THURSDAY, AUGUST 21st, 1924.

COMMUNITY COMMENTS

By CURTIS A. KEEN

"Lubbock's building program is far short of the demand that will be made upon the city with the opening of the Tech College in 1925." It takes a small fortune to send three or four children through the average public school.

Largest Wagons In Texas Being Built Here Now

The largest wagons in West Texas and perhaps in all Texas, five of them in all, are being completed by Boone Brothers Blacksmith shop for W. A. Myrick. The wagons, when completed, will be capable of hauling ten bales of cotton in each wagon, or just ten times as much as the ordinary wagon can haul.

COTTON MEN SEE BUSINESS AHEAD

South Plains Ginners Meeting Finds Members Optimistic Over Coming Season

Going on record as looking forward to the greatest cotton year in the history of the South Plains and West Texas more than 125 members of the South Plains Ginners Association met here in an all day session last Saturday when they discussed subjects in line with their business. Approximately one hundred ginning companies were represented.

DEATH CLAIMS 5 SUNDAY AS BOAT IS TURNED OVER

Fate dealt a lone hand at Silver Falls lake last Sunday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock when a boat capsized sending five young people, three boys and two girls, to watery graves. Three of the drowned persons were of the same family and all of them had come to the park east of Crosbyton to spend Sunday in an outing on the lake.

City Schools Ready For Autumn Opening

With practically everything ready for the opening of school here on September eighth, Lubbock's boast of the most modern school system on the South Plains and one equal to any in the state of Texas for the size of the city, is seen to be a true one. With the exception of the negro and Mexican buildings all of the structures are absolutely modern and as near fire-proof as it is possible to have them.

COTTON PAGEANT WILL BE STAGED WITH 1924 FAIR

Mammoth Play Including 1,000 Persons In Cast, Has Been Already Contracted For

"King Cotton," termed by officials of the 1924 Panhandle and South Plains Fair and Short Course as a "Pageant of the Magic Fleece," will be held in connection with the fair here this year. A. B. Davis, manager, stated yesterday afternoon. Over one thousand persons, all citizens of the South Plains will take part in the ceremony which has been described by Chamber of Commerce officials in Waxahachie, where it was held on July 2, as being stupendous.

FERGUSON TALKS Many Present as "Farmer Jim" Lambasts Klan and Boosts Wife for Governor

James E. Ferguson, of Temple, ex-governor of the state of Texas and now stamping the state in the interest of his wife's candidacy for the same office, after he had been denied the privilege to run, spoke to a crowd roughly estimated at 5,500 here Wednesday night on the courthouse lawn. Ferguson was introduced by J. K. West, district representative nominee, while H. T. Kimbro and Neil Douglas, senior, of Littlefield, also made short talks.

Riggs Says Plains Look Great to Him

K. L. Riggs, West Texas manager for the Texas Life Insurance company, has returned from a trip to Fort Worth and other parts of the state in the vicinity of the Tarrant county capital and upon his arrival here stated that nowhere were conditions as good and crop prospects as bright as in the vicinity of Lubbock and the South Plains.

TO SPEAK HERE

The Rev. A. G. Jefferies, a Methodist minister, of Peniel, Texas, will speak on the courthouse lawn at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon. The speech will be free and will cover the election problems the state will face Saturday, according to friends of the speaker.

BUSTER BROWN COMING

"Buster Brown," the same of funny page and shoe fame, will visit Lubbock direct from Saint Louis next Monday and will be ready to greet the little boys and girls of this city at the Leader store, according to Ross Edwards, proprietor, this morning. Buster will have his dog, Tige, with him and will be glad to meet every little boy and clinging to sled.

Fair Catalogue Work Is Begun By Journal

Work has begun on the catalogue for the 1924 Panhandle and South Plains Fair and Short Course and this year's guide book will be larger and better than any in seasons past. Local fair authorities have stated, the Plains Journal press was awarded the contract for the work, which will be finished by the first day of September.

LUBBOCK SCHOOL SYSTEM TO OPEN ON SEPTEMBER 8

Expect Largest Enrollment In History of South Plains As New Term Begins

All schools in the Lubbock Independent School District, with the exception of the negro school, will formally convene for the 1924-25 school year beginning on Monday, September 8th. M. M. Dupre, city superintendent of public instruction, stated recently. The year's enrollment in the history of the city is expected.

ANNUAL LUBBOCK CLEAN - UP DRIVE LACKS MOMENTUM

Despite the fact that a proclamation was issued by Mayor F. R. Friend and the city council, the drive organized by the city fathers to clean up the city streets, has been slow going. The National American legion has endorsed the plan for the defense day, according to H. D. Woods, adjutant of the local Allen Brothers Post and the Lubbock branch of the organization will do everything that is asked of it to make the affair a success. The date, September 12, falls on Friday.

Local Party Leaves On Long Auto Jaunt

Mrs. Sallie J. Smith, her daughter, Miss Ina Smith, and her nephew, Clifford M. Brown, left this city last Tuesday for Bluefield, West Virginia. They are making the trip by automobile.

ANOTHER FEATURE FOR YOU

"Spokes In the Hub" another local feature to appear regularly and exclusively in the Plains Journal, has been added to the columns of this publication and the first installment will be found this week on page two of this section.

"Spokes In the Hub" will each week tell the dominant facts of some prominent Lubbock man, who has long been identified with the civic and business life of the city and the surrounding territory. Oscar L. Slaton, president of the Lubbock State Bank, former cattlemen, pioneer and ex-president of the Chamber of Commerce, is the subject for the opening installment of the new feature. Every succeeding installment will deal with an individual who has done great work for Lubbock and the South Plains, as has Mr. Slaton.

Ever before the addition of "Spokes In the Hub" the Plains Journal has offered to its reader more local features and more local news per issue than any other paper on the South Plains or in West Texas. The new feature merely

Potato Scab Corrected by Corrosive Sublimate

Potato scab is a disease acquired from infected soil, or infected seed. If it is in the seed, it can be remedied by dipping the seeds in corrosive sublimate, one ounce to eight gallons of water, for a period of ten minutes. If the disease is in the soil, the remedy is more difficult. Apply sulphur in the rows before planting the seed—600 pounds of sulphur to the acre. The safest way, however, is to plant next year's crop on clean land.

SPOKES IN THE HUB

OSCAR L. SLATON
 Oscar L. Slaton was born at Zebulon, Georgia, November 21, 1866. He came to Texas with his parents in 1877, however, and received his elementary education at Odatur. He attended Southwestern University at Georgetown, and Columbia University, at Lebanon, Tennessee, receiving a law degree from there. He practiced law in Texas for about seven years before he was made state land agent. In this capacity he traveled over West Texas in the interest of the state school lands and first came to Lubbock in 1900. Two years later, when his term of office expired, he moved out here and went into the real estate business.

Five years later he was elected president of the first National Bank. He served there for one year. The following year the State bank was organized here and since then he has been president of that institution. He was president of the Chamber of Commerce from May, 1917 to June 1918.

Mr. Slaton made several trips to Chicago before a railroad was built through Lubbock to interest the Santa Fe company in this territory. It was after he had tried to secure their shops for this city that the company, named a switch, Slaton and placed the shops there. He married Miss Bessie Wilkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Wilkinson, of Lubbock, in 1905 and they have two children, Ruth and Oscar.

Demonstrations by Extension Workers Have Resulted in Many Orchards Being Treated.

Demonstrations by extension workers in the methods and importance of spraying fruit trees have resulted in farm orchards being sprayed on over 37,000 farms in 1921, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture.

NATIONAL FORESTRY POLICY

Nothing Can Be Done Until More is Known About Growing Timber in Many Sections.

A sound national policy of forestry cannot be perfected until far more is known about how to grow timber under widely varying conditions, what our economic and industrial requirements are, and by what methods of use those requirements can best be met, says the forest service, United States Department of Agriculture.

Suggestions For Garden And Orchard

By PURLEY L. KEENE
 South Dakota State College
 Seed pods on many ornamental shrubs are unsightly and detract from the appearance and beauty of the shrubby group. It is better if these pods are removed from lilacs, spirea and mock orange. They should, however, be left on sumac on account of their attractive appearance and bright color during the fall of the year.
 Prune raspberries now. Canes of red purple and black raspberries, blackberry and dewberries never produce more than one crop of fruit. While the canes which produced fruit this year will continue to grow throughout the fall, they will be found completely dead by next spring. By cutting out these canes immediately after fruiting instead of next spring we help control insects and diseases.
 Slugs, small slimy insects, which skeletonize the leaves of roses, cherries and other plants may be controlled by spraying with arsenate of lead or Paris green. Caterpillars such as canker worms, red humped apple caterpillar, yellow necked apple worm, Spilix caterpillars (horn-worms) are all leaf eating insects and may be controlled by spraying with the same material as for slugs.

 Perennial seedlings should be transplanted as soon as they are half an inch in height or where the second set of leaves appeared. Better plants will be secured and damping off will be lessened. The small plants are "pricked" out of the seed bed and planted about two inches apart in sandy loam soil in beds or in flats, where they are left until the middle of September. By this time they will be ready for planting in the perennial border bed.
 Leaf cutting of Gloxinia may be made now. Ripe leaves, those which are just beginning to change from a green to a yellowish green, color should be used. The petiole is removed with the leaf. Light sandy loam soil is best to root leaf cuttings in. The petiole and one half inch of the base of the leaf is placed in the soil. Gloxinia leaf cuttings are preferably rooted in 4-inch pots, where they are left for three months, then they are given a rest for 2 months by allowing to dry out, after which they are repotted in fresh soil in the same pots. This soil may be used over and over again just made by mixing together 2 parts of

VOTE FOR BROWN

Because he believes that all of the educational forces of Lubbock County and this section should co-operate to the fullest, to maintain a cordial relationship between the rural schools, the city schools and both work in absolute harmony and accord with the Tech. College that will open here in 1925.

While it is possibly true that the rural schools and rural population derive more direct benefit from the facilities offered by the city schools, through higher grades of work made possible by greater incomes and better equip- ment, still the interests of both the city and rural schools are mutual and overlapping and neither can do the best possible work without a construc- tive relationship exists between all per- sons and parties concerned.

It is my belief, then, that the greatest possible good shall come to the cause of education through a closer co-opera- tion and understanding between the city and the rural schools, and school authorities and with faithful care for the welfare of the rural schools of Lubbock County I shall always strive to develop such a spirit of under- standing and mutual co-operation. If I shall be elected County Superinten- dent of Public Instruction for Lubbock County.

It is my belief that transfers should be liberally made in accordance with the provisions of the law when such transfers are for convenience and im- provement of the work of the individ- ual. I do not believe that transfers should be given when applied for upon a basis of prejudice, personal likes or dislikes or to the disadvantage of either school or to the officials of the schools concerned.

I base my solicitation for your vote and support, then, upon my recognized past experience as a teacher, my broad acquaintance with schoolmen of the state, my experience with the technical end of school finances, bonds, and other paper work, and my pledge that I shall work for the broadest possible co- operative influence and harmony be- tween all of the educational forces of the county and section. Upon this basis I ask for your vote and influ- ence.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe. Nowadays we get this famous mix- ture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage Tea and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few appli- cations, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Real Service Station Has Road Information

The Real Service Station, owned by W. D. Cleveland and managed by Thomas D. Scott, has introduced a novel advertising scheme which is like- wise beneficial to the auto owner. The men have had printed a number of small windshield stickers which give the distances of all towns within a radius of more than one hundred miles in every direction from Lubbock. The Real Service Station will be glad to give these stickers out to persons desiring such information. The situa- tion is located on the corner of Ave- nue H. and Main street, just opposite the courthouse.

