Five people hospitalized after Midland plane crash

MIDLAND (AP) — Five people remained hospitalized Saturday with serious burns suffered when a plane ferrying two prisoners to Louisiana clipped an apartment building and crashed into a parking lot, authorities said.

Twelve apartments were destroyed and seven vehicles were burned after the plane exploded Friday, sending burning aviation fuel in all directions, witnesses said.

The National Transportation Safety Board, conducting an investigation into the crash Saturday, said it may be six weeks to four months before the cause of the accident is known.

The plane's pilot told doctors that his port engine failed on takeoff, an NTSB spokesman, who was not identified, said.

The investigator, trying to determine if there were similarities to an earlier crash here in which a prop plane was accidentally loaded with jet fuel, said fuel samples taken from the latest accident were of the correct type.

The airplane was attempting to return to Midland Air Park, where it had taken off moments before, when

Rabid skunks causing concern

By CAROL DANIEL
Staff Writer

West Texas has always had more than its share of skunks, but this year it seems they're raising more of a stink than usual.

Six cases of rabies in the Big Spring area have been reported this year, five of them eight miles south of town in the Tubbs Addition and one in Forsan, said Jim Johnson, State Zoonosis Investigator for Public Health Regions 2 and 12.

Also, a number of skunks sighted within the city itself — seeking food and water — have several citizens concerned. However, no rabies cases have been reported within city limits.

Johnson classified the six cases as "an outbreak," not an epidemic, because rabid animals, especially skunks, are "an ongoing thing, year after year" in ranch country along the Caprock.

"We've treated more rabies cases in the last three months in the Tubbs Addition than we have in our last 12 years of practice," said Mary Lawdermilk, assistant to local veterinarian Dr. Bobby Lawdermilk.

Probably the worst of the six cases occurred in June when a skunk attacked four-year-old Gene Reed of the Tubbs Addition. His mother, Vickie Reed, said the boy was bitten when he crawled under their mobile home to help his father erect skirting around the trailer.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed checked under the trailer with a flashlight, but couldn't see the skunk bedded somewhere underneath. The skunk bit Gene "eight or nine times" on his shoulder, back, stomach, wrist and hand before they were able to kill it.

The state laboratory confirmed the skunk was rabid and Gene and his parents received a series of vaccinations for rabies. None of them contracted the disease.

"The worst part about this is that you know you can't leave your kids alone," Mrs. Reed said. "If you live in the country its just too dangerous with the rabies and rattlesnakes."

Big Spring is "a problem area," Johnson said. "I don't know if it's because people submit more animals or if it's a bad rabies problem. It's an outbreak. It's definitely down there. But as far as it being a problem, as compared to years past, it's really not unusual."

However, Johnson said there is reason for concern. "We are concerned because of the high prevalence of it out there and about dogs and cats not being vaccinated."

"I don't know what steps the county will take with the

What to do if bitten

County Health Officer Dr. Gordon Ray Golden suggests the following procedure if you're bitten by a suspicious animal:

1. Call the police to catch the animal and take it to a veterinarian for observation. If the animal is dead, pack it in ice and take it to the vet anyway, even after several days. The only way to determine if rabies is present is to test the animal's brain.

2. Go to your doctor to have the wound cleaned and for a tetanus shot. If the animal turns out to be rabid, the doctor will give you a prescription for human diploid cell vaccine (HDCV) — an inactivated rabies virus grown in a human cell — to be given in a series of five doses — and for human rabies immune globulin (HRIG) — an strong antibody given one time.

3. Take the prescription to the Howard County Health Unit. They will provide you with necessary papers to be taken to the Midland County Health Unit to obtain the serum. Your doctor will give the vaccinations.

4. Keep your animals vaccinated.

Zoonosis diseases — such as rabies — are transmitted from warm-blooded, usually meat-eating animals to humans. Skunks, bobcats, raccoons, bats and foxes are the most prevalent rabies carriers in this area.

Cold-blooded animals such as snakes do not contract rabies. Rats, mice, guinea pigs, hamsters and horses carry it only rarely.

A rabid animal will reverse in personality, the aggressive becoming meek and the gentle becoming aggressive. Other symptoms include foaming at the mouth and chewing fits.

Unusual behavior such as an unprovoked attack or a skunk walking openly in the daylight, seeming friendly or unafraid, may be a sign of rabies. All symptoms will not be displayed in a single animal.

Rabies is contracted only if the virus enters the blood stream through an opening in the skin, usually a bite. Swallowing a rabid animal's secretions will not cause one to contract the disease.

How harmful a bite from a rabid animal is depends on the severity of the bite, its location (the closer to the brain, the worse the prognosis) and how soon it is treated.

Steer Show tops off Fair

By CLIFF COAN
Staff Writer

It finally begins to pay off — all the long hours of grooming, washing, blow-drying; all the special diets, the exercise, the brushing and combing; all those hours of tedious spent learning to walk correctly, to stand just so in order to show off the best aspects of the body.

Saturday, it began to pay off for those managers of every detail who entered their impeccably groomed wards in the contest.

This was no ordinary beauty contest, however, and these were no ordinary contestants. The contest was the ninth edition of the Howard County Fair Prospect Steer Show and the contestants, naturally enough, were steers.

Prospect shows serve as a sort of warm-up for the major shows held across the state during the spring, weeding out the non-competitors and giving the owners a chance to recoup some of their expenses. A steer which wins a prospect show may not win a major, but by winning a prospect show, he puts some cash back into his owner's pocket.

Although the criteria for judging steers and beauty queens differ, the goal was more or less the same — to pick the specimen which best conforms to an ideal.

Saturday, judge Jerry Arthur walked between two rows of some of the best steers in West Texas for several minutes, hesitating between a Chianina belonging to Sam Scott of Rising Star, Angela Stewman's Limousin and Jeremy Myer's Maine-

Anjou. It was a hard choice — all were excellent examples of their breeds.

After an all-angles look at the steers, Arthur backed to the center of the dirt-filled, crowded ring and paused.

Then, as the arena erupted in applause, he walked quickly to Scott's Simmental and slapped the animal on his broad rump, signifying he was grand champion of the prospect show.

After Rickie Vogel's reserve champion Chianina was brought in to take his place in the judging for reserve (replacing Scott's steer in the competition), Arthur repeated his dramatic performance.

This time, pretty Angela Stewman's face broke into a happy smile as Arthur slapped her animal, giving him the title of reserve champion.

"My grand (champion) was an easier choice than the reserve," Arthur said later. "There were three or four that were real strong for reserve."

Arthur, the vice president of a Chickasha, Okla. bank, a cattle raiser and a former vocational agriculture teacher, said he looks for three basic qualities when he makes his selections — "heavy muscling, structurally correct and a lot of eye appeal."

Scott, a 16-year old member of the Scott family of Rising Star (famous for their many wins at major shows) said he "really didn't know" if Arthur would pick his animal.

He'd "spent a lot of time" preparing the Chianina for shows — "about all of my spare time." He plans to take the animal to "a few more summer or fall shows — then we'll have to wait and see (which major shows he will enter)."

Likewise, Angela said she was not at all sure the judge would select her entry. She had been working with the Limousin "all summer" in "all my spare time and more," she said. "It takes all day long and more — half the night, sometimes. But it's worth it."

Sam went home $500 as her share of the prize money.

Steer show co-chairman Howard Armstrong said he was pleased with this year's entries.

"We've got 135 entries," he said, "that's the most of any show in Howard County, ever. And they're all good animals — we don't have any

Herald staff captures 10 Harte-Hanks awards

The Big Spring Herald won 10 awards — more than any other newspaper in its class — in the Harte-Hanks Writing Contest, it was revealed this week.

Award winners were:

• Bill Elder, who won first place in investigative series, second place in news feature, and honorable mention in general column competition.

• Greg Jaklewicz, first place in sports news.

• Bob Carpenter, honorable mention for business writing.

• Richard Horn, honorable mention for headline writing.

• Tina Miller, honorable mention for feature writing.

• Linda Adams, three honorable mentions for feature writing, editorial writing, and general column writing.

The Herald led its class in the number of awards received, followed by the Star-News of Chula Vista, Calif., which won seven awards. Seventeen other Harte-Hanks newspapers also won awards in the Judges study county's pets

By MIKE DOWNEY

Noah would have felt right at home at the Howard County Fair Pet Show Friday night.

The old gentleman would have seen two — maybe just one — of several animals with which he shared the ark. The entrants included lizards, iguanas, goats, chickens, horned toads, rabbits, dogs, cats ... and a turtle and a lamb.

Not only was the animal kingdom well-represented, but the humans turned out also for the pet show. Fair Association President Paul Hopper called the crowd the largest for any show as an estimated 325 persons crowded into the fair barn.

The bleachers were filled with spectators and competitors. Anxious parents sat next to their children who sometimes fought to keep their pets from trampling the people next to them. Panting dogs and serene cats occupied seats between laughing junior-high kids, entire families and curious adults.

The exhibitors were predominantly young, from two to perhaps 12 or 14 years old. For many spectators, the children were the best part of the show. Sights like a three-year-old struggling to maintain his grip on a wriggling dog or a pig-tailed girl happily clutching a kitten in a dress elicited many giggles and pointing fingers.

All of the winners received applause from the appreciative crowd — all were winners since no one went away without a ribbon.

The judges swiftly made wise decisions in the chicken, lizard, horned toad and turtle classes. They had little problem selecting winners in the classes with only one entrant. The choices became tougher with the rabbit classes. The winner took first place only by a hare.

Information sought on Pinkie's robbery

Crime Stoppers and Pinkie's Liquor Store are offering a $2,000 reward for information leading to an indictment and conviction in a burglary that occurred at Pinkie's Liquor Store on North U.S. 87 at night on Sept. 6, 1982.

According to the Howard County sheriff's office, a person or persons took money and checks from the store safe. The safe door was removed by breaking the door hinges. The door was taken from the premises and has not been located. Crime Stoppers is offering the $1,000 for information resulting in an indictment. Pinkie's will contribute another $1,000 if the information leads to a conviction. Anyone having information on this crime or any other crime should contact the sheriff's office at 263-7654 or Crime Stoppers at 263-1151. Pinkie's Security can be contacted on this crime also at 915-337-6622.

The best-dressed dog and cat classes drew much audience laughter as a kitten and a puppy took home blue ribbons against little competition in their respective divisions.

The crowd also laughed appreciatively when the largest dog entrants rumbled into the show arena. A resplendent black Chow resembling a small lion sent judges aback saying "That's good right there." A German Shepherd clone of Rin-Tin-Tin completed the large dog class. Incidentally, the Chow won.

Judging went smoothly through 20 classes until the final competition when all the first-place winners gathered in the ring for the Best of Show. Tension was high and the pressure was on, but the judges came through with a winner.

Skunks

problem. Hopefully they'll release information through media or education programs, follow it up in that way," Johnson said.

Johnson said the Howard County Health Unit was notified of the rabies cases, but when contacted, a health unit spokesman told the Herald that no information could be released until Acting Director Dr. J.M. Woodall returns from vacation on Monday.

"Public awareness" of the need to vaccinate dogs and cats is the only means of fighting the outbreak, Johnson said. Because the disease is transmitted by wild animals, it is impossible to eliminate, but it is preventable in humans and family pets through vaccination, Johnson said.

Public Works Director Tom Decell said a city ordinance requires all dogs over three-months-old to be vaccinated against rabies. However, there is no such ordinance for cats, Decell said.

Cats are probably more susceptible to contact with rabid skunks than dogs because they're habits cause them to compete in the same environment within the city, Mrs. Lawdermilk said.

Decell said its unlawful to discharge a firearm within city limits and unwise to leave poison in the open, so "you're best bet is to let them (skunks) alone and hopefully go away."

"It's dry, they're looking for water ... If we cleaned out the wilderness area where they're coming from, it would cause a heavy amount of erosion. My policy is to let him have the area and let him go his way," Decell said.

The most recent case of rabies was discovered Sept. 18 in the Tubbs Addition when two Doberman Pinschers killed a rabid skunk. The dogs, who belong to Don and Lana Brewer had been vaccinated in April when one of their puppies contracted rabies. Mr. and Mrs. Brewer, their two children and a houseguest also were vaccinated. The five puppies were destroyed because they could not be vaccinated until three-months-old.

"The shots cost us $1,600, just for the medicine ... and we lost a $400 puppy," Mrs. Brewer said. "That doesn't include the doctor bills."

Another couple, George and Judy West of the Tubbs Addition, found a rabid skunk on their back porch. "We woke up about four in the morning with an odor so terrible you couldn't breathe," Mrs. West said. "We found a skunk on the back porch ... It would stand up and scratch on the glass door. It wasn't afraid at all. We had a dog out there and it wasn't afraid of it. If they're not afraid, you know there's something wrong ... We shot him and took him to the vets."

Susan Alexander of Forsan said she found a rabid skunk in one of her puppy's in its mouth. "We have a chain link fence in front and a six foot fence in the back. It must have climbed up one of the fences. You hear (gun)shots out here all the time. Everybody's killing skunks."

under-20,000 circulation division.

Elder's top award was for a series on juvenile delinquency. The judge, Gerald J. Taylor, general manager and executive editor of The Daily Dispatch in Moline, Ill., commented, "Mr. Elder focuses the reader's attention on a topic of legitimate concern. The author deserves high marks for obviously thorough (and lengthy) research. The newspaper deserves kudos for giving the series such prominent play. Elder maintains reader interest by constantly weaving into the facts and figures the personalities behind the powers that be in Howard County's juvenile justice system."

Elder's second place award was for a news feature entitled "Paul Spears' race through time halted by fire tragedy." The judge, Rey Hertel, managing editor of the Joliet (Ill.) Herald News, commented: "The tragedy of the death of a track star in a home fire is brought to the reader slowly and with suspense. Through Bill Elder's skilled writing, the reader can project himself into the hearts and minds of the mother, family and friends of the boy who died. The story is told with an excellent blending of factual information, description and quotes."

Jakiewicz's award was for his coverage of the Big Spring Steer baseball team's first game of the bi-district playoffs entitled "Rubio's menu starves Bronco batters." (The Steers won the game, 6-0.) The judge commented, "Sports stories have too many cliches today, but Greg did a masterful job of setting a restaurant scene right off the bat — no pun intended — and he kept with that scene throughout his story ... Greg followed his restaurant setting with such phrases as 'secret recipe of pitches, cooking on the mound, provided the dessert," etc. Obviously a winning recipe."

Carpenter's honorable mention business story was about rights of landlords.

Tina Miller's honorable mention in the family features category was for a story entitled "It's hard to run and cry at the same time," about Sherill Easterling of Coahoma. Linda Adams won a honorable mention in the same category for a story about Tommy Hart.

Mrs. Adams award in column writing was for three columns, including one entitled "Why I hate cats." The judge, Marx A. Gibson, managing editor of the Kankakee (Ill.) Journal, commented, "Linda Adams is another budding Rose of Texas."

The remaining Herald honorable mentions were not specified.

Strake campaigns in Big Spring

By BOB CARPENTER
Staff Writer

Former Texas Secretary of State George Strake, GOP candidate for lieutenant governor, ran down his position on several issues Friday as he attended a luncheon sponsored by Howard County Republicans in his honor.

Strake covered topics such as water, the Peveto property tax bill, tougher driving while intoxicated punishments and teacher pay raises during his brief stay in Big Spring before leaving for another stop in Lubbock.

Strake said that in his campaign travels the subject of the Peveto bill was foremost in many voters' minds. "The law was supposed to be a tax reform law to end confusion and unfairness in the way property taxes were assessed. But what they replaced it with is worse than what we had," Strake said.

"The Peveto Bill created property tax appraisal boards in each county. The boards are responsible for setting all property at full market value. Then each taxing entity in a county can levy whatever taxes it needs for the year."

"It sounds good, but it hasn't worked. The biggest problem is that these appraisal boards are not responsive to the taxpayers, because they are appointed to the board. That amounts to taxation without representation," he said.

Strake advocated taking a new look at the way appraisal districts work and perhaps make the changed mandating that appraisal board members be elected which Strake said "will make them sensitive to the people's wants and desires."

Ring stolen from Fair booth

Christine Webb of Sarah Coventry Jewelry told police that someone took a ring valued at $595 from her jewelry booth at the Howard County Fairbarns sometime between 12 noon and 12:30 p.m. Saturday. Neither Ms. Webb nor anyone else in the booth saw who took the ring, police said.

Randy Roberts of 1425 East 6th Street told police that someone pried open the left vent window on his pickup while it was parked at the Ponderosa Apartments Saturday morning and took a graphic equalizer valued at $99.95 and a speaker valued at $25.

Police arrested Robert Carlos Gonzales of 404 N.E. 10th after an officer saw him sitting on a picnic table in the North Side Park in the 100 block of N.E. 7th after hours Saturday morning.

Mark A. Bergeron of 1400 Stadium told police that someone stole four wire spoke wheel covers off his Datsun 200SX while it was parked at Bowl-A-Rama between the hours of 8:30 and 10:30 p.m. Friday.

Police were called to Cactus Jack's in the Industrial Park Saturday night after Jerry Jones, the assistant manager, said a person was told not to come in because his clothing did not meet the dress code. The man was asked to leave five times or more, Jones told police, but he refused. He then asked for a drink, and when he was refused, he picked up a glass to use for a weapon and threatened the assistant manager, according to reports. Jones said the man said he would pull something out of his back pocket and finish him off. Police made no arrests in the incident.

Thousands protest Begin government

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Hundreds of thousands of people jammed the Square of the Kings of Israel Saturday night, expressing outrage over the Beirut massacre in the largest anti-government demonstration Israeli has ever known.

Organizers of the rally said 400,000 people gathered in the square for the protest demonstration. Police refused to estimate the crowd size, but the throng topped the crowd that attended a pro-government rally in July, which government supporters said drew 250,000.

Israel has a population of about 4 million.

Speakers demanded the resignations of Prime Minister Menachem Begin and Defense Minister Ariel Sharon, as well as an independent judicial inquiry into the conduct of the army and the government during the slaughter of hundreds of men, women and children in the west Beirut Palestinian refugee camps of Chatilla and Sabra.

"Never have we stood before such a string of wretched decisions arousing such doubt, sorrow and distrust among the citizens," opposition Labor Party leader Shimon Peres said in his address.

He claimed Begin had not uttered "a word of sorrow or of condemnation of the killers," and asked the prime minister, "Why do you describe it as a natural disaster instead of a policy disaster?"

Former Labor Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin said "something has broken down in our world of moral values" and accused Begin of turning the Israeli army into Beirut's police force.

"Have might and iron become the solution to the Arab-Israeli conflict?" he asked.

Other speakers included actress Hanna Maron, who lost a leg in a Palestinian terrorist attack in Europe 10 years ago, and Avraham Burg, a war veteran whose father, Yosef Burg, is interior minister in Begin's Cabinet.

In another development, Defense Minister Ariel Sharon told U.S. envoy Philip C. Habib on Saturday that Israel's withdrawal from Beirut would be completed by the second half of this week, Defense Ministry spokesman Uri Dan said.

Foreign Ministry officials said the Israeli decision applied to all of Beirut, not just Moslem west Beirut, and the pullout would be completed in the next few days.

One of the officials said "the handing over of all positions in the city to the Lebanese army will be completed after Beirut is completely cleared of terrorists and arms."

The official, who asked to remain anonymous, did not say how that objective would be accomplished. Israel has claimed 2,000 Palestine Liberation Organization guerrillas stayed on secretly after the PLO and its main force were evacuated from west Beirut in late August and early September.

The rally climaxed a week of almost daily demonstrations against Begin and Sharon, who is accused of failing to act promptly to stop the slaughter Sept. 17-18.

Seven children, six adults killed in shooting rampage

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — A prison guard went on a shooting rampage in two communities Saturday, killing seven children and six adults before surrendering to police who had surrounded him in a vacant house, officials said.

Five of the victims apparently were his own children, and all the others except for two men were either related or known to him, police said.

One man was critically wounded in the attack on two homes in Wilkes-Barre and nearby Jenkins Township. Two boys managed to escape unharmed.

The gunman, identified as 40-year-old George Banks, had once served time for attempted robbery.

Banks told three police officers friends, "Don't shoot," as he surrendered after a seven-hour standoff. Dressed in olive-drab military-style coveralls and a fatigue cap, Banks handed a rifle out of a window of a vacant house where he had been holed up since dawn.

He was to be arraigned later Saturday.

"It's like something out of a horror movie," said Luzerne County District Attorney Robert Gillespie.

Dr. George Hudock, county coroner, described it as the "worst tragedy since the 1897 massacre at Lattimer Mines," referring to the shootings of striking miners by sheriff's deputies in which 18 people were killed.

Police said the motive was in doubt, but Wilkes-Barre Mayor Thomas McLaughlin said police were looking into reports the shooting may have been prompted by a child custody dispute.

Joseph Shaver, chief deputy coroner for Luzerne County, said all the victims apparently "were interrelated" to the suspect, except for two men.

Seven children ranging in age from 1 to 11 and six adults, five of them women, died of multiple gunshot wounds to the head and body at the residences about five miles apart.

Jenkins Township police received a domestic-dispute call from a mobile home court at 2:29 a.m., followed a minute later by a report of a shooting there. The second shootings were reported to Wilkes-Barre police at 3 a.m.

Police used no force during the siege, which ended at 11:17 a.m. Fifty officers surrounded the house and evacuated residents nearby. Banks' mother, an unidentified close friend and police had pleaded over a bullhorn for the surrender.

