Britain poised to invade

By The Associated Press

Britain said today it is considering new U.N. ideas for a peaceful set-tlement on the Falkland Islands conflict. It also published its own proposal and blamed Argentina for failure to resolve the conflict.

It said no move has been made to hold back the British armada, poised to invade the Falklands. Press Association, Britain's domestic news agency, reported "deep gloom ... about the prospects of avoiding war."

British Foreign Office spokesman Nicholas Fenn told reporters in London, "It is clear the Argentine government are not serious about continuing the negotiations."

Fenn made clear that U.N. Secretary General Javier Perez de Cuellar's "ideas" were separate from the publication of the British negotiating position and Argentina's "discouraging" reply Wednesday.

Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher's government said its proposal was given to Perez de Cuellar Monday. The British blamed Argentina for the crisis and the failure to reach a peaceful settlement.

"In their ... attitude, the Argentine government showed that they had no respect either for democratic principles or for the rule of law. Britain stands firmly for both," the document said.

It said Argentina "was not seeking an agreement, but was playing for time in the negotiations in the hope of holding on to the fruits of aggression with all that this would imply for the international rule of law.

Britain's proposal called for a cease-fire within 24 hours; a phased withdrawal of all armed forces to at least 150 miles from the Falklands within two weeks; appointment of an U.N. a strator

Rios says he shot Ruiz in act of self-defense

Porferio Rios told a Howard County jury yesterday he fired the shot which killed Daniel Ruiz in order to "defend myself and my cousin." Rios was the only defense witness called in his murder trial held in 118th District Court for the slaying of Ruiz April 5, 1981

Testimony ended at 4:25 p.m. yesterday as both sides closed their questioning. Final arguments were set for this morning with a verdict expected by afternoon.

Under questioning from defense attorney Roy Ford, Rios told a story of a late-night, high-speed two-car chase which ended in a deserted parking lot with a flurry of shots fired from both vehicles. Rios' testimony' refuted earlier prosecution witnesses' statements which claimed only Rios had fired a gun.

The basic scenario of the events leading up to Ruiz' shooting as stated by Rios and three other witnesses is as follows: The vehicle driven by Rios with passenger Israel Martinez, a cousin, had just completed a brief drag race with another cousin in a Camaro on Fourth Street just off Gregg Street when it encountered a third car.

The third car, driven by Rudy Carpenter with his stepbrother Ruiz and cousin Ernest Gomez as passengers, occasionally paralleled Rios' car as passengers in both vehicles exchanged thrown objects beer cans or bottles - and heated words at speeds up to 80 miles per hour. Following a cross-over around the Holiday Inn to speed down Third Street, Rios' car turned into the gravel parking lot at B.F. Goodrich and parked.

The parking lot is the site where Rios is said to have fired at least four shots at the other car, one striking Ruiz in the temple, followed by the would function "in consultation" with the islanders' legislative and executive councils, including two representatives of the small, resident Argentine population; and talks on the long-term future of the islands, "without prejudgment of the outcome," with a target completion date of Dec. 31.

Britain said the draft agreement "represented the furthest (it) could go in the negotiations," and that Argentina's reply "amounted to a rejection.

Perez de Cuellar called Mrs. Thatcher late Wednesday night to make a last-minute appeal for peace and made a similar appeal to Argentine President Leopoldo F. Galtieri in Buenos Aires.

Officials said Perez de Cuellar also handed a new set of peace proposals to Britain's U.N. Ambassador, Sir Anthony Parsons, Wednesday night and that these were cabled to Mrs. Thatcher early today. It was the first time in the crisis that the U.N.

"Hey, taxi driver!" That, among other names such as "bell hop" and "bus boy," is what Big Spring policemen have been calling each other since they began sporting their new uniforms last month.

All the fuss is over a light blue stripe running down each leg of the dark blue uniform, causing more than a few officers to look chagrined at the mention of it.

"Yeah, there's been a lot of kiddin' goin' around, like us refusing to carry any luggage," Capt. Claude Morris said.

The change came when former police chief Elwood Hoherz ordered the switch from a light blue to a dark blue uniform. Despite protests, he also insisted on the stripe

The choice of wearing a blue cap or a black and gold helmet is optional; unfortunately, the infamous stripe is not.

Rios testified he had fired only after five shots had already been fired at him. Carpenter and Gomez, however, told the jury neither they nor Ruiz ever fired at the Rios vehicle. Rios said he heard shots first as he turned off Fourth and "I seen them fire out the window as they turned around in the (B.F. Goodrich) parking lot."

The defendant said he got his gun from the trunk of his car while parked in the Goodrich lot "so they could see I had a gun, too." Rios said the only reason he fired was to protect himself and his cousin. That he was in danger from the other car was something Rios realized "after I threw a bottle and ran a stop light and they were still behind me. I was going as fast as the car would go," he said.

Prosecuting attorney Don Richard questioned Rios about points in his testimony which differed from earlier witnesses' statements. "How come you're the only one who heard the shots (from the Ruiz car)?" Richard asked. "You fired last, hit one of them and they never fired back?" Richard also asked the defendant why he didn't go to the police station rather than use his gun, a gun he allegedly hid later.

"I didn't think I'd hit anybody. I was scared," Rios replied. Richard also question d Rios why he did not turn around and avoid a confrontation with the other vehicle at the Second Street exit. Rios replied he wouldn't have had time to turn on the parking lot's loose gravel.

The passenger in Rios' vehicle, Martinez, testified for the prosecution that he had threatened the three persons in the Ruiz car with the alleged murder weapon while the cars were in the Goodrich lot.

"I picked up the gun and pointed it at the car and Junior (Rios) turned on the car," Martinez said.

Martinez also told the jury Rios had not said anything before firing at the other car. Under cross-examination from Ford, the 17-year-old Big Spring High School student said he felt they were being shot at before Rios fired shots. Martinez testified he and Rios had found a bullet hole in the car after the incident, although Martinez said he had heard no shots.

A third prosecution witness, Ernest Gomez, was intently questioned by Ford on the differences in his trial testimony and his April 5, 1981, statement made to police. Gomez, who was speaking occasionally through an interpreter, sometimes fell silent as Ford pointed out con tradictions.

Chamber gears up

for reaccreditation

By BOB CARPENTER

Staff Writer The Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce geared up for reaccreditation with the U.S. Chamber of Commerce yesterday as task forces and procedures for the process were presented to the chamber's board of directors for approval. The chamber must complete a reaccreditation study every five years to remain a member of the U.S. chamber.

According to LeRoy Tillery, executive vice president of the chamber, the process involves an internal self-study and evaluation procedure to be completed by six task forces looking at various facets of chamber operation.

He said the task forces rate six areas which include organization, programs of action, finance, membership and public relations, building and equipment and staff, and then the findings are presented to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

After receiving and studying the findings, the U.S. chamber will send a team to Big Spring to visit with the six task forces and help rectify any weaknesses or problems within the chamber, Tillery said.

The committees began meeting this week and the deadline for completing studies is May 28, according to Johnnie Lou Avery, chairperson of the reaccreditation committee.

"Actually, it's really a selfevaluation study designed to improve the chamber," Tillery said. He said final approval by the local chamber executive board should come June 16.

In other business, the board yesterday approved a five-person nominating committee for 1982-83. The committee will be in charge of selecting new directors for nomination, as well as choosing officers for nomination in the coming year.

Chosen for the task are R.H. Weaver, Francis Wheat, Dr. John Key, J.D. Nelson and Winston Wrinkle. Jimmy Taylor will serve as alternate.

The board also approved spending approximately $1,500 to send Tillery on a West Texas Chamber of Commerce Industrial Tour of the greater New York City area. The tour is scheduled for Sept. 20-23. The funds will be used for air fare from Dallas, three lunches, three nights of lodging and ground transportation.

In other matters, the chamber announced that June 20 has been set by Union Carbide for an official announcement concerning its starting date for construction of a new plant in Big Spring.

Tillery said the company will announce how many people will be employed at the plant, when the plant will begin production and other pertinent facts.

地bbock man back in jail

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) - A Lubbock man who raced from an arraignment in Union County Circuit Court is back behind bars today.

Deputy John Raley of the Union County Sheriff's Department and Cpl. Travis Nash of the state police recaptured Patrick E. Vance, 23, about 3 p.m. Wednesday.

Vance, who was being arraigned on a charge of burglary when he escaped Tuesday, was arrested as he walked along a gas pipeline on U.S. Highway 82 about four miles east of El Dorado. Raley said Vance did not hide his identity when asked his name.

Authorities had resumed their manhunt about noon Wednesday, using bloodhounds and deputies on horseback to track the escaped prisoner.

Policeman acquitted

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A 27-year veteran policeman has been acquitted by a federal court jury of charges he acted as a bodyguard in a major narcotics deal.

Jurors deliberated more than 10 hours over two days before finding Sgt. Oscar Meissner innocent of aiding and abetting and failing to report a plot to possess rocaine.

"."They can't give me punishment for being stupid," Meissner, 61, said after the verdict was returned Wednesday.

Defense attorney Gerald Goldstein grabbed the sergeant's badge, which prosecutors had called ternished," and pinned it back on Meissner's chest.

The government had argued Meissner acted as a bodyguard for convicted drug dealer Timothy O'Leary in a major cocaine buy on July 2, 1981.

Defense attorneys contended O'Leary, a sometime police informant, tricked Meissner into believing he was helping O'Leary get out of a 25-kilogram cocaine dead · However, O'Leary was discussing the deal with two undercover federal narcotics agents who arrested Meissner and O'Leary.

"Meissner, who has been suspended with pay since his 'arrest, said he had not decided what to do next.

