LUNCH IN PARTY HOUSE

Candidate for U. S. Senate, William A. (Bill) Blakley, Will Be Guest of Lions

BILL BLAKLEY Brings Campaign Here

The man conceded to be the strongest opponent of Ralph Yarborough in this year's senatorial race will sit down to lunch Wednesday with the Brownfield Lions in The Party House.

He's William A. (Bill) Blakley of Dallas, independently wealthy Texan who's already had a taste of Washington political life.

Blakley's appearance here was announced Thursday by his manager in Terry County, Jim Murdough of 1112 East Cardwell. Murdough will meet the Blakley party Wednesday morning in Lamesa and escort it to Brownfield.

As guest of the Lions, Blakley will be introduced by the club's president, Sid Lowery.

"Blakley is conducting a personal campaign with plans to visit every county in the state and to meet and talk personally with as many citizens as possible," said Murdough.

He'll be available for a short while after the Lions luncheon for a question-and-answer session.

Blakley was born 59 years ago while his parents were crossing the plains of Missouri on their way to homestead a quarter-section of land in Oklahoma Territory.

During his boyhood in Arapaho County, he "worked out" and by the time he was 14 was earning a cowhand's wages.

This rugged existence instilled in young Bill a determination to educate himself — to have a career. On graduating from high school, he enlisted in the Army for World War I.

After the war, he came to Texas and began earnestly to learn from "the books." He used the knowledge he acquired to become a certified public accountant and a lawyer, self-taught and self-made.

Bill Blakley has been a Democrat all his life. Last year, when his vote spelled the difference between Democrat and Republican control of the U. S. Senate, he upheld the Democrat leadership and prevented a Republican majority from taking over.

In public speeches in various sections of the state, Blakley has declared his belief in a strong constitutional government, founded on state sovereignty and separation of powers in the national government.

As he has said in a previous address:

"I am more than willing to accept any arrangement which a majority of the people and the states of the United States may desire — if they understand the impact on their freedom and if it is adopted by a constitutional method."

Blakley will go on to Lubbock from Brownfield to take part that night in a meeting of South Plains Democrats.

Book of Life

When all has been said and tried about philosophies of life, how to be happy, or how to be a success, mankind unfulfilled elsewhere will still turn back to this book. Here indeed are the words of life. Here is a guide to your footsteps and a lamp for your path. No man needs to stumble through life as if blind; God has provided a light and it shines through this book. Go where the Book is treasured and understood, to the Church, and hear The Word for your life.

Is something wrong with your life — an inner restless dissatisfaction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure. Through the church God has committed the provision and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church relation no one is securely related to God. Everyone should be in the Church and the Church should be in everyone!

Cardinals Claim Third Straight Win To Tie Dodgers For Babe Ruth Top Rung

The Cardinals moved into a first place tie with the Dodgers, claiming their third straight victory by rapping the Pirates 12-5, in Babe Ruth League play Friday.

The Cards, led by the booming bats of Richard Collins and Darwin Cheatham, who hit 2 for 3 and 3 for 3, respectively, scored seven runs in the initial frame to coast to the win. Collins and Cheatham blasted back-to-back homers to complete scoring in the fifth inning.

In the Friday night-cap, Don Simmonds came in to relieve starting pitcher Roy Jones in the second inning to snuff out a Yankee rally and claim credit for the Tiger's 9-6 victory. Tommy McCullough smacked the only extra-base blow of the game when he poked a three-run homer in the sixth inning, providing the winning margin for the Tigers.

The Dodgers continued to cling to first place by battering the Red Sox, 14-1, in Thursday's night-cap.

Doug Mason accounted for four runs for the Dodgers with two homers. He also held the Sox to only one hit, a single by David Chisholm in the second inning.

In the Thursday opener, the Cardinals easily beat the Yankees, 13-2, behind the four-hit pitching of Darwin Cheatham. Sammy Richardson collected three hits in five trips to the plate to lead the Cardinal attack.

AT THE BEAUTY AID CLINIC

Do you go around moaning, "I never can get a pretty tan!" Don't fret, fair lady. You can enjoy a golden, even tan because the secret depends on the way you go about it!

To have a minimum of freckles and to get your skin conditioned to absorb Mr. Sun's rays, take treatments in our EVEN TAN LAMP for a few days before you leave on that vacation.

Working women find it difficult to manage the time for stretching out long hours in the sun. They will be pleased to learn that only five minutes under the automatic lamp is equal to one full hour of outdoor sunshine, and they'll be cool and comfortable, protected from the drying wind and annoying bugs!

Good Lotion Needed
Before you arrive at your vacation Shangri La, your skin will be in condition to swim or to play on the beach, and to sit in that old fishing boat for as long as you like.

without getting a serious burn.

Don't forget to take along a good tanning lotion. Your hair may suffer from blistering heat, so run your oily fingers through your tresses to coat the scalp.

Protect your eyes, for they can burn, too, you know! Good sunshades are a fine investment, and Aziza recently has developed soothing eye drops to take away the irritation in seconds.

