Clyde Burleson, of Brownfield, was transacting business here the latter part of last week.

More Publicity For South Plains Shown In Eastern Journal

The fame of Lubbock and the entire South Plains section as a cotton producing territory has spread as far as Philadelphia at any rate. That fact was proven in a recent edition of the Farm Journal, published in the Quaker City by The Wilmer Atkins Publishing company, when an entire page was given over to this section and the cotton growing industry.

In addition to pictures of Lubbock and other cities mention was made of Lubbock, Levelland, Plainview, Crosbyton, Post, Stamford and Lamesa. The story was written and signed by C. P. Fleming and bore the title "The Panhandle Cotton Boom."

MISTAKEN FOR A NUT!

(By International News Service.)
ALEANY, DECATUR, Ala., June 18.—Stories of the olden days when mountaineers leaped from trees upon hunters as they passed beneath are common, but W. B. Jester came in with a new one recently.

Jester said while walking beneath a tree in some woods near here a squirrel leaped from a high limb, landed directly on his back, sinking its teeth in his neck.

On reaching his home he found that his neck was swelling fast. He called in a physician, who found indications of rabies. The Pasteur treatment for hydrophobia was ordered.

Doctors said it was common for squirrels to suffer from hydrophobia.

CHOC OWNER ARRESTED

Clep Jones, negro, arrested in a servant house in the west part of the city Sunday by Deputy Sheriff Vernice Ford and charged with the ownership of a quantity of choc beer, was released from custody when George "Alabama" Lewis, negro, admitted to officers that the choc was his, after having been arrested by city officers. Charges are pending against Lewis.

W. A. Clark and family left this week for a visit to Corpus Christi. They expect to be gone about two months.

MULES DISAPPEAR

Four mules, the property of the Texas Utilities company, strayed from their barn immediately north of the city last Tuesday night and by so doing seriously handicapped the delivery of ice here yesterday morning until other arrangements were made to supply the hot and thirsty customers. It was first thought that the mules had been stolen but officials now believe the animals merely strayed away. Trucks were placed into operation and regular delivery of ice followed.

CANNING TIME IS APPROACHING AND A NUMBER OF RECIPES ARE COMPILED

By Maude Guthrie
Home Economics Specialist

Canning time is fast approaching and already Miss Mabel Marsh, county home demonstrator, is getting ready to be of service to Lubbock county women who wish to confer with her along canning lines.

It is expected that more canning than ever before will be done in Lubbock county this year and below is given a number of canning recipes for the usual run of canning work. Vegetables only are listed as it is yet too early to begin to prepare for the canning of fruits and jellies.

The following is a list of canning recipes which have been tried and found to be efficient and popular:

Rhubarb—Because of its extreme acidity, rhubarb can be canned without processing. Select young, tender rhubarb and cut either into 3 inch pieces or into lengths to fit the jar when sliced vertically. Pack in sterilized jars in vertical rows. Cover with fresh cold water and allow jars to stand 10 minutes. Drain off the water and again fill to overflowing with fresh cold water. Use cleaned rubber caps and seal at once. It is safest to process rhubarb.

Hot-Water Canner
Pint glass jars 15 minutes.
Quart glass jars 20 minutes.

Since rhubarb contains much water, a better and more economical product could be secured by canning rhubarb sauce. Cut the rhubarb into 1 inch lengths and steam until tender. For each quart of sauce add 1 cup of sugar. Pack hot and process for 10 minutes.

Carrots—Carrots used for canning should be young and tender and not more than one and one-half inches in diameter. They are washed, scraped, steamed or boiled until three-fourths cooked, and cut into lengths of the can, sliced or diced. Cover with brine and process same as "Beets."

Corn—Much depends upon the careful selection of young, tender, juicy corn before it reaches a starchy stage. It should never be allowed to stand longer than a few minutes after being taken from the stalk. Corn which has passed the milky stage or is stale is very difficult to sterilize. Remove husk and silk. Blanch on the cob 1 to 3 minutes or long enough to "set" the milk. Cut the kernels from the cob and weigh them. Put in the kettle and for every 12 ounces of corn add 6 to 7 ounces of boiling water and 1 teaspoonful of the salt and sugar seasoning. Stir and allow to boil for 5 to 10 minutes. Pack hot into jars or tin cans, previously cleaned and boiled, to with 1/4 inch of top. Seal tin cans, partly seal glass jars and process.