"These past months, I've had one boss, Mr. Gold-"stein," Meissner said. "Now I have another boss and 'that's the chief (of police)."

2 Lamesa men hurt in accidental shooting

LAMESA - Two Lamesa residents were injured in accidental shootings Wednesday, according to police reports.

The first incident occurred around 6:45 p.m., police said. Ted Norton Jr., 29, was treated at Medical Arts Hospital for a gunshot wound to his left shoulder.

Norton apparently was unloading his .22-caliber rifle with the butt of the rifle resting on the floor. In an attempt to eject a shell from the rifle's magazine, the gun fired, striking him in the left shoulder, according to police reports.

Norton reportedly was at home alone at 409 N. 12th at the time of the accident. He walked next door to his neighbors' home and was driven to the hospital, police said. Norton is listed today in good condition at Medical Arts Hospital.

In an unrelated incident, police reports show that a call was received later Wednesday concerning a shot fired in the 1200 block of North 12th.

Upon the arrival of Lamesa police, an officer was advised that the people of the residence in question had been seen apparently rushing toward a hospital. In the meantime, a police dispatcher notified officers a shooting victim was being treated at a local hospital.

Richard Zapata then met with officers at Medical Arts Hospital and reported that he and Thomas Lopez and Thomas Lopez Jr. were talking about a recentlypurchased .25-caliber pistol in the front yard of 1111 N. 12th when the accident occurred.

Zapata had removed the ammunition clip from the pistol, and said he thought he had removed all the shells from the gun by doing so.

He told police he then pointed the gun in the air and pulled the trigger, discharging a shell that was still in the chamber.

Police said the bullet struck 10-year-old Thomas Lopez Jr., who was sitting on top of a pick-up truck parked in the yard, in the right hand.

Thomas Lopez Jr., was taken to Medical Arts Hospital for treatment

S. Korean Cabinet resigns in scandal

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) - The entire South Korean Cabinet submitted its resignation today, assuming responsibility for a major financial scandal and other embarrassments to President Chun Doo-hwan's regime.

A government spokesman said the 22 Cabinet members tendered their resignations to Prime Minister Yoo Changsoon and he would present them to the president on Friday.

There was no immediate indication of how many resignations would be accepted.

It was also announced that the top officials of Chun's Democratic Justice Party also submitted their resignations to the party chairman.

The announcement of the resignations was made after a special Cabinet session. The Cabinet had been in office since Jan 4

The spokesman, Information-Culture Minister Lee Kwang-pyo, said the resignations were submitted to assume "political and moral responsibility" for several incidents this year.

An uncle of Chun's wife, Lee Kvoo-kwang, was charged with bribery and influence-peddling last week. Last August, a cousin of the president was arrested for influence peddling but later released.

No award in workman's case

A Howard County jury declined to award the lump-sum payment sought by Morris C. Clanton in his workman's compensation case against American Home Assurance Co. in 118th District Court Tuesday.

Clanton was seeking approximately $36,490 in payment for injuries he claimed to have suffered July 28, 1978 in Howard County. Clanton was represented by James R. Edwards while American Home Assurance was represented by Richard Palmer.

CASERTA, Italy (AP) - Sophia Loren spent her first night behind bars in a private, pink-walled cell with a private bathroom and a black-and-white TV set. But her guards said she woke up today to the same breakfast of coffee, milk and bread served the inmates in the other nine cells.

The 47-year-old film star returned to her native Italy Wednesday to begin serving a 30-day sentence for tax evasion handed down in July 1980. She had said that September that she would return and serve her sentence as soon as she fulfilled her "work obligations."

Miss Loren left Geneva, Switzerland, one of her residences, and entered Italy for the first time in two years. She was met by police at Rome's Leonardo da Vinci Airport as soon as she stepped off the plane.

She said she was innocent of the charge that she failed to file a tax return in 1963. The problem, she said, was caused by her tax specialist, now dead. But she said she decided to return home "to see my mother, my country and my roots.'

After nearly being knocked down by the crowd of photographers and reporters at the airport, Miss Loren and her sister, Maria Scicolone, were ushered into an unmarked police car and driven to the three-story women's prison at Caserta, 20 miles north of Naples.

The jail is an 18th century convent with flowers on the balconies and a staff of six nuns and eight male guards.

"She was brought here because this is a tranquil place and nothing will happen to her here," said Vicenzo Scolastico, a local judge.

DOING TIME FOR CRIME - Actress Sophia Loren is escorted by a police officer upon her arrival at Rome's airport Wednesday. She returned to Italy to serve a 30-day jail term on a charge of income tax evasion. She was jailed in Caserta, near her hometown Naples.

Probe of labor secretary goes on despite death threat

WASHINGTON (AP) - The chairman of the Senate Labor Committee is vowing to pursue allegations linking Labor Secretary Raymond J. Donovan to union payoffs and organized crime figures despite an anonymous death threat to a committee investigator.

Sen. Orrin G. Hatch, R-Utah, disclosed that a committee .investigator got a call warning him "to lay off" Donovan, the subject of a special prosecutor's investigation in New York City and a continuing Senate committee probe.

Hatch, who declined to identify the staff member, said "there's no proof that it could be attributed to anybody. But, basically it was to lay off Mr. Donovan.

"It was a serious call. It was a threat," said Hatch, adding the matter had been referred to the FBI. The senator also said, "I've had some minor threats in this matter, but I don't consider them significant.'

One labor committee source, who declined to be named publicly, said bers said they were outraged by instigation of a counter-investigation of the labor committee. That probe has been launched by Schiavone Construction Co., the New Jersey firm which Donovan served as executive vice president before joining the Reagan administration.

Donovan is under investigation by special prosecutor Leon Silverman on an allegation that in 1977, while with the Schiavone company, he was present at a Long Island City restaurant luncheon at which a $2,000 payoff was made to the head of Local 29 of the Blasters Union

Since Silverman opened his investigation early this year, new allegations by FBI informants have been made, including an assertion that Donovan had business and social ties to several reputed organized crime figures.

The labor secretary denied allegations of union corruption and links to mobsters during his confirmation hearings, but has refused to discuss the case in recent months. He testified May 12 before the federal

In September 1967, a threeyear-old gave her mother a prediction. "I'm never going, to miss a day of school!" she said. With that statement she marched into her first day of pre-kindergarten Redbird classes at Jack and Jill Children's Center.

Her parents had faith in her prediction because she had already begun learning the importance of responsibility, commitment and goal-setting, even at that young age

That little girl was Joni Avery, daughter of Johnnie Lou and Jerry Avery, and she is graduating next week from Big Spring High School. Fifteen years after setting her goal, she will achieve it now - through two years of pre-school, one year kindergarten and twelve years of public schools, she's never missed a day of school.

Twister damage heavy near Pampa

By The Associated Press

Damage was estimated at $3 million in the wake of turbulent weather in the Texas Panhandle that spawned at least six tornadoes near Pampa.

There were no reports of injury and the bulk of the damage was to a building under construction that was flattened east of Pampa. Shirley Muns, information officer for Pampa's Civil Defense organization, said, "We were sitting in the center of town and could see them pass overhead. It was like the cloud was just over us and they were popping down.'

Pat on the back

The city of Big Spring deserves a big pat on the back

No, they haven't replaced the lights at Johnny Stone ballpark or repaved Wasson Road. It's the people I'm pleased with, the folks that filled up the Big Spring High ballpark to the very last splinter for Tuesday's bidistrict game against Denton.

Just when you thought there was no more room at the inn, here came a munch of hot and sweaty football than a block away because of the traffic jam. Traffic jam in Big Spring? There was Tuesday. Steer fan Billy Bineda said he hadn't seen baseball crowds like this since the days when Big Spring had a Texas League team and a wellfollowed semi-pro squad.

That day and time was in the middle 1950's when fans came out in droves to watch the Cosden Cubs, Big Spring Broncos and the predecessor to the

Time for school prayers

It is to the President's credit that with all the things on his plate, including unemployment, a tough budget fight, the Falkland crisis and his efforts to try to close the "Window of Vulnerability," he would take time to propose a constitutional amendment to permit prayers in school.

Critics have accused Mr. Reagan of raising the issue at this moment as a sop to his right-wing supporters, who feel the President has been spending too much time on the country's financial problems and not enough energy on the real issues facing the nation, of which school prayer is one with the highest priority Whether a constitutional amendment is a solution is up for debate. I believe we should try some other remedies first to satisfy everybody. The administration has come down strongly on the side of giving tax credits to parents who send their children to parochial schools. It seems to me if this law is passed, a compromise solution to the problem would be to permit children attending public schools to be bused to a religious school of their choosing in the morning, say their prayers, and then get back on the bus and go to their public school to do their work. In this way you would give American children an opportunity to pray, but you would also keep religion off state property. Those on the bus who didn't want to pray could remain in their seats and hit each other over the heads with books.

THE PRO-PRAYER people say that the constitutional amendment is voluntary and a child will not have to pray if he doesn't want to. The antiprayer people maintain that peer pressure as well as teacher pressure will force a kid to pray whether he has the choice or not.

The latter group sees this kind of scenario

"All right, children, we will now open with a morning prayer. Those sinners who don't believe in God can either stand in the back of the room with their faces to the wall, or hide in humanist. He'd rather stand in the back of the room than pray to God. Does anyone know where Tony is going to wind up with his attitude? "In Hell.

"Very good, Charles. And who will he find in Hell?" "Satan.

"And what will Satan make him do?

"He'll make him feed the flames of a fiery furnace, and Tony will have to wear a tail, and he'll be screaming all the time and fighting off snakes, but it won't do him any good.

"That's absolutely right, Enid. Who knows what else will happen to him?" "Blackbirds will peck his eyes out, and he'll have a stomachache all the

Billy Graham

How can we serve God?