According to Harry Hyman, assistant chief deputy coroner for Luzerne County, five children and three women were shot at a house on Schoolhouse Lane in a blue-collar neighborhood of south Wilkes-Barre. One man was killed outside the house and a companion was wounded.

Two women and two children were killed at the Heather Highlands Mobile Home Village in Jenkins Township, Hyman said.

Ray McGarry, Jenkins Township police detective, said two more children, "I guess their ages at 8 and 11, were unharmed."

Banks served a 7½ year prison term at Pennsylvania's Graterford prison for a 1961 attempted robbery conviction, according to state corrections spokesman Ken Robinson.

ARRESTED IN SHOOTING DEATHS — Wilkes-Barre, Pa. police escort George Banks, 40, from a house they had surrounded for several hours Saturday morning. Banks was wanted in the shooting deaths of 13 people early Saturday.

it hit the second-floor roof of the Warwick Apartments, which are several hundred yards from the airport, said eyewitness Andy Connell, a reporter for radio station KYXX.

"Three guys were fighting trying to get out of the plane. You could see flames on their clothes," said Bob Aldrich, 37, of Midland, a former Army medic who witnessed the crash.

Connell said one unidentified passenger, badly burned and dressed only in tattered and blackened underclothing, walked to the apartment manager's office seeking help for his friend.

"Can somebody please help my friend? He is burning and could die. He is in there and he is burning. Is he still alive? Is my friend still alive?" Connell quoted the unidentified passenger as saying.

Apartment resident Dino Zandy said after the crash, he saw his neighbor, Randy Sellers, 20, running at him out of a cloud of thick black smoke.

"He came out of the black smoke yelling 'Help me! Oh God, help me,'" said Zandy.

Sellers remained in critical condition today at Lubbock General Hospital with burns over about 85 percent of his body, said Tim Howell, night nursing supervisor.

The pilot, Alex Sheets, 56, and Ken Hornsby, 42, a law enforcement officer also from Baton Rouge, La., were transferred to the hospital in Lubbock, 160 miles away.

A spokeswoman said both men were in critical condition. She said Sheets had burns over about 50 percent of his body and Hornsby had burns over about 70 percent of his body.

The two prisoners, George Gibbs, 30, of Alexandria, La., and Bernell Bell, 30, of Baton Rouge, La., said an emergency room clerk, who declined to be identified. Both men were burned over about 20 percent of their bodies.

Gibbs and Bell were being transferred to the Louisiana State Prison System, according to Department of Public Safety spokesman Jimmy Rhoads.

How the Mexican-American family and folkhealing should be considered in mental health treatment of Mexican-Americans was the topic of a conference presented by two nationally-recognized speakers at the Big Spring State Hospital Friday.

The day-long conference drew more than 200 mental health professionals, psychologists, psychiatrists and caseworkers from several area communities to hear Dr. Robert L. Jimenez and Dr. Juan Antonio Chavira. Both men are from the University of Texas at San Antonio, Health Science Center.

Dr. Jimenez devoted the morning session of the conference to a historical examination of the Mexican-American culture. From Cortez through the Aztecs to the Texas Revolution, Dr. Jimenez noted the most significant change of attitude towards the Mexican-American came after the Texas Revolution.

The 20th-century Mexican-American has growing problems with his culture and a changing society. "More issues are involved than just the disease," the doctor said. A moral infraction causes illness; sickness is a test of faith, Dr. Jimenez said. For the Mexican-American, "Suffering is learning from God," he said. "You can't berate them for this; it's just a fact."

"The Mexican-American shares his illness with his family," he said.

A second factor not recognized by modern medicine is the family's importance to the Mexican-American. "The family is the lynchpin of Spanish society," Dr. Jimenez said. Family members have an obligation to family and family friends first over all matters, he said.

The Mexican-American family is under siege now as it is pushed into mainstream society, Dr. Jimenez said. Whereas in the past, the culture and the family handled problems; now the trend was towards institutions. "People need help in handling this kind of family," he said.

Dr. Jimenez said after his talk the biggest problem was the breakdown of the obligation to the family. "The young generation is moving away from the homestead and contribute less now to the family," he said. Chronic illnesses also look to be problems, he said.

"The elderly are ignored by the family who rely on institutions for care; they (the elderly) are not prepared for the institutions and are a burden to the system," Dr. Jimenez said. "We want to find some way for the institution of helping the family perform the task (of treatment) — a partnership."

Dr. Chavira presented an afternoon talk on Mexican-American folkhealing, its origins and present practices. The doctor said the folk healer, or curandero, ties together three components to treat illness and injury: material, spiritual and mental.

The curandero is able to use these for "a more personal level of health" due to his and the components being part of the Mexican-American culture.

"Culture is not something that's in books — you experience it ... food, images, memories, the family being together is culture," Dr. Chavira said.

Magic is an aspect of that culture, Dr. Chavira said. Eschewing "entertainment magic — this is not 'Star Wars' magic, he said this is sympathetic magic, "that thing that makes you buy that big car or fancy clothes you can't afford."

Curanderos heal by suggestion and manipulation, he said. Unlike modern doctors, curanderos train in the areas where they will serve and live, Dr. Chavira said.

The material manipulation of objects concerns certain magic properties objects have of taking out the "bad," he said. The herbs, teas, candles and water are attached to rituals and symbols to which all people are attracted. "We like lots of ritual and symbols; we react to symbols," Dr. Chavira said.

During treatment, the Mexican-American patient wants help with the spiritual level as well as the physical level, the doctor said. Then, the ritual of families gathering at someone's bedside is necessary. "You feel like you're doing something. You don't find that in isolation," Dr. Chavira said.

Even in death, ritual is an important part of the spiritual, he said. "Death is a chance to re-establish the family links."

The belief systems passed from generation to generation allow the curandero to not only practice, but be effective. Dr. Chavira mentioned a time he recommended a doctor use a curandero practice to prevent a patient from sleeping under her hospital bed. When the doctor was told to place a glass of water under the bed, he said he didn't believe in that.

"It doesn't matter — people really do that. They really believe in the power and it works," Chavira said he told the doctor. Recognition that the Mexican-American people have faith in some of these practices, is important for institutions, he added.

A desecration of human life

The latest horror of human slaughter in West Beirut is incomprehensible.

Hundreds of young men, women, children — even horses — were shot on sight last week by a group of gunmen believed to be right-wing Lebanese Christian militiamen who entered two Palestinian refugee camps.

More shocking than the massacre itself is the fact that the Israelis let them do it. After all, the Israelis had entered Beirut, ostensibly to keep such tragedies from happening. The Israelis were guarding the camps where the massacres occurred. And apparently, the Israelis let the militiamen enter the camps.

The question is, did the Israelis conspire with the Christian militiamen in the tragedy? Were the Israelis simply careless? Or were the Israelis so naive that they thought the longstanding blood-hatred between the Christians and Muslims would not result in bloodshed?

Whatever the answer, the Israelis must carry the heavy burden of responsibility and guilt for allowing such a desecration of human life to take place.

Around the Rim

By CAROL DANIEL

On 'Coming Home'

"Coming Home" is a powerful movie filmed several years ago. It aired last Monday night on television and, although I didn't watch it again, it brought back memories of the two times I did see it.

It was a moving experience, probably because I first became aware of the world during the era depicted in the film — the late 1960s. The first newspaper headlines I acknowledge with more than a nod were about Vietnam, the peace movement, Jane Fonda and hippies.

"Coming Home" is the story of the slow, painful healing that must take place when a nation comes home to normalcy after the trauma of losing an insane war on the other side of the globe. It recalls the horrid waste and destructiveness of the most shameful war in American history.

The background music — numbers by the Beatles, Dylan, Richie Havens, the Rolling Stones and others — sharply reminds one of the reality reflected by the rock music of the 60s.

THE STORY revolves around three main characters: Sally Hyde played by Jane Fonda, her husband Capt. Bob Hyde played by Bruce Dern, and Sgt. Luke Martin played by Jon Voight.

Bob is a gung-ho marine who goes off to Vietnam in 1968, looking forward to the war as the Olympic Games in which he'll compete for the U.S.

Luke is a paraplegic Vietnam veteran in a California V.A. hospital who is so filled with anger and self-pity that he has to be strapped into his bed. He is confined to a litter and later to a wheelchair.

The former Marine sergeant is rapidly becoming an alcoholic and a sociopath, but after a show of concern from Sally, he melts and soon becomes capable of love, not only for her but for humanity; he dedicates himself to the peace movement.

SALLY is a typically docile service housewife, living in a ticky-tacky base apartment, but her husband's absence forces her to change her ways.

She takes up volunteer work at the base hospital to fill the empty time, makes new friends and asserts her independence by renting a beach bungalow and buying a sports car. She falls in love with Luke. He turns her against the war her husband is fighting. Their relationship deepens and they live together until her husband returns with a bullet in his foot. The captain reflects on the terror of the war experience, patterned in part on the My Lai massacre.

He confronts his wife's adultery, thanks to an FBI surveillance report on known activists. While he struggles to regain his equilibrium, she tries to save her marriage without compromising her new-found sense of independence.

Voight's characterization is strong and important from the first sight of him on his stomach on a litter padding himself along with two stout canes. He shows Luke's pious arrogance as well as tenderness.

Dern manages to keep his anguish from seeming canned. As he realizes that both his wife and the war have betrayed him, the character's manic energy evaporates. Dern perfectly captures the unerving calm of a man who has lost the will to live.

Though the illicit affair of a beautiful woman and a cripple is potentially mawkish stuff, Director Hal Ashby did not allow his story to become overly sentimental. He did not view the couple's relationship as a panacea for all their emotional problems, and he refused to shy away from harsh detail.

Whenever the movie starts to lose its way, Ashby stages a powerful scene to bring the war back home. In one of them, Sally meets her husband in a sad Hong Kong hotel where he is on leave from the front. In another, Luke speaks before an assembly of high school boys, counseling them to avoid the draft.

Heavy crosscutting hammers home ironic points. Bob joggling to prepare for Nam while wounded veterans in a hospital crawl miserably around; Luke attacking the war before the high school class while Bob wades into the ocean like Fredric March at the end of "A Star is Born."

BY THE END of the movie, all loose ends have been tied, all characters have realized the effects of the tragic war. The captain is cleansed of his jingoist patriotism, the sergeant of his self-pity and bitterness and Sally of her naivete and submissiveness. All three represent America, come of age after a shattering loss of innocence.

Steve Chapman

Some foreign policy!

Nine years ago, during another Middle East war, the U.S. Congress overrode a presidential veto to enact the War Powers Act. It inaugurated a new era in U.S. foreign policy, in which the president would no longer have a free hand. But the crisis in Lebanon shows the limits of Congress' new role. Its idea of a partnership is to set policy when there is a political advantage to be gained, and to shirk responsibility when there are dangers.

The War Powers Act was a repudiation of Congress' passivity on the Vietnam War. Everyone agreed on its importance, for good or ill. Congress, one sponsor declared, was seizing an "historic opportunity to reassert (its) constitutionally mandated obligation." President Nixon warned that the bill would "give every future Congress the ability to handcuff every future president."

The law, which constrained the president in sending American troops abroad, signified more than a new legislative say on the use of military power. It foreshadowed an insistence on serving as a full partner in the making of U.S. foreign policy.

Congress proceeded to narrow executive discretion in almost all foreign policy matters. It rebuffed

President Ford by barring covert intervention in Angola. The Senate demanded to revise Jimmy Carter's Panama Canal treaty — then nearly rejected it. In propping up the Salvadoran government, President Reagan has had to overcome stiff opposition on Capitol Hill.

The virtue of the new congressional role is that it provides a democratic check on executive power — the sort that might have prevented the disaster in Vietnam. The defect is that it allows Congress to obstruct and interfere without requiring it to provide leadership. Our problems in the Middle East illustrate the latter.

THIS IS ONE place where Congress has certainly been a partner in policymaking — a senior partner, to be exact. In dealing with Israel and the Arab nations, every president has had to keep in mind the reflexive support for Israel on Capitol Hill. Our fundamental policy is set by Congress; the president has to work within its limits.

One reason the Israelis often ignore American wishes — as in the 1978 invasion of Lebanon, or last year's air raid on Iraq, or the events of the last three months — is that they know any presidential anger will be tempered by congressional indulgence. When

Language follows life

If you had heard the words Super Bowl in 1960, would they have meant anything to you? You might have thought of a large salad bowl, but you wouldn't have thought of the world's greatest football confrontation — because it hadn't been invented yet.

As our lives change, so does our language, and so do our dictionaries. So I am always amazed when I hear of so-called "purists" who think the language should not be "corrupted" by the addition of new words such as "nerd" and "off-the-wall."

I'm one of those people who believes that language reflects life — and certainly no one expects life to stand still.

I'M ALSO ONE of those crazy people who read dictionaries. I collect them, and I love finding a rare, old dictionary with obscure terms. At the same time, I love to collect truckers' dictionaries, black dialect dictionaries and dictionaries of phrases and fables and slang. By reading them, I've learned that language is forever changing.

I like the recent statement of Stuart Berg Flexner, editor-in-chief of Random House dictionaries: "If every American history book were destroyed tomorrow, it would be possible to reconstruct the past simply by studying the dictionary."

He used the word "automobile" as an example. The automobile spawned a whole new vocabulary, including the words "jalopy," "convertible," "roadster" and "lube," to name a few. More significantly, its invention affected our social history, ushering in an era of "hitchhikers," "car coats," "drive-ins" and "suburbia."

The interrelationship between language and life is perhaps most evident during periods of war when infusions of technical terms, foreign expressions and colorful slang seem to flood our vocabulary. Words like "redcoat," "minutemen," "carpetbagger" and "doughboy" make it unlikely that memories of past wars will be wiped out, just as "Viet Cong," "napalm" and "boat people" — all recent dictionary additions, will remind our children and grandchildren of America's involvement in Vietnam.

The dictionary will also make it impossible for future generations to overlook the drug culture of the past two decades or the change in sexual mores. "Angel dust," "freebasing," and "live-ins" all will be recorded as indicators of the alternative lifestyles of recent years.

Among the new words and meanings which soon will be included in the newest dictionaries, the government has contributed "supply-sider," and "flat tax"; the media has added "docudrama," "miniseries," "anchorperson" and "video text"; sports fans and health enthusiasts have given us "aerobics," "hang gliding," "wind surf," "pump iron" and "bench press"; while the burgeoning computer industry is represented by scores of new entries and definitions including "diskette," "microcomputer," "kilobyte," "word processing," "input," and "modem."

Other new words and phrases going into dictionaries include "ground-zero," "bag lady," "out of the closet," "preppies," "househusbands," "crunch," "money market funds," "zero-base budgeting," "plea bargaining," "nouvelle cuisine," "punk rock," "synfuel," "gene-splicing," "no-frills," and, believe it or not, "scuzzy," "shlick," "yucky" and "nerd."

WHILE SOME PEOPLE may object, a serious lexicographer will tell you that he must record all the language, and that he doesn't judge words but rather notes that they're being used and tries to be as accurate as possible in their definitions, pronunciations and etymologies. Of course, the words should be labeled properly if they are slang, so people can decide whether or not to use them.

Slang came over on the Mayflower. Some of the Founding Fathers at Plymouth shuddered at the use of the then slangy expression "goodbye" — in place of the full, standard "God be with you."

"GO, BABY, GO!"

Billy Graham

Don't wait for me...

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Please let me know when you are going to hold one of your meetings in my area. I would like to come to one and accept Christ. — W.A.

DEAR W.A.: I am thankful that you want to invite Christ into your life, but I want to underline the fact that you can — and should — do that right now. You need not wait to attend some special meeting, but you can invite Jesus Christ into your heart right where you are. God is everywhere, and the Bible warns us, "I tell you, now is the time of God's favor, now is that day of salvation" (2 Corinthians 6:2).

How can you accept Christ into your life? First of all, there is something you need to admit. You need to face the fact that you are a sinner and you need God's forgiveness for your sins. The Bible says, "There is no difference, for all have sinned and fallen short of the glory of God" (Romans 3:23). Have you ever gotten down on your knees and told God you know you are a sinner in need of his cleansing?

Then there is something you need to believe. You need to believe that God loves you, and that he sent his only Son into the world to take away your sins. Listen to what the Bible tells us about Christ's love for us: "You see, at just the right time, when we were still powerless, Christ died for the ungodly. Very rarely will anyone die for a righteous man, though for a good man someone might possibly dare to die. But God demonstrates his own love for us in this: while we were still sinners, Christ died for us" (Romans 5:6-8). Do you believe Christ died for you?

Finally, there is something to decide. You need to decide that you will turn your life over to Christ and let him be Lord of your life. And you need to decide for Christ, by inviting him into your life by a simple prayer of faith.

Over 120 witnesses slated for Wood trial

By MACK SISK
Associated Press Writer

SAN ANTONIO — After spending more than three years and $5 million investigating the first assassination of a federal judge in modern times, the government has lined up more than 120 witnesses for the first trial in the case which begins this week.

As an example of the enormity of the investigation, defense attorney Tom Sharpe Jr. complained last week that he had to pore over 2,000 to 3,000 pages of tape recording transcripts to prepare for trial, which is expected to last four to eight weeks.

Sharpe represents Charles V. Harrelson, the convicted hitman charged with shooting Wood in the back in San Antonio on May 29, 1979, for a $250,000 fee from Jamie "Jimmy" Chagra, a high-roller El Paso gambler and dope dealer.

The 44-year-old Harrelson previously has been tried for two previous kill-for-hire slayings in state court — gaining acquittal in one of the killings and serving a 15-year sentence for the other. He was released from prison on Sept. 1, 1978, about nine months before he allegedly shot Wood in the back outside a San Antonio apartment complex.

Harrelson goes on trial first along with his wife, former Las Vegas blackjack player Jo Ann Harrelson, 41, and Elizabeth Chagra, 28, the wife of Jimmy Chagra.

The key witness against the three will be El Paso lawyer Joseph Chagra, 35, who already has pleaded guilty in a where Wood was killed are expected to be among the government witnesses.

As a result of the plea bargain agreement with Joe Chagra, U.S. District Judge William S. Sessions last week accepted a government motion to sever Jimmy Chagra's case and try him separately on charges of murder of a federal judge, conspiracy to murder a federal judge, and conspiracy to obstruct justice by covering up the crime.

Sessions has summoned 60 to 65 prospective jurors for 9:30 a.m. Tuesday and indicated that jury selection could take up to three days. He overruled defense motions for a change of venue until he determines whether a jury panel can be seated.

Sessions said a "base panel" of 46 unprejudiced people must be agreed on by the prosecution and defense. The government then will be allowed to make seven strikes and the three defense attorneys can make four strikes each, arriving at the 12-member jury panel and three alternates.

The judge said he plans to operate court from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. five days a week, with the exception of Oct. 7 when court will recess for the weekend at 1:30 p.m. The judge added that his commitments also will cause court to be recessed on Oct. 25, and possibly on Oct. 29 and Nov. 11.

Sessions Friday also had security guards pass out his court guidelines to news reporters planning to cover the lengthy trial.

The judge said 120 seats are available for spectators in the courtroom, but that about 85 of them would be needed during jury selection for the jury panel members.

The other 35 will be divided evenly among news media personnel and the public on a first-come first-serve basis during jury selection, Sessions said.

Sessions' other rules required:

- All male spectators wear coats during court sessions.
- There be no talking, whispering or other unnecessary noises while the court is in session.
- There be no gum chewing or reading of newspapers or magazines while the court is in session.
- No photographing, broadcasting or televising of any judicial proceeding inside the courthouse, whether court is in session or not.
- No tape recorders or other mechanical means of recording inside the courtroom, whether being operated or not.

The judge also advised reporters of court rules against attorneys discussing a pending case with the media and against anyone attempting to talk to jurors while the trial is in progress.

Several persons who allegedly picked Harrelson out of a line-up are expected to be among government witnesses plea bargain and agreed to testify in the first trial. The government also has numerous FBI tapes that agents secretly recorded of conversations of the defendants.

Joe Chagra admitted in open court on Sept. 17 to the charges in the indictment: that Jimmy Chagra had Wood killed to prevent Wood from presiding at his 1979 narcotics trial, that Harrelson did the shooting, that Joe and Elizabeth Chagra counseled Jimmy Chagra to have the judge shot, and that Elizabeth Chagra delivered the $250,000 payoff to Harrelson's step-daughter the next month.

Prosecutor Ray Jahn said that the long list of government witnesses would include 26 "chain of custody" witnesses whose sole purpose will be to establish custody of evidence to be introduced.

Much of the testimony and evidence was expected to be repetitious and anti-climatic after five months of pre-trial motions and hearings.

However, the government has yet to detail through the pre-trial court activity the specifics of how it alleges that Harrelson shot Wood and got back to Dallas, where the alleged killer claims several alibi witnesses saw him the same day Wood was killed.

A case of not really caring

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — A scene in next month's Gridiron Show by Austin journalists features a guest appearance by "the last voter in Texas still interested in the November election."

The bedraggled figure is worn and weary from all the political ads that leap from the television set, bracket the songs on the radio, fill the pages of the daily newspaper and greet him at his mailbox.

His left ear is sore from all the telephone calls from candidates' phone banks. One hand is reddened from having to shake hands with every local candidate at the doorway of his favorite shopping mall.

The only thing that sets this character apart from the millions of other Texas voters, according to the sketch, is that he still cares. He still is interested in the election. The others have weakened and joined the ranks of the political dropouts.

It's only a spoof, of course, but there must be a bit of truth there for it to be funny.

