How to fight rabies

Staff Writer

Two Howard County familes have been vaccinated against rabies and seven cases of rabid animals have been reported this year, most of them eight miles south of Big Spring in the Tubbs Addition, according to Dr. J.M. Woodall, acting director of the Howard County Health Unit.

Although authorities have described the cases as an outbreak, not an epidemic, Woodall said the public should know the signs and how to deal with a rabid animal.

The Texas Department of Health states that more than 30,000 of the 500,000 persons bitten each year in the U.S. require anti-rabies treatments. The TDH has published a free pamphlet explaining rabies, its symptoms and effects. It is available at the health unit at 201 Lancaster, Woodall said. The publication offers several pointers

By BOB CARPENTER Staff Writer

The chilly warnings of autumn didn't cool down Democratic spirits last night as well over 100 people turned out at Dora Roberts Community Center for State Rep. Larry Don Shaw's campaign harvest to honor his supporters.

Special guest for the evening was Congressman Kent Hance of Lubbock who praised Shaw for his ability to work with people and his past record.

"There are too many people in politics who are content to attack their opponent," Hance said. "You never know what those people are for because all they do is attack their opponent without discussing

Hance said it is particularly important for West Texas to have good representation because of the major urban influences present in the Texas Legislature. "You need people who can work with others and be persuasive for the causes in West Texas and Larry Don is capable in that respect," Hance

Hance urged those present to 'ask people to vote" to ensure a large turnout at the polls. "Because whoever wins the seat will be able to hold the seat a long time. And Larry Don Shaw is the best investment you can make for the future of West Texas," Hance

Rep. Shaw echoed Hance's words by asking the crowd to "try and get 10 voters to go to the polls. The key to this election is a big turnout. The polls we have conducted show we would win with a big turnout," Shaw said.

Shaw accused his opponent, Rep. Jerry Cockerham of Monahans, of running "a very misleading campaign

"I'm not going to run that kind of race. I'll run with hard work. We can win, but this race won't be given to us, like everything else that's good — you've got to work for it," Shaw said.

After the rally Shaw outlined several issues he feels are vital to the 69th District.

Election'82

Shaw indicated he would like to see some sort of pay raise for teachers in Texas. He said he was worried about the lack of teachers graduating from Texas colleges.

Shaw said the Legislature needed to "get an effective coalition together" to initiate a statewide water plan that would benefit both rural and urban areas.

Shaw also said that people "have reached a point where they want to see tougher drunk driving laws." "We need stricter and stiffer penalities because we've been very drunk drivers," he said.

Clements vs. White, round 2

Gubernatorial candidates cool off in 2nd debate

13th St

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements and Democratic challenger Mark White recited their campaign litanies and stayed, for the most part, away from personal attacks during Debate II.

That's not to say Clements and White practiced absolute abstinence from name-calling during the Monday night debate that was telecast statewide. But the confrontation was calmer than the Sept. 24 debate in Amarillo that featured a post-debate exchange of heated words. White spent much of the hour-long debate blaming Clements for Texas' economic dip. Clements, who spent much of the night on defense, quipped that White knows little about creating jobs.

"After all, if you're sick and you need a doctor, you want a doctor. You don't want some quack. What you want is someone who knows something about creating jobs. I am a businessman. I'm not a career politician like my opponent." he said.

But White complained it's "cruel" for Clements to lure non-Tezans into the state in hopes of finding work. "That kind of bragging may enhance Bill Clements reputation, but it also causes unemployed people from the north to move to Texas looking for work," he said. "Every time a person from Michigan or Ohio moves into Texas and gets a job, I can't help but think about the more than 600,000 Texans who need a job so they can feed 'heir families.

Clements, reacting to a record day on Wal' Street, predicted an economic "silver lining to this cloud that we

Reagan stumps for Collins

IRVING (AP) — President Reagan's popularity has slipped nationally, but Republicans say he still wears long coattails in Texas and his visit here will give candidates a chance for a ride to victory in November.

Reagan swooped into Texas for a two-hour stop Monday, attended a private reception at U.S. Rep. Jim Collins' Wildbriar Farm, and spoke to an enthusiatic crowd of Republican campaign volunteers and candidates afterward.

Collins is running an uphill race against incumbent Democrat U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen.

Reagan came to Texas from California, where Democrats said he had "absolutely no coattails" because of the slump in the economy and the recent release of figures showing 10.1 percent unemployment, the highest national rate in 42 years.

Bentsen campaign director Jack Martin would not comment on Reagan's general popularity in Texas, but "He has no coattails as far as Mr. Collins is concerned. Ronald Reagan coming to Texas to campaign for Jim Collins reminds us of the old western lyric of someone having a $40 saddle on a $10 horse.'

'The president's visit will be the turning point," contended Collins' campaign manager Dee Travis

National Republican spokesmen said privately they gave Collins little chance of victory. And local GOP officials stressed the benefits the visit would bring the party generally, rather than Collins particularly. All said the president is personally very popular in Texas.

Travis said the Collins' campaign's most recent poll showed Reagan had a 62 percent favorable rating in Texas. Texans are among the most generous Republican contributors in the country, and Reagan carried the state by 57 percent in 1980.

