Filibuster delays spending bill vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The GOP-controlled Senate struggled toward a final vote Saturday on legislation to avert a threatened shutdown of the federal government, ignoring President Reagan's blunt declaration that he would veto the bill because it includes $1.2 billion for public works jobs.

At the same time, Republican Leader Howard Baker of Tennessee vowed to make one final, late-night attempt to win approval for a 5-cent increase in the federal gasoline tax. "We still have a problem," Baker said. "But I'm still determined."

Baker's statement prompted one gasoline tax opponent, Sen. John East, R-N.C., to retaliate by starting a filibuster at 9 p.m. that prevented a final vote on the spending bill.

The gasoline tax measure was all but abandoned Thursday night after the Senate failed to crack a conservative-led filibuster. Sen.

Jesse Helms, R-N.C., one of the opponents, said he would seek to delay a final vote as long as possible.

No action was expected on the gasoline tax measure until after the spending bill was approved.

The White House favors increasing the tax, now 4 cents per gallon, to provide $5.5 billion a year for highway and mass transit improvements. But Reagan is adamantly opposed to attaching jobs money to the spending bill.

"I cannot sign that bill," Reagan said in a live radio interview. He suggested he might agree to some sort of compromise jobs package, but he did not say what sort of compromise he would accept between the Senate bill and a House measure containing an even more costly jobs program.

Baker said there was no doubt a veto would be sustained. If it came to that, he said "the only way out" was for Congress to start over again on Sunday or Monday in hopes of approving a measure that Reagan would sign and return the government to normal operations.

Most federal agencies ran out of money at midnight Friday, when an existing catch-all spending bill expired. But because the funds ran out over a weekend, virtually no disruptions were expected until the work week begins Monday.

The House already has approved its version of the bill, including $5.4 billion for jobs that Reagan denounced as "pork barrel."

As Senate debate resumed Saturday — after two days of marathon sessions — Baker said he hoped for a final vote by evening. That would give House and Senate negotiators Sunday to work out a compromise that both houses could then ratify either Sunday night or Monday.

But Reagan, in a radio interview

Howard College trustee board okays 14-cent ad valorem rate

The Howard County Junior College Board of Trustees Friday set a 14-cent tax rate per $100 property valuation to be coupled with a previously approved 40 percent homestead exemption.

Thirteen cents of the amount will go into a maintenance fund, and the other one cent will be used to provide an interest in a sinking fund, according to the adopted resolution.

The district plans to raise about $1,500,000 in tax revenues with the new rate and exemption based on a 96 percent collection rate.

The 14-cent rate is the same as last year's rate, according to Dr. Charles Hays, president of the district.

In other business matters, the board okayed a $13,845 bid from Price Construction Co. for a paving project.

Vice President for Fiscal Affairs Mike Bruner said the job will provide a new parking lot surface for the Horace Garret Science Building, and resurface part of Adams Road that runs between Memorial Stadium and the new occupational-technical building.

The pavement will consist of a one-inch overlay of hot mix on a reconditioned and packed surface, Bruner.

In other action the board:

- Discussed the possible repair of the playing surface of Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. The concrete below the surface has split causing a foot crack below the west end of the playing surface.

The board heard several alternatives of repair, but took no action.

- Hired Jackie Bailey as an A.D.N. instructor in the school's nursing program.
- Hired Dr. John Sherill as an assistant librarian.
- Okayed a bid for Cruz Carpet in Odessa for carpet installation in the school's dormitories and student union building.
- Approved a bid of $10,218 from Mead's Auto Supply Inc. for hydraulic floor lifts for HC's auto shop.
- Approved an $8,400 bid from Bob Brock Ford for a 1982 Granad to be used as a staff car.
- Appropriated $5,000 to be used to purchase bucking stock for the school's rodeo team.

Salvation Army: on a mission

Volunteers on double yule duty

More than any other time of the year, the Salvation Army's presence is greatest felt at Christmas.

For some of us, getting presents and eating a big dinner are routine Yuletide events, but others aren't so lucky. A toy or a nice meal could mean the difference between delight and despair.

That's where the Salvation Army plays a crucial role. With its Toys for Tots campaign, Christmas kettle fund, general appeal campaign and Christmas dinners, the SA makes potentially bleak holidays disappear.

"Our hours are long, but the rewards are great," said Lt. Carroll Braun, local SA commander. "Seeing someone's life turned around as a result of our program makes it all worthwhile. Sharing our Christmas with those less fortunate gives the season a special significance."

With high unemployment and a deepening recession, more and more people are turning to the Salvation Army for assistance.

This year has been a hectic one for the SA as the organization has seen a 60 percent increase in requests for help over last year. Braun said the SA had anticipated only a 25 percent increase for this year.

Braun said the SA had "more than just welfare recipients" applying for aid this year because of unemployment.

The recession apparently has affected the amount of contributions to the SA. The organization has raised only $12,000 to date toward a goal of $25,000. However, Braun is optimistic that contributions will equal that figure this week.

And, according to Braun, toy and canned good contributions have increased, which help offset the decline in donations.

"We've got over $20,000 worth of stuff here," Braun said, gesturing out over the old downtown J.C. Penney's store being used as the SA's Christmas thrift shop.

The store's shelves are lined with new and refurbished toys ready to go under the tree, and mountains of canned goods are stacked and ready to be placed in Christmas baskets.

"We've had much more response than last year, it's really amazing," Braun said.

Toys and kids are an inseparable Christmas pair. And through an extensive Toys for Tots effort, the SA has a large selection of toys for parents to choose from this year.

The Blue Knights, a motorcycle club comprised of area police officers, has repaired over 2,000 used toys since last January, according to Robert Stapp, a member of the organization.

Big Spring Cable TV also has contributed to the toy stockpile by offering a free service installation for a donated toy, Braun said.

For Christmas dinner the SA will provide a traditional meal for singles and couples without children from 2-5 p.m. on Christmas day, Braun said.

Those families that have applied for Christmas assistance will receive food baskets, he said.

"It is our mission to serve the whole person: body, mind and soul," Braun said. "We work with those who need assistance every day, not just during the holiday season. However, it is the holiday period when our efforts reach a peak."

Contributions to the SA can be left at 308 Ayiford or at any of the Christmas kettles.

C-City woman indicted Friday in son's death

COLORADO CITY (SC) — A Mitchell County grand jury Friday returned two indictments against Pearl Lee Dering in connection with the Nov. 29 death of her 21-month-old son, Shawn.

The first indictment is for murder and the second is for failure to provide medical care for the child, court officials said.

The murder indictment charges Mrs. Dering, 25, with beating her son in the abdomen with a wooden shovel handle and then scalding the child's body in a bathtub of hot water.

Assistant District Attorney Lonnie Markley said a charge against the woman's husband, Rocky Joe Dering, 25, for failure to provide medical care was not presented to the jury.

Mrs. Dering remains in the Mitchell County jail in lieu of $100,000 bond.

The couple was arrested Dec. 1 when Colorado City Police Chief Ed Wheat was called to the Root Memorial Hospital emergency room to investigate the death of the infant.

Wheat said Mrs. Dering was charged with murder later that day after she signed a confession stating that she had immersed the baby in scalding water.

The couple's 4-year-old daughter, Dawn, was placed in the care of the Texas Department of Human Resources.

Living Christmas Tree draws crowd

People were standing in the aisles at the premier of the First United Methodist Church's "The Living Christmas Tree" Saturday night.

More than 270 performers and other personnel launched the two-hour program with "A Christmas Festival" followed by a musical version of Ken Darby's "Twas the Night Before Christmas," replete with puppets and Santa Claus.

The hushed audience was treated to superb music from an orchestra composed of several members drawn of the Midland-Odesa Symphony Orchestra. The Living Christmas Tree Singers, 74-voices strong, were aided by 24 bell ringers in their performance of 10 numbers.

Other "feature" appearances included E.T., Darth Vader, Yoda, the toys from "The Nutcracker Suite" and a dancing bear.

However, the overall theme was music — the music of Christmas.

"The Living Christmas Tree" will be presented tonight and Monday night beginning at the First United Methodist Church.

22 receive nursing cap in college ceremonies

Capping ceremonies for the 1982-83 vocational nursing class of Howard College were held Friday in the HC auditorium.

Twenty-two students received their caps presented by Ramona Harris and by June Stone, R.N., and Jean Morris, R.N., both instructors of the LVN program.

Those receiving caps were: Barbara Adamson, Shirley Barlow, Belva Burzine, Bertie Cataldo, Nancy Cobb, Judith Cook, Barbara Garrison, Ann Hayes, Elizabeth Hernandez, Elizabeth Hodges and Geraldine Hoffman.

Others include Vinda Huff, Nancy Hughes, Kathy Lujan, Stella Marshall, Denette Marquez, Kathy Mauld, Cathi Richardson, Gwen Smith, Vickie Smith, Lupe Suniga and Sharon Walker.

Dr. P.W. Malone gave the commencement address.

Heritage Museum has Western art exhibit

Big Spring's Heritage Museum will feature a special Christmas showing from Folger's Ranch Gallery in Midland of top-name art exhibits.

The special showing from 1 to 5 p.m. today. The Museum will include western prints from Charles Russell, Fredrich Remington, Dalhart Windberg and others.

Works will also include landscapes by Royce Roberts, Robert Enright, George Kovach and Judy Saffle. Other works will be seascapes and wildlife prints.

The museum, located at 510 Scurry Street, will present the show open to the public today.

C-City honors employee

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Walter Mitchell, head of the Sanitation and Street Department, has been named employee of the year by city officials.

Mitchell has worked for the city for 19 years. He said he is honored to be the first chosen for the honor.

Sterling City man honored

Raul Guerra of Sterling City recently was presented a 15-year Certificate of Service by the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

Guerra is a maintenance technician III with the department's Sterling City maintenance section.

He and his family are members of the First Baptist Church of Big Spring.

IN THE SPIRIT — Fourth and fifth graders from Washington Elementary School in Big Spring performed a concert of Christmas carols Friday for the residents of Canterbury apartments. The performance signaled the end of school for the singers until the new year.

Congress

broadcast from the White House, said he opposes the bill, at least in its present form.

"I cannot sign that bill. I will have to veto it if it contains these various amounts ... that have been suggested," he said.

Referring to the House bill, pushed through by the Democratic leadership, the president declared: "The $5.4 billion is not a job creation bill. It is a pork barrel."

House Democratic Leader Jim Wright rejected Reagan's claim, insisting: "It is not make work. It is not pork barrel."

Wright, D-Texas, added, "If President Reagan has a better plan to offer to put America's jobless back to work, we would like to know it."

Still, the president suggested there was a possibility that a House-Senate compromise could be struck on the jobs issue that would satisfy him. He said negotiators might take one plan — an orange — and cross it with the other — an apple. "It might come out a pear," he said.

In the Senate itself, debate ran through literally dozens of amendments on the huge bill over three days — from building the most complex nuclear weapons to forcing a reduction in congressional staff.

In all, the debate amounted to jamming a full year's worth of work into a single weekend.

The legislation is necessary because only six of the regular 13 money bills needed for the current fiscal year have been passed. Reagan has signed five of them.

Among the most significant votes in the three days of Senate debate were:

- A 50-48 roll call rejecting a move by the Republican leadership to delete the $1.2 billion in jobs money.
- A vote of 49-48 to restore funds for the Clinch River Breeder Reactor nuclear project in Tennessee. The House cut the funds.
- A 56-42 decision approving $988 million for production of the MX missile, although the money may not be spent until both the House and Senate approve a method for deployment.

—A 59-37 vote permitting the Federal Trade Commission to retain most of its ability to regulate professional groups such as doctors and dentists.

—A decision to reject a House-passed provision calling for a congressional pay raise of 15 percent, or about $9,100. The current salary is $60,662.

—An 80-11 vote to provide an additional $200 million for energy assistance for the poor.

There was no precise estimate of the size of the catch-all bill, but it ran into hundreds of billions of dollars.

The Senate version contains about $233 billion for defense, for example, and nearly $100 billion more for programs run by the Departments of Health and Human Services and Labor.

It contains another $11.5 billion for foreign aid, and billions more for programs run by agencies such as the departments of Justice, Commerce, State, Treasury, Interior and numerous other agencies.

Police Beat

Man escapes policeman's arrest

A Big Spring man escaped arrest Saturday morning by fleeing on foot as a companion jumped the arresting officer.

According to police reports, Steven Dwayne Barnett, 19, was being arrested for traffic warrants when a juvenile pinned the officer's hands, allowing Barnett to escape.

When the officer attempted to pursue Barnett, the juvenile then jumped on the officer's back, pulling him to the ground. The juvenile remains in police custody on suspicion of hindering apprehension, according to police reports.

- A New Jersey man staying at Motel 6 told police a duffel bag was taken from his vehicle between Friday night and Saturday morning. John Mahoney valued the bag and its contents at $300.
- Police arrested Juan Marquez, no age given, of 104 W. 4th Saturday morning for resisting arrest. Marquez spit in the arresting officer's face and attempted to strike the officer with his elbow, according to police. Marquez was released on $1,000 bond, records show.
- Craig Richardson of 1200 E. 15th told police a .357 magnum pistol valued at $289 was taken from his residence between 7 and 10:30 p.m. Friday. Entry was made through a door that had apparently been kicked in, police say.
- Bill Draper of Faves Flowers told police two wheels and tires were removed from his van while it was parked at the floral shop at 1013 Gregg Friday night. Draper said the rear wheels, valued at $200, were taken and the van was left propped on bricks.
- Joey Munoz III of 1409 Park complained to police $73 was taken from his coat Friday between 7:30 p.m. and 8:25 p.m. Friday while he was at the Skate Palace.
- Vicky Ledesma of 1304 Lamar complained to police she was assaulted by someone she knew at 11 p.m. Friday while she was at the Nashville Tavern on 112 S. Main. Ms. Ledesma told police the subject twisted her arm so that she required medical attention.
- Marie Camden of 3211 Auburn told police she was assaulted by an unknown person at 5:20 a.m. Saturday while at the 7-11 Store at 18th and Gregg Street. The person punched her in the stomach and fled on foot, she said.
- A vehicle driven by Thomas George Nelder of 1304 E. 4th was in collision with a telephone pole and a city fire hydrant at 10:54 p.m. Friday at 407 W. 3rd and Lancaster, police say. Nelder was cited for no liability insurance, expired motor vehicle inspection sticker and failure to identify after leaving the wreck scene, police say.

- Vehicles driven by Lewis Eldon Hall, 207 E. 2nd, and Marie Hamby Roberson, 1704 Main, were in collision at the intersection of 1704 Main and 17th Streets at 11:21 a.m. Friday. Police report Hall was cited for following too close while Ms. Roberson was ticketed for an improper right turn.
- A vehicle driven by Robert Steven Chrane of 1210 Runnels struck a fence at 810 Ohio at 11:50 p.m. Friday. Chrane was arrested for DWI, police say.
- Vehicles driven by Lester Don Adams Jr. of Knott Route and Donald Field Satter of Arkansas were in collision in the parking lot of the Fourth and Birdwell 7-11 Store Friday at 8:17 p.m. Police say Satter was towing another vehicle when he was in collision with Adams' vehicle. No action was taken.
- A vehicle driven by Bessie J. Hamlin of 1208 Pennsylvania was in collision with a parked Quality Transport truck at 1208 Pennsylvania and W. 11th Place. No action was taken and no injuries were reported.

Sheriff's Log

Bad check arrests made

Howard County sheriff's deputies say they arrested Amy Lynn Oseland, 18, of 405 Owens for suspicion of forgery by passing $5,000 bond. Records show she was released after posting $5,000 bond.

- Janie M. Arispe, 32, of 1204 Lamar was arrested by sheriff's deputies in connection with a county warrant for issuance of bad checks. Records indicate she paid a fine and bad checks and was released.
- Roy Moore, 28, Route one, was arrested by sheriff's deputies on a peace bond. Moore was released after posting $1,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin.
- LaSandra Jackson, 17, of 1002 N. Main posted $2,500 bond to be released following her arrest by city police for suspicion of theft. Bond was set by Municipal Judge Melvin Daratt.
- Robert Steven Chrane, 30, of 1210 Runnels, posted $1,500 bond to be released following his arrest by city police for suspicion of driving while intoxicated. Bond was set by Daratt.
- Three persons posted $1,000 bonds each on separate charges of DWI. Released on bond were William Shultz, 36, 519 Hillside; Ricardo O. Valdez, 33, of San Antonio and Manuel Marquez, 52, of the Chief Apartments.

Beauty, humor mark concert of symphony

By MIKE DOWNEY Staff Writer

As the last wistful note of "Silent Night" died away Friday night in the Big Spring High School auditorium, surely no one in the audience was untouched by the performance of the Midland-Odesa Symphony and Chorale.

From the opening Christmas carol sing-a-long with the chorale soaring from the aisles to the humorously-touching Christmas story narration to the exultant renditions of Yuletide classics, the symphony and chorale gave a Christmas program of power, passion and remembrance.

The crowning note on a jubilant evening of music was the closing visit by Santa Claus and the subsequent candlelight recessional to the poignant strains of "Silent Night."

In a voice Parliament the stage floor kept intact Jaruzelski. One gives of war" imp and begin

Following a hilarious talk with Conductor Dr. Thomas Hohstadt, Santa exuberantly conducted the orchestra and chorale through "Rudolph the Red-Nose Reindeer," losing his cap in his excitement.

Santa then led the chorale, all bearing lit candles, out through the darkened auditorium as they sang "Silent Night." The symphony continued playing the haunting chords after the singers left. Section by section, the members left carrying candles until only Gene Purdue on violin remained playing the melancholy music in the shadows.

Then, he left with his violin and his candle in the hush of the building.

Other highlights of the concert included a delightful Christmas story narrated by Dwight Whitsett of the chorale. "G.A.G.E., a Christmas Story" was punctuated with flourishes of orchestration from the symphony.

The humorously-presented story of a Austrian musician who created great music with four angel-sent musical notes (GAGE) turned out to be the composer of "Silent Night."

Another highlight was the stately beauty of a Pachelbel canon that opened the second half of the program. On a shadowed stage, the conductor-less orchestra played the achingly-pure notes, beginning with only a cello and violin, then adding instruments to an ineffably elegant conclusion.

Chorale Conductor Dr. Stanley Engebretson directed the entire ensemble through three resplendent numbers: "Jubilate Deo," "Nativity Carol," and "Star Carol."

The only drawback of the chorale numbers was the chorale's location onstage behind the symphony, which sometimes blunted the full effect of the voices. The a cappella parts were stunning, however.

"The Many Moods of Christmas" featuring five Christmas tunes had some excellent touches from the sleigh bells in "Joy to the World" to the harp accompaniment of "Away in a Manger." "March of the Kings," with its martial drums, has to be one of the most rousing Christmas songs in the world.

All in all, Friday night was a superb musical presentation in the second concert of the 1982-1983 season, sponsored by the Big Spring Symphony Association.

Firemen award members

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Area firemen were honored recently at banquets in Colorado City and Lorraine.

Colorado City "Fireman of the Year" was Brian Bassham. Pat McKinny, a member of the fire department for 35 years, received a special award.

Lorraine fireman Ike Williams was named "Fireman of the Year" for that city, and J.C. Hall was re-elected fire chief for Lorraine.

Polish parliament vote ends martial law rule

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Parliament on Saturday formally approved the military regime's plans to suspend martial law, but institutionalized many of the sweeping powers used in the "war" against the Solidarity labor movement.

The legislation drew immediate criticism from the council of Roman Catholic bishops. A council letter signed by the Catholic primate of Poland, Archbishop Jozef Glemp, said the government undercut its support by pushing through laws that "sharpen the rigors and repressive character of regulations while at the same time proclaiming a relaxation."

Army Chief of Staff Florian Siwicki, addressing lawmakers just before the vote, warned: "The road to complete normalization in Poland is still long and difficult."

Premier and Communist Party chief Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski, who sat silently through the parliamentary session, has said the military rule imposed Dec. 13, 1981, would be relaxed at the new year. But he tempered the promise with the admonition that martial law could be clamped on again if there is a more unrest.

In a voice vote at mid-afternoon, the party-controlled Parliament, or Sejm, approved two measures that set the stage for relaxation of martial law restrictions, but kept intact the ruling military council headed by Jaruzelski.

One gives the council legal authority to lift the "state of war" imposed to quash 16 months of social upheaval and begin the destruction of Solidarity, which was suspended and later outlawed under martial law.

The other amends Poland's civil and criminal laws to formalize many of the extraordinary powers assumed by the military council — tapping telephones, opening mail, censoring the press, posting soldiers in factories and other workplaces, and freezing Western currency accounts held by Poles in Polish banks.

The Catholic bishops were especially critical of one provision of the legislation that retains a martial law measure barring a worker from leaving a job without the permission of his employer. They said the law "ties a worker to a factory on the feudal principle of tying a peasant to the land."

The bishops also criticized a regulation that allows workers and students to be dismissed from their jobs or schools without notice for taking part in protests "or sowing discord."

Jaruzelski and other officials have promised to free the last 200 of some 10,000 people interned without charge under martial law, and have said there might be a partial amnesty in the future for Poles jailed or fired from their jobs for union activities.

The new laws did not include internment powers, but also did not mention amnesty.

Some of the harshest restrictions on Poles' private lives — a curfew and a ban on internal travel for example — already have been lifted and are not reinstated in the new laws. But they give the government power to maintain strict control over foreign travel, and special permits still will be required for public assembly.

POLISH VOTE — The Polish parliament votes Saturday in Warsaw giving final approval to two bills which give the government the right to suspend martial law but retain many of the extraordinary powers authorities have used to break up the independent Solidarity union.

Mystery gunman sought in doctor's death

HOUSTON (AP) — The killing of a "pioneer" cancer doctor gunned down in his office probably won't be solved without a "long, drawn-out" investigation, police said Saturday.

Dr. Fred G. Conrad, vice president for patient care at M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute, was shot six times in the head, neck and shoulder by a gunman who fled after the slaying between 6:30 a.m. and 6:35 a.m. Friday.

A memorial service for the 53-year-old doctor, whom colleagues said was "loved and respected," is set for 1 p.m. Monday at the hospital's auditorium.

Police searched for a man who emerged from Conrad's office just after the shooting, passed a clerk in the hall and spoke to her, then quickly walked away, detectives said. The clerk's name and the words spoken to her were not released.

"It looks like it's going to be a long, drawn-out investigation," said Houston Police Lt. G.A. Mason, adding that he believed that if anyone knew of a motive "it would have surfaced by now."

"You can't imagine it, maybe, but obviously he had an enemy somewhere," said Mason, who is in charge of the investigation. "That's one of the problems with the case. There's the lack of an obvious motive. He was evidently a pretty outgoing guy, friendly."

Mason said he believed that the killer was looking specifically for Conrad.

"My feeling is that it was not just a chance thing that a nut was just up there and happened on him instead of somebody else," Mason said. But he added that the investigation was not "even that far along to say that for sure."