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: We are just ordinary Christians who try to do our work faithfully and live the way we think God wants us to every day. Sometimes, however, I feel like we are so useless to God. How else can we serve him? — F.T.

DEAR F.T.: Sometimes I think we can get the wrong impression about serving Christ. It is easy to think that the only people who are serving God are ministers or missionaries or others who are involved every day in spreading the Gospel. But you can serve Christ wherever you are. The main question is this: are you faithful to the tasks God has given you? If so, do not worry about whether or not your work seems less spectacular than that of others. God uses all kinds of people to accomplish his purposes.

Remember that God has put you in contact with other people, and perhaps you are the only real Christians who know them. You have a unique opportunity to show by your life as well as by your words that Jesus Christ is important to you. God may not have called you to preach or go somewhere as a missionary. But you can show his love to others, and by your attitude you can show what Christ means to you. The Bible says, "Let your light shine before men, that they may see your good deeds and praise your Father in heaven" (Matthew 5:16).

Remember also that you may never know what effect your witness and quiet life for Christ is having on others. At the end of his life, Paul knew he had been faithful to Christ, and yet he was almost alone and in prison. From the viewpoint of the world. Paul was a failure. But we know better. Because Paul was faithful, the church was established and countless people won to Christ. This does not mean you should not be praying for God to show you new ways to serve him. Ask him to show you very specific ways you can be used of him. It may be something within your church that you can do, or a neighbor who needs some help that you can give. Perhaps God would challenge you to pray for others more

- a real ministry. Whatever it is, be faithful to Christ, because that is what is important. "Therefore, my dear brothers, stand firm. Let nothing avers from spring drills. Everyone ad to bunch together like a full bag of Fritos to let these guys in. And if you were downwind of them, the aroma your nose caught was something like taking deep breaths into a gorilla's armpit.

But never mind that. The noise was almost deafening at times, drowning out the announcer between innings. When pitcher Moe Rubio got a strike on the batters there was a slight rumble in the stands. When he got a strikeout, California has received lesser quakes than those felt around the home diamond.

There were more fans around the infield fences and piled on the hoods and roofs of cars around the outfield fences. About the fifth inning, a flight from Midland to Dallas dipped down and took a low pass over the ballpark. More fans.

"Its really exciting," Rubio said about the crowd after the game. "I've ever seen people backing the team up like this before.

"It was fantastic," echoes Big Spring coach Frank Ibarra. "They were really screaming and hollering. They were really all for us.'

THERE WERE SO many people, in fact, it was too much for one tickether to collect dollar bills from. And after the game, the driver of the Denton bus couldn't get any closer

Not only did the townspeople get excited but so did local merchants and radio stations. Jocks on KFNE haven't stopped talking about the Steers yet, and KBST was on the air at the game ... if anyone could hear the broadcast over the racket from the bleachers

INSTEAD OF PUTTING up weekly specials, several Gregg Street merchants have turned their advertising signs into Big Spring Steer bulletin boards.

You might expect this in a smaller town but large cities are usually more reserved about this kind of thing. I think Big Spring has been starved too long for a champion to rally behind that all its collective energy has been released in a rush.

But why not? Frank Ibarra's crew certainly deserves it after a 24-9 season, first district championship and now advancing to the edge of a bidistrict title.

So just put this piece of writing on your back Big Spring. Close your eyes and imagine. If you are a Steers fan, you'll feel that well-deserved pat.

33 years. The Chinese rulers of Formosa, polite and urbane, may be more benevolent than the military governors of Poland. But military rule is still government by decree.

In America, for example, a woman out of Harvard Law School can safely speak out on the issue of women's rights. She can even set down her views on paper without being hauled before a court martial.

Such a woman is Lu Hsiu-lien, a 37year-old alumna of Harvard Law School. But unfortunately, she published her women's rights tract, 'On New Feminism,'' in her native Formosa. The book was confiscated by soldiers.

Undeterred, she spoke at a human rights rally in Kao Hsuing in 1979. The rally erupted into violent protest. A few days later, Lu was arrested and charged with trying to subvert the government. She was found guilty of 'seditious intent" by a military court and sentenced to 12 years in prison.

WHAT MAKES LU'S case particularly poignant is that she is reported to be seriously ill. Several years ago, her malignant thyroid gland was surgically removed. But her friends say she has been experiencing symptoms that may be related to her old cancer.

Documents obtained by my associate Lucette Lagnado give a harrowing picture of Lu's physical torment. She is in almost constant pain; she has trouble breathing and feels a strangling sensation in her throat. Lately she has reportedly been vomiting blood, and her weight has increased alarmingly making her face and body puffy. When Lu suffers her attacks, usually at night, she cries out for help. But her jailers do not respond. Only her cellmate is there to offer solace in their unlighted cell.

The authorities finlly allowed Lu to be examined by a doctor on March 5.

symptoms had nothing to do with her old thyroid cancer. A month later, she was taken to a military clinic for tests. The results were negative, she was told. But she continues to suffer. American medical experts contacted by Amnesty International have not been able to examine Lu. They have suggested tentatively that the symptoms described may indicate a recurrence of her cancer. They advised Amnesty International that the woman may be in imminent danger, and should be given a thorough reexamination.

Even without being sick, prisoners lead grim lives in Taiwanese jails. The food is poor; closed-circuit television monitors Lu's every move; much of her mail is confiscated and visits are limited to 30 minutes a week from close relatives only.

Lu's plight has caught the attention of Rep. Steve Solarz, D-N.Y., chairman of the House subcommittee on Asian and Pacific affairs. Her case will be taken up at a subcommittee hearing today.

Argentines in America support homeland

money from members to pay the Interstate Blood Bank to collect and process blood from doners who specify they want the blood sent to Argentina during the Falklands crisis.

By JOHN-THOR DAHLBURG Associated Press Writer

MIAMI (AP) — They gather everything from guitars to blood for their countrymen on the front. They pass out thousands of leaflets and mimeographed sheets. They try to play on the cultural roots of Miami's Latin exile community to rally support.

Headquartered in a Miami abortion clinic, a determined group of Argentine-Americans fights a lonely battle for the Falkland Islands.

Sonia Fornoni and Pedro Caccamo, amid typewriters, bumper stickers and tiny paper flags, marshal the effort.

The enemy's caricature is on the wall - he's grizzled, peg-legged and brandishes a cutlass. The caption below him says: "Pirate."

"Are the English anything else?" asks Mrs. Fornoni, a 26-year-old housewife from San Carlos de Bariloche who came to Miami 21/2 years ago.

Along with several hundred of their estimated 6,000 compatriots in southern Florida, Mrs. Fornoni and Caccamo gathered in a Little Havana restaurant after the Royal Navy set sail for the South Atlantic, and formed "Ateneo Malvinas Argentinas," the Argentine Malvinas Society.

They say they love America, but their homeland must come first

"When it's a question of the Malvinas, we are all Argentines," says Caccamo, a 45-year-old wine importer from Buenos Aires.

Headquarters for the society is an empty suite of hospital rooms on the second floor of the Women's Care Center. The nerve center of the fledgling group is a stuffy sunroom whose windows overlook Miami's major artery, Biscavne Boulevard.

There, fortified with frequent demi-tasses of espresso, Mrs. Fornoni and Caccamo are joined by dozens of volunteers. A relief map of the "Republica Argentina" commands the white-walled room. The Malvinas - the Falkland Islands to English speakers - are colored chocolate, like the mainland.

Fighting the war for the Malvinas from Miami is a never-ending struggle, they say. The Argentines say they feel drowned in a sea of English speakers and Anglo-Saxon culture. They accuse the American press and television of telling only the British side of the story.

"First, we have to fight all the misinformation. We need to know the truth," says Mrs. Fornoni.

Volunteers telephone a collective of journalists in Buenos Aires daily. Then a war dispatch is typed out and circulated, or fresh news bruited about by word of mouth or telephone.

When the Argentine troops dug in at the Falklands; volunteers scoured attics and basements and went guitars shipped to the men on the front," says Mrs. Fornoni. Now, she says, Argentine troops will be able to sing serenades around the fire as the Southern Hemisphere's winter grows colder.

"It is necessary for us to keep up morale," says Caccamo.

For "la patria," the Argentines say they are ready to sacrifice time, money, even blood. A Miami blood bank has started accepting pints to be airlifted to Argentine soldiers and sailors wounded in action.

they get an earful. They sometimes ask just one more question: "How do you think it can be fixed?" Again, they receive concrete, specific answers.

The answers, very sound ones, says George Labovitz, consultant and professor, are printed up between expensive covers and presented to management, along with a bill for consulting services rendered.

Too often, says Labovitz, management blames workers for lagging productivity, when in fact the blame lies with them. Rather than invite workers to participate, he says, managment ignores and blames them.

George Labovitz, 42, professor of management at Boston University School of Management and president of Organizational Dynamics Inc., preaches participative management with a conviction based in results.

"Management has to let people into the process," he says. How ironic, he observes, that management detaches itself from the reality, seeks to make decisions in a vacuum and then blames the workers.

The general thrust of participatory management is that it is easier to lower the river than raise the bridge, says Labovitz. That is, it is easier in a recessionary environment to cut costs than to raise sales.

If an employee contributes an idea that save $1,000, he explains, that saving often goes right to the bottom line. But for a salesman to make a similar contribution might require a $10,000 improvement in sales.

Oddly, the estrangement of management from its own workers seems to have developed simultaneously with what is often considered to be modern, professional management. But Labovitz feels that participatory management has conclusively demonstrated its practical superiority.

In Japan, for example, where each worker is also considered his own critic.

In fact, he preaches, the best run American companies are very much like well run Japanese concerns. They are combat-like organizations pulling together for a common goal.