A recent Gallup poll for Newsweek magazine showed that nationally, Reagan had only a 41 percent favorable rating, the lowest midterm approval rate of the last five elected presidents.

Local Republicans said that with the election only three weeks away, Reagan's visit was important to get out the vote, whip up enthusiasm among campaign workers, and associate the prestige of the presidency with Republicans

"I think the visit shows we have one fine relationship with the president of the United States, and that's healthy for us as Republicans," said Ronald McDearman, Republican nominee for district judge in Dallas. "I think most voters will have to conclude that a man with the president of the United States behind him can't be all that bad.

Acid-tainted Visine found

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP) - Police theorize that a copycat trying to "get on the bandwagon" after the Chicago Tylenol murders put hydrochloric acid in Visine A.C. eye drops, burning a man's eyes and prompting a county ban on sales of such products.

"It was like getting hit with a hot poker, I hollered pretty loud," said Larry Martin Tingley, a patient being treated for depression at the Veterans Administration Hospital. He said the two drops he took Monday burned so much he dropped to the floor in pain.

In New York today, a spokesman for Dr. David Axelrod, the state health commissioner, said Axelrod had recommended that no one use that type of eyedrops until it could be determined that they were safe.

"He is not asking store owners to take the product off the shelves," said the spokesman, William Fagel, in Albany, N.Y. "This is not a recall. The FDA is the lead agency in this if there is going to be a recall.

Fagel said Axelrod's warning was a "common sense" suggestion to consumers.

Police theorized that whoever tampered with the Visine may have been a copycat who got the idea from the seven Chicago-area deaths between Sept. 29 and Oct. 1 in which cyanide was placed in Extra-Strength Tylenol, Grand Junction Police Detective Tom Freeman said. Last week, a woman in Rialto, Calif,. complained of being burned by Visine A.C., but tests showed the acid level was normal.

Freeman said authorities don't think the cyanide killer in Chicago contaminated the eye drops in Colorado.

Stock and bond prices continued to soar and the Dow Jones industrial average burst through the 1,000 mark as the belief grew among investors that falling interest rates will help spur the economy to recovery

In near-record trading Monday on the New York Stock Exchange, prices soared for the fourth straight session and the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks - already up 79 points last week - surged another 25.94 points to 1,012.79.

That was its highest level since it finished at 1,016.93 on April 28, 1981. The last time the closely watched measure closed above 1,000 was on June 23, 1981, when it stood at 1,006.66. The average has risen about 236 points in two months

BUT DAMAGE caused by the lofty interest rates earlier this year continues to be felt.

About 82 percent of the nation's savings and loan associations which found themselves pinched between the low interest payments of their old mortgage loans and the high cost of new money - lost a combined record $3.3 billion in the first half of 1982, more than double the losses in the same period last year, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board said Monday

Houston plots a Texas-sized skyscraper

HOUSTON (AP) — Developers in this "think-big" Texas city have announced plans for an 82-story office tower — a tapered shaft of steel, granite and mirrored glass that would be the tallest building west of the Mississippi River.

Plans for the building, announced Monday by Century Development Corp. and Southwest Bancshares Inc., call for it to rise 1,250 feet and be topped by a 150-

The world's tallest building is the 1,454-foot Sears Tower in Chicago. The higher of the twin World Trade Center buildings in New York is 1,362 feet. The proposed Houston building, designed by Murphy-Jahn of Chicago, includes 2 million square feet of office and retail space covering a full downtown block. Four peaks rise to the top of the building and come together in a point, resembling the head of a Phillips screwdriver.

Cost is estimated at $350 million to $400 million. Century Development chairman Kenneth Schnitzer said financing is still being arranged and no construction date has been set, although occupancy is expected to begin in late 1986.

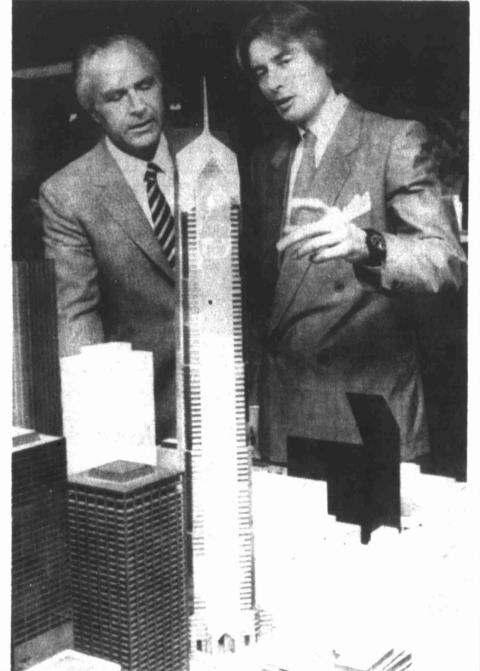

Houston's tallest building is the 1,049-foot Texas Commerce Tower, measuring six inches below the maximum height specified by the Federal Aviation Administration. Schnitzer said the FAA has not yet approved an application for a 1,400-foot structure, but he said it would be unfair for the FAA to reject it since New York and Chicago have taller buildings. Public areas include a 79th-floor observation deck and street-level pedestrian arcade under a 10-story atrium, the developers said. The building would sit at a 45-degree angle to streets, with each of four peaked entrances facing a street

"This is not a building that can turn its back on any part of the city," said Richard Everett, president of Century Development. "The building will stand as a landmark of Houston's progress and a symbol of the city's economic prosperity.

