Bank deposits are way up . . .

By CAROL HART
Staff Writer

Howard County banks reported record deposit figures for the fourth quarter of 1981. Deposits totalling $242,644,854.55 were reported by the four banks. That figure is more than $30 million higher than the $211,370,820 figure reported for the third quarter in 1981.

First National Bank showed one of the greatest hikes in deposits for the West Texas area. The bank posted a record $119,149,232.10 in deposits, up about $26.8 million from the same time period in 1980.

Betty Rains, vice president cashier at First National, verified that "deposits are higher than they've ever been."

Similar good quarters were reported by other county banks.

Charles Havens, cashier at State National Bank, said, "I don't recall (deposits) being any higher" as he viewed his bank's $79,476,060.20 figure for the close of 1981.

. . . while crime is up slightly

By BILL ELDER
Staff Writer

As expected, the burglary rate in Big Spring decreased in 1981, according to figures released by the Big Spring Police Department.

Most other major crimes, however, showed an increase in reports over 1980, with the exception of murder, which decreased by one case last year.

The burglary decrease had been expected after crime statistics were compiled in early December and it became evident that through November about 200 less burglaries had been reported to police over 1980.

Big Spring Police Chief Elwood Hoherz attributed the decrease in burglaries to having more officers on the street and concentrating on burglary prevention.

Viewing the year-end statistics yesterday, police Capt. Sherrill Farmer expressed caution in reading the 1981 figures.

Farmer said the increases in some categories — for example, rape — may reflect an increase in reports of the offense rather than an actual increase in the number of times that particular offense was committed.

"Some of the (categories) that have rises maybe haven't been reported" as frequently in earlier years, Farmer said.

Few of the crime categories increased dramatically. Rape reports, for example, increased by two, while robbery reports increased by seven and motor vehicle thefts by seven.

Crimes which saw a big jump in 1980 over 1979 appear to be leveling off: murder jumped from two cases in 1979 to eight in 1980 and seven last year. Rape jumped from five in 1979 to 11 in 1980 and 13 last year. After increasing by 232 cases in 1980 over 1979, burglary reports then decreased by 172 in 1981.

Some of the crimes, such as robbery, appear to be low for a city the size of Big Spring (population 24,804 by the last U.S. census). Denison, with a population of 23,918 in 1980, reported 42 robberies to the FBI that year, according to the FBI's annual report on crime in the United States. Big Spring police reported 19 burglaries in 1980, by comparison.

Farmer attributed the lower number of crimes for monetary gain to the area's boom economy and low unemployment rate.

High incidence of crimes such as larceny often are attributed to Big Spring's location at the intersection of two of the state's major north-south and east-west highways (Interstate 20 and Highway 87). But Farmer thinks the crossroads location, coupled with the rural nature of the area, makes it easier to apprehend perpetrators of certain crimes.

"It becomes more difficult (to apprehend offenders) in a major city where you have so many suburbs" to lose them in, he said.

Big Spring's isolation also helps authorities catch up with stolen automobiles, since it is far from the big cities where stolen autos are quickly stripped down for parts, Farmer said.

Proximity to Mexico, however, aggravates the problem of motor vehicle theft.

"They don't have the system of tracing down there that we have up here," Farmer said.

Airport project moving on schedule

By BILL ELDER
Staff Writer

The rebuilding of the Big Spring Airport hangars and terminal appears to be moving forward right on schedule.

The Industrial Park Steering Committee, a sub-council city committee, yesterday, learned from airport manager Hal Boyd that local architect Daryle Hoherz has completed a design for one of the new hangars.

Hoherz was hired by the Howard County Industrial Foundation after the foundation last month agreed to build the first of three fixed-base-operator hangars which will be moved from their location on the east side of the runways to the west.

The foundation stepped in to help the city get started on constructing the new buildings, since it would take the city considerably longer to pull off the project due to bond sale constraints. The city plans to finance the $2.4 million airport construction with a sale of airport revenue bonds.

And while the city puts together the bond sale, the industrial foundation is forging ahead to get the first FBO hangar built. The steering committee at its meeting yesterday learned the foundation expects to open bids for the hangar construction job Jan. 28.

Once the city has revenue from the bond sale, it plans to buy the hangar from the foundation and build the other two FBOs with bond money.

Rebuilding of the terminals and hangar became necessary after plans were made to expand the adjacent industrial park onto airport property — primarily in the form of a move by Oilfield Industrial Lines to more than double the space O.I.L. rents at the park.

The city hopes to pay off its bond debt service with O.I.L. rent revenue and have an undetermined amount of O.I.L. rent money left over for normal airport operations.

Contracts between the foundation and the city which will allow the foundation to build the hangar are expected to be voted on by the city council when it meets next week.

Unless there have been some recent changes of mind, the contracts are expected to win council approval, since the council was present at the meeting with the foundation in December when it was agreed the foundation would build the first hangar and be reimbursed by the city.

The hangar can hold five planes and two helicopters, according to Hoherz's plans. Utilities to all the hangars and the terminal building are expected to hook up in such a way that they can be extended south to connect with future industrial development on the west side of the

TICKETS ON SALE — Dr. John Key, president of the Big Spring Ambassadors, discusses ticket sales for the Jan. 30 Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce Banquet, set for the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. The tickets for the 7 p.m. banquet went on sale today, cost $12.50 and can be obtained from any chamber ambassador or at the chamber office. Speaker this year will be former WFAA-TV newsman Michael Brown. Rick Hamby will emcee the event. Chairman of this year's banquet is Mrs. John Key.

Two men shot in leg at club parking lot

By CAROL HART
Staff Writer

Two men were shot early this morning in the parking lot of the Americana Club off Interstate 20, but details remain sketchy in the incident as police say the men are refusing to give any details about the incident.

Billy Griffin, 24, who gave an address in Garland, and Mike Spencer, 21, were both shot in the left leg about 2:30 a.m. today, police said.

Both men gave local addresses at the Sands Motel. They said they are employees of the National Drywall Co.

A police report of the incident shows the men were approached by person or persons unknown to them, who shot both of them with a gun of unknown caliber. Both men were headed for their car in the club's lot at the time of the incident, police said.

Following the shooting, Shaffer Ambulance Service was called to the scene. One of the men at first refused medical attention, according to a police spokesman, but both later agreed to be transported to Malone-Hogan Hospital.

They were admitted for treatment and are listed in stable condition today, according to a hospital spokeswoman.

A police spokesman said the men will be questioned concerning the incident later today.

Action/reaction: Buyer guarantees

Q. If you lose your guarantee or something you have bought but have the canceled check for the purchase, does the store have to honor the guarantee?

A. Yes. The store is required by law to have records of guarantees, according to Linda Truitt of the Better Business Bureau of the Permian Basin. A state law dealing with implied warranty of merchantability also protects consumers. A product must perform as it was intended or the company must make amends, she said.

Tops on TV: 'Fame'

The premiere of "Fame" is on channel 2 at 7 p.m. The series is patterned after the hit movie of the same name. At 8 p.m. on channel 8, "Barney Miller" contends with an attempted suicide and a berserk CPR instructor. On "Hill Street Blues" at 9 p.m. on channel 2, a weirdo called Captain Freedom aids Belker while Furllo meets with gang leaders.

Calendar: Aid workshop

HOWARD COLLEGE will host a financial aid workshop for students and parents in room 100 of the Science Building at 7 p.m. Anyone interested in financial aid is urged to attend.

The ABC Olympic Basketball Classic is scheduled for today and Friday at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. The Howard College Hawks will take on the Sul Ross JVs at 7:30 p.m. today followed by Ranger Jr. College vs. Midland College at 9:15 p.m.

Homestead exemptions may be filed in the tax appraisal office in the basement of the Howard County Courthouse. The deadline for filing is May 31.

FRIDAY

A senior citizens dance is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the Big Spring Industrial Park, building 487. Guests are welcome.

The American Legion Post 508 and auxiliary will not meet today due to bad weather.

The ABC Olympic Basketball Classic continues tonight at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. Tonight's contests are Sul Ross JV's vs. Midland College at 7 p.m. followed by Howard College vs. Ranger at 9 p.m.

Man charged with murder

COLORADO CITY (SC) — A 53-year-old man, Wendell Lane Mayo, was arrested today on a charge of murder in Mitchell County, authorities said. The charge stems from the alleged shooting death Dec. 10 of John Lee Johnson.

According to Mitchell County Sheriff Wendell Bryant, Mayo was taken into custody by Yuma, Ariz., police just prior to 1 a.m. today at the Yuma Greyhound bus station.

Yuma officers routinely quizzed Mayo, then checked with the National Crime Information Center in Washington D.C., which indicated the suspect was wanted in Colorado City on a charge of murder and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, Bryant said.

Mayo is accused of shooting Johnson near Lake Colorado City and has agreed to waive extradition, according to Bryant.

His arrest came after information obtained by the sheriff's office showed he had first been sighted in East Texas, then was reportedly seen in the Yuma area.

Mobil goes its own way---and pays a price

OCAW plans counter-offer

By ROBERT BURNS
AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—In the staid ballroom of corporate dance, Mobil Corp. insists on doing the bump.

While most other members of the oil industry are reluctant to raise such sensitive issues as antitrust, Mobil twice in the past six months has pursued in public the acquisition of another oil company—and failed.

And while the loss of its fight with U.S. Steel Corp. for control of Marathon Oil Co. may have scarred Mobil's corporate pride, few analysts who track Mobil foresee any change in the company's aggressive character.

Mobil's acquisitive strategy is based on the theory that it is cheaper to buy a company that owns a large oil field than it is to find and develop the same field.

Mobil is second in size only to Exxon Corp. among American corporations, but no company of any dimension can match Mobil's ability to stand out. It's seen in many circles as unpredictable, self-assured and defiant.

"They are a very, very different company," says Bernard Picchi, who analyzes U.S. oil companies for the investment firm of Salomon Brothers. "Mobil is generally viewed, rightly or wrongly, as being ruthless."

Herbert Schmetz, Mobil's vice president of public affairs, contends that reputation is more a media creation than a reflection of reality. Some analysts believe Mobil cultivates the idea that it is different.

"They seem to take some pride in that image of being a maverick," says Robert Morris, an oil analyst at Drexel Burnham Lambert Inc., an investment company.

The corporation has an aggressive public relations policy. Mobil frequently buys ads on the opinion pages of major newspapers to present its views on issues. Television commercials using a format often described as similar to TV newscasts also present Mobil's position to the public.

Mobil's corporate style, while unique, doesn't always set well with competitors.

Marathon's lack of appreciation of Mobil's taste for takeover theatrics was evident at an oil industry convention in November shortly after Mobil announced its tender offer.

A T-shirt pinned to the wall of Marathon's hotel suite pictured an eagle with a Mobil logo on its forehead, swooping toward a mouse wearing a Marathon "M."

The rodent was gesturing obscenely toward the eagle. The caption said: "The last great act of defiance."

Marathon was not the first U.S. oil company to escape Mobil's grasp.

Last summer Mobil lost a three-way fight for Conoco Inc. in the richest takeover battle in history. Du Pont, the chemical giant, eventually won control of Conoco at the cost of $7.8 billion in cash and stock.

1980 it acquired Transocean Oil Inc. for $740 million.

Those two purchases—and the pursuit of other companies—underscore Mobil's sagacity to get back into the domestic onshore exploration game that it ignored in order to go heavily into offshore exploration. Although Mobil ranks second among American oil companies with 1980 revenues of $59.5 billion, nine other companies have larger oil reserves.

Mobil has said publicly that it wants to buy domestic reserves through acquisition.

That approach makes some industry executives nervous.

George M. Keller, chairman of Standard Oil Co. of California, said last summer that he was "distressed" by Mobil's attempt to buy Conoco, saying such a deal would have made "my industry's life in Washington a hell of a lot worse."

Keller, disagreeing with Mobil's belief that Wall Street is the cheapest place to find oil reserves, said most oil companies can find and develop reserves for less than they pay to buy other companies.

The resistance of Marathon and Conoco to Mobil's advances was more than a rejection of the company itself. Morris believes most medium-sized oil companies would resist being pursued by any industry giant.

It may have been with that belief in mind that Mobil decided not to ask Marathon management about a possible merger before announcing its bid on Oct. 30.

Sanford Margoshes, an oil analyst at Bache Halsey Stuart Shields Inc., contends, that failing to sound out Marathon ahead of time was Mobil's biggest error.

"We hear all kinds of things from analysts...on what steps they would take if they were in our shoes, and most of it is either impractical or impossible," Schmetz said, hours before Mobil failed in a last-ditch appeal to the Chief Justice

Warren Burger to block U.S. Steel's bid.

Mobil won't discuss publicly whether it plans other acquisition attempts.

However, some analysts believe that Mobil, having lost the Conoco and Marathon battles within six months, will take time to reassess its position.

Says Alvin Silber, an oil analyst at Dean Witter Reynolds Inc., "Being a two-time loser does cause you to rethink your strategy."

DENVER (AP)—With time running out on some 400 contracts affecting 55,000 oil refinery workers, the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union says it is preparing a counter-proposal to Gulf Oil's latest offer.

Gulf's offer Wednesday of an 8 percent wage increase the first year and 6 percent the second was the best yet of eight major oil companies. Contracts with the Denver-based union expire at midnight.

Gulf and other companies earlier had offered 7 percent wage increases this year and 5 percent in 1983.

The Gulf offer did not include the union's demands for a no-layoff policy to guard against layoffs and closed refineries due to current high stockpiles of oil.

The union's 12-member bargaining policy committee recessed about 10:30 p.m. Wednesday without announcing what its counter proposal will be, said OCAW spokesman Jerry Archuleta.

"I think we could say the company's offer of 8 and 6 was rejected," Archuleta said.

Two years ago, the union refinery workers struck on Jan. 8 for an average of four months, he said.

Seven die in fire called 'worst in city history'

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP)—Fire swept through a two-story frame house Wednesday night and claimed the lives of a woman and her six young children who were trapped in an upstairs bedroom, Public Safety Officer Charlie Davis said.

Authorities had not confirmed the identities of the victims early this morning, but four family members who escaped the blaze said Martha Burton, 26, and the children were upstairs when the fire began at about 9:30 p.m.

Nick Burton, 28, Ms. Burton's brother, identified the children as Ethel, 12, Henry, 8, Adam, 4, Linda, 3, Leon, 2, and Hollywood, 1. Burton said he tried to rescue his sister and her children but was driven back by intense flames and thick smoke in the staircase.

"This was the biggest fatal fire I can remember in Texarkana, on either side of the line," Davis said. The Texas-Arkansas state line splits the city in two.

"Nobody I've talked to can remember a fire this bad," he said.

Ms. Burton's mother, Maudie Burton, stepfather Robert Hubbard, and brothers Nick and Timmy

Burton, 18, escaped from the flames without injury, Davis said. Another brother, David Burton, 22, was not at home at the time, he said.

Maudie Burton said she first saw flames coming through a downstairs floor and called the Public Safety Department. The first fire units arrived and started battling the blaze about 40 seconds after the call came in at 9:28 p.m., Davis said.

The fire started downstairs in the rear of the wooden structure and spread swiftly through the upper story, Davis said. "The stairs were completely engulfed when we got there," he said. "There wasn't any way to get to them. We even had one officer up in a tree trying to fight the fire."

Authorities said the fire gutted most of the structure and that no cause had been determined early this morning.

Light snow falls in Panhandle today

By The Associated Press

Light snow fell in the Panhandle early today as a fast-moving Arctic cold front pushed across most of the state during the night.

The front was located at dawn today along a line from near Del Rio to SOUTH OF SAN ANTONIO to north of Houston.