In such companies, he observes, management and workers participate together for the same goals. He sees "good management as experiential," rather than theoretical, "hands on" rather than abstract, in contact rather than distant.

Dr. Donohue Former resident Groin pain: wins pageant Traci Willie, Oklahoma two causes

Dear Dr. Donohue: I had terrible pain in the groin area. My physician said I had inflammation of the iliopsoas bursa — his very words, which he muttered as he sent me off with advice to rest it. He wasn't excited about it. I'm really not either now, since it is much better. I am still curious. What or where is the bursa he mentioned? - Mrs. G.N.

Bursae are tiny fluid-filled sacs that lie between tendons and muscles and the bones over which they must glide. Consider them biological ball bearings. When they become inflamed, that's bursitis, and the kind of bursitis reflects which bursa is inflamed.

The place where the iliopsoas muscle and its tendon oross over the pelvic and thigh bones has a bursa near the groin. Rest is important, and aspirin will reduce the inflammation. In the first few painful days, ice helps. After that, warm soaks are in order. Don't exercise strenously until the pain is gone. Pain means there is some inflammation remaining.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I have had adductor tendonitis. Rest, ice and aspirin did the trick. Is there no way to avoid this same groin problem in the future? - K.P.

This is another common cause of groin pain. The adductor muscles are on the upper part of the inner thigh. The treatment is as you describe.

I cannot guarantee you won't have recurrence, no matter what you do, but here's how you can make it less likely. Wait until all your pain is gone. Then you can try exercises to stretch the groin muscles generally. Sit with the soles of your feet together and tucked up as close to your body as you can get them, lean forward. Hold that position for 30 seconds at a time. Press gently against your knees outward - gently, and not to the point of pain, remember. Gradually build up the frequency, beginning with a few a day

Dear Dr. Donohue: I had a glucose tolerance test and have been diagnosed as having hypoglycemia. On my new diet, I am eating protein, fruits and vegetables. I eat six small feedings a day. I have been having fatigue, depression, pain and dizziness. I also have arthritis. Do you think this special diet will help my arthritis? Was there a connection between my low blood sugar and my arthritis? - S.S.

In spite of the impressive list of hypoglycemia (low blood sugar) symptoms, I know of no link between it and arthritis. I know I will get a flood of letters berating me for this position. I am willing to listen to any evidence that established a connection. In the meantime, I have to stand by my convictions, shared, incidentally, by some im-

DEAR ABBY: I am an older gentleman. After my beloved wife died, I married a lovely, refined widow my age. My grandchildren, ages 10 and 12, started to call her "Hazel," her given name.

Hazel feels that it is disrespectful for children to address an older person by her given name, and I agree, so I asked my daughter (the children's mother) to please instruct them to call my wife "Grandma Hazel." I thought a word from their mother would solve the problem. It didn't. My daughter informed me that she asked the children how they felt about it, and they told her they preferred to call her "Hazel," so they continued to do so.

I recently suggested rather pointedly that should this irritating situation continue, it would eventually have some rather unfavorable repercussions.

They have not as yet taken the hint. It is causing a strain on the family ties. What do you suggest? Should I just keep quiet, and quietly cut them all out of my will?

'Candle-moths' hard to control By CHARLES NEEB substantial relief. Indirect lighting door frames window sills on and DAVID FOSTER County Entomologist

Night-flying moths, primarily cutworm moths, often become a nuisance to homeowners in the spring in Howard County. This is especially true for homes located in rural areas or near populated areas. The moths are attracted to light and are sometimes referred to as "candlemoths."

Control of night-flying moths attracted to light is very difficult matter, and is not accomplished by following a simple set of rules. However, a number of steps can be taken and any one of the steps, alone or in combination with others, may provide relief under favorable conditions.

•Reduce the attraction of the site •Intercept the moths before they reach the site

•Exclude the moths from the house •Destroy the moths which gain entrance into the house

REDUCE ATTRACTION of house or building through proper light substantial relief. Indirect lighting should be used where practical so that the source of light is shielded from the areas from which the moths may come. Light fixtures inside buildings should be placed so that moths outside cannot see the lamp itself.

There is little evidence that any light is repellent to insects, but yellow is the least attractive to most insects. During periods of heavy moth flights, outside lighting should be maintained at a minimum level.

Interception of insects before they become a nuisance has some possibilities for success. Placement of insect light traps at least 100 feet away from house or building will aid on attraction and capture of moths.

Exclusion of insects from houses or buildings involves proper screening of windows and doors. Screens should fit tightly. Air vents and ventilating ducts also require screening.

SOME DEGREE of control can be obtained with sprays of household insecticides applied to places where the door frames, window sills, carports, porches and garages. Since the moths do not feed on anything where they are resting and they are protected by a heavy coating of scales, sprays will not provide any immediate or spectacular results. Ready-to-use household spray formulations of Diazinon and Baygon may be applied to resting sites and cracks and crevices where the moths may enter buildings. Follow instructions for "nuisance pest" control on applying the sprays. Adding a commercial wetting agent or a teaspoon of liquid detergent per gallon of mixed spray will increase the effectiveness of the spray

Destruction of moths inside the house or building is often accomplished best with the use of a vacuum cleaner. A household pyrethrin aerosol spray will provide control of moths inside a room.

Check the label on the insecticide container for instructions on dosage rates, on mixing and on applying the

Insect larvae died during takeover

CIUDAD JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) - Cotton farmers who were relieved students did not kill 15 million beneficial insect larvae held hostage for five days now face financial hardship because most of the tiny captives died anyway.

Farmers said the loss of the insects - which feed on the eggs of cotton-threatening boll weevils — would be expensive because more insecticides will now be needed.

Students demanding more money for their school threatened during a five-day siege of a laboratory last week to kill the insects unless the government agreed to negotiate. The protesters ended the takeover Saturday, but assistant lab director Martha Cortez said it was already too

Ms. Cortez said Tuesday the deaths were accidental, resulting from changes in temperature in the laboratory during the siege.

Area farmers had pleaded with the students to spare the lives of the insects, which are released at the beginning of the cotton season to control the pests.

Ms. Cortez said the farmers now would have to make at least two extra applications of insecticide on their cotton to make up for the loss. Neither she nor the farmers could produce an estimate of the costs.

The larvae require a temperature of 78 to 80 degrees and humidity of 60 to 70 percent to survive. Ms. Cortez said she returned to lab Saturday to find that 68-degree cold had killed all but about 2.6 million of the larvae.

Lab director Helidoro Luevano said the deaths of the insects were not the fault of the students, who he said treated the lab with respect and even cleaned the building while they held it.

Meanwhile, about 5,000 students and farmers continued the protest with a march in downtown Juarez Tuesday. But student leaders said they still had received no word on whether the government will negotiate.

The students freed Delgado later Saturday, saying he was being made a martyr.

Former Johnson aide files for bankruptcy

> By PHILLIP SWANN States News Service

WASHINGTON — Bobby G. Baker, a one-time powerful aide on Capitol Hill who was convicted of income tax invasion in one of the most celebrated influence-peddling scandals in the 1960s, has filed for a chapter seven bankruptcy in Montgomery County, Mich. citing debts of $384,955.

Baker, who served as top aide to then-Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, said in the bankruptcy papers that he has only $100 in cash and his only source of income is his yearly federal pension of $9,000. He also listed $95,000 in land holdings - a vacant commercial building lot in Ocean City and a 25 percent interest in 40 acres of farm land in Oakton, Md., and $3,000 in clothing and other unspecified personal possessions.

According to court records, Baker, who is acting as his own attorney in the case, has not been employed since 1980 when he was with Data Dynamics Industries, a computer software firm in Tampa, Fla.

Baker, who lives in Silver Spring, Md. could not be reached for comment.

The one-time self-proclaimed Capitol Hill wheelerdealer started as a congressional page boy and later became Secretary of the Senate. He came under invéstigation by the Senate in 1963 for gross abuse of office and conflict of interest

Baker was convicted in 1967 of income tax evasion, conspiracy and grand larceny. After several appeals, he entered the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa. in January 1971 to serve a 13 year sentence and was paroled in June 1972.

The federal government subsequently filed a civil lawsuit against Baker, seeking $188,000 allegedly collected in the influence peddling schemes. The case was settled for $40,000

The bankruptcy petition, which was filed in February, lists 18 creditors ranging from American Express to a Woodbridge, Va. plumbing firm.

Softball is the news this week

Two local softball tourneys are planned for the coming weeks here in Big Spring.

Leading off in the order is the First Annual Chicano Memorial Day Weekend Softball Tournament. Try saying that with a dip in your mouth.

The tourney will be played May 28-30 with entry deadline set at 6 p.m. May 26. Entry fee is $75 per team and the field is limited to the first 32 entries. First through fifth place teams received trophies, first through third get individual awards while an all-tournament team is to be chosen. Also a Golden Glove winner, Most Valuable Player and Sportsmanship Award.

Call Bill Bailey at Big Spring Athletics (267-1649) for more info. The next weekend, the First Annual Phunhaus Trippers ASA Class B Softball Tournament. Entry fee is $85 and limited to the first 30 teams. Trophies got first through fourth for teams, first and runner-up for individuals and a 10-player all-tourney team is planned. A MPV will also be announced.

Contact Bailey again or Steve Barker at 267-1407 after 5 p.m.

A note from the wire about softball .. The Austin Softball Association has banned the use of the new extra light softballs that have hit the market. These are the Dudley T-4000, the Worth Hot Dot and the DeBeer 300 Plus.

The ball is different because of a solid hard-rubber core rather than the old cork-and-string core. The ball jumps off the bat so fast that many players can't react in time to get a glove up. Not only have there been broken bones but a Birmingham, Ala., man was killed by one ... and he was just coaching third base.

