One of a litter of six, her brothers and sisters are normal pups, now weighing from 12 to 16 ounces. Chiquita's owners are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Cross of Plains, who are in the business of raising and selling registered Chihuahuas, Siamese cats and rare parakeets. Her name, by the way, is apt, "chiquita" in Spanish being an adjective meaning "very small." Grown Chihuahuas ordinarily weigh 3 to 5 pounds, and the smaller they are the more expensive they are. She's a real product of nature's own scheme for "miniaturization." (NEWSfotos)

Senior Chamber Initiates Big Membership Drive Today With Huge Kick-Off Breakfast

The first efforts in several years to increase membership in Brownfield Chamber of Commerce will be made today. The work is to start early, with a 7 a.m. breakfast for all workers in First Presbyterian Church.

Brownfield Rainbow Girls were to be prepared to feed from 50 to 100 men, who will depart immediately after breakfast on their various missions. General plan of the drive for new membership was set up Tuesday afternoon, when chamber directors met with Clarence Griffith of Griffith Variety Store, chairman. Officers of the senior chamber explained Tuesday that this would be no extended campaign, the workers being expected to conclude their visits and interviews possibly before noon today.

Reasons for soliciting new members at this time are varied, but have been summed up in the words of the chamber's president, Dennis Q. Lilly: "Belonging to the chamber means a real return to the businessman in terms of dollars and cents. On the other hand, membership offers a fine opportunity to fulfill civic obligations."

At the present time, 201, or less than half of the 452 business firms in Brownfield, are members. Frankly, it is felt by some that too few are carrying the load for too many. "We have reached a position in the growth of our chamber and in the growth of Brownfield which we know puts us on the verge of greater things to come. "Our city practically is built-in at the seams. New business, new buildings, new people, and much proposed construction are just around the corner. "Looking at all this from a hard-headed business point of view, what better and less expensive means of coordinating, explaining, planning, researching, advising, and persuading could we have than a strong chamber of commerce?" Past and present activities of the chamber have attracted favorable attention throughout Texas, and much encouragement has been received from outside the area in erecting the chamber's brand new home on Lubbock Road. The new quarters caused considerable talk only last Monday in Brownsville, where Mgr. Joe Satterwhite attended the three-day annual convention of the Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers Association. Workers in today's drive will be in teams of two. Directors who have the main responsibility are Earl Jones of Jones Copeland Agency, S. A. M. Jones of Jones Theatres, Charles Kersh of Kersh Implement Company, and Burton Hackney of the law firm of Hackney & Crawford, Jimmie Billings of Farm & Home Furniture, O. R. Douglas of Brownfield Independent School System, Bruce Zorns of Brownfield State Bank & Trust Company, Coleman Williams of Honolulu Oil Corporation, C. E. Ross of Ross Investments, and D. L. (Dip) Pemberton of The Pemberton Agency. Lal Copeland of Copeland Hardware, V. L. (Pat) Patterson of Piggly Wiggly, J. L. (Dusty) Kemper of General Telephone, Curtis Sterling of the NEWS, John Hansard of Phillips Petroleum Company, and Charlie Price of Western Auto.

CLOSES HOLE IN HEART

Modern Surgery Grabs Girl From Fate

A 17-year-old Brownfield girl returned home this week, ready to lead a normal life for the first time since she was born. She's Virginia Romine, daughter of Mrs. Marian Romine of 313 North Ninth. From birth, the girl's activities were restricted because of a hole in her heart where Nature had not intended that there be a hole. Virginia's condition worsened, and she was forced to give up her schooling after completing the seventh grade. On April 19, and because of the techniques of modern surgery, doctors at Baylor Hospital in Dallas were able to close the hole. Virginia remained bedfast for 39 days, and then was taken to Arlington, where she stayed in the home of an uncle for two weeks before undertaking the trip to Brownfield and her own home. She's now able—and eager—to resume her public education in September.

Dodgers In Babe Ruth Front Spot

The Dodgers resumed their winning ways with a 10-9 victory over the Tigers, highlighting Monday's Babe Ruth League action. The win gave them sole possession of the loop leadership. Eddie Gutierrez tossed a three-hitter in the opener Monday to give the Red Sox an 8-3 win over the Pirates.

Cubs Upset Indians In LL Tilt Tuesday; Yankees Take Lead

The fifth-place Cubs rose to the occasion to upset the highly-touted Indians, 5-3, in the feature game of Tuesday Little League action. In other games the Oilers place in the Minor League by edging the Sports, 7-6; the Frogs and Mustangs played to a 3-3 tie in Blue Jeans loop, and the Yankees lambasted the Red Sox, 19-1. After spotting the Indians a 3-1 lead in the second inning, the Cubs roared back to tally two runs in the third and the two winning runs in the sixth. Maurice Harrell's homerun provided the Indians' lone scoring spark.

