THANKSGIVING DAY FIRE--Members of the Bailey County Volunteer Fire Department are shown Thursday afternoon fighting a fire in the 1900 block of West Avenue G. Firemen were called to the wind-whipped blaze which burned off at least three yards, burned fences, firewood a storage house and high-line poles and wires. Shown here are dangling live wires, firemen and a lot of smoke as they fight the fire. Most of the damage was sustained at the Don Harmon home. The Harmons were out of town during the fire.

Burglary Suspects Charged; Sought

Arrests Clear Six Local, County 'Hits'

Six recent burglaries in the Muleshoe and Bailey County area were cleared this week with the arrest of two suspects and a warrant issued for the third suspect.

Firemen Busy During Day Thanksgiving

Members of the Bailey County Volunteer Fire Department did not have a holiday on Thanksgiving Day last Thursday. They received two fire calls during the day.

The first call was shortly after 11 a.m. when several persons reported a fire in an ensilage pit at Hartley Dairy on FM1760. The firemen made short work of the fire, completing the dousing process within a few minutes so they could return to their turkey dinners before noon.

At 2:40 p.m., the fire department was again called by the Bailey County Law Enforcement Center dispatcher. The dispatcher had received several calls from persons living on West Avenue H and West Avenue G.

A raging grass fire was reported in the 1900 block of West Avenue G. When firemen arrived, the wind-whipped flames were burning a stack of firewood, fences, yards, a storage house on the back of a lot and high-line poles and wires along the block. The storage house which was devastated by the flames were at the rear of the Don Harmon home. At the time of the fire, the Harmons were out of town and knew nothing of the blaze which burned their storage house, part of the back fence and left a blackened backyard.

Firemen were on the scene for approximately 45 minutes. Southwestern Public Service Company employees had to be called to the fire site to replace broken highline wires which were live and whipping around in the wind. For a short time, the snapping wires posed a potential problem for firefighters.

There is no estimate on the damage inflicted by the Thanksgiving Day fires at this time.

Youth Revival Attracts Crowd This Weekend

Large crowds attended the first day of the "Awake For Christ" Youthful Revival at the Progress Baptist Church this weekend.

A number of teenagers attended the special community breakfast at the church Saturday morning at 9 a.m. Special guests were young people from colleges who are home for the holidays.

The Saturday night service was held at 7 p.m. with special music by Jimmy Ewins, member of Trinity Baptist Church and president of the Llanos Altos Youth Association. Other musical entertainment was by a group of young people from the Lazbuddie Baptist Church. Connie Redwine is pianist.

Sunday (today) services are scheduled at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Ronnie Johns will be preaching at each service. He has attended Texas Tech University, Lubbock, and plans to enter Hardin Simmons as a ministerial student next semester. Ronnie attended high school at Bronte and graduated from Anton High School in 1966. He served in the marines in Vietnam.

Sgt. Bob Coker, a member of the church, who is stationed at Cannon Air Force Base, Clovis, will lead the singing.

According to an intensive investigation by Bailey County Sheriff Dee Clements and Bailey County Deputy Sheriffs Corky Green and Pete Black, the arrest of the two men in Roosevelt County (Portales), N.M. cleared a total of at least five more burglaries in New Mexico and another in Cochran County (Morton) where a furniture store burglary was cleared from investigation books. Sheriff Clements said they had worked with officers in Cochran County, Lubbock County and Roosevelt County in investigating the series of burglaries, and that a small amount of the merchandise was recovered.

The series began in this county when five local businesses were "hit" late Sunday night or early Monday morning on November 1-2.

Muleshoe Fire Department Received Check

The Muleshoe Volunteer Fire Department received a check for $75.00 recently from Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies as an expression of thanks for the Department's work on the property of Troy Thomas, Rt. 1, Box 108, Muleshoe, Texas.

The money will be used for purchase of equipment, said Bailey County Fire Chief Earl Ladd.

The Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies pay volunteer fire departments this amount when the department works at a fire in rural areas, involving property insured by them.

The Insurance Company believes volunteer fire departments have contributed to reduce the amount of loss involved by fire and more important, to prevent fires. It is their hope this money will help the Muleshoe Volunteer Fire Department in their program, according to Bailey County Farm Bureau Manager, Jay Harbin.

color television sets and a black and white tv set. They also broke into the former Ray's Rocket, now Pattie's Drive In, where they took a small portable television and money from the cigarette machine and juke box. Other places entered during that night were Bill's Drive In, the Corral Drive In and the Muleshoe Gulf Service

There is a special nostalgia about the current McMurry College Band tour which brings that famous musical organization to the First United Methodist Church in Muleshoe for a performance on Friday, December 4.

This is the 25th anniversary for McMurry Band director Dr. Raymond T. Bynum. He is one of the best known band directors in the nation and has made many innovations.

Accompanying the extensive tour will be David Dillman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Dillman and Gus Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. L.G. Taylor. Both of the young men are graduates of Muleshoe High School.

During the past few years, Dr. Bynum has come up with something new in church worship services -- a "worship through music" program that has been presented to hundreds of Methodist congregations in Texas and New Mexico.

This program will be presented at the churches on the tour.

Typically, Dr. Bynum's musicians open the program with Beethoven's famous "Hymn of Brotherhood" from the Ninth Symphony.