Your Public Weigher

Must be on the job day and night, through sunshine and rain, must know the business of the yard, and be capable of attending to it.

I believe I can fill every requirement of the job. I am capable of keeping the books straight, strong enough to stay on the job, know the needs of the yard from the farmers' standpoint and have a reputation for wanting to do the right thing.

In the run-off I want you to ask my friends about me, what kind of fellow I am, what my reputation for honesty, ability and willingness to work is, and give me a chance to meet you. I will look after the business of the cotton yard in an efficient manner, protect the public and give capable, honest service if I am elected to the office.

Bountiful Fruits of Toil--

Come to those who conscientiously labor thru the heat of the summer months with wisdom, foresight and diligence.

The same rewards await the business institutions that conscientiously strive to serve, that use wisdom in anticipating the needs of the city or section they serve; foresight to prepare to meet those needs and exercise due diligence in the operation of their business so as to deserve the patronage that is given them.

Our success is measured in the number and satisfaction of our customers.

The records show an increase of more than 100 per cent in the number of our light and power customers during the past year, material extensions of our service lines and substantial additions to our plant equipment and facilities for rendering dependable and economical service. We point with pride to the completeness of our plant equipment, the efficiency of our office organization and the morale and spirit of our relationship with our customers over the entire South Plains.

We shall not be satisfied with the present remarkable record but shall continue to toil for greater recognition and increases in the years to come.

TOURISTS FLOCK INTO PARK HERE SAYS R. A. WOODS

Two Hundred Persons a Night Is Good Average for Crowds Stopping Off Here

From 150 to 200 people pass through the tourist park here daily, according to R. A. Woods, manager. This number has been passing through for the last ten days or more. Few of the tourists stay long enough to pay the fee of fifty cents that is charged each night after the first four. They are bound for the mountains, the seashore, the desert, high altitudes, low altitudes, or most anywhere else under the sun except home. They are in cars of every description from the largest and latest models that skim over the rough roads on balloon tires to little old 1918 model wagons that rattle along on three cylinders. But they are all going some where and they stop in the Lubbock tourist park for a time on their way.
 A few of them kick about the accommodations of the park, said Mr. Woods. But most of them, when they say anything at all, approve of the cleanliness and conveniences that they find here. Recently some men who live in Alabama and have come through in a car said that this park was the cleanest and best park that they had found on the way.
 From forty-five to sixty cars enter the park each day. Each car has an average of four or five people in it, thus making the total of 150 to 200 people.

By MARY ANN GRAY
 Weekly Service Hints Furnished by State College Specialists

Proportion of sugar to water for fruit syrups:
 Consistency Sugar Water
 thin 1 cup 2 cups
 medium 1 cup 1 cup
 thick 1 cup 1-2 cup
 Syrups to use with different fruits:
 (a) Thin syrup for soft fruits, strawberries, raspberries, peaches, apricots
 (b) Use a thin syrup for hard fruits—apples, pears.
 (c) Use a medium or thick syrup for sour fruits—currants, gooseberries, cranberries.

How to Extract and Can Fruit
How to Extract and Can Fruit
 Crush the fruit to extract the juice. As an aid the fruit may be heated in a double boiler. Strain the juice thru a jelly bag. Bring the juice to the boiling point. Pour the juice in hot sterilized jars and seal. Place a stopper of cotton in top of bottle. Filled with the hot juice, (not boiling) they are placed in water up to the neck and held for 40 minutes at a temperature of 155 degrees F. A fitted cork is pressed into the bottle over the cotton.
 Unsweetened may be used for jelly. The juices are good for sherberts, ices, fruit sauces, gelatin desserts.
 Fruits which can be canned by the cold water method:
 Rhubarb and gooseberries. Prepare for canning. Wash in hot water, pack in jars and fill with cold water. Seal. How berries may be kept from shrinking:
 (a) Wash berries. Sprinkle with sugar and allow them to stand 24 hours in a cool place. Pack in jars and pour over them a hot syrup made from the juice.
 (b) Pull and wash strawberries. Simmer for 15 minutes in a syrup of one cup of sugar and two tablespoons of water to a quart of berries. Allow berries to stand in syrup over night. Pack in hot jars. Cover with the hot syrup. Process 20 minutes in the water bath. Seal.

OUT OF THE BAD LANDS

MAN IS KILLED

Why Farmers are Turning to

It's Easy to Pay for a

CHEVROLET

for Economical Transportation

Farmers want automobiles, not only of low first price, but also of low later cost for operation and maintenance.

They want room, comfort, and ability to stand up under hard conditions.

They find the Chevrolet, fully equipped as sold, is the best value per dollar in the low-priced field, and neighbors tell them it costs less per mile to operate. And the low initial cost of a Chevrolet puts it in reach of EVERY FARMER.

ways been below almost all of the others. There are three reasons for this. First, until this year at least, the folks just hadn't been here and they are not yet here in the same numbers that they are within the 50 mile drawing circle of all the other fairs with the possible exception of Amarillo and Angelo. Then—and this is a fact and not just a personal grouch—the folks in Lubbock don't buy enough Season Tickets, don't invite enough special guests for one or two days and don't PERSONALLY attend the fair as much as they have been obligated to attend the other fairs held in other cities. And last—and as a result of the first two—enough high class entertainment has not been provided to draw large crowds time after time.

Now it takes money to provide premium lists. It takes money to rent tents, improve the grounds, PROVIDE ENTERTAINMENTS, and meet the attendance to provide this money—and it takes entertainment to provide the attendance—and around we go in the same circle. For the first time in the history of the fair about a third enough money is being spent to advertise the event—and the present program could be doubled two times and still be less than half the amount that Amarillo, Wichita Falls and Abilene are spending on their advertising. It yet remains to be seen how Amarillo comes out—but Abilene has more than $10,000 cash in the pot to start with, left over from last year—and providing a $7,500 entertainment program. Wichita Falls fell heir to the prettiest piece of luck in the world in getting their fair grounds and are cleaning up in grand style and at the present pace, will have one of the half dozen biggest fairs in the Southwest within a few years.

What we are getting at is simply this—Fairs do not happen—they are built—and it takes a lot of money and nerve and determination and civic spirit and co-operation to build them. They return the best investment on the money spent, after they get going, of any civic program of work that can be undertaken, but they can't be built by a secretary, a president, a board of directors and a little shirt-tail full of advertising in a fair catalogue on the part of a couple of dozen merchants.

FERGUSON THREATENS TO SWALLOW TEXAS

The following letter is from a man that loves Lubbock, has done everything possible for this section and is well known by many Lubbock people. Read it:
To Every Minister In Texas
Temple, Texas.
Aug. 15, 1924.

For twenty-one years, I've worked and prayed and paid my surplus earnings against those things Jim Ferguson stands for. You ministers of Jesus Christ and a Christian mother taught me to do it. My Bible teaches me to do it.
It is not necessary to enumerate the things Ferguson stands for, suffice it to say—They are against the Christian Ministry and the Church of Jesus Christ.

This letter is to appeal to you to sound the warning to your congregations at once, and urge men and women to rise in militant power against the dire evil that threatens us.
Before, with Jim, it was anti-prohibition. Now, with him, it is anti-Klux, anti-Protestantism, anti-Christ. I know Judge Robertson personally. I beg you not to believe the campaign lies being circulated against him. Even his honest enemies say his life is above moral reproach.
Brethren, in the name of womanhood, decency, honesty, and in the name of our Lord and Savior, I appeal to you to save Texas from Ferguson.
If his Klux is wrong, we can smash it later. If of God, it will live, but now as I see it, we must keep Texas from being swallowed by Fergusonism.

Sincerely yours,
H. C. Glen

IN HOME STRAWBERRY PATCH

Fruit Often Overlooked Because of Previous Failure or Selection of Wrong Soil.

It is very difficult to find anyone who does not like nice fresh strawberries and even in fairly large quantities. At the same time how many have all they want? An average sized family of five can comfortably consume five quarts daily. Figure on the home patch furnishing them for 20 days which as a rule would cost 35 cents or more per quart. That would mean $35 for strawberries in one season to say nothing of the surplus that could be sold or preserved in some form. Very few families buy $35 worth of berries in one season, so it naturally appears that the only solution is to have a home patch.
There are several reasons why we do not have more home patches, chiefly among which are:
1. Some previous failure due to improper selection of soil, wrong variety or poor culture.
2. Simply neglected putting out a patch.

Sometimes people think that a rich soil is necessary and proceed to manure the soil very heavily. This is a mistake as frequently an excessive amount of manure, in decomposing, may cause the plants to rot. Again rich soil stimulates an excessive plant growth at the expense of fruit production and also where plants have made a heavy tender growth of plant early in the spring they are more apt to suffer from drought when dry weather sets in.
Select a good clay loam soil, capable of retaining moisture and of only medium fertility. It is surprising to see some of the successful strawberry patches in the Ozarks, where from a superficial observation it would seem that the plants are growing in a mass of small rocks.
Select a perfect variety, that is, one which does not require another variety to furnish the pollen, generally termed a variety to fertilize the imperfect variety. The Klondike and Aroma are good standard varieties and each one is a perfect variety.
Set your home strawberry patch in late February or March. Mark off your rows at least three feet apart and set plants two feet apart in the row. Keep the roots moist. Make the opening plenty large and deep enough so the roots may be spread out and not doubled up. Set the plants to the crown, but be sure not to cover up the terminal bud.

Keep the plants cultivated from the

RAID IN DALLAS

DALLAS—Officers continued to raid rooming houses Tuesday night. Twenty arrests were made, most of them women who entered pleas of guilty to violation charges. But little liquor was found Tuesday night. Since the raids were inaugurated 10 days ago more than 1,000 gallons of liquor have been seized by officers and a score of persons held for violation of prohibition laws. Miss Mollie Jackson made a business trip to Merkel Saturday.

VETERAN SCHOOL TEACHER, AFTER EIGHTEEN YEARS OF SERVICE, HAS TAUGHT OVER 3,000 YOUNGSTERS

Eighteen years ago when Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Haynes came to Lubbock, where Mr. Haynes assumed the superintendency of the public school, there were four members on the faculty for the school. The following year the school had increased in size until it was necessary to add two more teachers to the corps. This faculty was composed of P. F. Brown, Mrs. Elizabeth Boyd, Mrs. W. S. Norton, Miss Maude Neville and Mr. and Mrs. Haynes.

Since that time Mrs. Haynes has taught in the schools here, having the first grade all except three years. She is still here and will be principal of the primary department of the George M. Hunt school this next year. The school has increased in size until now there are enrolled about 2400 for the school in September with a faculty of 75, and although Mrs. Haynes still remains as a teacher, she is by no means behind the times on methods and ways of teaching. Throughout all the years that she has served in this school Mrs. Haynes has gone to school during the summer and read all the time in order that she might not become narrow in her ways of teaching and fall to progress. This summer while she was visiting in El Paso she studied a course in methods of teaching children to write. And she is determined that as long as she continues to teach she will keep up with the most approved methods of pedagogy.