In addition to the snowfall that amounted to only a trace by dawn in most areas, some light rain fell in portions of East Texas and Southeast Texas. Snow flurries were reported in some areas of the South Plains.

Forecasts called for a possible accumulation of about one inch of snow in western sections of the Panhandle. Elsewhere there was a chance of light rain over East Texas. It was to be cloudy and cold over much of the state today with a

Houston councilman blasted for asking ban on some guns

HOUSTON (AP)—Gun control opponents took aim at a city councilman who asked attorneys to determine if a recent federal court decision would give the city the right to ban the sales of some handguns.

"Guns don't kill people. People kill people. Read the statistics and examine your own consciences. Without a gun you have no protection from the man walking down the street," said George Polk, one of 13 people who spoke in opposition to Councilman Ben Reyes' proposal to study banning certain guns at a Wednesday council meeting.

Reyes made his proposal following a ruling by a U.S. district judge upholding an ordinance in the Chicago suburb of Morton Grove Village, Ill., banning the sale and possession of all handguns.

The councilman, who owns a handgun, said he doesn't want all guns banned but only the inexpensive "Saturday Night special."

"These people here were operating under a misrepresentation or wrong impression," Reyes said. He said he only wants the legal department to determine if last week's federal court ruling paved the way for Houston to initiate any type of gun control ordinance.

U.S. still superior in military power

A DEFENSE studies analyst at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology believes claims of American military inferiority to the Russians have been greatly exaggerated.

The argument which Michael Johnson puts forth is an important one for Americans to understand.

THERE IS NO DOUBT, says Johnson, that the Soviet Union undertook a massive military buildup during the 1970s. Numbers of tanks and missiles have increased substantially and quality has improved dramatically over previous Soviet hardware.

But, says Johnson, although the Soviets may have numerical superiority over the U.S. in terms of tanks and missiles, America still has the edge due to "qualitative excellence." In fact, he says, the evidence does not support claims of Soviet strategic or conventional military superiority.

ACCORDING TO THE ANALYSIS, for example, Soviet missiles are simply not as accurate as their U.S. counterparts. Therefore, to compensate, the Soviets have had to build larger warheads and more of them. The U.S., on the other hand, with more sophisticated guidance systems has opted to build smaller warhead explosive power.

That, says the MIT analyst, does not add up to Soviet superiority, though strictly numerical comparisons might indicate that.

Johnson says that with deployment of new missiles, the U.S. will have air, sea and land first-strike capability.

JOHNSON ALSO MAKES a persuasive case for the superiority of the American F-15 fighter jet and the American submarine force.

He concedes the Russians superiority in only one area, their battlefield tanks, but he says that edge is misleading. For one thing, Americans assume that an average 18-year-old can drive a vehicle, but the majority of Soviet draftees cannot. For another, no major battle involving mass-armor warfare has been won since 1943 without local air superiority, and the U.S. again holds the upper hand there.

THIS IS THE SITUATION as America embarks upon a five-year program to "regain" military superiority. Johnson's analysis raises important issues.

First, while there are necessary additions to our military stockpile — a new tank, the cruise missile, the Trident submarine — those hardware additions must be well thought out. The country must avoid panic buying.

SECOND, IF INSTEAD of a position of military inferiority, we are actually beginning our arms buildup from a position of superiority, what effect is that likely to have on the Soviets? Could we be making arms limitation an untenable concept?

America must replace its outdated military hardware to retain or regain its strategic advantage. But in these times of budget cutting, there might be less need for a massive five-year commitment to new technologies than we originally thought.

"Very funny, Altschuler. I can't wait until it's your turn to get rid of 868 million pounds of dried milk."

"Froman, get your tail in here. Give me a situation report on the cheddar."

"Well, sir, here is the menu for the department's cafeteria. I've ordered them to serve cheese souffle, cheese omelettes, macaroni and cheese, and no one can take a coffee break without eating a dozen cheese and crackers. I should be able to get rid of 200 pounds by next Friday."

"It's not enough. Have you offered the other government cafeterias free cheese?"

"Yes, sir, but they don't seem to have the same incentive to eat it as our employees."

"What about the Armed Forces?"

"We're getting some resistance there. The first month the sailors consumed 3,000 pounds, but they almost had a mutiny on the nuclear carrier 'Nimitz' when they served cheese sandwiches for Christmas."

"How about the Air Force?"

"They won't even use it for bombing practice, and as soon as the Army started serving it, re-enlistments declined by 30 percent."

"How about the school lunch programs?"

"That worked for a couple of weeks, particularly when we declared cheese a second vegetable. But now the kids are insisting on catsup again."

"Have you been in touch with any foreign governments?"

"I almost had a deal with Israel to take 5,000 pounds, but Begin said we had to throw in the West Bank with it."

"The British like cheddar cheese. Why don't we give a ton of it to Prince Charles and Lady Di, as a wedding present?"

"Don't you remember, we gave them two tons of butter this summer?"

"What about the French?"

"They're up to their necks in cheese. They tried to smuggle 20 tons of Camembert into Florida last month."

"Dammit, Froman, we've got to get rid of the old cheese so we have room for the new cheese coming into the warehouses this year."

"Sir, we're storing two pounds of processed cheese for every man woman and child in the United States. Perhaps if Nancy Reagan did a TV cooking program with Barbara Walters, showing the different dishes you can make with cheddar, it would inspire the American housewife to use up her family's share."

"I have specific orders from the President not to get the First Lady involved in this country's cheese problems. You're going to have to come up with something better than that."

"Maybe Secretary of the Interior James Watt would let us dump it in the Grand Canyon?"

"Even Watt has more respect for the environment than that. Any other bright ideas, Froman?"

"There's one last hope. Our research people are experimenting with a sterile Mediterranean Cheese Fly that thrives on processed cheese. If we can breed them, we could have our problem licked."

"What's the hangup?"

"The mold sticks to their gums."

Billy Graham

What is wrong with me?

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I just don't understand what is wrong with my Christian life. One day I am up, the next day I am down. How can I have a stable relationship with Christ? — M.F.

DEAR M.F.: Whatever the reasons may be, I want to assure you that God wants you to have a stable and fruitful relationship with him. And because that is the case, God has also given you the means to have that kind of relationship.

Let me mention three things that will help you in strengthening your Christian life. First of all, I suggest that you prayerfully examine your life to see if there are any sins which are coming between you and God. It may be there are bad habits which you have not conquered, or relationships which are causing you to be distracted from God's will. But whatever it may be, if we knowingly are allowing sin to remain in our lives we should not be surprised if our Christian lives are unstable.

Then make use of the means God has given you for Christian growth. If you went without food for a few days you would become very weak physically. In the same way, if we do not partake of the spiritual "food" God has provided for us we will be weakened spiritually. Spend time with God every day by reading his Word, the Bible, and praying. (Don't just read the Bible, incidentally, but always ask God to help you apply it to your life). Then spend time also with God's people in Christian fellowship.

By these means you will be strengthened spiritually. Then we will no longer be infants, tossed back and forth... and blown here and there by every wind of teaching and by the cunning and craftiness of men in their deceitful scheming. Instead, we will in all things grow up into him who is the Head, that is, Christ" (Ephesians 4:14-15).

Finally, seek ways in which you can serve God by sharing your faith with others. Often one of the best things we can do for ourselves is to help others find Christ.

A suggestion

Dear Editor: The Democratic party, if it expects loyalty and discipline on the part of its members (U.S. House of Representatives) would, in my opinion, be wise to enforce the penal clause, if any, in the Constitution of the party against a member who violates the voting rule. Otherwise, the Democratic party would be well advised to insert a penal clause "a member of the party must vacate his seat if he votes against the party." This will prevent a member to remain in the party and vote against it.

Reader: justice not consistent

To the Editor: Well, did the New Year really start off great. I got up the first day of January looked through the paper while I had my coffee, believe me all I saw was the front page where Judge Jim Gregg of the 18th District sentenced Arthur Julius Fair Jr. to a ten-year probation sentence for shooting his ex-wife 4 times and in the next breath sentences Johnny D. Darden who pleaded guilty to a charge of theft over $200 dollars to 5 years in the Texas Department of Corrections.

Few swallowed 'hit squad' theory

WASHINGTON — Senate Majority Leader Howard Baker announced weeks ago that the threat to President Reagan and other high officials from Libyan assassination squads was "diminishing." What was diminishing was the credibility of the reported threat.

The charges that led to the international uproar — and the tightened security measures at U.S. border crossings — were contained in a 40-page secret report by the CIA to the National Security Council. My associate Ron McRae has seen portions of this report.

From the outset, foreign policy experts outside the spy agency assessed the CIA's assassination alarm as "possible, but not much better than 10 percent." But obviously, however far-fetched the possibility, it had to be treated seriously by security agencies.

"The Secret Service tracks down dozens of crank calls every year, including threats to shoot Reagan with psychic bullets," one official pointed out, adding: "But we don't broadcast them all over the world."

WHAT MADE non-CIA people in the administration suspicious of the Libyan hit squad story is clear from the CIA report itself: — The chief source of the hit squad allegation, who claimed to have been rections. Now you tell me where people's values lie, sounds to me like it's in property, not life. Now I know everyone can't really feel like this is justice.

I'm not a person that climbs up on her soap box everytime I read things that I don't like, but HELL! this is crazy. I have lived and worked in this community all my life. I'm married and have four kids that I have tried to raise, to value people's property and most of all their lives. And they pick up the paper and read where people's lives are not a value at all.

I hate to think that my life or my kids, lives are worth no more than a 10-YEAR PROBATED SENTENCE.

I know of a 15-year-old boy that broke into a service station and stole $120.00 to buy dope. Well, we all know this is wrong, but he spent 5 years of his life in the pen. On the other hand I know of a man, an adult that walks out of a joint, gets a shotgun goes back in and kills another man. We know what he gets! A ten-year probated sentence.

Well this is real hard for my kids to understand, not only them, me too. I'm real glad I'm not the mother who has to bring the New Year's baby into all of this. Where is value, life or property. Can't we as a community get together and do something about this.

Happy New Year, TAWANNA BAILEY, Route 1, Box 539 its own reasons to encourage a U.S.-Libyan rift.

The report calls the evidence of the hit squad's existence "overwhelming," and predicts that "more detailed information is forthcoming" from reliable sources. None materialized.

The CIA report predicted confidently that its evidence "guarantees the support of allied governments in any action deemed reasonably necessary to protect the lives of American officials." In fact, our allies, when briefed on the CIA findings, found them unconvincing — in a class with the white paper on El Salvador earlier last year, which was later shown to have relied on highly questionable and probably forged documents.

Footnote: There is a possibility that the CIA was played for a sucker by its own "disinformation" campaign directed at Qaddafi. The campaign ordered by CIA Director William Casey last May, used foreign nationals for the dirty work.

Knowing what the CIA wanted, and without proper supervision by American agents, it's possible the CIA's foreign hirelings cooked up the "hit squad" on their own. It fit neatly into the Reagan administration's political scheme of things, and — viola! a full-blown international incident was born.

TAXPAYER BITES BACK: While multimillionaires enjoy the luxury of their tax loopholes, 73-year-old Allan J. Oehmichen, with an income of less than $600 a month, is being hounded by the Internal Revenue Service for $20 the federal flyspeckers claim he owes them for 1980.

Oehmichen is a retired oil company executive of Pompton Plains, N.J. He filed what he thought was an honest accounting of the $4,555 he earned as a consultant. Two of his clients deducted a total of $20 in federal income taxes from his fees.

Oehmichen submitted $181 in self-employment taxes for the year — not counting the $20 that had already been withheld. Last August, the IRS bloodhounds demanded $20 to make up for his "underpayment."

Oehmichen dutifully sent in photocopies showing that the $20 had been paid. In return, he got five forms demanding payment. He explained everything again — five times. Then IRS changed its tune: The $20 wasn't for an underpayment — it was a penalty for having failed to estimate his income accurately in advance.

Oehmichen still refused to pay the $20. And he added this cri de coeur: "Finally, I must tell you: Get off my back; stop harassing me."

Around the Rim

By CAROL HART

Dusty days

As I sit inside typing this Rim, the weather outside is beautiful. The sun is bright, the temperature warm, and yes, believe it or not, there is no wind to speak of and no dust.

Probably by the time you read this Rim the weather will have changed drastically. In West Texas, there's this realistic cliché about how if you don't like the weather, just wait a minute, and it's bound to change. For this area, that really rings true.

Unfortunately, that applies even if you're enjoying a particular stretch of weather.

WIND AND DUST in West Texas are one thing about this region I have no defense for. I will stand up and brag about the West Texas terrain and the people and the mixture of sultry, simmering summer days and crisp, cold winter nights.

But sandstorms get no kind remark at all. People say you get used to them, but don't believe it. I've seen them batter West Texas for 25 years, and I'm not used to it.

One of the worst storms I remember happened about 20 years ago. I remember opening up the drapes at our house and sitting at the window watching things blow by. Things like huge tumbleweeds and small dogs and all the toys we'd left outside and the neighbor's trash. It was really horrible.

A friend of mine and I agreed that the sandstorms changed our moods, decidedly for the worse. And for a lot of people in this area, the sand is definitely threatening to their health. It's no fun when you can't breathe.

ON THE BRIGHTER SIDE, I guess it could be worse. Recent weather in California led one firefighter to remark that, "The city is under siege," referring to rain and mudslides in San Francisco.

Have you ever noticed how beautiful the weather can turn when suddenly the wind dies down and the dust disappears from sight. The area gets really quiet, and following a day of dust, you can see some of the prettiest sunsets West Texas has to offer.

I remember a man once saying that if West Texas didn't have sandstorms, everybody would want to live here.

I'll try to keep that in mind the next time I'm struggling to walk directly into the wind while chewing a mouthful of sand.

Money, risk, danger drove ski mask rapist to crime

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — The man known as the Ski Mask Rapist had an already impossible mandatory sentence increased to 20 lifetimes plus 2,528 years' imprisonment Wednesday. Afterwards, he said again that he was sorry.

The latest sentencing of Jon Barry Simonis was done for security purposes in the chapel of the Calcasieu Parish Jail and, he said afterwards, "money...the challenge of risk and danger" launched him on a 3-year career of burglaries, robberies and rapes in a dozen states.

Simonis, 30, had just pleaded guilty to three armed robberies and one forcible rape in his hometown. District Judge L.E. Hawsey Jr. piled 337 years atop the 20 lifetimes plus 2,191 years' imprisonment given Simonis in earlier court appearances in four other Louisiana cities.

After his arrest here Nov. 28, Louisiana State Police said Simonis admitted 81 crimes in 12 states. For the most part, troopers said, they involved house burglaries and break-ins in which the masked intruder fled with valuables after forcing men to watch him sexually assault one or more women.

The earlier sentences were imposed at Jena, Donaldsonville, Baton Rouge and nearby DeRidder, La. Simonis also has been indicted at Woodville, Texas, but he must first be returned to Baton Rouge to answer charges that he raped a woman and her 14-year-old babysitter last Sept. 6.

"Money was the motive when it (the robberies) started out," he said in a cellblock interview with the Lake Charles American-Press. "I made a lot of money in a short time, there's no doubt about that."

"Sexual aspects kind of fell into the pattern as it went along. As it went down the line, there were more things added that just weren't necessary as far as the things I was doing."

"It might also have a little bit to do with the challenge of risk and danger involved — a cat and mouse game, so to speak."

Maybe psychiatric aid will help him find the motives, Simonis said.

"I don't need it (psychiatric aid) in the sense that I don't know right from wrong. I know right from wrong. That's obvious. I don't know what causes me to do certain things. Hopefully, we will find out. I don't know. Maybe we won't. I'm not sure."