Although Austin has put on the ban, Birmingham has not.

"So long as it's an official softball, we're going to let our teams play with it," said Walter Garrett, Birmingham executive.

Nice thinking guys.

Turning to a safer spot, trap shooter Kelly Rogers made it three great weekends in a row Saturday.

The Big Spring High junior won the Zone II Junior Singles Championship with a 196x200 performance in Odessa. He's now a member of the zone team which will compete in the state shoot in June in Amarillo.

This follows a High Overall Open Championship the week before in Stephenville. Next on his agenda is a shoot Memorial Day weekend in Amarillo.

Something a little more graceful is gymnastics, especially when the

Celtics silence Sixers

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics and Philadelphia 76ers usually fight furiously to Philadelphia Coach Billy the bitter end. Recently, the end has come long before the final buzzer.

Just 10 days after burying the 76ers by 40 points and only three days after being crushed by 25, the Celtics walloped Philadelphia by 29 Wednesday night to stay alive in the seesaw series of the National Basketball Association playoffs.

Boston's 114-85 romp slashed the 76ers' lead in the best-of-seven Eastern Conference final to 3-2. Game Six is Friday night in Philadelphia.

'This game was over in the latter part of the third period," said 76er guard Andrew Toney, who canned just six of 20 field goal attempts after hitting 14 of 21 in Sunday's 119-94 Philadelphia victory

Boston had 85 points through three periods, the same amount Philadelphia had in four.

On Sunday, the 76ers had 85 points after three quarters, just nine fewer than Boston had for the entire game. In the Celtics' 121-81 triumph that opened the series, they scored their 81st point with 4:39 left in the third period.

Why have the teams been taking turns routing each other?

"With two great teams like this, all it takes is one little letup in one area and you're going to capitalize," said Boston center Rick Robey. "Tonight we played defense and were able to capitalize. The last two games we didn't play well and they capitalized."

"It shows the capability of both clubs to make adjustments and come back after a low point," said Celtic M.L. Carr.

The nearly 21-point average margin of victory is particularly unusual for the 76ers and Celtics. In last season's Eastern Conference final, when the Celtics clawed back from a 3-1 deficit to eliminate the 76ers, three games were decided by two points and two others by one.

Boston has outscored Philadelphia by 34 points in the current series but still is just one loss away from being foiled in its attempt to successfully defend its NBA title.

"It's not like income averaging," Carr said. "You don't add up the points and the Philadelphia Coach Billy Cunningham agreed.

'The point spread doesn't mean anything. just a win," he said.

The Celtics got that Wednesday night with a rejuvenated team defense and by using the two days off to adjust their offense to the absence of playmaker Nate "Tiny" Archibald, who dislocated his shoulder in Saturday's third game.

Robert Parish's 15 points led Boston to a 33-22 lead after the first quarter, and the closest the 76ers came thereafter was nine points

Parish led all scorers with 26 points, and Larry Bird added 20 points and 20 rebounds for Boston. Toney had 18 points and Darryl Dawkins scored 14 for the 76ers

If a seventh game is necessary, it will be here Sunday afternoon. The winner of the series will face Los Angeles, which swept its two playoff series in four games each, for the NBA championship.

Boston, seeking to become the first team since the 1967-68 and 1968-69 Celtics to win back-to-back titles, was aggressive on defense, often forcing the 76ers into poor shots as the 24-second clock wound down.

'We double-teamed and pressured them and they became disorganized and confused," said Cedric Maxwell, who had 15 points and 12 rebounds for Boston.

The 76ers made only 15 percent of their field goal attempts in the second quarter, 29.5 percent in the first half, and 33.3 percent in the game

"They did an excellent job defensively," said Cunningham. "When you shoot 29 percent in the first half it's tough to beat anvone.

Gerald Henderson, who took over Archibald's floor leadership role in Saturday's and Sunday's losses, had 15 points and six assists Wednesday night in his best performance of the series.

'The two days off were very important for us," said Boston Coach Bill Fitch. "They allowed us to make adjustments to our game without Tiny.

Now it will be Philadelphia's turn to make adjustments and try to get the series swinging back in its direction.

The Big Spring YMCA Sidewinders competed in the Annual Class IV West Texas Gymnastics Association competition this past weekend with Kisa McEwen winning the all-around title in the 7-8-year-old divi-sion. She was first in both the beam and vault and third in the floor and parallel bars competition.

Kasarandra Keyes won the beam competition in the 9-11-year-old division and was second in the all-around. Another winner was Ginger Brooks in the 12-14-year-old division. She was second in the beam and bars for fourth place all-around finish.

Other participants were Caryan Kelley (7-8), Nikki Anderson and Kim Sanders (9-11), Cheri Wyrick and Sherrie Marlow (12-14) and Gina Johnson (9-11 31AA).

Steeler's quarterback says he'd join strike of the Pittsburgh Steelers says he will "lead the parade" across the picket line if the National Football League Players' Association calls a strike this season.

"I don't want to strike. I want them to settle it, and if they call camp tomorrow I'm going in," said Bradshaw, in town for the Steelers' annual quarterback school.

"Gene Upshaw (president of the association) would just have to write me a letter and tell me how disappointed he is,' Bradshaw added.

Bradshaw said he has read newspaper articles quoting other players who are definitely willing to strike to back demands for salary scales and a share of the gate.

"I'm happy with what I'm making," said Bradshaw, who reportedly makes in excess of $300,000 per year. "I'm under contract to play football, and I don't think it's right for them to force us to strike.

"I think people ought to be able to sit down and work things out," said Bradshaw, who

PITTSBURGH (AP) - Terry Bradshaw thinks the labor movement has "priced themselves out of jobs.'

> During the 1974 strike, Bradshaw initially honored the picket line. He later guit the strike and reported to camp.

"I originally stayed out just to be one of the boys," he said. "I didn't want to stay out at all.

But while Bradshaw was out, Joe Gilliam was off to a good start in the Steeler preseason camp.

"It got to a point where I was losing my job, and I had to shuck all those other ideas and get on in," he said.

He aid he would cross the picket line from the start this season.

'I think there will be a lot of people go in, and I'll lead the parade," he said.

If he were a betting man, would Bradshaw bet there was going to be a strike?

"Yes, if I were a betting man," he responded.

Rangers lose again in ninth

CHICAGO (AP) — Any doubt about the Chicago White Sox not having what it takes to win is disappearing quickly.

Or at least it ought to be, says Sox newcomer Tom Paciorek, who helped key his team's 6-5, come-from-behind victory Wednesday night over the beleaguered Texas Rangers.

"I think tonight's game tells you something about our ball club," said Paciorek, whose hitting helped the Sox overcome a 4-0 deficit. His fourth hit of the night kept a winning, ninthinning rally alive for the heroics of little used catcher Marv Foley.

"Nobody on this team panics when we get three or four runs down," Paciorek said. "And to play good aggressive baseball like we did tonight, well, that wins you a lot of games."

Aggressive baseball indeed. A 14-hit attack and some daring base running were key elements in the finale of a three-game sweep over the Rangers, sent packing with their 10th straight loss on the road.

Wednesday night's hero was Foley, who took advantage of some questionable Texas strategy and slapped a game-winning infield single.

With two outs in the bottom of the ninth, Greg Luzinski stroked his second bloop single of the night, and Paciorek followed with his fourth single. Then, with the left-handed hitting Foley at the plate, Texas Manager Don Zimmer chose to stay with his ace reliever, right-hander Danny Darwin, rather than go to the bullpen.

"Darwin is my ace in the bullpen. I never considered taking him out," Zimmer said. "It was his game to win or lose.

"I thought for sure that Texas would bring in a left-hander," Foley said. "I thought that Zimmer knew I hadn't played in a while. As it turned out, it was a pretty exciting at-bat. But then, any hit I get is a big hit.'

Foley's grounder up the middle was flagged down by second-baseman Doug Flynn. Jerry Hairston, pinch-running for Luzinski, had stopped at third, but when third-base coach Jim Leyland saw that Flynn couldn't recover, he waved Hairston home with the winning run.

Angels 7, Brewers 2

Kison, a 32-year-old right-hander and 10-year major league veteran, last pitched a complete game May 3, 1980. His last shutout was April 23 of that year.

Reggie Jackson backed Kison with a two-run homer, while Doug DeCinces hit a bases-empty shot and Brian Downing had a two-run single as California won its sixth game in a row and handed the Brewers their seventh setback in nine games.

Bruce Kison missed more than a year following surgery on the ulnar and medial nerves in his right elbow and wrist, so he isn't about to gripe because a little thing like a pulled back muscle cost him a chance for a complete game and a shutout.

"I could have gone out in the ninth and pitched, but it's no big deal," Kison said after blanking Milwaukee on five hits for eight innings Wednesday night in the California Angels' 7-2 victory over the Brewers.

Tigers 6, A's 3

Enos Cabell's single drove in the go-ahead run in Detroit's four-run sixth inning and the Tigers went on to their seventh consecutive triumph. Trailing 2-1, Lou Whitaker led off the sixth with a double and scored on Alan Trammell's single. Trammell went to third on Chet Lemon's single and scored on Cabell's single to put Detroit in front 3-2. Lemon and Cabell moved up on Kirk Gibson's grounder and scored on a single by Mike Ivie. Wayne Gross and Rickey Henderson homered for Oakland.

Red Sox 6, Mariners 5

Gary Allenson's double to deep center field following Dave Stapleton's two-out single drove home the winning run in the 12th inning against Bill Caudill. The Red Sox tied the game 5-5 with two out in the bottom of the ninth. Rick Miller walked, was sacrificed to second, took third on an infield out and scored on a single by Jim Rice. Al Cowens and Bobby Brown homered for Seattle, while Glenn Hoffman drove in three Boston runs with a homer and single.