Mrs. Haynes estimated recently that three thousand Lubbock youngsters have been introduced to the three R's under her tutelage. She has watched a large number of these boys and girls go through the grades and high school and then through their college careers. She never forgets the pupils that she has taught, but feels a motherly interest in them all. "I feel that I am in a way related to the families of boys and girls that I have taught" said Mrs. Haynes, "and they are the best friends I have in the world. Some former students of Mrs. Haynes are famous men and women now, but most of them are just ordinary grocers, lawyers, farmers and business men.

Local boys and girls who come back to Lubbock to teach their first school find in "Ma" Haynes, as she is familiarly known, their best friend. She is always ready to tell them the best method of dealing with a mischievous boy and to encourage them when it seems that every thing goes wrong.

Mrs. Haynes attributes what success she has had as a teacher to hard work, and she is a great believer in work as a remedy for most any trouble, exclusive of physical disabilities. She has conscientiously studied each pupil she has had to find talents and traits peculiar to each one. "I have never had a student that I did not love," she said, "for I have always looked for the good in them and I believe there is some good in each one." Another thing that she has done that fostered a friendly feeling for her as a teacher has been to encourage parent-teacher associations and in every way promote cooperation between patrons of the school and teachers.

Mrs. Haynes taught her first school when she was sixteen years of age. At that time she taught in Franklin college at Pilot Point and took some courses in the school at the same time. Through all her years of teaching she has looked upon this not as drudgery but as a business of love. This has been her field of service and she has cheerfully done all that she could to help the young folks of the land start their schooling with the best equipment that she could offer.

HURT BY AUTO
SHERMAN.—Mrs. H. A. Stewart, 618 North Travis street was hurt painfully and her son, Harry Stewart, Jr., 8 years old, bruised badly when the two were struck by an automobile at the intersection of Brockett and Walnut streets at 11 o'clock Friday night. Mrs. Stewart sustained a crushed ankle and the full consequences of the injury have not been fully determined.

700 TEACHERS MEET
BROWNWOOD.—The teachers' association which includes the counties of Brown, Coleman, San Saba, Runnels, Mills, Comanche, Menard and Mason will convene here for a week's session September 8. The program includes some of the well known educators throughout Texas. It is expected 700 teachers will be in attendance.

CAT BITE FATAL
HILLSBORO.—Edward Gus Klein, 5 years old, died in Dallas from the effects of being bitten by a cat afflicted with hydrophobia.

CANDIDATE KILLED
CHILDRESS.—M. J. Dwight of this city was found lying in his garage Sunday morning about 7 o'clock with a bullet hole through his head. Physicians hold out little hope for his recovery. Mr. Dwight is a candidate for Sheriff of this county in the run-off primary election next Saturday, his opponent being John Compton.

Rural School Notes

News of one of Lubbock County's teachers has reached home in the form of a report from Van Zandt county to the effect that Miss Leola Cox who was principal of the Hardy school when she received an appointment to the position of home demonstration agent of Van Zandt has made some outstanding records in her work. Miss Cox has an enrollment of more than four hundred girls and ladies in club work. Miss Eva Rasco, one of Van Zandt's club girls won the championship at A. & M. There, in competition with seventy-nine counties of club girls from all parts of Texas. Miss Rascoe won the Texas championship on her school dress. Miss Rascoe will be sent to the Dallas fair fall contest to compete for the scholarship that is accorded to the winners. We are always glad to hear that Lubbock county girls and boys grow into industrious, successful, victorious Texas citizens. Miss Cox has many friends at home—Hardy, Monroe, Liberty and Lubbock who are glad of her success and they wish her more of all that is good and high and noble in this life. If more of our boys and girls could see far enough ahead to equip themselves for a life work, or profession, many folks would reach the age of maturity with a brighter future in store. Too many people do not know what they want to follow in the line of a calling and thus life is, in a measure, a burden to them.

The Carlisle school opened its doors for business August 13. E. E. Jones, president of the board and H. G. Robinson, principal of the school, were in Saturday for books and supplies. The book supply is an enormous thing. W. L. Altman, another board member, was in Monday for more books.

Prof. Robinson is making extreme effort to get state recognition of his school for this session. This is the right step. Lubbock county's rural schools must awake to the fact that the course must be so arranged and carried out that the graduates may enter the city schools and colleges on a higher footing than at present. Many of the best professional men are born and given rudimentary education in the country, and we must not overlook so great a necessity as the present situation demands.

The Grovesville school is in session also and Prof. DuLaney was in Saturday after a supply of books. He reported that everything was in fine shape for a good year, considering crowded conditions, lack of equipment etc. Grovesville school has a board that did every task that the inspector required for State Aid, without hesitating.

Supt. J. C. Turney, of the Idalou school, with Mrs. Turney, one of the high school teachers called Saturday to discuss affiliation. He reported that the Idalou board had purchased $1500 worth of laboratory equipment and that he would have as fine apparatus as would be found in the county. Idalou is a coming town and all the knackers cannot keep her down. Just a short period of time is all that is required. For two or three years the Idalou boys have won the county championship in basketball and many times the tennis teams are victorious.

The time has come when the entire South Plains people are alive to the cold fact that we have the makings of a commonwealth here at our doors. The educational side of the citizenship must not be overlooked and it will not be long until this will be evidenced more than it has ever been before.

Mrs. C. Z. Fine, intermediate teacher at Posey, with Miss Blanche Stewart—primary, at New Hope—were in Saturday doing certificate building work. Mrs. J. K. Wester, E. B. Dulaney, T. K. Martin, Miss Ora Little, Miss Roxie Nugent, were also on the examination roll.

The teachers' institute will be held at the Lubbock high school September 1-5. All teachers are instructed to be in attendance the entire session. Supt. C. L. Stone, of Idalou, has charge of the work and soon the programs will be off the press.

Mrs. May Bell Flynn has as her guest her aunt, Mrs. Meek, of Oklahoma City.

VALERIE ABRAMOVITCH

The marriage of pretty Valerie Olga Abramovitch, Russian film star, to the impetuous poet, Philip R. Davis, popularly known in Chicago as Philardee, is blocked for three years by her American film contract which provides that she must remain single. Tactics was a hurried courtship, lasting twenty-four hours.

Miss Pauline Lokey and sister of Harry Andrews was a Lubbock visitor. Miss Lokey was shopping in Lubbock last for this week. Mr. Andrews lives in Brownfield.

SELLING WESTHAVEN
Westhaven, Lubbock's newest addition, to the city limits, went on sale this morning according to statements made by J. M. Crowson and E. G. Graf, officials of the West Texas Company, development engineers, in charge of the project. Present conditions point to a number of the fine lots in the addition being sold immediately. "Westhaven—You'll Like It" has proved a true slogan, Graf and Crowson believe.

V. I. Bridges was in Lubbock from his home in Leveland, Monday, on business.

FALL WILL USHER IN BUSY TIME FOR WOMEN'S CLUBS WITH HEAVY CIVIC PROGRAM OVER ALL LINES

The needs of Lubbock have been given in comparison with the population and wealth of the town. The large organizations as the Chamber of Commerce and such institutions sponsored by the citizenship of the town as a whole take care of the larger needs of the town, but there are many smaller, yet none the less significant needs that must be cared for by other organizations. It is here that the women's clubs of the town do their great work. School grounds must be improved, the town as a whole must be kept clean and in a sanitary condition, the poor must be looked after, room in hospitals needs to be provided for the sick that cannot pay for their own care, in short, the social welfare and needs of the community must not be allowed to fall below the recognized standard in American life. Then too, there is provided through club work a companionship and friendly cooperation among the women of the community that promotes a general feeling of good fellowship and cordiality that is necessary for progress and growth.

Have Good Record
In the past Lubbock club women have been depended upon to stand back of every civic movement and they have always loyally responded. At the district meeting of federated clubs held at Lubbock the first day of May, Mrs. Henry Redmond, of Corpus Christi, late president of the federation, complimented this district highly on the work that it is doing, and Lubbock clubs are among the most active in the district.

Talks with the members and officers of the clubs about plans for the coming year have made it plain that in the future these clubs will continue their good work, of promoting general welfare and culture among the citizens of the town.

The Twentieth Century club, one of the oldest in this city, has as its object, child welfare and intellectual development. Beginning in September with the regular meetings that continue throughout the nine months of school, this club will study the English year of the chautauqua reading course. That is they will study something of English literature and related readings. In addition to this, the club gives an annual gift to the library and fosters general civic improvements as occasion dictates throughout the year. Mrs. H. T. Kimbro is president of the club.

Growing out of the Twentieth Century is the Junior Twentieth Century organized two years ago and made up of younger women of the community. According to Mrs. Joe Hilton, president of the club, definite plans for the coming year will not be formulated until September, as this club, like its mother club, meets only during the school year. However, it is known that the young women will study two courses, one in interior decorating and one on the modern drama. Both of these courses are furnished by the normal at Canyon and the club members hope to secure lecturers from there for some of their meetings. This club has helped with charity work in the past and expects to continue something of the kind.

Business Women Plan
The Business and Professional Women's club, of which Mrs. J. J. Smelser is president, will study parliamentary law and the constitution of the United States for the next year, "because we feel that all women in business need these two things as a foundation for their work," said Mrs. Smelser in discussing their plans. These women also anticipate continuing work of the kind formerly done such as assisting in Red Cross drives, library fund drives and helping in every civic movement.

The various Parent-Teachers clubs of the city will continue to co-operate with the instructors in the public schools, assisting them in keeping a friendly feeling with the patrons of the community, looking after the playground equipment, investigating sanitary conditions around the schools and improving the conditions as are necessary. During the coming year the special feature that these clubs will deal most with is health. The presidents of the Parent-Teachers clubs are: Mrs. J. N. Hanks, high school; Mrs. W. L. Baugh, Geo. M. Hunt school; Mrs. Geo. C. Wolffarth, K. Carter school and Mrs. Geo. Bean, junior high school.

Knox Landers, Henry Mahoney.

NEW FALL DRESSES Now Have The Call

New dresses are most attractive. Already we have received a very liberal showing of the new creations for the Fall season and every where they have been the cause of much favorable comment. Be sure to see these new things whether you are interested in new clothes just at this time or not.

Silk Dresses From New Materials- Wool Dresses In New Shades

New ideas are everywhere. In silk garments Bingoline and files together with shimmering satin faced materials enjoy the most popularity. Shadings run to the darker browns and blacks with here and there cocoas and navies. To describe the many new models is impossible for their beauty can not be put into mere words. Prices are most reasonable this season, starting as low as $14.85 with wonderful assortments under $34.85.

Wool Dresses
Charmant in light colors with touches of fur and button trimmings is in the van in popularity in cloth dresses. Here also even at this early date we have much of the new to show you, every garment bearing a moderate price.

Adelphians Are Ready
The Adelphian Club, which was organized last October, has mapped out a course in the study of the drama for next year. According to Mrs. Sid Wells, president of the club, they intend to study the drama from the beginning up to modern drama. In addition to the regular study classes there will be special readings illustrating various points, and it is the intention of the club to give at least one play during the year. This play may or may not be public. This club also sponsors civic enterprises.