Chamber Managers at Brownsville Meet Hear Talks With an International Flavor

(Editor's Note: Joe Satterwhite, manager of Brownfield Chamber of Commerce, returned late Tuesday from Brownsville, where he took part in the annual convention of the Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers Association. He was accompanied by Joe Shelton of Shelton's, and Pilot Pete Harris of Harris Flying Service. Following is a brief summary of the sessions as telephoned to the NEWS by Satterwhite.)

BROWNSVILLE, June 9 (Special)—More than 275 managers are gathered here today for the annual convention of the Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers Association. Also represented are many banks, utilities, railroads and highway transportation firms. Principal speaker of this morning's opening session was Marshall Formby of Plainview, chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, who emphasized: "When you come to Austin to meet with us concerning proposed highway work, come prepared. Select a spokesman, and be sure that he knows how to present pictures, facts and figures. "Much time invariably is lost in introductions when a large group appears before us. As much as we like to meet and know everyone, it is much to your advantage to present your case as rapidly as possible. Preceding Formby was the president of the American Chamber of Commerce Executives, J. Marvin Hurley of Houston, where he is executive vice president and general manager of that city's chamber. Said Hurley: "You managers must evaluate and be sure you stand on a solid foundation when you present any proposition to your board of directors. "Your directors are businessmen, and they are or should be successful businessmen, and when you take up their time they want you to be definite in what you are offering. Their decision on any matter should be accepted then and there. "By all means, coordinate your requests with your city and county authorities, and always remember that those authorities also rely heavily on the leading businessmen in the community. Hurley also cautioned the managers present Monday that a spokesman should be appointed when matters are to be presented to various groups, a spokesman capable of the language to fit his case. Ralph G. Bradford, manager of the ACCE, discussed the prestige which any chamber should have, saying,

"The chamber of commerce is the biggest business in any city or community. "Your chamber has been, or should have been, accepted as big business in your city, representing all phases of industrial life and community advancement. "Any chamber manager who thinks that his chamber cannot exist without criticism is ancient and antique. It takes criticism to make a democracy, and we are a democracy. "The afternoon session today was highlighted by an address by the director of the Tourist Promotion Bureau of the Republic of Mexico, Dr. Francisco Villgran. Villgran explained that Mexico was proud of the fact that Americans from the Southwest spent more dollars in Mexico from 1950 to 1958 than did all American tourists spend in Europe. ## Day of Making Money By Hunting Coon Long Past, Says Local Expert

By LEO HEALER NEWS Correspondent

"I'm 76 years old, and I've been hunting coons since I was 8 years old." The speaker was C. W. Taylor of 801 North A, talking between three events for coon dogs staged recently in Lubbock County as a part of the monthly meeting of the South Plains Coon Hunters Association. "Just as soon as I could keep up with the men, I started following the dogs and running coons. I've hunted them all the way from Houston to Hobbs. "When Taylor was growing up in San Saba County, catching coons, possums, skunks, civet cats, ringtails fox, and wolves was more than an outdoor sport. It was a means of adding to the meager family income from "no government support" farming. The men of his family were after fur pelts to cure and sell. "We skinned everything with fur on it," said Taylor. He was a successful hunter, and did well by this nighttime activity of taking fur-bearing animals. His most successful week of hunting, he said, brought in $40. That was real good money in the lean years before the depression of the early '30's, and helped feed and clothe a large family of growing children. "Times have changed since I started hunting," Taylor continued. "When he started taking hides for markets the season for taking coons was during every month with an 'r' in it. "But now," Taylor said, "you can take them only during the months of December and January. "Furthermore," he added, "there's no money in furs today. Taylor believes the introduction of Russian furs to the American market several years ago marked the first decline of the fur selling business. Imported furs have ruined the market for trappers in Texas. Proving his point, Taylor said, "A good coon hide will bring only 60 cents today. You can't afford to skin, stretch and cure the hide for that. "A friend asked how he was able to skin skunks when they "smell so bad." He replied he could "de-skunk" himself by building a big fire under a large dutch oven in the house. Then corn meal is poured into the red hot oven, causing smoke completely to fill a room. "It's the only way I know to get rid of skunk smell." A farmer by trade, Taylor lived in Jones County for 26 years before moving into Leuders in 1949, after he broke a leg during a bad icy spell of weather. He moved to Brownfield three years ago to live with his son, C. A., and family, and

"Like father, like son" applies to Taylor's seven boys. All have been coon hunters, and four of them own coon dogs now. Alton Joe, a 4-year-old grandson, walks up to Taylor. R. L. Ritter, who farms 4 miles northeast of here, this week began preparing to plant milo on 40 acres of land planted in vetch last fall.