Mason said that hospital entrances are on the ground floor and that Conrad's office on the first floor is in a larger group of administrative offices and is not visible from the hall.

But he said that many people besides hospital personnel could have known where the office is because Conrad met patients and their families there.

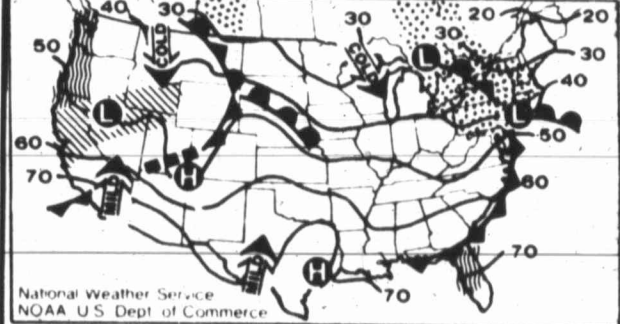

"Anything that came up in patient care where a final decision had to be made went through him," Mason said. "He had the final say-so."

"Evidently the doctor was surprised and was shot and the suspect fled the scene," police Detective Ted Thomas said. "We believe robbery was not the motive."

Weak cold front sweeps

state, winds change

By The Associated Press

A weak cold front advanced across Texas Saturday while temperatures one week before Christmas ranged from the upper 50s in the far West Texas mountains to the low 80s in the Rio Grande Valley.

The front reached a line from Texarkana to Waco to Del Rio by late afternoon, turning winds from the north to the south at 10 to 20 mph with occasional gusts.

Skies in most areas were clear with a few bands of high clouds across Central Texas and some low clouds over Southeast Texas.

Forecasters said the cold front would slide to the South Texas coast by Sunday morning, bringing fog to the area. Fair skies and temperatures in the 60s and 70s are expected statewide Sunday afternoon.

House gives up attempt at new immigration bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Faced with a mountain of time-consuming amendments, the House decided Saturday to abandon for this year a bill to overhaul the nation's immigration laws.

With time running out in the lame-duck Congressional session, supporters conceded that the drive to win passage of the sweeping proposal was hopeless.

But Rep. Romano L. Mazzoli, D-Ky., the chief sponsor, said the effort had been "one of the high points of my life" and he pledged to renew the effort in 1983.

The House gave Mazzoli a standing ovation after Rep. Henry Hyde, R-Ill., praised him for his leadership in seeking renovation of immigration law and said this week's debate means the House would be "ahead of the game next year."

The Senate approved a similar bill last summer by a lopsided margin.

The House, which began sporadic debate on the measure around midnight Thursday, took more than three hours Saturday to dispose of the first of more than 300 proposed amendments before stopping debate.

It defeated, 215-110, the amendment by Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky., to require extensive record-keeping by employers.

The amendment was intended to assure that employers would not discriminate against Hispanic job applicants and other non-whites.

Supporters of the Perkins amendment said it would protect individual rights under the key provision of the bill, which would impose fines and jail terms against employers of illegal aliens.

Opponents said the Perkins proposal would create burdensome paperwork.

"We're putting the screws to the employer," said Rep. Robert E. Badham, R-Cal. He said Congress was telling the employer "we want you to be a cop for the INS," the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Hispanics said the Perkins amendment would only give authorities additional documentation to keep tabs on minorities.

"If you look like me, in the Southwest you better have (identification) papers," said Rep. Kika de la Garza, D-Texas.

Although the debate was spirited, the House was mainly marking time as it awaited Senate action on the primary task of the lame-duck session, a stopgap spending measure to keep the government in operation.

Dopey dogs real jerks

KINGMAN, Ariz. (AP) — Beef jerky in lockers at Kingman High School brought drug-sniffing police dogs to point several times, but no drugs were found during the search.

Many of the lockers — including that of the school district superintendent's daughter — contained beef jerky which was to be sold to raise funds for the school's Key Club.

"I guess they didn't feed the dogs before they took them through the school," said the superintendent, Dick Dawson.

Kingman police Detective Jeep Daugherty said no drugs were found at the school.

Senate kills measure to restrict use of funds in Central America

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate on Saturday killed attempts to place restrictions on the use of U.S. military and intelligence funds to encourage the overthrow of the leftist government of Nicaragua.

By 56-38, senators approved a motion by Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., to table two measures that supporters were trying to add to a stopgap federal spending bill.

One of the measures, introduced by Sen. Christopher Dodd, D-Conn., said "no funds should be obligated or expended, directly or indirectly, after Jan. 20, 1983, in support of irregular military forces or paramilitary groups operating in Central America."

Sens. Daniel P. Moynihan, D-N.Y., and John Chafee, R-R.I., members of the Intelligence Committee, offered a more narrowly worded substitute that said:

"None of the funds (in the bill) may be used by the CIA or the Department of Defense to furnish military equipment, training or advice for the purpose of overthrowing the government of Nicaragua or provoking a military exchange between Nicaragua and Honduras."

Dodd said his measure was needed because of widespread reports, denied by the Reagan administration, that the United States is giving covert aid to backers of the late Nicaraguan dictator Anastasio Somoza who have made raids from the Honduran border into Nicaragua.

Christmas looked a little bleak to us a couple of months ago. I was laid-off my job and I didn't know what the future was going to be like.

During this time our church family at Hillcrest Baptist Church prayed for me and my family, and wrapped us up in love and encouragement. I learned from them the importance of seeking the will of God, instead of my own desires. I set a time limit of one month to find a job here. If I hadn't found a job by then, we would move. I learned a lot in that time of waiting. I realized that even though I wasn't working, God was. On the last day of that month I was offered a job. Again, our church family was there to rejoice with us. They were as happy about my job as I was.

Even though we didn't move, my life has changed directions. I don't know what the future holds, but I know who holds the future.

The spirit has hit her

Dear Editor,
It seems it always takes this overwhelming feeling (when the holiday spirit finally descends upon me and my pen), to cause me to sit down with my cup of decaffeinated coffee, in my sort of warm dining room, and lay my cheap pad upon my ancient and wobbly dining table to pen you these words of thanksgiving!

Well, as you have guessed, the spirit has hit me.
I'm so thankful first of all to be a Christian in America, and especially in a Howard County, Texas, America.

That may sound strange but even as a small child, being transported over vast areas of our beautiful country of America, I still longed and pined away for Texas, my granddad and other kin. Of course, I was quickly given the nickname Tex, which made me very proud.

I'm sure you are wondering about this strange malady that seems to attract one to choose over all of the other beautiful states in our great country of America, our dusty, sandy, hot Texas, especially West Texas of Howard County (unless you are a dedicated West Texan you cannot possibly understand this strange attraction).

The people help make this vast difference that seems to be found here in West Texas.

In my travels I have viewed oceans, mountains, more deserts, plateaus and rolling plains than I can possibly write about, all beautiful and unique in their own right. Texas alone can boast of having some of ALL these attractions. And Texas alone can boast of having some of the most generous, kind, friendly people in the world. Of course, you will find some bad apples in every bag, but on a whole Texans are all heart and a mile wide when it comes to helping those in need, or steering the helpless and hopeless in the right direction. Just simply caring about others, and letting it show, unashamed of having feelings for others!

The ones who usually give the most of time, talent and money, are usually the ones who are shortest of time and money, but long on heart and talent.

I'm thankful for many, many things that the Lord has blessed me with, especially the precious gift of God's redeeming love sent to us through His Son, Jesus Christ!

I'm thankful for family, friends, and Howard County, Texas. Of course I'm thankful for all the material things as well. I hope everyone can appreciate everything more as you look around in this great nation of ours and see so many who are sick, jobless, homeless and friendless.

I'm thankful for good health and the ability to think for myself and the freedom to make my own choices, right or wrong! I pray daily for guidance and ask forgiveness for the many mistakes I make, but I still had the freedom of choice.

We all need to pray for those less fortunate in health, wealth, and freedom. We need to put feet to our prayers and aid those with love and material goods more than ever this year and maybe in years to come. This is the way we here in Texas can preserve the tradition of being the friendliest, most caring people in the world.

I thank you, Howard County, for being my home, for all you lovely friends and relatives I have here. God bless all of you!

When Webb Air Force Base was open the ARC received a large portion of total contributions but despite this, any loan given a serviceman was quickly collected from the receiving individual.

The ARC demands high educational levels from its employees and pays high salaries. Only a small percentage goes to charity.

Veterans of World War II will tell you they paid for the coffee and doughnuts obtained from ARC and sometimes found the woolen scarves and sweaters they purchased had a label inside reading "Donated by Mrs. Smith."

People out of luck

Dear Editor,
People of Big Spring, we the dumb taxpayers of Howard County are out-foxed again. When the old liberals in Austin wrote the 621 Peveto bill, they anticipated we could get 10 percent of the voters in Howard County to roll back the taxes. They in turn made it to read that they had to raise the tax rate, but our local bunch of ELITEST raised the valuation about 600 percent, but lowered the tax rate, so now we cannot file a petition.

They are going to keep on raising our taxes until they confiscate our property through taxation. This way they can go socialistic without firing a shot. Our local school board is one that has appointed our local taxing board. Mr. Davis and his flock have now been watching Dynasty on TV and are trying to create the same situation down at the city hall.

They are building a wall across the front of the police station, where you cannot see back where they book people. If they want to beat the hell out of you, no one can see them do it with the wall up. They wanted the news media people to come and pick up the news at a specified time, so the news media cannot see what is happening behind the wall, but the news media would not go along with the police department's wishes.

They fired Judge West because he wouldn't go along with their gestapo tactics. They made a policeman the city Judge and brother if you think Hitler had plans, just look what our flock is doing to us. The only chance you have in city court is to appeal your case to the county court. All businesses in Big Spring are laying off employees, except the city and they are hiring like mad. We now have a coercive city government and this means the power to force obedience under threat of physical injury, threat of property expropriation, imprisonment, or death. In Big Spring, we are starting down the last stage of totalitarianism.

If the people of Big Spring do not do something and do it fast, then we are lost. We have a right under the Texas Constitution to take back our local government, but we better hurry, or soon they will pass a law that you can't speak out against them.

Sincerely,

Out to Lunch

By MARGARET BAUM
'Tis the season to be

Even though we've grown up with the knowledge that all men (and women, too, for that matter) are created equal, it's just not so — especially during Christmas.

For years, I had a guilty feeling because everyone else had their Christmas shopping done by July 4, lights strung on every outdoor shrub by the time they had digested their Thanksgiving turkeys and in September had started crocheting (left-handed) a Yule cloth for a fifteen-foot dinner table.

Not to mention their freezers full of Christmas goodies baked the same day after sewing four costumes for a Nativity pageant and monogramming a set of pillow cases for an elderly aunt in Ottumwa, Iowa, while I stared fixedly at a left-over box of raisins and an ossified half-package of marshmallows.

organized for the season is to place a ladder against the house, which lets all the neighbors know any second, Christmas lights will begin to twinkle from your roof. For an even more convincing look, hang a hammer over one of the ladder rungs.

Retire that Christmas wreath that looks as though the children used it for a hula hoop. Just remove the air filter from the car, spray paint it gold and tape it to the front door. Don't drive.

Then to the kitchen. You can be a reputed culinary wizard at the last minute simply by scattering a little flour on the floor, placing a sifter on the drainboard along with a recipe torn from an old "Family Living" and leaving a nutcracker on the kitchen table. Don't forget to put on an apron when the doorbells ring.

ON, LADDERS! On, sifters! On, air filters and spray paint!
And a last-minute "to all, a good night!"

Editor's Column

By LINDA ADAMS

A letter from the Pettitt family

Patsy Pettitt delivered the following letter to me this week in response to the column on Denver Pettitt in last Sunday's paper. It is one of the most heart-warming letters I have ever received.

Dear Ms. Adams:
I read with pride and a few tears your article in Sunday's paper, "Denver Pettitt on My Mind."
I have been a Pettitt for 25 years. I married Denver and Eltie's son, Leon, on November 29, 1957. So as you can see, we lost Pop, gave our daughter in marriage, had Thanksgiving and a 25th anniversary in less than 10 days. The youngest son, Dan, also had a birthday on Thanksgiving Day.

Needless to say, November was an emotional month for the Pettitt family. A time for endings, and a time for beginnings.

After the family returned from the cemetery on the day of Pop's funeral, a few of us talked about how he would have loved seeing all the people that came, the beautiful flowers, and especially the pomp and ceremony of the Masons. He would have loved it!

In my last "visit" with Pop while in the hospital in Lubbock he told me about a lot of "junk" he had in his shop for me. I started a scrapbook on him in 1964 and he always saved his clippings and letters for me.

Somehow I had not been able to put the clippings about his death in the book, but after reading your article on Sunday I decided it was time. I started reading through the many letters I had retrieved from his workshop and I began to smile thinking about him and his love for talking. He never met a stranger! Your article reminded me that Pop would have wanted me to keep working on his book and not be sad. He truly left his family a legacy that will always be with us.

We miss him, miss his calls, miss his short visits, miss seeing his car at Herrman's every day at 5:00, but now we smile and see a part of him in his son, his daughter, his grandchildren and even his great-grandchildren.

Thank you Ms. Adams for the article, thank all the wonderful people who brought food, sent cards and came by the house. Thank you Drew Diskant for interpreting the services for those who attended from SWCID and especially for one of Pop's cousins that is deaf. How appropriate the beautiful language of the deaf was, Pop loved anything done with the hands. We loved him and miss him but we know that we are not alone.

Anticipation

Dashing through the snow in a one-horse open sleigh
O'er the fields we go, laughing all the way.

Thousands of Texas merrymakers will be making their way home for the holidays this week. Cars will whirr and whizz toward Grandma's house, one after another in an endless maze of anticipation.

Alas, there will be no jingling bells and one-horse open sleighs dashing through the snow. Instead, the road back home will be suffering in economy cars, stuffed with children and packages, meandering down Interstate 30. No snow, no dashing, no bells; just Christmas muzak bleating from AM radio stations.

Dairy Queen managers will alternately chuckle and panic as their parking lots crowd with cars. As usual, children will create havoc in the restrooms and vent energy by racing around customers and drawing faces on the frosted restaurant windows.

PARENTS TRY to pacify them with french fries, ketchup and ice cream. Girls decorated with plastic poinsettias giggle and whisper behind the counter, barely remembering to smile at their customers.

Families exit in confused gaggles and burrow through piles of sweaters to be the first one by the window. "How many more miles," the children shout as they drive away. But they get lost in argument before wearied parents can answer.

Cars barrel down the highway, one after another. They pass weathered houses with smoke wisping out of chimneys. In the evening light, children press their noses against cold car windows and spy on other families gathered at other Grandma's houses.

THE CHILD briefly glimpses what will greet him in a few hours' time. A dining room light exposes visiting aunts jostling their prized salads and desserts on the already packed table.

Uncles, conveniently clear of kitchen activities, have gathered around a card table to play dominos. Children crawl around their father's legs and wonder what the strange black and white tile figures mean.

The child is whisked by the scene, wistfully comforted by the holiday scene. Eyes close, face slipping down to rest on a brother's arm.

No, there are no bells, no snow, no sleighs. But ahead lies Grandma's house with plenty of laughter, fun and sleighing songs.

I worry about my death

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I think about death a lot, and worry about what might happen to me when I die. Do you think this is abnormal to think about such things? — E.J.

DEAR E.J.: I know there are many people who try to shut out any thoughts about death and life after death. But many surveys have been taken that suggest many, many people think about death far more than you might imagine — particularly young people.

Death is universal, and I would suggest there would be something abnormal and wrong if we didn't think about it. Shutting it out of our minds certainly does not make it go away — it only means we are unprepared for it. I am constantly amazed by people who many spend years and years preparing for a career, or who work for many years to reach some kind of goal, and yet never give a single day to thinking about their eternal destiny.

The Bible tells us that death is not the end for each of us — it is only the beginning. Every person will continue after death, because God has given each of us an eternal soul that will never die. However, the Bible also warns us that many will be separated from God and spend eternity in hell. The Bible makes it clear that hell is a place of great agony, far deeper than anything we can fully imagine, "darkness, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth" (Matthew 25:30).

But it need not be that way for you, or for anyone else either who is willing to follow God's way of salvation. The good news of the Bible is that God loves you, and "He is patient with you, not wanting anyone to perish, but everyone to come to repentance" (2 Peter 3:9). How can you know for certain that you are going to Heaven when you die? By trusting Jesus Christ, God's only Son, for your salvation and turning your life over to him. You see, the one thing that will keep you out of Heaven is sin, and yet Christ died on the cross to take away your sin. Invite him into your heart by faith.

Briscoe, Krueger back on scene

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Just when we thought they were out to pasture, a couple of old political warhorses are threatening to jump the fence and gallop down the campaign trail again. Remember Dolph Briscoe?

He's the man with a mucho-acres ranch in South Texas and the inability to stay there and enjoy his money. He's the six-year Texas governor who loved public life but lived it as a very private person.

Remember Bob Krueger? He's the Hill Country boy with an Oxford degree and a penchant for quoting Shakespeare. He's the super-smart guy who thought he could go off and teach at an uppity Eastern university and still come back and win a Texas congressional seat, and pulled it off. He's the guy who thought he could knock incumbent Republican John Tower out of his U.S. Senate seat in 1978, and didn't pull it off.

The big Democratic victory last month is spurring Briscoe and Krueger to make early moves for a 1984 race. Unfortunately for them, they both want the Democratic nomination for Tower's Senate seat.

Briscoe loved being governor so much — and his wife loved being Texas' First Lady so much — it's hard to imagine him condescending to run for the U.S. Senate. But circumstances sometimes force us from our chosen paths.

Mark White, Briscoe's secretary of state in the '70s and his protege, won the attorney general's race in 1978, the same year Democrats rejected his old boss's plans for another term as governor. Four years later White was a natural to run for governor, and Briscoe wisely decided a Senate seat would be nice. Having an old pal in the Governor's Mansion shouldn't hurt either.

Krueger used some brilliant strategy in claiming the Democratic nomination and almost defeating Tower.

But the Democrats were divided by the bitter governor's race in the May 1978 primary and many stayed home in November. At the same time, a Dallas millionaire named Bill Clements was using a sophisticated phone bank to wring every vote out of the Republican-conservative Democrat coalition and become governor. Without Clements' coattails in 1984, Krueger believes, Tower will fall.

Krueger isn't a total political genius. Just before the 1980 presidential election, he said: "There is no way Reagan is going to get the support of the American people. Never. I just don't believe it."

A few months later, Krueger became a private citizen again, but he has continued a very public life, with travel and media interviews whenever possible. He also has friends in high places, including Land Commissioner-elect Garry Mauro, his 1978 campaign chief. A big question is whether Tower will run again after two decades in office.

He hasn't done anything to indicate he won't run. Washington must seem like home by now, and there's little indication that his new wife wants to move to Wichita Falls. Besides, his famous and beloved old car probably wouldn't make the trip.

Tower reportedly won't commit himself much before the filing deadline in early '84. Meanwhile, he has a nice campaign fund that could come in handy. He may have to clarify his intentions earlier if some Republican - or potential Republican - anticipates his retirement and starts making plans.

Many people suspect that U.S. Rep. Phil Gramm of College Station, who has angered fellow Democrats by loyalty to President Reagan, would jump parties and run for the Senate if Tower steps down.

With the GOP holding a very narrow control of the Senate, the Texas race will be of national importance in two years. And, of course, a big question at that time will be: Will Reagan run again and what kind of coattails — if any — will he have for other Republican candidates?

Budget plan increased for consumer panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal budget officials, responding to charges that they were crippling the Consumer Product Safety Commission, have agreed to restore $4 million to their fiscal 1984 budget proposal for the agency, its chairman said Friday.

Nancy Harvey Steorts, commission chairman, called the revised recommendation of $32 million and 595 employees "absolutely superb."

"I think it's a phenomenal success for the agency," she said, adding that "we can adequately do the job for the American consumer with this budget."

The Consumer Product Safety Commission had requested a fiscal 1984 budget of $35 million and 624 employees. The federal Office of Management and Budget came back with an original proposal of $28 million and 500 positions for the commission.

Mrs. Steorts appealed that recommendation in a letter to budget director David A. Stockman, saying the proposed reduction would cause "potentially mortal wounds for the commission's product safety initiatives."

She said the proposed OMB reductions "could cripple the agency's ability to faithfully execute our congressional mandate and to provide the protection which the American public deserves."

She noted that the agency's budget had declined from $42.1 million and 889 full-time employees in fiscal 1981 to $33.5 million and 636 workers in the current fiscal year.

Most of the cuts that would be required by the revised budget proposal can be accomplished through attrition, Mrs. Steorts said.

OMB spokesman Edwin Dale confirmed that the commission's budget had been revised, but he refused to discuss actual dollar figures. "The appeal has been amicably settled," he said.

Dale defended his comment in The Washington Post that the Consumer Product Safety Commission was a "silly little outfit," saying his statement was in the context that OMB had to deal with "multibillion-dollar agencies and this one was so small." He said he didn't mean to imply that the commission's function was silly.

Americans throw away $31 billion in food, agriculture study shows

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans toss about $31 billion worth of food into the garbage can each year, a value far in excess of farmers' current $19 billion net income, according to two analysts.

The report is included in the Agriculture Department's new yearbook, which was published Thursday.

"An average household spends at least $140 a year for food which is hauled to landfills or washed down sewers," the report said. "Only 40 percent of the food discarded in garbage cans is hard-to-save plate scrapings. The other 60 percent is identifiable single items, from beef chunks and bread slices to heads of lettuce and half-eaten apples."

The report, a chapter in the yearbook, was written by EE Fung and W. L. Rathje of the University of Arizona. Fung is a nutrition specialist with the Garbage Project of the university's department of anthropology, and Rathje is the project's director. In 1981, according to USDA figures, Americans spent $329.1 billion on food. That included $242.9 billion on food eaten at home, and about $86.2 billion on restaurant meals and other food eaten away from home.

"At the very end of an energy-intensive food chain, families waste about 10 percent of their food at home, and maybe more outside," the report said.

Further, the report said, the more frequently an item is bought and consumed, the less it is wasted. Specialty items, used only infrequently, are wasted at much higher rates.

Q. Is it necessary to use the real estate agent's selling price estimate and, if not, what's the best method of setting our own price?

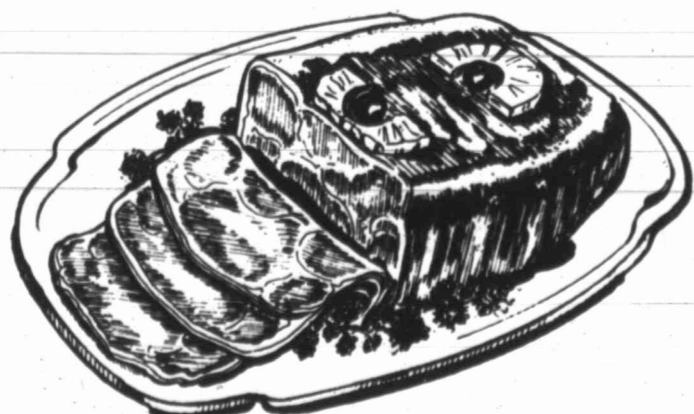

A. Although a reputable real estate agent's suggested asking price for your home is much more than an educated guess, it is a suggestion. If you want to set your own price, do what the agent did: Make a good, knowledgeable market survey. Check listings of homes currently on the market in similar areas. Compare size, location, age, physical condition, etc. You may also engage a professional appraiser for a non-written, non-detailed appraisal. Managers of local title insurance companies are also good sources of information. Your agent will be happy to list your home at your price and work towards getting that price while supplying you with valuable experience and knowledge.