Hot-Water Canner
Process pint glass jars intermittently for one and a half hours at the first period and 1 to 1 1/2 hours at each of the two succeeding periods. Interval between the first two periods 12 to 14 hours, between the last two periods 12 to 18 hours.

Steam Pressure Canner
No. 2 tin cans or pint glass jars 10 minutes at 15 lbs. pressure. For exhibit purposes, pints only should be used for corn.

Greens (Spinach, turnip greens, etc.)—Prepare the spinach by cutting off all dead leaves and roots. Wash thoroughly through several cold waters using 1 handful of salt in first water and drain well. Blanch in rapidly boiling water for 4 minutes or in live steam jars, cover with boiling brine. (See for 15 minutes. Drain well, pack into brine.)

Hot-Water Canner
Pint glass jars intermittently 1 to 1 1/2 hours at each period.

Steam Pressure Canner
Pint glass jars or No. 2 tin cans 30 minutes at 15 pounds pressure.

String Beans—The Refugee is a good variety for canning. The beans should be tender and fresh. When the beans within the pod have grown to any size, canning is more difficult and the product of poorer quality from a commercial standpoint. For canning only well-sorted, small, tender beans should be used. Wash in two or three changes of water and string the beans and cut them into 2 inch lengths; cutting diagonally or "on the bias" gives a pretty product. In glass they may be canned whole, packed log-cabin fashion in square jars. Blanch 3 to 5 minutes or until the pod will bend without breaking, and plunge into cold water for an instant. Drain well, pack, quickly, and cover with brine.

Hot-Water Canner
When the beans are young and tender, process pint glass jars intermittently, 45 minutes at each processing period. If more mature beans are packed, process 1 hour each period. Process quart glass jars one to 1 1/4 hours on each of the three periods. Exhaust tin cans 3 to 4 minutes and process same a glass jars.

Steam Pressure Canner
No. 2 tin cans or pint glass jars 40 to 45 minutes at 10 pounds pressure.

Standard Weight of Canned String Beans
Net weight, in No. 3 cans, before liquor is added, should be at least 1 pound, 8 ounces, brine 5 to 10 ounces. Net weight, in No. 2 can should be 13 ounces beans and about 8 ounces liquor. The net weight appearing on label for No. 2 can, 1 pound, 5 ounces.

Lima Beans—Blanch lima beans 3 to 5 minutes. Dip in cold water and pack into the jars. When the jar is half packed, add the sugar and salt seasoning as directed under "Seasoning." When the jar is filled with beans, cover with clear water, paddle to remove air bubbles, and process.

Hot-Water Canner
Process pint glass jars intermittently, one and one-half hours each period. Exhaust No. 2 tin cans 3 to 4 minutes and process same as glass pints.

Steam Pressure Canner
No. 2 tin cans or pint glass jars, 45 minutes at 10 pounds pressure. Exhaust tin cans 3 to 4 minutes.

Nearly matured lima beans are processed 60 minutes at 15 pounds pressure.

Business College To Meet Idalou Sunday

While the Hubbers journey to Lamesa for Sunday's game, the Business College nine will entertain local fans with an exhibition at Merrill Park. The Idalou town team rated one of the best in these parts, will furnish the opposition. The game will be called promptly at 4 p. m. Carl Hunt is slated to heave the apple for the college team. The Idalou outfit have not announced their selection for mound duty.

This will be the fourth game of the season between the two teams and thus far the count stands 2 to 1 in favor of the visitors. Last Saturday's contest was decided in favor of Idalou, the count being 3 and 2. This promises to be a hard fought game as both teams have been showing much class lately.