The Athenaeum club, of which Mrs. E. L. Robertson is president has as its aim intellectual and civic development. The course of study for the coming year will not be definitely decided upon until the opening meeting in September, but it is known that one meeting will be devoted to an original program and at this time original poems, songs, short stories and other features will be given.

The Civic League, with Mrs. W. H. Meador as president, will work in conjunction with the city of Lubbock, during the coming year for a city park. And this association will also assist the library and in every possible way encourage the beautification of the city.

FIND SKELETON
LAS VEGAS.—Police are investigating the circumstances surrounding the discovery of a man's skeleton found yesterday in timberland, 10 miles west of here. A memorandum book found in a coat near the skeleton bears the name of J. R. Duval of 318 West Nobel Street, Oklahoma City. An iron rod also found near the skeleton and the head was believed that the man was beaten to death.

BABY KILLED
LUFKIN.—Falling off a moving automobile truck and meeting a death under the heavy wheels of the vehicle was the fate of I. D. Jones, Jr., 18-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Jones, of Lufkin.
The parents of the child were riding a truck to Nacogdoches on the Lufkin-Nacogdoches highway when the tragedy occurred. This was the second child buried during the week, a 7-month-old baby having been buried two days ago.

DIES FROM BURNS
CORSIKANA.—John Barton, 22, died today from burns received in the explosion of the Humble Oil and Refining Company's casing head gasoline plant Monday.
John Petty, injured in the same blast, is in a critical condition. Five others who were hurt are expected to recover.

Mrs. J. L. Lokey, accompanied by her sister-in-law from Posey, was in Lubbock shopping and attending to some business Monday.

THINK-IT-OVER

Old Man Opportunity don't pound your door down. We are offering you WESTHAVEN—one of the greatest investment and home owning opportunities ever presented in Lubbock property. You know what Lubbock has done. You know, only in part, what the Tech College means. The growth of the town is restricted to the North by the railroad and Canyon, to the East by the Canyon—leaving only the West and South for development.

ADJOINING THE TECH SITE

Just think it over. WESTHAVEN adjoins the Tech College. It is a protected, restricted residential district and the only residential district with a park set aside in the original plan. Close enough in for all city advantages. Far enough out for comfort and privacy. No taxes until 1926—and then at a reasonable valuation and rate.

THINK IT OVER!

SPECIAL INDUCEMENT TO FARMERS
As a special inducement to farmers who desire to secure a town home for later years in order to send their children through High School and the Tech, we will accept the $10.00 cash payment on any lot selected and defer the weekly payment until after crops are harvested and finances are in a better shape.

JAIL FARMER ON LIQUOR CHARGES IN LYNN COUNTY

Still and Fourteen Quarts of Corn Whiskey Caught When Officers Raid

TAHOCA.—H. Jolly, farmer, is in the Lynn county jail with four bills against him for bootlegging corn whiskey as a result of his having dealt with the forbidden intoxicant too freely. The arrest of Jolly was made at his home several miles south of Tahoka late last Monday night by Sheriff S. W. Sanford and Deputy Sheriff Marshall Simpson. Fourteen quarts of whiskey were also taken. Jolly was immediately brought to town and placed in jail and four bills were filed against him.

On Tuesday morning the search for the still was resumed, and upon prizing up the floor of Mr. Jolly's residence there was found a cellar in which was the mash barrels and other vessels used in mixing the mash. Not being yet fully satisfied, Messrs. Sanford and Simpson went back Wednesday and after several hours of searching Mr. Simpson decided to take a look under a tenant house on the place, which showed no signs of having any in-let under it, but prizing up the steps he found a nice cellar under it also. This cellar contained the still, coil and a few other things instrumental in the making of the valuable "corn."

Officers had suspected the accused for some time prior to his arrest but only were waiting for a good opportunity to procure sufficient evidence on which to act.

Jolly will likely be tried during the present term of court.—News.

Choose Two Slaton Girls For Pageant For Amarillo Fair

SLATON.—Two of Slaton's most popular young girls have been selected and will participate as Duchess and Maid of Honor in the great Pageant of the Plains to be held in Amarillo on September 23, 24, 25 and 26, representing Slaton. Each town participating in the Pageant will furnish two young ladies representing it with a decorated float and accompaniment of body guards in the big parade staged at noon on the opening day of the fair. The young lady voted most popular will be presented with the Queen's car by some prominent state official. The two young ladies that have been selected to represent Slaton by the various ladies clubs of the city, are Miss Frances Blundell as Duchess and Miss Edith Smith as Maid of Honor.—Slatonite.

TWO BALES IN MARSHALL

MARSHALL.—Two bales of cotton were received by wagon here from the country and sold on the street from 25 1-2 to 26 cents. Five bales have been received from this year's crop.

New Hotel Is To Be Built at Panhandle

AMARILLO.—Panhandle is to have a new two-story modern, 45-room hotel to be known as the Thompson Inn, according to announcement made here yesterday. The hotel is to cost between $50,000 and $60,000 and will be erected by Col. Ernest O. Thompson, owner of the Amarillo Hotel. Panhandle business men are said to have agreed to finance a bond issue of $25,000 and Colonel Thompson will handle the rest of the financing. Final papers in the transaction were signed last night at Panhandle. The hotel will be of the mission style and will be constructed so additions can be made later.—Amarillo Post.

FIRE LOSSES AT STANTON SET AT 20,000 DOLLARS

Four Buildings and Three Cars Wreck When Flames Rise Late At Night

MIDLAND.—Stanton was visited by a disastrous fire about 11:30 Tuesday night, completely destroying the buildings owned by J. A. Dowdy, of Midland. The occupants were R. H. Fall & Son, department store; stock and fixtures completely destroyed and largely covered by insurance; R. L. Parks Motor Company, automobiles and parts, practically all saved, with insurance carried on what was lost; Morgan Motor Company, four automobiles lost, three of which belonged to John M. Speed (insured with Sparks & Barron of Midland) and a stock of parts, partially covered by insurance; the Pegues grocery store, reported to be insured; the building in which J. D. McDamon was preparing to engage in the restaurant business, practically all of his fixtures having been removed from the building before the fire reached that side. It is estimated by insurance agents that the loss on building and contents will amount to about $20,000. The Dody building was partially insured.—Midland Reporter.

START ON COMPRESS

BIG SPRING.—The laying of the foundation for a big cotton compress here was started this week. The Big Spring Compress and Storage company will be the name of the new enterprise and it will be owned by the Trinity Compress company of Dallas.

Mr. Schley, representing the Saylor interest of Colorado, Texas, was in Midland Tuesday and Wednesday for meetings with farmers and business men, and an agreement between the farmers and Mr. Schley was reached which will insure a third gin here, provided a site could be obtained, and water suitable for use in the boiler could be found. Mr. Schley was told these difficulties could likely be surmounted easily. The Saylor interests which own three gins at Colorado propose to build a six-stand 70-saw modern gin here, at an outlay of about $25,000, according to Mr. Schley. It is proposed to have this gin in operation for this year's crop. H. A. Jesse, local leader in obtaining the new gin, says it is the plan of the Saylor interests to sell stock in the gin to the farmers at a later date, if they wish to acquire stock. Proponents of the gin declare three gins will be badly needed here within another year. Many of the farmers are enthusiastically supporting the move to establish the gin here.—Midland Reporter.

Newest Compress At Plainview Is Ready Now For Fall Crops

PLAINVIEW.—Plainview's new cotton compress is now ready for action and is only waiting for the first bale to be ginned in order to start work, so stated J. W. Murchison, who is in charge of the compress. Mr. Murchison is a new man in Plainview, but has been in the compress business several years, both in East Texas and Oklahoma. He says that he expects to run thirty-five thousand bales this fall at the very least. Although the shed space is not entirely finished, the press is ready for work and will have a maximum daily output of 1,500 bales. There will be a total floor space of seventy-five thousand square feet which will take care of five thousand bales of cotton, all this is under cover and water proof. Mr. Murchison also stated that by the city's laying an eight-inch water line entirely around the plant he had been able to get a very cheap rate of insurance, surpassing any in Texas except at the port towns.

Colorado Ginning Firm Plans Plant for Midland If Site Is Given

MIDLAND.—Midland is to have a new gin. Mr. Schley, representing the Saylor interest of Colorado, Texas, was in Midland Tuesday and Wednesday for meetings with farmers and business men, and an agreement between the farmers and Mr. Schley was reached which will insure a third gin here, provided a site could be obtained, and water suitable for use in the boiler could be found. Memphis Legion Now Is In Own Building

MEMPHIS.—The Charles R. Simmons Post of the American Legion on Tuesday of this week moved into their new home just completed on South Sixth Street, and are getting things arranged for their occupancy of the new building, which is practically finished except for a little more painting and interior finishing. No effort will be made to arrange things permanently in the building until after next week, as the Legion has leased it to the Oddfellows next week for sleeping accommodations for delegates here for the convention.—Herald.

District Court For Tahoka Is Postponed

TAHOCA.—District Judge Clark M. Mullison opened the Summer term of District Court Monday morning. The grand jury was empaneled and the cases docketed, and Tuesday afternoon the Judge declared a recess until Tuesday morning of next week, when the criminal docket will be taken up. The case which will probably attract more interest than any other is the Crowley case which was transferred here from Terry county last week. The case will come to trial Wednesday morning of next week. Crowley is charged with the murder of Alex Hawk at Brownfield on last election day, July 27. The killing was brought about by an election argument.—News.

Oddfellows To Meet In City of Memphis

MEMPHIS.—The Loker Panhandle Association of Odd Fellows will convene in this city for their annual convention on Wednesday of next week, and will be in session three days. A record-breaking attendance is expected by the local lodge, and arrangements have been completed for caring for the visitors and delegates. Members of the order of national prominence will be present to take part in the program, and a most successful convention is looked forward to.—Herald.

FAMILY DIES

GIDDINGS.—August Schultz, about 74 years old, died at his home near Sorbin. His wife died about a week or ten days ago and their son, a Lutheran minister, who was living in South Dakota, died just before his mother died. Three of the family died within a fifteen-day period.

STATE PARK FOR PLAINVIEW SURE INSPECTOR SAYS

Forty Acres to Be Given Over To State; Tourist Park Is Included in Tract

PLAINVIEW.—The state park board has taken over the city park of 40 acres in Plainview, including the tourist camp grounds, and will improve and maintain same as a state park for the tourists and citizens generally. D. E. Colp, of San Antonio, chairman of the state park board, was here Tuesday, and after a session with the city council, at which he explained the aims and proposition of the state park board, the council passed a resolution to deed the park to the board. The draw which runs through the park will be dammed at both ends, and a large lake thus formed, which will be stocked with fish. Pecan or other nut or fruit trees will be planted in the park, and it will be made an outstanding playground for the people. Additional buildings will be erected, as needed, and the grounds will be laid out by Daniel Hull, eminent landscape artist, who has been employed by the Glacier to Gulf highway association to plan and supervise parks the entire length of the highway from Texline to Brownsville, a distance of 1,932 miles, he being paid $100 a day and all expenses while engaged in his work. The state will use trusty convicts to improve the parks. Mr. Colp stated that he is out on a preliminary tour and the entire park board will be on an official tour of the plains soon, and spend the night of Aug. 29 in Plainview. The board serves without pay.—Plainview News.