Simonis said the remorse came after his capture.

ARRESTED — An unidentified gunman is arrested by members of the Miami Swat Team after holding police at bay for nearly nine hours from the top of a fishing boat in the Miami, Fla., boatyards Wednesday. Police used tear gas, and a concussion grenade to subdue the man, after attempts to talk him down were unsuccessful.

Mediator is called in on OCAW talks

DEER PARK, Texas (AP) — A federal mediator has been called in by representatives of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers union Local 4-367 in contract talks with Shell Oil Co. as OCAW's pact with refineries throughout the nation faces expiration at midnight Thursday.

"It is not unusual for a mediator to come in when it gets this close to the deadline," said Shell spokesman Bill Gibson.

Ed Watson, president of Local 4-367 representing 2,100 workers at the Shell plant, agreed with Gibson saying, "It's normal procedure to call the mediator in when it gets close to the end of the line."

Officials on both sides said they expect talks to continue today on the current two-year pact but added they are prepared for a strike.

OCAW officials have not specified their wage demands, saying only they are seeking "substantial increases" in pay and benefits. Union workers currently earn from $11.66 to $12.15 an hour.

The union represents some 55,000 workers nationwide including about 19,000 in the Houston area.

Gibson said his company and the union have met several times since contract talks began Dec. 8. "The union requested the federal mediator come in and talk with the group," Gibson said.

Both Shell and union officials have met privately with the mediator presenting their sides in the labor disputes, he said.

If today's talks fail and a strike is called, supervisory personnel will keep the Deer Park plant in operation, Gibson said. Supervisors will work 12-hour shifts until additional personnel can be called in, Gibson said.

The plant is currently operating at 70 percent of capacity, moving about 285,000 barrels per day, Gibson said. During a strike two years ago the plant set production records with contingency personnel, the spokesman said.

Jerry Archuleta said the one offer he had seen would give workers a seven percent pay hike the first year and a five percent increase in the second year of a proposed two-year contract.

Chinatown Loraine City Secretary receives public apology

HOUSTON (AP) — Police are searching for connections among two slayings, a restaurant fire and vandalism incident involving 20 cars in Houston's normally quiet Chinatown.

Members of the local chapter of the ON-Leong Chinese Merchants Association Wednesday offered a $10,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and indictment of the person responsible for slaying Sheung Tai Chan, 40, whose husband, Wing Shu Chan, is president of the group.

Mrs. Chan was killed about 2 a.m. Dec. 15 when several shotgun pellets fired from a pickup coming the wrong way on a one-way street pierced her windshield.

Her husband was not injured. No arrests have been made in the killing.

The offering of the reward followed the Tuesday shooting death of Yook Lung Tam, 45, who had worked briefly as a cook at Chan's restaurant, the Sun Deluxe Cafe.

LORAIN (SC) — By a sizeable vote the Loraine City council agreed to drop all accusations against city secretary Brenda Lee and issued a public apology to her for defamation of character Tuesday night in a two-hour meeting attended by 65 citizens.

The meeting began with Loraine's Pete McKinney, spelling out the accusations against Miss Lee and then adding, "Those are not my accusations."

McKinney then announced he was resigning his position as city attorney and said his decision had nothing to do with the meeting. His private practice is demanding more time and he doesn't believe he could devote any more time to being city attorney.

Mrs. Lee was represented by Big Spring attorney Gil Jones III.

The charges against Mrs. Lee came under the heading of incompetence and malfeasance — specifically, that she had failed to keep city hall open five days a week, failed to provide vouchers and statements for city meetings and had taken a $600 salary advance for the city.

Attorney Jones asked questions of all five council members: Clavin Forbus, Jack Brewer, Tommie Green, Eddie Galvan and Claude Woods, as well as Mayor Vance Dickenson.

A short while later the motion was made to drop all accusations against Mrs. Lee and to issue an apology.

Commenting on the public hearing Jones said, "I can only assume the lack of response to questions directed to the council was due to those proponents of the allegations not wanting to stand up and put forth what they had attempted to do in private."

According to Mrs. Lee, "I'm so glad it's over, I thought it would never end and I feel satisfied. The public apology makes me feel better and right now I continue to continue in my current capacity."

Richard Allen's long exit

By JAMES GERSTENZANG
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was the longest exit yet from the Reagan administration.

The fact that Richard V. Allen would have to leave his post as President Reagan's national security adviser was clear to Reagan's top three aides before Christmas and from then on his departure was just a matter of time, a White House source said.

Even before Christmas, they agreed that his replacement would be William P. Clark, a long-time Reagan associate who has spent a year as deputy secretary of state, said the source, who asked that he not be quoted by name.

But even as he walked into the Oval Office to meet with Reagan Monday, Allen was fighting for reinstatement, he acknowledged later. After all, he reasoned, both the Justice Department and a deputy White House counsel had found no evidence of wrongdoing after investigating a disclosure that Allen had accepted $1,000 from Japanese journalists and three watches from Japanese friends.

In his first year, Reagan weathered several possibly embarrassing personnel problems. The incidents were handled with the speed and efficiency of a guillotine when it became clear the central figures could not work for the administration.

Ernest W. Lefever, Reagan's choice to be assistant secretary of state for human rights, withdrew his nomination soon after the Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted against him, deciding quickly not to press for approval by the full Senate.

Max Hugel, the CIA spy chief, stepped down soon after The Washington Post reported that he had supplied two Wall Street stock brokers with advance inside information about a firm he once headed.

Army Maj. Gen. Robert L. Schweitzer was removed from his post as the top military officer on the National Security Council staff after saying in a speech that the "Soviets are on the move. They are going to strike." Reagan said he disagreed with that statement.

So, Reagan has shown that he can act quickly to cut off someone who could become a political liability. But Allen presented difficulties.

For one thing, he made it clear he had no intention of resigning.

Allen also had an ally in Edwin Meese III, Reagan counselor and by some accounts the most influential member of the White House staff.

Meese showed a reluctance to give up on Allen well after the other members of the top trio, chief of staff James A. Baker III and deputy chief of staff Michael K. Deaver, had decided Allen was through.

Absent defendant convicted

HOUSTON (AP) — A man mistakenly released from jail before the end of his trial has been convicted of burglary, though absent from the courtroom, and sentenced to 25 years in prison.

Keith W. Taylor, 20, was convicted and sentenced Wednesday.

Sheriff's deputies released Taylor from Harris County Jail Tuesday after prosecutor Wayne Hill asked a judge to dismiss his burglary indictment because of faulty wording. Hill said deputies were unaware he had filed new charges against Taylor before the indictment was dismissed.

Taylor failed to appear in court Wednesday after promising state District Judge I.D. McMaster over the phone he would appear. When Taylor had not arrived by midday, McMaster ordered the trial continued without him.

Wallisville determined to regain identity

By ADRIENNE E. LYONS
Beaumont Enterprise & Journal

WALLISVILLE, Texas (AP) — It's difficult to find this tiny community hidden behind the clumps of trees and bushes that dot the south side of Interstate 10.

Part of the reason is that there's not much left of Wallisville these days. From a thriving community in 1966, Wallisville today is little more than a barren no-man's land, consisting mostly of a swampy marshland and an abundance of cypress trees.

But Wallisville does exist, and folks there are determined to let the world know it, or at least remind them. There is, for example, a post office, a few houses scattered near the highway and some old ruins.

There is also the office of the Wallisville Heritage Park, a nonprofit foundation dedicated, among other things, to putting Wallisville back on the map. Any map, that is, because technically the town doesn't belong to the State of Texas.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers condemned Wallisville, about 10 miles west of Anahuac, in preparation for the construction of a reservoir. The construction came to a halt in 1973 when the Corps' plan was found to be environmentally unsound. So for eight years the town has been the property of the U.S. government, and as such has been nearly uninhabited.

The driving force behind the project is lawyer John Middleton, who provides 90 percent of Heritage Park's financing.

"I'm doing it because of my love for history and because of my appreciation for what my forefathers did," he said.

The Heritage Park's main goal is to rebuild the old Wallisville courthouse, jail and hanging tower, all constructed more than a century ago. A secondary project is to reconstruct the prehistoric El Orcoquisac Archeological District, located on the north side of Interstate 10. At various times the site was an Indian settlement, a French trading post and a Spanish mission.

The project has been both helped and hampered by the efforts of the Corps. When the townsite was condemned in the 1960s, the Corps took over more than 19,000 acres of land to be developed into the Wallisville Reservoir. The reservoir was 75 percent complete in 1973, when various environmental groups, including the Sierra Club, declared the Corps' plan violated the Environmental Policy Act because it would have locked marine life out of the river delta.

NOT MUCH LEFT — The Wallisville Heritage House is one of the few buildings remaining in what used to be a thriving community, but which now is little more than a barren no-man's land consisting of a Post Office and a few houses.

A federal court upheld the environmentalists' claim, forcing the Corps to devise a new environmental impact study. That study is awaiting final approval by Corps officials and eventually Congress.

If approval is granted, the townsite and archeological district probably will be leased to the Heritage Park. And when that happens, Middleton expects the project's funding to be based on endowments.

The Corps' plans have been drastically reduced by the new study. From the original 19,000 acres, the reservoir will now only cover about 5,000 acres.

It will cost the federal government an estimated $28.5 million to complete the reservoir and about $23 million has been spent already. As Middleton said, "If it's projected into 1981 dollars, it's astronomical. It'll probably cost more to build it at a reduced size than the original size, because of inflation."

And while Corps officials say they cannot estimate how much damage has been done to the area during the eight intervening years since the project was halted, they will say the lock structure has been hurt the most.

Despite this, they insist benefits will abound once the reservoir is completed.

It will provide for continued use of the navigation channel to maintain existing traffic and will provide salinity control, particularly for rice crops that now rely on the salty Trinity for irrigation.

The Corps also says increased water supply storage will make an additional 140 million gallons a day available when the reservoir is operated in conjunction with Lake Livingston. Despite the increase, local water users will pay less for it than an equivalent increase from another source.

Unfortunately, there will be a heavy price for such benefits. The reservoir could destroy a 3,000-acre forest of cypress trees. But Corps officials believe that keeping the pool elevation at only two feet will reduce the shock to the trees. That elevation will be raised to four feet when the extra water is needed.

Furthermore, there will be an annual $989,000 loss to the marine fisheries industry, a loss that cannot be recouped. But Corps officials like to point out that the new, environmentally conscious plan also will enhance fish and wildlife reserves.

For now, Wallisville and other Chambers County residents content themselves with spending time in the old schoolhouse, poring over old records and cracked, faded photographs, trying to reconstruct their ancestry.

Middleton envisions Wallisville becoming the state's answer to Williamsburg, Va. and while people will not reside in the townsite proper, Middleton looks forward to what he sees as the great potential for expansion for the immediate surrounding area.

"It is projected that this area experiences growth," he said. "The utility companies have been running additional lines in this area in anticipation of the growth into the Wallisville-Hankamer area."

And the Heritage Park's love-hate relationship with the Corps continues. Despite the problems the reservoir caused past Wallisville residents, Middleton and other local history buffs now are afforded the opportunity to do what they like best: study the past.

"We had an opportunity to preserve what we had left and make something positive out of a negative thing the Corps had started," Middleton said. "It will probably turn out to be a blessing in disguise. This land was privately owned but the Corps sees a need for the preservation of this site and it will be available to do this kind of work whereas otherwise it might not have been done."

Mitchell County jurors return 16 indictments

COLORADO CITY (SC) — The Mitchell County Grand Jury returned 16 indictments Tuesday, plus four re-indictments.

Those re-indicted were Johnny Lee Williams and Sam Williams charged with possession of marijuana and John Franklin Rader and Richard Garrard both accused of delivering marijuana.

Those indicted by the grand jury were Julian Lopez Rayes and Tommy Rivera Castillo, charged with DWI second offense and 10 persons who have been accused of possessing cocaine. Jim and Lou Hearin, Tommie and Martha Ann Wilson, Douglas Stephens and Lisa Rena Stephens, Kenneth Dale and Patricia R. Lightfoot, Ricky Hill and Corina Deneice Hill.

Additionally four sealed indictments were returned. One other case was considered by the grand jury — a charge against Ricky Rivera. His case was ruled a misdemeanor and was remanded to county court. Rivera was involved in a fracas with police chief Jimmy Roundtree, who stated the altercation happened after an obscene phone call.

New car sales in U.S. lowest in 11 years

DETROIT (AP) — The bad dream of 1980 turned into a nightmare for U.S. automakers in 1981 as sales on domestic cars sank to their lowest level in two decades and imports claimed a record share of the market.

Ford Motor Co. and American Motors Corp. wrapped up the year Wednesday by reporting large declines in December sales.

Overall, new car sales in the United States last year were the weakest since 1970, but the 5.3 percent drop in domestic car sales put U.S. carmakers at their lowest level since 1961.

"The year came in bad and it went out worse," said Arvid Jouppl, a Detroit-based analyst for Coln, Hochstin Co. of New York.

Most analysts do not expect significant improvement in car sales before the second half of 1982.

Including imports, Americans bought 4,477,828 cars in 1981, down 5.2 percent from 4,722,602 the year before. That was the smallest number since industrywide sales dipped to 3,394,751 cars in 1970 when General Motors Corp. was shut for 67 days by a strike.

The five major domestic manufacturers said they sold 6,206,296 cars last year, down from 6,578,275 in 1980 and the fewest since 5,556,100 domestic cars were sold 20 years ago. Sales fell for each of the domestic automakers, except Chrysler Corp., which increased sales 10.9 percent for the year.

Since there was an additional selling day in 1980, percentage comparisons are based on the rate of sales per day, instead of gross sales.

Total import sales dropped 4.8 percent, to 2,271,532 cars in 1981 from 2,394,327 in 1980, but because sales of domestic cars fell even more sharply, imports increased their share of the total market to a record 26.8 percent.

The 31.5 percent market share claimed by imports in December also was a record for any month.

Ambassadors elect officers

COLORADO CITY (SC) — The Colorado City Ambassadors Club got into full swing during its meeting Monday by re-electing James O. Dockrey president, and Ann Lindsay secretary-treasurer.

"Several new businesses are opening up in Colorado City and we'll have ribbon cutting ceremonies for them. Additionally, we're planning a reception for our new city manager. I've appointed Ray Ann Carlock and Carl Moore to head that committee," Dockrey said.

'Younger Woman' is 70

NEW YORK (AP) — A 91-year-old woman is suing her husband for divorce because, she says, he's been seeing a younger woman for 40 of their 52 years of marriage.

The younger woman now is 70 years old. Matilde Wirth, 91, of Queens, filed for divorce Wednesday, charging her husband, Rudolph, 79, hit her with her cane, threatened to kill her, called her names and accused her of being senile.

Wirth denied allegations that he struck his wife, but admitted he had "had enough," and was not heartbroken at the prospect of divorce.

Mrs. Wirth is asking for a portion of their estimated $250,000 savings and a share of their $60,000 home. Wirth said he will contest the proposed settlement.

Mrs. Wirth, according to court papers, found out about her husband's alleged love affair in October, when Wirth, hospitalized with a leg injury, was visited by the woman every day.

Mass deportation not planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — An estimated 100,000 aliens living in the United States under a special program — most of them Mexicans — are being asked to report to immigration offices because it has been determined they are ineligible for permanent resident status, says the State Department.

But no mass deportations are planned and the affected aliens are not being rounded up, the State Department said Wednesday.

Although Mexican authorities reportedly are displeased with the U.S. decision, the Mexican embassy here issued a statement denying reports that Ambassador Hugo Margain is being recalled to Mexico City in protest.