Footnotes from County Library

Dear Santa Claus,
Everyone writes to you with long lists of things that they need or want to enrich their lives. So I thought I'd write to you this year.

What would a country librarian want from you (or from those who fill heart dreams and needs)? What is wanted most of all is the improvement of the library in its services, collections and programs. To those ends, the library needs:

1. The renovation, equipping, and furnishing of the basement to make needed room for our growing collection and services. That would take about $500,000. Now I know that sounds like a lot of money, Santa, but there are some walls that must be removed, an electric elevator installed to give access to the basement, and other necessities to make it usable.

To make room on the shelves, we have had to place books on the floors in the aisles between the stacks. This inconvenience people because it leaves little space for feet and makes it harder to see books on the bottom shelf.

You might ask an obvious question, why don't we throw away books, or store, or stop buying? We do discard unusable books; we do store books that are not in immediate demand or could be indemand; we can't stop buying because a library must grow and have new materials to meet people's reading needs.

We must have a certain number of books per capita to meet standards for collections. We are still below that number and have 1,388 books per capita. We did circulate over 100,000 items in the last fiscal year. So we must continue to add books to meet standards as well as reading needs for Howard County residents.

If you ask the other obvious question, why not put in more shelving? Because a certain amount of floor and seating space must be allowed for people using the library. We are at those limits now.

2. We've had a lot of people ask for videocassettes and videodiscs. So we need a TV monitor, videocassette recorder, videodisc player and videodisc player and a collection of cassettes and discs for loan to those interested patrons. This would expand our services and in-house programming.

3. We are using our microcomputer, but would like to increase its use in other areas to benefit operations and services to our community. We need two to three additional terminals, a matrix printer, and one to two hard disc drives. All of these would expand what we can do and the computer's capability.

4. For a computerized circulation system which would improve efficiency and make it possible to tell a borrower how many books they had checked out. And Santa, it would be a great help when we inventory the collection. We wouldn't have to close the library like we did last year.

5. For a book theft detection system or for nothing to be stolen from the library because people realize that it is foolish to steal something that already belongs to them and is available with a library card.

6. For library materials to be returned on time and in good condition with no need to remind the borrowers or send overdue.

7. For 100 percent use by the residents of Howard County. For it to be valued and appreciated for the collection, services, programs that are offered. For the awareness that the Library does not attempt to promote beliefs, ideas, philosophies, politics, etc., that materials are purchased to represent all sides of any question. For the awareness that there are many types of people in our community with varying tastes and interests and needs and that we try to provide something for all.

8. For good will and peace to all. For everyone to practice the golden rule in all things.

For a Merry Christmas, Happy Hanukkah, Happy New Year with prosperity for everyone in Howard County (and everywhere!): good jobs, no unemployment, no inflation, low interest rates, low taxes, plenty good books and reading, a nice home, and all things good and wonderful.

Those are my wishes, dear Santa. I hope that you will be able to help me. I know that some of them are impossible to stuff in your sack or in my stocking. But if they come true, I'll know that you (or some dream fulfiller) came through for me and the library and its borrowers.

Your friend,
Judith Gray,
library director

Shuttle engines test okay

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Space shuttle Challenger's three main engines briefly engulfed the spaceplane in yellow flame and gray smoke Saturday during an apparently successful 20-second test firing.

The firing was done with the shuttle, its towering external tank and solid rocket boosters anchored firmly to the launch pad.

The blast of engines was the last major test before Challenger's first launch, tentatively scheduled for Jan. 27. The reusable spaceplane will replace shuttle Columbia for the next three missions.

Engineers ordered first one engine, then the second and third to fire during a crisp, sunny morning.

The test "appeared to have run very successfully," said mission spokesman Mark Hess.

But a full evaluation, beginning immediately, was expected to take about a week before a definite launch date could be set for the sixth in the series of shuttle flights.

"It is a confidence test," said Al O'Hara, shuttle launch and operations director, about the firing of the powerful engines.

Most elements of the shuttle and its computer programs were being put through the demanding shakedown.

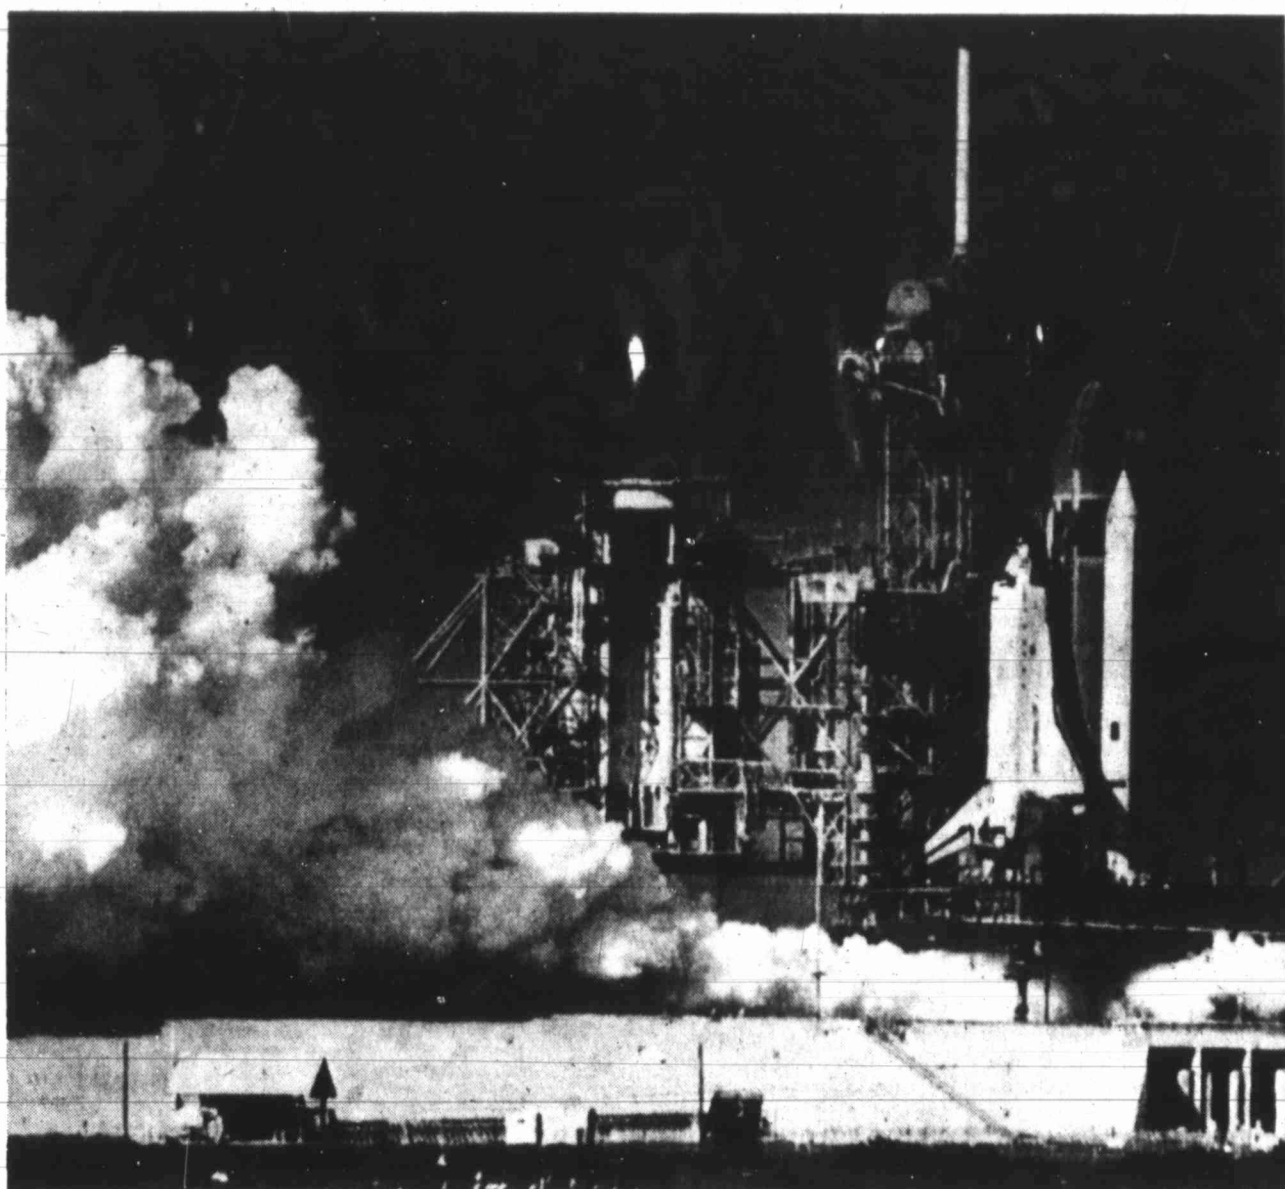

The new engines, each capable of generating 390,000 pounds of thrust, have been successfully test-fired at National Aeronautics and Space Administration laboratories. Today's test was the first chance for them to be started together in "flight configuration."

Crewmen Paul Weitz and Karol Bobko and mission specialists Story Musgrave and Donald Peterson did not participate in the firing countdown, which began Wednesday.

The last 56 hours of an actual launch countdown were being duplicated, including "hold" times in the count.

The Challenger was moved to the launch pad from the Kennedy Space Center's vehicle assembly building on Nov. 30 and immediately began final-phase testing and preparation for its maiden voyage, which O'Hara said would not begin before Jan. 27.

The shuttle will place a tracking and data relay satellite in orbit during its five-day mission. NASA officials said they would also attempt to stage the first shuttle space walk, which was canceled during the last Columbia flight because of problems with the astronauts' spacesuits.

SUCCESSFUL FIRING — The Space Shuttle Orbiter Challenger's main engines send out a column of steam at Pad 39a early Saturday in a successful test firing of its new propulsion system. The 20-second test was in preparation for the late January launch of Space Transportation System 6 with a crew of four astronauts.

Congressman charged with DWI

MOUNT VERNON, Ind. (AP) — Rep. H. Joel Deckard, who wrecked his car a month before the general election and refused to take a blood-alcohol test, has been formally charged with drunken driving.

The Indiana Republican congressman drove off a rural road early Oct. 7 and crashed into a tree and ditch. A deputy cited him for drunken driving and special prosecutor Joseph Koenig filed the formal charges late Friday.

Deckard, 41, lost his bid for a third term on Nov. 2 to Bloomington Mayor Frank X. McCloskey, a Democrat who got 51 percent of the vote.

Deckard claimed the crash cost him the election.

At a news conference a few days after his accident, Deckard admitted to drinking that night, but said, "I believed at the time that I was capable of maintaining full control of myself."

Pictures taken at the news conference showed Deckard with a 6-inch cut stitched from the hairline on the left side of his forehead to his left eyelid. The photos appeared in newspapers around the state.

Koenig said Saturday that Deckard must appear for a hearing Jan. 26.

Drunken driving is a misdemeanor on first offense carries a maximum penalty one year in jail, $1,000 fine and loss of a driver's license for two years.

Runnels

By MEDINA CORWIN

Monday marked the end of the canned food drive at Runnels. All of the classes combined brought a total of 2500 cans of food to be given to the needy by the Salvation Army. A pizza party was given to Mrs. Broadrick's first period class for bringing a total of 435 cans. Coach Velasquez's class was rewarded with an ice cream party for bringing 385 cans. Coming in third place was Mrs. Carpenter's class which brought in 310 cans.

A contest was held between the classes with Christmas decorations on the doors of their classrooms. Winners, chosen by judges Mrs. Rosson, Mrs. Deviney, and Mr. Burroughs, were Mrs. Gary's class in first place, Mrs. Broadrick's class in second place, and Mrs. Carpenter's class was in third place. Honorable mention went to Mrs. McFarland's class.

During the noon hour on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, the faculty enjoyed Christmas lunches at which time door prizes were given away. Winning Christmas centerpieces on Monday were Mrs. Chur-chwell and Mrs. Bynum. Tuesday's winners, of Disney trash cans filled with popcorn, were Mrs. Wiley and Mrs. Ibarra. On Wednesday, Mrs. Bonner and Mr. Scarbrough were the winners of gift certificates to a local restaurant. A special thanks goes from the Runnels faculty to Rita's Flowers who sent a poinsettia plant which was given away in a drawing in which the teacher's participated on Friday. Winner of this plant was Susan Sharp.

Calendar Clue winners were Jeff Hosler, Jan Donald, Loryne Russell, and Mrs. Conley. The answer was Charles Dickens. Students at Runnels have been studying Dickens and saw "A Christmas Carol" on video tape on Wednesday and Thursday.

Several concerts were presented this past week including the choir's presentation of "The Small One", a band concert Thursday night, a school assembly, and some band students went to Marcy Elementary School to accompany the students in their Christmas Pageant. This concert was directed by Bonnie Anderson.

Coahoma

By THERESA KUYKENDALL

The Coahoma Junior High School sponsored a basketball game to raise money for needy families, and admission to the game was a can of food. The game was a hard fought battle between the eighth grade boys and the junior high faculty. Martha Spell, a junior high teacher, was the cheerleader for the game.

The kindergarten students presented a Christmas play on December 16 at 7 pm in the elementary gym, and the second and third graders will present "Tiny Tim's Christmas Carol" on December 21 at 7 pm in the elementary gym.

Goliad

By CHERI WYRICK
By RAELENE ANDERSON

Last week there was much excitement in the halls because of the many door decorations. Three $10.00 prizes were awarded for the best door decorated by the students. The winners in the north wing was the room of Ms. Wright and Mrs. Rickey, for the south wing, Mrs. Taylor's room, and for the outside buildings, Mr. Posey's room.

The beginning choirs presented a concert in the gym Wednesday for the parents and students. Solo performances were given by Debbie Lee on the flute and Sara Backus with the percussion.

Thursday, the advanced seventh-grade band and the choir performed for the student body. Accompanists were Mrs. Backus and students Kathryn Dawes and Kenda Madry.

The boy's A and B basketball teams played Snyder Thursday, December 13. Goliad A team played well and won by a score of 32-21. Boys cited for good defensive play were Steve Gill and Brandy Bryan. The boys cited for good offensive play were Mike Rubio and Brandy Bryan. Chaser Awards were won by Danny Williams and Tyrone Foster. The B team was also victorious with a score of 24 to 21. Cited for defensive play were Kevin Ward and Edward Roberts, and for fine offensive play, Stanley Johnson and Steve Raines were recognized. The Chaser Award was given to Edward Roberts.

After defeating Lamesa by 2 points last Thursday, the Goliad girls lost to them on Thursday, December 13, by a score of 24-22. Leading scorer was Katrina Thompson with 9 points, followed by Lori Gonzales with 5 points.

Brenda Hernandez added 4 points, while Kelly Myles, Kim Phipps, and Kayla Fisher made 2 points each. Player of the week is Brenda Hernandez, who led the team in defensive play.

Garden City

By BRYAN STRINGER

This was a week that would put a strain on even the strongest of hearts for we had more excitement than we humanly deserve. The week started off with a bang as the Junior High basketball team hosted the Robert Lee Steers in a clash unequalled in world history. The game was to be a real close one as the Longhorns narrowly defeated our hometown boys by a score of 50-20. The following night was to find a packed house in Grady Texas, as the Varsity Kats challenged their worthy opponents to a sporting spectacular. At this festive gala, the Garden City girls were to emerge as the champions slightly amending the boys loss. The Junior Varsity boys, however, marched to an astounding victory despite terrible odds. Kind of like Napoleon! Of course, Wednesday will be the day long remembered in the halls of ole G.C. as the years pass by. Now close your eyes and let us reenact this historic occasion. The time was 10:00 that morning and the Josten's Senior ring salesman...now keep your eyes closed...arrived on our humble campus bearing a mysterious black brief case handcuffed to his hand. Quickly at that preset time, the Juniors were assembled in anxious anticipation of what was to be revealed within the case. The Josten's man approached the crowd of beaming faces and suddenly jerked the briefcase open to lay to view several exquisitely formed pieces of jewelry. Although we believe brevity is a virtue, really meant to say was we needed to stretch our that the Juniors got their article this week. What we senior rings Wednesday.

Door contest brightens halls

Everyone got in the holiday spirit this past week as Christmas time approaches. The halls were brightly decorated due to the traditional door decoration contest that was held. Any class period could decorate a door to try for one of three prize slots. The doors were judged on December 16 and the winners were announced at the volleyball game on December 16. First prize of $25 went to Miss Ezzell's class; winning $15 for second place was Mrs. Coltrain's class; and third prize of $10 went to Mrs. Davis's room.

Speaking of volleyball games, the Key Club sponsored a faculty vs. the students volleyball game on Thursday, December 16, in the gym at 2:30. The admission for this game was a can of food or a quarter. The canned food went to the Salvation Army to help the needy families with Christmas. Needless to say, the faculty won two consecutive games against the students, but that does not mean that the teachers of Big Spring High School are better. This only goes to prove that the teachers are older and more experienced at such games.

Last week, the elections for class favorites and Mr.

and Miss BSHS were held. For the Freshmen Class, the favorites were Tracey Kilgore and Dax McCracken; the Sophomore favorites were Julie Miller and Jay Pirkle; the Junior Class favorites were Kay Pollard and Pete Crabtree; and the Senior Class favorites were Felicia Ford and Kevin Watson. Mr. and Miss BSHS for 1982-83 are Amy Ragan and Alan Trevino.

The Theatre Department was proud to announce the cast for the 1983 Childrens Tour. These students will be the ones representing BSHS across the states of Texas and New Mexico. The cast is as follows: Pam Burt, Jenny Moore, Sammi Eyskens, Kim Beckham, Joe Murphy, James Russell, Mike Walker, Emmitt Bartee, alternates will be Crystal Edwards, Katy Thompson, and Vince Solis. The tech crew will be Shot Smith.

Alena Pyles went to Region VI-A Pre-Area tryouts on Monday, December 13. Alena placed 4th on trumpet and qualifies to audition at the area tryouts in Lubbock on January 15. Our congratulations goes to Alena.

I would like to wish everyone a very MERRY CHRISTMAS and a HAPPY NEW YEAR! See you in 1983!

New machine aids can recycling efforts

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — This vending machine works backward, but it's supposed to. The patented Cash or Cans machine is a new addition to the national recycling effort. Customers deposit their empty aluminum cans and collect money for them.

The machines work this way: feed the machine one can at a time, wait for the device to crush the can and collect whatever it was programmed to release. Depositors get coins or scrip to be exchanged for money.

About 100 machines, which look like standard vending units, were tested in San Diego last summer, and an improved model is replacing them this fall.

Vendo Co. of Fresno, maker of vending machines and computer cabinets, is manufacturing them under contract to Environmental Products Corp. of McLean, Va.

Their prime market will be the nine states that will have beverage container recycling laws by July. The machines will read can codes and refund deposits only on cans bought in the state.

In states without the so-called bottle bill, a vendor could get the market rate, about a penny per can, for refunds.

Six other businesses make aluminum recycling machines, but the Virginia company claims it is the first to produce a machine that accepts cans one by one.

Depressed city rallies over high school football team

DAINGERFIELD, Texas (AP) — Shadowy memories linger here. Of a crazed man firing a gun in a crowded church one Sunday morning. Of men losing their jobs with no place to turn.

Hard times have been plentiful here in this East Texas town. The 3,030 residents don't care to talk much about "the shooting," or about the massive layoffs at the nearby steel plant.

But pride and hope linger, too. Mention, for example, the Daingerfield High School Tigers and faces light up. Ask Star Drug Store clerk Ruby McMinn about the Tigers football team and she'll begin yelling all her favorite cheers.

"The only time anything is more important than football is when you are making love to your husband," she said. "If there's a football game on Sunday, you go to church at halftime."

"Just like every other little town in Texas, football is important here," said Mayor Jerry Grainger, an elementary school principal. "But here maybe it's a little bit more important."

For the town first hit by a crazed gunman in 1980 and then by layoff of about 4,000 steel workers in Morris County this summer, football is the tie that binds.

For the first time in 10 years, the Tigers won their division this year. It couldn't have come at a better time.

"I think it did make a difference this year," said Grainger. "I think the football let a lot of people forget about their troubles."

Four days after the Tigers were knocked out of the state playoffs, the locals at a Dairy Queen were still talking about the referee's blown call and the bitter Friday night loss in Dallas. Shop windows still boast "Love Ya Tigers" and bumper stickers still cling to cars.

"When the (Lone Star) steel plant went down, there were a lot of people laid off. It was just devastating," said Mariann Wood, an officer with the Daingerfield Chamber of Commerce.

"We're constantly doing things to boost moral, and football's pretty important to this town."

Bill Satterfield isn't so sure. At 78, he's lived most of his life in what sometimes seems to be a snake-bitten town. He's never seen it worse.

Concorde dodges financial storms

LONDON (AP) — Six years after its turbulent takeoff, Concorde, the British-French supersonic jetliner, is still dodging financial storm clouds.

Though passengers appear to love it, the state subsidies that keep it aloft are as uncertain as the winds over the Atlantic Ocean.

In London, the Conservative government of Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher has said that after next April it will no longer pick up $22.5 million to $25.5 million a year in "support costs."

In Paris, President Francois Mitterrand's Socialist government continues to absorb a $23 million yearly operating loss.

In the past seven months, Air France Concorde services from Paris to Rio de Janeiro, Caracas, Mexico City and Washington have been axed, and there are persistent rumors — denied by the French Transportation Ministry — that its remaining New York flights will be grounded.

Despite the uncertainties, the sleek, delta-winged plane with the swivel nose — down for landing, up for cruising — soars over the Atlantic each day, cruising at 1,350 mph, landing a mere three hours and 45 minutes after takeoff, three hours faster than other jets.

At least for the immediate future, it appears likely to continue doing so.

"We support Concorde," said a spokesman for the French Transportation Ministry. "We are committed to it."

Sir John King, chairman of state-owned British Airways, declared: "Concorde services will go on. We are very happy about future prospects."

Indeed, the British have some reason to be.

Since the government decided to write off the 120 million-pound purchase price ($193 million at today's exchange rate), BA's seven Concorde have soared from losses of $16.2 million between 1976 and 1981 to profits of $3.2 million in 1981-82 and $11.3 million in 1982-83.

More than half a million passengers have been carried. The airline's twice-daily flights from London to New York and three times a week to Washington fly 70 percent full.