By the time this long political campaign is over, we might find that there's more than a bit of truth, and many of us may feel a strong kinship with that Gridiron Show character.

How many of us still will be interested in the election and care about its outcome? How many of us will have joined the ranks of the political dropouts?

SOME POLITICAL analysts predict that voter apathy will continue to increase and fewer and fewer voters will decide elections.

Texas generally reacted with a big yawn and stayed away from the polls in droves during the May primary elections — despite big-bucks campaigns in the governor's race and lower-ballot races spiced by colorful characters of various political hues.

Politicians and some political analysts at that time theorized that the poor turnout resulted from Texas becoming more of a two-party state. They said the voters didn't consider the primaries important any more but would turn out in force for the "real election" in November.

On Nov. 2 we will discover whether this theory was a good one.

From the politician's standpoint, everything possible is being done to stir up voter interest.

The money being spent on this election at all levels borders on the obscene.

Unless a Texan doesn't open the mail, watch television, listen to the radio, read newspapers and magazines, or answer the telephone, the campaign intrudes into his or her life on a daily — sometimes hourly — basis.

There's no way that the average Texan can't be keenly aware that an election is about to take place. But being aware doesn't mean caring.

Is it possible that as politics intrudes more into our daily lives, the more we resent it and the less interested we become?

Is it possible that we're in a vicious cycle that could change the political system as we know it? The cycle would include:

- Candidates become desperate to attract the attention of uncaring voters.
- Candidates compromise themselves and their ethical values to attract more political contributions from special interests so they can spend more on campaigning.
- Voters resent these compromises and the increased intrusion of political advertising into their lives, and turn off to politics even more.
- Candidates become even more desperate to attract big-bucks in an effort to court the ever-more-disinterested voters.

That's not a pretty picture, and maybe it's an exaggeration. Maybe the voters will turn out en masse on Nov. 2 and show that they care.

If they don't, our lawmakers should consider the possibility that such a disillusionment cycle exists and needs to be addressed.

ENTERING APARTMENT INFERNO — An El Paso firefighter climbs a ladder to a third-floor apartment during an early-morning fire that claimed the lives of five residents of the structure. The fire spread throughout the building with most victims being found on the third floor.

At least five persons die in El Paso apartment blaze

EL PASO (AP) — A fire that killed four adults and a 6-year-old boy when it roared through a downtown-area apartment building constructed near the turn of the century is the deadliest blaze in the city's history, authorities said Saturday.

One person was hospitalized in critical condition and an injured firefighter was kept overnight for observation, fire department officials said.

Deputy Fire Chief Glen Watson said three people were found dead at the scene and two others died after arriving at the hospital.

The identities of the victims were being withheld pending notification of relatives, police said. A hospital spokesman said the boy died at 11:40 p.m. Friday, and a 72-year-old man died of smoke inhalation at 12:21 a.m. Saturday.

Authorities did not expect to find any more bodies, said Watson.

"It's the worst fire we've ever had in El Paso in terms of the loss of life," Watson said.

Fire Chief M.L. Coleman said the victims were all adults found in various parts of the Alexandria Apartments, a three-story brick structure containing 55 residents in 41 units.

Most were on the third floor, where the fire apparently started, Coleman said.

"It appears the fire started in a hallway," the chief said. "It went up the walls and through the ceilings and in some places through the doors, arphixiating those in rooms and in some case, those in halls."

Watson said the cause of the fire had not been determined and investigators were running tests on material recovered from the blaze.

The fire was reported shortly after 1 p.m. Friday and quickly went to several alarms as 40 firefighting units and four ambulances responded, Watson said.

Firemen had the blaze under control in 3 minutes. Flames could be seen for several miles.

Phil Ramos, a resident of the building, said he and his wife were watching television in their second-floor apartment when the blaze broke out.

"All of a sudden, my wife smelled smoke," Ramos said. "I opened the door, there was a rush of smoke. I remembered it was best to wait. I closed the door."

Firefighters rescued the couple through a window, Ramos said.

Watson said rescuers avoided smoke-filled hallways and saved many residents by hoisting ladders up to windows.

One witness, Paul Daniels, said he stopped to help the rescue effort.

"I thought 'Oh, my God, there's old people in there up on the third floor,'" Daniels said.

Allied ends fight with Bendix takeover

NEW YORK (AP) — If giant Allied Corp. had not stepped between the brawling Bendix and Martin Marietta corporations, the most tangled takeover fight in U.S. history could have led them to disaster, Allied Chairman Edward Hennessy said Saturday.

"The spectacle of two large companies trying to swallow up each other is not very pretty," Hennessy told a news conference a day after the battle ended with Bendix agreeing to be taken over by Allied and Marietta remaining independent.

"This agreement is saving these two companies from possible disaster," Hennessy said.

At one point, Bendix and Marietta had bought up nearly $1 billion of each other's stock in an unprecedented display of corporate brinkmanship. The debt burden on each company could have driven them to serious trouble while leading to a long and costly court fight over which company controlled which.

The stakes were high because both companies are rising stars in a variety of technology fields.

Bendix, with annual sales of $4.4 billion, is a giant in the automotive parts and aerospace electronics business, while Marietta gets most of its $3.3 billion in yearly sales from aerospace equipment manufacturing.

But for the past month their management's energies were focused on merger, and now it is difficult to conclude who won and who lost.

Bendix, which had started the fight by trying to take over Marietta, instead wound up being swallowed by Allied. Marietta kept its independence, but at the cost of seeing its debt load skyrocket and of allowing Allied to keep a huge chunk of its stock.

Hennessy did not disagree with a suggestion that the battle had gotten out of hand and could be viewed as an embarrassment for American business.

"There should be some sadness here," he said. "Nobody likes to read what when on between these two companies."

It began Aug. 25 when Bendix announced it would try to buy Marietta, even though earlier Bendix overtures to Marietta management had not sparked any interest.

Marietta resisted the Bendix advance, choosing to defend itself by going to Bendix's shareholders with a takeover offer six days later.

The battle quickly spread to the courtroom with a flurry of legal maneuvering that at one time had the companies' legions of lawyers sparring in half a dozen courts in four states.

The tangle created headaches even for the judges.

"I suspect Shakespeare had something like this case in mind when he said, 'a pox on both your houses,'" U.S. District Judge Joseph H. Young of Baltimore told the combatants. Yet none of the courts acted to keep the two companies from their collision course.

Man receives death penalty

LUBBOCK (AP) — A 29-year-old man convicted for a second time in the 1980 shotgun slaying of a sheriff's deputy was assessed the death penalty Saturday.

A jury returned the punishment verdict against Paul Berry Bush, who was found guilty Friday in the killing of Hemphill County Deputy M.L. "Corky" Guthrie.

Guthrie was shot to death July 12, 1980 after answering a burglar alarm at a pharmacy in the Panhandle community of Canadian. An autopsy showed he was wounded twice, once at long range and again at close proximity, with a 12-gauge shotgun.

Bush was convicted of capital murder in October 1980 and was sentenced to death.

Two women freed after 9-month nightmare

DALLAS (AP) — Police questioned a 39-year-old man Saturday after rescuing a terrified and badly beaten woman who had been held in bondage for almost nine months in a dingy South Dallas apartment described by one officer as a "semi-torture chamber."

The ordeal ended Friday when another woman, who had been held captive for a week, escaped by tying together bedsprings and breaking through a bathroom window in the second-floor apartment.

Leonard Williams, a laborer, was arrested a short time later about two blocks from the apartment. He was held for investigation of aggravated kidnapping under a $200,000 bond set by Municipal Court Judge Michael O'Neal.

Police rescued a 20-year-old Michigan woman, who said she had been held inside the apartment since December.

The apartment was decorated with pornographic photographs, Dallas Cowboys memorabilia and littered with trash and homemade sex devices, police said.

Boards had been nailed across the three windows in the apartment and the hallway was decorated with women's underwear.

Investigators also discovered logging chains, an 18-inch piece of pipe and bloody sticks.

Mingled in with the pornography were pictures of Elvis Presley and Jesus Christ, police said.

"It's amazing. It's pitiful," police Sgt. E.L. Whitfield said. "In my nine years of experience, when I walked in, all I could say was, 'Oh, my God.' It was such a shock."

WHITFIELD CALLED the filthy apartment a "semi-torture chamber" from which it "was almost impossible to escape."

The Michigan woman was "almost to the point of being crazy, he had her so intimidated," said Whitfield.

The women, covered with cuts and bruises, told police they had been chained by their necks, beaten with sticks and pipes, and raped and sexually abused.

Police said the man had cropped the women's hair almost to the scalp.

"He cut their hair so they would be less attractive and would not try to escape," said investigator Steve Hatchell.

The women told police that the man padlocked the only door to the apartment when he left.

A resident of the small, dilapidated apartment complex said she knew the women were being held captive, but she and others failed to heed their screams.

"You could hear her hollering and him beating them," said Zona Minniweather, whose apartment faces Williams' across a vacant lot. "You could hear them women all through the day."

Ms. Minniweather said she talked to one of the women through a window on Thursday evening.

"She said they hadn't ate nothing in a week and that she was chained down. She said she'd give us $50 to call the police, but I thought she was drunk," Ms. Minniweather said.

LONNIE SADLER, who lives directly across the hall from Williams, said he didn't even know that the apartment was occupied.

"I never did see anybody go in or out," he said. "Everytime I saw it, it had this chain running through the door. I just figured that the manager had chained it up."

Bob Shaw, a police spokesman, said that "residents of this part of town just don't get involved in other peoples' business—they are just afraid or something."

The apartment had no running water and Williams provided electrical power at night by tapping into the complex's outdoor lighting system, officers said.

The older woman, a 37-year-old Houston resident, was dressed only in dirty rags when she escaped. The younger woman had no clothes and neither had eaten in about a week, police said.

Whitfield said the younger woman was not chained when officers entered the apartment, "but she was extremely weak from all the torture. She was brainwashed. She was scared to death."

Both women were taken to Parkland Memorial Hospital, treated for their injuries and released, a hospital spokeswoman said.

Shaw said Saturday that both women had been escorted to "a safe haven" by police after giving sworn statements.

The spokesman refused to give specifics on the location. "We've provided a place for them to stay," Shaw said.

The younger woman told police that she met Williams on Dec. 18, 1981 as she ran some errands downtown. She said she agreed to have coffee with Williams at his residence, but that he choked her with his hands when she tried to leave.

The older woman said she was invited to have lunch at the apartment last week. Williams introduced the other woman to her as his wife, she said.

Both women told police they have no local family members who would have reported them missing.

Shaw also said a patrol officer remembered receiving a complaint about a year ago from a young woman who said she had been held captive in an apartment in South Dallas.

But the woman refused to give officers a sworn statement or identify her captor and left town, Shaw said.

Governor may face contempt charges

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. Fob James will be ordered to defend himself against a criminal contempt of court allegation for encouraging teachers to ignore a federal judge's ruling on school prayer, an attorney said Saturday.

Ron Williams of Mobile confirmed in a telephone interview that an order has been prepared appointing him as special prosecutor to pursue a criminal contempt of court charge against the governor. Williams said a show cause hearing has been scheduled for Thursday in Selma.

The attorney emphasized that the order has not been signed by U.S. District Judge W.B. Hand, but added that Hand was expected to sign the order on Monday.

"I have been advised that I have been appointed special prosecutor to prosecute criminal contempt charges against Governor James for violating Judge Hand's order," Williams said. "The order was read to me this morning, but it has not been signed by Hand."

Hand banned use of the state's new prayer law until a trial can be held on its constitutionality. The law, passed by the Legislature in special session earlier this summer, would allow public school teachers to lead willing students in prayer at the beginning of each class.

On Friday, the U.S. Senate beat back efforts by Sen. Jesse Helms, D-N.C., to attach a school prayer rider to a bill raising the national debt ceiling. The rider would have allowed prayer in public schools.

Williams represents another Mobile attorney, Ishmael Jaffree, who is challenging the school prayer law.

Williams said he did not know why Hand picked him as special prosecutor in the contempt of court proceedings.

A spokesman at the Governor's Mansion said James and his wife, Bobbie, were out of town for the weekend and "they didn't say where they would be." There was no answer at the Mobile residence of Fob James III, his son.

Calls to Windy Leavell, James' press secretary, and Jimmy Samford, the governor's legal adviser, were not answered.

James and his son flew to Washington, D.C., on Sept. 15 to file an appeal of Hand's ruling with the U.S. Supreme Court. It was rejected by the court clerk, who said the governor would have to try other legal avenues first.

The governor, angered by the action, told reporters, "I am today encouraging all Alabama school officials, as well as the people of Alabama, to ignore this federal court injunction (Judge Hand's ruling) and to proceed with prayer in the classrooms."

Williams filed a motion later that day, asking Hand to find James in contempt of court.

"If Fob James said what he was reported to have said," Williams said, "he showed a total lack of respect for the court. It's not like he inadvertently violated the order."

The hearing is being held in Selma since that is where Hand will be on Thursday. Selma is included in Hand's jurisdiction.

Woman sentenced in man's death

DALLAS (AP) — A 44-year-old Dallas woman, convicted of running her boyfriend down with a car in 1977, has been assessed a 15-year prison term.

Mildred Kearney was found guilty Friday of voluntary manslaughter. She had been accused of murder in the death of Norman Marshall.

Marshall, 31, died April 24, 1977 after being struck by Mrs. Kearney's car in front of a South Dallas motel, police said.

Mrs. Kearney, who contended she suffers from epilepsy, testified she could not recall anything that happened after she climbed into her car.

Witnesses said Marshall was run down after a violent argument between the pair.

Mrs. Kearney was convicted of murder in the case and was sentenced to 35 years in prison. She had served almost four years when the conviction was overturned on appeal.

The defendant could have been sentenced to up to 20 years on the voluntary manslaughter conviction.

Homecoming theme set

Now that everyone has said howdy to Big Spring High, it is time to start homecoming. The theme for this year's homecoming parade is "Movies." Each class will choose their individual themes soon.

This week's steer awards for the Levelland game are as follows: Top Steer- George Bancroft and Emmitt Bartee; Hawk Award- Jay Pirkle; Golden Spike Award- Jay Pirkle; Bullet Award- Carl Green; and Conan Award- no one.

The junior varsity football team ran their record to two wins and one loss when they defeated the Sweetwater JV team, Saturday, September 18. The score was 22 to 20. The JV also took on Abilene in Abilene on September 25.

The JV girls volleyball have another win under their belts. They won their game against Odessa High last Tuesday, September 21, with a score of 15-5 and 15-3. The Varsity lost their game but were defensively tough the whole game.

The freshmen girls volleyball team won over Colorado City on Tuesday, September 21. The score was 15-6 and 15-7.

The Theatre Department is proud to announce their first play of the 1982-83 school year, Count Dracula, will be performed next week on October 2 and October 9. Tickets are $1.50 for students and $3.00 for adults.

Sales for the 1982-83 yearbook will be on October 6

Annual sales begin

Mrs. Jean Warren, sponsor of the annual, has announced that individual school pictures will be made on Wednesday, September 29.

The Library Club officers for this year were elected this week. They are: President-Sherri Marlow; Vice-President-Penny Tatum; Secretary-Michelle LaGrande; Assistant Secretary-Traci Toppass; Treasurer-Jeff O'Brien; Social Chairperson-Lila Covington; Program Chairperson-Susan Rawls; Art Chairperson-Melinda Hernandez; Condolence Chairperson-Beatrice Ramirez. Essie Person, sponsor of the club, has announced that the Calendar Clue game in the library has started this week for all students who would like to participate.

The homemaking classes, under the guidance of Ada Nareem, are studying clothing care. Last week each boy or girl brought a piece of material with a stain on it. They tried to see how well the stain could be removed.

Students take excursions

The name of the game this week was field trips as two separate classes took day-long excursions. After being postponed from the day before, the health class was able to take their insightful visit to the Big Spring State Hospital. Leaving at 9:00 that morning the health class came home reporting that the trip had been very beneficial. The journalism class on the other hand found themselves at Angelo State University on September 23rd. The twelve juniors and seniors who attended the seminar went to various workshops that will hopefully improve skills to benefit the yearbook, newspaper, and photography.

To add to the pre-game hype of the Robert Lee contest, Bearkat Night was held on Monday to introduce to the community the members of the Garden City Marching Band, football teams, and the all important spirit-boosting cheerleaders.

The Varsity game played against Robert Lee was the first of seven district games to be played this year in the regular season. This Friday the Kats take their act on the road as they square off with the eastern powerhouse, Water Valley. However, football can be found at G.C. on the day before the Varsity

School open to public

Parents, students, and new district teachers were given the chance to become familiar with the new elementary building during an Open House on Sunday, September 20. The event began with a reception for all Coahoma Independent School District teachers by the School Board in the new cafeteria. The school was open to the public from 3:00 until 5:00 where approximately 250 people took informal tours of the new facility and met the 26 new teachers.

Class officers and sponsors were chosen recently for the 1982-83 school year. Senior officers are Dee Cagle-President; Debbie Kirkpatrick-Vice-President; Vickie Buchanan-Secretary; and Jamie Bennett-Treasurer. Senior class sponsors are Cheryl Green, Janice Cook, Doug Harriman, and Kim Nichols.

Chosen to serve as officers for the junior class are Donna Myers-President; Janna Griffin-Vice-President; Tobie Henry-Secretary; and Milla Gellido-Treasurer. Junior class sponsors are Al Phillips, Bill Dennis, Melinda Butner, and Barbara Parker.

Baer, Marie Ethridge, Ken Kelso, and Doris Tiller.

Officers for the freshman class are Barry Stafford-President; Rodney Gee-Vice-President; Sandy Islas-Secretary; and Ben Neel-Treasurer. Sponsors for the freshman class are Craig Bessent, Barbara Justiss, Randall Parker, and Nancy Patrick.

The Coahoma Chapter of the Office Education Association recently elected officers. The 1982-83 officers are Lucy Flores-President; Pam Riddle-Vice-President; Terri Torres-Secretary/Treasurer; Tommy McDaniel-Reporter; and Shanna Calaway-Historian. The advisor for the chapter is Marie Ethridge, and the Advisory Committee is made of Guy White, Jr., Iva Jo Hanslik, and Jeanne Darden. The first meeting for OEA will be on Monday, October 10.

The FHA mum sales will continue until Friday, October 1. All orders must be turned in to Mrs. Justiss or Terri Oringderr.

Anyone who bought an annual last year can come by and pick it up in Room 201. A cancelled check or receipt will be required to get an annual. Any unclaimed annuals will be sold for $15.00 each at Homecoming.

Mum is the word for Bearkats

The Student Council representatives were elected this week. Representing the freshman class are Kristi Evans and Jason Donaghe. Sophomores are: Larry Harp, Tony Miranda, and Lane Salvato. Juniors include Kim Dorland and Connie Fuller. Seniors are: Kelly Kraus and Robert Eggleston. Student Council held an organizational meeting last week, and this week they met again. Next week, Student Council will be selling mums and garters. They will also sponsor the Homecoming Dance after the game Friday night. Music will be provided by Amachron.

Homecoming candidates were elected this week. Representing the freshmen will be either Kristi Evans or Tricia DeVore. The sophomores will be represented by either Debra Holguin or Danielle Clere. Juniors will be Connie Fuller or Kim Dorland. The seniors will be represented by either Kelly Kraus or Karla Nix.

This week is homecoming and the Buffs will play O'Donnell at 8:00. The junior varsity will play Sand- (there), and the junior high will play Roscoe (there).

Six weeks tests will be given this week. The test schedule is: Tuesday, 2 and 5 period tests; Wednesday, 4 and 7 period tests; Thursday, 1 and 3 period tests; and Friday, sixth period tests.

Report cards will go out the first part of the next week. Students will bring home grade slips from each class in which they are enrolled, rather than computerized grade sheets.

STAFF SGT. JAMES E. WRIGHTSIL, son of Charles and Esta M. Wrightsil of 3904 Parkway Road, has re-enlisted in the U.S. Air Force at Minot Air Force Base, N.D., after 11 years of military service. Wrightsil is a security specialist with the 91st Missile Security Squadron.

SECOND LT. TERRAL G. MATTHEWS, son of Glenn W. and Ladon Q. Matthews of 811 N. 21st St., Lamesa, has participated in an Air Force Strategic Air Command (SAC) exercise called Global Shield 82.

Matthews, a missile launch officer with the 10th Strategic Missile Squadron at Malmstrom Air Force Base, Mont., joined others from all SAC units in the United States and selected Air Force Reserve and Air National Guard units to take part in command post and field training exercises. Global Shield 82 was the fourth such exercise held by the command in as many years. It was designed to enhance readiness and the ability of the command to carry out orders which support U.S. national policy, should deterrence fail.

Components of the U.S. Navy and Marine Corps, as well as elements of the Canadian forces, also participated in the exercise.

PFC CLARENCE D. PALMER, son of Rita Y. and Philip R. Palmer, of 1416 Stadium, has completed one station unit training at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training. Training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations. Completion of this course qualifies the soldier as a light-weapon infantryman and as an indirect-fire crewman.

Soldiers were taught to perform any of the duties in a rifle or mortar squad.

His wife, Susan, is the daughter of T.J. and LaDell Musgrove of 1312 Stadium.

STAFF SGT. LEE RYAN, son of Bertha B. Ryan of Ingewood, Calif., has participated in an Air Force Strategic Air Command (SAC) exercise called Global Shield 82.

His wife, Cecilia, is the daughter of Jessye Myles of 804 Pine St., Big Spring.

