J. H. Slaton, Mont Carter, Guy Jacobs, Frank Butler and J. H. Hooper, all of Plainview, are in the city attending the trial of John T. Halbert, who is accused of killing Alvie Hooper, son of J. H. Hooper, here last year. The dead man was a former Plainview citizen.

The Journal desires to inform its rural correspondents that we will be in our own home next week. There will be no delay in printing new items. On account of having to close our former office on Wednesday we have been greatly handicapped in receiving the letters. Send them in folks, they will all be printed from here on. We appreciate the opportunity of cooperating with you in promoting the best interests of your community.

The Journal is delighted at the splendid spirit of support manifested by the many persons who are becoming new readers of the Journal. The complimentary nature of our paper are truly gratifying. It is evident that we are publishing a good paper because of the numerous persons desiring to read it. You may receive the Journal a full year for a dollar and we guarantee a new paper covering all items of interest in this locality. Come to see us in our new home, at 1602 Avenue I.

The Journal is only one dollar a year. If you are not reading this paper send us a dollar. We will mail you one of the best weekly newspapers in Texas. You will agree that it is worth the money. If you think it is tell your friends about it. Help us to get a reader in every home in Lubbock county.

W. A. McPherson, of Crosbyton, and J. H. Webb, of Meador, were visitors in Lubbock Tuesday. Mr. McPherson is an old reader of the Journal and Mr. Webb left his dollar for a year's subscription while in town. These men were both high in their praise of the Journal, pronouncing it the best weekly in West Texas. Mr. Webb purchased a Teah View site of two and a half acres, which he has advertised in the Journal. Messrs. McPherson and Webb both expect to become Lubbock citizens before the year is out.

Cotton Seed Meal & Hulls As A Horse And Mule Feed

Corn, oats and hay are very high at this time, so much so that for those who must buy either of these, it will add materially to the cost of producing the new crop. You can save quite a bit if you will feed to your horses and mules an average of six pounds of Cotton Seed Hulls per day and three-fourths of a pound Cotton Seed Meal per day along with the grain ration and reduce the grain ration to that extent. You will of course, need less hay.

No bad results will result from this ration and to the contrary—the Meal will prove not only a feed but a tonic for your stock. We would not recommend more than one pound of Meal per day, but this can be fed safely and advantageously. Many farmers in years of drouth in the past have greatly reduced cost in making a crop by substituting this home produced feed of their own; and it is especially desirable now because of high priced corn and oats which will probably get higher and the cost of which is increased by very high freight rates.

There is no use to send money out of the country to buy higher priced feed when we have available an excellent feed that will supplement the grain ration you already have and of your own production.

Lubbock, True to Prediction of Sam Denman, Has Become Dallas of Plains

"We'll make Lubbock, The Dallas of the Plains," was the declaration of Sam Denman at the opening of the Lubbock Cotton Exchange in the early fall this year. He was speaking of the reputation Dallas has won as the cotton center of Northeast Texas.

A recent check of the ginning reports up to and including the 15th of February shows that 118,024 bales of cotton were produced on the Plains this past year and that Lubbock county with 29,652 bales heads the list. Lynn county is next with 24,394 bales, followed by Dawson county with 22,167 bales; Cross, by 17,298; Terry, 11,512; Wray county, 10,023; Garza county, 9,998; Hale 9,177 bales with Cochran, the only unorganized county in Texas bringing up the end of the group with 74 bales.

Lamesa led the group for ginning in a single town with 13,543 bales, or more than ten times as much cotton as the entire section produced twelve years ago. Lubbock was second with 10,274 bales; Slaton also in Lubbock county was third with 10,178 bales.

It is estimated that approximately here, Dr. Horn has not completed his trip. He expects to leave again after a visit to Lubbock, to inspect the schools on the Pacific coast.

Following the death of their daughter Doris Jean, age five years, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Edwards have left Lubbock for a few days rest at the home of relatives in Canyon. Doris Jean succumbed Friday to attack of pneumonia and was only ill five days. The funeral services were held Saturday.

Luther Berry, of Durant, Oklahoma, and a former resident of Central Texas, is moving to Lubbock where he will make his headquarters in the selling of gin machinery. Mr. Berry, who is an old friend of L. S. Harkey, local insurance man, will be joined by his wife soon.

Pierce Barry, of Littlefield, a prominent real estate man of that community as in Lubbock Tuesday following a visit in the home of Judge and Mrs. Kemp, at Slaton.

98,000 bales of this cotton was handled through the cotton firms operating on and through the Lubbock Cotton Exchange. At the height of the cotton season there were 62 cotton men buying job lots throughout the section.

Lubbock banks handled more than $14,000,000 cotton money during the fall months and the total cotton income for the plains was in excess of $21,000,000 after paying for picking and expenses of marketing.