Can Play Havoc

Disinfectants used in public pools play havoc with your eyes and your dry skin. Avoid trouble by tucking a bottle of eye drops and a good night cream into your vacation make-up kit. A few drops of bath oil will eliminate that scaly condition which develops often on your body in summer.

Get a healthy tan this season. You will look prettier in your shorts and bathing suit. BEAUTY AID CLINIC stocks all the necessary items to make you look and feel your most attractive on your trip. Happy vacation! (Adv.)

WILL DEVELOP MORE DEPENDABLE DATA

Expanded Soil Fertility Research Program Is Slated Here, At Lubbock And At Halfway; Other Studies Also Scheduled

Plans for expanding the soil fertility research to aid in more efficient and economical use of fertilizers for 18 South Plains counties has been developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

This work will be done in cooperation with the Texas Extension Service, Texas Technological College, High Plains Research Station at Halfway, members of the fertilizers industry, farmers and businessmen of the area.

In the proposed program, basic soil fertility research will be conducted at Lubbock on mixed land soils, at Brownfield on Sandyland soils, and at Halfway on the Hardland soils.

In addition, field trial experiments will be conducted on farms to develop information on special soil problems not represented at the three locations where the basic studies will be conducted.

Information from these fertility studies will be correlated with soil tests from each of the locations and field trials to determine the reliability of present tests and to develop more dependable data for predicting the likely response to fertilizer materials.

The expanded research program has been developed to meet the growing demands for information on the use of fertilizer, legumes and other practices to help maintain and improve the original productivity of the soils in the South Plains.

The relatively large expansion of irrigation within the past 10 years has brought about intensive cropping, heavy production and a general decline in native soil fertility.

The rate of decline has varied widely with the amount of irrigation water used, soil type and cropping practices.

The experimental work on each soil type will be designed to determine the most desirable rates and combinations of nitrogen, phosphorous, potash and trace minerals in relationship to previous land use, irrigation methods, different cropping and management systems.

In addition plant physiology studies on plant nutrient uptake, nutrient balance and trace elements will be conducted under field and greenhouse conditions.

A newly formed South Plains Soil Fertility Committee, representing fertilizer manufacturers, dealers, farmers, businessmen and other industry will serve as an advisory group in the new research work and will help obtain support from various interested groups or parties.

August Balzer of the OK-Tex Chemical Co., Lubbock, is chairman of the committee. Stark Royal, Smith-Doubliss Co., Lubbock, is vice-chairman, and Walter O'Neal, Lubbock, Olin Mathieson Co., is secretary.

The South Plains Committee has appointed four groups to obtain the needed support for the program. Walter O'Neal, Stark Royal and Alfred McWhorter of International Chemicals & Minerals will represent manufacturers. Farmers are represented by Ben Dopson, Lamesa; Kenneth Purtell, Brownfield; Frank Moore, Plainview; Elbert Harp, Abernathy; and Ivan Black, Hereford.

The dealers will be represented by James (Doc) Pohn, Taylor Evans Feed Stores, Amarillo; Grady Goodpasture, Goodpasture Grain & Milling Co., Inc., Brownfield; and August Balzer, OK-Tex Chemicals, Lubbock.

The technical advisory committee is composed of C. E. Fisher, Superintendent of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock; H. Walker, Asst. Agronomist

Use Pesticides With Care Near Animals, Advice Of Scientist

Never use plant pesticides on livestock. This rule for protecting farm animals from chemical poisoning was developed by USDA scientists investigating occasional cases of livestock poisoning by insecticides and herbicides.

Though the same material may be used in preparations designed for use on animals as for plants, the concentration and Harry C. Lane, Associate Plant Physiologist also of the Lubbock Station; Dr. A. W. Young and Dr. Clark Harvey of Texas Technological; W. H. Jones, District Agent of the Texas Extension Service; Dr. Tom Longenecker, High Plains Research Station at Halfway; and George Pfeifferberger of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

Goodpasture is chairman of the Finance Committee and Alfred McWhorter is chairman of Public Relations.

and chemical formulation may be vastly different. The difference can mean a sick animal.

Pesticides are "safe" only when used as intended by the manufacturer and in accordance with his directions, points out C. F. Garner, extension entomologist.

Never over-treat plants to be used as livestock feed, advises Garner. Some highly poisonous insecticides can be used safely because directions call for quantities too small to cause animal poisoning.

Less toxic compounds may be more dangerous where larger than recommended quantities are used. Always follow the manufacturer's directions and never guess at quantities, cautions Garner.

Poison symptoms appearing in animals fed pesticide-treated materials may mask even more serious disorders such as rabies, pseudo-rabies and encephalitis.

Diagnosis is difficult, but animals suffering from pesticide poisoning will usually recover completely under good care, providing the poisoning is not too severe.

Chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticides such as DDT, TDE, methoxychlor, benzene hexachlor, isodrin and endrin act on the central nervous system. Symptoms range from severe depression to violent convulsions or respiratory paralysis.

Organic phosphorus compounds used for plant pest control are closely allied to the nerve gases developed for chemical warfare. They include parathion, methyl parathion, malathion, Difterin, chlorothion and Guthion.