This may be followed by Fillmore's "Beautiful Garden of Prayer;" Adams' "Bells of St. Mary's;" "How Great Thou Art;" Adams' "The Holy City;" "America The Beautiful;" Sullivan's "Onward Christian Soldiers" and "Battle Hymn of The Republic."

There are solos and ensemble numbers, pieces played upon horns, handbells, vibraharp and celeste. Soloists include Roger Nichols, Mike Ford, Charles Dickey, Marvin Gregory and others.

All of this is worked into the regular worship service.

In its more secular concerts, McMurry Band is best known for its Latin-flavored rhythms (last summers tour of Mexico was only the latest of such South of the Border playing schedules), variety numbers, stirring symphonic and concert overture arrangements.

Handbells, marimbas and the Aida trumpets add the tang of novelty to the music. Works of Von Suppe, Gustav Holst, John Philip Sousa and Camille Denardis is programmed along with Percy Faith, Paul Yoder and "Little Brown Jug."

MJHS Student Hard-Working In Journalism

By Judy Dearing
We, the Journalism Class of Muleshoe Junior High would like to introduce our class to you.

The first person is Linda Hernandez. She is 14 years old and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hernandez. She is in the eighth grade and is very active with both the F.B.I. and the annual. She is the editor of the F.B.I. and assistant editor of the annual. She is also helpful to all of the class members.

Linda worked on the annual last year and she has many ideas on ways of doing things. She proves that hard work and togetherness result in a good F.B.I. and annual!

With life demanding more and more machines it would be a good idea to build some of them to last longer.

By Debbie Burchel
I am thankful, first, for a very good and simple reason. This is because I have many things to be thankful for. I have been given so many wonderful things. Of these things, upmost in my mind is I am especially thankful for my wonderful parents and my brother. I have also been influenced by my sister and her lovely family. Another thing I am thankful for is being privileged enough to live in America. I am thankful for this because to me, America is the most wonderful, free country in the world. There is no paradise on earth like America. I am proud of my country. I have been blessed with. I have also been given great friends who will cooperate with me in sorrow or in happiness. This is a very special blessing to me!

Another reason why I am thankful is because I have a Lord who was good enough to give all these things to me. He gave all these things to me, and others, out of His pure love and care. I only wish everyone cared enough to help those with whom they are associated. Although not everyone helps the next person who comes along, there are some people who are really concerned. For these I am very thankful, because so many people in need have been touched by those who have helped them in just very small ways.

I am also thankful because I was given eyes, ears, and a brain. With these combined, I just about have enough to understand the why and how of so many things I am curious about. I have been blessed with a great computer - the human body. I am able to know what's right and wrong, although I might not listen to the conscience which tells me these things all of the time.

It would take many, many pages to express all the reasons why I am thankful, but in these few words, I have been able to tell the main reasons why I am thankful. I can truly say I think I am one of the luckiest people on earth to be blessed with so much. The only thing I now wish for is that I hope I can just use all that I have been given in the most meaningful way.

FIRST RUNNER-UP WHY I AM THANKFUL

By Katie Pease
I am thankful to be part of this world - a part of America. Sure there are problems in America, but we as Americans can solve them if we will earnestly attempt to do so. The world is full of problems, but there are also solutions.

Wars are going on because we love our country, and our soldiers are fighting to defend our freedom. I can see by the way they fight that they are thankful. I am also thankful for their caring about our country. I am thankful I can see the beautiful things in America, like the beautiful blue sky that tells us there is someone looking over us, and the green grass and flowers that tell us there is beauty in our land.

Last, but not least, the people that make America what it is today make me thankful.

Love, beauty, and understanding is why I am thankful.

Why?
Small Brother - Mr. Golden, are you a baseball player?
Mr. Golden - No, Willie, I'm not. I know very little about the game.

Willie - Then why did Sis tell Ma you were such a good catcher?

The community Christmas tree has been put up and decorated. Each year when this is done, it seems to put a feeling of Christmas in the air and everyone starts to hustle and bustle, getting ready for the holiday season.

The Chamber of Commerce Christmas activities are in the planning and working stages. We will have Santa's workshop again this year, and it needs some repairs and redecorating before Santa arrives for his visitation with the area children. These repairs are being made now.

The Christmas Parade is taking shape and we have promise of a good parade scheduled for this Friday, December 4th at 4:00 p.m. Be sure and call the Chamber office for your float entry into the contest.

Plans are not finalized, but we plan a Christmas Home Lights Tour again this year with prizes for the winning outside home decorations. Last year there was some interest of a few rural homes that would like to enter the contest. If there are as many as five or six to fit into this category, we would like to have a separate home lighting tour contest for the rural homes.

The Chamber of Commerce joins you in this busiest of all seasons of the year to make it the happiest ever.

Texas Governor Urges New Laws

AUSTIN -- State officials, headed by Gov. Preston Smith himself, came down hard on the need for significant changes in the law as it applies to traffic safety here this week during the Second Annual Governor's Public Support Conference on Traffic Safety.

Traffic safety "is a problem which outranks crimes such as murder, rape, assault, and civil disorder by at least ten to one in the number of victims," Governor Smith told the group. "It is time now for us and our fellow Texans to demand the legislation necessary to eliminate the bloodshed, the heart-break and the tragedy caused by careless and irresponsible driving."