Ryan, a construction control technician at March Air Force Base, Calif., with the 22nd Bombardment Wing, joined others from all SAC units in the United States and selected Air Force Reserve and Air National Guard units to take part in command post and field training exercises.

STAFF SGT. JEROME M. WILLIAMS, son of Jerry M. Williams of 1009 E. 21st St., has re-enlisted in the U.S. Army in Seoul, South Korea.

Williams is a personnel administration supervisor with the 227th Maintenance Battalion.

Navy Boiler Technician 1st Class Rudy P. Gutierrez, son of Antonio L. and Martha P. Gutierrez of P.O. Box 34, Tarzan, was designated an enlisted surface warfare specialist.

He received the designation while serving aboard the dock landing ship USS Alamo, San Diego.

To earn the insignia he was required to demonstrate superior knowledge and proficiency in his shipboard watch stations, especially during emergency and battle conditions. Other requirements include being in the top categories of leadership and performance, having 24 months aboard ship and passing an oral examination by his commanding officer.

Victor Yanez III, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Yanez Jr., 102 N.E. Ninth was promoted to sergeant recently. He, his wife Mary and two daughters are stationed in Schofield Barracks in Hawaii.

SUZANNE CLARK

The Board of Directors of Commercial Bank and Trust Company recently approved the appointment of Suzanne Clark as Credit Analyst and Assistant Cashier. The announcement was made by Robert D. Southerland, President.

Mrs. Clark, who joined the bank in June, graduated from Texas Tech University in May of 1982 with a B.B.A. in Finance and a Masters of Business Administration Degree. While attending Texas Tech, Mrs. Clark was elected to serve as the President's Hostess, appointed to the Dean's List, a member of the Junior Council, Business Administration Council and the Pi Beta Phi Sorority.

She is currently involved in the Business & Professional Women's Club (Uptown), the Midland Tennis Club and the Pi Beta Phi Alumni.

Footnotes from Howard County Library

Information services are abundant

By REBECCA TAYLOR
Reference Librarian

With school well under way, now is a good time to remind students and other library patrons of the information retrieval services of the Howard County Library.

A large portion of each year's budget is spent on informational materials to fill the needs of this area. Expensive reference encyclopedias are purchased on rotation to reduce the financial "bite" of staying current.

Usually, at least two general encyclopedias are this year's copyright. Specialized sets are purchased less often, either by less frequent editions, or by alternating with other sets.

Annual editions of reference books such as almanacs, directories, etc., are often purchased on standing order every year. Some, needed less often are purchased every other year or every two years.

THIS LIBRARY is a member of the Texas State Library System. In order to be a member, a library has to meet certain standards of service and support, but the benefits are many.

One of the services provided by the system is a grant of money called collection development program. Money is made available for the library to purchase adult and juvenile non-fiction, to pay for subscriptions to book selection tools such as Library Journal and to pay for a book rental plan.

This plan provides a temporary collection of popular new books which may or may not be of lasting value in this community. The program helps your library provide the most current data to patron use on a wide range of topics.

Another service made available by system membership is interlibrary loans. While the service is used for both pleasure reading and research, most of the requests are for informational needs.

The process of requesting an interlibrary loan consists of defining what you want and asking the reference librarian. There are a couple of restrictions on borrowing and a few guidelines to keep in mind:

• No books will be ordered if their copyright is in the last 12 months. Libraries are not willing to send their brand new books to other libraries before their own patrons have a chance at them.

• Books only published in paperback, costing less than $3 will not be sent beyond the Major Resource Center in Lubbock.

The guidelines to getting your request ready to place are as follows:

• Have clearly in mind what kind of information you want and the purpose to which it will be put.

• If you are asking for a particular book or a magazine article, the more information you have on it the better. The title of the book and name of the author are usually minimum.

For magazine articles, name of the magazine, date of the issue and the title of the article are needed. If you can give the source of your information, the chances of getting the material are even better.

Every resident of Howard County is eligible for access to this service provided by the Howard County Library.

America needs more Navy ships, Tower says

By JEAN McNAIR
Associated Press Writer

NORFOLK, Va. — The United States must step up its construction of Navy ships to compete with the Soviet Union's force, U.S. Sen. John G. Tower, R-Texas, said Saturday at the commissioning of the Navy's newest attack submarine, the USS Houston.

"We must sustain greater building rates in all the ship types in the force even if this means ... a larger defense budget," said Tower, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

The Soviet Union has more than 2,000 ships in its navy while the U.S. has 485, Tower said. The Reagan administration is pushing for a 600-ship Navy.

To reach that goal, submarines should be authorized at a minimum rate of three to four a year, Tower said. For the last two years, only two a year were approved, he said.

For the last 10 years, the Soviet Union has built about 12 submarines and 18 surface ships a year, Tower said.

"Each new class of ships they build is larger, more heavily armed and more wide-ranging than its predecessor," he said.

While the Soviet Union has more ships, Tower said, the U.S. still has an edge in naval defense because of its balanced mix of ships and the training of its sailors.

Vice Adm. S.A. White, commander of the submarine forces in the Navy's Atlantic Fleet, said the Soviets respect the U.S. submarine force.

"Submarines like the Houston and her sister ships cause the Soviet naval command many sleepless nights worrying about the capabilities of our submarine force," he said.

The nuclear-powered Houston, which officially entered the fleet with its commissioning, was built at Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Co.

The Houston is the Navy's 20th Los Angeles class attack submarine and the fourth Navy ship to bear that name.

Among the audience at the commissioning were about 30 graying survivors of the second Houston, a cruiser that sank during a battle with Japanese destroyers in the Java Sea in February 1942.

More than 700 American sailors from the Houston perished and the remaining 260 were captured and held in Japanese prison camps for 3½ years.

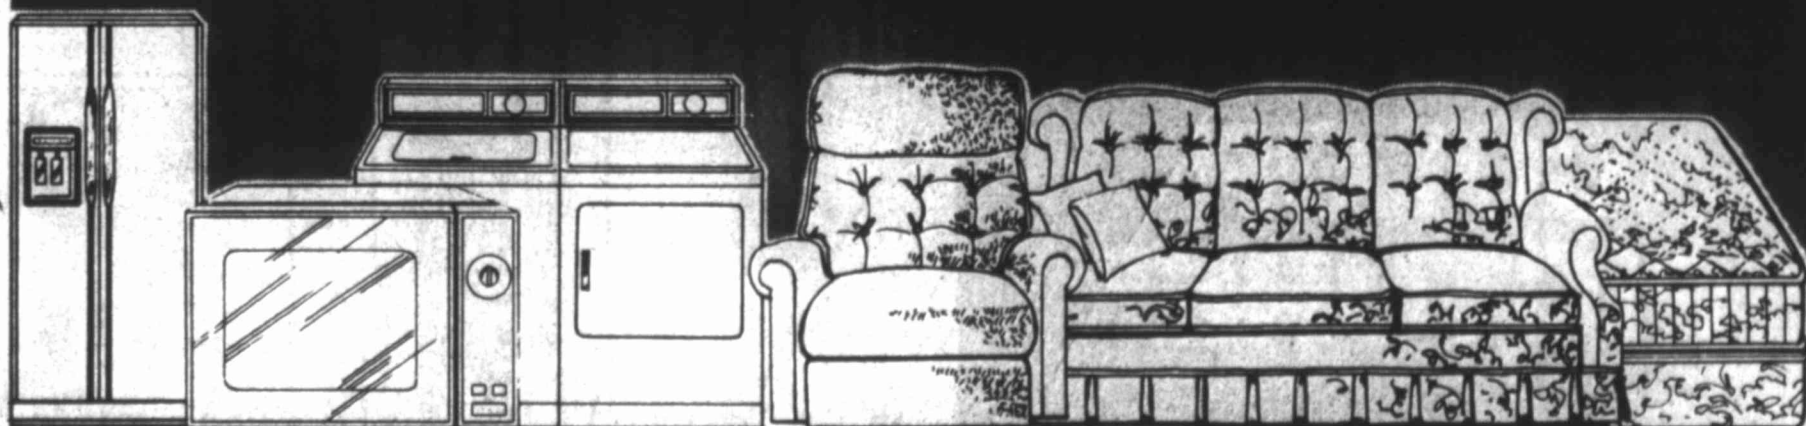

The first Houston was a German freighter captured during World War I. The ship served in the Atlantic and Pacific before being decommissioned in 1922.

The third Houston was a cruiser that served in World War II before being decommissioned in 1947.

HC plans street dance

In an effort to build spirit in the county, the Howard County Junior College District has scheduled a bonfire, pep rally and street dance for Tuesday, Oct. 5, according to Cheryl Sparks, associate vice president for student life.

The evening kicks off at 6 p.m. with a hamburger supper in Dora Roberts Student Union Building. Tickets for the supper can be purchased from area cheerleaders for $3 or reservations can be made by calling Howard College.

Following the supper at 7:30 p.m. cheerleaders, bands, coaches and athletes from Big Spring, Coahoma, Forsan, Sands high schools and the HCJCD will gather with other Howard County students and citizens just south of the tennis courts on 11th Place adjacent to the HC campus for the pep rally and bonfire.

After the bonfire, "Sessions" from Odessa will provide the music for a street dance.

"The pep rally and bonfire will not only help get the district's athletic season off on a positive note, but it will also show the HCJCD's support of the local schools and their activities. We think it's going to be a great spirit builder," Ms. Sparks said.

Garlic may add to life, study says

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Adding garlic, ginseng root or barley flour to diets may help increase life spans, according to a four-year study which has concluded that the spices and flour inhibit cholesterol accumulation in animals.

Three University of Wisconsin nutritionists who conducted the study say the foods may do the same for humans and may be a key to reducing atherosclerosis — fat deposits in the arteries.

Charles Elson, professor of nutritional sciences, and Asaf Qureshi and Warren Burger, university biochemists associated with the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Barley and Malt Laboratory, observed that atherosclerosis is a leading cause of heart disease and that the typical American diet is rich in the fats believed to encourage it.

"The American diet is often accused of increasing cholesterol levels," Elson said in a recent interview. "We are approaching the problem from a different angle: Perhaps our diets lack something, and this allows cholesterol levels to increase."

Burger said the experiments produced no adverse effects on poultry, rats and swine. He said the team will know in two months whether garlic, ginseng and barley intake can be increased safely in human diets.

Garlic has been credited since the days of ancient Rome with special health benefits, and many cultures thrived on barley before switching to wheat and other grains. Ginseng is a wild plant found throughout the United States, especially in forests.

Tests showed that by increasing garlic in poultry rations from 0.5 percent to 1.5 percent, chicken cholesterol levels decreased by 15 percent and more, the researchers said.

Adding 2.5 percent more ginseng had the same effect, they said.

They said cholesterol-inhibiting ingredients also can be found in high-protein barley flour that contains a crucial part of the kernel just below the hull. The kernel is often removed by modern milling techniques.

Elson said he hopes the research can benefit people whose bodies are unable to regulate cholesterol levels.

He said previous researchers have found garlic reduces cholesterol levels in those people. But effectiveness, he said, seems best when fresh garlic gloves are used as compared with processed dried and powdered garlic whose nutritional merits diminish during the processing.

Qureshi said the final phase of the experiments will determine whether garlic and ginseng might have some effect in decreasing the size of some cancerous tumors. Increasing garlic and ginseng in the diet, however, probably will not reduce the risk of cancer, he added.

SHOE STORE OPENS — R. Quiroz, employee at Endicott-Johnson Shoes in the Big Spring Mall tries selling shoes to chamber of commerce ambassador Jim Gregg. Endicott-Johnson, a leading shoe store chain, set up business in the new mall last week. The business will be open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. and its stocks a wide variety of footwear. Also pictured are, left to right, Troy Barfels, manager, Les Kent, employee, and chamber ambassador Gordon Myrick.

13 tons of pot seized

BROWNSVILLE (AP) — The crews of two U.S. registered fishing boats sailing between the Yucatan Peninsula and Cuba have been arrested and 13 tons of marijuana seized, the Coast Guard says.

One American was arrested on each of the 60-foot vessels and the other nine people taken into custody were Honduran, said Coast Guard spokesman Doug Dandos.

"Fishing vessels down in that section of the waterway headed north are usually suspicious," he said Friday, adding that the load was very heavy for the two boats.

Crews aboard the cutter Durable made the seizures Thursday after the vessels were spotted from the air, Dandos said.

The crews were to be arraigned at Key West, Fla., where they were expected to arrive today, he said.

CRMWD directors to consider 1983 budget

Purchase of equipment costing in excess of $100,000 will be on the agenda of the Colorado River Municipal Water District directors meeting Thursday at the Big Spring headquarters.

Also up for consideration will be the proposed budget for 1983 which likely for the first time will top the $10,000,000 mark.

The current budget was pegged at $9,965,000, but an anticipated 15 to 20 percent in electric power costs for next year could push the total budget to a new threshold.

Directors also will consider a depository bank for the revenue and the payroll funds for the biennium beginning Jan. 1, 1983, and they likely will employ a CPA firm to audit the books for the year ending Dec. 31, 1982.

Authorizations for equipment additions may include an auxiliary power unit to be stationed at Lake Spence spillway in event of a power outage when gates would need to be raised; replacement of original wooden structures with steel for electric substations at Snyder, the Big Spring-Odessa intake at Lake Thomas and at Morgan Creek booster station; also, two portable 8-in. pumps trailer mounted. Each could pump 2,000,000 gallons a day in event of major line breaks or to empty sloughs where pipelines now are submerged.

A final purchase is due to be a crawler-type front-end loader tractor with backhoe attachment. This alone may account for about $80,000 of the anticipated purchases.

Chicago bringing sounds to Midland

"Chicago 16" — Chicago. Warner Bros. Sweet 16. That's what it is for the rock group Chicago.

They had their beginning in the late 1960's but their popularity has peaked again in the early 80's with the release of "Chicago 16" and the No. 1 single "Hard to Say I'm Sorry."

Back on the road again, Chicago is playing to enthusiastic audiences and will be in Midland at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Chaparral Center on the Midland College campus. Reserved seat tickets are $10.50 and are on sale at Endless Horizon Records and Tapes in Midland and Odessa, Flip Side Records in Odessa and the Chap Center boxoffice (open from 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. daily).

Even an initial listen to the new album is a reflection on what made Chicago one of the most popular groups on the pop-rock scene in the 1970's. Chicago can rock — "25 or 6 to 4" and "Feelin' Stronger Every Day" — or can sing a ballad "Color My World" and "Just You and Me." Both styles are present on the new release along with the horns, guitar solos and other assorted musical wizardry that made the group widely recognized as an oasis of musical talent.

After a greatest hits album (No. 9), the group finally hit the top of the singles charts with "If You Leave Me Now." The tragic death of guitarist Terry Kath followed and the group hit the doldrums. They paused, reflected, regrouped and decided to move on. Their determination to continue was the message in "Alive Again" from the No. 11 album, "Hot Streets." There was "No Tell Lover" from No. 11 and then "Baby What A Big Surprise" from the 12th work.

But albums 13, 14 and 15 passes without much to remember. Now comes No. 16 and Chicago has regained its old flare.

In "Chicago 16," the old sound is back and rocking more than ever. "Sorry to Say" and the newest release, "Love Me Tomorrow," are two of the more subtle cuts on the album. But hints of the new Chicago energy are found at the end of the album version of "Hard to Say" where the group cooks with "Get Away."

The horns are back in full volume with James

Pankow blasting away on trombone. Bill Champlin has joined the group and is assisting mostly on keyboards. Producer David Foster got Jeremy Lubbock to do the string arrangements on the two hits and the resulting blend is well worth the effort.

Since everyone in the group is a songwriter, Chicago generally sticks to its own material. On "16," though, Ian Thomas contributes "Chains" and the addition doesn't miss a beat with the other nine numbers on the album.

"Hard to Say" stayed on No. 1 on the Billboard charts for two weeks and the album is currently holding down the No. 9 position.

Group member Walter Parazaider has indicated the group will play close to a half dozen cuts from the new album in concert, especially the more up tempo numbers. Of course there will be "Saturday in the Park," "Beginnings," "Does Anybody Really Know What Time It Is?" "Make Me Smile," "I've Been Searchin' So Long" and the many other greats the group has put in the top 10 since it first began its career on the charts.

The show is being brought to this area by Intervention of Oklahoma City. Comedian Alan Kaye will open the show.

Go-Go's new album still has the beat

"Vacation" — The Go-Go's. J.R.S. Records

The Go-Go's are going to be a musical force to contend with in the future.

While many people may have difficulty taking seriously an all-female band who have sung about having skidmarks on their hearts and other girl-guy problems, this album sets some new standards that belie the group's "happy-go-lucky" image.

The song that best indicates a new direction by the band is the album's closing tune "Worlds Away," a delicately weary song about escape. Lead singer Brenda Carlisle offers her best vocal as she expresses the physical and spiritual fatigue all people sometimes suffer.

As the song opens with a quiet guitar that is joined by soft synthesizer and a chiming triangle, Carlisle sings despairingly "I wanna be worlds away, apart from the day to day." As drums and bass lock in with depressing solidity, she pleads to get away from the pain and sorrow of everyday life.

Rhythm guitarist Jane Wiedlin and bassist Kathy Valentine penned the song that etches a subdued masterpiece of solitude. The band expresses a universal desire as Carlisle wants to be "slipping away to somewhere in my heart/go to a world where no one's been before — that's where I find myself."

The touch of orchestral strings mixing with modernistic synthesizers, the plaintive harmony vocal that brushes across Carlisle's lead, the pained cry for sanctuary — all of these elements add up to a quality tune far beyond the "girl group" stereotype the group has.

Despite the calm power of this tune, "Vacation" is not without its fun moments and its weak moments. The title cut is almost too good to be true. Snappy drums, fine supporting synthesizers and great harmonies make this an excellent dance song that leaves a good feeling in your brain as well as your feet.

However the same can not be said for "Cool Jerk," a real loser of a cut that exhibits the worst of the Go-Go's Fifties fixation. "Beatnik Beach" is better with some great drum sounds and a good "Pipeline" guitar sound. Also, when was the last time you heard a song with boss, keen, neat, groovy and limbo?

Other than Carlisle's maturing vocals, the real growth in the group has been by lead guitarist/keyboardist Charlotte Caffey. She adds uncluttered lead guitar lines to every song while using just the right amount of keyboards to her songs and the group's.

Musically, however, no one can touch the drumming of Gina Schock. Her raw professionalism gives each tune a foundation that is rock-steady from the punkish raunch of "We Don't Get Along" to the cheery snap in "This Old Feeling." She allows the other members to concentrate on other things besides maintaining the beat.

Speaking of "This Old Feeling," this is the freshest love song to be placed on vinyl in a long time. From the "do-do, do-do" Listeners can believe lines like "I'll wait at your door till eternity because you mean that much to me."

Q. Someone said the interest rate on a mortgage is not the actual interest rate you pay — that the actual rate is lower. How?

A. True. You will pay the interest rate as stated in the mortgage contract. However, mortgage interest is deductible from federal income tax and should be viewed as a "real" or after-tax interest rate. To compute: Multiply the stated mortgage interest rate by your income tax bracket (found in the Federal Income Tax Table). Subtract this from the mortgage interest rate. As an example, take a 12% mortgage and a 25% income tax bracket. $12 \times 25 = 3.00$ and $12 - 3.00 = 9\%$. The "real" after-tax interest rate. Deductions for interest payments as well as taxes such as city and county are all part of this important investment and should not be overlooked.

PRIMM, Texas (UP) — Edwin Harvey, junior at Primm High and representative of the Primm Roses football team, announced Friday morning a strike beginning with Friday night's district-opening football game with Rosewood High School.

"We, the members of the Primm High varsity football team, are going on strike and will not play another football game this season until differences between the team and school administration are reached," Harvey told a shocked gathering of students, school personnel, cheerleaders and members of the community including Oswald Upton, owner of Upton's Upholstery.

"It's the dangdest thing I've ever heard," Upton said after the announcement-shortened pep rally. "I haven't missed a game against Rosewood in 53 years. What are we going to do if they don't play? I guess we could meet at Red's for dominoes or drink ice tea with Hank and Thelma Wilkerson."

The news of a strike by the football team is not new in Primm. Players pointed out inadequacies in the school system during the summer and threatened to strike. Talks between Harvey and Jake Donnell, president of the school board, have stalled in the past month and Harvey went through on his threats.

Harvey has outlined a three-point plan. The players, he says first, are overworked by the coaching staff. "We get out there and bust our rear ends in two-a-days and they give us Gatorade Light. Have you ever tasted Gatorade Light? It just doesn't do the job. And other schools have the mesh jerseys. Primm? No way. We wear the same heavy cotton jerseys my dad had when he was in high school. In fact, I'm wearing the same jersey."

"Another thing is we want 55 per cent of the gross taken in by concession, program and ribbon sales. The band boosters, pep squad and cheerleaders are making a killing off of these sales. And it's all because of us. Then they take spring trips to places like New Orleans and Washington, D.C. What do we do? Go through spring drills...drinking Gatorade Light."

Harvey also wants his players to get a cut off the video-taping of the football games. "They show these films to boosters, civic clubs and on the highlights show on KUKU. We see nothing of it. People get a free laugh watching us blow assignments and miss tackles. We want something in return. My pickup could use a new tape deck and window curtains."

The news took coach Don Landry by surprise but he refused to back down. "The junior varsity boys did a fine job last week and I'll suit them out to play if necessary, if the town wants a football game. Otherwise, we have six new motivation tapes in from Grant Teaff, Lou Holtz and John Madden and we could all sit around in the cafeteria and listen to them Friday night."

