HUB CAP ENGRAVING PROGRAM INITIATED

CURRENTLY IN EFFECT IN BROWNFIELD; TO PROTECT PROPERTY, LIVES

New State Law Now Restricting Fireworks

With Independence Day just around the corner, Chief James Tippit this week reminded Brownfield residents a new state law will be enforced this year in addition to the city ordinance governing the use and sale of fireworks.

The bill makes it illegal to throw fireworks from or toward a vehicle, or to explode them within 600 feet of any church, hospital, asylum or public school. It also is unlawful to use fireworks within 100 feet of a stand where they are sold.

Fireworks may not be sold to children under 10, nor to anyone intoxicated or considered irresponsible, according to the new law.

All merchandise must be kept where it may not be touched by anyone other than employees of the retailer. The law also specifies that fireworks cannot be kept behind a glass window where sunlight can reach them, and they cannot be sold in a store that handles other flammable materials.

RE: BILL BLAKLEY

Letter For The Editor

Editor, Brownfield NEWS: This writer, as well as most Democrats I have talked to, was not in the least surprised when we picked up the Brownfield NEWS under dateline of June 22, 1958, and read your front page editorial of "sincere endorsement" of William A. (Bill) Blakley for the U.S. Senate.

In fact I (and/or we) had predicted that your "sheet" would, at the first opportunity, rally to the support of any Shiverat-Republican that little Allan Shivers and Jake Pickle could induce to be a candidate. "Chip Off Block" And so, Bill Blakley, being a chip off the old block of scandal and corruption of the past — and present — governor's administration, and remembering how religiously and ardently the NEWS supported that administration of scandal and corruption, it came as no surprise to find your "sheet" lined up with Bill Blakley, or anyone else that they (Allen and Jake) saw fit to pick for you. Also, Mr. Editor, they picked him and not "Destiny," as you headlined your editorial.

Or, WAS it your editorial? Let's assume that it was if you want the credit. But it was interesting to note that the same article, word for word, appeared in some other area papers who talk Democrat but vote Republican, and we just wondered if Jake Pickle had anything to do with it.

He, as you will remember, was the author, architect and designer of Mr. Shivers' campaign of smear, slander and hate, and who is now traveling with Bill Blakley and is still trying to cover up the scandal and corruption of the past administration.

It is also interesting to note, Mr. Editor, that apropos to the fact that your present senator has all the virtues you claim for your Man of Destiny and who has worked tirelessly for six years exposing the corruption and scandal Texas has been subjected to at the hands of the Austin political machine and who has for these six years fought desperately to return our state government to the people, you and I, yet you have never had one word of praise and encouragement for him. Could it be that it is because he is a Democrat and not a Republican?

Let me say in closing that I think I would like and admire Bill Blakley as a man. But is impossible for me to have so vivid an imagination to think that some of the political stuff that is smeared all over the gang he runs with hasn't rubbed off on Bill.

What I am trying to say, Mr. Editor, is that the people of Terry County and of Texas have had it and want no more. You have had it and seem to want some more.

Sincerely and Democratically yours,

BY BROWNFIELD BANKER

Strong Protest Against Allotted Milo Is Given

(Special to the NEWS) ABILENE, June 26 — A strongly worded verbal protest against a movement now afoot to allot milo acreage was made here today by a Brownfield banker.

Speaking was Dennis Q. Lilly of First National Bank at Brownfield, who appeared before members of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee.

Said Lilly: "There are those of us who see economic ruin for farmers on the South Plains if legislation controlling milo acreage ever is passed. "As things stand now, our farmers can depend on grain sorghum to replace any cotton acreage lost to allotments or to weather. Milo is the idea crop for us in Terry County because it also is a good weapon against wind and water erosion.

"If our farmers lose cotton crops, they always can fall back on the milo because of its later planting date. If such is the case, the farmer can gear his operations and still show a profit with milo." The WTCC committee is not acreage, but being the group advocating allotted sorghum it is, it naturally is approached on all matters affecting agriculture.

Lilly, vice president and agriculture advisor of his bank, also is president of Brownfield Chamber of Commerce. He was accompanied by the chamber's manager, Joe Satterwhite.

Today's session of the committee was, more or less, merely a two-hour review of its past efforts and a brief look at its up-coming program of work. Presiding was its chairman, Jack Porter of Wichita Falls National Bank, who disclosed that Lilly had been nominated to be a director of the West Texas chamber for 1958-59. Election of new directors will be in the near future.