They also affect the nervous system, and animals poison breathe with difficulty, shiver and stiffen.

Chemical weed killers rarely poison livestock, despite claim to the contrary. The danger, according to the US scientists, lies in consumption of freshly treated plants. This can be avoided by removing livestock from treated area for one or two weeks.

Arsenical compounds are well established as poisons but they are less frequently used than formerly. The common weed-killers 2, 4-D and 2, 4, 5-T are much less toxic to animals.

THE AMERICAN WAY

NO MORE SPECIAL PRIVILEGES
By GEORGE PECK

From time to time in this column it has been contended that the two-party system of government, responsible in large degree for the great progress made by the United States of America, is slowly but surely withering on the vine. Our two major parties have fallen under the control of factions that are moving this nation slowly but surely to a "Democracy," (which the Founding Fathers erected safeguards to prevent) from the "Republicanism" (which the Founding Fathers so wisely gave us).

As a result of this unhealthy similarity of the two major parties, the American citizen who believes in the letter and spirit of our great American Constitution might just as well go fishing on election days.

Now comes a letter from my good friend, Ralph Courtney, Threefold Farm, Spring Valley, New York, in which he presents a new idea (new to me, at any rate) for restoring a "choice" on election days for voters who would like to have what is left of our "Republicanism" and restore those parts of it that have been whittled away by those in control of the Democrat and Republican parties. No better service can be rendered the readers of this column than to pass on herein the Ralph Courtney letter. From here to the end of this piece this letter is quoted:

In this newly founded American Republic, there were to be no special privileges. The privileged status of the aristocrats the face of American agriculture. But in the long run, it was the American farmer, himself, who completed the job.

farming has been phenomenal.

In 1939, when World War II broke out in Europe, American farmers produced a 2½-billion bushel corn crop on 88 million acres. Last year, they produced 32 per cent more corn on 17 per cent less land. Since 1939, the national wheat crop has risen from 740 to 940 million bushels, but harvested acres have gone down from 52½ to 43½ million. Compared with 1939, farmers last year reduced cotton acreage by 45 per cent, and still produced 95 per cent as much cotton.

The story is the same with livestock. In 1956, Dairymen had nearly 3 million fewer cows than in 1940, but each cow produced two-thirds of a ton more milk. For every two eggs a hen laid in 1940, her descendant is laying about three today. Nearly 100 million cattle and horses grazed the same acreage that in 1940 supported only 83 million head.

A pig crop of 90 million in 1956 compares with only 80 million produced on the same farm in 1940.

All told, our farmers today are producing 40 per cent more from about the same acreage they had in 1939.

Figures on manpower required to do the job also are significant. In World War I, our farm commodities were produced by 13½ million workers; in World War II by 10½ million, and today by only 7½ million.

The efforts of our agricultural scientists underlie much of this spectacular gain. Their research has practically changed

Lone Star Agriculture

By JOHN C. WHITE
Texas Commissioner
Of Agriculture

Last summer, Nikita Khrushchev told Americans via a television interview that Communism would eventually win its contest with Capitalism.

The Russian leader was not threatening a hot war. Instead, he based his prediction on the claim that the Soviet Union would in five years outstrip the United States in the per-capita production of meat, milk, and butter plus other agricultural products.

In a word, he was reminding us that a nation is only as strong as its agriculture. But while Russia still appears to have an edge in "Sputniks", that nation is far behind us in farming methods — yet is determined to catch up.

Fortunately, we are not lagging in our scientific achievements in agriculture. The Russians will have quite a way to go if they catch us because of our own progress in

FROM NUTRITIONAL RAGS TO RICHES

By Dr. E. M. Giddow
Director, Friskies Research Kennels

A dog's dinner some thousands of years ago was a matter of pot luck. If he caught game, he devoured the whole animal—even fur and feathers. While we may not think much of such a meal, from a nutritional standpoint it was tops and provided the dog with all the proteins, vitamins and minerals he needed.

When dog became domesticated, meals were still a pot-luck matter. He got leftovers from his master's table. Since families were large, meat plentiful, and storing food difficult from one day to the next, he still ate fairly well-balanced meals.

Then came the nutritional depression for dogs. Families shrank in size. Meat production, distribution and marketing became highly specialized industries. Science proved the food value of organ meats for humans which brought an end to the happy days when butchers said, "I'll just throw in the liver, heart and kidney for Towser." The refrigerator cut into the dog's traditional share even further.

Luckily for the canines of the country, the manufacture of prepared dog food was initiated in time to rescue them from this nutritional depression. And as science gleaned greater insight into the nutritional needs of dogs, prepared dog foods improved until, today, they contain everything essential to maintaining your pet in the peak of condition. Ironically, the top grades of commercially-prepared dog foods provide practically the same nutrients that the dog got when he was bagging his own dinner, with some extra pluses added, thereby completing the dog's nutritional cycle—from riches, to rags, to riches.

Texas Salvation Army Has New Leader

The Salvation Army in Texas will have a new commander, effective Thursday; the first change in top command in 10 years.

New commander will be Lt. Col. Ernest Pickering, commander for the last three years of the Virginia-Southern West Virginia Division.