The Governor's appeal was re-emphasized by two other officials, Col. Wilson Speir, director of the Department of Public Safety, and Ross Rommel, the state's traffic safety administrator. Both also pointed to the convening of the 62nd Legislature in January, and the need for positive legislative action.

The Governor indicated he would recommend several positive law changes when the Legislature meets. "I am dedicated to getting drunk drivers, problem drinkers and chronic violators off the streets and highways of Texas," he said.

He expressed doubt, however, that the Legislature would pass needed laws unless the citizens make representatives aware of their concern.

"Nothing can be done," the Governor said, "unless citizens like you join together and demand that our Legislature enact needed and proven legislation."

The primary target of the Governor's traffic safety legislative recommendations appear to be the drunk driver, who the Governor said is responsible for one-half the traffic fatalities in Texas. But he was quick to point out that the drunk driver he wants removed from the highway is the problem drinker.

The best analyses information available indicated that less than seven per cent of the more than six million licensed drivers in Texas are responsible for the human toll laid to drunk drivers.

Col. Speir, the state's top law enforcement official, also expressed his concern about the drunk driver. "Of cardinal importance is a change in the laws that relate to drunk drivers," Col. Speir said. "Enforcement officers in Texas are frustrated by provisions of the current law which enable drunk drivers to keep on driving."

Rommel also stressed this problem while he listed several changes he said would be recommended to the Legislature. He cited needed changes in the laws relating to driver education, emergency medical services, motorcycle safety, motor vehicle inspection and accident reporting. He said further the state should adopt the uniform traffic code and increase the highway patrol.

Bill Howell and Bob Voas, both of the National Highway Safety Bureau, were also on the program, and they cited efforts of the Department of Transportation to encourage states to adopt alcohol counter measure programs to identify drunk drivers and remove them from the nation's highways.

The Governor also praised the state's public appeal to drivers to "Drive Friendly," a campaign which has now been going on for a year. "Drive Friendly," a phrase coined to lend meaning to our traffic safety effort is working," Gov. Smith said. "Despite the fact that Texas has nearly half a million more drivers who have driven a billion more miles, traffic fatalities are below the totals for the same time last year," the Governor said.

Col. Speir also credited the campaign with saving lives. "Without a doubt," he said, "the 'Drive Friendly' program has had significant positive impact on the motoring public."

Rommel optimistically predicted drastic reductions in highway deaths if legislative action and proposed automobile design changes are made. "I can hopefully visualize the day in the mid or late seventies when we could be looking at 1,500 to 2,000 traffic deaths annually in Texas," he said, "instead of 3,500 to 5,000." The 1969 death toll was 3,551.

SALESMEN & FTC
The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) has proposed that buyers be given three days to cancel a door-to-door purchase of $10 or more and get their money back. The FTC said it would hold a public hearing of the proposed trade regulation rule Jan. 19.

LAZBUDDIE SCHOOLS' LONGHORN STAMPEDE

By Mike Casey

The Longhorns of Lazbuddie wrapped up their season on a winning note last Friday when they whipped the Turkey Turks 56-6 on the Turks home-field. It was the Horn's ninth win of the season against only one defeat.

The Horns struck for 6 points in the first quarter, Ricky Seaton plunged across from the one yard line. Seaton again was credited with a Longhorn score. This time in the second period, Seaton's touchdown came as the result of a 22 yard run.

Thomas Kervin was responsible for Lazbuddie's next tally before the first half ended, Thomas grabbed a Turkey pass that was batted down by Roy Flores and galloped 40 yards to the end zone. This gave Lazbuddie a 20-0 lead at halftime.

In the third quarter of play Arthur Graves scampered 23 yards and 50 yards for TD's. Mark Barnes stole a Turk aerial and streaked 48 yards for a touchdown in the fourth quarter.

Arthur Graves was credited with the Horns next touchdown. This came as a result of a 68 yard run that stunned the Turkey defense. The last touchdown was scored by Mike Casey on a 25 yard pass reception from Rick Seaton.

The Horns gained 523 yards total offense, 458 yards came on the ground and 65 yards through the air. The opposition totaled 140 yards. They picked up 108 yards rushing and 32 passing.

Rick Seaton quarterbacked the Longhorns and filled in for Charles Lee who was out with a virus, gained 76 yards rushing. Arthur Graves picked up 217 yards, Mark Barnes 122 yards and Mike Casey 43 yards.

For the season Charles Lee gained 1,306 yards, Mike Casey 1,041 yards, Arthur Graves 968 yards, Mark Barnes 569 yards, and Jimmy Noland 113 yards. Lee scored a total of 142 points, Arthur Graves 132 points, Mike Casey 98 points, Mark Barnes 44 points, Loy Clark 18 points, Rick Seaton 16 points, and Thomas Kirvin, 6 points.

Many Factors Decide Consumption of Meat

COLLEGE STATION--There are several factors which influence the per capita consumption of meat in the United States but, explains Ed Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist, none is more important than meat production.

How is the per capita consumption of meat figures in the first place? Uvacek says it's simple; namely, meat production plus imports, minus meat exports, divided by the human population. Since imports are small and exports insignificant, the really important factor then is meat production. Larger productions of beef, for example, tend to raise the per capita consumption level as long as they are greater than the population growth. Beef consumption per capita is expected to reach 114 pounds this year compared with 110 pounds last year, notes the specialist.