Ritter, who plans to turn the vetch under for a green manure crop, harrowed the field last week to facilitate breaking operations this week.

Terry Soil Conservation District personnel estimate Ritter's vetch crop will produce 14,000 to 15,000 pounds of fertilizer an acre.

Conservationists note that nearly all Terry soils need nitrogen because of continuous cropping. "Vetch will yield 50 to 75 pounds if free nitrogen an acre under normal conditions if properly inoculated and fertilized with phosphate," said Bill Dugger, Brownfield conservationist.

Dugger added that one bale of cotton will take approximately 66 pounds of nitrogen from the soil. In addition to replenishing nitrogen, district personnel also point out that vetch keeps soil from blowing and is excellent for cattle grazing.

Dugger also pointed out that grazing reduces the crop's value as a soil builder.

AGAINST DENVER CITY, LORENZO

Brownfield Legion Team Drops Two District Tilts Played Here This Week

Brownfield's American Legion nine took it on the chin twice this week, losing to Denver City, 9-5, Saturday and Lorenzo, 23-14, Tuesday.

Short fences and costly errors proved to be the undoing of the Brownfield group as Denver City parked two out of the park and Lorenzo plastered six round-trippers. The local nine committed six errors in the Saturday tilt and four against Lorenzo.

In the Saturday game, Dan Nicewander held Brownfield to three scattered hits, struck out 11 and walked six batters while his mates collected nine hits and four walks off the slants of Joe Oswald and Gene Blake.

Johnny Murphy's homerun with two runners aboard, and Ken Kendrick's two hits were the only raps collected by Brownfield.

Take Lead

After trailing Lorenzo, 10-2, at the 2 1/2 inning mark, Brownfield exploded for 10 runs off five hits and four walks in the bottom of the third frame. However, Lorenzo came back to tally three runs in the fourth and eight more in the fifth, breaking Brownfield's back.

Lorenzo garnered 18 hits off the pitching of five Brownfield hurlers while the home team collected 14 singles off the slants of two visiting pitchers.

Brownfield will travel to Spur Saturday for the fourth tilt of the season.

'Hilarious' The Word For Diana Dors, George Gobel In 'I Married a Woman'

Listed in impact and importance somewhere between two earlier British importations, the English language and golf, Diana Dors—blonde, voluptuous and beautiful—makes her American screen comedy debut in RKO's "I Married a Woman."

The hilarious picture in which she stars with George Gobel arrives Sunday at the Regal Theatre.

At twenty-four, Miss Dors is Britain's top feminine boxoffice attraction. She began her film career while still in her early teens, and at 17 had played nearly a score of screen roles—all of them as The Other Woman, physically endowed, emotionally free and financially dedicated.

By the time she was 20 Diana had virtually decided to give up her picture career. Despite her unmistakable curves, she seemed destined to continue through her cinema life as the third corner of a series of triangles.

But about this time she was prevailed upon to stand by her girlhood resolution to become a top film star. Dors's two recent pictures include Carol Reed's production of "A Kid for Two Farthings" and the Venice Film Festival award classic, "Yield to the Night."

In her Hollywood role with Gobel, Miss Dors plays a former beauty contest winner, the unpredictable, nearly divorceable wife of a hot-shot idea man for an ad agency. It's a fast, funny story by Goodman

Road Negotiations Completed by Court

Two months of negotiations were climaxed this week when Terry Commissioners Court was notified Texas Highway Department will widen and reconstruct a farm-to-market road from FM 1312, south of Wellman, east to the intersection of FM 403 and FM 213.

The 7.7 miles of road construction, which will cost an estimated $90,000, will be under the supervision of the highway department. Maintenance also will be assumed by the county in return for payment of necessary right-of-way by the county.

Court in Austin Groundwork for the road was laid by two months of negotiations and a trip to Austin last week by the court. The Terry group presented the proposal to the Texas Highway Commission and D. C. Greer, highway engineer, at the Austin meeting.

In other business handled by the court Monday, commissioners voted to invest $17,000 of the Terry Permanent School Fund in Terry Hospital bonds. The bonds will bear 2 7/8 per cent interest, coming due in 1973.

Recent hot weather apparently has brought out that well-known malady, fishing-pox, around here.

M. G. Tarpley of 716 East Broadway, and Ralph Butcher of Route 3, have reported excellent mackerel catches at Port Mansfield, where we drew a blank.