W. Graham Smith of 1202 East Cardwell, Terry County Service Unit chairman, said Friday that Pickering would succeed Lt. Col. John A. Morrison.

Smith explained that the orders retiring Morrison and appointing Pickering included their wives, who hold equal rank and fill important executive positions.

In the new assignment, Col. Pickering and his wife are returning to Texas and to Dallas after an absence of 14½ years. Both previously had filled two assignments in the Texas Division.

By coincidence, Col. Pickering succeeded Morrison when he became Divisional Secretary in 1941, and he will succeed Col. Morrison once more.

"We're in the news!"

"You know, Andy, that our local Chamber of Commerce is a hive of activity. It's one of the stronger Chambers, with a group of enthusiastic members who give it many hours of their time.

"Here's why our town is making the headlines: Last year we brought three new industries to town and helped arrange a zoning change which enabled one of our old, established firms to double its productive space. We staged a 'Clean-up, Paint-up' month which brightened what used to be the grim and grimy South End of town. Our Congressional Action Committee waged a Letters-to-Congress campaign which clarified our views on one of the big issues both for our congressman and ourselves. Finally, we waged a membership drive which nearly doubled our strength—good, solid citizens who promptly got busy on our various committees.

"We entered one of the nationally recognized awards contests sponsored by the National Chamber and won it; and this, Andy, gave our town nationwide publicity. Enthusiasm breeds more enthusiasm, especially when it's recognized.

"By the way, I'm working on the new-member drive. Why not join our local Chamber of Commerce and help us continue 'the good work.'"

—Happens Only Once a Year...But This Day Is Dad's Day in Terry!—

FATHER AND SON?—Father's Day just might be the occasion for putting things right between the adamant umpire and the irate player shown here. However, the situation could be ticklish, because Umpire Burton Hackney is father of Player Jimmy Hackney, both participating this year in Babe Ruth League activities. Actually, they are an ideal father-son team, and live at 803 East Broadway.

NO FAIR PEEKING—Brenda, on chair, and Lynda McMenamy, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McMenamy of 1116 Tahoka Road, want to surprise their father, seated, with his Father's Day present.

IN RARE ROLE—Seated is Paul Ward of 1218 East Broadway, known by many for his efforts on the behalf of youth. Today he's in the rare role of being a direct recipient of "something" from his trio of sons, who are, from left, James, Ronnie and Granville. After all, it is Father's Day.

DAY OF CHANGE—Father's Day brings a few welcome changes — for the day — to Henry Fugitt, center, watching as son George takes up the chore of mowing their lawn at 1301 East Broadway. Looking on is Mrs. Fugitt's father, George Owen.

HIS PRIVILEGE — On this Father's Day, T. J. Blankenship mulls over the four score and 12 years of his life, taking it easy in his home at 103 East Story. Born Dec. 1, 1865, in Kansas, Blankenship moved to Tahoka in 1906, to Yoakum County in 1917, where he ranched until retirement in 1936, the year he moved to Brownfield. Blankenship's comment this Father's Day: "Mama and I reared eight children, until they were grown and married. Seven of them still are living, and I can't count all my grandchildren — over 30. I think I have 27 great grandchildren."

IN HOME OF SISTER

Miss Peacock Exchanges Vows With Lloyd Wilson

Miss Ann Peacock of 506 Park Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Peacock of Augusta, and Lloyd Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wilson of Route 5, were married at 7 p.m. June 3, in the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Burdine Looney of 566 Park Lane.

The Rev. A. J. Franks, pastor of Northside Baptist Church, read the marriage vows in a setting of gladiolus and greenery. Mrs. Edwin Whitehead was matron of honor and Looney was best man.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of pink lace over tulle. The empire waist line and neck were outlined in satin. Her tiara of seed pearls held a shoulder length veil. Lace mitts completed her dress and she carried a white carnation bouquet with white streamers atop a white Bible.

Honeymoon On Coast
Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held. The table was covered with a lace cloth with the three-tiered wedding cake as focal point. Wedding bells hung over the miniature bride and bridegroom, which topped the cake.

Mrs. Wilson graduated from Brownfield High School in May. He is a graduate of Union High School and took a course in radio and TV at Draughon's Business College of Lubbock.

FRIENDSHIP IS THE BEST ASSET

By Jim Bayless

I suppose at least ten thousand books have been written on the subject of friendship — man's humanity to man. And that brings up the old question "What is a friend?"

The best definition I ever heard of a friend is this: It's someone who knows all your faults and still loves you or respects you. I like that. It covers just about everything.

In this town there are a lot of people whom I consider my good friends. Most of them, I suspect, know that being a human I am not perfect. But they still keep on liking me and a great many of them keep on coming in here and buying jewelry from me.

During the years that I have conducted this jewelry store I have tried faithfully to give you folks honest value for every penny you spend here. I have tried sincerely to stock and display those things which will do the most for you and your family as far as jewelry goes.

In other words, I have tried to win friends and hold them. And I believe the friendship folks have for this store is by all odds the best asset we have. It's essentially ours — and I can tell you that we guard it with all our might. Come in, browse around. I like to talk to folks whether they buy or not. BAYLESS JEWELRY, 507 W. Main, Phone 2292.