The Southwest Tower, a 20-story building built in 1963, will be torn down next year to make room for the new structure, Schnitzer said

An estimated 5,000 workers could be involved in the Gdansk protest, with several thousand more joining the strike in Gdynia, the reporters said

They said the strike had resumed in Gdansk at 6 a.m. and that police backed by water cannon had surrounded the giant shipbuilding complex at 9 a.m.

Western correspondents in Gdansk said strikers closed the shipyard to demand release of union chief Lech Walesa and others jailed for violating the martial-law edicts of Dec. 13 Police routed stragglers who refused to disperse Monday night following an illegal but peaceful eight-hour strike to protest the government's latest labor crackdown, which banned Solidarity and nullified reforms the union won for Polish workers. State television said police used "means of coercion" on "several groups" of onlookers who defied orders to disperse after dusk fell outside the giant Lenin Shipyard where Solidarity was born during strikes in August 1980.

The workers were the first to openly defy the tight union controls adopted Friday by Parliament.

They decided not to wait for a four-hour general strike Nov. 10 urged by the underground committee of four top Solidarity leaders. That date is the second anniversary of Solidarity's official registration by a Warsaw court as the first independent union in the Soviet bloc.

Three large convoys of police trucks were seen heading north in the direction of Gdansk on Monday

Reporters and witnesses returning to Warsaw said the Gdansk strikers appealed for support from other factories in the tricity area of Gdansk, Gdynia and Sopot. The Gdansk organizers also urged walkouts in Silesia, center of the coal industry in under Communist Party control.

Japan's Suzuki will step down TOKYO (AP) - Prime Minister

Zenko Suzuki said today he will step down as prime minister next month in a move to unify his ruling party, which has been increasingly divided over his economic policies.

Suzuki, 71, announced he would not seek re-election in November as president of his Liberal Democratic Party, a post which carries with it the premiership. He had been assured of re-election and his decision came as a total surprise.

Chief Cabinet Secretary Kiichi Miyazawa quoted Suzuki as saying the reason for his decision was that "mounting internal and external problems facing the nation require uniformity within the LDP.'

Recently, Suzuki has come under strong criticism from rival leaders in the LDP, who blame him for failing to reduce burgeoning budget deficits and a lingering economic slowdown.

PORTSMOUTH, England (AP) - Greeted by tooting car horns, flares and cheering crowds, the fragile, wooden hull of the Mary Rose, King Henry VIII's flagship, was back home today — 437 years after the warship sank while sailing into battle against the French.

In the climax of a three-year, $6.8 million salvage operation overseen by Prince Charles, the recovered starboard section was towed triumphantly back to Portsmouth harbor Monday night, the same place where the Mary Rose had sailed on its ill-fated voyage.

The most sophisticated warship of its day, the Mary Rose will be moored on a buoy until Friday when the barge will move into a drydock and lay the wreckage down for thorough renovation alongside another famous flagship, the HMS Victory, warship of Lord Nelson, Britian's greatest naval hero.

Geography classes needed

Every year, Dr. William B. Conroy of Texas Tech kicks off his world geography class with a map test.

Every year, the results are the same. On the average, the class of university students scores less than 50 percent in identifying major countries — Poland, Vietnam, Thailand, Morocco, Nigeria, Venezuela, Syria, Iran.

'Typical American students in grades 1-12 get very little background in geography," Conroy says, adding that other subjects — such as language arts and arithemetic — are emphasiz-

BUT CONROY WOULD like to see geography back in school as as a class in its own right. He said schools since 1920 have lumped geography under the heading "social studies," which have come to include geography, history, anthopology, sociology, economics, psychology and political science, with the major emphasis in history.

"But the time students get to college their mental maps, their ability to picture where countries, cities and other major features are in the world, are not filled in," he said.

Countries which students have the most trouble identifying are in Africa, Southwest Asia and the Orient. He noted they also have trouble with the many nations of Europe and Latin Conroy noted that Soviet and European children know much more about U.S. geography than people in this country know about Soviet and European geography.

"AMERICANS SEEM to really regret they didn't get this basic education," he said. "The problem is, learning basic place name geography is a very mundane task for both the teacher and the student.'

"Learning cannot be all fun," he said. "There is an essential component in education that is just plain work. There are many people who feel that the lack of emphasis on drill work has contributed to the deficiencies of many high school graduates in reading writing, mathematics, geography and other basic subjects.

He picked up the phone and dialed two numbers. "Hello, Dr. Willis-Jones? Ed here. Fine, fine thanks. I have another sufferer here." He looked at me and smiled. Takeover lane

It isn't easy to explain what happened in the bloody takeover battle involving four giant conglomerates, Bendix, Martin Marietta, United Technologies and Allied Corp.