Florencio Acosta Burgunder, the third-ranking member of Margain's staff, said the ambassador is going to Mexico City next week "but not on this matter. He goes about once a fortnight, and he has plenty of other business to discuss there."

Margain met Wednesday with Diego Ascencio, assistant U.S. secretary of state for consular affairs, to discuss the issue.

The affected aliens had been given temporary permits to remain in the United States because of a 1977 federal court decision requiring the State Department to make available 144,999 visas to applicants from Western Hemisphere nations.

That many visas had been assigned improperly to Cuban refugees in the late 1960s and early 1970s, the court found, so the extra visas should be granted to make up for the discrimination.

The court ordered that Latin Americans who had filed visa applications between July 1968 and December 1976 should be granted the chance to obtain them.

However, approximately 245,000 aliens, most of them Mexicans, had sought visas during that period and were given the special permits. The State Department said it determined last month that all 144,999 visas ordered by the court had been granted.

When the program began, said the State Department, it was understood that the aliens given the temporary permits would not necessarily be found eligible for status as permanent residents.

Aliens with invalidated documents are being notified by mail and requested to report to immigration offices for interviews. The State Department did not say what the next step would be.

Of the 144,999 visas, 115,271 went to Mexicans, the State Department said.

NEW COURSE OFFERED AT HOWARD COLLEGE — Pathophysiology 2302 will be a new course offering at Howard College. "It will be an elective course offering for nursing students, however it would also benefit students enrolled in laboratory technology and other health care fields," said Barbara Holdampf, director of the Associate Degree Nursing program at HC. The course will be taught by Carrie Covington and Paul Ausmus, as well as guest lecturers. Pictured above, left to right, are Dr. Robert Rember, Carrie Covington, and Paul Ausmus discussing methods in bloodcell counting procedures in preparation for the new course offering.

Montemayors trial to be moved

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) — The federal trial of two brothers charged with operating a heroin and cocaine ring will be moved, probably to Victoria or Houston, because of local publicity over the case.

U.S. District Judge James DeAnda granted a change of venue Wednesday for Meynardo and Manuel Montemayor after more than 40 of the 53 potential jurors said they had heard of the case.

Nineteen panelists said they either had formed an opinion or would be influenced by what they already knew.

DeAnda said he would announce the trial site after checking court dockets in Houston and Victoria. DeAnda also ordered a separate trial for another Montemayor brother in the case and allowed him to change lawyers and hire Percy Foreman of Houston. Foreman was present Wednesday but said one of his associates, Charles Szekely, likely will handle the bulk of Matias Montemayor's case.

Matias Montemayor faces a minimum of 10 years in prison and up to a life term if convicted under racketeering statutes. A 16-count indictment returned in November identified him as the "organizer, supervisor and manager" of a family-run drug operation.

Five to six U.S. marshals remained in the courtroom during the pre-trial hearing Wednesday. Matias, Manuel and Meynardo Montemayor — all Mexican nationals — are in custody in lieu of large bonds.

Matias and Manuel were transferred from the local county jail to Corpus Christi after authorities feared they might escape and slip across the Rio Grande into Matamoros, Mexico.

Two other brothers, Reyes and Benito Montemayor, were indicted but are fugitives and believed to be in Mexico. Agents for the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration have testified that the Montemayor family runs one of the largest brown heroin pipelines from Mexico to Chicago.

During a civil trial involving property confiscated from the Montemayors, witnesses testified they saw a heroin laboratory used by the family in Mexico.

The family lost an attempt to recover one home in McAllen, the furnishing of two houses and other objects seized by DEA agents under a civil law.

Charter selling Philadelphia Bulletin

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Bulletin, which just five months ago got its employees to agree to a $5 million bailout, is up for sale, with the owner of the newspaper citing continued heavy losses.

The announcement Wednesday by the Charter Co., a Jacksonville, Fla., conglomerate, surprised many of the 1,900 employees, who had expected more time to turn around the 134-year-old newspaper's fortunes.

"In a sense, they (Charter) had to reach this decision. We just didn't think it would come this soon," Associate Editor Claude Lewis said.

President and Publisher N.S. Hayden, in a letter to employees, said negotiations were under way with a prospective buyer, who was not identified.

Editors and reporters, obviously unhappy over the announcement which Hayden's letter said "does not augur well for our future," sharply questioned the company's failure to carry out its full commitment after the staff's sacrifices.

"There never was a master plan, a long-range plan. I feel jilted," said William Gullifer, business agent for Teamster Local 628, representing 400 drivers.

Gullifer was the spokesman for the eight unions which in August agreed to wage and other concessions designed to save $4.9 million a year. An extra $1.4 million savings was achieved by laying off non-union employees. In exchange, Charter agreed to spend up to $30 million to make the newspaper profitable by 1983.

However, Charter, which acquired full ownership of the newspaper just a year ago, "has simply decided it will not continue to fund the losses of this newspaper. It has made that decision irrevocably," Executive Editor Craig Ammerman told a subdued newsroom.

Doctor sued for negligence

A civil suit has been brought against Dr. R.B. Copwer of Big Spring claiming negligence in treatment and diagnosis. Rose Lawson of Big Spring has filed suit against the doctor in 118th District Court through her attorney, John Green of Odessa.

The suit alleges Copwer was negligent in his diagnosis of her medical condition, that he prescribed the improper medicine, and that the treatment of the condition was improper.

The suit asks for damages resulting from the disabled condition of the plaintiff.

GIVES UP — Patricia Hearst Shaw dropped efforts to get her 1976 bank robbery conviction set aside on Wednesday. The newspaper heiress now cannot reinstate the case.

Guilty plea

Esequie P. Flores pleaded guilty Tuesday in 118th District Court to unlawful delivery of marijuana.

Flores received seven years probation from 118th District Judge Jim Gregg.

Dear Abby

Eager man is no bargain

DEAR ABBY: The man who has been telling me for eight months that he loves me told me last night that he is marrying someone else! He says he doesn't think any more of this woman than he does of me, but he's 33 and wants a family. This girl has agreed to sign a "contract" drawn up by a lawyer stating that if she doesn't conceive within a year, she will agree to an uncontested divorce so he can marry someone else. She also agreed that he may commit adultery while he is away from home (he is a truck driver). He asked me if I thought he was crazy, and I said yes.

Abby, what kind of man would ask a woman to sign such an agreement? And what kind of woman would sign it? I am interested in knowing your views.

IT HAPPENED IN OCALA, FLA.

DEAR IT: Any man who can get a woman to sign such an agreement is the world's greatest salesman. And any woman who would sign it should have her head examined.

...

DEAR ABBY: My husband is in the retail business, and I'm here every day helping him. A man comes into our store regularly and stinks up the place with his cigar.

Every time I see this man coming with his cigar, I want to run out of the place.

Should I say something to him about it or not?
ABBY'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Is the man buying or selling?

...

DEAR ABBY: The letter suggesting that warning labels be placed on peanut butter jars because a 2½-year-old child tragically choked on peanut butter prompts this letter. I am an old emergency room nurse who has seen many children with obstructed air passages. Total lack of oxygen will usually cause brain death within four to six minutes, long before medical attention is available.

Abby, if we put warning labels on peanut butter jars, why not on gumball machines, dog kibble, teething biscuits, bottle caps, as well as the Thanksgiving turkey? (How many

Slide show viewed at Study Club meeting

Mrs. Glen Daniels gave a report and slide show about India, its living conditions and religions at the 1941 Study Club meeting Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Rob Ethridge. Mrs. Daniels and her family lived in India for a year. Mrs. Rod Tiller co-hosted the meeting.

Mrs. Guy Hodnett presided over the meeting. A letter of appreciation from the Big Spring State Hospital was read regarding the club's December donation. A letter of resignation from membership was accepted from Mrs. Bobby Dodson.

Names of shut-ins were given to each member to take Valentine cookies to next month. Members are planning to put the cactus, donated by Bill Read, in barrels for community improvement.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Carrol Choate, Feb. 1 at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Hal Boyd will speak at the meeting.

Phi pals exchange gifts

The Mu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi celebrated Christmas with Phi Pals exchanging gifts at the home of Connie Edgemon Dec. 14.

Lisa Murphy and Diane Turner performed a dramatization and rewrite of "Twas the Night Before Christmas." Connie Edgemon distributed cards to everyone present. Each member gave a Christmas wish to another member.

Food basket items were collected to be given to a needy family. Members brought Christmas cookies and sandwiches to serve at the Christmas party in the Adolescent unit at Big Spring State Hospital. Final plans for the New Year's Eve dance were discussed.

The next meeting will be held at the Coors Brewery Hospitality Room Monday at 7:30 p.m. Member's husbands are invited to this meeting.

Artist is topic of program

Heritage Museum was the location of the Tuesday meeting of the 1955 Hyperion Club. Mrs. Walter Wheat spoke about the artist H.W. Caylor.

Caylor lived in Big Spring during the 1900's after he and his wife were married. He began drawing when he was 7 and enjoyed painting pictures of the West. Caylor painted many pictures for several of ranching families, and many of his paintings are displayed at the Heritage Museum.

Mrs. Don McDonald became a new member of the club. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Carol Hunter and Mrs. Walter Wheat.

The next meeting will be Feb. 2 at the home of Mrs. James Cave, 1600 Indian Hills Drive.

Dr. Donohue

Excess hair does not mean tumor

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I am a 29-year-old woman and my problem is a very personal and embarrassing one. For this reason I am afraid to see a doctor. I am not certain what is wrong, but I have done some research and I feel that now I know. I have a tumor of the adrenal gland. This is evident by the excessive growth of masculine hair on my body since I was 14. I try to cope, but I would like to rid myself of this unwanted hair. Will surgical removal of the tumor help? And how do I get over the anxiety of seeing an endocrinologist?

—M.S.

I don't want to denigrate your research, but diagnosing an adrenal gland tumor is not for amateurs. First, they are not that common. Second, they often have confusing symptoms not easily explained or defined in any book (you may have read. Third, many complicated lab tests must be taken to clinch the diagnosis, and understanding those tests takes a lot of special knowledge.

Incidentally, gradual appearance of hairiness in a woman points to causes other than tumors. Tumors, either adrenal or ovarian, usually cause a sudden appearance of hair. Most often, excessive hair in a woman is a family trait or explained by harmless conditions. It is true that adrenal tumors, ovarian tumors or ovarian cysts may cause growth of hair in women in places they ordinarily don't have visible hair. But usually there are other symptoms — changes in menstrual patterns, in distribution of body fat, acne and muscle weakness, to name a few.

Your family doctor listens to complaints like yours many times a week. Because of your concern, please see him. Start there, and he will tell you if you need to see an endocrinologist.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I am not feeling well. I cannot put my finger on what might be wrong. I am tired, etc. Would you advise a person in this kind of situation to check into a hospital for a complete checkup? —M.E.

It may surprise you to hear me say that it not the best idea. Hospitals are not good places for people who are up and about to get "complete examinations." It's sort of like sending your car back to the factory to check the battery and tire pressure. The cost of staying in a hospital isv enormous, and while your health insurance may pick up the tab, why add to the medical inflation swamping our society?

You can get as good an examination in your doctor's office, even if it takes a couple of visits. If you need tests, like X-rays or blood studies, that can be done on a convenient outpatient basis — at great savings to you. You tell me you have regular checkups with your doctor. Next time tell him about your feelings but don't pressure him to admit you to a hospital.

Judge rejects challenge to redistricting plan

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A judge has turned back a challenge to a state Senate redistricting plan that purportedly might cost the Texas Republican Party up to half of its eight-member Senate delegation.

State District Judge Herman Jones on Wednesday rejected a suit by seven Republicans who questioned the 31 new Senate districts fashioned by the Legislative Redistricting Board in late October.

Jones, himself a former legislator from Wise County, said he was "not willing" to rule that the board plan violated either the state or federal constitution.

The board got the task of drawing a plan after Republican Gov. Bill Clements had vetoed the one approved by the Legislature. The board is made up of five Democrats, including four statewide elected officials and House Speaker Bill Clayton.

The GOP plaintiffs tried to convince Jones that the Senate should be reapportioned on the basis of "qualified electors" — who must be at least 18 years of age — rather than total population, and that the plan should take into account "the pattern of explosive population growth" in certain areas.

Jones ruled from the bench after two days of testimony. State GOP Chairman Chester Upham, who joined six Republican senators in filing the suit, said the ruling was "kind of a shock to me."

"I think the evidence was strong enough that we will have to appeal," he told reporters.

Jones said he found predictions of growth "too speculative."

"At this time, to me, it seems a pretty difficult chore to determine how many qualified electors there are," the judge said.

Jones said in speculating about growth, the number of people over 18 and, for example, the number of aliens in the population "that seems to be a pretty good hiding place for someone who wanted to reach, in bad faith, some type of discrimination."

The judge said he did not think the redistricting board had abused its discretion in using population to draw new Senate districts, even though the Texas Constitution specifies that the state shall be divided into Senate districts "according to the number of qualified electors, as nearly as may be...."

State lawyers argued that provision had been invalidated by a 1965 three-judge federal ruling. Jones said he thought any agency charged with redistricting "would be indiscreet to close its eyes" to that decision.

Austin lawyer Jim George, representing the GOP, said, "The state is here contending its own constitution is unconstitutional."

A bipartisan legislative study group has estimated the board plan could cost the GOP three of its eight Senate seats, but state Democratic chairman Bob Slagle estimated as many as four Republicans might be defeated this year.

Prior to Jones' ruling, a black legislator testified that the redistricting plan drawn by the Republicans "puts us at the back of the bus again." Republican witness Doug Harlan of San Antonio labeled Rep. Craig Washington's remarks "wonderful theater."

Washington, D-Houston, said the plan represents a "total reversion to separate but equal" status for blacks.

Washington, who has expressed a desire to run for the Senate, said when he first saw the GOP plan Tuesday night he thought, "It had to be a joke. But this is a serious lawsuit and it couldn't be a joke."

"Their plan is not in the best interests of the minority community of Texas," Washington said. "I don't think it presumes or even attempts to be. It sets the minority community back, oh, roughly 20 to 30 years. It puts us at the back on the bus again."

Washington said it appeared the GOP plan had "rounded up every black they could find and put them in District 6" in Harris County, diluting the impact of blacks in other districts.

Harlan said the GOP plan would create seven minority districts.

WTSU prexy runs for AG

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Former state Sen. Max Sherman is giving up the ivory towers of West Texas State University for a chance at state attorney general's seventh-floor office.

Sherman on Wednesday entered the race to replace Attorney General Mark White, who is running for governor. Sherman told Capitol reporters he will enter the Democratic primary. Former U.S. Attorney John Hannah of Tyler is the only other announced Democratic candidate, but state Sen. Jack Ogg of Houston is expected to enter the race.

Sen. Bill Meier of Euless is the only GOP candidate. Sherman said he will resign as president of West Texas State on Jan. 16.

During his news conference, Sherman refused to comment on some of the controversial lawsuits the state faces, including a prison reform case and a case involving education of illegal alien children.

"I don't think it's appropriate to second guess unless you're familiar with all the factors involved," he said.

adding any comment he made might "jeopardize or adversely affect that litigation."

However, Sherman said he would comment on the lawsuits later in the campaign, when he was more familiar with them.

The former Amarillo legislator said recruiting good assistants is among the most vital tasks facing an attorney general.

"Many times you don't have people for a long time," he said, and promised to "run the best law office possible."

Sherman, 46, is a Phillips, Texas native and served in the state Senate from 1970 through 1977. He was chairman of the Senate Committee on Natural Resources.

"My years in the Texas Senate provided an opportunity to know in depth the concerns of Texans across the state," Sherman said.