Income is another factor Uvacek relates as highly important to meat consumption. As per capita income (after taxes) rises, meat consumption usually increases, he says. This relationship is much more pronounced for certain cuts such as steaks and roasts and less evident for items like bacon and ham.

Price has a major influence on meat consumption levels and the usual pattern--as prices rise--meat consumption moves lower. Consumption of specific meat cuts, however, varies considerably in their reaction to price changes, explains Uvacek. Research indicates that the consumer's occupation also affects consumption habits. Laborers, for example, tend to eat more meat than white-collar workers.

Where one lives also influences the types of meat and the amount consumed, notes Uvacek. City dweller, in general, eat more meat than rural people. Regional differences in meat consumption habits are real. A person who grew up in the North East U.S. is likely to consume more lamb and heavier beef than is a native Texan, says Uvacek.

Family size and its composition may also play a role in meat consumption. In general, explains the specialist, teenagers in a family usually eat more meat while older people consume very little. As a rule, the per capita consumption of meat decreases as family size increases, says Uvacek.

Race, religion and nationality are cited as greatly affecting the meat consumption habits of people. The season of the year also comes in for consideration and is most important when specific cuts of meat are considered. The spring and summer "cook out" season brings much stronger demands for hamburgers, steaks and hot dogs while roasts and stews are winter-time favorites.

And finally, says Uvacek, meat consumption is a rather complicated process that yields a single simple figure but one that had best not be misinterpreted.

"Space now has a unique opportunity to reorient the U.S. space program."

MRS. LARRY TERRELL, the former Miss Glenda Calhoun.

Miss Glenda Calhoun, Terrell Pledge Vows

Miss Glenda Evelyn Calhoun and Larry Justin Terrell were married Friday, November 27, at 7:00 p.m. in the Lazbuddie Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Calhoun of Muleshoe and Mr. and Mrs. M.L. Terrell of Eastland, Texas.

The church was decorated with two seven-branched candelabras flanked by two baskets of mums and gladiolus. Flower arrangements were on the piano and organ. The pews were marked by satin ribbons.

Musical selections, "The Twelfth of Never" and "Walk Through This World With Me" were played by Miss Becky Miller. Soloist was Mrs. Denis Burrows of Lubbock.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of bridal satin featuring two rows of beaded Chantilly lace. The lace accented the neckline and the sleeves of the gown. A six foot train was attached to the empire waist. The full length veil, banded with lace, was attached to a tiara. The bridal bouquet was of daisies, centered in green, and featured a white orchid and streamers.

For the traditional custom, the bride wore two sixpences minted on the birthdays of the bride and groom; a blue garter, made by her mother; a pearl necklace for something old; her dress was something new; and she borrowed a ring of pearls from her roommate.

Attending the bride's matron of honor was Mrs. Raymond Calhoun of Midland, Texas. She wore a spring green floor length empire gown of bonded crepe with matching lace at the neckline and sleeves. Her headpiece was a veil of green illusion attached to a cabbage rose arrangement of green chiffon. She carried a bouquet of daisies with green centers.

Candlelighters were Miss Carol Terrell, sister of the groom, from Eastland, Texas, and Miss Vicki Calhoun, Midland, niece of the bride. They wore semi-formal length gowns of green bonded crepe featuring Juliet sleeves, with green centers, and matching green streamers were worn in their hair.

Serving his brother as best man was Hodger Terrell of Eastland, Ushers were Larry Kitchens of Muleshoe, Joe McCulloch, Levelland, cousin of the groom and Carl Calhoun, Midland, brother of the bride.

The reception was held at the Fellowship Hall of the Lazbuddie Baptist Church. Miss Renee Caldwell registered the guests.

The serving table was laid with a white lace cloth over green linen. The bouquets of the bride and matron of honor formed the centerpiece. A three-tiered wedding cake and lime green Jell-O punch was served to the guests by Mrs. Joe McCulloch, Mrs. Royce Barnes and Miss Kay Elkins.

For a wedding trip to points of interest in New Mexico, the bride wore a royal blue, wool dress featuring Juliet sleeves and a matching plaid jacket.

The bride is a sophomore student at South Plains Junior College at Levelland, Texas.

The groom has attended Tarleton State College at Stephenville and will continue his studies there again next fall.

The couple will be at home at 307 9th Street, Levelland, Texas.

Out of town guests and relatives attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. M.L. Terrell and Carol Terrell from Eastland; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Calhoun and daughters from Midland, Also, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gray and daughter Carl Calhoun and Carol Wilder.

REHEARSAL DINNER The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M.L. Terrell, hosted a rehearsal dinner at the Dinner bell Restaurant in Muleshoe.

Drug Abuse Education Program Gets High Priority in 4-H

SPECIAL - Over the years drugs have been associated with healing, health and the well-being of people. Today the word frequently has a new, distasteful and frightening meaning for the parents of young people.

It is not surprising then that youth organizations such as 4-H are giving high priority to drug education programs. Neither is it surprising that 4-H has enlisted the assistance of its national 4-H health sponsor, Eli Lilly and Company, in the development and execution of a drug education program.