As much as we hate to say it, apparently they are better fishermen.

NEWS shop employees tried their luck at 'Possum Kingdom last weekend but reported their catch consisted primarily of sunburns. Reports from other Terry fishermen indicate several area lakes are beginning to "turn over." That doesn't bid well for fishing for the next week or so.

It looks like the BHS coaching staff will have new quarters at the stadium within the scheduled time before fall grid drills begin.

The contractor has moved in and work on the fieldhouse, lighting system and other items should be under way before the weekend. Coach Doug Cox said grass is beginning to peek through on the tract and should be ready by fall.

Good news for fans: In case you have wondering what is taking so long on the new stands, we investigated and found that the bottom of the seats are being sealed to keep those West Texas zephers out.

Assistant Coaches Elroy Payne and Bill Curry will spend most of the summer adding the final touches to the field and will pour on the water to insure a good playing turf.

We hope we didn't put the hex on Don O'Neal in the Texas Amateur last week when we wrote the feature about him. Don won his first match, but lost out in the second round.

Dairy Products And Milk Head June List Of Plentiful Foods

Milk and dairy products are featured items for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's June Plentiful Foods list.

The Department has designated this feature to support the dairy industry campaign, "June is Dairy Month," the time when milk supplies are at their height for the year.

Milk production in 1958 is expected to run around a billion pounds over the record production of last year. This would make 1958 the sixth successive year in which milk production has set a new record. Only other foods considered plentiful enough to rate a spot on the June list are spring vegetables, fats and oils.

As a result of replanting in the three major vegetable producing areas—Florida, Texas and California—it is likely that there will be more than the usual overlapping of harvesting in June.

AUSTIN — Texas Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools is working toward getting a gold star when an economy-minded Legislature hits Austin next year.

Launching a new tight-purse policy, the Board voted to prohibit superintendents of individual state institutions from (1) using leftover funds without Board permission and (2) making any expenditure of more than $1,000 without Board approval.

Sometimes individual hospitals develop surplus funds resulting from smaller patient loads than had been expected, or other reduced costs. New rule puts an end to no-strings-attached spending of such surpluses. These lapsed funds could amount to as much as one million dollars, according to Board Member W. G. Kirklind of Odessa.

CHILL WIND — Hospital Board's move pinpointed the spot where the state's money shortage is expected to pinch hardest — administration of state's services.

A revenue shortage in excess of $100,000,000 by next year has been freely predicted by various authorities for months.

A survey of the platforms of legislative candidates over the state shows a fairly consistent approach by those making statements on the revenue dilemma. General pattern of promises to voters:

(1) Continuation or, often, increase in state obligations for education, welfare payments, road building, soil and water conservation, etc.

(2) Opposition to certain new taxes or sometimes new taxes in general.

(3) Cuts in state spending by "elimination of waste, duplication and needless services by state agencies."

Actual achievement or near-achievement of this fiscal magic will put a real squeeze on every state department.

NOT ME — Likelihood that someone may draw the "black bean" of new state taxes has group after group telling the State Tax Study Commission how overburdened they are already.

A spokesman for the Texas Motor Bus Association told the Commission taxes on that industry are heavy and discriminatory. He said many smaller lines were having to go out of business.

A representative of retired people asked tax relief for people living on pensions.

"We are no longer concerned with saving the goose that lays the golden eggs. Our goose was cooked when we lost our ability to work and earn," said W. B. Wood of Port Arthur.

On behalf of the Texas Association for Tax Relief for Texans over '65, Wood asked for tax exemption for the first $3,000 of property owned by oldsters. He also opposed a sales tax.

REPUBLICRAT — Texas Supreme Court is considering the question of whether a former Democratic candidate is entitled to a position on the Republican primary ballot.

Grover Cantrell, Dallas labor leader and onetime Democratic candidate for the Legislature, attempted to file against Texas' only Republican congressman, Bruce Alger. He called himself a "Stevenson Republican," an apparent parody of Eisenhower Democrats.

A lower court ruled that Cantrell, as a member of one party, was not entitled to seek nomination in another party's primary. Cantrell appealed to the high court.

Since there is usually only one nominee for each office, Republican primaries do not ordinarily attract a heavy vote. It is widely assumed that many Republicans cross party lines to vote in Democratic primaries where most state offices are decided.

Cantrell's candidacy generally is interpreted as a move to force Republicans to stay in their own primary.

DIESEL TAX CHANGE — Proposed revisions in the diesel fuel tax law are being planned by the State Comptroller's Department.