He predicted his campaign would "not be one of the highest budget campaigns," and that he had no "war chest" set aside for the race.

"What we're able to raise, we'll spend," he said.

Bridge damaged in blast reopens to rail traffic

GALVESTON, Texas (AP) — A drawbridge damaged when a barge struck it and exploded early Sunday has been reopened for railroad traffic.

"The first train was on the causeway about 3 p.m.," a bridge operator who would identify himself only as a Southern Pacific Railroad employee said Wednesday night. "We've had 10 trains through at this point."

Coast Guard Lt. j.g. R.S. Randall said officials hoped the Intracoastal Waterway would be reopened to marine traffic this afternoon.

The busy Gulf Intracoastal Waterway has been closed here since the accident and waterfreight traffic waiting to pass through Galveston Bay has backed up for miles.

The barge and its cargo of 400,000 gallons of the toxic and corrosive chemical acrylonitrile has been burning in the bay since the vessel smashed into the drawbridge and exploded about 3 a.m. Sunday. Officials were reluctant Wednesday to estimate when the fire would burn out.

"It is still burning slowly, but when it would go out is hard to say," said Lt. j.g. Bill McHenry.

The Coast Guard is letting the fire burn in hopes that none of the toxic chemicals aboard will spill into the bay.

Officials said acrylonitrile can produce poisonous gases when it burns. Experts from the Monsanto Corp., which was shipping the chemical, said so far only traces of hazardous gases close to the barge have been detected.

McHenry said there was considerable pressure on the Coast Guard to open the waterway, which stretches from Brownsville, Texas, to Florida's west coast.

"Anyone who owns a barge and wants to get through to Corpus Christi has been calling us," he said. "We're doing everything we can because there is a lot of money involved."

He said in case the Coast Guard decides to open the waterway before the barge is removed, "it has already been marked and lighted." The barge is sitting in 10 feet of water just off the main traffic channel.

An investigation into what caused the weekend accident was still underway Wednesday, but McHenry said preliminary indications were a mix-up in communications between the tugboat pilot and the bridge operator.

Coast Guard Cmdr. Leo Vaske said investigators were trying to determine how much time elapsed between the pilot's first radio call and the bridge operator's efforts to raise the drawbridge.

AFTER TESTIFYING — Atlanta Public Safety Commissioner Lee P. Brown leaves court Wednesday after testifying in the trial of Wayne Williams. Williams is on trial for the murder of two young Atlanta blacks.

Stakeout commander testifies in Atlanta

ATLANTA (AP) — Atlanta police closed their recruit academy last spring to beef up a bridge stakeout that eventually led them to Wayne O. Williams, a police official testified today in Williams' murder trial.

Williams, a 23-year-old black free-lance cameraman, is accused of killing Nathaniel Cater, 27, and Jimmy Ray Payne, 21, two of 28 young Atlanta blacks slain during a 22-month string of killings. No arrests have been made in the 26 other deaths.

Maj. W.W. Holley Jr., who directed the stakeout project, said 40 to 50 recruits were pulled from classes April 26, allowing police to watch 14 Chattahoochee River bridges rather than five or six. The stakeouts were begun after the bodies of victims in the string of killings began showing up in the Chattahoochee and South rivers.

Holley said the bridges were watched daily from 8 p.m. to 6 a.m. A 10-foot-long scale model of the Jackson Parkway bridge was set up in front of the courtroom for the second day of testimony today. Williams first came to police attention when a stakeout team stationed there heard a splash in the water below and spotted Williams driving slowly over the bridge May 22.

Cater's body was found downstream from the bridge two days later. Defense attorney Alvin Binder asked Holley if he knew from what bridges any of the earlier victims had been thrown. "I can't testify exactly as to where any body was thrown off," Holley replied.

Binder also asked if police had trouble with recruits falling asleep or drinking on the all-night stakeout teams. Holley said the officers were relieved every two or three hours and he had heard no reports of stakeout officers drinking on duty.

The fourth-floor courtroom in the Fulton County Courthouse was filled with spectators before the start of testimony today. As testimony got under way Wednesday in the highly publicized trial, Binder challenged the prosecution's fiber evidence, saying it could have come from several sources — including the clothing of rescuers.

Prosecutors have said minute fibers found on the bodies of the two victims are the key to the murder case against Williams. Binder also got an associate Fulton County medical examiner to acknowledge that Payne, whose death was listed as a homicide, could have drowned.

Cater, Payne and six of the other victims were found floating in area rivers. Public Safety Commissioner Lee Brown, who headed the task force, testified Wednesday that police stakeouts were set up at as many as 24 bridges from the beginning of April to May 22, when Williams was stopped near a bridge over the Chattahoochee River.

Officers on stakeout testified in pretrial hearings that Williams was spotted driving slowly over the bridge after an officer underneath heard a loud splash. Two days later, Cater's body was found downstream. Binder told the jury the state will imply that Williams threw Cater's body off the bridge, but he said his 5-foot-7, 160-pound client could not have lifted the 146-pound Cater and thrown him over the 4-foot-high bridge wall into the river.

Brown testified that bodies did not begin turning up in rivers until news reports came out in February stating that fiber evidence had been found on the bodies of a number of victims.

After those reports, Brown said subsequent victims in the string of slayings were "stripped of all" or most of their clothes before their bodies were dumped in rivers.

Prosecutors said in pretrial hearings that fibers found on Cater and Payne link them to Williams. That prompted Binder to question two law officers extensively about how Payne's body was handled when it was pulled from the river and taken to the medical examiner's office.

Georgia Bureau of Investigation Agent James Hallman testified at least four or five officers had contact with Payne's body at the river. And Atlanta police technician Harding Mallory Jr. testified that at least six officers were on hand when he took fingerprints from the body at the morgue.

Blizzards pummel Poland

Resistance to law urged

By The Associated Press
Two Solidarity leaders urged Polish workers to prepare for a general strike against the martial law regime, and a defecting journalist accused the Communist government today of forcing colleagues to sign loyalty oaths.

Meanwhile, blizzards pummeled northern Poland, shutting down harbors and crippling rail service across the country, the official PAP news agency reported. It did not say whether shipments of food and supplies were disrupted.

Fierce winds downed power lines and rail passengers had to be "taken to safety" when their train became snowbound on the Hel Peninsula, the report said. Two passenger trains also got stuck in heavy snow for two hours in the northeastern province of Sulwaki, PAP said.

Two Solidarity leaders who apparently escaped the widespread arrests of union activists, Wladyslaw Frasnyniuk and Zbigniew Janas exhorted Polish workers in clandestine letters circulated in Warsaw, according to uncensored reports reaching the West late Wednesday.

"Remember that our union has not fallen apart from the stomping of (Premier-Gen. Wojciech) Jaruzelski's shoe," wrote Frasnyniuk, a 27-year-old member of Solidarity's 18-man presidium and head of the independent union's Wroclaw regional branch.

Another letter signed by Janas, head of the Solidarity branch at the big Ursus tractor plant near Warsaw, called on the workers to make preparations "in deep conspiracy" for a general strike.

But both union leaders warned against violent resistance to the authorities.

saying too much blood had been spilled already.

"Remember that the authorities are murderers," Janas wrote. "They are indifferent to the number of people they will shoot if it suits their interests."

There have been unconfirmed reports of more than 200 deaths under martial law, but the government insists there have only been eight.

The Soviet army newspaper, Red Star, said the Reagan administration's claims about human rights violations in Poland were intended to protect Solidarity activists who planned to stage "a coup d'etat, terrorize the population and erect gallows for communists."

Zolnierz Wolnosci, the army newspaper, said Tuesday that the Independent Students' Association had planned to organize a new international organization with "anti-communist aims." It said the imposition of martial law thwarted the plans, and Radio Warsaw announced Tuesday that the students' association had been dissolved.

A Katowice court convicted five Solidarity members of illegal union activity in the Huta Katowice steel complex, PAP said today. They were sentenced to prison terms ranging from three to 6½ years and their civil rights were suspended for two to four years.

The unionists were found guilty of "organizing, against martial law regulations and in spite of binding suspension of union activities, of strikes in the steel mill and publication of outlawed communiques and bulletins calling for the continuation of strikes and inciting to murder," PAP said.

In Tarnow province, three Solidarity workers drew three and 3½-year prison terms for organizing and directing strikes at Cracow's Lenin Steelworks, the agency said.

Three men at the FSO automobile plant in Warsaw were sentenced Wednesday to two years in prison for leading a strike at their factory.

In Lodz, a four-year prison term and heavy fine were administered "for an impudent theft of a fur hat. A similar punishment was meted out to a man who snatched a shopping bag," PAP reported.

Elsewhere, two men were sent to jail for three years for assaulting policemen, the report said.

Capt. Wieslaw Gornicki, a close aide to Jaruzelski, denied a report received by a British group that Solidarity leader Lech Walesa was being transferred to a monastery to be held incommunicado under the protection of the Roman Catholic Church.

Gornicki told a Warsaw news conference Walesa was still held in a villa outside the capital, and the regime hopes the crisis will ease enough to allow him to resume his activities "as a trade union leader."

Jaruzelski continued a purge of local Communist officials, apparently trying to improve the public image of the party and the government as well as weed out troublesome liberals.

Well-placed party and government sources in Warsaw said Andrzej Zabinski, the hard-line party boss in the Katowice region, had been fired. Katowice is the center of the coal industry in southern Poland, and much of the industrial unrest there was believed due to his heavy-handed tactics. But some sources reported he was replaced by another hardliner, Zbigniew Mesner, former rector of the Economic Academy of Katowice.

Radio Warsaw said the Soviet credit was necessary because the goods to be delivered "greatly exceed" Polish exports to the Soviet Union.

Mexico hit by truck strike

CIUDAD OBREGON, Mexico (AP) — A strike by truckers alleging police corruption and protesting fuel prices has caused shortages of essential supplies in Western Mexico and could endanger produce supplies to the United States.

Residents in the state of Sinaloa, a major American source of winter produce, and Sonora, which borders Arizona, today said food and fuel supplies are running scarce. Farmers say interruptions in fertilizer deliveries could affect crop production.

In the Mexican border town of Nogales, owners of 19

"maquiladora" factories say fuel shortages resulting from the strike are endangering 15,000 jobs. Maquiladoras are assembly plants along the border that take advantage of cheaper Mexican labor to assemble goods, primarily clothing, for the American market.

Hospitals in the northwest Mexico say they are rationing bottled oxygen and some service stations report gasoline shortages.

The center of the strike is in Guadalajara. Truckers pulled their vehicles off the road starting Sunday to protest what they say is blatant corruption and bribery-taking by federal highway police. Truckers say they are routinely pulled over for phoney "inspections" and held until a bribe of $40 to $60 is paid.

The delays and bribes cut heavily into the earnings of truckers, who are paid in part by how many miles they cover. Most earn from $600 to $800 a month.

The strike had been announced for 24 hours but has gone well past that. Press reports in Guadalajara, about 1,000 miles north of Mexico City, say three truckers have been jailed and that strikers have added their release to their list of demands.

Truck owners say they want 25 percent increases in government-controlled tariffs to make up for the recent 150 percent increase in the price of diesel fuel.

The truckers also say they want life insurance and other benefits.

About 2,000 truckers in the Guadalajara area of Jalisco state and 1,500 in Sonora and Sinaloa have joined the strike, affecting truck traffic along Highway 15, the main north-south route along western Mexico.

Truckers are blocking roads in some areas, and perishable cargoes of fish, meat and produce are reported rotting in the trucks.

Two day tourney promises excitement

Hawks slated to appear in ABC Classic

It's back to action Thursday and Friday for the Howard College Hawk basketball team after a 23 day break. The Hawks will be the host team this weekend for the 12th annual ABC Olympic Basketball Classic held at the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

The slate for Thursday night has the Hawks playing the Sul Ross junior varsity at 7:30 p.m. and Midland College going against the tough Ranger Junior College team at 9:30 p.m.

Friday's matchups are Midland College and the Sul Ross JV at 7 p.m. and Howard College will face Ranger at 9 p.m.

Hawk Coach Harold Wilder said his team returned from the Christmas holidays in good physical shape, and the team has looked good in this week's practices.

"The ABC Classic will be a good chance for the team to get back into playing form for conference play that begins next week," Wilder said.

Wilder also said all his starters are healthy and no players were lost because of academic ineligibility.

At least one of the teams in the Classic was not as lucky. Midland College lost one-fourth of its squad over the holidays as three freshmen departed — one decided not to play basketball and two other were scholastic casualties.

The Hawks left for home at the holiday intermission with an excellent 11-3 season record. Howard College has a 3-1 record in conference play which ties them for second with Midland College — this is especially noteworthy since the Hawks were picked 10th in the conference.

"The competition should be good for the Classic. Ranger is a real good team and we expect them to be tough. Our guys are in a good frame of mind and team captain Jerome Johnson has been doing a fine job holding the team together," Wilder said.

The Hawk's top gun is freshman Nathan Givens who is the team's leading scorer and rebounder. He's averaging 24 points and 10.8 rebounds a game — which are great statistics in anyone's book.

The Hawks first home game of the month will come Jan. 11, when Midland College comes to Big Spring. The game promises to be exciting as both coaches will have had a chance to scout each other during the ABC Classic.

UPSET — Top-seeded Tracy Austin twists after a shot in second-round action of the $200,000 Avon Championships of Washington Wednesday evening, where she was defeated by Anne Smith of Dallas. Austin, who came into the match as the world's second-ranked player, was defeated 6-3, 6-1.

Hawk Queens prepare for league play in Odessa Women's Tourney

The Howard College Hawks won't be the only basketball team in action this weekend as the Hawk Queens are involved in the Odessa College Women's Tournament Thursday through Saturday. Hawk Queen Coach Don Stevens said his team will face Western Oklahoma State today at 6 p.m. Friday the Hawk Queens will battle San Jacinto of Houston at 4 p.m. The team will wrap up its competition Saturday against the Hardin Simmons University team at noon.

The Hawk Queens will start conference play Thursday, Jan. 14 in Odessa against Odessa College followed by a game Saturday in Dorothy Garrett Coliseum against Schreiner College.

Steer's valiant comeback fails

The Big Spring Steers lost a hard fought contest to a strong Abilene High Eagle team Tuesday night in Abilene by the score of 64-52.

The Eagles jumped out to an early first quarter lead 14-4 before the Steers got untracked and scored six straight points to narrow the margin to 14-10.

In the second quarter the Steers managed to pull within one at 17-16, but the Eagles put on an offensive show and shot out to a 34-17 half-time lead.

The Eagles held on to their lead throughout the third quarter, but neither team was able to score well at all and at the beginning of the fourth quarter the tally stood at 44-22.

Abilene High, obviously overconfident with its big lead, began to get sloppy late in the third and early in the fourth quarter.

The Steers took advantage of the Eagle letdown as Jerald Wrightsall scored a three point play in the early moments of the final period to give the Steers a boost. With less than two minutes gone the Big Spring team had pulled to within 13 points at 50-37.

The Steers played their hearts out in remaining minutes, but Abilene always seemed to be able to get a basket when they needed it and finished on top 64-52.

Bobby Earl Williams lead the Steers in the scoring department with 12 points followed by Jerald Wrightsall with 10.

Jones, Dutton are hard to beat

DALLAS (AP) — No Dallas Cowboy has a more vested interest in John Dutton's health than Ed "Too Tall" Jones.

Jones was named to The Associated Press All-Pro second team this week and one of the primary reasons was the big guy lined up next to him.

"We've got to have John on Sunday against San Francisco," said Jones. "He's been making my life a lot easier this season."