THIRD ANNUAL TRAVELING MEN'S FEED SATURDAY GREAT SUCCESS

FUN REIGNS WHEN KNIGHTS OF THE GRIP CROWD INTO COMMUNITY AUDITORIUM TO UNITE WITH FAR-FAMED R. O. R. E. HERE

The Traveling Men came, they saw, they laughed and then left. The Third Annual Star Party was voted by every blooming Knight of the Grip as the best that Lubbock has yet given them and every one of them declare that they will be back again next year and bring somebody with them.

Lubbock early in the game, realized the great value and influence of the traveling man and without any beating around the bush started out to cultivate his friendship and good will. The first party given to the traveling man was not a sugar coated pill or a bribe. They were told frankly that Lubbock appreciated their work and their influence and wanted them to know Lubbock's ideas, ambitions and problems, and wanted them to know the business men and the citizenship of the city in a personal way in order that they could give correct information when the city was mentioned at the home office, in their presence on the road or elsewhere.

Everybody had a good time, got to know each other better and before the second party was held a year later the number of traveling men who made Lubbock permanent headquarters had doubled. The second party raised the standard a bit and a bigger and better party was staged. Everybody had a good time and again the number of traveling men making Lubbock their home has doubled and the third party found more than 200 traveling salesmen living in Lubbock and as many more intending to move here just as soon as the company will let them.

Party Strictly Informal.
These parties are strictly informal—in fact they are noted for their informality. The talks made are not addresses. The after dinner speeches are not specimens of oratory—but just good wholehearted good cheer, friendly parleys and chock full of fun and worth while suggestions. Plenty of pep and enthusiasm is mixed in and the party closes with some stunt that is worth remembering each year.

Of particular interest on this year's programme was the singing by the Littlefield Quartette. Those boys were around there not only with perfectly tuned harmony but with a flock of parodies and take-offs on those present that were nothing less than masterpieces of cleverness and good wholesome humor.

Horn Principal Speaker.
Dr. Horn, President of the Texas Technological College, was the principal speaker of the evening and most interestingly discussed the subject, "The Tech and the Traveling Man." Dr. Horn has the happy faculty of making his remarks fit the occasion, whatever it may be, and in this case doubtly strengthened his reputation along this line. The travelingmen gave him the grand old Texas U. song, "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You," when he sat down.

Mr. Cunningham, of Sherman, discussed the subject, "The Man in Traveling Man," and pointed out some of the requirements of a successful traveling man. A number of the traveling men were called on for short talks and added a lot of snap to the programme by their running remarks.

Judge E. L. Klett made the welcome address, reviewing briefly the history of the Travelingmen's Stag Party, its purpose and the pleasure it gave Lubbock to have as its guest the traveling men who made this territory. He was responded to by Mr. Hartley in a most happy vein of humor that brought much applause from the crowd. Judge Klett always makes a good talk and Hartley surprised himself and his friends by almost beating the Judge.

The calculating "coon" bewildered those present with his rapid mental multiplications of any two numbers below a hundred. Some one would call out 43 by 75—and the negro would give the answer before anyone present could get the two figures written down—much less multiplied out. But he hit a stump when fractions were shot at him. He declared that 43 1/2 made two Grand Order of R. O. R. E.

A new and mysterious order for the Travelingmen was instituted as the closing stunt of the programme. The R. O. R. E.—an order that every travelingman has won honors in at some time in his life—won instant popularity, and if you will keep your eyes open you will see the travelingmen give the secret sign and grip and hear the password of the order. Sunday afternoon at the swimming hole a huge travelingman balanced himself on the lip of the diving board, gave the sign and spoke the password—then hit the water. As he came to the surface there were ten brothers ready to receive him into their circle of goodfellowship with the R. O. R. E. alluded to on the membership cards.

All told the party was a big success and its value cannot be estimated. There is no class of men that can do a town as much good as the traveling men. There is no bunch that is more appreciative of sincere goodfellowship and human consideration. Traveling, as they are, from town to town, with few of the pleasures of home, they appreciate friendliness of a personal kind and respond wholeheartedly to the little considerations that Lubbock always tries to show her travelingmen.