Trend of Cotton To The North It is interesting to note that the trend of cotton development is northward on the Plains. The sale of more than 2,000,000 acres of ranch lands— or contracts permitting of sale, to the small home seeker is making available much rich land heretofore restricted to cattle raising. These lands are being sold on small payments down, low rates of interest and long terms, resulting in the great immigration of desirable, homeseeking farmers this section has ever known.

More than 1,000 new farms were opened to cultivation within 50 miles of Lubbock during the past year and estimates vary at from 1,500 to 2,000 new farms to be cultivated for the first time this year. More than 50 per cent of these new comers are coming from the boll weevil infested sections of Texas and are going to farm cotton. According to best estimates there will be more than 1,000,000 acres of Plains land planted to cotton this spring or an increase of more than 200,000 acres over the season just closed.

Cotton is being profitably grown to the north boundary of the state. A number of acreage contracts have been completed in the North Plains country to secure the erection of a cotton gin and it is freely predicted by cotton men that these projects will be profitable and permanent. Hale county produced 9,177 bales of cotton this year and it is estimated that at least a 50 per cent increase in cotton acreage will be fulfilled in that county for the coming year. Lamb county with only 2,678 bales for this year is preparing to care for 8,000 to 10,000 bales for next year. Farms are being rapidly opened in this and adjoining counties since the large ranch tracts are being made available.

General Business Good Throughout the South Plains country general business is good with a heavy building program under way in every town, in addition to the hundreds of new farms homes under construction over the section. The entire section has more than doubled in population during the past thirty months, based upon scholastic enrollment.

Oklahoma Loses As Owen Announces as Through in Senate

Senator Robert L. Owen, United States Senator from Oklahoma, publicly announced his intention Saturday of retiring from public life at the end of his third term, March 4th, 1925. Senator Owen has been one of the brilliant statesmen of the United States for many years. He has faithfully, honestly and conscientiously served the people of that state in a manner that has brought distinction to himself and credit to his constituency. Senator Owen was truly one of the big men in public life in America. He was not one of the blood and thunder order but when important work that required brains and experience was up before the senate he was usually called upon to pass judgment on the matter.

Senator Owen was father of the Federal Reserve Banking system of the country, which single achievement will cause his name to go down in the annals of history as one of the constructive statesmen of the twentieth century. In announcing his intention to desire the senate he was usually called upon to pass judgment on the matter.

the old school of aristocrats which does appeal to the modern day voter. Oklahoma especially is infected with socialist element that will not support a man of Owen's manners. But the country is now ready to let that element rule, therefore it is to be regretted that Senator Owen will retire from public life. Oklahoma loses her greatest representative in congress.

The Tie that Binds THE UNITED STATES is a nation of far-reaching relationships. Home ties stretch between communities widely scattered, for few men live where their fathers or grandfathers lived. Commerce and industry have the same spread of interests, so that, in truth, the nation has become one great community. Only a unified telephone service covering every state can serve such a nation. It must be the tie that binds. Such a service requires a national organization with uniform policies and operating methods and in every community a local organization with full authority and responsibility for the problems of that community. The Southwestern Bell Telephone Company which operates in Missouri, Arkansas, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, serves an area one-fifth the entire size of the United States, in which thirteen million people make their homes. BUILDITORIAL

It's not a minute too soon to start your plans for Spring building. Fair days will likely be the brand of weather dished up for the balance of this month and next. The cost of building materials and the satisfactory labor conditions all beckon with encouragement and profit to the home builder.

Lubbock is growing. The supply of homes, stores and office buildings is quite inadequate for the constantly increasing demand. That means eager tenants and higher rents, therefore a big demand for better buildings. So, Mr. Renter, it is time for you to join the ranks of the home builders and begin to enjoy life. You may rely on these firms for good service and fair estimates on any kind of a building job.

And No Insurance

One of the first things the home-builder will need is protection of his new home against fire.

We write the kind of old line insurance that assures your positive protection.

Candidate for Governor Brings Out Alleged Atrocities of Ku Klux Klan

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 26.—Following his recent disclosure of the "shocking" circumstances surrounding the refusal of a Saratoga man and his wife to join the Ku Klux Klan in which the nude bodies of two men tarred and feathered were thrown upon their porch of their home and their dwelling later burned to the ground, Lieutenant Governor Davidson revealed a number of other "atrocities" which have never before appeared in print.

"They are so numerous," he said, "I shall just take the bare facts briefly:

1. A boy whom I knew since birth, wrote me that the klan had commanded him to marry a girl he hardly knew and with whom he had had utterly no relationship. He swore in the name of God he was being used to cover the sin of another man but the klan ignored the plea.
2. Another young married man in North Texas was called from his home, taken into the country and flogged until his body was one mass of bleeding welts. The floggers then rubbed their hands roughly over the bloody spots, he said, and compelled him to pray and call on God.
3. Another man was beaten so badly it was necessary to place a plaster cast over his body and legs in order that the bed clothes would not stick to the exposed flesh. Doctors did not finish extracting pieces of copper wire from his body for weeks.