Jones, who lines up at left defensive end, and Dutton, the left defensive tackle, have a primary responsibility of stopping the run in Dallas Coach Tom Landry's Flex Defense.

But their pass defense has bordered on the spectacular this year. Jones has tipped two passes that have turned into interceptions.

In last week's 38-0 NFC divisional playoff victory over Tampa Bay, Dutton tipped a pass that resulted in Jones' first National Football League interception.

Dutton showed up at the practice field Wednesday with a swollen right thigh which doctors believe was caused by a broken blood vessel.

Team doctors think Dutton will be able to play in the NFC title game at San Francisco Sunday with proper treatment during the week.

Dutton, who was severely bruised, started the next game but only played a few downs before he had to come out.

Sand's boys and girls win

SANDS — The Sands boys and girls basketball took a couple of victories from Borden County Tuesday night. The boys won 44-39 and the girls won 64-42.

The Sands boys were led by Ronny Long with 11 points followed by three players with 9 — Steve Blagrove, Tommy Staggs and Chris Wiggington.

High point for Borden County was Jim Rinehart with 15. Rinehart was helped in the scoring by Kelvin Telchik with 8 and Keith Martin with 8.

Sands season record stands at 12-5 and 1-0 in district competition.

The Sands girls blasted Borden with big scoring games from Penny Grantham with 17 and Melissa Bearden with 16.

Kathy Peacock and DeAnn Hall added 13 and 9, respectively.

The Borden County team was led by Kim Wimberly with 16.

The Sands girls have a 16-2 season record and a 2-0 district slate.

Coahoma girls victorious

DENVER CITY — The Coahoma girls basketball team routed Denver City 57-39 here Tuesday night.

Coahoma was led by a strong scoring tandem of Kerri Robinson and Robin Burchett who had 19 and 12 points respectively. Also adding to Coahoma's total was Gayla Paige with 9.

The Coahoma JV was also victorious winning its game 47-33. Jana Griffin had 18 points followed by Deci Stoker with 8 and Denise Greeff with 6.

The JVs are now 10-0 for the season.

The next game for the girls will be Friday at 6:15 p.m. in Crane.

Forsan splits with O'Donnell

O'DONNELL — The Forsan girls' basketball team won an impressive victory over the O'Donnell girls Tuesday night by the score of 47-36.

The win raised the girl's record to 14-3 for the season and they are now 2-0 in district competition.

The girls were led in scoring by Karla Cragar who netted 13 points.

FORSAN (47) — White 3-0-4; Cragar 4-1-13; Gaskins 2-0-7; Popper 4-1-9; Bennett 2-0-10; Totals 26-47.

O'DONNELL (36) — Crouch 2-2-4; M. Clark 2-0-4; Reed 2-2-2; Sanders 2-0-4; T. Clark 4-1-13; Bessie 0-1-2; Totals 19-36.

The Forsan Buffaloes lost a close game to O'Donnell Tuesday night by the score of 52-44.

Forsan was led in scoring by Ricky Bedwell who pumped in 18 points in the losing cause.

O'Donnell's Eddie Hancock had 18.

The loss brought Forsan's season record to 13-4 and the Buffaloes are now 0-2 in district play.

The Forsan JV team won its contest 45-39 with Raymond Miranda scoring 21.

Forsan's next game is at Ropes Friday with the JVs starting at 4:30 p.m.

O'DONNELL (52) — Hancock 9-0-19; Rodriguez 2-2-4; Morales 2-1-7; Ramirez 4-2-11; Morales 3-1-10; Totals 31-52.

Montana thrives on pressure

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — "Pressure" seems a comfortable word in Joe Montana's vocabulary.

"The basic thing we try to do is always keep pressure on the other team's defense," said Montana, the San Francisco quarterback who'll lead the 49ers into Sunday's National Football Conference championship game against the Dallas Cowboys.

"If you've got a guy six yards down the field, you throw to him and let him pick up the six, maybe break tackles; you never know what might happen," said Montana. "That keeps the pressure on the defense. If you keep the ball in play, somebody's going to make a big play sooner or later.

"If you have to throw 20-25 yards down the field, it's a questionable type throw. It might get in there and it might not."

Of another kind of pressure that will accompany Sunday's game, Montana said: "It's fun to play in games like this. This one and the next one...I hope there's a next one."

Montana said he is used to big games because of his college career at Notre Dame.

"There was a lot of pressure to being the quarterback at Notre Dame," he said at the 49er camp, shifted to the Los Angeles Rams' facilities because of heavy rains in northern California. "We played in a lot of big games — the Southern Cal game, usually a bowl game, a lot of others."

A three-year NFL veteran who just completed his first full season as the 49er starter, Montana blossomed this year, with Coach Bill Walsh helping him to develop. The 6-foot-2, 200-pound quarterback was the NFC's top-ranked passer, edging Dallas' Danny White. Montana finished the regular season with 311 completions in 408 attempts for 3,565 yards and 19 touchdowns, and he was intercepted 12 times.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS OFFENSIVE ROOKIE OF THE YEAR — George Rogers (38), carrying ball, stretches for extra yardage against the Detroit defenders during game in New Orleans. George Rogers of New Orleans Saints was named The Associated Press Offensive Rookie of the Year, in New York, Wednesday.

Rogers-AP offensive rookie

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Coach Bum Phillips says every team the New Orleans Saints faced this season planned especially to stop rookie running back George Rogers, and he still led the National Football League in rushing.

For finishing the 1981 season with 1,674 yards, Rogers was named Wednesday as The Associated Press Offensive Rookie of the Year, the latest in a series of honors for the Heisman Trophy winner from the University of South Carolina.

Phillips made Rogers the No. 1 pick in the draft last April. The Saints, the worst team in the league at 1-15 in 1980, improved marginally to 4-12.

"He took his licks and played every game," Phillips said. "He led the league in rushing when every team we prepared specifically to stop him. He has been measured all year not just against rookies but against veterans — all players."

Rogers slipped past Tony Dorsett of the Dallas Cowboys on the final Sunday of the season to become tops in rushing. Dorsett finished with 1,646 yards.

While scoring 13 touchdowns, Rogers also shattered the rookie rushing record of 1,606 yards set in 1979 by Otis Anderson of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Rogers also ended Earl Campbell's three-year reign as rushing champ. He ran away from his challengers in the balloting by a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters, receiving 65 of the 84 votes cast.

Cris Collinsworth, the wide receiver for the Cincinnati Bengals, was a distant second with 12 and running back Joe Delaney of the Kansas City Chiefs received the remaining seven votes.

Rogers' season started off slowly with 61 yards rushing against Atlanta. But on the second Sunday he had his biggest game of the season, 162 yards against Los Angeles. He clearly loved the Rams' defense — or the lack of it. Eight weeks later he ripped through it for 161 yards and three touchdowns.

He had seven other games of 100 yards or more, including a 142-yard performance in Houston, where the fans gave Phillips a thunderous welcome home before his Saints beat their Oilers.

Taylor wins defensive AP award

NEW YORK (AP) — Linebacker Lawrence Taylor, who helped lead the New York Giants into the playoffs for the first time since he was barely a toddler, was named today The Associated Press Defensive Rookie of the Year for the 1981 National Football League season.

Taylor, a 6-foot-3, 237-pound whirlwind out of North Carolina, was the overwhelming choice by a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters, receiving 51 1/2 of the 84 votes cast at season's end.

Cornerback Ronnie Lott, one of three rookies in the San Francisco 49ers' secondary, received 23 votes, linebacker Hugh Green of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers got 7 1/2 and safety Kenny Easley of the Seattle Seahawks received the remaining two votes.

Taylor wasn't quite 4 years old when the Giants last made the playoffs, a 14-10 loss in the 1963 NFL championship (when the defense didn't let Chicago cross midfield but the offense gave the ball away to set up two quarterback sneak touchdowns by the Bears' Earl Wade).

Defense was the hallmark of Giants championship teams in the 1960s and 1960s. And it became their hallmark again this season after they made Taylor their No. 1 pick (No. 2 overall behind George Rogers) in the draft last April, put him in their 3-4 defense and rounded out perhaps the league's most awesome quartet of linebackers.

Statistically, Taylor had 72 solo tackles and 41 assists in the Giants' regular-season games, plus 9 1/2 quarterback sacks, an interception and a fumble recovery...but those are only dry numbers, and numbers rarely tell the whole story.

Georgetown rips St. John's

NEW YORK (AP) — Patrick Ewing, Georgetown University's 7-foot freshman center, readily admits that Sleepy Floyd is the team leader, "the best ballplayer on the team."

Still, Floyd fully realizes his role has changed this year. "If Patrick wants the ball, he gets it," Floyd says. "He gets it as much as he wants, and it's up to us to get it to him."

Floyd, a second-team All-American last season, has been able to share more of the scoring duties with Ewing at the low post, and Ewing says he is growing more comfortable with the team.

"They give me the ball when I want it, and when the defense collapses on me, I give it back," Ewing says. "My job is to play the best I can. Sleepy is the one who takes charge."

"If there is the opportunity for me, I try to take over, but that is Sleepy's job," Ewing says.

Ewing combined with Floyd Wednesday night as the 13th-ranked Hoyas romped over 20th-rated St. John's, N.Y., 72-42, in the second game of a doubleheader before a packed house of 19,591 at Madison Square Garden. In the other game, ninth-ranked Wichita State, playing under the threat of NCAA suspension, whipped Iona 97-78.

Ewing scored nine points in 19 minutes' of play, sitting out parts of both halves in foul trouble, but he also blocked five shots and grabbed six rebounds. So far this season, Ewing has 50 blocked shots in Georgetown's 14 games, an average of 3 1/2 per game. Floyd led the Hoyas with 16 points, and Eric Smith had 14.

In the first game, junior forward Cliff Levingston and freshman guard Aubrey Sherrod helped Wichita State build a lead of as many as 18 points, then fight off a rally-minded Iona team.

Two free throws by Levingston with 1:52 gone in the second half gave the Shockers, 11-2, a 53-35 lead. Iona, 9-4, cut the margin to eight, 57-49, with 14:20 to play, but Levingston hit a pair of baskets, and Sherrod hit two more as Wichita State built its lead back to 13, at 73-60, with 6:28 left.

Levingston wound up with 25 points, and Sherrod had 22. Steve Burt led Iona with 25.

Afterward, Coach Gene Smithson admitted the ax was about to fall on the Shockers' basketball team in the form of probation.

In other action involving the nation's ranked teams, No. 1 North Carolina defeated Maryland 66-50, No. 2 Virginia crushed Notre Dame 87-54, No. 3 Kentucky stopped Auburn 83-71, fourth-ranked Missouri whipped Austin Peay 81-63, 11th-ranked Arkansas trimmed Southern Methodist 68-48, and 16th-ranked Alabama clubbed Mississippi State 71-53.

Top Ten
Sam Perkins scored 23 points, touching off two vital North Carolina spurts, as the unbeaten Tar Heels defeated Maryland and ran their winning streak to 10. Perkins, a 6-foot-9 sophomore, scored six of eight North Carolina points as the Tar Heels took a 21-13 lead late in the first half, and touched off a 12-point string with six more points for a 48-29 North Carolina lead with 9:32 left.

Ralph Sampson scored 17 points, grabbed 14 rebounds and blocked four shots as Virginia routed Notre Dame and avenged a 57-56 defeat that snapped a 28-game winning streak last year.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGNER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, JAN. 8, 1982

GENERAL TENDENCIES: An excellent day and evening for you to rely more upon your prophetic insight. Advancement can now be gained by looking into activities that have not been part of your life.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Your success can be increased if you seek the guidance of experience persons. Exercise extreme caution in travel.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You know exactly how to make a better impression on the one you love, so follow through on such. Don't neglect duties.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Formulate a plan whereby you can ascertain what your true position is with associates. Cooperate more with co-workers.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Take care of routine tasks that need doing instead of procrastinating. Take time to improve your appearance.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you study the details concerning entertainment plans you have, you can be successful with them later. Use common sense.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Gain the views of family members and then make your home more comfortable. Happiness can be yours for the asking.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You are able to entertain friends today after your work is done and have a delightful time. Plan your activities wisely.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You are in need of more income now and will be inspired just how to get it. Consult an expert before making any decisions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Plan for tomorrow's activity during spare time today. Attending a social affair tonight can be beneficial.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Coordinate new ideas with the plans you have in mind. Help good friends who in turn can be of service to you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you show good friends that you value the alliance, you will gain their loyalty. Show increased devotion to loved one.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Put aside personal matters and handle civic affairs in a most efficient way. A quiet and restful evening is best for you.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will have many good ideas developing early in life. It is wise to plan a fine education that will include the study of foreign language and philosophy. There is a lot to be much travel in foreign countries in his chart.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Check the chart below for family size. If your corresponding maximum annual income is equal or less than the amount shown, you could be eligible (new home only) for a FHA 263 loan. The interest rate could be as low as 4% and amazingly low, low monthly house payments. If you've talked with a homeowner with a 263 FHA loan, you already know what an exceptional opportunity this is.

Essay, poster contest deadline 'round corner

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Jimmy Harrison, chairman of the board of directors of the Mitchell Soil and Water Conservation District, says the deadline for the essay and poster contest is getting close — Jan. 25. Entries must be mailed to the Mitchell Soil and Water Conservation District, Box 910, Colorado City, or taken to the soil conservation service in the G-Kell Building on Snyder Highway.

The poster contest is open to boys and girls 12 years old and under with the subject of the contest being "resource conservation." The top three entrants in the contest will receive trophies and the top three entries in each class will receive ribbons as awards.

Dynamite reported stolen from geological survey site

ORANGE, Texas (AP) — About 1,000 pounds of dynamite was stolen from a geological survey storage site near this Southeast Texas city, officials said Wednesday.

The explosive is designed to be set off underground, sending off shock waves which are detected by geological survey teams to see if there is gas or oil in the area.

But Allen said the dynamite can become unstable and set off by shock. The caps are designed to be set off electrically, but can also become unstable and be set off by shocks or radio waves.

The stolen explosives were kept in a wood-lined steel magazine to control temperature and humidity and without those conditions the explosives could destabilize, Allen said.

Investigators have ruled out a terrorist plot since not all the explosives in the area were taken, Allen said.

"I hope the thieves know what they have on their hands," Allen said.

The dynamite is in three-inch by three-foot yellow plastic tubes, each carrying enough force to destroy a house, Allen said.

Magnetic scanners completely safe?

By PAUL RAEBURN
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new device that uses magnetism instead of harmful radiation to diagnose ailments could "cause a revolution in medical diagnostics," a researcher says.

David Hoult, a scientist with the National Institutes of Health, said the new scanner already can outperform CAT scanners in some situations.

Because the device does not use any form of radiation — unlike CAT scans, which use X-rays — it is believed to be completely safe, Hoult said Tuesday.

The device — called an NMR scanner — uses magnetic fields to produce pictures of internal organs similar to the pictures made by CAT scanners.

Both types of machines produce television images of a cross section through the body, or through a specific organ.

Hoult compared CAT scans of the brain and the liver with NMR scans, and said the NMR scans are often better able to pinpoint details in tumors.

The Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston is the only U.S. hospital with a commercially produced NMR scanner, Hoult said, but a number of institutions are doing research with experimental NMR devices.

Hoult's remarks were made during an NMR symposium at the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The NMR scanners are named for the phenomenon on which they are based — nuclear magnetic resonance.

What that means is that different substances behave differently when placed near a magnet. An NMR scanner consists of a very large electromagnet and measuring devices to watch what happens inside the body when the magnet is turned on.

Blood behaves differently from spinal fluid, for example, and tumors behave differently from healthy tissue.