"Knowing the facts about drugs, the consequences of experimentation and addiction must receive major attention in a program of drug education," says Norman C. Mindrum, director of the National 4-H Service Committee. "And a program designed to prevent tragedy must draw from a broad base of knowledge, utilize a wide range of methods and enlist the support of qualified people everywhere. That is the kind of program we are working on in 4-H," Mindrum said.

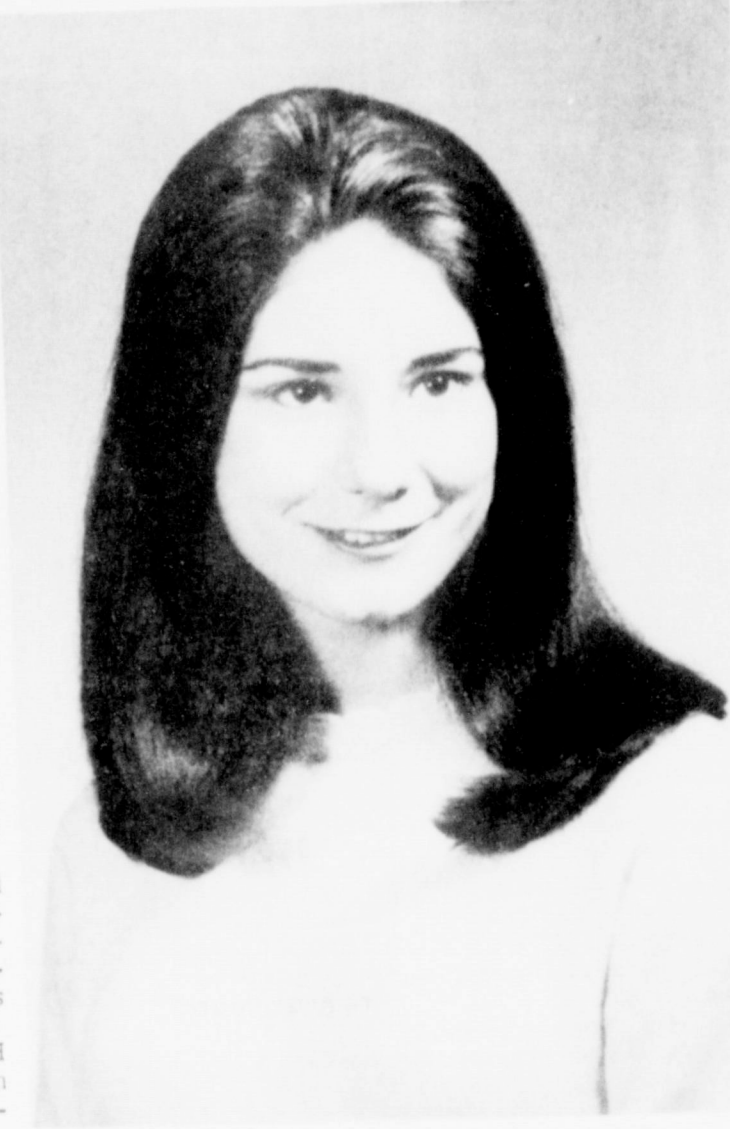

He noted the response of young people to a training course established by 4-H and the Cooperative Extension Service in Amarillo, Tex., which enlisted the assistance of the police. After the training, the youths themselves passed on information to other teens. Equally effective programs are underway in many states including West Virginia, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Tennessee and Iowa, the 4-H spokesman reported.

At National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 29 - Dec. 3, drug abuse is to receive the attention of 1,600 of America's top 4-H'ers. The topic will fit into the Congress theme "We Care" and hopefully motivate this group of young leaders to carry on educational programs in their local communities.

Eli Lilly and Company which has supported the national 4-H health program for 15 years will take an active part. The company will have an exhibit about drug abuse on display and show a movie, "Students Look at Drugs," which has been reviewed by numerous 4-H groups. Moderator of the youth panel featured in the film, Dr. Ivan Bennett, staff psychiatrist at Lilly, will conduct an informal discussion with 4-H Congress delegates.

The company also will award seven $600 scholarships to national 4-H health program winners and host a recognition event for some 50 state winners at the national 4-H event.

In further reference to 4-H education efforts Mindrum points out that leaders and parents of 4-H members generally are confident that their youngsters will resist temptation to experiment with drugs. He notes, however, that complacency has no place in fighting the problems of drug addiction. "Telling it like it is" continues to be the core of our education program, Mindrum stressed.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED . . . Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Precure announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Melaine Sue, to Sp/4 Stanley Ben Harrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Harrison of Arch, New Mexico. Miss Precure is a 1970 graduate of Muleshoe High School. She is now attending Texas Tech where she is majoring in elementary education. The prospective groom is a 1967 graduate of Portales High School and attended New Mexico State University at Las Cruces and Texas Tech University. He is now serving in the United States Army stationed at Grafenwohr, Germany. The couple plans to be married December 22 at 7:00 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Muleshoe.

BOOKS for your CHILDREN

The paleface is again in conflict with the redskin. And again the conflict revolves around the white man's reluctance to stand by his treaties and the red man's difficulties with the white man's civilization.

For nearly a century those of us east of the frontier were grossly misinformed on the Indians' customs, dress, and behavior. In recent years however, movies, television, and books have been more accurate and the wagons have almost ceased their dizzy circling. The Indian is now presented in relationship to his own environment and background.