Rodeo Will Be Held In Plainview Soon

PLAINVIEW.—A three-day rodeo is to be staged in Plainview by Sargent and Wilson of this city, August 21, 22 and 23. Horse races will be held in connection with the rodeo. There will be combined purses of $1,500. Five races will be held each day with $100 purse in each race. In the roping contests there will be $100 added to the entry fees and $50 will be added to the entry fees on steer riding. There will be contests in bronco riding, steer riding, bulldogging, roping, etc. Other contests which will lend zest to the amusements of the three days are being arranged.—Plainview Herald.

Littlefield School Will Open Doors On 8th of Next Month

LITTLEFIELD.—The Littlefield Consolidated District is all set to begin school on September 8th. During the week of 1-5 the teachers of Littlefield and Lamb county will attend institute at Lubbock, the school opening the following Monday. As the new high school building will not be completed until about November 1, the pupils will have to be crowded into the grammar school building until the new accommodations are available. It is now estimated that there will be more than 500 pupils to enroll the first day of the fall term. There will be available for school purposes this year about $46,000 in tax money from the district, plus $7,715 which will be received from the State. Of this latter amount $6,440 is per capita money, based on 460 scholars, $300 applies on the salary of the vocational agriculture teacher, and $275 applies on the salary of the teacher of domestic science.—Leader.

CITIZENS DECIDE TO INCORPORATE IN LITTLEFIELD

LITTLEFIELD.—Littlefield is no longer a wide place in the road, but an honest to goodness little city, under the laws of the State of Texas, with a bunch of "City Fathers" to look after her interests, and all the rights and privileges to grow as big as Dallas, Kansas City or Chicago. Last Saturday, in compliance with a petition previously presented to the County Commissioners' Court and a mandate issued out of that tribunal, the citizens residing within the corporate bounds of Littlefield cast their ballots pro and con. There were 109 votes for incorporation under the commission form of government, and only four against. The first set of officers for the new town were also voted on at the same time, the vote being as follows: For Mayor—B. L. Cogdill, 71; E. S. Rowe, 34; A. P. Duggan, 4. For Commissioners—J. M. Stokes, 66; M. L. Crockett, 68; W. G. Street, 45; A. P. Duggan, 39.—Leader.

FOSSIL GIVEN AWAY

DALLAS.—At the Lagow Gravel pit south of Dallas an eight-foot four inch tusk, believed to be that of a mastodon, unearthed late Friday, was turned over to Ed Sewell, curator of the Texas Museum of Natural History today. A lower jawbone and a full set of teeth were unearthed several months ago in the same place. The fossils were discovered about 30 feet deep. Read Journal Ads, it pays.

To Our Stockholders--

Our regular dividend of efficient service, dependable light, water and power resources and economical rates and operation is again being increased with the completion of additional improvements to our plants. The increase in our business has demanded a continual program of extensions and enlargements that has at times taxed to the fullest our capacity to meet the demands of a rapidly growing city. But we are glad to announce that we again have ample reserve power in the light plant for any possible need and ample reserve water volume and supply to meet the most prolonged emergency.

YOU ARE A STOCKHOLDER

In this, one of the largest companies doing business in Lubbock, if you are a citizen of the city, and you should be interested in the expansion and improvement of the plants and the growth of their business. The plant has regularly paid you substantial dividends in the form of dependable service, low rates, attracted new industries thru enlargement of facilities to meet their demands, and a high reputation with the other cities of the land for the efficiency of the plant and the progressiveness of the city.

Editorially Speaking

The Educational Fair

The announcement made last week that the 1924 Panhandle and South Plains Fair would this year carry with it an educational feature which has been found to be so successful in the large fairs and expositions in the East is a welcome one and a venture that should be met with enthusiasm from everyone interested in the coming "Show Window of the Plains."

The benefit to the attending farmers, who take the opportunity of hearing the lectures by the experts concerning the methods of raising and exhibiting prize winners, will be great. Just before the awarding of all prizes a specialist will explain the points on which the prizes are to be granted, why the prizes are to be granted along these points and how the exhibitor accomplished the victory. Thus every man attending the fair will be given an opportunity to gain something instead of only the prize winners.

The prestige of the Panhandle and South Plains Fair and Short Course will be greatly accelerated by the appearance of men of the calibre of Dr. W. B. Bizzell, Dr. Paul W. Horn, J. D. Tinsley, A. K. Short, T. O. Walton, Miss Helen H. Swift and others who are acknowledged authorities in their different lines. These notable and their connection with the fair will draw larger crowds by virtue of the fact that the attendants and the exhibitors will be assured of sound judgment in the handling of the exposition.

The new plan boosts Lubbock and the fair in that it proves the endeavors of this section for improvement and advancement along all lines. This educational feature will be adopted here this year for the first time in the history of the South and in the years to come will make the Panhandle and South Plains Fair and Short Course one of the biggest events in the Southwest.

It is not the idea of the fair directors to institute this plan for the 1924 fair and then promptly forget about it. The short course and all of the educational features of the fair will not only be begun this year but they will be carried on year after year until the peak of fair efficiency is reached. The directors are planning this way to improve the exposition and keep in line with the teachings prescribed by the International Association of Fairs and Expositions.

To make the educational feature of the fair a success from the beginning it will be necessary for the rank and file of the citizenship of this section of Texas to adhere absolutely to the plans of the directors and give them the co-operation that they need and deserve. Talk the short course. Explain it to your neighbor who does not understand. Do your part to make the 1924 Panhandle and South Plains Fair and Short Course the success that it deserves.

The Slaton Newspapers

Slaton has been launched upon a new sea of journalistic endeavor and no doubt the citizens of our sister city are glad. The Slatonite, the older of the two publications has announced the beginning of a semi-weekly, to appear regularly on Wednesdays and Sundays. The name of the Slaton South Plains Radiogram has been very appropriately changed to the Slaton Times and Ben F. Smith, heralded by West Texas newspaper men to be a strong man of the craft, has taken charge.

Slaton will find that no better investment could be made to insure the continued growth and development of the city than these two newspapers, both of which will fill well-earned niches in the life of the community.

While the Plains Journal is widely read in Slaton and the Slaton trade territory, this publication has nothing but good wishes for the two rejuvenated papers in the city to the south.

Take a Tip From Henry

One of the most successful men in the world admits that he has made at least two mistakes. The man is Henry Ford. One of the mistakes was the fitting and sailing of the peace ship in an endeavor to cause disarmament and through disarmament bring about permanent peace. The other mistake was his failure to advertise in proportion to his business. While, of course, we cannot be sure, we are inclined to believe that Mr. Ford thinks that the latter was the most costly of the two mistakes.

New Henry Ford is one of the truly big men of the nation. From a business standpoint he has very few parallels. After trying the peace ship plan he admits, as all big men do when they are wrong, that the plan was a dud. Acting in the same good faith, when the makers of another low-priced car—the Chevrolet—outsold his machine in four or five states, he admitted again that he was wrong and as a result is carrying on probably the greatest national advertising in the world today.

Someone once said a few words to the end that if a man could do any one thing any better than any other man, that, although he operated in an out-of-the-way place, the world would seek him to gain his benefits. That is a true statement, but you've got to show them the path first!

Advertising is one of the biggest businesses in the world today. Advertising is here to stay. Advertising is essential to success regardless of what line a man may be following. John Wanamaker proved that years ago and now everybody from the hamburger man who cries out his wares to the corporation head who draws a salary of six figures knows it to be a fact.

Newspaper advertising, according to statistics, is the best and most reliable type of advertising for the greatest number

Seeing Things

When the Paper Doesn't Come

While browsing through the many papers which come to the Plains Journal office the editor chanced to run across the bit of poetry which follows. The poem was taken from the Altus Plain Dealer, of Altus, Oklahoma, but it was not original with that publication. Usually the Plains Journal is opposed to poetic outbreaks in the columns of this newspaper but this one was so good we thought we'd pass it on to the readers who may enjoy it as much as we did:

My father says the paper he reads ain't put up right;
He finds a lot of faults, too, he does, perusin' it all night;
He says there ain't a single thing in it worth to read,
And that it doesn't print the kind of stuff the people need;
He tosses it aside and says it's strictly on the bum,
But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.
He reads about the weddin's and he snorts like all get out;
He reads the social doin's with most derisive shout.
He says they make the papers for the women folks alone;
He'll read about the parties and he'll fume and fret and groan;
He says of information it doesn't have a crumb—
But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.
He is always first to grab it and he reads it plumb clean through.
He doesn't miss an item, or a want ad—that is true;
He says they don't know what we want, the darn newspaper guys;

"I'm going to take a day some time and go and put them wise;
Sometimes it seems as though they must be deaf and blind and dumb."
But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come!

The New Railroad

Present conditions indicate that the proposed railroad, from here to Levelland and probably on through to some undecided point in Cochran county, is a certainty. Everyone in this section of the state knows the need of such a road and hopes that success may crown the efforts of the men behind the move.

It is with a sense of satisfaction that people in Lubbock receive the news that the work will start soon on the rail connection and it is a certainty that the inhabitants of Hockley and Cochran counties are even more pleased with the announcement.

A number of railroads are being built and have been built "on paper" in West Texas. Lines from Fort Worth to Tucumcari through any number of West Texas cities have been discussed and meetings held but none have brighter prospects for eventual completion.

More railroads are needed now in West Texas. More railroads will be needed in the time to come. Hockley, Cochran and Lubbock counties are blazing a trail for the other projects which are to follow. In railroad building as well as in every other kind of advancement the South Plains leads again!

The Business Women

From time to time the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary club, the Kiwanis club and the Junior Chamber of Commerce have been objects of praise for the fine civic work that has been accomplished by these organizations. They deserve the praise an investigation of the records will overwhelmingly show. But there is at least one other organization in the city which should receive more recognition than it does receive. That organization is the Business and Professional Women's club.

Members of the Business and Professional Women's club rarely take the time to advertise themselves or their organization. They haven't time. They are too busy doing a lot of things to improve the city and the living conditions in Lubbock.

Whenever some new books are needed at the library the Business and Professional Women can be found to be donors of a sum of money to make it possible to purchase the books. Whenever a dictionary, or a set of encyclopedias are needed at a school the Business and Professional Women are found to be on the front row when collections are taken up. And all along down the line, with their efforts, their money and their co-operation the members of the Business and Professional Women's club are found to be every ready and waiting to give a boost to everything that is worthy of a boost.

So in a spirit of flowers to the living, let's give some kindly consideration to the Business and Professional Women's club of Lubbock. They have it coming.

Times Sure Have Changed

Living condition are different today than they ever have been before. Standards of propriety, morals, religion, politics—in fact practically all standards have been altered or completely changed. We all had a sneaking idea that things were different than they used to be, but here is a most convincing instance. It is the modern version of "Mary's Lamb." No other explanation is necessary:

Mary was the proprietress of a diminutive incipient sheep.
Whose outer covering was as devoid of coloring as congealed atmospheric vapor.
And to all localities to which Mary preambulated,
The youthful Southdown was sure to follow.
It tagged to the dispensary of learning,
One diurnal section of time—
Which was contrary to all precedent—
And excited the cackling of the seminary attendants.