Next Legislature will be asked to change the law so diesel fuel taxes would be collected from the wholesale distributor rather than the user, said a Department official. This is expected to make it easier for tax agents to keep track of consumption and purchases. Comptroller's Department staffers admit that there are some evasions of the state motor fuels tax, but contend that Texas collects more per vehicle than any other major state. They discount as too large Sen. Charles Herring's guess that some $25,000,000 in fuel taxes went uncollected.

Senate investigating committee looked into records in the Houston area to discover if small staffs, vague laws or insufficient penalties were causing the state to lose revenue.

OVER THE HUMP — Texas' general revenue fund is back in the black, according to State Comptroller Robert Calvert.

During the spring, state expenditures go ahead of tax receipts. A month ago the fund was in the red by some $1,250,000. But collection of corporation franchise taxes and insurance company occupation taxes during the month put finances back on schedule.

GOOD DEED RETURNED — Six Union community farmers pitched in Monday to plant about 200 acres of cotton for Doyle Johnson, who farms about 5 miles south of here. The "planting bee" was devised to compensate Johnson for plastering work he did on the interior of Union Baptist Church. Four members of the group that worked Monday are, from left, Clarence Faught, Pete Phillips, Raul Martinez and Earl Cornett. Not pictured are Cletus Floyd and Lowell Bench. (NEWSfoto)

Hang the Recession! Building Boom Here Major Vote of Confidence

BOOM'S ON — Not in some years has as much construction of the major type been carried on here at the same time. No one denies that the so-called recession has put something of a dent in Terry's economic picture — part of the slow-down picture may be attributed to poor harvest last fall. Yet, it would appear that the general attitude here is: "Hang the recession. There's work to be done . . . so, on with it!" Pictured on this page are samplings of what's going on around us in Brownfield. Upper left panel: Surveyor takes notes and makes plans for building new, modernistic office quarters for Brownfield Savings & Loan Association, at Broadway and Second. Approximate cost: $165,000. In upper right panel: New 12-lane bowling alley rapidly taking shape immediately north of old oil mill on Lubbock Road. Builders will spend some $100,000 on the project. Across page in middle panel, heavy machinery doggedly gouges out, lifts and transports tons of earth at City-County Airport. A little-known figure: Annual payroll of employees connected with the airport totals $63,600. In 1957, total of 52 aircraft based permanently at field. More than 286 transient aircraft were serviced at the field last year, and three times that many landed but did not need servicing. (NEWSfoto)

AND MORE PLANNED — In lower left panel, foundation now secure for Brownfield Chamber of Commerce headquarters in 200-Block of Lubbock Road. It's a $30,000 project, and will be ranked as one of the finest C-C offices in the Southwest. Lower right panel: Outlined against a setting of West Texas clouds is the steel frame for seating on the west side of new Cub Stadium. It's a $190,000 project. May permits for construction within city limits reached a startling $226,350. Other building in the offing: enlarged drive-in window facilities at Brownfield State Bank & Trust Company, including additional basement area; a doctor's clinic; numerous new houses, several service stations and a new office building on Lubbock Hwy. All in all, construction in Brownfield appears to be a defiant answer to the economic slump.

"I Cut 2,190 Tons of Ensilage From 104 Acres of Maize"

Leo Bezner, Bushland, Tex., says: "I put down 80 pounds of Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia-preplant on 104 acres of irrigated maize land. I cut 2,190 tons of ensilage, or slightly more than 21 tons per acre. I use Phillips 66 Ammonia to help increase yields on all my cash crops."

Other Southwestern farmers have discovered that the 82% nitrogen in top quality Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia helps them to get more profit per acre, through higher yields and lower production costs.

They have found that, by using Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia, they get more cotton that grades out higher at the gin; yields of sorghum grain and ensilage are increased; more marketable vegetables are harvested, and profits on wheat are increased through better forage, and higher yields of grain.

See your Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia distributor about profitable Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia, the 82% nitrogen fertilizer.

We have come to the time of a great national re-building. We must re-build the American spirit and, with the fibre of the American character. We must re-build the American image before the world and, with it, the world's respect for the principles for which America has stood. We must re-build the American position and, with it, the strength of freedom as the most powerful force at work in the hearts of the human race.

As Americans, we do not live in the same world we knew a few short months ago. Many basic American assumptions change and challenge. The assumption of American technological superiority has been made subject to serious and direct challenge. The assumption of American economic stability and permanent

American prosperity has been dealt a blow that commands attention. The assumption of American leadership among the community of nations in the West has been severely undermined. Our resources, our capacity, our knowledge, our competence are the same undiminished and unfettered. What is needed is a determination to unleash those resources and march forward, secure in the confidence that freedom is a mighty force which can carry America to even greater heights.