Young people always seem partial to books about Indians, and they are quick to recognize authenticity (or lack of it). If your local long range weather forecast hints at rain and you expect a day or more when your Indians are going to be confined to the homestead, go now to the library and bring back some books about our red brothers. A few suggestions:

Pontiac by Marion E. Gridlev. Illustrated. (Ages 8 to 10). More than a biography of the Ottawa chief, the book presents with strength and clarity the struggle of the Indians to retain their own way of life and their lands.

Living in Navajoland by Flora Hood. Illustrated. (Ages 8 to 10). Though fiction, this book tells of life among the Navajo today as Hosteen and his sister Dezbah attend a healing chant and travel to the Inter-Tribal gathering at Gallup, New Mexico.

Indians of the Great Basin and Plateau by Francis Haines. (Ages 12 to 16). Mr. Haines tells eloquently the history of the Indians who developed a great horse culture after learning from the Spaniards and capturing horses by raiding the Spanish ranches. He traces the difficulties the Indians suffered with the growing migration of white settlers, the Indian uprisings, and the mismanagement of reservations.

and treaties. This is the story of the Nez Perce, Shoshoni, Ute, Paiute, Yakima, Crow and Blackfeet.

The Indians of Carlisle by William Heuman. (Ages 12 to 14). The story of the founding of the famous industrial school that brought forth Jim Thorpe and other great athletes and citizens. It is also the moving story of an army lieutenant who helped defeat the Indians, then devoted his life to establishing the Carlisle school to enable Indians to survive in the white man's world.

How the Indians Really Lived by Gordon C. Baldwin. (Ages 12 to 15). Dr. Baldwin traces nine areas of Indian culture north of Mexico. He presents a detailed and easily comprehensible picture of how the Indians lived, dealt with each other, fought, worshipped, and offers insights into Indian beliefs and ideas.

Indians of the Northern Plains by William K. Powers. (Ages 12 to 16). Highly informative and entertaining account of the Indians of the northern portion of the region between the Rocky Mountains and the Mississippi River. The author covers their life before the white man and their life and problems of today.

Urban 4-H Youth Included In Program

COLLEGE STATION -- 4-H is coming to town. Long regarded as an organization for farm youth, this national institution that recently celebrated its 62nd birthday has followed the migrating rural population to the urban areas of the country.

The most popular project among Texas 4-H members last year was foods and nutrition, where youngsters learn the basics of nutrition and food preparation. The study of textiles was a close second followed by horses, which have shown a surprisingly strong surge in urban areas, especially Dallas.

An effort to appeal to more youngsters in urban areas resulted in the recent Texas 4-H Plan; whereby programs of the 4-H organization will be studied and adjusted to attract more young people. This means the programs and projects offered must be useful to the urban youth who lives in a town or city and does not have the land available to begin livestock or crop projects. Already, some 24 of the 43 project categories in 4-H work are adapted to urban living.

This would not cause the rural 4-H programs to suffer in quality; but instead would add to the overall effectiveness of the state-wide program, emphasizes Dr. Donald L. Stormer, state 4-H Club leader. The Texas plan for improvement and expansion parallels what is already happening on an individual county basis throughout the state. Leaders have taken on local problems or projects, sometimes with the help of the state 4-H office but usually by themselves.

Future plans call for 4-H specialists in each of the 12 Extension districts of the state, and expanded use of the mass media to further youth programs.

One such project currently underway is the taping of an electrical education series for presentation next fall on television stations throughout the state. 4-H members may enroll in the course through the state 4-H office and receive credit for completion of projects after watching the series on television.

One of the more recent and successful projects carried out on the local level with state 4-H supervision is a program to assist disadvantaged youngsters in Houston. The purpose is to develop an educational program that will reach the many disadvantaged young people who do not participate in organized youth programs.

The project was begun with the assistance of several agencies already working in Houston, including the Welfare Department and the Community Action Agency of the Office of Economic Opportunity. Perhaps the best measure of success of the first year was that more than 90 percent of the 750 participating youngsters were not members of any other organized educational program.

Leaders of the project credit much of the success to the fact that the youth were contacted on an individual basis instead of being overwhelmed by large agencies with complex organization.

The ever-present problem of narcotics and drug education was tackled last year when a program was begun in Potter County, where the city of Amarillo has about 125,000 residents. The project was intended to educate young people on the dangers of the "everyday" drugs, the stimulants and depressants found in many home medicine cabinets. The pilot program has enjoyed outstanding success with the instruction being packaged into a two-day course that is scheduled for presentation to large groups of young people in the Amarillo area.

Editorial Silent Majority

GUEST EDITORIAL:
Know why the so-called Silent Majority has heel prints on its face from being walked over by others? It's because we — you and I — are the "silent" majority. We are being kicked around because we are the complacent, unemotional, sit-on-our-can, "let John do it" type.

Maybe our blood is a little paler than the "red blooded American" of yesteryear.

Thank about it!
How long has it been since you heard a rousing "amen" in church? We no longer have this because we lack emotion and we don't want to be embarrassed when someone three pews up turns around to see who is doing the "amening".

When was the last time you saw a misty eye when Old Glory passed and the Star Spangled Banner was sung? We give lip service to the Hodge of Allegiance, Emotionless lip service, that's all!

How long has it been since you heard a man take a definite stand on anything more than the Tech-Texas football game? Let "John" take care of the other matters.

