeness but their efforts shall be fruitless. This plant shall never be surpassed. It will grow and flourish and cover the whole world. Since it is my greatest earthly blessing to man, what name have you given it, Adam?"

And Adam said, "I shall call it cotton because hereafter, all mankind shall be blessed ten-fold from this gift."

And Adam sent out a decree in all the land, saying, "The little green plant with beautiful white blossoms has been christened COTTON. It shall be planted, nourished and harvested forevermore."

An imaginary story, of course, but is it suggesting too much that this was the beginning of cotton? Today, 6,000 years later, men still search for a synthetic to excel or equal this product.

So far, they have not succeeded. Indeed, God's greatest plant gift to mankind has become the fiber king of the civilized world.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service feature of the Houston Post

You don't have to be a lawyer in order to form an opinion on a legal subject. However, it is bad business for a layman to pass such an opinion on to others to guide their actions. He may cause them to suffer substantial losses.

Because of the vast intricacies of the law, a simple set of facts often gives rise to difficult legal problems. In spite of this, there are many persons who persist in passing out legal advice on all problems, pounding the table, quoting rules, and loudly expounding opinions.

Beware of those persons, because their free opinions are usually worth what they cost, and often can be the unintended cause of harm to those who rely on them.

For example, George Jones owned a small drug store. He agreed to sell the store to Harry White at a time when he still owed $1,000 to various creditors for merchandise he had bought for the store.

George and Harry were in the back room one night discussing who would pay these debts. George suggested that they talk to a lawyer.

Just then Wilbur Knowall came into the room, and heard the discussion. He assured them that there was no necessity to see a lawyer. He told George to keep the "to avoid complications."

As to telling George's creditors of the sale, Wilbur said that was unnecessary because George was still liable to pay them. George and Harry decided to follow Wilbur's advice.

Several weeks later, after Harry had taken over the store, a representative of one of George's creditors came in and demanded that Harry pay the debt that George had incurred.

Harry refused, but went to see a lawyer to make certain. Harry was surprised to learn that he had failed to comply with a Texas Statute in buying the store without giving notice of the sale to George's creditors.

He further learned that the sale was void as to them, and that he was liable for George's debts.

This is a commonplace example of the trouble you can get into when toying with the law. Experienced lawyers often must spend many hours researching a problem before advising their clients as to the best course of action to follow.

It is therefore hazardous to rely on the legal advice of well

Lone Star Agriculture
By JOHN C. WHITE
Texas Commissioner Of Agriculture

Much-in-the air these days is a word that turns stale the weetest Texas spring breeze—taxes.

Consensus among many is that Texas governmental costs are rising above state revenues to such a degree that some new form of taxation will inevitably be the top order of business for the next legislature.

And, sadly for the Texas farmer, the fashionable turn of tax talk lately has been for a type of general sales tax.

Any type of sales tax would impose on Texas farmers and ranchers a greater hardship than on almost any other occupational class. And they are the very people who can least afford it.

Farmers and ranchers must invest more money to produce their narrow profit margin than practically any other business, and most of their purchases are at the retail level where sales taxes normally occur.

Regular purchases of every farmer and rancher on such essential items as feed and seed, farm implements, machinery and building materials could run up a staggering enough, in fact, to deal the final blow to already-squeezed farm profits.

In addition to the burden of taxes paid on everything they have to buy to produce a crop and make a living, our farm people would also suffer along with everyone else on taxes paid out for normal living expenses.

Taxation which discriminates against a working class of people is unfair taxation.

Times are trying enough for rural people as evidenced by continued migration away from the farms. With mounting federal taxation besetting farmers on one hand and rising production costs cramping them on the other, surely they must be spared an additional and unnecessary blow at the state level.

FARMER INFORMATION ON DOUBTFUL SEED URGED

The Texas Seed Act, administered by the Texas Department of Agriculture, requires in part that each bag of seed sold or offered for sale in the state be tagged with a tested seed label stating the purity and germination quality of the bag's contents.

In determining the accuracy of information on seed tags, the department has inspectors throughout the state who draw regular samples from seed offered for sale, and these samples are tested in the department's seed laboratories.

In addition to this regular means of seed tag regulation, the department welcomes information from any farmer having reason to doubt the advertised germination properties of seed he has planted.

Such reports will receive prompt attention, and where clear violations are found to exist, they will be dealt with according to provisions of the law.

Quarantine considered on Ornamental plant blight

Consideration is underway for a possible Texas quarantine on host plants of camelia petal blight, an ornamental plant disease which has been found in Louisiana, Georgia and California.

While the disease has not yet been found in Texas, there is danger of infestation from plants coming into the state. The blight is a serious disease which can render camelia plants useless as ornamental shrubs.

If imposed the quarantine, will require close inspection of all host plants entering Texas from other states, and only those plants found free of the disease will be admitted.

meaning friends. As in the case of Harry White, that is often the beginning of many headaches.