WEDDING SOJOURN IN MEXICO — State Rep. and Mrs. Robert L. Bowers Jr., of 406 East Tate, admire the famous globe in the Bamer Hotel lobby at Mexico City, where they are staying after their marriage June 2 in Lubbock. Other points of interest on the wedding trip have been the Aztec pyramids, University City, Chapultepec and the resort city of Acapulco. The couple plans to return home June 20. He is representative of the 98th District.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, D. D., Commissioner of Health.

With the coming of the atomic age and all of its benefits to mankind, also comes new problems and hazards.

All of us recognize the hazard faced from enemy action in dispersing radio-active contaminants over wide areas, and with continuing information released by various authorities, everyone is coming to realize the many other dangers of excessive radiation.

Through continuous educational activities the State Department of Health is in the forefront in safeguarding Texas citizens against the dangers of careless and unnecessary use of isotopes, x-rays and other radioactive substances.

The cooperation on the part of industrial and medical users in the employment of proper procedures and safety devices has been commendable.

The department does not attempt to regulate the use of x-rays used in the healing arts. But improvements in radiological techniques in the use of x-ray equipment, installation of cones, filters, shields, more sensitive films, accurate focusing, and shorter exposure time has decreased the amount of radiation to both the examiner and the examinee. The indiscriminate use of shoe-fitting fluoroscope also has been controlled.

There also is a diminishing need for use of x-rays in area-wide mass surveys, formerly justified when tuberculosis was more widely prevalent. Today such surveys are directed only to exposed groups or to those who have been screened previously through the use of tuberculin tests.

However, this watchful attitude does not mean that all radiation should be avoided. The State Department of Health continues to publicize the fact that anyone who hesitates to accept diagnostic or therapeutic x-rays properly recommended by a qualified physician needlessly is jeopardizing his health without justification.

Diagnostic x-rays, the use of radioactive iodine in thyroid studies, fluoroscopy for gastric disorders, radioactive sodium for heart studies, and the use of radioactive phosphorus in the treatment of blood cancer are valuable aids which have reduced suffering and contributed to the study and treat-

Farm Income Shows Increase For First Three Months of '58

The annual rate of farm operators' realized net income rose sharply to about $13 billion in the first quarter of 1958, compared with a rate of $11.7 billion in the same quarter of 1957.

This reflected substantially higher price received by farmers for beef cattle, hogs, eggs, potatoes and other vegetables, for which supplies were reduced from a year ago, points out A. B. Wooten, extension economist.

Prices of farm products are running well above last year and are expected to average higher for the year than in 1957, says Wooten. Prospects indicate that supplies of some products will increase, notably vegetables, hogs, fed cattle, and eggs, so, current levels of prices and incomes may move toward the levels of 1957.

But even so, farm operators' realized net income in 1958 is expected to be from 5 to 10 percent above the $11 1/2 billion in 1957.

This increase is the opposite of last year's situation, he points out. Realized net income to all farm operators was lower last year than the year before, though income per person on farms was about $96 higher last year than in 1956.

The increase in income per person last year was due to the fact that there were about eight per cent fewer people on farms, leaving fewer persons among whom the agricultural income was divided, he adds.

More and more farm people are supplementing their incomes with off-farm employment, notes Wooten. In recent years the ratio of income from non-farm sources, compared to farm sources, has been about one to two.

This means that farm people are making $1 in non-farm jobs for each $2 they make on the farm. The future level of income per person on farms may depend a great deal more on income from these non-farm sources.

Wheat Referendum Is Scheduled Here On June 20; Concerns 1959 Crop Quota

Texas wheat farmers will help make an important decision when they vote June 20 in the national wheat marketing quota referendum, Searcy M. Ferguson, chairman, State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today.

If at least two-thirds of the growers who vote in the referendum approve quotas for the 1959 crop, Ferguson explained, the 1959 wheat program will include acreage allotments, marketing quotas (with penalties on "excess" wheat) and price supports at a minimum national average of $1.81 per bushel, or 75 per cent of parity.

If the quotas are not approved by at least two-thirds of those voting, there will be no marketing quotas or penalties, but allotments will remain in effect as a means of determining eligibility for price support.

The price-support rate would be about $1.20 per bushel, or 50 per cent of parity, as provided by law.

Chairman Ferguson pointed out that wheat marketing quotas and acreage allotments operate only in commercial wheat States—those with allotments of more than 25,000 acres. Texas has an allotment of 4,099,094 acres for the 1959 wheat crop.

Growers eligible to vote in the referendum are those who will be affected by the wheat quotas if they become effective.

Thus, farmers who will have 15 acres or less of wheat for harvest as grain in 1959 and those who are taking part in the 1958 feed wheat program are not eligible to cast ballots in the 1959 wheat quota referendum on June 20.

Time...and a Woman

Life for the Senorita in Spain during the 18th and 19th Centuries was quiet and dull — a young girl's time was spent in extensive and intricate toilettes, primping and fussing with her clothes, face and hair. Her infrequent appearances at social activities were her only pleasure, and then she was accompanied by a dog.