How long has it been since you patted a youngster on the back or praised him, rather than uttering something like "all the kids are going to the dogs"? Do we remember what we did at their age, America is spawning an exceptionally intelligent, conscious young breed, with just a few long hairs cluttering the image. All the younger generation lacks is adult guidance and direction, that, brother, there ain't much of that around any more!

What is the last time you visited friends as a "family"? It always seems easier to ship the kids off to a babysitter, or better yet, kick off our shoes and relax in front of the boob tube.

Did you vote "yes" to the Texas Water Plan, which could have insured irrigation water for the High Plains agricultural region? Or did you "forget" to cast your ballot that day, but now are raising Cain because "somebody isn't getting anything done." A lot of today's worried folks sure as the world went fishing that fateful day in August, 1963, when Houston, San Antonio and other metropolitan were turning thumbs down on the water.

Most people disagree at times with the way their government is operated, local, state and federal. Did you vote last time in November third? If not, your "griping license" has expired.

Were you in church last Sunday? Or did you have some place to go after the kids were delivered home from Sunday School? And were you more concerned during the sermon—if you actually made it — about the Cowboys' Sunday afternoon football game than about what the preacher was saying?

Were you in the stands Friday night rooting for the football team and hand — our kids, again — or did you decide to stay home and watch an old Elvis Presley movie on TV?

Have you said lately — and meant it — that "I'm proud to be an American and a Texan"? Are you happy that your home is in Lockney, in Florida, in Oklawaha, or Muleshoe? If not, move! Don't live in a community which fails to meet your standards.

Stand for something, be proud of something! You and I have too long been the complacent, emotionless, silent majority. We can look in the mirror any time and see where the blame lies.

— Lockney Beacon

Dear Editor:

Dear Sir:
The cyclone and tidal wave that hit coastal and inland areas of East Pakistan last Friday have taken the lives of still uncounted thousands of men, women and children. Additional thousands of survivors, homeless and destitute, cling to what is left of life.

The dimensions of this disaster are as yet incalculable, but it is certain that massive relief efforts must immediately be forthcoming. CARE's staff in East Pakistan, where we have had operations for ten years, already is at work, and their efforts are being backed by the mobilization of CARE relief resources in surrounding countries.

I earnestly solicit your cooperation in making known to your readers the need for funds to finance the major efforts that must be made if the shivering, homeless and destitute survivors of this tragedy are to be fed, warmed and housed. Regular donors to CARE are quick to respond to emergency disaster appeals. In recent months they provided the funds needed for two other tragedies — the enormous earthquake in Peru and the plight of herds of civilians made destitute as a consequence of armed conflict in Jordan.

But, the magnitude of the

Dear Editor:

It has been some two weeks since the recount and I am still speechless. We are still trying to figure out what happened and how it happened. It is a shame, North - South relations in the county had improved to the extent that some of us could trade in Muleshoe with some selected merchants without our conscience hurting too much. This was a "gentle" reminder that the situation really hasn't changed. The day after the recount a tractor salesman from Muleshoe couldn't understand why he was ordered off three farms in Southern Bailey County.

We still have two weeks to decide what to do. There has been some talk of hiring a detective to look into the matter. Our lawyer is figuring some angles.

We have profited by the experience. We now know what to expect and will try to be ready for any eventuality.

There have been lots of rumors "going around", but I hope that they are not true. There have been some good quips, like if Nolan Harlan could have hired George Parr for his campaign manager he might have won.

But what worries me more than any thing is that the vote count could be missed this much. The Bula box was 100 percent correct. The Needmore box was 100 percent correct. The Muleshoe box first reported 65 votes for Mr. Moraw. Then on recount showed 72. If this is possible then there needs to be some changes in our election procedures. A more than 10 percent error on the first count cannot be accepted. What ever has to be done to assure that this doesn't happen again needs to be done. The entire system is in jeopardy.

(s) Richard E. Black

East Pakistan disaster is so great that we feel that many Americans who are not yet members of the CARE donor "family" will be moved to respond to our appeal for funds. By so doing, they will provide direct assistance to sorely afflicted members of the human family. They will prove anew that man cares deeply about his own.

Contributions may be sent to Pakistan Emergency Fund, CARE, Inc., 105 N. Akard, Dallas, Texas 75201.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm turns one of his problems over to the experts this week.

Dear editor:
You know, from time to time in between international crises and on-the-farm obligations, like the time I rode my tractor eight hours straight without stopping trying to get a crop planted before it rained and made it, in fact, made it three months before it rained and the seeds never did sprout, anyway, in my spare time I have devoted a considerable amount of time to trying to figure out a way to play football with both teams winning every game.

What I'm doing is trying to preserve the sport. Like it is, with every game played, from everybody slapping everybody else on the back, but I have now done the next best thing.

I have discovered the people who can.

They are the chairman of the Republican Party and the chairman of the Democratic Party.

I read in four different newspapers that each one of these men has claimed that his party won the November elections, and they've made such a good case that nobody in the country is sure which one is right. As a result, everybody thinks his side won, nobody lost, and everybody came away from the polls victorious.

I know when I'm out-classed, I turn my football problem over to them.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

The Ben Miller Story

Over 15 years ago, Ben Miller was hand-crafting boots, the personally selected choice, butter-soft leathers, then carefully hand-molded and shaped them, using a new standard in custom-made fit. He hand-picked every shank for enduring wear, and lined them with steam-elastic for total comfort.