Assisting Porter was Loyal Walker of Abilene, director of the chamber's Agriculture Department. Walker, discussing briefly the farm labor situation (bracero program), described it as being in "a heck of a mess."

He held out no hope that the bracero program might improve very much in the future, saying, however, that the problem was being tackled continuously on all sides.

Not able to be present today was Al Muldrow of Brownfield, one of the advisory committee members working with the U. S. Labor Department on the bracero program.

Speaking for Muldrow was his alternate, S. N. Reed, a Knox City farmer and gin-ner, who also assured the group that the bracero problem was being studied every day.

Farmers in Struggle To Save the Young Crops

By CHARLIE MAPLE NEWS Staff Writer

While many areas of West Texas watched potential bumper crops prematurely harvested by hail this week, Terry farmers fought to save their crops from high winds and blowing sand.

The week's gale-like winds caused extensive damage throughout most of the county, blasting young cotton and feed and standing in late crops.

Wilbur Bailey, who farms 2 miles southeast of Tokio, reports the sand-laden winds blew out much of his feed and heavily damaged cotton. On the other side of Terry, J. V. Riley, who farms 12 miles northeast of here, said his cotton was heavily damaged.

Similar reports were turned in to agriculture officials from most sections of the county. Recent weather is a contrast to 1957's mid-summer hail and thunderstorm activity here.

Though damage was severe in some cases, Terry farmers felt they were "lucky" to have escaped hail storms that destroyed crops and damaged buildings in counties north and east of here.

To combat blowing sand, many Terry farmers moved in to their fields with sand-fighting equipment to hold damage to a minimum.

Joe Sullivan, service agent for Terry County Farm Bureau, said, "It will take a good rain to bring out feed or cotton planted within the last two weeks. Moisture also is needed to break down the crust that has formed."

He noted that hail losses have been considerably below last year, when heavy damage was registered here. "We have had only 26 claims from the hails we received May 6, 15 and 21," he said. "Most of these claims were on light damage."

Agriculture officials revealed that very little replanting has been caused by weather this year. However, they said poor quality seed has caused many farmers to replant because of germination.

"I have heard reports that some uncertified seeds, claiming 85 per cent germination, seldom came up to a reasonable stand," revealed Sullivan. "This year it certainly paid to use only tested certified seed."

Though most of the feed crop is up to a stand, some Terry farmers still are planting after being held out of the field by uncertain weather conditions. As a result, feed crops range

Service Is Free; Time Is July 26; Savings Are Seen

Major efforts currently are under way in Brownfield to halt the theft of car hub caps and other accessories.

The program is quite simple in design: Engrave the last four digits of the car's serial number on the hub caps.

The project at present time is being initiated by Jack Bailey Chevrolet and a Brownfield Council 825, United Commercial Travelers of America.

Said Johnnie Harrison, Senior Councilor of the Brownfield Council: "We're embarking on a nonprofit venture in which the only money to be made is that saved in automotive insurance premiums."

Harrison explained that all Brownfield car dealers and all insurance firms were being invited to participate in the program. Bailey Chevrolet already is engraving the hub caps of all new cars sold.

July 26, all day of a Saturday, has been scheduled for the "engraving program."

The service is absolutely free, and automotive dealers and law enforcement groups in Terry are urging that residents take advantage of the project.

Time to engrave five hub caps will be about five minutes. Place on east side of 100-block on South Fourth, which is immediately in front of Bailey Chevrolet Body and Paint Shop. Entry on the street should be made from Broadway. Brownfield police will assist in channeling traffic.

The engraved numerals on the caps — and spotlights, if desired — will be about one-eighth of an inch tall, and will not devalue the car in any way.

The program is statewide, being pushed for the past several months by The Automotive Dealers Association of Texas.

Only Friday a week ago did a special agent for Motors Insurance Corporation, Gilbert Ford of Lubbock, speak to a gathering of the Brownfield Council concerning the project.

Said Ford: "The theft of auto accessories in all towns is alarming. The pathetic situation is that after the theft of these items some of the thieves go on to steal larger items, and then they really are on the road to crime."

"In Brownfield, police records reveal the theft of 40 wheel covers valued at $365 from Jan. 1 of this year through May 31. How much more was stolen—radios, spotlights, mirrors — and was not reported to police but was replaced by insurance companies is not known."