One fine day some months back, Charlie Bendix, flush with cash, was taking a stroll down Takeover Lane, when he stopped in front of Marty Marietta's house "Nice home you got there," Charlie said to Marty, who was out mowing his lawn. "How much you want for Marty said, "Buzz off, Charlie. My house is not for sale.

"I happen to know your relatives would sell it in a minute if the price was right. If you won't turn it over to me in a friendly manner, I'll make them an offer they can't refuse.' "Oh yeh, wise guy," Marty said. "If you try to buy my house, I'll buy your house. How do you like that?" Charlie laughed at him because he knew Marty didn't have the money to buy the Bendix house. The next day Charlie ran an ad in the newspaper saying he would pay twice as much for Marty's house as it was worth. Marty ran an ad the following morning saying he would buy out anyone who had an interest in Charlie's house.

The price on both houses went soaring, and Charlie and Marty had to go to the banks to borrow large sums of money to try to purchase each other's homes

Charlie had done a lot of homework, and he knew in a real estate war he could outlast Marty His information was correct, up to a point. Marty had a pal named Hugh Nighted, who loved to dabble in real estate, and anything else that caught his eye. Marty went to Hugh and said, 'Charlie Bendix is trying to buy my house and to defend myself I'm trying to buy his house. Right now he's got me against the wall because I don't have enough money to swing my end of the deal.

Teil you what I'll do," Hugh said. "I'll buy Charlie's house with you. All I want is the kitchen, one bathroom and the living room. You can have the basement and the upper floor. We'll split the dining room between us.'

Marty was relieved because with Hugh's backing he now had a chance to save his own house.

When it was announced that Hugh Nighted was behind Marty, Charlie Bendix should have backed out of the deal. But Charlie was a proud man and he didn't want everyone in the neighborhood saying he didn't know how to buy another guy's house. So

Charlie upped the ante again for Marty's place, and before long both Marty's and Charlie's homes had the most inflated real estate prices ever seen on Takeover Lane For a while it looked as if Charlie would wind up owning Marty's house and Marty would wind up owning Charlie's house at 10 times what each had paid for them At this point, an acquaintance of Charlie's, named Al Eyed, came to Bendix and said, "I want to buy your

"So does Marty Marietta and Hugh Nighted," Charley said. The only difference," Al said, "is if I buy it, I'll let you live in it for a while. If those guys buy it they'll kick your tail out in the gutter. Charlie Bendix was in tears. "All I tried to do was buy Marty's house, and now I have to sell mine. Is that fair?" It's dog eat dog on Takeover Lane. If it will make you feel any better, Marty almost went broke trying to stop you from buying his home. He'll be in debt for 10 years. Well, do you and I have a deal? "What choice do I have?" "None. So just sign here. By the way, what are you going to tell your wife?" Al asked. "I don't have to tell her anything," Charlie replied. "It was her idea in the first place.

Dear Editor,

We're in a depression, and our local leaders are gearing up to spend their big tax increase. Our esteemed City Dads, or you can refer to them now as Mr. Davis & Company, have a real suprise for us dumb taxpayers. They only want 12 million to run the city on this year.

We have 15,000 property owners in Howard County. About 8,000 to 10,000 live in the city. So let's say 10,000 live in the city, that is $1,200 for each taxpayer in the city of Big Spring. Other tax budgets include 12 million for the Big Spring School District, over 4 million for the County, with the City budget that is over 28 million dollars. That is over $1,000 per man. woman and child in Big Spring.

Our esteemed City Dads keep making me think of turkeys. If you ever go to City Hall while they are holding a meeting watch their heads. If Mr. Davis coughs, their heads go up and down. If Mr. Davis says, "Let's spend $50,000 on this or that," their heads go up and down. If Mr. Davis moves his chair, their heads go up and down. They are like turkeys eating corn in a field, their heads never go to the side, it is always up and down. They only believe in spending. They have hired seven more people in the City of Big Spring in the last six months. These are assistants to the assistants, to a tune of over $200,000 per year. So we "dumb suckers" will just have to dig deeper into our savings, if we are lucky enough to have anything left after paying our taxes. If not, put our houses up for sale because our esteemed elected stars are going to take every dime you make. This is for good causes. When people in the private sector are laying off workers and cutting everything they can to make ends meet, Mr. Davis & company of turkeys, just gave $4,000 more per year to Mr. Davis' salary. Was U.S. in on scandal?

WASHINGTON - A year ago, I reported "a scandal of extraordinary proportions" involving top Egyptian political figures and former CIA and Pentagon officials. The gist of the report was that, somehow, the multimillion-dollar exclusive contract for shipping U.S. arms to Egypt wound up in the hands of a company with close Palestinian connections. The disturbing possibility was that the backroom deal had included heavy baksheesh, the bribery that is traditional in the

The disclosures touched off an intensive investigation by the U.S. government. The Pentagon's transportation division began checking bills submitted to the Egyptian government by the shipping company, Egyptian American Transport and Services Corp., which in corporate jargon calls itself EATSCO. Discrepancies were found.

Then, early this year the FBI began its own investigation. Agents visited the Defense Security Assistance Agency on April 15 and seized thousands of documents relating to the EATSCO contract.