Harvey told Donnell that negotiations on a settlement could begin as early as next week if one minor obstacle is overcome. That is the food in the cafeteria.

"Before we even start talking, we want steak before each game — road or home," Harvey demands. "Not any more of this taco salad bit. How can you play four quarters of football on tomatoes, lettuce and soybeans?"

Not all the players are in unison over a strike. "I won't strike," said Tim Zorn, third string center. "I have a college career to think about. And what would my girlfriend say? If I didn't play, my daddy would make me work stripping cotton. Football's a lot easier, even drinking Gatorade Light."

Donnell has made one counter offer already but was flatly refused by Harvey. "There's no way we're turning over 55 per cent of money-making projects to the players," he said, "but we'll give them a free Frito pie and kiss on the cheek after they win. But no more. And those video tapes are good for them. Good pub for college. They shouldn't complain."

Talks are currently at a stalemate. "Them kids are something, you know," mayor Pete Gazelle says. "Too much TV. Trying to grow up too quick. Why can't they all be like Johnny Unitas?"

"Because we're living in American society, that's why," answers Harvey. "Free enterprise. That's the name of that tune."

COLLISION COMING UP — Big Spring wide receiver Dale Crenshaw (48) returns a third quarter kickoff Friday night against the Abilene High Eagles. Eagles Pat Sigala (28) and Edward Bane (44) move in to contain the Steer returner. Crenshaw caught four passes for 46 yards but the Eagles claimed a District 4-A-A-A-A-A victory with the 20-6 win over Big Spring.

Eagles go to air, soar past Steers

Big Spring falls in opener, 20-6

By GREG JAKLEWICZ
Sports Editor

Abilene High coach Louie Spinks said "it was not a pretty win." Big Spring coach Quinn Eudy said "we beat ourselves." But from the spectator's standpoint, Friday night's district opener between Spinks' Eagles and Eudy's Steers was anything but the dismal affair the two coaches seemed to make of the event.

Converting the big play the four times they had to, the Eagles overcame a stubborn Big Spring front-line defense for a 20-6 District 4-A-A-A-A-A victory in Memorial Stadium.

The win gives surprising Abilene a 3-1 season mark before next week's showdown at home with Permian which mashed Midland 37-0 Friday. Big Spring drops to even 2-2 ledger and travels to meet those same Bulldogs next week in the Tall City.

The reason Spinks may have described the game as less than pretty was the Big Spring defense which manhandled his Eagles quarter one to quarter four.

"Big Spring whipped us on the line of scrimmage," Spinks admitted after the game. "They play well against us every year. I tell you what, Quinn Eudy is doing a heck of a job here. They played their heads off. I hope they don't get down."

What Spinks was referring to was the Big Spring defense, ranked No. 2 in the league prior to kick-off time. Ron Lewis, the Eagles No. 1 offense and No. 2 rated rusher in the league, spent most of the evening buried under black jerseys. He finished the night with 70 yards on 16 carries but that figure is deceptive. Until he broke free on a 26-yard gallop with less than two minutes to play, he had gained just 39 yards on 14 tries.

And he was having a good night as far as Eagle backs were concerned. Quarterback Steve Stacy was dropped for 23 yards in losses and the other three AHS runners combined for 41 yards.

"The nature of our defense is to stop the run," Eudy explains. "We've shut some pretty good backs down. They had only one good drive. The only time we were whipped on the line of scrimmage was the beginning of the third quarter."

But in football, as in all sports, the good teams make the adjustments necessary to win when the game plan doesn't work. And Stacy and the Eagles have to be given credit for doing just that.

Statistics	Big Spring	Abilene
First Downs	10	10
Rushing	142	88
Passing	58	150
Passes	7 of 17	6 of 15

The junior quarterback hit Jon Yarbrough on a 36-yard pass to set up the first AHS score in the first quarter and lofted a perfect pass to his favorite receiver streaking down the far sideline to complete an 80-yard pass and run play in the second period. He added both PAT kicks and the Eagles led 14-0.

With the home crowd silent after having watched Yarbrough take Stacy's pass at the Steer 40 over the outstretched arms of defender Alan Trevino and racing the final yards to the end zone, Big Spring could have easily tossed in their gold spirit towels.

Instead, the Steers cranked up a 61-yard drive two series later that quarterback Adam Rodriguez completed with a tackle-shedding 10-yard run into the end zone on the option play.

The offense — playing in slow motion for a quarter and a half — suddenly accelerated when Rodriguez turned a third and 12 into a first down with a scramble to the Abilene 47. Eric Sherman sprinted through the Eagle defense for 16 more yards and Rodriguez kept for nine to put Big Spring at the AHS 22.

Rodriguez passed to Robert Porras for seven yards and a first down at the 17. On third down from the 10, Rodriguez ran the veer to the right, faked the pitch and cut to the goal line. Dragging several tacklers, he fell into the end zone to make it 14-6 with 2:11 left before the half. Carl Green's PAT try was blocked but the Steers were back in the game.

Abilene had 150 total yards at halftime. They would get just 83 more the rest of the night as the game turned into a defensive struggle. And of that 150-yard total, 116 came on the two passes to Yarbrough.

The Eagles took the opening kickoff and an inched their way downfield from their 30 to the Big Spring 46. On third down, Stacy went to the air and found Yarbrough open for first down yardage. But that wasn't all.

(See "Steer defense" on page 5B)

WHERE ARE YOU GOING, BUDDY? — Abilene High running back Damon Edwards (34) is going no further than Big Spring linebacker Danny Stephen (31) will let him. Edwards gained just one yard on three carries as Abilene totaled just 88 yards on 46 rushing attempts.

Life without the NFL?

The sailing is great in San Diego. The autumn leaves in New England are a spectacular sight. The redfish are running and the jazz is hot in New Orleans.

Visit Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco. Hop on the Gateway Clipper in Pittsburgh for a cruise up the Monongahela. Visit the White House in Washington. Fort McHenry in Baltimore, the space center in Houston...

There are plenty of things to see and do this Sunday in a dozen National Football League cities — except go to the NFL games they were supposed to be hosting. And on Monday night in Cleveland... well, there's always "The Outlaw Josie Wales."

That motion picture is ABC's entry into alternative programming during the first regular-season strike in the 63-year history of the NFL. NBC and CBS are sticking with football — of sorts.

CBS is expanding its "NFL Today" show to four hours, during which an edited version of Super Bowl XVI between Cincinnati and San Francisco will be shown.

And NBC is heading north for a Canadian Football League double-header, the British Columbia Lions at the Toronto Argonauts and the Calgary Stampeders at the Edmonton Eskimos.

Instead of usual slate of Sunday games, the 1,500 or so NFL players are scattered around the nation — some at home working out on their own, others staying close to their team's city and taking part in organized practices with their striking.

A lot of people will also discover that a single is not a line drive over the shortstop's head but a point awarded in the CFL for a kick into the end zone; that it's tough to call illegal motion, since everyone in the backfield can run every which way before the snap, and that first-and-10 on the 53-yard line doesn't mean the computer is out of whack.

Contract negotiations, deadlocked and abandoned on Sept. 17, three days before the players union officially called the strike, were to resume this weekend. Pete Rozelle, the NFL commissioner, has said he would be willing to sit in on the talks as a mediator, not as a representative of the owners.

"Face The Nation," a Sunday-morning program usually reserved for world leaders and politicians, is showcasing Gene Upshaw, the union president and a lineman for the Raiders.

Last Tuesday, on the day President Reagan ordered the Marines back into Lebanon, newspapers across the nation banner-headlined the start of the strike. Each day of the week, with no apparent progress toward settling the dispute, Donlan and Garvey held news conferences to decry the other's intractability and discuss legal steps to either permit the players to play their so-called all-star games or prohibit them from doing so.

Newspapers' editorial space, generally reserved for opinion and debate over recessions, foreign and domestic policy and crime in the streets, took to task either the owners or players — and often both — for disrupting the natural order of autumn. In New York, the Daily News was conducting a strike poll, asking "Who do you blame more?" with owners' and players' boxes to be checked off and mailed in by coupon-clipping readers.

Waterford Park, a thoroughbred track in West Virginia which normally goes dark on Sundays during the NFL season, reacted by remaining open.

Jayton tames Cougars, 21-6

By RICHARD HORN
Staff Writer

KLONDIKE — The Jayton Jaybirds took advantage of errors and misfortunes and fought to a 21-6 victory over the Klondike Cougars here Friday night.

It was Klondike's first loss in four outings. Jayton remains undefeated after three games.

For the Cougars, it was a loss brought on by mistakes. Three fumbles were lost, three passes were intercepted.

"We had too many turnovers," Cougar coach Bill West said after the game. "We just got in the hole and couldn't get out."

West said he expected a defensive battle. He got it for the most part. Neither team could get their offense working in the first quarter.

Klondike came closest to scoring after a 38-yard pass from quarterback Tim Cope to half-back Mike Barkowsky put the Cougars on the Jayton 6-yard line.

Cope inched the Cougars to within one yard, but was kept from scoring by a Jayton brick wall called John Hilton. Klondike ran out of downs with six inches to go.

Jayton threatened from near the Klondike 20-yard line in their first possession, but were forced to punt after quarterback Timmy Bryant was unable to connect with receivers.

Neither team had a great a passing game.

Klondike's Cope completed 4 out of 19 for 152 yards. Bryant completed 6 of 17 for the Jaybirds, but netted only 109 yards.

Jayton penalties kept the score from tilting even more in their favor. Twice they were called back after almost certain scoring plays, once after a spectacular interception by Bryant.

The Jaybirds lit the scoreboard in the second quarter after a short Klondike punt was recovered on the Cougar 44. Bryant led the Jaybirds on short runs until a 30-yard pass to Rickey Kyle put them near the Cougar goal line. Kyle dove over the line on the next play with 5:47 left in the half.

Klondike could not get out of their own territory for the rest of the half. Jayton scored again in the closing seconds after Monty Sartain intercepted a Cope pass and ran it to the Cougar 35. A 25-yard pass to Mike Morales put the Jaybirds again at Klondike's doorstep. Rickey Kyle ran the ball in and Bryant's kick gave the Jaybirds a 14-0 halftime lead.

Klondike was again kept in their own territory for their first two possessions of the second half, but late in the third quarter they fought out of the hole.

An excellent Jaybird punt by Kendall Stanaland gave Klondike the ball on their own 6-yard line. A play later Cope fired a pass that Blaine Todd grabbed at the Klondike 35 — and in open territory. Todd eluded the Jaybird defense to complete a 95-yard pass-run play that put the Cougars in the game.

But an attempted two-point conversion play failed, giving Jayton a still comfortable 14-6 lead.

The Jaybirds pushed the lead further in the final seconds of the game when a Klondike pass was intercepted by Jimmy Grice on the Cougar 5 yard-line. Bryant let Paul Morales carry the ball in to put the score at 21-6 with just seconds remaining.

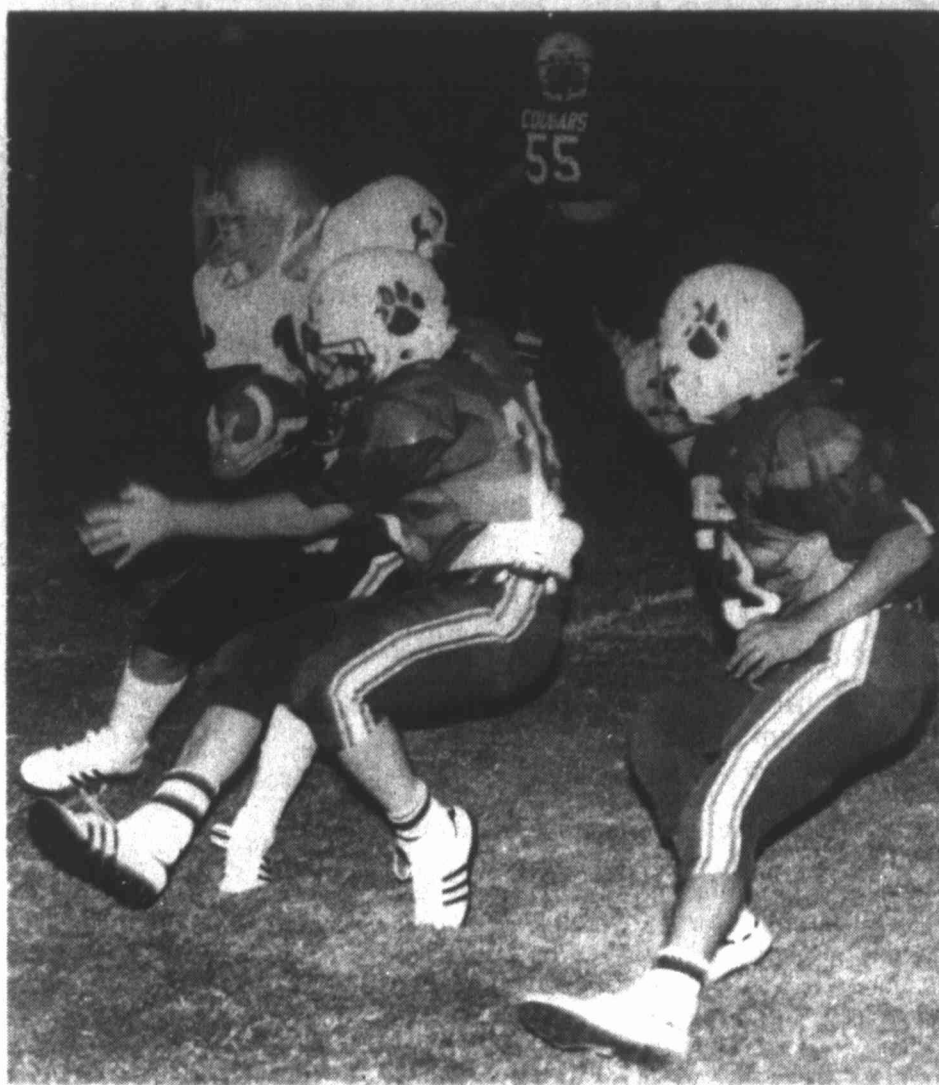

Klondike will travel to Jal, N.M. next Friday.

GIFT WRAPPING — Jayton quarterback Timmy Bryant doesn't get too far around left end because of the defense of Klondike Cougars Mike Barkowsky (20) and Ricky Landin (53). Bryant recovered to guide his Jaybirds to a 21-6 victory, ending Klondike's three-game winning streak.

Sands stays undefeated with win over O'Donnell

ACKERLY — Robby Creswell scored two touchdowns and ran for 124 yards on the night to lead undefeated Sands to a 20-0 shutout victory over O'Donnell here Friday night.

The Mustangs collected another shutout despite yielding 211 yards to the Eagles. The win is the fourth of the season for Sands after a 1-6-3 campaign last year.

Creswell scored on a one-yard touchdown run late in the first half to tie Chris Wigington kicked the PAT to give the Mustangs a 7-0 advantage at halftime.

With 4:10 left in the third quarter, Creswell scored again on a one-yard run but Wigington missed the kick. Marshall Long put the game out of reach with 3:30 left when he scampered 24 yards for the third TD of the night. Wigington kicked the PAT.

Santos Ybarra added 90 yards on 16 carries as Sands piled up 255 yards on the ground and 293 total yards.

The loss drops O'Donnell to 0-4 on the year.

Pair of safeties cost Stanton in strange 4-0 loss to Hamlin

STANTON — A non-existent offense and two safeties in the second half cost Stanton the ballgame as the Buffs lost to Hamlin 4-0 in a non-district clash. Stanton draws even at 2-2 while Hamlin takes their first victory against three losses.

After a scoreless first half, Hamlin got on the scoreboard as Stanton attempted a quick kick in their own zone. The play misfired, and Hamlin was awarded a two-point safety.

Hamlin gained another safety in the fourth quarter when the snap from center on fourth down sailed through the Stanton punter's hands and the end zone.

Stanton was held to a minus-28 yards rushing by the Hamlin defense. The Buffs fared no better in the air as they connected with only one pass in 14 attempts for 10 yards. Hamlin gained 119 yards rushing but was unable to push the ball into the end zone.

Wolves whip Wylie 23-14

COLORADO CITY — Larry Hamilton rushed for three touchdowns, including a 70-yard sprint in the fourth quarter, to lead the Colorado City Wolves to a 23-14 victory over the Wylie Bulldogs Friday night.

Colorado City grabs its first victory against three losses while Wylie falls to 0-4.

Hamilton, who gained 169 yards for the night, scored first touchdown of the game with four minutes left in the first quarter. He ran six yards to put Colorado City up 7-0 after Tip Chaney booted the extra point. The short run capped a 97-yard drive by the Wolves' offense.

Colorado City led 10-0 at the half after Tip Chaney kicked a 35-yard field goal for the only scoring of the half.

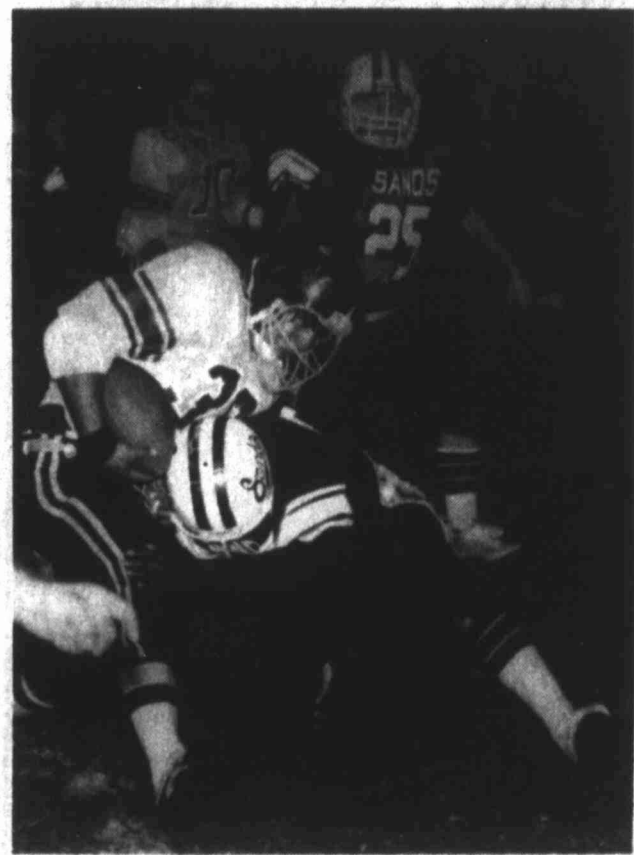

Wylie's defense got the Bulldogs in the scoring column in the third quarter as Todd Redwine intercepted an errant C-City pass and returned it 20 yards for a touchdown. Quarterback Bobby Lilljebahl sneaked over for the two-point conversion. Hamilton struck again with a one-yard plunge to put Colorado City ahead 17-8 at the end of the third quarter.

Wylie came back mid-way through the fourth as Lilljebahl hit Keith Glover with a 40-yard scoring pass. The PAT failed. With the Wolves leading only 17-14 with four minutes left, Hamilton sealed the victory as he broke a 70-yard run for a touchdown.

Colorado City Coach Tom Ramsey credited his defense with making the victory possible as the Wylie quarterback was sacked five times by the hard-charging line.

HOLD ON THERE — O'Donnell running back Tony Zamarras is about to go down in the hands of this Sands defender. Rushing to the scene is Robby Creswell (25). The Mustangs move to 4-0 on the season with a 20-0 shutout of the Eagles Friday night.

Grady comeback tramples Trent

GRADY — Battling back from a 14-0 first quarter deficit, the Grady Wildcats scored twice in the final quarter to upend the Trent Gorillas in a key District 2-A Six-Man contest here Friday night.

Trailing 22-12 entering the final quarter, the Wildcats went to the air. Lynn Key tossed an 18-yard pass to Brete Bedwell to cut the score to 22-18.

The kick for two point was blocked.

Key went to the air again, finding Benny Stone open in the end zone for a three-yard scoring play. Fred Garcia kicked the PAT and Grady had snapped Trent's three-game win streak.

Trent scored twice in the second quarter when Bedwell went two yards for a touchdown to make the score 14-6 at halftime. Trent dug the hole even deeper when Jesus Valdez scored on a three-yard run and Williams kicked the conversion to make it 22-6.

That's when Mr. Key went to work, first scoring on a three-yard run to bring his team within 10 points. Then he went to the pass, completing scoring strikes to Bedwell and Stone in the final quarter to lift Grady to the victory.

Key rushed 27 times for 237 yards while Beaver led Trent with 174 yards on 23 carries.

For the game, Grady piled up 389 total yards to 296 for Trent. Both teams lost four fumbles.

Bedwell added 38 yards and Jay Billingsley 15 for Grady. Mike Halford had 72 for Trent.

Grady travels to Hermeigh for its next district outing next week.

ROPED AND TIED — Colorado City running back Larry Hamilton (20) can't go anywhere with this Wylie defender hanging onto both his legs. The Wolves got going, however, winning their first game of the season with a 23-14 victory over winless Wylie in their homecoming game.

Owls schooled by 'Dogs, 27-6

COAHOMA (SC) — Coahoma dominated the first three quarters, scoring four touchdowns as the Bulldogs claimed a 27-6 non-district victory over Reagan Co. Friday night.

The victory gives Coahoma a 2-2 season record while Reagan Co. slipped to 0-4 with the loss.