The 20th Century changed a woman's life. When women were granted suffrage rights in the U. S. they not only voted, but entered the business and professional world, engaged actively in politics and even formed a section of the Army. Their lives suddenly became full, greatly increasing demands on their time.

Today — it's a woman's world as much as a man's. With social, business and charity activities the busy woman who is pressed for time can still remain feminine and lovely. With a minimum of effort, new Speed-Bath Lilt home permanent gives a long-lasting hairdo in the least possible time. Milady's crowning glory with its home permanent foundation can adapt easily to the latest in hair fashions.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

Need some weights for your throw lines or trot lines? If you'd like to have some extra weights, for free—even an anchor or two, maybe—then here's a tip. Next time you see a new home going up, bricks laid, or concrete being poured—drop in for a visit. Ask the boys to let you have the left-over "mud".

Then, here's what you do with it. Get some old syrup buckets, paint buckets, or what have you—anything from gallon size on down, that will hold concrete. Next, find some old metal clothes hangers and cut them into strips of varying lengths—depending on your needs. Bend the wire in the middle to make a loop. Take the two loose ends and twist the wires around each other a few times, about two or three inches below the loop. Then fan out the loose ends at right angles to the loop. This should give you a piece of wire shaped like a "T" with a loop in the top end.

Now, strike the cross-bar part of the inverted "T" into an empty can and pour in the cement. Adjust the "loop" to a sufficient height above the concrete so that there will be ample room in "the eye" for whatever size rope you plan to use. Let the "mud" sit overnight. In the morning you'll have a homemade weight—or anchor, depending on its size—made of solid concrete, and at the cost of but a little time. Using smaller cans you can make whatever size weight you'd like for your throw line, or trot line. Larger cans make excellent weights for anchoring the boat while fishing, or beaching. If the can is so large that a coat hanger may be too light to withstand the weight of the concrete, use an abandoned piece of heavy, galvanized clothes line, or a small chain. Eventually the can will rust away. But you'll still have your anchor of poured concrete just as long as your wire "loop" remains intact. So, select as strong a wire for that purpose as you can find—and one that is as rust-resistant as possible.

If you want to get fancy with your home-made anchors here's something else you can do. Punch two holes in the side of the bucket, directly across from each other and some two inches from the bottom. Through these holes insert a piece of iron rod, such as is used to reinforce concrete. Let this rod extend out from the sides of the can about three or four inches.

Next, punch two more holes on opposite sides of each other, but at right angles to the first rod and an inch or so above it.

Then place the second rod through the can. This gives you two iron rods at right angles to each other and only a short distance apart. Now when you pour in the concrete you will have an anchor with four prongs extending outward. So, when you drop anchor and the boat begins to move with the wind or the current—and the anchor tips over—the prongs "dig in" and hold the boat in position.

DEAD MINNOW BAIT—Do you throw away your dead minnows? Most fishermen just toss out dead minnows that fail to survive in the old minnow bucket. However, we've encountered a few old-timers of late who report some mighty good catches of catfish, with dead minnows as their bait. Their method is to use a leader, 24 inches or so long, with a lead shot where line and leader join. They use shot of just enough weight to enable them to cast a good distance into deep water and pull the line to the bottom fairly fast.

The procedure is to cast to a likely spot and just sit back and relax for a while. If they haven't had a strike after five or ten minutes they reel in slowly and take a look at the bait, just to see what's going on down there. Next cast is made in another area. They say the biggest strikes come when things are real quiet. But they do get an occasional strike while reeling in. Catfish in the first instance; bass in the second. And with dead-minnow bait.

TIPS BOOKLET—A postcard to Airex Corporation, 411 Fourth Avenue, New York 16, N.Y. will bring you an interesting 24-page, multi-colored booklet. Just ask for their "Tips and Tackle" booklet. It's free.

For example: To clean your salt water reel Airex suggests "Add half a cup of vinegar to a pail of water and slosh the reel well."

To surf fishermen they say "An empty milk bottle is a valuable accessory on the beach. Bury it in the sand. It makes an ideal rod rest while you are baiting your hook. And it protects your reel from sand and grit."

Fresh water spin fishermen are given several pages of excellent hints for better fishing.

LICENSE—Many tourists in Texas this year are surprised to find that they can buy a fishing license for $2.15 which will permit them to fish in either fresh or salt water. This is the same license fee paid by Texans who fish outside their home counties and/or use a rod with a winding device.

RESIDENT TRANSFERRED—Mrs. Dorothy McAdoo of 219 West Lake has been transferred to Denver City by the Honolulu Oil Company. She and her daughter, Joanne, are moving to a company camp near Denver City.

Port Aransas Tourist Bureau, Port Aransas, Texas.

Port Aransas, not too far from Corpus, advertises that fish bite there every day. Norma Skinner is ready to prove it with pictures and literature. She'll also send you a list of boat owners, lodging accommodations and other fishing facts about the Port Aransas area.

NEW ORGANIZATION—A national varmint caller's association now is being organized in Texas. Headquarters will be in Lubbock, where W. G. McMillan Sr., nationally known big game hunter, is spearheading the movement. Numerous events are promised by this group, which uses wild callers to get predators within shooting range.