4. A man in a South Texas city was notified to quit permitting his family's association with a certain neighbor. He refused and later was shot down in the presence of his wife by an unknown hand of men.
5. A prominent physician in South Texas was severely flogged. An overseas veteran was beaten, whipped, and ordered to leave the country. A young lawyer was taken from his office in a county seat at noon and flogged. Another man, Ed Thuber, was shot down and crippled for life.
6. The case of Otto Lange will be recalled when he saw his mother struck with the muzzle of a six-shooter and when he himself tried to escape, was shot down in the arms of his child and his little daughter shot and wounded.
7. An old man in West Texas was called from his home to perform an act of "courtesy," he was informed. He met gunfire and in the battle a member of his family was wounded.
8. In not one of these cases did a successful prosecution result. Mr. Davidson pointed out, declaring that he had been and is now being censured for attempting to stop such brutality.

He declared he would solicit federal aid, having seen the almost utter hopelessness of getting any satisfaction from county or state courts with so many officials and juries composed of klansmen.

English King Has Hard Life; Has No More Rights Than Ordinary Mortals

LONDON, Feb. 23.—Political changes recently in Britain have led to a discussion regarding the powers of the king.

Many people think that a king has almost unlimited sway. As a matter of fact, in Britain, no man is more hedged around by rules and regulations than its Sovereign.

In the first place King George must remain a Protestant. Should he become a Roman Catholic he would have to renounce his throne. In the same way, he must not become a Freemason; had he happened to be one at the time of his accession he would have been obliged at once to resign from the craft. As a matter of fact, King George was never initiated.

Apart from religion and law, the King is bound rightly by many rules, both social and political. For instance, on becoming the monarch he must immediately withdraw from any club to which he has hitherto belonged; and again he never writes a personal letter to anyone outside his immediate personal circle; all his other private correspondence is conducted through secretaries.

Invites Himself

Again, according to rule, he must not accept any invitation to dine or stay with one of his subjects. On the contrary, when, for instance, he wishes to stay with Lord Derby in order to see the Grand National race run at Liverpool, he has to invite himself.

The king's position toward the law is somewhat anomalous. As a general theory, he is regarded as above the law; in practice, however, he has to obey like anyone else. He is not in a position to play any tricks with the recognized legal system of the country.

He can issue, with the advice of his ministers, royal proclamations which have the force of law; but the proclamation is only binding so far as it is based upon an existing statute.

He cannot set up private tribunals, nor can he add to the jurisdiction of a court. And by a special act of Parliament it has also been decided that the king, if he were to lose a suit brought against him by the revenue authorities, would be liable to pay all costs. On the other hand, a subject cannot sue the king except by what is known as a "petition of right," leave to issue which has to be obtained from the Attorney General.

Can't Break Law

The king, according to the law of the land, cannot possibly commit an offense. Any wrong or injury suffered by a subject at his hands is attributed to the "mistakes of his advisers."

"Therefore it happens that the King is the only person in Great Britain who cannot arrest a suspected felon, even if he caught a burglar entering Buckingham Palace. The reason for this is that no action for wrongful arrest could be brought against him, and hence if the man caught were proved innocent it would be a case of a wrong without a remedy.

The king cannot impose any taxation without first securing the consent of the House of Commons. So severe is this restriction that the king cannot create any new post, with new fees, or add new fees to existing posts, because this would be regarded as equivalent to new taxation. The good old days of the Stuarts have gone, when King Charles could raise taxes how and when he pleased.

Utilities Company Building.

The Texas Utilities company is doing more construction work on the South Plains now than ever before, according to a recent statement made by H. L. Allen, local manager of the organization. Lubbock and Slaton are the two cities getting the greater part of the new construction work but Ralls, Abernathy and Idalou are also sharing in the improvement work.

WOLFFARTH NEWS

Wolffarth now has an up to date grocery store, owned and managed by Messrs. Walters and Perkins; a lumber yard owned by The Whaley-Lumber company, and managed by Mr. Perkins, and a garage under the course of construction, which will be owned and managed by Messrs. Smith and Payne. This concern will do all kinds of auto repair work.

School is progressing nicely, with an enrollment of 71. This is an increase of nearly one hundred per cent this year. This enrollment is a fair indication of how the Wolffarth community is growing.

PERKINS ADDITION

Perkins Addition to Lubbock offers the prospective homebuilder or investor an opportunity which we believe to be positively the best obtainable in city property. Located within one mile of the courthouse on the Littlefield highway at the northwest corner of the Tech Site, this residential district is restricted to the use of white people and nothing but substantial homes may be built.

Near all schools, 18 feet higher than the square, it is the highest addition in Lubbock and has the most beautiful view.