A computer is used to analyze the output of the machine and produce the television image of the inside of the body.

In one case described by Hoult, a woman with a tumor inside her skull was examined with a CAT scanner, but her doctor could not tell whether the tumor had yet invaded the brain.

An NMR scan showed that the tumor had not entered the brain, and the doctor was able to remove it safely. The woman recovered.

Although X-rays pose little risk in small doses, they have a cumulative effect. Repeated X-ray exams can increase a patient's risk of developing cancer.

BIG SPRING, TEXAS JANUARY 7, 1982

Red clouds signal topsoil damage

By BOB CARPENTER
Staff Writer

The Big Spring area has been experiencing quite a bit of cloudiness lately. Only the clouds are red and made of dust.

This past Sunday Big Spring was engulfed by a dust storm straight out of Steinbeck's "Grapes of Wrath." Visibility was limited, dirt rained in sheets across highways and people coughed and wheezed their way around through the red fog.

It was one of those days when you could taste the grit between your teeth.

Not only was the dust a discomfort, but it was damaging to area farmers' topsoil, according to Charles Wilson, district superintendent of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service and Bill Fryrear, of the U.S. Big Spring Field Station.

"The wind definitely has an effect on the soil. That fine material you see up in the air is really the best part of the soil. The wind carries the nutrients away," Fryrear said.

"Sunday's storm was pretty bad. We estimate that some areas had a 200 ton loss per acre, which is pretty heavy," Wilson said. According to Fryrear 200 tons per acre is approximately one-fourth inch.

Fryrear said the effects of one wind storm are small, but repeated storms can cause a drastic effect on the land.

He said measuring erosion caused by wind is a difficult process because soil can be carried and mixed with other soil, which makes specific figures impossible.

"The erosion process is slow, but each time soil is blown away it takes a little more rain next time to maintain ground moisture," Fryrear said.

"Erosion takes away just a little bit of the land's productive powers every time.

"The wind has come at a bad time this year. Right now farmers are between stripping and getting the land plowed and worked, so the soil is susceptible to wind erosion."

Fryrear said the situation could get worse if the area doesn't receive some rain in the next few months. He said the soil could get too dry for farmers to work, which would lay open the land to disastrous winds.

"The situation depends on how quickly we get rain and if farmers can get the land worked. I'm afraid yesterday could be the beginning of a very dusty spring," Fryrear said.

Fryrear said the Field Station has been studying the effects of wind erosion in the area for 40 years. He said during the first and last 15 years of the study, soils had been reduced about 30 percent in productivity.

"This is why we've seen more farmers using commercial fertilizer with appreciable results. The nutrients in the soil are being carried away and the soil is just not as fertile as it used to be," Fryrear said.

"We hate to see the erosion and the farmers dread it. They just can't afford erosion," Fryrear said.

Wilson said farmers can combat the erosion by planting cover crops on the land or placing gin trash on the soil to hold the fine topsoil in place.

"The wind has caught farmers just a bit behind in their schedules, hopefully they'll be able to take care of their land soon," Wilson said.

"If farmers can get their land worked then that probably would reduce erosion one-half to one-third.

We're right in the heart of the erosion belt, but we're constantly working with farmers to reduce the impact of the storms," Fryrear said.

CLOUDS OF DUST — The Big Spring area was hit by a dust storm Sunday which saw winds of up to 52 miles per hour, according to Charles Yates of the U.S. Big Spring Field Station. The average wind speed during the storm was 35 mph. The high winds also damaged topsoil. This photo was made from atop the Permian Building, facing southeast.

Sen. E.L. Short announces bid for re-election

By BOB CARPENTER
Staff Writer

State Sen. E.L. Short, D-Tahoka, was in Big Spring yesterday to announce his bid for re-election in the 28th Senatorial District.

Howard County is unofficially in Short's district because of the recent senate redistricting plan drawn up by a board consisting of Bill Hobby, Bill Clayton, Mark White, Bob Bullock and Bob Armstrong. The plan will go into effect as soon as the state supreme court rules on the constitutionality of the plan.

There have been several suits filed on both the senate and house redistricting plans questioning whether the new districts violate the Voting Rights Act.

Pending any drastic changes it appears that Howard County will be placed in the 28th Senatorial District. Previously, Howard County was in the 30th District and represented by Democratic Sen. Ray Farabee of Wichita Falls.

Sen. Short read a prepared statement which said, "Being senator is like most other jobs — a person must learn the rules of procedure and the people for whom he works."

Short said he believes in letting people get actively involved in government rather than government thrusting rules and procedures on the people.

"I don't care to do very much in Austin except what the people want me to do. I have no particular ax to grind in Austin. I let the people relate their needs to me and if there is enough interest in my district I go to work and see what can be done, and I have been successful with most of my bills," Short said.

One of Short's principal upcoming projects is a water plan for Texas. He hopes his water plan will garner public input and support and ultimately replace the water trust fund amendment that votes defeated at the polls in November.

Short said instead of the legislature designing a plan it thinks is in the best interest of Texas, the plan should be drawn up by public input and decision.

"Education is a big factor toward getting public acceptance of a water plan. We might be doing the state and ourselves a favor by putting on a first class public relations campaign in Houston, Dallas, San Antonio and the places that primarily defeated the water trust fund in November."

"People are not saying they're against water and water matters. They're saying, 'show us a plan. Explain to us a more understandable and business-like approach to our state's water problem,'" Short said.

Short said after many statewide hearings and much lobbying he hopes to introduce two constitutional water amendments into the next legislative session.

The first will allow the state to guarantee local water bonds and the second will permit the state to pay up to 12 percent interest on bonds sold.

Short said he could not say what form of collateral would be used to guarantee the bonds, but he had three ideas in mind.

"There are many ways I can think of: First each project would be authorized locally. That bond election would require beneficiaries of that project to pledge its own collateral, as it presently does."

"Secondly, the state could co-sign with local entities of government."

"And thirdly, the state's good faith toward bond guarantees could be from general revenue of the state or the state could come up with a new source of funding," Short said.

Short said at the present time he has not acted on his water plan, but he is making arrangements to begin his lobbying effort possibly next month.

Ambulance ordinance amended

LAMESA (SC) — The Lamesa City Council met Monday and unanimously passed an ordinance on the second and final readings amending a chapter of the city code.

This move will exempt ambulance services whole or partially owned by government bodies from requirements in the chapter, which included a rule that the operator of the ambulance services obtain a permit for serving the city.

Leroy Olask, the Lamesa manager of the Texas Electric Service Company, explained an application to amend tariff and establish a new procedure concerning the company's fuel cost factor tariff schedule.

The company plans to receive fuel costs estimates from their affiliates, then file an estimate of those costs 70 days before the billing month. The amount Texas Electric Service customers would be charged under this procedure would be the same amount the company would pay for fuel and fuel charges and services.

The Council, however, voted to suspend the application for 120 days in order to check with the Texas Municipal League to get an opinion from them on the issue.

In a related item the council voted to authorize City Manager Carroll Taylor to intervene in the company's tariff case before the Public Utility Commission of Texas.

In other action, the council decided to bypass any decision or discussion on a proposed ordinance which would authorize an additional 15 percent penalty to be charged on delinquent taxes. That item is expected to be discussed later.

In a tax related issue, the council approved, as expected, the contract with the Dawson County Tax Appraisal District for assessment and collection services, and the council also appointed Mike Watson as the city's chief appraiser and assessor-collector.

City taxes will now be paid at Watson's office on the Lubbock Highway, next to the Lamesa Campus of Howard College.

The council passed a request by property owners in the North Park addition to have street lights in that addition turned on. The council also approved a request by the Lamesa School Board that elections be held in conjunction with the city council elections, set for April 3.

The council took no action concerning a request by the school board that the school district be granted use of Lamesa's Lobo Park for the 1982 baseball season.

Don't be chicken about cooking poultry

The Recipe Exchange has received a recipe request from Pete Fowler. Fowler said he had received pecans as a Christmas gift and wanted the best pecan pie recipe we can give him.

Pecan pie is a favorite in many families, and there probably are many different recipes as there are families. So send us your favorite so that we may share it with Fowler and other readers.

With the holidays now over, we hope you have settled back into your normal routine. Since most of our readers have been out of pocket, we are unable to get any local recipes this week. We hope you will find the chicken dish recipes tasty, and we hope to have local recipes back again next week.

Send your favorites to: Recipe Exchange, c/o Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring, TX 79720.

OVEN-FRIED

CHICKEN PARMESAN

1/2 cup (2 ounces) grated parmesan cheese
1/4 cup flour
1 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon salt
dash of pepper
2 1/2 to 3 pound broiler-fryer, cut up

1 egg, slightly beaten
1 Tablespoon milk
1/4 cup liquid margarine

Combine cheese, flour and seasonings. Dip chicken in combined egg and milk; coat with cheese mixture. Place in baking dish; pour margarine over chicken. Bake at 350 degrees for one hour or until tender. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

SHERRY CHICKEN

1 large onion, thinly sliced
4 boneless chicken breasts
2 Tablespoons melted butter

1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 medium zucchini, cut into 1/4-inch strips

1 can (10 3/4 ounces) cream of mushroom soup
1 can (4 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
1/4 cup sherry wine

Tear off four lengths of heavy duty aluminum foil large enough to permit adequate wrapping. Divide onion slices between foil sheets. Remove skin from chicken breast and coat with melted butter; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Toss zucchini strips with basil. Roll each chicken breast around 4 zucchini strips; place seam side down on bed of onions. Bring two foil sides up over chicken; fold down loosely in a series of locked folds allowing for heat circulation and expansion. Fold short ends up and over again; crimp to seal. Grill over hot coals 20 minutes. In medium size mixing bowl, combine soup, mushrooms and sherry. Carefully open each packet; spoon soup mixture evenly over chicken. Reseal packet; grill an additional 10 to 15 minutes or until chicken is fork tender. Makes: 4 servings.

CHEESY CRISPY CHICKEN

12 broiler-fryer chicken drumsticks
8 ounces bottled blue cheese dressing
2 cups bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
1/4 teaspoon dill seed
1/4 teaspoon pepper

In shallow dish, pour blue cheese dressing. In another shallow dish mix together bread crumbs, celery salt, dill seed and pepper. Roll chicken drumsticks, one at a time, first in blue cheese dressing; then in the bread crumb mixture. In large baking dish, place drumsticks in a single layer. Bake, uncovered, at 350 degrees F. for 30 minutes. Turn drumsticks carefully to avoid disturbing crust; return to oven for 20 more minutes or until fork can be inserted with ease. Serve hot or cold. Makes 6 servings.

CHINESE CHICKEN CHIPS WITH DIP

3 broiler-fryer chicken thighs, boned, skinned
1/4 cup soy sauce
5 Tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
2 cups cooking oil

Dip: 1/2 cup chili sauce
2 Tablespoons pineapple preserves

1 teaspoon soy sauce
On hard surface with meat mallet or similar flattening utensil, pound chicken to 1/4-inch thickness and square shape. Cut each flattened thigh into 4 pieces and place in a shallow pan. Pour soy sauce over chicken, cover, and marinate for 10 minutes in refrigerator. In shallow bowl, mix cornstarch and ginger. Add chicken, one piece at a time, dredging to coat. In large frypan, place oil and heat to medium temperature. Add chicken and cook turning to brown on both sides, about 5 minutes. Remove chicken from frypan and drain on absorbent paper. Serve hot or cold with dip. Makes 4 servings.

Dip: In small bowl, mix together chili sauce, pineapple preserves and soy sauce. Serve with chicken chips.

CHICKEN SKILLET DINNER

1 broiler-fryer, cut in parts
1/4 cup flour
1 1/2 teaspoon salt (divided)

1-16ths teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup rice
1/4 cup chopped onion

1/4 cup chopped green pepper

1 (7 oz.) can stewed tomatoes

1 (1 oz.) jar chopped pimiento

1 (1 oz.) jar ripe olives, sliced

1 1/2 cup water
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
1-16ths teaspoon saffron
1/2 (10 oz.) pkg. frozen green peas

In shallow dish mix flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt and pepper. Add chicken, one piece at a time, dredging to coat. In large frypan place shortening and heat to medium temperature. Add chicken and cook, turning, about 10 minutes or until brown on all sides. Add rice, onion, green pepper, tomatoes, pimiento, olives, water, garlic salt, saffron and remaining 3/4 teaspoon salt. Stir to mix. Cover and simmer 15 minutes; add peas and simmer about 15 minutes or until fork can be inserted in chicken with ease. Makes 4 servings.

SPANISH CHICKEN WITH RICE

1 broiler-fryer chicken, quartered
2 cups water (about)

1 Tablespoon cooking oil

1 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced

1 green pepper, chopped

1 onion, chopped

1 cup brown rice
2 cups canned tomatoes
1 cup dry sherry

1 bottle (3 ounce) stuffed olives, with juice, sliced
3 cloves garlic, minced
3 bay leaves
1/2 teaspoon basil leaves
1/2 teaspoon marjoram leaves
1/2 teaspoon oregano leaves
1/2 teaspoon thyme leaves
1/2 teaspoon hot pepper sauce

1 package (16 ounce) frozen green peas

1 can (16 ounce) artichoke hearts with juice

In deep saucepan, place chicken; add water, cover and simmer about 45 minutes or until fork can be inserted in chicken with ease. Cool. Place broth in 2 cup measure and, if needed, add water to measure 2 cups; reserve. Separate meat from bones; discard bones and skin. Cut chicken in bite-size pieces and reserve. In large frypan, place oil and heat to medium temperature. Add mushrooms, green pepper, onion and brown rice; stir. Cover and cook for 10 minutes. Add tomatoes, sherry, olives, garlic, bay leaves, basil, marjoram, oregano, thyme and hot pepper sauce; stir to mix well. Cover and simmer 15 minutes. Add reserved chicken and broth and simmer 30 minutes. Stir in peas and artichokes and simmer about 10 minutes longer or until peas and rice are tender. Makes 4 servings.

Chamber panel mulls motivation workshop

By CAROL HART
Staff Writer

Members of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce Business Committee, chaired by George Weeks, met Tuesday at the chamber offices to discuss a possible motivation workshop to be offered to area retail businesses.

Weeks expressed his disappointment that more people did not attend the planning meeting Tuesday. But those present heard Johnnie Lou Avery, president of Avery and Associates, and Joel R. Combs, president of Developmental Training Services, discuss how each of their companies would conduct a motivation workshop locally.

Combs, who headquarters out of Amarillo, told the group that his company offers a developmental training workshop for employees which deals with improving employee attitudes and memory work.

Mrs. Avery said Avery and Associates could offer a similar program but added that her company could also offer a sign language course to retail businesses in this area, a feature which "would cater to this buying population," she said.

Mrs. Avery said she would like the time to prepare a formal presentation for the chamber committee which would outline what her company would offer.

Weeks said he felt a workshop would be beneficial to area merchants because "we're all in this together," and that the goal of such a workshop would be "improved sales."

Weeks outlined what he says he sees as the average attitude of a salesperson today.

"They are looking forward to 5:30 p.m. and payday," he said. "There's more to it than that."

Weeks said he wants to see workshops which could motivate employees to seek advancement within a certain sales team, and to help employees find satisfaction with the work they are doing.

"The number one problem is that we can't find anybody who wants to work," he said.

Mrs. Avery told the group that both she and Combs would like to know exactly what area retailers wanted to see in the workshop. She questioned what area of the retail field would be targeted.

Weeks complained that "we can't get enough people out to see what they want to do. We've never had enough people out," but added that trend reversed during the 1981 Centennial celebration.

Combs told the group that through his experience in offering workshops, he had found that "there are certain things that every employee needs to be trained in."