Underground Irrigation Systems Gaining in Use

OF THE SPRINKLER TYPE

Installation of underground sprinkler systems, part of the Great Plains Conservation Program, picked up steam here this week when James Thurman became the second Terry farmer to begin laying pipe.

Thurman, who farms 3 miles southeast of here, is installing 4,275 feet of steel pipe that will be adequate to irrigate his 320-acre farm.

The project, one of six approved here under the GPC program, was initiated on a cost-sharing basis with the federal government.

Won't Reduce Aid

Henry Williamson, head of Terry Soil Conservation Service work unit, said the project will not affect Thurman's participation in other Agriculture Conservation Program practices. "It will not reduce any aid he might receive for other conservation measures under ACP," he said.

Williamson pointed out the cost-sharing program enables the farmer to start his irrigation program immediately without extending it

The Dodgers pounded out two narrow victories to squeeze the Cardinals out of first place, highlighting Babe Ruth League action Thursday and Friday. The double win, 12-11 over the Cards and 14-13 over the Tigers, gave the front-runners a one-half game lead with six games left on the schedule. The Cardinals took a double loss to slip to second spot with a 7-3 record. Yankee pitcher Woody Harbin stilled the bats of the hard-hitting Cards with only one hit Friday while his mates collected eight hits, including two homers, and an 8-0 victory. Kenny Snider blasted a grand slam-homer in the first frame to provide the Yanks with a lead that never was threatened. Leroy Perkins added another four-master in the third inning. In posting the win, Harbin struck out 13 batters and walked five. The Dodgers took the loop lead in the Friday opener by edging the Tigers, 14-13, despite a one-hit pitching job by Sammy Hackney and Charlie Cook of the losers. Looses on Overthrow A single by first baseman Teddy Howell was the only safe hit collected by the Dodgers. However, 14 walks and four errors by Tiger fielders provided the victory margin. Sam Richardson was one strike away from sending the game into extra innings when the catcher overthrew third base, allowing Billy Moore to score the winning run. The Dodgers won the tilt, 12-11, when Howell put out a Cardinal rally in the top of the fifth. Darwin Cheatham rapped two homers and Jim Gammill hit one four-master to lead Cardinal batters. Moore hit for the circuit once for the Dodgers. The Red Sox stopped a three-game Pirate winning streak with a 11-5 win in the nightcap. Keith Davis and Eddie Gutierrez combined talents to hold the Pirates to only five hits. Charlie Crites hit a homer for the winners in the third frame and Keith Addison hit a grand-slammer in the second for the Pirates.

Price Of Gobblers Expected To Climb

Present indications point to slightly better turkey prices this fall than in 1957, according to F. Z. Beamblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist. Beamblossom bases this prediction mainly on the outlook for about a 14 per cent drop in the 1958 crop in the U.S. It now appears that a drop from the 1957 record output of 81 million birds is certain and this should help prices. However, he points out, the price rise will be tempered by large storage stocks. Too, the paying prices that storers will be willing to offer 15 to 20 per cent of the crop which normally goes into long-time storage will be tempered by businessmen's judgements of the price that will prevail at the time the stored-turkeys would normally be resold. The use of turkeys from storage since Jan. 1 has been greater than any preceding year, says the specialist. However, storage stocks are still large and on May 1 amounted to 704 million pounds compared to 109 million pounds on the same date last year and the 1947-56 average of only 67 million pounds. "Any increase in demand for turkeys over 1957 is not in the picture. Consumers may not have as many dollars available for turkeys in the fall of 1958 as in the fall of 1957. Other factors which the specialist says may affect prices are the present outlook for increased broiler production over 1957 and larger supplies of other competing meats.

Plains American Legion team tasted revenge here Wednesday by bopping the Brownfield Legion nine, 8-7, behind the steady three hit pitching of Mike Cullwell. Brownfield humiliated Plains, 21-11, in the first game of the season. Wednesday's loss dropped the local team into a tie with Plains for the bottom position in District 2, south half. Joe Oswald blasted a three-run homer in the first frame to give Brownfield the initial lead that held up until the fourth inning, when Plains ramed across three runs to knot the score, 6-6. Jimmy Rodgers collected Brownfield's only other hits, a single in the first to score Jimmy Green, and another in the fifth. Though Oswald scattered eight hits in his five-inning stint, eight Brownfield errors proved costly, the last miscue allowing Plains' Dick Cooke to score the winning tally in the bottom of the seventh. Cullwell, hurt by seven errors by his mates, easily handled Brownfield after the first inning. He struck out seven batters and walked two to go the route for Plains first victory.