A federal grand jury in Virginia is now trying to find out whether any American officials were caught up in a conflict of interest. Did they help EATSCO get the lucrative contract and were they rewarded financially as

Three of the central figures in the case are Gen. Richard Secord, now a deputy assistant secretary of defense; Rich Von Marbod, former head of the DSAA, and Thomas Clines, former director of training for the CIA's clandestine services (the so-called 'dirty tricks' division.)

Clines and Von Marbod had worked together in Iran during the shah's reign. Until my disclosures last year. Clines was president of EATSCO. Subsequently, according to a former EATSCO consultant, Cline was bought out by his Egyptian partner.

The grand jury is expected to take action — either issuing indictments or clearing those under investigation -

Meanwhile, my associates Dale Van Atta and Indy Badhwar have been continuing our investigation I sent Van Atta to Israel, Lebanon and Egypt to track down leads. Here are our additional findings: Egyptian President Hosni

Mubarak does not seem to be involved. Egyptian sources regard him as personally incorruptive, though he was informed that there were problems with the arms-shipping contract. Defense Minister Abu Ghazala and Gen. Mounir Sabet, Mubarak's brother-in-law and head of Egyptian military procurement in Washington, were following orders. They helped EATSCO's predecessor company, Tersam, to nail the contract. The orders came from Kamai Hassan Ali, who preceded Ghazala as defense minister. Ghazala was reportedly surprised when he got the secret order to give Tersam the shipping contract. He couldn't believe the contract had gone to "that S.O.B."

a joking reference to Tersam's Egyptian president Hussein Salem. All the strings in this Byzantine puppet show lead to Ali, who is now Egypt's foreign minister. It was Ali who misled American businessmen by getting Egyptian friends to set up joint corporations supposedly to handle the contract. Meanwhile, he awarded it quietly to Tersam. Ali then lied repeatedly to keep the Tersam contract secret. And it was Ali who deftly parried requests for investigations by both then-President Anwar Sadat and then-Vice President Mubarak. He told them both, according to our sources, that the Pentagon and the CIA were the ones insisting that Tersam-EATSCO get the shipping contract. It's possible he may have been telling the truth on that point. Finally, though Egyptian sources said some of the U.S. arms had been diverted to the Palestine Liberation Organization, we found no evidence of this. Interviews with Israeli military officials and a first-hand look at the huge piles of captured PLO equipment in Lebanon turned up no American weapons that had been sent to Egypt.

Footnote: Understandably, no one involved is eager to talk about his role in the arms-shipment deal. Gen. Secord has been advised by his own and Pentagon lawyers not to comment on the investigation. Clines, Von Marbod, Ali and EATSCO executives, both in Egypt and Virginia, either refused interview requests, did not return our calls or could not be located. AIRBORNE LIMOUSINES: At a

Peer pressure tough problem

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I wonder if you really realize what sort of pressures we young people face today - peer pressure, temptations, trying to get ahead, etc. Don't you agree that it's tougher to be a young person today than in your generation? - J.A.L.

DEAR J.A.L.: Yes, I'm sure in many ways it is more difficult today for various reasons. Many things (such as drugs) are easily accessible. The media (including television and much popular music) often present ideas and lifestyles which would have been considered shocking just a generation ago. We also have seen a tragic loosening in family ties so that many young people have little experience of love and discipline.

But in other ways it has always been difficult for young people, because there have always been pressures of one kind or another. You see, our basic human nature has not changed, no matter how much society may have changed. If we follow our natural instincts each of us - regardless of age - wants to be independent and run our own lives. We each want happiness in whatever ways we can

In other words, I hope you will not just blame society for the pressures and temptations you are facing, or that you will excuse some of the things you may be doing by saying, "Oh well, everyone else is doing them, so I might as well do them also." Instead, pray that you will turn to God, and find in him the strength that you need. You need strength and wisdom from him - not only to resist pressures and temptations, but also to know how to build your life and become the person God intends you to be.

Dr. Donohue

Dear Dr. Donohue: I hope you have some printed information on deep-vein thrombosis. My daughter, who is just 35, has this, and as near as I can tell she's not planning any treatment. I have read that when this happens, there can be terribly serious consequences, and we are all so worried about her future with this. If you could only write about it, I would show the item to her and maybe wake her up. Thanks. - Mrs. V.O.W.

Your daughter should not be adopting a lax or wait-andsee attitude if she has or suspects she has this. I'll explain

Veins you can see at the surface of the body are the superficial kind. The deeper ones lie buried out of sight. Thrombosis is a formation of a clot in either set of veins: but a clot in the deeper-lying veins is of greater concern. The concern surrounds what might happen to that clot. It can break-up into smaller pieces (emboli) and be carried along with the blood flow

As you know, the ultimate destination of venous blood flow in the lungs. If an embolus is carried there it can lodge in the smaller veins and interrupt lung circulation. That is called a pulmonary embolism. This does not occur if the clot is in the superficial veins.