By June 1983, British Airways expects to begin handing over to the Treasury 80 percent of Concorde operating profits.

The bright horizon was clouded last month by Trade Minister Ian Sprouat's decision to stop footing the bill for support costs — men and equipment needed for testing and licensing operations.

But BA has countered with a plan for one year's postponement in the transfer of both the support costs and the profits. In the interim, it hopes to cut costs to below $6.5 million and negotiate a cut-price deal for spare parts.

"We want to keep flying Concorde because, one, it's profitable and two, it's an image-builder," says BA spokesman Ted Duggan.

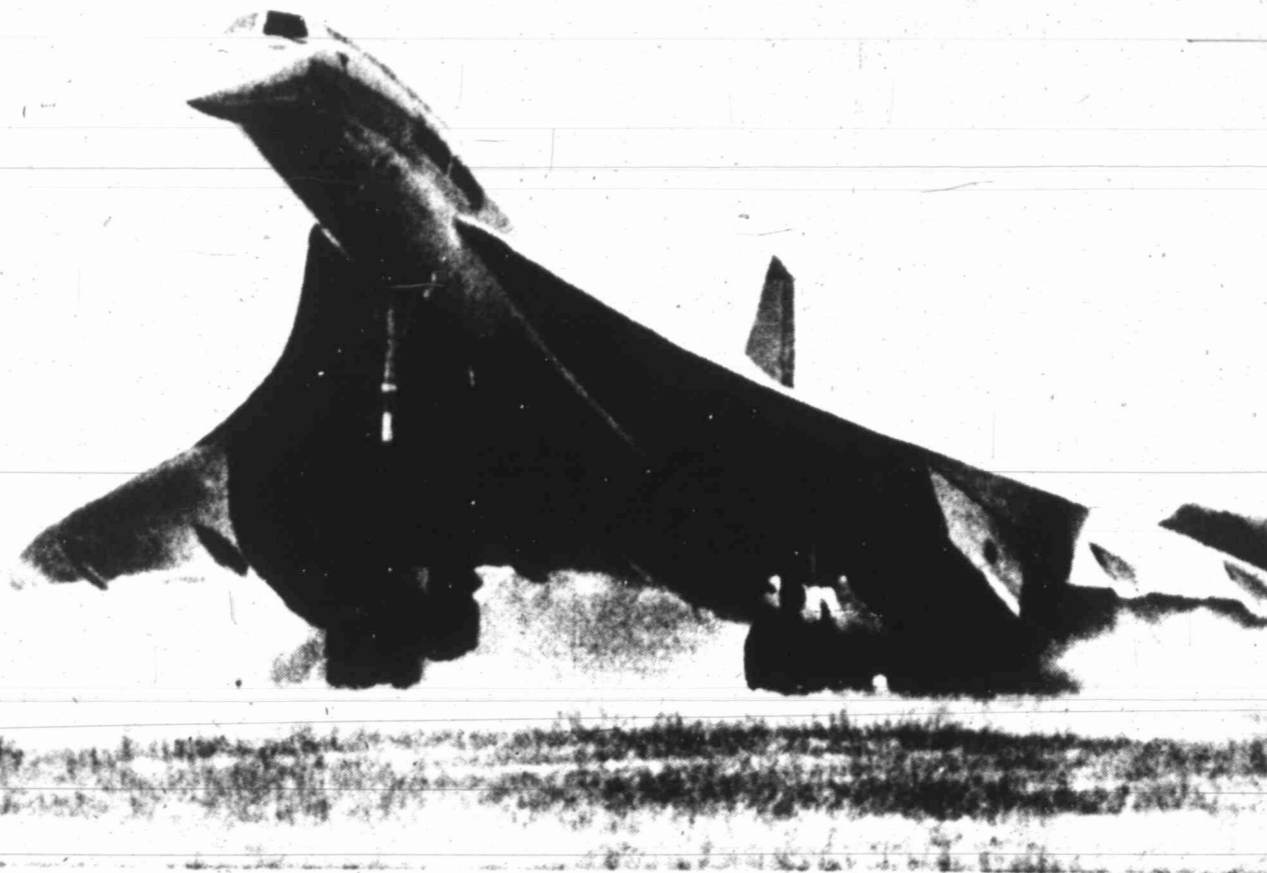

The picture is far less rosy for Air France. The airline's seven planes have lost $98 million. Despite shedding unprofitable routes, it expects to lose another $26 million in the current year, of which the government will absorb 90 percent.

Air France ended its debt-ridden Rio-Caracas service on April 1 of this year, its Washington run Oct. 29 and Mexico City Oct. 31.

With its Paris-New York daily flight usually just over 60 percent full, spokesman Jim Collins said the airline continues to fly Concorde "solely at the request of the French government."

Concorde has been a doubtful proposition from the start.

Conceived in 1962, its builders, British Aerospace and France's Aerospatiale, expected it to revolutionize long-distance jet travel. The two governments budgeted 170 million pounds ($275 million at today's prices) for developing it, planned to start flying passengers by 1969 and expected to sell 400 planes.

LACKS THRUST — The French-British super-jet Concorde may have trouble getting off the ground in the future if the two governments cannot figure out a way for the supersonic plane to make a profit.

Bridal Bouquets

By Lynette Brooks Etiquette Notes

ETIQUETTE Q & A

People seem to have more questions about the "right thing to do" for weddings than at any other time. Some common ones:

Q. Who pays for the reception?

A. Usually the bride's family. If the groom's family also contributes to the expense, their names should appear on the wedding invitations.

Q. How is the total number of invitations divided among the bride's and groom's families?

A. They should be evenly divided, but if the groom's family is from far away and cannot use their share it is polite for them to indicate this to the bride as early as possible.

Q. How should checks given as wedding gifts be made out?

A. If given before the wedding, they should be made out to either the bride or groom, or to both (using the bride's maiden name.) If given at the wedding, a check should be made out to both, either as Mr. & Mrs. or using both first names and the marriage name.

Q. May duplicate wedding gifts be exchanged?

A. Yes. And it is only necessary to inform the donor if they are close enough to notice the gift's absence.

Christmas Want List

Christmas is for kids, right? Sure, but adults break down and ask the plump gent in his red suit and bushy white beard for gifts now and then.

The Herald has been buried under an avalanche of letters to Santa, which were printed in the newspaper and then forwarded to the North Pole. Sorting through the stacks of requests — kids evidently think Santa is unaffected by the economy, I found several letters from local and area coaches.

Quinn Eudy (BSHS head football coach) — Coach Eudy needs his wife around to help him with his grammar when he makes speeches but he still seeks additional companionship. Hopefully, he's talked this over with Ann, but if he hasn't, he may need a new English teacher, too. His list looked something like this (read in a slow, Texas drawl, preferably with a cheekful of dip...
Dear Santy,
If you wouldn't mind, sir, please bring me:

- 1) a fine-looking young blonde
- 2) a fine-looking young brunette
- 3) a fine-looking young redhead
- 4) and any other fine-looking young ladies you might have left over from coach Dennis Launerey's list

Love,
Quinn

P.S. — Bring me a new combination weightroom, coaches' offices and training room. Something around $45-50,000 would do just fine. Have a good day. Oh, and maybe a plate of pork ribs.

Archie Myers (BSHS head hoop coach) — Coach Arch isn't too familiar with Santa since it was an eccentric oilman who climbed down chimneys to deliver barrels of black crude to the needy in Midland. But Archie did ask for a 7-4 postman in the mold of Ralph Sampson, a muzzie for Kevin Watson's mouth to eliminate all his girlfriend stories and an assistant coach who doesn't still have dreams of playing in the NBA.

Annette Fowler (BSHS head girls hoop coach) — Coach Fowler is a Yankee and she listed all the Yankee things she wanted that she can't be here in Texas. Forget jalapeno peppers. Forget armadillos. Forget Willie Nelson. She wants snow and ice, high fuel oil bills, a midnight stroll in downtown Detroit (she's from Michigan) and her great left-handed hook shot back she used to have in college.

Harold Wilder and Don Stevens (Howard College hoop coaches) — These guys have everything in the world but their lists equaled sixteen type-written pages. Wilder. Well he isn't satisfied at a No. 5 ranking. He wants No. 1. And he wants some of James Barnett's cassette tapes to listen to. One other thing. A good racquetball opponent. As for coach Dandy Don, he's still not satisfied spending his best hours with a gymful of women. He wants to recruit Bo Derek, Christi Brinkley, Susan Anton and Pia Zadora. They might not be tall or great shooters, but they'll sure bring in the crowds.

Ronnie Taylor (Forsan girls coach) — Coach Taylor wants Santa to bring him a team with absolutely no talent. He hasn't had to coach in years and is tired of watching his girls win, win, win. Life is too exciting in downtown Forsan to spending all his time in the gym, anyway. What he needs is a challenge, Santa.

Bill Dennis (Coahoma girls coach) — All coach Dennis wants is for Santa to bring him a bag full of breaks. His team hasn't gotten any this year and he figures coach Van Kountz at Klondike or Taylor at Forsan get them all. His team has lost four games by two points or less. The sooner Santa gets over to Coahoma, he adds, the better.

Gary Westmoreland (Sands girls coach) — Santa would do just right if he would bring the General, er, Coach Westmoreland a more aggressive, boisterous nature. Maybe a gift certificate to the Dale Carnegie Seminar. If Santa doesn't deliver, his fellow coaches around the area are already chipping in.

Richard Gibson (Grady everything coach) — Coach Gibson liked those football game that were so lopsided (in his team's favor, of course) that he got to "put in his little kids." He was referring to his freshmen and sophomores, of course, and he wants the new E.T. coach for Christmas to talk on the same level as his youngsters.

How about this sports writer? All he wants is everyone who reads his stuff — and likes it — to have a wonderful Christmas. Anything else he needs, he can call coach Eudy.

IT'S ME AGAINST YOU, MAN — Big Spring High's Tim Hastings (12) prepares to make a move on Odessa High defender Miguel Lopez (10) Saturday night at the BSHS junior varsity tournament in Steer Gym. The Bronchos whipped the Steers 50-36 in the third place game despite 14 points from Mike Leschner. San Angelo won the tourney with an easy 65-36 victory over Sweetwater.

Cowboys know Saints are 'Bum' opponent

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Randy White says you can't underestimate any team that has Kenny Stabler at quarterback and George Rogers at running back.

The All-Pro defensive tackle of the Dallas Cowboys says Stabler and Rogers give the New Orleans Saints a combination that can be hazardous to a team's win-loss record.

"You've got to be leery of them," White said. "I don't care what their record is. Stabler can pick you apart. Rogers has proven he's one of the best running backs in the league."

Dallas is an 11-point favorite to beat New Orleans for the ninth time in 10 tries. The 3 p.m. National Football League game will be blacked out locally — the first time since 1977. Some 2,000 tickets remained on sale.

Dallas is 5-1 and can clinch a National Conference playoff berth with a victory. New Orleans is 3-3 and struggling to stay alive after taking a 35-0 thumping by Atlanta last week.

Saints' Coach Bum Phillips goes into the game with a 1-0 lifetime regular-season record against Dallas Coach Tom Landry.

Phillips was coach of the Houston Oilers in 1979 when they downed Dallas 30-24, but he said the Saints will have to play harder than the 1979 Oilers because Dallas is better.

"They have the same people so they ought to be better," Phillips said. "I don't believe they ran as well in 1979 as they do now. (Quarterback) Danny (White) is a hell of a quarterback. He's great under pressure and they do a good job of protecting him."

New Orleans' only victory over Dallas was a 24-14 triumph at home in 1971. The teams haven't played since 1978.

The Cowboys are looking for their first six-game victory streak since 1968, when they won eight in a row to land a berth in Super Bowl XIII. The Cowboys have clinched a league-record 17 consecutive winning seasons, and a victory would give them 16 years in the playoffs out of 17.

Steers earn Reese trophy

LUBBOCK — The Big Spring Steers roared off to an 18-5 start and went to subdue Roswell Goddard 62-48 to win the consolation championship at the 8th Annual Reese AFB Christmas Classic here Saturday afternoon.

Senior forward Jerald Wrightsil — who scored 65 points in three tournament games — was named to the all-tournament team. The Steers improved to 9-5 for the season with a 2-1 performance at the tournament.

Dimmitt won the President's Trophy (larger schools division) with a 78-59 victory over Morton while Denver City outlasted Slaton 59-57 to take the Commander's Trophy. Dimmitt, highly ranked in Class AAA, improved to 12-0 with its tourney showing while Denver City retired the traveling trophy with its third tourney championship.

"We put on a press and it was very effective," said coach Archie Myers of the Steers' fast start. Wrightsil sunk six of his points in the quarter that set the tone of the game.

Big Spring led 34-19 at halftime with Goddard getting seven of its points from the foul line, connecting on just six first half baskets.

Myers ran his subs into the game in the third quarter after the Steers had built a 20-point lead. Big Spring cruised to the win in the second half as Myers cleared his bench and all 10 players on the traveling squad scored.

"We were playing a lot of people," Myers said. "We want the attitude of the players to be good and so I played all of them." He did put in the regulars when Goddard closed the deficit to 10 points in the quarter as Dave Lawrence tossed in nine of his 19 points.

Wrightsil — playing sparingly in the second half — led all scorers with 22 points and was the only Big Spring player in double figures. The Steers hit 49 per cent of its shots.

Lawrence topped the Goddard scoring while Jonathan Halsted contributed 16.

The Steers advanced to the consolation finals by stopping Roswell High 62-46 Friday afternoon. Goddard overcame Canyon 61-54 to gain the finals.

Wrightstil scored 25 points and grabbed eight rebounds in the win over Roswell High as Big Spring again used a fast first half start to set the tempo of the game. BSHS scored the first 10 points of the game and zoomed to 31-19 halftime lead. The Steers put the game away with a 16-6 third quarter, eight by Wrightstil.

After a poor (8 of 18) foul shooting performance in Thursday's 57-56 upset loss to Brownfield, the Steers canned 14 of 20 bonus shots against Roswell.

The Steers do not play again until after the Christmas holidays when they travel to Colorado City Dec. 30.

Sinking Eagles test 1-5 Oilers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — It's an old bromide, but the Houston Oilers and Philadelphia Eagles have little more than personal and team pride at stake Sunday when they meet here in a National Football League game.

Both are 1-5, and need a miracle to reach the playoffs. Even if they won the last three of the nine-game season they appear destined to watch playoff activity on television.

Neither Oilers' Coach Ed Biles nor Eagles' Coach Dick Vermeil believe in miracles, but both want to win to restore confidence and create a base on which to build for 1983.

Vermeil, who has had the added pressure this week of recurrent rumors he was going to leave Philadelphia to take over the Los Angeles Rams, said he doesn't plan any radical changes.

"There really isn't much you can do. I don't plan a revolution," said the Eagles' coach.

Vermeil said he expected his players to maintain the level of pride the coach feels he built in his six years here.

"I can't believe they'll hang it up, won't do their best."

"We have to forget how good we were and get better

Newsome some new Dallas star

IRVING, Texas (AP) — When tailback Tony Dorsett gets tired or hurt, the defense usually relaxes with his replacement on the field.

Then they meet Timmy Newsome, the latest secret weapon developed by the Dallas Cowboys.

Patience by Coach Tom Landry with the talented, but green Newsome has started to pay big dividends.

Newsome has gone from absent without leave in summer camp to awesome without a doubt in Dallas' stretch run to the National Football League playoffs.

The third-year, sixth-round draft selection from tiny Winston-Salem State stormed out of camp last August because he objected when Landry switched him from fullback to tailback.

He was back 48 hours later, willing to give the experiment a shot.

Against Washington, he ran for just one play as Dorsett nursed an elbow injury. It went for 18 yards and a touchdown.

Against Houston Monday night, he caught a pass for 43 yards and ran four times for 22 yards.

He also caught a short sideline pass and broke three tackles, including running 5 yards backward, on a 46-yard touchdown play.

"I'm starting to feel more and more comfortable at the position," Newsome said. "But I still think I would have made a good fullback."

Newsome realizes he won't play a lot behind Dorsett.

"I just hope the coaches realize now that I can do the job," he said. "I think I'm making the adjustment to tailback pretty well."

Newsome has deceiving speed for a 6-1, 235-pound running back.

"He can move," Landry said. "And you saw the way he can break tackles."

Newsome gives Landry something he hasn't had since Calvin Hill left — a large, hard-charging tailback. However, Newsome is much faster than Hill. Dorsett is more of a darting type of runner who reacts to the daylight he sees at the line of scrimmage.

"Timmy played extremely well against Houston," Landry said. "That run he made after he caught the pass was something for the highlight film."

Newsome's strength is legendary on Dallas practice fields. He can bench-press 410 pounds.

Newsome again will be on call at 3 p.m. Sunday when the Cowboys tackle the New Orleans Saints.

The Cowboys move to 6-1 and clinch a berth in the NFL playoffs for the 15th time with a victory.

Dallas was a 10-point favorite.

NEWSOME IS NEW SECRET WEAPON — Timmy Newsome, a third-year pro from Winston Salem State is making the transition from fullback to tailback well this year. Coming in for all-pro starter Tony Dorsett, Newsome has shown there isn't a drastic let-up in talent.

West Brook rookies top Hurst, 21-10

HOUSTON (AP) — Beaumont West Brook quarterback Gerald Landry hit Darrell Colbert with a 30-yard touchdown pass and Terrance McCarty ran nine yards for another score as the Bruins held off a late Hurst rally and rolled to the state Class 5A championship with a 21-10 victory Saturday.

Colbert caught six passes for 118 yards in the game and returned an interception 33 yards late in the game to kill Bell's final scoring threat with 3:25 to play.

West Brook, regrouping after losing its first two games of the season, became the first Class 5A school to win the state championship in its first year of existence.

The Bruins jumped to a 14-3 lead on Landry's pass to Colbert in the first quarter and McCarty's run in the third period.

Bell's Tom Ward scored on a three yard run in the fourth quarter to pulled the Blue Raiders to a 14-10 deficit but with 4:39 to play McCarty broke 51 yards to the Bell 11 and Jerry Ball ran eight yards to the clinching touchdown.

McCarty was the leading rusher in the game with 123 yards on 17 carries while Ball added 104 on 17 carries.

West Brook dominated the first half stastically and took a 7-3 lead at intermission on Landry's 30-yard pass to Colbert, the Bruins' leading receiver during the regular season.

Randy Davis kicked a 23-yard field goal for Bell with 1:48 left in the half.

West Brook lost its first two games of the season and reached the playoffs as the runnerup team to Port Arthur Jefferson in District 22-5A. Bell rolled through an undefeated 11-0 regular season and gained the championship round after a 14-14 tie with Eules Trinity.

Unbeaten Fort Bend nips Corsicana

4A

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Ron Garner squeezed in on two fourth-down short-yardage touchdown runs and Thurman Thomas sprinted 13 yards for another score Saturday as Fort Bend Willowridge defeated Corsicana 22-17 for the class 4A schoolboy football championship.

Willowridge's defense stopped Corsicana four times on fourth down — at the Willowridge 22, 19 and 13 yard lines and at the Corsicana 47 — to preserve the title victory.

Willowridge, which lost to Brownwood in the 4A finals last year, finished with a 15-0 season record. Corsicana fell to 14-2.

Corsicana led 10-6 on a blocked punt by Calvin Oliver that Ben Jessie carried four yards for a touchdown and a 29-yard field goal by Steve Aldama that hit the right upright and spun over the crossbar.

Garner squirted for two yards and a touchdown, after setting up Willowridge's first score with a 37-yard run.

A 31-yard pass interference penalty, with Garner the intended receiver, set up Thomas' slashing run for a 13-10 Willowridge lead with 4:24 left in the second quarter.

Rodney Green intercepted a Matt Clark pass and his 11-yard return and a 15-yard personal foul penalty gave Willowridge the ball at the Corsicana 19.

Garner pushed over for the score on fourth and one.

Willowridge's final score came with 19 seconds remaining in the first half when Woodrow Turner tackled David Bell in the end zone for a safety.

Refugio edges past Littlefield, 22-21

BROWNWOOD, Texas (AP) — Eugene Whitmire exploded for touchdown runs of 88 and 38 yards to lead the Refugio Bobcats to a 22-21 victory over the Littlefield Wildcats for the Class 3A Texas schoolboy football championship Saturday.

Whitmire's 38-yard run came on the first play of the fourth quarter and proved to be the winning score. The Bobcat secondary intercepted three fourth-quarter Wildcat passes to preserve the one-point margin.

Refugio gained momentum late in the third quarter when punter Clifton Robinson pinned Littlefield at its own 1-yard line.

Four plays later, a center snap sailed over punter Bryan Gregory's head and out of the end zone for a two-point safety that shaved Littlefield's lead to 21-16.

Refugio took the free kick and moved 53 yards in six plays, capped by Whitmire's second scoring sprint.

Refugio trailed 14-7 at halftime after losing fumbles at the Littlefield 18 and the Refugio 42 and missing a 24-yard field goal attempt.

Whitmire bobbled the second half kick off and fell on the ball at his 12, but redeemed himself on the following play with an 88-yard sprint to the end zone. Whitmire tallied 224 yards rushing on the day.

Eastland whips East Bernard, 28-6

2A

WACO, Texas (AP) — Eastland quarterback Jay Hess lobbed two touchdown passes to split end Justin Owen as the Mavericks whipped East Bernard 28-6 to cinch the schoolboy football Class 2A championship here Saturday.

The Mavericks, a preseason favorite to win the 2A crown, held the Brahmans to four first downs in the first half.

Eastland took a 7-0 halftime lead when Owen caught a pass from Hess with 5:13 in the second period to culminate an eight-play, 87-yard drive.

The drive featured a 16-yard run by senior James Morton to the East Bernard 40. Hess, the son of coach Rod Hess, passed 16 yards to Owen four plays before his scoring catch.

Hess completed a 20-yard touchdown pass to Owen with 10:26 remaining in the third quarter. Owen, who had run up the right, was wide open to make it 14-0.

Hess sneaked up the middle for 1 yard to give Eastland its final score of the game with 9:50 remaining. Morton's kick was good.

The Brahmans, plagued by fumbles throughout the game, attempted a comeback when quarterback Ronnie Orsak tossed a 17-yard pass to split end Scott Pitts to score with 3:46 remaining in the game.

But the pass for the point after failed.

Before the challenge against East Bernard, Hess had thrown for 2,974 yards and was on the brink of breaking the state record for most passing yardage in a single season.

Union Hill shuts out Roscoe, 13-0

A

WEATHERFORD, Texas (AP) — Defensive end Eric Lynn returned an intercepted pass 28 yards at the 1:11 mark of the game Saturday to give Union Hill an early lead it parlayed into a 13-0 shutout of Roscoe and its second Class A state football championship.

Coach Doug Busch's Bulldogs, who won their first state crown in 1978, scored early and late and hung on in between to overcome a stiff Roscoe defense and stall the Plowboys' ball control offense.