The Farmer's Wife

By ROSE JEAN HENSON

Job of old was a man who lived for God. In spite of that, trouble came to Job. He was filled with despair. At times the burden was so great and his spirits so low that he was almost tempted to turn away from God and refuse help when he needed it most. Almost tempted — but never completely.

One day a friend was trying to encourage Job in his time of difficulty. He reminded Job of the way in which he had helped others face difficult times.

One of the things the friend said was this: "Your words have kept men on their feet." (Job 4:4) What a wonderful thing to be able to say of a person! Job's words had been a source of strength to others.

The words which every person speaks have their effects on others. The things we say and the manner in which they are spoken tell the other persons a great deal about us. Words, whether true or false, do not leave a lasting impression. Do your words strengthen or straighten?

The poet who wrote "Sticks and stones may break my bones, but words can never harm me" gave voice to a great truth. No person is beyond the hurt or help of words. The kind of speaking we do is of importance to others.

It is of importance to us, Jesus said, "I tell you, on the day of judgment men will render account for every careless word they utter; for by your words you will be justified, and by your words you will be condemned." Harsh words injure and discourage, kind words bring strength and encouragement.

The writer of Proverbs declares, "Kindly words are like a honeycomb, both sweet and helpful." It is important that all of us try to speak in such a way as to be helpful rather than harmful.

Remember that Jesus spoke words that lifted them up and kept them on their feet. He declared, "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me to preach good news to the poor." "He has sent me to proclaim release to the captives and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty those who are oppressed, to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord." (Luke 4:18-19) Thus, spoken, He went about bringing His words to pass. He did good wherever He went.

You and I also have the privilege of doing good things for others. Not just by deeds alone but with the words we speak. Is it not true that a word fitly spoken concerning us is

KENTUCKY GROCER FINDS

Figures Don't Lie on Community Level

By WELDON CALLAWAY
NEWS Advertising Manager

You often hear the quotation, "Figure don't lie." Yet, at times people can be mighty stubborn about believing in figures. A letter to his newspaper from the manager of a grocery store in Kentucky tells how his refusal to believe in figures almost cost him his business.

The grocer, who operates in a county seat town, explains how he learned about figures.

"We were depending altogether on the advertising placed in a state-circulated big city paper by our cooperative buying organization. The advertising was supposed to serve all the stores in our group. It sponsored some clever promotions, but we still didn't seem to get our part of the market.

"Our local publisher pointed out that the metropolitan paper circulated only 350 copies in our community, while the local paper had more than two thousand subscribers. But we were not convinced by his figures until the publisher challenged us to try a test with coupons."

The store had been giving special prices on certain items when coupons from the metropolitan paper were presented. Some 125 coupons were presented each week. "When we finally ran the same type of coupon in a small ad in the local paper, 1357 coupons came in the first week. I really started believing in figures then," the grocer wrote.

The grocer said his only complaint was that his week end stock was cleaned out before Friday night. But he doubled his stock of key items and continued the local advertising.

The lesson in figures was an old one that retailers can't afford to forget—that is, all business is local, and local shopping starts in the hometown newspaper.

INCOME, SPENDING ABOVE MANY OTHER AREAS

Brownfield's Business Pace in '57 Gained New Level, Says Survey

(Special to the NEWS) NEW YORK — Brownfield stood out as a vigorous, flourishing market last year, with a level of income and spending above that found in most sections of the United States.

The facts are brought out in Sales Management's new, copyrighted "Survey of Buying Power," covering all parts of the country.

It shows that business activity in Brownfield reached new heights in the year, with retail stores chalking up a sales volume of $21,019,699, topping the $19,518,000 record of the prior year.

The amount was considerably greater than might have been expected on the basis of population. From that standpoint, retail business locally should have amounted to only 86.2 per cent of the national volume. Actually, however, it came to 105 per cent.

The spending pattern of the consuming public, although it changed somewhat in the last quarter of the year, was that of a prosperous, growing community. It produced gains for nearly every type of retail and service business.

Better earnings made possible the large-scale spending. The survey shows that net incomes locally, after deduction of taxes, amounted to $18,235,000, an increase over the $17,664,000 accounted for in 1956. This was equivalent to $5,698 per household, an arithmetic average arrived at by dividing total income by number of households.