Treatment for deep-vein thrombosis depends on where the clot is. The calf veins are the most common sites, but the clots can appear in other places, even in the arms Sometimes rest and leg elevation is all that is needed. Often, however, blood thinners must be given to prevent growth of the clot. Some clots have to be surgically removed. There are precise methods for handling such problems. Your daughter certainly requires follow-up attention.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I often hear the expression "my foot's asleep," and wonder what it really means. Can you please tell me exactly what goes through the body during this period? - A.V.

.For most people it means that pressure has been put on the large nerve cable in the leg, which is thereby temporarily knocked out of commission.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Hungry band members offend their hosts' ears

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I hired a six-piece band for our daughter's wedding reception. Naturally we expected to offer refreshments to the band, but we didn't plan on feeding their wives, girlfriends and teen-aged children. (I counted 15 extra) billed as romantic comedy, 'Having it All' is a promising romp that is sunk by its one-joke theme. How many times can you see one husband arriving when the other is leaving?

Miss Cannon, playing famous fashion designer Thera Baylin, is the movie's saving grace. As the frazzled double-dater, she seems to be having fun.

Sports Editor Six of nine 10 Big Spring area football teams recorded victories on the sixth Friday of the 1982 season. In two big games, Forsan shut out Sands 24-0 in the first 7-A game for both teams while Colorado City shocked Coahoma 28-0 at Bulldog homecoming ceremonies. Greenwood, Stanton, Garden City and Klondike also recorded victories with Coogs winning their game on the road.

Richard Gibson (Grady Wildcats): On what the Wildcats did during a week off — "We used Monday and Tuesday to get over our bumps and bruises and then worked on our offensive execution. We have to teach three new people on offense." On returning to action Friday at home against McCaulley - "They are a big, big ballclub...that's in numbers as well as size. They have two fine running backs and run four or five offensive sets. Hermleigh beat them about like they did us. They are well-coached and it should be an evenly matched game. We beat them 36-34 last year. The outcome will depend on how well we tackle.

Steve Park (Stanton Buffaloes): On winning district opener over Eldorado -- "The kids played a real good game...it went a lot better than we expected. We were worried because they had so much size. If you went to sleep, they could score the big play on you. The defense? It played pretty good but we still let that same play score on us that Seagraves ran twice. It's a sweep that bounces outside and our cornerback gets hung up inside." On this week's road trip to Miles - "They have a real good quarterback in the Kalinas kid. The thing that's hurting them is losing all their backfield one to knee surgery and the other had an appendectomy. On defense we're going to have to stop them throwing the ball by doing a better job of Joe Longley (Greenwood Rangers): On last week's homecoming victory over Water Valley - "We're finally hitting stride. But we still can't play any defense. It's our offense that's carrying us now. They scored with 15 seconds to go so it should have been 29-14. But a win's a win. We'll take them anyway we can get them. We're 2-1 in district and we're still in it." On facing Irion Co. which lost to Garden City Friday -They are a big physical football team just like Water Valley. We'll have to play good football.

Jan East (Forsan Buffaloes): On Friday's surprisingly easy win over Sands — "Well, for one thing, we scouted them three times and knew what they were going to do. We made some adjustments on defense to stop certain plays. We knew we had to stop Creswell. He was averaging about 150 yards and three or four touchdowns a game. The two times we needed the defense, they made the big play." On meeting preseason favorite Roscoe on the home ground" - "I'd compare them with Sands but they're not as big and physical. But they still have a threat of breaking it on any play. You know they won this thing last year and they have some experience back. But for the first time in five years, our kids think they have a chance to win district. They are getting enthused. Sands was a must game for us but this is another.

Stewart Cooper (Garden City Bearkats): On last week's third straight win, this time over Irion Co. -"Oh boy, we're just tickled out here. We threw the ball on them (Richard Batla hit 15 of 18 throws for 228 yards). We knew we would but not that much. But they shut down our running game good. It was 6-0 at halftime and we kicked off in the second half and they fumbled it. That was kind of the turning point in the game. I'm afraid not playing in the first half is going to catch up with us. We've got four teams down the road that can't do that against." On going 4-0 in league play against Bronte - "They are a well-coached team. They are pretty big and run a basic offense. Our defense will have to be ready to adjust to them. We're going to have to pick up on defense and execute on Tom Ramsey (Colorado City Wolves): On evening up season record at 3-3 with shutout performance against Coahoma - "We got a few big breaks early and that probably changed the tone of the game. We got Coahoma down in a hole pretty good and they didn't get out. We ran the opening kickoff back and then drove the football 90 yards for another touchdown. That sort of shocked them. They fumbled at the 30 and we made it 21-0. We wanted to work on the clock in the second half and so we did some simple stuff. On defense we didn't have any idea that we'd shut them out. They hit pretty well but they had the breaks against them." On Friday night's test at home against Ozona — "We're pretty much doing now what we've wanted. We're cutting down on our mistakes and getting to play now as well as we can. We should be in it (the district race) Ozona is big and has speed and is balanced. The defense is a 4-3. They need a win to stay in it. But we're in first place and we don't want to give that up, either.'