ORPHAN BENEFIT TO BE SHOWN ON
FIRST OF MONTHMethodist Revival Going On In City Now Conflicts With First Date Given

The Hub-Town Strollers (Lubbock's best talent), have changed the date of their performance to be given in Lubbock from June 26 to July 1. This change was made so as not to conflict with the Methodist revival in progress. Much interest is being shown in this undertaking. All the churches, clubs and organizations are co-operating heartily.

According to the director, Mrs. J. M. Goodman, rehearsals are progressing extremely satisfactorily. A three-part program will be given—"A Rehearsal of Olden Days," a colonial musical will be the opening number. Beautiful colonial costumes will be worn in scene. The best loved of old songs will be given by soloist, chorus and male quartet. The second part consists of novelties just off the press. "The Sick Doll" will be presented by Mrs. Sid Wells, assisted by Misses Mary Meador, Mary Alice Johnson, Kathryn Adkins and Virginia Connally.

"At the Movies," a take-off on moving picture fans, is a scream. Misses Lola Street, Mildred Street, Margaret Smith, Ross McWhorter and Dudley Farrell putting it over in grand style. The last part will be the presentation of "Suppressed Desires," a representative one-act American comedy. Mrs. Wm. D. Green, Vernon Brown and Harold Griffith taking the roles.

This is one of the most popular comedies given by Little Theatre. It was presented by the Provincetown Players in New York City with great success. See a dollar show for only fifty cents, at the high school auditorium at 8:30 o'clock July 1. Let's help shelter our orphan children.

Yellowhouse Masons
Choose Holland Head

The election of officers for the ensuing year of Yellowhouse Lodge No. 841, was held last Friday night, and the following officers were duly elected: I. F. Holland, Worshipful Master; H. L. Williford, Senior Warden; Neil H. Wright, Junior Warden; Joe Boyd, Treasurer.

L. Earl Hunt, who served as Master of the lodge for the past year, was elected Tiler.

Approximately one hundred members and visitors were present, and after the election, refreshments were served. Next week the newly elected officers will be installed, and the subordinate officers will be appointed by the Worshipful Master.

Bledsoe Club News

Miss Marsh and Miss Swift met with the Bledsoe boys and girls of the community club Monday, June 16th.

Each member gave his individual report and Miss Swift gave a talk to the girls which encouraged us very much. And Miss Marsh gave the members of the Sewing club a lesson on how to make a hemmed patch.

The members of the club will meet Monday afternoon, the 23rd of June, and the mothers were invited.

T. H. Nelms, local realtor, has returned from a business trip to Fort Worth. He reports everything in that city as progressing nicely and also states that the east Texas cotton is looking good.

S. W. Jarvis, of the Wolffarth community, was a pleasant visitor in the office of the Plains Journal last Saturday.

TO THE VOTERS

Law enforcement was the job given me when I was elected to be sheriff of Lubbock County, and my every effort has been directed to this end.

In enforcing the laws of our country and state, it has been my policy to show no partiality to any violator. A man who violates the law of our state, regardless of church or lodge affiliations, will be handled on the merits of his case and not on his standing in the community or affiliation with church or lodge. This is the only just way in which law enforcement can be carried out, and is, I believe, the way prescribed by the law abiding citizens whose interests I am employed to protect.

I am running for re-election strictly on my record of law enforcement since being elected to this office, and any reports that I am being run by any organization or set of men are false and I will be glad to prove them so.

There has been no mob violence in Lubbock County since I took the sheriff's office, and five cases of mob violence were committed during the term of office just prior to my election, and for the information of the voters I wish to state here that any cases of this nature arising while I am sheriff will be thoroughly investigated and I will exert every effort to learn who is responsible.

I ask the consideration of the voters of Lubbock County on the basis that I am running for sheriff on my own record, and to assure them that should they see fit to return me to this office for another term I will have only the best interests of the law abiding citizens to protect and no one to compromise with.

Yours for continued law enforcement.