Lynn's interception gave the Bulldogs all the offensive punch they needed. Lawrence Shepherd booted the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

Roscoe won the battle of the statistics, leading 9-8 in first downs, 143-116 in rushing yards and 10-0 in passing yards.

Roscoe's last chance faded when the Plowboys drew a roughing the kicker call at their own 45 following Union Hill to complete its scoring drive.

Quarterback Derek Stevens ran the final 8 yards with 0:06 remaining in the game to cap a 62-yard drive.

The Plowboys, who lost three fumbles, finished the year at 13-3, while Union Hill finished 16-0.

Oilers, Eagles battle for pride only

than we are," Vermeil said. Vermeil said his team had good practices this week. "The attitude, concentration and tempo have been good," Vermeil observed.

He said he did plan to make more use of fullbacks Perry Harrington and Leroy Harris, in an effort to improve the running game.

Biles takes the same general approach. "We have to prove what type of professionals we are," said Biles, whose team had a short work week as a result of playing in the Monday night television game.

The Eagles are expected to depend offensively on quarterback Ron Jaworski, who has completed 58.1 percent of his passes (126-217-1,545 yards). He's had eight intercepted. He was sacked eight times last week in a loss to the New York Giants.

Wilbert Montgomery, who is averaging 4.1 yards per carry (59-243) is the Eagles' chief running threat, aided by Harrington and Harris. Harold Carmichael (28-432) and Ron Smith (24-324) are the top Philadelphia receivers.

Biles plans to open at quarterback with Archie Manning, who has connected on 51.6 percent of his passes (47-91-642). Earl Campbell, who hasn't carried the ball as much this year in Biles' diversified offense, bears the running burden. He's carried 111 times for 440 yards, a 3.7 average.

Tight end Dave Casper (23-334) and Rookie Donnie Craft (17-192), along with wide receiver Harold Bailey and Campbell, each with 15 receptions, are the key Oiler receivers. Biles is concerned about his offensive line, which has been wracked with injuries.

Saints bar Dallas playoff trail

By The Associated Press

Bum Phillips knows what it takes, and that worries the Dallas Cowboys.

The Cowboys were one of five teams that could clinch playoff berths going into the seventh week of this strike-shortened National Football League season. The other four were the New York Jets, Los Angeles Raiders, Washington Redskins and Cincinnati Bengals.

But, in order to clinch that spot today, the Cowboys will have to beat Phillips' New Orleans Saints.

"Bum has proven he knows how to beat the Cowboys," Dallas wide receiver Drew Pearson says. Pearson was thinking in particular of a game in 1979 when, as coach at Houston, Phillips' Oilers upset the Cowboys 30-24.

"He ruined our Thanksgiving in 1979," Pearson said. "We don't want that to happen again."

The Cowboys were tied with the Redskins with 5-1 records in the National Conference. Eight teams from each conference will make the playoffs.

If the Cowboys clinch, it will be the eighth straight season in which they go to the playoffs. The Redskins, meanwhile, will aim at their first playoff berth since 1976 when they play host to the New York Giants, winners of three in a row.

The Bengals, also 5-1, play the Chargers in San Diego on Monday night.

Other Sunday games have Buffalo at Tampa Bay, Houston at Philadelphia, Minnesota at Detroit, Pittsburgh at Cleveland, St. Louis at Chicago, Green Bay at Baltimore, Kansas City at Denver, New England at Seattle and Atlanta at San Francisco.

The Cowboys are coming off a 37-7 drubbing of Phillips' former team, the Oilers, last week, while the 3-3 Saints were shut out, 35-0, last week in Atlanta.

Ken Stabler is expected to start at quarterback for New Orleans despite bruised ribs he sustained in the third quarter against Atlanta.

Despite their 3-3 record, the Giants promise to give Washington trouble. New York has won three in a row in an attempt to get back into the playoff race.

Redskins' field goal kicker Mark Moseley could be the difference in the game. He has kicked 18 straight field goals over the past two years and is within two of the record by former Miami kicker Garo Yepremian. Redskins running back John Riggins also is looking at a milestone. On his second carry Sunday, he will become only the fifth man in NFL history to rush 2,000 times in a career.

Buffalo, 4-2, will have to overcome injuries to Joe Ferguson's top two receivers when the Bills play Tampa Bay, 2-4. The Bills have practiced all week without starters Frank Lewis (back) and Jerry Butler (thigh). Doug Williams, Buccaneers quarterback, will have to contend with the top passing defense in the AFC.

The 3-3 Vikings are playing defense like the team of old, but they can't put points on the board. They go into Sunday's contest against Detroit, also 3-3, having given up just 98 points, but they have scored only 108. Detroit, however, has scored only 102 points.

The Browns, 2-4, face a must-win situation if they are to remain in the playoff picture, but the Steelers, 4-2, feel as adamantly about the game's importance. "Our backs are to the wall," says Coach Chuck Noll of the Steelers, who have been shut out twice this season, including a 13-0 loss last week to Buffalo.

St. Louis, 3-3, didn't give up a touchdown to Washington last week but lost on four Moseley field goals. If they can beat the Bears, 2-4, their road record against Chicago will be 4-0. Walter Payton of Chicago is 82 yards short of rushing for 10,000 career yards — a feat accomplished only by Jim Brown, O.J. Simpson and Franco Harris.

Denver, 2-4, broke a two-game losing streak last week with a victory over the Rams, and the Chiefs would like to do the same thing against the Broncos this week. Kansas City, 1-5, has lost four in a row.

Seattle and New England both are 3-3. The Seahawks have the No. 2 defense in the league against passing.

The defending Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers, 2-4, run into an Atlanta team that has won three in a row for a 4-2 record. Wide receiver Alfred Jenkins of the Falcons attempts to keep alive his streak of catching passes in 95 consecutive games.

The Colts have yet to win this season, but they're getting closer. Last week, they lost 13-10 to Minnesota.

BUCKEYES BURY THE COUGARS — Ohio State's Curt Curtis gets a hold of Brigham Young quarterback Steve Young and throws him for a 10-yard loss during the first period of their game in the Holiday Bowl Friday night. The Buckeyes threw the Coogs for a big loss, defeating the Western Athletic Conference champs for a 45-17 defeat.

Buckeyes blast BYU, 45-17

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Coach Earle Bruce gave Ohio State a little history lesson at halftime and it clicked for a 47-17 rout of Brigham Young in the Holiday Bowl Friday night.

"Coach just said our third quarter had been our worst quarter this year and the third quarter had been their best quarter," said defensive tackle Jerome Foster.

The Buckeyes had been outscored in the third quarter 50-42. The Cougars had a 121-39 scoring edge over their opponents in the same 15 minutes this season.

Ohio State learned the lessons well. The Buckeyes had the ball for more than 14 minutes of the first 17 minutes of the second half, scoring 17 points in less than three minutes.

"Our knockout punch came in the third quarter," said Bruce, watching his team roll to its seventh straight victory and its most lopsided triumph in its 17 bowl appearances.

Ohio State outscored Brigham Young 17-3 in the third quarter for a 34-10 lead. The 17th-ranked Buckeyes, 9-3, also handed the Cougars, 8-4, their worst beating in their eight bowls.

Bruce and LaVell Edwards, Brigham Young's coach, agreed Ohio State's offensive line played a vital role.

"It's not their size so much. It's their quickness," Edwards said of the Big Ten Conference runner-up.

Ohio State's triumph was the first runaway in this 5-year-old bowl. The first four games had been decided by seven points or less.

A Holiday Bowl record crowd of 52,533 watched Ohio State tailback Tim Spencer rush for 167 yards, including a bowl-record 61-yard touchdown run.

Spencer, the game's outstanding offensive player, said, "We were able to wear them down with our big offensive line and our 250-pound fullback (Vaughn Broadnax). By the time they got to me, they were tired. It wasn't all that hard to run against BYU, but that didn't surprise me."

Joe Lukens, an all-conference guard, thought the Buckeyes' light pre-bowl workouts led to their success.

Both coaches agreed the punt block by Rowland Tatum early in the second quarter was the turning point. It set up the Buckeyes' second touchdown for a 17-10 halftime lead.

"We played with the intensity we had in the second half of the Michigan game," said Garcia Lane, voted the game's outstanding defensive award.

BYU quarterback Steve Young denied the OSU secondary for 27 completions in 45 attempts for 341 yards and two touchdowns. But he managed only 10 completions for 110 yards in the second half after the Buckeyes went to zone coverage.

Fresno scores late, captures Cal Bowl

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Freshman flanker Vince Wesson caught a 3-yard touchdown pass with 11 seconds remaining and Scott Darrow kicked the extra point to rally Fresno State past Bowling Green 29-28 in the California Bowl Saturday.

Quarterback Jeff Tedford threw his third touchdown pass on a third-down play. He had missed two passing attempts from the 5 before being dragged down by the face mask on another pass attempt. Bowling Green was penalized and Tedford passed over middle to Wesson in the end zone for the winning touchdown.

The Bulldogs scored three touchdowns in the final period to overcome a 28-7 deficit. Wide receiver Stephone Paige scored on a 4-yard reverse and on a 27-yard pass from Tedford.

After the second touchdown, Tedford threw to Terry Carter for a two-point conversion, making the score 28-22.

Paige had a great day for the Pacific Coast Athletic Association champions, who finished the year with an 11-1 record. He gained 246 yards on 15 receptions and scored three touchdowns. He scored Fresno's first touchdown on a 10-yard pass from Tedford.

The team played without Henry Ellard, the second-team All America receiver who suffered a shoulder injury in the final regular season game.

Fresno won despite seven turnovers — four interceptions and three fumbles — and outstanding offensive performances by Bowling Green quarterback Brian McClure, who threw for 246 yards, and tailback Chip Otten, who rushed for 136 yards and caught passes for 76 yards.

The Bulldogs' winning touchdown drive started at the Bowling Green 45 after the Falcons punted with 1:53 left. A 7-yard run by Lavale Thomas, a 9-yard pass to Carter, and two 12-yard passes to Paige moved the ball to the Bowling Green 5.

Bowling Green scored touchdowns in the second period on a 4-yard run by Otten and a 1-yard pass from McClure to tight end John Meek. In the third period, McClure tossed a 5-yard TD pass to Shawn Potts, and Potts scored again on a strange play.

Greg Taylor, after catching a pass, fumbled near the Fresno 10. The ball squirted toward the goal line, and Potts scooped it up at the 6 and ran in for the score.

The Falcons, champions of the Mid American Conference, finished the year 7-5.

Eastern Kentucky holds off Delaware in Pioneer Bowl

WICHITA FALLS, Texas (AP) — Defensive end Richard Bell returned a blocked field goal 77 yards for a touchdown Saturday to ignite the Eastern Kentucky Colonels to a 17-14 Pioneer Bowl victory over resurgent Delaware and their second NCAA Division IAA national championship.

The blocked field goal in the second period and a fumble recovery on the second-half kickoff gave the Colonels two cheap touchdowns the Blue Hens couldn't overcome.

Eastern Kentucky led 17-0 going into the fourth quarter but Blue Hen touchdown passes to Mark Steimer and Tim Sager made the Colonels earn the victory.

Eastern Kentucky, which won the NCAA Division IAA title in 1979, finished the season with a perfect 13-0 record, while Delaware was 12-2.

Bell's blocked field goal return came after defensive back Gus Parks broke through the Blue Hens untouched on K.C. Knoblock's 31-yard attempt.

The 6-foot-3, 227-pound Bell, a senior from Marietta, Ga., had to outrun Knoblock for the score at 9:40 of the second quarter.

The stunning touchdown came just seconds after wide receiver Paul Hammond of Delaware had dropped a pass from quarterback Rick Scully in the Colonial end zone.

Eastern Kentucky made a 10-0 at halftime by driving from its 47 to the Delaware 20 before Jamie Lovett kicked a 37-yard field goal into a brisk 18 mph north wind.

John Cason fumbled the second half kickoff away to Cliff McClough at the Blue Hen 21. Terrence Thompson ran for 17 yards and Nicky Yeast scored from a yard away two plays later to make it 17-0.

The Blue Hens took advantage of two fourth-quarter Colonels mistakes for their touchdown. Punter Steve Rowe couldn't handle the snap and Delaware took over at the Eastern Kentucky 20.

On the next play, halfback Kevin Phelan threw a reverse pass to Steimer for the touchdown. Rick Tutus was tackled by Frank Hardin short of the goal on a two-point try.

Four minutes later Scully flipped a five-yard scoring pass to Sager after Bill Maley recovered a Terrence Thompson fumble with 5:38 left.

A crowd of 11,257 watched the game in Memorial Stadium in 56-degrees and bright sunshine.

Auburn claws B-College in Tangerine

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Randy Campbell, director of Auburn's ground-oriented wishbone offense, set up three touchdowns and a field goal with the best passing performance of his career Saturday night, leading the 18th-ranked Tigers to a 33-26 victory over Boston College in the 37th annual Tangerine Bowl.

Campbell, a 5-foot-11, 175-pound junior, completed eight of 10 passes in the first half for 146 yards as Auburn scored three second-period touchdowns that gave the Tigers a 23-10 halftime bulge and spoiled Boston College's first bowl trip in 40 years.

The second-period scores came on runs of 1 yard and 6 yards by freshman halfback Bo Jackson sandwiched around a 2-yard run by his backup, senior Willie Howell. Al Del Greco's 19-yard field goal at 9:53 of the first period started Auburn's scoring after Boston College had taken a 7-0 lead on a 79-yard drive with the opening kickoff, capped by quarterback Doug Flutie's 5-yard touchdown scramble.

The victory gave Auburn a 9-3 record, its best since 1974, which also marked the Tigers' last bowl appearance. Boston College wound up 8-3-1.

Del Greco kicked a 23-yard field goal in the third period and Greg Pratt's 15-yard touchdown run with 1:10 left in the period gave Auburn a 33-10 lead and offset a 2-yard TD pass from Flutie to Scott Nizolek with 10:55 remaining in the game, plus a 16-yard touchdown toss to Brian Brennan on the final play.

Pratt's touchdown capped a 69-yard, five-play strike, which Campbell ignited with a 14-yard keeper, followed by a 17-yard pass to Chris Woods.

In an uncharacteristic aerial display, Campbell outpassed Flutie 146 yards, 16 143 in the first half and finished with a career high 177, bettering the 166 he had against Southern Mississippi earlier this season.

Central State rolls by Mesa for NAIA crown

EDMOND, Okla. (AP) — A fourth-quarter interception by Randy Preston set up a touchdown that gave Central State of Oklahoma the NAIA Division I football championship with a 14-11 victory over Mesa, Colo., Saturday.

Preston's 47-yard return after intercepting Bill Monson's pass led to a 1-yard plunge by fullback Randy Jones that gave Central State the victory with 8:46 left in the game.

The championship was the second for Central State, which won its first NAIA title in 1962. The Bronchos finished the season 10-2, while the Mavericks ended with an 11-1-1 record.

Preston's heroics capped a wild second-half that saw Mesa erase a 7-3 halftime deficit with a 7-minute, 66-yard touchdown drive late in the third quarter and a 7-point safety at the start of the last period.

New Mexico edges Tulsa in fake bowl

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — New Mexico defeated Tulsa 30-27 in a "Justice Bowl" football battle that was fought Saturday on a field of computer circuits rather than grass or artificial turf.

Both teams finished the 1982 season with 10-1 records, but were shunned by post-season bowl committees. Tulsa lost to Arkansas, while New Mexico was defeated by Brigham Young.

The game was aired on KOB-AM Saturday and is scheduled to be broadcast at 1 p.m. Sunday in Tulsa, Okla., on KGTO-AM and KRAV-FM.

Bob Carpenter, sports director of the two Tulsa stations, did play-by-play from a script assembled from computer comparisons of the two teams' statistics during the regular season.

The KGTO-KRAV production department produced the game — crowds were yelling, cheerleaders were cheering, fight songs were played and vendors hawked their wares.

The contest was "played" at Amon Carter Stadium, home of Texas Christian University in Fort Worth, Texas.

Somber Pitt arrives in Texas

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — The University of Pittsburgh Panthers, shaken by the loss of teammate Todd Baker, began practices Saturday at Texas Christian University facilities in preparation for the 1983 College Bowl.

The Panthers' arrival in Fort Worth Friday after a tending a memorial service for Baker, who died in a fall from a dormitory dormitory window on Monday morning.

Coach Pete Carril and the players to put the death behind them and look forward to the New Year's Day showdown with Southern Methodist.

"I told them not to wallow in sorrow," Fazio said. "I told them to pray for Todd but don't feel sorry for yourself."

Fazio, the first-year head coach, said he would begin a "mini-camp" patterned after the Panther's preparation for the 1982 Sugar Bowl.

The team's routine Saturday was to "get up early, have a meeting, go out to TCU and work until about 3:30 p.m.," Fazio reported.

The Panthers plan to tour Carswell Air Force Base here and visit famed honky tonk Billy Bob's Texas.

The trip had been delayed one day by Becker's death. The linebacker, intoxicated at the time of his death, died of massive head injuries.

UWE THAT WAS A GOOD KICK - Miami Dolphins place kicker Uwe von Schamann raises his arms in jubilation after kicking a 47-yard field goal with three seconds to play to nip the New York Jets 20-19 Saturday afternoon in the Orange Bowl. Miami's win left both rivals with 5-2 season records.

Uwe boots Jets win skein, 20-19

MIAMI (AP) - Uwe von Schamann booted a 47-yard field goal with three seconds remaining Saturday to lift the Miami Dolphins to a 20-19 National Football League victory over the New York Jets. The triumph boosted Miami's record to 5-2 and snapped a five-game winning streak for the Jets. The game-winning field goal came after reserve quarterback Don Strock used seven plays to move the Dolphins from their own 17 to the New York 30. Strock hit key passes of 20 yards to wide receiver Duriel Harris and 10 yards to tight end Joe Rose along the way. The Jets, who were trying to become the first team to clinch a playoff berth, had taken a 19-17 lead with 9:06 remaining on Pat Leahy's 49-yard field goal. Leahy, who kicked a 40-yarder in the second period, had missed an extra point and had another field goal try blocked earlier in the game. New York drove 59 yards in six plays after the opening kickoff to take a 6-0 lead on Richard Todd's 22-yard scoring pass to Wesley Walker. The touchdown reception was the ninth of Walker's career in 10 games against Miami. Miami linebacker Ernie Rhone intercepted a Todd pass and returned it four yards to the New York 36 to set up a 47-yard field goal by von Schamann which trimmed the Dolphins' deficit to 6-3 with 8:12 left in the third quarter. The Dolphins took a 10-6 lead seven minutes later when Andra Franklin rambled 25 yards up the middle for a touchdown to complete a eight-play, 69-yard drive. The second-year fullback broke one tackle along the way and carried Jets cornerback Jerry Holmes into the end zone. Todd and wide receiver Derrick Gaffney combined on a 45-yard touchdown play that gave New York a 13-10 lead less than two minutes into the second period. But Miami regained the lead when quarterback David Woodley tossed a 36-yard scoring pass to Harris at the 10:48 mark. Leahy, who was wide left on the conversion try after New York's first touchdown, had a 28-yard field goal attempt blocked by Miami rookie Charles Bowser with 4:52 left in the third quarter. Todd finished the game with 16 completions in 29 attempts for 174 yards, while Woodley hit 12 of 25 passes for 148. Both starting quarterbacks were intercepted twice. Freeman McNeil of the Jets, the AFC's leading rusher, carried 21 times for 89 yards. Franklin, who ranked second behind McNeil, gained 75 on 17 attempts.

Allen's third TD caps wild game for Raiders

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Rookie Marcus Allen dashed 11 yards for his third touchdown with 29 seconds remaining Saturday, lifting the Los Angeles Raiders to a wild 37-31 National Football League victory over the Los Angeles Rams in their first-ever crosstown confrontation. The Rams had taken a 31-30 lead on a 36-yard field goal by Mike Lansford with 1:38 to go. But the Raiders drove 57 yards in five plays following a 43-yard kickoff return by Greg Pruitt to nail down the emotional win at the Los Angeles Coliseum. A crowd of 56,646 watched the game at the former home of the Rams, who moved to nearby Anaheim after the 1979 season. The Raiders moved to Los Angeles from Oakland this year. The Raiders, who are now 6-1, overcame a 21-7 halftime deficit to go ahead 30-21 in the fourth quarter before the Rams, who fell to 1-6, staged a rally of their own. Quarterback Vince Ferragamo capped an 82-yard line drive by the Rams by sneaking 1 yard for a touchdown with 4:19 to go, making it 30-28. Following a punt by the Raiders, the Rams moved into position for Lansford's go-ahead field goal. The Rams took a 14-0 lead by scoring touchdowns on their first two possessions. Wendell Tyler got both TDs, on a 1-yard plunge and an 18-yard pass from Ferragamo. The Raiders trimmed the deficit to 14-7 early in the second quarter on an 18-yard scoring throw from Jim Plunkett to Cliff Branch. However, the Rams extended their advantage to 21-7 on a 6-yard touchdown pass from Ferragamo to Preston Dennard with 16 seconds remaining before halftime. Allen scored the first of his touchdowns, this one on a 1-yard plunge, midway through the third quarter to make it 21-14. The Raiders moved to within four points of the Rams on a 24-yard field goal by Chris Bahr with 12:43 remaining in the game. The three points were the first of 33 points scored in the fourth quarter. Allen put the Raiders ahead for the first time when he scored on his second 1-yard plunge with 7:33 to play. Less than two minutes later, the Raiders took their nine-point lead on a 6-yard touchdown pass from Plunkett to Pruitt. Plunkett finished with 22 completions in 34 attempts for 321 yards. He was intercepted four times. Ferragamo wound up 20 of 35 for 222 yards.

Forsan, G'wood win titles

RANKIN - Greenwood captures both boys and girls titles at the Rankin Invitational Tournament here Saturday night. Stuart Bureson tossed in 23 points to earn all-tournament honors and lead the Rangers to a 63-43 victory over Van Horn in the championship game. Teammate Troy Wallace - who had 14 points in the title game - was also an all-tourney pick. Renny Evans scored 24 points, Kay Wallace added 11 and Cindy Lea 10 to guide the Rangettes to a hug 61-23 win over Van Horn in the girls final. Evans, Deona Dean and Belinda Duke were named 13 of 63 shots (20 per cent) and only 10 of 25 free throws in the game but managed to win for the 10th while the girls improved to 13-1 with their tournament.

They hosts Reagan County Tuesday. Forsan wins Gail - Karla Nix scored just one point all night but it was her single free throw that made all the difference in the world. Nix hit the only point in overtime play to lift the Forsan Buffalo Queens to a 36-35 victory over home-standing Borden Co. in the finals of the Borden Co. Tournament here Saturday night. Forsan had coach Ronnie Taylor shaking his head all night long. The Queens hit just 13 of 63 shots (20 per cent) and only 10 of 25 free throws in the game but managed to win for the 10th while the girls improved to 13-1 with their tournament.