The fact that retail sales exceeded earnings locally shows that Brownfield is the trading hub for the surrounding area.

Just how well individual communities stand with relation to others as to purchasing ability and business activity is shown in an "index of sales production." For Brownfield the index rating is 169, or 69 per cent above the national average.

More recently, under the business decline, there has been a change throughout the country in the attitude of people toward money. An urge to save has replaced the urge to spend. As a result, savings have increased nearly $20 billion in just one year, bringing liquid assets to over $300 billion.

This is a huge amount of pent-up purchasing power. The release of just a small part of it, when the buying mood returns, is expected to have a major effect on the economy.

SPECIALIST ASKED FOR STAFF

Water Conservation Research To Be Expanded at High Plains Test Station

Expansion of research on water conservation and the economical use of underground water resources as the greatest need for High Plains economy was recommended to the Advisory Council of the High Plains Station, at their meeting June 17, by Dr. C. L. Lundell, Director of the Texas Research Foundation.

With crop, fertilizer and soil research well under way for 1958, the next step would be to add a water specialist to the station staff to give equal emphasis to irrigation research.

Members of the Advisory Council met at the 310-acre Experimental Farm at Halfway and heard reports on the 1958 research program under way, including 10 new programs initiated in 1958 by Dr. T. C. Longnecker, head of the station.

Facilities reported as needed to permit year-round studies were a greenhouse, small laboratory, seed storage building and an office to relieve present crowded conditions in the four room dwelling temporarily in use as a headquarters.

Frank Moore, finance chairman, received reports from board members in each county on the number of investors and the amount pledged to the five-year budget of $550,000, together with their plans for securing additional investors.

Moore concluded his report by urging members of the council to set up their soliciting organization early this fall. He announced that 1,511 farms and individuals had invested a total of $330,000 with the large majority of donors being farmers.

Harold Hinn, chairman of the Advisory Council, presented the plans for future semi-annual meetings of the Council.

One meeting will be held on the annual field day in September to determine subsequent years program the other the second Wednesday in March in time to review the years program in time to make any changes found advisable just ahead of planting time.

"Who takes all those pills?"

This is often the question when a customer sees the shelves in our pharmacy. Row on row on row of bottles, boxes, canisters, tubes, vials, jars... about 2,000 items in all. Good question. Who are they for? The answer, of course, is you. Say you go to a physician and he writes a prescription which you bring to us to be filled. We can't tell what the ailment will be—there are thousands, and we don't know what medication the doctor will prescribe. To provide prompt pharmaceutical service we have to be ready for just about anything. Which we are.

more valuable than a good deed? Who among us is not encouraged by words that lift us up?

And who among us is not discouraged or angered by words that pull us down?

There will always be room in this world for more people who will sacrifice idle speech for words that lift men up. There are so many of the other kind of people in the world — and I include myself and perhaps you too (if you will permit me) who through force of habit rather than intention speak too many words that never help anybody—not even ourselves. Words that get nowhere fast.

Then there is another kind of person who never sees or says anything good about anybody. They go through life putting other folks in their places, pinning ears back, taking the heart out of others, spreading gossip that burns and sears the soul and deflates hopes.

Yes, sad but all too true that all of us know folks of this sort. My experience has been to treat them kindly but never honor them by giving argument to their degrading remarks.

All about us there are those who need helpful words. There are persons who have lost faith in themselves. A word fitly spoken can restore that faith. There are persons who are discouraged. A word spoken at the right time can help that person see the sunshine of hope again. There are endless situations in which we see people who can be helped by thoughtful words spoken at the right time.

Let your words be words that lift and keep men on their feet.

The Farmer's Wife respectfully dedicates today's column to the memory of Mr. Jess Smith who passed away this week. A neighbor... a friend... a gentleman... truly a man whose influence and words, like Job of old, "kept men on their feet."

Attend The Church Of Your Choice...You're The One Who Will Be Blessed

Come unto Me

The open door of this church is a fitting symbol for the heart of God, for His heart is open always to all men. The Bible records these words, "Behold, I have set before you an open door which no one is able to shut." Yes, literally no one can put any kind of block between God and us. His love surmounts every obstacle. That door is open for you today and every day.

Is something wrong with your life—an inner restless dissatisfaction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure.
Through the church God has committed the provision and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church relation no one is securely related to God.
Everyone should be in the Church and the Church in everyone!