Larry Hudson (Coahoma Bulldogs): On a surprising homecoming loss to rival Colorado City - "I feel like we did not play well at all. We can't point to individuals because it was 100 per cent a group effort. We didn't play up to our capabilities at all. I was just totally dismayed. They took the opening kickoff and scored and that pretty well left us in shock." undefeated Crane on the road in second league game -They have Mr. Eugene Morris - the quarterback from Odessa Ector - and he can throw that thing standing on his head. They have a fine running back in Gilbert Ramirez, their tailback. They play excellent defense. And it's their homecoming. I talked to their coach and he said they were flat Friday so they should be up for this game. We'll have to pin our ears back and find some players that are hungry to play four quarters

Jim White (Sands Mustangs): On first loss of the year to Forsan - "We came out in the second half and tried to eliminate the mistakes we had in the first half the penalties and fumbles - that were hampering us. Both of our backs played consistently and compliment each other well. That's what we need to be effective." On Friday's big, big, big game against Forsan — "It will be the toughest game we've played so far by a long shot. They're big and they're fast and loaded with good athletes. We're going to tell our team that we can't have the mistakes we're had and beat them. If we can prove we can pass, we can keep people from piling up all those guys on the line of scrim-

Bill West (Klondike Cougars): On last week's district-opening win on road at Roby - "First of all, we took the opening kickoff and drove 88 yards in nine plays and scored. We weren't going to pass but wanted to establish our running game for district. And that's what we did. We had 267 yards running and just 55 passing. The pass was there but I was just stubborn, I guess. They had the best passer we've seen but he only completed four of 17 and we intercepted four. Three of those were in the fourth quarter." On hosting Loraine in homecoming game — "They have a second team alldistrict quarterback and second team all-district tailback. They have good skill people but they are short on numbers. They had to forfeit one game because they didn't have enough. But they had 14 last week.

Jim Warren (Lamesa Golden Tors): On tough loss to No. 9 ranked Sweetwater - "They are a very good football team. I thought our kids played well but Sweetwater is awfully good. They execute well. They are primarily a running team. And they also play good defense. Offensively, we moved the ball on Sweetwater but we couldn't get it in." On traveling to meet mighty Monahans - "Ricky Boysaw is all there is to say (Monahans back who is close to 1,000 yards already) Our defensive ends are going to have to be ready to sacrifice their bodies on the pitch-sweep." Attitude? "It's great." Any breathers coming up? "There's no such thing in this league.

Bullpen-deep Redbirds face big Brewer bats

Simmons, the Milwaukee catcher, was philosophical. He talked about big guys and little guys, about struggles for survival and why they are won and lost.

That was several days ago, when the Brewers were struggling to stay alive in the American League playoffs. Not only did they survive, they accomplished the greatest turnaround in playoff history by beating the California Angels in three straight games after losing the first two.

Milwaukee's comeback set up the team's World Series clash with the St. Louis Cardinals, who completed a three-game sweep of the Atlanta Braves in the National League playoffs

Sunday night.

Game One of the Series was scheduled for 8:15 p.m. EDT Tuesday at Busch Stadium in St. Louis with Game Two there the following night. Following a travel day, the Series resumes with three games, if all are needed, in Milwaukee on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The final two games of the Series would be played in St. Louis on Tuesday and Wednesday. Simmons' locker room soliloquy, although he did not know it at the time, may have been prophetic. It seemed to sum up the way this World Series would take shape.

"If you have 10 big guys and 10 little guys," he had said, "the 10 big guys usually Herzog said right-hander Bob Forsch, who pitched a three-hit shutout in the second game of the NL playoffs, would start Game One of the Series for the Cards. Milwaukee Manager Harvey Kuenn said he probably would counter with left-hander Mike Caldwell, the opening game loser in the AL series. Forsch was 15-9 with a 3.48 ERA during the season, while Caldwell was 17-13 with a 3.91 ERA.

The big question mark for Milwaukee was bullpen ace Rollie Fingers, who has not pitched since Sept. 2 when he sustained a torn muscle in his right forearm.

Kuenn said Fingers could have pitched to one or two batters in the playoffs, but there still was some pain in the pitcher's arm. In his place, Kucnn used rookie right-hander Pete Ladd, who faced 10 batters in three playoff appearances, retiring all 10.

The Cardinals' bullpen probably is the best in baseball, anchored by Mr. Split-Fingered Fastball, Bruce Sutter, who led the majors with 36 saves.

Runnels wins two games

Both Runnels Junior High Red and White teams claimed football victories Saturday over Pecos.

The Red team scored quickly in its victory over Pecos Zavala as Benny Smithwick romped 40 yards for a touchdown. A Runnels line set up a touchdown by Pecos but a scoring pass from Cedric Banks to Randy Odom of 12 yards provided the difference in the game.

The Red team is now 4-1 and hosts Lamesa at 4 p.m. Thursday at Blankenship Field.

The White team pounded Pecos 46-8 as Bernard Williams scored twice and Paul Decker tossed two touchdown passes.

Williams scored on two 18yard runs while Decker passed two yards to Ashley Nixon and 26 yards to Phillip Mathews. Other scores were made by Charles Young on a two-yard run and a 24-yard gallop by John Hart.