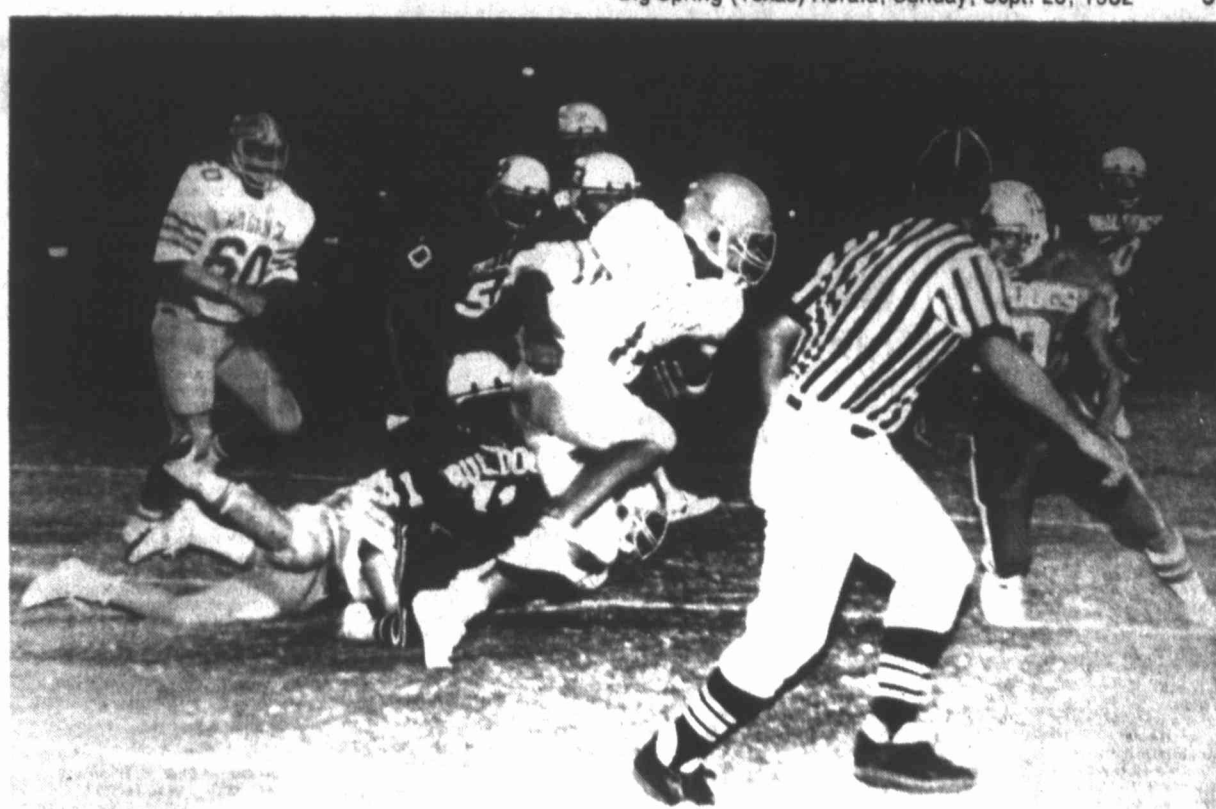

Fullback John Wilson scored early in the game with 10:16 left in the first quarter. Wilson rushed 37 yards for a second touchdown in the second quarter and James Gilbert kicked both PATs to give the Bulldogs a 14-0 lead over the Owls with 6:06 left in the half.

Halfback Charlie Martinez caught a 31 yard pass from quarterback Todd Engel with 3:59 left in the second quarter. The PAT was no good, leaving Coahoma with a 20-0 advantage at halftime.

The Bulldogs continued to dominate the game in the third quarter, moving into a 27-0 lead. The touchdown came on a 36 yard run by halfback Kelley Martin and a PAT kick by Gilbert.

Running back Greg Fisher almost broke through the Bulldog defense twice, but the Owls scored only once early in the fourth quarter. Quarterback Jeff Garner threw a 17-yard scoring pass to end Brad Armstrong with 10:47 left in the game. PAT was no good.

CONTAINMENT DEFENSE — Owl running back Gregg Fisher (14) goes right but has Coahoma defender Scott Mayhall (10) waiting around the corner. The Bulldogs were waiting for Reagan Co. all night, evening their season record at 2-2 with a 27-6 victory Friday night before the home folks.

La. Tech placed on probation by conference

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) — Louisiana Tech's football program and McNeese University's baseball team have been placed on probation by the Southland Conference.

The sanctions against Tech were for alleged infractions during the 1980 season. Conference Commissioner Dick Oliver and a school spokesman in Ruston, La., refused to describe the violations. Terms of the probation prohibit Tech's head coach Billy Brewer from recruiting on or off campus for a year and reduce by three the number of financial aid awards the school can give during the 1983-84 term. The conference took action against McNeese because the school used a freshman player who had not graduated from high school.

Bearcats bust Forsan, 14-7

Batla, defense keys for Garden City

GARDEN CITY — Garden City did all their scoring in the second quarter, but it was enough for a 14-7 win over Robert Lee in opening 7-A district action for the two teams. Garden City climbs to 2-2 overall with a district win while Robert Lee drops to 0-3-1 with the loss.

Both teams were scoreless in the first quarter, but Garden City's Richard Batla hit Gilbert Sanchez for a five-yard touchdown with 9:31 left in the second quarter. Doug Hoelscher added the point-after kick.

Less than two minutes later, Batla fumbled on the one-yard line just shy of a touchdown, but teammate Barry Holdampf

Robert Lee finally scored in the third quarter when Greg Grim sprinted 40 yards for a touchdown. Kyle Gibbs added the PAT. Both teams were scoreless in the fourth quarter.

Greenwood falls for fourth time straight and dropped the Rangers to 0-4 in district play. SC improves to 3-1 for the year and 1-0 in District 7-A.

Colvert scored first in the first quarter on a one-yard run and then booted the PAT. He scored again late in the first half, going into the end zone from three ways this time. He again added the PAT to make the eventual final score 14-0.

For the game, Colvert gained 118 yards on 24 carries.

Greenwood was stymied on offense. After three games of over 100 yards passing, the Rangers could hit only three of 20 passes for 19 yards. They gained only 81 on the ground for 100 total yards compared to 281 for Sterling City.

Burns leads Southern

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Confident George Burns ripped out three consecutive birdies early in his round Saturday en route to a 4-under-par 66 to take a one-shot lead after the third round of the $250,000 Southern Open Golf Tournament.

The 33-year-old Burns, looking for his third victory in seven years on the PGA tour, was at 201, 9-under par over the 6,791-yard Green Island Country Club course.

Bobby Clampett, the 22-year-old former Brigham Young star who has 17 top 10 finishes but no victories in two years on the tour, birdied two of his last three holes to finish with a 68 and 202 total, one shot behind the leader.

Another shot back was John Fought, who led after the second round, Fought, another former BYU player, shot an even-par 70 and a 203 total.

At 204 were Hal Sutton and Lon Nielsen. Sutton had a 68 and Nielsen a 67 Saturday on a day that began cloudy but finished in bright sunshine and 75-degree weather.

Andy Bean led a group of six golfers at 205, that included Wally Armstrong, Gary Hallberg, Larry Rinker, John Adams and Vance Heafner.

Bean and Armstrong had 69s while Rinker and Heafner had 66s, Adams a 67 and Hallberg a 68.

Still in the battle for the $45,000 first prize were Lance Ten Broeck, the first round co-leader who had a 68 for 206. Also at that figure were Jim Thorpe and Bill Calfee. Thorpe had a 69 and Calfee a 67.

Hale Irwin was at 207 after a 67. Larry Nelson had a 69 for 209, and defending champion J.C. Snead had a 71 for 211.

"I was pleased with my round," said Burns, who has earned over $154,000 this year but has not won since the 1980 Bing Crosby. "I scrambled well."

Burns got birdies ranging from eight to 10 feet on the fifth, sixth and seventh holes and added another of eight feet on 13. He also scrambled

Strake Talk

CRIME: IT'S THE VICTIMS WHO ARE LOCKED UP

I want to talk to you this week about an issue that troubles me greatly and which I know is of great concern to Texans. It seems that whenever I have spoken about crime in the past 12 months I have gotten a strong and troubled response. No matter where I am—Jewett, Roma or Dalhart—people tell me they are angry and afraid about crime in our state.

This anger and fear concerns me for two reasons. First, because this kind of anger and fear serves as a sort of "jail" for innocent people. They are the ones locked in their homes at night while criminals go free. The second reason I am concerned is because unless something is done to stop the crime epidemic, people will be ripe for the kind of politician who will play on citizens' fears. The result could be that Texans lose their liberty in return for their "safety". In that sense, the crime problem is like a cancer gnawing at democracy.

The incumbent Lt. Governor's response to the crime issue has been shameful. While he has been in office the crime rate has risen 131%. He has done nothing to attack crime in a substantial way. In fact, he has fought stronger anti-crime measures. He openly opposed the new wiretapping law designed to catch drug dealers. He openly opposed the Governor's anti-crime package by putting it in a legislative committee run by a hostile Senator, who promptly bottled it up. Much of the package passed anyway and now Mr. Hobby has the gall to go around the state taking credit for it!

His sympathies in the fight against crime are evident. Not long ago he allowed the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) to hold a fundraiser in his Houston mansion and he proudly defends it. The ACLU has consistently opposed laws that would make it easier to deal with the crime problem.

I think such two-faced maneuvering is disgraceful. It is obvious that if we are going to attack the crime problem, if we are ever going to give law officers, judges and prison guards the tools they need to make us safer, Bill Hobby will have to go.

If you have thoughts about this, I'd like to hear from you. Please write me at 1213 W. 34th, Austin, 78705.

Steer defense buckles down on AHS runners

He slipped two tackles and was down to the 10 before his forward progress was stopped. Two runs got the Eagles to the two where Stacy rolled out right on third down. With the Steers more concerned with the three receivers in front of him, Stacy tucked the ball and took it in himself.

Rodriguez was intercepted on the next Steer possession at the 35 but his defense gave up just one yard in four plays and held the Eagles.

Big Spring couldn't move the ball and Jay Pirkle's 36-yard punt into the wind put AHS at their own 21. Russell Christian lost a yard and Stacy missed on a pass to Gene Hudgins as the quarter closed.

With third and 11 and working against a stiff northerly wind, Stacy did what no one expected, go for the bomb. He ran his patented rollout to the right, waited until Yarborough got a shoulder by Trevino and heaved the football. It went 45 yards in the air and landed beyond the Big Spring defender's tight defense. Trevino tried to pull down his adversary but Yarborough broke free and ran the final 40 yards by himself.

"It was a good throw," Spinks said later. Stacy said Yarborough was his man on the play and he just waited until he was open.

"I knew I could throw it that far," he grinned. "Jon's pretty fast. I just got it out there to him."

The long pass was the deciding blow against Big Spring but Stacy's 24-yard field goal midway through the third quarter put a tight lid on the game.

Taking the opening kickoff, Abilene drove to the Steer seven before settling for the kick. Big plays on the drive were a 17-yard scamper by backup fullback Pat Sigala and a 13-yard pass from Stacy to Jimmy Loza that gave AHS a first down at the 11.

The biggest play, however, was a fumble by Lewis on the first play from the Eagle 37. After getting hit hard, the popped straight up and fell under Pirkle. Black and white jerseys piled up and when they were pulled apart Lewis somehow had the football back in his possession.

"I thought I had it," Pirkle shook his head. "I know I was sitting on it. I reached down to get it and he pulled it away from me."

Instead of Big Spring having the ball in Eagle territory, Abilene had a seven-yard gain and was off towards three points.

The best chance the Steers had at scoring came midway through the final quarter. Rodriguez hit Dale Crenshaw with two passes and guided Big Spring to a first down at the Abilene 30. But when he tried to keep it himself, Christian flipped the ball out of his hands and Sigala fell on the fumble at the 27.

Abilene added its final points after Big Spring was stopped at midfield with 3:03 to go. Lewis finally showed the moves he is known for, bobbing and weaving for a 26-yard gain to the Steer 21. The Eagles got no closer than the 17 but Stacy rocketed a 20-yard field goal on fourth down to make it 20-6 with just 48 seconds to play.

"They had some big plays," said Steer linebacker George Bancroft. "They drove it just enough on us to kick a few field goals."

On Big Spring's tough run defense, Bancroft said, "I always feel real confident against the run. If they make five yards on one play, they won't anything on the next. We're just going to have to forget about it and work hard for the next game. They're not going to get down. If you get down, you don't gain anything."

Stacy didn't have much luck passing after the two early throws to Yarborough. That was due to the fierce Big Spring pass rush led by Green and Pat Burke.

"It was pretty good," Carl said of the pressure on Stacy. "I running stunts and no one was picking me up. I had nothing to do but tackle him (Stacy)."

"We weren't getting through," Burke said of Stacy's time to throw early in the contest. "But you can't cover a guy all day so we tried to rush more and anticipate when we thought he was going to pass."

Eudy was lost for words after the game.

"It was the damnest game I ever coached," he shook his head. "But tomorrow we're going to show the film and tell them what they did wrong and what they did right. They're starting all over. We're going to work on that positive attitude. The kids went out of here tonight in the frame of mind to bust some butts."

"I told these kids can compete."

Central wins; Lee upended

By GREG JAKLEWICZ

Abilene Cooper came within a penalty of possibly tying or upsetting No. 4 state-ranked San Angelo Central as District 4-A-A-A-A-A play opened across West Texas Friday night.

Trailing 21-14 with less than a minute to play, the Coogs scored an apparent touchdown only to have the scoring play called back because of an illegal man downfield. Cooper was left stranded at the Central 12 on downs and the Bobcats had won another thriller.

In other games around the 4-5A circuit, Odessa surprised Midland Lee with a 10-7 victory, Permian mauled Midland High 37-0 and Abilene passed up Big Spring 20-6.

Here's how they went around the loop on opening night:

Central 21, Cooper 14

ABILENE — Michael T. Royals rushed for 184 yards and Allen Gunter added 94 as the Coogs dominated the offensive stats. The difference in the game was an 88-yard kickoff return by Jimmy Spiers after Royals had tied the game with a 69-yard burst in the fourth quarter.

San Angelo led 7-0 at halftime thanks to a 43-yard run by Trey Wright in the first quarter after the Bobcats had stopped the opening Cooper drive with a pass interception.

Cooper tied the game in the third quarter when Royals lumbered 64 yards for a touchdown but the Bobcats retaliated quickly, going 76 yards in 14 plays to go ahead on Jeff Schkade's one-yard plunge.

Odessa 10, Lee 7

MIDLAND — Freddie Alvarado kicked a 38-yard field goal with 4:08 left in the game to lift the amazing Bronchos to a 10-7 victory over previously unbeaten Lee.

Lee scored first when fullback Scott Ackroyd pushed three yards for a touchdown less than five minutes into the game. The TD was set up when Odessa quarterback Albert Cruz made a bad pitchout at his 17 and

SWC Roundup

SMU, Baylor barely survive

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Bobby Collins got the scare of his short Southern Methodist University coaching career Saturday night against bitter rival Texas Christian.

The naughty Horned Frogs led the Mustangs by a touchdown at the end of three periods before falling 16-13 to the nation's No. 6 ranked team.

"We have to give TCU a tremendous amount of credit... their linebackers are about as aggressive a group of players (as) I've ever competed against," said Collins, who came to SMU this year from Southern Mississippi.

"Going into the game we knew TCU's strength was their defense, but we didn't expect them to play so aggressively."

He added "although our execution wasn't very smooth, we kept our poise... this is a very cool under-the-collar football team. This is a very important win for us... to win the first conference game gives us a lot of confidence."

TCU Coach F.A. Dry said, "We had a chance to win... Our defense played great. It's hard to lose a game like that."

Eric Dickerson slashing runs help bring the Mustangs from behind.

Baylor 24, Texas Tech 23

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Texas Tech gambled and lost on Jim Hart's pass for a two-point conversion with 43 seconds left Saturday night and permitted Baylor to escape with a 24-23 victory in the Southwest Conference opener for both schools.

Hart guided the Red Raiders 65 yards in a race with the clock and scored himself on a 14-yard run with 43 seconds remaining.

Tech, 1-2, chose to gamble on a victory, but Hart's desperation pass was batted down in the end zone.

On a similar play last week, Hart was successful as the Raiders nipped the Air Force 31-30.

Baylor linebacker Jeff Gandy galloped 61 yards with an intercepted pass to torpedo an earlier Texas Tech rally and secure Coach Grant Teaff's 100th triumph.

Texas 21, Missouri 0

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Flanker Herkie Walls raced 80 yards on an end around and a striking defense led by

Big Spring, Texas.
1984 Sept. 19, 26 & Oct. 3, 1982

PUBLIC NOTICE

The victory was all the more impressive, considering Northwestern's quarterback corps was diminished to No. 2 Powell and No. 3 Leonard after No. 1 Bobby Hebert broke his ribs in last week's game.

Abilene Christian fell to 2-1 for the season.

Southwestern La. 31, NTSU 14

DENTON, Texas (AP) — Don Wallace threw for two touchdowns and ran for another Saturday afternoon to pace Southwestern Louisiana to a 31-14 win over North Texas State in a college football game.

The win raised Southwestern Louisiana's record to 3-0 and the loss dropped North Texas to 0-4 for the season.

Austin College 27, LCC 8

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Three turnovers that top-ranked Austin College turned into lightning-fast touchdowns led the Roos to a 27-8 victory over Lubbock Christian Saturday.

The Roos iced the game away with a 57-yard march following an interception, a 20-yard run following a fumble recovery and a three-play, 47-yard drive in the fourth quarter.

Austin College reserve quarterback Troy Clark gained 97 yards on the ground and one touchdown. Austin College, now 2-0, had 266 yards on the ground.

linebacker Jeff Leiding scored another touchdown and shutout Missouri's potent offense Saturday night as No. 17 Texas grabbed a 21-0 intersectional victory.

THE FAMILY CIRCUS

SUNDAY, Feb. 26, 1992
GENERAL TENDENCIES: After a sudden crisis in the morning which you may not have time to deal with, you will not have to live, you can make long-range plans that could give you more time to live.
ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Don't make plans in the morning that you'll regret later. After a crisis, you'll have a new philosophy that could be helpful to you.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Morning is not good for pursuing some personal aims but the evening is fine and good for them.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Seek a spot early in the day where you can get away from the morning's problems and issues with family members.
CANCER (June 22 to July 22) A crisis in the morning will be less a morning but don't let this bother you.
LEO (July 23 to Aug. 21) Be sure you don't sink some in authority or you will regret it. Plan the evening and week's activities wisely and make

MONDAY, SEPT. 9, 1992
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Early morning confusion and depression is soon followed by a strong sense of purpose which results in progress in ideas. A valuable ally now is precious time.
ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Be more willing to listen to the views of others who are not so dynamic as you are. Share your personal aims. Strive for happiness.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You have weird hunches early in the day. Dig deep for the truth and not mere goals. Plan your future wisely.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You will have a crisis in the morning. Be careful what you say before you do anything about it.
MOON CHANGES (July 22 to Aug. 21) Messages you receive may not be what you want, but you can benefit by adopting a better attitude.
LEO (July 23 to Aug. 21) Don't take a crisis in the morning too seriously. In the morning, in the afternoon you can progress. (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Wait until the end of the month before putting into effect any new ideas. Use the new or old methods for best results.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Study your own life. Do not try to do too much to best handle them. The afternoon is best for having a serious talk with loved ones.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Take time to think. Do not try to impress over a personal matter with loyal friends. Be poised at all times.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) A fine day for getting out and visiting. Do not let your friends know your wishes which are accurate now.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Do not let your friends know what you later they want out just fine for you. Do not let your friends know what you want.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) The situation at home requires diplomacy. Make sure that you are not in a hurry to make them necessary.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 21) A new group of people to pull them in. Study before you pull it in operation. Do not let your friends know what you want.

Nebraska, Ohio St. are latest upset victims

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP) — Quarterback Todd Blackledge tossed a 2-yard touchdown pass to backup tight end Kirk Bowman with four seconds left in the game to rally eighth-ranked Penn State to a 27-24 victory over second-ranked Nebraska on Saturday.

The Nittany Lions marched 80 yards on 10 plays after falling behind 24-21 on a 1-yard touchdown plunge by Nebraska quarterback Turner Gill with 1:18 to play, capping a 13-play, 80-yard Cornhuskers' drive.

Penn State took the kickoff and with a personal foul tacked on, started from its 35 with little more than a minute left.

Blackledge hit Skeeter Nichols with a 15-yard screen pass to midfield.

On second down, he connected with flanker Kenny Jackson for 17 and another first down at the Nebraska 33.

Around the Nation

Faced with a fourth-and-11 situation, Blackledge again hit Jackson for a first down at the Cornhusker 23. The quarterback ran for 5 yards, passed 16 to Mike McCloskey for a first down at the 2-yard line.

He then connected with Bowman almost on the back line of the end zone for the winning score.

Stanford 23, Ohio St. 20

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Quarterback John Elway's passing led Stanford 80 yards in the final moments Saturday, giving the Cardinals a 23-20 nationally televised college football upset of 13th-ranked Ohio State.

Elway, the total yardage leader in major college ranks this week, connected on four of six passes in the last 1:38 after the Cardinals had intercepted Ohio State's Mike Tomczak in their own end zone.

Elway completed the whirlwind finish by throwing 18 yards to split end Emile Harry for the winning touchdown with 34 seconds left.

Ohio Stadium's largest crowd ever of 89,436 fans sat stunned as Ohio State appeared headed for a victory when the Buckeyes scored midway through the final quarter.