11 City Burglaries Are Cleared by The Arrest of Four Latin-American Youths

Brownfield police this week cleared 11 city burglaries dating from February with the arrest of four Latin-American juveniles, according to Chief James Tippit.

The youngsters, including three boys and one girl, range from 11 to 16 years of age.

The girl and a 12-year-old boy were sentenced to state training schools by Judge Herb Chesshir Wednesday morning. The other two youths were placed on probation and released to the custody of their parents.

Tippit said the youngsters broke into the following business houses:

Club Cafe, Brownfield Steam Laundry, Farmer's Society Co-Op No. 1 Gin, Denson Wrecking Yard, Herman's Gin, Ralph's Laundry, Sonny's Feed Store, Boots' Cafe, Bob's Magnolia Station, Goodpasture Grain Warehouse and a blacksmith shop.

Loot taken by the quartet primarily consisted of candy, cigarettes, soft drinks and a small change. A roll of quarters taken from the wrecking yard apparently was the largest item, said Tippit.

Tippit said the girl, who was on probation for a prior offense, also was charged with attempting to pass a worthless check. The youth, who was committed to Gatesville Boys School, was on probation for theft of 12 bicycles.

Judge Chesshir also placed two other boys, 10 and 12 years old, on probation for a series of minor thefts during the past of minor thefts during the past.

The Ministry Of Healing

By MRS. WILLIAM CONLEE
(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article was published in The Baptist Standard on May 17, 1958. It is reprinted here by special request.)

In modern day living we seldom take time to think about those in our midst who are devoting themselves so completely to service for others. There are various groups that minister to the needs of humanity in a special way, and any person can help somebody in some way; but the group I'm thinking of now is our great host of doctors and nurses.

In hospitals there are nurses working on shifts with someone on duty at all times and doctors coming early in the morning to begin their rounds and working until late in the night.

As they go from room to room, one begins to think of their task in dealing with so many different personalities — the young and old, cheerful and sad, weeping and smiling, fussy and agreeable — yet these faithful workers are constant, concerned, tenderhearted and kind to all.

Surely it must take much patience and understanding! It is good that those in this great profession are so honest and true. Undoubtedly they face many situations with temptations to be otherwise, so it takes a strong character to stand the test.

This work must require a strong body in order to undergo all the physical strain. Though doctors and nurses become weary, tired and sleepy — yet they keep on, seemingly beyond human strength.

How perfect the doctor's hands must be! They are operating hands — careful, gentle, firm, skilled, precise in every movement; for the least slip might mean death.

Takes Self-Sacrifice
Since hands can't work without the mind to guide, there must be a mind that is keen and clear. Many years have been spent in study and research that it might be trained to function correctly each moment while studying the patient, diagnosing the case, operating, or doing whatever is necessary.

The doctor is a person of self-sacrifice. He has to give up much home life, social pleasure, recreation and church life. Even if such things are planned, there is likely to be an emergency call the last minute. So there must be a great deal of unselfishness and self-control.

If there are such things as super-men; surely the doctor must be included. Yet, in spite of all their special traits and abilities, they are still just human and are subject to annoyance, impatience and mistakes, through care the cases might be.

If such does occur, one must not resent their shortcoming or failure, as he realizes his own weakness.

Beyond all the outstanding qualifications of a doctor it is especially reassuring for one to know that he is also a Christian and one who prays for guidance, strength and power from God and gives Him the glory.

Jesus said, "Without me, ye can do nothing." So let us ever be thankful for our nurses and doctors and their part with the Lord in the great ministry of healing.

THE City Farmer

By ALVIN G. DAVIS

We have been on vacation for the past two weeks and did not get a column written during that time. We started the vacation by taking our registered quarter horse mare, Squeaky's Pet, to shows at Plainview and Pampa on June 6 and 7.

She placed at both shows and we received rosettes for the placings of fourth and fifth, respectively. We were amused by the comment that a motel owner at Pampa made regarding the ribbons. His comment was that they would buy a lot of oats and hay for the horse and he was speaking from experience as he has shown horses in past years.

This is quite true but it is well to point out that the age of the horse is not past as we may have thought. It is true that horse numbers in the United States have dwindled since horses have been replaced by mechanized equipment on the farm, but during the past few years there has been a revival of interest all across the country in horses for pleasure purposes.