The White kept its record unblemished at 5-0 and battles Lamesa at 5:30 p.m. Thursday at Blankenship.

Washington still atop AP poll

By The Associated Press

The state of Pennsylvania has had enough of Alabama for one weekend

The Crimson Tid not only beat Penn State Saturday, but also bumped Pitt out of second place in the Associated Press college football poll.

Penn State plunged from No.3 to No.8 as the result of its 42-21 defeat by Bear Bryant's team Saturday. In the process, Alabama moved from No.4 to No.2, knocking idle Pitt down to third.

The Crimson Tide received 13 first-place votes Monday from the nationwide panel of sports writers and broad-casters and collected a total of 1,016 points as the result of its impressive victory. Pitt received nine first-place votes and a total of 996 points.

The Crimson Tide's total left them behind the No.1 Washington Huskies, who received 31 of the 54 first-place ballots and 1,046 of a possible 1,080 points as the result of their 50-7 triumph over California. It's the fifth week in a row Washington has been on top of the rankings.

Florida State showed up in this year's polls for the first time, moving into the No.19 spot after trouncing Southern Illinois 59-8. Meanwhile, Clemson, the defending national champion, climbed back into the Top Twenty at No.20 after routing Virginia 48-0 for its third straight victory. The Tigers had started the season with a loss to Georgia and a tie with Boston College.

Georgia, which received the other first-place ballot, moved up one place to No.4 following a 33-10 triumph over Mississippi, and was followed in the rankings by No. 5 Southern Methodist, No.6 Nebraska, No.7 Arkansas, No. 8 Penn State, No.9 Notre Dame and No.10 Arizona State.

North Carolina led the second ten in the No.11 spot, followed by UCLA, West Virginia, Southern Cal, Illinois, LSU and Miami, Fla. Texas fell to No. 18, while Florida State, No.19, and Clemson completed the Top Twenty.

Florida, No.14 last week, and Boston College, No.19, dropped out of the rankings after weekend losses.

Bargaining mood reported in NFL

By The Associated Press

With both sides in the National Football League strike apparently in a mood to bargain and a mediator about to be named, the NFL seems ready to modify its threat to cancel the season if no agreement is reached by the end of October.

As the two chief negotiators were meeting Monday at the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service to decide on a mediator, Commissioner Pete Rozelle was saying the league would be flexible in determining when the strike had cancelled too many games to allow the season to continue.

In the past, Rozelle had said that thirteen was the minimum number of games that could be played to make settlement would have to be reached in time for the games of Oct. 31 to be played.

But on Monday, he told Associated Press that it would be possible to play the season with 12 games or even less. 'None of this is etched in stone, to borrow a phrase," he said, referring to a statement commonly used by union president Gene Upshaw about union contract demands Meanwhile, chief management negotiator Jack Donlan and his union counterpart, Ed Garvey, were meeting with Kay McMurray, chief of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. They emerged to say they hoped for a quick announcement the season viable. That would mean a naming a mediator to help end the walkout, which enters its fourth week Wha

There have been no formal negotiations since Oct. 2, when talks broke off after there was no agreement even on non-monetary issues, let alone the union's demand for a wage scale that is the major issue in the strike.

Since then, much of the verbal sparring has been over a mediator management has sought federal mediation; the union, while finally agreeing to accept a mcdiator, has insisted that he not be with the Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Ex-player blasts NFL strikers

SEATTLE (AP) — Calling some of today's professional athletes"prostitutes, football hall of famer Hugh McElhenny says he strongly opposes the National Football League's first midseason players' strike.

In McElhenny's opinion, the attitude of today's athlete has had a lot to do with causing the labor crisis. Too many pro football players are in the sport for the wrong reason - money,

"I think the proper word is that more of the players playing professional sports today are prostitutes," he said. "They'll do anything to make a buck and make it fast

"I can truthfully say guys like Y.A. Tittle, Joe Perry, Leo Nomellini . . . We played football for the fun of it. We knew we couldn't have made that kind of salary going out and getting a regular job but we were still doing it for the fun of it."

McElhenny, 53, a superstar running back of yesteryear, became a member of the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame at King's Island, Ohio, in July. He was inducted into pro football's Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio, in 1970.

He doesn't mince words when talking about the NFL Players Association strike. He says doesn't like the union, the union's direction and its executive director, Ed Garvey

The players' strike has wiped out three weeks of the league's season and threatens to cancel the remainder of the schedule.

McElhenny contends there is a vast difference in the attitude of today's NFL player from the attitude of the player of his day. But he says he's not sure why.

'I guess it's like all things," he declared. "All things change.

After coming out of the University of Washington, McElhenny played in the NFL for 13 seasons — from 1952 through 1964. He finished with 5,281 career rushing yards and a 4.70 average most money The McElhenny made as a player in a single season was $25,000 — in four seasons from 1961 through 1964. But he says he thinks he was treated fairly and he feels today's players are being treated fairly, too.

In his NFL heydey, he was known as "The King," the most feared open-field runner in professional football.

"My response to the players is, 'Hey, if you're not happy with what you're making, why don't you go out and go to work like the rest of us have to?" he said. "The average salary today is something like $90,000. That's a lot of money in my