Coach Is Signed At Meadow; Teacher Resigns HE Position

At a recent meeting of the Meadow School Board, Mrs. Henry Williamson's resignation was accepted, leaving two vacancies in the Meadow School system.

Soil Scientist Explains Role of Earth's Profiles

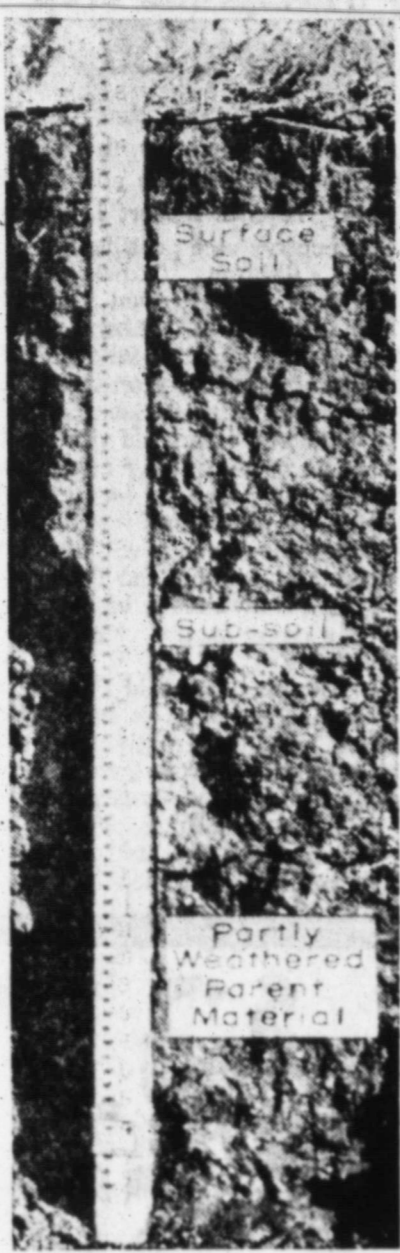

By MARVIN WHITMIRE
Brownfield SCS Soil Scientist
(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article by Marvin Whitmire discusses the various soil profiles and their relative importance to growth of crops to feed world population.)

Soil is continuous over the land surface of the earth, except for the steep and rugged mountain peaks and the lands of continuous ice and snow. Soil is related to the earth much as the rind is related to an orange; but, this rind of the earth is far less uniform than the rind of an orange. It is deep in some places and shallow in others. It may be red or it may be black. It may be sand or it may be clay.

The soil mantle of the earth is far from uniform, but all soils have some common characteristics. Be they deep or shallow, red or black, sand or clay, soils are the links between the rock core of the earth and the living things on the surface. Soils are the footholds for the plants we grow and therein lies the main reason for our interest in soil. Every soil consists in varying proportions of mineral and organic matter, water and air. Every soil occupies space. As a small segment of the earth, it extends down into the planet as well as over its surface. Soils, therefore, have in common length, breadth, and depth.

Every soil has a profile which is a succession of layers in a vertical section down into loose, weathered rock. The nature of the soil profile has a lot to do with the growth of roots, the storage of moisture, and the supplies of plant nutrients. The profile, also, is basic to scientific studies of soils. The profile carries within itself a record of its history for those who learn to read it. A soil profile consists of two or more layers lying one below the other and parallel to the land surface. The layers are known as horizons. The horizons differ in one or more properties, such as color, texture and structure. Soil horizons may be thick or thin — varying in thickness from a few inches to several feet. Generally they merge with one another and lack sharp boundaries.

Most soil profiles include three, master horizons, identified as the topsoil, subsoil and parent material. Some soils lack a subsoil and are said to have a topsoil-subsoil horizon. The combined topsoil and subsoil horizons are the genetic soil, sometimes called the "true soil." Together, they form the major part of a profile.

All the master horizons may be subdivided in the scientific study of soils. Such subdivisions are identified by proper letter designations for the master horizons plus a subscript number or letter. The subdivisions of master horizons provide clues to the processes of soil formation and are important to the use and management of soils.

The uppermost layer in the soil profile is called the surface soil. It is the part of the soil in which life is most abundant in such forms as plant roots, bacteria, fungi, small animals and insects. It is therefore the part in which organic matter is most plentiful.

Because it lies at the surface, this horizon is also the part of the soil that is exposed, to the erosive forces of both wind and water. Hence, it normally

REACTION TIME NOT CONSIDERED Impossible To Stop Car On A Dime When Traveling Fast, Say Experts

Everyone knows you can't stop a car on a dime.

But do you realize just exactly how far your car does travel before it can be stopped?

"It's a lot further than you may think," the National Safety Council says.

Tests show it takes the average driver, under most conditions, about three-fourths of a second to react to an emergency and hit his brakes.

At 15 m.p.h., in the time it takes to react, you've already traveled at least 17 feet — theoretically, over three six-foot-tall men.

It takes another 14 feet — about two more six-footers — to bring your car to a halt.

is leached or blown more than are the deeper horizons. Most surface horizons have lost soluble substances and finer lighter soil and organic particles.