There are only 168 lots in Perkins Addition, many of which have been sold and homes building. These home sites are priced very reasonable. See—

We Are Working For You

Electric Light companies are not abstract corporations functioning mysteriously in high finance as used to be the common opinion. They are the clerk who takes your order, the workman who installs your meter, the engineers who construct and maintain plants, the chemists who make tests and the scientists whose dreams are transmuted into new processes to make life easier and more productive, the investors whose combined savings are the capital of the electric light service, and the executives who plan and administer.

Their skill, knowledge, hard work and united funds make an essential contribution to the progress of the community.

The service this company renders to you comes out of their knowledge and efforts organized and working for you every minute of the year.

Yours for service,

DANGERS OF THE TEAPOT DOME SCANDAL

There are serious dangers in connection with the Teapot Dome scandal. These dangers are just as tangible, just as potent, whether the court action be for or against the continuation of the lease. That is the least matter. Regardless of the verdict, the exposure of corruption in high places is far reaching in its consequences.

For several decades, from time to time, there have been similar exposures. President Roosevelt let out of his cabinet a secretary. Joe Bailey got into serious trouble through a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Co. For many years the United States, alone among the great nations, had no parcel post, because the express companies made presents of blocks of stock to members of both branches of Congress.

It is true that honor should prevail. For countless ages, most men have followed the easier way. To do so is human nature. We are born with two natural quests—food and love. All other attributes are acquired. And, when a man goes to the capital and learns to his dismay that his salary is inadequate to enable him and his family to assume the social duties to which his high office entitles him and which his constituents expect him to assume, it is only natural that he should look to other sources for augmenting his pittance salary.

There is no excuse for dishonor. We have no disposition to apologize for any of the men connected with the Teapot Dome scandal. If they are guilty, the high officers of cabinet membership and the high financial standing of the two gentlemen accused of giving bribes, should not keep them from serving penitentiary sentences, just like other malefactors.

A BIG WEEK FOR LUBBOCK
The past week was a banner week in the history of this city. In addition to the announcement being made that 60 rooms were soon to be added to Lubbock Inn and that the entire building was to be remodeled making it one of the best hostleries to be found in the southwest, another announcement was made to the effect that a new and strictly modern office building, four stories in height, was to be erected in the downtown district of the city.

Such projects are worthy of the support and commendation of the entire community. Their completions will mean more than the mere completions of two up-to-date buildings, modern in every respect though they will be. Their completions mean a bigger and better future for this section of Texas and this community in a hurry.

THE AMARILLO GLOBE
The Amarillo Globe, West Texas' most recent addition to its newspaper industry, began publication last week and shows every indication of becoming a power in journalistic circles in this part of the state.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING
When over three hundred men and women met in the annual meeting of Lubbock's Chamber of Commerce here last week a new era was opened to the life and growth of this community. Lubbock's growth has been wonderful but if the attitude of those three hundred boosters can be taken as a barometer of future growth then this city is on the high-road to even greater development than it has seen in the past two years.

A STEP FORWARD
Members of the South Plains Music Teachers' association are to be commended highly upon their campaign to provide the citizens of Lubbock and the South Plains with high class musical attractions. Next month Efram Zimbalist, a violinist of national credence, will appear in concert here due to the efforts of that organization and on the same date a Music Festival, open to all musicians of this section of the state, will be held in Lubbock.

THE GUBERNATORIAL SITUATION
Eight Texas men have filed their credentials with the public of this state preparatory to placing their names on the democratic ballot next July and at the present time most of them seem to be hopping from one side of the political fence with the the Ku Klux Klan is the principal issue.

LUBBOCK'S CIVIC CLUBS
While it is impossible to lay at the door of any one individual the honor of being the person most responsible for the rapid growth and development of Lubbock and the district surrounding this city. However, in a spirit of "Honor to whom honor is due" it seems justifiable to congratulate the civic clubs of the city on the forward steps which they have sponsored to make Lubbock in reality "The Hub of the Plains."

ARE YOU A BUILDER?
The Junior Chamber of Commerce, as everybody knows or should know by this time, is in the midst of a drive to encourage the planting of trees by property owners in this city. This organization, seeing the advantages following the planting and growing of trees in Lubbock, has made a deal with a nursery whereby trees may be purchased at a very low price, a cost which does not prohibit any person able to own any small equity in a piece of property from investing in young trees.

AN ATHLETIC CLUB
In the absence of a Y. M. C. A. organization in Lubbock it is almost a certainty that an athletic club, either publicly or privately owned, would be a welcome institution among the business men of the city. Without a great deal of cost a building could be secured in which gymnastic exercises, under the supervision of an instructor, could be practiced and games of the type of indoor baseball, basketball and volley ball could be engaged in.