The quarter horse as a breed has had a phenomenal growth since the inception of the breed registry, the American Quarter Horse Association, which is not yet 20 years old.

This great interest has created a demand for horses that has in turn brought their prices to a very high level. Many breeder's auction sales are being held over the country this year and these sales are averaging well over $1,000 per head with individual animals going for as much as $10,000 or $12,000.

This revival of interest in the horse has not only affected the quarter horse but also the other breeds as well. All we can say is three cheers for the horse in that he has been able to rise above the one-time principal use in the slaughtered form as dog food.

Too, they are providing a wonderful hobby for many people over the nation. The value here can hardly be estimated in dollars and cents in these days of tension, worry, and ulcers.

Much has been said and written about the relatively new forage crop Sorghum Alnum, and many claims have been made for it. We have been quite interested in it and have been making observations for our own benefit.

We have not been able to observe the crop under grazing but its claims for holding the soil and for making large amounts of growth under below normal conditions have just about been proven by our observations.

We have observed the crop last year and this on poor soils that have been placed in the Soil Bank. Last year the crop attained a growth of better than six feet and this year it has already gotten about four feet high.

This latter growth coming from the roots as well as seed which fell to the ground last fall. Unless some bad features show up we definitely feel that the crop has a place in our farming in this area.

The 1959 Conservation Reserve payments have been raised according to an announcement by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. A national average of $13.50 per acre has been established for acreage placed in the program.

This compares with an average payment rate of $10.00 per acre for land placed in the 1957 and 1958 programs. The increase in per-acre payments is designed to encourage farmers to place land of higher average productivity in the program.

A tentative goal of 12.5 million acres has been set for the 1959 program.

World cotton production in 1957-58 is estimated at 39.8 million bales (500 lbs. gross weight), or 1.6 million bales below the year-earlier figure and 2.9 million bales less than the record high 1955-56 output, according to the Foreign Agricultural Service.

The decline from the 1956-57 season occurred mainly in the United States, the Soviet Union, Sudan, Turkey, and Spain. On the other hand, cotton output was up in many countries, including Communist China, Mexico, Egypt, and India.

The national index of farm real estate values advanced 1% during the four months ended March 1, 1958, to an all-time high, points out the Agricultural Research Service.

The index, at 156% of the 1910-14 average, was 6% above that on the corresponding date in 1957. Farm real estate values in the states of the eleventh Federal Reserve District on March 1, 1958, were up 8% from a year earlier in both Arizona and Louisiana, 6% in New Mexico, and 5% in both Oklahoma and Texas.

Cattle supplies at Fort Worth on Monday, June 16, totaled 4,300, compared with 3,700 a week earlier and 6,000 on the corresponding date in 1957, according to the AMS. Prices mostly steady with those in the latter part of the previous week.

Good 600 to 1,000 lb. slaughter steers brought mostly $26 to $27 per cwt.; Utility cows, $18 to $19, with a few selling as low as $17.50; and Good 550 to 750 lb. stocker and feeder steers, $24 to $26.

Calf receipts were 700, or 10% more than on the corresponding day a week earlier and 400 less than on the comparable day in 1957. Trading on slaughter calves was active, and prices were strong. Stocker and feeder calves were sold at prices steady with those a week earlier. The majority of the Good slaughter calves were quoted at $23.50 to $27.50. Good stocker and feeder steer calves brought $26 to $30.

Hog marketings, at an estimated 1,000, were almost double the level a week earlier and were about the same as a year ago. Prices of barrows and gilts were 25c to 50c higher than in the latter part of the previous week, while those for sows were fully steady to 50c per cwt. higher.

The bulk of the sales were of mixed weights. Most U.S. No. 2 and No. 3 grades of 200 to 250 lb. barrows and gilts cleared at $23 to $23.50.

FAMILY VISITS HERE
Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cornett and Clarice have had Mrs. Cornett's mother and sisters visiting them for the past week. They are Mrs. Ruby Davis of San Diego, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Coronado Jr. and Jeanne and Daany of Vallejo, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Beverly of San Diego, Calif. They all attended the Moore reunion in Waco last Sunday.

AT THE BEAUTY AID CLINIC

If you feel pretty, you are pretty.

And . . . did you know that there are no ugly women, only those who do not know how to be beautiful?

It's true.

Start with your figure. Have you let yourself gradually gain weight over the years? Nothing is more frustrating or costly than a closet full of lovely clothes which are too tight to feel comfortable, or clothing which will not zip at all!