The Sob Stuff's Coming

This pretty prattling babe in Chicago who beat a companion to death with a chisel, poured acid over his face and stuffed the body in a sewer, has wrung our heart again. He has lisped a request for some stick candy to eat in jail. Next to Clarence Darrow's worn suspenders which he uses to hook his thumbs into when addressing the court, this stick candy gets our deepest sob.

That the judge did not instantly discharge the prisoner, or at least take him on his lap and rock him to sleep, is past understanding. It shows how the miserable technicalities of the law are, in the solemn words of Mr. Darrow (thumbs in suspenders) sapping the founts of human sympathy and common human kindness. The law, we understand, will not give Dickie Loeb the stick candy his young and tender innards crave, but thanks to the great pulsating heart of Chicago, he will get it just the same if it has to be bootlegged to him. Human sympathy and human kindness will not be defeated. If necessary sweet and compassionate women will organize a drive and stand on street corners with cups and collect the money to buy this persecuted young cherub all the red striped candy he can eat.

Yes, and by the wells of mercy, they will buy him a rattle, too, if he wants one. Because—and let the law mark it well—human compassion will not be pushed to the wall too far. It will rebel and fighting desperately for expression will buy Dickie Loeb a rubber ring to comfort his aching gums. Because, as Mr. Darrow says, tugging at his faithful suspenders, which have never failed him yet, you cannot turn society into an organization of wolves to rend these infants without at the same rending the human breast. And the human breast won't stand for it. It's bad enough to snatch red striped candy from the mouths of these cooing babies, but to hang them because in their youthful indiscretions and lack of mature judgment they murdered a too trusting playmate would be blood-thirsty. Mr. Darrow points out with dazzling clearness that these babes are not old enough to marry without the consent of their parents; the inference being that if you're not old enough to marry you're not old enough to hang. You're merely old enough to commit murder, eat stick candy and employ Mr. Darrow to tug hearts and suspenders.

Let us have done with this barbarous attempt to snatch two young lives in their bloom.

Oh, snatched away in beauty's bloom. by fists, cooing and gurgling in the hangman's face. Ah, no. Let us preserve them for society to sob over, for Mr. Darrow to point a moral and adorn a tale with, for lady reporters to schoanalyze and for human sympathy to leave itself with in a soft ocean of bottomless goof.—The Kansas City Star.

Kurrent Komment

By the way—Messrs. Coolidge and Davis, in accepting the nominations of their respective parties sketched their platforms and gave their policies. Did you read them? If you did start in them it is an even bet that you didn't finish. A first class mind reader would have had trouble in many places trying to discover what the gentlemen in question really meant. Oh well! It doesn't make much difference anyway.

The attempt being made to land a state park in the vicinity of this city is worthy of the cooperation of the citizenship of the entire South Plains. Other cities of West Texas are bidding for the state park to be placed near them. Let's get the park for Lubbock.

How long has it been since you've written a letter home? Don't you reckon the folks back in McLennan, Limestone, Van Zandt or whatever county you came from would like to hear from you occasionally? Maybe you've got a mother and a dad back there, a sister, a brother, uncles or aunts. You know they want to know what you are doing—that they are interested in your welfare. Think of the things they've done for you in the past. Don't you think you kinda owe it to them? Come on, get right—write the folks at home!

Many of Lubbock's merchants have visited and are at present visiting the eastern market centers, laying up stocks for the seasons to come. These merchants could, with less expense, order their goods by wire or mail, but they do not do it, because they wish to be sure that the people of this section may have the best and the latest articles to choose from. Rather than increase their margins of profits the merchants choose to serve customers in

CITY DIRECTORY WORK POSTPONED FOR A TIME, ISSUE DECEMBER FIRST

DRASTIC NEED SEEN FOR BUSINESS GUIDE FOR LUBBOCK; BOOKS TO BE CIRCULATED HERE BY FIRST OF DECEMBER

The city directory, which was announced for Lubbock by the company headed by La Verne Kershner, will not be gotten up at this time, it was announced recently. Although work has temporarily been halted on the project that does not mean that Lubbock will have to struggle along much longer without such a business aid. The following information on the subject was issued by Kershner recently:

After a conference with the directors of the Chamber of Commerce and the Retail Merchants Association, we have decided to postpone the compilation and publishing of a new Directory just ninety days, so that it will come out about December 1st, instead of September 1st, as was at first announced.

We reached this decision after it was pointed out that the book will be of much more value if compiled after November instead of at present, for the following reasons:

First—We will have the maximum population as the result of many new people moving here to take advantage of the schools, for the cotton season and other reasons.

Second—The people will be more nearly settled in permanent locations for the school year.

Third—We can give the results of the general election.

Fourth—Our increased population will be a much better advertisement for Lubbock.

We are writing you this letter to give this information, to thank you for the support you have given us in advertising and to solicit your support and cooperation in this change, that together we may give and publish a bigger and better Directory of Lubbock.

We expect to call upon you again about November 1st, relative to your advertising in the Directory and again I want to thank you for your cooperation so far.

Yours very truly,
LUBBOCK DIRECTORY CO.

Sign Amusement For Hall County's Fair

MEMPHIS. — Realizing that, while the primary purpose of the Hall County District Fair is educational, the amusement program offered the fair patrons is what brings out the crowds, the directors of the fair association have this year arranged for one of the greatest amusement programs ever presented at a fair in West Texas, and there is going to be something doing every minute of the time, morning, afternoon and night, during the four days of the fair, September 13th to 17th. — Herald.

SANITARIUM IS IN ADVANCE OF 1923 BUSINESS

Nearly Six Thousand Patients Have Entered Institution Since First of 1918

The Lubbock Sanitarium, which finished second in the state last year in the amount of business done, is far ahead of last year's record. C. E. Hunt, business manager, stated recently, five thousand nine hundred and fifteen patients have submitted to treatment in the sanitarium since it opened its doors, in January of 1918. Thirty-one persons entered the sanitarium during the past week. They all hail from West Texas cities. The complete list follows:

Miss Beatrice Biffle, Lubbock; Miss Nina Morgan, Spur; Kendrick Green, Lubbock; Mrs. H. V. Jarman, Slaton; Mrs. Floyd Meers, Southland; Miss Nina Burkett, Brownfield; Miss Pauline Conley, Aubrey; Miss Lucile Chastain, Ralls; Mrs. J. L. Bradley, Lubbock; A. P. Government Makes Cotton Crop Guess

A cotton crop of 11,934,000 five hundred pound bales this year is the forecast of the Department of Agriculture in its first semi-monthly report. The forecast is based on the condition of the crop on July 16, which was 65.5 per cent normal. The condition of the crop in Texas was 69 per cent normal.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

COLORADO. — Viviano Guerrero, farmer, who lived near Spade, twelve miles southwest of Colorado, was killed instantly by lightning during a severe electrical and rainstorm early Saturday night. He and three other men were sitting around a table in the Guerrero home when the bolt struck the house. The others were injured slightly.

Farm property and crops were damaged by high wind in parts of the county. Near Hyman, thirty miles southwest of Colorado, four or five farm homes were blown from their foundations. Rural telephone service is badly crippled.

TWO KILLED IN CRASH

SAN ANTONIO. — Two men were dangerously injured Saturday afternoon when an Austin-San Antonio motor car on the E-G-N. railroad crashed into an auto at the crossing at Ruiz street, knocked the automobile about 50 feet, turned it over and pinned the men beneath it.

The injured men are Hubert Cavin and John Lawson, both 28. Lawson was driving and was cut badly about the face. Cavin was injured about the head, more seriously. He is in a semi-conscious condition.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sides, Mrs. Gusnie Cannon and A. G. Hunt attended the Crimm meeting at Slaton Monday night.

SUPERSTITION STILL POTENT IN CIVILIZATION; TAKE THIS STORY FOR WHAT YOU THINK IT WORTH

We boast much of our proud civilization, our great strides toward progress, universal knowledge, advancement in the realms of science, education, philosophy and related avenues of intellectual progress. And yet we are shot through and through with the same kind of superstition that causes heathen tribes to throw girl babies to crocodiles, to worship fire, to wear a wild boar's tooth or to do any one of a thousand other foolish, unreasonable things to ward off bad luck, evil spirits, disease or other tribulations.

Do you start an important piece of work on the 13th, or start on a journey on Friday, or walk under a ladder, or fall to pick up a pin, make a wish when you see the first star, or stamp a grass horse with a wish? Then when you get one of these letters that are again getting started that predict woeful misfortune to any person who receives one and fails to send a copy to seven others—do you throw it in the waste paper basket—or do you write seven others.

Personally we don't believe in any of that sort of thing—yet observe most of it. We even wrote the first seven letters—but they came too frequently and everything else being equal we had rather take a chance of hard luck to come than hard work already here—so the last few we have thrown away—and thought of it everytime we had a flat tire for six months afterwards.

A New One

But we had a new one handed us this week. We have heard of it before but it is the first time that a copy has fallen into our hands. We pass it on with no other comment than that it is just a little far fetched and even to one as superstitious in childhood as the average youngster who has been fed on the wild-eyed ghost tales of the negro mammy—it is almost too improbable, if not absolutely impossible, to give much of a creepy chill like we used to get when goblins and hants, and spooks, and ghosts were threatened us if we didn't go to sleep and be quiet.

Country papers throughout the United States are printing what is alleged to be a letter written by Christ. In this letter was an injunction that it should be published to the world by whoever happened to find it; together with the statement that misfortune and bad luck would follow the person having possession of it in event it was not given publicly.

There was likewise a promise that whoever may have a copy in his or her possession will prosper and be followed by good fortune.

According to the history of the letter, it was written by Christ himself just after the crucifixion, signed by the angel Gabriel, 99 years after the Savior's birth and presumably deposited by him under a stone at the foot of the cross.

On the stone appeared the legend, "Blessed is he who turns me over."

No one knows what the inscription meant, or seemed to have sufficient authority to investigate until the stone was turned over by a child and the letter which follows was discovered:

"Whoever works on the Sabbath shall be cursed. I command you to go to church and keep holy the Lord's day without any manner of work. You shall not idle, or spend your time in bedecking yourself with superfluities of costly apparel and vain dressing, for I have ordered it a day of a rest. I will have that day kept holy that your sins may be forgiven you.

You will not break any commandments but will observe and keep them, they being written by my hand and spoken by my mouth. Not only go to church yourselves, but allow your man servant and your maidservant. Observe my words and learn my commandments.

"You shall finish your work every Saturday afternoon at six o'clock, at which time the preparation for the Sabbath begins. I advise you to fast

FIFTEEN SLATON MEN MAKE FIRST ORGANIZATION OF COUNTRY CLUB

Fifteen prominent men of Slaton have this past week formed themselves into an organization for the purpose of establishing a Country Club. They have purchased 100 acres of land one and one-half miles east of Southland in and near the canyon. They have let the contract for a dam for the purpose of impounding water in one of the draws leading into the canyon, and work will commence Monday. They will stock this lake with fish and swimming facilities will be provided for.

Water will be provided by means of springs that are numerous in this section of the country. A little later on it is stated that the membership will be increased, but just at this time they thought it advisable to hold the membership to the limited few so that construction work might start at once as it is easier to thrash out the preliminaries with just a few than a large number of people.