A WISE CHOICE
The Lubbock Building and Loan association has an iron clad rule which prohibits the directors of the organization from lending money for the building of houses which are poorly constructed. Such a move is undoubtedly a wise one and will make for not only a much prettier city but also a much more substantial city than if the rule was not in force.

Wise Cracks from the Southwest Press

Well, a secretary of the navy is at last at sea, mentions the St. Louis Times.

Wouldn't it be nice if summer came every winter and winter came every summer?—Kansas City Star.

If a man will not stand up for himself he cannot expect other people to do it for him.—Maryville, Mo. Democrat.

It is well to be suspicious of the man who agrees with everything you say.—Maryville, Mo. Democrat.

Senator Hiram Johnson has not yet been able to break through the oil screen, is the finding of the St. Louis Times.

Attorney General Daugherty promises to give a year's notice on resigning from the cabinet. St. Louis Star says the country gladly would waive that formality and accept the attorney's resignation on twenty-four hour's notice.

KURRENT KOMMENT

Senator Borah wants Daugherty to resign. So do many others. There is no question as to the integrity of the senator from Idaho, but was the attorney general asked an opinion by Secretary Fall. If not, it was not for him to render an opinion; it is not his duty to do so unless asked for an opinion by the president or a member of the cabinet. It may be that Daugherty is being misled the goat.

Out of the great number of men willing to be candidates for the governorship of the state, the Texans ought to be able to choose one to suit them. No, thank you, we have not yet announced.

Alaska is more than a land of ice, snow, salmon and aurora borealis. Many millions in gold have been taken out of the country. Lavish nature spread out vast deposits of coal. Along with somebody and rocks the boat. The Teapot Dome is having a rival. The newspapers have to have something to publish and the senators have to have something to investigate. F. T. Barnum once said that, "The American people loved to be humbugged."

You will remember that Lincoln once said: "God must love the common people because he made so many of them." But there seems to be a tendency to forget the needs of the common people. There is no telling how many citizens this city has lost through not having homes for the common class. In fact, there are no extra homes for anyone. But, with the three million dollar building program, it will be necessary to think of these common laborers. The pyramids were not built by the Pharaohs, but by the laborers. Think it over. No man should pay more than twenty per cent of his wages for rent.

Illinois Coroner Tells How to Live To Be 100; Fat Looks Easy to Him

GALESBURG, Ill., Feb. 26.—How to live one hundred years, and like it, was explained by Dr. George S. Bower, prominent Illinois physician and coroner of Knox county, in an interview here. Dr. Bower classified the popular "killing" prescriptions for longevity as "killies" and advocated the daily use of common sense as a sure specific for a long life and a merry one.

A few Bowerisms follow:

"If you want to live a long time—don't worry. Be like the savages of Africa or Asia—take life as it comes, serenely. Savages never have high blood-pressure.

"Eat anything you feel like eating and as much as you want. Instead of wearing out your teeth with brushes, use your teeth eating hard-crusted bread. Eat hard, tough foods.

"Anyone who worries about his health and starts to diet is certain to have sickness. The fear will have a psychological effect and means certain physical distress.

"The best thing that could happen to America would be to raise the price of gasoline to one dollar a gallon and make automobiles so expensive that human beings would have to walk. Walking would add years to the walkers' lives.

"A woman will drive her auto two miles to take a lesson in rolling and calisthenics. If she walked those two miles and back she would not need the lesson. Business men should walk to work in the open air every day instead of driving in enclosed cars.

"Bathe often enough to keep clean, although this is not essential. In the Himalaya Mountains, where the tribesmen live a hardy, rugged, dirty life, without fear of blood-pressure or dental scaps, sons shave to throw their parents over the cliffs to get them out of the way. The old folks never seem to die.

"Men and women could easily live to be 100 years old if they lived to use common sense in their daily lives."

Rix To Erect New Building Here As Present Lease Ends

The Rix Furniture company will shortly begin construction on a new brick building which the company will be located in when completed, J. A. Rix, local manager and part owner, stated recently. The building will be constructed at a cost of approximately $25,000 and will be located on the corner of Thirteenth Street and Avenue J.

The building as now planned will be two stories in height and will be entirely turned over to the use of the furniture company. The building is being erected because of the termination of the lease being held on the building where the company is now located July 1. The new store will face on Thirteenth street and will extend on that thoroughfare for a distance of 135 feet. Seventy-eight feet on Avenue J will be the other dimension of the building.

Nineteen Fairs Will Be Held in Section in 1924

Amarillo, Feb. 26.—There will be 19 fairs in Northwest Texas, during 1924, with three others probable. It was brought out at a meeting of fair secretaries held here Thursday under auspices of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

This is a growth of some 2,000 per cent in the last decade, as the Children's Fair is the only one to have seen ten birthdays.

Taking into consideration the fact that had already set dates, the meeting was able to arrange a schedule that eliminated conflicts between neighboring towns. It also passed a resolution disapproving of rambling devices in connection with these fairs.