Clondike wins O'Donnell - After falling to a tough Seagraves team in the semifinals, the Klondike Cougarettes stormed back to swamp Wilson 54-32 in the third place game of the O'Donnell Tournament here Saturday. Cynthia Cave scored 24 points in the game to improve Klondike's mark to 7-3 for the year.

UCLA tops Iowa, 75-66

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Reserve guard Michael Holton scored six points in the final 17 seconds to boost No. 4 UCLA to a 75-66 non-conference basketball victory over seventh-ranked Iowa Saturday. Forwards Kenny Fields and Darren Daye scored 21 and 20 points respectively for the Bruins, who improved their record to 5-0 in the nationally televised contest. Center Greg Stokes scored a game-high 27 points for the Hawkeyes, who suffered their first defeat after six victories this season. Iowa led 20-17 with eight minutes remaining in the first half, but the Bruins went on a 19-2 tear to take a 36-22 lead with a minute remaining in the opening half. The Hawkeyes outscored UCLA 11-2 in the first three minutes of the second half to trail by only one at 38-37. The game remained close throughout the second half and Iowa pulled to within one point again at 65-64 when Stokes was awarded a basket on goaltending by Fields. Fields responded with two baskets to give the Bruins a five-point lead and after guard Bob Hansen hit a jumper, Holton's six points gave UCLA its final margin of victory. Fields also had a game-high 13 rebounds as UCLA outrebounded Iowa 41 to 38. The Bruins connected on 47.1 percent of their field goals attempts to 42.9 percent for Iowa.

Alabama 88, La. Tech 73 TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) - Bobby Lee Hurt scored 22 points while Ennis Whately added 15 points and recorded a team-record 14 assists to help 10th-ranked Alabama defeat Louisiana Tech 88-73 in college basketball Saturday night. Alabama got off to a fast start, building up a 13-point lead with four minutes left in the first half. But Louisiana Tech, buoyed by Karl Malone's shooting, closed the gap to five points in the closing minutes of the half. Alabama led 40-33 at the half. The Crimson Tide roared back in the second half, running up a lead of more than 20 points within the first six minutes. Cliff Windham with 16 points, while Terry Williams and Mike Davis had 12 each for Alabama, 5-0. For Louisiana Tech, 5-3, Malone had 27 points and Wayne Smith had 12. NCAA North Carolina 106, Pan Am 50 TULSA, Okla. (AP) - Sam Perkins scored 20 points and four other North Carolina players scored in double figures, as the Tar Heels crushed Pan American, 106-50, to take third place in the Oil Capital Classic basketball tournament Saturday night. Tulsa, which defeated North Carolina, 84-74, Friday night was to play Oral Roberts in the tournament's championship later Saturday. Oral Roberts defeated Pan American, 85-76, to advance to the finals. The Tar Heels, 4-3, broke a 2-2 tie early in the game with four unanswered points and raced ahead to open up a 31-point lead twice in the first half. After leading at halftime, 56-29, North Carolina scored the first 10 points of the second half. The Tar Heels led by as many as 56 points, including the final score. TCU 74, Iowa State 66 AMES, Iowa (AP) - Darrell Browder poured in 30 points to lead Texas Christian to a 74-66 college basketball victory over previously unbeaten Iowa State Saturday night. Browder hit 11 of 21 shots, many of them from 20 feet or longer, to lead the Horned Frogs to a 7-1 mark. Doug Arnold added 15 points and 11 rebounds and Joe Stephen had 10 points for TCU. Texas 73, Harvard 58 AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Texas forward Bill Wendlandt muscled in 26 points as the Longhorns led from start to finish in a 73-58 nonconference college basketball game Saturday night over Harvard.

St. John's 58, Princeton 46 NEW YORK (AP) - Billy Goodwin hit four baskets during a 17-3 burst midway through the second half to help ninth-ranked St. John's beat Princeton 58-46 in college basketball Saturday night. Chris Mullin led St. John's with 18 points, 13 in the first half when the Redmen, 9-0, built a 29-22 lead. David Russell followed with 13 and Goodwin had 10. Rich Simkus scored 14 points for the Tigers, 4-3, and Craig Robinson added 10. A jumper by Kevin Williams gave the Redmen their biggest lead of the first half, 24-16, with 6:07 to play before intermission. Princeton came within 36-33 on a free throw by Gordon Enderle 6:25 into the second half.

World's best buys in Mexico

The watered-down peso, worth about one-fifth what it went for at the start of 1982, makes Mexico one of the world's most affordable vacation spots, tourist officials say.

"Mexico's a buy — it's the buy of the world," says Greater El Paso Tourist and Convention Bureau executive director Bill Knight. "The problem is either no one knows about it or they're scared."

Leery are the potential American tourists who read of Mexico's current economic plight and decide to find another holiday site, or those that hear of occasional uprisings such as the burning of an effigy of Uncle Sam in front of the U.S. consulate Monday in Juarez that attracted nearly 1,000 leftists.

"Bad news scares off the people," Knight said Tuesday.

Enough bad news has been coming out of Mexico, where the peso is presently worth about 135 to the dollar — it started the year at 26 to the dollar — that travel to coastal resorts such as Cancun, Puerto Vallarta and Acapulco has dropped 80 percent this year, Knight said.

"And prices are at least 75 percent cheaper now," he said, noting that pricey waterfront Acapulco hotels now fetch $40 a night — almost one-fourth the rate, they were last winter.

The convention bureau advertises to bring wealthy Mexicans northward to El Paso, where many drive two hours on to New Mexican resorts to ski and stay at their second homes.

But the tourist bureau also tries to put together packages for American tourists interested in crossing the border and sampling a taste of the border country.

Border town tourist officials in McAllen and Brownsville in the Lower Rio Grande Valley report similar problems, saying visitors are a little scared to cross into Reynosa and Matamoros.

But with the battered peso worth a fraction of what it was last January, officials say they can't understand why tourist traffic is so slow.

"The prices are ridiculously low," admits a travel clerk at Juarez's Aeromexico office.

Sampler fares at present from border towns to popular Mexican tourist destinations via Aeromexico and Mexicana Airlines are:

- Juarez, across the Rio Grande from El Paso,

Texas, to Mexico City, about 1,000 miles: $84 roundtrip at border exchange rates of 135 pesos to the dollar; from Mexico City to Cancun on the Yucatan Peninsula, $57 roundtrip.

• Tijuana, a half-hour south of San Diego, to Acapulco: $106 roundtrip; Tijuana to Puerto Vallarta costs $58 roundtrip.

• Reynosa, minutes from McAllen, to Ixtapa-Zihuatanejo — Mexico's newest Pacific coast resort — costs $58 roundtrip; Reynosa to Acapulco costs $57 roundtrip.

• Matamoros, 20 minutes from Harlingen and adjacent to Brownsville, to Mexico City costs $42; Matamoros to Acapulco costs $57.

Fares outside the United States, however, remain much higher, and are priced in dollars, Aeromexico officials say.

For example, Cozumel to Miami via Aeromexico costs $196 roundtrip, and Cozumel to New York City costs $504 roundtrip at present rates.

On the other hand, American Airlines offers a $279 roundtrip excursion deal from El Paso to New York City, making it possible to fly New York City to El Paso, cross the border to Juarez and fly Aeromexico on to Acapulco for $378 total, airlines officials say.

Also, Frontier Airlines flies from El Paso to Puerto Vallarta for a roundtrip fare of $200.

Aeromexico officials say prices could be revised upward after the free float of the peso next week, but concede that because tourist traffic from America — Mexico's primary tourist target — is down, it might be wisest to keep fares as low and attractive as possible.

Vienna coffeehouses brewing

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The city's coffeehouses, home to generations of writers, critics, actors and loafers, are celebrating a renaissance as owners and patrons prepare to mark their 300th anniversary.

After enduring for more than two centuries as a way of life in the capital of the old Austro-Hungarian empire, the institution fell on hard times after World War II, when reconstruction, economic hardship, and later television, thinned the ranks of coffeehouse regulars.

Dozens of cafes were closed, their premises converted to banks and offices.

Experts say they are not quite sure what reversed the trend, but a recent chamber of commerce survey showed that coffeehouses are again riding a wave of popularity, especially among young people.

Of 4,000 persons surveyed, more than 42 percent said they visited a coffeehouse daily. Eighty percent called themselves "regulars," and 20 percent said they go to a coffeehouse two to three times a week.

Ten percent said they visited one of the city's estimated 450 coffeehouses at least once a week. The largest section of regular guests are in the 19- to 25-year-old age group, the survey showed.

Legend has it that Franz Koltschitzky, a courier crossing enemy lines during the second Turkish siege of Vienna in 1683 was the Danube city's first professional coffee brewer.

The popular story goes that he used coffee left behind by Turkish invaders, who were beaten back with the help of Polish troops led by King Jan Sobieski.

A recent government booklet based on historical research gives a different version, pointing out that coffee was familiar to the well-to-do in Vienna decades before Koltschitzky.

The historians say two Armenians — Johannes Diodato and Isaac de Luca — were the first to receive a license to serve coffee to the public, hence the ancestors of the present-day "cafetiers."

Outwardly, little has changed in the old-style coffeehouses still operating here.

Depending on how strong the coffee is and on how much milk and whipped cream is added, some of the varieties served for centuries translate as "Turkish," "capuchin," "extended," or, if it's down to a very mild coffee with milk — "Franciscan."

The waiter, always to be called "Herr Ober," continues to address regular patrons as "doctor" or "professor," irrespective of their profession. He still exchanges every half hour the glass of water served with coffee, according to time-honored unwritten laws.

The billiard tables are still there, as are packs of cards and newspapers. But the coffeehouse is no longer what it used to be — a place teeming with literary and artistic talent.

Plaque honors Brezhnev

MOSCOW (AP) — Traffic was snarled for more than an hour Friday as workmen erected a memorial plaque on the building where the late Soviet President Leonid I. Brezhnev lived.

A giant picture of Brezhnev could be seen on the building and hundreds of pedestrians watched as the plaque was put in place. Cars jammed streets because police blocked motorists from using Kutuzovskiy Prospekt, a busy thoroughfare.

Brezhnev, the Soviet leader for 18 years until his death Nov. 10, was said to have maintained a posh suite on the seventh floor of the building.

The plaque said: "In this house lived from 1952 to 1982 the prominent official of the Communist Party, the Soviet state and the international labor movement, four times hero of the Soviet Union and hero of socialist labor, Leonid I. Brezhnev."

Kohl arranges loss on vote; elections called

BONN, West Germany (AP) — Chancellor Helmut Kohl intentionally lost a vote of confidence in Parliament Friday after deputies supporting him abstained at his request so he could call new national elections in the spring.

The vote was 218 against the chancellor, with eight votes for him and 248 abstentions. Kohl had arranged in advance to lose the confidence vote so that he could then ask President Karl Carstens to dissolve Parliament and call early elections.

Kohl came to power Oct. 1 promising elections next spring. Short of resigning from the chancellorship, losing a confidence vote was the only constitutional way the chancellor could ask Carstens to call the elections.

Kohl called for the confidence vote in the Bundestag, the lower house of Parliament, last Monday after the Social Democrat opposition agreed to cooperate in his parliamentary maneuver.

Current polls indicate his conservative Christian Democrats could win an absolute majority, enabling the formation of a one-party government for the first time since 1961.

Carstens is expected to schedule the voting for March.

By going the confidence-vote route, Kohl will be able to campaign for the spring elections as the incumbent chancellor, an advantage he would have lost had he resigned.

Kohl grinned broadly as the vote was announced, and his supporters cheered.

The vote followed hours of debate and a half-hour speech by Kohl in which he insisted that arranging to lose the confidence vote was constitutional and necessary to have elections on March 6, before their regularly scheduled date of 1984.

"All parties represented in the German Bundestag (parliament) want new elections. By far the greater majority of our citizens also want new elections. I am convinced that the desired new elections are necessary to bring into order the state budget, to create jobs and reinvigorate the economy," Kohl said.

Kohl's Social Democrat predecessor, Helmut Schmidt, tried to use the same tactic last September to arrange early elections after the liberal Free Democrats, the junior partner in his coalition government, defected.

The Free Democrats would not cooperate because opinion polls indicated they might not get the minimum 5 percent of the vote needed to be represented in the Bundestag. Instead they joined forces with the conservatives. The new alliance then ousted Schmidt as chancellor and replaced him with Kohl.

After taking over as chancellor, Kohl promised to push for new elections at the earliest possible opportunity in order to get a direct mandate for his government from the voters.

The Free Democrats apparently have not helped themselves by joining with the conservatives. A poll published this week indicated they might not get the minimum 5 percent of the vote.

London's Tower Bridge reopens after 72 years

LONDON (AP) — Tower Bridge, the sturdy landmark over the Thames, has reopened for the first time in 72 years in a celebration of Victorian durability and eccentricity.

"It's London's Eiffel Tower," said John Fielding, tourist manager for the famous drawbridge built in 1894.

"There's nothing quite like it in the world. Certainly there are bigger and more splendid bridges, but this is unique, the most instantly recognizable," he said.

The public has not been allowed to climb the twin five-story, fairy-castle towers of the bridge, or to cross the pedestrian walkway suspended between them 140 feet above the River Thames, since the towers were closed in 1910.

"Pedestrians soon found it was too much effort to climb up those stairs when the drawbridge was open, especially since the bridge mechanism can open and close in under six minutes," said Fielding, explaining that long-ago decision.

"The walkways became a haven for derelicts, so they were closed to the public and only reopened with the renovation completed last June 30."

Now the walkways and the floor below in both towers are thronged by tourists who come for the view, and to see exhibits about the bridge's history, including its still operational original lifting mechanism.

Fielding said 2,000 to 3,000 people a day are visiting the reopened towers. A visit costs 1.60 pounds ($2.70) for adults and 80 pence ($1.30) for children.

The bridge had a mixed reception when it first opened on June 30, 1894. The London Times called it "one of the structural triumphs of this age of steel," but a trade journal, The Builder, dismissed the ornately carved and turreted German High Gothic towers as "elaborate and costly make-believe."

Tower Bridge, structurally unaltered since the days when its users trotted over by horse-and-carriage, remains a vital part of the capital's traffic system, carrying more than 20,000 Londoners to work every day.

BSSH patients make toys for children

By TINA STEFFEN
Lifestyle Editor
Christmas shoppers can buy inexpensive wooden toys for children on their lists while helping a worthy cause — patients in Big Spring State Hospital's Work Activity Center program.

More than 120 patients make wooden toys out of scrap lumber donated by area residents and businesses. They receive industrial therapy, develop skills and earn spending money by producing the toys.

The program depends on scrap lumber donations to make wooden cars, trucks, vans, 18-wheelers, trains, cradles, table and chairs, ironing boards and irons. They also make a few birdhouses.

Frank Salazar designs and saws toy parts out of wood while Dorothy Stovall and Eva Watkins supervise production. All three are employees of BSSH. According to Ms. Stovall, patients are referred to the program from all hospital units.

UPON ENTERING the program, all patients start at Phase I with the sanding. They progress to Phase II (sanding, staining and sealing) if they follow instructions and have a good attitude. The wooden toys are assembled in Phase III. Some patients in Phase III work with Salazar in the cutting room where they use tools to cut out the wooden pieces.

The program allows treatment teams to observe the patients' progress. If the patient progresses in the program, he or she moves on to the Work Adjustment Training Program to learn skills needed for employment in the community.

"It (the Work Activity Center program) gives me something to do with my hands while I'm in the hospital," said Eldon Ray Nash, a patient in the program. "It stimulates me." Other patients gave similar responses when asked how they felt about working in the project.

The program reminds Charles Gregston of earlier days. "I used to work at painting houses," he said.

"It is something different for me. I'm an electrician by trade and have had back surgeries. So it gives me something I can do," Guido Kleypas said.

A.L. Gatewood, BSSH's director of rehabilitation, came up with the idea of having patients make and sell the wooden toys. Patients are paid for work done. Production is inexpensive and all profits go back into the program and to the patients.

The pay is an incentive. Patients aren't in the program to make money, but earning money and producing toys gives the patients a goal.

PATIENTS USE their earned money for such things as candy, cigarettes, or shopping trips. Another example is the recent annual Christmas party, and dance. The patients looked forward to the event all year. When the day came, they used the money they earned to buy new outfits and have their hair styled at the hospital's beauty and barber shops. "They just go all out MAKING ADJUSTMENTS — "I'm adjusting the wheels on the truck. The axles stick out some and I have to grind them off. This is going to be an 18-wheeler," said Guido Kleypas, above, a patient at Big Spring State Hospital. Kleypas enjoys being in the workshop because "it is something different for me." He said he is an electrician by trade.

and really have a ball," said Kathy Viccinelli, head of volunteer services at BSSH.

When the project began, Gatewood hoped people with building contracts or anyone with any unneeded scrap lumber would donate lumber as a volunteer service. Little did he know what the community's response would be. The project is more successful than the staff had imagined. With Christmas just around the corner, patients are busily keeping up with the orders pouring in for Christmas gifts.

The public helps the program by understanding what the hospital is doing with the patients and by donating lumber. The program depends on the community's donations and toy purchases.

THE THIRD STEP — Eldon Ray Nash, above, completes the third step to producing a toy — sealing the wood part. The prior steps were cutting the part from wood scraps and sanding. "I keep sealing it and letting it dry until it has a shiny gloss," he said. After the part is sealed, it will be assembled into a toy.

Howard County Fair. At the time, the toys were not the refined and finished product as they were at the 1982 fair.

The sales since September have increased. Booths were set up at the fair in September and the Arts and Craft Show in October. About $758 worth of toys were sold in two days at the Arts and Craft Show, Mrs. Stovall said. "A lot of people call the Volunteer Services office to find out how to get the toys," Mrs. Viccinelli said.

Other than at the hospital, county fair and art show, the toys also are sold at Handmade USA in Lubbock. All profits come back to the fund to keep the project going.

Persons interested in placing an order for the toys, may call 267-8216 extension 248.

Are video games harmful to players?

By CAROL HART
Lifestyle Writer
"Pac-Man," that familiar little yellow circle which careens around a multi-colored screen gobbling up points in one of America's hottest video games, rapidly became one of the nation's best-known figures.

The crafty little figure has made his way out of the nation's arcades and is appearing on school lunch boxes, on T-shirts, pencils, drinking glasses and shoe-laces. "Pac-Man" has even become a television star, with his own Christmas special airing recently on ABC-TV, and a Saturday morning cartoon in the works.

But "Pac-Man" is only one of many figures associated with America's latest craze, video games. U.S. News and World Report says that more than $8 billion, quarter by quarter, is fed into coin-operated video games annually, and that there are tens of thousands of the machines across the nation.

What is the attraction of video games? That is a question which has drawn the attention of professionals across the nation. Locally, Desmond Powell, director of the adolescent ward at the Big Spring State Hospital, explained what he believes the attraction of the games are.

"VIDEO GAMES ARE good, really, unless they are used to the excess," Powell continued. "They improve children's concentration and attention span, and can be diverting and entertaining. But anything can be used to the excess.

CONSTANT ACTION — At most video arcades today, people can be found waiting in line to play some of the more popular games such as Pac-Man, Donkey Kong and Ms. Pac-Man. Researchers say these games can improve gross motor and fine motor skills in children.

Playing video games can be positive in that "they may be the modern way to prepare for the machine age — man against machine," Powell said with a smile. "I guess there is some appeal to that."

"Anything used to the excess can be given the tag of addictive," Powell said. Some of the games can also trigger medical problems, he added, such as troubles with wrists and shoulders. "Doctors can sometimes identify the games kids are playing by their physical complaints."

Children, and adults, too, are drawn to the games "because you can dress up anything for appeal," Powell said. It's the same as putting lights in a display window to draw customers to view the merchandise, he said. The flashing lights and sounds of modern video games "make them more exciting and add to their appeal."

But, although the games are appealing, Powell said he doesn't feel they are dangerously compelling, because "you can get addicted to watching the stripes on the highway easier, and heck, that's a lot more dangerous."

Video games also have obtained a mass popularity because "everyone can afford to play a few games a week. They are available to the rich and poor, although money does limit the number of times some people can play."

PARENTS WHO ARE worried about their children playing the games frequently usually haven't set limits on the number of games the children can play, Powell said. Parents should "set controls" if they don't want their children playing limitless games of "Donkey Kong" or "Pac-Man."

When setting the limits, "leave some room so the child can make a choice," Powell advised. This will enable the child "to know the limits" of playing the game, and learn to judge how much money should be spent on the game and when to stop.

Powell's assessment of the video-craze closely aligns to that of Sherry Turkle, an assistant professor of sociology at Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Cambridge, Mass. In a recent interview in "People" magazine, Ms. Turkle likened playing video games to "driving a race car," and said playing the games provides "a powerful socialization into the computer culture. Kids (who play the games) will not be intimidated by computers."

Video games "can build confidence and develop test skills." As for Powell's assessment that excessive play is a problem, Turkle said children "can get stuck in video games, as in any other activity."

"If that happens, it should signal parents not that the games are bad, but that the child has needs that are not being met."

David Sudnow, a visiting professor of sociology at the University of California, Berkeley campus, said in an interview concerning video games "It certainly is a stimulant...an Atari could put coffee out of business."

Lodge officers are nominated

Officers for the coming year were nominated at the regular meeting of the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge No. 153 Tuesday.

Nominated were Odelle LaLonde, noble grand, Lucille Brown, vice grand, LaVerne Rogers, recording secretary, and Juanita Hamlin, financial secretary.

Others were Mary Cole, treasurer, Beatrice Bonner, team captain, and Odelle LaLonde, three-year trustee.

Pauline Petty presided. LaVerne Rogers read the minutes of the last meeting.

Members draped the charter for Myrtle Russell, national president of the Rebekah Assembly. Members assisting in the ceremony were Odelle LaLonde, Beatrice Bonner, Margaret Beechly, Hattie Belle Bolland and W.C. Cole.

The date for auditing the books will be discussed at the next meeting, Dec. 28.

Presented with Certificates of Perfection were Mary Cole, Juanita Hamlin, Fannie Kent, Melissa Santellan and LaVerne Rogers.

Charter draped for past officer

The Rebekah Lodge met Tuesday and draped the charter for Myrtle Russell, past president of the Rebekah Assembly of Texas, and past president of the International Association of Rebekahs.

Myrtle Gring presented the program. Mary Stewart was pianist, and Mildred Collins draped the charter. Mabel Morrison, noble grand, presided over the meeting.

The Lodge voted on two candidates and is planning an initiation Jan. 11.

The next meeting will be Dec. 21, at which time a drawing for a food processor and blender will be held.

Martins announce birth

Mr. and Mrs. Howell Martin, Austin and formerly of Big Spring, announce the birth of a daughter, Laura Michelle, on Dec. 7. The baby weighed 8 pounds, 9 1/2 ounces, and was 19 1/2 inches long at birth.

Maternal grandparents include Mr. and Mrs. Bill Irwin, 407 Dallas. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Herb Martin, Lubbock. Maternal great-grandmother is Mrs. Gladys Holden, Big Spring.