We should start now to make Washington not just a capital power but a campus of free men. We should use the round-table, the seminar and the lecture room so that our country will be the spiritual leader of the awakening now stirring the west.

We can, if we wish, safely invest each year at least the cost of two nuclear bombs in the building of great, new libraries. We can channel the cost of an army division into the support of great, new schools for the humanities. We can set aside a part of our national budget to finance laboratories and other facilities for programs of pure research.

In our exchange programs, we should concentrate not merely on bringing young people here to teach them but also on bringing their elders here to help teach us. The farmer of India, the worker of Europe, the teacher of Latin America should have the opportunity to visit our country so they can take back to their lands the true facts of America.

There is no question about our ability to do these things. Our future is bright; our future is assured; our future is great. All that is required is channeling the tremendous strength and energy of free America, and I have deep faith in the ability of our people to meet any challenge.

June is the month...

Behind American Business Scenes

By Reynolds Knight
Economic Analyst

NEW YORK — Does the American public want a small car? If you're a Big Three executive, you have to be willing to bet a hundred million dollars on a yes answer. Various groups and individuals have recently voiced their sentiments regarding the need for a small American car. And these comments have been supported by varying kinds of market surveys, including the simple one of asking immediate friends and neighbors what they think. While reports that the average American would like a smaller car may be well based, General Motors, Ford and Chrysler are not convinced.

They claim that plenty of people still want big cars, and that those who want smaller ones either want a car that looks like the present ones but is cheaper, or they want the exotic flavor of a foreign machine. To provide a smaller version of current models at less money, say auto making officials, is impossible.

So two of the largest producers, GM and Ford, have designed and engineered small cars in readiness for a change in their current market appraisal. But probably no decision will be made until they see the public's reaction to '59 models this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. America will be able to register their voices on car length at that time. Unfortunately, a no to big cars could hurt the economy a little.

MOTORISTS' BELIEFS — Horsepower, U.S.A. is a study team's project name for a busy manufacturing center near St. Louis that is being surveyed-in-depth concerning the driving habits and beliefs of the American public. The pilot community name is kept secret to prevent citizen self-consciousness in answering questions.

The survey was inaugurated by a major automotive parts manufacturer, the Carter Carburetor division of ACF Industries, Incorporated, to gather hard facts about the American motorist's knowledge and treatment of the vehicle he drives.

The ultimate goal is to improve merchandising of Carter products. Car owners by the hundreds are being asked questions such as:

What do you think an engine tune-up should include?

How long do you think your car's fuel system should last?

How often do you have your car lubricated?

Do you rotate tires, and if so when?

Answers to these and 43 other equally specific questions obtained in intensive on-the-spot personal interviews compose the four-month survey which is scheduled for completion this month. One out of every 75 car owners in the community of more than 100,000 will have been contacted.

THINGS TO COME — Got any big packages? There's just been designed a new lightweight — only 10,450 pounds — Diesel tractor that will handle in the 55,000-pounds-and-up hauling range. Or maybe vibration is your problem — a new floodlight lamp has its filament on tungsten springs.

And now there's a noise-proof welding helmet.

FIVE-YEAR GROWTH — By the end of 1958 cans for liquid detergents are expected to be produced at the rate of 400 million units a year although their use only started five years ago.

C. S. Stephens, American Can Company's assistant national sales manager in charge of non-food containers, said the industry produced some 300 million cans for liquid detergents in 1957 and "all reports we have indicate further substantial growth this year."

Light duty detergents of the dishwashing type should account for most of the growth, he said, since most of the liquid products on the market are in this category. Continuation of a recent trend toward more use of all-purpose liquid detergents for household cleaning jobs also is expected to contribute to growth, he added.

"This year, which is the fifth anniversary of canned liquid detergents, might also see more realization of the tremendous potential for heavy-duty, family wash detergents in liquid form," he said. "This could result in a far greater increase in output." In 1955 Canco was making its "non-drop" detergent containers for only 15 labels. Today it makes detergent cans with 114 different labels.

SOME FARMERS HAPPY, BUT—Total farm income for the first quarter of this year was up 11 per cent over the corresponding period last year despite the weakness in the rest of the economy. But the rise does not reflect the situation for individual commodities.

Hog and cattle raisers and and potato farmers are enjoying healthy income increases but cotton growers and sheep raisers are feeling some pain.

The hog and cattle men have been getting as much as 25 per cent more than a year ago while their costs remain just about the same. The price for California's late spring potatoes has more than doubled while the size of the crop is only down 7 per cent.

On the other hand, low wool prices have been knocking sheep raisers' income around while cotton farmers have been hurt by the low quality of their '57 crop.