Following is the schedule arranged. Dates for the Guymon, Okla., Canadian, Amarillo, Childress, Emporia, Wichita Falls, Crosbyton and Lubbock fairs had been previously set. The others are subject to approval by local directors.

North Plains—Guymon, Okla., Sept. 15-19; Miami, Sept. 15-19; Panhandle, Sept. 15-20; Canadian, Sept. 18-20; Spearman, Sept. 19-20; McLean, Sept. 19-20; Amarillo, Sept. 22-23; Pampa, Oct. 2-4.

Southeastern Panhandle — Memphis, Sept. 9-12; Childress, Sept. 15-20; Wichita Falls, Sept. 23-Oct. 4; Vernon, Quanah and Clarendon dates to be set.

South Plains—Post, Sept. 16-18; Floydada, Sept. 16-17; Howard, Sept. 16-17; Plainview, Sept. 18-19; Canyon, Sept. 18-19; Tulla, Sept. 20; Crosbyton, Sept. 25-27; Lubbock, Oct. 1-4.

Delegates present included: N. R. Tisdale and J. A. Whiteside, Panhandle; F. W. Grogan, Pampa; T. J. Boyce, Miami; George Ryan and H. Mulkey, Clarendon; John Boswell, Plainview; George Sager and J. H. Read, Memphis; Louis Hart and J. W. Jennings, Canyon; P. C. Bennett, Sept. 15-19; Norton Spearman; Clay Thompson, McLean; F. B. Henderlite, Post; R. T. Emmett, Amarillo.

Floydada to Have Tree Planting in First March Week

FLOYDADA, Feb. 26.—The week from March 3rd to 8th has been designated Tree-Planting Week in Floydada by the Chamber of Commerce. An organized effort is being made by the organization through its special committee composed of R. E. Fry, J. J. Day and J. M. Wilson to get as many shade trees planted in Floydada during this one week as possible.

In order to reduce the cost of trees and to insure that good trees will be planted the Chamber of Commerce has made a trade with a reliable nursery to furnish the trees at a minimum price to the Chamber of Commerce on a lot price basis. An active publicity campaign is being put on in the city to secure interest in tree-planting and a canvass will be made by the committee urging property owners to plant shade trees on their property.

Rotarians Listen To Relief Worker In Weekly Session

The Wednesday luncheon hour of the Rotary club was devoted to listening to Miss M. L. Caldwell, of the Near East Relief Association, and Mr. V. S. Villars, of Albuquerque, director of the Red Cross activities in Colorado, New Mexico and West Texas. Miss Caldwell spoke extensively on work of the relief in the devastated regions of the Balkans and Palestine. She made a brilliant appeal to local people to support the drive now being made here for funds to aid in this laudable work. Mr. V. S. Villars spoke to the Red Cross work in a brief, but emphatic, way. The post-war work of that organization, it was an interesting program which was prefaced by a few Rotary capers, put on by the program committee.

The Club had the privilege of entertaining a large number of visitors at the luncheon which included Mrs. Reece Tatum, of Dalhart, president of the Seventh District of Women's clubs of Texas, Mrs. T. L. Jones, of Post, a prominent club woman of that city and Mrs. Wm. Meadows, who is the host of these ladies while in Lubbock. Mrs. Tatum spoke to the club on the district club meeting here in May. Other visitors were A. H. Smith of Roswell, John Cunningham, of Dallas, E. C. and E. D. Lamb, of Amarillo, R. E. Underwood, of Plainview, I. G. White, of Dallas, W. D. Green, of Lubbock, R. U. Lind, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, Miss Caldwell of the Near East Relief Association, Miss Murfree, Mrs. Keen and Mr. Radey.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 26.—A woman may be the next Oklahoma State executioner.

"I'm willing to throw the switch connected with the electric chair at the State Prison for $50," wrote the woman whose name Governor M. E. Trapp refused to reveal.

"Women are not cowardly when it comes to strict enforcement of the law," the writer asserted.

Governor Trapp refused to say whether the feminine hand shall operate the death-switch.

Meet of Cattlemen Will Be Biggest in History, Is Belief

AMARILLO, Feb. 26.—With 10,000 invitations to the Panhandle Livestock Producers' convention and the annual sale of the Panhandle Hereford Association being mailed out, preparations are being made for handling the largest crowd that ever attended this great get-together affair of Southwestern Cattlemen.

Reduced fares are in effect from Kansas City and St. Joseph, Mo., as well as from Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico points, and visitors to the recent Kansas cattlemen's meeting at Wichita report that a strong delegation is coming from that state. Many northern feeders take advantage of the Amarillo convention in order to meet with ranchmen and arrange purchases.