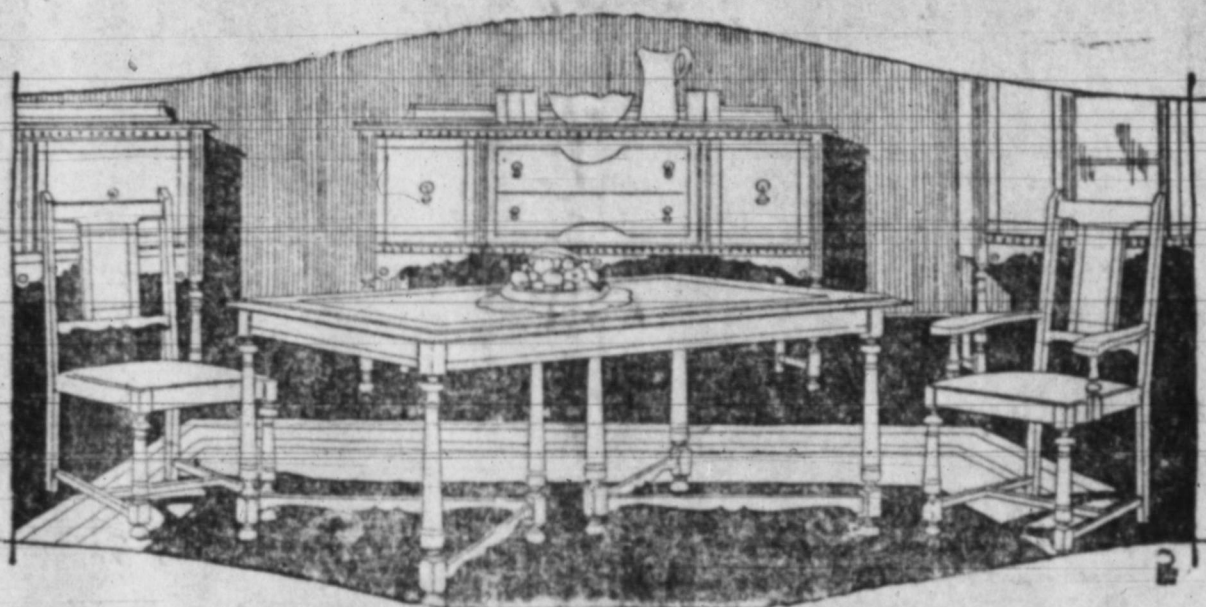

H. L. (Bud) JOHNSTON,
Sheriff of Lubbock County and candidate for re-election to that office.

PRINCIPALS IN SATURDAY NIGHT'S WRESTLING MATCH HERE

Charles Olson, of Lubbock, left, "The Terrible Swede," and Thor Jensen, right, of Hereford, the principals in Saturday night's wrestling card, to be held in the City Auditorium under the auspices of the local post of the American legion. Saturday night's match has no time limit and will decide the opponent for Kala Pasha, Texas champion middleweight grappler, for the card to be presented here on July Fourth. Both men are in the pink of condition and are evenly matched, assuring the expected large crowd a full evening of amusement. Jensen is former Navy welterweight champion but is now a middleweight. Olson is undisputed champion of the Pacific coast and of Canada. The men will wrestle at 158 pounds.

CHARLES OLSON MEETS THOR JENSEN HERE SATURDAY NIGHT IN MATCH TO DECIDE OPPONENT FOR CHAMPION KALA PASHA ON FOURTH OF JULY

Charles Olson, of Lubbock, and Thor Jensen, of Hereford, will meet here Saturday night at the city auditorium in a finish wrestling match to decide which of the two grapplers will meet Kala Pasha here on July Fourth for the middleweight championship of the state of Texas. The bout staged here Saturday night will be held under the auspices of the American legion.

Olson, who has been undefeated since arriving in Lubbock several weeks ago and having entered a number of mat battles since coming here, has a wide following and has never failed to give satisfaction in a local arena. He is the acknowledged middleweight champion of the Pacific Coast and of Canada and has proven here that he is one of the best wrestlers in the country.

Jensen Well Known.

Jensen, who is well known all over Texas, is also a top-notch contender for state honors. Strong, fast and clean he is expected to give Olson an opportunity to try the best of his skill to defeat him. During the war he won the welterweight championship of the United States Navy and has ever since been camping on the trail of Cal Farley, well known Amarillo matman, who was the army champion, but to no avail. Since the close of the war, however, Jensen has grown heavier and is now wrestling at 158 pounds, the regular middleweight figure. In a former bout with Olson Jensen held the local grappler to a two hour draw and has fought a similar mat battle with Kala Pasha, state champion. Olson also wrestled two hours with Pasha, the result being a draw, so the two should show local wrestling fans an evening of lively entertainment.