BITS O' BUSINESS—There's no fuel like an old fuel: kerosene demand is rising with the use of this old petroleum by-product as a jet fuel ingredient.

Buy your almonds now as rain and disease has cut crop estimates 25 per cent. The possible steel rise July 1 is apparently improving order-taking by producers.

Vacation time is near. Soon millions of people will be driving about the country, and automobile accidents will occur with increasing frequency. What should a person do when involved in an accident?

At such times it is hard to keep your wits about you and know just what to do. It is therefore a good idea to plan in advance just what you would do in event of a smash-up. Here are a few simple rules that every driver should commit to memory:

1. Stop! Failure to stop can result in serious criminal consequences.
2. Render aid. If anyone is injured: (1) Render first aid, (2) stop bleeding, (3) Call a doctor or an ambulance or both, (4) Do not move an injured person in any way that could possibly add to his injury.

3. Protect the scene from further damage. You may be liable for damages to approaching drivers, unless they are properly warned. If the highway is obstructed at night, have someone turn his headlight beams on the wrecked vehicles.

4. Call an officer. Police, highway patrolmen, sheriffs and their deputies are trained accident investigators whose testimony may be invaluable in establishing your civil claim for damages.
5. Gather information... Write it down. Don't trust your memory. Don't guess — be specific. Measure skid marks. Step off distances. Be sure to obtain names and addresses of witnesses. You are required by

Poison Bait Studied For Fire Ant Attack

A new and more effective method for control of the Imported Fire Ant which is invading Southeast Texas shows promise in tests conducted by the Rice-Pasture Experiment Station near Beaumont.

Entomologist C. C. Bowling said, "The effort is to find poison baits which the ants will carry into their colonies—their production area — to kill the queen and the workers."

"Now they can be controlled by broadcasting insecticides either by airplane or ground machines which are contact poison. We are working on baits with stomach poison. It will kill more ants and probably more economically, too," he added.

He is working with ant colonies in big jars on the station where various food and feeding habits can be observed, and with hills where the ants have invaded pastures several miles from the station.

"We are well along with the food habit studies, and have found that they have preference in types of food. The next step in the laboratory is to apply various kinds and amounts of insecticides to food to see if and how much they will eat with poison added," Mr. Bowling pointed out.

"We also are placing the baits in the colonies as we develop them, to see if the ants will take the baits into their hills." Placing effective baits in the colonies can eliminate spraying a big area in order to include the ant hills, making control less dangerous.

Imported Fire Ant colonies may contain 25,000 workers which are 1/8 to 1/4 inch long and build mounds generally about 10-15 inches high and 15-20 inches wide, making mowing or plowing difficult, plus the hazard of bad stings to farm workers.

They were brought to this country about 20 years ago from South America completed her costume. Bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Mae Wright of Lubbock, sister of the bride, and Miss Virginia Mae Johnston of Fort Worth, cousin of the bride, wore gowns similar to the one worn by the maid of honor. The three carried colonial bouquets of pale yellow gladiolus with yellow streamers.

Reception In Home
Sammy Key of Brownfield, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Ken Tiroff of Vernon and Jack Tillinghart of Lubbock. Bobby Joe Wright, brother of the bride, and Charles Thompson, of Lubbock, were chandle-lighters.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents, following the ceremony. Above the bride's table was a sunburst of white carnations. The table was lighted with candelabra and white tapers.

Jane Pipkin of Lubbock registered guests. Sandra Bean of Lubbock poured and Iris Nowell of Plainview, sister of the bridegroom, served cake.

The bride is a graduate of Lubbock High School and is a senior at Texas Tech. Her husband graduated from Plainview High School and Texas Tech. He is with the Claude Hutchinson Flying Service of Plainview, where they will make their home.

Other out of town guests attending the wedding were from Brownfield, Pueblo, Colo., Fort Worth and Plainview.

Terry County 4-H Survey

By LINDA HINSON and STANLEY FARRAR

Bennie Spain of Meadow 4-H Club, is a demonstrator of bedroom improvements. She has done a wonderful job of getting more storage space in her bedroom by adding a closet. She plans to refinish her bedroom furniture. Planning to do some bedroom improvement? See Bennie Spain. She may be able to help you.

HD Clubs have had girls give demonstrations at their meetings this month. Linda Henson demonstrated oatmeal cookies at Meadow-Challis HD Club. "Making an Electric Lamp" was the subject for a demonstration Jeannie and Lila Solsberry gave Pool HD Club.

June 5, Diane Montgomery and Janice Newsom demonstrated freezing poultry for Harmony HD Club. If you, a 4-H member, are asked to give a demonstration, do so. It is good experience and it will help your record. You might have someone take your picture while you are giving the demonstration. Pictures tell the story for your record book.