Holiday festivities flourish in Big Spring

I heard that at the KBYG Christmas party Monday week ago, DICK FIELDS was presented a strange collection of sculptured giraffes from the station's employees. The giraffes go along with the name of the company that one of his employee's thinks he owns — GIRAFFE COMMUNICATIONS. Giraffe Communications owns KBYG.

Anyway as I understand it, the group of three or four giraffes were quite a conversation piece as they appeared to be posed in a rather unusual and questionable manner. I also heard Dick has the sculpture sitting in his office.

Speaking of parties, BOB and NITA WASH, ROBERT and TERESA WASH, and DUB and DIANE CLINTON hosted their annual Christmas Party Saturday.

The BIG SPRING HERALD EDITORIAL CREW held their holiday bash Sunday. KEITH BRISCOE, city editor, kept the crew rolling with his wit.

It was some party. Somehow one member's spouse and the entire editorial staff, with the exception of two members, contracted a virus then. All got sick about the same time. Your's truly included. Needless to say, putting out newspapers was not an easy task this week.

MR. AND MRS. N.V. HILBUN of Anaheim, Calif. will be here for the Christmas holidays to visit MR. and MRS. E.G. PATTON, MRS. E.L. PATTON, MR. and MRS. B.H. PATTON, MRS. T.B. CLIFTON, and MRS. LOREIN PHILLIPS. Big Spring was the Hilbuns' home about 41 years ago.

ROY HUGHES, former engineer for Cosden, and his wife KAREN are back in town for a visit.

If you missed the "WE BELIEVE" CHRISTMAS PARADE, you probably were very warm. However, you missed a great event in the life of Big Spring. The community, united in the great undertaking, presented the best parade this town has seen to my knowledge. Congratulations to all the winners and runners up in the float contests, BILL NEHLS, BIG SPRING AREA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE and area citizens and organizations for a job well done.

MERRY CHRISTMAS. Until next week...

Hamner-Blassingame

The First Baptist Church was the setting for the wedding of Charisa Hamner and Eddy Blassingame Saturday afternoon. Dr. Kenneth G. Patrick, pastor, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamner, 2402 Merrily. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blassingame, Sterling City Route.

The altar was decorated with lattice work, fresh greenery, two tree candelabra with peach and blue flowers and gypsophila and two seven-branch candelabra with two flat palm trees.

Organist was Betty Downey.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal-length gown of taffeta and silk organza. The bodice was enhanced by lace and pearls. The chapel-length train was edged with pearls.

The bride carried a small cascade of betina peach roses, stephanotis, blue carnations, gypsophelia and springeri fern.

Maid of honor was Carol Morehead. Bridesmaid was Melissa Blassingame, sister of the bridegroom. Best man was Greg Cline. Groomsman was Tim Martin. Ushers and candlelighters were Bill Postier and Cecil Bynum.

A reception followed the ceremony in the parlor of the church. The bride's table was covered with a floor-length white lace cloth and centered with fresh flowers of peach, blue and white carnations and peach betina roses on a silverholder draped with springeri fern. The bridegroom's table was draped with candlelight lace over a blue cloth with a western boot candle in the center.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School, attended Howard College, and graduated from the University of Texas at the Permian Basin. She is an accountant with American Well Servicing employed by Cain Electric Corporation. The bridegroom is a graduate of Big Spring High School and attended Howard College. He is employed by Cain Electric Supply Corp. Following a wedding trip to South Padre Island, the couple will reside in Big Spring.

Anderson-Sloan

Shana LaNelle Anderson became Mrs. Mike Sloan in a ceremony performed at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Coahoma Church of Christ with Bob Kiser, minister of the College and North Church of Christ, Mt. Home, Ark., officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie F. Anderson, Coahoma. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Sloan, Garland.

The couple was wed before a brass arch candelabrum centered with a brass candelabrum with greenery on each side.

A female quartet composed of singers from the Golf Course Road Church of Christ, Midland, sang preceding the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal-length gown of angel mist peau de soie over bridal taffeta. The gown featured re-embroidered Venice lace with seed pearls overlaying the bodice. The sheer lace neckline featured a scalloped collar. The sheer double sleeves were styled with angel mist over long fitted lace sleeves. The A-line skirt was edged with lace and seed pearls. The chapel-length veil was bordered in matching lace and fell from a headpiece of lace and pearls.

Maid of honor was Theresa Becker, Lubbock.

Flower girls were Leah Pherigo and Tess Anderson, cousins of the bride, Coahoma.

Best man was the father of the bridegroom. Ring bearer was Kirk Allen, cousin of the bride, Coahoma. Ushers were Todd Anderson and Jay Register, both of Abilene. Candlelighters were Denette Dick and Tina Robertson, both of Coahoma.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The bride's cake was three-tiered and decorated with burgundy and pink roses and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. A fountain centered the cake. The bride's table was covered with a floor length tablecloth edged with lace. A silver candelabrum with votive cups and burgundy and pink flowers centered the table. The bridegroom's table was covered with a floor-length tablecloth and featured a chocolate cake.

The bride graduated from Coahoma High School and attended Abilene Christian University. She is employed by the First State Bank of Abilene. The bridegroom graduated from South Garland High School in Garland, attended Abilene Christian University, and is employed by Borden, Inc.

Following a wedding trip to an undisclosed location, the couple will reside in Abilene.

Garth-Shafer

Lucy Jones Garth and Darrell Ben Shafer exchanged wedding vows Saturday in the Trinity School chapel in Midland with the Rev. Harold Wardrop officiating.

Parents of the bride are Janet Jones Garth of Midland and Thomas Garth Jr. of Houston. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schafer of Garden City.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a candlelight gown of satin and lace. She carried a bouquet of butterfly orchids and stephanotis.

Maid of honor was Leta Tyrrell Garth, sister of the bride, Midland. Matron of honor was Mrs. Tanner Garth, sister-in-law of the bride, Houston. Bridesmaid was Kathleen O'Shaughnessy, Midland.

Best man was Roy Drake, Sand Springs. Groomsman were Steven Edward Schafer, Garden City, and Thomas Garth III, Somervell. Ushers were Tanner Garth, Houston, and Reid Hogue of Yazoo City, Miss.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rue Richards, Midland. A Christmas theme was carried out in the decorations.

The bride is attending Southwestern University in Georgetown. The bridegroom is employed by Petro-Lewis as a

Christmas Room Scenter

MRS. JAMES ERMAN BURGIN
...formerly Deborah Grace Phillips

Phillips-Burgin

Mr. and Mrs. James Erman Burgin are on a honeymoon trip to San Antonio today following their wedding Saturday evening at First Baptist Church in Arlington.

Mrs. Burgin is the former Deborah Grace Phillips of Arlington.

Parents of the bride are Ted Phillips of 1308 Runnels and Mrs. Charles Butler of Harlingen. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Burgin of Arlington.

The couple exchanged wedding vows before an altar decorated with two white gladioli arrangements, an arched candelabrum flanked by two swivel candelabra with Christmas decor. The Rev. Dr. Charles Wade, pastor, officiated the 7 p.m. rite.

Music was provided by Kay Ellen Goodyear, pianist, John Tarver, organist, David Phillips, brother of the bride, vocalist, and Karen Hargrave of Arlington, vocalist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal-length gown of ivory satin and re-embroidered Alencon lace. The gown featured a sheer yoke edged in Alencon lace. Matching lace covered the entire bodice and made the standup collar. The A-line satin skirt fell from the waistline into a chapel-length train. The skirt and train were edged in lace and up the back of the train. Crystal and pearls highlighted the gown. To complete her ensemble, the bride wore a picture hat embellished in matching lace.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of burgundy roses with white stephanotis and white

Lila Ingraham of Midland served her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Cynthia Harvey of Austin, Emily Boyd of Arlington and Patsy Winnop of Charlotte, N.C. Candlelighters were Mary Jane Wright of Waco and Julie Hairston of Arlington.

Rick Burgin served his brother as best man. Bradley Dowdy of Arlington, David McGhghy of Sweetwater and David Mobley of Waco were Groomsman. Ushers were Steve Thornton of Waco, John Horn of Waco, Doug Eugene, Jim Dennison, both of Arlington, Nathan Phillips and Doyle Phillips of Mill Valley, Calif., both brothers of the bride.

Following the ceremony, the couple was honored at a reception in the church's Fellowship Hall. The bride's table featured a three-tiered off-white cake decorated with shades of burgundy roses and lily-of-the-valley. The cake was trimmed with puff borders and pink ruffles. The bridegroom's cake was German Chocolate.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and is attending University of Texas at Arlington. She is employed by Arlington Sporting Goods. The bridegroom is a graduate of Korea Christin Academy in Taejeon, Korea and Baylor University in Waco. He is attending Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth and is employed by the City of Arlington.

Following the wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Fort Worth.

Carter-Joy

Cheryl Diane Carter and Frank Wayne Joy were married Saturday morning in the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church with Father Bernard Gulley, pastor, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.H. Carter Jr., 809 Creighton. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Bishop, 501 Young.

The couple was wed before an altar adorned with two white ornamental baskets filled with greenery and burgundy, pink and white flowers.

Mrs. Helen Green was organist. Vocalist was Steve Corson.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore traditional gown of white-knit and white schiffli lace. The gown featured a fitted bodice and a sheer lace yoke bound with a deep lace flounce. The wedding ring neckline and long, full sheer lace sleeves adorned the dress. The skirt was crystal pleated. The gown also featured a chapel-length train, finished with a narrow band of Venice lace.

The bride wore a hat designed to match the gown.

She carried a cascading bouquet of white silk roses, pink rosebuds and miniature burgundy flowers.

Matron of honor was Josie Carter, sister-in-law of the bride, San Antonio. Best man was Rusty Ilie. Ushers were Bill Carter, brother of the bride, and Leonard Joy, brother of the bridegroom. Odessa. Junior ushers included Justin and Jeremy Joy, sons of the bridegroom.

A reception followed in the church hall. The bride's table featured a three-tiered cake with white, pink and lavender roses and sweetpeas. The cake was topped with a porcelain bride and bridegroom. The bride's table was covered with a white lace tablecloth over a white cloth. The bride's and matron of honor's bouquets centered the table.

The bridegroom's table was covered with a burgundy underlay and white lace. It featured an entwined double chocolate ring cake. A brass armadillo and brass candleholders served as the centerpiece.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and the Valta Reeves

MRS. FRANK WAYNE JOY

Engagement policy

We will be pleased to announce the news of your engagement in the Lifestyle section of the Big Spring Herald from anytime after the engagement is a reality until at least three weeks before the wedding.

We try to use the story on the date you request, but sometimes space does not permit this.

The information must be submitted to us on a form available at the Herald no later than Wednesday noon before the Sunday it is to be published. The form should be signed by the bride-elect, prospective bridegroom or parents of either.

We will use a picture of the couple or the bride-elect. The picture must be of a quality that will reproduce well in the newspaper. We prefer a 5 x 7 glossy black and white print.

If the bride-elect, prospective bridegroom or their parents do not now or have never lived in our area, we need to know why you are submitting your engagement to our paper. If only grandparents live in our area, please give their names and addresses.

The information may be brought by the Lifestyle Department of the Big Spring Herald, 710 Scurry, or mailed to the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79720.

BSSH patients attend holiday dance

By TINA STEFFEN, Lifestyle Editor
To the country tunes of the Shady Mitchell Show band, patients at Big Spring State Hospital partied and danced the night away during the hospital's annual Christmas celebration Tuesday evening.

Volunteers came Tuesday morning to serve refreshments to patients in the South Psychiatric unit. That evening, "The Linx" band entertained patients in units unable to attend the dance.

Another group of volunteers came Tuesday evening to serve at parties in the other units. Following the parties, the "Shady Mitchell Show" band entertained patients at the dance. "The patients just had a ball. The whole day was Christmas. They all dressed up, bought new outfits and had their hair fixed" for the occasion, said Kathy Viccinelli, head of Volunteer Services. The Veteran's of Foreign Wars Post from Odessa plans to hold its annual Bingo party with refreshments and possibly a band at the hospital Tuesday.

The Prison Choir came Tuesday morning and sang to patients in the Geriatric Unit. Tuesday evening, Dale Worthan came as

'King of Kitchen' is home economics major

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Tom Hall, 22, is a young man who strives to be as different and creative as possible.

Following this philosophy, the Oklahoma State University senior has won 2,000 food ribbons since he was 9 years old.

"I learned to cook when I was young because both of my parents worked. So, when I was hungry, I had to feed myself," says Hall. "My mother even taught me how to can."

Applying his skill and interest in preserving food in 4-H programs, young Hall won a sweepstakes award the first year he entered a state fair contest in Perry, Okla.

Since his competitive debut 10 years ago, Hall figures he and his mother have 50 years' combined experience and "knew quite a lot about canning."

He recently won the pantry division at the Colorado State Fair by placing in 10 of 12 categories. This earned him the title "King of the Kitchen."

While he acknowledges that he doesn't eat many of the types of foods he cans, he recognizes a winning combination when he sees it or, rather, creates it.

After learning the basic techniques of a certain cuisine, he gives his imagination free rein to conjure an award-winning dish.

"Once you learn the ratios of liquids to solids, and which spices and herbs complement foods, you can effectively experiment with foods," he explains.

His original dishes border on daredevilry. Eating at a friend's house recently, they discovered only a cabbage, some chicken and shrimp in the refrigerator. So he did what any adventuresome cook would do: he threw them all together in a pot with some seasoning to create a delicious dish.

At a recent Swiss Colony cheese cookoff, he won first place in the soup and the entree categories. In his cheese souffle, the secret was sweet crepes tucked away inside the souffle.

Hall, a captain in the ROTC program, is majoring in vocational home economics. He says his talent for cooking and other home skills helped him decide to become a home economics teacher.

"Home economics is just an extension of life and living," he explains. "Whenever I comparison shop or cook, I'm applying home economics principles."

As a male in 4-H home economics, he's accomplished a lot of "firsts."

"I've always had tremendous support and encouragement from those around me to develop myself," he said.

While his peers' initial response may be to treat his interests jokingly, they accept it as a "pretty good deal" after they sample his cooking, he reports.

Her book helps holiday cooks

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Cooks who like to entertain at special times, but need help with menus and recipes, may find "Marlene Sorosky's Year-Round Holiday Cookbook" a lifesaver. Marlene's offerings cater to cross-country tastes — some are epicurean, some typically American.

Including Christmas and Hanukkah and New Year's, of course, Marlene's book covers the holidays and special occasions. There's a Valentine's Day Dinner and a St. Patrick's Day party, an Easter gala buffet and a Passover Seder. Mother's Day and Father's Day are treated; so are wedding anniversaries — with a dinner menu for 16 that may be halved or doubled.

She also gives menus and recipes for a graduation party, baby shower brunch, sweet sixteen luncheon and wedding reception. And, of course, patriotic parties get their due. Thanksgiving isn't neglected, neither are treats for Halloween.

Marlene has studied with some of the best culinary teachers in the United States and abroad and has wide experience in conducting cooking classes herself. I particularly like the way she melds the old and the new. For example, she transforms such a classic dessert as Linzer Torte into Linzer Cookies. As to the new — I vote for her Currant-Studded Pate.

I found her chicken liver mixture, with its imaginative addition of currants soaked in white wine, both delicious and interesting — and so did my tasters.

MARLENE SOROSKY'S CURRANT PATE

1/4 cup currants
1/2 cup dry white wine
12 tablespoons (1 1/2 sticks) butter
1/2 pound fresh mushrooms, coarsely chopped
1-3rd cup chopped green onions
1 teaspoon salt
1 clove garlic, crushed

1 pound chicken livers
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco sauce

Bread rounds or crackers

Marinate currants in white wine for 4 hours or overnight. Drain, reserving the juices. Melt 4 tablespoons butter in a large skillet. Sauté mushrooms, green onions, salt and garlic until soft, about 3 minutes. Add livers and saute over moderately high heat, turning until livers are browned outside but pink within. Stir in the reserved wine and Tabasco sauce. Cover and simmer slowly for 5 minutes. Cool.

Transfer mixture to a food processor fitted with the metal blade or to a blender. Process until smooth. Add remaining stick of butter and blend until smooth. Remove to a bowl and stir in currants. Spoon into a 3-cup crock or pate mold. Cover and refrigerate for at least 4 hours. May be refrigerated for 2 days or frozen for 1 month. Before serving, bring to room temperature. Serve with bread rounds or crackers.

Cosden 25-year club hosts yule dance

The Cosden 25-year club held its annual Christmas dinner-dance Dec. 3 in the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. Eight inductees were welcomed into this exclusive club, bringing the total membership to 436 members.

Retiring president Don McKinney and Paul Meek, president of American Petrofina, presented the eight new inductees with diamond studded jewelry.

Special guests were officials of Cosden and American Petrofina, including Jerry Jenkins, Bill Cahill, Wally Whittington, Vi Ballou and their had traveled to attend. Donald Hale was elected president for 1983. Other officers are Roy Bennett, vice-president; Margueritte Cooper, secretary, and Garrett Patton, treasurer. Approximately 350 members and guests attended. Music was provided by Ben Nix and Band.

Christmas traditions

Christmas and holiday traditions were the topics at the Rosebud Garden Club meeting Tuesday in the home of Leola Edwards.

Jane Thomas opened the meeting with a Christmas benediction, and said "The Christ Child offers his blessings onto all who dwell on earth, and those who know and love Him share in His glorious birth."

Adele Tibbs spoke on Christmas traditions. The first decorated Christmas tree was put up in 1700 when a man saw the stars shining through the trees and decided to put candles on the tree. The first Christmas greeting was engraved in 1842 by a London artist who was only 16 at the time. Kissing under the mistletoe originated with the ancient Celtic priests. Each year they would gather mistletoe from oak trees, which was considered most sacred, and perform ceremonies in which kisses beneath the mistletoe symbolized a binding friendship and the ending of old grievances.

And ever since Saint Francis of Assisi celebrated Mass at a specially constructed manger in 1223 at Greccio, Italy, nativity scenes have been an important part of the Christmas celebration. Lola Edwards accompanied the group as they sang Christmas carols.

Ugly fish may be nutritious

They may be ugly and their names unattractive and unfamiliar, but "undermarketed" or "trash" fish are inexpensive and highly nutritious, says Glenna Kopfen of Cornell Cooperative Extension at Cornell University.

Among the oddly named seasonal fish that she cites which are unpopular but relatively cheap and easy to prepare are shark, monkfish, mussels, skate, squid and dogfish.

Dear Abby

Silent suffering causes heartache

DEAR ABBY: Our family is facing a very difficult problem. Our father, who is in his mid-60s, had surgery and radiation treatments for cancer. He says he is "all right," but he looks very, very bad and appears to be failing. He will not permit his doctor to tell us anything!

My mother has talked to Dad's doctor, but she has been unable to get any information out of him. He refuses to tell her if Dad's surgery was "successful," what the prognosis is, or anything at all pertaining to Dad's condition.

We can only guess that Dad is terminally ill, but we feel frustrated and helpless not being able to discuss Dad's condition, his chances for recovery, or even how much longer he has to live if he is dying.

The doctor says the doctor-patient confidentiality precludes his telling us anything without Dad's consent, and Dad has forbidden him to disclose anything about his condition or what the future has in store.

What should we do?

ASUFFERING FAMILY DEAR FAMILY: It would appear that your father is trying to spare you some bad news. There are specialists today who counsel patients in your father's position. Ask his doctor to try to persuade him to accept that kind of help.

The strong, silent person who tries to protect his loved ones from the realities of life (and death) does himself and his family a terrible disservice. Now is the time for openness and honesty. The patient and his family need to express their anger, frustration, and rage, as well as their love for one another.

DEAR ABBY: I am 85 and my husband is 92. We've been married for 67 years and recently came into an unexpected inheritance, which delighted us both. On learning about our good fortune, I said to my husband, "Now I can throw out all of our chipped cups and rickety furniture and buy new things." He replied, "Oh, no, we must save this windfall for our old age!"

Abby, he was completely serious. I told him I was going to write to Dear Abby about it and he said, "Go ahead."

I'm signing my name and address, but if you use this in your column, sign me ...

FLABBERGASTED IN MINNESOTA DEAR FLABBERGASTED: Hooray for your husband. With his attitude, he may grow older, but he'll never grow old. However, it's time he loosened the purse strings just a teensy-weensy tad.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young French woman who recently moved to Dallas. My problem is that I am afflicted with a French accent that is driving my Texas friends crazy! They love it, imitate me, laugh at my mispronunciations and never for one minute let me forget about my accent.

I have been more than patient with these rude people and have tried to get them to stop making such a big thing out of my accent, but they continue to tease me, saying it is so "cute."

What is the matter with these people here? How can I firmly, but nicely, tell these Texans to stop that nonsense?

A FROGGY IN DALLAS DEAR FROGGY: You can't, but if it's any comfort many Texans have been teased, imitated and laughed at because of their regional accent.

Any kind of accent sets one apart from the others, which can be a tremendous asset. So don't knock it, chere, use it for all it's worth.

Fireplace cleaning, care

Cleaning a fireplace tends to be a "dirty" job, but it is not difficult. Proper cleaning and care can put your fireplace in good condition for months of winter-time enjoyment.

A fireplace that is used only occasionally will probably not need cleaning for years. But if you use it frequently and burn resinous woods — such as pine, spruce, or fir — a flammable creosote deposit may form on the inside of the chimney, making annual cleaning a "must."

CLEANING CHIMNEY INTERIOR

Check your unit with a flashlight to determine the condition of the chimney walls. If they appear "furry" and flake off when brushed, they should be cleaned before the fireplace is used.

If you do the job yourself, be sure to cover the hearth with plastic to protect the house from soot. It is also a good idea to place a plastic dropcloth inside the fireplace, and to fasten another piece to the opening by using duct or making tape.

Cleaning equipment can be simple and inexpensive. For a single story house, lower a long-handled broom from the roof to dislodge the sticky deposit. If the house is more than one story, use a cylinder of chicken wire, or fill a burlap bag with rock and straw suspended on a rope. Carefully lower and raise the devises up and down to dislodge accumulations on the walls of the chimney.

CLEANING FIREPLACE FACE

Overloading your fireplace can cause a black, sooty stain on your fireplace face. For brick, stone, or other masonry products, there are two solutions to remove stains.

- For ordinary stains:
1/2 cup vinegar or acetic acid
1/4 cup detergent
1 gallon water
- For tougher stains:
1 to 2 cups trisodium phosphate
1/2 cup household bleach
1/4 cup detergent
1 gallon water

Apply either solution with a stiff bristle scrub brush. Rinse well with clear water, dry completely, and then apply a clear masonry sealer to prevent penetration of stains.

Always wear gloves and protective clothing to avoid skin irritation.

Be cautious of an older or poorly constructed chimney. In this case it is best to have a professional do the job with modern suction equipment. Prices will range from $25 to $125 and more.

A professional could be called for any chimney cleaning job, but this is a task that can be done by any agile, determined "do-it-yourselfer."