CLEBURNE TO PAVE

CLEBURNE. — Contract for paving north and south Main streets was awarded to the West Texas Construction Company on a bid of $169,125.42. Three other bids were submitted, but the winning bid was lowest. Work is to start almost immediately.

Three Boys Hurt As Car Is Overtaken

MEMPHIS.—Jude and Ed Gabel and Earl Conway living west of this city a few miles were all three painfully injured last Saturday afternoon, while returning from a baseball game, when the Ford roadster which they were driving turned over near the Hanvey place on the Memphis-Lakeview road.

Ed Gabel sustained a broken leg, the fracture being just above the knee, and the other two young men sustained painful bruises and cuts. Jude Gabel was unconscious when picked up from the wreck, and remained that way until after he had been brought to this city, and it was at first feared that he was internally injured, but this proved not to be the case.—Herald.

To The Public

This life is about the most uncertain thing in existence. Death is about the most certain thing yet to take place.

If you will re-read the above then try to let the truth of both statements fall with full force into your reasoning powers you can't help but reflect somewhat as to whether or not you are ready in several ways to meet the latter in reality.

Every one who has not fully met the conditions necessary should think of the importance of MORE LIFE INSURANCE, and we are in strong position to help you solve the question.

Did you know that right here in Lubbock you can get a nice line of good LIFE INSURANCE which is operated by home people at the cheapest price you most ever saw?

LISTEN: FRIDAY, since noon, one of our well known business men (L. V. BRAZIL) died, and we have already paid his wife the nice sum of $5,000 in settlement of policies he held in our first five associations, he having settled the above question with fairness to his dependent ones. This member was with us for over five years in one association, and less time in different others, but he paid us in all calls over a period of several years the sum of $114.00, was that a good investment?

In the light of the above taken from life, are you interested in MORE LIFE INSURANCE? If so it is safe and sane to co-operate with our SEVEN FULL ASSOCIATIONS getting up to as much as $7,500 INSURANCE at a very low cost.

We have paid to our policy holders of the south plains over $100,000 which looks like insurance.

QUESTION OF WOMEN IN POLITICS FINDS LOCAL CLUBWOMEN DIVIDED ON THEIR RIGHTS AND ABILITIES

Are men only qualified to hold office? Is there some difference in the make-up of men and women that makes it more desirable and perhaps even necessary that men should hold the responsible political positions in this country? Why should we not have a woman president in the United States? Has it ever been proven that woman is the mental inferior of man, or is it not a matter of mental ability, but a matter of predestination, that woman shall be the mainstay of the home, the foundation upon which the nation is built, and man shall engineer the government of the country. If diplomacy, prudence, shrewdness, or wisdom are necessary qualifications of an office holder, can anyone say whether a man or a woman is best fitted to hold an office? Since a woman is running for the governorship of Texas, these questions have frequently been discussed by both men and women of late, and there is some diversity of opinion even among the women.

men, but because men have always been in politics and women have only recently been granted the privilege of voting, they think the time is not ripe for woman to throw her hat into the political ring. The customs will have to change, they think. "Politics doesn't mean just office holding," said one "but it means securing the office, and one of the largest factors in doing that is public speaking for which few women have the voice and physique. But," she laughingly added, "women will overcome this handicap when they have been in the game awhile."

men in politics, said one young woman, "but why do they want to take any part in it? She thinks there is no doubt about their ability as office holders, but men have been doing it so why should women try to take their places now. Mrs. W. H. Meador, president of the Civic League, thinks it is a matter of schooling. Women could make as good office holders as men, she said, but so far they have not had enough experience. Some think that women have no business in politics, some think they will do it up as a fad as they do fashions, to discard it after a few years, some think that since they have the right of suffrage, they will conscientiously study political questions and gradually enter into the political life of the nation on an equal plane with men.

BEAUTY EXPERTS RANT AND RAVE ABOUT BOBBED HAIR BUT MILADY STILL DEMANDS IT TO BE SHORT

Beauty experts of America in a recent meeting tolled the death knell of long tresses. Idealists, philosophers, poets, artists and mere men, daily expounded eloquently and persuasively and waste volumes of air admonishing women to preserve their "crowning glory." And yet feminine recruits are daily enlisting in the bobbed hair army swelling the number that is already estimated to include ninety-eight per cent of the women folk of America. And local women are doing their part to prove that in spite of what is being done to combat it, bobbed hair is here to stay for some time to come—no one can safely say how long—according to those who have beauty shops in this city. Most of them have a perfectly good excuse to offer—as a reason for bobbing their hair, said one beauty authority here. Their hair is all falling out, it is so thick that it causes headaches, they are too busy to really dress it properly, or any one of a thousand threadbare excuses is always advanced. The result is always the same, however, one day my lady marches into a glass-fronted shop, resolutely sits down in a chair and commands the person snipping a pair of shears to hurry up with the dirty work before she changes her mind. We are going back to an age of barbarism, exclaimed a specialist in feminine pulchritude in Lubbock. Until we go back to long hair and the dignity that it naturally lends to one, she continued, we will fail to appreciate real music and the best in art and literature. Bobbed hair and the jazz are natural associates. However, she said that as long as women wished their hair shorn she would cut it, and there were locks of hair around the vacant chair in the room testifying that recently some one else had fallen in with the other ninety-eight per cent. Manufacturers of hair goods, alarmed by the decrease in business due to short hair have seized upon the fact that long hair is again the mode and are offering transformations that cover up one's suit of hair while it is growing out. The consensus of opinion among local beauty parlor proprietors seems to be that the price of these transformations will make them prohibitive for the majority of people. Anyway one woman suggested, it is too hot to wear such a thing on one's head in the summer, and they would be world of trouble. There has not been an epidemic of Ponce de Leon bobs in Lubbock like there has been in some towns. A Ponce de Leon bob is one in which the hair is clipped close, similar to the way a man wears his. The beauty parlors report only a few of these, so far.

line Carnes played Mendelssohn's Wedding march and were married with the ring ceremony. The bride was dressed in a dainty three piece suit with accessories to match. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Edrington left for a visit in Colorado. Out of town guests for the wedding were Misses Mary Barbara Cowan, Oacola, and Ruth Dean Cowan, Itasca, and Fines Edrington, of Osceola, a brother of the groom. Other guests were Reverend and Mrs. J. M. P. Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bowder and daughter, Kathryn, Dr. and Mrs. I. E. Barr and daughters, Alice, Lucile, Katherine and Virginia Lee, Misses Pauline Carnes, Annie Ruth and Rebecca Quinn, Lottie Mae and Annie Mae Cowart, Ipa Smith and Pearl Woods, Mesdames Amelia Cowart and Sallie J. Smith, C. M. Brown and H. M. Cowan. Mrs. Edrington has taught in the city schools here for several years and is well known and liked in Lubbock. Read Journal Ads—it pays.

High Hat Feature Of Fall Costume

The high hat is here for fall! The many sound a bit startling in view of the heavy-bugging crowns and drooping trimmings of seasons past, but fashionable women have taken this new manner of hat home—have tried it on under the light of their boudoir lamps, and so satisfied have they been with the result that they have made this style their own. It first made its appearance on the Boulevard of Paris, at the races and famous French watering resorts, and now it is invading the exclusive Avenues of New York. And so, smart fall hats boast high crowns and higher trimmings. For instance, a black hatters plush advanced model has a high square crown and a small brim. Its trimming is a snappy wing bow of hatters plush placed diagonally across the front and topping the crown by several inches. Dressy models boast soft color combinations. Latest hats of this order combine silk velvet with gold appliqued flowers to one side. A number of hats are being made of silk bengaline—a lustrous ribbed fabric—and velvet of contrasting color in soft sectional crowns. One new model combines sand colored bengaline and brown velvet. The entire crown and inside of the brim is of bengaline—the upturned part of the brim is of brown silk velvet over which is worked an attractive design of gold braid and beads. Youthful hats have a poke effect and the Directors influence has made this type hat very popular. A delightful model is of lustrous red silk velvet with a new tailored square crown. Tiny flat gold buttons, worked out in a Grecian design, are placed both on the crown and brim. The hat is finished off by a velvet tailored bow. Besides these, there are many new angles in trimming such as unusual pins of black satin and rhinestones. Again, there are feathers and quills made of the same material as the hat. When it comes to choosing a new chapeau, every woman looks for two things—becomingness and novelty. Nevel these new hats certainly are—and it remains to make them intensely becoming.

COWART-RAGLAND WEDDING MONDAY

Miss Amelia Cowart and Clyde Ragland are Married at the First Christian Church. A pretty wedding, uniting Miss Amelia Cowart, youngest daughter of Mrs. Amelia L. Cowart, and H. Clyde Ragland, took place at the First Christian church of this city last Monday evening at 7:30. The decorations of the church were beautiful in their simplicity. Tall wicker baskets intertwined with fern and filled with yellow and white gladioli graced the aisles and the altar was banked with palms, ferns and bouquets of the gladioli. A cluster of cathedral tapers in silver holders added an air of solemnity to the scene. Just as the wedding party arrived little Miss Jean Shelly Jennings, daughter of the pastor of the Christian church, came in from one side and lighted the candles. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Charles Giddeon sang "At Dawning" accompanied by Mrs. Mamie I. Neal, who also played the processional. As the first notes of Lohengrin's wedding march sounded, the ushers, Ross McWhorter and Lloyd Kelley, came down the aisles and took their places at each side of the altar. They were followed by the bride's maids, Misses Modelle Simpson and Lucy Gregory. Miss Lottie Mae Cowart, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a plaited gown of orchid georgette and cream lace with a picture hat to match. Her arm bouquet was of yellow gladioli and ferns. The ring bearer, Bobby Robertson, little son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Robertson, carried the ring in the heart of a white rose. He was followed by the flower girls, little Misses Dorothy Duncan and Virginia Lee Barr, who scattered rose petals in the path of the bride from baskets that they carried. As the bride entered with her brother, Edgar Cowart, of Plainview, the bridegroom and his best man, George Brewer, entered from the side and awaited her at the altar, where Reverend Walter Perry Jennings, pastor of the church, read the beautiful and impressive ring ceremony. Mrs. Neal played "Love's Old Sweet Song" very softly during the ceremony. An informal reception was held at the home of the bride's mother following the ceremony for intimate friends and relatives. Yellow and white was the color scheme carried out in the decorations of the rooms. Baskets of gladioli and roses with fern made a colorful harmony. Mrs. E. L. Robertson met the guests at the door. Mrs. H. Walter Broughton presided over the

LUBBOCK PEOPLE ARE PLEASED WITH THE CHEVROLET CAR, SAYS MANAGER OF KUYKENDALL CHEVROLET FIRM, AFTER FOUR MONTHS IN AUTOMOBILE BUSINESS HERE

"First in sales in four states—almost innumerable sections of the country; second in sales in the entire United States! That is the record of the Chevrolet automobile during the past year and we are finding that that machine is as popular in Lubbock as it is in most parts of the country."

That was the statement made yesterday by G. P. Kuykendall, owner of the Kuykendall Chevrolet company, located at 1105 Main street in Lubbock. Mr. Kuykendall has only had the Chevrolet agency here for the past four months but he has had it long enough to see that the automobile with 83 separate and distinct features is going to be as popular in Lubbock and on the South Plains as is any other type of machine.