A pre-planning meeting for clothing workshops was held for the West Ward fifth grade and Junior High June 3 in The Party House. Those attending were Cheryl Preston, Trudy Gracey, Judy Gracey, Gail Howard, Mary Torrez, Linda Carroll, Carolyn Corley, Connie Taylor, Nadine Taylor, Margie Pitts, Marilynee Williams, Mitzi Dodd, Claudine Blake, Nancy Benson, and Mmes. E. E. Preston, Paul Gracey, C. S. Carroll, E. R. Corley, C. A. Taylor, L. R. Pitts, A. K. Williams, A. H. Dodd, H. G. Blake and John Benson.

Mothers teaching West Ward and Junior High girls will receive training at 9 a.m. today in The Party House. Betty Hillis, home Demonstration agent, will conduct the meeting.

A training meeting for adult leaders of clothing workshops for Union and Meadow 4-H Clubs was held June 5. Miss Hillis demonstrated each step of making a simple-to-make-skirt. Leaders attending were Mmes. Troy Phillips, Robert Luker, Rufus Dill, all of Union, and Mrs. Jack Brown of Meadow. Two junior leaders, Jeannie and Lila Solsberry, also attended the meeting and will help with the Meadow work.

Twenty-five attended a meeting at Pool June 6 to describe and explain community 4-H Club work. Ten 4-H members, 15 other persons, the HD agent and assistant agricultural agent, attended the meeting. The agent explained the work.

Plans were made for a weiner roast and hay ride at 7 p.m. Friday. Following the weiner roast, they will elect officers and organization leaders' for the coming year.

The 4-H Club Council will meet at 9:30 a.m., Saturday in The Party House. Plans will be made for raising funds for the Terry County 4-H Club and for the Terry County Clubs Rally Day. All delegates and officers are urged to attend.

Terry County 4-H Club will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday in The Party House.

On Monday, Union Boys 4-H Club held a swimming party at Terry County swimming pool. Members attending were Royce Cornett, Tommy Bench, Lynn Dill, Ronnie Floyd, Jerry Don Foote, Clayton Newsom and Mickey Bench. Another swimming party will be held later in the summer.

After visiting a few of the members last week, it is obvious that most 4-H Boys have been busy the first of their vacation.

John Robert Henson and Jerry Don Foote have been busy caring for their Sear's gilts that they received recently. They are in fine shape. Jerry Don has also started a small garden of tomatoes and okra.

After visiting John Robert and Jerry Don, we stopped by to see Jackie and Lynn Dill. They have gone into the rabbit

William E. Bond of Philadelphia, Pa., son of Mrs. Earl Bond of 1309 East Repetto, was recently appointed to the design staff of Mel Richman, Inc. He has been with Bloom Advertising Agency of Dallas. He has won several leading art awards including a gold medal award and an award of of distinctive merit for direct

Warning About Use Of Insect Poisons Issued By Experts

Don't fail to follow manufacturer's directions when handling and using highly toxic insecticides, warn Extension Entomologists F. M. Fuller and C. F. Garner.

They point out that weather conditions continue to favor heavy insect infestations and this means farmers will be handling materials which kill bugs as well as humans.

Insecticide injury to man is most common through oral and respiratory intake or by skin absorption. Continued exposure even to lower insecticide concentrations, with no regard to safety measures, can result in accumulation of chemicals in the body and may cause eventual tissue or organic injury, say the specialists.

Many phosphorous compounds, such as parathion, methyl parathion, EPN, TEPP, demeton, Dioxinon, Phosdin, Thimet and Guthion are extremely poisonous and must be handled with care.

Many phosphorous insecticides are more poisonous to warm-blooded animals than most other chemicals used for insect control, say the specialists.

Since phosphorous insecticides tend to reduce the cholinesterase enzyme, entomologists advise regular handlers of such materials to have cholinesterase tests at 10-day intervals while working with the material. Local doctors can provide information on such tests.

It's a good idea to bathe and change clothing immediately following a highly toxic job mail design from the Denver Art Directors Club.

Bond also was designer of one of the letterheads selected by the National Lithographers Association as the 1956 Six Best of the Year.

Bond works in both Philadelphia and New York, N.Y. He is a graduate of Brownfield High School and the Art Institute of Los Angeles, Calif.

and not enter a field for two or three days after it has been treated, say the specialists. Always wear gloves and freshly laundered protective clothing during handling, and stop working if a toxic insecticide is spilled on the skin or clothing for a thorough bath and change of clothes, they advise.