Outstanding men in the cattle world will address the morning sessions of the convention, and evenings will be crowded with shows, dances and other entertainment for the visitors. Afternoons are left open for the reunion of old friends, and this feature of the convention has become one that is highly prized by visitors.

Woman Says She Will Act as Executioner

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 26.—A woman may be the next Oklahoma State executioner.

"I'm willing to throw the switch connected with the electric chair at the State Prison for $50," wrote the woman whose name Governor M. E. Trapp refused to reveal.

"Women are not cowardly when it comes to strict enforcement of the law," the writer asserted.

Governor Trapp refused to say whether the feminine hand shall operate the death-switch.

Texas People Appreciate Modern Public Service

The percentage of people in Texas cities and towns who depend on electricity for lighting, telephone for communication and street cars for transportation is greater than in most of the other states under similar conditions.

For one thing, Texas is young, and the people are progressive. Being a young state the towns and cities have been built and are building in the light of these modern services. Some old communities in older states were built before public utility services were perfected. That is another reason why Texas stands in front of other states in this respect.

There is a big reason for the use of public utility services everywhere. The people realize that the most comfort, convenience and economy in essential services is to be found in modern methods. The utility companies realize that they are charged with a grave public responsibility.

Can you imagine how Lubbock would get along, to say nothing of growing, without the services of the light and power company?

Rural School Notes

By W. M. PEVEHOUSE

Miss Edna Showater, primary teacher of the Monroe school, and Mr. Hayden Warren listened to the call of the wedding bells. Mrs. Wilma Bruner of Monroe was elected by the board of trustees to fill the vacancy. The Monroe school is crowded like other rural schools. The principal, Prof. S. A. Rible is obliged to have his classes in the auditorium, since the building was built for only two class rooms. R. A. Ellis has charge of the intermediate.

At Liberty, the old Vaughn district, Prof. C. L. Hale and Miss Annie Ford have charge of the school. This is one of the very prettiest buildings in the county.

A. B. Humphreys, superintendent of the Rogers school, was in Lubbock Saturday. He has been with the school three years, but now he has been elected by the political body and is an avowed candidate for sheriff and tax collector of Hockley county. We sure regret to lose so able a school man as Mr. Humphreys.

The mass meeting at the Union school February 22, was a great success. The petition of the commissioners court for a ten thousand dollar bond

Lubbock Candy Firm Sold to F. R. Friend

F. R. Friend, former city banker, has purchased the controlling interest in the Lubbock Candy company, from R. L. and H. E. Miller and has taken active charge in the business, it was announced recently.

The business will remain in its present location on Avenue I near Fourteenth street and the capital stock will be raised from $5,000 to $10,000, Friend stated. Three other men are interested in the firm besides Friend. They are Nicholson Ross Morgan, O. E. Brashear and James B. Reed.

issue election was signed unanimously.

The county superintendent visited the Bledsoe and Estacado schools last Wednesday and everything was moving along wonderfully well. C. D. Showater is principal of the Bledsoe school while E. J. Hood heads the Estacado district.

A. J. Annon, principal of the Canyon school was in town Saturday inquiring for the Rural Survey Commission.

Prof. Lee Fulton and wife with Misses Leona Perkins and Thelma Yarbrough, teachers of the Acuff school came into the office with monthly pay checks this week.

Prof. H. E. Griffith and wife of the Woodrow school, were callers Saturday afternoon.

The survey of the rural schools is being conducted this week by B. F. Fronbarger and Miss Lamb of the West Texas Normal College. We shall have our eyes opened to the rural school conditions in Texas when this work is finished.

Teachers and trustees come to Monroe school at 10:30 March 1, to the association.

Farmers Urged to Plant More Wheat By State Bankers

The Bankers of the Seventh Texas district, in session at Ft. Worth last week, passed resolutions addressed to the farmers of West Texas urging them to grow more feed stuff. The bankers were optimistic as to the farmers' condition this season but agreed that if prosperity is to be continued and the stability of agriculture as a profitable business is maintained the farmer must eliminate the big feed bill that usually comes to him each season.

The move was strongly advocated by all bankers from the agricultural regions who stressed it in argumentative speeches.

Washington Honored

George Washington's birthday was fittingly celebrated in the Senior high school on last Friday when members of the Junior class, in full revolutionary times costume, put on a Virginia reel in the all-school chapel held at 10 o'clock in the morning. G. N. Adkinson, principal, stated recently.

F. T. A. Meets Today

Members of the Parent-Teachers' association of the senior high school meet today in the school building for their regular bi-monthly business session. All mothers of high school students and all other people interested in the high school work here are cordially invited to attend.

Opening of Store Well Attended in Spite of Weather

Despite the cold weather which prevailed, the formal opening of Lubbock's newest store, the Miles' Gemel. Dry Goods company, which occurred Friday night had an attendance that was very gratifying to the management. Hundreds of people thronged the store between the hours of 7:30 and 10 p. m. and were entertained by the sales force of the new establishment.