Olson a Favorite.

The local man will undoubtedly enter the ring a favorite. That he is a leader in his profession is a certainty. He possesses a scrap book with write-ups from cities ranging from Maine to California and from Alaska to Florida. He has wrestled and defeated top-notchers in every state in the Union with the exception of Oklahoma and his records show victories over

Cal Farley, Bull Montana of motion picture fame, George Lambert, Chris Gorsk, Harry MacDonald, champion of Scotland, Freddy Deal, who one time bent the famous Frank Gotch, Mike Yonel and many other well known wrestlers. That he is strong and

Olson Good For Years.

Olson sprang into prominence in 1912, when as an entrant in the Olympic games in Stockholm, Sweden, he won the amateur middleweight championship for the United States. Upon returning to this country he entered the professional field and since has won 358 matches out of a total of 378. For the past five years Olson has lost an average of two matches per year.

Olson proved his title of "The Terrible Swede" in Arizona recently when in one night he threw five men, the best in that section of the state, one right after the other. A total of twenty-eight minutes of wrestling time was consumed in the feat.

One of the outstanding matches in Olson's career came several months ago in Los Angeles, in the Los Angeles Athletic club, when he met Bull Montana, the famous cage man of the movie, before a record breaking crowd containing impressions of the screen and stage, Montana, who will be remembered by moving picture fans as the one in "Go and Get It," is a wrestler of note and Douglas Fairbanks, his close personal friend, was in his corner during the tilt. Montana was unable to take the decision, however, losing the first and third falls and winning the second. Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight fight champion, was at the ringside during the fray.

Traveled With Gotch.

Olson, whose native city is Saint Paul, Minnesota, was a traveling companion with Frank Gotch, former world's heavyweight champion, in the year of 1914 and is well known throughout the sport world. He is a close friend of both Mike and Tommy Gibbons, Mike Collins and other leaders in the American sporting world. He was a member of Mike Collins' stable when Mike Gibbons was a wrestler and when Olson himself was a boxer.

In addition to the wrestling match a four round boxing contest and a battle royal with five husky negroes in the ring, will be dubbed up to the local fans. Who will be the third man on the mat with Olson and Jensen has not yet been decided upon but that the official will be a competent one and a man who will speed up the match is a certainty, according to a statement made by Olson yesterday.

HUBBERS WALLOP FLOYDADA HERE SUNDAY WITH TERRY UP; 9 TO 3

The Lubbock Hubbers, in the sweltering heat of last Sunday afternoon, defeated the Floydada baseball team at Merrill park here by a score of 9 to 3. The local swatsmiths connected safely fourteen times from the delivery of Mickey, the visiting pitcher, but despite that fact he turned in a well pitched game until the latter part of the tilt when indifferent support behind him made him lose heart.

Neither team scored in the opening stanza and with both Terry and Mickey traveling a fast pace the game bid fair to be a pretty contest. The Floydada boxman whiffed three of the home hitters in the first frame after Gib Jackson opened the hostilities with a walk. Terry had set a pace in his half of the first inning by allowing no hits and fanning one man. Lubbock counted twice in the second inning on a clean hit, a fluke hit and a two-base error; scored three times in the seventh and once each in the third, fourth and sixth stanzas.

man on the Floydada club, clouted two homers which accounted for his hirings runs. One circuit smash came in the fourth-inning with two men down and the other in the eighth inning with Carter ahead. Both four-ply wallpops easily cleared the left field fence.

Terry hurled consistent ball throughout the nine frames, hanging up his third win in as many weeks. Once or twice he found himself in a hole but aside from making the mistake of throwing the ball down the groove twice to Hall he was able to pull out of danger.