Yankees 3, Royals 2

Tommy John, in his 100th start for New York, scattered seven hits in seven innings, John Mayberry and Graig Nettles delivered RBI singles and Willie Randolph squeezed Nettles home with what proved to be the winning run. John gave way to Rich Gossage to start the eighth and the Yankees' relief ace earned his ninth save. Paul Splittorff, who hasn't beaten the Yankees since July 1977, suffered his ninth consecutive loss to them.

Orioles 4, Twins 2

Benny Ayala, the first batter after an 81minute rain-delay in the second inning, rapped a three-run homer, his first of the season, off Pete Filson, who was making his second big league start. Sammy Stewart went eight inning for the Orioles, giving way to Tim Stoddard after a leadoff single in the ninth. Baltimore, which has a 17-3 edge over Minnesota since the start of the 1980 season, added another run in the third on Rich Dauer's double and Gary Roenicke's single.

Blue Jays 8, Indians 5

Rance Mulliniks and Dave Revering cracked RBI doubles to highlight a three-run eighthinning rally. Cleveland's Len Barker, who hurled a perfect game against Toronto just one year and four days earlier, took a 4-3 lead him home.

After a walk to Hosken Powell, Willie Upshaw singled home the go-ahead run. Revering's double provided an insurance run and Toronto padded its lead with two runs in the ninth on a walk, another RBI double by Mulliniks and a single by Barry Bonnell. Andre Thornton and Toby Harrah homered for the Indians.

Astros have a good Knight

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Houston Astros third baseman Ray Knight attributes his recent success to peace of mind.

He contributed two hits, two runs and an RBI as the Astros defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 5-3 Wednesday night

He also made his first major league start at first base as manager Bill Virdon loaded his lineup with righthand hitters against lefty Steve Carlton

Knight, who was acquired from Cincinnati last December, is on a 16-game hitting streak.

In the 16 games he's 24 for 63 In his last three games he has nine hits in 18 at bats He's also hit in 22 of 24 games, and had 11 two-hit games and four three hit contests.

"I'm seeing the ball well, and I'm aggressive," said the 29-year-old Knight. "I was under pressure in Cincinnati, replacing Pete Rose, and last year I had a divorce. Now I've got peace of mind. "I'm relaxed and the ball is falling in there." He said he didn't mind playing first base. "I'm a good athlete. I can play anywhere, third, short, second, the outfield. And I like the responsibility of hitting third," Knight noted. Knight, like the rest of the Astros, believes Houston finally has its act together and will be tough from here to the end of the season. Houston accomplished a few things it hadn't done in a long time. The Astros swept a threegame series from the Phillies for the first time since 1965.

National League

The Phillies tried to come back in the ninth when Diaz opened with a walk. But George Vukovich grounded into a doubleplay. Manny Trillo followed with a double, but Smith got pinchhitter Del Unser to fly out to end the game.

Padres 5, Cardinals 4

Catcher Gene Tenace's bases-loaded error with one out in the 10th inning allowed Alan Wiggins to score the winning run as San Diego from Rod Scurry and Kent Tekulve as Pittsburgh defeated San Francisco.

Robinson allowed four hits before both Scurry and Tekulve came on in the eighth. Tekulve finished up to post his fifth save as the Giants left 12 runners on base. Center fielder Omar Moreno provided important hitting and fielding support for Robinson, 4-0. Moreno hit his first homer of the season in the fifth when the Pirates scored twice. Then he made a diving catch with the bases loaded in the bottom of the fifth to snuff out a San Francisco threat.

Braves 9, Expos 1

Bob Horner went four-for-four and drove in three runs and Chris Chambliss knocked in two as Atlanta defeated Montreal. Ken Dayley, 1-1, making only his second major league start, ielded the Expos' run on Andre Dawson's homer in the fourth inning. Dayley pitched a three-hitter before getting relief help from Steve Bedrosian with two outs in the seventh The Braves oattered Montreal starter Ray Burris, 0-7, for seven runs through the first five innings, as the Expos lost for the 11th time in 15 games. "Too many guys can do too many things on this team for a player to get carried away and put too much on his back," said Horner. "There's no reason for a guy to say he has to hit 40 homers and drive in 150 runs.

Dave Stewart pitched five-hit ball for eight innings in his first major league start and Bill Russell hit his first home run since June 18, 1980 to lead Los Angeles over Chicago.

Stewart, subbing for injured Burt Hooton, brought an 0-2 record and a 9.00 earned run average as a reliever into the game. Stewart, whose longest previous stint was 31-3 innings last year against Cincinnati, struck out six and walked four, including two in the ninth when he was replaced by Steve Howe. Keith Moreland's single off Howe knocked in Chicago's run before Tom Niedenfuer came on to post his fourth save.

By GREG JAKLEWICZ Sports Editor

Name a ballplayer you'd like to have centrate more in a game if you're playing a hitting with men on base and your team behind late in the game.

Pete Rose? Mike Schmidt? Keith Hernandez?

When the situation arises for the Big Spring Steers, the man coach Frank Ibarra calls on to make the delivery is shortstop Blake Rosson.

For the season, Rosson knocked in 36 runs in 32 games from his No. 3 position in the batting order. He was even better in district when he collected 18 RBI's, 14 of those coming in seven second half games.

Tuesday against Denton, when he was officially 0-for-2 at the plate, Rosson still managed an RBI with a sacrifice fly that made the final score 6-0.

"I guess I just like that kind of pressure," the Big Spring senior responded. Many of the big basehits have come with one or two strikes on him but that hasn't seemed to matter

"I usually take a strike or so with runners on base. When there aren't runners on base, I may go with the first pitch," he said.

For the RBI's to happen, Rosson needs to have men on base. Lead-off batter Marcus Armendariz (.309 on the season) and James Walker (.337) provided the baserunners he needed.

Rosson has been playing baseball since he was old enough to swing a bat. He participated in the summer baseball joining the Big Spring junior varsity as a freshman. As a sophomore and junior, he filled the designated hitter's role and hit around .300. This year his average jumped all the way to .468. Why?

Benefit game

rescheduled

The benefit baseball game between the Big Spring Steers and Steer boosters has been rescheduled says chairman Al Valdez. The game was originally planned May 23 but has been moved back to June 20 because Big Spring is in volved in the state playoffs.

anything. Rosson attributes the team's successes to a turnaround after beating Midland High on the road. The win came when the Steers were only 10-8 and had just lost their district opener to Abilene High. In the AHS game, Rosson went hitless in three at-bats. Four days later, he ripped a single, double and triple against the Bulldogs and the Steers were on their way. 'There was a time when things looked kind of bleak," he admitted. "After we beat Midland, that's when they turned around. When we beat Cooper, that's when we thought we should win district.'

Now that the elusive district title is behind them, what does Rosson see for Friday's game(s) in Denton?

"It's going to be another pitcher's struggle," he answered. "I doubt we'll see six runs scored like Tuesday.

In addition to playing baseball for four years in high school Rosson, also played basketball for the Steers. As a senior, he earned honorable mention all-district honors as a guard. To that award he's added an all-district honor at shortstop and was named the District 5-AAAAA Most Valuable Player

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, MAY 21, 1982

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You can make rapid gains where personal duties are concerned early in the day. Later some changes could have adverse reactions. Take time to prepare for the future.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Handle public and career duties in the morning so that later you can engage in pleasant social activities. Be poised.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) New ideas can be of great benefit to you at this time. You can solve a problem that has caused much trouble in the past.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You are able to take care of personal duties early in the day. Admiration shown to good friends brings excellent results.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You can now meet expectations of a stern associate. Strive for increased harmony with co-workers. Help one in distress.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Try to improve on the quality of your work. Be more willing to make changes that will increase productivity. Think constructively.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Study your financial position and find a way to have greater abundance in the days ahead. Exercise great care in motion.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Handle family affairs early in the day and sidestep any arguments. Promises you have made can be handled tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Morning is best time to make and keep important appointments. Situations could arise that you had not counted on. Be alert.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Take care of money matters early in the day. Come to a fine meeting of minds with associates. Show that you have wisdom.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Decide exactly what you really want to accomplish and then make definite plans to gain your aims. Be more cheerful.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Find a way to solve an annoying problem. Steer clear of a higher-up who is not in a good mood right now. Be wise.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Be sure you don't jump into new interests at the expense of successful old ones. A monetary matter can be easily handled now.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will want to start making own way early in life. Send to the right schools that can prepare your progeny for success in the business world. Be sure to give ethical training early in life. Sports are important.

'The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., May 20, 1982 7-8 K-18 Holding company claims takeover of Gulf Resources

さくちちちゃう シンシン シンマン ちちちち ビビンビントレイス あちもも ややちももち

HOUSTON (AP) - Preliminary vote totals show a dozen dissident candidates will defeat a managementbacked slate running for positions on the board of directors of Gulf Resources and Chemical Corp., a lawyer for a Swiss holding company said.

Ken Bialkin, an attorney for Zopress Commercial, S.A., said the preliminary totals indicate the Swiss holding company will be successful in its bid to takeover the Houston-based natural resources firm.

He said the count showed the 12 candidates backed by Zopress garnered 54.96 percent of the vote, or 3,445,375 shares.

But a spokesman for Gulf Resources, which has gone to court to block the Zopress takeover, said his firm has been advised that "proxies representing a large number of shares have been set aside for review.

Gulf Resources spokesman Robert Bowman also said the preliminary tally released by Corporate Trust Systems, a third firm holding the ballots from the vote. showed that neither side carried a majority of outstanding shares

He said the management's candidates got support from 30 percent of the outstanding shares and Zopress support from 36 percent of the shares outstanding.