He added that in his experience in offering workshops "People just don't jump up and go to a training meeting."

Combs said he felt it would be "a fair thing (for the stores) to pay tuition charges, and the employees to pay with their time."

Combs also had words of praise for Mrs. Avery, saying "I think you have a lady here in your community who could do a good job."

CRMWD revenues top estimates by $250,000

Revenues of $673,004 in November pushed Colorado River Municipal Water District revenues past the $8 million mark for the year. But expenses of $403,045 during the month brought the 11-month total to $5,008,382.

Another way of saying it is that while revenues were a quarter of a million over estimates for the period, expenses exceeded estimates by half a million. Nevertheless, the district will finish the year in the black and with ample reserves to meet required debt service coverage.

Income of $524,121 from the cities made it $6,371,132 from this source for the 11 months of 1981. Oil companies paid in $132,351 in November, making their total $1,496,098 for the year.

For November operating expenses included $290,161 for electric energy, making the total $3,371,055 for the 11 months.

Payments were based on water sales of 965,335,000 gallons to the cities, making 11,039,301,000 gallons for the first 11 months of the year. 218,857,000 and 2,289,153,000 gallons to oil companies; or 1,184,192,000 gallons for November and 16,338,954,000 gallons for the 11 months.

Of the total production in November, 1,009,056,000 gallons came from Lakes J.B. Thomas and E.V. Spence, or 85 percent, while only 5,622,000 came from the potable wells, or half of one percent.

For the 11 months, well production accounted for 2,138,363,000 gallons, or 13.09 percent of the total production. Obviously, the wells are getting a rest. Combined storage in the two lakes Nov. 30 was 313,535 acre feet, or 54 percent of capacity. Withdrawal in November was 3,096 acre feet.

Volunteer, units douse three fires

Volunteer fire units were called to three separate fires Tuesday in Howard County. No residences were damaged and no one was injured in the blazes, according to Sheriff A.N. Standard.

An 11 a.m. fire was reported north of Corbell Electrical Co., Farm Road 700. It was extinguished by the Jonesboro volunteer firemen, according to sheriff's office records.

A 3 p.m. grass fire behind Stuckey's off Interstate 20 was handled by volunteers from Jonesboro and the Silver Hells addition. Also on I-20 east of Coahoma, a truck fire was handled by the Coahoma Fire Department. The truck, owned by Abate Cotton Harvesting Company, Marlin, was not seriously damaged, Standard said.

Fire destroys pickup near gin

LAMESA (SC) — A pickup owned by a Lamesa man was declared a total loss Monday as it caught fire across from the Punkin Center gin north of Lamesa. Lamesa fire department reported the 1979 F-150 pickup owned by Mike Cline caught fire when Cline was cleaning his tool box with vapor, accidentally igniting it. About 300 gallons of water was used to extinguish the blaze. It took firefighters 20 minutes to douse the flames.

APPLYING PRESSURE — Mayor Clyde Angel, left, receives a lesson in giving blood from Shirley Goetz, San Angelo, director of donor resources of the United Blood Services. Angel holds a signed proclamation declaring the month of January as National Volunteer Blood Donor Month. According to the proclamation, "In our community there is a need for 45 units of blood per day for the protection of patients in our hospitals."

Use proper needle to hem heavy fabric

CLEVELAND — Sewing on heavy fabrics such as denim, canvas, upholstery, vinyl and leather can cause difficulty for the home sewer. Hemming these fabrics can further complicate things since you are often sewing through multiple layers of heavy fabrics. Distorted and skipped stitches and broken needles are frequent results.

If you're planning a sewing project that involves hemming a heavy fabric, Carole Fantel, education director for White Sewing Machine Company, offers a few tips to avoid the potential pitfalls.

"Proper needle selection is critical for success when hemming heavy fabrics," said Ms. Fantel. "For denim, canvas and some upholstery fabrics use a No. 14 American size (No. 90 European) denim needle. This extra-sharp needle also works well on rip-stop nylon fabric used in backpacks and tents. Sewing leather, vinyl or suede requires the use of a size No. 14 wedge-point needle which doesn't leave perforation marks," she added. "When sewing on any heavy fabric, use a metal or teflon-coated presser foot, which will slide along easier and feed the fabric better.

"When hemming double thicknesses of heavy fabric you may prefer to use a roller foot — one that has feed dogs that act like tiny bulldozers. This foot provides good support and helps you ease over a bumpy thick seam. Some sewers think that you must use heavy wire-like thread when hemming heavy material. That's not true. A good grade 100 percent nylon or polyester thread is fine," said Ms. Fantel.

"Most household sewing machines and needles will not accommodate a double-turned hem of heavy fabric, such as denim," she added. "So you have to 'cheat' a little. After washing, drying and pressing your fabric, measure the hem, leaving about a ¼-inch edge. Then overcast the edge with a zig-zag overlock stitch. This way, you are only sewing on a double layer."

Former resident wins pageant

Audreï Polo, 14, daughter of Ginnie Polo, Lubbock and formerly of Big Spring, was named winner of the Miss Talent U.S.A. Pageant held Dec. 27-28 in Baton Rouge, La.

AUDREI POLO
... pageant winner

Miss Polo was also named second runner-up in the modeling division of the Mr. and Miss U.S.A. Pageant. That pageant was also held in Baton Rouge, La., Dec. 27-28, but the two pageants were judged separately.

As Miss Talent U.S.A., Miss Polo will appear in the next edition of the book "Who's Who in Pageants."

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. T.R. Morris, 1425 E. 6th.

Dear Abby

Second chance possible

DEAR ABBY: I'm writing to thank you for printing the ALMA (Adoptee's Liberty Movement Association) address in your column. After getting in touch with the organization, I've been reunited with my natural mother after 31 years!

She and I are both thrilled to have found each other. I never would have known about ALMA had I not read it in your column.

Words are inadequate to express my appreciation to you and ALMA.

ROBERTA IN FLORIDA

Now, please stay tuned for a word from Roberta's mother:

DEAR ABBY: I want to thank you for publishing the details about ALMA in your column. It has made possible a contact with a child I had given up for adoption 31 years ago. I read about ALMA in a news story in 1974 and registered with it under my maiden name. In 1981 my daughter read about ALMA in your column, and she wrote to register her name.

We found each other, and a Thanksgiving reunion was planned! I never dreamed this could happen. Thank you! ROBERTA'S MOTHER, WASHINGTON STATE

DEAR MOTHER: I am glad that I was able to play a part in this wonderful reunion. Yours is only one of many.

Readers: ALMA's address is: P.O. Box 154, Washington Bridge Station, New York, N.Y. 10033.

Parents and their children can be "matched" only if both parties are agreeable.

This is not an agency that locates the natural parents of adoptees, or searches for children who have been adopted.

with a check, I endorse the check with that name.

Now I'm worried. Have I done anything illegal? Did I need to get special permission to use this fake name? I report all the money I make for tax purposes, so I am not cheating in any way.

I'm losing sleep over this, Abby. Hurry your answer. WORRIED IN N.J.

DEAR WORRIED: As long as you did not use the fake name in order to deceive or defraud, you will have no problem.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been happily married for six years. (I'm 27 and he's 29.) We both work and love to travel, and we've decided that we don't want children.

Our problem is his parents. My husband is their only child and they want grandchildren. My parents already have four grandchildren so we don't get as much pressure from them, although they have told us often enough that one day we will be "sorry" if we don't have a family.

I am so tired of having to make excuses for choosing to remain childless. Every time we see my in-laws, they start in on us, telling us how "selfish" we are. Abby, we love our freedom and have decided that we neither want nor need children.

Do you think we're wrong? CHILDLESS AND HAPPY

DEAR HAPPY: No. Of all the reasons to have a family, pressure from others who think you should is the worst.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get them off your chest. Write to Abby: 12060 Hawthorne Blvd., Suite 5000, Hawthorne, Calif. 90250. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Police Beat

$1,255 burglary reported

Police are investigating a $1,255 burglary reported at the 704 Pine residence of Robert Evans.

According to police reports, Evans told police someone entered his residence while it was vacant Monday night or Tuesday morning.

Stolen were two television sets, a cassette player, 30 albums and about $70 worth of meat, police said.

Officers called to investigate the burglary said they found no sign of forced entry. A search for fingerprints was unsuccessful, police said, adding that there were no suspects in connection with the case.

A thief possibly looking for expensive items found religion instead when he entered a car owned by Sarah Pollard of 1002 N. Main.

According to police, Ms. Pollard's Chevrolet was parked outside Herman's restaurant, 1801 Gregg, between 11:30 p.m. yesterday and 1 a.m. today when the theft took place.

The stolen items? A Bible and two church secretary books, according to police reports.

Police said Ms. Pollard told them the car was not locked at the time the theft occurred.

Also said to have been taken was a bag of food.

James Barton of 1514 Sycamore told police $500 worth of old coins were stolen from his home between Dec. 4 and Jan. 5, according to police reports.

Detectives are looking into the theft of $233 in cash reportedly taken from the office of Nu-Wa Janitorial Service on Warehouse Road in the Big Spring Industrial Park. The money was said to have been in a bank bag and is believed to have been taken between 5:15 p.m. Monday and 10 a.m. yesterday, according to police.

A thief may have stolen more than he can handle when he took Bruno — a half-St. Bernard, half-timber wolf weighing 120 pounds — from the 2001 S. Monticello residence of Dennis Bin Bruno, who Bin said was chained to a porch, is believed to have been taken between 7 and 8:30 a.m. yesterday, police said.

Charles Clark of 1503 Wood told police $170 in cash and coins were stolen from his home yesterday morning after his apartment was broken into, according to police reports.

Terry Stockton of Gail Route told police a wheel and tire to her pickup truck were either stolen or lost recently.

Police said they arrested James Bence, 24, of Coahoma in the emergency room of Malone-Hogan Hospital last night on charges of public intoxication and disorderly conduct. The arrest was made at 11:05 p.m., according to police reports, after Bence had been brought to the hospital by ambulance for treatment of injuries received in an assault. The fight took place about an hour earlier at Faye's Lounge, 3317 W. Highway 80, according to police reports.

Motor vehicles driven by Terri Cate of 511 Owens and Maria Chavez of Pecos collided in the 200 block of West Third at 2:19 p.m. yesterday, police said. There were no injuries reported.

22 will participate in capping ceremony

Twenty-two students in the Associated Degree Nursing Program at Howard College will participate in a Capping Ceremony to be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, in the Howard College Auditorium, announced Barbara Hildampf, director of the ADN Program at HC.

The Capping Ceremony signifies that the students have successfully completed Level I of the Associate Degree Nursing Program. Female students will receive a cap whereas male students will be presented a stripe on the collar of their student uniform. Members of this class will graduate in May of 1983.

The Capping Ceremony will be conducted by members of the Howard College nursing faculty, Diane Austin, Carrie Covington, Mary McClendon, and Linda Miller. Other participants include Dr. Bobby Wright, vice-president of Howard College, and Barbara A. Holdampf, Charles A. Weeg, administrator of Hall-Bennett Hospital, will deliver the principal address.

Sophomore students of the ADN Program will act as hosts and hostesses for a reception following the ceremony in the Cactus Room of the Student Union Building. Family and friends are invited.

Students to be capped include: Don Arroyo, Edith Ashley, Karen Buchanan, Waldene Childress, Sarah DeGross, Beverley Foster, Becky Gartman, Janna

Gillispie, Linda Hill, Becky Jordan, Jolene Kerby, Irene Lamb, Sandy McCutchan, Gloria McDonald, Julie McDonald, Robert Phillips, Linda Porter, Irene Stringer, Jean Thomas, Mary Thomas, Deilia White, and Debra Woods.

According to Mrs. Holdampf, applications are now being accepted for the next class starting in August of this year. Prospective students are encouraged to enroll in the non-nursing support courses offered this semester at Howard College.

$12,750 awarded to residents

A ruling in 118th District Court awarded $12,750 to Jerry Don Stephens, et al, from the Big Spring Independent School District for a workers' compensation claim filed as the result of the death of Stephen's wife, Nella Mae, May 10, 1979.

The ruling also called for BSISD to pay the remaining bills at Malone-Hogan Hospital up to $2,500. The bulk of the damages were awarded to Stephens with the remainder going to two minor Stephens' children.

The case evolved following a dispute as to whether or not Mrs. Stephens had died as a result of injuries sustained while employed by Big Spring ISD.

Signup at HC's Lamesa campus begins Monday

LAMESA (SC) — Registration will be held Monday and Tuesday at the Lamesa Campus of Howard College, located on the Lubbock Highway in Lamesa, for the spring semester.

The semester begins Jan. 13. There are 14 class offerings available for Lamesa and Dawson County residents.

According to Jody Furlow, campus secretary, an average of 135 people consistently take courses each semester. A new campus director, Dan Shockey of Plainview, has been named. He will begin duties at the campus this week.

Mail flow in Lamesa continues constant

LAMESA (SC) — Lamesa postmaster Dick Edwards says that even though the holiday season has passed the mail traffic flow in Lamesa has been constant.

Edwards says there are several reasons for this. Publishers Clearinghouse and Reader's Digest are currently holding Sweepstakes contests, and many local and area residents have received brochures.

Also many of the large department stores have sent out catalogues this month. And various magazines have sent subscription notices and information pertaining to new subscriptions to their readers.

Edwards said January has been just as busy as the letter stages of December. During the past week, he said some days were busier than days during the peak season prior to Christmas.

Sale featuring bulls scheduled Saturday

A joint production sale featuring bulls from Charlie Creighton, the Henderson-Stoker herd, and the Patterson Brothers Registered Herd was started in 1962.

There will be 96 Pasture Raised Bulls from 20 to 30 months old featured Saturday.

Walter Britten will serve as auctioneer. Sale day phone is 915-263-7170.

For additional information, contact Jimmy Taylor, First National Bank, 915-267-5513.

Committee will hear contamination problems

The Natural Resources Committee, sponsored by the State of Texas and composed of Senators and Representatives, will be at Odessa College, Friday, Feb. 19, 10 a.m., to hear complaints on water contamination problems.

The committee is interested in hearing from individuals who have dealt with the Texas Railroad Commission regarding their problems.

Parents without partners to organize local chapter

A single parent often needs contact with others who share similar experiences in bringing up children alone. Big Spring is beginning a new chapter of Parents Without Partners to bring those parents together.

Regional president Lawrence Kennedy said the international organization, with over 200,000 members, offered a chance for single parents with children to get together. "We want to invite them to come out to our 'get-acquainted' gathering Saturday at the Homestead Inn," Kennedy said.

Persons wishing to attend should call the Homestead Inn, 267-6303, to make reservations for the meal Saturday afternoon at 5:30 p.m., Kennedy said.

Ernie's Automotive stands behind its work

In the competitive auto repair field, you can always depend on Ernie's Automotive, 1107 East 2nd in Big Spring for quality automotive repairs, tune-ups, disc and drum brake service, air conditioning service, transmission repair, and alternator work.

Owned and operated by Ernie McCustian, Ernie's Automotive features complete garage stands fully equipped to repair or replace most any part on your car.

Unlike many "specialty" houses, this is one shop that can do the complete job from start to finish.

Does your car require a tune-up to help the engine run better and produce fewer emissions? A diagnostic tuning center makes it possible to adjust the timing and carburetion of your engine to computer-precise, factory specifications.

This electronic testing gear is just part of the space-age equipment that separates this shop from the average "service station."

So next time your car or truck won't start, or won't run the way you think it should, call or come by Ernie's Automotive for prompt, courteous service. They are open five days a week and closed on Saturday. Call them if your car gives you trouble. The phone number is 267-7391.