Cutting calories helps, but often leaves one soft and flabby and with a wrinkled skin. How many times have I heard: "I've lost five pounds but my waistline still measures the same!"

NIBLACK will roll away those bulges, firm the flesh, and take away inches even if you don't lose weight.

Passive, pleasant exercise, resting on the NIBLACK machines will give you that sense of well-being coveted by all, improve your posture and your health in general.

Cottonseed Meal Good For Swine Production

Cottonseed meal now can be used in swine rations with excellent results.

This statement was not true a few decades ago. In fact, early results from the feeding of cottonseed meal to hogs indicated that one might never be able to feed it in practical hog rations.

However, newer methods now available for processing and evaluating the protein quality and gossypol content have provided a way to make cottonseed meal that can be used safely in complete feed mixtures or in protein supplements for swine.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has just released a bulletin on this subject. It is entitled "Use of Cottonseed Meal in Swine Rations."

When the complete ration for hogs contains not more than .01 per cent free gossypol, the pigs will make good gains, according to the bulletin. No pigs have died nor have any shown the slightest symptoms of cottonseed meal injury in these experiments when the ration contained .01 per cent or less

Immanuel Baptist Group Sets Ice Cream Supper

An ice cream and cake supper will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Immanuel Baptist Church when the Brotherhood entertains their wives. A program has been planned, following the supper.

According to the Rev. Boyd Pearce, pastor, full air-conditioning has been installed at the church and will be in operation today, cooling Sunday school rooms as well as the auditorium.

Chicken Is Second To Beef On Menus

With the exception of beef, chicken is the first-choice meat of households in Houston, according to a recent survey of consumer attitudes and preferences regarding chicken by research workers of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Most of the families who bought chicken at the chain stores included in the Houston survey did not consider it their first choice meat. However, people who usually buy chicken rather than other meats do so because they prefer it or because it can be used for variety in the family menu.

The main reasons given for buying chicken fell into four groups — flavor, economy, health and versatility in meal preparation. "It is considerably more popular for week-day evening meals or Sunday dinners than for special occasion meals."

Few people think of chicken in terms of its food value and nutritional advantages.

When an objection is sustained by the judge the evidence is not received. Should the objection be overruled, the evidence is allowed to be presented.

The rules of evidence have been built up through many years of court trials. These rules are not arbitrary but are designed to see that justice is done in our courts. The judge is seeking to have the truth established and insure that all parties, and witnesses in the trial are given a full and fair opportunity to present the facts.

It is not reliable, and might open the door to false testimony.

A lawyer objects to evidence he does not believe is proper. If a lawyer objects to evidence because it is irrelevant, he means that the evidence is of such little importance that it has no bearing on the case, and if admitted it would bog down the trial so that the time needed doesn't justify its admittance.

Opinion evidence of one not an expert is not admissible since such opinion carries no weight.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

Are you hopelessly confused by court room procedure? Words such as "objections", "overruled", "sustained", "hearsay", "irrelevant" and "opinion" are meaningless to many persons.

The purpose of a trial is to settle disputes that the parties cannot settle by themselves. Before these disputes can be settled, the facts which give rise to them must be established. This sounds simple, but on the contrary it is a difficult task. If the parties agreed on the facts the job would be easy, but each side has its own version.

The trial court has the job of establishing the facts. This is accomplished by questioning witnesses and the introduction of physical evidence. This requires application of the rules of evidence.

Through the years the law of evidence has been established. The rules place restraints on what type of evidence is proper. They have the effect of protecting the rights of the parties by insuring a fair trial.

Hearsay is a word often heard during a trial. Hearsay may involve a statement by a third person of a conversation between two other persons. It would be hearsay if Jones were asked to tell the court what he overheard

Smith tell Greene. With certain exceptions, evidence of this type is excluded because

In January 1957, Senator Price Daniel resigned to become Governor of Texas. Bill Blakley — Dallas lawyer and West Texas rancher — was appointed to represent Texas in the United States Senate — until the special election in which he was not a candidate.

The unanimous approval of his appointment by Democratic leaders in Texas and Washington and the widespread acclaim of his conduct in the Senate made him one of the most widely discussed personalities in Texas today.

Never before a candidate for any office, Blakley recognized the urgent need for a return to constitutional government. Determined to make his contribution to the reawakening of interest in fundamental principles of government — he has announced as a candidate for the United States Senate.