Final results are scheduled to be announced at a shareholders meeting Friday, said Bialkin.

Attorneys for Gulf Resources asked a federal judge Tuesday to either void the election or delay certification of the ballots until a hearing on the firm's lawsuit against Zopress and its owner, Alan Clore.

U.S. District Judge George Cire has not made a decision on the Gulf Resources request.

Zopress, headquartered in Geneva, Switzerland, is a holding company whose only business is to own shares of Gulf Resources stock.

The suit contends that Clore and other investors violated a Securities and Exchange Commission regulation by agreeing to buy Gulf Resources stock as a group, without reporting they were doing so.

Clore, who spent $27.3 million to purchase 15.4 percent of Gulf Resources common stock, put up his own slate of candidates for the board of directors against the company management's slate.

"If there is no group, there is no case and there is no group," said Louis A. Craco, an attorney representing Clore said Tuesday

El Paso jailer charged with rights violations

EL PASO, Texas (AP) - El Paso County jailer Roberto Blanco, accused of homosexual contact with an inmate, has been charged with violating the civil rights of a prisoner.

Assistant District Attorney Bill Moody said the indictment was opened Wednesday after Blanco surrendered topolice and was released on $5,500 bail.

Misdemeanor indictments of official misconduct also were filed against Blanco and jailer Guillermo Caballero, Moody said.

Caballero was not in custody late Wednesday. Moody said other indictments would be unsealed when Caballero was arrested.

The two jailers were among nine detention officers.

due in College station

The Howard County 4-H Livestock Judging Team will represent the District 6 (Far West) region of Texas at the annual Texas 4-H contests in College Station at Texas A&M University June 8-10. The team qualified for the honor by becoming the champion team at the annual district contests held recently in Stanton.

Team members are Cole Hunt, Jamie Phillips, Gregg Miller and Blair Richardson. In addition to being the top over-all team, in individual competition the members dominated the top 10 positions by having first, second, fourth and high individuals. Winning these awards were Hunt, Phillips, Miller, and Richardson respectively.

The junior team of Kneel Stallings, Jimmy Miller, Lance Robinson and Vance Christie placed sixth in the event

In other judging events held recently in Alpine the Senior 4-H Horse Judging team of Renee Blackwell, Teresa Smith and Brandon Luce placed sixth at the district contests and in individual judging. Wade Carper was third high point individual in junior judging with Jason Murphy also a participant in that division.

Levinson and Link, masters of TV murder mystery, have new endeavor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Television's most successful architect of mystery is the firm of Levinson and Link.

Richard Levinson and William Link have turned out many an elegant blueprint for murder. Lt. Columbo, in that rumpled raincoat and dribbling cigar ashes, plodded through their hallowed halls laying the finger on wealthy culprits. They also wrote the pilots for such shows as 'McCloud,'' ''Mannix,'' ''Tenafly'' and ''Ellery Queen.''

"There hasn't been a good mystery show in years," says Levinson. "Ellery Queen' was the last mystery show. That is, a classic mystery of whodunit, with a set of suspects and an unknown murderer.

"Ten years ago you had more mystery police shows. Now you have 'Strike Force.' The question is, have they given us the same kind of memorable characters like a Columbo or a Kojak? To my mind 'Hill Street Blues' has had the most impact of any new series in recent years and it nearly went off the air.

"While mysteries flourish on Broadway and on the bestseller lists, you don't have any on television. I think one reason is that they're extremely hard to do well. You can

Dyan Cannon reshapes her life and image

NEW YORK (AP) — People magazine once said that the film, "The Last of Sheila," could have been the last of Dyan Cannon, who starred in it.

Following the release of the film in 1973, the actress took to her bed for a month, upset that the script and movie different. Then she literally dropp spend a year or so writing a book or a Broadway play, but you don't have much time for television. I think also the younger writers don't have the tradition or the background in the mystery form."

But, take heart, mystery fans, for the latest endeavor by the writer-producer team, "Rehearsal for Murder," is due Tuesday, May 25, on CBS. Robert Preston stars as a playwright who stages an impromptu play to unravel the mysterious death of his fiance, an actress played by Lynn Redgrave.

Levinson and Link, who have been partners since high school in Philadelphia, are found in a darkened room looking at scenes from the movie during a dubbing session. The film is run again and again as they fine-tune the sound effects. Link tells the sound engineer the automobiles in the background traffic noise are going too fast. "This is supposed to be New York's theater district," says Link. "You can't have speeding cars. And add some horns and put in a siren.

They are unhappy that CBS changed their original title, "Cold Reading." Levinson says,

'Flickers' a real masterpiece

NEW YORK (AP) - PBS' comedy "Flickers," an affectionately bawdy look at the British film industry before talkies, doesn't have a laugh track. So, without that incessant elbow in the ribs, how are we to know when to laugh?

Theater," whenever anybody says anything, it'll probably be funny.

Belly laughs are back, and it's been a long time since television could rouse us from the doldrums. But "Flickers" does it with cutting comedy that is both perceptive and rollicking fun.

As soon as the honky-tonk piano introduces the credits, the bad memories of the past three months of programming begin to fade. After the second-rate "Nelson" and "Love in a Cold Climate," "Flickers" will put "Masterpiece Theater" back on a pedestal.

The opening sequence immediately sets the tone. A silent movie shows a train cascading into the water. But, before you begin deciphering the device behind this cinematic stunt, the train is seen chugging along inside what looks remarkably like a goldfish bowl.

four years

But like the legendary Phoenix, Miss Cannon has risen from the ashes of an ailing career, soaring with a new image and a new future.

"I just feel like my life has just begun," she says. "I feel like I'm just touching the surface. And more important than a career was understanding peace and maintaining

The 43-year-old Miss Cannon spent those four years when she was out of the Hollywood scene discovering and exploring her own peace of mind. The experience has been a good one, she says. Dyan Cannon has discovered Dyan Cannon and she likes what she sees Unlike Myra Bruhl, the skittery hysteric she plays in her current film, "Deathtrap," Miss Cannon is relaxed as she talks about her new image and reshaped career. She doesn't spit out her words in machine gun rapid fire. Instead, they seep out slowly and languidly, like sand slipping through fingers.

'In order to understand the now in my life, I had to understand the then," she says. "I'm not sure if everyone has to. I don't like to feel bad in order to feel good. I don't think that's necessary.

Exploring "the then" showed Miss Cannon that her image in film was that of a scatterbrained floosie. Up until then, she had played in "The Rise and Fall of Legs Diamond," "Doctors' Wives," "The Love Machine," "The Anderson Tapes," "Shamus" and "Bob and Carol and Ted and Alice," for which she received an Academy Award nomination for her role of Alice.

"I withdrew from the Hollywood scene because I was devastated with the way the work was coming out," she said. "I didn't like the way women were treated

"I'm a total workaholic," she says. "I like to keep my instrument in tune. I don't have to work to be happy, but I enjoy it. I enjoy it much more than going to parties. I know a balance is important, but I'm just being honest about

Miss Cannon packed herself off to the Women's Directing Workshop of the American Film Institute during her four-year hiatus. What emerged in 1976 was a poignant short feature on adolescent sexuality, "Number One." It was nominated for an Academy Award.

"Had I not stopped and listened to that voice, I could not have written or did 'Number One,''' she said

In preparing for the beginning of an auto mechanics class this fall, trustees approved a request for eight hand-tool kits to be purchased from Sears and Roebuck for $1,493.90.

In a major expenditure, the trustees voted to buy 13 micro-computers to expand the district's computer course offerings to the SWCID campus. Hays said the computer courses had been a success at Howard College and he hopes the program will enjoy continued success at SWCID.

The micro-computers will be purchased from Mutex-Radio Shack. Mutex was the low bidder at $35,771.27. Hays said the computers will resemble the TRS Radio Shack brand now in the use at Howard College

To fully equip a dental hygiene lab for a new dental program to be started this fall, the board okayed a $66,364.73 bid from Patterson Dental in Lubbock

The unemployment rate in Big Spring climbed two-tenths of a percent in March, as preliminary figures released from the Texas Employment Commission showed the city's jobless rate at 5.5 percent.

Gerald Damm, office manager for the local TEC, said Big Spring's work force grew from 15,810 in February to 16,014 in March - an increase of over 200 people.

Damm said the labor force fluctuation probably contributed to the slight increase in unemployment. At the present time, approximately 878 people actively seeking work are out of a job, according to Damm.

Rubio's menu starves Bronco

Sports Editor

When a restaurant is known for its elegant atmosphere, richly-prepared dishes and the best of service, its patrons are sure to enjoy a memorable night on the town.

When a ballpark is packed to its last splinter with fans, the weather conditions perfect and Moe Rubio is pitching, followers of the Big Spring Steers are sure to see a great baseball game.

Such was the tablesetting Tuesday afternoon at the Big Spring High diamond as Rubio fired a five-star pitching performance and James Walker knocked in three runs to lead the Steers to a 6-0 whitewash of the Denton Broncos.

The victory in the opening game of the Class AAAAA bidistrict series gives the Steers a hefty advantage when the series resumes Friday in Denton. Big Spring needs just one victory in two games to win the best-of-three series and advance a step further in the state playoffs.

Junior Adam Rodriquez, 8-3, will go against senior Mark Cole, 6-0, in the 2 p.m. game. Should the Broncos win, a second game will follow immediately. Coaches, Frank Ibarra of Big Spring and Tommy Blair of Denton will probably look to Tuesday's pitchers for as many innings as possible in the second game if necessary

Rubio can be compared to a master chef after the tempting menu of fastballs, curves and drop pitches he served the Broncos Tuesday. Not relying on a steady diet of fasties, he tempted Denton time and again with his curve but left the Bronco batters hungry after each third strike.