Christmas program presented

A $25 donation was presented to Girls' Town U.S.A. in Levelland by the Modern Women's Forum. Girls' Town is one of the Forum's projects. The Forum met Dec. 10 in the home of Mrs. F.C. Tibbs for a business meeting and Christmas program. Christmas cards were sent by members to shut-ins at the local nursing homes. Gifts were exchanged during the meeting. Mrs. G.L. Jones presented a program entitled "Jesus, My Son." Dressed in clothing of the time period, Mary, the mother of Jesus, is old and living with the apostle John. She begins reminiscing the annunciation, life, crucifixion and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

The Forum's next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Curtis B. Hill, 2411 Morrison, on Jan. 14, 1983.

State project funds approved

The program "Guide to Life" was presented to members of Mu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority by Peggy Payne and Rene Eyskens Nov. 22 in the home of Teresa Wash.

Members voted to donate money to the Beta Sigma Phi State Project. All money donated will go toward the purchase of dialysis equipment for children.

The chapter also met Dec. 6 in the home of Karen Bellinghausen where plans for the Christmas Parade float were finalized. The float entered in the parade won third place in the civic division. A program entitled "Career Producing" was presented by Marion Annual New Year's Eve Buzbee. Members voted to donate proceeds from the Charity Dance to the Child Abuse Center.

Family Christmas rite held

The GFWC Forsan Study Club enjoyed the spirit of an old fashioned Christmas at a Family Christmas Celebration Monday at Forsan High School Cafeteria.

Guests ate from a buffet prepared by the women. A ceramic lighted tree centered the serving table. Candles decorated all other tables.

Susan Gaston made Christmas Good-Luck Cakes with an almond hidden in them. Rocky Coates and Sue A. Holguin found an almond and received a promise of a good new year and a door prize.

As adults exchanged and opened gifts, Santa presented gifts to the children. Participants attended the Christmas Concert presented by the Forsan High School and Junior High School Bands.

The Study Club's Christmas project for 1982 is the Veteran's Administration Hospital. Door decoration were made for one of the hospital's wings. Members brought cookies to be taken to the patients' party.

Extension club hosts yule party

The council held a Christmas party with the Center Point Club serving as hostesses. Invocation was given by the Rev. Bill Sloan, assistant pastor of Hillcrest Baptist Church. Children from the Jack and Jill School gave a program of Christmas carols and music, under the direction of Charlene McKinnon. A gift exchange followed.

Madigan receives scholarship

Tommy Madigan is the first recipient of the Johnny Johansen Scholarship at Howard College. This award is given to a student who studies gardening or landscape design, or a related field such as parks and recreation, forestry, agriculture, agronomy or entomology.

The Johnny Johansen Scholarship was established in the spring of 1982, in honor of Johnny Johansen, by the Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs. Johansen, a graduate of Texas A and

M University with a degree in landscape design, worked for Big Spring for 35 years, serving as superintendent of parks.

Mrs. Odell Womack of the council said "Mr. Johansen always helped the garden clubs in Big Spring, even when he really didn't have the time."

Mrs. Paul Guy, president of the council, Mrs. Clyde Angel and Mrs. Womack serve as trustees for the scholarship fund. Contributions to the fund are accepted not only from garden club projects and members, but from anyone in the community wishing to contribute.

The Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs gives guidance to the five local garden clubs in planning projects and activities. The five local clubs are Big Spring Garden Club, the Rosebud Garden Club, the Planter's Garden Club, the Texas Star Garden Club and the Men's Garden Club.

Aliteracy is probed

Because aliteracy — non reading even though one knows how — has received little attention, there are no statistics on how widespread the problem is. However, educators attending a recent conference on aliteracy said that they were sure there was an aliteracy problem in the United States.

Dr. Donohue

Super sets, forced reps

Dear Dr. Donohue: I am confused about different types of weight-training principles and their effects. Specifically, what is a super set, a forced rep, and what is pumping, and do they work? — J.J.R.

This gets into some pretty heady stuff. I'll take those principals one at a time. Supersets are exercises that strengthen a pair of muscles. Take the elbow, for example. The biceps muscle on the front of the arm and the triceps muscle on the back constitute a working pair. The biceps is used when you bend your arm, the triceps when you straighten the arm. The biceps is referred to as the agonist muscle and the triceps as an antagonist muscle.

A superset exercise is one where both muscles are strengthened. In the arm for example, it would be a set of biceps curls, as lifting the weights up to chest level, but followed immediately and without rest by an exercise to strengthen the triceps, like a bench press or a press behind the neck. Because in the latter the arms are being straightened, you are strengthening the triceps. Usually, the agonist-antagonist strengtheners are done in repetitions of three, with two or three minutes rest between. Supersets can be done for other muscles groups beside those in the arm.

Now "forced reps": These are exercises of eccentric contraction, "rep" merely referring to repetitions. When you bend your elbow, the biceps muscles bunches up — shortens. That's a concentric muscle contraction. When you straighten the arm, as when lowering a weight, the biceps lengthens — an eccentric contraction.

Some experts feel you get faster results in strength training by emphasizing the eccentric part of the movement. You can lower heavier weights than you can lift.

To do a forced rep, you need a friend to help you lift a weight. Then you slowly let it down on your own. This is one way to permit the body builder to deal with heavier weights. Be careful, and have a responsible person around when you try this.

Now "pumping": That refers to blood circulation. If you measure your arms before and after an exercise session you'll be surprised at how much you have grown. That is not muscle. It is blood, which has been pumped into the dilated vessels of your arm muscles to nourish them during exercise.

It takes a long time before muscle growth is obvious. By exercising regularly you induce more blood vessels branches to sprout out into the muscles. You increase your muscle "pump" efficiency.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I am a diabetic and try to walk every day for about an hour. All the comments I hear and read about exercising seem to emphasize its benefits, but I wonder if there are any ill effects. Is there any special way to breathe while walking? — H.C.

I'm at a loss to find any ill effects from walking in general — that is, for the average person. We rest from disuse, not from use. But because of your diabetes, you should check with your doctor to be sure that your dose of insulin (if you are insulin-dependent) and your calories are of the right amount to take into account your activity to keep your blood sugar from getting too low.

You must also take special precautions with your feet, since they can become a problem for a diabetic. A careful program of exercise can be beneficial for the diabetic. But please consult your physician about it, OK?

Dear Dr. Donohue: This is my son's second year of playing football. All the players on his team have to wear mouthguards, which is fine I guess. But what do I do with the thing between games and after he brings it home. How do you clean it? — Mrs. F.L. (part-time equipment manager.)

Doctors, dentists and just about everybody else hailed the coming of the mouthguard. It's practically standard procedure for teams to require it. In fact, most leagues I know about penalize a team if a player is on the field during action without a mouthguard properly in place.

As to cleaning it, just rinse it with water and store it in a plastic bag. Once in a while give it a good cleaning with soap and cool water. Don't scrub it with toothpaste; you'll ruin it. And don't try to disinfect it with alcohol; you'll dissolve it. That's all there is to it.

MR. AND MRS. JESSE E. ANGEL
...plan reception

Mr., Mrs. Jesse Angel

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse E. Angel, Stanton, will celebrate their 50th anniversary with a reception in Cap Rock Auditorium in Stanton from 2-4 p.m. Dec. 26. The couple's children and grandchildren will host the event.

Angel was born in Ira of Scurry County. He met the former Obara Hazlewood of Cisco at a church in the Courtney Community in July of 1926. The couple was married 6 1/2 years later on Dec. 28, 1932 in the Baptist parsonage in Stanton.

The couple had four children. They are Tom Ed Angel of Stanton, Mrs. Charles (LaRue) Pierce of Eufess, Mrs. Marc (Zanna) Trawek of Midland and the late Mrs. Larry (Melrae) Kelso. The Angel's also have 10 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

During their marriage, the couple lived in Courtney Community and Stanton. Angel is a retired farmer and interior decorator. Mrs. Angel was a salesperson in Midland during the 1940s and 1950s. Prior to her retirement, she was a teacher for Head Start in Stanton.

Angel is a member of Masonic Lodge No. 951, Odd Fellows No. 473. Both Mr. and Mrs. Angel are members of Eastern Star No. 409, Rebekah Lodge No. 951 and High Sky Strollers Travel Club. The couple enjoys spending summers in Ruidosa, N.M. Angel enjoys reading, and Mrs. Angel does china painting.

MR. AND MRS. BILL STEPHENS

Mr., Mrs. Bill Stephens

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stephens of Garden City will be honored at a family gathering and dinner in commemoration of their 50th anniversary Saturday. The event will take place at 4 p.m. in the Garden City Cafe. Hosting will be the couple's children and grandchildren.

Stephens, originally of Stephenville, met Mrs. Stephens, the former Retta Bagwell of Bradshaw, in a maize field on a farm between Winters and Bradshaw. The couple was married Dec. 16, 1932 in Winter.

The couple has three children: Mrs. Robert (Emma) Doe of Garden City, Mrs. Lee (Retta) Moore of Austin and Clifford Stephens of Eunice, N.M. The couple also have 11 children and nine grandchildren.

The couple lived in Stephenville, Abilene and California prior to living in Garden City for the past 36 years. They own and operate Garden City Cafe.

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS

Brides with many out-of-town wedding guests obviously have a lot of people who truly care for them. If this is your situation, you may offer to make hotel or motel reservations close to the wedding site for your guests. Perhaps you could even put them up at the homes of friends who want to help out. And here at THE ACCENT SHOPPE, we also think it's nice to plan an Open House at your parents' home the evening or afternoon following the wedding. Such "niceties" show your friends you appreciate their traveling to be with you and help make them feel welcome.

Deputy grand matron visits

Members of the Laura B. Hart Chapter No. 1019 of the Order of the Eastern Star dined together at Furr's Cafeteria Thursday prior to their meeting at the Lodge Hall, 2101 Lancaster.

The dinner was held for Deputy Grand Matron Dorothy Edge. She was presented with an orchid bell at the dinner.

A meeting followed in the Lodge Hall, 2101 Lancaster. Jean McKendree, worthy matron, presented Mrs. Edge with a charm. In turn, the deputy presented the worthy matron and worthy patron, Slim Fiveash, with gifts.

A Christmas poem was read by Gladys Fiveash.

Mrs. Edge presented instructions to members during the meeting. Refreshments and a gift exchange followed.

Six chapters were represented at the meeting.

Holidays, birthdays noted at meet

The National Association of Retired and Veteran Railway Employees met at the Kentwood Older Adult Center Thursday for a Christmas party and to celebrate December birthdays.

W.C. Cole, president, presided. Those present with December birthdays were Tip Anderson, J.J. Richardson and Mrs. George Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Percy of Midland were welcomed as new members.

Appointed to the refreshment committee were Mrs. Ray Scott, Mrs. D. Boyd and Mrs. B.F. McCreary.

Jack Wilson entertained the group with a variety of magic tricks.

Wilson and Laura Carlton were visitors.

The next meeting will be Jan. 20, with a pot-luck supper at 6:30 p.m., followed by the regular meeting at 7:30 p.m.

Treasures from the world's leading artisans grace our gift galleries — Lalique, Sabino, Lladro, Sadek, Atlantis, Lenox, Reed and Barton, Wallace Lunt, Kirk and Towle.

Wedding policy

Weddings are published in the Sunday Lifestyle section of the Big Spring Herald. A wedding form, available at the Herald, should be filled out, signed by either the bride, bridegroom or a member of either family and in our office no later than noon the Wednesday before the wedding.

The information may be accompanied by a photograph either of the bride or the couple. A black and white glossy 5 x 7 inch print is preferred. The picture must be of sufficient quality to reproduce in the newspaper. Pictures may be picked up following publication.

If a wedding writeup is turned in after the wedding, the space allotted to it will diminish according to the length of time that has passed since the wedding.

Forms for wedding stories may be picked up at the Lifestyle Department of the Big Spring Herald, 710 Scurry. Writeups may be brought in to the department or mailed to Big Spring Herald, Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79720. Please call our office if you have problems or questions. Our number is (915) 263-7331.

FABULOUS HOLIDAY FOODS TO SHARE

The holiday season is surely one of the most treasured times of the year. From Thanksgiving to New Year's, there are many memorable occasions to welcome friends and family into your home to share the spirit and joy of the season. Some gatherings may be small and intimate; others large and festive, but all are wonderful occasions for you to express your friendship with warm hospitality and fabulous foods.

Your guests will know how special you think they are when you present them with regal Lamb en Croûte. Lamb, always a favorite for the holidays, is dressed up for the occasion in a beautifully decorated pastry crust. The mild, delicate flavor of the lamb is enhanced with an expertly seasoned parsley filling and a flavorful mushroom-onion paté.

While this elegant lamb entree is most impressive, it can be prepared with relative ease using convenient frozen puff pastry sheets. When baked this crust will puff into many flaky golden brown layers. You're sure to be greeted with a chorus of "ohs" and "ahs" as you bring the jacketed lamb to the table surrounded with clusters of flavorful, richly-colored fresh grapes.

Then end the meal on a spectacular note with Grape Della Robbia Dessert. This tasty, creamy creation, studded with sweet, juicy grapes, will fit neatly into dinner party plans for it can be made well in advance and chilled. For the crowning glory, top the dessert with a wreath of vivid red, opulent blue/black or delicate cool green grapes.

Lamb en Croûte

- |                                   |                                       |
|-----------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| 5 to 6-pound boneless lamb leg    | 1/4 cup butter                        |
| 3/4 cup chopped parsley           | 1 cup soft bread crumbs               |
| 3 teaspoons oregano leaves        | 1/4 teaspoon pepper                   |
| 3 cloves garlic, minced           | 1 package (17-1/4 ounces)             |
| 1-1/2 teaspoons salt              | Frozen Puff Pastry Sheets             |
| 1/8 teaspoon crushed red pepper   | 1 egg, slightly beaten                |
| 1 pound mushrooms, finely chopped | Green, blue/black or red table grapes |
| 1 large onion, finely chopped     |                                       |

Combine parsley, 2 teaspoons oregano, 2 cloves garlic, 1/2 teaspoon salt and crushed red pepper. Remove string from roast. Place lamb, boned side up, on flat surface. Place parsley mixture in boned-out center of leg. Roll and tie securely. Place leg, fat side up, on rack in open roasting pan. Do not add water. Do not cover. Insert roast meat thermometer so bulb is centered in thickest part, but not in fat or stuffing. Roast in a slow oven (325°F.) until meat thermometer registers 140°F., allowing 25 to 30 minutes per pound. Remove from oven and let stand 10 minutes. Meanwhile prepare the filling and thaw puff pastry according to package directions. For filling, cook mushrooms and onions in butter in large frying-pan over medium-high heat 3 to 5 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in bread crumbs, 1 clove garlic, 1 teaspoon oregano, 1 teaspoon salt and the pepper. Cool. Place unfolded pastry sheets on top of each other. On a lightly floured board, roll out the sheets to a 12 x 16-inch rectangle. Cut a 3-inch strip of pastry from one side; cover and reserve. Remove fell from lamb leg. Place lamb on greased jelly-roll pan, spread mushroom-filling over top and on sides, pressing lightly. Place pastry over lamb; mold to shape of meat. Trim off extra at bottom. Brush top and sides with egg wash. Decorate top with a stem and leaves cut from reserved pastry; brush design with egg wash. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 35 minutes or until pastry is golden brown. Garnish with grapes before serving. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Grape Della Robbia Dessert

- |                                |   |
|--------------------------------|---|
| 1 envelope unflavored gelatine | 1 cup dairy sour cream                          |
| 1/2 cup sugar, divided         | 2 cups halved table grapes, seeded if necessary |
| Dash salt                      | 1/8 teaspoon almond extract                     |
| 3 eggs, separated              | Green, red or blue/black grapes for garnish     |
| 1/2 cup water                  |   |
| 3/4 cup pineapple juice        |   |
| 2 cups ricotta cheese, sieved  |   |

Combine gelatine, 1/4 cup sugar and salt in medium saucepan. Blend in egg yolks. Add water and pineapple juice; mix well. Cook over medium heat until mixture comes to boil, stirring constantly. Immediately remove from heat; cool 10 minutes. Stir cooled gelatine mixture into sieved cheese until blended. Refrigerate about 30 minutes or until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from spoon. Beat egg whites until foamy. Gradually beat in remaining 1/4 cup sugar until stiff peaks form. Fold egg whites, sour cream, grapes and almond extract into gelatine mixture. Spoon mixture into stemmed 2-1/2-quart bowl. Chill 2 hours or longer. Decorate top with circles of grapes to resemble a wreath. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Mini-Lamb Kabobs

- 1 pound boneless lamb, cut into 3 x 3/4 x 1/4-inch strips
- 1/3 cup oil
- 1/3 cup vinegar
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 2 teaspoons basil leaves
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 2 ribs celery, cut into 24 pieces
- 1 medium red pepper, cut into 24 pieces

Combine oil, vinegar, garlic, basil, salt and pepper. Bring to boil, reduce heat and cook slowly 4 to 5 minutes. Cool. Place lamb strips in utility dish or plastic bag; add half the marinade, turning to coat. Cover dish or tie bag securely. Place celery and red pepper in another utility dish or plastic bag; add remaining marinade, turning to coat. Cover dish or tie bag securely. Marinate lamb strips and vegetables in refrigerator 6 to 8 hours or overnight, turning at least once. Remove lamb strips and vegetables from marinade, reserving vegetable marinade. Thread 2 lamb strips onto each of 24 6-inch thin wooden skewers, weaving back and forth. Place 1 piece celery and 1 piece red pepper on end of each skewer. Place kabobs on rack in broiler pan so surface of meat is 3 to 4 inches from heat. Broil 5 to 7 minutes, turning and brushing with reserved marinade. Yield: 24 mini-kabobs.

Festive Cheese Ball with Grapes

- |   |  |
|---|--|
| 1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened | 2 tablespoons chopped walnuts  |
| 1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese               | 2 pounds blue/black, green and red table grapes, cut into small clusters |
| 1/8 teaspoon hot pepper sauce               |  |

Combine cream cheese, Cheddar cheese and hot pepper sauce in small mixer bowl; blend well. Place cheese mixture into 1-quart round bowl lined with plastic wrap. Cover and refrigerate until firm. Unmold and place in center of serving tray. Remove plastic wrap. Smooth cheese with spatula. Sprinkle with walnuts. Surround with grape clusters. Yield: 1-1/2 cups.

Holiday Lamb Balls

- |                                 |                           |
|---------------------------------|---------------------------|
| 2 pounds ground lamb            | 1/4 teaspoon pepper       |
| 1 cup plain yogurt              | 1 cup soft bread crumbs   |
| 1/2 cup finely chopped cucumber | 1/3 cup snipped parsley   |
| 1 clove garlic, minced          | 1/3 cup chopped pine nuts |
| 1/4 teaspoon dill weed          | 1 egg                     |
| 1-1/2 teaspoons salt            |                           |

Combine yogurt, cucumber, garlic and dill weed. Cover and refrigerate. Sprinkle salt and pepper over ground lamb; add bread crumbs, parsley, pine nuts and egg, mixing lightly but thoroughly. Shape into 48 small balls (about 1 tablespoon for each meatball). Place balls about 1 inch apart on rack in 15-1/2 x 10-1/2-inch jelly roll pan. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 20 minutes. Serve lamb balls with yogurt sauce. Yield: 48 meatballs.

Spinach Cheese Triangles

- |   |                                    |
|---|------------------------------------|
| 1 package (17-1/4 ounces) Pastry Sheets                               | 1/2 cup finely chopped parsley     |
| 1/2 cup minced onion  | 2 tablespoons minced green onion   |
| 2 tablespoons butter  | 1/4 pound feta cheese, crumbled    |
| 1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped spinach, thawed and squeezed dry | 2 eggs, beaten                     |
|   | 1 egg beaten with 1 teaspoon water |

Thaw pastry according to package directions. Sauté onion in butter in large frying-pan until transparent; remove from heat. Add spinach, parsley, green onion, cheese and 2 eggs, mixing thoroughly. On a lightly floured board, unfold pastry and roll to a 15 x 15 inch square. Cut each sheet into 25 3-inch squares. Place about 2 teaspoons spinach mixture in corner of each square. Brush edges with egg-water mixture and fold pastry over to form a triangle. Pinch edges with tines of a fork to seal. Brush tops with egg mixture and bake in a preheated moderate oven (375°F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Yield: 50 hors d'oeuvres.

Spicy Lamb Paté

|---|---|
| 3/4 pound cooked lamb, cut into 1-inch pieces | 1/8 teaspoon garlic powder                    |
| 1 medium onion, cut into 1-inch pieces        | 1 cup shredded zucchini                       |
| 3/4 teaspoon salt                             | 1/4 cup chopped red pepper                    |
| 1/8 teaspoon pepper                           | 1 package (8 ounces) Pumpernickel Bread       |
| 3/4 cup mayonnaise                            | 1 package (6-1/4 ounces) Butter Thin Crackers |
| 1/2 teaspoon oregano leaves                   |   |

Place lamb and onion in bowl of food processor or 5-cup blender container. Add salt and pepper; process or blend until fine. Add mayonnaise, oregano and garlic powder and process until blended. Add zucchini and red pepper and process until just blended. Place lamb mixture into a 1-quart round bowl lined with plastic wrap. Cover and refrigerate 6 to 8 hours or overnight, if desired. Unmold on serving platter. Serve with party bread and crackers. Yield: 3-1/2 cups.

'Tis the Season for Appetizers

Any time family and friends come together during the holiday season, you can be confident the mood will be merry and bright when you serve these tasty tidbits from the kitchen.

Sure to spark appetites and conversation are Mini-Lamb Kabobs featuring strips of lamb delightfully flavored with a garlic and basil marinade. To add Christmas colors to your appetizer table, marinated celery pieces and red pepper pieces join the lamb strips on the skewers.

Festive Cheese Ball with Grapes gives cheeses and fruit a new look for the holidays. A nutty Cheddar and cream cheese ball is attractively served with an assortment of fresh, tangy-sweet table grapes.

Then live up your party plans with Holiday Lamb Balls. The bite-sized balls, made with ground lamb deliciously flavored with parsley and pine nuts, are especially tasty dipped in a cool 'n creamy yogurt-cucumber sauce. Be prepared, too, for raves as you pass Spinach-Cheese Triangles, easily made with light, flaky frozen puff pastry. In cool contrast, invite guests to sample Spicy Lamb Paté served with fresh and flavorful appetizer-size slices of party pumpernickel bread and crisp butterfly-shaped crackers. Ground cooked lamb is the base for the spread that picks up flavor, color, texture and interest from shredded zucchini and chopped red pepper.

FILM & FLASH for Christmas

Remember last year when you said "I wish we'd gotten a picture of the Christmas tree and the packages BEFORE they were all unwrapped"? This year, make sure you have film and flash items in plenty of time. Make your Christmas morning memories all the sweeter with pictures of the family gathering. Safeway has a large variety of film for whatever type of camera you may have... and all the flash accessories too. Somehow, a picture "says" it better than any amount of words. Make sure you're ready for Santa!