Six types of passenger cars and two types of trucks are handled by the Kuykendall company here. These models include the roadster, the touring car, the utility coupe, the four passenger coupe, the touring car deluxe and the sedan, in the pleasure types, and the light delivery car and the delivery express truck in the other models.

In connection with the sales work in the Chevrolet car the Kuykendall company has a mechanical department which specializes on Chevrolet service and repairs. Sintering cord tires and all automobile accessories are retailed by the company but the principal thing Mr. Kuykendall and his men are interested in is the selling of the Chevrolet automobiles, because they firmly believe that in the Chevrolet they have the best low priced car on the market.

The Chevrolet is made by the General Motors company, makers of Cadillac, Buick, Oldsmobile, and Oakland automobiles and the justly famous G. M. C. trucks. While it is not generally known, the General Motors Corporation is the largest automobile company in the world, being capitalized at a billion dollars with over a half billion dollars of stock paid in. The corporation has specialized on the Chevrolet car, given it every feature possible to put on a low priced car and then pushed the sale of the model. Mr. Kuykendall and his force invite anyone interested in the Chevrolet car to their place of business. They will gladly explain the features of the machine.

Prior to coming to this city Mr. Kuykendall was connected with a bank at Clovis, New Mexico, and while this is his first venture into the automobile business he is very enthusiastic over the prospects, especially in Lubbock. He is just like everyone else in the city, after having been here a short time and having gotten the Lubbock spirit of progress he has great belief in the future of the city and of the South Plains.

Ten men are employed at the Kuykendall plant here and every one of them is kept busy. They are not too busy to give out good Chevrolet service, however, and Kuykendall urges Chevrolet owners to bring their machines to his place for repair, because his mechanics are Chevrolet specialists.

LAMESA SIGNED FOR TWO GAMES WITH ALLEN MEN

Dawson County Athletes To Be Lubbock Guests on Labor Day and August 31st

The Lamesa baseball team will appear in Lubbock against the Hubbers twice more this season, once a week from Sunday, August 31, and then again the next day, Labor Day, Sied Allen, proprietor of the Busy Day cafe and manager of the Lubbock baseball club, stated yesterday.

The Hubbers will journey to Lamesa Sunday to play a return date for last week's game here, Allen said. With the Lubbock victory last week the season's count between the two teams stands three-two, with the Dawson county athletes on the long end of the figuring. The Allen tribe will go to Lamesa Sunday, however, primed to even the count and make the season's record between the two clubs stand three with each.

After knotting the count the locals hope to sweep the two game series here on August 31, and Labor Day. The Hubbers have been playing bang up baseball. The game last week was worth fifty cents of anybody's money, the athletes turning in a fine brand of the national pastime and the game repeats with thrills. Manager Allen urges that a large group of fans make the trip to Lamesa Sunday and show the Dawson county people that Lubbock is behind her ball club.

According to the skipper many a game has been played this year on a foreign field when not a single Lubbock fan was to be found while not a single visiting club has shown in this city without a band of loyal footers. With a club made up entirely of home boys and a good, interesting brand of baseball being shown every game, the Hubbers deserve the patronage of the sport lovers of this city. And when it is considered that the box office tax is the only cost to the fan, that there is no taking of collections to run the club or pay any of its expenses, the local athletes and Manager Allen are that much more entitled to good support away from home as well as at Merrill park. Everybody who is interested in baseball is urged to make the trip to Lamesa Sunday.

Mrs. Jewell Hall, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is in a local sanitarium this week. Miss Stella Brown, daughter of P. F. Brown, will assume Mrs. Hall's duties in her absence.

"Prosperity comes from knowing what to do with your money after you make it," said that wise old Scotchman—

U. B. Thrifty

—recently while discussing the almost certain high price for a good cotton crop for the South Plains.

"A good credit rating, established by meeting your obligation on time, always having a little cash on deposit, and picking wise, conservative investments for the surplus, is just as necessary for the successful farmer as it is for a successful business man."

Follow Old Man U. B.'s advice and open an account with

And to those men who stood beside the council will be held on September 13th.

LUBBOCK COUNTY FARM CLUBS CAN BOAST MEMBERSHIP OF OVER 300

Three hundred Lubbock county farm boys and girls are enrolled in clubs under the direction of Miss Mabel Marsh, county home demonstration agent, and David F. Eaton, county agent. This number represents eleven clubs, each with a membership of not less than 12. Demonstration work for these clubs includes productive projects principally, as poultry and gardening. On the side the boys and girls may do work known as home improvement. That is, such things as sewing, cooking, for the girls and other home projects for the boys.

In the junior clubs work, Miss Marsh has the classes in poultry and gardening and Mr. Eaton has classes in stock and grain judging. These clubs are organized in the communities and meet in joint session at first. Then the various departments meet separately. To decide who will represent the local clubs each year at the state contests held at the agricultural and mechanical college, at College Station, elimination contests are held within the club and all except the two winners are excluded. These two winners are then given intensive training for a short time before going to the state meetings. This year the local representatives were Goldie Potts, Canyon, Jesse Clark, Shallowater, John Burroughs, Carlisle, Curtis Grimes, Acuff, Carl McIntyre and Davis Pounds, Acuff.

At present the girls of the clubs are canning vegetables and fruits at home. The County Line community has a canner in which the women of the community as a whole do their canning. The Posey community also has who had been playing at the keystone sack was moved into the short field. Jones was not badly hurt and will be back at his regular station Sunday when the Hubbers travel to Lamesa. He played his usual game Sunday, fielding nicely and getting three safe hits in four trips to the plate.

Terry, on the hill for Lubbock, pitched his usual creditable game and Outfielder Jackson brought the stands to action when his perfect throw from deep center held a Lamesa runner on third base. The entire game was well played and interesting throughout. The clubs will meet next Sunday afternoon in the ball park at Lamesa.

a canner and a sealer which is used by the women. At these places the women meet and do their canning together, making of the occasion a social as well as business meeting. Although the work of all the clubs is correlated, each club has its own officers and works independently of the others. The work that Miss Marsh carries on is primarily demonstration work. She shows the boys and girls how to do things then they go to their homes and work out the problems as best they can, bringing the finished product for inspection. Each person enrolled in a class is supposed to enter an exhibit of his work in the county fair held in the fall.

Lubbock county clubs that are now doing work are Canyon, Acuff, Carlisle, Becton, Posey, Wolffarth, Shallowater, Monroe, New Hope and Union. Miss Marsh does not think it probable that any new clubs will be organized this year but that she will work to round out and put those in operation on a sounder basis.

GALVESTON IS READY

GALVESTON.—Declaring that Galveston can handle 5,000,000 bales of cotton, together with grain and other commodities this season, with ease and dispatch, a letter, signed by Bayliss E. Harris, president, is being sent out by the Galveston Cotton Exchange and Board of Trade to shippers and friends throughout the Southwest.

Besides commenting on port facilities and service to be obtained here, Mr. Harris in his letter declares that Galveston is experiencing one of the greatest summers in its history.

EMPLOYEES WARNED

AUSTIN.—The State Highway Commission, in a statement signed by R. M. Hubbard, chairman, and D. K. Martin, again warns employees of the Highway Department to refrain from activity in political campaigns. It announced that violation of the nonpolitical policy of the commission will be sufficient grounds for removal from the service. There are a few employees who are taking an active interest in political campaigns, the statement said.

Mrs. Clark Griffin and Mr. and Mrs. Holmes and daughter spent last Saturday night at Silver Falls Lake near Crossleten.

New Franklin Car Breaking Records

"Road-ability records are going by the board in all parts of the country since the introduction of the 16-C Franklin with its 49 percent increase in power" says S. E. Ackerman, sales manager for the Franklin Automobile Company.

At Marietta, O., one of the latest Franklins was driven from Marietta, O., to Columbus, 140 miles, in two hours and 58 minutes—an average of 46.8 miles per hour. Making the round trip from Butte, Mont., to Spokane, Washington, 696 miles over mountainous roads, within 24 hours, is a stunt often attempted but never accomplished until one of the new Franklins undertook it recently, making the distance in 22 hours and seven minutes elapsed time—20 hours and 12 1-2 minutes running time."

AMHERST ENTERS FAIR

AMARILLO.—Amherst, busy town of the Panhandle, one year old on Aug. 1, is among the latest to enter a duchess in the Pageant of the Plains, the spectacular night entertainment of the Amarillo Tri-State Exposition, Sept. 22-23. Twenty-five towns of the Great Plains region have definitely signed up for the pageant, including practically every important community in the Panhandle and several in New Mexico and Oklahoma. Miami, Canadian, Higgins, Perryton, Spearman and Texhoma are reported by Director Mike Hollander to have entered the pageant during the last week. Fort Worth, Dallas and Oklahoma City have asked for details of the Pageant.

The most popular duchess will be presented with a beautifully equipped Hudson Coach. Miss Maynet Thomas, duchess of Childress, has evolved a strong platform, in which she solicits support for the following reasons: "1st-ly, I want the Hudson Coach; 2nd-ly, I want your vote; 3rd-ly, I want your influence; 4th-ly, I may have to walk to Amarillo, but I want to ride home; 5th-ly, I want the Hudson Coach."

Miss Thomas is the first to list the reasons why she should be supported, but she is certain to have vigorous competition, reports from other entrants indicate.

A. Les Brown, of Houston, is here in the interest of the Knights of Columbus lodge.

"MAN WORKS FROM SUN TO SUN, BUT WOMAN'S WORK IS NEVER DONE"---SO RUNS AN OLD COUPLET.
THAT WAS WRITTEN MANY, MANY YEARS AGO---BEFORE WOMEN'S PATH TO THE EASY CHAIR HAD BEEN CLEARED BY THE MANY AND MODERN LABOR AND TIME SAVERS THAT ARE PRESENTED IN THIS CITY-WIDE MOVEMENT IN THE INTEREST OF HOUSEWIVES.
AND ON THIS PAGE THE MERCHANTS, WHOSE WARES ARE NOTED HAVE COMBINED TO ELIMINATE THE DRUDGERY OF HOUSEWORK BY OFFERING SCORES OF LABOR-SAVING DEVICES, EACH MORE COMPETENT TO PERFORM ITS MISSION THAN BY THE OLD MEANS.
AND A WORD TO THE MAN OF THE HOME---COME TO US AND WE'LL GIVE YOU A PRACTICAL DEMONSTRATION---SO CONVINCING THAT YOU'LL WONDER WHY YOU NEVER HAD INVESTIGATED BEFORE.

Home Comforts Around Home Cooking

About half of a woman's life is spent cooking.
 About three-fourths of a man's life is spent eating.

WHY NOT MAKE THE COOKING EASIER AND THE EATING BETTER?

The Western Electric Stove

For those with electric service nothing approaches the comfort, convenience and general satisfaction of the Western Electric Stove with the full cooking equipment that we regularly carry in stock.

The New Perfection Oil Stove

For those without electric service the New Perfection Oil Stove is the leader for comfort, convenience and general satisfaction. Quick, economical, safe, without smell, smoke, or heat, coal dust and ashes of the old cook stove.