Although showing all the earmarks of a good receiver in the fielding practice Catcher Curry was off form in the game and the local speed merchants pilfered a total of five bases. Gib Jackson, as finished a ball player as can be found in West Texas, swiping three, followed by Alex Hensley with two of a kind. May beat Allen's throw for his team's stolen base.

STATE POULTRY SPECIALIST TELLS HOW QUALITY AND QUANTITY OF EGGS MAY BE ASSURED IN LUBBOCK

EDITOR'S NOTE - This article, gotten up by Miss Murray who is well known in this vicinity, was submitted by County Home Demonstration Agent Mabel Marsh after a demand for authentic information along poultry subjects was made by Lubbock county farm women desirous of improving the quality and quantity of their eggs.

Not only preventing loss by fertile egg production, but you are saving the extra amount of feed they consume. Infertile eggs will not produce baby chicks. Neither do they decay. If they are not kept in a cool place they will dry up and deteriorate. They are much better for table use than fertile eggs. The rooster makes the egg fertile. The fertile egg makes the blood ring.

Do you know that about 5 percent of the eggs produced during the warm summer months are a total loss? That amounts to about $15,000,000 over the U. S.

You can save the $15,000,000 now lost from blood rings by separating the male bird from your flock when the hatching season is over.

According to 1920 census report of the U. S. Department of Agriculture there were about 64,970,000 dozen eggs produced in Texas. Five percent loss that year amounted to about $248,260 dozen.

Estimating the average value of these eggs at 25 cents per dozen, that loss was about $314,240. This would more than pay the salary, one year, of every public school teacher (both rural and city) in the county having the largest number of school children in the state.

Build With Standard Bred Stock. Successful marketing of eggs begins and ends with the hen. Successful poultrymen have found that "it takes the best to produce the best" and only the best commands peak prices.

High Production Pays. Every normal hen lays a few eggs. The well bred, well cared for hen lays many. Generally speaking it requires about 100 eggs to pay for the upkeep of a hen for one year.

Produce Infertile Eggs. In May, every male bird should be taken off the poultry yard and only infertile eggs produced. By getting rid of all surplus male birds, you are

It is by persistent effort and honest toil that the California egg commands a market and demands good prices for her eggs. Why not purchase egg scales and begin radiating your eggs this year and help raise the standard for quality of eggs in your community?

Lightning Plows Up Farm During Storm (By International News Service.) CLATON, PA.—A remarkable freak, the result of a stroke of lightning during a severe electrical storm, is reported from a farm not far from here.

The lightning struck and completely riddled an 18-inch chestnut tree, passed into the ground and tore ditches in all directions, giving the field the appearance of having been recently plowed. The ditches were from 3 1/2 to 10 feet wide and from 1 to 3 feet deep. The longest measured 500 feet.

If you know of a thing that will darken the joy Of a man or woman, a girl or boy, That will wipe out a smile or the least way annoy

Rural Magistrate—"I'll have to fine you a dollar, Jeff." Jeff—"I'll have to borrow it off'n you, judge."

Rural Magistrate—"Great Snakes! It was only to get a dollar that I was fining ye. Git out! Ye ain't guilty, anyway."

Mrs. Scroggins—"She told me that when 'er doctor got married the bridegroom gave 'er a horse and trap."

Mrs. Jorkins—"Yes, I know—a clothin' horse and a mouse trap."

The Cynic. A cynic is a man who pretends to be tired of the world, but in reality he is a man of whom the world is tired.

Team Work is the Team That Builds Good Communities--- In the old days—that are not so far behind us but that some of us can remember them—one daily task was to get in wood for the fires. Another task was to fill the kerosene lamps and trim their wicks and polish the lamp chimneys. Plans were made for long, lonesome evenings. There was no telephoning to neighbors. The roads were bad all winter long. Organization and thrift have improved the situation. For instance in the matter of Electricity for instant service is at hand to be used as you desire. The cost of this service is so low that compared with the old way it is not worth considering. Its efficiency is so much greater than the old was as to make all the difference between comfort and hardship. The full development of this community is possible only through the service of the City Light and Power Company. And this company recognizes its responsibility as a part of the community in helping it to grow and develop. But this company also recognizes that only as the community grows the company can grow.