Not a strikeout pitcher, Rubio recorded 10 whiffs with his control. He walked just three - two of those in the seventh inning when his back went tight - and gave up two singles to left. The shutout was his second straight and gives the senior 20 consecutive innings of scoreless baseball.

"Shoot, I don't know what to say," Rubio forced out after the game. "I guess we have the confidence even more now. Now we want to do it and go all the way.' Rubio was in trouble in just two innings, the last time in the seventh when he walked two batters with one out. After a brief conference with Ibarra, he snuffed any rally hopes with strikeouts of pinch hitter Drew Harris and esignated hitter Tony Cunningham.

"My back started getting tight," Rubio explained about his late wildness. "I just realized I had to come through. Coach told me I wasn't bending my back. I really wasn't tired but just tightened up.'

Rubio agreed that it was his secret recipe of pitches that made the meal Tuesday.

"I started out with the fastball and then gave them the curve once in awhile," he said. "I just mixed them up." Todd Carlisle connected on a lead-off single in the third but Rubio fanned Cunningham and Jim Iliff to end the threat. In the fifth, Mark Cole touched him for another lead-off single with Carlisle drew a walk, with none out. Denny Watts went down on strikes, Cunningham hit into a fielder's choice and Iliff bounced to Blake Rosson at short to preserve the shutout bid. While Rubio was cooking on the mound, Big Spring batters were making things hot in the kitchen for Bronep ace Kevin Hooper. Hooper had little trouble with the Steers' top three hitters - Rosson, Olague and Cudd - but was eaten up by previously light hitting Alan Trevino and Oscar Limon Trevino, who batted just .080 in district, got the Steers going in the second inning when munched a curve from Hooper and ripped it down the left field line to score David Anguiano. In the fourth, Trevino and Limon followed a one out walk to Marty Rodriquez with singles to load the bases.

Marcus Armendariz bunted into a force at home built Walker smacked a line single to right to score two runs. With Hooper already shaken, Walker did a dance number at first base hoping to get the pitcher's attention. He was successful and Hooper uncorked a wild pick off throw that allowed Armendariz to score the fourth Big Spring run.

Limon led off the sixth with his second hit, stole second and scored with one out when Walker hit a misdirection triple to left.

Mrs. Doris Guy presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Finis Tibbs was installed as treasurer for the coming year.

There will be a luncheon and book review sponsored by the council sometime in September or October.

Are you ready for the church picnic?

Summertime is just Shredded cheese (Cheddar around the corner and so are or Monterey Jack) those church picnics, pot lucks, friendly get-togethers and family reunions. A variety of food for the occasion is always nice and many people like to try everything.

The barbecue spare ribs are made without the usual tomato base and can be cooked indoors or outdoors and reheated in a microwave. Several recipes below are native to our southwestern region. The new dishes you prepare may be the talk of the party.

City seeks bids on envelope ads

By BILL ELDER City Editor

The city of Big Spring may be getting into the advertising business. At its meeting last week, the city council decided to seek bids on the purchase of advertising space on the backs of water bill envelopes.

Yesterday, City Manager Don Davis reminded businesses they have the opportunity to buy space on the envelopes - although, he pointed out, the ad ertising plan itself has not been approved by the council.

City officials hope to draw in enough revenue from the sale of ad space on the return envelopes to meet the cost of having the bills prepared and mailed. The city of Midland, which reportedly has been using a similar program, even garnered a profit from its ad sales, Davis told the council.

The council, on the other hand, is exploring water bill envelopes which don't carry advertising as well as those that do. Post-card water bills also are being looked at. Councilmembers expect at a meeting in the near future to take a look at the cost involved in each of the three methods. Davis, who said yesterday he wants to make sure local businesses "get wind" of the advertising proposal, said the deadline for bidding on the space is June 1 at 10 a.m.

Also in a meeting with reporters yesterday, Davis announced that the tennis courts at Dora Roberts Community Center are open under new hours. The hours are 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and 1 to 60 p.m. Sunday. The courts will remain closed on Mondays

Davis also pointed out that the cityowned courts are under new management and a key system is being enforced. Members of the tennis center must present their membership card in order to get a key to unlock the courts, he said, while nonmembers must pay a fee in order to get a key

In another matter, Davis said he and Airpark Manager Hal Boyd would be traveling to Albuquerque today with an official from Oilfield Industrial Lines. The trio will meet with officials from the regional office of the Federal Aviation Administration to discuss a request made to the city by O.I.L. O.I.L. wants to expand its space rented at the city industrial park by incorporating acreage currently used as apron space for planes in front of an airport hangar. O.I.L. already has moved its manufacturing operations into the southern third of the apron; the proposal involves FAA approval to turn more apron space over to industrial use while the adjacent hangar is still used for aviation purposes.

"FAA said that they don't care if industrial uses occupy some of the area as long as it doesn't interfere with aeronautical operations," Davis said, adding he felt the FAA would approve the O.I.L. request. The city currently is building new hangars on the western side of the runways and when the project is completed O.I.L. will use the old eastside hangars for industrial purposes.

Davis said the city also will seek FAA permission to close a taxiway. Taxiway 4 was closed when O.I.L. took over the southern third of the apron; Taxiway 3 connects with the apron space O.I.L. is asking for now and also would be closed.

In personnel matters, Davis said he was setting a deadline this week on applications for the job of police chief. He said 30 persons have applied for the job which Elwood Hoherz resigned from several weeks ago.

Meanwhile, the city is verging on a decision concerning a new city attorney. Davis said an applicant for the job vacated by Elliott Mitchell late last year would be in town next week to review housing prospects and conduct further negotiations with the city manager.

Home for scouts sought

A number of institutional leaders and representatives will learn Thursday at 7 p.m. how they might make use of a scouting unit to serve youth.

A "Together Dinner," sponsored by Cosden Oil and Chemical Co., will be held at Garrett Hall of First United Methodist Church. Ron Medley is general chairman, assisted by Hood Barnwell. Ben Johnson Jr., district chairman for the organization, will be in charge.

'We have made an effort to contact numerous institutions which might provide a home for a cub pack, a scout troop or Explorer post," he said, but we may have missed some organization which would like to hear about what scouting has to offer. If so, please call me or Hood Barnwell at Cosden so we can make a place for you."

Horsemen plan show

Former Big Springer's

spouse honored by

mayor of San Angelo

SAN ANGELO - Dwight C. Holmes, husband of a former Big Spring resident, was honored at city hall recently when Mayor Tom Parrett proclaimed Dwight Holmes Week, Feb. 7-13.

The 81-year-old artist, whose works are featured in many public buildings throughout the state, is married to the former Lora Farnsworth, who lived in Big Spring in the 1940s

According to the mayor's proclamation, Holmes "has developed ornamental work for university buildings, county courthouses, libraries, churches, and many other public buildings. Among these in San Angelo are the City Hall and the Tom Green County Courthouse."

The proclamation also says Holmes is "a gifted painter and restorer" and "has received numerous national honors and awards, exhibiting from coast to coast, and especially in the Southwest. He has worked with some of the finest artists in the region and is mentioned in several histories of Texas artists.

Journal

I would like to start this week's Mall Street Journal by saying goodbye to two of the best carpenters in Howard County, David Harris and Randy Bowling. David and Randy along with Larry Fitch were responsible for most of the construction on the Big Spring Mall, but all good jobs must come to a end. If there is any one around that needs two good carpenters Randy and David are the ones. On Saturday May the 29th the Big Spring Mall will be sponsoring a old fashioned Church Bazaar. The Bazaar will be held in doors here at the Big Spring Mall and everyone is invited. I hope that all the churches that can possibly attend will do so. The entry rules are simple sell what ever you want with the exception of anything that the mall merchants are already selling, for example no carmel apples, popcorn, candy, fudge, shoes, clothes, kitchen ware, ect. This does not however rule out pies, cakes, cookies, arts and crafts, and other fine handmade items. All the churches or their organizations need to be here Saturday morning the 29th with their tables and chairs and find a place to set up business. This weekend at the Big Spring Mall registration for Girl Scout Day Camp will be held. The Big Spring YMCA Soccer Assoc. will also hold registration for its fall league which begins September 11th. At the registration there will be a film on soccer starring the most famous soccer star of all time Pele. This film was produced by the fine people at Pepsi Cola. The man in charge of this event is Don Fisher who is also the manager of JC Penneys. Don tells me that the kids do not have to be members of the YM-CA in order to play in the league. Don went on to say that this year the Soccer Association will be using fully coordinated uniforms. I think it says a lot about Don Fisher as a individual being a relative newcomer to Big Spring to be so involved in such a worthwhile endeaver.

At Aladdin's Castle May the 24th will mark the start of the Tron video game play off. Manager Bill Fonda tells me that there will be four weeks of competition with three winners a week earning $10.00 in tokens for first place, $5.00 for second and $2.50 for third. On June 19th the store champ will be decided in a play off with the winner receiving $25.00 in tokens and the chance to advance to district competition. There are also prizes for second and third and fourth place. If the representative from the Big Spring Mall does well at district HE OR SHE WILL then advance to regional where the prizes are even bigger. After regional comes the national tournament in New York City. There the big winner will receive a commador home computer. a actual Tron Video game, and $5.00 worth of tokens a week for the period of one year. Let me remind everyone that the Big Spring Mall will be open on Memorial Day, May the 31. I would also like to urge everyone to go out and support the Big Spring Steers Baseball team having attended Big Spring High and having suffered the verbial abuse from the other cities in the district it really feels good to be on top, thanks men