A 63-yard pass play from split end Gary Williams to flanker Cedric Anderson set up Ohio State's touchdown on the Stanford 5-yard line.

Two plays later, tailback Tim Spencer bolted 2 yards for a 20-13 lead with less than nine minutes left to play.

Mark Harmon booted a 47-yard field goal, his third of the game, to slice the Buckeyes' margin to 20-16 with 4:54 remaining.

On Stanford's next series, outside linebacker Rowland Tatum intercepted Elway's pass at the Ohio State 46 and returned it 21 yards with 2:23 to play.

Two plays later, Stanford safety Charles Hutchings intercepted a pass by sophomore quarterback Tomczak in the Cardinals' end zone with 1:38 left. That was all Elway needed, hitting four of six passes for the entire 80 yards in 64 seconds to give Stanford its second victory in three games this season.

Washington 37, Oregon 21

SEATTLE (AP) — Sterling Hinds ran for three touchdowns, two of them in the fourth quarter, and No. 1-ranked Washington struggled from behind twice to defeat winless Oregon 37-21 in a Pacific 10 Conference football game Saturday.

Hinds capped a 76-yard, 10-play drive early in the fourth quarter to put Washington in front for good with a 14-yard touchdown run after the Ducks had moved ahead on a 22-yard run by Terrance Jones.

Oregon reserve quarterback Kevin Lusk, who had led the Ducks from a 17-7 deficit to a 21-17 lead early in the fourth period, then threw passes that were intercepted by Chris O'Connor and Mark Stewart.

The Huskies cashed in the interceptions with a 3-yard touchdown run by Hinds after an eight-play, 27-yard drive and a 27-yard field goal by Chuck Nelson.

The Ducks, who had not scored a touchdown from scrimmage in three earlier losses this season, shocked the Huskies by taking the opening kickoff and driving 80 yards in 10 plays for a 7-0 lead.

Ladaria Johnson sparked the drive with runs of 12 and 13 yards. He picked up 15 more on a shovel pass from quarterback Mike Jorgensen.

Oregon scored when Jorgensen pitched the ball to running back Harry Billups, who passed to Osborn Thomas in the end zone with 10:55 left in the quarter.

In the second quarter Washington quarterback Steve Pelluer engineered a 32-yard drive that led to a 35-yard field goal by Nelson. And Hinds scored from the 1 to wrap up a 43-yard drive as the Huskies took a 10-7 lead at the half.

Pitt 20, Illinois 3

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — An awesome Pittsburgh defense, sparked by Dave Puzuzoli's interception and 95-yard touchdown run, led the third-ranked Panthers to a 20-3 victory over Illinois Saturday.

Pitt stopped the running game cold, and sacked quarterback Tony Eason nine times and intercepted five passes to control Illinois' usually potent aerial attack.

Puzuzoli's TD came in the second quarter with Pitt trailing 3-0, and Illinois on the verge of scoring.

Pittsburgh then put the game out of reach as quarterback Dan Marino threw 15 yards to John Brown for a touchdown, and Eric Schubert booted a pair of field goals.

The Illinois defense was strong, too, intercepting Marino four times, including twice in the end zone.

However, unable to move the ball, Illinois' only score came on a field goal by barefoot Mike Bass.

Pittsburgh improved its record to 3-0, while Illinois, ranked 19th in the nation, fell to 3-1.

Alabama 24, Vanderbilt 21

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Craig Turner scored two touchdowns to lead fourth-ranked Alabama to a 24-21 Southeastern Conference college football victory Saturday over Vanderbilt as the Crimson Tide turned back a second-half Vandy rally.

Alabama, now 3-0, and 2-0 in SEC play, held a 24-7 halftime lead and seemed on the way to its third rout. But Vandy's second-string quarterback, Kurt Page, tossed to Allama Matthews for two third-quarter scores to put the Commodores within three points.

That score held up although Page kept the Alabama pass defense on edge during the final period.

Alabama quarterback Walter Lewis connected on 14 of 19 passes for 192 yards and scored one touchdown on a 4-yard run.

Vandy's starting quarterback, Whit Taylor, was hurt at the end of the first half, and Page came on to hit on 27 of 35 passes for 223 yards and the two scores. Matthews alone caught 10 passes for 152 yards.

Vandy showed on its opening drive it was not in awe of Alabama, which now has won 56 straight on its home field. The Commodores moved 80 yards, including a 40-yard run by Taylor, and his 20-yard pass to Matthews, to score on Taylor's 2-yard run.

Florida 27, Mississippi St. 17

GAINESVILLE Fla. (AP) — Lorenzo Hampton scored three times in the fourth period — a pair of 2-yard dives plus a 69-yard run — as fifth-ranked Florida came alive after a sputtering first half and defeated Mississippi State 27-17 Saturday in the Southeastern Conference college football opener for both teams.

It was the third victory of the season for the unbeaten Gators, while Mississippi State lost for the first time in four games.

Florida managed only 113 yards offensively in the first half, and trailed 3-0 on a 37-yard field goal by Dana Moore late in the first period. But quarterback Wayne Peace got the offense on track in the third quarter and the Gators had things all their own way thereafter.

A 3-yard burst by freshman John L. Williams with 4:56 remaining in the third period gave Florida the lead and Hampton sewed up the victory by scoring three touchdowns less than 4½ minutes apart in the final period.

Notre Dame 28, Purdue 14

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Phil Carter ripped off second-half touchdown runs of 6 and 10 yards Saturday to lead 10th-ranked Notre Dame to a 28-14 victory over winless Purdue.

Carter, who gained 154 in 27 rushes, started his assault late in the third quarter with the score tied 14-14 after Scott Campbell had lifted Purdue into the tie with a pair of second quarter touchdown passes.

Carter took off on runs of 35 and 10 yards before slamming over from the 6-yard line to break the tie with 2:34 left in the third quarter to give the Irish a 21-14 lead.

Midway in the fourth quarter, Notre Dame got a big break when Campbell completed nine passes for 278 yards, but Purdue suffered its third loss this season.

NBC to air

Canadian football

TORONTO (AP) — The National Football League's player strike has given Americans a chance to see the Canadian game, linebacker David Jefferson a job and former quarterbacks-turned-announcers scrambling to learn new terminology.

NBC will televise a Canadian Football League doubleheader Sunday, beginning with the British Columbia Lions against the Toronto Argonauts at 1:30 p.m. EDT. The second game will send the Calgary Stampeders against the Eskimos at Edmonton.

Jefferson will make his CFL debut with the Argos before an estimated crowd of 45,000 at Exhibition Stadium.

Georgia 34, So. Carolina 18

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Junior quarterback John Lastinger passed for two touchdowns and ran for another Saturday night leading the seventh-ranked Georgia Bulldogs to a 34-18 college football victory over South Carolina.

The Gamecocks were able to contain Heisman candidate Herschel Walker in the first half to 33 yards on 15 attempts, but Lastinger ran one yard for Georgia's first touchdown early in the second quarter.

South Carolina had the lead briefly after Mark Fleetwood hit a 37-yard field goal with a minute left in the first quarter.

Georgia's record is now 3-0 for the year. South Carolina drops to 2-2.

Howard County Fair...a family tradition

WHOOPS! — Smiley Bailey Jr., one of the clowns who appeared with the Shrine Circus Monday at the Fairgrounds, reaches up with a broom and knocks off his cap during a skit on the rodeo bowl floor. The circus staged two performances Monday to the delight of large crowds each session.

'Fairs were a way of life for me when growing up. It was a big fall event. It was a family thing...a special kind of day.'

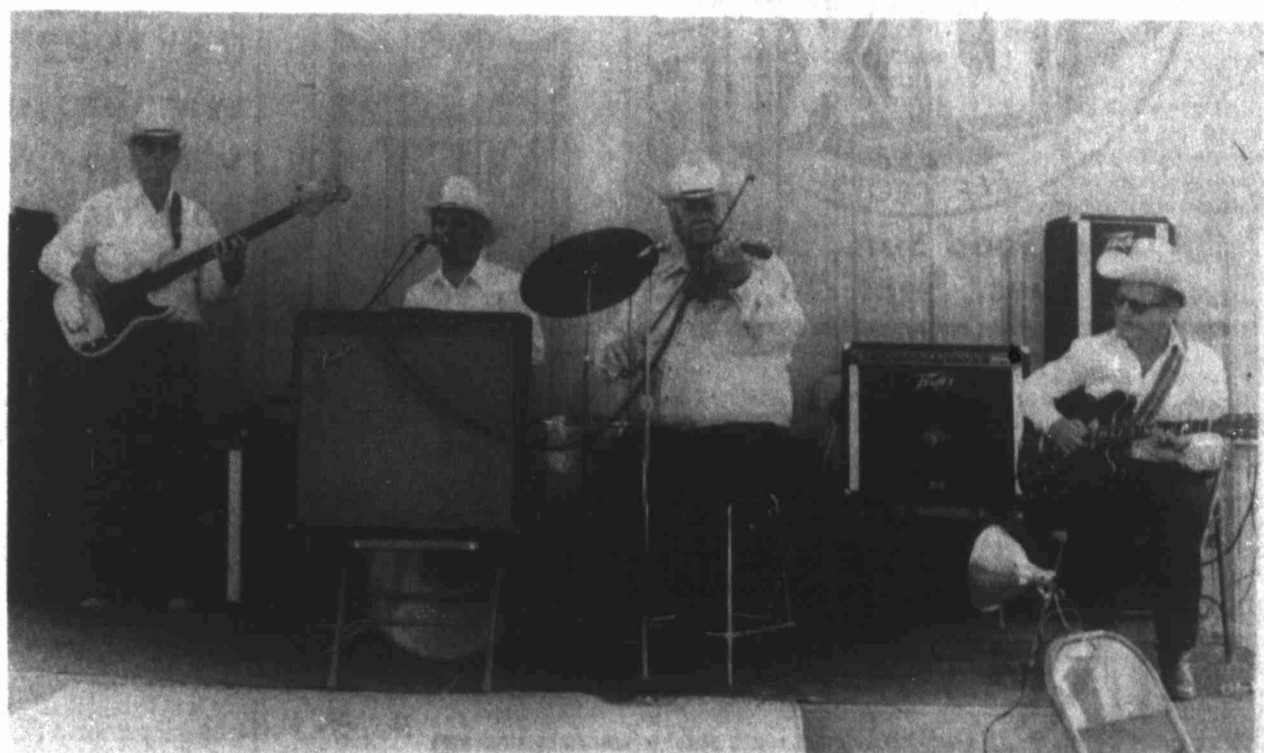

...Zula Rhodes

EYEING THE SITUATION — Devon Rice keeps an eye on the flurry of activities at the Howard County Fair while taking a sip from her bottle. Devon, like many youngsters attending the annual event, watched the crowds and colorful exhibits with wide-eyed interest. She is the daughter of Mike and Tricia Rice.

HAPPY WINNER — Jeremy Smith, 2, bends down to give his goat, Bandana, a little kiss on the cheek after Bandana claimed second place in the Young Billies division at the Howard County Fair. Bandana also was named the most colorful goat during the contest.

WEST TEXAS LEGEND — Hoyle Nix and his West Texas Cowboys sing a popular country-western song as part of the ongoing entertainment at the Howard County Fair. A different musical group performed each night, giving fairgoers a chance to sit, listen to the music and take a break from looking at exhibits.

NOSE-TO-NOSE — Jim Pearce decided to take a closer look at the infamous mechanical bull during fair week activities. Numerous fairgoers took turns riding the bucking bull during the week, with some of the ride's funds going to local charities.

OUT OF REACH — This little fair-goer tried in vain to reach the stuffed bear displayed at a booth in the midway which accompanied the Howard County Fair. The youngster's dad said no to bringing the bear home and the tyke was carted away shortly after the picture was shot.

DEMONSTRATION — Many fair-goers who strolled through the exhibits in the Women's Division stopped by a spinning wheel demonstration offered by Nancy Martin. Mrs. Martin is spinning wool above and also spins cotton.

Winners named in contest

The Dryland Cotton Promoters successfully presented their first "Sew It With Cotton" Contest Saturday and Tuesday at the Howard County Fair.

Thirty-seven garments were entered in the four divisions. Judges were Kathy Roberts, Scurry County extension agent; Blanche Chisom, former Scurry County extension agent; and Candy McWhirter, Borden County extension agent.

Garments were judged on construction quality, appearance, and total look. Monetary prizes were awarded to first, second and third place winners in each division.

In the Adult Professional Division, Patsy Fryar won 1st and 2nd place, and Loretta Yarbrough won 3rd. In Adult Non-Professional Division, 1st place went to Joy Snell, 2nd place to Patsy Zant, and 3rd place to Gail Peters.

Tessa Underwood took 1st place in Younger Youth Division. Second place went to Leigh Ann Wallace and 3rd place went to Brandi Nelson. Dawn Underwood was the 1st place winner in the Older Youth Division with Francis Camp coming in 2nd and Debra Shortes in 3rd.

Along with sponsoring the sewing contest, the Dryland Cotton Promoters were busy promoting cotton at their booth in the fair. The exhibit won 1st place in the non-commercial booth competition.

District 17 PTA workshop slated

All local PTAs will host the 1982 District 17 PTA Fall Workshop to be held at the First United Methodist Church Thursday.

The workshops will provide an opportunity for sharing some concerns that face parents and educators, Barbara Claxton, said.

Theme for the workshop will be "Rainbows for our Children." Registration will begin at 8:30 a.m., with workshops to follow at 9:30 a.m.

Workshops include "Parents, It's Time to Talk," presented by Pat Polk, parent education state chairman; "Assertive Discipline," presented by Sherlyn McKibban of the Region XVIII Education Service Center; and "Learning Styles," presented by Bill Whitfield of the Region XVIII Education Service Center.

Also "Alcohol and Juveniles in Trouble," will be presented by a guest panel consisting of Evelyn Alsop, certified alcoholism counselor at Big Spring State Hospital, Ron Wood, Big Spring Police Officer, and Margie Thompson, juvenile court probation officer.

Registration fee will be $1 for the workshops. Lunch will be at 1 p.m. with the Rockfront catering a meal. Cost for lunch is $5.

Babysitting at the church is $4 per child for the day, with additional children $1.25 extra.

For babysitting reservations or more details for the workshops call Barbara Claxton at 267-8667.

Tidbits

A week full of birthday surprises

The Howard County Fair provided a week full of exciting activities and interesting things to do. Wasn't it fun. Now it is time for many people to start planning for next year's fair. I hope it is even bigger and better.

Big Spring Herald's managing editor, LINDA ADAMS, received a big surprise Monday evening. It seems that she was at a Tupperware party at the Bob Carpenter home, ordering some products, when all of a sudden several at the party started to leave quickly. She didn't understand their rush. Soon after she got home, GREG JAKLEWICZ, being the bachelor that he is, came to her and said he was having trouble with his broiler and asked for her help. For those of you who don't know it, Linda is a great cook and is knowledgeable about broilers.

Anyways, she goes over to Greg's apartment to check on his broiler. But the apartment was dark and CAROL HART was standing in the kitchen. Why was the room dark and Carol standing in the kitchen? SURPRISE. Linda Adams is now the victim of another surprise birthday party thrown by the Herald newsroom staff. Monday was her birthday. Happy birthday Linda.

Speaking of birthdays, I heard a couple of other people got some big surprises this week. DR. P.W. MALONE was surprised at the Howard College Board of Trustees meeting Tuesday evening. He became 79 years old on Sept. 15. BOB CARPENTER, Herald reporter, had his birthday this week and was surprised with a small party at the Herald Friday afternoon.

MRS. W.G. WILSON and her son W.W. WILSON recently returned from a visit to Texarkana and Arkansas. The Wilson's are originally from Arkansas.

To break up the monotony of a busy fall, a few couples are on a little R & R at Lake Leon this weekend. They are MORRIS and SANDRA RHODES, JACK and FAYE PRICE, J.D. and MARY RUTH ROBERTSON, NORMAN and JANE HOLCOMBE, and LONDA and WAYNE HENRY.

The Lions Club hamburger supper Friday night was a roaring success and no wonder...JIM CAVE and JAMES WEIACH were acting as chief chefs. They took over from JERRY PHILLIPS and FORD FARRIS. Wiping tables were BILL HARLIN, JOE HORTON and GARRY GASKIN. Urging people through the chow line were TOM ARCAD and ROYCE CLAY. DUB MARTIN and LAWRENCE SNIVELY were serving drinks. I understand JIM LEMONS, JIM HOLMES and CLYDE ANGEL were in charge of a large contingent of clean-up crews. The supper was a giant undertaking in which more than 60 Downtown Lions Club members spent weeks planning and executing. According to LARSON LLOYD, ticket chairman, ticket sales were the best ever, thanks in part of publicity people headed by DICK JOHNSON and JOE PICKLE.

While attending the Howard County Fair, I heard that MR. AND MRS. HENRY DIRKS JR. and HENRY "BUTCH" DIRKS III of Dallas will travel to Michigan State University in East Lansing, Mich. to attend a memorial ceremony honoring the late HENRY DIRKS SR., the former dean of the school of engineering at Michigan State. Some of the students had a portrait made of the late Mr. Dirks which will be unveiled during the ceremony. The university also is inviting the Dirks family to attend the Notre Dame—Michigan football game as it's guest while they are there.

MRS. GRACE KINNEY, wife of the late LEON M. KINNEY who served as manager of the Big Spring office of Texas Employment Commission 25 years, will accompany her daughter MARY K. SWEETEN to the General Foods Fund Anniversary Symposium. The symposium will be held Thursday through Saturday to commemorate its 25 years of support of the home economics profession through graduate fellowships. Ms. Sweeten is a food and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and is a graduate of Big Spring High School.

Until next week...

Girl Scouts plan many activities

The Cadet Girl Scout Troop No. 156 has many projects planned for the rest of September and October including a bake sale Saturday in College Park Center.

The sale will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in front of Safeway. Cakes, pies and cookies will be offered.

October events include viewing the musical "The Unsinkable Molly Brown" in Odessa Oct. 2; Girl Scout Calendar sale Oct. 5; a campout at Moss Creek Lake Oct. 8-9; another bake sale Oct. 16th; and a rededication ceremony Oct. 25.

Kappa Tau sorority plans western supper

The Denver City Annual Western Supper will be held Friday from 5-7 p.m. prior to the Denver City-Coahoma football game. The event is sponsored by Kappa Tau Sorority of E.S.A.

The meal will be held at Denver City Intermediate School Cafeteria, 1001 N. Ave. F, one block east across from the football stadium. The meal is prepared by some of Denver City's finest cooks. It consists of barbequed beef, homemade cole slaw, pinto beans, homemade bread, homemade peach cobbler, tea and coffee.

Tickets may be purchased at the door for $6 — adults and $5 for children seven years and under.

Proceeds from the dinner will go to the Denver City Youth Center.

Dear Abby

Lack of RSVP angers host

DEAR ABBY: Having just put on a wedding for our daughter, I have had it with people who do not respond to a R.S.V.P. even though they've been sent a stamped, addressed envelope. And, Abby, you wouldn't believe the idiotic answers you get when you call. For instance: Affluent twerp: "My secretary always takes care of that kind of thing—she must have goofed." Close relative: "But, darling, I thought you knew I'd be there." Vague friend: "Gee, we aren't sure yet." (They've had only six weeks to make up their minds.) Social butterfly: "We may be out of town, but I guess you have to know, don't you?" (At $70 a head, you'd better believe I have to know!) And finally, the jerks who respond in the affirmative and don't show up.

S.E., LOS ANGELES

DEAR S.E.: Judging from the number of people who have written to express their fury and frustration at having their R.S.V.P.'s ignored, perhaps it's time to drop the fancy R.S.V.P. and say in plain English, "Hey, please let us know whether you plan to attend!"

DEAR ABBY: My fiancé is going into the hospital for surgery next week. He has informed me that he does not want me to come to the hospital to visit him after the surgery, and he does not want me to go to his apartment to nurse him back to health when he is released from the hospital.

Do you think he has a Florence Nightingale to nurse him back to health, or does he just want to recuperate alone?

ONE WHO CARES

DEAR ONE: It is entirely possible that he prefers to recuperate alone. But if you really suspect there's a "nightingale" in the picture, you'd have to be out of your tree to marry a man you have to watch like a hawk.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "G" IN CONWAY, ARK.: "Thank God every morning when you get up that you have something to do which must be done, whether you like it or not. Being forced to work, and forced to do your best, will breed in you temperance, self-control, diligence, strength of will, content, and a hundred other virtues which the idle never know." (Charles Kingsley)

Everybody needs friends. For some practical tips on how to be popular, get Abby's Popularity booklet. Send $1 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped (37 cents) envelope to Abby, Popularity, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

Dr. Donohue

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sunday, Sept. 26, 1982

Shoulder joint triggers question

Dear Dr. Donohue: I am a 68-year-old retired coach, mainly track. I have not coached track for some seven years. However, just to keep my hand in it, and maybe just to prolong my life, I have served as referee at a number of track meets. Some are very important to the teams competing.

Recently, I overruled an Accutrac operator because I thought he was wrong. The rule in running is: "The runners shall be placed in the order in which any part of their bodies (i.e. torso), as distinguished from the head, neck, arms, legs, hands, or feet, reach the perpendicular plane of the nearer edge of the finish line."

Now, "as distinguished from" must mean the shoulder also, but this is not mentioned. If I have assumed right at this point, then I still have a major problem. At what point or place does the shoulder separate from the arm? Frankly, as a referee at a track meet I have no desire to eliminate anyone, and that is why I am turning to you. — H.C.G.