The subsoil horizon lies immediately beneath the surface horizon.

Lying between the surface soil horizon and the horizon of parent material, it resembles to some extent the characteristics of both. Color of this horizon is often intermediate to the colors of either of the adjoining horizons. It is frequently higher in clay than either of the other two horizons.

It has a more defined structure which is usually combined with greater firmness. Living organisms are fewer than in the surface horizon but more abundant than in the parent material horizon.

The horizon of parent material is the deepest of the three major horizons. It consists of the upper part of the loose and partly decayed rock beneath the surface soil and subsoil horizons. The rock material in the horizon is of the same kind as that which now forms the bulk of the soil above it.

This is the reason therefore why the horizon is called the parent material horizon of soils. The horizon of parent material has less living matter than overlying ones and is therefore lower in organic matter. It is commonly lighter in color than the surface and subsoil horizons. The lower horizon may consist of up to 70% by volume of white to pinkish white caliche.

The kinds and arrangement of horizons in a profile are a record of what has happened to that soil since it began to form. This history has meaning to the fertility, tilth and productivity of soils for plants useful to mankind.

That's a total of five six-footers you've run over — and at only 15 m.p.h.

Most motorists, though, don't drive quite that slow. Let's assume you usually whiz along at, say, 60 m.p.h. A pretty reasonable speed, you'd say.

Keep your eyes on the road and reach for a cigarette lighter. Put the cigarette in your mouth, glance down and flick the lighter.

That flick and initial puff on the cigarette took about two seconds. During that time, you traveled at least 176 feet — more than half the distance of a football field.

If you saw an accident situation ahead after looking up and hit the brakes immediately, before you could stop your car would have traveled 366 feet further — equal to another football field, and then some.

Your trouble may not be lighting cigarettes. But everyone's distracted sometime or other by something in the car. Best protection is to be alert and to hold down your speed so if you do face a situation, you'll have time to stop safely.

If you do find yourself facing an emergency, you'll be better able to stop in time if your tires and brakes are in good condition. An emergency is no time for added problems.

'Merry Andrew' To Give Kaye A Firmer Grip On Admirers

Danny Kaye should have an even firmer grip on his legion of admirers with his latest role in "Merry Andrew," produced for M-G-M by Sol. C. Siegel, who has given the screen such hits as "High Society" and "Les Girls."

"Merry Andrew" can be seen Tuesday and Wednesday at The Regal.

A merry comedy with songs, "Merry Andrew" has one of the most colorful and dazzling circus backgrounds ever created for a film, with more than a third of the action taking place under the Big Top.

Danny, as a teacher in a school for boys in rural England, becomes involved with the circus — and with Pier Angeli, niece of the owner — finds himself in the role of a clown.

From the moment he falls through an excavation into a lion's ring to the story's frenzied finale, in which he finds himself flying through the air as a terrified member of a thrill act, "Merry Andrew" supplies an unhalting series of laughs.

FAREWELL TO LEGS — George Gobel is torn between devotion and advertising as he leaves his wife, Diana Dors, in this scene from RKO's furiously funny comedy, "I Married a Woman," in which the two share starring honors with co-star Adolph Menjou, who portrays Gobel's boss. It's to be seen today, Monday at The Regal.

NOW IS PLANTING TIME

Sesame Becoming Widespread Crop On High Plains, According to TSG

(Special to the NEWS)
PARIS—It's planting time for Sesame, the easy to grow, weather-resistant crop which last year sometimes outdistanced cotton as a money-maker on the High Plains and on the Texas Blacklands.

"We now have six years of growing experience for Sesame which indicates that the best planting time for the crop is in the period from now to June 15," reports Robert L. Parker, executive vice president of Texas Sesame Growers, Inc.

"Most experienced growers plant between May 10 and June 1, usually following the planting of cotton with the planting of their Sesame."

Parker estimated that on the basis of marketing agreements already made by farmers with his organization, between 15,000 and 20,000 acres will be planted to Sesame in Texas this year — with the largest acreage being on the irrigated High Plains.

During 1957, said Parker, Sesame continued to make gains as an increasingly important crop in the Southwest. Where the unseasonal weather lowered the quality of cotton and maize, the quality of Sesame remained good. Where the profits on cotton and maize lagged, the price of Sesame remained high. The harvest of approximately 7,000,000 pounds of seed brought the farmers of Texas a total of $717,000 — an average of 10.43 cents per pound.

Parker said Sesame is a relatively easy crop to plant, grow and harvest. The only equipment needed to plant Sesame in addition to standard planting equipment is a vegetable seed planter box. He suggested a planting rate of one pound per acre for dryland and two pounds per acre for irrigated land. Planting should be from one to two inches deep.

Regarding preparation and planting, Parker commented: "Plant Sesame on fertile, well drained land. Clean the seed-bed before planting. Plant after the soil is warm — and after cotton is planted."

Market prospects, both domestic and foreign, continue good Parker said. A larger tonnage than ever before is predicted for 1958, and the forecast is for a price range of 9½ to 10½ cents per pound for No. 1 quality seed.