An orchestra from the Lubbock High school furnished the music and favors given out to the guests were carnations for the ladies and cigars for the men. The children received little noisemaking contrivances which proved a big hit. The store was decorated with numerous baskets of flowers sent by local and out-of-town concerns in honor of the occasion.

According to J. W. Gamel, manager of the local store, business the following day greatly exceeded all expectations and the new store is commencing business under very encouraging circumstances.

Court House Water Pipe Bursts

A water pipe, on the second floor of the courthouse, burst last Sunday and a quantity of the water dripped through the ceiling and walls of the building into the Chamber of Commerce headquarters in the basement but aside from the fact that several pictures were forced to be moved little damage was done.

Man Says Chickens Make Him More Than Good Tire Business

W. L. Carrington, who operates a tire shop in this city, is finding that his backyard poultry farm pays him considerably more profit on the time and money invested than even a good tire business.

During the past month two pens of one year old Silver Laced Wyandottes totaling 35 hens-layed 467 eggs that were sold at 60 cents per dozen bringing $23.40 with a total cost of $8.35 for feed.

One pen of 12 hens-layed 238 eggs—or paid him a net profit of 99 cents each—in the thirty day period. Nor is this all. These same hens brought Mr. Carrington 7 ribbons at the Panhandle South Plains Fair and selected setting eggs are sold for a good premium as are selected pullets and cockrels grown by Mr. Carrington.

Stock Show to Draw Many Visitors Next Month is Indication

The Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth, March 5 to 15 promises to excel all previous records judging from the statistics on exhibit compiled by Ed R. Henry, secretary and manager of the show. Fifty-nine exhibitors had signed up for space in the show up to Saturday noon. This includes 418 show animals representing breeders in seven different states.

The indications are now that this year's show will exceed the number of head of purebred cattle exhibited at the American Royal Show at Kansas City last year and the International Show at Chicago each of which had a smaller number of exhibits. Mr. Henry is confident this will be the greatest Hereford show ever staged

In the south. Thousands of visitors from all sections of Oklahoma and Texas are expected to attend the show. West Texans are strong supporters of the event.

Buy It In Lubbock

THE spending of money with the local merchants keeps the cash in circulation among your neighbors and friends, and thereby makes it possible for the local dealer to still further contribute to the development and prosperity of the home town, and incidentally to you and your neighbors and friends. The dollar spent with the home merchant today may reach you again tomorrow, while the dollar spent in another town is gone from your grasp forever. The local merchant is entitled to your support and encouragement for the very good reason that he pays taxes to keep the machinery of the municipal government in motion. He supports the schools, churches, civic organizations, helps pave the streets and provide police, fire and health protection.

WHEN you buy from him you meet him face to face, and if the thing you purchase does not fit, is faulty in any particular or is unsatisfactory—or if you change your mind and decide that, after all, you do not want the thing you have bought—no doubt he will gladly take it back and return the purchase price to you. And, last but not least, the stock of the home merchant is well selected and dependable, and his prices are as low, or lower, the quality of the goods taken into consideration, than those charged by the big store in the big city. That the local dealer will sell on a smaller margin than the big city store is not questioned, for the reason that his overhead expenses are much less. The home dealer sells cheaper than it is possible for the great city store to do, and by trading at home you save many hours in time and dollars in transportation charges.

This Is The History of One of Your Home Business Institutions - - Read It

Among the newer and more enterprising lines of endeavor, we are pleased to introduce, this week, O. W. Jolly, manufacturer of Auto Tops, saddles, harness and proprietor of a shoe repair business. Mr. Jolly has been in business at his present location, 1013 Main street for the past two years. Prior to that time the business was owned by W. B. Thorp. Mr. Thorp continues to make hand-made cowboy boots which are sold at the Jolly establishment.

Before coming to Lubbock Mr. Jolly was the proprietor of a similar business at Winters, Texas. During numerous trips to the south plains Mr. Jolly cast his eye longingly at Lubbock as an ideal location for his business and home and as soon as the opportunity offered, made the change which numbered him among the citizens of Lubbock.

Home of the O. W. Jolly company, 1013 Main St.

The window display at the O. W. Jolly store is always of interest to the stranger in the city as it shows some of the things most characteristic of the old cow days—fancy saddles and saddle-blankets and the handsome cowboy boots, made by Mr. Thorp.

According to Mr. Jolly the volume of business has exceeded his fondest expectations during his period of business activity in Lubbock, and he is making plans for the extension of his business to meet the increased demand caused by the phenomenal growth of Lubbock. At the present time there are five men employed in the plant. In addition to Mr. Jolly, they are: Ben Mosely, auto top and upholstery department; S. H. Stephens, harness maker; A. L. Bettes, saddle-maker and O. S. Finch, shoe repair man.