I can see why you're having trouble. The shoulder joint is somewhat obscured by the large muscle that covers it. That is the deltoid muscle. It is not as visible as other joints — the elbow, for example. And the shoulder is just that — a joint — which means it is the juncture of the ends of two bones. In this case, one of the bones is a torso bone, the scapula. The other one is the humerus, the upper-arm bone.

If you raise your arms to your sides so that you look like a gliding airplane, you will notice a little depression in the deltoid muscle covering the shoulder joint. And if you press firmly at that point, you will feel the arm bone I mentioned, the humerus. I think you can safely use that spot as the dividing point between the runner's torso and arm for purposes of judging finishing positions.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I am writing to you in hopes you can clarify questions I have about the uses of steroids for bodybuilding. I have seen a doctor and he does not approve of their use. I have no present or past medical problems which would restrict me from using steroids. I feel the doctor should have discussed the pros and cons with me instead of saying no to my inquiry.

I am 20 years old and wish to design a weightlifting program combined with steroids. My questions are: Can steroids be safely taken? Are there really harmful side effects? Should I consult other doctors, and can you suggest sources of information or organizations I should contact? — G.S.M.

I can't discuss the "pros" with you. As far as I'm concerned there aren't any. The reaction you got from your doctor would have been mine. The steroids you are talking about are male hormones. These are hormones your body makes in predestined amounts, and in those amounts they do, indeed, promote muscle growth, which is why males have bulkier muscles than females.

Taking additional amounts of such hormones by mouth can be dangerous.

Redden—Wright

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sunday, Sept. 26, 1982 9-C

MRS. MICHAEL WAYNE HARRIS
...formerly Barbara Kaye Perkins

Perkins—Harris

Barbara Kaye Perkins became Mrs. Michael Wayne Harris during a Saturday evening ceremony at St. Austin's Catholic Church in Austin. The Rev. Robert L. Pinkston, C.S.P., uncle of the bride, officiated. The Rev. Pinkston is pastor of St. Paul the Apostle Church in New York City, N.Y.

The couple was wed before an altar adorned with a backdrop of mixed green plants and two spiral candelabra surrounded with an array of ferns. A double arrangement of orchids mixed with tones of burgandy was placed on the altar table.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Perkins, Austin. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Harris, 1601 Indian Hills Dr.

Bob Lindley was organist. Kathy Jones, Norman, Okla., was vocalist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white organza with a modified Queen Anne neckline, fitted bodice and Bishop sleeves. The bodice, sleeves and neckline were accented with white Chantilly lace and seed pearls. The skirt featured accented pleats down the front framed with Chantilly lace. The cathedral-length train was accented by accented pleating and Chantilly lace around the hemline. The veil featured a lace beaded cap with Venice lace around the chapel-length tulle.

For something old, the bride carried an antique handkerchief. Something new was her gown, something borrowed was a pearl necklace, and something blue was a blue garter.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of white palaenopsis orchids with

Club hosts covered dish luncheon

Big Spring Rebekah Lodge 74284 met Tuesday. Mabel Morrison, noble grand, presided.

Following the meeting, a covered dish luncheon was served. The group listened to high school students discuss a recent trip to Washington, D.C., sponsored by the Rebekahs and the Oddfellow Lodges.

The Past Noble Grand club will meet at the Lodge Hall, 9th and San Antonio Streets, for a covered dish luncheon at noon Monday.

The next meeting is Sept. 28 at 7:30 p.m.

trailing English ivy and stephanotis.

Maid of honor was Suzanne Perkins, sister of the bride, Austin. Bridesmaids were Nancy Foote, Cindy Garza, Sandy Peters, all of Austin, and Terri Wilson, San Marcos.

Best man was Mitch Harris, brother of the bridegroom. Byron Harris and Rod Harris, both brothers of the bridegroom, were groomsmen, as were Jimmy Britton, Midland, and Randie Jones, Norman, Okla. Ushers were Walter Haenggi, Austin, Mike Lower, cousin of the bride, Killeen, and Chris Pinkston, San Antonio.

Flower girl was Amanda Pinkston, cousin of the bride, San Antonio. Ring bearer was Matthew Schnurr, Austin.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Ramada Inn Gondolier in Austin. The bride's table featured a triple-tiered white cake decorated with burgandy and mauve flowers and topped with the Jonathan and David's 'Precious Moments' wedding figurine. The bridegroom's cake was the traditional horseshoe German chocolate cake topped with fresh strawberries.

Out-of-town guests at the ceremony attended from Big Spring, Midland, Oklahoma, San Marcos, Caldwell, Lubbock, Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, New York, and Mission, Ariz.

The bride is a graduate of Crockett High School in Austin, and attended Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos. She plans to continue her studies at the University of Texas, Permian Basin, this spring.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Big Spring High School and has a B.B.A. degree in management from Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos. He is self-employed at the Stanton Texaco in Stanton.

Following a wedding trip to the Hawaiian Islands, the couple will reside in Big Spring.

Marlyn Denice Burnett and Kenneth Charles Crow exchanged wedding vows during a Saturday evening ceremony in Apostolic Faith Church. Judge Bill Tune officiated at the ceremony before an archway decorated with white gypsophelia and blue carnations, a 15-branch candelabrum, and baskets of white carnations and blue gladioli.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Burnett, Rt. 1, and Mr. and Mrs. Travis W. Crow, Rt. 1.

Mrs. Gene Fowler, pianist and vocalist, and Mrs. Bootie Sherman, vocalist, provided the music for the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal-length white gown with lace. The gown featured a Queen Anne neckline, mutton sleeves with pearl buttons. A double row of satin ribbons surrounded the natural waistline. The full skirt was bordered by a wide lace ruffle. To complete her ensemble she wore a beaded Juliet cap that held a fingertip-length veil, and a diamond necklace given to her by her brother Cliff Burnett.

For something old, the bride chose a lace handkerchief from her late great grandmother Mrs. N.F. Cate. Something new was her wedding dress, borrowed from her grandmother, and blue was a blue garter made by her grandmother Mrs. Marvin Dupuy.

The bride carried a white Bible, given to her by her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. M.P. Dupuy, and a cascading bouquet of white carnations, blue roses and blue and white streamers.

Carol Burnett, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. April Burnett, niece of the bride, was flower girl. John Harvey was best man and Wesley Crow of Snyder, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer. Ushers were Clifford Burnett of Lubbock and Tony Burnett of Sand Springs, both brothers of the bride.

Following the ceremony, the couple was honored with a reception in the church parsonage. The bride's table was covered with white crocheted cloth from the bridegroom's late grandmother Mrs. C.C. Forrest.

The table featured a three-tiered white cake with blue roses, and was centered with the bride and attendant's bouquets. The bridegroom's table was covered in a white cloth and featured a chocolate cake.

The bride is a graduate of Clovis High School in Clovis, N.M. and is employed by Furr's Supermarket.

The bridegroom graduated from Big Spring High School and is employed by Oilfield Industrial Lines.

Following a wedding trip to South Texas, the couple will reside in Big Spring.

Diana Faye Redden and Johnny E. Wright exchanged wedding vows Sept. 1 in a ceremony at Berea Baptist Church. The Rev. Eddie Tingle, pastor, officiated the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with a center arch of candles and greenery, flanked by a candelabrum on each side decorated with bows.

The bride is the daughter of Nancy Redden Beaird of Jal, N.M. and the late Duaine Redden. Mr. and Mrs. John E. Wright of Sterling City Rt. are parents of the bridegroom.

Music was provided by Mike Redden, vocalist, brother of the bride, and Mrs. Helen Martin, vocalist and organist.

The bride was escorted by her brother Mike Redden. She wore a white taffeta gown that featured a scalloped neckline outlined in Chantilly lace and seed pearls. The Bishop sleeves were enhanced by Chantilly lace appliques. The bouffant skirt of taffeta had a layer of chiffon with a chapel-length train.

To complete her ensemble, the bride chose a white veil attached to a lace and pearl covered capulet.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of frosted rose roses, accented by satin ribbons and baby's breath.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Julie Ann Deberry. Gary Martin was best man. Steve Wright and Scott Rogers were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church's Fellowship Hall. The bride's table was covered with a white cloth and centered by a floral bouquet. The table featured a three-tiered cake decorated with frosted rose roses and porcelain figurines.

The couple will be at home in Bryan.

Wedding policy

Weddings are published in the Sunday Lifestyle section of the Big Spring Herald. A wedding form, available at the Herald, should be filled out, signed by either the bride, bridegroom or a member of either family and in our office no later than noon the Wednesday before the wedding.

The information may be accompanied by a photograph either of the bride or the couple. A black and white glossy 5 x 7 inch print is preferred. The picture must be of sufficient quality to reproduce in the newspaper. Pictures may be picked up following publication.

If a wedding writeup is turned in after the wedding, the space allotted to it will diminish according to the length of time that has passed since the wedding.

Forms for wedding stories may be picked up at the Lifestyle Department of the Big Spring Herald, 710 Scurry. Writeups may be brought in to the department or mailed to Big Spring Herald, Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79720. Please call our office if you have problems or questions. Our number is (915) 263-7331.

Following the ceremony, the couple was feted with a dance reception in the community center. The bride's table was decorated with a four-tiered cake and fountain, and an arrangement of mixed flowers arranged in a silver candelabra. A champagne fountain completed the table.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and is manager of the Pat Walker Figure Salon.

The bridegroom attended Corpus Christi schools and Howard College, and is a welder at Manufacturers Rebuilders.

Following a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., the couple will be in Big Spring.

MRS. RICK HESTON SCHKADE
...formerly Deborah Ann Halfmann

Halfmann—Schkade

Deborah Ann Halfmann and Rick Heston Schkade exchanged wedding vows in an afternoon ceremony Sept. 18 in the St. Lawrence Catholic Church, St. Lawrence. The Rev. Russell Schultz, pastor, officiated.

The couple was wed before an altar decorated with a candelabrum and mixed bouquets of flowers in the bridesmaids colors.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Ross Halfmann, St. Lawrence Route, Garden City. Parents of the bridegroom are JoAnn Schkade and Gene Schkade, both of San Angelo.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Janice Halfmann, sister of the bride, San Angelo, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mary Beth Jacob, Sharon Pechacek, and Jeanice McLaurin, all of San Angelo, Joyce Halfmann, St. Lawrence, and Gail Strube, Wall. Flower girl was Stasia Halfmann, niece of the bride, St. Lawrence.

Best man was Randle Schkade, Albuquerque, N.M. Groomsmen were John Dement, Randy Arnold and Gailin Akin, all of San Angelo, Roland Halfmann, and Gary Halfmann, both of St. Lawrence.

Ushers were Rudy Halfmann, St. Lawrence, Doyle Lange, Norton, and Bobby Connor, Midland. Ring bearer was Adam Halfmann, nephew of the bride.

A reception, supper and dance followed the ceremony in the St. Lawrence Hall. Colors in the bride's cake matched her flowers. The bridegroom's cake was chocolate and was decorated with grapes, and debit and credit signs.

The bride is a graduate of Garden City High School and is a clerk at Echicon in San Angelo. The bridegroom is a graduate of San Angelo Central High School and South Texas State University. He is an accountant in San Angelo.

The couple will reside in San Angelo.

MRS. GARY ALLAN PASCHAL
...formerly Dixie Anne Kilgore

Kilgore—Paschal

Dixie Anne Kilgore and Gary Allan Paschal exchanged wedding vows at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 18 in the Memorial Chapel of the First United Methodist Church, Fort Worth. The Rev. Larry Grubb, pastor, officiated.

The couple was wed before an altar decorated with yellow and tangerine lilies. Parents of the bride are Mrs. R.D. Kilgore of Lamesa, and the late R.D. Kilgore. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Paschal, Arlington.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Robert T. Piner, Big Spring, and the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Patterson, also of Big Spring.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Bob Kilgore, Lamesa. She wore her mother's wedding gown which was made of candlelight satin and lace.

The bride carried a bouquet of white rose buds. Wendy Williams, Fort Worth, was maid of honor. Best man was Tommy Hart, Fort Worth.

The couple will reside in Fort Worth.

Extension Homemakers

Members of area home extension clubs began their fall meetings recently, elected new officers and made plans for the coming year.

CREATIVE HOMEMAKERS
The Creative Homemakers met recently at the Casa Blanca Restaurant to discuss consumer prices and recipes. A short business meeting was held.

The group met again Sept. 13 at Grandmother's Delight. Mrs. Guy V. Speck, owner, gave a short presentation on back to school fashions.

The next meeting is set for Oct. 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Bonnie Proctor. Anyone interested can call 263-4985 for more information.

COAHOMA EXTENSION HOMEMAKERS

The Coahoma Extension Homemakers Club met in the home of Frankie and Christeen Tindol Sept. 8 for a covered dish luncheon.

Three visitors joined 12 members for the meeting. Visitors were Jean Rorick, Frankie Tindol and Donell Luce.

The business meeting was presided over by Hattie Swann, president. New officers were elected. They are Francis Mason, president, Donell Luce, vice-president, Dortha Nixon, treasurer, and Teresa Parks, secretary.

Other officers are Hattie Swann, council delegate, and Christeen Tindol, reporter.

Doris Hale won the door prize. The next meeting will be Oct. 13 in the home of Cindy O'Daniel. Meeting time is 11:30 a.m., and members should come dressed for Halloween.

The devotional was given by Christeen Tindol.

CITY EXTENSION HOMEMAKERS

The City Extension Homemakers club met at Bonanza for lunch Sept. 10 with 15 members and two guests, Naomi Hunt and Gail Earls, present.

Mrs. Hunt and Mrs. Earls are with the county extension office.

Roll call was answered by "Something Money Can't Buy."

Alta Lee Underwood, president, presided.

The nominating committee was elected. They are: Opal Wooten, chairman, Mildred Callahan, and Marie Daniels.

Mrs. Hunt spoke to the club about the Howard County Fair. Fair workers were selected.

Money for the 4-H Scholarship Fund was collected.

Engagement policy

We will be pleased to announce the news of your engagement in the Lifestyle section of the Big Spring Herald from anytime after the engagement is a reality until at least three weeks before the wedding.

We try to use the story on the date you request, but sometimes space does not permit this.

The information must be submitted to us on a form available at the Herald no later than Wednesday noon before the Sunday it is to be published. The form should be signed by the bride-elect, prospective bridegroom or parents of either.

We will use a picture of the couple or the bride-elect. The picture must be of a quality that will reproduce well in the newspaper. We prefer a 5 x 7 glossy black and white print.

If the bride-elect, prospective bridegroom or their parents do not now or have never lived in our area, we need to know why you are submitting your engagement to our paper. If only grandparents live in our area, please give their names and addresses.

The information may be brought by the Lifestyle Department of the Big Spring Herald, 710 Scurry, or mailed to the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79720.

Call us at (915) 267-7331 if we can help with more information or clarification of our policies.

Freeze, wrap extra pancakes

Be prepared and you can make pancakes at a moment's notice: no pans, no bowls and no mess. A time-saving hint in the current Family Circle magazine suggests preparing extra pancakes and freezing them individually on a cookie sheet. When frozen, wrap the pancakes and use them the same way as toaster waffles.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD R. RICHARDSON
...were married Sept. 11

Watson— Richardson

Wynona Joy Watson and Richard R. Richardson were married Sept. 11 in the First Assembly of God Church with the Rev. Jim Massingill, licensed minister, officiating.

The couple was wed before a heart-shaped archway enhanced with greenery and candles. Two seven-branched candelabra stood at each side of the altar, holding white tapers.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Dale Young, 2903 Lawrence, and the late W.J. Watson. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. James D. Richardson, 3236 Drexel.

Shirley Ryals served as organist. Laquita Harrison was vocalist.

The bride was given in marriage by her stepfather. She wore a gown of white silk organza with a Queen Anne neckline and Bishop sleeves. Her bodice was overlaid with Venice lace and accented with seed pearls. The A-line skirt fell to a chapel-length train. Venice lace accented the skirt and the fingertip veil of bridal illusion.

The bride carried a bouquet of white carnations with burgundy and rose mini-mums, tied with lace streamers in three colors.

Matron of honor was Rita

Yeats. Andrews. Bridesmaids were Carla Henry, Coahoma, and Sandy Boyd, Big Spring. Emily Bell, Big Spring, was flower girl.

Best man was Mike Marino. Groomsmen were Ronnie Walker and Dean Richardson. Ushers were Scott Richardson and John Richardson, both of Sweetwater.

Candlelighters were Angela Henry and Scott Thomas, both of Coahoma.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall following the ceremony. The bride's cake was three-tiered and decorated with burgundy and rose sweet peas. A centerpiece on the table was formed of the bride's and attendant's bouquets.

A chocolate cake was served from the bridegroom's table.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and Howard College, and works for the Missouri-Pacific Railroad.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Colorado City High School and works for the Missouri-Pacific Railroad.

Following a wedding trip to Las Vegas, Nevada, the couple will reside in Big Spring.

Simple, elegant centerpiece

Make a simple yet elegant centerpiece by using this decorating tip. Place individual cut flowers in three or five (odd numbers only) glass test tubes filled with water. Put the tubes on a test-tube stand or other clear holder.

Control snack choices

Do you really control your snack choices — or do your habits control you?

If changes are needed, only you can decide to make them — and that will depend on four steps: a specific goal, learning nutrition basics, "unlearning" misinformation, and changing your traditions. Few of us eat foods because we've been told they're "good for us," particularly when it comes to snacks. In fact, health may be one of the least-effective motivations for change.

STEP 1—Specific Goal
Most of us will respond to a specific goal — weight reduction or diabetes control for example — so setting a specific goal is Step 1. If we can see health as part of our specific goal, then this first step in controlling our food choices will be a stronger one, especially where snacks are concerned.

STEP 2—Learning Basics
The second step in controlling snack choices is understanding nutrition basics, and how snacking can fit into each day's total nutrition picture. We need facts that point out pathways to our nutrition future — suggest the time and effort that success will require.

Most of us are interested in nutrition only if it means something good will result today. We seek immediate results, and we're not too realistic about the time and effort needed to reach or obtain our desired goal.

Learning nutrition basics will help us be realistic for now and for later as we make meal and snack choices throughout life.

STEP 3—"Unlearning"
Learning and "unlearning" is a never-ending process, and nutrition education is not a simple matter.

Changes in types and forms of foods will continue at a pace which staggers the imagination. Choices we face now will become even greater in the future, so there will be "unlearning" along with the learning.

"Unlearning" is the third step in controlling food choices, and realizing that this is a constant process which will go on throughout life will make the third step in changing our eating and snacking habits more successful.

STEP 4—Change
The fourth step is developing the ability to actually change.

One key to success is knowing how strongly food habits become entrenched in our daily routines. Their grip is so strong we often fail to recognize that the laws of nutrition apply to everyone — or we ignore that fact.

How do we know if we need to change? Start with self-analysis. 1) What factors are most important when I select particular foods? 2) How does my overall dietary pattern affect my lifestyle and health? 3) Or, does my lifestyle determine my eating habits? 4) Do I decide on meals and snacks out of impulse, or am I rational about my choices? 5) Do I really understand why I choose the foods I eat?

Remember, also, for most people, the price of food items does not play a central role in consumer decisions — cost does limit our purchases, but it doesn't determine our eating habits.

Here's one last question — a "food for thought" question (the one we asked in the first place): Do I really control my snack choices — or do my habits control me?

COUPLE TO WED — Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Perkins, Odessa, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Cindy, to Greg Halfmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Halfmann, Big Spring. The couple will wed Oct. 16 in the Sherwood Baptist Church in Odessa, with Jim Brazewell, associate pastor, officiating.

Moss PTA to hold first meeting of school year

The Moss Elementary School PTA will hold its first meeting of the new school year at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the school cafeteria.

The meeting will be combined with "back-to-school night." All parents and friends of Moss students are welcomed to attend, Lounice Hedges, publicity chairman, said.

Weldon Claxton, PTA president, said the meeting will give parents a chance to join the organization and get a brief overview of its plans and projects for the coming year.

"We want to find which parents would like to be involved in PTA work such as committee assignments and other ways," Claxton said.

First order of business Tuesday will be the 1982-83 membership campaign. Moss PTA had 294 members last year and is shooting for 300 this year, Claxton said.

Other officers for 1982-83 are Kent Shaw, vice-president; Jacque Jones, recording secretary; Patsy Foster, treasurer; Karen Hyden, historian; and M.A. Barber, parliamentarian.

ABWA Cactus chapter Posse plans year plans harvest sale

"Because we love to plan ahead" was Mary Lynn Welch's subject as she presented a program to Cactus Chapter of American Business Women's Association Monday night at Brass Nail.

Ms. Welch said people should plan ahead for their funerals. Wills, instructions for burial, information on insurance policies and important papers (placed in a convenient place), and a list of friends and relatives to notify should be available upon death.

Guests were Julia Trevino, Melba Griffith, Janice Griffith and Dorothy Moore. Mary Sayers, vocational speaker, outlined her duties at Big Spring State Hospital. Lupe Dominguez and Beth Moran were inducted into the chapter.

The chapter will host a

Harvest Sale at Highland Mall Dec. 4th. The ABWA National Convention is in New Orleans Nov. 3. The next meeting is Nov. 15 at the Brass Nail.

The Howard County Sheriff's Posse met in the Posse club house recently for a social and ice cream supper.

A trail ride was planned, as was a trailer camp out in the Fort Davis State Park, sometime during October.

The Posse hosted several Youth Horseman shows, participated in the rodeo parade and District playdays this summer. Local members are also affiliated with the American Association of Sheriff's Poses and Riding Clubs.