Ben Miller's reputation for making the finest, custom-made boots in the country grew. And so did the demand. He had to find a way of making more boots. Making more... while keeping the superior quality they were known for. And he found it.

Today, Ben Miller's boots are still hand-crafted, just like they were 15 years ago. They still have that custom-made fit. In fact, Ben Miller still personally oversees every boot that bears his name. The styles have changed. They're sleeker. They're busier. They're more contemporary. But the only real difference is that today, Ben Miller makes more boots, so that now, you can afford to own a pair.

Farmers in the nation took two giant steps toward the 1971 year November 19 with (1) Senate passage of new three-year programs for cotton, wheat and feed grains and (2) referral of the Agricultural Appropriations Bill to a House-Senate conference committee without House conferees being instructed to accept the Senate-attached $20,000 limitation of payments per individual.

But before plans for 1971 operations can be completed, Agriculture Secretary Hardin must announce a number of momentous decisions with regard to administration of the program. Among these are loan levels, set-aside requirements and permissible uses of set-aside acres, guidelines for sale and lease of allotments, regulations concerning cross compliance between crops and between farms, and a few others.

One of the most important to cotton people will be the level of the loan on 1971-crop cotton. And there is more than a little controversy over this point. Producers are making a case for maintaining the present or a slightly higher loan. Some members of the cotton trade, but by no means all, are stumping for a lower loan.

The new law states that the loan shall be 90 percent of the average world market price for Midding one-inch cotton, microaire 3.5 to 4.9, for the two-year period ending July 31 of the year in which the loan level is announced.

Calculations presented to the U.S. Department of Agriculture by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., in which other producer groups and some exporters concurred, show that 90 percent of the average world market price for Midding one-inch cotton over the past two years is around 20.86 cents, basis net weight trading.

Midding one-inch cotton as a quality is not traded anywhere in the world in sufficient quantity to constitute a fair base for figuring the world price of cotton, PCG contends. So the producer organization has taken a widely traded quality, Strict Midding 1-1/16 inch, and converted its price on the Liverpool Index to U.S. Midding one-inch. In so doing, PCG asserts it is necessary to conbeen set at 20.25 cents per pound, states that the loan shall be at 90 percent of the average estimated world market price for Midding one-inch cotton for the marketing year in which the loan is announced. And one of the points made by PCG in favor of maintaining a loan at least as high as the present loan is that "Unless USDA has badly missed their 'estimated' world market price for the last few years there can be no legitimate case for lowering the loan under the language of the law that pertains to 1971."

South Plains Cotton Harvest Reaches Peak

The South Plains cotton harvest reached a peak this week and the U.S.D.A. Cotton Classing Offices at Lubbock, Brownfield, Lamesa, and Levelland received samples from approximately 278,000 bales during the week ending Friday, November 20th, according to W.K. Palmer, in charge of the U.S.D.A. Classing Office in Lubbock.

The four offices classed 220,000 samples during the same period, bringing the total classed to 555,000. At this time last year 138,000 samples of the 1969 crop had been classed.

The Lubbock Office began operating on a two-shift basis last Thursday and had fifty classers on duty on Friday. All four offices have adequate personnel to remain current with the cotton received.

Estimates indicate that sixty to seventy per cent of this season's crop is now out of the fields.

Strict Low Midding was the predominant grade at Lubbock last week with 38 per cent of all cotton classed. Midding Light Spotted made up 18 per cent, Strict Low Midding Light Spotted 18 per cent, and all Spots 10 per cent.

Staple length averaged approximately 31/32. Approximately one-half of the cotton classed had staple lengths of 1-inch and longer.

Eighty-two per cent of the cotton "miked" in the Lubbock Office was in the 3.5 and better micronaire category, nine per cent "miked" 3.3 and 3.4, eight per cent was 3.0 through 3.2 and one per cent was 2.7 through 2.9.

Eighty-nine per cent of the cotton classed at Lubbock last week had Pressley readings of 80,000 pounds and higher. Pressley is an indication of fiber strength and the most desirable Pressley reading is 80,000 pounds and above.

Trading increased on the Lubbock market and prices were $2.50 to $5.00 per bale lower. Prices ranged from $10.00 to $20.00 per bale over the loan for the most predominant qualities harvested.

Prices quoted by the Lubbock Cotton Exchange for the most predominant qualities in the 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire range were: Strict Low Midding 15/16 - 19.65, Strict Low Midding 31/32 - 19.90, Strict Low Midding 1-inch - 20.55, Midding Light Spotted 15/16 - 19.75, Midding Light Spotted 31/32 - 20.10, Midding Light Spotted 1-inch - 20.65, Strict Low Midding Light Spotted 15/16 - 19.30, Strict Low Midding Light Spotted 31/32 - 19.60 and Strict Low Midding Light Spotted 1-inch - 20.05.

Prices paid farmers for cottonseed were steady and ranged from $56.00 to $62.00 per ton.

Three Scotch transfusions were necessary to save a lady patient's life at the hospital. A prawn young Scotchman offered his blood. The patient gave him $50 for the first pint, $25 for the second pint-but the third time she had so much Scotch blood in her she only thanked him.
